While Karl unconsciously noted these things in his mind he was marveling inwardly what lucky chance had procured him this visit. Did she mean to invite him to one of the poirces of her uncle, the rich old proker, or was some surprise party on the tapis, too exclusive for the orpaper? For Mr. Rubens rather prided | completion of her task. himself upon the entree he was beginning to gain within the enchanted significant reply. portals of New York society. Almost at the same moment Blanche looked of his pen-stick, evidently a little dis-

up. "You are wondering what brings me here," she said, half-smiling.

"Whatever it was, I can but thank prompt gallantry, although he could trash and sentiment-what are the feel the tell-tale blood rising to his

"And I may as well tell you the whole truth at once," said Blanche, her voice faltering slightly, and two red spots glowing upon her temples. "My Uncle George failed last week, and we are going to be very poor."

"Failed!" echoed Karl. "Surely it cannot be possible—at least that is I had not heard of it!"

"But it is true, nevertheless," Miss Ainslie said; "and all the world will know of it but too soon. And Mr. more hesitating voice, "I must do something for my own support-either teach, sew, play companion to an invalid lady, or earn my living in some way not unbefitting a gentleman's daughter; and I have concluded to try and write for the papers."

"Indeed!" said Carl, not knowing what else to say.

"Will you give me a chance in the columns of the Shiner?" she asked, with a very evident effort. "I believe I could write as good stories as some of those that you publish and

Mr. Rubens was sorely puzzled what to say. How could he tell this pretty obscured in fog and metropolitan creature sitting there before him, in magic ground of love. the halo of her youth and beauty and high social position, that she could no more hope to succeed as a sketch writer than a man could expect to build a house or construct a steam his strong-minded sister Diana, he engine without an hour of practice or experience? Had she been a shabby, spectacled old lady, or a middle-aged female with cotton gloves and high cheek bones, it would have been easy enough. As it was, her blue eyes, ing. shining wistfully into his, seemed to paralyze the very nerves of his tongue. went on Blanche, producing a neatly folded packet, "which I have worked very hard upon, and-if you would kindly look at it, and give me your unprejudiced opinion-"

"Certainly," said Karl, recovering his self-possession, and bowing as he took the packet.

"There are some verses, too," said Bianche, reddening, "and a little essay or two, written as spicily as possible. Shall I come tomorrow to get your opinion?"

"By no means," said Mr. Rubens, politely. "I will not trouble you to come down to this unfashionable locality. If you will allow me to call editor could not accept her contribuand see you---"

"I shall be so much obliged!" said Miss Ainslie, eagerly, and Karl knew that she meant it.

Blanche Ainslie went away, leaving an intangible little scent of attar of roses behind her-and the sun dipped down behid the chimney tops, and the sanctum became dark and gloomy all

"How pretty she is!" Karl Rubens thought; "but, pshaw! the idea of her writing for the papers! Poor child, how little idea she has of the life that lies before her. However, I will take the papers to Di, and see what she says about 'em."

Miss Diana Rubens was a strongminded young lady, of a certain age, who read Carlyle, translated Hebrew, kept house for her brother, and did nearly as much of the "heavy work" of the Weekly Shiner as did the editor

"Fiddlesticks!" said Miss Diana, as her brother, over his evening cap of tea, tossed the manuscripts toward her, and related his story. "Little Blanche Ainslie could no more write for the paper than any canary bird! But every woman thinks she's a born authoress, and nothing but personal experience will grind the idea out of them!"

Then Miss Dina read the neatly written pages one by one.

"Scented with rose," said she, scornfully. "Stuff and nonsense!"

"Well?" said Karl, at last, looking up from his own writing, as Miss Diana laid the packet down, with a dinary medium of cards or scented loud "llem!" which signified the

"Fiddlesticks!" was the brief yet

Karl rubbed his nose with the end appointed.

"You think they won't do?" said

the opportunity," Karl answered, with | Di Dishwater and adjectives | limits is 16 miles.

girls thinking of nowadays? If she had sent me a few good table recipes now, or a way of cleaning marble or taking out mildew; but an impossible love story with the hero on stilts and the heroine mere milk and water. Pshaw!"

"Poor child!" said Karl, compassionately-but he never thought of an appeal from his sister's decision. "And she was so sure of success!"

"They always are!" said Miss Di. Karl Rubens was a little provoked at his strong-minded sister, but he re-Rubens," she added in a lower and membered, as a palliating circumstance, that Miss Diana had never seen Blanche Ainslie.

> The editor did not sleep very soundly that night. He could not help thinking of the beautiful girl so suddenly reduced from luxury and wealth to utter poverty, and when at last he fell asleep, it was to dream of blue eyes, and chestnut hair braided with shifting lights of gold.

Karl had always admired the broker's pretty niece from a respectful distance. Now it seemed as if she were fairer and more attractive than ever. In fact our editor, although he was not fully aware of it himself, was hovering dangerously near the

He called at Mrs. Ainslie's the next evening with the condemned manuscripts in his pocket, and I do believe had he not stood in righteous fear of would have told Miss Ainslie that her productions were "accepted," and secretly burned them in the sanctum fire. As it was, it was too late for any such sly system of double deal-

Blanche was at home, sitting among the splendor that was to be hers so brief a time now, and her bright, upward look, as he entered, went to his very heart.

"I feel like Crookback Richard," he thought, "going to murder the innocent little princes in the Tower."

And when he told her, as gently as he could, that the stories and poetry would not pass muster, she burst into

Mr. Rubens could not endure those bright sparkling drops.

"Blanche!" he faltered, "don't cry. Dear Blanche, it is not worth it!"

And before they parted that evening, Blanche Ainslie had half promto consider the possibility accepting the editor's love, since the

"The idea of supporting yourself is very ridiculous," said Karl. "It's a great deal better to let me support

And so Blanche Ainslie became an editor's wife and the happiest of little matrons, and to this day Karl keeps the little packet that was "respectfully declined."-[The Weekly.

Salmon Going the Way of the Buffalo. It looks as though the salmon fisheries of the Columbia River, which have added enormously to he wealth of the Northwest, would in the course of a few years become extinct. The fate of the Columbia will probably be that of the Sacramento river, from which river the salmon have almost disappeared. Fish laws may be passed and an attempt be made to enforce them, but it is not thought that anything can be done in this way that would suffice to save the fisheries. It seems that the salmon will not remain in rivers the waters of which are frequently disturbed by steamboats, and that flow through thickly inhabited countries. The salmon fishing of the not very distant future will likely be almost entirely confined to British Columbia and Alaska.-[Denver (Col.) Republican.

A Lazy Waiter.

An English fellow-traveler, with whom I was returning from Dublin to Bradford, said to me:

"Really those fellows are a queer lot! In Morrison's Hotel, where I was staying, there was a poor waiter, so ill that he could hardly crawl about, and I said of him (as he stood on the steps to see me off) to the carman: 'That poor fellow looks shockingly ill!' 'Ill! Sure he's been dead these two months, only he's too lazy to close his eyes!"" -[New York Mercury.

The extreme length of New York "Of course they won't," said Miss city from the Battery to its northern CATTLE TRAILING.

An Interesting By-Gone Feature of Western Life.

Driving Big Herds of Cattle Thousands of Miles.

The barb-wire fences shut off the great trails that stretched from Corpus Christie through the Pan Handle of Texas, and on up through New Mexico and Colorado and through the Indian Territory to Dodge City. The coming of the railroad also made this trailing of cattle to the market superflurous, and almost destroyed one of the most remarkable features of the West. This trail was not, of course, an actual trail, and marked as such, but a general driveway forty miles wide and thousands of miles long. The herds of cattle that were driven over it numbered from 800 to 8000 head, and were moving constantly from the early spring to the late fall.

No caravan route in the far Eastern countries can equal this six months' journey through three different States, and through all changes of weather and climate, and in the face of constant danger and anxiety. This procession of thousands of cattle on their slow march to the North was one of the most interesting and distinctive features of the West.

An "outfit" for this expedition would consist of as many cowboys as were needed to hold the herd together, a wagon, with the cook and the tents, and extra ponies for the riders. In the morning the camp wagon pushed on ahead to a suitable resting-place for the night, and when the herd arrived later, moving, on an average, fifteen miles a day, and grazing as it went, the men would find the supper ready and the tents pitched. And then small. those who were to watch that night would slowly circle around the great army of cattle, driving them in closer and closer together, and singing as they rode, to put them to sleep. This times that of wheat. seems an absurdity to the Eastern mind, but the sound of something bananas as there are of apples-big of sorrow generally sends for four familiar quieted and satisfied these great stupid animals that can be soothed like a child with a nursery "fig" bananas that are the best in rhyme and when frightened cannot be quality. stopped by a river. The boys rode slowly and patiently until one and then nother of the herd would stamble clumsily to the ground, and others near would follow, and at last the sweet for cooking. In whatever way who knows all about women does not whole great herd would lie silent and they may be cooked be sure and serve marry. immovable in sleep. But the watchfulness of the sentries could never relax. Some chance noise—the shak- sight along the Amazon River is the ing of a saddle, some cry of a wild ani- camp fire surrounded by groups of mal, or the scent of distant water carried | natives roasting bananas among the by a chance breeze across the prairie, embers; this is really the most deor nothing but sheer blind wantonness -would start one of the sleeping mass to his teet with a snort, and in an instant the whole great heard would go tearing madly over the prairie, tossing their horns and bellowing, and filled with a wild unreasoning terror. And then the skill and daring of the cowboy were put to their severest test, as he saw his master's income disappearing towards a canon or a river, or to lose itself in the brush. And the cowboy who tried to head off and drive back this galloping army of frantic animals had to ride a race that meant his life if his horse made a misstep; and as the horse's feet often did slip, there would be found in the morning somewhere in the trail of the stampeding cattle a horrid mass of blood and flesh and leather. Do you wonder, then, that after this half-year of weary, restless riding by day, and sleepless anxiety and watching under the stars by night, when the lights of Dodge City showed across the prairie, the cowboy kicked his feet out of his stirrups, drove the blood out of the pony's sides, and "came into town" with both guns going at once, and yelling as though the pent-up speech of the past six months of loneliness was striving for proper utterance?-[Harper's Weekly.

The Banana Industry,

South American people do not regard the banana as a luxury. There is a "banana patch" in every garden just as surely as you find a potato batch near every little cabin in the United States. Some kinds grow wild in the woods, but the fruit of such plants is almost always too bitter to

A growing banana plant looks, from a little distance, somewhat like an The grass so little has to doimmense calla lily. The rows are started from young shoots which are cut off and set in the ground just as we set geraniums. Soon they send up two long leaves, which are curled so tightly together that they look just like a round stick. After a time the leaves uncurl and hang down like branches, and others, curled quite as tightly, take their places. This the plant keeps up until, with a dozen or more great leaves spread out, it begins to look quite tree like. But the trunk is not hard wood like the oak or pine; it is nothing but leaf stems, so sheathed and folded and hardened together as to sustain the great weight above. At the end of nine months a deep purple bud appears in the centre of the leaves. As it lengthens and droops downward it looks like a great purple heart. When this opens it shows within a number of rings of bright little buds arranged around the a hot plate. stem, and by and by each little bud bursts into a yellow blossom. Gradually the fruit develops, from the cluster of tiny green peds to the bunch frequently weighing one hundred pounds.

After bearing fruit the old plant dies, and from the new shoots which spring up from its roots young plants are started.

At Trinidad, in the West Indies, bananas are dried and shipped in large quantities.

The variety which yields the best result in drying is the "Gros Michel." There is every reason to believe that dried bananas will soon be an imnortant item in the trade of the West courting. Indies. This article can be conveyed to market from remote districts over bad roads without injury, and the risks of handling and sea voyages are

The banana is one of the most productive of fruits. Its yield is estimated at forty-four times that of the potato, or one hundred and thirty-one easier got over.

There are almost as many kinds of ones, a foot long; thick ones, almost doctors when he has a headache. like small muskmelons, and little

For cooking, bananas are taken while yet green, and may be fried, when fully ripe they are too soft and them hot, for as soon as they begin to lightful way to cook them .- [American Gardening.

The Trembling Wolf Fish.

Clay Pit Creek, an estuary of the North Shrewsbury River in New Jersey. Capt. William C. Towen of the New Amsterdam Hotel, at Locust Point missed his Irish wolf dog Paddy a week ago and found the animal dead on the banks of the creek, about a mile from his hostelry, which is the headquarters for all the anglers and hunters in that section. Only the hind legs of the dog were missing, having been eaten off by some animal with remarkably sharp teeth, as the edges of the bone looked as if they had been severed by a saw. Fred Vogel, a professional fisherman, lost a young calf whose hind legs were bitten off in the same manner. Capt. Joe Depreaux, another old settler at Locust Point, tells of a wolf fish that climbs the bank. The fish wobbled over his garden patch like an old man with the palsy. The front teeth of the fish protrude like those of a Russian bloodhound. Eels have disappeared from Clay Pit Creek since these monsters first showed themselves. Last week Capt. Towen with his Remington rifle killed one that was cating the hind legs of a horse. It weighed sixty pounds, and trembled for 1 hour and 18 minutes after the bullet entered its brain. - [New York

A locomotive drawing four passenger coaches has recently done a mile in thirty-nine and one-fourth seconds on the Reading road, which would come very near to 100 miles an hour if maintained.

The Grass.

A sphere of simple green, With only butterflies to broad, And bees to entertain.

And stir all day to pretty tunes The breezes fetch along. And hold the sunshine in its lap, And bow to everything;

And thread the dews all night, like pearls, And make itself so fine-A duchess were too common For such a noticing.

And even when it dies, to pass In odors so divine. As lowly spices gone to sleep. Or amulets of pine.

And then to dwell in sov'reign barns, And dream the days away-The grass so little has to do,

I wish I were the hav! -[From Poems by Emily Dickenson.

HUMOROUS.

Teacher-What is quickness? Scholar-Quickness is when a person drops

"That remains to be seen," as the boy said when he spilt the ink on the table-cloth.

"There's nothing like poached eggs," as the man said when he robbed his neighbor's hen-house.

He-My horse got his foot in the rein somehow and stumbled. She-A sort of a bridle trip, wasn't it? Kind Party-What are you crying that way for, little boy? Little Boy

-'Cause it's the only way I know how Briggs-Tompkins is engaged to a widow, I hear. Braggs-That's just like him. Too lazy to do any of the McWatty-I have thought of a good motto for the telegraph wires. Hilow-What is it? "There is plenty of room under ground." Fancied troubles sometime, trouble us as much as real troubles, but they have this in their favor, that they are

The man who says he will welcome death as a release from a life made up

> I cannot sing the old songs I sang a while ago, For if I do the other guests Quickly get up and go.

She-It is always the unmarried man who knows all about women. He-Yes, I have noticed that the man

"How is your daughter doing with cool they become tough. A common the piano, Silas?" "Fust-rate. She kin play with both hands now. Says she'll be able to play with her ear inside of six months."

Hotel Guest Out West-Now, you are sure this bed is quite clean? Bellboy-Yes, sir. The sheets were only washed this morning. Just feel The trembling wolf fish has entered | 'em; they ain't dry yet.

Judge-What sort of a man, now, was it you saw commit the assault? Constable—Sure, your honor, he was a small, insignificant cratur about your own size, your honor!

Mrs. Youngwife-Oh, Doctor, my husband is worse today. Can you give me no encouragement? Doctor-Oh, yes; you can have all his money before tomorrow. He cannot live.

"Are you pretty well acquainted with your mother tongue, my boy?" asked the school teacher of the new scholar, "Yes, sir," answered the lad, timidly, "ma jaws a good deal, sir."

The blue bird warbles on the fence, The robbin sings on high, The fish worm folds its little hands And faintly says "Good-bye."

Servant-This room will be rented only to an artist. Room Hunter-And why not to another man? Servant-Because artists are less troublesome they never want their room put in Gentleman-But I'm afraid he wouldn't make a good watch-dog. Man (with pup)-Why, Lor' bless your 'art, it was only las' week that this 'ere wery animal held a burglar down by the throat and beat his brains out with his tail!

Jones-I saw a conjurer last night who would give you two different kinds of drink out of the same bottle. Brown-That's nothing, my boy. We have a grocer in our street who can sell you three kinds of tea out of the same box.

Entered at the Post Office in Calera as Second Class Matter.

National Democratic Ticket

FOR PRESIDENT, GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, A. E. STEVENSON, of Illinois.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET

FOR GOVERNOR, THOMAS GOODE JONES. FOR SECRETARY OF SLATE, J. D. BARRON, of Clay.

ATTORNEY GANERAL, W. L. MARTIN, of Jackson. J. W. PURIFOY, of Wilcox.

FOR TREASURER, J. CRAIG SMITH, of Dallas. SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION, JOHN G. HARRIS, of Sumter. COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE. HECTOR D. LANE, of Limestone.

For Chief Justice of Supreme Court. GEORGE W. STONE, of Montgomery Associate Justices, T. W. COLEMAN, of Greene.
THOS. N. McCLELLAN, of Limestone.
JAMES B. HEAD, of Jefferson. JON. HARRALSON, of Dallas For Judge of the 7th Judicial Circuit. LEROY F. BOX.

COUNTY DEMOCRATIC TICKET

For Representative, JOHN P. WEST. For Probate Judge, JOHN S. LEEPER. For Sheriff, HENCEY W. NELSON. For Tax Assessor, JOHN H. HAMMONDS. For Tax Collector, AB. F. SMITH. For Treasurer - THOMPSON. For Supt. Of Education, E. O. DAWSON. For County Commissioners, 1st. Dist.—JAMES McGOWAN, 2nd. Dist.—RUFUS WALKER, 3rd. Dist.—RICHARD GRIFFIN, 4th. Dist.—A. M. Jones.

ual preserence to control or influence Rev. Mr. Woods, to make the state- that J. D. Cooper, J. Gee Oakly, had been made for their votes. At at Montgomery.

democratie party is called to meet such canards as this, circulate them good democrats duped, and then in Columbiana Monday at twelve and give the party no chance to de- disbanded. The work was done in o'clock.

Our young contempory, the Advocate is on its ear this week because the Journal made a few unwholsome remarks about the negro plank of the Kolb party.

of the three counties had a candiballot after Lowery was taken out, by this kind of campaigning? Goodwin was nominated by a vote of 9 to 8. We were really sur-Reynolds and Lowery, have proba partyites and republicans on the up and doing. It will be too late by calling at this store, under the Ma, bly not been initiated.

other side.

by calling at this store, under the Ma, to work after 1st of August. bly not been initiated.

THERE is no class of citizens in the state who are more interested in the success of the county, state and national democracy than the business men of Shelby county, and what is true of business men is true of all men, who have families, bome intest and property involved. Then, it behoves every one who possess either of these quallifications to work for the success of democratic supremacy. In the national electional contest we have already, four candidates for president and vice president in the field-republican, democrat, prohibition and people's party, the former two being the greatest. The democratic and republican platforms contain all the national doctrines at issue. Democracy is a government by the people, with laws enacted by their representatives. Republicanism is centralization of power vested in the government. The prohibition is a party for the legal and state interferance of the principles of church, while the people's party is the out-growth of sectionalism, anarchy, animosity, hatred and prejudice, with a declaration of purposes foreign to its teachings.

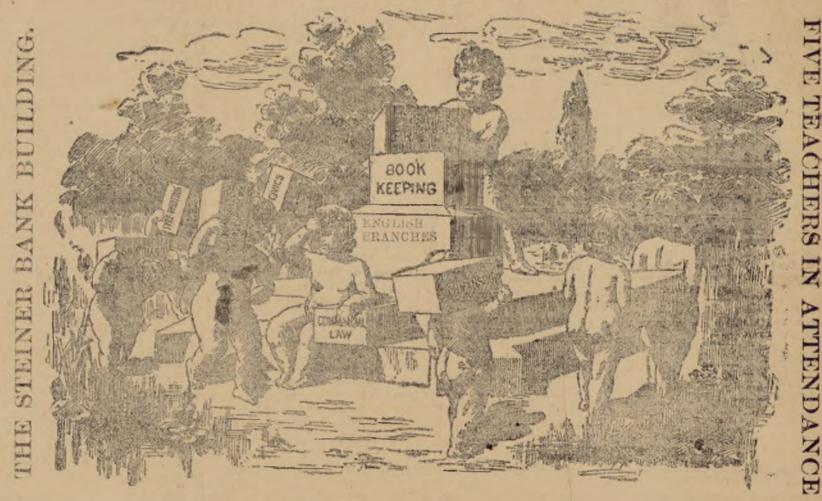

The greatest of these opposing parties has candidates who favor a liberal construction of the national constition, enforcement of the laws, economical administration of the affairs of government, with equal rights to consumer and producer. These candidates are Cleveland and Stevenson, national; Thom. Jones, state; and John P. West, county and these candidates, if elected, will work to the best interest of the whole people Let every man in Shelby county and in the great! state of Alabama, who feels that he has an interest, political, social or religious, buckle on his armor of do something, and go forth till the battle is won for the democratic ticket from Grover Cleveland down to coroner of Shelby county.

THE latest and most impudent piece of bull-dozing we have heard was attempted upon Col. John P. West, the democratic nominee for representative of this county, and was about as follows: Last Saturday was a day appointed by the peoples' party for a big rally at Dog Wood Grove. An invitation to a prominent peoples' party man of Calera to come and bring every body but Col. West, and if he (Col. West) was prepared to disprove a report in circulation as to what he, West, should have said in a speech THE REMARKABLE CANVASS OF jat Gurnee—he, too, could come. At months past and the convention to as- an early hour the Colonel and the semble tomorrow are but things of a gentleman who had received the day. The candidates nominated and message went out to the aforesaid the men composing the factions will rally. On their arrival, inquiry soon pass away. but every two years was made and Col. West learned of and four years we are called upon to es- certain remarks that he should have tablish, maintain and support Dem- said. He then tried to get a divisocratic principles which are to live al- ion of time that he might put himways, and I hold the principles of my self right before the people, and it on's Band" feature in the Alliance, party higher than I hold the ambition was refused. Col. West then asked we can see clearly—then "through of any man and shall not allow individ- one of peoples' party candidates, a glass darkly '-how it happened my party allegiance.-E T. Tallisierro ment for him, which he promised to Peddy James, etc., were beaten in do-but made a speech of an hour, Kolb convention in Bibb. It is now failing to refer to the matter at plain how the Pitts committee of The executive committee of the all. If this new party can hatch up Shelby county was revived, some ny them, and refuse to go to demo- the councils of the faithful band cratic speaking, they act dishon- of Gideonites. While Bock and estly, and cantexpect honest voters | Adams were organizing these bands to pay any attention to their utter- they should have got a few more ances from the stump.

THE People's party senatorial fersonian democrats. Wonder if the snap would not have been given convention for the 15th district Jefferson was alive what he think of away till after the election met at Calera last Saturday. Each his followers holding political communion with such men as Dr. Bob date, and each county an equal Mosely, Lou Parsons, etc.? And number of votes. After several again, how would be feel to know ballots Shelby's candidate was that a follower had promised to withdrawn, leaving the contest be- swap votes in one election for repubtween Reynolds, of Chilton, and lican votes in another election. Is Now that Kolb has re-filled his prised at this result, as we had pie-bald ticket, the republicans are heard Mr. Goodwin say, a short resolving to support him and his time before, that he was a member followers as the best means of disof the alliance, but was not in rupting the democratic party. The sympathy with the people's party work now is between Jones and ormovement. 'Spect he is one of the ganized democracy on one side, and captains in the Gideon's Band! Kolb, disaffected democrats, third

The Best Place to Secure a Business Education is at the ENERGY WORKER

Send for Circular.

LEONARD LIPPMAN, President

G. F. HART, Secretary and Treasurer.

M. M. FIELDS, Vice President

It is extremely rediculous at the Senator Hill, in his letter to the about pure democracy, when twothirds of them simply publish what the approaching struggle should the bosses dictate.—Alliance Her. present a solid front to the common other men's corn in their own tub." This is particularly applicable in cient to convince the most sceptic the matter above refered to. The what Mr. Hill's course will be in Herald was started as Alliance or this canvass. He promised everygan, but as the bosses of the Alli, where on his southern tour that the tion, wanted office, they have die. be cast for the nominee of the Chiupon which they hoped to ride into whatever he can to fulfill his prompower, until it is known by outsid. ise. And what is duty of demoers as the Kolb Herald. If it be cruts in New York is their duty it is equally as ridiculous and much more disgusting to for county offices as it is to the pick up the Herald, claiming to be state of New York and the candia farmers paper, but filled with dates for president and vice presi-'plutocratic, monopoly, goldbugs," Sixce the exposition of the Gideof the weak-kneed democrats, men with less courage than Mr. All. THE Kolb party claim to be Jef- brighton and Mr. Lusk, and then

Dr. W. W. McMindax, of Menree county, nominated for senator Well you torsalts your principles a by the Kolbites some time ago, addressed a Kolb meeting the other what the enactment of a des day, resigned the honor, and de- potic and despised lerce bill and declared for Jones and organized de. Goodwin, of Elmore. On the first Jeffersonian democracy proved up mocracy. The dector said: "I nev-By education, association and prin- ervor-unworthy of your supportciple I always supported organized has been twice defeated by the democracy, hence I could not accept | white people of the state? We bethe nomination." This is only one lieve the majority of the People's of many instances of refusals to party will refuse such contracts. follow Kolb out of the convention.

> at work and the Jones campaign committees and every executive place in Shelby county for pure drugs.
>
> This can be profitably demonstrated erage little country paper howling "The democracy of New York in the approaching struggle should enemy. Loyalty to democratic It is an old saying, and a true principles and regularly nominated one too, that "some men measure candidates is the supreme duty of the hour." This should be suffiance, without scarcely an except electoral vote of New York would tated or outlined the Herald's enclosed, and the above loyal sentence tire course in the political line proves that the able senator will do "extremely ridiculous" to the Her. everywhere. Loyalty to democratarld to "read the average little ic principles and regular nominees country paper howling about pure is just as applicable to the situation in Shelby county and the candidates abuse of the principles and policies dent. Loyalty to party is a strict of true democracy, using such slang support of its principles and policies in national, state and county

The negroes of Birmingham held night, and an open consultation was had. It was evident that a trade any rate they agreed to vote for the Kolb-Gideon-Band, in August and in return receive the support of the latter in November. Third party men, will you allow your and to be free "Jeffersonian Demnotorious Moseley, Parsons, etc., and the negroes, Stevens, Blevins, agogues like Kolb, Adams, Oliver, er could become an independent. spite, because your choice for gov. merchants, manufacturers and planters alike.

THE Bosses in the Kolb party are proprietor, Calora, Ala., is the best same time laughable to read the average little country paper howling "The democracy of New York in

Mrs. S. H. McCauley's.

NEAR THE DEPOT.

Wontevallo. - - Aa.

A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hots in the Latest Styles, and at Reasonable Prices.

HANDKERCHIEFS & HOSIERY. Saturday Sales at 61

Harness A Saddles.

DEALERS IN HARDWARE & TINWARE. WAGON MATERIAL.

a meeting in that city Thursday Stock of Dynamite and Fuse, and empty and loaded Shells always on Hand.

116 19TH STREET, BIRMINCHAM.

W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co.,

CALERA; ALABAMA. Lengshore and Pitts shall be made Receive Deposits.

Negotiate Loans,

feat the nations greatest statesman for the gratification of a petty bank in all of its legitimate branches, and would be pleased to open accounts with

Lief insurance

Written in the best companies.

CITY PROPERTY AND

Bought, Sold and Rented upon just terms.

RAILROAD TIME TABLE.

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE. No. 1, South Bound, 66 " 2, North Bound, 66 6.6 ALABAMA MINERAL.

No. 85, Arrives at 86, Departs at 10:25 a. m. COUNTY OFFICERS. Probate Judge—R. W. Cobb. Circuit Clerk—W. R. A. Milner. Sheriff-W. R. Carter-Register in Chancery-D. R. McMil-

Tax Collector-E. F. Vest. Tax Assessor-W. H. Kidd. County Trersurer-A. W. Strickland. Superintendent of Education-T. N. Huston.

County Solicitor-J. L. Peters. County Commissioners—John E. Dyeey, T. B. McClusky, R. F. Johnson, D. C. Davis.

AT THE CHURCHES. PRESENTERIAN-Services on the 4th

School at 9:30 a. m. METHODIST-Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night, by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sabbath school at 9:30.

Baptist Church-Rev. J. G. Lowrey, pastor. Preaching every first and second Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting at 7.00 p. m., every Thursday.

CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN-J. C. Arnett, pastor. Preaching every first Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday evenings at 7:30. Children's Band meets 3:30 p. m. each 1st and 3rd Sunday. Ladies' Aid Society everyother Friday evening at 3 Friday evening at 3.

INSURE YOUR LIFE. Read and profit by the following sound counsel, every word of which smarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel:

sge should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do your duty and insure immediately in some good, old reliable Company."—Extract from a sermon by the Rev. T. De-

HUGH T. CAFFEY,

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON CALERA, ALA.

feb12-1y.

J. L. PETERS. HENRY WILSON, E. S. LYMAN Montevallo Columbiana. PETERS, WILSON & LYMAN,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

ONE DOLLAR WEEKLY Buys a good gold watch by our club sys-Our 14-karat gold-filled cases are warranted for 20 years. Fine Elgin or Waltham movement, stem wind and set. Lady's or gent's size. Equal to any $50 watch. To secure agents where we have none, we sell one of the hunting case watches for the club price, $28, and send C. O. D. by express with privilege of examination before paying for same.

Our agent at Durham, N. C., writes:

"Our jewelers have confessed they don't

for the money,"
Our agent at Pennington, Texas,
writes: "Am in receipt of the watch and am pleased without measure. All who have seen it say it would be cheap

One good reliable agent wanted for each place. Write for particulars.

EMPIRE WATCH CO., New York

SHELBY SPRINGS.

This 'popular summer resort will open on the first day of June 1892 for the entertainment of guest. These Spring are the most popular resort for families and health seekers in Alabama Delightful shades, ten pin alleys, lawn tennis, and all other health and pleasure giving games. For full particulars H. H. BAKER, Shelby Springs Ala.

TICKET

FOR THE C

STEVENSON

WHOLE

GENERAL INFORMATION.

THE JOUUNAL Job office is prepared to print election tickets for Democratic, People's Party, Republicans, Kolbites or Independents, or any other class of candidates before the people for suffrage. We solicit orders from adjoining counties whose printing offices are not prepared to print them. We will furnish tickets on good paper at $1.50 for single 1000, or $1.25 a 1000 for a greater quantity.

CONGRESSION'L CONVENTION

The democratic executive committee of the 4th congressional district of Alabama met at Anniston on the 5th and called the convention to meet at Calera on Thursday 25th day of August, next. The fol-10:05 p. m. county is entitled to in the conven-

> IT is really amusing to hear the adherents of the Opera House convenparty. This is not true friends. It is a plain case of voluntary desertion on your part. It is like the man who claims to be your friend while you furnish him with plenty of men, and when that gives out he forsakes you.

AT A picnic in this county a few days ago the candidate for Judge of Sundays in each month, morning and Probate on the Kolb ticket made a night; pastor to be supplied. Sabbath speech and when a Jones man got up to reply, the word was given and most of the Kolb voters withdrew, showing that the leaders are afraid to have the light turned on. -Greenville Advocate.

They do better in Butler than they do up here, Bro. Stanly, they don't go out at all except to their own is the way they have of opposing "bossism."

UNDER the heavy pressure that 'It is a duty you owe to yourself and family to protect them with a reasonable amount of life insurance, where the stours of the financial world cannot touch them; where the assessor cannot tax them; where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old see should you live. A life insurance has been brought to bear upon sion in this county is altogether unnecesary as the men who figured most conspicuously in their councils show plainly the kind of material their party is made of. Yet they try to hold on with a death grip to the democratic party, which shows conclusively that their cause is weak. Their hope in thus sailing under a good name to deceive unsuspecting farmers. It won't work that way, gentlemen, democratic suckers have all been caught, and many of them are now letting the number of negroes were present. A administration of the affairs of the State. hook that caught them go.

POLITICAL MEETING.

PEOPLE'S PARTY ORGANIZE A CLUB AT DOGWOOD.

Montevallo, July 6. - Special-The people's or third party organiz- ized democracy. In a speech on the 'Our jewelers have confessed they don't know how you can furnish such works B. B. road last Saturday. The same issues at the Convention Saturday he read the Kolb platform and stated delegates and candidates. meeting had been well advertised, and a crowd of some 350, twothirds of whom were third party men, and remainder democrats and a few ladies were present.

S. M. Dinkins and A. P. Longshore, candidates for Congress, spoke in the forenoon, and F. M. Woods and Mr. Abbott in the evening. Frequent and strong appeals to draw its prorate. were made by the speakers to the "colord gentlemdn," as they styled them, and seemed to bid for their fellowship. There were quite a cceptance, which he read to his followif them, and seemed to bid for their acceptance, which he read to his followif the were quite a cceptance, which he read to his followif the were quite a crest that he did not expect to be elected mitteeman refuses to support the nominumber of negroes on the ground.

There were some democratic nom inees present, and appealed for a division of time, but it was refused, showing that they were afraid of discussion.

Rev. F. M. Woods, who is a people's party candidate for the legislature, criticised the pledge taken by the democratic candidates, and then presented a paper for the members of the club to sign, which pledged their property, their honor vocate of white supremacy, and skulks off to that degenerate point where the and their lives to the support and off to that degenerate point where the election of the people's party ticket. PEOPLE. Consistency, thou art a jewel.

POLITICAL AND OTHERWISE.

Mr. J. S. Hare, Tax Collector of Lee desires to say to his friends that though ly defeated and is now running indely defeated and is now running independent he will support Kolb no longer, but will stand by organized Democracy.

Uniontown, July 1.—Special—Intelligence has been received here of several government the reserved fights of the States must not be impaired; and of the States must not be impaired; and that fearer Fills by Congress to requisite through the county, at which Kolb was indorsed as the choice of that race for

At a meeting of the Republican Executive Committee of Lawrence County, the following resolution was unanimously agreed upon.

Whereas, the Republican party has no State ticket in the field, and there being two Democratic tickets in Alabama, one headed by the Hon. Thos. G. Jones, the other headed by the Hon. R. 4:41 p. m. lowing are the counties in the dis 5:10 a. m. trict and the number of votes each the political situation, we the Republican Executive Committee respectfully 7:15 p. m. tion: Cleburne, 3; Calhoun, 8; Chilton, 5; Dallas, 26; Shelby, 7; County to support the Kolb wing of the Talladega, 8—57. Necessary to a Democratic party for the following port in the constitution and none from Democratic party for the following reasons, viz: That the Republican party of Lawrence County is mainly composed of agricultural laborers and small farmers, and the Hon. R. F. Kolb is known to be a practical farmer, and on that account we think our interest would be best promoted by his election. tion talk of the effort being made to known to be a practical farmer, and on drive them out of the democratic that account we think our interest would be best promoted by his election.

In supporting the Kolb ticket we are no less Republicans. We make no demand on Mr. Kolb. Neither do we expect him to surrender any of his political opinions as a Democrat and Alliance

White Plains and nominated W. A. of the United States, where it was mainspeech and when a Jones man got Porter, editor of the Cleburne New Era, for senator.

New York, July 5.—The Tammany committee of twenty-four met this afternoon and indorsed the platform of principles enunciated by the Chicago convention and pledged its earnest and untiring support to the nominees of the convention, Cleveland and Stevenson.

Judge Gresham. The Judge wouldn't dreams.

dreams.

The protectionists who prate the difference in cost of labor between the United States and the Old World never to be administered for the good of the whole people, and not spoils to be distributed as rewards to unserruptless. sections of this country. Farm labor in partisan favorites. sections of this country. Farm labor in 9. We indorse the administration of the South does not cost more than half Grover Cleveland and recognize in him tent, the advocate of the McKinley bill to forever prevent such competition. labor of the South.—Age Herald.

The impression has gone abroad that the city authorities will charge a license tax on persons selling any kind of produce. This is all a mistake. Farmers tion laws as will better secure the government of the State in the hands of the without paying license just as they formulated in the virtuous, and that without paying license just as they formerly did. The only ones who have to lot secretly and without fear or conpay a license tax are the merchants and straint.
the poor newspaper men. So bring on 14 We favor the election of Railroad the poor newspaper men. So bring on Commissioners by the people.

14. We tavoi the Commissioners by the people.

15. We indorse the wise and able adto sell and sell it for as big a price as ministration of Thomas G. Jones, who you can get.—Greenville Advocate. has followed in the footsteps of his you can get.—Greenville Advocate.

Court House Friday night and a large them number of speeches were made in an effort to unite the two factions on one or the other democratic factions, but with-out avail. In a speech to the preeting the integrity of the party organization out avail. In a speech to the meeting, and to this end they shall have power Ike Carter, a prominent leader, gave as a reason why the negro should support the primary wing was because it is the carter at the primaries of the party. object of the republicans to fight organ- to the primaries as will insure a fair and it was as good for the negro as the one adopted by the Republican convention at Minneapolis. Comment is unnecessary.-Greenville Advocate.

That negro plank in the Kolb plat-That negro plank in the Kolb plat-form is only an effort which will prove for the selection of delegates to State futile in its results. Kolb knows he and Congressional Conventions shall be must use every scheme available to held in every precinct on the same day.

5. That wherever any nominee of a form that he expects to draw the votes State shall refuse or fail to support the for him. Every plank in it he expects nominees of this Convention, all Demonstrates of the convention of the co

the vote of the negro, and control it in accord with this Convention, be and are by negro and Republican votes. If he nee of the party, then the democrats of did not expect this why does he stand advice of the State Executive Commit showing that they were afraid of votes, regardless of color, political faith Committee sman provide the mount of effecting the reorganization; ganizer, and he cares not how he does it. When he stepped upon this platform he exclaimed: "This is the happiest moment of my life!"

Shame upon a man that claims Cau- party.
6. To settle and determine the prima height of his ambition is to manipulate the colored vote to rule a white people.—Troy Messenger.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

y the Federal Government of other county, and a former Kolb supporter, powers than those specifically granted in the constitution is usurpation and ophe advocated Kolb before the State con- the powers of the Federal Government vention, since the latter has been squareis essential to the protection of the people of the several States in their do-colored republican meetings being held that Force Bills by Congress to regulate elections of members of Congress or electors for President and Vice-Presi-dent will be destructive of the rights and liberties of the people of the several States and of the harmony which should always subsist between the people and their servants; and we therefore de-nounce as unconstitutional and revolu-tionary the recent attempt of the Republican parry to pass what is known as the Force Bill.

3. We declare as a fundamental principle of Democratic faith that no more revenue shall be raised by the Federal overnment than is necessary for the payment of the national debt and for the support of the Government, honesty and economy administered; and that in aying duties on imports, any discrimination in favor of one interest or business, or of one section of the union to ley bill be repealed, and that the tariff be so reduced in rate, and so reformed as to subjects, that necessaries and such articles as the masses consume shall be as lightly taxed as possible.
4. That the Democratic party of Alabama expresses its condemnation of the Republican party for their administra-tion of the finance of the country, under The primary election for county officers in Coosa will be held July 16.

The democratic convention of the Seventh Senatorial district assembled at place and uses under the Constitution tained so long as our party had control of the people. And we demand the circulation of the State banks.

5 We demand that Congress repeal all laws authorizing national banks to issue notes to circulate as money based for the payment of pensions shall be onvention, Cleveland and Stevenson.

The Third party flirted in vain with of railroad and telegraph lines by the Federal Government, and to the multigive up a life job to lead a party of plication of offices, but we favor the dreams.

between the cost of labor in different tributed as rewards to unscrupulous what it does in the North, because liv- one of the ablest living exponents of the He will die. No cause for the rash act the democracy of the News or its eding is cheaper in the South. This fact true principles of the Democratic party.

10. We demand that free labor shall makes a great difference in the cost of be relieved of competition with convicts, production. Therefore, to be consis- and all necessary laws shall be enacted should demand protection for the cheap vide a more efficient system of public 12. We favor such further legislation as will better regulate corporation char-tered by the State.

13. We favor the passage of such elec-will enable every elector to cast his bal

Democratic predecessors in redeeming A Republican caucus was held at the every pledge made to the people to give them an ilonest, economical and just

THE PARTY LAW.

Resolved, That it is the duty of the

2. To prescribe such rules in respect free expression of the will of every delegates and candidates.

3. To consider, and if they deem wise, to petition the Legislature to pass laws regulating the primaries of the party, and punishing any fraud or wrongful

"get the votes." He stands on a plat- regular Democratic Convention in this ocrats are absolved from supporting him and that the Executive Committees One is a negro plank, one to tackle of the several counties of this State, in August. Yet Kolb said in his paper of may be necessary to nominate others in or previous servitude. He is a disor- that whoever refuses to support the office at the hands of the party nor to membership in any committee of the casian blood in his veins, and yet lays facie right of delegates claiming seats in say to him in all candour that the

1. That the assumption and exercise PURE BLOOD GOOD HEALTH in the constitution is usurpation and oppression; that a strict construction of tention to the condition of their blood and its proper circulation. Nearly all distance the powers of the Federal Government cases that flesh is heir to are caused and agravated by an impure condition of the blood and a sluggish circulation.

V: V: V

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS

Possessing Extraordinary Cleansing Powers.

Restoring and Strengthening the whole System, Enriching the Blood producing increased vitality by restoring an impaired digestion and bringing back the bloom of youth to the cheek of the enfeehled and emaciated.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle-6 Bottles for $5.00.

For Sale by All Druggists.

NABERS, MORROW & SINNIGE,

SOLE CONTROLERS,

Birmingham.

A WORD ABOUT THE WEELKY CONSTITUTION. Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers .- 12 Pages.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT.

1. It is the best of all weekly news- "Aunt Susie," the editress of these depapers.

2. It is invaluable to the tarmer and thoughout the south.

the farmer's family, bringing each week cheer to the fireside and happiness to the household.

Leavers the name of the whole italia systemes agreed by the year, and their inimitalia systemes agreed week.

world, having its correspondents scattered over the globe, and having a thee-the sturdy champion of the agricultural ough news service from every important interests of the south. news center in the world.

4. Its Agricultural Department alone is worth many times its subscription price to every farmer. This department of the south, and much more than any is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, whose service is retained by the Constitution at great expense.

8. It pays more money for its special features and for its news service than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any weekly newspaper in America.

9. It is the cheapest, being only One tollow the constitution at great expense.

10. The Woman's and Children's Department alone features and for its news service than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south.

9. It is the cheapest, being only One to a postage stamp. Think of it! Every time a hen lays an eye she pays for its special and for its news service than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any weekly newspaper in America.

It covers the news of the whole itable sketches appear each week.

It is the People's Friend, and is

8. It pays more money for its special

tution at great expense.

5. Its Woman's and Childeren's Departments are a source of infinite pleasure to every family, and the name of personnel of the greatest weekly newspaure to every family, and the name of personnel of the greatest weekly newspaure to every family, and the name of personnel of the greatest weekly newspaure to every family, and the name of personnel of the greatest weekly newspaure to every family, and the name of personnel of the greatest weekly newspaure to every family, and the name of the greatest weekly newspaure to every family.

Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of your neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulated home should be without it.

Agents Wanted in every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information. THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

such, the State Executive Committee shall have authority to settle such con-test, and to declare who is the regular nominee.

Shelby, July 1.-Special .- Harvey T. Crowell, a highly respected young man, employed as engineer at the water works at this place, attempted suicide by shooting himself in the left breast with a pistol, about 1 o'clock today. cannot throw any cold water upon, can be given.

July 5.-Died on the 3rd. inst., at 2:30 p. m., at his father's residence three miles east of this place Mr. Harvey T. Crowell, from the effects of a wound. He leaves a father, mother and and one brother, a wife and babe six days old to mourn his loss.

His physician believes that over work and loss of sleep caused his dement. Peace to his ashes.

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

The Birmingham News at Reduced Rates,

address at the following rates. Daily News published every afternoon and Sunday morning, four months for $1.50; the Sunday News four months for Twenty-five cents, payable in advance. The News is fearlessly Demoratic and supports the regularly organized Democracy of the State headed by Thes. G. Jones.

The News is the leading afternoon newspaper of the State, and will turnish all the news political and otherwise during the coming bampaign in a crisp and readable

Now is the time to subscribe. Sample copies sent on application, Address
THE NEWS, Birmingham, Ala.

It looks queer when the Kolb bosses and the Republican bosses meet in Birmingham on the same day.

[The Shelby News]

It is the special fortune or misfortune, as the case may be, of the NEWS to be boycotted or ignored by Mr. W B. Browne, chairman of the democratic executive committee of Shelby county. It is a fact readily recognized by every true democrat in Shelby county that Mr. Browne's two predecessors in office as chairman, never issued any address or party calls but what the News, was furnished with copies, and promptly gave publication. Now when Mr. Browne was elected chairman of the committee the NEWS in common with others in the county, thought that democracy would be subserved and a rational democra campaign would ensue, and that democrats could touch elbows without any thought of the past. If the learned and usually fair chairman of the committee, wants to boycott the News, we have no objections, but we democratic party in Shdlby needs unifying and has no use for any one who the territory affected, or if there be no factions, in our party in Shelby. The News could be readily destroyed, and, no great harm would be fall the country, but the distruction of the demo cratic party would be a calamity to the country, hard to compute, and almost a complete distruction of civil liberty. Ignore, boycott, or do any thing you may, Mr. Chairman, but be assured that you itor for the latter was waging the battles of democracy when you were in your swaddling cloths, and never feels called upon to reassert his fealty to the democratic nominees, whether he has to eat crow or not.

$500 Will be Given

For any case of Rheumatism which can not be cured by Dr. Drummond's Lightning Remedy. The proprietors do not hide this offer, but print it in bold type on all their circulars, wrappers, printed matter, and through the newspapers everywhere. It will work wonders, one bottle will cure nearly every case. If the druggist has not got it, he will order it, or it will be sent to any address by prepaid express on receipt of price, $5. During the month of July, the Bir-mingham News will be mailed to any Drummond Medicine Co., 48-50 Maiden The Lane, New York. Agents wanted.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES

Sir-I made use of your Philotoken with my last child, in creer to procure a two months before my expected time, and I had a very quick and easy confinement. Nothing occurred to protract my convalencence, and I got about in less time than was usual for me. I think it is medicine that should be used by it a medicine that should be used by every expectant mother, for should they but try it as I have, they would never again be without it at such times. I am

yours respectfully,
Mrs. ELIZABETH DIX. Anymerchant or druggist can procure Risley's Philotoken for $1 a bottle. CHARLES F. RISLEY, Wholesale Druggist, 62 Cortlandt St., New York.

ALL KINDS OF JACKS.

This Is the Age of the Crank and Mono-

The number of Jacks who have come before the public in the last two years is astolishing. The famous "Jack-theastonishing. The famous "Jack-the-Ripper" in London started the custom calling every crank who does something out of the ordinary Jack—with a word or two following to distinguish what he is noted for. The people of this country and England were excited by the horrible crimes charged to Jack-the-Ripper, who committed thirteen murders and baffled the police of London. Then came the New York Jack-the-Ripper, who murdered the old woman "Shakespeare" and cut her up in a way like that employed by the London fiend. The arrest of Frenchy, within forty-eight hours after the discovery of the crime, and his subsequent conviction did not satisfy every one that he was the guilty party. Many believe to the present day that the New York Jack and the London Jack were identical Jack-the-Slasher, of New York, closes the list of Jacks who were murderously inclined. The slasher, it will be re-membered, was the man who had cut the throats of six drunken men when he was arrested in January. He was caught in the very act of cutting the throat of a man who was overcome by drink. He gave his name as Henry G. He is now in an asylum. Jackthe-Ink-Thrower was one of the cranks of the milder sort who were classed among the Jacks, and together with Jack-the-Water-Thrower, Jack-the-Kisser, Jack-the-Haircutter, Jack-the-Smiler and Jack-the-Hugger, served to annoy and frighten the timid of several cities in this country. Their methods are indicative of disordered brains, and It is evident that the respective manners in which they show their insanity are the result of some fancied wrong for which they are bound to be revenged.

The Peanut Plant.

The peanut plant has one peculiarity possessed by no other shrub or plant in the world. The flower of the plant grows downward, and, after it falls, the pod which contains the embryo nut is liferally forced down into the ground by the sudden and rapid growth of the rigid stalk from which it depends. The phenomenon may be watched by any one who from curiosity plants peanuts in his yard, and he will also notice that if from any cause the plant is unable to push the pod into the earth the peanut will at once cease to grow, and remain

Poisoned Mrs. Mary E. O'Fallen, a nurse, of Piqua, Ohio, was poisoned while assisting physicians at an autopsy 5 years ago, and soon terrible ulcers broke out on her head, arms, tongue and throat. She

Mrs. M. E. O'Fallen saw no prosnect of help.
At last she began to take HOOD'S SARSA-PARILLA and at once improved; could soon well, weighs 128 pounds, eats well, and does the work for a large family.

HOOD'S PILLS should be in every famfly medicine chest. Once used, always preferred.

"Mothers" FRIEND"

MAKES CHILD BIRTH EASY.

Colvin, La., Dec. 2, 1886.—My wife used MOTHER'S FRIEND before her third confinement, and says she would not be without it for hundreds of dollars.

Sent by express on receipt of price, $1,50 per bottle. Book "To Mothers" mailed free. BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., FOR BALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS. ATLANTA. GA

A PRIZE PICTURE PUZZLE.

The above picture contains four faces, the man and his three daughters. Anyone can find the man's face, but it is not so easy to distinguish the laces of the three young ladies.

The proprietors of Ford's Prize Pills will give an elegant Gold Watch to the first person who can make out the three daughters faces; to the second will be given a pair of genuine Diamond Ear-Rings; to the third a handsome SIIk Dress Pattern, 16 yards in any color; to the fourth a Coin Silver Watch, and many other prizes in order of merit. Every competitor must cut out the above puzzle picture, distinguish the three girls faces by marking a cross with lead pencil on each, and enclose same with fifteen U. S. two cent stamps for one box of FORD'S PRIZE PILLS, (which will be sent post paid, duty free), addressed to THE FORD FILL COMPANT, Wellington St. Torento, Can. The person whose envelope is postmarked first will be awarded the first prize, and the others in order of merit. To the person sending the last correct answer will be given an elegant Gold. Watch. pair of genuine Dlamond Ear-Rings; to the second to the last a handsome Silk Dress Pattern, 16 yards in any color; to the third to the last a Coin Silver Watch, and many other prizes in order of merit counting from the last. WE SHALL GIVE AWAY TOO VALUABILE PREMIUMS (should there be so many sending in correct answers). No charge is made for boxing and packing of premiums. The names of the leading prize winners will be published in connection with our advertisement in leading newspapers next month. Extra premiums will be given to those who are willing to assist in introducing our medicine. Nothing is charged for the premiums in any way, they are absolutely given away to introduce and advertise Ford's Prize Pills, which are purely vegetable and het gently yet promptly on the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels, dispelling Headache, Fevers and Colds, tleansing the system thoroughly and cure habitual ronstipation. They are sugarr-contect, do not gripe, very small, easy to take, one pill a tlesse, and are purely vegetable. Perfect digestion follows their use. As to the reliability of our company, we refer you to any leading wholesale druggist or business house in Toronto. All premiums will be awarded strictly in order of merit and with perfect satisfaction to the public. Pills are sent by pany, we refer you to any leading wholesale drug-gist or business house in Toronto. All premiums will be awarded strictly in order of merit and with perfect satisfaction to the public. Pills are sent by mail post paid. When you answer this picture puzzle, kindly mention which newspaper you saw it in. Address THE FORD PILL COMPANY, Wel-linaton St. Toronto, Can.

SOMEWHAT STRANGE.

ACCIDENTS AND INCIDENTS OF EVERY-DAY LIFE.

Queer Episodes and Thrilling Adventures Which Show that Truth is Stranger than Fiction,

A GENTLEMAN named Williamson, from Boston, who has been spending several months among the Moqui Indians in New Mexico, tells a strange story of a certain family of the tribe, which is perfectly he is of the opinion that they are to the fact that they are pure Indians, the only strange thing about it being that they have none of the characteristics of the ordinary Albino as seen in other places. The family is known far and the usual places travelled by white men, consequently they are rarely seen by others than the race they belong to. The Indians look upon them as being something helier than the rest of the tribe and hence do not talk about them to outsiders. Mr. Williamson says that the head man of the family says there is a tradition among them that they originally came from the North and settled among this people, but that they have been here so long that they have lost all the characteristics of the Northern tribe. If this story has any foundation it is probable that the original stock came from the tribe of Mand in Indians, who are said to be white and live in the extreme northwest of North Dakota. Mr. Williamson says he will endeavor to see if he can find the Mandans and see if the peculiar characteristics are the same in that tribe as they are in the freaks of

SILAS BOLTON'S old black-and-tan bear hound Scout makes his master's only cow his constant companion from the time the bear hunting season closes until it opens in the fall. Bolton's cow runs at large, and Scout stays with her from morning till night. One day recently the cow wondered away to Brier Swamp, three miles west of Skinner's Creek. Penn. Scout followed her, and along in senting 123,250 miles of railway. The the afternoon Amos Jennings, who lives on Maple Hill, three-quarters of a mile | be represented at the St. Petersburg from the swamp, heard the hound baying down there. He recognized Scout's voice, and in a moment he heard Bolton's cow bellowing as though she was in distress. Jennings ran all the way to the swamp, and when he came in sight of the cow he found her and Scout giving battle to a bear near the edge of the swamp. Scout was nipping the bear from behind and when the bear turned to strike him sprang back, and the cow pitched into the bear and gored him till he turned on her. Then the cow would jump out of his way, and Scout would instantly bite the bear's flanks and force him to wheel. The moment he did so the spunky cow would sail into him with a bellow and plough furrows in his fur, bounding to a safe distance the instant the bear turned on her. Then Scout tackled him again, and between the two they made the bear roar and plunge terrifically. He failed strike the hound or cow, but Scout seemed to worry him the most, and when he made a vicious lunge at the dog the cow drove one of her horns into the bear's left side. The bear roared and raved to get at the cow, but Scout kept him at bay, and within twenty minutes the angry cow gored the bear to death.

been looked upon as prehistoric and striking the fish square amidships, so to have been called "Indian mounds," yet speak. The shark was unable to extrino one has ever attempted to explore any of them, as they were so small that it was thought they contained nothing except, possibly, bones of some departed red men. Some days ago, however, a young man named Lerue dreamed that he opened a small mound which was on his father's farm and found that it contained a lot of money. He was so impressed with the dream that he determined to open the mound in question and see what was in it. He was afraid his family would laugh at him, so he determined to go about it secretly. He began his work the day following the dream and continued it odd hours until last Wedenday, when he reached a flat rock, under which he found the remains of two skeletons. These bones crumbled to dust upon exposure to the air, showing that they had been buried for centuries; but there were some things there which did not crumble, and they were several gold ornaments which had undoubtedly adorned the arms of the persons who had been buried there. These ornaments consisted of four rings made of heavy beaten gold. The ends of the rings had been welded together and had been rudely fashioned into the shapes of snakes' heads. In the eyes were small stones, which are evidently turquoises, and on the back of the head was a peculiar mark, evidently the totem of the tribe to which the men belonged.

Among the many enterprises in southwest Missouri there are probably none that attract more attention than does the snake farm located three-fourths of a mile due west of Chadwick. The farm proper consists of about five acres, half enclosed by a natural stone wall, or a ledge. On one side of this enclosure is a natural rock cave, and out of this cave runs an everlasting stream of the purest water. This spring being on the highest spot of land on the farm it is easily conveyed to all places where needed. Mr. Childs, proprietor of the farm, has been dealing in snakes and manufacturing rattlesnake oil for over ten years, and finds it quite profitable, as he supplies all species of snakes for exhibition purposes, all kinds of snake curiosities, rattlesnake oil to the drug trade, and charges an admission fee of ten cents to all visitors who come to the farm. He is now fixing up the place for the summer trade, and will have large pens built for the snakes, with a living pond of water in each one, and a platform on the outside where visitors may stand out of danger looking at the hundred different species, all in their natural state, eating, drinking, playing, swimming, fighting, sleeping, &c.

in the fourth story of a tenement-house from the open window, which looked out upon a network of clothes lines strung across the court-yard. Suddenly the mother heard baby scream. She rushed into the room, but little Rosa was nowhere to be seen. Two washerwomen who were looking over their washing in the court-yard below, however, had seen baby Solomon lean out of the window Mr. Williamson says that he and grasp a clothes line. Then they saw the Indians himself and knows that saw the line break and toss the child there is no doubt as to their color, but half across the court. There its little body struck another line, which also Albinos. He says there is no doubt as broke and gave the baby another toss twenty feet further away. Still another line intervened between the falling child Rosa over into a corner of the courtyard, where she was picked up unburt of leather. wide among the Indians themselves, but save a scratch on her forehead. The as their place of residence is far from child's frock was tattered and torn. She fell fully sixty feet. Papa Solomon measured the distance himself with a broken clothes line.

THE next sitting of the International Railway Congress will be held at St. Petersburg, in August, 1892. Among the subjects set down for consideration are-uniform techinal terms; frogs and switches; maintenance of track; limit of wear of tires and rails; relation between track and bridges and track and rolling stock; track for fast trains; control of speed of trains; breakage and wear of steel fails; maintenace of track on metal and wooden sleepers; dutability and preservative treatment of wooden sleepers; track and rolling stock on curves; production of steam in locomotive boilers; high pressure and the compound system; high pressure and differential valve gears; rolling stock for lines with light traffic; continuous heating for passenger trains; locomotive running, double-crew system against first-in-firstout system; locomotives, fuel consumption, tubes, tires, lubrication, crank axles, fireboxes, boilers, switch engines; lubrication of car axles journals, etc The first sitting of the Congress was held in Brussels in 1885. The Congress is now supported by thirty-two Governments and 244 railway administrations, repre-Chinese and Japanese Governments will GABE MILLS a well-known hunter and prospector, was sitting in front of his camp tent in the Craig Mountain region of Idaho, smoking his pipe, when suddenly he was swooped down upon by a flock of big white owls. They clutched him with their great talous and they gnashed at him with hooked beaks. They advanced and retreated with swiftness and regularity. Gabe hustled himself into his tent, and they swooped in after him. He couldn't use his gun to any purpose except as a club, and used it thus so effectively that he soon routed the flock, but he was clawed and chawed so that he bled like a stuck pig. When he took an inventory of stock, he found that he had killed twelve immense owls with the butt of his gun. Some of them were six feet from tip to tip. It was a most unusual occurrence, that owl raid on Gabe's camp, and it is a favorite story out around Craig Mountain yet.

THE steamship Kansas City of the cate itself owing to the intense pressure foam and bubbles, and all is over until of the water. In a few moments the sharp stem had cut the flesh to the back. In a little while the cheery whistles shark was towed along by the steamship ROMANCE in real life is quite as frequently a tragedy as it is a comedy, and how a romance leaps into view occasionally in real life—seemingly merely to illustrate the proverb that "truth is strange, stranger than fiction," was never illustrated more thrillingly than in the composing room of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette a few nights ago. 'fat' or otherwise, and hastening away to "set them up," when suddenly a feminine compositor fainted and tumbled into a heap on the floor. She was taken away and sent home. Some one else finished her "take." The some one else ingto merely noticed that the "take" was a telegraphic account of a suicide in an other city. Nothing was thought of this become known to the citizens of Tarry until the next day, when a peep "be-tween the lines" was given, and it tran-arrangements were made to give him a spired that the man who committed suicide was the girl's lover. There were forty compositors being fed by that copy board, and yet this particular bit of copy fit for a king. Everything, almost, in fell to this particular girl. If a novelist the line of eatables that one could think had told the story he would have been of was secured and placed in readiness accused by half of his readers of telling to be served on short notice. About an improbable tale.

A MAINE paper tells of the queer predicament in which a Biddeford man is. He owns fifty acres of land in the suburbs of Biddeford, which his grandmother left him, but he can't find it. The boundary lines haven't been run for generations. There is some dim record of the original grant at Alfred, but not clear enough to enable him to find out just what he owns. He has had a surveyor at work trying to run lines, but each time he has encroached on land to which others had clear titles. Now the property is advertised for taxes, and a possible solution has presented itself to the owner. He says he is going to let daughter of Mrs. D. Solomon, who lives Island, New York Harbor, in the unlooked-for liberation of an immigrant in New York, was dressed for papa's home-coming from the factory the other afternoon. Mrs. Solomon stepped out of the room to attend to some household the only asset he had was a pet dog and duty and cautioned baby to keep away a pup, the latter having two bodies that jot 1 at the shoulders, one head and six legs. The agent of an uptown fancier happened to hear of the baby dog and bought the animal, paying such a high price that, with the money, Zalinski will be able to make a start in the New World.

Rosa Solomon, the pretty two-year-old | A curious incident occurred at Ellis | journey.-[Detroit Free Press.

Among the curiosities in the Maine State Prison is a dress that offe of the prisoners, who attempted to escape recently, had made as a disguise. At different times the man, who worked in the carriage trimming shop, secreted small bits of Hannel, which he sewed together from which he fashioned a most remark able gown, with a big bow at the back and the hard stone flagging and bounced by way of adornment. The buttons are made from harness trimmings and bits

A SAILOR'S BURIAL.

A Simple But Impressive Ceremony on the Deep.

When maritime Jack dies, he is buried without much undue ceremony. A brief prayer, a shotted hammock, the lee rail, and all is over. But on board a ship-ofwar a sailor's funeral is pathetic in its dignified simplicity. No muster of the ship's company is, naturally, so sad as this, and you can see it on the faces of all when the subdued shrilling of the bo'sw'n's whistle is followed by the longdrawn-out and modulated cail of "All hands bury the dead!" The men come aft quietly, and take their allotted stations. To leeward, if it be at sea, or upon the port side of the quarterdeck if not in port, the seamen are ranged in the front rank; behind them are the ordinary seamen; and in lear of both, the apprentices and the landsmen. In the gangway forward of the mainmast, on such ships as still have sail power, senior petty officers stand at attention. Around the coffin, folded in the jack or national ensign, are grouped the pall-bearers, selected usually from the dead man's mess or gun division, and close at hand, resting on arms, the marine guard is paraded. Nearest the coffin are the chaplain and the captain, and then in order of their rank, stretch att the other officers of the ship.

The ensign at the peak or staff flutters tremblingly at half-mast, and from overhead the yard and stay tackles swing lazily, ready to lift the coffin outboard. When the weather permits the way of the ship is stopped, and, it may be, little flickers of idling steam curl upward and to leeward like incense, and the wind in the backed and fretting topsails murmurs a dirge. The order to "uncover' passed gently, and while the beautiful words of the burial service are being read, the hush of the living is accentuated by the low accompaniments of sea sounds-by the rumple of eager waters eddying sternward, and by the surging the breeze in the hollows of the canvas and through the rigging and gear. When the closing prayer is said, the last blessing given, the tackels are manned, the coffin is stripped of its flags and slung in straps, and slowly, reverently, is hoisted above the rail and clear of the ship, until it is poised over the billows. The marines load, aim, fire-in all three volleys, that Ocean Steamship Company, which arrived in New York recently from Savan-awaken rattling echoes in the hidden nah, caused the death of a five-foot shovel-nosed shark, says the Sun, in a somewhat unusual manner. Off Hat-newer meaning of sleep and rest; the All the bluffs along the river in the vicinity of Marshall, Mo., are covered with small mounds, which have always with small mounds, which have always with small mounds, which have always ship ran its cutwater into the shark, sudden ierk, and in an instant the > bone, and this in turn breaking under the strain, the shark assumed the shape ensign climbs to the dasher block, the of an inverted V, hanging on either side | ship is brought to her course, and dazed of the bow like an old rope, the head ly the men take up the wearying routine and tail being still connected by the of the lives so sadly broken. An unusual muscles of the back. Caught thus, the quiet rests upon the vessel and around the mess tables; but in the groups gathfor some 300 miles, and until the stop at Quarautine, when, released from the pressure of the water, the body slowly virtues—those heroic and honest sea virtues—of the dead sailor are recalled and with a tenderness born of a comradeship closer than any other men except soldiers may know.—[Lieut, J. D. Jerrold Kelly, U. S. N.

Washington's Favorite Dish.

Mrs. A. J. Dauds of Canton, Ohio, re-The board was strewn with copy, and the compositors were securing "takes," ton, as told by her grandfather, Nicholas ton, as told by her grandfather, Nicholas Fringer of Tarrytown, Md., who was owner of the mill in question, and which illustrates the plainness of Washington's During the administration of Washington, he found it necessary to take a business trip of a few days turation, accompanied by his staff. It having town that he would pass through there, royal reception, and the proprietor of the village tavern, at which he would four o'clock in the afternoon of the eventful day, the distinguished party arrived and was driven to the hotel. Jpon being told when to have supper ready, the host sent word to Washington's room asking him if he would state what he would like best. He was greatly surprised to learn that Washington desired only mush and milk. In the attempt to have everything convenient, those in charge had not thought of cornmeal. The nearest place where it could be obtained was at the mill of Nicholas Fringer, some distance from the village. However, one of the villagers, a friend of the landlord, offered to go after the meal, and a minute later was astride a horse galloping towards the mill. The the city sell the land for taxes, but it is the city sell the city find it for him. The city, he argues, can't sell anything it can't deliver, and can't deliver anything it can't find.

much desired as much desired as and the horseman was soon back to the avern. Although supper was a little late, Washington had his mush and milk, and later the party resumed its [Detroit Free Press.] Mysterious and Wonderful.

The mysteries of plant life are even more interesting and intricate than the secrets of insect life. The sex in plants and flowers and trees is just as distinctive as in the human species; and it is no uncommon thing to observe at the close of the day or at early dawn a dashing male plant or flower bending its form over far enough to kiss the nectar from the petal lips of its nearest floral Juno.

Then some of the handsomest and most delicately formed and tinted plants and flowers are as ruthless and as sav age in their instincts as the cannibals of the Fiji Islands. The entire order of pitcher plants, notably among them the beautiful "wild duck" or "Indian moceasin" plant, whose delicately pink-shaded purse-like; sac is the admiration of all wild flower seekers, owes its existence to the flies and small insects which are attracted within its folds by the deli-cately flavored moisture of its cup and smothered and starved to death by the spasmodic closing of its outer door, hemming all intruders in as completely as a ceil of the old Bastile, and on these strange feasts the beautiful plant lives and thrives.

Deatness Can't be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tribe gets intamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by caterrit, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. damed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of dearness (caused by catarrhy that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Bend for circulars, free.

Sold by Druggists,

Another deserted castle on the Khine has been purchased by a rich and ambitious American.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD? These is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, ERAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OF SAMPLES FREE.

Rudyard Kipling's contributions to the London Times are paid for at the of $150

Mrs. U. S. Grant has concluded to spend most of the summer at Cranston's, West Point, N. Y.

Ladies, ladies, think of the engagements you have broken and the disappointments consequent to others and perhaps also to yourselves, all on account of headache. Bradycrotine will cure you in fifteen minutes. Fifty cents.

Ex Queen Natalif. of Servia, has drama-

For impure of thin Blood, Weakness, Malaria Neuragia, Indigestion, and Billousness, take Brown's Iron Bitters—it gives strength, making old persons feel young—and young persons strong; pleasant to take.

Jefferson, the commedian, is worth over a quarter of a million.

BEECHAM'S PILLS act like magic on the liver and other vital organs. One dose relieves sick headache in 20 minutes.

Queen Virtoria has made the Khedive of of Egypt a knight of the Order of Bath.

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

There's a wide difference between the help that's talked of and the help that's guaranteed.

Which do you want, when you'rebuying medicine?

If you're satisfied with words, you get them with every blood-purifier but one. That one is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. With that, you get a guarantee. If it doesn't help you, you have your money back. On this plan, a medicine that promises help is pretty sure to give it.

But it's because the medicine is different, that it's sold differently. It's not like the sarsaparillas, which are said to be good for the blood in March, April, and May. At all seasons and in all cases, it cures permanently, as nothing else can, all the diseases arising from a torpid liver or from impure blood.

It's the best blood - purifier, and it's the cheapest, no matter how many doses are offered for a dollar.

With this, you pay only for the good you get.

Can you ask more?

"German Syrup"

taken with spitting blood, and she became very much alarmed, fearing that dreaded disease, Consumption. She tried nearly all kinds of medicine but nothing did her any good. Finally she took German Syrup and she told me it did her more good than anything she ever tried. It stopped the blood, gave her strength and ease, and a good appetite. I had it from her own lips. Mrs. Mary A. Stacey, Trumbull, Conn. Honor to German Syrup.

A torpid liver is the source of dyspep-sia, sick headache, constipation, piles, billous fever, chills and jaundice. Tutt's Tiny Pills have a specific effect on the liver restoring it to healthy action. 25cts.

DO NOT GRIPE NOR SICKEN. Sure cure for SICK HEAD-ACHE, impaired digestion, consti-pation, torpid glands. They arouse vital organs, remove nauses, diz-ziness Magical effect on Kidpation, torpid glands. They arouse vital organs, remove nauses, dizziness. Magical effect on Kidneys and bladder. Conquerbillious nervous disorders, Establish natural DALLY ACTION.

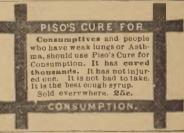

Beautify complexion by purifying blood. Furily Vegetable.

The dose is niedy adjusted to suit case, as one pill can never betoo much. Each vial contains 4%, carried in vest pocket. like lead peneli. Business man's great convenience. Taken easier than sugar. Soldeverywhere. All genuine goods bear "Crescent."

Send 2-cent stamp. You get 32 page book with cample.

0

DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis. Mo.

SHORTHAND.

FRED'K DUTCHER DRUG CO.,

including Pedals. Suspension Saddle.

Strictly HIGH GRADE in Every Particular. Send 6 cents in stamps for our 100-page illustrated cuta-logue of Guns, Riffes, Revolvers, Sporting Goods, etc. JOHN P. LOVELL ARMS CO., Mfrs., 147 Washington St., BOSTON, MASS

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

THE CALERA JOURNAL.

VOL. I.

CALERA, ALA., SATURDAY, JULY 30, 1892.

NO. 40.

The Years.

The years are all alike. With childish They follow butterflies with endless wings; They peep into the bird's nest; they look

White lambs and other pretty little things.

Then, in the first flush of their youth, they bring us Shy gifts of violets in a gallant way;

And ah! what charming, low love songs they sing us

From leaf-green shadows where the wild deves stav.

But, somewhat later, they show bearded faces. And sway the scythe and bear the shears about In the hot fields, and quite forget the graces They had of old-as others do, no doubt.

Still later they go out for us and gather The scarlet fruit in and the vellow corn. Or walk about the withering woods with

A faded look, and sigh, and seem forlorn.

Then they sit still and watch the embers Behind the curtains in some pictured

While each one, somewhere in his heart, remembers

Tue dew, the summer moonrise, and the

Then comes the last night watch, the lonesome tapers, The few tears, of the many prayers quick

The black-lined columns in the morning

And, yes-the many virtues of the dead. -[S. M. B. Piatt.

JEANNETTE'S PANSIES.

"Good-by!" It was a madness of farewells. They stood looking into one another's eyes with blanched faces. Would he ever come back? Her wide eyes grew desolate as she looked at him. Then the lashes dropped over them and she lay motionless against his breast for a second, as though the spirit had died within her.

"Jeannette, is this the girl fitted to be a soldier's wife? Have you no regard for my honor?" His voice quivered, but his eyes looked down upon her proudly.

"Yes." She roused herself bravely. "Your duty is at the front. I would not hold you back."

She placed her hand on the bunch of pansies at her throat; royal beauties they were, with great velvety hearts of purple and gold.

"They are my colors," she whispered. "Wear them, my knight, and be true to your lady always."

Her trembling fingers pinned them inside his coat.

"God be with you."

She kept the tears back, smiling into his face, though the drum-beat sounding in the street below seemed like a death knell. It was the signal to start—the signal for the volunteers, the brave men who were off for the Indian war, this dreadful war that had come like a blight upon her beautiful Western home.

"Good-by and God bless you! The pansies will be my talisman."

The most intense excitement raged in the mining camp. Ever since the news had come that the old chief was on the warpath and the call had been made for volunteers to defend the settlers on the frontier, the town had been alive with men anxious to obtain the scalp of the bloodthirsty redskins.

Among them none was more fearless or more brave than Ned Ashby. He was one of the young pioneers who had struck a bonanza in the mines. More than that (to use the phraseology of the mining camp), he had located a claim on the prettiest girl in town and patented it-a stroke of good luck that had made him more envied among the boys than even his mining shares in the May Queen.

Then came the news of a fierce battle between the Utes and Major Thornburg's men, in which many were wounded on either side. Her father came home at noon with an open letter in his hand.

She took it silently and read:

"Edward Ashby was wounded in the battle of the -th inst."

She did not faint, though he had expected she would, but her face blanched until it was like marble and her eyes grew large and black, glowing like stars.

"I must go and nurse him," she said.

Her father laid his hand upon hers. "Dear child, this is folly-the talk of insanity. You cannot go," he said.

The color leaped to her cheeks and her eyes flashed.

"I must go," she cried.

He could not say no then. He knew her nature so well. Thwarted in this desire she might die.

"I cannot go with you, Jeannette. Can you go alone?"

She drew herself up grandly. It was the proud right of the western American girl. She knew no fear.

At 6 the next morning her favorite horse Plato stood at the door. At nightfall she was at the springs fifty miles away. It was a popular summer resort and many guests had been there, but at the first news of the war most of them had fled to the eastern

The General, who had headquarters near the springs and who had heard of her arrival and her purpose, sent for her in the evening.

She came to him with eager eyes for the tidings just received by a courier from the scene of battle. Beyond the springs there were no telegraph wires, and the couriers rode day and night over the dangerous Indian trails to bring the dispatches.

"Is there-any-news of him?" she

"Yes." The General's voice almost choked as he looked at her. How could he break the heart of this brave young creature whose great love made her so beautiful, its unselfish purpose shining from every feature? How could he tell her the cruel truth, with those love-lit, starry eyes fixed so unflinchingly upon his? "Child," he said, his hand upon hers, even as her father's had been, his eyes full of kindness, his stern voice suddenly tender, "your lover is dead! The courier just in states that he died yesterday after-

Not one word came from her lips. The great eyes gave him one stricken look, and then she fell just where she stood at his feet, like a helpless, bro-

He lifted her up gently and called for assistance. But in a little while she revived, rising to her feet with the old brave, determined look on her

"I must go with him," she said. "They will bury him there and I shall never look upon his face again. I must go!"

"An escort of my best and bravest men shall accompany you," he said. body here."

"Thank you."

It was all she could say, but tears of gratitude rose in her eves as she bent low over his extended hand.

Then for the first time she learned the full particulars of her lover's exploit; how he had led the scouting party, rushing bodily into the face of the foe, and by this action saving the military from the ambush the savages had prepared for them. In a moment the battle had begun, but ere his comrades were hand to hand with the redskins, who seemed to lurk behind every bush and tree, this bold young soldier had met his fate, falling with his face to the foc. "At last he died like a hero," her heart whispered whenever the bitter ness of her woe threatened to overwhelm her.

Two days later, after a long and weary journey, her little party reached the soldiers' camp. The boys had entrenched themselves behind a small knoll overlooking the surrounding country, fortifying themselves with earthworks against any attacks from Indians. All things seemed, for the present, peaceful.

At sight of her the boys raised a cheer. Many of the militia knewher, and they were proud of her. They knew her for what she was—a brave, heroic girl, purely, sweetly womanly, yet ready as any of her brothers to take the weapons from her belt and defend her life or that of any she loved-a girl imbued with all the glory and strength of her native moun-

She acknowledged the cheers with a sweet, grave dignity; then the leading officer in her escort whispered something to the Major ere he helped her to dismount.

She caught the reply. It made her tremble, but with the suspicion of a great joy, not sorrow.

came from her white lips with a gasp. Dixon (Cal.) Tribune.

"No" -the Major came to her side | quickly-"the courier made a mistake. It was Ned Sampson who died. Ashby yet lives, though he lies still almost at The Descendants of an Ancient death's door.'

The Major led the way into the tent where the wounded man lay, motioning the guide aside. Then he left her, followed by the young officer who had been in attendance.

Taking up the hand that lay so helpless against the rough blankets she pressed it to her lips, and then for the first time the tears fell from her eyes -fell in a hot, blinding mist. What pain and anguish had not done joy had accomplished-joy that he still lived and that she had reached him in time to give all her young life to his care and service.

His coat-the one he had worn when parting from her-lay on the bed. Her eyes darkened as she saw the stains of blood and the bullet-hole. She took it in her hands, examining it keenly. There were the pansies, faded and worn, stilled pinned inside. The bullet had passed through just above them.

"Had the bullet struck him an inch lower it would have been fatal," one of the men afterwards told her.

Perhaps the pansies by some subtile influence saved him; perhaps her own spirit in that moment of agony had passed into them, making them indeed a real talisman to protect him. She loved to think this. That God had answered her earnest prayers by investing these, her chosen flowers with the power to save his life.

It was only a girlish fancy, but it made her happy. She took the dead, sweet blossoms and laid them tenderly away. Until they became dust these faded flowers would be sacredly Jeannette came to Ned's bedside one day with a look of joy upon her lovely face. It was like a transfiguration.

"Ned," she cried, with a return of her old life and spirit, "the war is over. Peace is declared and we are going to take you home tomorrow morning."

For answer he silently pressed the small, warm hand that crept into his own. Whenever was there a sweetheart so tender and true, so beautiful and brave?

When they reached the springs loud They will protect you and bring the war, and not only for the boys, but father and uncle owned one of the versity has a world-wide reputation, for the brave girl who had dared to go to the front for love's sake. Under the glorious aweep of the spangled flag she rode, her cheeks aflame like the crimson stripes, and her eyes splendid with the sunlight of love.

"I know it was the pansies that saved you," she whispered to Ned when they stood once more together under the shadow of their own beautiful royal-tinted mountains. "The pansies have human faces, and I believe God has invested every blossom with graces and power which we do not understand."

Her tall lover looked down upon at the girlish folly, yet touched by the pure faith in it.

And, after all, who shall say she was not right?-[New York World.

Matching of Teeth.

Perhaps the greatest difficulty that dentists meet with is the matching of false teeth with the natural teeth of their customers. The tooth factories supply dentists with rings upon which are strung thin, short metal bars, each carrying a tooth at its extremity. There are twenty-five of these sample teeth, that run all the way from nearly white to a shade that is almost olive. Some one of the twenty-five usually almost matches the patient's natural teeth, and, at any rate, enables the dentist to match the teeth by application at the factory. - [Chicago

A Quail's Queer Attachment. Leland Hyde has a curiosity on his farm in the shape of a quail which has forsaken its own kind to take up with the poultry in the farm yard. Of late he has attached himself to an old hen and accompanies her in all her wanderings and even when she is setting he ensconces himself on the nest and cannot be driven away until "Not dead!" were the words which the object of his attachment leaves .-

CLIFF DWELLERS.

Race in Mexico.

Timid People With Homes in Mountain Recesses.

A deep ravine cutting in at right angles to the Bacochic (in Chihuahua, Mexico) closed our way to the north as we ascended the winding trail, and when we had worked our way up the steep bank some 200 or 300 feet, a favorable exit from the low, scrubby pines gave me an opportunity to look straight across this picturesque ravine, and I was surprised to see, on the other bank, which seemed feven more precipitons than the one on which I stood, a deep cave walled up in front nearly to the top, and evidently indicating cave or cliff-dwellers. My first thought was that the curious habitation in front of me belonged to the era of similar buildings in Arizona and New Mexico, which the best authority consigns to a very old period.

With me, however, was a Mexican gentleman who said that the cave was inhabited, but as the occupants were extremely timid, probably we would not be able to see them without forcing an entrance into their strange home. He believed that most of them were inside peeping at us over the rude walls and around the very dilapidated animal's hide that served to close the door. The save was not over two hundred yards away, and, with the aid of our field-glasses, we could plainly make out its details.

My impression led me to the theory that these were vagabond individuals of the local Indian tribes who were occupying this old cave-dwelling in the cliffs, much as we see the corresponding class with us occasionally occupying dugouts, shanties built into the side hills, and even caves around the suburbs of towns. But one of the Mexicans, who argued against forcible intrusion into the homes of these people, said that we would find a great number of them further on in the deep recesses of the Sierra Madre range, and that among so many we would have good opportunities of seeing them to better advantage than we possibly could here. My Mexican | man-speaking Switzerland, the centre and wild were the cheers given for friend was born and reared of intellectual activity, the cradle of the brave boys returning from the in this part of Chihuahua; his the arts, sciences and letters. Its unilargest and richest mining-districts in that portion of the Sierra Madre toward which our course was directed, and to reach which he attached himself to our party for a couple of days, when our paths separated. His business called for almost constant traveling in these parts. He placed the number of living cliff and cavedwellers in this part of Mexico at from 9000 to 12,000 persons. We afterward saw from 300 to 500 of them, which, considering their great timidity and the small part of their land traversed by us, would give an air of reasonableness to the estimate the sweet face uplifted to his, smiling of Don Augustin Becerra, for such was my friend's name.

Even as we stood on the edge of the cliff opposite this singular home, we saw an Indian in the canon far below. He appeared to be wearing only a garment of animal skins; he carried a long bow and arrows. He looked almost as dark as a Guinea native as he skirted the shadows of the canon. and his hair was long. A rattling of the falling chips of shale drew his attention to us, when he at once skulked behind a big boulder at the base of the cliff, and we saw him no more .-[Lieutenant Schwatka, in Century.

Bears Plentiful in Pensylvania.

"It may sound strange and improbable," said Phin Anderson, a veteran woodsman of northeastern l'ennsylvania, "but it is a fact, nevertheless, that bears are becoming more plentiful every year in the lumber regions of Pennsylvania. I have a theory to explain this which may seem paradoxical, but I believe it is correct, all the same. There are more bears today in Pike, Monroe, Clinton, Potter and other backwoods counties in Pennsylvania than there were forty years ago, for the reason that the woods have gradually disappeared. I have been laughed at scores of times for advancing such a theory, but no one in the plentiful, and certainly no one can tible in speeches.

deny that woods are much less in area than forty years ago.

"It is very plain to me. When the timber was thick the bears were compelled to skirmish more for food, and had to depend to a great extent on roots and bark, and on the rather scanty supplies which the sheepfolds and pigsties of the scattered settlers afforded. The clearing away of the woods has been followed by the appearance in limitless areas of all kinds of berries, which bears especially relish, and on which they thrive. While bringing about such a condition, the cutting away of the timber has in no way affected the character of the dense swamps, in the confines of which bears find safe places for hiding and eluding dogs and hunters, and for bringing forth and rearing their young. The rocky ledges, with their ravines and caverns, still remain, and there the bears find winter lairs as secure and comfortable as they were when the forests grew above them. Besides, the clearing up of the forests makes room for a large collection of sheep pastures and pigsties, and thus adds to the field for forage.

"You may set it down for a fact that bears in Pennsylvania-and not only in Pennsylvania, but in every eastern state where bears are foundare more numerous and bigger and fatter than they were in our grandfathers' days, and will keep on being that way longer than any one now on earth will live."- New York Sun.

The City of Zurich.

Of all the cities of the Swiss Confederation tourists yield to Zurich, the old capital of the Canton of Zurich, the paim of loveliness. Its history dates back to old Roman times, and one of its quaint old churches was built by Charlemagne, and is hoary with the winters of eleven centuries.

Nestled by the side of beautiful Lake Zurich, two broad, swift-flowing silvery rivers, fed by the Alpine glaciers, flow through it, and quaint old bridges, with strong traces of Roman architecture in their construction span them, giving variety to its aspect. To the east rise low hills dotted with chalets and cultivated farms and beyond them the majestic high Alps, clothed will eternal snows.

Zurich is "the cerebrum" of Gerand has had a varied and eventful history. It was founded in 1862, although the school from which it was evolved dates back to the ninth century, and is reputed to have been blessed by Charlemagne himself. Beside the university, there are cantonal schools of various kinds and schools devoted to special branches of education. Zurich's polytechnic school is said to be one of the best in Europe.

Until the year 1848 Zurich was practically the capital of the Swiss Confederation, but since that time it is simply the canton capital. Its government is liberal in the highest sense of the word, and political exiles have found in Zurich a safe asvlum. The abuse of the hospitality of the city by German and Russian anarchists has caused a revulsion of public sentiment toward the aliens, and it is not unlikely that modification of its laws will close to them this city, when they are banished for political crimes from their own country.

Zurich has a most glorious martial history, and the thirst for more territory has led it into many a serious dispute with its neighbors, although for the last 400 years diplomacy has taken the place of arms, and the peaceful arts have reigned supreme. - Chicago Graphic.

Not Entirely Foreign.

Visitor (in Key West) This town is in the United States, isn't it? Resident-Certainly.

"A stranger riding on your street railway would never suspect it. The cars are hauled by Mexican mules, the rails came from England, the track is kept in repair by Spaniards, the drivers are Brazilians, and the homes along the street are built in Cuban style. I don't observe a single American feature." "Wait till you hear the car-driver swear."--[Chicago Tribune.

Gladstone has been as prolific in backwoods denies that bears are more publications as he has been inexhaus-

O Mother Mine!

O Mother mine, in other days, Or e'er I knew of blame or praise Thine was the love to light my ways, O Mother mine!

And now when Time with tender touch, Hath led thee gently down the years, O Mother mine with tears, with tears.

I pray my care of thee be such, To pay in feeble part the debt, If I have caused thee one regret,

O Mother mine! -|Robert Loveman, in Youth's Companion.

HUMOROUS.

A dead beat is a man who doesn't work himself, but works everybody

The girl who looks like an angel in any sort of bonnet is all right this

The young lady without an engagemedt ring has nothing on hand to speak of. The public servant is as big a boss of the community as the private servant is of the kitchen. A man can nearly always have the last word if he will consent to make it his name at the bottom of a cheque. Sailboats are sometimes upset by a squall, and the same catastrophe occasionally visits young paterfamilias. The real "insanity expert" is the man who succeeds in getting sent to the asylum when he deserves to go to the penitentiary. Assistant-Don't you think Spacer's work is deteriorating? Editor (putting a bundle in an envelope)-It is certainly going back.

Gertrude--I can't imagine, Tommy, however you can eat all those jam puffs. Tommy-Ah, you like powder puffs best, don't you, Gertie?

"Why do you always hire young men who have just been graduated from college in your business?" "Because they know everything."

A tramp may be awfully lazy, no doubt, Yet when he's confined in a jail He'll work like a beaver to dig himself out With only a ten-penny nail.

"You haven't heard anything until you have heard both sides," says a writer. This may be very pretty logic, but the big drum refutes it.

Now describe this electrical machine, if you please. Head boy-It consists of a large glass wheel turned by a crank. Emma-Father, don't you think we want some new gas burners? Father-No. That younger man who comes to see you every evening is gas burner enough for me. "So that young heiress has promised to marry you?" "Yes; in three years." "Isn't that a good while to wait?" "It may be; but she's worth her wait in gold." Would-be Tenant-I like the flat very much, but I hear that the house is haunted. Landlord (rubbing bis hands and smiling) -My dear madam, I attend to that personally. The ghost only appears to tenants who do not pay their rent and refuse to move out. Stout lady passenger in a car, wincing (he had trodden on her best corn)

Professor (to class in physics)-

-What a clumsy fellow. Polite Old Gent-Very sorry, my dear madam; but if you had a foot large enough to be seen such an accident couldn't occur. And then the stout lady smiled A-I am in an awful fix. B-

What's up? A-I have nothing to eat and I have nothing to pawn except my false teeth. Now, if I pledge them to get a bit of food I shau't be able to eat it. It is the very first time such a thing has happened to me in my life. Lend me a dollar, will you?

Ethel-I never knew until yesterday what a good young man Mr. Simpson is. I had a long chat with him last night. Edith-How did you learn he was a good man. Ethel-Oh, he told me so.

Photographer - Now, then, Mr. Crosser, if you please, look pleasant for a moment-that's it-a moment longer-there! You may now resume your natural expression.

It is not generally known that Mexico possesses two islands of the same name, Carmen. One is situated near the peninsula of Lower California and has a population of 8000; the other is near the coast and is inhabited by 3500 people.

ROVER CLEVELAND, OF NEW YORK.

FOR PRESIDENT, GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York. FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

A. E. STEVENSON. of Illinois.

EXAMINE you ticket and see that it reads thus

For Governor, THOMAS G. Jones. For Secretary of State, JOSEPH D. BARRON. For Attorney-General, WILLEAM L. MARTIN. For State Treasurer, J. CRAIG SMITH. For State Auditor, JNO. PURIFOY.

For State Superintendent of Education, J. G. HARRIS. For Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, GEORGE W. STONE. For Associate Justices of the Supreme Court

THOMAS W. COLEMAN.
THOMAS N. MCCLELLAN.
JAMES B. HEAD,
JON. HARALSON.

For Commissioner of Agriculture HECTOR D. LANE. For Chancellor Northeastern Chancery Div SAMUEL K. McSPADDEN,

For Judge of the Circuit Court 7th Circuit LEROY F. BOX. For Senator in the General Assembly for the lath District, W. P. GADDIS. For Representative in the General Assembly JNO. P. WEST. For Probate Judge JNO. S. LEEPER.

County Superintendent of Education. E. O. DAWSON.

For Sheriff, Hudson W. Nelson. For Treasurer, WM. A. THOMPSON. For Tax Collector, AB. F. SMITH. JOHN H. HAMMOND. For Coroner,

For Clerk of the Circuit Court, W. R. A. MILNER. For Commissioners, JAMES McGOWAN. R. H. WALKER. R. J. GRIFFIN. A. M. JONES.

For Justices of the Peace Beat-

For Constable in Beat-

CONGRESSION'L CONVENTION

The democratic executive committee of the 4th congressional dis- ocratic principles which are to live al trict of Alabama met at Anniston on the 5th and called the convention to meet at Calera on Thursday 25th day of August, next. The fol lowing are the counties in the dis county is entitled to in the convention: Cleburne, 3; Calhoun, 8; Chilton, 5; Dallas, 26; Shelby, 7: Talladega, 8—57. Necessary to a choice, 29.

Steady, Democrats! See that your ballots reads right, and vote be at Every Precinct. See that surprising that Tammany should oppose your ballot reads like the one in any candidate the mugwumps should had been written him by leaders of the situated in Shelby county, Alabama, to another place.

START to your voting place next Monday morning with a pledge that been inaugurated a series of democratic would expose the whole plot and "spile you will vote for Tom. Jones and county democracy.

Evangel Manning to "raw eggs," but then he ought not to call editors by ugly names.

Ir Evangel Manning likes his eggs cooked, he would do well to not apply unbecoming epithets to country editors.

but it is "what majority will the democrats have?

20001

EVERY man in the state should go to the polls next Mondayand cast his vote for Thos. G. Jones and the straight democratic tioket.

THERE is nothing for democrats of Shelby to do but go to the polls and vote the strait ticket frem Thos G. Jones down to constable.

If you are not for Jones and the county democratic ticket you may know something is wrong, and as tomorrow is Sunday, you had better read and pray over the matter.

Be on the ground early, and plead with sovereign and freind to remember that our only hope is in National Democratic Ticket the success of Democracy.

> If every democrat will work till 5 p.m., Monday, the victory will be ours by a large majority. We believe the ticket will win, but let us all work for a grand victory. Let us snow them under completely.

> Hon A. A. Wiley, of Montgomery county, has, after a long delay, addressed a letter in reply to from John G. Winter, in which he declares that he will support Governor Jones and his entire ticket.

> LET every man who has heeded to the teachings of the Kolbocrats, say to his wife and babies next Monday Iv'e been talking foolishness long enough, I'll go to the polls and vote for Tom Jones and straight democ-

> "A KIND word turneth away wrath," may apply to the generality of mankind, but to the newspaper editor it don't work. They may and never receive a compliment in return. But when the editor says one thing which he don't like, then he is hunted down or boycotted.

> People's Advocate is very much exercised over the fact that we didn't have the democratic ticket at the head of our paper. Listen, friend, and we will explain: Our paper is small and we needed the space to publish that patriotic letter of Bro. ballots, every one of which had Mr. W. R. A. Milner's name on it. And if the editor of the Advocate will con:e to Calera Monday he will have the pleasure of seeing us cast one of them without a scratch.

months past and the convention to asand four years we are called upon to establish, maintain and support Demways, and I hold the principles of my party higher than I hold the ambition of any man and shall not allow individat Montgomery.

POLITICAL AND OTHERWISE.

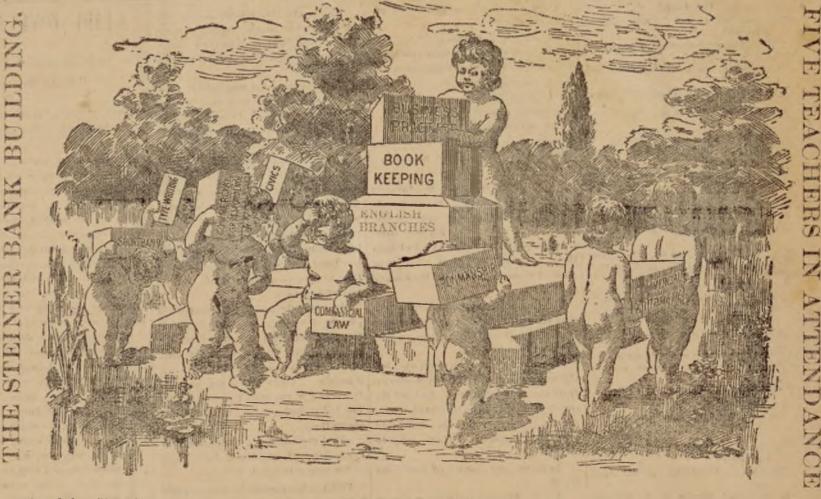

editorial will be supplied by news items from our exchanges, and we barbecues and basket dinners throughout the county for this week. The Kolbites, who have been convinced from there is no doubt but what Jones ma-

The negro is in clover. He continues ticket will win in Monday's election, To be Best Place to Secure a Business Education is at the MENTOY TO PRESE

BEELINKEN GENEAUS, PARIS

Send for Circular,

LEONARD LIPPMAN, President.

M. M. FIELDS, Vice President

G. F. HART, Secretary and Treasurer.

termine to support Jones. If so, Jones' such a result. majority, instead of being 20,000 or 30. which many of his over-zealous supportfor him. He has never within the memory of those who tested his loyalty It seems that the editor of the to the republican machine, refused to receive the filthy lucre for his support of this or that candidate, and has never failed, when the time come, to go back on his promise. This is indeed clover time for Cussie.

Who says Mr. P. G. Bowman is not a optimist? In his Opera House speech in this city Saturday night, he expressed Crompton's, and then we needed the the belief that there would be no counttype in printing: twelve thousand ing out in the present contest. The fact THE REMARKABLE CANVASS OF trolian system, but the bill was killed in awaited the result to let the world know the senate, despite the efforts of its on which side they fought. friends in and outside the senate to have semble tomorrow are but things of a it favorably considered. But the times day. The candidates nominated and were not ripe for a change then. Mr. the men (composing the factions will Lawson was just a few years ahead of soon pass away, but every two years his party. The next legislature is sure to change the election laws; but it may the democratic nominees for congress.

Longshore and Pitts tried to fuse with the republicans, and when they found they could not make the arrangement John W. Spradley, | Sixth District, desired, and fearing lest it should leak et als., Defendent. Chancery Division ual preference to control or influence out on them, they began to circulate the trict and the number of votes each my party allegiance.-E. T. Talliaierro statement that the democrats and republicans had fused. It was right Chancery court, at Columbiana, Shelby shrewd, but mean in them, just in keep-county. Alabama, in said cause, I shall ing with their characters and practices. proceed to sell to the highest bidder for Their idea of course, was to get, in the cash, at public auction, at Columbiana, Their idea, of course, was to get in the Ala., within the legal hours of sale, on This being the last issue in the charge, and pave it all around with sugMonday, 8th day of August, 1892 campaign, we hope the absence of gestions that "The democrats, of course, will deny this, but it is true." Now the the following described property, to wit truth comes out. They can't deny it, south half of north west fourth, the and they did not deny it when M. Har- south half of north west fourth of north ask a careful perusal of the items dy charged it. Why did they not do it? west fourth of section 1; and the south News comes to us that men are under this heading:

The New York papers which claim to returning to the county democratic

The New York papers which claim to be sincere in their support of Mr. Cleve
The New York papers which claim to be sincere in their support of Mr. Cleve
The New York papers which claim to be sincere in their support of Mr. Cleve
The New York papers which claim to be sincere in their support of Mr. Cleve
The New York papers which claim to be sincere in their support of Mr. Cleve
The New York papers which claim to be sincere in their support of Mr. Cleve
The New York papers which claim to be sincere in their support of Mr. Cleve
The New York papers which claim to be sincere in their support of Mr. Cleve
The New York papers which claim to be sincere in their support of Mr. Cleve
The New York papers which claim to be sincere in their support of Mr. Cleve
The New York papers which claim to be sincere in their support of Mr. Cleve
The New York papers which claim to be sincere in their support of Mr. Cleve
The New York papers which claim to be sincere in their support of Mr. Cleve
The New York papers which claim to be sincere in their support of Mr. Cleve
The New York papers which claim to be sincere in their support of Mr. Cleve
The New York papers which claim to be sincered in the country democratic be supported by the country democratic be supported by the claim to be s land are still fighting Tammany, and say there will be no let up until that had lied when they said the democrats tion 2; the south half of northeast fourth Look Out for Bogus Tickets to wicked organization is dead. It is not and republicans had fused. He stated and republicans had jused. He stated that he had letters in his pocket that the had letters in his pocket that people's party asking him to fuse. satisfy said decree Why did they not deny it and require Jackson county's democracy is one him to read the letters? Because they july16-4w grand glow of enthusiasm. There has knew that Hardy had the letters and

All along the line the old guards are Kolb's letter of April 22 and from other on duty and the most promising word It was really too bad to treat sources that he was sailing under false comes up from all parts of the State. colors, are deserting him and taking The Democracy is still in the saddle their places in the Jones column, and and white supremacy will continue to be the watch word. After next Monday jority will be over 1000 in Jackson coun- Kolb will have to return to his watermelon patch.

> to form Jones and Kolb clubs, taking mocracy will be so pronounced and unthe money of both, without any settled mistakable next Monday against rump
>
> R. W. COBB, idea of voting for either. Just how he conventions and bolters that no man july16-3t

will vote upon election day will depend | will ever again have the gall and impu upon the word "saunt" from head- dence to lead such a movement in Alaquarters. Perhaps the leaders may de- | bama. All the indications point to just

Every democrat and white man who praise the average man 1000 times, 000, wauld be nearer 50,000 or 60,000, has the best interest and future prosperity of the State at heart will do his ers have been claiming. However, the full duty from now on until the close of negro is an uncertain commodity in this the polls on Monday, and see to it that campaign, no matter what price you pay the principles of the great Democratic party are still, maintained and success crown its banner.

Too much care and forethought cannot be exercised in the election of members of the General Assembly. It is very important that only true and tried Democrats should be chosen because in any event Kolb will try to make trouble. Now is the best time to prevent it by electing square-toed, copper-bottomed Democrats, who support the straight ticket headed by Governor Jones.

The newspaper editor who tries to is, both sides are going to count out fight on both sides in a political contest whenever they can; and this counting is a lonesome cuss. He soon finds out out process will continue till the prest that he has friends in neither party, and ent election laws are changed. Four the few other lonesome people who are years ago Hon. W. II. Lawson, of this in his fix refuse to associate with the county, endeavored to get the legisla- the editor for fear that the association ture to change the present election laws may harm them with the winning side, and adopt a system not unlike the Aus- whom they were always with and only

> Subscribe for the JOURNAL. Only $1.00 a year.

> > Register's Sale.

COUNTY

New England Mort- No. 403 gage Security Co., Complainant. vs. Columbiana, Ala-North Eastern

BY VIRTUE OF a DECREE REN-dered at the March term, 1892, of the

D. R. McMILLAN, Register in Chancery

FINAL SETTLEMENT.

STATE OF ALABAMA-SHELBY

COUNTY. Probate Court, July 11, 1892.

Hiram Holsomback, deceased, Estate of. This day came E. W. Holsomback, the administrator of said estate, and filed his statements, accounts, vouchers and evidences for a final settlement of his administration It is ordered that the 8th dayof August, It is hoped that the voice of the De-

Judge of probate.

-- FINE WILLINERY--

Mrs. S. H. McCauley's.

NEAR THE DEPOT,

Montevallo. .. . Aa. A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hats in the Latest Styles, and at Reasonable Prices.

Handkerchiefs & Hosiery.

Seturday Sales at the

DEALERS IN

HARDWARE & TINWARE,

WAGON MATERIAL.

then have been too late to save some of THE STATE OF ALABAMA, SHELBY Stock of Dynamite and Fuse, and empty and loaded Shells always on Hand.

118 19TH STREET, BIRMINCHAM.

W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co.,

CALERA; ALABAMA. Receive Deposits,

Negotiate Loans.

Issue interest bearing certificates of Deposit, and sell exchange on New York Louisville and Birmingham at regular rates cyarged by the larger cities.

We transact a general banking business, such as that of any incorporated bank in all of its legitimate branches, and would be pleased to open accounts with merchants, manufacturers and planters alike.

Fire and Life Insurance

Written in the best companies.

Bought, Sold and Rented upon just terms.

ADLAI E. STEVENSON.

RAILROAD TIME TABLE.

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE. No. 1, South Bound, 11 3, 11 11 2, North Bound, 10:05 p.m. 10, 66 6.6

ALABAMA MÍNERAL. No. 85, Arrives at 86, Departs at 4:35 p. m.

COUNTY OFFICERS. Probate Judge—R. W. Cobb. Circuit Clerk—W. R. A. Milner. Sheriff—W. R. Carter Register in Chancery—D. R. McMil-

Tax Collector—E. F. Vest. Tax Assessor-W. H. Kidd.

County Trersurer-A. W. Strickland. Superintendent of Education-T. N. Muston.

County Solicitor-J. L. Peters. County Commissioners—John E. Dyeey, T. B. McClusky, R. F. Johnson, D. C. Davis.

AT THE CHURCHES.

PRESBYTERIAN-Services on the 4th Sundays in each menth, morning and night; pastor to be supplied. Sabbath School at 9:30 a. m.

METHODIST-Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night, by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sabbath school at 9:30.

Baptist Church-Rev. J. G. Lowrey, pastor. Preaching every first and second Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting at 7.00 p. m., every Thursday.

CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN—J. C. Arnett, pastor. Preaching every first Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday evenings at 7:30. Children's Band meets 3:30 p. m. each 1st and 3rd Sunday. Ladies' Aid Society everyother Friday evening at 3.

INSURE YOUR LIFE. Read and profit by the following sound counsel, every word of which smarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel: storms of the financial world cannot touch them; where the assessor cannot tax them; where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old sge should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do your duty and insure immediately in some good, old reliable Company."—Extract from a sermon by the Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage.

HUGH T. CAFFEY,

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON

CALERA, ALA. feb12-1y.

Columbiana.

Montevallo. PETERS, WILSON & LYMAN,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

IMPORTANT TO LADIES Sir—I made use of your Philotoken with my last child, in order to procure a safe and easy travil. I used it about two months before my expected time, and I had a very quick and easy confinement. Nothing occurred to protract. my convalescence, and I got about in Rev. J. G. Lowery. less time than was usual for me. I think it a medicine that should be used by every expectant mother, for should they but try it as I have, they would never again be without it at such times. I am

yours respectfully,
Mrs. ELIZABETH DIX. Anymerchant or druggist can procure Risley's Philotoken for $1 a bottle. CHARLES F. RISLEY, Wholesale Druggist, 62 Cortlandt St., New York.

SHELBY SPRINGS.

This popular summer resort will open on the first day of June 1892 for the entertainment of guest. These Spring are the most popular resort for families and healthseekers in Alabama cus Delightful shades, ten pin alleys, lawn tennis, and all other health and pleasure giving games. For full particulars H. H. BAKER, Shelby Springs Ala.

ONE DOLLAR WEEKLY

Buys a good gold watch by our club system. Our 14-karat gold-filled cases are warranted for 20 years. Fine Elgin or Waltham movement, stem wind and set. Lady's or gent's size. Equal to any $50 watch. To secure agents where we have none, we sell one of the hunting case watches for the club price, $28, and send C. O. D. by express with privilege of examination before paying for same.

Our agent at Durham, N. C., writes: "Our jewelers have confessed they don't know how you can furnish such works for the money,"

Our agent at Pennington, Texas, writes "Am in receipt of the watch and am pleased without measure. Al who have seen it say it would be cheap

One good reliable agent wanted for each place. Write for particulars. EMPIRE WATCH CO., New York

Ripans Tabules: one gives relief.

THE KOLBRALLY AT CALERA

Our office force consisting entirebeing unusually busy printing circulars and tickets for the several opposing parties, we had no reporter on the ground. Various estimates readers judge for themselves:

Special to Age-Herald, July 27-The great rally of the Kolb-people's party appointed for this place today was in many respects a failure political scepter, and the peace will But, oh! these battles they last so long was in many respects a failure.

The crowd was estimated all the way from 250 to 500. There were about 100 democrats, 150 women and children and fifty negroes present, the rest were third partyites.

"Burn-His-Arm-Off" Adams ha-7:15 p. m. rangued the audience for two hours, and as is usual, said nothing that would enlighten an intelligent audience. The dinner was bountiful and good order prevailed throughout, only one little disturbance during the day.

Captain Kolb was reserved for after dinner, and his old, stale story of how he had been defrauded out of the nomination two years ago, how he was now the standard bearer of the true democracy of Alabama, and the friend to the farmer Building. and the laboring man, took up the whole of his time, and to get up something to report out of the day's proceedings would exercise a more perienced reporter than I.

Certainly no votes have been made for the Kolb ticket today. At least one-third of the crowd was from Chilton county.

Age-Herald: "Captain Kolb and Mr. Adams were in the city en route from Calera to Decatur. They spoke at Calera yesterday, and will speak at Decatur today.

'We had over a thousand men at Calera, and all of them except two were for me,' said Captain Kolb."

SCRAPS FROM SHELBY.

July 28—Special to Journal—Speculation in politics and weather seems to be tribe. The air was made lively on Saturday last by the ring of the speakers voice. Hardy, West and McMillan addressed the people on the issues of the "It is a duty you owe to yourself and family to protect them with a reasonable amount of life insurance, where the and a grand democratic majority is externed. pected next Monday for county and state ticket.

PERSONAL. Maj. T. H. Hopkins has returned after a !ew days absence from the city. Mr. Ed Morrow has taken the place of Mr. Lemon.

Mrs Bowles and Miss Sloughton have returned after a few months visit north. Mr. J. P. Spencer was in town Tuesday in the interest of the party.

atives in Dallas.

Miss Stella Pratt of Six Mile who has J. L. PETERS. HENRY WILSON, E. S. LYMAN been visiting Miss. Mary Seale has re- Evanston. turned home.

Centennial Meeting.

Programe for the Centennial meeting of the Shelby Association to be held at Bethssda (Four Mile) church, it about on the 28, 29, 30 and 31st of July

Thursday at 8 p. m., preaching by Friday at 10 a. m., devotional exercises conducted by Rev. Charles John-

1:30 a. m., the value of the Bible and how to appropriate it to our good and God's glory, by Rev. J. G. Lowery 2 p. m., regeneration before church membership, by Rev. F. M. Woods. 8-p. m., missionary map and lecture Saturday 9:30 a. m., devotional exercises conducted by Rev. N. T. Lu-

10 a. m., explanation of the Centennial movement, by Rev. W. C. Cleveand. D. D.

2 p. m., Mission Boards, their workings, management and expenses, by Rev. E. B. Teague, D. D.

8 p. m., preaching by Rev. J. W.

Sunday 9:30 a. m., Sunday school duties of Sanday school superintendent and preachers, by T. M. Fancher, John K. Milner and John F. Averyt.

11 a. m., preaching by Rev. W. C. Cleveland, D. D. Followed by a collection for missions.

All are cordially invited. Dinner on the grounds each day. Conveyances from Wilsohville to the church.

C. W. O'HARA, Chairman of Committee.

Capt. W. P. Gaddis of Wetumpka,

WOMEN'S COLUMN.

[The Woman's Column is under the supervision of Mrs. F. W. Gist, and all ly of the foreman and the devil, and communications for this department should be addressed to her at West Celera, Alabama.]

We feel very little apprehensions about the election since we heard Mr. Kolb's effort at a political speech in Cawere given as to the number on the lera on last Wednesday. We know our number present. We shall copy voters are not going to elect this man specials from the dailies, and let our for gevernor of our grand old democratic Alabama. We will send our husbands, brothers and sons to the polls next Monday feeling assured the genuine organized democracy will weild the soon be restored.

The Temple trust bonds are selling rapidly—we have less than $100,000 now for sale. Those Mr. A. T. Goodwyn, the people's Those who desire the very best party candidate for senator, spoke kind of a paying bond should send I tell you the kingliest victories fought 4:41 p. m. first and did not get up much en- at once for them to our financial agent, Mr. H. C. Speer, 237 La Salle street, Chicago; he will give all particulars. Let our friends who desire to give wedding and birthday presenrs, not forget the beautiful silver model of the Temple in the form of inkstands and velvet-lined jewel cases. Price $2.25 each.

> Miss. Adda Burch, of Greenvelle, Pa., will have charge of W. T. P A. literature at Chautauqua, N. Y. All who visit that delightful place should not fail to call on her. She will be found at Room 13, Arcade > Five thousand chattel mortgages on nine thousand saloons in New York City are held by twenty brewers, distillers and wholesale dealers, who thus control forty thousand voters. No other monopoly can compare with this twenty-men syndicate in respect to possibilities of evil.

A two-cent stamp sent to Mrs. Matilda B. Carse, the Temple, Chicago, will secure a mite-box, descriptive card and bulletin; re- state. member, all who fill a mite-box ($3.65) before next April will receive a photographic group consisting of Lady Henry Somerset, Miss Willard and the founder of the Temple. All drafts should be made out in the name of Miss. tion in politics and weather seems to be Esther Pugh. All matters per- ers report from this section they estithe chief occupation of most of our idle taining to the Temple should be mate their corn as damaged about 20 addressed to Mrs. Carse.

Frances Willard's young sister, Mary, died June 8, 1862. The thirtieth anniversary of her death has just occurred. On that day, peaches. church. All of the speakers did well, Miss. Willard, with her mother, and a grand democratic majority is ex- now nearly eighty-eight years old, Anna, Gordon and a few other friends, the old Willard home, No. 508 Sherman Avenue, and entered the room where Mary Willard died, and the front room in which Miss. Willard's biography of her, enti-tled, "Nineteen Beautiful Years," was written. This book has been translated into French, Danish and Spanish, and is circulated in Lady parts of the world. Henry Somerset read the English Mr. Jno, Moseley is on a visit to rel- edition, and her American trip resulted from the determination then formed to see Miss. Willard and

The directory of the World's Fair has invited Miss. Mary S. Monroe, a Chicago poet and contributor to the Century. ode when the great Auditorum was dedfrom good judges of poetry. She has published a volume, and is vouched for by our critics. Women may well be proud that for the first time in history a woman has been invited to do that which would have brought added distinction to any poet living! It will be remembered that Sidney Lanier wrote the ode for the World's Fair in 1876 and as a result of so doing attained to a continental reputation.

As we write that sentence it occurs to us,—why should any one desire a continental reputation? Probably for the same reason and on the same principle that sparks fly upward and water always tends to rise as high as its source. It is a law of mind as well as matter to seek the heights, and, when this is done by Rev. W. B. Crumpton, Cor. Sec. of by the normal evolution of one's own powers with kindly consideration of others in their efforts to do the same, the attempt is a noble one and to frown upon it is simply a relic of asceticism and an indication of fanaticism-"so

The practical nature of women's inventions has often been commented on. A lady in the South has recently been awarded a deploma by a French society for her invention of a bread-raiser.

Irish women are up and doing too. Ten thousand have recnetly signed a memorial to be presented to the board of Trinity College, Dublin praying that the educational benefits of that University be opened to women.

Forty-five women in England make a G. Jones. living by type-setting.

The increase of suicides among the The first state to legislate against the sale and manufacture of the deadly cig-arette is Massachusetts.

The Mississippi W. C. T. U. propose, they say, to send to the World's Fair a model of the Temperance Temple built of cotton in all stages of growth

Our Methodist brethren are holding a protracted meeting at New Salem was in Calera Sunday and Monday church, and expect to accomplish much good.

THE BRAVEST BATTLE THAT EVER WAS FOUGHT.

The bravest battle that ever was fought, Shall I tell you where and when?
On the maps of the world you will find

'Twas fought by the mothers of men. Nav, not with cannon or battle shot,

With swords or nobler pen; Nay, not with eloquent word or thought, From mouths of wonderful men.

But deep in a welled-up woman's heart,

A woman that would not yield, But bravely, silently bore her part, Lo, there is the battlefield! No marshalling troop, no bivouac song,

From babyhood to the grave. Yet faithful still as a bridge of stars,

She fights on in her welled-up town; Fights on and on in the endless wars, Then silently, unseen goes down.

O ye, with banners and battle shot, And soldiers to shout and praise, Are fought in these silent ways.

Oh, spotless woman, in this world of Shame,
With splendid and silent scorn,
Go back to God as white as you came,
The kingliest warrior born.

Miss Ethel Blevins is visiting relatives in Empire, Ga.

Miss. Julia McKibbon, who has been for sometime visiting friends and relatives in Λnniston, Oxford and Alpine returned hom. Monday.

WEATHER CROP BULLETIN.

For Week Ending July 26th

The mean temperature for the past week was apparently about the normal. The rainfall was about 0.73 of an inch below the normal. There was consequently a large amount of with the best of all weekly news papers.

1. It is the best of all weekly news-papers as household word throughout the south.

6. Bill Arp, Plunkett, and Uncle Remus and a host of other special writers are engaged by the year, and their nimitable sketches appear each week world, having its correspondents scattered over the globe, and having a thoroughout the south.

8. It pays more money for its special features and for its news service than any other four of the weekly newspapers of these departments, is a household word throughout the south.

6. Bill Arp, Plunkett, and Uncle Remus and a host of other special writers are engaged by the year, and their nimitable sketches appear each week.

7. It is the People's Friend, and is the sturdy champion of the agricultural interests of the south.

8. It pays more money for its special features and for its news service than any other four of the weekly newspapers of these department and throughout the south.

6. Bill Arp, Plunkett, and Uncle Remus and a host of other special writers are engaged by the year, and their nimitable sketches appear each week.

7. It is the People's Friend, and is the sturdy champion of the south.

8. It pays more money for its news service than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south.

9. It is the deditress of these department and throughout the south.

6. Bill Arp, Plunkett, and Uncle Remus are engaged by the year, and their nimitable sketches appear each week.

7. It is the People's Friend, and is the south, and much more than any other four of the weekly newspaper in America sunshine; occassional showers refreshed vegetation and prevented the crops from wilting under the heat of the sun. The week was exceedingly favorable to plant growth, and reports are more encouraging from all parts of the

In North Alabama, the warm sunshine has revived the injured crops, and corn, cotton and potatoes are generally looking much better. In bottom lands and basins, the crops are said to be hopelessly ruined. Farmper cent. by the heavy rains of this month; wheat and oats have lost about 30 per cent.; and fruits about

The southern sections of the state report that the corn crop is about COLUMBIANA, ALA., made, and promises fine results; potatoes are improving daily under the SATURDAY, JULY, 30TH. genial influence of the sunshine, and farmers are taking advantage of every fair day to get the grass out of their

In Baldwin county cotton is rusting badly; a great deal of land has democracy. been submerged and crops totally ruinsituated are maturing rapidly.

Capt. Wright reports from Sumter "Crops and gardens not totally destroyed by floods are are rallying.

Nearly all our vast acreage of overflowed corn and cotton is utterly deto write the dedicatory ode for the stroyet. The immense quantity of World's Fair. Miss. Monroe wrote the decening vegetation is producing an decaying vegetation is producing an icated, and received warm encomium almost intolerable stench on the bot-She has tom lands. Four thousand people in our county are now being fed by charity." P. H. MELL, Observer Weather Burea, Director, of the democratic party of 15th. senatorial district, addressed the demoeratic club here last Monday nightgiving out square democracy, bearing good news to our club of the thorough working order of the democrats in this district.

Capt. W. P. Gaddis, the nominee

. Central Station, Auburn, Ala.

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

The Birmingham News at Reduced Rates,

During the month of July, the Birmingham News will be mailed to any address at the following rates. The Daily News published every afternoon for Twenty-five cents, payable in advance. The News is fearlessly Demo-

The News is the leading afternoon newspaper of the State, and will furnish women of India is alarming, and but one reason is assigned, viz.: opium. ring the coming campaign in a crisp and readable form.

> Now is the time to subscribe. Sample copies sent on application. Address

THE NEWS, Birmingham, Ala.

Mr. A. R. Scott, our popular druggist, we regret to state is still confined to his bed with fever.

PURE BLOOD GOOD HEALTH

Now is the time for everyone who cherishes good health, to pay particular at tention to the condition of their blood and its proper circulation. Nearly all diseases that flesh is heir to are caused and agravated by an impure condition of the blood and a sluggish circulation.

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS

Possessing Extraordinary Cleansing Powers

Restoring and Strengthening the whole System. Enriching the Blood producing increased vitality by restoring an impaired digestion and bringing back the bloom of youth to the cheek of the enfeebled and emaciated.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle-6 Bottles for $5.00. For Sale by All Druggists.

NABORS, MORROW & SINNIGE,

SOLE CONTROLERS,

Birmingham.

A WORD ABOUT THE WEELKY CONSTITUTION. -Joaquin Miller. Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers -12 Pages.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT.

1. It is the best of all weekly news- "Aunt Susie," the editress of these de-

tution at great expense.

5. Its Woman's and Childeren's Departments are a source of infinite pleasure to every family, and the name of personnels. Think of it! Every time a hen lays an egg she pays for one issue of the greatest weekly newspaure to every family, and the name of personnels.

Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of your neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulated home should be without it.

Agents Wanted in every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information. THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

Cols. B. L. Hibbard, E. T. Taliaferro, 3 J. J. Altman and others, will address the people in the interest of true

There will be no speaking at Spring ed. Gardens and orchards favorably Springs on July 30th, as the speaking at Columbiana takes the place of that appointment. This will be the grandest occasion of the campaign. Let everybody come. irrespective of party affiliation. Time will be divided with the opposite parties.

Vote early and see that your friends do so.

Capt. J. H. Hammond, peg leg Hammond, as he is more familiarly known, and the invincible nomince of the democrats for Tax assessor, was in Calera Monday---that is what is left of him he having deposited one leg at Perpyville, Ky., in his efforts in behalf of the lost cause.

A PROCEAMATION.

"Chief Executive office, MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 23, 1892.— To the People of Alabama:

"The Judge of Probate and Commissioner's Court of Greene county certify to me that numbers of the people in that county have been rendered destitute by the overflow of the Bigbee and Warrior Rivers, and it is beyond the power of the county anthorities and people of Greene county to proand Sunday morning, four months for vide for thom. The state laws make $1.50; the Sunday News four months no provision for such emegencies, and I, therefore, earnestly appeal to our people to aid them in their extremicratic and supports regularly organized ties. Money and provisions should be Democracy of the State heaced by Thos. sent to W. C. Oliver, Judge of Probate Eutaw, Alabama. By the Governor. THOS. G. JONES,

J. D. Barron, Secretary of State."

Ben Jones was a capital fellow, But he was so confoundedly salle That his friends all forsook him. Even his sweet heart she shook him, Which made poor Ben loudly bellow. Now Benhada friend named McQueens, Who told him to take SMITH'S BILE

And now he's as rosy, as any pink posey, And has married a woman of means. Bile Beans will clear the complexion, and sweeten the breath, and c.per bottle.

CATARRH

lent malady. It is a blood disease, usually of Scrofulous origin, and for which local treatment is useless. Before health is possible, the poison must be eradicated from the system, and to do this the disease must be treated through the blood. For this purpose no remedy is se effective as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

SUCCESSFULLY

"For the past eight years, I have been severely afflicted with Catarrh, none of the many remedies I tried affording me any relief. My digestion was considerably imreal dispersion was considerably impaired, and my sleep disturbed by phlegm dropping into my throat. In September last I resolved to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to use it at once, and am glad to testify to a great improvement in my health." -Frank Teson, Jr., engineer, 271 West Fourth street, New York City.

"My daughter, 16 years old, was afflicted with Catarrh from her fifth year. Last August she was TREATED WITH Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and after three months of this treatment she was completely cured.

It was a most extraordinary case, druggist here can testify."—Mrs. D. W. Barnes, Valparaiso, Neb.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

Cures others, will cure you

Many a person is surving with a full fall with a full fall bitton gone! Life a burden I What is the instier? The Liver has ceased to do its proper work. The life channer thrown back into the blood, which should be thrown out, SMITH'S BILL BEALS will surely stimulate the liver to do its work well, and beadache, sallowness and bad breath will flee sway. Drice, 25 cents per bottle, All druggists. Many a person is starving with a full Betrayed by His Own Curlouity.

During the Mohammedan festival of the Bairam, an inhabitant of the village of Funduckli, in Turkey, had dressed his child, about two years old, in a shawl and a cap ornamented with pieces of gold, and intrusted it to a slave, who had left it for a moment seated in the court of the house. On his return the child was gone, and every search for it proved Truitless. The father applied to the seraskier (the military commander of the district), entreating him to inquire into the circumstances. This officer reflected that the child could mot be carried far, on account of its cries, and therefore must have been taken by one of the neighbors. He did not communicate this idea to any one, but directed one of his messengers to go to the village of Funduckli at the hour of prayer, to enter the mosque, and summon the iman (or priest) to come immediately to his palace.

When the iman came into the presence of the seraskier, he received a positive injunction to come to him again on the morrow and give him the name of the person who first came to inquire of him the cause of his being sent for by the seraskier. The Turks in general pay little attention to the affairs of others-not even those of their priests; consequently, on returning to the mosque, one man only came to him to ask the cause of so sudden a summons. The iman replied that it was only in relation to a firman which he was to have read, but which was withdrawn. On being informed by the iman of what had passed, the seraskier caused the inquisitive man to be arrested; and after considerable search the body of the child was found concealed under the staircase of his house. The inquisitive criminal was sentenced to be instantly drowned.

Hours for Labor.

The minimum age of employment on the continent is generally 12 or from 12 to 14. But then English children only work twenty-eight hours per week, while in France and Germany the hours are thirty-six, in Italy and Hungary forty-eight, in Holland sixty-six, and in Belgium seventy-two.

More Power to Him.

A prophet in Athens, Ga., predicts that the crop yield this year throughout this country will be the largest ever known, but that beginning with 1893, and for two years thereafter, there will be the greatest famine the Hood's Sarsaparilla Cured me of Goitre or swellings in the neck which I had from 10 years old till I was 52. When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling so discouraged with goitre and rheumatism. When I caught cold I could not Mrs. Sutherland. walk two blocks without fainting. Now I am free from it all and I can truly recommend Hood's Garsaparila." Mrs. Anna Sutherland, Kalamazon, Mich.

HOOD'S PILLS are the best after-dinner Pills. They assist digestion and cure headache.

Makes Child Birth Easy. Shortens Labor, Lessens Pain,

Endorsed by the Leading Physicians. Book to "Mothers" mailed FREE. BRADFIELD RECULATOR CO. ATLANTA, GA.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

FRED'K DUTCHER DRUG CO.,

PATENT SUN BONNET.

PATENT SUN BONNET.
Light, Gool, Shapely and Recoming.
Something entirely new and novel. Keep their chape wet or dry. Every lady wants one. For 34 two cent stamps I will send one in fine black lawn.
Samples of material and terms to agents free, if applied for when ordering bonnet.
Great Opportunity for Active Agents,
Male or Female. N. L. BUTLER, Frankfort, Marshall Co., Kan.

DO YOU READ ADVERTISEMENTS?

THAT'S WHAT WE WANT TO FIND OUT.

To the first 20 who mention this paper and ask or free plat of our $150 lots on $4 monthly paynents in CRIFFITH, Chicago's coming factory Suburb we will send a receipt for $10, good many lots bereafter bought of us; to the next loadere, adulation to the World's Fair. Try til free admission to the world of Commerce, thicago.

No 28 1892

REV. DR. TALMAGE.

THE BROOKLYN DIVINE'S SUN-DAY SERMON.

Subject-"The Great Question." Preached in England.

TEXT: "What shall I do with Jesus." -Mattnew xxvii.. 22.

—Mattnew xxvii., 22.

Pilate was an unprincipled politician. He had sympathies, convictions of right and desires to be honest; but all these were submerged by a wish to be popular and to please the people. Two distinguished prisoners were in the grasp of government and the proposition was made to free one of them. There stands Barabbas, the murderer; there stands Christ, the Saviour of the worte. At the demand of the people the renegade is set free, but Jesus is held. As the hard visaged and cruel eyed Barabbas goes among his sympathizers, receiving their coarse congratulations, Pilate turns to his other distinguished prisoner—mild, meek, inoffensive, loving, self sacrificing—and he is confounded as to what course he had better take, so he impanels the mob as a jury to decide, saying to them, "What shall I do then, with Jesus?"

Oh, it is no dried or withered question, but one that the source of right and desired in the second content of the second conte decide, saying to them, "What shall I do, then, with Jesus?"

Oh, it is no dried or withered question, but one that throbs with warm and quick pulse in the heart of every man and woman here. We must do something with Jesus. He is here. You and I are not so certainly here as He is, for He fills all this place—the loving, living, dying Christ—and each one of us will have to ask and answer for himself the question, "What shall I do, then, with Jesus?" Well, my friends, there are three or four things you can do with Him.

You can, in the first place, let Him stand without a word of recognition; but I do not think your sense of common courtesy will allow that. He comes walking on such a long journey, you will certainly give Him a chair on which He may sit. He is so weary, you would not let Him stand without some recognition. If a beggar comes to your door, you recognize him and say, "What do you want?" If you meet a stranger faint in the street, you say, "What is the matter with you?" and your common humanity, and your common sense of propriety will not allow you to let him stand without recognition—the wounded one of the hills. You will ask, What makes him ween? where was he hurt? who wounded him? whence came he? whither goes he? I know there have been men who have with him? whence came he? whither goes he? I know there have been men who have with outrageous indifference hated Christ, but I know very well that is not what you will do with Jesus.

Another thing you can do with Him—you can thrust Him back from your heart and tell Him to stand aside. If an inoffensive person comes and persists in standing closeup to you, and you have in various ways given him to understand that you do not want his presence or his society, then you ask the reason of his impertinence and bid him away. Well, that is what we can do with Jesus.

He has stood close by us a great while—ten, twenty, thirty, forty years. He has stood close by you three times a day breaking bread for your household, all night watching by your pillow. He has been in the nursery among your children, He has been in the factory amid the niving wheels, and now if you do not like H is society you can bid Him away aye, if He will not go you can take Him by the throat and tell Him you do not want His interference, that you do not want His breath on your cheek, you do not want His interference, that you do not want His breath on your cheek, that you do not want His eye on your behavior. You can bld Him away; or if He will not go in that way, then you can stamp your foot as you would at a dog and cry "Begone!"

"Begone?"
Yet I know you will not treat Jesus that way. When Pilate could not do that, you could not. Desperadoes and outlaws might do so, but I know that that is not the way you will treat Him, that that is not what you will do with Jesus. There is another thing you can do with Him—you can look on Him merely as an optician to cure blind eyes, or an aurist to tune deaf ears, a triend, a good friend, a helpful companion, a cheerful passenger on shipboard: but that rriend, a good friend, a helpful companion, a cheerful passenger on shipboard; but that will amount to nothing.

You can look upon Him as a God and be abashed while He rouses the storm, or blasts a fig tree, or heaves a rock down the mountain side. That will not do you any goodno more save your soul than the admiration you have for John Milton or William Shakespeare. I can think of only one more thing you can do with Jesus, and that is to take you can do with Jesus, and that is to take Him into your hearts. That is the best thing you can do with Him, that is the only safe thing you can do with Htm, and may the Lord omnipotent by His spirit help me to persuade you to do that A minister of Christ was speaking to some children, and said. "It will point you to Christ." A little child rose up in the audience and came up and put her hand in the hand of the pastor and said:
"Please, sir, take me to Jesus now, I want to go now." Oh, that it might be now with

"Hease, sir, take me to Jesus now, I want to go now." Oh, that it might be now with such simplicity of experience that you and I join hands and seek after Christ and get an expression of His benefaction and His mercy! You may take Christ into your confidence. If you cannot trust Him, whom can you trust? I do not offer you a dry, theological technicality. I simply ask you to come and put both feet on the "Rock of Ages." Take hold of Christ's hands and draw Him to your soul with perfect abandonment and hurl yourself into the deep sea of His mercy. He comes and says, "I will save you." If you do not think He is a hypocrite and a liar when He says that, believe Him and say: "Lord Jesus, I believe here is my heart. Wash it. Save it. Do it now. Aye, it is done; for I obey Thy promise and come. I can do no more. That is all Thou hast asked. I come. Christ is mine. Pardon is mine. Heaven is mine."

Why, my friends, you put more trust in everybody than you do in Christ, and in everything more trust in the bridge crossing the stream, in the ladder up to the loft; more trust in the stove that confines the fire; more trust in the stove that confines the fire; more trust in the bride crossing the stream, in the ladder up to the loft; more trust in the stove that confines the fire;

more trust in the stove that confines the fire more trust in the cook that prepares your food; more trust in the clerk that writes your books, in the druggist that makes the medicine, in the bargain maker with whom you trade—more trust in all these things than in Christ, although He stands this mo-

you trade—more trust in all these things than in Christ, although He stands this moment offering without limit and without mistake and without exception universal pardon to all who want it. Now is not that cheap enough—all things for nothing?

This is the whole of the Gospel as I understand it—that if you believe that Christ died to save you, you are saved. When? Now. No more doubt about it than that you sit there. No more doubt about it than that you have a right hand. No more doubt about it than that you had committed five thousand transgressions Christ would forgive you just as freely as if you had never committed one; though you had gone through the whole catalogue of crime—arson and blasphemy and murder—Christ would forgive you just as freely, you coming to Him as though you had committed only the slightest sin of the tongue.

Why, when Christ comes to pardon a soul He stops for nothing. Height is nothing. Protractedness is nothing.

O'er sins like mountains for their size, The seas to sovereign grace expand.

O'er sins like mountains for their size, The seas to sovereign grace expand, The seas of sovereign grace arise.

Lord Jesus, I give up all other props, give up all other expectations. Ruined and undone, I lay hold Thee. I plead Thy promises. I fly to Thy arms. "Lord, save me; I

When the Christian commission went into when the Christian commission went into the army during the war there ware a great muititude of hungry men and only a few loaves of bread, and the delegate of the com-mission was cutting the bread and giving it out to wounded and dying men. Some one came up and said, "Cut those slices thinner, or there will not be enough to go around." And then the delegate cut the slices very thin and handed the bread around until they all had some, but not much. But, blessed be God, there is no need of economy in this Glospel. Bread for all bread enough and to spare. Why perish with hunger?

Again, I advise you, as one of the best things you can do with Christ, to take Him into your love. Now there are two things into your love. Now there are two things which make us love any one—inherent attractiveness, and then what he does in the way of kindness toward us. Now Christ is in both these positions. Inherent attractiveness, fairer than the children of men, the luster of the morning in His eye, the glow of the setting sun in His cheek, myrrh and frankincense in the breath of His lip. In a heaven of holy beings, the best. In a heaven of mighty ones, the strongest. heaven of mighty ones, the strongest. In a heaven of great hearts, the tenderest and most sympathetic.

Why, sculpture has never yet been able to chisel His forn nor painting to present the flush of His cheek nor music to strike His charms; and the greatest surprise of eternity will be the first moment when we rush into His presence and with uplifted hands and streaming eyes and heart bounding with rapture we cry out, "This is Jesus!"

All over glorious is my Lord. He must be loved and yet adored; His worth, if all the nations knew, Sure, the whole earth would love Him, too.

Has He not done enough to win our affections? Peter the Great, laying aside royal authority, went down among the ship carpenters to help them, but Russia got the chief advantage of that condescension. John Howard turned his back upon the refinements and went around prisons to spy out their sorrows and to reliave their wrongs. their sorrows and to relieve their wrongs, but English criminals got the chief advantage of that ministry. But when Christ comes it is for you and me. The sacrifice for you and me. The tears for you and me. The crucifixion for you and me.

If I were hopelessly in debt and some one

If I were hopelessly in debt and some one came and paid my debts, and gave me a receipt in full, and called off the pack of hounding creditors; if I were on a foundering ship, and you came in a lifeboat and took me off, could I ever forget your kindness? Would I ever allow an opportunity to pass without rendering you a service or attesting my gratitude and love? Oh, how ought we to feel toward Christ, who plunged into the depth of our sin and plucked us out! Ought it not to set the very best emotions of our heart into the warmest, aye, a tions of our heart into the warmest, aye, a red hot glow? The story is so old that people almost get asleep when they are hearing it. And yet there He hangs—Jesus the man, Jesus the God.

man, Jesus the God.

Was there anything before or since, anything to be compared to this spectacle of generosity and woe? Did heart strings ever snap with a worse torture? Were tears ever charged with a heavier grief? Did blood ever gush, in each globule the price of a soul?

ever gush, in each globule the price of a soul? The wave of earthly malice dashed its bloody foam against one foot, the wave of infernal malice dashed against His other foot, while the storm of God's wrath against sin beat on His thorn-pierced brow, and all the hosts of darkness with gleaming lances rampages through His holy soul.

Oh, see the dethronement of heaven's King! the conqueror fallen from the white horse! the massacre of a God! Weep, ye who have tears, over the loneliness of His exile and the horrors of His darkness. Christ sacrificed on the funeral pyre of a world's transgression; the good for the bad, the great for the mean; the infinite for the finite, the God for the man. Oh, if there be in all this audience one person untouched by in all this audience one person untouched by this story of the Saviour's love, show me where he is that I may mark the monster of ingratitude and crime. If you could see Christ as He is you would rise from your seat and fling yourselves down at His feet, crying, "My Lord, my light, my love, my joy, my peace, my strength, my expectation, my heaven, my all Jesus! Jesus!"

Oh, can you not love Him? Do you want more of His tears? Why, He has shed them all for you. He has no more. Do you want more of his blood? His arteries were want more of his blood? His arteries were emptied dry and the iron hand of agony could press out nothing more. Would you put Him to worse excruciation? Then drive another nail into His hand, and plunge another spear into His side, and twist another thorn into His crown, and lash Him with another flame of infernal torture. with another flame of infernal torture. "No," says some one; "stop! stop! He shall not be smitten again. Enough the tears. "No," says some one; "stop! He shall not be smitten again. Enough the tears. Enough the blood. Enough the torture. Enough the agony." "Enough," cries earth. "Enough," cries heaven. Aye, "Enough," cries hell. At last enough. Oh, look at Him, thy butchered Lord, unshrouded and ghastly as they flung Him from the tree. His woulds gaying for a pendage.

the tree, His wounds gaping for a bandage. Are there no hands to close these eyes? Then let the sun go out and there be midnight. Howl, ye winds, and howl, ye seas, for your Lord is dead. Oh, what more could He have done for you and for me than He has done? Lord is dead. Oh, what more could He have done for you and for me than He has done? Could He pay a bigger price? Could He drink a more bitter cup? Could He plunge into a worst catastrophe? And can you not love Him? Groan again, O blessed Jesus, that they may feel Thy sacrifice! Groan again. Put the four fingers and the thumb of Thy wounded hand upon them, that the gash in the palm may strike their souls and Thy warm life may bleed into them. Groan again, O Jesus, and see if they will not feel.

Oh, what will you do with such a Christ as that? You have got to do something with Him this morning. What will you do with Jesus? Will you spit upon Him again? Will you crucify Him again? What will you do with Him this has loved you with more than sin? Will you spit upon him again? What you crucify Him again? What will you do with Him who has loved you with more than a brother's love, more than a father's love, yea, more than a mother's love, through all these years. Oh, is it not enough to make the hard heart of the rock break? Jesus! Jesus! What shall we do with Thee?

I have to say that the question will after awhile change, and it will not be what shall we do with Christ, but what will Christ do with us? Ring all the bells of eternity at the burning of a world. In that day what do you think Christ will do with us? Why, Christ will say: "There is that man whom I called. There is that woman whose soul I importuned. But they would not any of my ways. I gave them innumerable opportunities of salvation. They rejected them all, Depart; I never knew you." Blessed be God, that day has not come. Halt, ye destinies of eternity, and give us one more chance. One more chance and this is it. God, that day has not come. Halt, ye destinies of eternity, and give us one more chance. One more chance, and this is it.

Some travelers in the wilderness of Australia a few years ago found the skeleton of a man and some of his garments, and a rusty kettle on which the man had written or scratched with his finger nail these words: "O God, I am dying of thirst. My brain is on fire. My tongue is hot. God help me in the wilderness." Oh, how suggestive of the condition of those who die in the wilderness the wilderness." Oh, how suggestive of the condition of those who die in the wilderness of sin through thurst! We take hold of them to-day. We try to bring the cool water of the rock to their lips. We say, "Ho, every one that thirsteth!" God, thy Father, awaits thee. Ministering spirits who watch the ways of the soul bend now this moment over this immortal auditory to see what we over this immortal auditory to see what we will do with Jesus.

Ingentous Prisoners.

Among the curiosities of the Maine State's Prison is a dress that one of the prisoners, who attempted to escape recently, had made as a disguise. At different times the man, who worked in the carriage trimming shop, secreted small bits of flannel, which he sewed together, from which he fashioned a most remarkable gown, with a big bow at the back by way of adornment. The buttons were made from harness trimmings and bits of leather. He also made a hat. The whole outfit, with a razor, chalk, for face powder, and a thirty-foot ladder made of wax ends, was found in the man's cell. Another prisoner had converted an old vise into a jackscrew, and had carried it about.

A Big Grinder. The tooth of a mastodon has been found on a farm near Zanesville. Ohio. It (the tooth) weighed eight and onequarter pounds.

FUNERAL THIEVES.

The Very Lowest Grade of All the Criminal Class.
Criminals have as many grades of retectability among themselves as has as moral portion of the community. May, too, have their "400," their upper their middle-grade lawbreakers, and then the very dregs of the thieving neath the contempt of even the humble the lowly pickpocket, and burglar, the contemptible hat-rack sneak, stands, lone and forsaken by all evil-doers, the "funeral thief." The "funeral thier" is the poltroon of the criminal classes. Little conscience as most thieves possess, he possesses the least. He shrinks from no desecration. No superstition causes him to recoil. the living as they weep over the dead. Few criminals would stoop to so low a crime, consequently there are not many funeral thieves. But what few there are are active. Their method of work is extremely simple. Uusually they go in pairs, sometimes there are three or four together. Early in the morning they scan the death columns of the newspapers. From the announcement of the funerals for the day they make up a visiting list. They select those where the victims of the grim reaper were men about their They visit the home where the partly open casket is resting, while friends gaze at the features of the departed. Their right to be present is never questioned; they are taken, as a matter of course, for friends of the dead. They pass the coffin, pausing for a few moments in pretended tearful contemplation of the cold features, and in the slight jam that is sure to follow such a pause—and while many mourners are in tears—the thieves stract the pocketbooks of all within their reach. Women are their subjects, and if tears are not plentiful the thieves will themselves pretend to weep. This is sure to prove effectual.

these funeral thieves work. It does not take them long to go through the pockets of half a dozen persons, and then they are off to the next house on the list, where the mode of operation is repeated. No wonder other thieves regard them with contempt.

BREEDING IN CAPTIVITY.

Birds Mating in a Zoological Garden as Never Before. The condors, vultures and eagles of the Philadelphia Zoo have begun to lay eggs, which they have never done be-fore while in captivity. These birds have all built huge nests of branches of trees and bark, and a wholly unwonted activity possesses them. The Zoo has been filled with persons looking at the birds and watching their buildings. The keeper of the Zoo explains thus why it is that the birds have never mated before. "The secret is this," he said. The nearer you approach a state of nature the better it is for birds in every way. In that state the first thing vultures and eagles do when they pounce upon their prey is to cut into the head and dig out and devour the brains. The birds had always been fed here, as they have everywhere else, on horse meat, but during the past month we have made arrangements with poultry and fish dealers by which the heads of poultry and fish dressed for market and all those that are a little damaged are brought up here and thrown in to the birds. It was a welcome change from horseflesh, and the birds have been ravenous for it. They are now devouring their natural food in their natural manner, and are just that much nearer their natural state. They became less sluggish and took more interest in each other. It wasn't long before they were billing and cooing like turtle doves. I came out here and found an eagle's egg in the ground near the wire screen. Some small boy pounded it with a stick. Then another one had the same fate, So branches, sticks and bark were thrown into the cages as an experiment. and surely enough, the vultures and eagles began to build nests and lay in them. I believe we shall be raising young vultures, condors, buzzards and eagles like chickens and ducks in a short time. Never before in captivity did these birds ever make any protense of laying or making nests. give them their chicken and fish brains all summer. Brains are needed in every business, and this is what they have accomplished with these birds.

Good Detective Work by a Woman.

A piece of private detective work has lately been brought to a successful issue in the West which, for persistency and prudent management, deserves commendation. Last November James Heath was shot by Walter Hargood in the town of Bird's Point, Mo., while the parties were attending a dance. The two young men had been quarreling over a girl, and the shot fired by Hargood was located by the state of the shot fired by Hargood was located by the shot fired by the shot fired by Hargood was located by the shot fired good was instantly fatal. The murderer fled, and although the police made an effort to find him he eluded their vigilance, and all hope of his apprehension was abandoned.

A sister of Heath, however, was not reconciled to have her brother's murder go unpunished. Adopting male attire, she started on track of Hargood. ing he had gone to Oklahoma or Texas, she started for the former place. She searched town after town without success, and was about to transfer her sphere of operations when she learned that a man answering Hargood's description had been seen, having just come from Texas. She searched every place he would be likely to frequent, and finally found him in a saloon. summoned an officer, secured his arrest, and saw him started next morning for the scene of his crime.

Fads in Wax and Stationery. Late news from Paris is to the effect that sealing wax has suddenly become once more fashionable. A meaning is now attached to each color. White sealing wax means a proposal of marriage; black, of course, mourning; violet, condolence; brown or old gold, an invitation to dinner; ruby is used by lovers crimson is reserved strictly for busierimson is reserved strictly for business; green means hope; pale gray, friendship; pink, love letters; yellow, jealousy; gold and silver, constancy, etc. Note paper is to be had in corresponding shades and in all shapes and forms. Mourning paper is now absolutely black, edged with silver, and silver ink is used to write thereupon. A pretty novelty is the flower paper. of pale blue, pink, lilac or green, and is powdered all over with the buds and petals of flowers in a yet lighter hue. Forget-me-nots or gentianellas on the blue, roses and apple blossoms on the pink, crocuses, violets, or twigs of lavender on the lilac, and buttercups and the control of the second of th dalsies on the green. The envelopes match the paper, and are lined with Niagara Falls Excursion, July 28.

We offir One Hundred Dollars reward for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cura.

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Props., Toledo, O. We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions, and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.

WEST & TRUAX, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo,

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.
Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and nucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent from Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

These is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, EKAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OF SAMPLES FREE.

General Eppa Hunton, Virginia's new Sen-ator, rose in four years from the Confederate ranks to a Major-Generalship.

The pleasant effect and perfect safety with which ladies may use the California liquid laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions, makes it their favorite remedy. To get the true and genuine article, look for the name of the California Fig Syrup Co., printed near the bottom of the package.

The widows of General Grant and Jeffer son Davis are staying at the same hotel at West Point, N. Y.

Brown's fron Bitters cures Dyspepsia, Malaria, Biliousness and General Deblitty. Gives Strength, aids Digestion, tones the nervee-creates appetite. The best tonic for Nursing Mothers, weak women and children.

Emin Pasha has had more obituary notices

"I have found your Bradycrotine a sure cure for headache." A. R. Hanks, Mountain Peak, Texas. All druggists, fifty cents.

Vienna was a triumphant tour.

MALARIA cured and eradicated from the aystem by Brown's Iron Bitters, which en-riches the blood, tones the nerves, aids diges-tion. Acts like a charm on persons in general ill health, giving new energy and strength.

Gladstone has been a Member of Parlia-

SICK HEADACHE, lassitude, weakness and loss of appetite caused by malaria can be immediately cured by Beecham's Pills.

If afflicted with sore eyes use Dr. IsaacThompson's Eye-water. Druggists sell at 25c a bottle

CURES MALARIAL POISON

Nature should be assisted to throw off impurities of the blood. Nothing does it so well, so promptly, or so safely as Swift's Specific.

LIFE HAD NO CHARMS.

For three years I was troubled with malarial poison, which caused my appetite to fail, and I was greatly reduced in flesh, and life lost all its charms. I tried mercurial and potash remedies, but to no effect. I could get no relief. I then decided to try
A few bottles of this wonderful medicine made a complete and permanent cure, and I now enjoy better health than ever.

J. A. RICE, Ottawa, Kan. Our book on Rlood and Skin Diseases

SWIFT SPECIFIC Co., Atlanta, Ga.

55 TO $15 Per day at home to be selling Machining the finest and plain ing jewelry, watches, tableware, its. Plater and plain the finest of jewelry good as new, on all kinds of the selling the selli

Fixed just right -Liver, Stomach, and Bowels, by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They do it in just the right way, tooby using Nature's own methods. That's why they're better than the dreadful, old-fashioned pills, with their griping and violence.

But they're better in every way. In size, for instance, and dose. They're the smallest and the easiest to take; only one little Pellet is needed for a gentle laxativethree for a cathartic. They cleanse and regulate the system thoroughly -but it's done easily and naturally. Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels are prevented, relieved, and cured.

They're the cheapest pill you cam buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for value

Something else, that pays the dealer better, may be offered as "just as good." Perhaps it is, for him, but it can't be, for you.

"August Flower"

"I am Post Master here and keep a Store. I have kept August Flower for sale for some time. I think it is a splendid medicine." E. A. Bond, P. M., Pavilion Centre, N. Y.

The stomach is the reservoir. If it fails, everything fails. The liver, the kidneys, the lungs, the heart, the head, the blood, the nerves all go wrong. If you feel wrong, look to the stomach first. Put that right at once by using August Flower. It assures a good appetite and a good digestion.

Beautify complexion by purifying

DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

TELEGRAPHY We teach either and place you at work. SHORTHAND Largest School in the south. Send for SHORTHAND SENOIA. new Catalogue. Couch & LUGENBEEL GEORGIA.

Trisaduty you owe yourself and family to get the best value for your money. Economize in your footwear by purchasing W. L. Douglas Shoes, which represent the best value
for prices asked, as thousands will testify. TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.

THE BEST SHOE IN THE WORLD FOR THE MONEY.

costing from $4 to $5.

and $5 Hand-sewed, fine calf shoes. The most stylish, easy and durable shoes ever sold at these prices. They equal fine imported shoes costing from $8 to $12,

50 Police Shoe, worn by farmers and all others who want a good heavy calf, three soled, extension edge shoe,

S3 Hand-Sewen, and the best pure shoes for Misses are made of the best pure gola or fine Caif, as desired. They are very stylish, comfortable and durable. The $3 shoe equals custom made shoes costing from $4 to $6. Ladles who wish to economize in their footwear are finding this out.

CAUTION.—Beware of dealers substituting shoes without W. L. Douglas' name and the price stamped on bottom, out W. L. Douglas' name and the price stamped on bottom.

out W. L. Douglas' name and the pricestamped on bottom.

SK FOR W. L. DOUGLAS' SHOES. Such substitutions are fraudulent and subject to prosecution by law for obtaining money under false pretences.

If not for sale in your place send direct to Factory, stating kind, size and width unted. Postage free. Will give exclusive sale to shoe dealers and general merants where I have no agents. Write for Catalogue. W. L. Douglas, Brockton, Mass. ASK FOR W. L. DOUGLAS' SHOES.

THE CALERA JOURNAL.

VOL. I.

CALERA, ALA., SATURDAY, AUGUST 6, 1892.

NO. 41.

Behold I lay in prison like St. Paul.

grim and stout,

from me.

sound,

its wait in gold.

betr."

Chained to two guards that both were

All day they sat by me and held me thrall:

And through the twilight of that hopeless

There came an angel shining suddenly

The chains grew soft and slipped away

The doors gave back and swung without a

Like petals of some magic flower unfurled.

followed, treading o'er enchanted ground,

Thou knowest is Life; the angel's name is

HUMOROUS.

Woman poses and man proposes.

A debt that draws interest is worth

Fogg suggests that the reason why

"You warrant that horse gentle?"

"Gentle as a lamb, sir. If that horse

Johnny's latest composition: 'The Rubber heels for marching have Goos-The goos is so called becaus it acs kinder silly and don't know any been introduced by a French army surgeon. One would expect to see them bounce into popularity at once.

A Western editor thus alludes to a contemporary: "He is young yet, but he can sit at his desk and brush cobwebs from the ceiling with his ears."

out of your boy? Crimsonbeak-A lecturer. "Has he a taste for it?"

"Oh, yes; he inherits it from his

"Were you confused when you were in London?" "No," replied the fair traveler, "except once, when we were caught in a fog. Then we were some-

The joke about our ice is due;

No longer may it rest;

Yeast-What are you going to make were a man he'd be a dude."

fish is brain food is because fish go in

-- Archibald Lampman, in Harper's.

The master of that black and bolted keep

Into another and a kindlier world.

That took me by the hand, and as I rose

The one was named Regret, the other

Don't lose courage; spirit brave Carry with you to the grave.

Don't lose time in vain distress; Work, not worry, brings success.

Don't lose hope; who lets her stray Goes forlornly all the way.

Don't lose patience, come what will;

Patience oft times outruns skill

Don't lose gladness; every hour

Blooms for you some happy flower. Though be foiled your dearest plan?

Don't lose faith in God and man. -[Womankind.

Found by an Umbrella.

BY FREDERIC HOWE MARION.

I went down to the Balms at Riverville one summer. I had been very hard at work all winter, and my physician said that a week's rest would do me good. The Balms was my uncle's place, and we were having fine, open weather that month.

It was strange, having nothing to do after being so long actually driven with work. I had Herod, my dog, with me, a great English stag-hound. Herod and I used to take long walks through the open country. We used to go strawberrying and botanizing a little. We did some hunting and a bit of fishing, I believe, during that first week. Meanwhile, I was physically recruiting very rapidly.

I don't think there is a lovelier place anywhere than Riverville. It stands upon a hill, you know, and its orchards, white with bloom in May, slope down to the river which encircles it. The river is excellent, both for boating and fishing. The hillsides are spangled with flowers, violets, harebells, anemones, everything pretty I ever heard of growing wild. The twenty houses which conthink of it, there is a poor hut or two, are picturesque. As I look back upon gone!" Riverville it seems more like a beautiful picture I have seen upon a canvas than an actual place. Well, the second week of my stay had nearly passed. I began to realize it with some consternation, and to contemplate somewhat ruefully cerpapers, its dust and din, and musty documents, seemed like a tomb.

But not wishing to be more miserable than was necessary, I whistled to Herod, and we sallied forth into the pure sunshine. I went forward to my favorite seat. It was a fallen tree at the edge of the little cave formed by the circling bank of the river.

As I sat here, in solitude, a boat handkerchief. came gliding down stream. It was rowed by a slender female figure. As I sat at my post of observation, a fair face was turned gently upon me, and plumes in her hat.

In realizing the beauty of the face, I did not see that there was in it a sharp anxiety and appeal. But the next moment I was electrified by a shrill scream. The young woman had risen to her feet, and threw up her episode, and so ended, upon the next banquet, as indispensable as roast hands, as the wherry swamped be- day, my stay at Riverville. neath her. But I saw her in the water and tore off my coat. But there was no nee i of my assistance; Herod had already leaped into the river. His great head went sailing through the circling water to the spot where the terrified girl struggled. It was not thirty seconds before her arms were around the dog's neck. "Lightly! hold him lightly!" I

At the same time Herod shook himself loose from one of her clinging hands. She must have been more spent than I thought, for the other hand unclasped also, and the golden hailed a horse-car to take me up town. head went under the waves.

"Save her! save her!" I shouted

The dog dived and brought her up floated out of the water. I enthusiastically encouraged him. I saw, before a ducking, and we proceeded. he reached the bank, that his burden was quite senseless.

The noble brute lay down, panting. I myself and a small boy at the other bank, and laid her on the grass.

I watched her for a moment. Not an eyelid quivered; her breast did not stir with the breath of life. Spreading my coat over her and saying to Herod, "Watch!" I ran across the fields in shirt sleeves for assistance.

Arriving at the Balms, I shouted to the hired man leaning on the gate-

"Harness a horse into the chaise!" Then rushing to the kitchen, I frantically ordered "Hot water and blankets!"

Finally, encountering my respected uncle in the sitting-room, I laid violent hands upon him.

"Why, John-what the duse-" "Come, come!" I entreated. "A young lady is drowning!" "Where?"

the bank of the cove," I panted, disconnectedly. "Come, come!"

All amazement, he followed me. Arriving at the stable I thrust Enoch aside-most unceremoniously, for his customary leisurely manner particularly exasperated me at that moment -finished harnessing the gray into the vehicle, jumped in, motioned my uncle after me, and whipped the animal all the way down the hill.

"John, I think you are crazy," mildly remonstrated Uncle Lemuel. I made no reply, for we had reached the spot.

As I stepped out of the chaise, Herod came leaping upon me.

"Where-" I commenced, looking silently around. My patient was My uncle gazed at me inquiringly.

think I must have looked foolish. "I should like to know what you are looking for, John?" "Looking for?" I exclaimed, beginning to get angry. "You think I'm a fool, I suppose, but I tell you there stitute the place are mostly those of was a girl here; she was drowning. gentlemen's country-seats. Now I and the dog pulled her out of the water. She was quite insensible, and but they are overrun with vines, and I laid her here myself. Now she is > "So I see," coolly replied Uncle Lemuel. "Well, how did it happen?"

"She was in a boat." "What boat?"

"It swamped."

Uncle Lemuel whistled and put his hands in his pockets. I began to doubt and it is stated that not less than 30,tain distasteful tasks before me. My myself if there had been any reality in | 000 tons of it are annually brought little dull office, with its ledgers and the scene which had so excited me. into Brazil. Think of it-30,000 tons Had I not been dreaming? At that moment Herod shook the water from substance consumed by this scanty his thick coat all over me. "Look at the dog," I began.

"What is that he has there?" interrupted Uncle Lemuel.

Herod had lain down with his forepaws upon some small, white object.

"See here!" I cried, in exultation. "He is watching her handkerchief

Then I looked for a name, and found I beheld a beautiful blonde with heron it "Aster Grey." Uncle Lemuel began to look convinced as I showed it to him. But he said:

> "There are no Greys in Riverville that I know of."

We re-entered the chaise and drove mare slowly homeward. So ended the

I returned to the city and plunged into hard work, mental activity and steady application. Before another spring my energies were ratner it would never recognize his own coddrained.

I should have forgotten the episode at Riverville, perhaps, if the girl had not been so beautiful. As it was, the face sometimes haunted me. It was the kind of beauty that suited meshouted, "or you'll drag him down!" fair, noble, and serene in character, I wanted some one to love, and I was sorry that I had lost Aster Grey.

One spring evening, after a harassing day's work, I left my office and It was raining heavily.

After I had entered the car I found that I had left my umbrella behind me. My rooms were beyond the exagain. He came swimming toward treme route of the car, and some ten minutes' walk from the stopping He held her firmly by a sleeve of place-long enough to drench me to her dress. I observed that her face the skin, as it was coming down then. Accordingly I made up my mind for Gradually, as we approached the end of our way, the car was almost I relieved him at the water's edge. empty. When nobody was left but I carried the unconscious girl up the end of the car I espied an umbrella lying on the seat beside mo.

"Is this your umbrella, boy?" said I. "No, sir," said he.

I reached forth my hand, took it, and jumped out at the corner of my street. | Plants Which Afford Counterfeits I cannot say that I had a spasm of conscience in so doing. I had had too many umbrellas of my own appropriated, and it was evident that the arti- Most Curious Tribe In All the cle had been forgotten by its owner, who would never have seen it again if I had not appropriated it. But I noticed, as I walked along, that it was feiting her own work," said a botana remarkably neat little affair, with an ornate handle.

And when I got home I found a plate upon the handle, and the plate was marked "Aster G.ey, 79 S-

Of course, I considered it my plain duty to return that umbrella prompt-"Over here-under the pines-by ly to its owner. The next evening I rang at 79 S--- street. I asked to see Miss Grey. She came fair and

I was emboldened to claim her former acquaintance. She looked mystified, as was quite natural, since she never remembered to have seen me before. When I recalled the incident of her danger at Riverville she told me that when she glanced toward the the peril she was in to distinguish any features or appearance. She knew nothing from the moment the boat sank beneath her. When she recovered consciousness she was alone on the bank, with the big dog over her. When she arose to her feet the dog seemed unwilling to have her go. By leaving him her handkerchief she managed to get away. She was visiting a family with whom my uncle had little acquaintance, and left Riverville the next day.

I spent a pleasant evening, telling her of other exploits of my brave Herod. I spent other pleasant evenings with her, and asked her-only that-to let me love her.

She not only promised that, but to love me. And now she is my dear little wife, found by an umbrella .--[New York Weekly.

Jerked Beef as a Steady Diet.

Everywhere in Brazil jerked beef is an important article of food. Immense quantities of it are exported from Uruguay and the Argentiue Republic, a year of that leathery, indigestible population. It furnishes the staple food for plantation laborers and for the lower classes in cities. Indeed, it may be called the Brazilians' national dish, for it is as omnipressent on every table, at least twice a day, stewed went to examine it. It was a linen with beans and grease and garlic, as the frejoles of Mexico or the rice of China. Another great delicacy hereabout is bacalao (codfish), as highly esteemeed among the Brazilians as partridge, planked shad and terrapin in the District of Columbia. At least 100,000 of codfish are annually sent to Brazil from the United States and Nova Scotia, and the people are so fond of it that the fresh fish of their own rivers are entirely ignored for "bacalao," which is a feature of every turkey at a New England Thanksgiving. But when prepared in Portuguese fashion and served on the festive board the Yankee that caught fish, so begreased and begarlicked is it, and turned a rusty red by the a !dition of strange condiments and served with yams and cabbage and goodness knows what else, in one abominable ollapodrida, which once smelled can never be forgotten. -[Washington Star.

Pleasanter Than to Make $500,000. Edward Pardridge, the big Chicago wheat-operator, who has more than once made a turn of $500,000 by a break of the market in a single day, was asked recently what had been "the proudest moments of his life." Mr. Pardridge climbed out of the noisy pit to answer, and he said in his abrupt way: "Well, there isn't any doubt that I was never prouder or happier than in the old days on the farm, when I used to run in bareheaded from the river with a big string of suckers and lay them down before my father." An uproar in the pit cut Mr. Pardridge short, and he scrambled back to catch other kinds of fish .- [New York Post, of Animal Life.

ODD ORCHIDS.

Vegetable Kingdom.

"Nature is much given to counterits to a Washington Star writer. "Among the most remarkable illustrations of this tendency on her part are numerous vegetable imitations of animal life. You will find this sort of freak best exhibited in plants of the orchid kind, whose oddly formed flowers suggest various queer resemblances. There are two species, for example, known as the 'bee orchid' and the 'fly orchid' from the likeness between their flowers and those insects. Other varieties for similar reasons are called the 'man orchid,' the dizard orchid' and the 'lady's slipper.' In some species the flowers are like splendid butterflies. One again reminds the observer of a grinning monkey; another suggests the aspect shore she was too much frightened at of an opera dancer suspended by the head, while a third named the 'spider orchid,' affords a striking likeness to that animal.

> "Although there are orchids of various kinds to be found in temperate latitudes, the most beautiful species grow in luxuriance where a tropical climate develops these exquisite vegetable forms on the branches of the living trees, in the decayed bark of fallen trunks, running over mossy rocks or hanging suspended from boughs in the untrodden forests. For a long time it was supposed that this most curious tribe in all the vegetable kingdom could not be subjected to the uses of the gardener, but it has been discovered of late years that, with care and perseverance, they can be brought to as high a perfection in a green house as they obtain in their native woods. It is chiefly in the forests of South America that the species which grow on the bark of trees are found. Some of them are known as 'air plant' from their power of vegetating when simply suspended in the air without any soil or direct supply of water, supported only by the moisture of the atmosphere. When hung up by strings from the ceiling of a room they will live for months and will go on blossoming luxuriantly.

> Such orchids are favorite ornaments of houses in China and Japan. "There are pearly 2000 known species of orchids. Probably as many more remain undiscovered in the depths of unexplored tropical forests. He who comes upon a new one obtains almost as much glory as is got by the discovery of a star. It seems curious that, whereas these plants are spread over nearly all of the world, as far as the borders of the frozen zone, there should be so very few kinds that are useful in any way to man. Vanilla is an orchid, which, in the West Indies, creeps over trees and walls like ivy. A substance called 'salep' somewhat resembling arrowroot or sago, is obtained from the tubers of a variety that grows in Turkey and Persia, where it is highly

> "This 'salep' used to be sold at the corners of streets in London, says Dr. Carpenter in his 'Vegetable Physiology.' It was a favorite drink with porters, coal heavers and other hardworking people, by whom it was considered very strengthening. It is said to contain a greater amount of nutriment than any other vegetable substance in the same bulk, and for this reason it is much employed by travelers who have to carry supplies with them into deserts and other uninhabited countries. One ounce of 'saleb,' boiled with an equal quantity of the animal jelly known as portable soup, in two quarts of water, will suffice for the daily nourishment of an ablebodied man. Some of the South American species yield, by boiling, a sort of glue, utilized by the Brazilians for fastening leather together. These are the only orchids that are of utility to mankind."

> > Good Effects of Yawning.

To yawn is to do a good deal more than merely "to open wide the mouth through drowsiness or weariness," as yawn is an involuntary exercise which nature suggests to us when, in consequence of sleep or drowsiness, or ennui, or cold, or hunger or indigestion, something is needed to restore the system to a state of general activity. Through it and the movements which accompany it the whole body, beginning with the muscles of the throat and face, is stimulated and refreshed, the successive motions extending themselves throughout the entire frame and reaching finally to the feet. "A good yawn," says Mrs. Russell, "is always slow, and the best uses every articulation in the body-probably every muscle-possibly refreshes every nerve. Not all at once or in jerks, but slowly, in perfect successions or rhythms, with the best possible breathing. Certainly no gymnast, with the single exception of Francois De Isarte, ever so arranged the same expenditure of force, nervous and muscular, as to result in an equal amount of invigorating effect upon the system." And again we are informed that yawning "embodies all the laws of growth needed for movements that are to give physical growth and refreshment, and some of the laws which are necessary to the higher growth, so called, of the emotions and the intellect."

The moral of these observations would appear to be that we ought all to yawn as much as possible—the oftener the better; and further, since yawning comes so near perfection as a mode of bodily exercise, that we should do well to discard such conventionalities as dumb bells and the horizontal bar, and to cultivate our bedily powers by merely lounging in our chairs and yawning. Merely to think about it or to read about it, and to set some people agape, when these devices fail, the desired result can be attained in a purely mechanical fashion. Droop the eyelids as if sleepy, at the same time rolling the eyeballs slightly upward, though without closing the eyes; repeat the movement what mist-ified." some half dozen times and you will find yourself beginning to yawn .-[Chicago Herald.

Meerschaum is a Kind of Clay.

There is a very general impression in the minds of smokers that the meerschaum part of the pipe which they treasure so carefully and take so much pride and satisfaction in "coloring" is compressed sea foam. Such, however, is not the case. The German word meerschaum means in English foam of the sea, but its formation has nothing to do with the sea. It is a kind of clay, comes out of mines like coal, and is found only in Turkey. The artist who carves meerschaum is required to pass through as severe a school of apprenticeship, lasting from three to 10 years, as though his work were in marble. Meerschaum carved and in the rough resembles the ordinary plaster cast. The outlines being complete, it is scraped with a knife, filed, soaked in a preparation, and then pollshed with a linen cloth. The color of meerschaum has nothing to do with the quality, and ranges from pure white to a light yellow or a bluish white. The practice sometimes indulged in by smokers of soaking a meerschaum in hot water, milk, or steaming it, is altogether wrong. It spoils the meerschaum and ruins the color .- [Chicago Herald.

The Sweet Pea Was Once Spurned. It is marvellous that so valuable a flower for cutting as the sweet pea should have been left for so many years unnoticed by florists. It is one of the oldest in cultivation, and yet has been improved only quite recently. Nothing now is more popular with florists than this delightful flower, and some are taking them in hand to improve them, as they have the pansy, dahlia, carnation and other flowers. They are not only improving them, but giving them distinctive names, just as in the class of flowers. There are among them shades of pink, mauve, lilac, yellow, orange, scarlet, purple, and even a white-far much purer and delicate than the white of the old form. -[Picayune.

He Knew Him. Prisoner to judge_I think you ought to know me pretty well by this time, your honor.

Judge-Yes I do; I have you down the dictionary tells us. According to fine, ten dollars fine, - [Lippincett.]

Mrs. Russell, of Delsartean fame, the

And 'tis the gentle iceman who Laughs last, and therefore best. Many inanimate things appear to be endowed with reason. For instance, a collar button knows when a fellow has a sore thumb and improves the occasion to refuse to do duty.

He (tenderly)-Do you think you could ever learn to love me? She (confidently)-Oh, my, yes. Why, I learned to love Tom Barry, who was here last month, in two days.

Magistrate-What is your name? Prisoner-Smizz. Magistrate-I want your full name. Prisoner's Friend-That's his full name, Your Honor. When he's sober his name is Smith.

Husband (gnashing his teeth over bill for jewelry) -Madam, you ought to remember that economy is wealth, Wife- Maybe it is, but you can't buy any jewelry to speak of with econ-

"I wonder where my vest is," exclaimed Mr. Justwed. "I've looked everywhere I can think of for it." "L hung it in the vestibule, dear," replied Mrs. Justwed, sweetly. "I believe in having everything in its proper place."

Mr. Wickwire-Here is the "For and About Women" page of the Sunday paper, with nothing in it but descriptions of dresses, as usual. Mrs. Wickwire-Well, if dresses are not for and about women, I don't know

Miss Elderberry-Girls do not marry so young nowadays as they used to Miss Singletree-Yes, I've noticed that, and I'm glad they are getting more sensible. A girl doesn't really knowl hgr own mind until she's thirty-six or

An Irishman got out of the car at a railway station for refreshments and, unfortunately, the bell rang and the train left before he had finished his repast. "Hould on," cried Pat, as he ran like a madman after the car "hould on, ye murtheriu' old shtame ingin-ye'vo got a passenger aboard that's left behind."

According to the report of the Board of Health, there are 116 lodging houses in New York city, with rooms for 14,172 persons, the cost of a lodging ranging from seven to twenty-five THE CALERA JOURNAL FRANK W. GIST, EDITOR. Entered at the Post Office in Calera as Second Class Matter.

National Democratic Ticket

FOR PRESIDENT, GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, A. E. STEVENSON, of Illinois.

HONORS DUE.

in the cause, R. M. Pilgreen and Shelby county. J. S. Bridges. When the ballots were counted, the result showed an increase at Calera box of 331 give Jones 1,004; Kolb 1,605. per cent in the entire vote, and in the democratic vote, an increase of at least 150 per cent.

nesday morning's issue shows Jones Fondville and Ramsey for secretary majorities of 34,567; Kolb majorities of 21,580. These majorities for superintendent of education. are from 27 Jones counties and 28 Kolb counties, leaving eleven counties to hear from. While this gives it is not safe to claim more than about even with Jones. ten thousand.

to good government, and enforcement of law and order was looking for trouble and probable blood shed shot guns and case knives were the result as to the Governorship. left at home.

It does us good to hear of gallantry and patriotism being displayed by any one, but when it representatives given, are certain: comes in such abundant free will as that of Mr. - Reed and Charlie O'Neil of beat seven, on Monday last, in the cause of democracy Perry 2, Marengo 2, Lowndes 2, Bullock 2, Wilcox 2, Marion 1, and good government, we feel it Colbert 1, Calhoun 2, Greene 1, our duty as a journalist to make Sumter 2, Clarke 2, Monroe 2, mention of it, and we hereby re- Walker 1, Autauga 1, Franklin 1 mention of it, and we hereby return thanks of the Executive Committee of the county, and the good of beats three and seven, to these ly to be under ten. gentlemen for the faithful and effective work performed by them on Monday.

seems to have carried thirty-five Age-Herald. counties and Jones thirty-one. But many as two representatives, unless he has carried Madison, giving him forty in all. Some of the members who were elected as regular democrats were nominated as Kolb men, avowed allegiance to Jones and ran on. It is not impossible that some of these men have strong sympathies with the Kolb side and will be disposed to vote with his following, making that body closer than the figures indicate on their face. It will, however, be safe for Jones by at least sixteen majority. The senate is overwhelmingly for organiz-Kolb's organ, the Alliance Her ald of Thursday gives Gov. Jones the state, and in giving up the contest uses the following language: "From the best information that can be secured, the Herald believes that Kolb has carried the state by over 1,000, including the heavy fraudulent votes from the black belt. If these shall be eliminated his majsrity will not be less than 20,000. In a table showing the vote it gives Jones a majority of 4.532. Every one knows that the Herald, has under estimated Jones' strength and over estimated Kolb's, and as it figures out a victory for Jones of over four thousand, it can be construed in no other light than an acknowledgement of defeat.

Mr. Eli Barefield has our thanks for a fine democratic watermelon, presented on the morning after the election. Mr. Barefield gave us its history: it made its appearance on the vine the morning Gov. Jones was nominated, it weighed 36 pounds-Jones majority over Ko'b at this beat. It was 54 days old when pulled, the number of votes that Jones received over the candidate for Probate Judge on the Republican ticket. WHEN all did so well, it is im- There was 8 persons eat of the possible to give every one credit melon, just the number of votes for faithful service. There were Mr. Leeper received over Col. about one dozen of Calera's ama- West at Calera. It was not a Kolb ture democrats who did gallant Gem, but was of thick rind, and work during the entire day, besid- our better half preserved it in as es the staunch and tried servants many pieces as Jones beat Kolb in

> THE complete returns from Bibb Kolb's majority 601.

The democratic state ticket ran 50 votes ahead of the governor, and Barron and Harris are only 100 be-THE Age-Herald, s table in Wed- hind, caused by Kolbites voting for of state and Oliver and Turner for

For probate judge, Gardner received 1,061 Hayes, 1,485.

The mass meeting or Jones coun-12384, or in round numbers 13,000, ty ticket, is defeated. It ran

This news comes by special to the Journal, and is about the same Almost every citizen who looks as reported to the Advertiser.]

WE WIN.

in this contest, but, the election The election returns demonstrate ment to put the celebration of the has come and past. There was no with reasonable cercainty that the disturbance worth mention in the Democrats have carried Alabama State on election day. That speaks by upwards of 15,000 majority. well for the temper of our people For a short time yesterday things and demonstrates the fact that in looked a little doubtful, but as this land af freedom and liberty night came on the returns were that battle of ballots can be fought more favorable, and this morning without personal differences. The there can be no further doubt of which has so presented it as to gain

> As to the house of representatives, there is the best reason for believing that a democratic majority has been elected. The following counties, with the number of Jefferson 6, Montgomery 4, Mobile 3, Dallas 3, Barbour 2, Louderdale 2, Madison 3, Jackson 2, Hale 1, Russell 2. Talladega 2.

The senate will also be safely democratic, it is believed. The democrats of Shelby, and especially majority on joint ballot is not like-

And so let us be thankful for the good things we have, Jones' majority will exceed 15,000; it may reach 25,000. That is not as large as we would have wished it, but is The indications at this writing large enough. The organized dejority of at least sixteen. Kolb tion rescued Alabama from hell .-

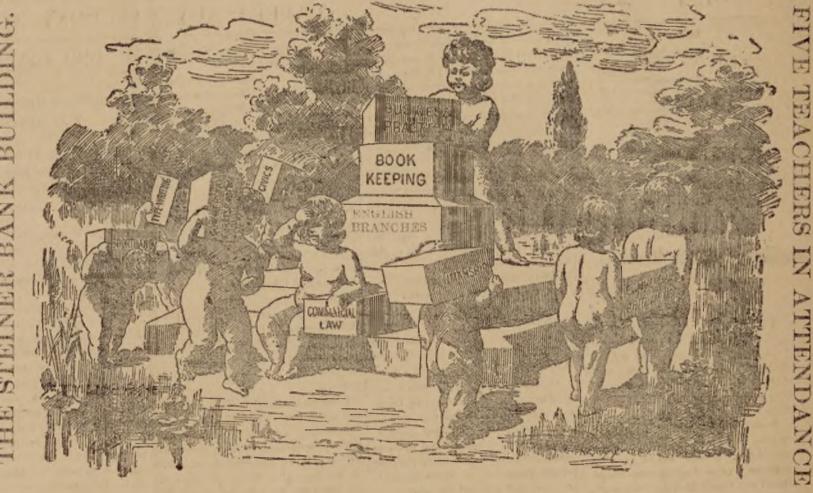

The democratic executive com- pleted centuries of American life. mittee of the 4th congressional district of Alabama met at Anniston on the 5th and called the convention to meet at Calera on Thursday 25th day of August, next. The following are the counties in the dis trict and the number of votes each county is entitled to in the convention: Cleburne, 3; Calhoun, 8; Chilton, 5; Dallas, 26; Shelby, 7; Talladega, 8-57. Necessary to a choice, 29.

A conservative and sensible address from the State Executive Committee will do good now. Let it meet and is-

The Best Place to Secure a Business Education is at the

TATE CALL OF THE

Part of the state of the state

Send for Circular,

M. M. FIELDS, Vice President

LEONARD LIPPMAN, President.

G. F. HART, Secretary and Treasurer.

CALL TO SCHOOL CHILDREN there be expressions of gratitude to OCTOBER 21 IS TO BE OBSERVED AS A GENERAL HOLIDAY.

TO FLY THE NATIONAL FLAG our people.

President Harrison, in his proclamation Urges the Importance of the United States to be affixed. of Making the Public Schools the Center of the Festivities of the Day America's 400th Anniversary.

President Harrison, complying with the Act of Congress of June the 20th, has issued his proclamation making Friday, October 21, a general holiday. This is the recognition of the move-400th anniversary of the discovery of America into the hands of all the people by giving it to the institution closest to the people and most characteristic to the people—the public school.

The movement undertaken by the National Educational Association, through an executive committee, the endorsement of the press and general popular acceptance in advance of th's proclamation. The proclamation is as follows:

Whereas, by a joint resolution approved June the 29, 1892, it was resolved by the Senate and House of Repre-America in Congress assembled, "That the President of the United States be authorized and directed to issue a proclamation recommending the people the observance in all their localities of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America, on October 21, other places of assembly."

Now therefore, I, Benjamin Harrison, President of the United States of Monday, 8th day of August, 1892 America, in pursuance of the aforesaid | the following described property, to-wit joint resolution, do hereby appoint The north hir of south west fourth, the south half of north west fourth, and the Friday, October 21, 1892, the four hun- south half of north west fourth of nort dredth anniversary of the discovery of west fourth of section 1; and the regular democrats have carried the House of Representatives by a mathematical regular democratic have carried the House of Representatives by a mathematical regular democratic have carried the House of Representatives by a mathematical regular democratic have carried the holiday for the people of the United least fourth of section 1, and the regular democratic have carried the holiday for the people of the United least fourth of section 1, and the south east fourth of section 1, and the regular democratic have carried the please of the least fourth of south east fourth of section 1, and the regular democratic have carried the pleast fourth of south east fourth of section 1, and the regular democratic have carried the pleast fourth of south east fourth of section 2, and thirty acres in the north holiday for the people of the United least fourth of south east fourth of section 2, and thirty acres in the north holiday for the people of the United least fourth of south east fourth of section 2, and thirty acres in the north holiday for the people of the United least fourth of south east fourth of section 2, and thirty acres in the north holiday for the people of the United least fourth of south east fourth of section 2, and thirty acres in the north holiday for the people of the United least fourth of section 2, and thirty acres in the north holiday for the people of the United least fourth of section 2, and thirty acres in the north holiday for the people of the United least fourth of section 2, and thirty acres in the north holiday for the people of the United least fourth of the least fourth of south east fourth of the least fourth of the their faith in the great organiza-tion rescued Alabama from hell.— far as possible cease from toil and devote themselves to such exercises as of north east fourth, and part of south east fourth of north east fourth of section 2, all in township 19, rangel, east, only five of Kolb's counties have as CONGRESSION'L CONVENTION erer and their appreciation of the situated in Shelby county, Alabama, to great achievements of the four com-

> Columbus stood in his age as the pioneer of progress and enlightenment. The system of the universal education is in our age the most prominent and salutary feature of the spirit of enlightment, and it is peculiarly appropriate that the schools be made by the people the center of the day's demonstration. Let the national flag float over every schoolhouse in the country and the exercises be such as shall impress upon our youth the patriotic duties of Amercan citizenship.

In the churches and in the other places of assembly of the people let july16-3t of the discoverer and for the Divine care and guidance which has directed our history and so abundantly blessed

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal

Done at the city of Washington this 21st day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and seventeenth. BENJ. HARRISON. By the President:

JOHN W. FOSTER, Secretary of State.

MAIL SERVICE.

To be Placed on the Alabama Mineral From Calera to Sylacauga

A mail service will be put on the Alabama Mineral Road between Calera and Sylacauga. It will be inaugurated on the 15th inst,, by order of the Postoffice Department. This will give Montgomery a direct mail service to all points of that branch of the Mineral. Close connection will be made with the L. & N. at Calera.

Subscribe for the JOURNAL. Ony $1.00 a year.

Register's Sale.

COUNTY

New England Mort-) No. 403 gage Security Co., In Chancery at Complainant. vs. Columbiana, Ala-John W. Spradley, | Sixth District, et als., North Eastern Defendent.) Chancery Division BY VIRTUE OF A DECREE REN covery of America, on October 21, dered at the March term, 1892, of the Chancery court, at Columbiana, Shelby suitable exercises in their schools and county, Alabama, in said cause, I shall proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash, at public auction, at Columbiana, Ala., within the legal hours of sale, on satisfy said decree.

D. R. McMILLAN,
D. R. McMILLAN,

Register in Chancery. july16-4w

FINAL SETTLEMENT.

STATE OF ALABAMA—SHELBY COUNTY.

Probate Court, July 11, 1892. Hiram Holsomback, deceased, Estate of. This day came E. W. Holsomback, the administrator of said estate, and filed nis statements, accounts, vouchers and evidences for a final settlement of his administration. It is ordered that the 8th dayof August, 1892, be appointed a day on which to make such settlement, at which time all persons interested can appear and contest said settlement if they think proper.

R. W. COBB, Judge of probate.

there be expressions of gratitude to Divine Providence for the devout faith of the discoverer and for the Divine

Mrs. S. H. McCauley's.

NEAR THE DEPOT.

IVIONIO VALLO. - - Ale. A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Univimmed Hats in the Latest Styles, and at Reasonable Prices.

Handkerchiefs& Hosiery. Saturday Sales at si

DEALERS IN HARDWARE & TINWARE.

WAGON MARRIAL

sentatives of the United States of THE STATE OF ALABAMA, SHELBY Stock of Dynamite and Fuse, and empty and leaded Shells always on Hand.

118 19TH STREET, BIRMINGHAM.

W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co.,

CALERA; ALABAMA. Receive Deposits,

Negotiate Loans,

Issue interest bearing certificates of Deposit, and sell exchange on New York
Louisville and Birmingham at regular rates eqarged by the larger cities.

We transact a general banking business, such as that of any incorporated bank in all of its legitimate branches, and would be pleased to open accounts with merchants, manufacturers and planters alike.

and Life Insurance

Written in the best companies.

CITY PROPERTY AND FARM

Bought, Sold and Rented upon just terms.

E. STEVENSON.

RAILROAD TIME TABLE. LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE.

Yo. 1, South Bound, 4:41 p. m. 5:10 a. m. 10:19 66 66 2, North Bound, 10:05 p. m. 66 66 7:15 p. m.

ALABAMA MINERAL.

No. 85, Arrives at 86, Departs at 10:25 a. m.

COUNTY OFFICERS. Probate Judge—R. W. Cobb. Circuit Clerk—W. R. A. Milner. Sheriff—W. R. Carter Register in Chancery-D. R. McMil

Tax Collector-E. F. Vest. Tax Assessor-W. H. Kidd. County Trersurer-A. W. Strickland. Superintendent of Education-T. N.

County Solicitor-J. L. Peters. County Commissioners-John E. Dyeey, T. B. McClusky, R. F. Johnson, D. C. Davis.

AT THE CHURCHES.

PRESBYTERIAN-Services on the 4th School at 9:30 a.m.

METHODIST-Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night, by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sabbath school at 9:30.

CUMBERLAND PRESENTERIAN-J. C. Arnett, pastor. Preaching every first Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. n. Prayer meeting Friday evenings at 7:30. Children's except as to Calera's beat officers. Band meets 3:30 p. m. each 1st and 3rd Whatever we have in reference to Sunday. Ladies' Aid Society everyother the result is taken from our dalies, Friday evening at 3.

INSURE YOUR LIFE.

"It is a duty you owe to yourself and amily to protect them with a reasonable amount of life insurance, where the storms of the financial world cannot Bro. Joe Green, of C

HUGH T. CAFFEY,

CALERA, ALA.

feb12-1y.

J. L. PETERS. HENRY WILSON, E. S. LYMAN Columbiana. Montevallo.

PETERS, WILSON & LYNAN,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

SHELBY SPRINGS.

Spring are the most popular resort for families and health seekers in Alabama Delightful shades, ten pin alleys, lawn tennis, and all other health and pleas-H. H. BAKER, Shelby Springs Ala.

ONE DOLLAR WEEKLY

know how you can furnish such works at the Weaver.

for the money,"
Our agent at Pennington, Texas, writes "Am in receipt of the watch and am pleased without measure. All who have seen it say it would be cheap

One good reliable agent wanted for each place. Write for particulars.

EMPIRE WATCH CO., New York

IMPORTANT TO LADIES

Sir—I made use of your Philotoken with my last child, in order to procure a safe and easy travil. I used it about two months before my expected time, and I had a very quick and easy confinement. Nothing occurred to protract my convalescence, and I got about in last time then was usual for my I think less time than was usual for me. I think it a medicine that should be used by every expectant mother, for should they but try it as I have, they would never again be without it at such times. I am yours respectfully,

Mrs. ELIZABETH DIX.

Anymerchant or druggist can procure

Richards Philaten to subscribe. Sample copies sent on application. Address

THE NEWS,

Birmingham, Ala.

Risley's Philotoken for $1 a bottle. CHARLES F. RISLEY, Wholesale Druggist, 62 Cortlandt St., New York.

Good morning Squire Black!

Constable Coe, Beat three, Shelby county.

Major W. D. Hnggins' title is changed to Squire. Shelby's vote was 600 larger on Monday than ever before. Mr. A. R. Scott, who has been sick for some time, is better.

The second nine of this place played South Calera last Saturday, beating them badly.

The eight young men who never voted until last Monday, all worked faithfully for the ticket.

The farmers around Calera are bringing in some fine fruit now. They realize good prices for it.

Eight young men who never voted before registered and voted the democratic ticket, going up one after another.

The true blue democrats had a good time crowing Tuesday, but on Wednesday mo.ning the cocks on both sides were silent.

The change of two or three majorities makes a wonderful ful difference in the appearance of one's feelings at times.

Calera's Base Ball team went up to Talladega, Thursday and played Talladega two games, beating one and getting beat one.

If Shelby's vote should continue to increase for a few years with the same ratio as for the last two, our people will be wanting another representative in the general asssem-

Will Hardy, the young man and former resident of Calera, and who was reported as killed in a railread wreck, came in Wednesday morning. He was not killed, nor was he in any wreck.

Sam. Curry, Gip West and Joe Sundays in each month, morning and Green, of Providence beat, Chilton night; pastor to be supplied. Sabbath county, being badly beaten in their own beat, came up to Calera Tues-day to rejoice with the democrats over their local victory.

Seven Kidds and two professionpastor. Preaching every first and second Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting at 7.00 p. m., every Thursday. the people's party at this box.

> It will be observed that we have nothing deffinite from the election, and is not given as official.

Mr. S. K. Harrell, his mother and family, left Wednesday morn-Read and profit by the following sound counsel, every word of which smarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel: will reside in future. They take will reside in future. They take with them the best wishes of the

Bro. Joe Green, of Chilton has a touch them; where the assessor cannot tax them; where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old sge should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do your duty and insure immediately in some good, old reliable Company."—Extract from a sermon by the Rev. T. Dewit Talmage.

Bro. Joe Green, of Chilton has a good joke on one of the third party speakers: The said speaker was appealing to a colored crowd, and in course of his remarks told them that they did not seem to be interested in the matter when one old darkey replied, "yes mars John, we's interested but we ain't in we's interested, but we ain't intrusted on your side."

The so called Calera second nine PHYSICIAN & SURGEON alias the "country mucks," have a game on foot with a team from Shelby Springs this evening. It is sincerely hoped that there will be a sufficient number of reams on hand to record the total score, and that it be called early as they are determined to play three endings today.

The barbecue and basket dinner at Columbiana last Saturday did This popular summer resort will honor to the people of that place. open on the first day of June 1892 for Every thing passed off quietly, the entertainment of guest. These strict attention was paid to the speakers, and the dinner was fine and of the best quality and in the greatest abundance. Some of the ure giving games. For full particulars good people could not help both places and they prepared nice dinners at their homes and invited friends of both parties to eat with them, notable among these was Mr. Weaver of the Weaver House. tem. Our 14-karat gold-filled cases are warranted for 20 years. Fine Elgin or Waltham movement, stem wind and set. Waltham movement, stem wind and set.
Lady's or gent's size. Equal to any $50 watch. To secure agents where we have none, we self one of the hunting case watches for the club price, $28, and send C. O. D. by express with privilege of examination before paying for same.
Our agent at Durham, N. C., writes:
"Our jewelers have confessed they don't how how you can furnish such works."

At the Weaver

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

The Birmingham News at Reduced Rates,

During the month of July, the Birmingham News will be mailed to any address at the following rates. The Daily News published every afternoon and Sunday morning, four months for $1.50; the Sunday News four months for Twenty-five cents, payable in advance. The News is fearlessly Democratic and supports regularly organized Democracy of the State headed by Thos.

G. Jones. The News is the leading afternoon newspaper of the State, and will furnish all the news political and otherwise during the coming campaign in a crisp and readable form. Now is the time to subscribe. Sam-

Come out to the grand Jubilee

OFFICIAL FOTE.

Delow we give the majorities for the opposing candidates for governor as far as heard from:

Majorities.

COUNTIES. Autauga,.... 273 34 Baldwin, 1208 1687 Butler,.... 416 Calhoun,.... Chambers,..... 540 800 Chilton,..... Choctaw, 500 Clarke 498 Coffee..... 400 Conecuh,..... 300 Coosa,. Covington, 150 Orenshaw,..... 200 Cullman..... 5700 50 DeKalb..... Escambia..... Etawah..... 800 Fayette..... Geneva,.... 600 Greene..... 300 Henry,..... 1000 Jackson.... Jefferson,..... 500 Lamar,... Lauderdale 350 Lawrence..... 1000 Limestone, 1832 Lowdnes ... Macon,.... 218 200 Marengo,.... 829 1550 Mobile,.... 500 Monroe,. Montgomery,..... Morgan,.... 1750 500 Pickens Pike, Randolph Russell..... 100 Shelby, St. Cfair, Sumter,.... 500

THE LEGISLATURE.

Tallapoosa,

Total ...

Tuskegee....

Washington.....

Wilcox,....

Jones net majority so far.....

2000

200

200 200

... | 37738 | 15440

The Senate consists of 33 members, of whom 16 from even numbered districts whom 16 from even numbered districts hold over from election of two years ago. Those from the odd numbered districts were elected on the 1st Monday in August. First District, Lauderdale and Limestone—J. M. Cunningham.

Second District, Lawrence and Morgan—W. W. Nesmith.

Third District, Winston, Blount and Cullman—George H. Parker.

Fourth District, Madison—O. R. Hundley.

y. Fifth District, Jackson and Marshall-W. H. Bogart. Sixth District, Etowah and St. Clair— Sixth District, Etowah and St. Clair— John W. Inzer.
Senenth District, Calhoun and Cleburne
—W. A. Porter.
Eight District, Talladega and Clay—W.

M. Lackey.
M. Lackey.
Ninth District, Randolph and Chambers
Tenth District, Tallapoosa and Coosa—
E. H. Berry.
Tuccaloosa—J. B. G.

Eleventh District, Tuscaloosa-J. B. G

Twelfth District, Lamar, Fayette and Walker—R. L. Bradley.
Thirteenth, Jefferson—John T. Milner.
Fourteenth, Pickens and Sumter—M.

Fifteenth, Chilton, Shelby and Elmore Sixteenth, Autauga and Lowndes-Mac Seventeenth, Butler, Conecuh and Covngton-R. E. Steiner. Eighteenth, Perry and Bibb-W. T

Downey. Nineicenth, Choctaw, Clarke and Washington.

Twentieth, Marengo—John H. Minge.
Twenty-first, Monroe, Escambia and Baldwin—W. B. Kemp.
Twenty-second, Wilcox—Sol. D. Bloch.
Twenty-third, Henry, Dale and Geneva.
—R. H. Walker.

Twenty-fourth, Barbour—Judson Davie. Twenty-fifth, Pike, Covington and Twenty-sixth, Macon and Bullock-J. H

Twenty seventh, Lee and Russell-Wm. Twenty-eighth, Montgomery-A. A, Wi

Twenty-ninth, DeKalb and Cherokec.
Thirtieth, Dallas—J. C. Compton.
Thirty-first, Franklin and Macion.
'Thirty-second, Green and Hale—Norfiet

Thirty-third, Mobile-H. Austill.

THE HOUSE.

The House of Representatives consists of 100 members, all of whom were elected last Monday. The following are those elected Monday. The following are those elected as far as heard from, Autauga—M. White.

Baldwin—P. Hansen.
Barbour—A. A. McDonald, J. W. T. Gib-oons.

Bibb—Nelson Fuller.

Blount. Bullock—L. J. Biggers and—

Calhoun—G. C. Williams, L. J. Morris. Chambers. Cherokee—R. T. Ewing.

Clark-E. O. Calhoun, G. A. Jones. Clay. Cleburne. Coffee. Colbert—Wilson R. Brown.

Conecuh-J. F. Jones. Coosa. Covington. Crenshaw-Island. Cullman.

Dallas—F. L. Pettus, N. H. R. Daw-son, W. R. Hardee. DeKalb—D, C. Case. Elmore. Escambia-Lovelace.

Etowah-P. L. McCall.

Fayette. Franklin. Geneva. Geneva. Greene—Wm. Maw. Hale—T. E. Knight, N. H. Gewin, Henry—John B. Ward, andJackson.—S. W. Frazier and M. C.

Jefferson—F. S. Furguson, F. P. O'-Brien, John McQueen, G. W. Ward, T. T. Huffman, J. T. Shugart. Lauderdale—H. R. Kennedy, J. C.

Lawrence. Lee-W. D. Kyle and-Limestone—George Gilbert.

Lowndes—Willis Brewer, J. D. Pool.
Macon—P. S. Holt. Madison-Francisco Rice, A. S Fletcher.

Marengo-D. J. Meador, J. A. Steele Marion

Marshall. Mobile-Neil McCarron, J. Lavaretta, J. W. Goldbys.

Monroe-M. B. Rogers. Montgomery—A. D. Sayre, Thos. H. Clarke, W. W. Hill and F. B.

Lloyd. Morgan. Perry-Geo. P. White, M. S. Bolling

Pike-Townsend and Carey. Randolph. Russell-- F. L. Nisbett. J. M. DeLa-

Shelby-J. P. West.

Winston.

St. Clair. Sumter-W. H. Seymour, J. Reid

Talladega-G. A. Joiner, W. Baker. Tallapoosa-Barbour Gaines. Walker-Sowell. Washington-B. D. Turner, Wilcox-J. P. Spear.

CONGRESSIONAL INSTITUTE.

A Congressional Institute will be held at Talladega, Ala., Monday, August 22 to Saturday 27, 1892.

This institute will be free and open to all white teachers in Alabama. The teachers of the fouth congressional district and of the counties adjacent to Talladega are especially requested to at-

The following subjects will be treated in outline lectures every day: Orthogphy, geography, numbers, reading and language, history, physiology and hygiene, civics and pedaggogies. Supt. J. B. Graham will be in charge, assisted by Supts. H. C. Gilbert, J. W. Morgan and Profs. G. W. Macon and J. A. Liner. Come prepared to take notes and outlines. There will be two evening meetlines. There will be two evening meetings devoted to educational addresses. Alabama is entitled to three scholarships in the Nashville Peabody Normal School. Applicants will be examined Thursday, 25th of August. Free entertainment, if you send your name and address to J. B. Graham, Talladega, Ala., by the 12th of August. Send in your name immediately. For any further information address.

J. B. Graham, Conductor.

Talladega, Ala.

POLITICAL AND OTHERWISE. Two more years of Jones' wise ad-

The talk of shotguns ended in smoke. That is all there ever was in it.

Governor Jones, we congratulate you upon your re-election. W. G. Hatchett has come out of the canvass of the State with less credit to himself than any other man we know The first time the white people divided the negroes followed suit. That is the most important fact developed by yesterday's election. Let us go back to our farms and workshops and law offices and stores and mines, and take a breathing spell on politics. We have need for cooling time. We have need to think it over down our tempers and ready to enter the November fight in Montgomery-Special-Aug. 3.-Uapt. Reuben F. Kolb, alliance candidate for governor, said to your correspondent tonight: "I am confident of my election and that I have carried the white vote of the state by not less than 30,000 majority. I hold that the small majority ity which my opponent and his followers claim is based on a fraudulent and stuffed vote in the black belt counties of the state. I claim that on a fair and honest count of the vote as it was really cast in the black belt counties of Montcast in the black belt counties of Montgomery, Dallas. Wilcox, Marengo, Perry, Lowndes, Macon, Bullock and Barbour, these counties would give me a majority of 20,000, and with a fair and honest count in the whole state my majority would be 40,000.

"The democratic party of the state of Alabama is essentially the party of the white men of the state. The returns show that I have carried a vast majority of the white yote of the state, and I ty of the white vote of the state, and I do not propose to submit to a fraudulent count nor do my friends propose to submit to it. My white followers represent two-thirds of the democracy of the state of Alabama, and I cannot believe that the minority of the democratic party of the state, represented by Governor Jones and his followers, can afford to longer antagonize us."

The following circular was issued yesterday:

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 2, 1892
To the Supporters of the Jeffersonian Democracy and the Friends of Hon.
R. F. Kolb.

are requested to meet at the court house of your county on next Saturday, for the purpose of seeing that the urday, for the purpose of seeing that the votes cast at the election on August 1, 1892, are correctly and fairly counted.

You will make note of all irregularities. Keep an account of all votes that that were illegally cast, and be prepared to prove it. Circulate this among your friends, and go to the court house in such numbers as to show that you are determined to preserve your rights.

The school board of St. Paul, Minn., on June 13 abolished the distinction of sex in the matter of salaries. Hereafter the women teachers will recevie equal pay with the men.

Annie Wilson Spence, daughter of a determined to preserve your rights.

determined to preserve your rights.'

The indications now are that Kolb is elected governor, and that the legislature will be composed of true men, who will see justice done in the premises. And I urge you to do your duty from now on as you have done in the past and not lose the fruits of your victory.

P. G. BOWMAN,

Chairman Jeffersonian Dem. Ex. Com.

JERRY FOUNTAIN, Secretaty.

Democrats get together for the conflict with the republicans next Novem-

The cyclone has passed and it is in heal the breach.

URE BLOOD GOOD

Now is the time for everyone who cherishes good health, to pay particular at tention to the condition of their blood and its proper circulation. Nearly all diseases that flesh is heir to are caused and agravated by an impure condition of the blood and a sluggish circulation.

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS

Possessing Extraordinary Cleansing Powers

Restoring and Strengthening the whole System. Enriching the Blood producing increased vitality by restoring an impaired digestion and bringing back the bloom of youth to the cheek of the enfeebled and emaciated.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle-6 Bottles for $5.00.

For Sale by All Druggists.

NABORS, MORROW & SINNIGE.

SOLE CONTROLERS.

Birmingham.

WORD ABOUT THE WEEKY CONSTITUTION. Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers, 12 Pages.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT.

1. It is the best of all weekly news- "Aunt Susie," the editress of these departments, is a household word papers.

2. It is invaluable to the tarmer and the farmer's family, bringing each week cheer to the fireside and happiness to mus and a host of other special writers.

the household.

3. It covers the news of the whole world, having its correspondents scattered over the globe, and having a thorough news service from every important news center in the world.

4. Its Agricultural Department alone features and for its news cervice the features and for its news cervice there.

4. Its Agricultural Department alone is worth many times its subscription price to every farmer. This department is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, whose service is retained by the Constitution at great expense.

5. Its Woman's and Childeren's Departments are a source of infinite pleasure to every family, and the name of service money for its special features and for its news service than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any weekly newspaper in America.

9. It pays more money for its special features and for its news service than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any weekly newspaper in America.

9. It is the cheapest, being only One Dollar ser year, each paper at the price of a postage stamp. Think of it! Every time a hen lays an egg she pays for one issue of the greatest weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any weekly newspaper in America.

9. It is the cheapest, being only One one issue of the greatest weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any weekly newspaper in America.

9. It is the cheapest, being only One of a postage stamp. Think of it! Every time a hen lays an egg she pays for one issue of the greatest weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any weekly newspaper in America.

Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of your neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulated home should be without it.

Agents Wanted in every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information. THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

WOMEN'S COLUMN.

[The Woman's Column is under the supervision of Mrs. F. W. Gist, and all communications for this department should be addressed to her at West Ceera. Alabama. 1

Gov. Thomas G. Jones was re-elected

y about 20,000 majority over Capt. R. F. Kolb for Governor of Ala. on last Monday. Rev. Z. A. Dowling and J. C. Arnett conducted an interesting meeting at New Salem church last week which was well attended and we hope much good was The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church gave an ice cream supper at the residence of Mrs. A. C. Wade The Womans Missionary Board of C. P. church will hold their regular meeting at the church next Monday 3 o'clock p. m. "Religion in Japan" will be the leading topic for discussion. The Ladies Aid Society of the C. P. church recently adopted a resolution that no member should at no event, nor under any circumstances even speak unkindly of nor indulge in any kind of gossip about any woman. This resolution was offered by Mrs. Bridges, who read a most interesting paper on the subject. Ladies think of it! What a noble resolution that was. Can't every

Mrs. W. W. Wilson's remove from Calera is deeply regretted. She will be sadly missed by the Children's band society in our community do the same?

Mrs. J B. Randall and Mrs. C. L O'Neil both of whome have been seriously ill we are glad to learn are improving.

Mrs. F. B. Mapp, of Milledgeville, Ga. has been awarded a diploma and a gold medal by the Inventive Society of Paris for her invention of a bread-raiser.

Mrs. Flora B. Ginty, of the Chippewa Falls Herald, carries on a successful journal left her by her husband.

doctor of Linlithgow, passed the examination of the Pharmaceutical Society in Edinburgh recently, and is now regularlarly registered as a chemist and druggist. She is the second woman in Scotland to attain this position.

Miss M. E. Finnegan, county superintendent of schools for Choteau county, county, Mont., has jurisdiction over an area of 27,500 miles, while Miss Alice Cavanaugh, of Dawson county, looks after the schools of a county covering 30,000 square miles, an area equal to that of South Carolina, greater than that of order to pick up the fragments and Maine, and nearly four times that of Massachusetts.

JUBILEE. To-Night 8.30.

MUSIC, WORKS,

In honor of Calera's Victory.

A FRIGHTFUL FOE.

"THE DEVIL'S SOLDIER," YUCA-TAN'S DEADLY SPIDER.

It is a Monster of Its Kind, and Annually

Kills a Great Many Natives. "If there is a fiercer or more deadly animal on earth than the one that makes life precarious in certain districts in Yucatan I wouldn't take the country it lives in as a gift if I had to spend my days there, not if there was a gold mine to every acre," said a Chicago man, who returned recently from a prospecting tour in Yucatan. "This animal is small for an animal, but for the family to which it belongs it is a monster. It is a spider, and the natives know it by the cheerful name of the "devil's soldier." If his Satanic Majesty really had warriors of this kind in his service, he wouldn't need more than one company of them to march forth and gather in the world. I suppose this spider is a great thing for the country at large down there, though, for it keeps the native Indian population within bounds. I have seen estimates of the average number of these interesting people from whom the devil's soldier unburdens the State during each year, but I don't remember the exact figure now. It is not so large as the number of natives the cobra and other warm-toothed snakes relieve India of annually, but I know it is quite a respectable amount.

"This giant spider doesn't weave a web to deter its victims from proceeding further. It scorns such tricks, and sallies forth bodily and takes its victim by the neck openly and above board. likes parrots, monkeys, snakes, all kinds of birds, and dotes on Indians. The way one of these big spiders can glide up a native and clinch him in the jugu-lar, would make a red squirrel ashamed of the way he can climb a tree. If an Indian sees the spider in time, and has good wind, he can get away from it, for a devil's soldier won't chase an Indian more than a mile. If Indians were scarce, the spider might keep on, and run its victim down, but they are abundant, and the spider doesn't see any use in making itself tired just chasing an Indian when there will be another one coming its way pretty soon. The devil's soldier will tackle a white man just the same as he will an Indian, but white men seldom go into the interior where the interesting animal lives. I ventured about forty miles inland once, having heard dazzling rumors of a rich gold mine that was lying helpless in there, waiting for some one to come and take it away. Stories of this spider increased in interest as went further into the country, and I kept my eye out for the monster.
"One day I was suprised to see what I at first supposed was an animated but miniature American flag coming swiftly from a bunch of gayly-colored vines to greet me. My half-breed guide saw it at the same time, and yelling something about the devil's soldier, drew his feet up and stood erect on his mule. The supsed American flag was one of these spiders, and it was at the horn of my saddle before I could draw my revolver and put a hole through its variegated body. After I had shot six of these ferocious spiders, and we had overtaken three Indians carrying another Indian who was dead, having been tapped by a devil's soldier an hour before, my guide mutinied. He would go no further, and turned his mule's head in the direction we had come. I agreed with him. I guess there's no doubt about that gold mine being in there somewhere. I'll give it to any one who will go and get it. "The devil's soldier has a scope of body seven inches wide and about the same in length. This is, among spiders we are used to seeing, just about the same as a fifty-foot bear would be among bears. Its head is an inch and a half across and is fitted with a frightful pair of lateral jaws. It has two rows of legs. The legs are two inches long and as big around as a lead pencil. Two big, bright eyes stand out on each side of the head, and even when the spider is dead these eyes glare like a rattlesnake's. The devil's soldier climbs trees and catches parrots and monkeys, or he can run like a hound and overtake his prey. The most curious thing about this spider is the marking of its body. Narrow red bands extend diagonally in both directions across the body, crossing each other in the centre and so on around the under side of the body. The rest of the spider is exactly the color of the ground where it may be domiciled. The purpose of the red stripes is to counterfeit the colored vines that creep and cross each other on the ground and in the trees of that country, so that the spider may lurk among them and almost defy detec-This formidable and deadly creature abounds in great numbers in the interior and the Indians live in constant terror of it. It is on record down there that only one person ever survived the bite of a devil's soldier, and he was a raving maniac all his life. I may as well say that I was actually scared out of Yucatan by that spider. It was a country of too much terror for me."—[New York

A Marvellous Clock.

The Warschwskij Dujewnik, a paper published in Warsaw, Poland, describes a wonderful clock which will be exhibited alone, while the second string go out. in Chicago. The clock is the result of These horses are generally neither so six years of earnest work by a watchnumerous nor so important as the first maker named Goldfaden in Warsaw. It set, and at 5 o'clock all are for the third represents a railroad station, with waiting time groomed and fed.—[The Spectator. rooms for travellers, telegraph and ticket offices, an outside promenade and fountain in operation; alongside of the station are seen the tracks, with signal booths, switches and water reservoirs—other towers there is a clock time respectively of New Pekin. In both of the towers ned a calendar and barome-ding are open, the

the bell and the train runs into the station. While the whistle of the locotank of the locomotive. After a third signal with the station bell the train was in the 'boys,' the Japanese and Chinamen who wait at table and pick up starts and disappears in a tunnel on the opposite side. The station keeper and his assistant leave the platform and the admirable fellows. doors of the depot and building are closed, the guards enter their booths and quiet reigns. After fifteen minutes the same trouble commences again .- [New York Commercial Advertiser.

Queer Facts About a Watch.

Open your watch and look at the little wheels, springs and screws, each an in-dispensable part of the whole wonderful machine. Notice the busy little balance wheel as it flies to and fro unceasingly, day and night, year in and year out. This wonderful little machine is the result of hundreds of years of study and experiment. The watch carried by the average man is composed of ninety-eight piece and its manufacture embraces more 2,000 distinct and separate operations. Some of the smallest screws are so minute that the unaided eye cannot distinguish them from steel filings or specks of dirt. Under a powerful magnifying glass a perfect screw is revealed. The slit in the head is 2-1000 of inch wide. It takes 308,000 of these screws to weigh a pound, and a pound is worth $1,585. The hair-spring is a strip of the finest steel about 9 1-2 inches long, 1-100 of an inch wide and 27-10,000 of an inch thick. It is coiled up in spiral form and is finely tempered. The process of tempering these springs was long held as a secret by the few fortunate ones possessing it, and even now is not generally known. Their manufacture requires great skill and care. The strip is gauged to 20,000ths of an inch, but no measuring instrument has yet been devised capable of fine enough gauging to determine beforehand by the size of the strip what the strength of the finished spring will be. A 20,000th part of an inch difference in the thickness of the strip makes a difference in the running of a watch of about six minutes per hour.

The value of these springs, when fin-ished and placed in watches, is enormous in proportion to the material from which they are made. A comparison will give a good idea. A ton of steel made up into hair-springs when in watches is worth more than twelve and one-half times the value of the same weight in pure gold. Hair-spring wire weighs one-tenth of a grain to the inch. One mile of wire weighs less than half a pound. The balance gives five vibrations every second, 300 every minute, 18,000 every hour, 432,000 every day and 157,680,000 every year. At each vibration it rotates about one and one-fourth times, which makes 197,100, 000 revolutions every year. In order that we may better understand the stupendous amount of labor performed by these tiny works, let us make a few comparisons Take, for illustration, a locomotive with six foot driving wheels. Let its wheels be run until it has given the same number of revolutions that a watch does in one year and they will have covered a distance equal to twenty-eight complete circuits of the earth. All this a watch does without other attention than winding once every twenty-four hours. —[Jeweler's

Horse Training.

One peculiarity of the economy of the training stable is that, except when at from the rest, and, though there is a connecting door, it is only opened at the hours when grooming and cleaning are men of distinction, careful to humor the going on; thus the inmates cannot "converse," as every horse likes to do, with their neighbors, and so derive that relief may be stampeded in a day by the inconfrom ennui which the mere presence of siderate utterances of a positive man. another of its kind seems to give to these sympathetic though undemonstrative

Routine is the essence of the system.

The work set them may be varied, but the horses are like an "eight" in training; so much so, indeed, that each horse has its particular place in the string when at exercise. Sunday is the only day that differs from the others; for then the horses do not go out. One result is that they become exceedingly "bored" with training and its consequent isolation. This probably accounts for the extraordinary fondness which some of them develop for other animals which are allowed to share their box. Lanercost, who was poisoned at Ascot, in 1842, had a dog for his inseparable companion, and there is a story that this dog was once stolen as a pre-caution preliminary to "nobbing" the horse, but that the dog escaped and found its way back to the horse's box. Roughly speaking, work in the stable begins at daybreak, earlier in winter, and later in summer, when the horses are groomed and fed, and the boys get their breakfast. The "first string" are then ridden out to exercise, and made to walk, gallop, or canter for two and a half or three hours. They are then thoroughly groomed and fed again; after which they are left perfectly quiet and Housekeeping Aboard Ship.

set, and at 5 o'clock all are for the third

"Women complain of the troubles of housekeeping," said a naval officer the other day. "We in the service have as fact, everything belonging to a Euron railroad depot. In the dome of the al tower of the building is a clock woman. When the ship went into comor the local time, while in each of mission three months ago I had the illluck to be chosen mess caterer. All commissioned officers above the rank of ensign, except the captain, belong to the d a calendar and barome-wardroom mess, and I had a fine time of it for a while. Like keeping house of an hour it gets lively ashore, the difficulties vanish as soon as you get good servants, but it takes a deal plan is shown in the construction of a > aboard ship as anywhere else, although ind the guards and hoist the and hoist the and acook $32 a month, with their size of doorways, height twenty inches; ssengers is ob- 'rations' of thirty cents a day and a bonus width, nineteen inches. - [Boston Tranet office, bag- of from $5 to $10 additional from the script.

gage is hauled, one of the guards rings mess fund. It is hard work to get good ones, however, dishonesty and drunkenness being their attributes if they know motive is blown the train stops, a work-man goes along the row of coaches and they are sober and won't steal they probthe axle with a hammer, while an- ably can't cook and have little idea about

> They get $16 a month and are Nothing, indeed, can equal aboardship a well-trained Chinese 'boy'-sober, industrious, intelligent. He takes complete charge of one's stateroom and its contents, puts it in order, and woe betide the hardy occupant who goes in search of something -John resents it as an interference not to be tolerated. He has even been known to take charge of one's finances so well that the improvident one is forced to check his prodigal hand through his servant's careful forethought in supplying only a part of his available funds. I never heard of a lady's maid hiding her mistress's purse so that she couldn't go shopping."—[New York Times.

POSITIVE PEOPLE.

Obstinacy vs. Strength-Characteristics of Leaders of Men.

There is a certain merit, and even charm, about positive people, though they are sometimes merely obstinate. Positive people have at least the merit of having opinions of their own; they may not be the best opinions, founded on knowl edge and guided by reason, but they are opinions, and as such are to be preferred to the uncertain, vacillating and weak expressions of mind of the good-natured folks who escape the charge of obstinacy by agreeing with everybody. The joke about the eleven obstinate jurymen is not all a joke. Sometimes the twelfth juryman who disagrees is right and the eleven are without real opinions, and are obstinate on that account. It is a fact that obstinacy does not accompany strength and clearness of opinion; it is more often characteristic of those who accept the opinions of others, and being incapable of reason cannot be convinced of their error. Positive people belong to another class. They are positive because they reason and settle in their own minds what is right. Even positive people can have their opinions changed, but the merely obstinate are immovable. There are, however, various classes of dispositions of positive people. Those who are most generally recognized are aggressive.

They express their opinions on slight provocation and in very positive terms, very often making themselves disagreeable to others by the way in which they shoulder along against all kinds of oppo-sition, much after the manner of aggressive men pushing themselves to a front place through a crowd. Contrasted with these are the positive people, gentle of manner, who avoid controversy, listen in silence to opinions with which they do not agree, can scarcely be provoked to a defense of their own position, and yet, nevertheless, maintain themselves against the world.

The quiet force of this latter class often prevails where the more offensive tactics of their aggressive brethren fails because it arouses opposition. martyrs of the world who have established creeds or promoted reforms have seldom been noisy or aggressive. They have been content to have commanded attention by their coolness and self-confidence. Nearly all people act like sheep following a bell-wether. Only a small proportion think for themselves and become leaders exercise, the horses are brought up on the "solitary system." Each box is isolated aspire to leadership should cultivate the prejudices of the members, though carrying the principles bravely forward, with the same ends in view, who has not learned to bridle his tongue and is ready at all times to give expression to his radical views. Positiveness must be united with discretion, if it is to be a real force. Obstinacy, as distiguished from positiveness, may be considered the fruit of ignorance. It is not always easy to draw the line of distinction, but it may be traced by eonsidering whether the fixed opinion is or is not founded upon reason. The positive man may be in error, but he has knowledge of some kind and judgment to support his views.

The obstinate man has nothing stronger than prejudice. He thinks this or that because he thinks it, and that settles it. It is an injustice to the positive man to consider or treat him as obstinate merely because one disagrees with his views. He is worth talking to because he is, on the one hand, open to conviction, though not easily convinced of his error, and on the other may be convincing. And even though argument should fail and leave both controversialists of the same opinion, each will be strengthened by the necessity of making a defense. It is a good thing to associate with people whose opinions accord with one's own; such intercourse adds positive strength to one's belief. But it is also a good thing to meet an opponent, for the defense of one's belief adds to its strength or de-velops its weakness. The man who looks at only one side of a question is never as strong in his faith as he who is obliged to combat opposing views .- [Baltimore

A Remarkable Stone House.

The remarkable stone houses of Easter Island were thoroughly explored by an expedition from the United States steamee Mohician, and have been described in the report of the United States National Museum for 1889. These houses are built against a terrace of earth or rock. which in some cases forms the back wall ; issues the telegram ack is clear. Then ful condition, if you ever do. majority of them. The average measurement is as follows: Height from floor to "Competent service is as hard to get ceiling, four feet six inches: thickness of

Another Idol Crushed,

Our train was delayed by a smashup, and as I came back from the scene of the wreck, I stopped a moment to look at our locomotive on the siding. She was a magnificent piece of mechanism, and lay there, breathing in short, quick gasps as engines do, impatient of restraint and throbbing to be flying along the glittering lines of The engineer was hanging out of the cab.

"She's beautiful, isn't she?" I remarked admiringly.

"Which one?" he asked, looking after three or four lady passengers walking on the track. "That little one in front is a corker, only she's most too squat."

I was inexpressibly shocked. "I mean your engine," I explained hurriedly. "Oh!" he said in a half tone of disappointment.

"I suppose you think a great deal of her, don't you?" I ventured, as I stepped nearer and laid my hand gently on a projecting bar.

"That's my business, and I don't have time to think of anything else while she's on the road," he responded.

"But don't you love to watch her pulsating with life and to feel the thrill of her speed as she whirls you

"Well, I can't say that I do, exactly," he said as he rubbed his head for thought. "Don't you caress her, and humor her, and pride yourself upon her, as you would a woman you loved?"

'Not hardly," he said with a grin. "Don't you call her 'sweet heart' and dear old 87' and things like

"Of course not," this in a tone of disapproval.

"Don't you feel toward her as if she were human?"

"Not that I know of." All the poetry and tradition of the engineer and his engine were oozing out at every pore, but I kept on to the bitter end.

"Don't you sing to her and whistle softly as you speed through the night?" I asked hopelessly.

"I can't sing any more than a crow," he admitted.

"Don't you chirrup to her in her flight?" "Never to my knowledge. Mebbe the fireman does. I'll ask him."

"No, no," I said, putting up my hands pleadingly. "Don't you speak of her as a friend?"

"No."

'Don't cherish her as of your own flesh and blood?"

"Don't talk with her and commune with her?"
"Naw, of course I don't."

The engineer was becoming uneasy and suspicious.

"Don't coddle her as a child?" I tried once more. "Naw."

"Don't care whether she runs through herself or twists off a piston rod or bursts a cylinder head or anything so long as your wages go on and you don't get bounced?" I said in desperation.

For the first time he began to look natural.

"That's about the size of it, guess," he said with a laugh, and I went back to my car with the rem-nants of a broken idol clutched convulsively to my bosom.—Detroit Free

WHEN a butcher gambles he should play for large steaks.

As Large As a dollar were the scrofula sores on my poor disgusting. They were little boy, sickening and especially severe on his legs, back of his ears and on his head. I gave him

Joseph Ruby.

Joseph Ruby.

menced to heal up; the scales came off and all over his body new and healthy fiesh and skin formed. When he had taken 2 bottles of HOOD'S SARSAPA-RILLA, he was free from sorcs."

RUHY, Box 356, Columbia, Penn.

HOOD'S PILLS are a mild, gentle, painless, sate and efficient cathartic.

Young Mothers We Offer You a Remedy which Insures Safety to Life of Mother and Child.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

Robs Confinement of its Pain, Horror and Risk.

After using one bottle of "Mother's Friend" I suffered but little pain, and did not experience that weakpers afterward usual in such cases.—Mrs. Annie Gaur, Lamar, Mo., Jan. 18th, 1991. Sent by express, charges prepaid, on receipt of ice, $1.50 per bottle. Book to Mothers mailed free. BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., ATLANTA, GA, SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

PISO'S CURE FOR Consumptives and people who have weak lungs or Arthus, should use Piso's Cure for Consumption. It has enered the essands. It has not injured one. It is not had to take it is the best cough syrap.

Sold everywhere. Zde. CONSTIMPTION stimulate the torpid liver, strengthen the digestive organs, regulate the bowels, and are unequaled as an autibilious medicine. Dose small. Price, 7 25c. Office, 39 & 41 Park Place, N. Y.

A WORLD'S FAIR CUIDE FREE.
Contains map of Chicago and Harosisson grounds dipicture and description of all the Fair builds. Authentic and agrood as the solid forage and sale shoes sold at these prices.

LADIES' S3 Hand-Sewed, S2.50, S2 and S1.73 and S1.73 shoes for Misses are made of the best Dominis as Authentic and agrood as the paper and sale shoes to stift of the paper and sale steep plate of the best Doministic Sale and steep plate of the best Doministic Sale and sale steep plate of the best Doministic Sale and sale steep plate of the best Doministic Sale and sale steep plate of the best Doministic Sale stee ings. Authentic and as good as those sold for 50 cts. We send it free! you ment it on this paper and ask for free platofour $150 lots on $4 monthly payments at GRIFFITH, Chicago's coming free for y suburb, if you also promise to show the plato five other persons. Will you do it? Write to-day, IAY BWIGGINS & CO., 490 Chamber of Commerce, Chicago, Ill.

LUCAS COUNTY,

Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toiedo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of $100 for each and every case of catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure.

Frank J. Cheney.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D., 1886.

A. W. GLEASON,

SEAL

Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free. F. J. CHENET & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

The Only One Ever Printed.

The Only One Ever Frinted.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

These is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you Book, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OF SAMPLES FREE.

Jules Verne is now writing his seventy fourth novel. He turns out two books

FOR Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and Stomach disorders, use Brown's Iron Bitters. The Best Tonic, it rebuilds the system, cleans the Blood and strengthens the muscles. A splendid tonic for weak and debilitated persons.

Signor Giolitti, the new Premier o Italy, is one of the tallest men in Rome.

Mr. J. Lane, general manager Georgia South ern and Florida Rallroad, says: "I was entirely relived of headache by Bradyorotine in fifteer minutes. It is the only thing that relieves me.' All druggists, fifty cents.

HARRISON, Cleveland, Reid and Stevenson are all Presbyterians.

For impure of thin Blood, Weakness, Malaria Neuralgia, Indigestion, and Biliousness, take Brown's Iron Bitters—it gives strength, making old persons feel young—and young persons strong; pleasant to take.

JOHN G. WHITTIER is said to be color

Nervous, bilious, disorders, sick headache, indigestion, loss of appetite and constipation removed by Beecham's Pills.

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

RIPANS TABULES regulate

It teaches you how to detect and cure Dis-tases; how to feed for eggs and also for fat-lening Sent postpaid for 25c. Book Pub House, 134 Leonard at., N.Y City.

100-Page Chicken Book

20 1892 Am N U

Book Publishing House, 135 LEONARD ST., N. Y. City.

German

I simply state that! I am Druggist and Postmaster here and am therefore in a position to judge. I have tried many Cough Syrups but for ten years past have found nothing equal to Boschee's German Syrup.

I have given it to my baby for Croup with the most satisfactory results.

Every mother should have it. J. H.

Hobbs, Druggist and Postmaster,

Moffat, Texas. We present facts, living facts, of to-day Boschee's

German Syrup gives strength to the body. Take no substitute.

RELIEVES all Stomach Distress.

REVIVES FAILING ENERGY.

REMOVES Nausez, Sense of Fullness,
Congestion, Pain.

RESTORES Normal Circulation, and Warms to Toe Tips.

DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, No.

even if you merely keep them as a diversion. In order to handle Fowls judiclously, you must know something about them. To meet this want we are selling a book giving the experience (and 256 twenty-five years, It was written by a man who put all his mind, and time, and money to making a success of Chicken raising—not as a pastime, but as a business—and if you will profit by his twenty-five years work, you can save many Chicks abundly, and make your Fowls earn dollars for you. The

Syrup

Southern Female University. BASS. D. D. Florence, Ala.

TELEGRAPHY We teach either and place you at work. SHORTHAND Largest School in the south. Send for SHORTHAND SENOIA. new Catalogue. Couch & LUGENBEEL GEORGIA.

IT IS A DUTY you owe yourself and family to get the best value for your money. Economize in your footwear by purchasing W. L. Douglas Shoes, which represent the best value for prices asked, as thousands will testify. TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.

THE BEST SHOE IN THE WORLD FOR THE MONEY

any other snoe ever sold at the price. Equals custom made shorts costing from $4 to $5.

1 and Hand-sewed, fine calf shoes. The most stylished as any and durable shoes ever sold at these prices. They equal fine imported shoes costing from $8 to $12.

2 30 Police Shoe, worn by farmers and all others who want is good heavy calf, three soled, extension edge shoe, easy to walk in, and will keep the feet dry and warm.

30 Fine Calf. and $2 Workingmen's Shoes will give more wear for the money than any other make. They are made for service. The increasing sales show that workingmen have found this out.

$2 and Youths' $1.75 School Shoes are worn by the boys everywhere. The most service able shoes sold at these prices.

NO. 43.

Our Choir. Who soars so high on Music's wing

When wide she opes her mouth to sing, And giggles at the slightest thing? Our S'prano!

Who finds the places in the books, Convulses us with funny looks, And never once gets "off the hooks?" Our Alto!

Who stands in danger day by day Of being carried clean away By pretty girls? Well, I've heard say Our Tenor!

Who giveth forth a ponderous tone-One which can all but stand alone On firm foundation of its own? Our Basso!

Who touches lovingly the keys And draws forth sounds which charm and

Born in a castle o'er the seas? Our 'Comp'nist!

It is a quintet to admire, Untouched by jealousy's fierce fire-To be engaged! Who wants to hire Our Cheir?

-[Boston Times.

IN A HOLE.

BY H. C. DODGE.

I had been away from the ranch since daybreak on a solitary hunting expedition for small game, and now, with night coming on, I was endeavoring to find my way back.

Where and how far I was from camp I knew not, but with a general idea of its direction, I plodded over the wild plain, expecting every moment to strike the trail and get home without either trouble or danger.

The thoughts of the good supper and glad greeting I would have from my jolly "cowboy" companions spurred me on while the setting sun warned me that I had no time to lose.

In spite of my woodcraft and scouting skill and fearlessness in travelling the wilderness alone I began to feel apprehensive that I was lost. At first I only laughed at myself for thinking so, but when mile after mile in the deepening dusk brought no sign of the anxiously looked for trail I began to realize that the smartest ranchman sometimes can blunder in his reckonings.

Still I wouldn't admit yet I was wrong and, fighting back the dismal as fast as my tired legs would let me. joy.

On I went through the prairie grase, straining my eyes in the dusky gloom striving to find the trail-suddenly down, down I tumbled straight to the bottom of what seemed to be a deep ly glimmering from the sky.

Stunned by my fall, luckily broken by the heap of soft rubbish I landed conscious.

body and thankfully finding that all if possible what sort of a place I had meantime I wouldn't perish.

bottom was dry and thickly covered out, but all for naught.

I could not tell, but I rightly guessed to get out of my horrible living tomb. the distance was some twenty feet.

discarded ranch.

I was in it. The thing that puzzled family Bible at home. me the most was how to get out.

line till daylight, and perhaps not cended as the tower was growing. then, I laid me down and went to sleep.

When I awoke after a refreshing ground, turned-over tower? slumber the round and of bright, blue sky above me seemed higher than I dering why the idea hadn't come be- find that it renders the landscape wonever knew it before.

from my more than likely grave | could conveniently work I cut into | of tails to dogs and other quadrupeds. made a little fire with some of the the hard, clay wall of the well until I Study them as Daddy Gilpin studied dry stuff and managed to cook one of had dug out a space big enough to them in his "Forest Scenery," but the three birds I had shot the day hold me. By shelving the roof of the don't forget that they are only the apbefore. On that with a few drops excavation and curving it to the back pendage of the underground vegeta-

Then I star ed my wits to work out prevented the earth from caving. plan of deliverance.

I had with me my gun and plenty of ascend on a rather steep grade so its cartridges, pipe and tobacco, a small | winding road-bed would be sufficiently hatchet, matches, hunting knife, supported, and after some hours' hard revolver, two birds and a pint of and careful work, I finished the first water; also a few yards of rope.

In the almost vain hope of being heard I determined to frequently fire my gun and shout, though I knew the sounds would be deadened.

After shooting and halooing several times with no answer of course, I examined the texture of the sides of my tomb. It was a red clay and firm enough to cut without crumbling. If I had some strong sticks-which I hadn't, though I searched through the heap of rubbish for them-I might drive pegs in the side of my prison and maybe climb up on them. Perhaps I could chop spaces there to answer the same purpose.

Taking the hatchet I commenced to do it, and for a while it appeared I might succeed, but after rising a few feet in that way I gave it up.

Had the well been narrow so I could brace myself by using my gun against the opposite side I think I should have accomplished the feat.

Then I attempted shooting with a light charge of powder a bullet from my pistol to which I attached my watch chain fastened to an end of the rope, thinking it might somehow catch on a bush outside and bear my weight while I climbed on stepping places I should dig.

But that plan proved a failure, too. By this time it was high noon, and the hot sun was shining for a few moments straight to the bottom of my

Like a caged beast I was becoming furious in my vain efforts to gain liberty and the harder I tried the more difficult grew my task.

I kept firing my gun and calling for help, for now it seemed that that was my only chance for life.

The afternoon passed slowly away and night appeared again, and dispairing, but not giving up hope, I ate my last bird, drank nearly my last drop of water, and managed to fall

It came morning at last. I had my gun raised fire to a signal when I detected a something alive peering from the ground above me into the hole.

Could it be a human being? Even feeling of lonesomeness and peril that | an Iudian in his war paint and certain oppressed me, I continued to push on to scalp me I should have hailed with

> The object showed itself again plainly. It was the head of a wolf. Taking a quick aim I fired and hit it squarly. With a howl of pain the wounded brute plunged forward and into the hole, landing on my on, I must have lain for a while un- surprise and before I could draw my pistol it was crouched to leap upon after food and drink. Somehow or When I recovered my senses all was me. Hatchet in hand I met its onpitch blackness about me and looking | slaught. As it jumped with bleeding, | upwards I could see a few stars faint- open mouth I ducked my head and be- a moderate distance from the trunk of fore it could turn a lucky blow buried After pinching and examining my the blade in its skull and finished it.

Now with its flesh to eat and its my bones were intact, I struggled to blood to drink I could exist for a my feet and groped around to discover | week, at least, and if help came in the,

For three long, weary days and The hole seemed circular and ap- nights I lived on my providential supparently five or six feet in diameter. ply of wolf meat, firing my gun The sides felt like hard clay, and the hourly and yelling till my voice gaver with a long accumulation of leaves On the fourth day I completely despaired of assistance from outside How deep I was down in the earth and resolved to make a last struggle

While I franctically chopped with How the hole ever got there I my hatchet at the sides of the hole couldn't imagine. Maybe years ago it trying to heap up dirt enough to rise and that they seem to think they made was dug in the hope of striking water on, even though I undermined and for the cattle which belonged to the brought the earth to bury me, I re- back. Remember what I say. The membered a picture of the tower of At any rate the hole was there and Babel that I had seen in the big,

As nothing could be done in that its outside on which the workers as.

Why couldn't I cut out a similar! path on the inside of my under-fore, I commenced at once the cork- derfully interesting. There are as As a needful preparation to escape screw road. Sarting as high as I many kinds of tree tails as there are from my water flask I breakfasted. part of its eighteen iach wide floor I ble polypus, the true organism to circle and found that my engineering calculations promised to be successful-providing the earth as it neared the surface would keep from crumb-

I laid out this open, half tunnel to Holmes.

Not daring to continue digging as evening and darkness came, I lightly crawled back to the bottom of my prison, ate some more wolf meat and went to sleep with hope renewed and comparatively happy.

Bright and early in the welcomed morning I began my toil for deliverance. The higher I dug my way the more hazardous it became. I almost feared to go ahead for I knew that a break now would be fatal to my only chance of escape from a horrible me to stop, I was within about six feet of the end of my agony or-alas I might be only at its beginning.

The awful uncertainty of being so near and yet so far from life and the glorious, beautiful world kept me wakeful. By the following noon I should know my fate.

At daylight I tremblingly crawled up my circular stairway and recommenced operations. The earth that had been removed lay in a big pile on the bottom, but of course not high enough to help me in case a cave-in occurred.

cuit, and, as I expected, found that the dry earth there was much less firm than below.

Still I could make headway, although once once or twice I thought I was doomed to failure when the ground broke over and under me.

Now I reached the place to dig straight up, and, holding my breath, 1 attempted it. Slowly I scraped my shaft's ceiling, little by little, then as the sods above me loosened I tore them away and-after a week of living death-I once more stood on the earth's solid surface.

I soon found the camp, and my friends, who, after searching in vain, were mourning my supposed death .-[Chicago Sun.

Trees.

What a strange underground life is that which is led by the organisms we call trees! These great fluttering | has been found capable of enduring a from the surface of our satellite.masses of leaves, stems, boughs, trunks, are not the real trees. They live underground, and what we see are nothing more nor less than their tails. Yes; a tree is an underground creature, with its tail in the air. All its intelligence is in its roots. All the In a moment it recovered from its senses it has are in its roots. Think what sagacity it shows in its search other, the rootlets, which are its tentacles, find out that there is a brook at the tree, and they make for it with all their might. They find every crack in the rocks where there are a few grains of the nourishing substance they care for, and insinuate themselves into its deepest recesses. When spring and summer come, they let their tails grow, and delight in whisking them about in the wind, or letting them be whisked about by it; for these tails are poor passive things, with very little will of their own, and bend in whatever direction the wind chooses to make them. The leaves make a deal of noise whispering. I have sometimes thought I could understand them, as they talk with each other, the wind as they wagged forward and next time you see a tree waving in the wind, recollect that it is the tail of a great underground, many-armed. It had a spiral road running around polypus-like creature, which is as proud of its candal appendage, especially in summer time, as a peacock of his gorgeous expanse of plumage. Do you think there is anything so very odd about this idea? Once get With a glad shout of joy and won-dit well into your heads, and you will which they belong.-[Dr. O. W.

BAMBOO CULTURE.

A Useful Plant that Can be Raised in the United States.

Successful Bamboo Plantations in Southern California.

Sicily. He says that the plant could be grown in this country as far north of the substances we have named. as New York, and would doubtless prove hardy throughout California are, no doubt, some reasons for thinkand the Southern states. Sicilian farmers consider it their best paying death. When night once more caused | crop, and grow it abundantly on otherwise worthless wet land, utilizing for the purpose borders of fields, brooks, swamp holes, etc. The bamboo is a persunial plant, dying to the ground each year and producing a fresh growth in the spring. It is propagated from cuttings of the roots. Marketable canes are produced in one year, and a plantation yields for a dozen years, requiring no cultivation. A single plant gives five or six canes thirty feet long, the stock becoming stouter each year. The dried canes, being very light, stiff and durable, furnish material for Carefully I started on the last cir- fencing, roofing, fish poles, grape and bean poles. Split, they are utilized for laths and in the manufacture of woven hampers and baskets.

In the United States the bamboo is cultivated to a small exteut, but only for ornamental purposes. There are at least ten species-natives of China, Japan and the Himalayas-which may reasonably be expected to thrive in the milder latitudes of this country. Two of these have been found to be hardy even in New England. A number of successful bamboo plantations have already been established in southern California. One of them, belonging to Gen. R. W. Kirkham of Oakland, is twenty-four years old. The canes grown on it, originally obtained from much as thirty-five feet in one season. In other parts of the state the Indian bamboo, which attains a height of temperature of zero. At the semitropical exhibition at Ocala, Fla., a collection of bamboo stems big enough for fence rails was shown by Lee county in that state.

The bamboos belong to the true grasses and comprise about twenty genera, with nearly 200 species. In size bamboos range from 10 to 150 feet in height and from one inch to two feet in diameter. Of the sixty species indigenous to the Chinese empire only six or seven are cultivated for economic purposes.

Bamboos are utilized for the making of matks, rafts, water pipes, ship rigging, carts, boxes, mats, cordage and paper. Furniture manufactured from the stems is very much in fashion just at present. The plants also furnish valuable supplies of food. A few species have a berry-like fruit and the seeds of other kinds resemble rice, especially when cooked, having about the same market value. The young and tender shoots are cut for fodder, and such and from the latter country to delicate portions of one or two Japanese species are cooked and eaten like

These plants are gregarious in habit, and impenetrable masses. As the shoots mature canes are cut down from year to year, new ones con-China, Japan and other regions re- mules drawing the car are whipped seed. The seeds, moroever, are exceedingly difficult to germinate, and I know not whence or how or why I came. hence the plants are propagated almost exclusively from root cuttings, eyes and offsets. - [Washington Star.

No Water on the Moon.

Every kind of life, whether animal or vegetable, requires both the presence of air and the presence of water; The Department of Agriculture rec- we do not of course say that in other ommends the cultivation of the bam- parts of the universe there may not be boo for economical purposes in the types of life for which neither air nor United States. A suggestion to the water is essential; nothing is, howsame effect is convoyed in a recent let- ever, more clear than the evidence ter from Mr. Charles Heath, consul to which we are able to produce with reference to the presence or absence

> First, with regard to water. There ing that there may have been once water on the moon, but it is now certain that there is no liquid on its surface, nor indeed can I find much reason to believe that there is even frozen water there, as has been sometimes supposed. It is certainly a singular fact that two constituents which are so abundant here should seem to be entirely wanting in the moon, and it is an interesting subject for speculation, as to what has happened to the water on the moon if it once existed there. It is generally believed that as our satellite cooled down the water penetrated into the interior, and was get. there seized upon by the minerals which required water in order that were unpacking it," said the director they might assume their appropriate of the museum to Gazzam. "Ah," crystalline forms. The water on the replied Gazzam, "dead broke, evimoon has therefore, according to this dently." view, become transformed into a solid form, incorporated with the bodily texture of the globe. It has even been surmised that a similar destiny awaits the oceans on our own globe; broad and deep though they seem, they yet may be inadequate to quench the thirst for water possessed by so vast a mass of crystallizing minerals as must exist in the interior of the globe. But whether this be the explanation of the absence of liquid water from the moon or not, the fact of that absence cannot be questioned.

The moon has been subjected to careful scrutiny for centuries, yet no Chinese stock, made a growth of as one has ever seen any genuine ocean or sea, no one has ever seen any indication of the present existence of water, and we are entitled to assert fifty feet, is successfully grown and that water, in a liquid form, is absent [Good Words.

Oddities About Rats.

Rats are natives of Asia and their raids westward belong to comparative modern times. From the fact that it is not meutioned by any of the early Europeans, it is surmised that it was unknown west of the Ganges in ancient times. The black rat first came follow, of course. from Asia to Europe in the sixteenth century-along with the plague-and was first known as the "Gravevard Spectre," because he preyed on the flesh of those who died during that as the "Plague cat," because the common house cat had a similar habit of feasting on the dead. This black rat was the common house rat until the brown or gray rat made his appearance in 1775. The gray rat came to my lost manuscripts makes me think Europe from India by way of Russia, and is now popularly known as the Norway rat, from a mistaken tradition that it came from Norway to England America. - [Philadelphia Press.

Mexican Funerals.

"The most curious sight to the their numerous stems rising in dense American eye in the City of Mexico is the funeral procession," said C. T. Lambert of Boston at the Southern. "There is not a hearse, as we know stantly springing up. The rate a twhich that vehicle in the capital. Instead, some kinds grow is astonishing. At the Mexicans use a strange-looking Indian species, called the "Dendro street car to haul their dead to the calamus gigantens"-meaning "giant cemetery. The car is more like an orpen tree"-sometimes attains a height dinary flatear of this country than of forty feet in as many days. A anything else I can compare it to. In record is given for even two and a the center of this car is a raised dias half feet in a day, and Gen. Kirkham in the shape of a coffin, on which the has a record of eight inches of growth casket rests, and is bound to the body per diem on his California plantation. of the car by ropes and poles, around The myriad uses found for bamboo in which are wrapped flowers. The quire a greater supply than can be de- into a fast gallop, and go through the quette to a somewhat veneralbe offirived from natural propagation, crowded, stuffy streets at a break-Supplies of bamboo seeds for planting neck speed, followed by a long proare difficult to obtain, as the plant cession of other closed cars filled with seeds rarely, sometimes not oftener mourners. Rich and poor are all than every twenty-five or even sixty treated alike when they are carried to kinds grow in Japan are said never to | Globe-Democrat.

The Great Mystery.

I walk and talk-I laugh and cry-I breathe to live-I live to die-And dying, leave a name to fame, or shame.

I know not where or how or when I'll go. The end will come some day, and then-A sigh—a tear—a prayer—amen!

I know not now, but when I go I'll know. -[H. T. Hollands, in Detroit Free Press.

HUMOROUS.

A towel trust has been established. It will come down with a crash.

A bridge should never be condemned until it has been tried by its piers.

Minds of moderate calibre ordinarily condemn everything which is beyond

A little learning in a fool, like scanty powder in a large gun, will sometimes make considerable noise.

She-don't you think Marion an intellectual-looking girl? The Brute-Why, no; I think she's quite pretty. "Pa," said a five-year-old son, "can a rope walk?" "I think not my son," answered the father "but it might if it were taut." Hymer-Rather a thankless task, ien't it, writing poetry for the papers? Rymer-Thankless! No, indeedthanks are about the only returns I "This mummy fell to pieces as we

Although you grieve when you are poor, It's always well to learn-You never really know for sure Which way affairs may turn.

"Have you read my last novel, my dear friend?" "Certainly." "Well, and how did you like it?" "I laid the book down with the greatest satisfaction."

"Why do you always employ women as typewriters?" asked Mrs. Curtain Lecture. "So that I have something to dictate to," replied the unhappy man.

"I've got a new baby brother," said Tommy. "That's all right," answered Freddy; "but I'm going to have a new grown-up brother as soon as sister marries him."

"Ilis attentions to you have been marked, have they not?" said the young woman's experienced friend. "Oh. ves. He has never taken the price-tag off any of his presents."

Maiden (listening to Mendelssohn's "Wedding March") -I don't see why they have the clashing of the cymbals. Young Mrs. Benedict-Why, as a symbol of the clashings which are to

The saddest, weariest, sorriest time That ever springs beneath the sun And put all tempers out of chime, Comes when a holiday is done.

Mistress (to cook) -- You know, awful visitation. He was also known Maria, I cannot allow you to receive your pretended consin in the kitchen every evening. "You are very kind, mum, but he's so very shy, mum, he won't step into the parlor."

> "This business of tracing one of of a dog I once owned," said Scribbler. "In what respect?" queried Mawson. "He had a habit of chasing his own tail," replied Scribbler.

> Mrs. Bilius-Why don't you pay it and say nothing, John? I wouldn't make so much fuss over a doctor's bill. Mr. Billus (cross-eyed with wrath)-I didn't say doctor's bill, Maria! I said doctored bill. it's from the gas company!

> Said the superintendent of the Texas Penitentiary at Huntsville to a newly arrived delegate: "You have the privilege of working at any trade you prefer." "I'd like to keep on driving cattle to Kansas." Another gentleman in the same institution wanted to

In the Same Box.

"You have been in the army a great many years, but I never heard of your copturing anything," said an old co-

"You ought to have a fellow feeling for me," was the reply. "How so?"

"Because we both know what it is years, and a few of the most useful the cemetery for burial."-[St. Louis] to grow old without making any conquests."-[Texas Siftings.

FOR PRESIDENT, GROVER CLEVELAND of New York. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, A. E. STEVENSON,

CONGRESSION'L CONVENTION

of Illinois.

The democratic executive committee of the 4th congressional dis-25th day of August, next. The following are the counties in the dis trict and the number of votes each tion: Cleburne, 3; Calhoun, 8; Chilton, 5; Dallas, 26; Shelby, 7; Talladega, 8—57. Necessary to a choice, 29.

This week we publish a list of representatives and state senators, as taken from the office of the secretary of state.

democrats are being ignored by Boss Boman, the head of the mess

WHEN Kolb and his crew left the democracy it was through the bolted door at the state house. The way to return is through the same

"I AM THE WAY," says the Savior. I am the way, says the democracy. The former refers to spiritual and the latter to political life-and both are equally true.

party candidate when they know he ical heretics. entertains such sentiments as we publish elsewhere.

Ir is suggested that if Mr. Smith resign his place on the executive committee that a man from the the mountains be put in his place. We rise to second the motion, and nominate Sam. Blackwell, of Morhave seen is from "Rufus Sanders." He wants to go to work for Cleveland and Stevenson right now. told. Since 1874 the brunt of bat-There are thousands of young dem- the has fallen upon the black belt, ocrats in Alabama that are ready to and she has always won the victory. be assigned to duty in that fight.

"I AM the door, he that climbeth up by any other way is a thief and the recent struggle against the a robber," says the good book. It is just as true of the man who would claim membership in the democratic party except though Thos. G. Jones. In the distribution loyalty to its principles and policies.

THE door that Kolb's followers went out at to join the independent third party is still open. If they want to come in and join in the feast and aid the election of Cleveland and Stevenson, they know the way. Come in brethren and "sip with us".

In another place will be found some utterances of Mr. Weaver, the nominee of the people's party, made by him at different times prior to his election to the United States Congress, and when they were read in his hearing on the floor of the house, and suffered his friend, Mr. Mason, to affirm their utterance. Read them, Alabam. ians, and then decide whether or not gates, let her sons cast more demo- of Iowa spoken. Why, sir, I am astonyou can aid the election of Harrison cratic votes. by casting your ballot for the people's party electors.

NO COMPROMISE.

It is being said that the political situation in Alabama is very uncertain and hard to solve. So it is to those who are hunting for peace through a compromise. The propositions so far made looking to a settlement of the political trouble fall short of their purpose when followed to their final results, and will be found lacking in the essential etements of adjustment.

Among the many plans suggested but two things seem to have been proposed, and they do not strike! one as being fair or right. One is a compromise of principle and the other is foreign to the idea of successful politics.

One of these propositions is, in short, to overlook the rebellious action of the Kolb followers, and National Democratic Ticket offer them full and free participation in the councils of the party as if they had not violated its laws. This is wrong in principle and would not accomplish the desired result. No good democrats followed the lead of Mr. Kolb in his bolt from the state convention. His supporters were those who have allied themselves with the people's party, together with the majority of the republicans. To give these trict of Alabama met at Anniston full fellowship in democratic ranks on the 5th and called the conven- is not just to the faithful. They tion to meet at Calera on Thursday have quit the democratic party because its principles and policies do not suit them, and they supported county is entitled to in the conven. Mr. Kolb because he was one of them in sympathy They no longer desire place among us unless we take with them their fallaciues theroyand cranky demands. This no democrat will consent to. If there are those among them who acknowledge crats, let it be known by your faith pearance before the loyal people of racy is in its purity, and its organzed laws and methods knows, no compromise. We have among us a new political religion, and it must be met and conquored in open battle. The world; is not christianized by a compromise of holy law nor by receiving sinners into the congregation of the righteous, neither can Alabama be saved to true democra WE are loath to believe that any ey by a compromise of its principles southerner can vote for the people's or by conferring honors upon polit-cry coming down from the mountain counties that the basis of representation is all wrong. This song has been sung in every campaign and before every state convention for years. It is the same old howl against the black belt, and it has become a chestnut. Year after year the election returns have shown its THE most sensible proposition we unreasonableness, until the time is now when it should be sung no more. The truth may as well be In that memorable struggle for white supremacy and good government she elected Geo. S. Houston; in slavery of secret political demagogues she elected the representative of intelligence and freedom, of offices, she has asked no reward for her services that she did not deserve, and which she was not eminently able to fill. She has never failed to stand by a decision of the party shortest notice. tribunal, and her neighbors of the mountains have never received one vote less than her own sons. The black belt is entitled to every delegate she has, and so long as she keeps them so long will their influence be felt in the selection of com- Democrats for the democratic purpose petent and honest officials. North of dissevering this Union and perpetual-Alabama deserves no more than she worthy sons, many of whom would government. As a party it should dishave suffered defeat had it not been band, just as a section of it did at Appofor the help of the black belt, If North Alabama wants more dele-

The Best Place to Secure a Business Education is at the

THE VE WORKE

THE PARTY OF THE PARTY.

Send for Circular.

LEONARD LIPPMAN, President.

G. F. HART, Secretary and Treasurer.

M. M. FIELDS. Vice Presiden

their error and desire to come back in its purity and in its superior to the fold, the doors of the demograts cratic temple is open to them with among the followers of Kolb, which return."

They should be trampfing in the woman's Communications for this department should be addressed to her at West Ce-ALL propositions that are being out any compromise of its glorious is hard to believe, they will vote for made to unite the Kolbites with the faith. They have only to vote with Cleveland without any coaxing. If H. H. Trimble, at Bloomfield on Sepus in the future and recognition is they need coaxing they are worth tomber 4, '88 theirs. Until their faith is proven but little to any party. Mark the by their works they do not deserve predicton; the black belt saved the North and south, in which the infamous, that it was understood as belonging > tered suit to contest the election, but statefacts. This correspondent was in the court house Tuesday and knows as well political annihilation.' Mr. Vest himself why he contested He knows that without counting the Kolb boxes which were robbed of their The other proposition is the old tificate except by appeal to the courts. The People's Advocate.

> > The Advocate was never worse mis. ganization to comive at. taken in its life-not even when it | said the people had concluded to elect A. P. Longshore congressman Mr. Vest himself why he contested.' We know "this correspondent, mary vote of the people's party, in this county. The Advocate should know whereof it speaks before it makes a positive assertion.

where he could be interviewed at the people:

WEAVER'S UTTERANCES

He said at Albia on July, '65:

"I want to congratulate you first, fellow-citizens, on the suppression of purely Democratic rebellion, gotten up by ly estaplishing human slavery. Now and forever it is established as an etermattox."

He said at Centreville in '67:

"Again has the Democratic party tonished beyond measure that a party with a record so utterly vile and wretch Down with the suppliant howl ed and wicked should be so lost to all for compromise! If ye be deme. shame and decency as to make an ap- iv $1.00 a year,

He said in a joint dehate with Col. lera, Alabama.

a welcome. The beauty of democ- state to Jones; she will save it to copperhead division of Iowa appears, to the "Womans' Column." This told why women should not vote. are contesting with Grant for the safety of the Union. As at Donelson, he pro-The Calera correspondent to the Advertiser says: "Vest, the defeated candidate for sheriff, I understand, has entrailorous horse except in an other surraitorous horse, except in an other surdon't know upon what the plea is made." render. Charge on them, fellow Relt seems that every man who writes for publicans, and spare not one, not even render. Charge on them, fellow Rethe Advertiser feels called upon to mis- a deputy road supervisor, from total taller sheets after they were delivered to the sheriff, that Vest was legally elected by 9 majority by the returns as counted by the returning board. He knew that there was no way for him to get his certificant expert the sacrate of the sacrate o "What is the use of further arraign- await hearing from others.

He said in Bloomfield on September

He said in Fairfield September, '79:

The democracy, as usual, are loud in their opposition, but what did they ever do when they had a chance? Here from this district-when it says in Iowa they stole the school fund and was not red hot, and created the very devil's rebellion. And these men appear and ask for your support. They and we further know that he has not should come on bended knees asking been in the court house since the your forgiveness for the unspeakable day of the counting of the first pri- crimes they have committed and the wretched miseries inflicted upon our

The third party is practically without a candidate for congress in the eleventh (Georgia) district. The out-look for a fusion ticket of Rev. John T. Rodgers, its nominee, epublicans, people's party, and having declined the nomination. Jeffersonian democrats". (?) as fathe honor, says that he is a demvorable. The committees of the ocrat and a preacher of the gospel, two latter were in convention at and while the office in this instance Birmingham Tuesday, while Mose. has sought the man, the latter has ley, the high muck-a-muck of the extract from his letter. It is a visited Mrs. Vance this week. former was ensconsed at Florence, whole sermon to the third party left Friday for Birmingham.

"While I believe the third party should legislate into law certain measures for the relief of a certain class of our people, still I fail to see the propriety of deserting it and joining a party which, should t succeed beyond the expectations of its sanguine supporters, cannot possibly afford greater or speedier relief than the democratic party when it has the administration and route home. both houses of congress under its has always had. She has had her nal truth that the Democracy in no this great commonwealth will dele-

WOMEN'S COLUMN.

We understand there has been a "Here we have the old fight over misappliance of the "Critic's Gos- of social purity. is quite a mistake, as we never He held that the general adoption know what the Critic is gossiping

> We are hopeful of getting up a ferer would be woman. collection to send Mrs. Brooks for the "Mercy Home" at Birmingham. Three Ladies have promised contributions, and we anxiously

The Ladies Aid Society of M. E. tauqua Lake Assembly; and on August 9. Dr. Buckley followed jury, and all crimes possible for an or- ers, they are continually giving Miss. Shaw, with the "Last Word." entertainments, mite meetings &c., This shows progress. always succeeding financially in their noble efforts. We regret go has been talking about the need that their Missionary Society is doing so little and hope their pres-nicipal Order League have collectthis correspondent was in the court nationally they stole the arsenals the ident will advise us next week ed enough funds to open at least house Tuesday and knows as well as Navy, the Treasury, every thing that when they will meet and try to re- two summer bathing-houses on the vive a deeper interest in the work. lake shore, which are to be abso-Don't let one good work manopolize lutely free. Dr. Sarah Hatchett and crowd out another, but all keek up and doing and your efforts consent from the city to open the are sure to be rewarded. Your public baths. Yet these publicchurch and Sunday school are spirited women are denied the right flourishing, and don't let any part of "Womans' work" fall behind.

> Miss. Lutie Blevins is visiting Morgan & Lapsley, in Birmingham.

in Rugby Tenn.

home from Atlanta.

The Industrial School of Kansas started in Beloit, by Mrs. F. H. Rastall, with one girl, now has an enrollment of eighty-three.

Mrs. Lucy A. Switzer, honorary president of Washington, has recently spent some time at Puget Sound, and has done some effective work among the unions on her dition to those formed by Mrs. Em- | Witt Talmage.

ily Pitt Stevens, Mrs. Washington and Mrs. Jump of New York.

Mrs. Julia B. Cole, formerly of New Orleans, and connected with the "Memorial Home" for young women in that city, is now a resident of Walla Walla, Washington, and acting as state superintendent

With the themometer at 90 de of woman suffrage would prove the greatest blow that religion and morals have received in modern times, and that the greatest suf-

On Tuesday, August 9, Mrs. Mary Seymour Howell lectured on "The Enfranchisement of Woman," before the Central New York Chautauqua Assembly, at Tully, near Syracuse; on the day before, August 8, Rev. Anna Shaw spoke on the same topic before the Chau-

While the City Council of Chicaof free baths, and regretting a lack Stevenson is chairman of the committee, which has received official to vote.

REGISTER'S SALE.

A. M. Elliott, Trustee, et al) tue of a de-Miss Stella Onderdouk is visiting cree rendered at the Spring term, 1892, of the Chancery Court of Shelby county, Alabama, in the above entitled cause, I

Mrs. A. L. Hines has returned will proceed to sell, under the power contained in a Mortgage from H. M. Pierce, et al, to A. M. Elliott, trustee, at public outcry, in front of the Court House door in the town of Columbiana, Alabama, on Monday, the 17th day of October,

between the legal hours of sale, for cash, the following described real estate, situated near Calera in Sheby county, Ala., to-wit: Fractions A, H, J, M, and the of E and F of section 22, township 22, range 2, west; and the east half of north cast quarter, section 2, township 24, page 12, cost

This, August 11, 1892.

D. R. McMILLAN,

Register and Acting Trustee. aug13-10w prs fee$16.50

INSURE YOUR LIFE. Read and profit by the following sound counsel, every word of which smarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel:

this great commonwealth will delegate this power or control to the damocratic party in the coming November elections, and I further believe it will then give us the relief we demand. Let us still stick to the old party until the test is made at least."

Subscribe for the Journal. Only 18 100 a year.

Subscribe to the people of this great commonwealth will delegate this power or control to the destroy been recently held in Medical Lake and Spokane, Washington. The latter under the auspices of Miss. Eva Halstead, state storms of the financial world cannot touch them; where the assessor cannot tax them; where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old sage should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do your duty and insure immediately in some good, old reliable Company."—Extract from a sermon by the Rev. T. De-Witt Talmage.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The Senate consists of 33 members, of whom 16 from even numbered districts hold over from election of two years ago. Those from the odd numbered districts were elected on the 1st Monday in August. First District, Lauderdale and Limestone—J. M. Cunningham.

Second District, Lawrence and Morgan—W. W. Nesmith.

Third District, Winston, Blount and Cullman—J. M. C. Wharton.

Fourth District, Madison—O. R. Hundley.

ley. Fifth District, Jackson and Marshall-

W. H. Bogart.
Sixth District, Etowah and St. Clair—
John W. Inzer.
Senenth District, Calhoun and Cleburno
W. A. Deutsch

-W. A. Porter.
Eight District, Talladega and Clay-W.
M. Lackey.
Minth District, Randolph and Chambers
-Henry W. Williamson.
Tenth District, Tallapoosa and Coosa-

Eleventh District, Tuscaloosa-J. B. G. Pearson.
Twelfth District, Lamar, Fayette and Walker—R. L. Bradley.
Thirteenth, Jefferson—John T. Milner.
Fourteenth, Pickens and Sumter—M.
L. Stansel.
Fifteenth, Chilton, Shelby and Elmore
L. Scadrayn.

The third croing very rapidly Good time
Irish potatoes.

---A. T. Goodwyn.
Sixteenth, Autauga and Lowndes-Mac

A. Smith.

Eighteenth, Perry and Bibb-W. T. Downey.

Nineteenth. Choctaw, Clarke and Washington.--L. W. McRea.
Twentieth, Marengo-John H. Minge.
Twenty-first, Monroe, Escambia and Baldwin-W. B. Kemp.
Twenty-second, Wilcox-Sol. D. Bloch.
Twenty-third, Henry, Dale and Geneva.
-R. H. Walker.
Twenty-fourth, Barbour-Judson Davie.
Twenty-fifth, Pike, Covington and Crenshaw-W. B. Darby.
Twenty-sixth, Macon and Bullock-J. H. Reynolds.

Reynolds.
Twenty seventh, Lee and Russell-Wm. Twenty-eighth, Montgomery-A.A. Wi-

Twenty-ninth, DeKalb and Cherokee .--

Charles Tumiin.
Thirtieth, Dallas—J. C. Compton.
Thirty-first, Colbert, Franklin and Marion.—K. B. Almon.
Thirty-second, Green and Hale—Norflet Harris.
Thirty-third, Mobile—H. Austill.

THE HOUSE.

The House of Representatives consists of 100 members, all of whom were elected last Monday. The following are those elected as far as heard from.

Autauga-M. White. Baldwin-P. Hansen. Barbour-A. A. McDonald, J. W. T. Gib-

Bibb—Nelson Fuller.

Blount.—J. F. Billinger.

Bullock—L. J. Biggers and—

Butter.—Sunth.

Calhoun—G. C. Williams, L. J. Morris.
Chambers.—W. P. Findlay and W. A.

Cherokee-R. T. Ewing.

Chilton,--O. M. Masten, Choctaw,---John Williamson, Clark—E. O. Calhoun, G. A. Jones. Clark—E. O. Calhodh, G. A. J. Olay.—R. D. Evans. Cleburne.—A. P. Taylor. Coffee.—W. C. Mixon. Colbert—Wilson R. Brown. Conecuh—J. F. Jones. Coosa.—S. J. Nolen. Covington.—W. G. Williams. Cronshaw—Island. Cullman.—T. J. Burks. Cullman.—T. J. Burks. Dale.—I. O. Kinebrew. Dallas—F. L. Pettus, N. H. R. Dawson, W. R. Hardee.

DeKalb-D, C. Case.
Elmore.-H. O. Ellis. Escambia—Lovelace. Etowah—P. L. McCall. Fayette.—A. S. Hollis. Franklin.—I. S. Stockton.
Geneva.—W. J. Mills.
Greene—Wm. Maw.
Hale—T. E. Knight, N. H. Gewin.
Henry—John B. Ward, and J. W.

Jackson.-S. W. Frazier and I. H. Jefferson—F. S. Furguson, F. P. O'-Brien, John McQueen, G. W. Ward, T. T. Huffman, J. T. Shugart.
Lauderdale—H. R. Kennedy, J. C.

Lawrence.-NeSmith. Lee-W. D. Kyle, E. C. Jackson. Limestone-George Gilbert. Lowndes-Willis Brewer, J. D. Pool.

Macon-P. S. Holt. Madison-Francisco Rice, A. S. Fletcher. Marengo-D. J. Meador, J. A. Steele Marion .- H. Clark.

Marshall.—W. M. Coleman. Mobile—Neil McCarron, J. Lavaretta, J. W. Goldsby Monroe-M. B. Rogers.

Montgomery—A. D. Sayre, Thos. H. Clarke, W. W. Hill and F. B. Morgan.-S. H. Rather, and W. T.

Pickens. Pike-Townsend and Carey. Randolph. Russell-F. L. Nisbett, J. M. DeLa-

Shelby-J. P. West.

Winston. - Ford.

St. Clair. Sumter-W. H. Seymour, J. Reid

Talladega-G. A. Joiner, W. Baker. Tallapoosa-Barbour Gaines. Walker—Sowell. Washington—B. D. Turner, Wilcox—J. P. Spear,

GENERAL INFORMATION

COUNTY OFFICERS. Probate Judge—R. W. Cobb. Circuit Clerk—W. R. A. Milner. Sheriff—W. R. Carter Register in Chancery-D. R. McMil-

Tax Collector-E. F. Vest. Tax Assessor-W. H. Kidd. County Trersurer-A. W. Strickland. Superintendent of Education-T. N.

County Solicitor-J. L. Peters. County Commissioners—John E. Dyeey, T. B. McClusky, R. F. Johnson, D. C. Davis.

AT THE CHURCHES.

PRESBYTERIAN-Services on the 4th Sundays in each month, morning and night; pastor to be supplied. Sabbath School at 9:30 a, m.

METHODIST--Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night, by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sabbath school at 9:30.

Baptist Church-Rev. J. G. Lowrey, pastor. Preaching every first and second Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting at 7.00 p. m., every Thursday.

CUMBERLAND PRESBYTBRIAN-J. C. Arnett, pastor. Preaching every first Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday evenings at 7:30. Children's Band meets 3:30 p. m. each 1st and 3rd Sunday. Ladies' Aid Society everyother Friday evening at 3.

Plant turnips. Weather wet and cool. Good time to sow turnips.

Bad weather to save fodder Calera kids are selling pears at the

The newly elected officere have made The third crop of guinea grass is com-ng very rapidly. Good time to plant second crop of

The young ladies of school age are low preparing for next session. Seventeenth, Butler, Conecuh and Covington—R. E. Steiner.

Eighteenth, Perry and Bibb—W. T. to see so many propositions to the un-

Messrs. Steine and Wright, the two gentlemen wounded by the desperate negro are improving.

Capt. Pratt will open the thirtieth session of his High School at Six Mile about the 20th of September.

If any of Calera parents desire to send their children to a good school, and can't get one at home, Six Mile is a good place to send them.

The J. C. Marks Liquor Co. of Birmingham, sends us a circular requesting

Mr. John Campbell took a day off his run and spent Sunday in Calera.

When the proper time arrives, the political excitement will subside, and business will start up afresh.

Teachers remember that the congressonal institute will open at Talladega next Monday, the 22d inst.

Dr. Luther Latham stepped in to see as a few days ago. This young M. D. is located at Six Mile, in the "state of Bibb," and reports it the best place in year will be held at Chapel church on official returns from Henry county several southern states. Saturday and Sunday, September the a little earlier than was possible 3rd and 4th.

Died, in Wilsonville, Ala., on July 28th, 1892, W. M. Bradley, aged 19 recent campaign were for Jones. years, 1 month and 13 days. He was The few that supported Kolo re- or size. When a marriage is solthe son of William and Helen Bradley. ceived poor support, and several emnized as it always should be, He was not sick long and his death was are financially embarrassed. The the minister gets $10 or even $50

Died, at her home near Wilsonville, much. on Sunday last, Mrs. K. Jones, mother of Rev. M. E. B. Jones, aged about 84 years. She was buried in Summer Hill cemetery, a large number of reltribute of love and respect.

northern part of Calera. His exact pain. height and measure around the chest is not known, but Jim Whatley says his name is Grover, and will be old enough to vote the democratic ticket twenty-one years hence. The mother is doing well and James is "happy as a big sun-flow-fersonian Democracy and Miss Peo- pany have the world by the tail ple's Party, Rev. S. M. Adams officiating. Best men Capt. R. F. Kolb, P. G. November a wiser if sadder man. Bowman, R. A. Moseley Jr., and Geo. T. Gaither. After the ceremony the of all good citizens is to accept and whole congregation, joined in the song abide by the result, it matters not he used the following choice and "Johnnie git your gun" and vowed eternal vengeance against the organized democracy and unanimously resolved that no poor man should in fu-Perry-Geo. P. White, M. S. Bolling ture, hold office in Alabama by mak will be evident to all that he cares ing Cuff the arbitrator between white more for his own selfish personal men thus allowing the longest purse to aggrandizement than for the well 'get there Eli."-She by News.

> We have had political agitation enough, and it is time for passion to cool down and for reason to resume its sway.

N. B.—1 Griffin o thrown nd M this able .bcoW Hardy. recher left out the vote cast ounty Commissioners Pitts 54 54 54 54 54 54 54 54 54 54 54 54 Pearson, Elliott. for Nelson. Commissioners districts in order bnommaH Vandiver Carden. Robertson Thompson McGowan, Tho mas Mardi e. Dawson Pa R H, V Huston G reek

POLITICAL AND OTHERWISE.

TAKEN FROM OUR EXCHANGES

All the preliminaries for the hotcampaign this State ever saw ought to be through with, and the real National Democracy, to gaatify work in full blast by September 15 the personal and political hatred the chairmanship of the State Com- prominent in the party councils, mittee, we suggest that the new man be native to the hill country, in touch with the people and understand them- We have such men.

Down in Middle Alabama the regulars got all the local offices, and are taking it easy. Up here the Kolb fellows got most of them, and are still "just a raving." are they kicking about?

It is now proposed to build a tel-

Kolb men don't seem to read the editor gets a nickel or two per mite did not get hurt while going taker gets $75, and the editor a atives and friends accompanying her he hit the ground. The candidate extra copies. The world appears remains to the grave to pay the last does not feel sore before the election, for then he is in the air, but wrong side. Last Monday about noon a very young when the returns come in and he

"crowd" seem to be "agin" comthe land can afford to be conciliato- away his vote on such a man. ry and conservative. The General MARRIED-At Birmingham Ala., on since he reached Alabama that looking into some of Gen. Weaver's the 16th day of August 1892, Mr. Jef- Brothers Manning, Kolb and Com-He will wake up after the ides of

When it is ascertained the duty Allianceman, and a Third Partyite. what individual may be affected. If Capt. Kolb is a true patriot and loves his state he will then cease his wild talk. If on the other hand he continues in his present line it being of the state and its people.

did most to bring about the presvote in this State given to Harrison gerous leadership too far already They will now have to give way to the better judgement of the more conservative element of the party. To sacrifice Mr. Cleveland, or even jeopardize the success of the our patronage in this iline. It is a notorious fact that printers and editors at the latest. What is our state of the leaders on one side or the never drink anything, but other people who do they are referred to the J. C.

Marks Co.

work in full blast by September 15 at the personal and political hatred of the leaders on one side or the other, of a few men who happen by fortuitous circumstances to be prominent in the party councils. would be a folly of which no party was ever yet guilty. The nearest any party ever yet came to it was in the recent contest for State offices. That lesson was sufficient in this State.

For the first time in years, we find the south seriously menaced with black domination. A partial-Why don't they cool off? What ly successful effort is being made to divide the white vote, and if the division amounts to anything the result will be the re-election of ephone line from Eufaula to Abbe- Harrison and the inauguration of The fourth quarterly meeting of the ville. The next time Captain Kolb his force-bill policy, which has for runs for Governor we will get the

When a child is born the attending physician gets $25 and the ed-Nearly all the newspapers in the itor gets h-ll if he happens to make a mistake in the date, weight haps for some extra copies, provid-The young man in Anniston who ed the list of presents is printed. was blown up in the air by dyna- When a death occurs the undertoo one-sided, and the editor on the

It would be well for some of the but genuins democrat arrived in the hits the ground, he howls with people in Alabama to investigate the character of the Third Party's General Field and his invisable candidate for President. He is 'crowd' seem to be "agin" com- "no good," so to speak. The true promise of any kind. The great Southerner connot entertain, for a growing and militant Democracy of moment, the idea of throwing

A Washington correspondent of has evidently been made to believe the Richmond Dispatch has been utterances:

"First he was a South cursing, 'rebel-damning' Republican, then a Greenbacker, then a Knight of Receive Deposits, Labor, then a Democrat, then an

'While he was still a Republican elegant expressions in regard to the Democratic party:

"We know that its acts comprise murder, theft, arson, fraud, perjury and all crimes possible for an organization to connive at.

"This was in a speech at Bloomfield, September 26, 1869.

"No Republican can ever, under There are a few men, those who any circrmstances, have any part or lot with the hungry, rebellious, ent condition of affairs in Alabama, man hating, woman selling gang who would rather see the electoral corporated under the name of Democracy—a name so full of stench It seems to be generally accepted than to acknowledge, by conciliato- and poison that it should be blotted that Dr. J. T. Seary, the eminent ry acts, that there had been mis-Tuscaloosa physician, will succeed takes in the late campaign. But, man and handed over to the bar-Dr. Bryce, late superintendent of of course, their number is small. barism that it so fitly now and in of the Alabama Insane Hospital, The party has followed such dan-all the past has represented'-

PURE BLOOD GOOD HEALTH

Now is the time for everyone who cherishes good health, to pay particular attention to the condition of their blood and its proper circulation. Nearly all diseases that flesh is heir to are caused and agravated by an impure condition of the blood and a sluggish circulation.

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS

Possessing Extraordinary Cleansing Powers

Restoring and Strengthening the whole System, Enriching the Blood producing increased vitality by restoring an impaired digestion and bringing back the bloom of youth to the check of the enfeebled and emaciated.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle-6 Bottles for $5.00.

For Sale by All Druggists.

Nabors, Morrow, & Sinnige.

SOLE CONTROLERS,

Birmingham.

WORDS ABOUT THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION.

Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers, 12 Pages.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT.

1. It is the best of all weekly news- "Aunt Susie," the editress of these de-

the household.

3. It covers the news of the whole world, having its correspondents scat3. It is the People's Friend, and is

ough news service from every important news center in the world.

4. Its Agricultural Department alone is worth many times its subscription price to every farmer. This department of the south, and much more than any is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, wnose service is retained by the Constitution at great expense.

5. Its Woman'3 and Childeren's Departments are a source of infinite pleasone interests of the south.

8. It pays more money for its special features and for its news service than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south.

9. It is the cheapest, being only One Dollar ser year, each paper at the price of a postage stamp. Think of it! Every time a hen lays an egg she pays for one issue of the greatest weekly newspapers of the south.

partments are a source of infinite pleas- one issue of the greatest weekly newspaure to every family, and the name of pers in the world.

papers.

It is invaluable to the sarmer and throughout the south.

the farmer's family, bringing each week cheer to the fireside and happiness to mus and a host of other special writers are aggreged by the year, and their injunctions. is a household word tered over the globe, and having a thorough news service from every important interests of the south.

Note the recipies Friend, and is the sturdy champion of the agricultural interests of the south.

8. It pays more money for its special.

Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of your neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulated home should be without it.

Agents Wanted in every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information. THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

--FINE MILLINERY--

Mrs. S. H. McCauley's,

NEAR THE DEPOT,

Montevallo. - - Ala.

A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hats in the Latest Styles, and at Reasonable Prices. HANDKERCHIEFS & HOSIERY. Saturday Sales at $1

CORBETT PREESE.

Harness 🙈 Saddles,

DEALERS IN

HARDWARE & TINWARE.

與有合の或 或有透過超过有了。 Stock of Dynamite and Fuse, and empty and loaded

Shells always on Hand. 118 19TH STREET, BIRMINCHAM.

Banking House of

W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co.,

CALERA; ALABAMA.

Negotiate Loans.

Issue interest bearing certificates of Deposit, and sell exchange on New York Louisville and Birmingham at regular rates cyarged by the larger cities.

We transact a general banking business, such as that of any incorporated bank in all of its legitimate branches, and would be pleased to open accounts with merchants, manufacturers and planters alike.

Fire and Life Insurance

Written in the best companies.

Bought, Sold and Rented upon just terms.

He Was Only a French Soldier, But He He Obsysd Orders.

The story is told in a French newspaper of Pierre Barlat, a poor laborer who lived at Sevres, near Paris, with his wife, Jeanne, and their three children. Industrious, frugal, knowing nothing of the way to the wine shop, Pierre saved all his spare money, working harder and harder, and at last bought the tiny cottage in which they lived. It was a tiny cottage, indeed-built of stones, with tiled roof, standing amid shrubs and covered with clematis. It always attracted the eye of the traveler, on the left, as he crossed the Sevres bridge.

Pierre and Jeanee worked and saved until the little cottage was paid for, and made a feast when it was all done to celebrate their ownership. A landed proprietor, to be sure, does not mind an occasional expenditure to entertain his friends.

All this Pierre and Jeanne had accomplished just before the war of 1870, with Germany, broke out. The conscription fell upon Bierre, who, moreover, was an old soldier, and belonged to the reserves. A gunner he had been, famous for skill in hitting a mark with a shell.

Sevres had fallen into the hands of the Germans but the French guns were pounding away at them from the fort on Mount Valerian. Pierre Barlat was a gunner at that fort, and, one wintry day, was standing by his gun, when Gen. Noel, the Com-mander. came up and leveled his field glass at the Sevres bridge.
"Gunner," he said sharply, without looking at Pierre.

"General," auswered Pierre, respectfully saluting. "Do you see the Sevres bridge over there?"

"I see it very well, sir." "And that little cottage there, at the left in a thicket of shrubs?"

Pierre turned pale. "I see it, sir."

"It's a nest of Prussians. Try it with a shell, my man."

Pierre turned paler still and in spite of the cold wind that made the officers shiver in their great coats one might have seen big drops of sweat standing out on his forehead; but nobody noticed the gunner's emotion.

He sighted his piece carefully, deliberately; then fired.

The officers, with their glasses, marked the effect of the shot after the smoke had cleared. "Well hit. my man! well hit!" exclaimed the General, looking at Pierre with a smile. "The cortage couldn't have been very solid. It is completely smached." smashed.

He was surprised to see great tears running down the gunner's cheeks. 'What's the matter, man?" the General asked rather sharply.

"Pardon me, General," said Pierre, recovering himself. "It was my house-everything I had in the

A Girl's Room.

The girls of the househeld should have cheerful rooms, where they may receive their girl friends and feel a pride in playing the hostess. Says a writer in the New York Tribune:

Such a room need not be of a large size, but it should be daintily and neatly furnished. There is no better way in which you can educate a girl to be neat and orderly than to give her a properly furnished room, and require her to take proper care of it. In this way she receives her first les son in thorough housekeeping, and acquires habits of order and neat-

The pleasure a girl takes from such a room as this, and the influence it exerts toward making her a womanly and domestic person, should in themselves be strong enough arguments to induce a mother to sacrifice some of the showy fittings of her parlet in order to provide comfortable rooms for her girls.

It should above all things be thoroughly neat, sunny and cheerful, and should be the girl's private room, and all the belongings should be her personal property. It should be her daily duty to keep it in thorough

BE deaf to the quarrelsome, blind to the scorner, and dumb to those who are mischievously inquisitive.

Scrofula In the Neck.

The following is from Mrs. J. W. Tillbrook, wife of the Mayor of McKeesport, Penn.:
"My little boy Willie, ggo had a scrofula bunch willie Tillbrook, under one a which the doctor lanced and it dis-charged for some time. We then began giving new 5 years old, 2 years willie Tillbroun. Hooten began healed charged for some time. We then began healed him Hood's Sarsaparilla and the sore healed to HOOD'S SARSA.

He has never been very robust.

He has never been very robust. PARILLA. He has never been very robust.

HOOD'S PILLS do not weaken, but aid digestion and tone the stomach. Try them. 25c.

"MOTHERS" FRIEND"

MAKES CHILD BIRTH EASY,

Colvin, La., Dec. 2, 1886.—My wife used MOTHER'S FRIEND before her third confinement, and says she would not be without it for hundreds of dollars. DOCK MILLS.

Sent by express on receipt of price, $1,50 per bote. Book To Mothers" mailed free. BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO.

FOR BALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS. ATLANTA. GA.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT

Tulane University of Louisiana Its advantages for practical instruction, and especially in the diseases of the Southwest, are unequaled, as the law secures it superabundant materials from the great Charity Hospital with its 70 beds, and 20,000 patients annually. Students have no Hospital fees to pay and special instruction is given at the residence of the stock, as in no other institution. Next college session begins October 17 th. 1899. For catalogue or information address

Frof. S. E. CHAILLI. M. D., Denn Ser P. O. Drawer 21.6 NEW ORLEANS

A HINT TO DAIRYMEN.

It is a common practice among formers to carry back from the cheese factory whey in the cans that they had carried the milk in, and unless the farmer uses every effort to thoroughly clean his cans, the effect upon the milk will be quickly noticed in the cheese product. Night's and morning's milk should not be mixed in the same can, unless the morning's milk is thoroughly cooled by aeration before mixing with the night's milk. Consequently it would be necessary for those who do the milking to get up an hour earlier in the morning, which every farmer knows is no easy matter.-American Dairyman. 4.363

1 THE NEW YORK BLACK KYOT LAW.

The law concerning the black knot of plum and cherry trees, which was re-cently passed by the Legislature of New York, and which is now in force, declares a tree infected by this disease to be a nuisance, and requires the owner of such tree or trees to abate the nuisance. It authorizes the supervisor of any town (or the mayor in the case of a city) to appoint, on the application of three or more resident freeholders of the town, three commissioners who shall be fruit shall be the duty of these commissioners to examine any tree or trees known to be or suspected of being affected by the disease in their town, and to mark for destruction the part or parts found to be infected by the black knot. If the tree is so badly affected that its total destruction is demanded or necessary, they are to mark it by girdling its trunk. They must then give notice to the owner, who is required within ten days of such notice to cut away and burn the part or parts marked, and in case of the girdled tree to destroy it wholly, burning the affected parts. If he fail to do this within the specified time, the commissioners are to do it for him, and he renders himself liable to a fine not exceeding $25 or to imprisonment for ten days, or to both, in the discretion of the court. Any justice of peace in the town has jurisdiction in the case. The commissioners are to receive each $2 a day for the time actually spent in the discharge of their duties and their necessary expenses. The owner of destroyed trees is debarred from recovering damages against any one destroying the infected trees or parts thereof.

With this law faithfully enforced, the fruit growers of New York may expect to be free from a fungous foe that has inpast.—Country Gentleman.

LAMPAS IN HORSES. Lampas in horses is nothing more than the swelling of the soft parts of the roof of the mouth, just behind the upper front teeth. It frequently occurs in colts or young horses at the time of shedding the teeth, and among older ones when they are afflicted with some digestive disorder. It is merely the result or effect of some injury or disorder, and in itself not a disease, but through the ignorance of man many a horse has had his mouth burned with a hot iron, for this barbarous operation has long been practised as an infallible cure for lampas. If the swelling is due to an unsound tooth bet. ter extract it than to injure the soft parts of the mouth by burning or otherwise. In severe cases a slight scarifying or pricking with a sharp knife just enough to start the blood will give almost instant relief, without causing much pain to the animal. Where lampas is due to digestive disorders, as is usually the case in old horses, give a dose of physic, with a warm bran mash or gruel which the horse may drink without being obliged to chew. There is no danger of the horse starving with lampas, and a fast of a day or two will probably be more beneficial than injurious. If the horse gets very hungry give him some corn on the ear, and in biting this from the cob he will force the swelled gums back into place. Bathing the gums with equal parts of vinegar and water or with alum water will often allay the inflammation and restore the parts to their

FARM AND GARDEN NOTES. A sharp kink in a pig's tail is said to indicate good health. Planting cucumbers for pickles should normal condition .- New York Sun.

be done as soon as possible. Egg plants may now be set out without any danger of their being injured by

The proper temperature for cream sixty-four degrees. A great deal of dirt is carried from the milkman's wagon to the kitchen when milk is served in open dishes or pans. The sweet potato, in addition to being a good food for man, is a delicacy for the hog. If there is any left over give it to them. Too much caution cannot be given on shearing ewes about clipping the teats.

A ewe with a clipped teat is ruined for breeding purposes. The Punic bees are the tamest and gentlest of all the bee family, and their sting the least painful. The sting of the Syrian bees is the most painful. The mutton market is growing more particular all the time. The people who eat mutton begin to know the good from the poor by looking at it and touching

A rich and occasionally good food for convs is comment fed with hay and well are to serve as a hedge.

A too frequent diet of this will, however, produce fat instead of

Do not neglect to chop some onions or onion tops for little ducks and turkeys every day or two. They are relished by then and will do them very much good.

The best way to make a dry goods clerk of your boy is to give him a choice lot of seasoned elm chucks to split, with a splintered ax helve, the first warm day in spring.

De not let little chicks go hungry. They will gather all they can, if they have all they want to eat, while if hungry they will peep round the coop and not grow.

Make the home the centre of your farm work. Make every effort to add to ils beauty and its purity, and the home will in turn make your field work much lighter and pleasanter.

Good land may be stocked with sheep at the rate of five head per acre of pasture and eight head per acre of plowed land. With what stock can the land be made to earn more than in this way?

For the proper and successful cultivation of asparagus, the soil should be a growers and residents of the town. It rich, well-prepared loam, and care should be taken that the roots are spread and well-covered. Salt is the best fertilizer for this plant.

Fun Over a Senator's Lost Whiskers.

Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, recently offered up as a sacrifice to the sun the luxuriant whiskers which have heretofore ornamented or rather concealed the lower part of his face. Since that time he has met with a series of adventures growing out of the fact that few even of his old acquaintances were willing to acknowledge his identity with the luxuriantly bewhiskered gentleman they had known in other days. And this is not to be wondered at as the loss of his beard has made him look at least fifteen years younger and has changed his appearance to an astonishing degree. When he arose in his place in the Senate to offer a bill Senator Manderson, who was in the chair, looked at him in bewilderment for an instant and then said in a hesitating sort of way "The Senator from-." The Oregon man knew what was the matter and smilingly helped the President pro tem. out by suggesting "Oregon."

At this Senator Frye looked around flicted upon them untold losses in the and also failing to recognize Mr. Mitchell, asked: "Is the gentleman a member of the Senate?" A smile went around among those who noticed the incident. and as a measure of precaution Senator Mitchell was escorted about the chamber quietly and reintroduced to those of his colleagues who had not met him since he parted with his whiskers.

Senator Mitchell was stopped by the Senate doorkeeper and forced to give an account of hintself. He went over to the House to see Representative Herrmann of Oregon, and at the door had to tell who he was before he could get ir. When he found Mr. Herrmann that gentleman did not show the least sign of recognition, and Senator Mitchell talked with him several minutes before the Representative discovered wno it was. They then put up a job on Representative Burrows, to whom Mr. Herrmann introduced the Senator as the Rev. Mr. Ford, an Oregon clergyman of the Swedenborgian persuasion. Mr. Burrows immediately gave a religious pitch to his voice and a pious turn to the conversation, falling a complete victim to the trap set for him. Representative Payne, of New York, was victimized in the same way .- Washington Star.

The Largest Ostrich Farm.

One of the wealthy farmers of the Merced River country, whose name we are not at liberty to divulge at present, informed a Sun reporter on Monday that he has about completed arrangements for stocking 100 acres with ostriches. He has visited the famous ostrich farm of Southern California, and after a thorough study of the business, has concluded it will be the biggest paying enterprise in the San Joaquin valley, in proportion to the amount of capital invested. He also expressed himself as being thoroughly convinced that the climate of San Joaquin valley is as well adapted to the ostrich as any other climate is. The gentleman proposes to purchase 100 ostriches for a starter. "For," he said, "I don't care about wasting two or three churning in winter is from sixty to years in experimenting. I propose to profit by the experiments of others, and go into the enterprise for the money there is in it from the beginning. The greatest expense I will be at (except of course the purchase price of the birds), will be for fencing, and I came to town to-day to see what figures I can get in the shape of a contract for fence building. If nothing happens to interfere with my present plans, I expect to have the birds domiciled in their new quarters by the first of September."

The gentleman refused to state where he intends buying the birds, but remarked that "that part of the business is already settled and the price agreed upon."-Merced (Cal.) Sun.

Austin Corbin, the railway magnate, designs to plant twenty thousand hawthorn trees on his great game park in The trees have all New Hampshire. been imported from England, and; four thousand have so far been set out. Tuey

A DETROIT MIRACLE.

A GREAT TRIUMPH FOR CANADIAN

PARTICULARS OF ONE OF THE MOST REMARK-ABLE CURES ON RECORD DESCRIB D BY THE DETROIT NEWS-A STORY WORTH

A CARFFUL PERUSAL. (Detroit News.)

The following paragraph, which appeared in the News a short time ago, furnished the basis of this information—a case that was so wonderfully remarkable that it demanded further explanation. It is of sufficient im-portance to the News' readers to report it to them fully. It was so important then that it attracted considerable attention at the The following is the paragraph in question:

"C. R. Northrop, for 25 years one of the best known merchants on Woodward avenue, who was supposed to be dying last spring of locomotor ataxia, or creeping paralysis, has severed to be dying last spring of locomotor ataxia, or creeping paralysis, has severed to be insufrable, but Mr. Northrop's condition is greatly improved, and it looks now as if the grave would be cheated of its prey."

Since that time Mr. Northrop has steadily improved, not only inloots, but in condition, till he has regained his old-time strength.

It had been hinted in the writer of this article, who was acquainted with Mr. Northrop; that this miraculous change had been wrought by a very simple remedy called Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. When asked about it Mr. Northrop fully verified the statement, and only so, but he had taken pains to inform any one who was suffering in a similar manner when he heard of any such case. Mr. Northrop was enthusiastic at the result in his own case of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It was a remedy that he had heard of after he had tried everything he could hope to give him relief. The had been in the care of the best physicians who did all they could to alleviate this terrible malady, but without any avail. He had given up hore, when a friend in Lockfort. N. Y, whole him of the case of a person their who had been cured in him given ustane's by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. The person cured at Lockport had obtained his information respecting Dr Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. The case was called "The Hamilton, Ont., Times. The case was called "The Hamilton Miracle's and told the story of a man in that city who, after almost incredible suffering, was produced by the most eminent physicians to be incurable and permanently in the case of the Hoyal Templats of Temperance, and after having been pronounced permanently disabled and incurable by the physicians, was paid the $1000 disability insurance provided by the order for its incembers in such cases. For years Mr. Marshall had and the man whom medical experts had said was incurable, was going about the city healthier and stronger than before. Mr. Marshall was so well known in Hamilton that all the city new spapers, wrote up bis won-terful recovery in detail, and it was thu, as before stated, that Mr. Northrop came into possession of the information that led to his capally marshalves recovery. One came into possession of the information that led to his equally marvelous recovery. One could scarcely couceive a case more hopeless than that of Mr. Northrop. His injury came about in this way: One day, nearly four years ago, he stumbled and fell the complete length of a steep flight of stairs which were at the rear of his store. His head and spine were severely injured. He was picked up and taken to his home. Creeping paralysis very soon developed itself, and in spite of the most strenuous efforts of friends and physicians the terrible affliction fastened itself upon him. For nearly two years he was perfectly helpless. He could do nothing to support his strength in the least effort. He had to be wheeled about in an invalid's chair. He was weak, pale and fast sinking when his timely information came that veritably snatched his lite from the jaws of deats. Those who at that time saw a feeble old man wheeled into his store on an invalid's chair. Those who at that time saw a feeble old man wheeled into his store on an invalid's chair would not recognize the man now, so great is the change that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have wrought. When Mr Northrop learned of the remedy that had cured Mr. Marshall in Hamilton, and the person in Lockport, he procured a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through Messrs. Bassett & L'Hommedieu, 95 Woodward avenue, and from the outset found an improvement. He faithfully adhered to the use of the remedy until now he is completely restored. Mr. Northrop declares that there can be no doubt as to Pink Pills being the cause of his restoration to health, as all other remedies and medical treatment lett him in a condition rapidly go-terrible condition when he began to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and they have restored williams Pink Pink, and they have restricted him to health.

Mr. Northrop was asked what was claimed for this wonderful remedy, and replied that he understood that the proprietors claim it to be a blood builder and nerve restorer; to be a blood builder and nerve restorer; supplying in a condensed form all the elements necessary to earien the cloud, restore shattered nerves and drive out disease. It is claimed by the proprietors that Pink Pills will cure paralysis, rheumatism, sciatice, palpitation of the heart, headache, and all diseases peculiar to females, loss of appetite, dizziness, sleeplessness, loss of memory, and treatment lett him in a condition rapidly going from bad to worse, until at last it was declared there was no hope for him and he was pronounce! mcurable. He was in this diseases peculiar to females, loss of appetite, dizziness, sloaplessness, loss of memory, and all diseases arising from overwork, mental worry, loss of vital force, etc.

"I want to say," said Mr. Northrop, "that I don't have much faith in patent medicines, but I cannot say too much in favor of Dr. Williams' Pluk Pills. The proprietors, however, claim that they are not a patent medicine in the sense in which that term is used, but a bighly scientific preparation, the result of years of careful study and experiment on the part of the proprietors, and the pills were successfully used in private practice for years before being placed for general sale. Mr. Northrop declares that he is a living example that there is nothing to equal these pills as a cure for nerve diseases. On inquiry the writer found that these pills were manufactured by Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., and Brockville, Ont., and the pills are sold in boxes (never in bulk by the hundred), at 50 cents a box, and may be had of all druggists or direct by maifrom Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., from either above addresses. The price at which these pills are sold makes a course of treatment with them comparatively inexpensive as compared with other remedies or medical treatment. This case is one of the most remarkable on record, and as it is one right here in Detroit, and not a thousant inites treatment. This case is one of the most remarkable on record, and as it is one right here in Detroit, and not a thousant miles away, it can be easily verified. Mr. Northrup is very well known to the people of Detroit, and he says he is only too glad to testify of the marvelous good wrought in his case. He says he considers it his duty to help all who are similarly afflicted by any word he can say in behalf of the wonderful efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Wasn't the Only One that Did Not. Singleton-I am suffering dreadfully; cutting my wisdom teeth, you Doubleup-Don't say! I didn't cut mine till after I was married .- General Manager.

Gummey - "James Russell Lowell displayed a great deal of humor in his Gargoyle-"Yes; but we have a Whittier laft."

Me offer One Hundred Dollars reward for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure.
F. J. CHENEY. Co., Props., Toledo, O. We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly boxorable in all business transactions, and financially able to carry out any obstanting made by their figure. ligations made by their firm. West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo,

Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.
Hall's Catarth Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimouials sent free. Price 75c, per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

The Only One Ever Printed.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

These is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alive except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you Book, BEAUTIFUL LYTHOGRAPHS OF SAMPLES FREE.

Gen. John Bidwell, the prohibition candidate for president, is six feet and weighs 270 pounds.

MANY persons are broken down from overwork or household cares. Brown's Iron Bitters rebuilds the system, aids digestion, removes excess of bile, and ourse malaria. A spendid tonic for women and children.

Marshall Field paid $200,000 for 800 square feet of Chicago land recently—the largest price ever paid in that city.

The article," A Detroit Miracle," taken from a Detrois paper, is quite interesting reading. It tells how one of the best-known merchants of that city suddenly appeared at his business with apparently a new lease of life, when it was supposed that he was a very sick man.

Justice Limitar of the supreme court of the United States always summers in the mountains of New Mexico.

Ladies needing a tonic, or children who want building up, should take Brown's Iron Bitters. It is the sant to take, cures Malaria, by hearing, Buionstess and Laver Complainte, anakes the Blood rich and pure.

Cockrell of the our and Powers of Montana are the only western senators who were born in the west.

Mr. Darius Waterhouse, Chattanoga, Tenn., cays: "It cost but little to try Bradycrotine, and a trial is all that is necessary to convince the country thousands that it will cure headache." All drugetsts, fifty cents.

Prince Bismarck says he never knew the cause of dismissal from office.

Ir dropsy after a good night's sleep there is indigestion and stomach disorder which Beecham's Pills will cure.

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

PATEMIS W. T. Fitzgerald, Washington, D. C. 40-page book free.

a Representative in each good sections. Stamp & Reference A. T. MORRIS, 3rd & Sycamore, Cincin

IT ISA DUTY you owe yourself and family to get the best value for your money. Economize in your footwear by purchasing W. I. Bouglas Shoes, which represent the best value for prices asked, as thousands will testify.

SHOE GENTLEMEN. TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE. THE BEST SHOE IN THE WORLD FOR THE MONEY.

A gennine sewed shoe, that will not rip, line calf, seamless, smooth inside, iterible, more confortable, stylish and durable than any other shoe ever sold at the price. Equals custom made shoes costing from $4 to $6.

and $5 Haud-sewed, fine calf shoos. The most stylish easy and Guushleshoos ever sold at these prices. They equal easy and durable shoes ever sold at these prices. They equipment all others who 50 Police Shoe, worn by farmers and all others who want a good heavy call, three soled, extension edge shoe, easy to walk in, and will keep the feet dry and warm.

50 Fine Call, and Workingmen's Shoes will give nore awar for the money than any other make. They are made for service. The increasing sales show that work-d this out.

2 and Youths' $1.75 Echoal Shoes are and youths service.

Hand Sport of S3 Hand-Sowed, 32.50. S2 and S1.75

ASK FOR W. L. DOUGLAS' SHOES.

If not for sale in your place send direct to Factory.

If not for sale in your place send direct to Factory.

If not for sale in your place send direct to factory.

Its where I have no agents. Write for Catalogue. W. L. Douglas, Brocktor, Mass.

TELEGRAPHY We teach either and place you at work. SHORTHAND SENOIA, uew Catalogue. Couch & LUGENBEEL GEORGIA.

'German

Just a bad cold, and a hacking cough. We all suffer that way sometimes. How to get rid of them is the study. Listen-"Iam a Ranchman and Stock Raiser My life is rough and exposed. I meet all weathers in the Colorado mountains. I sometimes take colds. Often they are severe. I have used German Syrup five years for these. A few doses will cure them at any stage. The last one I had was stopped in 24 hours. It is infallible." James A. Lee, Jefferson, Col.

00 Beautify complexion by purifying blood. Pursey Vegerable. ou get 02 book with sample DR. HARTER ME TICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

TOU WANT DAY THEIR WAY THEM TO WAY
even if you merely kneet here as a diversion. In order to handle fowls policiously, you must know something about them. To meet this want we are selling a book giving the experience: Analy of a practical poultry raiser twenty-five years. It was written by arran who pus all his mind, and time, and money to waking a success of Chicken raising—not as a pasting, but as a business—and if you will profit by his teenty-five years work, you can save many Chicks areaually,

Book Publishing House,

Fast Inch -V/ben shall the day be done, and rest come on?

I pray not That soon from me the "curse of toil" be

I seek not 'A sluggard's couch with drowsy curtain drawn.

ing's gray;

Sleep as one who toiled afield through all -WaitmanBarbe.

A TRANSACTION IN ICE.

BY II. E. ANDREWS. OOD old Dr. Eben

Martyn departed this life, leaving little except the weather beaten authe venerable horse covered with boards. and chaise, almost bily built ice house, propped on one of at the angle of the famed tower of Pisa. The residue of his belongings consisted of his two daughters, Regina and Mary Alice, not exactly juvenile, but much better preserved than any of his other possessions.

"Oh, Reejy!" said Mary Alice, after the funeral was over, the neighbors were all gone, and their lonely estate for the first time fairly confronted them. "Oh, Reejy! What shall we do?"

Mary Alice was the older of the two sisters, but from the days of her multiplication table she had leaned on Regina. Perhaps that partly accounted for her bent shoulders and faltering gait, so different from Regina's trim, erect figure, and brisk, reliant walk.

"Now, sister," replied Regina, "don't worry about that. We've a comfortable home, the year's wood is up, and there's half a barrel of corned beef in the cel-36 But, Reejy, that beef won't last for ever."

"Well, there's the horse-"

"Don't, Reejy! It makes me faint to think-"

"We can get seventy-five dollars for him, and that will last a long time."

"Oh, dear, yes. I thought you were going to propose something awful—but what can we do when the horse is gone?"

"What are we going to do when the world comes to an end! Don't borrow stock of money at once. We'll get along in some way, but of course I don't know how," and then the sisters had what sisters usually call "a good cry."

Thenceforth Regina took the management of their affairs into her own hands. Mary Alice was the undisputed mistress of the kitchen, and wrought magic with needle and shears, but Regina was the provider. Everybody in Middledale and for miles up and down the river knew "the Martyn girls," and everybody knew who was their business manager.

"Don't you suppose you could sell the ice house for something?" asked Mary Alice, after Regina had disposed of old Dobbin at a shrewd bargain and rented the stable to one of the ice men for two dollars a month. "I don't want to sell it," said Regina, quickly. "But of what good is it to us?"

"I am going to fill it this winter."
"Fil! it? Why-" but Mary Alice could go no further: she sank back in her chair, staring at her sister as if she suddenly unfolded a pair of wings instead of so simple a plan.

"Yes, of course, I'm going to fill it. I heard father say the old ice house paid him better than his practice last year, and cleared up all his debts. What do I know about the ice busines? Well, I can hire men who know how to put up ice; there are enough of them on the river, and somebody in Middledaie will advance the capital with the ice as security.

know I can do it, and why shouldn't I?" And after the river had fairly frozen, which happened to be very late that season, Regina lost no time in sending an emissary down on the ice to stake out her field. The big operators, above and below, saw the move with surprise; but they all respected Regina's claim, and Mr. Hiram Lawry, the superintendent of the Knickerbocker Company, whose great houses were only half a mile up the river, came down a little later and gave her some good hints about buying her tools. Now please don't think of Regina as a mannish sort of person, striding about in the doctor's old fur coat and rubber boots, brandishing an ice chisel and scolding the men. She was very much a woman, with a disposition to avoid snow drifts and kicking horses and holes in the ice and all such disagreeable things. She actively oversaw her enterprise, and even ventured down on the ice once or twice, but trusted almost everything to her foreman, who fortunately was experienced and honest.

calls and offered kindly services. Mr of the village hank, "but we are calling a good suggestion. When her elevator suddenly broke and Mr. Lawry sent one of his spare chains and had the break mended in an hour, Regina thanked him with blushes; he had saved her a round sum.

"Oh, Reejy, just think of the expense, with all those men to pay while they were loafing!" exclaimed Mary Alice. Time to fight the battle out as best I "Don't you think it was very good of Mr. Lawry?"

"I'm not much acquainted with him, Strength and place to labor still at even- but he's been very kind," said Regina, becoming absorbed in her pay roll.

That was a memorable year on the Kennebec, marked by an unprecedented mania for speculation in ice. It came on late in the winter, after Regina's harvest was completed. When, in the last days of February, it was certain that there would be no crop on the Hudson, or anywhere in the Middle States, and that the whole country would have to depend for its ice on the rivers and ponds of Maine, the craze spread like a plague.

It was too late to build additional houses; the ice was piled up on the c cestral homestead, river banks in great stacks and hurriedly

"Mary Alice, I'm going to put up a worn out in the stack," Regina exclaimed one day. "There's a fine chance on the level just all the countryside, below our old house, and I can double and a rather shab- up just as well as not."

"You almost take my breath away," said Mary Alice. "It frightens me to the high banks of take such a risk-but dear me! You the Kennebec River at the angle of the things."

Mr. Lawry called that evening. He had come two or three times during the winter.

"Have you heard of Reejy's new scheme?" asked Mary Alice, innocently. Regina bit her lip; but preferring to tell of her plans in her own way, now the cat was out of the bag, she went on, "I'm going to stack some ice. Our house holds only five thousand tons and I may as well stack five thousand more."

Mr. Lawry became grave. "H'm! My experience with stacked ice hasn't been very satisfactory," he said, with a faint smile.

"There, Reejy!" exploded poor Mary Alice, with a nervous start.

Regina turned a flushed face to her sister, but bit her lip again and smilingly appealed to Mr. Lawry. "You wouldn't have me let the chance go by, would you?"

"I wouldn't have you make a mistake," he said, quietly. "Your old house is well filled with good ice, and is pretty sure to pay you a fair profit. but if you put up a stack you risk everything."

"Never mind," laughed Regina, in a tone that seemed very strange and unpleasant. "I'm in for it. Nothing venture, nothing have!" "Reejy," said Mary Alice, after Mr. Lawry had gone, "I'm really afraid about that ice speculation."

trouble. We must economize on everything; we musta't exhaust our whole companies are always jealous if we little Trade Journal into the fire when it came protection that mock the hopes of toil operators branch out. And she stacked the five thousand tons of ice on the lowlands, within a week. "Mary Alice," said she one April day, "you shall have a sealskin sack next winter;" and the rainbow of bright hope spanned the skies of early spring. But hark! Hear the great sheets of rain storming down upon the roof! Listen to the howling of the gale as it drives the flood against the panes and tears at the quivering shutters! Three days of steady rain were followed by warm, damp weather. The melting snow poured down the hillsides and the ice began to break. Daily the river rose, struggling masterfully with its frozen barriers; and then, swollen to an alarming tide that still rose higher and higher, it hurled the ice floes oceanward in leaping, crushing masses. It was the greatest, most frightful ice freshet ever known on the Kennebec. Regina stood out on the bluff, watching its furious progress. They had told her of disasters up the river, and she was nerved for the sight when the hurling tumult of ice and water attacked and quickly undermined her ice stack and swallowed up its ruins. It crumbled almost like a heap of sand, under the beating of that fierce torrent.

So much for women fooling with the ice business!"

The brusk old villager's remark was not intended for Regina's cars, but she heard it.

Mr. Lawry came up and spoke encouragingly. "Your house on the bluff is safe, and you'll make enought from that to set you right," said he.

Regina was brave, but she couldn't kcep back one insistent tear.

"It hurt more to show him my weak ness and to feel that he had a chance to crow over me, than to lose the ice," she sobbed, when she reached home.

"Poor dear," crooned Mary Alice, "it's all for the best-of course it isand I don't believe Mr. Lawry would wish to humiliate you."

"That shows how little you know about the men!" retorted Regina, with call and bitterness, and Mary Alice's suspicions were strengthened.

Three anxious months left their marks upon Regina. She grew pale and worn, and Mary Alice said she didn't eat enough to keep a canary alive. She fed mostly on the weekly market bulletins of the Ice Trade Journal, which grew less nourishing as the season advanced.

"I hope it won't be any inconvenience The other ice packers made neighborly | to you, Miss Reejy," said the President | Magazine.

Lawry was nearest, and almost every day in our ice loans and must ask you to pay he asked if he could help her or gave her | your notes within thirty days. There's a big lot of ice on the market. It seems as if everybody put up some, and the bank can't risk such collateral any longer. OF THE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES FOR If you've a mind to mortgage your homestead, now-"

"Oh, I'll take up the notes," interrupted Regina, but her queenly spirit How could she raise the quaked. money? She had been unable to get an offer of more than a dollar a ton for her ice, and that would not bring enough. Oh, if she had not put up that unlucky stack!

Mr. Lawry had been coming quite often, of late, to sing to her accompaniment on the jingling old piano. When he called, the next Tuesday evening, she put it off till the last moment, but in sheer desperation appealed to him just as he arose to go. What would he advise her to do? Did he think there was the least prospect of a more favorable market?

"I'll tell you what I'll do," said he, briskly. "I'm always speculating, and will make you an offer for your ice. You see I have better opportunities than you, and can take more risk. I'll give you a dollar and a quarter a ton for the lot." A sudden elation took possession of Regina. Before she fairly realized what she was doing, she had accepted the proposition and signed a bill of sale.

Sixty-two hundred and fifty dollars! That would pay her notes and leave her a small profit.

After Mr. Lawry had left the house she hugged Mary Alice in a transport of joy and kissed Mr. Lawry's check. In an'l beneficent institutions. moment more she was weeping like a child.

"What have I done!" Oh, what have I done!" she sobbed. "I had no right to take advantage of his sympathy. He might as well have given me the money, and I can never look him in the face again. Mary Alice, I shall go crazy." "Why, Reejy! He made the price himself, didn't he?" asked Mary Alice in perplexity.

"Yes, but he knows he can't sell it for that, and I was mean enough to accept his charity. I've a good mind to demand my ice back and tear up his check!"

"Dear me," exclaimed Mary Alice in affright.

"But then he'd think me a bigger fool than ever. Oh, how contemptible I must seem to him!"

"Reejy, I believe you're fond of him!"
"I hate him, and I'll hate you if you speak of him again!" cried Regina, and rushed up stairs in a storm of tears.

The ice market continued to go down, and although the summer came in all its beauty the Martyn homestead did not emerge from the area of depression. Of course the Middledale people heard about Regina's transaction with Mr. Lawry, and did not spare their comments.

"He'll never get more than ninety cents for it," she overheard one of the that night, and never looked at an ice quotation again.

"As I look at it now," she said to herself. "I was stupid, but he was positively idiotic. I can have no respect for such a man, even if he has done me a favor.

Mr. Lawry came to ask her to go for a drive the next afternoon, but she declined to see him, pleading a headache. Mary Alice looked mute reproaches at her; she did not dare to speak.

Several weeks passed before Mr. Lawry came again. Then he asked Regina to play the accompaniment of a new song, and she could not refuse. It was one of Molloy's, and she became much interested in it; Mr. Lawry certainly sang it with much spirit. "Why! Where's Mary Alice?"

She had left the room while they were absorbed in the music. "I never knew ber to do such a thing before," said Regina apologetically.

"Let's have that last verse again," cried Mr. Lawry, with enthusiasm. And one song followed another till Regina found her voice mingling with his, and she blushed to think she was actually enjoying it.

"By the way, Miss Martyn," said Mr. Lawry, as Regina resolutely whirled around in her piano chair, "I hope you will congratulate me on my good fortune!" He laughed good naturedly at her puzzled look, and added, "evidently you haven't watched the ice market recently. I've sold that ice I bought from you for a dollar and seventy-five cents a ton!" A glow came into Regina's cheek, and she uttered a cry of pleasure. "Nothing in the world could have given me so much delight," she said, stretching out her hand.

He grasped it and held it. "Ah," said he, "I need one thing more to make me happy. I want you to share my good fortune with me, Regina. dare not tell you of my love, and to hope you'll give me yours. I've loved you for a long time-you know I have-

"But it never could have been if ice hadn't gone up!" declared Regina, as she struggled from his arms. She rushed into Mary Alice's chamber.

and you can't refuse me, my Regina!"

after he had gone. "Sister, dear, I've something great to tell vou!'

"I know all about it," said Mary Alice, in her fond and gentle way, pressing Regina to her heart. "I've followed

ABLE ADDRESSES

THE GREAT NOTIFICATION MEETING

Grover Cleveland and Adlat E. Steven- safe lines and guided by enlightened son, delivered at the immense public statesmanship. To the troubled and inmeeting in the Madison Square Garden, patient within our mambership we con-New York, when they received formal offices of President and Vice-President of the United States. Mr. Cleveland

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen-The message you deliver from the National Democracy arouses within me emotions which would be well nigh overwhelming if I did not recognize here assembled the representatives of a great party who must share with me the responsibility your mission invites. I find much relief in the reflection that I have been selected merely to stand for the principles and purposes to which my party is pledged, and for the enforcement and supremacy of which all who have any right to claim Democratic fellowship must constantly and persistently labor.

Our party responsibility is indeed We assume a momentous obligagreat. tion to our countrymen when, in return for their trust and confidence, we promise them a rectification of their wrongs and a better realization of the advantages which are due to them under our free

But, if our responsibility is great, our party is strong. It is strong in its sympathy with the needs of the people, in its insistence upon the exercise of governmental powers strictly within Constitutional permission the people have granted, and in its willingness to risk its life and hope upon the people's intelligence and patriotism.

Never has a great party, intent upon the promotion of right and justice, had better incentive for effort than is now presented to us.

Turning our eyes to the plain people of the land we see them burdened as consumers with a tariff system that unjustly and relentlessly demands from them in the purchase of the necessaries and comforts of life, an amount scarcely met by the wages of hard and steady toil-while the exactions thus wrung from them build up and increase the fortunes of those for whose benefit this injustice is perpetuated.

We see the farmer listening to a de-lusive story that fills his mind with visions of advantage, while his pocket is robbed by the stealthy hand of high protection.

Our workmen are still told the tale, oft repeated in spite of its demonstrative falsity, that the existing protective tariff is a boon to them, and that under its beneficial operation their wages must increase-while, as they listen, scenes are and attest the tender mercy the working. man receives from those made selfish and sordid by unjust governmental favorit-

We oppose earnestly and stubbornly the theory upon which our opponents seeks to justify and uphold existing tariff laws. We need not base our atatck upon questions of constitutional pormission or legislative power. We denounce this theory upon the highest possible grounds when we contend that in present conditions its operation is unjust and that laws enacted in accordance with it are inequitable and unfair.

Ours is not a destructive party. We are not at en:nity with the rights of any of our citizens. All are our countrymen. We are not recklessly heedless of any American interest, nor will we abandon our regard for them; but invoking the love of fairness and justice which belongs to true Americanism, and upon which our Constitution rests, we insist that no plan of tariff legislation shall be tolerated which has for its object and purpose a forced contribution from the earnings and income of the mass of our citizens, to swell directly the accumulations of a favored few; nor will we permit a pretended solicitude for American labor, or any other specious pretext of benevolent care for others, to blind the eyes of the people to the selfish schemes of those who seek through the aid of unequal tariff laws to gain unearned and unreasonable advantages at the expense of their fellows. We have also assumed in our covenant with those whose sup-port we invite the duty of opposing to the death another avowed scheme of our adversaries, which under the guise of protecting the suffrage covers, but does not conceal, a design thereby to perpetuate the power of a party afraid to trust its continuance to the untrammelied and intelligent votes of the American people. We are pledged to resist the legislation intended to complete this scheme, because we have not forgotten the saturnalia of theft and brutal control which followed another Federal regulation of State suffrage; because we know that the managers of a party which did not scruple to rob the people of a President would not hesitate to use the machinery created by such legislation to revive corrupt instrumentalities for partisan purposes; because an attempt to enforce such legislation would rekindle animosities where peace and hopefulness now prevail; because such the ice market every day."-Munsey's an attempt would replace prosperous activity with discouragement and dread try and would meance everywhere in the land the rights reserved to the State: and to the people, which underlie the safeguards of American liberty. I shall not attempt to specify at this and its creed, our party will respond to the wants of the people within mend continued, unswerving allegiance announcement of their nomination to the to the party whose principles in all times past have been found sufficient for them and whose aggregate wisdom and patriotism, their experience teaches, can always be trusted.

PRESIDENT AND VIOE-PRESIDENT AT time other objects and aims of Democratic endeavor which add inspiration to our mission. True to its history IN NEW YORK.

In a tone of partisanship which beats the occasion, let me say to you as equal partners in the campaign upon which we to-day enter, that the personal fortunes of those to whom you have intrusted your banners are only important as they are related to the fate of the principles they represent and to the party which they lead.

I cannot, therefore, forbear reminding you and all those attached to the Democratic party or supporting the principles which we profess that defeat in the pending campaign, followed by the consummation of the legislative schemes our opponents contemplate, and accom-panied by such other incidents of their success as might more firmly fix their power, would present a most disco urag-ing outlook for future Democratic supremacy and for the accomplishment of the objects we have at heart.

Moreover, every sincere Democrat must believe that the interests of his country are deeply involved in the victory of our party in the struggle that awaits us. Thus patriotic solicitude exalts the hope of partisanship and should imensify our determination to win success.

This success can only be achieved by systematic and intelligent effort on the part of all entisted in our cause. Let us tell the people plainly and honestly what we believe and how we propose to serve the interests of the entire country, and then let us, after the manner of true Democracy, rely upon the thoughtfulness and patriotism of our fellow country-

It only remains for me to say to you, in advance of a more formal response to your message, that I obey the command of my party and confidently anticipate that an intelligent and carnest presentation of our cause will insure a popular indorsement of the action of the body you represent.

MR. STEVENSON'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Committee: I cannot too earnestly express my appreciation of the honor conferred upon me by the great delegated assembly which you officially represent. To have been selected by the National Democratic Convention as its candidate for high office is a distinction of which any citizen might well be proud. would do violence to my own feelings, sir, should I fail to express my graitude for the courteous terms in which you have advised me of the result of the deliberations of the convention. Distrusting my capacity fully to meet the expectations of those who have honored me by their confidence, I accept the nomination so generously tendered. Should the action of the Chicago Convention receive the approval of the people, I shall, to the best of my humble ability, discharge with fidelity the duties of the important trust confided to me.

Reference has been made in terms of commendation to the late Democratic administration. Identified in some measure in an important branca of the public service with that administration, I am gratified to know that it has in so marked a degree received the indorsement of the Democratic party in its National Convention. I am persuaded that intelligent discussion of the issues involved in the pending contest for political supremacy, will result in victory to the party which stands for honest methods in government, economy in public expenditures, and relief to the people from the burdens of unjust taxation.

I am not unmindful, Mr. Chairman, of the grave responsibilities which attach to the great office for which I have been named. I may be pardoned for justing in this connection the words of he honored patriot, Thomas A. Hendricks, when officially informed that he had been designated by his party for the Vice-Presidency in 1884. He said:

"I know that sometimes it is understood that this particular office does not involve much responsibility, and, as a general rule, that is so. But sometimes t comes to represent very great responsibilities, and it may be so in the near future. The two parties in the Senate being so nearly evenly divided, the Vice-President may have to decide upon questions of law by the exercise of the casting vote. The responsibility would then become very great. It would not then be the responsibility of representing a district or a State. It would be the responsibility of representing the whole country, and the obligation would be to the judgment of the whole country. And that vote when thus cast should be in obedience to the just expectation and requirements of the people of the United

Should it please my countrymen to call ne to this office, the high appreciation of its dignity and of its responsibilities as expressed in the utterances and illustrated in the public life of the eminent throughout a large section of our coun- statesman whom I have mentioned -will be a light to my own pathway.

In the contest upon which we now enter we make no appeal to the passions, but to the sober judgment of the people. We believe that the welfare of the toiling millions of our countrymen is bound up in the success of the Democratic party. Recent occurrences in a neighboring State have sadly emphasized the fact that a high protective tariff affords no protection; and tends in no way to better the condition of those who earn their bread by daily toil.

Believing in the right of every voter to cast his ballot unawed by power, the Democratic party will steadily oppose all legislation which threatens to imperil that right by the interposition of Federal bayonets at the polls.

In a more formal manner hereafter, Mr. Chairman, I will indicate by letter my acceptance of the nomination tendered me by the National Democratic Convention, and will give expression to my views touching the important questions enunciated in its platform.

Mr. Cleveland Against the Force Bill.

Owing to the excitement attending the Homestead outrages, two declarations of Mr. Cleveland respecting the Force bill question did not immediately receive the universal public attention which they deserve. The first one was addressed to the Cleveland-Stevenson Club, of Middleborough, Kentucky, in the following

GRAY GABLES, BUZZARD'S BAY, Mass., July 7, 1892.

J. W. Campbell, Esq.:
My Dear Sir -1 desire to thank you for

My Dear Sir—I desire to thank you for sending me a copy of the resolutions adopted by the Democracy of Middleborough, and to assure you must the kin I allusions to me therein are fully appreciated.

I do not wouder that those adopting these resolutions speak of the Porce oill as a horror of Republicanism. Such doctrines as it embodies are a direct attack upon the spirit and the theory of our Government; and wails such a measure especially meaness the welfare and prosperity of the South, it must be condemned and denounced by all those everywhere who love their country and have the least claim to be numbered among those way believe in the principles of true Democracy. Truly yours. of true Democracy. Truly yours. GROVER CLEVELAND.

The second was addressed to a Democratic meeting neld at Piuc Bluff, Ar-

The evils and dangers that menace the The evils and dangers that menace the people of the South in case of Democratic defeat are appulling to those against whom they are especially directed; but it should not be forgetten in any quarter that those things cannot be visited upon one section of our people without eadangering the safety which all find behind an honest and faithful observance of principles upon which our entire political fabric rests.

These assurances were not needed to convince the people that the Democratic candidate will faithfully oppose every attempt to destroy home rule and State independence in managing the elections of members to Congress, and all other elections. Every Democrat is sure to stand by that fundamental principle of Democracy under all circumstances. But it is indeed encouraging to know from Mr. Cleveland himself that he fully apsorbing importance of this vital issue. Let his words and ideas be pondered and appreciated by every patriotic Democrat! -New York Sun.

WORDS OF WISDOM.

Love is a great care. Love needs no messenger to say it's Gratitute is the soil on which joy

Nothing is difficult; it is only we who are indolent.

Fortune has rarely condesceaded to be the companion of genius. The great end of all human industry is

He is truly good who desires always to bear the inspection of gool men. There is always room for a man of the attainment of happiness.

force, and he makes room for many. Happiness does away with ugliness. and even makes she beauty of beauty. Our domestic affections are the most salutary basis of all good government. Ignorance, in the midst of the refinements of society, is the most hateful of all mixtures.

Individuality is everywhere to be spared and respected as the root of everything good. No man has come to true greatness who has not felt in some degree that his life belongs to his race. A rich man is an honest man, no thanks to him, for he would be a double knave to cheat mankind when he had no need of it. It is a shameful and unseemly thing to think one thing and to speak another, but how odious to write one thing and think another.

A gentleman is one who understands and shows every mark of deterence to the claims of self-love in others, and exacts it in return from them.

Dynamite in the Thresher.

While Charles Hadlock was threshing wheat near Ogden, Utah, Saturday, a sheaf in which a dynamite cartridge had been concealed, was fed into the separator. The result was an explosion, which tore the machine to pieces and threw the threshers in all directions. It is thought two of them, whose names have not been learned, are fatally injured. There is no clew to the perpetrators of the outrage.

National Democratic Ticket

GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, A. E. STEVENSON, of Illinois.

For Congress 4th District, GALTNN A. RGBBINS, of Dallas.

Every man in the 4th district, without regard to former differbins, and democracy.

it behooves you all to go to work and perform that duty,

HON. F. L. PETTUS, of Dallas, is a candidate for Speaker of the House of Representatives. Mr. Pettus is an able legislator, and would if elected make a fine officer.

THE Alliance Herald, is to be moved to Birmingham. Montgomery is glad and the Magic city is sorry. The city of Birmingham has thus far been politically quiet, but result of this move.

The quiet of Calera was enlivened Monday evening, by the appearance of a neat little four page three column paper. It is on the comic order, and will be published semi-occasionally at 15c per month strictly in advance. For subscription or advertising contracts, address Com. Pub. Co., Calera, Alabama.

WHAT business had Bowman at a meeting of the state alliance?-Industrial News.

The same question might, with propriety, be asked as to Kolb, Gaither, Manning, Adams, Baltzell viz.: "To do dirt." Or: "To get office."

Mr. Gaston A. Robbins, the dem ocratic nominee for congress in the 4th district is one of the ablest of Alabama's young democrats, and with thorough organization and taithful, steady work he will be elected by a handsome majority. Evshould go to work now and do every thing possible to secure for him an overwhelming majority.

THE speech delivered by Hon. H. A. Herbert, at Erswell Hall Birm. itgham on Tuesday night, is one of the ablest political papers we have read in many year. His arguments are plain and conclusive, and we would that every farmer's allianceman and every voter, in fact, could read it. What would prevent the campaign committee from having 100,000 copies printed and distributed direct to the people.

HERE's a few pointers for the citizens of Calera: "To build up the town the people must stick together .two."

What the people need is information. Information that they may intelligently condemn where con-demation is needed, and may approve and sustain where to approve and sustain is the merest justice to those who have been faithful and true. To keep from the people the truth, is an injustice which would be surely condemned; to impart to the people the truth is the sworn duty of all national efficers, and the man or men who object to the people having information, whether favorable or unfavorable, provided it be true, shows that they have interests to work out unfavorable to the public interests, which will not stand the light of truth.

The above is taken from that well edited but third party organ, the National Economist, edited and published by the notorious Macune at Washington. While we agree with every word of the above extract, we have had evidences every day for the past nine or ten months to prove that its teaching have not been practiced by the party of which the Economist is the national organ.

When the late campaign opened in our state, every one knows that the deluded followers of the Ocala and St. Louis platforms or theories were enjoined from hearing honest and able men discuss the fallacies ences, should now prepare to enter and inexpediences of these odious the campaign for Cleveland, Rob- measures. They were also induced to attend all the meetings where shrewd and slick tongued debaters No democrat can be in doubt as put forth theories-not truthsto the nominees of the party for wherein the obnoxious clauses of president and member to congress their third or so-called people's in the 4th Alabama district. Then party platform were made to appear every democrat knows his duty, and benefical to them, and as a sequence, justice to all, but when one desired to hear both sides discussed before deciding, falsehoods were presented t) keep him from hearing the opposite side discussed or presented. These are facts that no intelligent man will dare to question.

If the party of which the Economist is the national organ had been liberal in the discussion of the issues and truths involved in the late campaign in Alabama, and had been willing to hear that they might "inthere is no telling what will be the telligently condemn where condemnation was needed, and sustain where to approve and sustain is the merest justice to those who have been faithful and true," a different state affairs would exist. Prejudice, illfeeling among neighbors, tendencies towards anarchy and disobedience to law, would be different. Democracy would be in the ascendency as a political organization, the alliance, as an agricultural society, would be prosperous. But with editarrison. Sweet was renominated the reverse practiced as a rule, the former is divided into two factions, and the latter is a thing of the past with whatever benefits that might have accrued from it to the farmer and others who were present; and utterly destroyed-all through negcan be answered in three words, ligence of the Economist's teaching,

ONE W. C. Fountain, of beat -Perry county, widely known in the takes and obey the law. They have too much at stake and are too high toned confines of North Perry in his young manhood as a "do-ra-me singer," in latter days as assistant lecturer of his sub-alliance and able (?) correspondent of the Alliance Herald, is a candidate for congress on the third party platform, Bill is a good ery democratic club in the district fellow in his way, but he has missed his calling. It is rather amuseing to think how Bill announced himself: He heard of a great mass meeting that was to be held at the court house of Lawless Bibb, and got some one to show him the way up there. After Burn his-arm-off had held his enthusiastic meeting composed of about 30 alliancemen, or the other.—New York Press. don't like for other people to get 'Jim Brown of Bibb" refusing to take part-Bill was called on for a speech, and rose up and annouced port of Grover Cleveland. that he was a candidate for congress subject to the action of the people's party convention. He denounced the democratic and republican parties alike and "pespluvicated" for Weaver and Ocala demands.

THE Kolbites of Cherokee county, like brick dust to a bar of soap. held a meeting a few drys ago, and There must be no wrangling or jeal- pledged fidelity to the national dem ousies existing. They must unite ocratic party and its nominee. They in the establishment of a good and spoke in this plain and pointed lanpermanent school. Property own- guage: "Resolved, That we stand ers in town must offer inducements with both feet-without tiptoe-on the local papers, vote the straight, This is straight goods, all wool and the latter was decidedly his forte. unadulterated and uncompromised a yard wide. Every volce from the

The Best Place to Secure a Business Education is at the

NEW WORLE

Send for Circular,

M. M. FIELDS, Vice President

LEONARD LIPPMAN, President.

G. F. HART, Secretary and Treasurer.

POLITICAL AND OTHERWISE.

TAKEN FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

In 1880 Weaver ran for President on the greenback platform and aided in the election of Garfield. In 1892 he is running on the third party platform in suggested by the following beautiful lines: the interest of Ben Harrison.

The records of the two men prove that Weaver is by far the worse South nater than Harrison.

The county assessor's books for 1892 show that the total assessed value for real estate in Tuscaloosa county is $2.789,948.80. and the total assessed value of personal property is $2,569,830 Making a grand total of $5,359,778.80. On the above amount the State tax amounts to $21,568,.78, the county tax to $24,120.85 and the soldiers tax to

The Republican State Convention of Idaho nominated Ex-Senator McConnel for Governor, adopted the free sil-

for Congress. Unless the people who supported Kolb for Governor are a very different people to what we think they are, the most of them will be unable to approve of the Alliance Herald's recommendation to refuse to pay the necessary taxes to keep up the government. The people in Alabama are a law abiding people, and such outragious appeals as the Alliance Herald in its deeperation is making will surely go unheaded. These Alabama people will pay their people for such appeals to do anything but fall to the ground.

The democrats are on the right side of the great issue which divides the parties. The bulk of the people are with them for tariff reform. They have the numbers, the conscience, the enthusiasm of the country, but they haven't so nobly figot the money. For every dollar of theirs the republicans have a hundred. There is no blinking this tremendous of the good advantage. No practical man needs to direction. be fold what money, even when hon-estly spent, can do in politics. The need of the hour, therefore, is organization.—San Francisco Examiner.

marks, however, of having had a large what column they are reading in.

es and bess rule should rally to the sup- cur again.

Don't let anybody fool you into the belief that Cleveland will not be able to carry Alabama by a handsome majority.-Marion Standard.

Give us better public roads and more money for free schools, for both white and colored, and the State will be safe.

The Democratic Executive Committee of the First Congressional District of Alabama passed a resolution adopting a basis of compromise between factions of the party in the district who voted for Kolb and Jones in the recent State

A correspondent asks The Advertiser more successful at raising watermelons or cane. As he long ago quit the watermelon business and has ever since

Free and honest labor in Alabama democratic ticket, and must not expect to make a fortune in a year or well Brother Manning and the third pect to make a fortune in a year or well Brother Manning and the third victs must and will be taken from the wishes. God bless him and his.

Time from the care from the back at him and waved him my best victs must and will be taken from the wishes.

GOSSIP OF THE CRITIC.

I reckon I'm a crank, but I can't The State Legislature meets this help it. I've got peculiar notions year on the loth of November. about everything, and especially The Presidential and Congressional elections occurs on the 8th day of November.

about everything, and especially should be addressed and spheres of women. I have statistics from Statistics seen them in all conditions, in all characters, but in none do 1 find ful lines:

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

A right to tread so softly Beside the couch of pain; To smooth with gentle fingers The tangled locks again-

To watch beside the dying
In wee small hours of right;
And breathe a consecrating prayer When the spirit takes its flight.

A right to cheer the weary On the battlefields of life: To give the word of sympathy Amid the toil and strife: To lift the burden gently

From sore and treed hear And never weary of the task Till gloomy care del a: ts.

A right to be a woman.

In truest woman's work-If life should be a tired one, No duties ever shirk— A right to show to others How strong a woman grows:

And life bears not a rose. A right to love one truly And be loved back again; A right to share his fortunes Through sunlight and trough rain.

When skies are dark and lowering,

A right to be protected From life's most cruel blights: By manly love and courage Sure these are woman's rights!

Them's my sentiments. need no comment. They include every work for which she is fitted, every work for which she is fitted, Four women are acting as police so nobly fitted, and in confining her matrons in Brooklyn, and two more are to that sphere, I cannot be accused soon to be appointed. to that sphere, I cannot be accused of the good work she is doing in any

A paragraph in the "Woman's Column" informs me that she is The Alabama democracy has not credited some of my remarks. It is tion in Australia and Germany during unficiently recovered consciousness to neculiar that those who have been the last six months than ever before. sufficiently recovered consciousness to peculiar that those who have been be able to tell whether it ran afoul of a reading the Gossip of the Critic Those democrats in Alabama who want of appreciation on the part of have been crying so loud against boss- the reader. I hope it will not oc-

> Last Sunday I saw a man and a maid sitting under an apple tree. It was a pretty sight, and recalled the days when I was want to seek out the shade of some friendly tree and linger till the sunset cast a halo over earth. He was smiling she pouting, both were happy.

The other day I sat in my buggy as the train passed. A friendly and familiar face leaned out at the winwhether Run Forever Kolb has been dow and waved his hand at me. It married now and have other loves to consume our thoughts but the same generous smile as of your greeted me from the car window. I smiled back at him and waved him my best wishes. God bless him and waved him and w was friend. We were boys togethwill wait patiently until the Legislature generous smile as of your greeted of the State does what some other states one from the car window. I smiled

WOMEN'S COLUMN.

[The Woman's Column is under the supervision of Mrs. F. W. Gist, and all communications for this department should be addressed to her at West Ce-

write number 117,756. Negro women over 24 who can write 17,182. Total mean to let the burden of her eighty women who can write 134,938. If these vears prevent her visiting the World's 117,756 citizens were to cast a vote for Cleveland this fall wouldn't that make a change in matters here in Alabama? Exposition at the head of the Philan-Don't get scared dear reader! We thropic Section. were only thinking and studying how it odist Missionary Society mot at the M. E, church on Sunday afternoon for the purpose of reviving the work, and trust they are now on a sure footing for prog-ress of the society.

will make in the Woman's Buildiding will be a model hospital, conducted entirely by women. The women physiof Calera Special reporter to this column signed for the exhibit, and the State of their church and society work. Miss Board has appropriated $6,000 to defray the expense. Annie Bristow of First Presbyterian church will please furnish us items of their work. Miss Osic Pilgreen of the M. E. church and Miss. Genie Alexan-she will be made superintendent of its New Salem M. E. church one mile ed in France in the seventeenth century. The many-colored crystals found at Hot Springs will be utilized in decoration. They their work?

The advisability of the higher educa tion of women has attracted more atten-

There are five thousand deaconessess Alabama, on cyclone or indulged in over-familiarity since the first issue do not know in Germany, and the number is steading in the street of households. It bears the what column they are reading in. I by increasing. They do nursing among 1892. the poor, work at the churches, and do more or less teaching.

and Mary Somerville in similar lines.

The intemperance of Holland men has led to the employment of women as switchtenders on the railroads, and ft is vorthy of comment that since this innovation no accidents have occured.

The first and only instance in this The first and only instance in this Sir-I made use of your Philotoken country of a woman being admitted to with my last child, in order to procure a Miss. Calhoun, one of the money handlers in the Treasury Department at Washington. Even at this rate she can detect a country felt.

Tiffany & Co., of New York , have en- y $1.00 a year.

graved the official seal of the Board of Lady Managers, from the design furnished by Miss. Sara Bodtker, of North Dakota, and presented it to the Board.

Minnehaba, the eighteen-year-old daughter of Sitting Bull, will be honor-ed with a life-size statue at the South Statistics from United States census of 1880 show white women citizens in Alabama over 21 years of age who can write number 117,756. Negro women

Baroness Burdett-Coutts does not

The New York State Board of Womwould be possible to get Cieveland elected.

**

We were glad to learn that the MethWe were glad to learn that the Meth
The Nanagers was formed last month, and it is working hard to get plans made and carried out for the great Exposition. As theirs is the Empire State they will have a pride in standing at the bard of organized work for further and the learn that the Meththe head of organized work for further-ing women's laterests at the Fair.

The exhibit which Illinois women surgeous of the State and the We herewith appoint and request Illinois Training School for Nurses will manage the matter. These rooms in the Woman's Building have been as-

Miss. Jean Longborough's plan for

REGISTER'S SALE.

Morgan & Lapsley,

and by vir-The largest business in America A. M. Elliott, Trustee, et al.) tue of a dehandled by a woman is the Money Or der Department of Pittsburg post office.

Mary Steele has it in charge.

cree rendered at the Spring term, 1892, of the Chancery Court of Shelby county, Alabama, in the above entitled cause, i will proceed to sell, under the power contained in a Mortgage from H. M. Pierce, et al, to A. M. Elliott, trustee, at public outery, in front of the Court House door in the town of Columbiana.

between the legal hours of sale, for eash, the following described real estate, situ-The story goes that both Charles Egbert Craddock and Mrs. A. D. T. Weitney are devoted to fancy work—a fact recalling the proficiency of Jane Austen range 2, west; and the oast balk of north east quarter, section 2, township 24, range 13, east.

This, August 11, 1892. D. R. McMILLAN, Register and Acting Trustee.

aug13-10w prs fee$16.50 IMPORTANT TO LADIES

a man's hospital, in a professional capacity, is in the case of the recent appointment of Dr. Mary Putnam Jacobi as visiting physician of St. Mark's Hospital, New York.

Safe and easy travil. I used it about two months before my expected time, and I had a very quick and easy confinement. Nothing occurred to protract my convalescence, and I got about in Eighty-five thousand coins in a single less time than was usual for me. I think

RAILROAD TIME TABLE.

		Z.12-D.1313.
	LOUISVILLE &	NASHVILLE.
No. 1	, South Bound	4:53 a. m
 3	, 44	4:14 p. m
" 9	,	5:10 a. m
" 2	, North Bound
4.	 	10:05 p. m.
" 10	, 46 66	7:15 p. m

ALABAMA MINERAL.

85, Arrives at 86, Departs at

4:35 p. m. 10:25 a. m.

INSURE YOUR LIFE. Read and profit by the following sound counsel, every word of which smarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel:

"It is a duty you owe to yourself and amily to protect them with a reasonable amount of life insurance, where the stoums of the financial world cannot Journal office a moment to see the touch them; where the assessor cannot tax them; where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old rege should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do your duty and insure immediately in some good, old reliable Company."—Extract from a sermon by the Rev. T. De-Witt Talmage.

COUNTY OFFICERS. Probate Judge—R. W. Cobb. Circuit Clerk—W. R. A. Milner. Sheriff—W. R. Carter. Register in Chancery—D. R. McMil-

Tax Collector-E. F. Vest. Tax Assessor-W. II. Kidd.

County Trersurer-A. W. Strickland. Superintendent of Education-T. N.

County Solicitor-J. L. Peters. County Commissioners—John E. Dycey, T. B. McClusky, R. F. Johnson, D. C. Davis.

AT THE CHURCHES. PRESENTERIAN—Services on the 4th Sundays in each month, morning and bath school at 9:30.

Baptist Church--Rev. J. G. Lowrey, pastor. Preaching every first and second Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting at 7.00 p. m., every Thursday.

CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN-J.

ONE DOLLAR WEEKLY

Buys a good gold watch by our club system. Our 14-karat gold-filled cases are warranted for 20 years. Fine Elgin or Waltham movement, stem wind and set. Lady's or gent's size. Equal to any $50 watch. To secure agents where we have watch. To see the agents where we have none, we sell one of the hunting case watches for the club price, $28, and send C. O. D. by express with privilege of examination before paying for same.

Our agent at Durham, N. C., writes:
"Our jewelers have confessed they don't bear watcher warmen with works."

for the money,"
Our agent at Pennington, Texas,
writes "Am in receipt of the watch and am pleased without measure. All who have seen it say it would be cheap

One good reliable agent wanted for each place. Write for particulars.

EMPIRE WATCH CO., New York

HUGH T. CAFFEY,

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON CALERA, ALA.

feb12-1y.

1. L. PETERS. HENRY WILSON, E. S. LYMAN

Peters, Wilson & Lyman. ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

The Birmingham News at Reduced Rates,

During the month of July, the Birmingham News will be mailed to any address at the following rates. The Daily News published every afternoon and Sunday morning, four months for $1.50; the Sunday News four months

G. Jones.

The News is the leading afternoon newspaper of the State, and will furnish all the news political and otherwise du-ring the coming campaign in a crisp and

Now is the time to subscribe. Sample copies sent on application. Ad-

THE NEWS. Birmingham, Ala.

SOMETHING MICE FREE. salyour address to B. W. Wrenn, Gen. Pass. Agent., Prenn. Virginia & Georgia Lines, Knoxville, pn., and be will send you a handsome lithographic, postage par still looking young as ever.

Mr. and Mrs. Randall have been quite unwell, but are almost well

County court has been in session the past week, and our attorneys have been in attendance.

Mr. Abe Steine, who was knocked on the head by the negro some days ago, is able to be up again.

Pencil pushing is hard business since the late excitement between the opposing candidates for office. Calera has had many prominent visitors this week, as delegates to the fourth congressional convention. Armstrong & Killingsworth are keeping some fine fresh meat at the market house, the basement under Wrights' drug store. Miss. Stella Pratt, of Six Mile, has been visiting in Calera this week. We were glad to see her at ries. our home one day

Our terms for advertising are reasonable and liberal discount will be made to those desiring yearly or quarterly contracts.

Mrs. Sam Curry, of Chilton county, Mrs. Barefield, of South Calera, and Mrs. Thomas, of Chil-

Mr. Howard on the corner near the railroad, keeps cool cider, lemonade, and nice confectionaries, and besides he has some of the finest pears in the market.

Thanks are due and are hereby tendered to one of the lady contributors to the "Women's Column," for a list of 15 subscribers. Who will be the next to receive our thanks for like favors?

The L. & N. Mineral has a daily mail service since the 15th inst., which is quite a convenience to the towns along this line. It arrives at a little after 4 p. m., and leaves after 10, a. m.

Talladega and Calera crossed to Burns and Robbins. bats on the Calera diamond on Thursday evening last. The game was a close one, resulting in a score of 5 to 6 in favor of Talladega.

Mr. Walter Duran, one of our night; pastor to be supplied. Sabbath school at 9:30 a. m. cleverest and handsomest young men of Calera, returned Monday men of Calera, returned Monday METHODIST—Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night after an absence of several days visit to Eadesbrook Springs, by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sab-Tenn., and is again installed in the Lime office.

> Brig. Gen'l. Werderman, the popular shoe man, is back again ready for orders in his line. The general has been up in the mountains where > Times-Mail. The Captain is still looking well, and bids fair to continue in the newspaper business for many years yet.

The Journal is offering 25 per cent for subscriptions. Send in the money and names, retaining to advertise in a weekly in this county, will receive as much beneknow how you can furnish such works fit from a notice in this paper as working since the 10th. We have not Be careful, Bro, you'll be boycot-

> Col. John P. West, representative elect from this county, has next door neighbor to the editor of tie. Scores 12 to 12-nine innings. the JOURNAL, and we shall try to the general assembly convenes, and ana last week. will go with him to the capital.

The Calera base ball team went up to Columbiana Tuesday, and the nine of the court house town in an interesting game on their diamond. Montevallo. The playing resulted in a score of 9 to 10 in favor of Calera. It was 36. a quiet gan:e, all parties being satisfied with the decisions of Umpire Icardi. Our club returned with many praises for the Columbiana team. Tally and Stocking pitched in this place next week, beginning the for Calera and Milner for Columbi- 31st. Preparations are being made for OF THE STATE OF AL

The 35th session of the Six Mile able to attend. academy for boys and girls will open up under the supervision of that same grand and big hearted it spoken of. Its only Cleveland and preceptor, Capt. R. H. Pratt, on Stevenson. for Twenty-five cents, payable in advance. The News is fearlessly Democratic and supports regularly organized Democracy of the State headed by Thos.

September 26th, 1892. Those who have either boys or girls to send away from home to school can do no better than to send them to Six Mile. It is evidently a healthy ocation, and the instruction is very sick a few weeks is now improvthorough and the students are un- ing. der the immediate care of two of the best people in the State, besides Prof. Pratt's assistant teachers are always of the very best selection. Church and Sabbath city. Mr. Shaw has preached some in any city. There being three of the Covenant. churches in reach of the village, Methodist, Baptist, and C. P., and the cost is less than at home.

Gip West was in town Monday, THE FOURTH CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.

MEETS IN THE QUIET TOWN OF CALE-

RA-HARMONIOUS SESSION-SEV-EN CANDIDATES VOTED FOR. Last Thursday morning the sun

rose bright and shown warm. A goodly number of the delegates to the convention arrived Wednesday evening and night, and before 12 band, just as a section of it did at Appom, the town was full of politicians, mattox." candidates and lookers on.

At a few minutes before 1, p. m., Hon John B. Knox, chairman of the tonished beyond measure that a party vention to order by naming D. T. Goodwin as temporary chairman.

Judge J. T. Burton, of Cleburne and R. E. L. Niel, of the Selma Journal, were made temporary secreta-

After a committee on credentials was appointed, the convention adjourned until 3 o'clock.

On re-assembling the committee on credentials reported and the report was adopted.

The temporary organization was made permanent, and nominations were declared in order.

The following gentleman' were put in nomination: W. H. Lane, of Calhoun, Cecil Browne, of Talladega, G. A. Robbins, J. F. Burns, A. Erwin, of Dallas.

The first ballot was cast as follows and each succeeding ballot to the twenty-eighth resulted the same ing the defunct Democracy with all its

Lane 8, Burns 11; Robbins 10; Erwin 5, Browne 15, Forney 5,

On motion the convention adjourned to meet in the lobby of the Vanderbilt Hotel at 8:30, p. m.

When the convention assembled the name of Mr. Erwin of Dalias was withdran, his five votes going slight change until the 70th ballot which gave Forney 24, and a recess crimes they have committed and the wretched miseries inflicted upon our was had. After the recess the roll of counties was called for the 71st, but before the ballot was finished,

SCRAPS FROM SHELBY.

On Sunday evening last as several men supposed to have been from Cale- have nothing to take back with re-Dalton, pastor. Preaching every first and third Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday eveningsat 7:30. Children's Band meets 3:30 p. m. each 1st and 3rd Sunday. Ladies' Aid Society every other Friday eveningsat 3.

We were glad to see with the Dallas delegation to the convention of the convention. Capt. H. C. Graham of the groes were commanded to "remain" Calera, they suddenly came upon a News, run down to Blocton last tion, Capt. H. C. Graham, of the groes were commanded to "remain quiet" which they all did with the ex- ocrats organize a Clrveland Club. ception of one who took to flight. As Bro. Rhodes, what right have you the negro did not obey repeated sum- to willfully enter the sacred domons to "halt," he was fired upon with mains of Hon. Rev. Burn-his-arma shot gun loaded with bird shot which off Adams, and engage in such undid no serious damage. After the shooting, (it is needless to say that he immediately surrendered,) the wound-teachings—and, that too, when his the commission. Parties wishing ed negro was taken to the drug store loyal subjects were in another part one of his laborers who had been of town organizing a Weaver club? where Mr. Christian identified him as any in the central part of the state. since heard of the negro nor the men ted soon. that did the shooting.

A game of base ball between Shelby's moved to the residence formerly occupied by Mr. Going. He is now colored team on Thursday ended in a clared in favor of Cleveland. Hon.

lumbiana Seedtickers two amateur base ball clubs crossed bats in this

The farmers report "too much rain ample. for crops."

The Baptist convention will be held the accommodation of all who may be

No one seems much concerned in the congressional election We never hear ate soldiers and sailors, and the wid-

Mr. Geo. Morgan of Montevallo was in the city a few days this week.

Maj. T. H. Hopkins who has been

Mr. Dave Green of Talladega Springs spent Tuesday in the city.

Rev. Mr. Shaw of Atlanta is in the

Capt. T. G. Bush was in the city on Wednesday, and returned to Annison Thursday,

WEAVER'S UTTERANCES

He said at Albia on July, '66:

"I want to congratulate you first, felow-citizens, on the suppression of purey Democratic rebellion, gotten up by Democrats for the democratic purpose of dissevering this Union and perpetually estaplishing human slavery. Now and forever it is established as an eternal truth that the Democracy in no place or State can ever be trusted with government. As a party it should dis-

He said at Centreville in '67:

"Again has the Democratic party of Iowa spoken. Why, sir, I am astonexecutive committee, called the con- with a record so utterly vile and wretched and wicked should be so lost to all shame and decency as to make an appearance before the loyal people of

> "They should be trampling in the wilderness of oblivion, and never more

He said in a joint debate with Col. H. H. Trimble, at Bloomfield on September 4, '68:

"Here we have the old fight over again. The Confederate Democracy, North and south, in which the infamous copperhead division of Iowa appears, are contesting with Grant for the safety of the Union. As at Donelson, he proposes to 'move on their works at once,' and there is no escape for this rank. traitorous horse, except in an other surrender. Charge on them, fellow Republicans, and spare not one, not even a deputy road supervisor, from total political annihilation."

He said in Bloomfield on September

"What is the use of further arraignhoary crimes, at the bar of public opinion? We know that its acts comprise murder, treason, theft, arson, fraud perjury, and all crimes possible for an organization to connive at."

He said in Fairfield September, '70: "The democracy, as usual, are loud in their opposition, but what did they ever do when they had a chance? Here in Iowa they stole the school fund and nationally they stole the arsenals the Navy, the Treasury, every thing that was not red hot, and created the very devil's rebellion. And these men appear and ask for your support. They The ballotting continued with pear and ask for your support. They should come on bended knees asking your forgiveness for the unspeakable common country."

"But, then, what could you expect from the poor, blind, diseased decrepit, dismal damned old Democratic party?—Speech at Stiles September 11, 1873.

"These and other similar extracts from his speeches were read in his hearing on the floor of the House of Representatives, July 10, 1888, when he declared as follows: 'I gard to my course."

EDITOR RHODES, of the Evening night to help Jones and Kolb dem-

THE county officers of Tallspoosa, Coosa and Cherokee, have de-Thos. Tumlin, senator elect from Shelby was well represented in the DeKalb and Cherokee on the Kolb keep him straight and all right till Sunday School convention at Columbi- ticket, has also declared. It is quite a different thing when the The Shelby Trundlebedders and Co- fight is outside of the family.

> The whole democracy of the State base ball clubs crossed bats in this place a few days ago. The result was a defeat for the Trundlebedders. Ccore, Trundlebedders 28, Seedtickers 36.
>
> The farmers report "too much 18in this place a few days ago. The result was a defeat for the Trundlebedders. W. H. Denson for Congress in the 7th. District. He is a clean-cut Democrat, who has been aggressive in his fight for integrity of the party. We hope the other Districts will follow the 7th's example.

> > Confederate Soldiers Relief Fund.

OF THE STATE OF ALABAMA, respective counties.

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 18, 1892.) To the Probate Judges of Alabama:

The fund for the relief of confederows of deceased confederate soldiers and sailors, will be available immediately after the close of the fiscal year, tc-wit: September 30, after which time warrants for the amount due each applicant will be drawn and forwarded to the probate judges of their

> Very respectfully. JOHN PURIFOY, Auditor.

No man claiming to be a democrat can frame any reason why he should vote against Cleveland. There is no School advantages are as good as very interesting sermons at the church one save Cleveland, claiming to be the democratic presidential nominee. If the latter is not correct then let any one claiming to be a democrat tell us

PURE BLOOD GOOD HEALTH

Now is the time for everyone who cherishes good health, to pay particular attention to the condition of their blood and its proper circulation. Nearly all diseases that flesh is heir to a e caused and agravated by an impure condition of the blood and a sluggish circulation.

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS Possessing Extraordinary Cleansing Powers

Restoring and Strengthening the whole System. Enriching the Blood producing increased vitality by restoring an impaired digestion and bringing back the bloom of youth to the cheek of the enfeebled and emaciated.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle-6 Bottles for $5.00.

For Sale by All Druggists.

Nabors, Morrow, & Sinnige.

SOLE CONTROLERS,

Birmingham.

WORDS ABOUT THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION. Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers, 12 Pages.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT.

papers.

2. It is invaluable to the tarmer and throughout the south.
the farmer's family, bringing each week cheer to the fireside and happiness to mus and a host of other special writers.

world, having its correspondents scattered over the globe, and having a thorthe sturdy champion of the agricultural ough news service from every important interests of the south. news center in the world.

18. It pays more money for its special features and for its news service than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any weekly newspaper in America.

19. It is the cheapest, being only One whose service is retained by the Constitution at great expense.

20. It is the cheapest, being only One Dollar ser year, each paper at the price of a postage stamp. Think of it! Every time a hen lays an egg she pays for one issue of the greatest weekly newsparer in America.

1. It is the best of all weekly news- "Aunt Susie," the editress of these de-are engaged by the year, and their inim-3. It covers the news of the whole itable sketches appear each week. orld, having its correspondents scat-

8. It pays more money for its special

Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of your neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulated home should be without it.

Agents Wanted in every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information. THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

-FINE MILLINERY--

Mrs. S. H. McCauley's.

NEAR THE DEPOT.

Wontevallo, -- Ala.

A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hats in the Latest Styles, and at Reasonable Prices. Handkerchiefs & Hosiery.

Saturday Sales at $1

Harness A Saddles.

DEALERS IN HARDWARE & TINWARE.

TARCON WATERIAL Stock of Dynamite and Fuse, and empty and loaded

Shells always on Hand. 118 19TH STREET, BIRMINCHAM.

Banking House of

W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co.,

CALERA; ALABAMA. Receive Deposits,

merchants, manufacturers and planters alike.

Negotiate Loans,

Issue interest bearing certificates of Deposit, and sell exchange on New York Louisville and Birmingham at regular rates cyarged by the larger cities.

We transact a general banking business, such as that of any incorporated bank in all of its legitimate branches, and would be pleased to open accounts with

and Life Insurance

Written in the best companies.

CITY PROPERTY AND FARM LANDS

Bought, Sold and Rented upon just terms.

Subject: "Pre-Eminent "Preached in London.

TEXT: "He that cometh from above is above all."—John iii., 31.

The most conspicuous character of history The most conspicuous character of history steps out upon the platform. The finger which, diamonded with light, pointed down to Him from the Bethlehem sky was only a ratification of the finger of prophecy, the finger of genealogy, the finger of chronology, the finger of events—all five fingers pointing in one direction. Christ is the overtopping figure of all time. He is the vox humana in all music, the gracefulest line in all sculpture, the most exquisite mingling of lights and shades in all painting, the acme of all climaxes, the dome of all cathedraled grandeur and the peroration of all splendid laneur and the peroration of all splendid lan-

The Greek alphabet is made up of twenty-

The Greek alphabet is made up of twentyfour letters, and when Christ compared Himself to the first letter and the last letter, the alpha and the omega, He appropriated to Himself all the splendors that you can spell out either with those two letters and all letters between them. "I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last." Or, if you prefer the words of the text, "above all."

It means, after you have piled up all Alpine and Himalayan altitudes, the glory of Christ would have to spread its wings and descend a thousand leagues to touch those summits. Pelion, a high mountain of Thessaly; Ossa, a high mountain, and Olympus, a high mountain; but mythology tells us when the giants warred against the gods they piled up these three mountains, and from the top of them proposed to scale the heavens; but the height was not great enough and there was a complete failure.
And after all the giants—Isaiah and Paul, prophetic and apostolic giants; Raphael and And after all the giants—Isaiah and Paul, prophetic and apostolic giants; Raphael and Michael Angelo, artistic giants; cherubim and seraphim and archangel, celestial giants—have failed to climb to the top of Christ's glory, they might all well unite in the words of the text and say, "He that cometh from above is above all."

First, Christ must be above all else in our preaching. There are so many books on homiletics scattered through the world that all laymen, as well as all clergymen, have made up their minds what sermons ought to be. That sermon is most effectual which made up their minds what sermons ought to be. That sermon is most effectual which most pointedly puts forth Christ as the pardon of all sin and the correction of all evil, individual, social, political, National. There is no reason why we should ring the There is no reason why we should ring the endless changes on a few phrases. There are those who think that if an exhortation or a discourse have frequent mention of justification, sanctification, covenant of works and covenant of grace, that therefore it must be profoundly evangelical, while they are suspicious of a discourse which presents the same truth, but under different phrase-place.

ology.

Now, I say there is nothing in all the opulent realm of Anglo-Saxonism or all the word treasurers that we inherited from the word treasurers that we innertied from Latin and the Greek and the Indo-Europ but we have a right to marshal it in religious discussion. Christ sets the example. His illustrations were from the grass, the flowers, the spittle, the salve, the barnyard fowl, the crystals of salt, as well as from the sees and the stars, and we do not propose in our Sabbath-school teaching and in our pulpit address to be put on the limits.

I know that there is a great deal said in our day against words, as though they were nothing. They may be misused, but they have an importal power. They are they our day against words, as though they were nothing. They may be misused, but they have an imperial power. They are the bridge between soul and soul, between Almighty God and the human race. What did God write upon the tables of stones? Words. What did Christ utter on Mount Oliver? Words. Out of what did Christ strike the words of the illumination of the universe? words. Out of what did Christ strike the spark for the illumination of the universe? Out of words. "Let there be light," and light was. Of course thought is the cargo and words are only the ship; but how fast would your cargo get on without the ship? What you need, my friends, in all your work, in your Sabbath school class, in your seferment win stitutions and what we all reformatory institutions, and what we all need is to enlarge our vocabulary when we come to speak about God and Christ and heaven. We ride a few old words to death when there is such illimitable resource. Shakespeare employed fifteen thousand different words for dramatic purposes. Milton employed eight thousand different words for employed eight thousand different words for poetic purposes, Rutus Choate employed over eleven thousand different words for legal purposes, but the most of us have less than a thousand words that we can manage, less than five hundred, and that makes us so stupid.

When we come to set forth the love of Christ we are going to take the tenderest phraseology wherever we find it, and if it has never been used in that direction before, has never been used in that direction before, all the more shall we use it. When we come to speak of the glory of Christ, the Conqueror, we are going to draw our similes from triumphal arch and oratorio and everything grand and stupendous. The French navy have eighteen flags by which they give significant those significant flags they are not. have eighteen flags by which they give signal; but those eighteen flags they can put into sixty-six thousand different combinations. And I have to tell you that these standards of the cross may be lifted into combinations infinite and varieties everlasting. And let me say to young men who are after awhile going to preach Jesus Christ, you will have the largest liberty and unlimited resource. You only have to present Christ in your own way. Christ in your own way.

an Edwards preached Christ in the severest argument ever penned, and John Bunyan preached Christ in the sublimest allegory ever composed. Edward Payson, Bunyan preached Christ in the sublimest allegory ever composed. Edward Payson, sick and exhausted, leaned up against the side of the pulpit and wept out his discourse. While George Whitefield, with the manner, and the voice, and the start of an actor, overwhelmed his auditory. It would have been a different thing if Jonathan Edwards had tried to write and dream about the pilorim's progress to the calestial city or John grim's progress to the celestial city or John Bunyan had attempted an essay on the Brighter than the light, fresher than the fountains, deeper than the seas are all these Gospel themes. Song has no melody, flowers Gospel themes. Song has no melody, flowers have no sweetness, sunset sky has no color compared with these glorious themes. These harvests of grace spring up quicker than we can sickle them. Kindling pulpits with their fire, and producing revolutions with their glory, they are the sweetest thought for the poet, and they are the most thrilling illustration for the orator, and they offer the most intense scene for the artist, and they are to the embassador of the sky all enthusiasm. Complete pardon for direct they are to the embassador of the sky ail enthusiasm. Complete pardon for direct guilt. Sweetest comfort for ghastliest agony. Brightest hope for grimmest death. Grandest resurrection for darkest sepulcher. Oh, what a gospel to preach! Christ over all in it. His birth, His suffering, His miracles, His parables, His sweat, His tears, His blood, His atonement, His intercession, what glorious themes? Do we exercise faith? Christ is its object. Do we have love? It fastens on Jesus. Have we a fondness for the church? It is because Christ died for it, Have we a hope of heaven? It is because Jesus went ahead, the herald and the forerunner.

Tunner.
The royal robe of Demetrius was so costly, so beautiful, that after he had put it off no one ever dared put it on; but this robe of Christ, richer than that, the poorest and the wanest and the worst may wear. "Where sin abounded grace may much more abound."

abound."

"Oh, my sins, my sins," said Martin Luther to Staupitz; "my sins, my sins."

The fact is that the brawny German student had found a Latin Bible that had made him quake, and nothing else ever did make him quake; and when he found how, through Christ, he was pardoned and saved he wrote to a friend, saying: "Come over and join us great and awful sinners saved by the grace of God. You seem to be only a grace of God. You seem to be only a slender sinner, and you don't much extol the mercy of God; but we who have been such very awful sinners praise His grace the more that we have been redeemed."

Can it be that you are so desperately egotistical that you feel yourself in first rate spiritual trim, and that from the root of the hair to the tip of the toe you are scarless and immaculate? What you need is a looking-glass, and here it is in the Bible. Poor ing-glass, and here it is in the Bible. Poor and wretched and miserable and blind, and naked from the crown of the head to the sole of the foot, full of wounds and putrefying sores. No health in us. And then take the fact that Christ gatherel up all the notes against us and paid them and then offered us the receipt offered us the receipt.

And how much we need Him in our sorrows! We are independent of circumstances if we have His grace. Why, He made Paul sing in the dungeon, and under that grace St. John from desolate Patmos heard rathy with the morphidity a broad depart our rathy with the morbidity abroad about our demise. The Emperor of Constantinople arranged that on the day of his coronation the stonemason should come and consult him about his tombstone that after awhile he would need. And there are men who are monomaniacal on the subject of departure from the life by death and the great they from this life by death, and the more they think of it the less they are prepared to go. This is an unmanliness not worthy of you, not worthy of me.

the blast of the apocalyptic trumpets.

the blast of the apocalyptic trumpets. After all other candles have been snuffed out, this is the light that gets brighter and brighter unto the perfect day; and after, under the hard hoofs of calamity, all the pools of worldly enjoyment have been trampled into deep mire, at the foot of the eternal rock the Christian, from cups of granite, lily rimmed and vine covered, puts out the thirst of his soul.

Again, I remark that Christ is above all in dying alleviations. I have not any sym-Saladin, the greatest conqueror of his day, while dying, ordered the tunic he had on him to be carried after his death on a spear at the head of his army, and then the soldier, ever and anon, should stop and say: "Behold, all that is left of Saladin, the Emperor and conqueror. Of all the States he conquered, of all the wealth he accumulated, nothing did he retain but this shroud." I have no sympathy with such behavior or such absurb demonstration or with much that we hear uttered in regard with much that we hear uttered in regard to departure from this life to the next. There is a commonsensical idea on this subject that you and I need to consider—that there behavior or such absurb demonstration of are only two styles of departure.

A thousand feet underground, by light of A thousand feet underground, by light of torch, toiling in a miner's shaft a ledge of rock may fall upon us, and we may die a miner's death. Far out to sea, falling from the slippery ratines and broken on the halyards, we may die a sailor's death. On mission of mercy in hospital, amid broken hones and recking leavesies and recking bones and reeking leprosies and raging fever, we may die a philanthropist's death. On the field of battle, serving God and our country, the gun carriage may roll over us and we may die a patriot's death. But, after all, there are only two styles of departure; the death of the righteous and the parture: the death of the righteous and the death of the wicked, and we all want to die the former.

God grant that when that hour comes you may be at home! You want the hand of your kindred in your hand. You want your children to surround you. You want the light on your pillow from eyes that have long reflected your love. You want the room still. You do not want any curious strangers standing expound watching your long reflected your love. You want the room still. You do not want any curious strangers standing around watching you. You want your kindred from afar to hear your last prayer. I think that is the wish of all of us. But is that all? Can earthly friends hold us when the billows of death come up to the girdle? Can human voice charm open heaven's gate? Can human hands pilot us through the narrows of death into heaven's harbor? Can an earthly friendship shield us from the arrows of death and in the hour when saten shall practice upon us his infernal archery? No, no, no, no! Alas! poor soul, if that is all. Better die in the wilderness, far from tree shadow and from fountain, alone, vultures circling through the air waiting for our body, unknown to men, and to have no burial, if only Christ could say through the solitudes, "I will never leave thee, I will never forsake thee." From that pillow of stone a ladder would soar heavenward, angels coming and going; and across the solitude and the barrenness would come the sweet notes of heavenly minstrelsy.

solitude and the barrenness would come the sweet notes of heavenly minstrelsy.

Toward the last hour of our earthly residence we are speeding. When I see the sunset I say, "One day less to live." When I see the spring blossoms scattered I say, "Another season gone forever." When I close this Bible on Sabbath night I say, "Another Sabbath departed." When I bury a friend I say, "Another earthly attraction gone forever." What nimble feet the years have! The roebucks and the lightnings run not so fast. From decade to decade, from sky to sky they go at a bound.

There is a place for us, whether marked

There is a place for us, whether marked or not, where you and I will sleep the last sleep, and the men are now living who will with solemn tread carry us to our resting place. Aye, it is known in heaven whether our departure will be a coronation or a ban-ishment. Brighter than a banqueting hall through which the light feet of the dancers through which the light feet of the dancers go up and down to the sound of trumpeters will be the sepulchre through whose rifts the holy light of heaven streameth. God will watch you. He will send His angels to guard your slumbering ground until at Christ's behest they shall roll away the

So also Christ is above all in heaven. The Bible distinctly says that Christ is the chief theme of the celestial ascription, all the thrones facing His throne, all the palms waved before His face, all the crowns down at His feet. Cherubim to cherubim, seraphim to seraphim, redeemed spirit to redeemed spirit shall recite the Saviour's earthly sacrifice.

Stand on some high hill of heaven and in Stand on some high hill of heaven and in all the radiant sweep the most glorious object will be Jesus. Myriads gazing on the scars of His suffering, in silence first, afterward breaking forth into acclamation. The martyrs, all the purer for the flame through which they passed, will say, "This is Jesus, for whora we died." The apostles, all the happier for the shipwreck and the scourging through which they went, will say, "This is the Jesus whom we preached at Corinth, and at Cappadocia, and at Antioch, and at Jerusalem." Little children clad in white will say, "This is the Jesus who took us in His arms and blessed us, and when the storms of the world were too cold. who took us in His arms and blessed us, and when the storms of the world were too coid and loud brought us into this beautiful place." The multitudes of the bereft will say, "This is the Jesus who comforted us when our hearts broke." Many who had wandered clear off from God and plunged into vagabondism, but saved by grace, will say: "This is the Jesus who pardoned us. We were guilty and He made us white as snow." Mercy boundless, grace unparalleled. And then, after each one has recited his peculiar deliverances and peculiar mercies, recited then, after each one has recited his peculiar deliverances and peculiar mercies, recited them as by solo, all the voices will come together in a great chorus, which shall make the arches echo and re-echo with the eternal reverberation of gladness and peace and tri-

Edward I was so anxious to go to the Edward I was so anxious to go to the Holy Land that when he was about to expire he bequeathed $160,000 to have his heart, after his decease, taken to the Holy Land in Asia Minor, and his request was complied with. But there are hundreds today whose hearts are already in the holy land of heaven. Where your treasures are there are your hearts also. John Buuyan, of whom I spoke at the opening of the discourse, caught a glimpse of that place, and in his quaint way he said: "And I heard in my dream, and lo! the bells of the city rang again for joy; and as they opened the gates my dream, and lo! the bells of the city rang again for joy; and as they opened the gates to let in the men I looked in after them, and lo! the city shone like the sun, and there were streets of gold, and men walked on them, harps in their bands, to sing praises with all, and after that they shut up the gates, which when I had seen I wished myself among them!"

The great Mexican main drainage tunnel, work on which has been for some time suspended because of difficulty with water, is to be pushed again. Matters have now been arranged with the Mexican Government, and an English firm will continue the work

WONDERS OF A TORNADO.

Curious Things Wrought by Its Marvelous

Force. In Kansas they are telling a lot of most wonderful tales as to what was done by the recent tornado. Here are some of the choicest:

In Greenwood County a boy named Willie Henderson saw his home blown away, and went to a cistern twelve fect deep for protection. There was about three feet of water in the cistern, and he sat on a lot of boards which he threw into it. A tornado took the top off, took out all the water and the boy and carried him fully a hundred feet, where he was dropped, wet to the skin, but otherwise unhurt.

Charles Anderson, living near Towanda, heard a roaring and went to the door to see what it was. As he opened the door the storm struck the house and carried it away, leaving him standing in his night-clothes just where the house had been. It took the house from under his feet, and he says he never felt a breath of wind until after the tornado had passed and the force of the gale was

A threshing-machine was standing by the side of a barn and the wind tore it to pieces. The boiler of the steam-engine was taken clear over the barn and dropped on the roof cf the house of James Donahue, crushing it in, and killing a child aged 6 and breaking Mrs. Donahue's arm. The barn was untouched.

A cow, which was standing in a stable lot near Cherryvale, was carried up to the roof of a house and deposited in such a manner that it was impossible to get her down without killing her. The family of James Gibson were standing in their door watching the storm when they saw something come rolling down the street toward them. It looked like a log, but bent and twisted in such a way as to excite their curiosity, and as it was stopped in a gutter near their house they went out to make an investigation after the storm had passed. It was the body of a young woman who had been stripped of every stitch of clothing except one stocking, and it was only by this stocking that they were enabled to identify her. It was that of Miss Belle Merritt, who was considered the most beautiful young lady in this part of the country. She was so disfigured that no semblance of her former self remained. She was alive when found, but died within a few hours without recovering consciousness.

The family of George Jackson sought shelter in a cyclone cellar told me of an amusing mistake made when the storm came up, but a big tree was thrown on the cellar and crushed through, breaking the arm of

The stripping of chickens of their localities, and several stories are told of the marvelous action of the Baby and Collie.

A gentleman in southern Connecticut not long ago brought home a collie dog, which, after the fashion of its kind, soon made itself one of the family, and assumed special responsibilities in connection with the youngest child, a little girl three years of

One day the gentleman, returning from a drive, as he neared the house noticed the dog in a pasture separated from the road by a stone wall. From behind this wall the collie would spring up, bark, and then jump down again, constantly repeating the performance.

The man left his horse and went to the spot. There he found his little girl seated on a stone, with the collie keeping guard beside her. The intelligent animal wagged his tail, and barked his delight at seeing his mas-

In the light snow the path taken by the child and dog could be plainly seen, and as the father traced it back he saw where the little girl had walked several times around an open well in the pasture. Close to the brink were prints of the baby shoes, but still closer, on the very edge of the well, were the tracks of the collie. which had evidently kept between her and the well.

The faithful creature seemed to know that upon him lay the responsibility of keeping the child from a terrible death.

Deaf. Dumb and Blind in One Minute. George Ellett, a commercial traveler, while sitting in a hotel corridor at Kansas City, a short time ago, suddenly fell forward on the floor. Friends picked him up and found that he was deaf, dumb and blind, all within a min-He was taken to his home, where he displayed consciousness by a pressure of the right hand. Surgeons, by cerebral localization, found that a clot had formed in the brain. The man was prepared for an operation, and a trephine was inserted just over the point where it was thought the clot must be. When the button of the skull bone was removed, the obstacle was found just as expected. It was the work of an hour to dissolve it, and one by one Mr. Ellett's senses returned leaving him as clear as ever barning

Playing Cards.

Dr. Rudolph Lothan, of Vienna, eays this year "is the 11fth century of the playing card." He says the first game of cards ever played was Tarok or Naili; in which every card was symbolic of "a phase of life, a degree of knowledge, or one of the powers ruling human existence." One of the pasteboards was named "Il Misero." doubtless our knave, and was easily involved in all sort of unpleasant complications. Tarok has been reviled in Paris, where the search for novelties is so relentlessly prosecuted, even at the exprese of the old.

Egyptian Habits.

The ordinary inhabitant of the town passes his life in a simple and uniform manner. Before sunrise he leaves his couch, performs the morning ablutions enjoined by his religion. and repeats his early prayer.

To say his first morning prayer after sunrise is forbidden by the ordinances of his religion, and to allow the sun to rise over one's slumbering head is regarded as prejudicial to

He then drinks his cup of coffee and smokes his pipe, either at home or in the public coffee-house. His breakfast, which he takes after the coffee, or sometimes before it, consists of the remains of the meal of the night before, or of cakes and milk, or for a trifle he procures from the market the ever-ready national dish of stewed beans.

He then begins his avocation, buys, sells, writes, works, or moves about, all in the most comfortable, quiet, and deliberate manner. "What is not done to-day must be done tomorrow, if God pleases," stands written on his forehead in large letters.

The Egyptian mechanic cannot be said to be famous for anything. The things in which they used to excel are rapidly being forgotten. The fine masonry of the older mosques would be thrown away on the architectural tastes of the present day, and hence the race of skillful masons is becoming extinct.

The colored glass which used to be made in great perfection for windows and lamps is the product of a forgotten art, and most of the glass and china used in Egypt are imported from Europe.

The same fate has come to the turners, who used to make the beautiful lattice window-screens; people now prefer glass, and lattices being no longer required, turners are forgetting how to make them.

The potters do a good trade in unglazed porous vessels for cooling water, and the palm furnishes occupation to many hands.

Egypt is no longer famous for fine linen; its cotton and woolen stuffs are coarse and its silk of poor quality.

The tanners, however, have not forgotten their cunning in curing morocco leather, and the love of ornament, extending beyond slippers, supports goldsmiths in all the small towns.

At Fair Harvard.

I was talking with one of the English professors at Harvard the other day about his department, says a writer in the Boston News, and he by one of the students. All juniors are requested to write forensics on prescribed subjects. One of the most recent subjects given out was "Shall the Electoral College be abolished? feathers is reported from several This, he thought, was a perfectly plain subject, excellently suited for discussion; so he was somewhat surprised to have one student come up and tell him that it gave no chance whatever for argument. "Why not?" asked the instructor. "I think there is a great deal to be said on both sides." "Well," answered the student, "I can't see how you, a Harvard professor and a Harvard graduate, can see any argument to prove that colleges with the elective system should be abolished." Another story is going the rounds of Harvard, and this time the joke is on the professor himself. He is a very forgetful man and in calling the roll, although the class is small, still has to rely on a printed list. The other day, he found to his dismay, that he had forgotten his list. What should he do? office required a report of the attend. ance at the lecture. He could not remember the faces or names. Aha! a MANUFACTURERS OF THE GALLING HORSE STEAM CAROUSAL OR MERRY-GO-ROUND. happy thought. "Gentlemen, there is one seat empty," said he; "will the gentleman who is absent kindly tell me his name."

Roumanian View of Canada.

A Canadian editor writes home from Europe of meeting on a train a Roumanian merchant who addressed him thus:

"Ah, from Canada, eh? A verr corrupt country, eh? Steal all ze public money, eh? Get into parliament by buy ze votes, eh? Efferybody steal from efferybody else, eh? I haf read of him in ze London Times. I takke ze London Times."

型

Sarsaparilla So promptly and effectually overcomes THAT TIRED FEELING, as to conclusively prove this medicince "makes the weak strong." J. B. Emerton, a well-known merchant of Auburn, Maine, had DYSPEPSIA Mr. J. B. Emerton, had DYSPEPSIA complicated with Liver and Kidney troubles. He took HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA and it gave relief and great comfort. He says: It is a God-send to any one suffering as I did."

Hood's

HOOD'S PILLS cure Habitual Constipa-on by restoring peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

CHILD BIRTH ... · · · MADE EASY!

" Mothers' Friend" is a scientifically prepared Liniment, every ingredient of recognized value and in constant use by the medical profession. These ingredients are combined in a manner hitherto unknown

WILL DO all that is claimed for it AND MCRE. It Shortens Labor, Lessens Pain, Diminishes Danger to Life of Mother and Child. Book lo "Mothers" mailed FREE, containing valuable information and voluntary testimonials.

Sent by express on receipt of price $1.50 per bottle BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga. SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Accidents with Petroleum.

Statistics show that the majority of accidents due to petroleum lamps are caused not by explosion, but by the lamp being upset or falling down. An explosion may be produced by a rapid cooling of the glass or porcelain oil reservoir, from a cold draft, causing a bursting of the reservoir, or also by the rapid movement of the lamp when carried about, or by blowing down the chimney, bringing atmospheric air in contact with the explosive gas in the oil reservoir, and so forcing it out and in contact with the flame. A loose cap on the oil reservoir may produce a similar result, and, finally, an ill-fitting wick may cause a disaster by admitting cold air into the oil chamber, or by being screwed down, fall with a burning spark into the oil. In all these cases the explosion is not the direct cause. To prevent such accidents it is needful, therefore, to study the causes of the fire rather than of the explosion, and try to prevent the oil taking fire.

The Only One Ever Printed. CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

These is a3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words altae except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look forit, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITEOGRAPHS OF SAMPLES FREE.

Do not seek happiness in what is misnamed pleasure; seek it, rather, in what is termed study. Keep your conscience clear, your curiosity fresh, and embrace every opportunity of cultivating your mind.

Pure and Wholesome Quality

Commends to public approval the California liquid laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs. It is pleasant to the taste and by acting gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels to cleanse the system effectually, it promotes the health and comfort of all who use it, and with millions it

HUSBAND-Which shall it be Beatricethe diamonds or a brougham? I can't give you both. Wife—(hesitatingly)—I think I'd like—well, one bracelet and a dog cart.

Brown's Iron Bitters cures Dyspepsia, Malaria, Biliousness and General Debitity. Gives Strength, aids Digestion, tones the nervescreates appetite. The best tonic for Nursing Mothers, weak women and children.

Dix—How old was your wife when you were married? Hicks—Twenty-six. "And that was ten years ago; she must be thirty-six now?" "No; she's twenty-five now."

When you eat too much, When you drink too much, When you smoke too much, When you work too much, Fifty cents, at drug stores.

A clipper ship for every day in the year is equired tomove California's surplus wheat to Europe.

MALARIA cured and eradicated from the system by Brown's Iron Bitters, which en-riches the blood, tones the nerves, aids diges-tion. Acts like a charm on persons in general fill health, giving new energy and strength. The boy who weeds his garden well is pretty pt to wed well later on,

Hall's Catarrh Cure is a liquid and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free. Sold by Druggists, 75c.
F. J. Cheney & Co., Proprs., Toledo, O.

THE human system needs continuous and careful attention to rid itself of its impurities. Beecham's Pills act like magic.

If afflicted with sore eyes use Dr. IsaacThomp son's Eye-water, Druggists sell at 25c a bottle

OWEN & MARCESON.

Horneilsville, N. Y.

No 32 1892

"August Flower"

I had been troubled five months with Dyspepsia. I had a fullness after eating, and a heavy load in the pit of my stomach. Sometimes a deathly sickness would overtake me. I was working for Thomas McHenry, Druggist, Allegheny City, Pa., in whose employ I had been for seven years. I used August Flower for two weeks. I was relieved of all trouble. I can now eat things I dared not touch before. I have gained twenty pounds since my recovery. J. D. Cox, Allegheny, Pa. @

CRATCHED TEN MONTHS.

A troublesome skin disease caused me to scratch for ten months, and has been cured by a few days' use of

M. II. Wolff, Upper Marlboro, Md.

I was cured several years ago of white swelling in my leg by using symptoms of re SSS and have had no turn of the disease. Many prominent physicians attended me and all failed, but S. S. S. did the work. PAUL W. KIRKPATRICK, Johnson City, Tenn.

Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. SWIFT SPECIFIC Co.,

Atlanta, Ga.

REL!EVES all Stomach Distress REMOVES Nausea, Sense of Pollman.
Congression, Pain.
REVIVES Failing ENERGY.
RESTORES Normal Circulation, and Warms to Toe Tips.

OR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Logis, Me.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT Tulane University of Louisiana. Prof. S. E. CHAILLE, M. D., Dean.

2 W-P. O. Drawer 261. $5 to $15 por day, at LIGHTNING PLATER and plating je welry, washoa tableware, &c. Plates the Onest of jovelry good new, on all kinds of metal with gold, sliver or glokel,
No experience, No capital,
Every house has good neading plating, wholease to

CAUTION.— Beware of dealers substituting shoes without W. L. Douglas ame and the price stamped on bottom. THIS IS THE BEST $3. SROE IN THE WORLD

Will give exclusive sale to shoe dealers and general merchants where no agents. Write for catalogue. If not for sale in your place send direct to Factory stating kind, size and width wanted. Postage tree W. L. Douglas, Brockton, in the state of the control of t

THE CALERA JOURNAL.

VOL. I.

CALERA, ALA., SATURDAY. SEPTEMBER 3, 1892.

NO. 45.

BODY AND SOUL

Here at life's silent shadowy gate, O Soul, my Soul, I lie and wait; Faint in the darkness, blind and dumb, O Soul, my promised comrade, come!

The morn breaks gladly in the east; Hush! hark! the signs of solemn feast: The softened footstep on the stair; The happy smile, the chant, the prayer; The dainty robes, the christening-bowl-Tis well with Body and with Soul.

Why lingerest thou at dawn of life? Seest not a world with pleasure rife? Hear'st not the song and whir of bird? The joyous leaves to music stirred? Thou too shalt sing and float in light; My Soul, thou shalt be happy -quite.

But yet so young, and such unrest? Thou must be glad, my glorious guest. Here is the revel, here is mirth, Here gayest melodies of earth; Measures of joy in fulness spent; My Soul, thou canst but be content.

Is this a tear upon my hand? A tear? I do not understand. Ripples of laughter, and a moan? Why sit we thus, apart, alone? Lift up thine eyes, O Soul, and sing! He comes, our lover, and our king! Feel how each pulse in rapture thrills! Look, at our feet the red wine spills And he-he comes with step divine, A spirit meet, O Soul, for thine.

Body and Soul's supremest bliss-What, dost thou ask for more than this?

Stay, here are houses, lands, and gold; Here, honor's hand; here, gains untold; Drink thou the full cup to the lees; Drink, Soul, and make thy bed in case. Thouart my prisoner; thou, my slave; 'And thou shalt sip wherein I lave.

Nay? nay? Then there are broader fields, Whose luring path a treasure yields; Thou shalt the universe explore, Its heights of knowledge, depths of lore; Shalt journey far o'er land and sea: And I, my Soul, wilt follow theor Wilt follow-follow-but I lag; My heart grows faint, my footsteps flag.

And there are higher, holier things? Is this a taunt thy spirit flings? What is it, Soul, that thou wouldst say? Thou erst had time to fast and pray. Give me one word, one loving sign, For this spant life of yours and mine!

I held three fast by sordid ties? I trailed thy garments, veiled thine eyes? Go on, I come. but once did wait, O'Soul, for thee, at morning's gate. Canst thou not pause to give me breath? Perchance this shadow, Soul, is death. I stumble, falk at is the grave; I am the prisoner; I the slave; And thou, strange guest, for ay art free: Forgive me, Soul; I could but be The earth that soiled the fleshy clod, The weight that bound thee to the soll Dust unto dust! I hear the knell; And yet, O Soul, I loved thee well! -Emma H. Nason, in the Century.

THE DOCTOR'S LESSON.

hard all day, tired result of an important surgical operation performed that morning. The mud yards. spattered up from chilling November drizzle gave to the familiar trees a forlorn, almost ghastly aspect. His heart warmed as he pictured to himself a wife watching for him, with a welcome smile, from their restful evening before them. But, as he drew neer home, no cheerful light streamed from door or window. All seemed as dark and deserted as the dripping street. He threw the reins to the boy, whose duty was to hold the flung open the door with an irritated, injured feeling.

No tender smile; no sympathetic voice; no firelight; no dinner, apparently.
"Elinor!" he called.

No answer. ... 'Elinor!'

This time a voice spoke out of the darkness-a tired voice-

"Do be more quiet, John; the baby is just going to sleep."
"Confound it! Why isn't there a light here? And why isn't the baby asleep before this time of night?" "He has been fretful all day with his teeth, and I have not had a chance to change my dress.

A wailing cry from the nursery sent the voice hurrying thither, and the doctor, with some inaudible words proceeded to light the gas and take off his wet overcoat. The house was cold, the parlor had evidently been arranged by Hibernian hands, an odor of something Immingstole in from the kitchen. A pleasant reception for a man after a long day's work. He ran-up stairs with no gentle footstep. His wife sat by the nursery fire, her face were a weary expression, and chair. she had on the same blue gown which she had donned for breakfast. The baby at length slept in her arms. She held up a warning finger as her husband came blundering in, but already baby's light waited silently.

"Jee's sick," moaned the girl, peercess of southing and singing had to be ing out of the shadows. repeated for the lifteenth time.

her patience could hold out no longer. an impatient gesture, but as he did so It was provoking to have the little one glanced pitifully at the slouching figure. startled from his uneasy dreams again. She knew Bridget would spoil the dinner. She had been trying all day to get the patient! down stairs to make the house pleasant with a magic touch here and there. She longed to get into a fresh gown and brush her hair, but there had been no time for her to do one of these things. Nurse was away with a sick sister, and babies always demand more from their mothers than from any one else. They are tyrannical and know and seize every opportunity to prove their power over the anxious, half ignorant young mothers, who are happy, after all, to be their When at last the dinner bell rang Mrs. Ford laid the baby in his crib, sound asleep this time, warm and lovely in his ulter repose. She gave a hurried dab at his. her wavy hair, caught up a fresh handkerchief and ran down to join her hus-band, who sat at the table with a decidedly cross look on his face. He barely tasted the soup, then pushed it away in disgust. "Burned?" asked his wife.

"Of course. Can't you smell it all over the house? Why don't you look after Bridget a little?"

"Why, John, I have hardly been downstairs to-day."

"Where's Hannah?" "She went to her sister's last night." "Oh yes; I forgot. What's this? Cold corned beef! Really. Elinor, have you nothing else to offer?"

"Would you like an omelet?" "No."

"What then?"

"A beefsteak, if there is one."

Mrs. Ford rose and went to the kitchen. The girl, of course, had just filled up the range with fresh coal, so there was nothing to be done but make the best of the cold meat, potatoes and macarroni, followed by a dessert of apple pudding and cheese.

Dr. Ford found fault with the potatoes and said he was tired of macarroni. the bread was dry, and the butter not perfect. As to the pudding:

"My mother always had mince ples at this season," said he.

This was the last straw, and his wife, unusually sensitive to straws to-night, could bear no more.

"It is a pity you ever left your "I think so too," he responded pushing his chair back. His wife hesitated a moment whether to run around the table and burst into tears upon her husband's shoulder or to rush upstairs and have a good cry by baby's side. She decided upon the latter course and, with quivering lip, left the room and shut herself up in the nursery, where the fire was dying on the hearth and the baby breathing softly, in about trifles."

But her husband, even as he thought these words, began to feel repentant. He remembered the teething baby, and the R. FORD was driv- long day at home alone. In another ing home in the twi- moment he would have followed his wife light after working upstairs and apologized for the pain he had given her. But the doorbell rang, and anxious as to the and a summons to visit a sick man at a distance sent him at once out into the wet night. And all domestic grievances were forgotten before he had driven 200

The patient lived in a squalid part of the streets as he rolled along, and the the town by the river. The darkness seemed deeper in this poor neighborhood, the rain more soaking and the wind keener. The river swept sullenly by, a black, swollen tide, reflecting the flaring lights on the bridge. But the cosy parlor, dinner ready, and a long, doctor minded this discomfort very little. He was in love with his profession, ardent and young. Besides, the despised dinner had given him new courage to fight pain and death. He entered the one rooms of the low house to which he had been directed horse on his professional rounds, and with a face quite free from impatience. A woman opened the door for him-q lean, miserable creature, with pale eyes void of expression. Her thin hair hung over her neck, her calico dress fell limply from her sharp shoulders. She stared at the doctor as he entered, and he could sec there were tears in her childlike

"Joe's sick," she said, slowly gazing into his face.

"What's the matter?" "He-he's goin' ter die, maybe,"/she faltered pitcously. "No, I hope not."

"Joe's sick," she repeated in a whisper, shaking her head. "Who's come?" asked a voice from the bed in the corner of the room. "Nellie, girl, who are ye talkin' with?"

"It is Dr. Ford, whom you sent for," said the physician approaching the bed. One candle lighted dimly the untidy, comfortless place, showing a stove and a man with tumble hair and rough beard lying among the pillows of his bed.

"Oh, the doctor," said he, with feverish eyes staring from under shaggy brows.

"How long have you been ill?" asked Dr. Ford, sitting down on a rickety

"It's a week since I gave up, but I've been feeling bad a long time." The doctor placed his little thermometer under the patient's tongue and

The sufferer seemed to be irritated by It seemed to the young mother as if the repetition of these words and made thinking .- Boston Journal.

"What you most need is good nursing," said the doctor, after examining

The man's face darkened. The woman hovered aimlessly over the stove.

"She's my wife," said the sick man, hoarsaly. "I know she ain't quite like other folks. But she's peaceable and good, not bold and noisy like other women. I pitied her first off; then I got kind o' fond of her. And she"— The girl had crept to the bedside and stood there with her vacant, troubled face, fumbling with the pillows. "Joe," she said, much as a mother might speak her baby's name.

"She can't do nothing for me nor for and local control. It is based either up herself," whispered the man, as he on the idea that the people cannot be "Poor thing!" murmured the doctor. "I can carn good wages when I'm well," went on the invalid, "and I did the cooking and kept the house tidy tuen. Now everything's going wrong. She spoils all the victuals, but she don't

At this moment something on the stove boiled over with a loud hiss and filled the room with the odor of scorching milk. The girl stared, then moved towards the ruined mess.

"Oh, dear me," said the sick man, under his breath. "Don't burn yourself, Nellic," he called, as if to a child.

"It's scorched, Joe," she said, the tears overflowing at last.

"Never mind, my girl, throw it away. We can get plenty more. You see, doctor," he said in his hoarse voice, "I can't speak rough to her. She's my wife.'

The doctor sat with bent head, speech-

"I'll send you a nurse, my man," he said, after a pause. "What you need is good care. I will come again to-morrow." And with a low bow to man and wife, now clinging together, hand in hand, the doctor said good-night, and went on his way.

"Thank you, sir," called out the sick man, much moved.

The girl only stared and wiped the last tear from her lashes.

Two hours later a capable, kindthe little home by the river. She brought with her food in abundance, and comforts of all kinds.

Dr. Ford drove slowly homeward. Though it was late a bright light shone from the parlor window as he stopped. The glow of a wood fire illuminated the room as he entered. But no one came to meet him. His wife sat in her rocker fast asleep. The lamp threw a radiance favored class, after collecting more over her bronze-brown hair and one delicate cheek as she slept with her head of the Government require, to spend it against the crimson back of the chair. for the purpose of perpotuating themstrange contrast to her overwrought con- Her face wore a sweet, childlike expres- selves in power. sion, with a touch of pathos about the ways must cry and fly into a passion in the lap of her gown of soft dove

Near the fire stood a white-draped table holding a tempting little repast, carefully arranged. From a slender glass in the midst hung one red rose. The doctor knew she had cut it for him from her favorite plant. On a pretty plate reposed the flakiest and most delect able of

Dr. Ford stooped and kissed his wife's fair cheek reverently. She stirred, then opened her large eyes slowly.

"Oh, you have come. I am sorry I was not awake to meet you. But here's a mince pie. I sent over to your mother

"Hang the piel" cried John Ford. 'Elinor, I am a brute!"

Oh, no, dear-only a man, instead of an archangel, as I once believed you to be. But never mind. How do you like my dress?"

"It is divine, and you are an angel, Elinor. But dearest, come and sit by me. I have just been to see a gentleman. I want to tell you all about it."

The Great Salt Desert of Asia.

Some seventy odd miles south of Teheran, in Persia, is a large tract of land known as the Great Salt Desert of Asia, and a wonderful curiosity it is. A traveller, C. E. Biddulph, with a party visited the section and gives a very inter-esting account of what he saw. The salt tract is a great area, being covered with an incrustation of solid salt of various depths, and resembles somewhat a vast frozen lake. From the outer edge for about three miles toward the centre of the field the salt is found to be soft with an admixture of earth. Beyond this distance the salt began to assume more the appearance of solid ice, and will sustain the weight of horses, mules, camels, etc. At a distance of about eight miles towards the centre it was necessary to employ the service of a large hammer and an iron tent peg to break off a piece of this phenomenal incrustation to carry away as a souvenir.—Boston Cultivator.

Oatmeal Becoming Popular.

The curious will note that one of the most noticeable features about the export trade of Boston for the month of May was the increase in oatmeal sent abroad. There was a gain of more than 200,000 pounds in this item as compared with a year ago. Johnson described oats as an article which Englishmen fed to their horses and Scotchmen to themselves. But evidently, from the way in which the oatmeal trade is growing, the Scotchmen are converting the world to their way of eating, if not their way of

BILL.

WHAT CALAMITIES IT WOULD CAUSE THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE SOUTH-ITS EVIL EFFECT UPON THE WHOLE

Writing in the Forum about the disastrous effect which a Force bill would have if the Republicans were permitted to make it the law of the land, Hoke Smith, President of the Atlanta (Ga.) Board of Education, says:

This is a scheme to destroy home rule clasped one of the fluttering hands in trusted, and that one man is far better than the people, or it is a plan by which one man may organize a set of partisans to work in all elections.

It is either undemocratic and unrepublican, a blow at popular government, or it is a deliberate plan to use officers of the Government as an electioneering posse in behalf of a particular party, to furnish them means to prepare for a fraudulent election, and then to complete the work through a board of canvassers, who are to declare the desired result and certify to it. Such an invasion of popular rights must be repulsive alike in every part of the land. Indeed, the New York Convention ratified our National Constitution in full confidence that until amendments might be adopted "the Cougress will not make or alter any regulation in the State respecting the times, places and manner of holding elections for Senators or Representatives, unless the Legislature of this State shall neglect or refuse to make laws or regulations for the purpose, or from any circumstance be incapable of making the same; and that in those cases such power will only be exercised until the Legislature of the State shall make provision in the premises."

The conventions of Massachusetts, New Hampshire, and Rhode Island also adopted the Constitution of the United States with similar declarations on this subject. The debates upon the Lodge bill in the House of Representatives showed conclusively that the framers of hearted woman was installed as nurse in the Constitution never contemplated the passage of such a bill as that which the Republican candidates now indorse. The Force bill if put into operation throughout the entire country would cost not less than $10,000,000 for every election, and would bring upon the peo-ple an additional force of about 350,000 office holders. It certainly has the appearance of being a scheme to enable a

Such a law ouce in operation would "Well, it is provoking. Women al- lips, and her hands lay loosely clasped bring a protest from all over the land, Force bill would materially affect this would be of little value, for the supervisors and canvassers could easily perpetuate the political power of those who occupied the offices, despite the actions of the voters at the polls. It cannot be possible that the people of the North and of the West will suffer such a system to be thrust upon them.

But the advocates of this measure insist that it is needed to protect the negroes of the South. In truth, no greater calamity could befall the negroes such legislation. Their hope of development rests upon the kind feeling which now exists between the two races in the South, which is constantly inoreasing to the benefit of the negroes as outside interference decreases. An impartial student of the situation in the South must see the negro's progress, intellectual, moral and financial, during the past few years, has everywhere been dependent upon and proportioned to the tack of friction between himself and his white neighbor. The darkest hour of the history of the race was during the period when the negroes were controlled and led by men who knew little about them, and who controlled them by playing upon their prejudices against the white men who had been their masters. In 1870 practically no property was held in Georgia by negroes; to day they pay taxes upon $14,196,735 of property, the greater part of which has been acquired since 1880. Any honest man, knowing the facts, will admit that with complete freedom in this section from outside interference the race problem is solving itself by pleasanter relations, by the substantial effort on the part of the intelligent whites to do all possible, both personally and through legislation, to levelop the negroes. With an experience of nearly twenty years constantly in the courthouses of Georgia, I can truthfully say that in criminal as well as civil litigation the This condition of affairs, desirable as it certainly is, can be maintained only where friction is avoided between the two races; for with the indication of an aggressive struggle between them, the influence of those whites who might desire to continue legislation favorable to the development of the negro would

The mass of whites, their prejudices reinflamed, would not follow the conservative men of their own race. It is by the influence of the more intelligent whites that the best legislation and the best help can be given. It is through the influence of the more intelligent of the negroes upon their own race that the best use can be made by them of this helo.

If the South be left alone, conditions will continue to improve until every right will be conceded to the negro and all justice enforced in his behalf.

Nothing has been more common for the past few years in Georgia than to see the Governors of the State present at negro colleges or churches, aiding by word and counsel those negroes who are seeking to help develop their race. Ex-Governor Gordon, the chivalrous soldier, for four years worked eathusiastically to that end.

The present executive, Governor Northen, does the same thing to-day. They and several of their predecessors have been heartily supported by many others, urging sympathy and aid from the whites toward the development of the negroes.

A public sentiment is being aroused by those high in office doing all possible to develop the negro, upon whom, in part, the National prosperity of the South must depend, and to help build him up for a higher and better service of citizen-

Everything is now favorable; but suppose a Force bill were passed. What a change would be made! There would be in Georgia about six thousand supervisors, besides deputy marshals and canvassing boards, whose business under the bill would be to stir up the ignorant negroes, to arouse in their breasts prejudices against their white neighbors, to fill their minds with political aspirations; in a word to put them in a state of dis-content and feverish excitement and make them unwilling and unfit for la-

This conduct would not affect these negroes who have succeeded in accumulating property; it would not affect the best of the race, but it would destroy their influence over the rest. It would check their efforts to make them honest, economical and industrious. What condition would result? Conscious of this change on the part of the negroes, the white people would resume their old plan of strict nominations in local affairs.

The municipal, the county, and the egislative officers would again be seected by party or color-line nominations, which would exclude all local influence on the part of the negroes, except in a few counties where they would be able to select their own candidates. Officeholders representing the consolidated white vote, brought together by negro antagonism, would be a natural result. The influence of the most intelligent whites in favor of negro schools and egislation looking to the improvement of the negro would be lost in the bitterness which the differences would engenler. The negro himself would be thrown back where he was in 1870. The prejudices inspired would seriously injure the labor of the South.

The cotton crop of the South is prorop is abundantly shown by going back to the condition which existed in 1869 and 1870, and by seeing how small the product of the cotton fields was then. A ommercial shock would be given to the atire South.

Vote With Both Eyes Open.

The Chicago Tribune says: "Let every man vote on this great question with both eyes open as to its effect upon himself, for it is a question of business with him. Let him figure out whether he will gain in cheaper imported goods enough to offset about one-third of his wages, for that is the final outcome of the adoption of Cleveland's scheme as laid down in the Democratic platform.

Yes, this is the way to get at the question: Look at prices with one eye and wages with the other. The Tribuac here admits that goods imported free of duty would be cheaper. Hence, free goods would make the purchase eves of 65,000,000 people twinkle and sparkle. Now, how would it be with their wage eyes? In the first place, less than two million people are employed in industries benefited by protection, and three-fourths of these industries would thrive better with free raw materials and without any protection. And then, too, come to think of it, how does "protection" benefit the wage-earner in any industry? It doesn't keep out the cheap forsigner who is free to come over here as soon as he thinks he can improve his condition. There is then absolutely nothing in protection for the wage-earner. If he will remove the bandage from his wage eye he may see that with free raw materials our manufacturers would soon lead the world, and also that if our farmers could save the sixty per cent. duty they now have to pay on goods taken in exchange for farm products their business would prosper and increase. And does he think that increasing business all around means low wages and less work? "Vote with both eyes open!"

Who Benefit by Protection?

"We make the affirmation with much positiveness," says the Philadelphia Manufacturer, which is published by one of the two powerful high-tariff associations, "that the chief, and probably the sole, beneficiary of the protective system is the workingmau." The Manufacturer should send for a copy of that interesting "FatFryers' Guide," recently published by our high-tariff neighbor, the Tribune, which shows that out of 399 millionaires in Pennsylvania 215 ac cumulated their great wealth in manufacturing and selling goods protected by high tariff duties .- New York Times.

Bothersome Questions.

The Philadelphia North American complains that protectionists are made o say that protective duties increase wages, whereas "what protectionists claim, and it is all they claim," is that protection causes a multitude of new onterprises to spring up which "acts upon the wage vote as a tonic and makes it" possible to maintain high wages." The idea is somewhat further claborated by the statement that "without the protection we could not produce some important staples at all in competition with the cheaper labor abroad," and that "protection is only the imposition of a duty on the foreign product equal to the difference in wages paid there and here."

This explanation suggests many in-quiries. For example: What import-ant staples are produced in this country the labor cost of which is greater than the labor cost of similar staples produced abroad? How does the imposition of a duty on foreign products equal tothe difference in wages if there be any difference, enable American manufacturers to pay the higher wages? Is it not because the duty increases the prices of the product? If so, what becomes of the assurances of protectionists that protection lowers prices? Will not foreign manufacturers pay the duty and sell their goods here at the old price, thus preventing the American manufacturer from getting such prices as will enable him to pay American wages? It not, what becomes of the protection doctrine that the foreigner pays the tariff? If American manufacturers do get shigher price for their goods, what compels them to pay higher wages? If they do pay higher wages, what prevents foreign workmen from coming over here and (since the North American admits that "where the labor market is overstocked wages invariably decline, "tariff or no tariff") by overstocking the labor market, reducing American wages and making the laborer's share of protection stick to the hands of employers, as at Homestead? Answers to these questions, if consistent with the North American's editorial to which we refer, and with each other, would deserve to be framed and conspicuously exhibited at the Columbian Exposition.—The Standard.

Sherman's Democratic Proclivities.

Senator Sherman is one of the several Republican Congressmen who had to struggle with their consciences when they voted for the McKinley bill. That his conscience is not yet fully at ease as regards the matter is evident from the following, spoken in the Senate, July,

"Indeed, I have no doubt that the result of the policy of protection does always bring about some result which would probably not be desirable. The enormous development of those industries has made the aggregation of vast amounts of capital and tions, and there may be more or less danger growing from their ambitious desires and sometimes from their unfairness and their disregard of the rights of the poor and of the laboring man.

"There are dozens of articles in the tariff, which, if I myself were to frame a tariff bill, looking only to the interests of the people of Ohio, I might strike down here and there. I certainly would admit coal duty free, and iI would ad. mit lumber duty free. I would do a great many things that our Democratic friends want to do; but in a system like this you have to observe impartial justice to all interests alike. If you protect the interests of Illinois, you must also protect the interests of Minnesota, and do what is fair all around. A tariff bill, after all, we all admit, is a struggle of opposing interests. Every man taken by himself is opposed to something in the tariff. If he wants to buy, he wants to buy as cheaply as possible, and if he wants to sell he wants as much protection as possible. In the nature of a tariff law there must be some general rule applied to all sections and to all interests, and the result has proved by actual experiment in the last thirty years that of all our interests this protective system is the greatest and most important of our financial operations."

The McKinley Miracle.

One has only to admit the accuracy of current Republican claims to be convinced that the McKinley act should be classified not with laws but with miracles.

It was passed originally "to sustain orices." Fat was fried out of manufacprices." turers on this theory, Lajor McKiuley gave all his energies in one campaign to the task of proving that high prices are really a blessing somewhat disguised, and even President Harrison ventured the assertion that "a cheap coat means a cheap man." Now Senator Aldrich labors earnestly to prove that the act did not increase prices, from which we assume that the 'cheap coat, cheap man" idea has been relegated to the party garret. Again the bill was designed "to reduce imports," and there was much alo about "home markets for home manufactures," "America for Americans," and other expressions of patriotism thought to be very effective.

Now the Maine Convention which renominated Mr. Reed pops up with the jubilant assertion that "our imports have increased to a point never before

That miraculous is none too strong an adjective for the McKinley act we think no longer admits of doubt .- New York CALERA, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 3.

GROVER CLEVELAND, OF NEW YORK. National Democratic Ticket

FOR PRESIDENT, GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, A. E. STEVENSON, of Illinois.

GASTON A. ROBBINS, of Dallas,

Ir relief is to come to the farmer it must come through the democratic party.

THE peoples' party is a party of wild and absurd theories—a sort republican votes. of blind party beating about in the dark hunting for blinded voters.

THE elector of Alabama who fails to vote for the Cleveland electors and the candidates of the democracy for congress in the coming election is recreant to a patriotic duty.

No man whose mind is properly balanced can, for a moment, believe that a political party that chooses so cheap a fellow as the renegade and demagogue Weaver for their national leader can ever succeed or even become respectable.

THE peoples' party is a party of sore-heads, disatisfied and disappointed politicians and political adventurers, and if it were successful it wouldn't do anything for the people it so loudly and so continously claims to represent.

exchanges that "that the republicans will not so much as consider From the stump we no longer hear the demands of the farmers." Every intelligent farmer in this state monplace as the reading of the dec is well aware of this fact. Then, as laration of independence. There is ocratic party owes any man who In the next Congress there will not a vote for Weaver is a vote indirect- no longer any indifference. The ly for Harrison, don't vote for Wea-

THE democratic executive committee of the fourth congressional district met yesterday, and we expect an early and progressive campaign. The next congressman from this district must be a democrat and his name is Gaston A

THE Prattville Progress says: to wise.' If you want to be ignorant of bad qualities keep out of politics. If you want to know how mean you are. .run for an office." The editor of the Progress speaks tired to enjoy a rest are with of circut judge.

WHEN the little difference in the democratic party began in Montgomery the 8th of June, if Manning and his little people's party crowd had stood aloof, they might have done something, but those little sucklings couldn't resist, began to put their bills into the domestic cup where there was no mush for them, and now Bowman, Kolb, Groce, Adams, etc., has turned the cards on them; and poor little Manning and his third party are left.

In nearly every district in Alabama we hear of third party candidates for congress-in the 2nd small figure in Georgia. there are three—and in only one is the candidate a farmer. Bill Fountain, of Perryville, is an extensive ed will be kept up to the end, and have to take a back seat.

A STIRRING CAMPAIGN.

An article in a late number of the Atlanta Constitution is so applicable to the state of political affairs in some districts in this state-particularly in the counties composing the fifth—that we take the liberty of publishing in the Journal, and adopt it as our leader for this issue: "The third party flurry in Georgia not without its compensations. Indirectly it has proved to be a valuable aid to the democracy. It has furnished the party with an [incentive that has been lacking for some

the last dozen years in the vote for congressman in nearly all the dishad no opposition and a large percentage of the democratic voters felt that there was no necessity to go to the polls. This fact operated to furnish the republicans with some of their most attractive campaign arguments. They had merely to point to the small vote in the congressional districts of Georgia and other southern states and claim that by means of the suppression of the negro vote one democratic vote at the south counted as four

"The situation was particularly worrying to Editor Halstead, and, made it appear that even with the republicans in control of all branches of the government the south is a sinister and provoking factor in current American politics. In fumbling around among the thunder. big enough and hot enough and hot enough to do justice to the overpowering indignation which he felt for refusing to turn out at a congressional election where their candidates had no opposition, and where one hundred votes were as good as "The third party flurry has scattered this tapathy to the four winds, and the campaign now going on is one of the most typical and inspiring that has occured in Georgia It is said by one of our leading in many years. It is a real campaign, and not a make believe one. essays as perfunctory and as comnewspapers are bristling with arguments that mean something, and a new and an unwonted energy has been infused into the party workers. There is a renewal on all sides of the spirit that marked the recovery of the state from the republican carpet baggers, who took charge after the war. The democratic camp is wide awake, and bustle and stir are visible everywhere.

"At last the aspiring democrats "Where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly of the younger generation have an opportunity to win their spurs and they are making the most of it. They are pressing to the front with vigor, and the veterans who had readvisedly as he has passed through them. It is a renewal of old times, a contest in his district for the office a campaign that means something, a tussle in which there is an inspiring mixture of democratic doctrine and savory barbecue.

"This is why there is compensa tion in the third party flurry. This is why the activity of its leaders has had a wholesome effect on the democratic party in a lazy, self-satisfied way, too sure of its strength energy is such that the third party movement has already received an unlooked for back set, and by the time the vote is counted it will be He is one of the outspoken and hard found that third partyism cuts a working democratic newspaper men

"The vigor and energy with which the campaign has been open-lowing foolish preamble and resoluconvention assembled has arbitrarily ruled that the supporters of Capt. Kolb are ineli-gible to any nomination in the state of Ala-whereas, The same party has committed frauds in the late election unprecedented in the history of the state; and Whereas, No authorized proposition for an adjustment of the wrongs is proposed by

This was very unwise action for years—the lack of opposition lead- a body of men calling themselves ing to a natural apathy among the democrats to take. Every democrat in the land is entitled to repre-"The result of this apathy has sentation in the conventions of the been significantly displayed during party, and as these gentlemen have been elected to represent the democrats of Elmore county in a district tricts. The democratic candidates convention, their duty to the party is to attend and if they have grievances present them there and contend for right in the convention.

SENATOR NESMITH'S DEMOC-

It gives us pleasure to publish such testimonials as the following, when it defends the political character of a consistent democrat: To the Age-Herald:

Moulton, Aug. 26.-In a recent issue of your paper in giving the names of the members of the coming legislature, you give that of Hon. W. W. NeSmith of this district as opposed to the regular orin his stentorian style, he has NeSmith a great injustice. He was elected to the senate from this district when the same was composed of the counties of Lawrence and Colbert, as a democrat; was nominated by the regular democratic convention and served as a democrat. His democracy has not been bolts, he has never yet found one questioned, and all of his acts have been in accord with the rules and teachers of that party. A publication of this letter and correction of your report would be simple justice towards the democrats of the south to the gentleman refered to. Yours C. M. SHERROD.

THE way the democracy of Alabama are proposing to open arms and take in those soreheads who have almost torn the party asunder within the past three years, it seems to us, is like paying a child a premium for disobedience. What does the democracy owe Mr. Kolb and talking about its methods, its consehis following? How much is the democracy due the alliance leaders of the south? If anything, to whom should it pay first? We think all and paid promptly. But if the dem- quarrel" here in Alabama. party crowd we can't see where it

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

We return thanks to our brethren of the press in the state for their several notes of our candidacy bewould imagine that we are in our place at the door, announcing messages from the house. We have mustered up cheek sufficient to reprint several of these notices, and they will be found below:

Montgomery Advertiser: Mr. Sam. H. Gist of the Calera Journal will be a candidate for doorkeeper of the state senate. Mr. Gist is an old and experienced newspaper man, a zealous and hard working democrat, and he certainly deserves something from the party he has served so long and faithfully. Marion Standard: Our old friend Sam H- Gist of the Calera Journal, and who for ten years with his son F. W. Gist edited and publised the Bibb Blade, will be a candidate for doorkeeper of the senate. Knowing other democrat contending against the Mr. Glst to be a good man and a regular State organization of the party to make any effort at display. All faithful democrat, the Standard this is changed. The old party is dommends his claim to the conside. wide awake with its boots on. Its ration of the senate and trust they will give him the place.

Alabama Enquirer: Mr. Sam. H. Gist, of the Calera Journal will be a candidate for the next state senate. of Alabama, and would no doubt make a good official.

Shelby Chronicle: Our neighbor, that old veteran journalist, S. H. Gist, of the CALERA JOURNAL, will rice and sorgham (?) grower, but when it culminates the people of be a candidate for door-keeper of then Bill won't be nominated. He every section of the state will be the senate, and we trust that he has said too many hard things about lawers and plutocrats. As all the others are lawyers and professional politicians, Bill will be democratic party and nowhere the democratic party and nowhere the democratic party and nowhere the said too many hard things convinced that whatever hope and draws the prize. Mr. Gist has done much hard and faithful work for the democratic party, and his election would be but a feeble representation of the succession of the succ

THE Elmore county Kolb execu- has rendered the party in the past tive committee has adopted the fol- He will no doubt have a number of competitors for the position, but we make bold to assert that none of them have been truer to democracy or are more deserving of reward for party labor performed than is Sam. H. Gist.

Blocton Courier: Sam. H. Gist, of the Calera Journal, will be a candidate for doorkeeper of the next senate. Mr. Gist is a newspaper an adjustment of the wrongs is proposed by them; therefore,
Resolved, That a proper regard for the peoples' rights and our own manhood compels us to maintain the position already taken by the Jeffersonian democracy, and we advise our representatives to decline attending the congressional convention at Dadeville on the 7th of September next.

Senate. Mr. Gist is a newspaper man of long experience, and during his many years of newspaper life has bravely and honestly for the democratic party. We would like to see him meet with success in his modest effort, and do not hesitate to say effort, and do not hesitate to say that if the senate should elect him, it will have a faithful servant.

> Shelby News: Our townsman and fellow-editor, Sam H. Gist, of the Journal, for many years editor and proprietor of the Bibb Blade, will be a candidate for doorkeeper of the next state senate. Mr. Gist has been a life long democrat, did faithful service for the South in the war between the states, and as he is a native Alabamian his claim will be considered by that body. We hope he will get the place.

The Magnet: S. H. Gist, Esq., of the Calera Journal, is a candidate for doorkeeper of the senate, and the Magnet hopes he will be elected. He is a good man and in every way deserving of the place he is secking.

POLITICAL AND OTHERWISE.

TAKEN FROM OUR EXCHANGES. "The force bill is not an issue," says a republican organ. No; it is the natural and inevitable outgrowth of republican sectionalism. Republicanism means force bill legislation.

Once fluttering from her dainty waist The sash flew in long enders;

These ends she new has gathered up, And proudly wears "suspenders!" At 30 man suspects himself a fool,

Knows it at forty, and reforms his plans, At fifty, chides his infamous delay, At sixty, he resolves and re-resolves, then dies the same." The Eagle makes the remark that 'serious resolution to concentrate on New York, Indiana and Connecticut will do more to elect Cleveland and Stevenson than all the wordy theories about attempting the improbable that can be attempted between now and the day set for polling the popular vote." What the object or purposes of men were before the first Monday in August no longer concern us; the election is over and nothing is to be gained by queuces, its ultimate import.

The people have now got to elect a President and members of the lower house of Congress. These are to be chosen upon National issues, and these debts of gratitude should be paid issues in no way concern our "family voted for Capt. Kolb and his third be a dozen third party men; but even and published the proposed law for ty, and call a convention, which shall if there were twenty times that number they could accomplish nothing in the face of a hostile Senate and an unfriend-

What we have got to do here in Alabama is to carry the State for Cleveland and elect nine democratic congressmen, and we must cease gabbling like leaderless geese, and get down to within those sixty days, he is notifore the next state senate, and were business. For the moment we have fied that the election will be contestit not for our extreme modesty, we got nothing to do with an election held a month ago.

> Grover Cleveland shall carry Alabama. Don't forget that, Judge Ishmeal S. Harwell, of Demopolis, Ala., whose death is reported elsewhere, was a gallant Confederate soldier, a member of Forty-third Alabama Regiment and has army comrades now living in the county. He was an uncle of Dr. A. T. Henley, of this city.—Birmingham News.

"Those who lay down with dogs will get up with fleas," is an old proverb that holds good in every condition of life—except in politics.

It seems that the threatened division in Georgia will do more good than harm. It has stirred the democrats into making a vigorous and earnest cam-

The campaign seems to be in good shape in New York, notwithstanding The World says it is a doubtful state.

Washington National Democrat .-Votes for Kolb in Alabama or for any do not by any means indicate that the dissatisfied democrats are going to cast their ballots for Weaver. General Weaver is known notably in the South as a demagogue and a turn-coat; a man who has maligned the South as vehemently as anybody who ever opposed its people. Democratic Kolbites will stay at home before they will vote for Weaver.

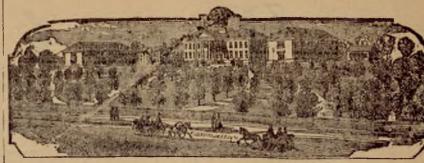

Democratic farmers will not be led into the people's party. They are lear ning that it is an adjunct of the republi-

Economy in all departments of government and lower taxes is what the democratic party will give to the people when it gets into power next No vember.

We see from the Age-Herald that D.

cognition of the valuable service he In these days of so much political

Marion MILITARY Institute.

IN FAREDRICA RELADIO

Superior Accommodationrs and Board. Superintendent, his family and faculty live in building with students.

Classic and Scientific. Superior Commercal Course. TERMS MODE-

ATE. Send for Catelogue.

OCH Sept 3 3m

SIX MILE MALE & FENALE ACADEMY.

R. H. PRATT, Principal.

35th session begins September 26, IS92.

This school is located at Six Mile, Alabama, in a healthy, well watered neighborhood, five miles from Ashby depot, on the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia Railroad.

R H PRATT, PrIncipal,

3sept 6m

Six Mile, Alabama.

ty editor to pick out from his many ex-changes such papers as the Christian Advocate and the Alabama Baptist and

For terms of board and tuition, address

It is said that Commissioner Lane is considering the matter of organizing a party to visit the Northwest, to lay before the people of that section the "Adfore the people of that section the "Advantages of Alabama." We don't know so well about the propriety of the movement. Alabama once had a commissioner of Agriculture who got a similar idea in his head and paraded the country as "Alabama on Wheels." The only thing that trip accomplished was to make a fool of the commissioner, who at the company throught the commissioner who at the content throught. once thought himself smart. The result is, the white people of Alabama are divided and the Ex-Commissioner is trying to overthrow the democratic party that has heaped so many honors up-

No, let Commissioner Lane stay at home and build up the agricultural interests of the State and the great Northwest will be hunting for a home in Alabama. We are afraid to risk another commissioner outside of the State.—Marion Standard.

THE BALLOT LAW.

To the Age-Herald.

The existence and provisions of section 384 of the code, to which attention was called by "Observer," were regulating contests. I am unable to understand how that section deprives a contestant of any material right. It provides that the inspector in whose custody the ballots are placed, must keep them for sixty days after the election, then destroy them, unless, ed. When so notified he must preservet hem until after the contest is determined.

Surely a defeated candidate will know within sixty days after the election whether he will contest it or not, and as soon as he makes up his mind to do so, he can easily notify every inspector in the state, and thus prevent the destruction of the ballots.

But suppose the ballots are destroyed-that does not prevent the contestant from proving that the certificate of the inspectors of the election was false. Their certificate and the poll list must, according to section 385, be sent to the sheriff or returning officer within forty-eight hours after the electlon. This poll list shows the names of the citizens who voted at the particular precinct. If the inspectors have made a false certificate, it is certain that they took pains to make the ballots in the box tally to a fraction with the certificate. In that case the ballots would not show how the citizens voted any more than a forged note would prove the justness of the debt of which it purported to be the

The contestant would attack the truth of the certificate and summons the citizens whose names appear on the poll list and take their testimony as to whom each of them voted for, and if their testimony satisfied the triple and if their testimony satisfied the attention to the following described real estate, situated near Calera in Sheby county, Ala. trial court that the certificate was false trial court that the certificate was false to-wit: Fractions A, H, J, M, and the S½ the ballots with which the ballot box of E and F of section 22, township 22, was striffed could not and would not was stuffed could not and would not change the conclusion.

"Observer's" observation was somewhat at fault when he concluded that those of us who have been studying hallabaloo, it is refreshing to the coun- the election laws overlooked section 384 to which he refers.

Section 382 provides that the poll read something that is not contaminated with politics. It does a fellow's soul good to read the encouraging respectively. ports from the pastors on the various fields of Christian labor in the State, and makes him feel that when all else is against man, then the This furnishes the contestant with all Lord will take him up.-Marion Stan- the witnesses he could need to prove the untruth of the certificate, if such F. S. FERGUSON.

The Way To Certain Victory.

After a careful survey of the politial situation in Alabama, for the past two weeks, The News would again urge that a new State Executive Committee and a new Electoral Ticket, be selected by a Democratic State Convention, which should be sonvened as speedily as possible.

There is no gainsaying the widespread disatisfactision with the present management of the Organized Democracy; hundreds and thousands of Alabamains, who want to vote for Cleveland and Stevenson, postively declare that they will not support the present Electoral Ticket and will mot co-operate with the present State Com-

Cannot the State Executive Committee see the situation, as it is? Will not the patriotic Democrats, who comnot unknown to me when I prepared pose it, rise to their great opportunibe composed of democrats, regardless of past local differences, and let a reunited democracy chose the managers, who shall conduct the present campaign to certain and overwhelming victory?

The State Committee should be assembled at once, and The News carnestly begs it to consider these suggestions. If it should determine to imperil the success of the party, by turning a deaf ear to the appeals of the masses for harmony, let it say so, and get to work along the lines of its own choosing: The News is ready to assist.

The time is ripe for something to be done. Longer inaction will prove disastrous. Alabama must vote for Cleveland.-Birmingham News.

Tho Mobile Register argues the question of a special session of the Assemby to consider Kolb's contest, and advises Kolb to wait until November. It is very clear that he will have to wait. Gov. Jones has virtually impliel that he will not call a session in advance of regular time, by stating in his recent interview that he would prolong the session if necessary .-

REGISTER'S SALE.

Morgan & Lapsley, A. M. Elliott, Trustee, et al) tue of a decree rendered at the Spring term, 1892, of the Chancery Court of Shelby county, Alabama, in the above entitled cause, I will proceed to sell, under the power contained in a Mortgage from H. M. Pierce, ct al, to A. M. Elliott, trustec, at public outery, in front of the Court House door in the town of Columbiana, Alabama, on east quarter, section 2, township 24, range 13, east.

Monday, the 17th day of October, 1892.

This, August 11, 1892. D. R. McMILLAN, Register and Acting Trustee, aug13-10w prs fee$16.EQ

GENERAL INFORMATION.

RAILROAD TIME TABLE. LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE. No. 1, South Bound, 11 11 " 2, North Bound, 10:05 p. m. 7:15 p. m. " 10, " "

ALABAMA MINERAL.

4:35 p. m. 10:25 a. m. 85, Arrives at 86, Departs at

COUNTY OFFICERS. Probate Judge—R. W. Cobb. Circuit Clerk—W. R. A. Milner. Sheriff—W. R. Carter. Register in Chancery—D. R. McMil-

Tax Collector-E. F. Vest. Tax Assessor-W. H. Kidd. County Trersurer-A. W. Strickland. Superintendent of Education-T. N. Huston.

County Solicitor-J. L. Peters. County Commissioners—John E. Dyeey, T. B. McClusky, R. F. Johnsen, D. C. Davis.

AT THE CHURCHES. PRESBYTERIAN-Services on the 4th Sundays in each month, morning and night; pastor to be supplied. Sabbath

School at 9:30 a. m. METHODIST-Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night, is now arriving. His other goods by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sabbath school at 9:30.

Cumberland Presbyterian—J. J. Dalton, pastor. Preaching every first and third Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. ommend him to the people of m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday eveningsat 7:30. Children's Band meets 3:30 p. m. each 1st and 3rd Sunday. Ladies' Aid Society every other Friday eveningat 3.

Lowndes.

The New York College of Commerce, Birmingham, Ala., owing to a daily increasing patronage,

INSURE YOUR LIFE.

INSURE YOUR LIFE.
Read and profit by the following sound counsel, every word of which smarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel:
"It is a duty you owe to yourself and amily to protect them with a reasonable amount of life insurance, where the stoums of the financial world cannot touch them; where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old sge should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do

"Insure Your Life.

larger quarters, and have gone into the building corner 5th avenue and 23rd street. The College is now in full possession of the 5th Avenue Hotel, and the entire building will be occupied for college and boarding purposes.

The attention of school patrons is called to the advertisement of Masse should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do will do this and more; therefore, do your duty and insure immediately in some good, old reliable Company."—Extract from a sermon by the Rev. T. Dewill do this and more; therefore, do your duty and insure immediately in structor to need any commendation at our hands. But we will say this

But if these lines were intended as a Witt Talmage.

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

The Birmingham News at Reduced Rates.

G. Jones.

The News is the leading afternoon newspaper of the State, and will furnish all the news political and otherwise during the state of the s ring the coming campaign in a crisp and readable form.

Now is the time to subscribe. Sam-church directory will be for the copies sent on application. Adappointments for this place.

THE NEWS,

Birmingham, Ala.

HUGH T. CAFFEY, PHYSICIAN & SURGEON CALERA, ALA.

feb12-1y.

J. L. PETERS. HENRY WILSON, E. S. LYMAN Columbiana.

Peters, Wilson & Lyman, ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

ONE DOLLAR WEEKLY

who have seen it say it would be cheap at $40."

SOMETHING MICE FREE.

Rev. Z. A. Dowling is conducting a protracted meeting at Sessions Chapel this week.

The Shelby County Medical Society will hold its regular meeting at Columbiana next Tuesday.

The Vest-Nelson contest over the sheriffalty has been continued until Monday, September 12.

There are several sick children in Calera, but we are glad to learn that all of them are now out of dan-

Circuit court will convene at Columbiana on the 19th inst. The civil docket will embrace about 150

Judge Mardis has sold 200 acres

Died, on the 21st of August, in Shelby county, Mrs. Martha Parnell, who had been the faithful 4:14 p. m. consort of J. L. Parnell, Esq., for 5:10 a.m. over half a century.

Rev. S. P, Wsst, general agent of the Orphan's Home at Somerfield, spent a few hours with his father, Col. J. P., Wednesday last. He is looking in good health, and is as large as ever.

The last Mountain Home says: The Montevallo Coal Company presented the Orphans' Home at this place with a car load of coal and the E. T., V. & Ga. R. R. delivered it free of charge."

Last Wednesday morning several delegates to the Shelby Baptist As- returning in time for the National W. sociation were in Calera waiting for O. T. U. Convention, to be held in Denthe train on the Mineral road to carry them to Shelby, where this association was in session from Wednesday till Friday

We omitted to announce last week that A. C. Wade, the popular Calera merchant, was gone to eastern markets to buy his fall and winter goods. His stock of furniture is now arriving. His other goods

Prof. S. M. Dinkins leaves this Baptist Church—Rev. J. G. Lowrey, pastor. Preaching every first and second morning for Lowndesboro, where Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting at 7.00 p. m., every Thursday.

Grant Prayer Apply 17 J. J. Grant Research and second the will be engaged in teaching for the coming year. Mr. Dinkins is a graduate of West Point and well > to a daily increasing patronage, have been compelled to move into larger quarters, and have gone into much: As an educator and disciplinarian he has no superior and few then we must rise up in defense, knowequals in the southern states. ing our capacities for filling these of-Read his advertisement and send fices bravely and nobly, we also know for catalogue.

During the month of July, the Birmingham News will be mailed to any address at the following rates. The Daily News published every afternoon week and left a subscription for the Surprised that the "Critic" "feels week and left a subscription for the not surprised that the "Critic" "feels Daily News published every alternoon and Sunday morning, four months for $1.50; the Sunday News four months for Twenty-five cents, payable in advance. The News is fearlessly Democratic and supports regularly organized Democracy of the State headed by Thos.

G. Jones.

Week and left a subscription for the himself crapky" if he too is inclined to confine woman's capabilities to those expressed in the poem.

White, And Sunter, Rice Phillips, L. To Nelson, W. Sunter, Rice Phillips, L. preachers in this way, and will simply welcome him among us, and let CALRRA (Ala.) JOURNAL, under the suthe people get acquainted with him pervision of Mrs. F. W. Gist, the wife Moore, Sr., WR and judge for themselves. In the of the editor. It is dedicated to "our church directory will be found his lady readers" and "earnestly solicits

That celebrated institution of learning, the Six Mile Male and Female Academy has an advertisement in this issue. Everybody in this community know that this is one of the best and cheapest schools in Alabama. It is not only this, Lucy Stone. but it is situated in one of the best neighborhoods in the state. The America should patronize and delight society is good, churches of all denominations are convenient. It is only five mile from the railroad, and when your children go there they will be under the guidance and instruction of two of the best peo- interest in the Mercy Home at Birmingple-Capt. Pratt and his wife-in ham:

Buys a good gold watch by our club system. Our 14-karat gold-filled cases are warranted for 20 years. Fine Elgin or Waltham movement, stem wind and set. Lady's or gent's size. Equal to any $50 watch. To secure agents where we have none, we sell one of the hunting case watches for the club price, $28, and send C. O. D. by express with privilege of examination before paying for same.

Our agent at Durham, N. C., writes:

Our jewelers have confessed they don't know how you can furnish such works for the money,"

Our agent at Pennington, Texas,

Our agent at Pennington, Texas,

Our agent at Pennington, Texas, Our agent at Pennington, Texas, torily is oftener than otherwise due writes: "Am in receipt of the watch and am pleased without measure. All rents, and this class of parents are generaly hardest to please Every One good reliable agent wanted for each place. Write for particulars.

EMPIRE WATCH CO., New York

generally hardest to please Every parent and guardian in city, town, or neighborhood should exert an influence towards uniting and sus-make your school all that it should

WOMEN'S COLUMN.

[The Woman's Column is under the supervision of Mrs. F. W. Gist, and all communications for this department should be addressed to her at West Celera, Alabama, l

Last week's Union Signal is dedicated: "In Memoriam-Madam Willard." Mrs. Mary T. Hillman Willard, mother of our dearly beloved Francis E. Willard, who died at Rest Cottage 1892. The funeral service which took place on Aug. 9th is the most beautiful we ever

One can't read the "Life and Death" of this noble woman without feeling inspired with an earnest desire to live and die a consecrated christian.

read.

Since her mother's death Miss. Wilof his farm to a Mr. Joseph Verchot lard has received over six hundred letfor $1500. The land lies north of ters and telegrams of sympathy and Calera Base Ball Club, crossed bats the Shelby Springs and Columbiana | condolence and every mail still brings

> This issue of the Signal also sends as supplement a beautifal engraving suitable for framing consisting of "Miss. Gordon's office" "Rear of Rest cottage" "Madam Willard at her grandmother's spinning wheel in the din" "First Methodist church" "Mary T. H. Willard" "Alcone in Madam Willard's chamber" "Madam Willard's chair" "Madam Willard, Miss. Francis E Willard, Miss. Anna A. Gordon."

> Miss. Francis E. Willard and Miss. Anna A. Gordon, for fifteen years her private secretary and travelling companion, have been invited by Lady Somerset to visit her at Eastnor Castle. England. They sail on the steamship Etruria, of the Cunard Line, Aug. 27, ver, Col., Oct. 28 to Nov. 3.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

A right to tread so softly

Beside the couch of pain;
To smooth with gentle fingers
The tangled locks again—
To watch beside the dying
In wee small hours of night; And breathe a consecrating prayer When the spirit takes its flight.

A right to cheer the weary On the battlefields of life; To give the word of sympathy Amid the toil and strife:
To lift the burden gently
From sore and tired hearts, And never weary of the task Till gloomy care departs.

A right to be a woman, In truest woman's work— If life should be a tired one, No duties ever shirk—
A right to show to others
How strong a woman grows;
When skies are dark and lowering,
And life bears not a rose.

A right to love one truly, And be loved back again;
A right to share his fortunes,
Through sunlight and trough rain.

A right to be protected
From life's most cruel blights;
By manly love and courage—
Sure these are woman's rights!

The above little poem is beautiful, a'nd expresses a few of the many attributes embodied in "Woman" all of which we

But if these lines were intended as a boundary and limit of woman's work, "Woman's Rights" have no limit here. And it was probably written by some man's Column" has been added to the Card, E M correspondence and contibutions from the women of Shelby county," especially on church, temperance and mission work. She adds: "We are in receipt of The Woman's Journal, a weekly paper published in Boston by Alice

It is a paper that every woman in Below we give our readers the benefit of our private letter from Mrs. Brooks expressing appreciation of our

As soon as our Union resumes its meetings in September, I shall lay your kind offer before the bodies, and instruct our Supt. of Press work to keep you supplied with items of interest. I am glad to see our Southern women taking up the editorial pen, and taining a school instead of tearing wish you great success in your work. down. Do your uttermost to With kind regards,

MRS. ANNIE T. BROOKS, 13th. Ave. S. Highland B'ham

Mrs. Julia Stark Evans, of Hampton, Iowa, though the wife of an active lawyer and the mother of five children, is studying for graduation at the State

We were glad to meet Rev. J. W Mitchel, of Six Mile, Wednesday and have him break bread at our numble board again, though it pained us to learn through him that our old friend Capt. R. H. Pratt, whom everybody knows as the principal of the academy at Six Mile, was quite sick. We hope, however, that Captain Pratt will be well enough to go to the school room at opening of the session.

Second Nine vs First Nine.

The first and second nines of the last Tuesday, resulting in the 2nd nines favor by a score of 9 to 14. The first nine always licks outside contest ants, but when it tackles the second it meets its Waterloo in disastrous

SCORE BY INNINGS.

203020110-- 9 First Nine, 1 2 5 2 0 1 0 3 x--14 Second Nine,

Confederate Soldiers Relief Fund.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT OF THE STATE OF ALABAMA, Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 18, 1892.) To the Probate Judges of Alabama:

The fund for the relief of confederate soldiers and sailors, and the widows of deceased confederate soldiers and sailors, will be available immediately after the close of the fiscal year, to-wit: September 30, after which time warrants for the amount due each applicant will be drawn and forwarded to the probate judges of their

Very respectfully, JOHN PURIFOY, Auditor. IT IS WELL-

Birmingham News.

The County Commissioners did today what everybody expected them to do. They did the right thing.

Then decided by unanimous vote that Jefferson county should no longer lease her county convicts to the mine operators, and in so doing held the faith and the promise made to all the people of Alabama by the democratic party in the recent canvass.

It is unfair and unjust that all the convicts of Alabama should be dumped here in Jefferson county in exclusive competition with honest free mining labor. They should be divided up and placed in various occupa-

This leading step of Jefferson county's Commissioners in abrogating the system, is timely, appropriate and

Jefferson has led off; the State Legislature will follow its good exam-

Petit Jurors for September Term.

The following is a list of petit jurors for the September term of the circuit court :

Horton, S D Farrell, John T Wyatt, W F Wyatt, WH Smith, J L Pilgreen, W S Robinson, M J White, Andrew J Sumter, Riley

Powell, W C Aldrich, W F Shaw, Pleasant McWhorter, J W Wilson, R C Payne, R M Baugh, J T Hubbard, W B Davis. J T Spearman, Jas. M Latham, S A Ray, P T Kindrick L R Cleary, Thomas Taylor, G W

Barnett, J T

Adams, J M

Adams, G W

Bowden Sam'l F

Blackeby, W H

Walker, J B

Grinies, W A

Brasher, GE

Willis, David

Robertson, J H

Taylor, Jessie M

Thompson, W A

Albright, Rufus Dodson, BA McClinton, E R Merrill, A H Coshatt' Shelby Killingsworth, GW McLeod, Rufus McLendon, Wm Moore, R B Farr, W M Wesson, J A Armstrong, Simeon Fulton, D E Hartsfield, LW Nabors, J H Walker, C C Seale, David A THIRD WEEK.

Taylor, J R Cromwell, J T Evans, T G Connell, J G Lee, W G Adams, J P Wilder, W. F. Harper, J S Gilbert, Richard Davis, D M Kindrick, E M Spearman, Wm Lybrand, Wm J Wells, Thomas J Clinkscales L M Basher, J W Roberson, J F M Riley, N J Baldwin, jr., F M Baker, Clinton Jones, T W Wheeller, G W Jones, Joseph S Spencer, E L Isbell, Ezkeill Martin, J Hj Jones, M J Acton, John McClendon, J D Walker, Wm

SHELBY SPRINGS.

This popular summer resort will ppen on the first day of June 1892 for the entertainment of guest. These Spring are the most popular resort for families and healthseekers in Alabama Delightful shades, ten pin alleys, lawn tennis, and all other health and pleas ure giving games. For full particulars write to

H. H. BAKER, Shelby Springs Ala.

URE BLOOD GOOD HEAD

Now is the time for everyone who cherishes good health, to pay particular attention to the condition of their blood and its proper circulation. Nearly all diseases that flesh is heir to are caused and agravated by an impure condition of the blood and a sluggish circulation.

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS

Possessing Extraordinary Cleansing Powers

Restoring and Strengthening the whole System, Enriching the Blood producing increased vitality by restoring an impaired digestion and bringing back the bloom of youth to the cheek of the enfeebled and emaciated.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle-6 Bottles for $5.00.

For Sale by All Druggists.

Nabors, Morrow, & Sinnige.

SOLE CONTROLERS,

Birmingham.

WORDS ABOUT THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION.

Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers, 12 Pages. REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT.

1. It is the best of all weekly news- "Aunt Susie," the editress of these departments, is a household word

1. It is the best of all weekly newspapers.

2. It is invaluable to the tarmer and the farmer's family, bringing each week cheer to the fireside and happiness to the household.

3. It covers the news of the whole world, having its correspondents scattered.

4. What Susie," the editress of these departments, is a household word throughout the south.

5. Bill Arp, Plunkett, and Uncle Remus and a host of other special writers are engaged by the year, and their inimitable sketches appear each week.

7. It is the People's Friend, and is the struck charging of the agricultural throughout the south.

3. It covers the news of the whole world, having its correspondents scattered over the globe, and having a thorough news service from every important news center in the world.

4. Its Agricultural Department alone is worth many times its subscription price to every farmer. This department is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, wnose service is retained by the Constitution at great expense.

5. Its Woman's and Childeren's Departments are a source of infinite pleas-

partments are a source of infinite pleas- one issue of the greatest weekly newspaure to every family, and the name of pers in the world.

Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of your neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulated home should be without it.

Agents Wanted in every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information. THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

--FINE MILLINERY--

Mrs. S. H. McCauley's.

NEAR THE DEPOT.

Montevallo, ... Ala. A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hats in the Latest Styles, and at Reasonable Prices.

HANDKERCHIEFS & HOSIERY. Saturday Sales at $1

CORBETT PREESE,

Harness Saddles,

DEALERS IN HARDWARE & TINWARE,

HACON MARKET

Stock of Dynamite and Fuse, and empty and loaded Shells always on Hand.

118 19TH STREET, BIRMINCHAM.

Banking House of

W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co.,

CALERA; ALABAMA.

Receive Deposits, Negotiate Loans.

Issue interest bearing certificates of Deposit, and sell exchange on New York Louisville and Birmingham at regular rates cyarged by the larger cities.

We transact a general banking business, such as that of any incorporated bank in all of its legitimate branches, and would be pleased to open accounts with merchants, manufacturers and planters alike.

Fire and Life Insurance

Written in the best companies.

Bought, Sold and Rented upon just terms,

WOMAN'S UNWONTED WORK.

In Buffalo a woman runs a street cleaning bureau; in Kansas City a woman is in the fire department; at Vassar a woman combs hair at twenty-five cents per head; a Louisville lady makes special shopping trips to Paris; another in New Hampshire is President of a street railway company; while Chicago has a woman embalmer. And still they go on, taking up lines of business which a quarter of a century ago were labelled "hands off" by the sterner sex.

THE COMING SHADES.

perts in Paris, who meet and agree on what colors will be given to women wear next season have sent forth their decision, accompanied by an explanatory color card. There are to be sixty-six shades—many old friends. These are divided broadly into browns, reds, greens and blues. There are only three grays, whose names, Argent, Nickel, Platina, indicate their tint. The naming of these colors implies a fine perception of gradations of tints. Although the romantic man, the idealist, and the man up to date, each has his say. Thus a new dark terra cotta is called Diavola; a new rose, Cerisette. The latest red, a brilliant luchsia tint, is Salammbo, other new reds are Roi, Provine and Francis I. A new blue is Iolande, a reddish lilac Floxine, and a strong old red is Santol. Two new greens are Aloes and Andorre, and a moss green is to be known as Varech. A light brown is called, for some reason, Pygmalion, and a dark brown, Lourte. Many heliotropes have been barred out, and there is a perceptible increase in the number of browns.

A DISH TO PRODUCE PLUMPNESS.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Times, who had been invited to luncheon at the home of one of her dear girl friends, says: "My attention was called to an extraordinary dish that was set before one of the daughters of the household. The curious mixture was something utterly unknown in the list of delicacies I have ever seen. Noting the puzzled glance, the pretty girl laughed and said:

"I was sure we would catch you for once. Coufess you have not the remotest idea of what this dish contains.'

"When my ignorance was fully estab. lished she passed over some of the novel dainty which looked a sort of harlequin pudding.

"Even now you are no wiser,' she laughed, evidently delighted that I was such a greenhorn.

"Well, I will keep you in suspense no longer. This is the latest mode of becoming beautifully plump and lovely.' "What is it?' I inquired.

"It is no other than the great beauty secret of the harem, rose leaves and butter. You know all the Sultan's wives are delightfully bewitching with their graceful contour and smooth, lovely they are the pure East Indian rat. complexions, and all the girls have determined to try the combination that works such wonders.'

"It doesn't look very tempting."

"'No," she laughed, 'and it tastes even more horrid than it looks, but then you know, what wouldn't a woman go through to be beautiful,' and she took a taste of the unpalatable mixture with a grimace that indicated that it ought to be beneficial, for the same contritions always accompany the nauseous messes of our childhood which we are assured are for our good."

FASILION NOTES.

Trained skirts are still very much in

A pretty way of trimming the hem of the skirt is with a broad satin ribbon tied here and there in a double bow.

A caprice in faus demands that those of white gauze be appliqued with twinkling jet in branch and vine designs.

Accordion plaiting is still used in the bodices of thin gowns and in tea gowns, and for the blouse and sleeves of Figaro jackets.

The newest style for trimming hats is to roll ribbon or velvet twice round the crown and finish with a large bow at one side. Often two colors are used.

There is a fancy for hats which are made of lace and trimmed entirely with the same material. A single flower, with a stalk and leaves, is the only trimming other than the lace.

The most effective bodices just now are not made, but draped over a tightfitting lining. They can only be draped on the figure, then they are basted to the lining and subsequently finished off.

The old-fashioned combs of our grandmothers are again in vogue, and tower in tortoise shell carvings or gold fillagree in stately height above the sott curls and puffs of the chiguon modera.

Some of the new Leghorn flats are oddly trimmed with a single band of black velvet about the crown, a stiff rosette bow with a sparkling rhine stone buckle in front, and a mass of soft loops

Plain India muslins have reappeared with embroidered borders in colors, and lighter than the popular wool crepons are the creped India silks and vaporous creped silk muslius that are used both for afternoon and evening toilets.

Beautiful toilets for demi-dress uses are made of exquisitely tinted Persian silk, muslics brocaded with small brilliant palms, reses and leaves, eactus blossoms, trailing arbutus sprays, gladioli, glowing red pomegranates, etc. in enemy at a distance of 1000 yards.

These charming fabrics are made up over silk the shade of the dress.

Iverness coats, top coats, monks cloaks and ulsters with hood and belt exact copies of the original garments worn by travelers, drivers, hermits and clubmen, are made for boys not old enough to be put in trousers. Imported plaids, checks and homespuns are used for the material. The buttons are staghorn or bone, and the little sleeves are lined with a fine quality of satin.

A delightful evening gown for a young matron is of peach colored satin brocaded with a tiny figure of deep pink The syndicate of gentlemen and ex- flowers trimmed all round the bottom of the skirt with a daaped flounce of delicate cream colored odelweiss lace. The bodice is short with a narrow corselet belt of jeweled passementerie, and over the short puffed sleeves fell a deep, bertha-like flounce of edelweiss lace.

Challies in rich colors, sprigged with flowers, are still very popular for afternoon and for any occasion when a more elaborate dress is required for a child. They are made with full plain skirts containing one breadth each, full yoke waists, with tucked yokes of the dress material and full English sleeves falling low from the shoulder. A flat girdle of the dress material, pointed at the front and simply crossed at the back, conceals the line where the skirt joins the waist.

Big Rats Own a Ship.

Probably no ship that enters the harbor of Philadelphia is more dreaded by the sailor man than the Earn line steamer Unionist, owing to the fact that she is nearly alive with rats. Thousands of these animals enjoy all the luxury of sea life, and every effort to rid the ship of the plague has proven futile. Those on board the Unionist dread to sleep, as frequently they are awakened by the pricking sensation of a number of rats running over any portion of the body that may be exposed, and thus the handsome ship is rendered a pest hole by the rodents.

Captain Neate, the commander of the Unionist, is at his wits' end to know what remedy to adopt. He always carried his wife, and the conditions were such that he had erected on deck a wooden house, in which both live nearly all the time. Not long ago he adopted a plan to smother the rats by means of closing up all the hatches and burning sulphur throughout the entire ship. By this he succeeded in getting rid of a few thousand of them, but a few weeks later the ship was as thoroughly infested as ever.

The rats on board the Unionist are of a peculiar kind, and the climate here seems to agree with them, as they have developed in size rapidly. Some are actually as large as fair-sized cats, and have weighed as much as four pounds. They are of a rare species, never seen in this country, and Captain Neate thinks

The Unionist for some years previous to being chartered by the Earn Line Steamship Company, was engaged in the India trade, principally between Pondi-cherry, the French settlement of India, and Marseilles, carrying peanuts, and it was in this way that the rats were first gotten on board at Pondicherry, they being very fond of peanuts. After this the Unionist went from England to all parts of the world, but the rats in the hold had some cargo to gnaw at until now, and confined themselves to that portion of the ship, never entering either the cabin or the forecastle.

Since January the Unionist has been carrying coal to Cuba and reloading with iron ore, and the rats being unable to subsist on either commodity, have forsaken the holds and have invaded the cabin. The sailors have all got news of this, and it is next to impossible to get a crew to go in her, as the rat, above all things, is what Jack is most afraid of .-Philadelphia Record.

Seven Years Without a Birthday.

A Scottish clergyman who died nearly thirty years ago, Mr. Leishman, of Kinross, used to tell that he had once lived seven years without a birthday. The statement puzzled most who heard it. They could see that if he had been born on the 29th of February he would have no birthday except in a leap year. But leap year comes once in four years, and this accounts for a gap of three years only; their first thought would, therefore, naturally be that the old man, who, in fact, was fond of a harmless jest, was somehow jesting about the seven. There was, however, no joke or trick in his

At the present time there can be very few, if there are any, who have this tale to tell of themselves, for one who can tell it must have been born on the 29th day of February at least ninety-six years ago. But a similar line of missing dates is now soon to return; and indeed there are, no doubt, some readers who will have only one birthday to celebrate for nearly twelve years to come.

The solution of the puzzle is to be found in the fact, which does not appear to be widely known, that the year 1800 was not a leap year, and 1900 will not be. The February of the present year had twenty-nine days, but in all the seven years intervening between 1896

The elephant can smeil, in a wild state,

MUSIC AT THE FAIR.

THE BEST TALENT OF THE WORLD TO BE DRAWN UPON.

Four Fine Halls Will be Provided-Distinguished Composers and Musicians to Participate-Range of Performances.

THE fact that Theodore Thomas is musical director of the World's Columbian Exposition is assurance sufficient that music of the highest order and an excellent programme will be provided. The best musical talent of the world will be drawn upon; fine halls will be provided; and something like half a million dollars will be expended to make the musical features of the Exposition a success. Two of the halls or auditories will cost each $100,000, and $175,000 has been set apart for an orchestra of 120 skilled musicians, who will be drilled by Theodore Thomas. This orchestra will be the nucleus about which will be formed the grand choruses.

The halls have been officially agreed upon and their construction ordered. These will be advantageously situated within the Exposition grounds:

1. A Recital Hall, for quartet, concerts, etc., seating 500 people. 2. A Music Hall, with accommodations for 220 players, 300 singers, and an audience of 2000. 3. A Festival Hall, for performances upon the largest practicable scale with 200 players, 2000 singers, and audience The Music Hall will contain a fine concert organ, and in Festival Hall will be placed an organ for chorus support. The appointed Commissioner Europe who was sent to tender the invitation of the Exposition to the most distinguished composers has returned with an encouraging report which insures a series of international concerts unprecedented in point of scope and character.

The invitation of the Bureau of Music to choral societies to co-operate because of their love of art and the pride they have in the opportunity the Exposition will afford to show to the world the artistic level of the United States in music has brought many assurances of support. Inasmuch as it would be manifestly impossible for the same chorus to take part in all choral performances, this work will be divided among choral societies of the entire country.

The entire range of the performance proposed may be seen from the following tentative classification:

First-Semi-weekly high grade orchestral concerts in Music Hall. Second-Semi-monthly high grade choral concerts in Music Hall. Third-Six series of international concerts, choral and orchestral, each consisting of from four to six in Festive Hall and in Music Hall.

Fourth-Three series of three concerts each of oratorical festivats by united American choral societies in Festival Hall.

Fifth-Concerts in Festival Hall under the auspices of German singing so-

Sixth-Concerts in Festival Hall under the auspices of Swedish singing so-

Seventh-Six series of popular miscellaneous festival concerts by Americau Eighth-Twelve children's concerts by Sunday-schools, public school and esly organized children's choruse Ninth-Chamber music concerts and Tenth-Popular concerts of orchestral music, to be given daily in Choral Hall during the six months of the Exposition. To successfully carry on such a series of performances as are outlined above a large corps of musicians will be needed, some of whom will be engaged during the entire period of the Exposision; others for single and series performances. Regarding the standard of performance to be observed in all departments of Exposision music the Musical Director holds that while co-operation is asked of all grades, of attainment every musical illustration there produced must be justifiable upon artistic principles. That is to say, it must be what it honestly purports to be.

Stuttering and Stammering.

Stuttering and stammering are terms that are confounded. They are not synonymous by any means. Stammering is an inability to properly enunciate certain elementary speech words; stuttering is a vicious utterance, manifested by frequent repetitions of initial or other elementary sounds. But are caused by improperly acting muscles of the vocal cords, soft palate, tongue, cheeks, lips, etc. Some of these muscles are under easy control of the will. Over the muscles of the pharynx, the soft palate and at the base of the tongue, which move its root upward and downward, our power is not so complete, and this causes the affliction. Stammering children are often subject to humiliation, or even cruelly treated. One great cause of defective articulation is the foolish manner in which children are talked to by ignorant nurses and fond mothers. When I hear a mother say to her child, "Say tank oo to de p'retty lady-that's a 'ittle pet," and so on, it makes my blood boil. -St. Louis Post-Dispate h.

First Wheat in America.

The first wheat raised in the New World was sown on the Island of Isabella in January, 1494, and on March 30th the cars were gathered. The foundation of the great wheat industry in Mexico is said to have been three grains carried into that country by one of the slaves of and 1904, as well as in the three between 1892 and 1896, that month will have only twenty-eight.—Tid-Bits.

Tid-Bits. convent at Quito. Garcilazo affirms that up to 1658 wheaten bread had never been used as an article of diet by the people of Peru. -St. Louis Republic.

Odd Bits of Life.

When the circus was here, and the House found itself without a quorum, says the Washington correspondent of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, George D. Wise of Virginia told a good cloak-room story. It was founded on fact. The scene was Hanover Court House, in Mr. Wise's district, and the time was the last campaign. Mr. Wise and one of the Democratic nominees for elector-at-large were announced to speak "on the issues of the day" at Hanover. "When we got to town," said Mr. Wise, "we discovered that a circus had spread its canvas for that very afternoon. The crowd was large, but I had my doubts as to how the speechmaking would go in opposition to the circus. The meeting was set for 1 o'clock in the afternoon, and I knew that the circus people would begin to do business at about the same time. There didn't seem to be anything to do but to go ahead with our appointment. had the meeting called to order, and I told the elector that courtesy demanded that he, being a candidate on the State ticket, should make the first speech. He was inclined to waive that and have me begin, but I insisted. I knew that the circus crisis was coming, and I preferred to have him face it. So the elector was introduced and started off. All was ominously quiet around the circus tent. The crowd gathered to hear the speaking, and the elector began to warm up to the occasion. He had spoken perhaps fifteen minutes, when suddenly the band struck up, the ticket-seller took his place, and the canvas door was thrown open. In two minutes there wasn't anybody around the platform, and I was the only person besides the elector upon the platform. The elector stopped and looked at me. 'It's no use talking against a circus,' said I, and we got down and followed the crowd, which was gathering around the ticket-seller. I brought out some money from Richmond to extend hospitalities to my hearers when I had finished the speech I expected to make. I hunted up one of my best friends in the crowd, and, handing him some money, I said: 'Here, you buy tickets to the circus with this, and give them to the right persons with my compliments.' The next minute my friend was shouting at the top of his voice: 'Ladies and gentlemen, the Hon. George D. Wise has authorized me to see that every one of you has a ticket to the show, with his compliments.' With that the crowd shouted and crowded up. I saw my money go into the hands of the ticket-seller, and I saw the crowd pass into the circus at my expense. If course there was no stopping after that. It took the last quarter out of my pocket before the job was finished, and there I stood, with my crowd inside and I alone on the outside. The circus manager came over to me, and with a grin complimented me on my electioneering tactics. He wanted to know if I wasn't going to see the show, and I told him the condition of my pockets. 'Pass right in, Mr. Wish,' he said, and in I went. When to returns came from Hanover Cot House after the election, I found I had swept the district clean."

Aluminum in New Mexico.

An extensive find of rich depost of aluminum was made last week in the San Mateo Mountains, about forty miles west of Albuquerque. miners brought to the latter place samples of a material they had found, and with the nature of which they were not acquainted. It was assayed in Denver, and found to contain 25 per cent. of aluminum. The men say the metal exists in great abundance.

Lard and Snuff.

A mixture of lard and snuff is the California remedy for lice on stock. This ointment does not need to be applied to the entire annimal, but a ring of it, two or three inches wide made completely around the neck, will have the desired effect.

The President's Ancestry.

President Harrison can trace his ancestry back to Alfred the Great. Congressman Springer is modest. He only claims that his ancestry extends back to the Saxon King Egbert. Prefers Silv. T.

As soon as a native Alaskan gets a $5 gold piece or a $10 bill he immediately trades it for silver, having no faith in gold or paper money.

A Mother's Gratitude

Too great for tongue to tell, is due Hood's Sarsaparilla. My daughter Olive 3 years ago had dreadful pains, beginning in one knee and extending to almost every joint in her Olive Carl. body, caused by Constitutional Scrofula.

The pains grew less and the swellings subsided after using one bottle of HOOD'S SARSA-PARILLA. Then improvement was rapid, until it effected a perfect cure." Mrs. J. A. CARL, Raynoldsville, Pa.

Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner Pills, assist digestion, cure headache.

Every Month many women suffer from Excessive or Scant Menstruation; they don't know who to confide in to get proper advice. Don't confide in anybody but try a Specific for PAINFUL, PROFUSE. SCANTY, SUPPRESSED and IRREGULAR MENSTRUATION. Book to "WOMAN" mailed free. BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga. Sold by all Drugglate.

Bradfield's Female Regulator

PATENTS W. T. Pitzgerald.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU KIND THE WORD?

These is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each fiew one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you book, beautiful Lithographs of Samples field.

Superintendent Byrnes, the head of the New York police department, has just cele-brated his fiftieth birthday.

FOR Byspepsia, Indicestion, and Stomach disorders, use Brown's Iron Bitters. The Best Tonic, it rebuilds the system, cleans the Blood and strengthens the fruecies. A splendid tonic for weak and debilitated persons.

Justice Shiras is the only member of the supreme court who wears whiskers.

I. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., Proprs. of Hall's Catarrh Cure, offer $100 reward for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured by tak-ing Hall Catarrh Cure, Send for testimoni-als, free. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Prince Bismarck has an income of $250,-

For impure of thin Blood, Weakness, in ria Neuralgia, Indigestion, and Billousness, take Brown's Iron Bitters—it gives strength, making old persons feel young—and young persons strong; pleasant to take.

Cyrus W. Field's life was insured for $250,000.

The evils of malarial disorders, fover, weakness, lassitude and debility and prostration are avoided by taking Beecham's Pills.

"Eat, drink and be merry for to-morrow" Bradycrotine will stop the headache. Fifty cents.

ONE ENIOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

ET IS A DUTY you owe yourelf and family to get the best value for your mousey. Economize in your fontwear by purchasing W. L. Douglas Shoes, which represent the best value
for prices asked, as thousands will testify. THE BEST SHOE IN THE WORLD FOR THE MONEY.

Boschee's German Syrup is more successful in the treatment of Consumption than any other remedy prescribed. It has been tried under every variety of climate. In the bleak, bitter North, in damp New England, in the fickle Middle States.

in the hot, moist South-everywhere. It has been in demand by every nationality. It has been employed in every stage of Consumption. In brief it has been used by millions and its the only true and reliable Consumption Remedy. 0

DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

PISOS CURE FOR

ONLY TRUE

costing from $1 ks.

In ni $5 Hand-sewed, fine call shoes. The most stylish and $5 Hand-sewed, fine call shoes. The most stylish easy and durable shoes ever sold at these prices. They equal fine imported shoes costing from $8 to $12.

5 O Folice Shoe, wern by farmers and all others who want a good heavy call, three soled, extension edge shoe, easy to walk in, and will keep the feet dry and warm.

5 O Fine Call, $2.25 and $2 Workingmen's Shoes will give more wear for the money than any other make. They are made for service. The increasing sales show that workings and hay found this out.

By J. HAMILTON AYERS, A. M., M. D.

This is a most Valuable Book for the Household, teaching as it does the easily-distinguished Symptoms of different Diseases, the Causes and Means of Preventing such Diseases, and the Simplest Remedies which will Alleviate or Cure.

PAGES, PROFUSELY ILLUSTRATED.

The Book is written in plain, every-day English, and is free from the technical terms which render most Doctor Books so valueless to the generality of readers. This Book is intended to be of Service in the Family, and is so worded as to be readily understood by all.

ONLY 60 CENTS, POSTPAID.

(The low price only being made possible by the immense edition printed.) Not only does this Book contain so much information Relative to Disease, but very properly gives a Complete Analysis of everything pertaining to Courtship, Marriage and the Projection and Rearing of Healthy Families; together with Valuable Recipes and Prescriptions, Explanation of Botanical Practice, Correct Use of Ordinary Herbs.

New Edition, Revised and Enlarged, with Complete Index.

With this Book in the house there is no excuse for not knowing what to do in an emergency. Don't wait until you have illness in your family before you order, but send at once for this valuable volume.

ONLY GO CENTS, POSTPAID. Send postal notes or postage stamps of any denomination not larger than 5 cents. BOOK PUBLISHING HOUSE, 134 Leonard St., N. Y. City.

THE CALERA JOURNAL.

VOL. I.

CALERA, ALA., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1892.

NO. 46.

A COLONIAG MESSAGE.

BY HENRY TALCOTT MILLS.

A quaint old book, whose faded yellow pages Turned over in the garret's sombre gloom, Send forth an odor caught from distant ages, A st rangely sweet, mysterious perfume, Seeming to breathe of other days than ours-The perfume of their flowers.

Upon the fly leaf in an old handwriting, Which many after years have not effaced, These simple words, two lovers' hearts unit

At this late day may still be clearly traced: "Prudence, from John," and then a date below

In the dim long ago.

I turn the leaves, upon whose margin lin-The touch of one who turned these leaves of old. The dainty, loving touch of those white fingers Which have in death these many years been .bfcov

And to this day, from these dim yellow lines,

Her smiles, reflection shines!

The quaint, old-fashioned text, as I discover. Is dry at best-ill-suited to engage A maiden's thought; the book is one no lover

Would set his love to read in any age! Happy, somewhere a tender message lies. Sent her in this disguise.

Turning a page, ere I have time to wonder Whether this may be so, I faintly see Letters and some whose words with linings under, Which, joined together, make it plain to me they were marked far over in the

Where none would chance to look.

Ah, what a message this to undermine The dry and prosy wisdom of a sage! The wise old author, how could be divine

That leve's soft speech would creep into his page! And he who wrote the message-who was ho? Come, read his words with me.

"Printence:

I go to the battle on the field; Think of me sometimes, though our ways Now, must our love, sweetheart, be thus concealed, Yest will I one day claim you for my bride. Your father may give his consent anon-

Till then be true to Prudence was true, the chronicler he saith,

And though her maiden heart was well nigh broken, Calmly she heard of John's heroic death, Thrilled at his bravery, but gave no token Of her poor secret love. Years after Reveals the sad romance.

[Boston Journal.

THE DEAD HAND.

by-Sea, I became aware that some one was ill next door. The weather was so slight pause and a movement inside the persistently wet that I was compelled to channer, and then a voice said, "Come remain within, and, being alone, I naturin. ally spent much of my time at the window, wondering whether it ever would be fine enough for outdoor sketching. Thus it was that the frequent visits to 18 of an unmistakable doctor, in an unmistakable doctor's brougham attracted my attention. Two, and even three times a day he came, and on his departure I always noticed that look of grave, professional anxiety which, on a doctor's face, bodes ill for the patient.

Sometimes the medical man was accompanied to his carriage by a gentleman who appeared to be questioning him with singular earnestness. Barcheaded, and regardless of the never-ceasing rain, the latter would stand at the door of the brougham, seemingly loath to let the doctor go without some final instructions, or, perchance, some ray of hope. The anxious inquirer was tall, with narstooping shoulders, but all that I could see of his features as he hurried back into the house was that he was about thirty years of age, with no hair on his face, which was very pale.

With a curiosity born of enforced idleness, I asked my landlady what was the matter at No. 13, but all she could tell me was that the house next door was also a lodging house and that the doctor's visits were paid to an old gentleman who had been brought there very ill, by his nephew. My landlady added bed before him. But what surprised me that it was a strange choice of apartments to have made for a sick person, as the woman who kept them was little better than an idiot, and was only assisted by an equally stupid servant girl. At the time I put this remark down to professional jealously, especially as the nephew had been to look at the rooms I myself was now occupying, and, after making particular inquiries, had refused them.

It was not until I had been at Westville a week that the weather brightened and I was able to take my sketch book in search of subjects. But the eighth day was fine, and starting immediately after breakfast, I managed to put in a good day's work at the ruined tower some miles along the coast. Returning at sundown I dined, and then settled myself for a comfortable pipe over the day's paper. As I lit up I could not help won dering how many visits the doctor had paid to No. 13. From mere force of habit I had grown into looking out for him and finally into taking a sort of interest in the number of times he came. The day before, while I was still at my post at the window, he had been in four there was a ring at the street door bell. neighbor and rival which I had mentally A minute or so later my landlady came into the room and said that the gentleman who lodged next door was below, wanted; we must not crowd the general," into the room and said that the gentleif there was my ane else in the house who could accompany him back next door for a few minutes on a matter of business. The landlady was unable to go herself, the servant being out, but nesses as yet blank. Then he replaced it if there was my ane else in the house ing house, and I told the landlady to show the gentleman in.

In another moment the tall, loose-framed man whom I had seen so often attending the doctor to his carriage stood bowing in the doorway.

"Pray come in," I said, rising, "in what way can I be of service to you?"

The stranger entered the room. His eyes, which I saw were weak, blinked in the bright lamplight. He disregarded the motion I made toward a chair, and answered me standing. He seemed nervously anxious to conquor his shortsightedness in order to make out what manner of man 1 was. In other words, he peered at me somewhat rudely.

"It is simply the small matter of witnessing the signature to a will," he said. "If I might trespass on your kindness to mediate danger he is anxious to affix his signature to-night."

eral Maitland, of Godney Park, Northampshire. I brought him here in the hopes that he might derive benefit from the sea air."

"With good results, I trust," was the reply which politeness drew from me, though the frequent visits of that ominous brougham led me to expect a negative answer.

To my surprise Mr. Pierrepoint replied in the affirmative,
"Yes," he said, "my uncle is better, though still dangerously ill."
By this time we were out in the street at the door of No. 13. He had already inserted his latch key in the lock, when he paused and looked at me.

"There is one thing I must prepare you for," he said, blinking his weak eyes at me in the gloom; "my uncle is unable to speak. His complaint is nervous paralysis, you understand? Otherwise he is in full possession of his faculties. The doctor is with him now, and certifies to his fitness to sign."

I merely bowed and followed him into From the first day of my temporary so-burn at 14 Transome Terrace, Westville-y-Sea. I became aware that some one ing knocked three times. There was a > Grasping the door handle, Mr. Pierrepont turned to me hurriedly as if he had forgotten something.

> 'I think," he said, "it might be as well if I knew who was going to perform this service for us. Might I ask—"

> I stopped him by acceding to his very reasonable request. I took out my pockethook and gave him one of my visiting cards with my name-Angus Macdonald and the address of my studio in St. John's Wood engraved thereon. He put it close to his eyes, blinked at it, and said in a tone which somehow or other sug-

"Ah! you live in London-not here-

He opened the door, and I followed him into the room. There was a dim light from a shaded lamp which stood on a small table at the head of the bed, but so disposed that the curtains prevented its rays from falling on the sick man. On the bed, half reclining, half supported by a young man, with fair hair and wearing spectacles, was an old man whom, even in that dim light, I saw to be of stately presence and dignified mien.

His scanty locks were snow white, as were the bushy eyebrows, which he kept bent down toward the paper lying on the most was the ruddy glow of health in General Maitland's cheeks. The latter were sunken, it is true, but the faint lamp light was strong enough to show me a pink and white color that would have done no discredit to a maideh of six-

My conductor introduced me briefly. The general merely acknowledged my presence by courteous inclination of the nead-a movement which he repeated when Mr. Pierrepoint asked him affectionately if he was ready to go through the usual formalities.

"Very well, then, I will fetch Mrs. Butters as a second witness," said the nephew. "The doctor there would do, but his attention must not be taken from

The doctor !" I thought, wondering why the portly individual whose brougham I had watched so often, should have given place to the flaxen-haired young man whose right arm encircled the general so carefully. The personage with the brougham did not cure quick enough, I suppose.

Mr. Pierrepoint returned with a snutimes, from which I argued that the ffling, tremulous female, whose vacuous countenance at once relieved my own I had not been reading very long when landlady from a charge of libelling her Million, and had asked for her husband, who said Pierrepont, and Mrs. Butters halted happened to be out for the evening. On obediently, paying a good deal more at-hearing that the gentleman had inquired tention to the pattern of her own carpet as the gentleman seemed disappointed reverently before his uncle who bent over she had taken the liberty of suggests the document, and, supported by the ing that he should ask me. Would I, at any rate, see him and then decide?

I was only too glad to be of use to people who appeared to be in great trouble, the last feeble scratch, Mr. Pierrepont. far from their friends in a seaside lodg- brought the will over to me before the ink was dry, and I added my name, using the dressing table as a writing desk. The vacuous landlady followed, and in her tremulous scrawl General Maitland's last will and testament received its fin-

I immediately prepared to leave the room and Pierrepont made no attempt to detain me.

1 said "Goodnight" to the general, adding some commonplace remark about hopes for his recovery-a compliment which he again acknowledged with one of his grave bows. That is my last recollection of the scene—the venerable landing to conduct me to the street door. He thanked me profusely for coming; step in next door for that purpose I should be greatly obliged. My uncle is in the occasion demanded. I stopped him, ill, and though I trust he is in no im-"So you have changed your doctor,

Mr. Pierrepont?"

signature to-night."

"I shall be most happy," I said, taking up my hat, "I will come with you at once."

"I must introduce myself," said the stranger, as he led the way downstairs.

"Mr. Pierreport?"

He stopped in the passage and blinked at me enquiringly.

"Ah!" he said, "you have perhaps noticed Dr. Lorrimer here. That is Andrews, his assistant. The doctor could not come to-night, and, between our-

I went back to my pipe and newspaper, having been absent barely twenty minutes, viz., from 8.30 to 8.50. That night as I retired to rest I found myself speculating as to the amount of Mr. Gaston Pierrepont's interest in the will I had witnessed

But in the morning I received a shock. The first piece of news my landlady—bustling in with the breakfast tray—imparted was that General Maitland was

For a moment I experienced a sensa-tion of surprise. Probably the General's ruddy cheeks had forbidden the idea of such a speedy removal, but I soon saw that, after all, there was not much to wonder at.

The day was again fine, and I determined to return to the ruined tower to finish the sketch I had begun. I reached the place on foot and set to work, but after some little time I had occasion to shift my position in order to obtain a difthe house. No. 13 was a fac-simile of No. 14, with the exception of some slight differences in the furniture which stamped it as what it was—a second-rate will be not the first transfer of the stamped of the first transfer of the first transf > my lodgings and accepted my landlady's offer to send at once for the doctor. In answer to her inquiry as to which of the nedical men of the town I should prefer, I named the only one I had any knowledge of-Dr. Lorrimer-who had been such a frequent visitor next door.

The doctor came quickly and did wha was needed. It was a simple fracture andt easily set. Dr. Lorrimer was a cheerful, chatty man, and stayed for a little gene ral conversation after his professional skill had exhausted itself.

"By the way, doctor," I said, "you have lost a patient next door.

"Yes, poor old fellow," he replied, "not before I expected, though. was no hope for him from the first." "Your assistant, Mr. Andrews, seemed to be taking every care of him last night," I said. "My assistant? Mr. Andrews? Last night?" the doctor exclaimed in amazement. "I have no assistant, and what of last night, sir?' I explained how I had been asked in by Mr. Pierrepont to witness the general's will at 8.30 in the evening.

Dr. Lorrimer drew a long breath. "Well," he said at last, "if you saw him sign his will at half-past eight he signed it with a dead hand. General Maitland died at half-past four yesterday afternoon."

* * * * *

My broken arm was the means of exposing the whole dastardly plot by which Gaston Pierrepont, aided by his wife, had schemed to possess himself of his uncle's property to the exclusion of his son and lawful heir—an officer serving in an Indian regiment. The General had, as the doctor said, died shortly after four, he himself being present. Having finished with the case it was not likely that the doctor would be questioned as to the exact hour of death, and there would be nothing suspicious in a man signing his will on the day of his death, should the General's son compare the date of the will with that of the certificate which Dr. Lorrimer had given before he eft the house.

The "Mr. Andrews" who supported the dead man and guided his hand was Gaston Pierrepont's wife, a woman who had already suffered imprisonment, and who was the instigator of her husband's crime. The source of the "health glow, which bore a principal part in deceiving me, can easily be imagined. The couple fled on being openly accused by Dr. Lorrimer and myself, and George Maitland, when he came to claim his own, decided for the credit of the family not to pursue them, seeing he had lost nothing by the will his father had signed with a dead hand .- | The

THE TARIFF TAX.

HOW ITS INIQUITOUS OPERATIONS BENE-FIT A FEW AT THE EXPENSE OF THE MANY.

According to the census of 1890, the United States has in round numbers 63,-000,000 of population and $63,000,000, 000 worth of property, yet less than twenty-five thousand individuals own one-half of this vast wealth. It has been piled up for the most part under our tariff systems within the last thirty

During this period, labor, the primary origin of wealth, has produced this vast accumulation, three-fourths of which has been monopolized and concentrated in the hands of one twenty-fifth hundredth part of our population.

If the question is asked how this has been done, the answer will be found in our tariff taxation laws, of which the McKinley act, passed by the Fifty-first Congress, is a pertinent example, since it illustrates the most perfectly organ-ized system for the scientific plundering of the masses of the people that has been devised since the establishment of our Government.

A tariff tax, briefly explained, is one that requires the citizen to pay for the privilege of buying certain things he may need outside of the United States. may need outside of the United States. It compels him to buy things at home at higher prices, the difference or profit going into the pockets of the home manufacturer.

Under its operation, when the mer-chant orders his goods from abroad, he pays the tax or duty upon them as they enter the United States through the Custom House, but the consumer pays it back to him as a part of the price of the goods. They may pass through a dozen hands from the importer to the com-mission merchant, the jobber and the retailer, but they will carry all the while the burden of this tax, and in the end the consumer will foot the bill. Thus the tariff becomes a tax, whatever unscrupulous politicians may say to the contraay.

A duty levied upon articles not produced in this country, such as tea, coffee, spices and the like, is simply a dead letter, but that which is levied upon articles manufactured here, and which we can buy more cheaply abroad, enables the home manufacturer to charge for his products with the tariff tax added. That is what is meant by protection against foreign competition, but the process compels the farmer and mechanics to go down in their pockets and pay a bonus for the privilege of buying what they need.

In illustrating this point Congressman Bushnell, of Wisconsin, recently presented a familiar example. He said:

"Suppose a Philadelphia man manufactures all the hats made in this country and makes a hat at a cost of labor and material that enables him to sell it for a dollar and make a fair profit. Frenchman in Paris makes precisely the same kind of a hat at the same cost and sells it at the same price. If I buy a hat from the Philadelphia man he gets the profit. If I order a hat from the Frenchman he gets the profit and I pay the freight to bring it home. Philadelphia man has the advantage over the Frenchman by reason of the freight. But, understand me, the Frenchman buys our shiploads of pork, of which we have more than we can use or sell at home, and he trades us his hats for our surplus pork at a better price than we can get for it at home. Naturally we buy a good many hats from that Frenchman.

"This, however, does not suit the Philadelphia mau. He wants bigger profits and the monopoly of all the hats that are sold in this country, as well as to make us pay for the privilege of buying that Frenchman's hat. How does he obtain it? He says to Uncle Sam. That Frenchman is trading here and selling hats in my home market where I pay taxes and he does not; therefore he is taking money out of the country, and I want protection. Suppose you make a law that for every hat that Frenchman sells into this country he shall pay you one dollar; that will put money into your Treasury and protect my home market.'

"Forthwith a law is made that the Frenchman's hats shall pay a tariff duty of $1, when they are brought into the United States. Now what is the situation? If I buy one of those hats I must pay $2 for it; $1 to the Frenchman in Paris and $1 to Uncle Sam at the Custom House. How about the Philadelphia man selling his hats now? Will he continue to sell his hats at $1 each? Not much. He will charge $2 each, $1 of which is the increased profit we are forced to pay him by reason of this abominable tariff tax. Thus, the tariff is practically prohibitory." Aside from this grant of a special privilege, or a monopoly to the home manufacturers, however, and its effect in restraining foreign competition, the McKinley law imposes a burden upon our people, and takes from the consumer the profits that make the home manufacturers rich. This is the load which the working people of this country are now carrying and which it is the aim of the Democratic Party to lift from their shoulders. It is for the voters of the United States to declare at the polls next November whether they will bear the burden for another four years .- New York News.

The Cost of Food.

The World recently called attention to the fact that Senator Aldrich treated as of equal value the food, clothes, building materials, patent medicines and other articles the prices of which were examined by the Senate committee-in other words, that his calculation assumed that a family consumes as much medicine as food.

In the same way, in treating the food list, mustard and pepper were treated as of as much importance as bread and meat, while in examining the cost of clothes it was assumed that a family expended as much for linings as for coats, hats, blankets and dress goods.

The full tables are now issued, and from them can be gathered the truth concerning expenditures for the food that was consumed and the clothes that were bought during the period of twenty-eight months investigated by the Senate.

Taking bread, flour, eggs, butter, cod, beef, milk, mutton, pork, potatoes, onions and cabbages as the basis of the ordinary American table, we may compare their prices at the beginning of the period, June, 1889, with the highest prices attained during the period and also with those of the last month of the period, September, 1891. The following table, 100 being considered the normal and reductions and increases in price being represented by percentages of 100, will show these prices:

	Prices In	Highest	Prices in
	June, 1889.	Price.	Sept., 1891
Beef, roasting.	100.15	104,45	101.16
Bread	100.06	100.41	100.49
Butter		128.18	111.5)
Cod		102.86	102.58
Cabbage	106.14	147.40	88.8
Eggs		155.80	132.99
Flour, wheat		102.21	101.94
Mutton		104.78	100.78
Onions	101.55	131,35	101.52
Pork, salt	99.94	104.55	104.5
Milk		106.11	99.60
Potatoes		167.00	86.15

Average......100.33 121.27 101.84 In this list of necessaries of life there is not an article which did not advance in price during the agitation and after the passage of the McKinley act. There is not one, with the exception of cabbage, whose highest price was not reached after the enactment of the law. The average price of these commodities in June, 1889, was 100.33. The average of the highest prices was 121.27. The average price in September, 1891, was not notice this. He is supposed to be 101.82. At one time during the twentyeight months, therefore, and after the passage of the McKinlev law, the prices of these necessary articles of food went up $20.94 on every $100 worth, and at the close of the period these were still bringing $1.49 on every $100 above the prices charged before the Fifty-first Congress assembled.

Tea and coffee are not included in the above table because they are free of duty, while sugar is omitted because the Democratic policy of free raw material has been adopted, the result being a declination of 37 per cent. in the price of the granulated article.

Under the McKinley act food has been dearer by very much more than the paltry .47 of 1 per cent. admitted by Mr. Aldrich. Some of this increased

When the prices of clothes shall be examined the result of the tariff tax will McKinleyism Must Go. The women of this country will have a good deal to say in the selection of President Harrison's successor. No matter who the Republican candidate for the Presidency may be he will necessarily be the leader of his party and a champion of the McKinley tariff-and the women of America don't believe in high .prices. Most wives are the treasurers of their families, and, as they do the buying they are much apter than their husbands to notice it when they are required to pay more for a thing than they have been accustomed to pay, When a workingman's family has been scrimping and saving for weeks, perhaps months, in order to renew the ingrain carpet in the little parlor and diningroom, the housewife is astonished to find that it costs a good deal more than the last one. It does not tend to awaken that woman's love for the Republican Party when she learns that the increase is due to the McKinley tariff, under which the tax on the carpet is more than it sells for where it is made. The shawl that she buys is taxed 157.31 per cent., the kid gloves that she wears on Sunday, the ribbons for herself and daughters, the flannels and blankets for the family, their clothing, even the baby's rattle, must all pay heavy tributes under the McKinley law. And this tribute does not go into the public treasury to pay the expenses of Government. Were that the case, and the money needed, patriotsm would make the burden bearable. The tariff taxes are not levied for revenue, however, but to enrich our manufacturers, who generally stand much less in need of protection than do the people that have to buy their goods.

The present tariff is class legislation in its worst form-legislation in the interest of the class whose wealth gives them political power and, consequently, a "pull" on Congress. Hence it comes that those industries which are most prosperous and best able to bear up against foreign competition are the ones that receive most favors from the party of "protection." The giants are the "infants" that always get to the full bot-

The Democratic Party is pledged to reverse the Republican policy—to place the tariff tax so that it will fall lightest on the necessaries and ordinary comforts of life and heaviest on luxuries for which the rich can afford to pay.

The women do not vote themselvas. but the wives who have husbands so stupid as to wish to cast their ballots for the party which has made things dear and so increased greatly the cost of running the house and dressing the family decently, will be very likely to bring such husbands to their senses by the time election day arrives.

The McKinley tariff is a pair of shears in the hands of the rich to shear the wool of the poor. It is against justice, against common sense.

McKinleyism must go. - San Francisce

McKinley's Misrepresentations.

Governor McKinley, in his recent Neoraska speech on the tariff, fairly outdid himself in bringing forward delusive statistics. He stated that during the fifteen years of low tariff, from 1846 to 1861, the balance of trade was $469,-000,000 against us, and that during all that period there were only two years when it was in our favor. During the fifteen years from 1876 to 1891, Mr. McKinley continued, there were only two years when the balance was against us.

Mr. McKinley chose his years very shrewdly. In the fifteen years of high tariff from 1861 to 1876 the balance of trade was in our favor only three years, and the total balance against us was $1,055,000,000; more than twice as great as the balance against us during the fifteen years of low tariff just preceding. What is more, the balance was in our favor during the last year of the low tariff and against us during the first year of the high tariff.

The gentleman repeated the assertion made by so many of his colleagues, that our trade during the present year has brought $200,000,000 into the country. As a matter of fact it has brought next to nothing into the country, and gold exports this year have continued very late. The country's exports have exceeded its imports, but we have been using the surplus to purchase American securities held by foreigners.

The year after the McKinley bill was enacted, the balance of trade in our favor diminished, but Mr. McKinley did one of the honest men in his party, but if he attempts to deceive the people after this manner, what sort of a party does he belong to, and how much confidence can be placed in the party's statements ?- Brooklyn Citizen.

A Desperate Fight.

NASHVILLE, Tenn.-A bulletin just eccived from Knoxville, Tenn., says? After a desperate fight at Oliver botween the troops and miners, tho former were forced to retreat, and now have 200 convicts, bringing them to this place.

EXCITEMENT IN CHATTANOOGA.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenu. - Bulleting posted on the leading buildings of this Mr. Aldrich. Some of this increased price is due to the law, while some is due to short crops in Europe.

city toll the following story: "Tennessee to arms." "Will you allow your state to be disgraced?" "The miners have scaptured the soldiers. Let volunteers come at once." "Lieuappear even more clearly .- New York | tenant Royster is in the armory to receive volunteers." "Bring any kind of weapon you may have."

A thousand people stood in the drizzling rain and read the bulletins with alarm. Terror was added when Colonel Woodford wired from Harriman that the thirty Knoxville soldiers had been captured en route to Oliver Springs.

Wires were cut and no one could say what fate they had met, and the parents of the boys who are at the scene are wild with auxiety for the safety of their sons. Mayor Andrews wired Colonel Woodford not to leave Harriman's with the boys if he doubted his ability to successfully fight, and the dispatch, together with the story of the capture of the Knoxville boys, caused instant demoralization among the troops, and they are badly phased.

It is estimated that fully 3,000 armed miners are in the field in East Tennessee, and the fight against the troops is uneven to say the least.

THE VERY LATEST.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. — Eighteen hundred miners advanced on Oliver Springs at noon and captured the place.

The little knot of militia was forced to retreat, and all of the convicts were put on the cars and headed for Nashville. When the convicts had been removed the stockade was burned to the ground. Late reports say that Coal Creek is the next point. A stubborn fight will be made here, as the troops have a gatling gun and cannon. Volunteers cannot be mustered to any extent in Chattanooga.

Blown Out of the Ground.

At Wise Courthouse, Tenn., a most revolting outrage has been perpetrated. Recently Hiram Mullins, a desperate moonshiner, with his whole family, was murdered near Round Gap. The bodies were buried near Wise. Saturday a relative going to the graves found that someone had due a hole near them, inserted a dynamite cartridge and blew the bodies out of the ground. They were found scattered in all directions. There is no clew to the criminals.

National Democratic Ticket

FOR PRESIDENT, GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, A. E. STEVENSON, of Illinois.

For Congress 4th District, GASTON A. ROBBINS, of Dallas.

COMMITTEE MEETING.

There will be a meeting of the Democratic Executive committee of Shelby county at Columbiana on Monday, September 12, for the purpose of transacting important business connected with the congressional and presidential election. All members of the central and district committees for Shelby county are requested to meet with W. B. BROWNE, Chair.

THE democratic is the only people's party in existence and for that reason it has withstood all storms and all adversity, and will continue in its policy to the end. Vote the straight democdatic ticket.

DEMOCRACY has resisted all efforts to diminish the rights of the people and to increase at their expense the powers of the federal government. It behooves every voter to stand with the democracy at the ballot box in November.

WHEN you come to court don't forget that you have an invitation to call at the Chronicle office, regardless of your religion or your politics, where you will always find a hearty welcome. - Shelby Chron-

We accept the invitation, brother, and will bring along a copy of the Journal with us that you may get some good democratic doctrine to study and republish in your already partisan paper.

THE nomination of Judge George H. Craige, of Dallas, by the republicans of the 4th district—in the event that the peoples' party nominate a candidate-makes the election of Gaston A. Robbins a certainty. If, however, they do not nominate, but affect a fusion with the republicans, voting for Craig for the republican support of the Weaver presidential electors, the 4th district may be placed in the doubtful column. Judge Craig is a strong man. If he should be elected will rank with the ablest congressmen from the state. While Judge Craig has always been a staunch republican, he is not an offensive partisan, but commands the respect of all intelligent democrats.

THE entire delegation to congress from this state can be elested if caution is exercised in the selection of candidates, but there must be no lukewarm or "doubting Thomases" in the lead. Party men and democratic candidates must "buckle on the armor and prepare for the conflict, giving no quarter nor asking none," and when this is done no grass must be allowed to grow under their feet, but the leaders of the party must strike straight from the shoulder. Despondent democrats must be exhorted and prayed for until they take on fresh courage. Let prudence reign, and the weak-kneed be nursed and fed on democratic doctrine. Preach tariff state election, showed that there is If this is done and done in a square, and in none of these counties is the open fight, the victory will be sure dissatisfaction greater or more

The party that claims to be the people's party should have a principle in its organic law that trusts to the people to sustain. This new organization is not so, but on the all of its demands are upon the government to sustain the people, taking charge of every business intion lines to the government, giving Is there any trust in the people to hero of the wire grass district will them and placed in the hands of the dates and all the democratic clubs to control business of the country, can't consistently call it a party) and that is "half done." can and should be named the central party; for its purposes and demands centralizes all authority in the government. It might be called the alliance party, the Knights of Labor or sore-head's party, the anarchist party, or the office-hunter's party-but never the people's party. In different localities it could consistently be "dubbed" for certain would-be great men, for instance, in Kansas; Peffer Simp son party; in Georgia, Watson party; in Alabama, Manning-Adams party. Coming down to countiesparty; in Chilton, the Louis Rey. of hearing and lastly that of touch. nolds, et. als. party; in Shelby, the Pitts-Longshore party or crowd. We could suggest other subordinate two new men for congress (Robbins, and two of the old members, Cobb and Bankhead. This leaves but are that four of these will nominate faction. and elect old members-Clark, Oats, Wheeler and Turpin-and in the second, Mr. Herbert will not be a candidate, but the chances are in favor of Hon. Henry C. Tompof the ablest young men in the state. With such an array of talent and political experience as these men possess with the probable opposition they will have, the democracy should feel encouraged to lay aside all former differences, strike while the fires are blazing, go forth with the banner of Cleveland and Tariff Alabama being a doubtful state. When we realize that our state is in the heart of the solid south where the democratic party has done so much in redeeming the people from whiskey 20 years old. republican rule and negro domination, and with the odds so largely in favor of its nominees, it would be a great mistake to allow even one member from the state to be an opponent of the democracy Make no mistakes and we will "march on to victory in November."

people's, neither is it a party.

THE notice in another place in to day's issue, shows that the campaign committees of Shelby county are preparing to open up the congressional and presidential fight in good earnest. This is good news and the work is not to begin any too soon. The situation in the new 4th is not as favorable as we would like it, yet with good work victory is almost certain. The division of the white voters in Alabama in the With Hill's Chill Killer to-morrow! reform and show the absurdity of a strong dissatisfied element in the "sub-treasury," to third party men. | counties composing the 4th district, born political crowd by the wrong work before them, and that work name. The democratic party has should be progressive yet conservawon the distinguished title which tive. Let the various democratic has been given to this hybrid crew. clubs in Shelby lend their aid in the good work, by re-organizing and holding regular meeting.

I AM going to work with a will, and expect to organize my district thoroughly. I believe it reliably contrary all of its declarations and democratic, and I am going to try 400 and has heretofore given 800 reto reach every voter in it with the publican majority. truth. It is mighty and will prevail. I am confident that I will overcome all opposition, and I am tended to benefit the people, leav- going into the contest with the uting the control of the transporta. most cheerfulness.—Wm. C. Oats.

Spoken like a true patriot! If, the mass of the people nothing to in every district, the democratic sas Whipple and Carnahan, republido with the matter whatever, nominee would display such patritransferring to the party in power otic courage, and enter the canvass ernor, failed to receive any votes. the dictatorship for all time to with such heroic determination and come. Such a system would as a will the battle would be easily won. matter of course, give us a more Let us hope that this sentiment utcorrupt and tyranical government, tered by the gallant one-armed control their business interests, work and permeate through the when that control is taken from minds and hearts of all the candigovernment? If the government is in the state, and infuse into every democrat a spirit to work and to where is the doctrine "a govern. win. Such a state of feeling enment by the people for the peo-gendered in the minds of the people?" This new organization (we ple and the battle is "well begun," edge their ignorance.

> THE democracy has ever stood between the people and oppression. The people should stand between that party and defeat.

POLITICAL AND OTHERWISE.

TAKEN FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

about 100,000 come to the United States and 50,000 go to England.

Few are aware that the human body falls asleep by degrees. A French ble in any party physiologist conceives that the sense of sight sleeps first, then the sense of we call it in Bibb, the Dave Brown taste, next the sense of smell, next that for the relief of ex-Confederate sol-

There are five tickets in the Texas field, and a well-founded fear prevails lest the usual democratic majority shall names, but life is too short; suffice of 125,000. It behooves the National Cleburne district, has entered contest to say, it is a misnomer to call it committee to look after the Lone Star the people's party, for it is not the state.

Talladega, Sep. 3 .- [Special.] -- Sheriff Woods has turned over the office to THE democrats have nominated Mr. Dickerson, the newly elected sheriff, who has appointed M. G. McCarge in the 4th, and Denson, in the 7th) as chief deputy. Mr. Wood retires with a clean record as an officer, and Mr. Dickerson enters with a spotless record five to nominate, and probabilities doubt fill the office with entire satis- campus and $5,000 in cash.

The Haynesville Citizen Examiner voices a very general and generous sentimen at this time, It says: "We be lieve and hope that the efficient exchairman of the democratic executive committee of Alabama will be elected in kins, of Montgomery county, one November as he would honor in congress not only the second dittrict but the whole state of Alabama."

The Calera school board elected W B. Greek, of this place, principal of the school at that place for the ensuing session. The board acted wisely in their has done well in Alabama. With selection, as Mr. Greek is a polished this good beginning every democrat gentleman, a thorough scholar and one of the best educators in the state We congratulate the citizens of Calera upon good fortune.-Shelby Chronicle.

corn are now used in the construction Reform and roll up a majority that of powder mills. In case of explosion

> Queen Victoria's golden wedding mattox." presents to the king and queen of Denmark were a marble vase, nearly 5 feet

There is still burning in India a sawoods and is replenished five times a lowa.

TOM, DICK AND HARRY. BY LITTLE ETHEL.

Tom, Dick and Harry! Dear Reader, what social names! I had a brother once named Tom, a sweetheart named Dick, and a cousin named Harry. My! how times flies!

Tom is now big enough to eat waffles Harry wears knee pants, and Dick-"Oh, Richard," she said, "my own true Come back across the sea: For I am still your turtle-dove— Though you are false to me!"

And so dear friend, we pass away The time in joy and sorrow: And follow the muscadine to-day

"Mattie Linn, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chappell Cory, died yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at their home on Rush Avenue, North High-ing the defunct Democracy with all its Nabors, J H lands. It was taken with whooping hoary crimes, at the bar of public opincough about five weeks ago, and grew ion? We know that its acts comprise

THE Weaver-Manning-Bowman-subborn than in Shelby. These slowly but steadily worse until the end tes persist in calling their new- committees have a large and heavy came. It was a few days more than 11 months old, and was its parents' only

> Little Rock, Ark., Sep. 6.-Later returns from 38 counties give Fishback, democrat, 12,800 majority. Indications are that the democrats carried all except four counties, due to the Australian ballot law.

The only republican majority is reported from Jefferson, which gave Partial returns from Crittenden, a kansas, gave a democratic majority

In some towns in Western Arkancan and populist candidates for Gov-

This city will give a majority of over 700 for Fishback. It is impossible to estimate Fishback's majority on account of the peculiarity of the vote. The refusal of the negroes to vote have nonplussed political mathematicians.

The result is the expression of Arkansas voters who are able to read and write, the Australian ballot system having kept from the polls those & Georgia Railroad. who were unable to prepare their own ticket and were unwilling to acknowl-

Montgomery Advertiser: We are toid that there are a very large number of patriotic citizens of Alabama who have placed a price upon their future allegiance to and support of the democratic party-that is the recognition of Kolb as Governor. The price is entirely too dear, and if there are many such democrats, we are indeed in the midst of perilous political About 250,000 canary birds are raised times. Any man who would give up in Germany every year, and of these his party standing and surrender his political principles upon such a flimsy pretext, is not worthy of the name of democrat and would not be valua-

> The fund appropriated by the State diers and their widows will be available after September 30.

George W. Eicholberger, the defeated candidate for the State Senate be cut down to the contemptible figure on the Kolb ticket in the Calhounagainst W. A. Porter, his successful opponent."

In a contest between several North Alabama towns, the Locating Committee at Huntsville yesterday afternoon gave the town of Gurley the Synodical Female College of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, that as a gentleman and citizen and will no town donating five acres of land for a > close of the fiscal year, besides having paid off during the year a bonded debt of 16,000, placing the company out of debt with money in the treasury, and a large amount of cotton to run on.

WEAVER'S UTTERANCES

He said at Albia on July, '66:

"I want to congratulate you first, fellow-citizens, on the suppression of purely Democratic rebellion, gotten up by Democrats for the democratic purpose of dissevering this Union and perpetually estaplishing human slavery. Now Bricks made of plaster of paris and and forever it is established as an eternal truth that the Democracy in no place or State can ever be trusted with will forever silence the absurdity of they offer slight resistance, and are government. As a party it should disband, just as a section of it did at Appo-

He said at Centreville in '67:

"Again has the Democratic party in height, and a cask of Lochnager of Iowa spoken. Why, sir, I am astontonished beyond measure that a party with a record so utterly vile and wretchcred fire that was lighted by the Par- ed and wicked should be so lost to all sees twelve centuries ago. The fire is shame and decency as to make an apfed with sandal and other fragrant pearance before the loyal people of Farrell, John T

> "They should be trampling in the wilderness of oblivion, and never more

He said in a joint debate with Col. H. H. Trimble, at Bloomfield on September 4, '68:

"Here we have the old fight over again. The Confederate Democracy, North and south, in which the infamous | Shrader, J V copperhead division of Iowa appears, Moore, Sr., WR are contesting with Grant for the safety of the Union. As at Donelson, he proposes to 'move on their works at once,' and there is no escape for this rank, traitorous horse, except in an other surrender. Charge on them, fellow Republicans, and spare not one, not even a deputy road supervisor, from total McLendon, Wm political annihilation."

He said in Bloomfield on September

"What is the use of further arraign-

Marion MILITARY Institute.

IVEARION, ALA.

Partial returns from Crittenden, a superior Accommodationrs and Board. Superintender his republican stronghold in Eastern Arfamily and faculty live in building with students. Classic and Scientific. Superior Commercal Course. TERMS MODE-RATE. Send for Catalogue.

COL. J. T. MURFEE, Superintendent, Marion, Alabama.

SIX MILE MALE . FENALE ACADEMY.

R. H. PRATT, Principal.

35th session begins September 26, 1892.

This school is located at Six Mile, Alabama, in a healthy, well watered neighborhood, five miles from Ashby depot, on the East Tennessee, Virginia

For terms of board and tuition, address

R H PRATT, PrIncipal, Six Mile, Alabama.

CALERA JOURNAL Book and Job Office. CALERA, ALA.

NEW AND LATEST STYLE TYPE,

BEST OF PAPER AND INK USED. BIRMINGHAM & MONTGOMERY PRICES DUPLICATED.

CALERA JOURNAL,

$1--A WEEKLY NESWSPAPER--$1.

The latest and most select political, social and religious news. Literature and science, a special feature, Special attention given to local correspondence. For further particulars in reference to subscriptions or Commercial or Pamphlet work, address, JOURNAL, murder, treason, theft, arson, fraud perjury, and all crimes possible for an or- Taylor, J R ganization to connive at."

He said in Fairfield September, '70:

The Huntsville Cotton Mill Company yesterday declared a dividend to the stockholders of 8 per cent. at the in Iowa they stole the school fund and I,ybrand, Wm J. nationally they stole the arsenals the Wells, Thomas J Navy, the Treasury, every thing that was not red hot, and created the very Raker, Clinton devil's rebellion. And these men appear and ask for your support. They should come on bended knees asking your forgiveness for the unspeakable crimes they have committed and the wretched miseries inflicted upon our common country.

> "But, then, what could you expect from the poor, blind, diseased decrepit, dismal damned old Democratic party?—Speech at Stiles September 11, 1873.

"These and other similar extracts from his speeches were read in his hearing on the floor of the House of Representatives, July 10, 1888, when he declared as follows: 'I have nothing to take back with regard to my course."

Petit Jurors for September Term,

The following is a list of petit jurors for the September term of the circuit court:

FIRST WEEK.

Horton, S D Wyatt, W F Wyatt, WH Smith, J L Pilgreen. W S Byers, R P Rabinson, M J White, Andrew J Sumter, Riley Phillips, L T Nelson, W S Card, E M

Albright, Rufus Dodson, BA McClinton, E R Merrill, A H Coshatt' Shelby Moore, R B Farr, W M Hartsfield, LW

Powell, W C Aldrich, W F Shaw, Pleasant McWhorter, J W Wilson, R C Payne, R M Baugh, J T Hubbard, W B Davis. J T Spearman, Jas. M Latham, S A Ray, P T Kindrick L R Cleary, Thomas Taylor, G W

SECOND WEEK.

Barnett, J T Ray, J F Bowden Sam'l F Adams, J M Adams, G W Killingsworth, GW McLeod, Rufus Blackeby, W H Taylor, Jessie M Walker, J B Wesson, J A Thompson, W A Armstrong, Simeon Fulton, D E Grinies, W A Robertson, J H Brasher, G E Willis, David

CALERA, ALA.

Connell, J G Wilder, W. F. Harper, J S wbrand, Wm J Jones, Joseph S Spencer, E L Acton, John

McClendon, J D

Walker, Wm

Cromwell, JT Evans, T G Lee, W G Adams, J P Gilbert, Richard Spearman. Wm Basher, J W koberson, J F M Riley, N J Jones, T W Wheeller, G W Isbell, Ezkeill Martin, J H Jones, M J

REGISTER'S SALE.

Morgan & Lapsley,

A. M. Elliott, Trustee, et al) tue of a decree rendered at the Spring term, 1892, of the Chancery Court of Shelby county, Alabama, in the above entitled cause, I will proceed to sell, under the power contained in a Mortgage from H. M. Pierce, et al, to A. M. Elliott, trustee, at public outery, in front of the Court House door in the town of Columbiana, Alabama, on Monday, the 17th day of October, 1892.

between the legal hours of sale, for cash, the following described real estate, situated near Calera in Sheby county, Ala., to-wit: Fractions A, H, J, M, and the 8½ of E and F of section 22, township 22, range 2, west; and the east half of north east quarter, section 2, township 24, range 13, east.

This. August 11, 1892. D. R. McMILLAN, Register and Acting Trustee.
13aug-10w prs fee$16.50

NOTICE 12,810.

Land office, Montgomery, Ala.) September 7, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the clerk of the circuit court at Columbiana, Alabama, on October 21, 1892. viz.: Alexander Hunley, homestead entry, No. 20,341, for the N. E. qr of N. E. qr, section 34, township. 21, south of range 2 west. He names the following witnesses to prove his contin-nous residence upon and cultivation of, said land, viz.: W. M. Jones, Charlie Griffin, Perry Riley, Lawson Hunley, all of Calera, Ala.

J. H. BINGHAM,

GENERAL INFORMATION.

RAILROAD TIME TABLE. LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE.

No. 1, South Bound, 66 66 2, North Bound, 10:19 10:05 p.m.  7:15 p. m.

ALABAMA MINERAL. 85, Arrives at 4:35 p. m. 10:25 a. m.

86, Departs at

COUNTY OFFICERS. Probate Judge—R. W. Cobb. Circuit Clerk—W. R. A. Milner. Sheriff—W. R. Carter. Register in Chancery-D. R. McMil-

Tax Collector-E. F. Vest. Tax Assessor-W. H. Kidd. County Trersurer-A. W. Strickland Superintendent of Education-T. N.

County Solicitor—J. L. Peters. County Commissioners—John E. Dyeey, T. B. McClusky, R. F. Johnson, D. C. Davis.

AT THE CHURCHES.

PRESBYTERIAN-Services on the 4th Sundays in each month, morning and night; pastor to be supplied. Sabbath School at 9:30 a.m.

METHODIST—Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night, by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sabbath school at 9:30.

Baptist Church--Rev. J. G. Lowrey, pastor. Preaching every first and second Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting at niture. 7.00 p. m., every Thursday.

CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN—J. J. D alton, postor. Preaching every first and third Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a.m. Prayer meeting Friday eveningsat 7:30. Children's Band meets 3:30 p. m. each 1st and 3rd Sunday. Ladies' Aid Society every other Friday eveningst 3.

INSURE YOUR LIFE. Read and profit by the following sound counsel, every word of which smarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel:

touch them; where the assessor cannot tax them; where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old sge should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do your duty and insure immediately in some good, old reliable Company."—Extract from a sermon by the Rev. T. Defirst fro Witt Talmage.

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

The Birmingham News at Reduced Rates,

During the month of July, the Birmingham News will be mailed to any address at the following rates. The Daily News published every afternoon and Sunday morning, four months for $1.50; the Sunday News four months

G. Jones.

The News is the leading afternoon newspaper of the State, and will furnish all the news political and otherwise duals the newspaper of the State, and will furnish all the newspaper of the State, and will furnish all the newspaper of the State, and will furnish a crisp and ring the coming campaign in a crisp and readable form.

Now is the time to subscribe. Sample copies sent on application. Ad-

THE NEWS, Birmingham, Ala.

HUGH T. CAFFEY,

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON CALERA, ALA.

feb12-1y.

J. L. PETERS. HENRY WILSON, E. S. LYMAN

Peters, Wilson & Lyman, ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

Ripans Tabules: see advertisement. IMPORTANT TO LADIES

Sir—I made use of your Philotoken with my last child, in order to procure a safe and easy travil. I used it about two months before my expected time. and I had a very quick and easy confinement. Nothing occurred to protract my convalescence, and I got about in less time than was usual for me. I think it a medicine that should be used by every expectant mother, for should they but try it as I have, they would never again be without it at such times. I am

yours respectfully,
Mrs. ELIZABETH DIX. Anymerchant or druggist can procure Risley's Philotoken for $1 a bottle. CHARLES F. RISLEY, Wholesale Druggist, 62 Cortlandt St., New York.

NTED -A lady in each town to take or thing new that every lady wants; we pay fret i hours' work; sample and instruction has. Harry Fard, Lock Box 600, Birming Quarterly meeting at Mountain Chapel today and tomorrow.

The Wheelers, of Birmingham, and Calera plays base ball today. The great Sullivan-Corbett prize fight has caused a lull in base ball. The election contest cases in this county are set for trial before Judge Cobb next Monday.

The third party in Chilton county is to have a paper. Its name is People's Banner.

in Talladega counties.

Mr. R. B. Zuber, duing business for the Clifton Iron Co., of Ironeton, called on us yesterdaymorning. The Thoms of Calera differ as to number three: Thom. McKibbon says 3 is not a lucky number, but Thom Wagner says it brought him in a new hat. Cleveland & Stevenson, Harrison & Ried, representatives of the two great political parties, will in Calera in a few days they can be seen 5:10 a. m. at Wade & Co's.

A. C. Wade, the popular merchant has returned from the eastern cities, and his goods are coming in every day. He has some fine clothing already on the counters. They are neat and marked low down.

Miss Bessie Hardy, the beautiful and good natured daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hardy, left this week for Montgomery, where she will be in attendance at the Catholic school for another session.

Hon, Rev. Burn-his-arm-off Adams, and one or two of his political pals were seen in Calera Tuesday. It is reported that Adams said the republicans would have no electoral ticket in the field in this state.

Mr. Abe Steine requests us to say that he is almost well, and will be able to be around in a few days. Mr. Steine was seriously hurt, and had a considerable effort to pull through, but is almost himself again

The good book says: "He that provideth not for his own household is worse than an infidel." good way and a cheap way to make this provision is to go Wade & Co's and buy a set of their nice new fur-

The JOURNAL Job office is still prepared to do all kinds of work in its line. Legal blanks, pamphlets, and commercial work a specialty, and orders will be filled promptly and done as neatly and cheaply as anywhere in the state.

Rev. W. B. Witherspoon wil preach at the Cumberland Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening 7:30, September 21, inst.

Prof. Greek has been here this week preparing for the opening of if you expect them to be benefitted.

testify.

Wyatt Arnold, of Montgomery, wyatt Arnold, of Montgomery, is not a door-mat in ner own nome, is she a family donkey. Least of she is a doll. But by every degree which her own mental life has broadened and bettered. "When educate a man," says the sage, educate an individual; when you educate an or other properties. for Twenty-five cents, payable in advance. The News is fearlessly Democratic and supports regularly organized Democracy of the State headed by Thos.

In company with his neices, Misses in company with his neices, Misses Leila and Florence Fancher, spent a few hours with us Wednesday.

Mr. Arnold has our sympathy in days since; also in the long and severe illness of his excellent wife.

> Mr. Thom Moore was in to see us Wednesday; while in the office informed us that he had concluded to cast his lot with the people of Shelby, by taking a situation with J. B. Adams, of Longview. Themas is a worthy young man and a dead game the third party men of beat seven.

utes $150 as a campaign fund, which will be largely augmented by the next meeting. Let Calera's Club take patern after Sheiby and do its duty. Time is short now.

of our former young friends of Randolph-Miss Bessie Cox-and but for its length would give it space in this issue. Knowing the young lady as we have from her childhood days, we feel that the tribute to her

WOMEN'S COLUMN.

General has undertaken to raise one university expects to secure a fund of $1,000,000 for buildings and endowment. Mrs. Logan's plan is to organize the women into State, congressional, district and local leagues, these leagues to cooporate with her in raising the money to aid in this great enterprise. The $1,000,000 fund will be devoted to the benefit of women students, who will be admitted to all the privileges of the

An occasional correspondent of the Chicago Inter-Ocean, during a long conversation with Senator Carey of Wyoming, put the question: "What are Wyoming women like, anyway, Senator Carey?" Senator Carey replied:

Observe the best, most progressive, intelligent women of the East, and you intelligent women of the East, and you will see just such women as our State is filled with. They have lost none of their womanliness by having the right to express their opinion by ballot. I can not understand why men will intrust the care of their homes and the training of their children to a woman, and yet grant the table the round word work are the second word.

and yet say that she would not know how to use the ballot and would not use it if she had the right. It is absurd. My wife votes at every election, and she is the sweetest most womanly woman

The new interest which women of culture, station and refinement are taking in politics in England is almost revolu-tionary. The suffrage for woman, the closing of public houses on Sunday, finally succeed?-Central Christian Ad-

GOSSIP OF THE CRITIC.

The Critic is in receipt of a neat card that reads: "Mrs. S. H .Crawford announces the marriage of her daughter, Marilla, to Mr. Gray, Thursday noon, September 8th, Centreville Ala., 1892. At Home, Dadeville, Ala., after September the 9th." Miss. Crawford was one of Bibb county's most lovely young ladies. She has the best wishes of the Critic, who hopes that her home may be one of life's flower garden, with only enough of the tares to make the garnering ap-

I am called upon to chronicle tho death of the little one whose advent into the world was announced in this the lips which never even framed the word, "Mother," will wake the call to the coming morn. My heart weeps for the cloud that has settled over the lives of my friends, but somewhere I know the light streameth forever.

Heaven's contentment bring them

peace, and love soften their sorrow

My sympathy goes out, too, to Chappel Cory in the loss of his first that weighs upon them.

preciated.

in the world.

University on equal terms with men.

[The Woman's Column is under the supervision of Mrs. F. W. Gist, and all communications for this department should be addressed to her at West Calera, Alabama.]

"The Woman's World" of the "New Decatur Advertiser" edited by Mrs. C. J. Hildreth, is spicy and full of interest. Let me extend to you the right hand of fellowship dear sister. I hereby acknowledge receipt of the Sep. 3 issue, Mrs. Duran is still absent from for which accept thanks. If the Alabahome visiting relatives in this and ma Press Association could get an invitation to meet and be entertained any where this year, I should hope very soon to meet you. Well we will soon be organizing a Woman's Editorial Association in Alabama, then we must meet somewhere.

> We regret that in our last week's issue the death of Madam Willard's death which was Aug. 6 1892 was omitted by mistake of the printer, but we hope our readers will understand how these errors occur and throw the mantle of charity over them.

Mr. Bok of the "Ladies Home Journal" is making himself very rediculous. Yes! ye Lords of Creation! it is going powerfully against the grain with you to see us marching up to arrest our to see us marching up to arrest our equal protection and equal rights under rights in various manners in which we divorce laws, the abolition of the opium have so long been so heavily oppressed, traffic, and the substitution of arbitrabut you will have to grin and endure it (unless you can endnre it more civilly) for we are going to march onward. Mr. Bok is deservedly getting some very hard licks and already the props are knocked from under his notorious arguments. Below we give you the benefit of one article.

THE WISHINESS OF WASHINESS

A new sort of woman has been unearthed by Mr. Bok, of the Ladies' Home Journal, and he occupies nearly a page of the last issue in describing her and telling her why she ought not to exist. "Thev," he says, "are donning masculinity, not only in their garments, but in their ideas; they want to vote; they are beginning to believe more in certain fanciful 'rights' than in their children; they are acquiring mental knowledge at the expense of heart affection." Where is the proof of these remarkable statements? Ordinary observation shows that the fashion of wearing vests, crayats and manish-look-A new sort of woman has been unwearing vests, cravats and manish-looking shirts is as common among weak-minded as among strong-minded women. As for donning masculine ideas, that would be as difficult a performance as swimming in a masculine lake, building a masculine house, or eating a masculine pie. Ideas are sexless and free to everybody. They are also capable of being assimilated in large quantities by the human mind., whether the mind happens to be encased in a male or female body.

Knowledge is not acquired at the expense of heart affection—it is acquired in most iustances at the expense of amily to protect them with a reasonable amount of life insurance, where the storms of the financial world cannot touch them; where the assessor cannot and artisans give to their wives and children. Nobody asserts that men are acquiring mental knowledge at the expense of heart affection." Yet the rule should work equally well in both cases. The entire article appears to be based when the corresponding that if upon the apprehension that if woman born. His was but a tiny blossom takes one single step in the direction of that withered at the first touch of progress, that step will land her outside disease. He and the young me of the sacred sphere of home, the front must need give it as a It has been suggested by one of our local politicians that the Young Men's Democratic Club have a meeting at an early day, and prepare for the November contest. Let it be ready for the fight. There is nothing liketraining, as Corbett can testify.

of the sacred sphere of home, the front door of which she will slam with a victionness that will make every peaceloving husband shake in his shoes. And this is in face of the multitudinous facts which proves that the best home makers in the country are the so-caller "advanced women." Such a woma applies to domestic difficulties the san intelligent attention and cultivat reasoning power that she forme reasoning power that she forme brought to bear upon her studies. I is not a door-mat in her own home, cate a woman, you educate an family." Genuine womanliness i of so frail a texture that it is going destroyed by a cultivated mind, self-supporting life, or an abundan ideas, or any other creature.

It is always interesting to obseman laboriously stoop down and fully chalk out a circle large in his opinion to include more th the human race, and then say, worthy young man and a dead game democrat, and we commend him to the third party men of beat seven.

The democratic olub of Shelby, which enrolls some of the best material in the state had a meeting on Monday last and raised in a few minutes $150 as a campaign fund, which strut around his house in an asse manner, and lay down the law to children and his servants." His ho take patern after Sheiby and do its duty. Time is short now.

We see in Bibb County Democrat a beautiful tribute to the life of one of our former young friends of Ran call the wishiness of washiness. be we have heard it designated as to boshiness of Bokkyness.—Wives an Daughters.

days, we feel that the tribute to her memory is well merited, and will publish it next week.

Rev. Will Hawkins, one of our Bibb county friends, and a former student of Six Mile Acadmy was in Calera two or three days this week, and spent two nights with us. He went up to Helena Sunday and filled Rev. Dowlings appointment at that place, as Mr. Dowling was kept at home on account of sickness in his family.

The hammer to be used by M. Palmer in driving the last nail will be contributed by the women of Nebrask. The handle will be composed of light and dark woods alternating, encircled by broad bands of gold, upon which i engraved the inscription, "From the Women of Nebraska." The head of the hammer will be of silver, and upon its face will be placed the seal of Nebraska in gold relief. The head will be bound with gold work representing the United States colors; the stars of the flags represented in diamonds for each state. The flagstaff will be made of pearl, the entire emblematical device being surmounted by an eagle. The hammer to be used by

Mrs. John A. Logan, wife of the late URE BLOOD GOOD HEALTH million dallars faam the women of this country for the American University, the national institution founded by the Methodists of Washington, D. C. The

Now is the time for everyone who cherishes good health, to pay particular attention to the condition of their blood and its proper circulation. Nearly all diseases that flesh is heir to are caused and agravated by an impure condition of the blood and a sluggish circulation.

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS

Possessing Extraordinary Cleansing Powers

Restoring and Strengthening the whole System, Enriching the Blood producing increased vitality by restoring an impaired digestion and bringing back the bloom of youth to the cheek of the enfeebled and emaciated.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle-6 Bottles for $5.00.

For Sale by All Druggists.

Nabors, Morrow, & Sinnige.

SOLE CONTROLERS,

Birmingham.

WORDS ABOUT THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION.

Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers, 12 Pages.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT.

papers.

2. It is invaluable to the tarmer and the farmer's family, bringing each week cheer to the fireside and happiness to the household.

3. It covers the news of the whole world, having its correspondents scattered over the globe, and having a thorough news service from every important news center in the world.

"Aunt Susie," the editress of these departments, is a household word throughout the south.

6. Bill Arp, Plunkett, and Uncle Remus and a host of other special writers are engaged by the year, and their inimitable sketches appear each week.

7. It is the People's Friend, and is the sturdy champion of the agricultural interests of the south.

8. It pays more money for its special tion for war,—these are some of the re-forms which the Woman's Liberal Federation is championing. This move-ment is one which no student of the age can afford to ignore. Can any one cherish a reasonable doubt that it will

ough news service from every important news center in the world.

4. Its Agricultural Department alone is worth many times its subscription price to every farmer. This department is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, wnose service is retained by the Constitution at great expense.

5. Its Woman's and Childeren's Departments are a source of infinite pleasure to every family, and the name of interests of the south.

8. It pays more money for its special features and for its news service than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any weekly newspaper in America.

9. It is the cheapest, being only One Dollar ser year, each paper at the price of a postage stamp. Think of it! Every time a hen lays an egg she pays for one issue of the greatest weekly newspaper in the world.

1. It is the best of all weekly news- "Aunt Susie," the editress of these de-

Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of your neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulated home should be without it.

Agents Wanted in every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information. THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

--FINE MILLINERY--

into the world was announced in this column a few months ago. I speak of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Arnold of Montgomery. It came like a sunbeam and faded, but touched the chords of the parents souls to faintest, sweetest melody of love and was silent. Its tiny feet that ne'er touched the paths of life, will first walk on the strand of futurity, the lips which never even framed the Mrs. S. H. McCauley's,

NEAR THE DEPOT.

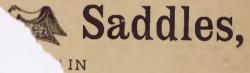

Montevallo, ... Ala.

A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hats in the Latest Styles, and at Reasonable Prices. HANDKERCHIEFS & HOSIERY.

Saturday Sales at $1

OPRETT NO REESE UCCOE

NUFACTURERS OF

THE BROOKLYN DIVINE'S SUN-DAY SERMON.

Subject: "Useful Suffering."

THER "It behoved Christ to suffer." -Luke xxiv., 46.

There have been scholars who have ventured the assertion that the pains of our Lord were unnecessary. In lead it was a shocking waste of tears and blood and agony, unless some great end were to be reached. If men can prove that no good result comes of it, then the character of God is impeached, and the universe must stand abhorent and denunciatory at the fact that the Father allowed the butchery of His only begotten Son.

begotten Son.

We all admire the brave six hundred men described by Tennyson as dashing into the conflict when they knew they must die, and knew at the same time that "some one had blunder"d;" but we are abhorrent of the man who made the blunder and who caused the who made the blunder and who caused the sacrifice of those brave men for no use. But I shall show you, if the Lord will help me, this morning that for good reasons Christ went through the torture. In other words, "It behooved Christ to suffer."

In the first place, I remark that Christ's lacerations, were approximated by the suffer words.

In the first place, I remark that Christ's lacerations were necessary, because man's rescue was an impossibility except by the payment of some great sacrifice. Outraged law had thundered against iniquity. Man must die unless a substitute can intercept that death. Let Gabriel step forth. He refuses. Let Michael the archangel step forth. He refuses. No Roman citizen, no Athenian, no Corinthian, no reformer, no angel volunteered. Christ then bared His heart to the pang. He paid for our redemption in tears and blood and wounded feet and sourged shoulders and torn brow. "It is done." Heaven and earth heard the snap of the prison bar. Sinai ceased to quake with done." Heaven and earth heard the snap of the prison bar. Sinar ceased to quake with wrath the moment that Calvary becan to rock in crucifixion. Christ had suffered. "Oh," says some man, "I don't like that doctrine of substitution; let every man bear his ewn burdens, and weep his own tears, and fight his own battles!" Why, my brother, there is vicarious suffering all over the world. Did not your parents suffer for your by you not sometimes suffer for your the world. Did not your parents suffer for your Do you not sometimes suffer for your children? Does not the patriot suffer for his country? Did not Grace Darling suffer for the drowning sailors? Vicarious suffering on all sides! But how insignificant compared with this scene of vicarious suffering!

Was it for crimes that I had done He grouned upon the tree? Amazing pity, grace unknown, And love beyond degree. Christ must suffer to pay the price of our

But I remark again, the sufferings of Christ were necessary in order the world's sympathies might be aroused. world's sympathies might be aroused. Men are went to the right and good through their sympathies. The world must feel aright before it can act aright. So the cross was allowed to be lifted that the world's sympathies might be aroused. Men who have been obdurated by the cruelties they have enacted, the massacres they have indicted, by the horrors of which they have been guilty, have become little children in the presence of this dying Saviour.

guilty, have become little children in the presence of this dying Saviour.

What the swords could not do, what Juggernauts could not subdue, the wounded hand of Christ has accomplished. There are this moment millions of people held under the spell of that one sacrifice, The hamners that struck the spikes into the cross have broken the rocky neart of the world. Nothing but the agonies of a Saviour's death

Nothing but the agonies of a Saviour's death throe could rouse the world's sympatines.

I remark again, "It behoved Christ to suffer," that the strength and persistence of the divine love might be demonstrated. Was at the applause of the world that induced Christ on that crusade from Heaven? Why, all the universe was at this feet. Could the conquest of this insignificant planet have paid Him for His eareer of pain if it had been a mere matter of applause? All the paid Him for His career of pain if it had been a mere matter of applause? All the honors of heaven surging at His feet. Would your queen give up her throne that she might rue a miserable tribe in Africa? Would the Lord Jesus Christ on the throne of the universe come down to our planet if it were a mere matter of applause and accommodified.

Nor was it an expedition undertaken for the accumulation of vast wealth. What could all the harvests and the diamonds of our little world do for Him whose are the glories of infinitute and eternity? Nor was it an experiment—an attempt to show what He could do with the hard hearted race. He who wheels the stars in their courses and holds the pillars of the universe on the tips of His fingers needed to make no experiment to find what He could do. Oi, I will tell you, my friends, what it was. It was undisguised, unlimited, all conquering, all consuming, infinite, eternal, cannipotent love that opened the gate, that started the star in the east, with linger of light pointing down to the manager, that arrayed the Christmas choir above Bethlehem, that opened the stable door where Christ was born, that lifted Him on the cross. Love thirsty at the well. Love at the sick man'couch. Love at the cripple's crutch. Love sweating in the garden. Love dying on cross. Love wrapped in the graviate mistake it. The blindest of His fingers needed to make no experiment ot mistake it. The l will wallow in filth, it will breathe the air of will wallow in fith, it will freathe the air or charnelhouses of corruption and call them aroma, it will quaff the blood of immortal souls and call it nectar.

When sin murdered Christ on the cross it have alwhat it would do with the Lord God.

showed what it would do with the Lord God Almighty if it could get at Him. The prophet had declared—I think it was Jeremiah—had declared centuries before the truth, but not until sin shot out its forked tongue at the crucifix and tossed its sting into the soul of a martyred Jesus was it illustrated that "the heart is decaiffy above." lustrated, that "the heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked." Again, "It behoved Christ to suffer," that our affections might be excited Christ-ward. Why, sirs, the behavior of our Lord has stirred the affections of all those who has stirred the affections of all those who have ever heard of it. It has been the art galleries of the world—ith such pictures as Ghirlandaio's "Worship of the Magi," Giotto's "Baptism of Christ," Holman Hunt's "Christ in the Tempie," Tintores's "Agony in the Garden," Angelo's "Crucifixion," and it has called out Handel's Messiah," and rung sweetest chimes in Young's "Night Thoughts" and tilled the psalpody of the and to his caned out riangers agestian," and rung sweetest chimes in Young's "Night Thoughts," and filled the psalmody of the world with the penitential notes of sorrow and the hosannas of Christian triumph.

Show me any other king who has many subjects. What is the most potename to-day in the United States, in France on the United States, in France, in England, in Scotland, in Ireland? Jesus, Other kings have had many subjects, but where is the king who has so many admiring subjects as Christ? Show me a regiment of a thousand men in their army and I will show you a battalion of ten thousand men in Christ's army.

men in Christ's army.

Show me in history where one man has given his property and his life for any one else, and I will show you in history hundreds and thousands of men who have cheerfully died that Christ might reign. Aye, there are a hundred men in this house who, if need were would step out and die for there are a hundred men in this house who, if need were, would step out and die for Jesus. Their faith may now seem to be faint, and sometimes they may be inconsistent, but let the fires of martyrdom be kindled, throw them into the pit, cover them with poisonous serpents, pound them, fail them, crush them, and I will tell you what their lastery would be, "Come, Lord Jesus, come quickly!" come quickly!

come quickly!"

Oh, yes! the Lord Jesus has won the affections of many of us. There are some of us who can say this morning, "Lord Jesus, my light and my song; my hope for time, my expectation for eternity." Altogether lovely Thou art. My soul is ravished with the Thou art. My soul is ravished with the vision. Thou art mine. Come let me clasp Thee, Come life, come death, come scorn Thee, Come life, come death, come scorn and pain, come whirlwind and darkness. Lord Jesus, I cannot give Thee up. I have heard Thy voice. I have seen Thy bleeding side. Lord Jesus, if I had some garland plucked from heavenly gardens I would wreath it for Thy brow. If I had some gem worthy of the place I would set it in Thy crown. If I had seraphic harp I would strike it in Thy praise. But I come lost and ruined and undone to throw myself at Thy feet.

No price I bring; Simply to Thy cross I cling. Thou knowest all things. Thou knowest that I love Thee.

But I remark again, "It behoved Christ to suffer," that the world might learn how to suffer. Sometimes people suffer because they cannot help themselves, but Christ had suffer. Sometimes people suffer to they cannot help themselves, but Christ had in His hands all the weapons to punish His enemies, and yet in quiescence He endured all outrage. He might have hurled the rocks of Golgotha upon His pursuers; He might have cleft the earth until He swallowed up His assailants; He might have called in reinforcement or taken any thunderbett from the armory of God Omnipotent derboit from the armory of God Omnipotent and hurled it seething and fiery among His foes, but He answered not again.

Oh, my hearers! has there ever been in the history of the world such an example of enduring patience as we find in the cross? enduring patience as we find in the cross? Some of you suffer physical distresses, some of you have lifelong ailments and they make you fretful. Sometimes you think that God has given you a cup too deep and too brimming. Sometimes you see the world laughing and romping on the highways of life, and you look out of the window while seated in invalid's chair.

I want to show you this morning one who had worse pains in the head than you have had worse pains in the head than you have ever had, whose back was scourged, who was wounded in the hands and wounded in the feet, and suffered all over; and I want the feet, and sintered an over; and I want that example to make you more enduring in your suffering, and to make you say, "Father, not My will but Thine be done." You never have had any bodily pain, and you will never have any bodily pain that equaled Christ's torture. "It behoved Christ to suffer," that He might show you how presignly to suffer.

physically to suffer.

Some of you are persecuted. There are those who hate you. They criticise you. They would be glad to see you stumble and fall. They have done unaccountable meannesses foward you. Sometimes you feel anary. You feel as if you we is like to retort. Stop! Loo!

Inoidental to the Season.

There were several men on the Lake region who told wonderful sation. Said he:

pan of cold water on the roof, and they became spheroids. in three minutes by the clock them eggs are boiled."

then a thin voice piped out.

water?" the confab.

biled eggs-we prefer 'em baked. stumbling home it began to rain shot When my wife sets the table for -beautiful globules of polished, shinbreakfast she spreads out a row of eggs ing lead-in such numbers that he on the window sill, and in two jiffys and his companions had to seek shelthey're baked ready to eat. The ter. only trouble is they're likely to be In the morning Watts remembered overdone."

then a long, lean man with a caved- to wonder what shape molten lead in chest said, in a whistling kind of would assume in falling through the gested.

ed. I don't like to live where baked took from the bottom of the shallow chickens walks around with the feath- pool several handfuls of the most perers on. That's all I have agin the fect shot he had ever seen. Watts' climate. I never heard of but one fortune was made, for from this explace that was hotter."

The Postage Stamp Craze.

Those who do not keep track of the postage stamp collection craze can London a single British Guinea stamp One fruit expert says that Italian of 1856 brought $250, and was consid- prunes, grown in the Willamette ered cheap at that price. Some Russian stamps are so rare that they will in Italy. The climate, he says, is command almost any price, and atlippe Ferrari, of Paris, contains a quarter of a million of stamps, and is thought to be worth about $1,000,000. Mr. Philbrick recently sold his collection to M. Ferrari for $50,000; and Sir David Cooper, the well-known future. Australian collector, has sold his fine collection to the same collector for Duchess de Golima is said to have cost nearly $300,000, and the cost of the 3,000 volumes in which it is conclose watch on all the sales throughof millions of dollars.

Nicknames of European Nations.

Sandy; the Irishman derives his name | Florence never played poker. of Paddy from his national patron saint; while an ancient nursery rhyme records that Taffy is a Welshman. ish sailors call the Frenchman, cohnny Crapaud; but in Bonhomme, or,

Told in a Dream

Before Watts, the discoverer of the train coming eastward from the Salt present mode of making shot, had his notable dream, induced by overstories of the heat of the alkali indulgence in stimulants, the manuplains. I noticed a contemptuous facture in question was a slow, laboriexpression on the face of an old set- bus, and consequently costly process. tler who was listening as if he didn't Great bars of lead had to be pounded wholly believe all he had heard, and into sheets of a thickness nearly equal finally he took a turn in the conver- to the diameter of the shot desired. These sheets had then to be cut into "Gentl'men, your talk is all child's little cubes, placed in a revolving play. Heat! I give you my word of barrel and there rolled around until, honor that when my wife wants to by the constant friction, the edges boileggs she just puts them into a wore off from the little cubes and

Watts had often racked his brain trying to discover some better and There was silence for a moment; less costly scheme, but in vain. Finally, after spending an evening "Where does she get the cold with some boon companions at an ale house, he went home, went to bed, Before this stunner could be dis- and soon fell asleep. His slumbers, posed of, another man took a hand in however, were disturbed by unwelcome dreams, in one of which he was "Me and my wife don't keer for out with "the boys," and as they were his curious dream, and it obtruded There was a spell of thinking; itself on his mind all day. He began air, and finally, to set his mind at "That's why I'm leaving the coun- rest, he ascended to the top of the try." steeple of the Church of St. Mary at Redcliffe and dropped slowly and regsteeple of the Church of St. Mary at ularly a ladleful of molten lead into "Yes. Rein' natually tender-heart-the moat below. Descending, he ploit emanated the idea of the shot That wound up the discussion, and tower, which ever since has been the the last speaker remained champion only means employed in the manufacture of the little missiles so important in war and sport.

Fruit-growers in the far West are hardly realize how the "fad" runs enthusiastic over the possibilities of away with a man's judgment. At a Oregon as a fruit-growing region, recent sale of rare postage stamps in and especially for prune culture. Valley, are superior to those grown like the great fruit region of Asia tempts are frequently made to forge them. The great collection of Philabout 15,000 prune trees in 150 acres in the Willamette, and it is said that prunes and other fruits are being planted in thousands of other farms. That part of the State promises to be a vast fruit orchard in the near

The Largest Pair of Shoes. A Georgia shoemaker has finished $15,000. The collection of the late the largest pair of shoes ever made for actual use. It took a piece of leather containing 1,040 square inches to make the uppers, and one tained was about $65,000. At the of 1,960 square inches to make the Paris mint there is a remarkable collection, while the Rothschild collection of leather altogether. If the leather tion in Paris is of almost priceless contained in that pair of shoes were Rare stamps sell at from $100 cut into strips an eighth of an inch to $1,000, and the collectors keep a wide, it would make a string 24,000 inches long. The sole of this giganout the world in order to secure the tic pair of shoes are 14 inches long specimens they desire. Altogether and 51 inches wide. The two comthe craze represents a fictitious value bined tipped the scales at exactly eight and one-half pounds.

Some iconoclast has started the ru-Englishmen have accepted the mor that the Marquis of Queensberry name of John Bull as suited to the never saw a prize fight. Somebody national character. A Scotsman is will be claiming next that "Billy

> King Of Medicines is what parilla. For 6 years with white swellings and scrofula sores.

A. Lehr. To my great joy, began with HOOD'SSARSAPAR-Wm. A. Lehr. the sores soon decreased. I kept taking a year, when I was so well that I went to and since then have not lost one day on it of sickness. I am always well and a good appetite." WM. A. LEHR, No. 9 ad Street, Kendallville, Ind.

's Pills are the best after-dinner Pills, igestion, cure headache and biliousness.

ILD BIRTH · · · MADE EASY!

OTHERS' FRIEND "is a scientificrepared Liniment, every ingreof recognized value and in stant use by the medical proon. These ingredients are comin a manner hitherto unknown

DO all that is claimed for D MORE. It Shortens Labor, ens Pain, Diminishes Danger to of Mother and Child. Book Mothers" mailed FREE, conng valuable information and intary testimonials.

on receipt of price $1.50 per bottle DFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga. BOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Burs curs for SICK HEAD-ACHE, impaired digestios, consti-lation, torpid glands. They arouse vitel organs, remove nausea, dis-siness. Magical effect on Kid-neys and bladder. Conquer billous nervous dis-orders. Establish nat-ural DALLY ACTION. 00

Beautify complexion by purifying blood. Purry Vegerable.
The dose is nicely adjusted to suit case, as one pill can avere beto on much. Each vial contains 42, carried in vest booket. Hive lead pencil. Lusiness man's great convenience. Taken easier than sugar. Sold everywhere. All genuine goods bear "Greecent."
Send 2-cent stemp. You get $2 page book with sample.

DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

It is said that the difficulty in obtaining fresh eggs has led to the use of a substitute for eggs, in egg phosphate. It looks and tastes like the product of the industrious hen.

cost when she is on vacation Any man, woman or child can be cured of Biliousness, Sick-Headacha Constinution For Billionsness, Sick-Headache, Constipation, Fers, Colds and Stomach Trouble by taking Boans Small. Every hottle is guaranteed give entire satisfaction. 40 in each bottle.

and can be produced at a moderate

A blonde is said to have about ten years the advantage of a brunette.

Beats 'Em All.

ORAND EXCURSION VIA C., H. & D. TO MONTREAL AND QUEBEC, THURSDAY, SEPT. 8.

The great excursion route, the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton R. R., will run the first of their annual excursions to Montreal and Quebec, from Cincinnati and Indianapolis, Thursday, Sept. 8. The round trip rates are marvelously low, being $12.50 from Cincinnati or Indianapolis to Montreal and return, and but $15 to Quebec and return, with side-trip to Ottawa returning. Tickets will be good (returning) for twenty days from date of sale. This is the first cheap excursion ever run to beautiful Montreal or historic Quebec from Cincinnati. For tickets, sleeping-car berths, etc., call on or address any C., H. & D. agent, or E. O. McCormick, Gen. Passenger and Ticket Ag't, Cincinnati, O.

Baron Hirsch, the Hebrew philanthropist, is planning an extended tour through the United States and Canada.

Sample Package Mailed Free.

The average age that women marry is twenty-one, men twenty-six.

Pure and Wholesome Quality

Commends to public approval the California liquid laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs. It is pleasant to the taste and by acting gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels to cleanse the system effectually, it promotes the health and comfort of all who use it, and with millions it is the best and only remedy.

General Bidwell, the prohibition candidate for president, will not do any campaign speaking.

Brown's Iron Bitters cures Dyspepsia, Malaria, Biliousness and General Debility. Gives Strength, aids Digestion, tones the nerves—creates appetite. The best tonic for Nursing Mothers, weak women and children.

Bismarck and Von Moltke once fought a duel over a girl when they were fellow Colds promptly relieved by Small Bile Beans. The soul-entrancing clarinet was the invention of Denner, a German, in 1690.

> The Only One Ever Printed. CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

These is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words all seexcept one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name or the word and they will return you mook, Brautiful Lithographs of Samples Free.

M. L. Thompson & Co., Druggists, Coudersport, Pa., say Hall's Catarrh Cure is the best and only sure cure for catarrh they ever sold. Druggists sell it, 75c.

Jules Massenet is regarded by many people as the most popular musician in Paris.

Ir your Back Aches, or you are all worn out, good for nothing, it is general debility. Brown's Iron Bitters will cure you, make you strong, cleanse your liver, and give a good appetite—tones the nerves.

It is fifty-nine years since Gladstone took his sent in the British House of Commons.

Man's system is like a town, it must be well drained and nothing is so efficient as Beecham's Pills. For sale by all druggists.

if afflicted with sore eyes use Dr. Isaac Thompson's Eye-water, Druggists sell at 25c a bottle.

"August Flower"

My wife suffered with indigestion and dyspepsia for years. Life became a burden to her. Physicians failed to give relief. After reading one of your books, I purchased a bottle of August Flower. It worked like a charm. My wife received immediate relief after taking the first dose. She was completely curednow weighs 165 pounds, and can eat anything she desires without any deleterious results as was formerly the case. C. H. Dear, Prop'r Washington House, Washington, Va. @

Pimples Blotches

ARE EVIDENCE That the blood is ARR EVIDENCE That the blood is wrong, and that nature is endaworing to throw off the impurities. Nothing is so beneficial in assisting nature as Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) It is a simple vegetable compound. Is harmless to the most delicate child, yet it forces the poison to the surface and eliminates it from the blood. eliminates it from the blood.

THE SSS HAVE

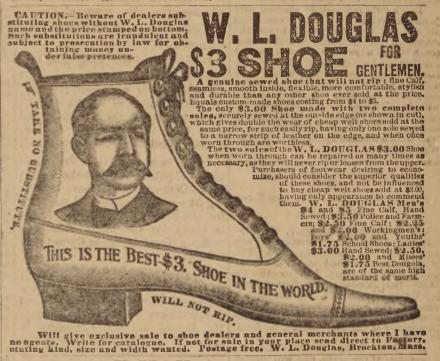

I contracted a severe case of blood poison that unfitted me for business for four years. A few bottles of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) cure me.

J. C. Jones, City Marshal, Fulton, Arkansas,

Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

100-Page Chicken Book-It teaches you how to detect and oure Dis-mases; how to feed for eggs and also for fat-lening Sent postpaid for 25c. Book Pub House, 134 Leonard st., N. Y City.

By J. HAMILTON AYERS, A. M., M. D.

This is a most Valuable Book for the Household, teaching as it does the easily-distinguished Symptoms of different Diseases, the Causes and Means of Preventing such Diseases, and the Simplest Remedies which will Alleviate or Cure.

PACES, PROFUSELY ILLUSTRATED.

The Book is written in plain, every-day English, and is free from the technical terms which render most Doctor Books so valueless to the generality of readers. This Book is intended to be of Service in the Family, and is so worded as to be readily understood by all.

ONLY 60 CENTS, POSTPAID.

(The low price only being made possible by the immense edition printed.)

Not only does this Book contain so much Information Relative to Disease, but very properly gives a Complete Analysis of everything pertaining to Courtship, Marriage and the Production and Rearing of Healthy Families; together with Valuable Recipes and Prescriptions, Explanation of Botanical Practice, Correct Use of Ordinary Herbs.

New Edition, Revised and Enlarged, with Complete Index.

With this Book in the house there is no excuse for not knowing what to do in an emergency. Don't wait until you have illness in your family before you order, but send at once for this valuable volume. ONLY 60 CENTS, POSTPAID.

Send postal notes or postage stamps of any denomination not larger than 5 cents. BOOK PUBLISHING HOUSE, 134 Leonard St., N. Y. City.

THE CALERA JOURNAL.

VOL. I.

CALERA, ALA., SATURDAY. SEPTEMBER 17, 1892.

NO. 47.

Grief is strong, but joy is stronger; Night is long, but day is longer;

When hee's riddle solves and clears,

And the angels in our cars Whisper the sweet answer low (Answer full of love and blessing), How our wonderment will grow, And the blindness of our guessing-All the hard things we recall Made so easy, after all.

Earth is sweet, but heaven is sweeter; Love complete, but faith completer; Close beside our wandering ways, Through dark nights and weary days, Stand the angels with bright eyes,

And the shadow of the cross Falls upon and sanctifies All our pains and all our loss, Though we stumble, though we fall, God is helping, after all.

Sigh, then, soul, but sirg in sighing, To the happier things replying; Dry the tears that dim thy seeing, Give glad thoughts for life and being; Time is but the little entry

To eternity's large dwelling, And the heavenly guards keep sentry, Urging, guiding, half compelling; Till, the puzzling way quite past, Thou shalt enter in, at last.

-[Susan Coolidge, in the Weekly.

CUPID'S MESSENGER.

"I don't think," he said, when he really began to tell his story, "that anyone who has not seen men suffer the worst tortures can understand what men are capable of. I have seen men on a long ride across the desert, when they never opened their mouths to make a complaint, though their eyes were sunken, their lips drawn into a ghastly expression, and their faces of the color of the alkali around on the plain. That is because men can get used to anything. It's different with horses, cattle and dogs. You must be brutal with them to make them understand that they must go on. But when you are in desperate straits you will follow the man who leads, without a groan or a murmur, because you know there is nothing else

"But what I started out to do was to give you one case in point. We were in Colorado in those days raising cattle. Winter came down upon us that year with a rush. Our cattle began to die, and we could do nothing for them. We lost our bronchos, but it made little difference, for they were of no use to us. A man could not ride ten feet from camp. When it did not snow, a driving sleet flew on a gale and cut a man's face in ribbons. The dogs could not sleep at night, it was so cold, and often when the freezing air wakened me I saw some poor chap in the room, crouched down in his blankets, holding his teeth together to keep from shouting out a terrible

"It got along toward spring, and we were as helpless as ever, for the snow began to soften in the day, hardening with the chill of night, and any one who ventured into it was inviting a sure death, in what was worse than a quicksand. Provisions had run low, and we had all been hungry for a long time. The men's bones began to stick out of their faces and through their skins, and at times there was a strange light in their eyes. But I never saw a braver set of men-and they were a rough lot, too.

"One day, when at last we began to see light ahead, something came staggering into our cabin and fell across the floor near the stove. We picked it up and turned it over to look at it. It was a man, with a beardless face, thin lips and delicate nostrils. The man couldn't have weighed a hundred pounds, he was so wasted. We chafed him, tried to get something warm into him, and then rolled him up in warm blankets. I was sitting by the stove looking at his white face at midnight. The room was warm that night, and the stove door was open so that the light fell on the starved sleeper, but I would not shut off the light, for I wanted to look at his face. It was a face that I had never before seen on the plains. It must have been bval and handsome, before suffering and cold had drawn it out to thinness. His dark lashes were long, and they lay down on his cheek, darker than the terrible circle under his eyes. He was more like a woman than a man, and I was gazing at him in pity when his eyes opened slowly, with a dark light in them, and looked at me.

"What time is it?' he asked, with noothingly. 'Go to sleep again.'

eagerly.

"'Today,' I said. 'You are welcome.'

"Good!' he said, in answer to my had lost time.'

"'No, you have only been here about twelve hours,' I replied. 'Better go to sleep. You look as if you needed it. You have had a worse time than we have.'

"'No, I am not going to sleep again,' he said, in a tone of decision " 'You'd better,' I said. 'We will have a sick man on our hands. You need sleep before you can cat-what we can give you.' "'I've got to get away from here tomorrow,' he said, smiling, confi-

"'You can't do it," I said. 'It is no use to try. You'll be a dead man if you do, before tomorrow night.'

"Oh, I am going,' he answered, quietly.

"'Try to get a little more sleep then,' I urged coaxingly, pretending to humor him.

" 'I can't,' he answered, fretfully.

"I begged him to try, and he turned over in his blankets. He tossed for a awhile. Then he attempted to be still, feigning sleep. At last he drew himself up with a jerk.

"'I can't do it,' he said feverishly. Why don't you sleep yourself,' he asked, trying to be cheerful. 'Have I got your blankets?'

"'Yes's I said, 'but I don't want them. I can sleep in the daytime. It' about all we have to do.'

"'Well,' he said, propping himself up and looking at me with his dark eyes, 'I'm glad I tumbled into your camp. I was about gone.' A faint smile passed across his lips.

"We will pull you around in good shape,' I said encouragingly, but 1 did not believe what I said. There was something strangely unreal about his brightness and clearness of mind.

"'I am all right now,'he said cheerfully. 'This warmth is good afterwhat I have had. I'll get a good start in the morning.'

"'We'll talk about that later,' I said quietly.

"'But I am going,' he replied quickly, with a little ring in his voice. "I did not answer him.

"'I have been at it six days,' he said, looking at me.

"'What!' I cried, incredulously.

"'Six days,' he repeated calmly. I started with my pack-grub. I think I've been walking ever since,'he added dreamily. 'I can't rememb er much about it.'

"We talked till morning. He told me what he was trying to do. He and his brother had been raising cattle. They got caught in very bad condition. His brother had fallen sick when they began to suffer from the terrible weather. He had been stark staring mad most of the time for the last six weeks. In his fever he had mouned and cried about getting a letter sent East. In his lucid intervals he had begged his brother piteously to write one for him and get it to the railroad. It was the same old story—a woman.

"'And I am carrying the letter to the railroad now,' he said with a little smile of satisfaction. 'He is tortured with the thought that she will be worried about him. So I have lied in the jetter and said that his right arm is broken so that he cannot write and he

"'It's selfish enough of him,' I

"Oh, he doesn't know,' he answered quickly, and his eye flashed warningly at me. 'He doesn't know how bad it is. He's been in his bunk know,' he added, his chin sinking on his chest and his eyes closing to hide the pain, that we have lost every hoof and that we are beggars.'

"He lifted his face again, his bright smile returning.

"It will be time enough to tell him when he gets well,' he said.

".Will you believe me that I let that boy go away the next day with-"It's after midnight,' I answered, out further protest. I knew it would do no good. He had told me in the Weekly.

"When did I get here?" he asked, night in a very calm voice, but with a light in his eyes which convinced me, that he would shoot any man who tried to stop him? So we gave him the best that we had of our provisions. UTTER FAILURE OF THE ATTEMPT TO DISfirst sentence. I was afraid that I and watched him go struggling had been sick on your hands-that I through the snow with heavy hearts. He had not made more than a hundred yards in half an hour, but then he turned to wave his hand at us. I > road alive. "There was no time for sentiment that spring. We were wrecked bodily get relief to our camp. We moved curiosity, whereupon the American further away from the reilroad, as a Economist, the official organ of the Profurther away from the railroad, as a cattle-owner came along and gave us knew he would never reach the rail-station on the railroad, sick of the plains and bound for home. A young man in overalls was rolling some barrels along the platform, and I thought | discovered. just as a venture that I would ask him if a dead man having a letter addressed to a woman had been found near the railroad on the spring after the facts: In October, 1888, the wages that terrible winter. When I went of iron-moulders were reduced twentyup to him he was just taking off his hat to dry with his handkerchief his dripping brow. He was a fine-look- May, 1890, more than a year later, all ing, sturdy young man with curling employes, iron-moulders included, dark hair and a fresh color in his smooth cheek.

"'Excuse me,' I said-and then I gave a loud shout; I couldn't help it, for though I never should have known the man, there was no mistaking that " 'I got through, you see,' he said, letter in a postal car. I got Willhat's my brother, you know,' he added modestly, down here where we could nurse him, and I went to work for the road, for we hadn't a dollar left in the world,' and he laughed light-heartedly. 'Then I sent him home, where a woman got him well again. He's working for the road in Denver now, and next spring we are going into partnership again in the cattle business, as we have about saved enough to make another start. By the way,' he said, pulling out a bit of a pencil and scribbling off a note on a piece of paper, 'call on the world, and his wife—she's an angel,' he added with that wonderful smile of his .-- [New York Tribune.

Trying a Lover's Patience.

The London News gives this interesting version of Henrik Ibsen's courtship: When the dramatist fell in love with the beautiful daughter of Pastor Thoresen, how to make known the fact to her troubled him for weeks. At last he resolved to write to her. He would come and fetch his answer the same afternoon at 5. Did the lady accept him she would be "at home," otherwise not. At 5 o'clock he presented himself, and the maid asked him to go into the best room. He was very hopeful and was glad to have more of a farce than it is in the Hawtime to collect himself before he met thorne Mills. Hardly five per cent. of the the lady. But when had waited half employes are American born. an hour awful doubts began to assail him. After an hour had passed he imagined the letter had not reached the true, but it has a slight basis of truth, young lady. Some fatal mistake was and this is that basis: making a fool of him. Still he waited wages, $1.37\frac{1}{2} to $1.50 a day for hard on. After two hours he began to be labor, much of which is skilled, and ashamed of himself. She would learn this makes it essential for the firm to that he had sat two hours in that de- | hold out some inducement to persuade serted house and would laugh at him. At last he jumped up in a rage and the wages of such of its employes as has dictated it to me.' He smiled ran to the door. He was opening it have been conspicuously faithful during when a loud peal of laughter arrested | the year. Between forty and fifty have him. He turned and saw the fair head said savagely, looking at the boy's of his adored emerge from under the wasted form and white face, 'to sac- sofa. Her mouth was laughing, but rifice you, no matter how much he her eyes were filled with tears. "Oh, was thought of. It is absolutely untrue you dear, good fellow, to wait all this while!" she said. "I wanted to see how many minutes a lover's patience lasts. How hard the floor is! Now owned by the "Lake Superior Lumber help me to get out, and then we will ever since he began. He doesn't talk." In less than a week the marriage was arranged.

Too Much Lung.

Young Wife-My dear, the first lishment. time I saw you, you were with a party of students giving the college yell.

Husband-Yes, I remember. "And I noticed what a remarkable voice you had."

"Yes, you spoke of it. Why?" "Nothing, only I wish the baby hadn't inherited it."-[New York There has been no increase of wages

A FALSE CLAIM.

COVER A SINGLE MAN WHOSE WAGES HAVE BEEN RAISED BY THE M'KIN-LEY BILL.

Congressman Warner has been making most persistent search for the man whose wages have been increased by the operation of the McKinley Tariff law. In a speech in the House just prior to adjournment he declared that the museum men were looking for just this and financially when we were able to individual as a most rare and precious tective Tariff League, produced a list of work, carrying us off to what was left claimed that wages had been raised in consequence of the operation of the "But two years later I reached a McKinley law. Each individual case cited has been carefully investigated, and the result affords but little hope or comfort for the museum men. The man whose wages have been raised is still un-

The first claim is that workmen in the Haskell & Barker Car Company works in Michigan City, Ind., had obtained an advance of five per cent. Now these are five cents a day. The following spring the wages of all others were reduced twelve and one-half cents a day. In half cents a day, making the wages just what they were before the reduction, except those of the moulders, whose wages were twelve and one-half cents less. All this happened, both the reduction and the restoration, before the McKinley Tariff act went into effect. It is manifest that the restoration of wages was not produced by the operation squeezing my hand. 'I was sick for of the law, for when the restoration was awhile, but not until I had seen that granted the law had not begun to operate.

It was claimed that Wooster and Stoddard, manufacturers of jackets and overalls at Walden, N. Y., employing threor four men and about twenty girls, had increased wages five per cent. About two months ago the girls went on strike, and as a result wages were readjusted. there was an increase, which does not fully appear, it was forced from the firm by the strike and was not in any way due to the operation of the McKinley Tariff act. The girls now earn about $6 week. Very few earn $7.

The Camden Woolen Company, of Camden, Me., was said to have raised wages ten per cent. The company had four looms which had more heavy work than the others, and more picks to the inch. There was a slight raise for work him when you get to Denver. You'll done on these looms. All the other like him. He's the finest fellow in hands are working for the they have been receiving ever since the cents to $1.50 a day.

The report that the Rider Engine Company, of Walden, N. Y., has raised wages ten per cent., seems to be wholly false. There has been no increase whatever for ten years. On the contrary wages have been going down steadily since 1875. The story that the Hawthorne Mills, of Glenville, Conn., had advanced wages fifteen per cent., is equally false. One man had his pay raised in July last from $1.15 to $1.25 a day to keep him in the factory. In the woolen department about eighty men, all Hungarians, Poles, Swedes, Danes, and Russians, except six or eight Germans, had their wages reduced in June last from $1 and $1.50 to 90 cents and $1 a day. There is hardly a mill in the State where "protection to the American workman" is the men to remain in the mill. does by promising to increase annually received this advance in 1891. No one has received any advance this year. This system of raising wages was adopted by this firm long before the McKinley bill that any advance in this mill is the result of that law.

Wages are claimed to have advanced twenty per cent. in Alfred Dolge's fac-

There is a little planing and sorting mill in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., which is Company," and which employs from fifteen to twenty hands three or four days in the week. There was a claim set up that this mill had increased wages fifteen per cent. This is simply false. There has been no advance of wages in the estab-

Equally false is the report that there has been an advance of twenty-five per cent. in the wages paid in the factory of J. C. Pass, in Roxboro. N. C. In the first place Mr. Pass has no factory what-He is, however, a part owner in a grist and saw mill run by water-power about two miles from Roxboro, and in which only three men are employed.

there. Prices are as low as they ever To what an extremity has the cause of protection sunk when such instances as these are cited to show how the McKinley law has raised the wages and increased the prosperity of the American workman! Here is a case that is still worse. It was claimed with a great flourish of trumpets that H. L. Chapman, of White Pigeon, Mich., had voluntarily increased the wages in his factory fifteen per cent. because of a willingness and a desire on his part that his workingmen should share in a prosperity that was coming to him in boundless measure as a result of the beneficent workings of the McKinley Tariff law. Mr. Chapman manufactures a patent forge and employs just two men besides himself. One is a machinist and the other is a moulder. The machinist is about twenty-one years old. He went to Mr. Chapman and offered to work for twenty-five cents a day and his offer was accepted. After a while Mr. Chapman found that he was worth more and so advanced his wages to fifty cents a day. The moulder was good for nothing so he discharged him and hired another and better man. The most he paid the old hand was $1.25 a day.

Another wildly absurd claim was that the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company had increased wages twenty per cent. in its shops at Grafton, W. Va. Whoever first made this claim must have been the victim of a practical joke. The wages of the Baltimore and Ohio employes there have constantly tended downward. During the last year hundreds of hands have been thrown out of employment, and many have been compelled to leave Grafton for other places in search of work. The foundry, which employed seventy-five men, has been closed completely. The force of machinists has been greatly reduced, the carpenter shops have been torn down, and nearly all the large number of carpenters formerly employed have been discharged. Those who have been retained have had their wages reduced from $2.25 a day to $1.75. The railroad hands are compelled now to work fourteen hours a day instead of twelve before they get any extra pay, and those employed who formerly worked ten hours a day are only permitted to work eight now and are paid accordingly.

These are sample cases. The more they are examined the more it will become apparent that either there has been made a wilful attempt to deceive in the matter of these reported increases of wages, or that the American Economist has been imposed upon. It is more probable that the latter is the case, for in its list is the name of B. Howitzer, of Chaseburg, Wis., who is said to have raised wages in his factory ten per cent. Chaseburg is a little town of about fifty inhabitants. There is no factory there and there is no man named Howitzer there. It is all a hoax.

No one has ever yet c have been no individual cases where wages have been increased within the United States since the McKinley bill became a law, but the claim has been made and repeated that no well-authenticated case had vet been reported where wages had been increased in consequence of the operation of that law, while all over the land, in every State and in wellnigh every county, there has arisen case after case where wages have been reduced in some protected industry. The people of the country are taxed ostensibly to enable the wages of American workmen to be increased. Wages have not been increased. They have in many cases been reduced. What then becomes of the money which the American people pay to the manufacturers in tariff taxes?-New York World.

"Out of Their Own Mouths."

No more than casual examination of the report of the Treasury Department is required to prove the utter absurdity of Republican assertions that the McKinley act has reduced prices.

This report shows, for example, that the following protected necessaries of life advanced in price from the passage of the McKinley bill to June 30th, 1891, as follows:

Bituminous coal, 10 cents a ton.

Manufactures of flax, hemp and jute, 2 cents a pound—due to the cordage trust. Cotton cloth, I cent a yard. Common window-glass, I cent a pound. Carpets, 86 cents a yard.

From 1880 to June 30th, 1891, cotton cloths advanced 2 cents a yard; carpets, $1.23 a yard; pig iron, $5.23 a ton, and leaf tobacco 8 cents a pound.

Accepting for the present argument the statement of the Treasury Department, we find that the farmers are not receiving so much under the McKinley act as they received during the period of the Walker tariff, commonly abused by the protectionists as the "free-trade

From 1855 to 1860 the farmers received from 72 to 89 cents a bushel for their corn; in 1891 they received 57 cents. In the former period they received from 98 cents to $1.66 a bushel for their wheat; in 1891 the price was 93 cents.

The fact is that all necessaries of life have increased in price since the Mc-Kinley act, while the prices of farm products have decreased since that terrible "free-trade era." In other words, the farmer gets less for his wheat and pays more for his wife's calico dress.

This is shown by the official figures of a Republican Administration.—New York World. Taxing Other People.

The Hon. William McKinley, in his essay upon taxation at Council Bluffs, "We will raise the $400,000,000 necessary for the support of our Government, not by taxing ourselves, but by taxing the products of other people, seeking a market in the United States. We don't believe in taxing ourselves as long as we can find somebody else to

If this proposition is true the gentle-man must be very obtuse, or he would recoil in horror at the inherent meanness of the thing to be done, to say nothing of the violation of every principle of morality embodied in the idea.

Here is the wealthiest and most prosperous Nation upon the face of the globe represented by McKinley as being too mean, too stingy, too unprincipled to pay for the support of its own Government. Here is the country where wages are the highest, where working men all have pianos in their houses and carpets on their floors, and where nature has placed wealth enough for the support of a hundred times the present population, represented by McKinley as being so unpatriotic as not to be willing to support its own Government, but desirous of shifting the burden upon the poor, downtrodden producers of the wornout and bankrupt Nations of foreign coun-

If he had said, "I (Major McKinley) don't believe in paying any taxes so long as I can force anybody else to pay my taxes," he would have been hissed from the platform as preaching immorality and theft.

Can the Nation do with honor what would be robbery in the individual?

The essential iniquity of our present system of taxation is that it deadens the moral sense of the whole people. Of what use is it for teachers of righteousness to proclaim "Thou shalt not steal" as an essential morality, when Governors are stumping the country crying out and sisting upon the equity of this mighty Nation robbing the people of foreign countries to pay the expenses of sup-porting our Government.—George V.

"When the Cat's Away the Rats Will Play."

In an editorial on the "Unrost of the World," the New York Tribune says: "Social unrest is one of the most remarkable phenomena of the modern world. Civilization while it multiplies industrial employment and educates the workers seems to promote discontent. The world does not stand still; it is steadily advaneing on the lines of popular education, the greatest good of the greatest number and government by and for the people instead of by and for privileged classes.

Does the Tribune really mean this? Or was one of its free trade editors simply regaling its readers with a little wholesome mental food while Whitelaw was visiting in the West? Surely the Tribune would not abolish our great privileged class of manufacturers, who now are extracting millions from the pockets of the people under laws which t was the special privilege of the manufacturers to frame? What would become of the chances of election of the Republican candidate for the Vice-Presidency, if there were no privileged class here to contribute a small percentage of its ill-gotten gains to the party that "farms out" the privilege of plundering the American people?

Protection is Robbery.

Here is the advertisement of one of the makers of gaskets, protected by a duty of forty-five per cent., which has been printed monthly for three years past in the "export edition" of the Engineering and Mining Journal. With brutal cynicism this protected manufacturer flaunts in the teeth of the American people his willingness to sell to foreigners at thirty per cent. below the price to Americans:

Discount for home trade......30 per cent' Discount for foreign trade.....60 per cent-

Congress has given him the right to rob the Americans of thirty per cent., but it cannot authorize him to rob a foreigner.

"What are you going to do about it?" asked Tweed, when confronted with like proofs of theft; and he tound out in a few months when he had to put on a convict's uniform. But the Republican thief is safe from conviction. The Republican voter believes that robbery is right, and he "protects" the thief from persecution if the thief pays for his 'protection" by liberal contributions to the campaign fund.-T. E. W.

A Hitch Somewhere.

While Governor McKinley was telling the Western people of the prosperity, higher wages, and lower prices (except of course for wool and farm products) due to "protection," the Iron Age was telling of wage reductions, strikes, lockouts, closing of mills, advances in prices of steel billets, structural steel and many other kinds of iron and steel goods. These two protectionist authorities should have a better understanding with each other-or is one talking theory and the other giving facts?

THE proper place for undressed kid is in the bath-tub.

CALERA, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 17.

National Democratic Ticket

FOR PRESIDENT, GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, A. E. STEVENSON, of Illinois.

For Congress 4th District, GASTON A. ROBBINS, of Dallas.

THE aditorials in the two papers published in Columbiana are near enough alike in style and language to make one think they are writ- manners, but, like all the followers ten by the same man.

at his home in Montgomery, very to "hit him two hard at the start." suddenly yesterday morning and is As we promised to deal gently with to be buried to morrow. Governor him, will not attack him so long as ate soldiers and sailors, and the wid-

Bros. Reynolds and Randall got left again: Brethren, you will see that "the executive committee of the people's party has its own way" just like the democrats and the republicans. "Bosses rule," and you, "the people," ain't in it. Cut date before the next State Senate ors for the September term of the cirlose, people, and start again.

democratic isms seems to be flour- Blade, but now of the CALERA JOUR- Wyatt, W ishing just now, so it did in the NAL. He is a good, sound demo- Wyatt, W H state of Arkansas until a few days Senate could select no man who is Pilgreen, W S before the election, when the genu- more worthy or who has worked Byers, R P ine democracy rose up in its might harder for the interests and wel- Robinson, M J and gave them another Waterloo fare of the great democratic party White, Andrew J defeat.

not kept standing because of shortness of matter, but that the oftener they are read the greater hatred equally as bitter and of later date.

JOHN C. WILLIAMS, editor of the Mountian Home at Talladega, is an applicant for the appointment of railroad commissioner, to fill the vacancy in the board caused by the death of General Lawler. Mr. W. is able and successful business man, has always been faithful to every trust elected to his keeping, and if Governor Jones should favor him doubt he will make an efficient offi-

THE third party and Jeffersonian democrats have held their great convention and the Bosses ruled. It is avery noticeable feature that Bowhonors (?) are going to the lesser lights, but there wasn't enough to go around, so the third partyites of the ninth district bolted and nominated a seperate ticket. The ticket nominated by the great convention for congress and electors

WHEN Hons. S. M. Adams, A. P. Longshore and J. H. Harris cast the Chilton county third partyites? their votes against the bill to prevent the running of freight trains on Sunday, they were not so opposed to corporations as they are now trying to make their third party man gitting whatever he wants, friends believe. We should have but generally he gets left in matsaid, however, that the vote was ters of political preference, and sist in such a demand, let them do so not on its passage, but to indefi- while we hope Bro. Gist will get over the protests of the democratic nitely postpone from further con- there, we do not encourage his assideration, and Mr. Adams voting pirations for such a poor place. for it Longshore and Harris failing He deserves a better. -The Chilton to vote. Can laboring men vote View. for Mr. Longshore or Mr. Harris to represent them in the national con- thanks! One never knows what he will be saved for Claveland .- Birming 30th and hear the Senior Senator of gress with such a record?

THE GATHERING EXPLAINED. |

Our clever brother, Judge Campbell of the Shelby News, attended the general conclave at Birmingshaved when the colored barber, as is usual, began a conversation with and weeks of time which is wasted the judge as follows:

"Boss, there is a sight of people disgusting mire of dirt roads. in Birmingham."

"Yes," remarked the Judge. "who are they, and what are they all doing here?"

peoples, and dey say dey's guinter on through the mud. nominate Mr. Weaver."

The Judge, getting interested in for dirt roads the conversation, asked: "What is Weaver running for, any way?"

whuther Mr. Weaver is runnin' fur to the local market. secretary of North or South Birm-

EDITOR WHITE, of the new third party paper at Clanton—which the gentlemen has misnamed farming community into closer sothe People's Party Banner—was to cial relations. see us a little while Monday. Mr. White reports his prospects very flattering for success, and we were He is sensible and pleasant in his of that wild theory, he is cranky in the hope of breaking up the two old REVENUE DEPARTMENT Ex-Gov. Thos. H. WAATTS, died parties. Bro. White asked us not Watts was one of great men of the he holds strictly to his pet notions ows of deceased confederate soldiers and sailors, will be available immediately

> IT GIVES us pleasure to receive so nice a compliment from the Bibb County Democrat, published in our former home, as the following:

Mr. Sam H. Gist will be a candifor the office of doorkeeper of that cuit court: body. Mr. Gist was at one time THIRD partyism and other anti- editor and proprietor of the Bibb crat, and the members of the next Smith, J L than our venerable neighbor of the Sumter, Riley JOURNAL. Nothing that that hon-Phillips, LT THE utterances of Weaver are orable body might do would please Card, E M the citizens of Bibb more than to Shrader, J V see this gentleman selected for this Mcore, Sr., WR toward the South do we see in the man who uttered them. It is onr Alabama and Georgia with white McClinton, ER Merrill, AH intention to take them down next men to divide politically will, as Coshatt' Shelby week and substitute others that are soon as certain office hutners are McLendon, Wm Blackeby, W H deposed, dwindle away and perish Moore, R B for want of that nourishment that Farr, W M litical, social and business organizations. Whenever the white poor tions. Whenever the white people Nabors, J H see that the third party is filling its | Walker, O | Seale, David A ranks with dissatisfied office seekers alike from the democratic and re- Taylor, J R publican ranks—and their eyes are Wilder, W. F. being opened—that party will van- Harper, J S ish like the chaff before the wind, with the appointment we have no as no political or other party can stand a storm without a founda- Wells, Thomas J tion of principle.

IT strikes us that away back in the sixties and as late 73-74, in the Acton, John county of Autauga there was a trio Walker, Wm or quartette running the radical man is getting the boodle, and the machine, one of whom was J. J. L. Stewart. Will some one inform us if this is the J. J. L. Stewart who was so prominent as a leader in the to consider the welfare of the South, hoary crimes, at the bar of public opinthird party convention in Chilton a to remember that all their ties connect ion? We know that its acts comprise few days since? Again, one S. S. Booth misrepresented Autauga in that they have as much at stake as the days of radical rule, and was any individuals or party in the result ganization to connive at." is not a strong one by any means. also a member of that memorable radical convention of 1868. Is he contemplating the present and future, the san:e Booth that figured with The News begs them, in the name of

> Mr. S. H. Gist, of the Calera JOURNAL, is a candidate for dcorkeeper of the Senate. Most people are in favor of a poor newspaper can get till he asks for it, you know. ham News.

WHAT GOOD ROADS MEAN.

In some of our exchanges we see he following paragraphs in defense of good roads: They would make it possible for ham on the 15th inst., and while the farmer to take advantage of the there was in a barber shop being highest market, no matter at what season of the year.

every year wallowing through the

They would reduce to a minimum carriages,

They would make it easier for a team to pull several tons over their · Dey's dimecrats, 'publicans and smooth surface than to drag a wag-

The farmer would require less communication with the outside ing the people of Alabama, as far as "I declar', boss, I don't recollect markets at all times of the year.

ingham, but it's one or t'oher, sar- merous vexations and nervous pressive of the gratitude due to Columstrains. They would increase the demands

Good roads would bring every Good roads would make an evening drive a pleasure instead of vexation as it is now. They would do away with the abvery well pleased with him as a man. surd poll tax and superviser system in places where it is in use.

Confederate Soldiers Relief Fund.

OF THE STATE OF ALABAMA. Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 18, 1892.) To the Probate Judges of Alabama:

The fund for the relief of confeder-State, but these like the humblest must die. Peace to his ashes.

Bros Raynolds and Randall got Raynolds and Raynolds an warded to the probate judges of their respective counties.

Very respectfully, JOHN PURIFOY, Auditor. Petit Jurors for September Term.

The following is a list of petit jur-

Powell, WC

Wilson, R C

Payne, R M

Latham, S A Ray, P T

Taylor, G W

Adams, G W

Blackeby, W H

Walker, J B

Taylor, Jessie M

Ray, J F

Kindrick L R

Cleary, Thomas

Davis, J T

Baugh, J T Hubbard, W B

Spearman, Jas. M

Aldrich, W F

Shaw, Pleasant McWhorter, J W

FIRST WEEK. Horton, S D Farrell, John T

SECOND WEEK. Albright, Rufus Barnett, J T Dodson, BA Bowden Sam'l F Adams, J M Walker, C C

Davis, D M Kindrick, E M Lybrand, Wm J Baldwin, jr., F M Baker, Clinton Jones, Joseph S Spencer, E L

Brasher, G E Willis, David THIRD WEEK. Cromwell, J T Evans, T G Lee, W G Adams, J P Gilbert, Richard Spearman. Wm Clinkscales L M Basher, J W Roberson, J F M Riley, NJ Jones, T W Wheeller, G W Isbell, Ezkeill Martin, J H Jones, M J

The News is sure that democrats will be in control of Thursday Con- 26, '69: vention, and it appeals to them to calmly take counsel with one another, them with the democratic party, and murder, treason, theft, arson, fraud perof November's election, and so wisely all they have ever held dear and now love, to refuse to put out an Electoral Ticket, but to boldly declare that they are democrats and favor the election of Cleveland and Stevenson.

The few real Third partystes in the an Electoral Ticket; if they shall permembers of the convention and after they shall have marched out.

The News knows the homest hearts of the masses of Alabama are in sympathy with the purposes of the NatA PROCLAMTION.

Whereas, The commemoration of great epochs in the history of the human race tends to elevate and ennoble mankind;

Whereas, The President of the United States, in pursuance of an act of Congress, has designated Friday, October 21st, 1892, as a day to be set apart for fitting observance of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America; and

Whereas, It is meet that the people of Alabama should join with their sister the wear and tear of wagons and states in fitting tributes to the memory of the great explorer, and in proper commemoration of the historic event which conferred such lasting benefits upon the

Now, therefore, I, Thomas G. Jones Governor of Alabama, in consideration expense to keep roads in repair than of the premises, and in deference to the wishes of large numbers of people, do Good roads would afford ready hereby issue this proclamation, requestpracticable, to refran from their custom-They would shorten the distance ary labors on Friday, October 2!, 1892, and to devote the day to such public ex-They would save the farmer nu- ercises as they may deem suitably exbus for all he dared and accomplished in his great discovery, and to Almighty God for the country and suburban prop- for his continued mercies and benefaction to the people of this republic.

I do further recommend to the Superintendent of education that he cause a suspension of all public schools on that day, to the end that the children, who are soon to become the rulers of the State, may share in the celebration, and derive fitting inspiration from the spirit of all it commemorates and teaches.

I further direct that the adjutant general issue necessary orders for the firing of a national salute at sunrise on that day at each post where a battery of state troops is stationed.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to affixed, at the Capitol, this the 10th day of September, 1892 and the 117th year of the Independence of the United States of America.

THOS. G. JONES, By the Governor: J. D. BARRON, Sect. of State.

OATS in the third and Turpin in the ninth districts, both nominated on the 1st ballot. At this writing there is nothing from the

WEAVER'S UTTERANCES

He said at Albia on July, '66:

"I want to congratulate you first, fellow-citizens, on the suppression of purely Democratic rebellion, gotten up by Democrats for the democratic purpose of dissevering this Union and perpetually estaplishing human slavery. Now and forever it is established as an eternal truth that the Democracy in no place or State can ever be trusted with government. As a party it should disband, just as a section of it did at Appomattox."

He said at Centreville in '67: "Again has the Democratic party of Iowa spoken. Why, sir, I am astontonished beyond measure that a party with a record so utterly vile and wretched and wicked should be so lost to all shame and decency as to make an appearance before the loyal people of

"They should be trampling in the wilderness of oblivion, and never more

He said in a joint debate with Col. H. H. Trimble, at Bloomfield on September 4, '63:

"Here we have the old fight over again. The Confederate Democracy, North and south, in which the infamous copperhead division of Iowa appears, are contesting with Grant for the safety of the Union. As at Donelson, he proposes to 'move on their works at once,' and there is no escape for this rank, traitorous horse, except in an other surrender. Charge on them, fellow Republicans, and spare not one, not even a deputy road supervisor, from total political annihilation."

He said in Bloomfield on September

"What is the use of further arraigning the defunct Democracy with all its jury, and all crimes possible for an or-

He said in Fairfield September, '70:

"The democracy, as usual, are loud in their opposition, but what did they ever do when they had a chance? Here in Iowa they stole the school fund and nationally they stole the arsenals the Navy, the Treasury, every thing that was not red hot, and created the very devil's rebellion. And these men appear and ask for your support. They should come on bended knees asking your forgiveness for the unspeakable crimes they have committed and the meeting may inssist upon putting out an Electoral Ticket; if they shall percommon country.

> "But, then, what could you expect from the poor, blind, diseased decrepit, dismal damned old Democratic party?—Speech at Stiles September 11, 1873.

The democratic club of Calera Thanks, brother, ever so many ional Democracy. Alabama must and should go to Columbiana on the Alabama speak.

Marion MILITARY Institute.

DALAERONE, AREA,

Superior Accommodationrs and Board. Superintendent, his family and facility live in building with students. Classic and Scientific. Superior Commercal Course. TERMS MODE-Send for Catalogue

COL. J. T. MURFEE, Superintendent, Marion, Alabama.

SIX MILE MALE & FEMALE ACADEMY.

R. H. PRATT, Principal.

35th annual session begins September 26, 1892, and continues 40 WEEKS.

FONE WEEK FOR CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS.

Higer branches of Mathematics, French, Greek, with the above,$3 00

Music and use of instrument, 3 00 Board—per month, $7. Washing, Starching, Ironing $1......$8 00 Students are required to furnish, for their own use, one pr. blankets, one pr. sheets and pillow cases, their own toilet lights. Payments, monthy or quarterly in advance.

This school is located at Six Mile, Alabama, in a healthy, well watered neighborhood, five miles from Ashby depot, on the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia Railroad R E PRATT, PrIncipal, Six Mile, Alabama.

Ssept 6m

THE

CALERA JOURNAL Book and Job Office, CALBRA, ALA.

NEW AND LATEST STYLE TYPE,

BEST OF PAPER AND INK USED. BIRMINGHAM & MONTGOMERY PRICES DUPLICATED.

$1--A WEEKLY NESWSPAPER--$1.

The latest and most select political, social and religious news. Literature and science, a special feature.

Special attention given to local correspondence. For further particulars in reference to subscriptions or Commercial or Pamphlet work, address,

JOURNAL, CALERA, ALA.

Public Speaking

FRIDAY,

SEPT. 30, '92, On the political issues of the day,

Everybody is Invited! Ladies Especially

DON'T FORGET THAT

COLUMBIANA IS THE PLACE, AND

IS THE TIME.

By order of the Committee: W B BROWN, sept17-2t

Chairman.

WANTED:—A lady in each town to take orders for something new that every lady wants; we pay $2.50 for first 5 hours' work; in the late of t

REGISTER'S SALE.

Morgan & Lapsley, A. M. Elliott, Trustee, et al) tue of a decree rendered at the Spring term, 1892, of the Chancery Court of Shelby county, Alabama, in the above entitled cause, I will proceed to sell, under the power contained in a Mortgage from H. M. Pierce, et al, to A. M. Elliott, trustee, at public outery, in front of the Court House door in the town of Columbiana, Alabama, on Monday, the 17th day of October, 1892.

MILL

ADDRESS THE PEOPLE OF

SHELBY COUNTY

SHELBY COUNTY

SHELBY COUNTY

between the legal hours of sale, for cash, the following described real estate, situated near Calera in Sheby county, Ala., te-wit: Fractions A, H, J, M, and the SM of E and F of section 22, township 22, range 2, west; and the east half of north east ougster, section 2, township 24. east quarter, section 2, township 24, range 13, east

This, August 11, 1892.

D. R. McMILLAN,

Register and Acting Trustee.
13aug-10w prs fee$16.50

NOTICE 12,810. Land office, Montgomery, Ala.) September 7, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the followng-named settler has filed notice of in-tention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the clerk of the circuit court at Columbiana, Alabama, on October 21, 1892, viz.: Alexander Hunley, homestead entry, No. 20,341, for the N. E. qr of N. E. qr, section 34, township 21, south of range 2 west. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of, said land, viz.: W. M. Jones, Charlie Griffin, Perry Riley, Lawson Hunley, all of Calera, Ala.

J. H. BINGHAM, 10 sept-6w

Ben Jones was a capital fellow,
But he was so confoundedly sallow!
That his friends all forsook him.
E'en his sweet heart she shook him,
Which made poor Ben loudly bellow.
Now Benhada friend named McQueens,
Who teld him to take EMITH'S BILE

And now he's as rosy as any pink posey, And has married a woman of means. Bile Beans will clear the complaxion, and sweeten the branch. 25 c.per bottle.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

RAILROAD TIME TABLE.

4:53 a. m

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE. No. 1, South Bound, ... 3, " 2, North Bound, " 10, " " ALABAMA MINERAL.

85, Arrives at 86, Departs at

4:35 p.m. 10:25 a. m. COUNTY OFFICERS. Probate Judge—R. W. Cobb. Circuit Clerk—W. R. A. Milner. Sheriff—W. R. Carter-

Register in Chancery-D. R. McMil-Tax Collector-E. F. Vest.

Tax Assessor-W. H. Kidd. County Trersurer-A. W. Strickland.

County Solicitor-J. L. Peters. County Commissioners-John E Dyeey, T. B. McClusky, R. F. Johnson, D. C. Davis.

AT THE CHURCHES.

PRESBYTERIAN-Services on the 4th night; pastor to be supplied. Sabbath School at 9:30 a.m.

and third Sundays, morning and night, by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sabbath school at 9:30.

Baptist Church—Rev. J. G. Lowrey, pastor. Preaching every first and second Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting at 7.00 p. m., every Thursday.

CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN-J. Dalton, pestor. Preaching every first and third Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday eveningsat 7:30. Children's Band meets 3:30 p. m. each 1st and 3rd Sunday. Ladies' Aid Society every other Friday eveningat 3.

stoms of the financial world cannot touch them; where the assessor cannot tax them; where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old see should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do your duty and insure immediately in some good, old reliable Company."—Extract from a sermon by the Rev. T. Dewitt Talmage.

Sively, and finds ready safe for them as fast as they ripen.

Sively, and finds ready safe for them as fast as they ripen.

Sively, and finds ready safe for them as fast as they ripen.

Sively, and finds ready safe for them as fast as they ripen.

Col. J. T. Murphy, president of the may look for others.

**

John G. Whittier, the well beloved poet, on the 7th inst., passed on to meet George Wm. Curtis, and Wm. Lloyd Garrison and Wendell White Teachers' Institute. Witt Talmage.

HUGH T. CAFFEY,

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON CALERA, ALA.

feb12-1y.

J. L. PETERS. HENRY WILSON, E. S. LYMAN Montevallo Columbiana.

Peters, Wilson & Lyman, ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

The Birmingham News at Reduced Rates.

During the month of July, the Birmingham News will be mailed to any mingham News will be mailed to any address at the following rates. The Daily News published every afternoon and Sunday morning, four months for $1.50$; the Sunday News four months for Twenty-five cents, payable in advance. The News is fearlessly Democratic and supports regularly organized Democracy of the State headed by Thos. G. Jones.

The News is the leading afternoon newspaper of the State, and will furnish all the news political and otherwise during the coming campaign in a crisp and readable form.

Now is the time to subscribe. Sample copies sent on application. Address

THE NEWS, Birmingham, Ala.

ONE DOLLAR WEEKLY

Messrs. Holcomb, Talley and Mc. Lendon, took in Shelby Springs last Monday night.

Charlie Gist was up from Six Mile Saturday, and stayed till Mon-county friends, and his good wife that would be of interest to readers spent Sunday night as our guest.

Wade & Co., are stlll receiving and opening new goods. Campaign goods are being opened and are very Capt. R. H. Pratt, has some slight changes in his school adver-tisement. The atention of readers is called to the changes.

Mr. Horrace Fancher, of Montgomery, and his lovely daughter, Miss Laura, spent a few hours with the editor's family Wednesday.

Mr. Herby Lytle, alias the bear man, will act as post master during the absence of the fair post mistress, who left yesterday for an his way to Lebanon Tennessee, extended trip in the north and east.

4:14 p. m. 5:10 a. m. 10:19 Attention is directed to the an-10:05 p. m. nouncement that Gen John T. Mor-7:15 p. m. gan will address the people of Shelby county on the political issues of the day at Columbiana, Friday, the 30th of this month.

> It has alway been our custom to mention every enterprise that is organized in town. This week we have heard of but one-the establishment of another beef market by Mr. James Pilgreen.

Rev. W. B. Witherspoon will Superintendent of Education-T. N. preach at the Cumberland Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening 7:30, September 21, inst. We hope that the town of Calera will give this able preacher a good audience.

Walter Duran made a days visit Sundays in each month, morning and to Birmingham the middle of the week, but he says he couldn't get to the hotel for the third partyites, Methodist-Services on the second and came home to get something to eat. Bro. Randall didn't go up till Thursday.

> Editor Campbell and the ex-imp of the Journal went up to the ety will meet next Sunday at 4 Magic city Wednesday to see the o'clock. Hope there will be a good christian hearted girl. great political gathering. The News was especially anxious to see The Mrs. Lease and the Imp wanted to make some preparations for starting to school.

Thursday last Col. John P. West brrught to our office the finest pear t has ever been our pleasure of secing. It was grown in the Adams Garden, Calera, and is the Dutchess Read and profit by the following sound Garden, Calera, and is the Dutchess counsel, every word of which smarts wariety. This one weighed twenty-with a truism like a sparkling jewel: one ounces and had been pulled "It is a duty you owe to yourself and from the tree several days. Mr. A. is growing this variety very extensions of the financial world cannot touch them when when the control of the storms of the financial world cannot be stormed to the control of the storms of the financial world cannot be several days.

attendance good. It is one of the finest institutions of learning for large boys and young men in the state, and those having such to send away from home will make no mistake in sending them to Marion Military institute.

Prof. Greek will open up the public school here Monday next. Every arrangement has been made for the commencement for three months

One day since our last issue, Dr. McAuley with a wagon load of young ladies, all visitors at Shelby Springs, halted opposite our office and announced that they were com ing up, and before we could remove the waste paper, old shoes, etc., or even hide the office towel or put on our old sack coat, they were up and in our presence. The doctor, who is noted for his affible and polite Buys a good gold watch by our club system. Our 14-karat gold-filled cases are warranted for 20 years. Fine Elgin or Waltham movement, stem wind and set. Waltham movement, stem wind and set.
Lady's or gent's size. Equal to any $50 watch. To secure agents where we have none, we sell one of the hunting case watches for the club price, $28, and send C. O. D. by express with privilege of examination before paying for same.

Our agent at Durham, N. C., writes:
"Our jewelers have confessed they don't know how you can furnish such works for the money,"

had been invaded by so much beauty and so many joyous faces that we couldn't tell how many there were couldn't tell how many there were, nor did we catch the names of the parties as they were presented.

After we had explained "the art man's dress which will allow her preservative," as best we could under the excitement of the moment gans of her body when working or and the ladies had turned to go the taking exercise. In signing this are now one in a hill, and business it as seem best to each one. is looking up in the job line, we Signed by eight of the most promi-will be very busy, and will have no nent woman's rights ladies. time to gether local news. If any Steve Price, one of our old Bibb of our readers should learn anything advance the interests of the town or country, they will confer a favor on us by notifying ye local or the editress of the Women's Column.

Chas. H. Brigham, business representative of the Keeley Institute for the cure of the Liquor, Opium and Tobacco Habits, and Neurasthenia, Fort Payne, Ala., gave us a pleasant call Thursday. Mr. Brigham is a very pleasant gentleman, recited some wonderful cases of disease contracted from the use of these dreadful drugs, that had been cured by their treatment.

Rev. M. D. Wallace, of Six Mile, where he will attend the Cumberwish him much success during this session and through life.

Dr. Dubose, the sub-editor of the the Alliance Herald, to aid us in editing our great religious weekly. the great art of newspaper teaching. And if your criticisms on these aids to theology be correct we shall be very proud of them.

WOMAN'S COLUMN.

The M. E. Church at this place are furnishing their house of worshop with new seats, and the Ladies Aid Society are furnishing new wall paper. Their Missionary Sociattendance.

Our loved friend Mr. Z. A. Dowling who has been quite sick, has gone up to Blount Springs, hoping to be benefitted, sure to go an hear him.

If those appointed to report church work to this column do not wish the appointment, please be

Wm. Lloyd Garrison and Wendell Phillips, and Francis Jackson, and Stephens, and Abley Lelly Foster, and James Russell Lowell, and a host of other fellow-workers in the times that tried men's souls, now on the other side: As it was true of Mr. Curtis that he left only good o Hara. Mr. J. D. Hardy, his aged mother, deeds and pleasant memories behind and his lovely and accomplished him, so the same is true of Mr daughter, Miss Cora, left yesterday Whittier. He was the poet of the morning for a trip to Washington people. The songs he sang went to city, where they will take in the encampment of G. A. R., from language is known there, whether thence they go to New York, their in palace or in cottage, are the poformer home, where they will spend ems of this great man. He was a some time in visiting relatives and vice president of the Massachusetts woman's suffrage associations at the time of his death. He had been for J. Strock and Miss. Earl Anchors. more than forty years a hearty sympathizer with the movement in Hammond and Miss. Lucy Smith. behalf equal rights for women. All good causes were very near the lear sweet poet, whose faith in the eternal goodness never wavered.

He went home in the unfaltering trust expressed in his own words:

I know not where His islands lift Their frauded palms in air; I only know I cannot drift Beyond His love and care."

The dress reform movement is McMillan and Cooper. leservedly claiming considerable attention—the following pledge has been formed and signed, and an carnest appeal is made to American women who attent the world's fair to don a short walking length skirt with gaiter, jacket and hat to match. The prevailing tendency seems to be the condemning of long trains so much worn at present.

Our agent at Durham, N. C., writes:
"Our jewelers have confessed they don't know how you can furnish such works for the money,"
Our agent at Pennington, Texas, writes: "Am in receipt of the watch and am pleased without measure. All who have seen it say it would be cheap at $40."
One good reliable agent wanted for each place. Write for particulars.

EMPIRE WATCH CO., New York

After we had explained "the art preserved." as best we could under the excitement of the moment as best we could under the excitement of the moment as best we could under the excitement of the moment and the ladies had turned to go, the doctor drew from his side pocket a small bottle of the mineral water on the free and healthful use of the or gans of her body when working or taking exercise. In signing this paper no one of us becomes responsible for the suggestions of any one from the noted resort. We drank to his health and a happy return to the shade explained "the art preserved."

After we had explained "the art preserved." as best we could under the excitement of the moment at king exercise. In signing this paper no one of us becomes responsible for the suggestions of any one else, nor do we promise to wear or and through the newspapers everywhere. It will work wonders, one bottle will cure nearly every case. If the free and healthful use of the or taking exercise. In signing this paper no one of us becomes responsible to the free and healthful use of the or taking exercise. In signing this paper no one of us becomes responsible for the suggestions of any one else, nor do we promise to wear or at $40."

One good reliable agent wanted for each place. Write for particulars.

EMPIRE WATCH CO., New York

Mast. Willie Blevins, who has healthy movement in favor of freebeen our main help for the past dom and common sense in dress, three month, has "fired" us, and we leaving ourselves free to work for

TRIBUTE OF FRIENDSHIP.

Bibb County Democrat.

Died at Randolph, Ala., on the 30th of August, at 2 o'clock, a. m., after a short illness, Miss Bessie Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cox.

Another flower cropped and borne to the skies. Yes, she is gone. A short time ago she was here with us, making all around us happy, but now she is at rest far beyond the gold sun-set skies. Oh! what a warning it is to us who are left! How soon another may be taken, no one but God knows.

Bessie was a priceless jewel in her family whom she leaves broken-hearted but God will look upon their distress. He will bind up their bleeding hearts and was in Calera Thursday morning on prepare them to fight the battle of life. bearing the cross of patience. Notwithstanding her kindness to every one and University. Duncan will prob- through life, in time of her illness she abiy graduate this session, and we told her parents if they found any one whose feelings she had wounded to tell them she wanted them to forgive her. Noble spirit! the very essence of christ-Chronicle, is going to repay our kind | ianity. May this great lesson she taught offer of demcratic literature with just before she left us, sink deep down copies of the Christian Observer and in each of our hearts. How much good would be done, how much trouble would be saved if we would practice this les-Doctor, you have our kindest re- son. Never stop to question whether or gards. It has been our greatest not we are to blame, but if we find any desire to improve in this line of one who has aught against us, to say Forgive thou me."

She passed through the "gates of death" with the Lord's prayer on her lips, repeating it word for word all way the way through. God alone could have strengthened her in that hour of pain to say: "Thy will be done on earth [The Woman's Column is under the supervision of Mrs. F. W. Gist, and all communications for this department should be addressed to her at West Calera, Alabama.] best, and it was His own will.

Wherever she met her friends she met them with a smile on her lips, and joy in her heart. Oh! how we all miss that fair young face and sweet, tender voice. She is missed every where that she was known, for she was an honest, true and

While we mourn her loss, we are also comforted by the assurance if we follow the example which Bessie and others have set for us, we may meet again in that beautiful land where peace ever reigns. What a happy home she has to-

May God look down in tender mercy Hope every one will remember on the bereaved parents of that dear Mr. Witherspoon's appointment on daughter who has been taken from them the night of the 21st inst., and be and carried to the heavenly home above. May he help them to sing with joy that sweet old song:

Yes, we'll gather at the river." Bessie will be there in the great gathering of saints around the great white

White Teachers' Institute.

The following is the program of the institute for the white teachers of Shelby county Ala., at Columbiana, Friday and Saturday, September 23 and 24, 1892: FRIDAY-MORNING SESSION.

Prayer and song. Address of welcome-Rev. C. W.

3. Response—E. O. Dawson,

4. Organization and enrollment. 5. Review of the common school system

-J. W. Ellenburg. AFTERNOON SESSION.

6. Methods in United States history-Rev. J. B. Hall.

7. Methods in geography-J. M. Baldwin and S. W. Leonard.

8. Physical geography—Howard Griggs and E. O. Dawson.

11. Best course of study for common schools—W. B. Greek and Miss. Belle Smith EVENING SESSION.
12. Class drill in percentage—W. B

13. Teaching algebra.—Howare Griggs.14. Teaching Latin—John Savage.

15. Question box.
SATURDAY.
16. Relation of the common school to the college—C. W. Seales and G. H. Green.

17. How to improve our school houses-J. A. Spearman and others.

19. Systematic school for little children –Misses. Smith, Cost and Clifton. 20. Class drill in English grammar.—C N. Prichard.

21. The diagram—J. H. Hammond and F. S. Crumpton. 22. Question box.

REMARKS. The county superintendent will be present and will pay off the teachers for the fourth quarter. The educational board will hold a session to examine any teachers who may apply fot license to teach.

Board at half rates at all the hotels. T. A. Huston, Supt. Ed.

$500 Will be Given For any case of Rheumatism which can

URE BLOOD GOOD HEALTH

Now is the time for everyone who cherishes good health, to pay par cular attention to the condition of their blood and its proper circulation. Near all diseases that flesh is heir to are caused and agravated by an impure condition of the blood and a sluggish circulation.

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS

Possessing Extraordinary Cleansing Powers

Restoring and Strengthening the whole System, Enriching the Blood producing increased vitality by restoring an impaired digestion and bringing back the bloom of youth to the cheek of the enfeebled and emaciated. Price, $1.00 per Bottle-6 Bottles for $5.00.

For Sale by All Druggists.

SOLE CONTROLERS,

Birmingham.

WORDS ABOUT THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION.

Nabors, Morrow, & Sinnige.

Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers -12 Pages.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT.

1. It is the best of all weekly news- "Aunt Susie," the editress of these depapers.

2. It is invaluable to the tarmer and throughout the south.
the farmer's family, bringing each week cheer to the fireside and happiness to the broadland throughold.

6. Bill Arp, Plunkett, and Uncle Remember to the fireside and happiness to the household. the farmer's family, bringing each week

the household.

3. It covers the news of the whole world, having its correspondents scattered over the globe, and having a thorough news service from every important interests of the south.

The standard and standard house are engaged by the year, and their inimitable sketches appear each week.

7. It is the People's Friend, and is the sturdy champion of the agricultural interests of the south.

ough news service from every important news center in the world.

4. Its Agricultural Department alone is worth many times its subscription price to every farmer. This department is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, whose service is retained by the Constitution at great expense.

5. Its Woman's and Childeren's Departments are a source of infinite pleasure to every family, and the name of interests of the south.

8. It pays more money for its special features and for its news service than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south.

9. It is the cheapest, being only One Dollar ser year, each paper at the price of a postage stamp. Think of it! Every time a hen lays an egg she pays for one issue of the greatest weekly newspapers in the world.

ure to every family, and the name of pers in the world.

Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of your neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulated home should be without it.

Agents Wanted in every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information. THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

--FINE MILLINERY--

Mrs. S. H. McCauley's.

NEAR THE DEPOT.

Wontevallo, - -: Ala.

A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hats in the Latest Styles, and at Reasonable Prices. handkerchiefs & Hosiery.

Saturday Sales at $1

CORBETT

Harness A Saddles,

DEALERS IN HARDWARE & TINWARE,

WAGON MATERIAL. Stock of Dynamite and Fuse, and empty and loaded

Shells always on Hand. 118 19TH STREET, BIRMINCHAM.

Banking House of

W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co.,

CALERA; ALABAMA. Receive Deposits,

Negotiate Loans,

Issue interest bearing certificates of Deposit, and sell exchange on New York Louisville and Birmingham at regular rates cyarged by the larger cities.

We transact a general banking business, such as that of any incorporated bank in all of its legitimate branches, and would be pleased to open accounts with merchants, manufacturers and planters alike.

and Life Insurance

Written in the best companies,

CITY PROPERTY AND FARM LANDS

Bought, Sold and Rented upon just terms.

The Government and Highways

It has been suggested that the American roads be placed under a system of Government supervision, and be divided somewhat as the French roads are:

First, national roads. These to be built and maintained by the General Government, and be located with reference to military and postal requirements.

Second, State roads. These to be built and maintained by the several States, and connect the various localities of the States, and be planned with reference to the national roads.

Third, county or neighborhood roads. These to be built and maintained by counties and townships, and be located with reference to the classes just mentioned.

Those who advocate this idea say that if our common roads were improved by some such plan as this we should soon have them in charge of competent and educated engineers. The national roads would probably be in charge of army engineers; the State roads in charge of engineers graduated from the agricultural and mechanical schools; and the neighborhood roads in charge of local men, who, once having had the example set them of how good roads are built, would be entirely competent to do what is usually necessary to be done in making a road of lesser importance. But even under such a plan as this, each county should have an engineer to design the difficult work, determine upon location of routes and inspect constructions and repairs. Strange as it may seem, the proper location of a country highway presents to the engineer more complex problems than the location of a railroad. Country people do not understand this, and are not willing to believe it, therefore the crossroads storekeeper and the village blacksmith are usually thought to be entirely competent to decide upon the best route for a country road. —Harper's Weekly.

Silence, in the sense of absolute stillness, is almost unknown in Na- money and drove away in the dark. ture. In her loneliest shrine there is nearly always a world of small noises, of stirrings and rustlings, quiver of leaves, hum of insects, stir of flowerets and grass blades, song of birdsonly in the desolate Arctic regions, or the pathless desert, does the explorer enter into the realms of absolute silence, and then it is oppressive and terrible. Noise itself may be

The Dorset poet writes truly when he speaks of the over-worked mother complaining of the "noisy fun" of her children; but chrenicles how, in later years, when the family was scattered, 'some married, some dead," the lonely old woman looks back to by-gone days, "and she do wish, with idle tears, to have again about her ears" the very noise which once "stunned"

How terrible is the quietude which settles over the household after the death of a child; how dull the silence that pervades the establishment after the return of the boys to school, albeit every one had previously grumbled at their "incessant noise.

It is said that a miller's wife, leaving the mill after the death of her husband, suffered so much from stillness through missing the clack of the machinery, that she made her servant bring the coffee-mill into her bed-room every evening and "grind her to sleep.'

Like other grievances, noise itself may be "mourned when missed." The professed foes of noise often increase what they attempt to destroy. "Name me, and you break me," is an old riddle, but not apparently one always remembered by the loud-voiced callers for "silence."

Men and Wives Separated.

A letter from Cairo, Ill., says: Considerable interest has been excited here and at Paducah, Ky., by the efforts of two Chinamen to get back to this country. They are Charles Hong and Jim Prang, who went from here to Paducah to start a laundry, and a year ago married two Paducah white girls. A few months ago they went back to China, leaving their wives at home. Since their departure both wives have become mothers, and one with her child is living in Cairo.

The husbands now desire to return, but the Chinese exclusion law is a barrier. In order to help them over papers drawn up by an American consul in China have been received by the local Chinamen asking that the signatures of city officials and citizens of Paducah be obtained, certifying that Charles and Jim were dealers in tea and oriental fancy goods, and that they have married American girls in Paducah.

These papers bore correct photographs of the two anxious Chinamen, but the officials cannot sign the tea merchant certificates for laundrymen.

Lake of Blood in Dahomey.

Father Chautard, formerly a missionary in Dahomey, says the following is the truth about the lake of human blood mentioned by many travelers, and said to be large enough to float a canoe: "In front of the king's palace there are really two holes measuring a cubic limeter (35.316 cubic feet) each. They fill these with blood and float upon it a little boat made of silver."

Plant Evaporation.

A sunflower evaporates 11 pints of water a day, and a cabbage about the same quantity. A wheat plant exhales in 172 days about 100,000 grains of water. An acre of growing wheat, on this calculation, draws and passes out about ten tons of water per day.

Good and Bad.

The best farmers are those who read and study the experience of others, and who endeavor to practice all the improved methods.

THE LAST MONEY.

The Division of the Funds of the Confederate Treasury.

Although much has been written regarding the distribution of the last money in the treasury of the Confederate States a description of the division has never been given, says a writer in a Southern paper. Dr. C. R. C. Todd, of Barnwell, S. C., was a distinguished surgeon of the Confederate army and a brother-in-law of Abraham Lincoln. He was also connected by marriage with the Breckinridge family of Ken tucky. Dr. Todd was in charge of the Confederate hospital at Charleston and was with the party of the fugitive Confederate cabinet when it disbanded. Dr. Todd was present at the division of the last money, $70,000, of the Confederate treasury, and thus describes its distribution among the Confederate sol-

The money, consisting of gold and silver, and some money which belonged to the Bank of Richmond, was in charge of Col. Morgan, a brother of the famous John Morgan. In the party were the members of the cabinet and the officers of the four brigades of troops that were with us when we crossed the Savannah river. In a log cabin on the south side of the road leading to Washington, Ga., and about two miles from where we crossed the Savannah River on pontoons. the distribution was made. The troops present were the four brigades commanded by Vaughn, DeBrell, Basil Duke, and Humphrey Marshall.

A canvass was made of the soldiers, which disclosed the presence of 2,669 men, including officers, and as all fared alike each received as his share $26.25. But by returning fictitious names the actual number of men was swelled to such an extent that many received $36 apiece.

"In the paying out we finally came to a keg of silver ingots—pieces three by four inches square. They opened a box of gold belonging to the Bank of Rich-It was about 18 inches long and 10 to 12 inches wide, and contained purses of gold. They made a rough stimate of the value of that gold and of the keg of silver and exchanged them. Then they carried the Bank of Richmond money to the bank at Washington, Ga., and deposited it. While the money was being divided Col. Morgan paid a man $5 an hour to guard it. When we got $5 an hour to guard it. When we got through Morgan took the remaining

A BEAUTIFUL DISPLAY.

The Gorgeous Exhibit of Flowers at the Columbian Exposition.

The display of flowers and fruits at the World's Fair will be beautiful be-yond description and will surpass all previous ones. It will play a most important part in the adornment of the grounds, and will be attractive to all lasses-to the scientific visitor on account of its educational value, and to the ordinary observer owing to its ornamental features. This exhibit is to be seen in almost all parts of the grounds, but the most beautiful and valuable plants and fruits will be found in the Horticultural Building, which is to be 998 feet in length, with an ex-treme width of 250 feet. Its plan is a central pavilion with two end pavilions, each connected with it by front and reaf curtains, forming two interior courts, each 88 by 270 feet. Surmounting the central pavilion is a beautifully proportioned dome, 187 feet in diameter and

In the south pavilion will be an exhibit of wines, the finest the world has ever seen. Already thirty-three for-eign countries have applied for space in this department. In the rear part of the building will be the finest exhibit, embracing specimens of every known species in the world. These will be, as far as possible, natural fruits in prime condition. Where this is impossible perfect wax representations will be sub-large. For this very extensive prepara-tions have already been made. The flowering plants have to be brought to the grounds in season to have all of the ill-effects of transplantation and transportation overcome before the exhibit is opened to the public. More than 500,000 shrubs and plants are already growing in the grounds. One entire island, embracing between fifteen and sixteen acres, will be devoted to horticultural displays, and will be the most attractive spot of any connected with the exposition.

During Thunder Storms

If out of doors, trees should be avoided, and if, from the rapidity with which the explosion follows the flash, it should be evident that the electric clouds are near at hand, a recumbent posture on the ground is the most se-

It is seldom dangerous to take shelter under sheds, earts, or low buildings, or under the arch of a bridge; the distance twenty or thirty feet from tall trees or houses is rather an eligible situation, for should a discharge take place these elevated bodies are likely to receive it, and less prominent bodies in the neighborhood are those likely to escape.

It is right also to avoid water, for it is a good conductor, and the height of a human being near the stream is not unlikely to determine the direction of a discharge. Within doors we are tolerably safe in the middle of a carpeted room, or when standing on a double hearthrug. The chimney should be avoided, on account of the conducting power of the carbon deposited in it; on the same principle, gilt moldings, bell wires, etc., are in danger of being

In bed we are tolerably safe: blankets and feathers are bad conductors, and we are consequently, to a certain extent, insulated. It is injudicious to take refuge in a cellar, because the discharge is often from the earth to a cloud, and buildings frequently sustain the greatest injury in their basement

It Has Many Uses.

Few people realize the value of salt. It can be used in many ways about the house and is indispensable as a medicine. A little salt rubbed on cups will take off tea stains. If put in whitewash it will make it stick better. Used as a tooth powder it will keep the gums hard and rosy. Salt and water is one of the best gargles for sore throat, and is a preventive of diphtheria if taken in time. Salt and water will clean willow furni-ture, if applied with a brush and then rubbed dry. If held in the mouth after having a tooth extracted it will stop the bleeding. Calico and all prints will hold their color and look brighter if rinsed in salt water. Silk handkerchiefs and rib-bons should be washed in salt water and ironed while hot to obtain the best re-

BLARNEY CASTLE.

It Was Buirt by Cormick McCarthy in 1449. Blarney Castle, which has given to the English language a word that will probably never become obsolete, was built by Cormick McCarthy in Blarney, a village in Ireland four miles distant from Cork, in 1449. The castle, or rather what is left of it, stands on the north side of a precipitous ridge of limestone rock, and its base is washed by the small river, the Aw-Martin. Near the summit of the castle is the famous stone which has the legendary property of conferring on the person who kisses it such persuasiveness as to compel the hearer to believe anything he may assert. The stone can be kissed by a person held over the parapet by the heels.

BLARNEY CASTLE, DRELAND.

There is a belief that before Blarney Castle surrendered to King William's forces Lord Clancarthy's plate was packed in a chest and thrown into a lake a short distance from the castle. Several attempts have been made to drain this lake.

It Made Them Sick.

The town of Dexter can boast the hardest-hearted set of wags to be found anywhere, says the Lewiston (Me.) Journal. The most of them are constantly on the lookout for the subject of a practical joke, and hardly a day passes that they do not find one. The latest is on the fresh cigar drummer, who thought his merchandise better than anything of the sort on earth. In his travels he carries in his coat pocket a big cigar case and advertises himself and his goods by giving freely of his brands to any who will smoke them. He was in Dexter this week. The day was hot, and he left his coat and cigar case on a chair while he sat in a cooling draught in the door. One of the jokers got a rubber comb and broke out twenty teeth. They were small and sharp. Into the end of each cigar a rubber tooth was pushed, and with a small nail the tooth was driven in out of sight. The tobacco leaf came together, completely hiding the tooth. Then the jokers waited for the fun. Soon the cigar man, well cooled down, began business. Going into a store, he first gave away a cigar, which the intended customer began to smoke. Soon the air was odoriferous, not with a sweet and fragrant smell, but with one not unlike that of old gunlocks or burning rubber boots. The cus-The floricultural exhibit will be very tomer sickened and threw away the weed, and said he had on hand cigar enough to last all summer. Another dealer had a similar experience. Still another was given a day's nausea, and when that drummer got through with his gifts he was hated by nearly every cigar dealer in town. packed his goods in sorrow, and does not know to this day that an old rubber comb from the stable box of a hostler wrecked him commercially

How Mutes Make Love. A gentleman who enjoys a wide aequaintan e among the deaf of Philadelphia told a Record reporter that the courtship of a pair of mutes was one of the most singular things on record. "I know a young man who is now deep in the toils of a fair and speechless girl," he said, "and he has taken me into his confidence. He is perfectly happy in his infirmity, for from conversations he has held with ordinary lovers he has come to the conclusion that silence is, after all, the best form for lovers. During the progress of his affair de cœur he experienced but one difficulty, and that in a short time he surmounted. The thorn that lay in his bed of roses was a gas jet, which, as he, of course, conversed with his adored one in the sign language, it was always necessary to keep a blaze—a woefully embarrassing thing for lovers. Finally they discovered that, like Laura Bridgman, they could utilize the sense of touch in deciphering their sign language. By holding one another's hands they found that they could carry on a conversation with tolerable facility, and in about a week were adepts. Thus deaf, dumb and practically blind, they enjoyed all the pleasure of love. They have spread their discovery among their friends, and I believe that the idea has takeu fast hold upon deaf lovers, and has become quite popular."

Love puts thorns on friendship. Jealousy is love turned upside down. Men measure love by time; women, by eternity. Love is a great care.

Love needs no messenger to say it's Three meals a day is good for love. Love is twin to sorrow. Love cannot be hidden.

Each one has own definition for Hate is love gone mad.

AMERICAN PIE.

It Is an Indigenous Product Which No Other Nation Can Imitate.

A gentleman of New England ancestry, who lives on West Pine street, solemnly asserted to a St. Louis Globe-Democrat reporter that pie is largely responsible for many of the mental peculiarities of the American

"It is a fact scientifically established," he said, "that different kings of food have distinctively different effects on the mental traits and tendencies of men. For instance, races whose diet is chiefly of meat are always of a bloodthirsty, sanguinary disposition, while those who confine themselves to grain and vegetables are nearly always mild and unwarlike. Persons who eat highly spiced and seasoned food are apt to be peppery and irritable, and so on. People's minds depend on the condition of their stomach, and their stomachs depend on what they eat. Now, pie is the only kind of food eaten by others of the Caucasian race. It is a a distinctively American dish. When it is considered that nearly 2,000,000 pies per day are eaten in America it may be said to be our national food. And I don't think it unreasonable to infer that pie may be the inspiring source of many of our greatest achievements and sublimest thoughts. At any rate, all our great men have been very fond of pie Abraham Lincoln used to go out of his way to get a good, old-fashioned piece of cherry pie, such as had stained his youthful lips and fingers in the old Kentucky days. George Washington was so notoriously fond of mince pie that the Quaker housewives used to send them to him, with their humble respects, even after he had become president. The marquis de Lafayette is said to have pronounced the ples of Mount Vernon 'exquisite,' and he attempted to introduce them to the haut ton on his return to Paris. The attempt failed because the marquis forgot to take an American cook back with him, and no chef has, even until recently, conquered the mysteries of pie. It is a remarkable fact that pumpkin pie has recently become very popular in Paris. It is the pioneer, but it will undoubtedly become the avant courier of all our delicious

"The French have nothing approaching our pie. They make all sorts of delicate and creamy puffs and meringues that are dreams of the cullnary art. In many respects they excel our efforts in similar directions. But they never attained to the sublimity of pie. The English have nothing that will compare with it but tarts. While these are pleasant little fripperies of diet, they no more compare to pie than a last year's bird's nest does to the capitol of Washington. The nearest the Germans get to pie is the pretzel. Think of it! Pretzel versus pie! The Italian is worse. Though he is a past master in the art of paste-making, and has given to the world that marvel of culinary ingenuity, maccaroni, he has never thought to combine the crusts with the grapes and berries of his sunny hillsides. No lazy person can make pie, and so the Spanish have none. It seems as if the peerless dish had been reserved by the Gods from men until the banner of freedom had been unfurled and tyranny de-ing country and encountered an old man turning a windlass which hauled up ore out of a shaft. It was his work to do this all day long. His hat was off and the sun poured down on his unprotected head. "Don't you know the sun will injure your brain if you expose it in that manner?" said the good man. The laborer wiped the sweat off his forehead and looked at the clergyman. you think I'd be doin' this all day if I had any brains?" said he; and then he gave the handle another turn.

It Couldn't Hurt Hlm.

A Hint to the Suspender Girl.

There is one thing the suspender wearing girl has evidently forgotten -she has never yet been seen to give that little hitch, first with one shoulder and then with the other that men say settles a refactory pair of 'galluses" into the most comfortable position: It is not very pretty, or graceful either, in men, this gesture, but some girl or other will put a bit of her own chic and coquetry into it one day, and then everybody will be doing it.-New York Press.

My Wife Was miserable all the time with kidney complaint but began improving when she had taken Hood's Farsaparilla one week, and after taking three bottles was perfectly cured. I had Mrs. Richardson. Heart Failure, Catarrh and Liver Complaint. Could not sleep, bloated badly, had pains in my back, ringing noises in my ears. Hood's Sarsaparilla gave immediate benefit, sound sleep and good health. H.C. RICHARDSON, Siloam, N. Y.

Hood's Pills cure Nausea, Sick Headache, Indigestion, Bihousness and all Liver troubles.

Every Month many women suffer from Excessive or Scant Menstruation; they don't know who to confide in to get proper advice.

Don't confide in anybody but try Bradfield's

Female Regulator a Specific for PAINFUL, PROFUSE.

SCANTY, SUPPRESSED and IRREGULAR MENSTRUATION. Book to "WOMAN" mailed free. BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga. Sold by all Druggists.

A SMOKE-STACK-A package of cigarettes.

Sample Package Malled Free. Address Small Bilo Beans, New York.

Platform scales were the invention of Thaddeus Fairbanks, in 1831.

Will do good in almost every case of sickness-Small Bile Beans. President Harrison receives his salary in monthly installments.

J. F. SMITH & Co., New York City: Gentlemen—I find Bile Beans Small to be perfection, and cannot get along without them in the house. Please find enclosed 50c., for which kindly send 2 bottles. Mrs. A. A. Tomas, Caverdale, Cal.

There are over 15,000 Masonic lodges in existence.

German

Syrup

Mr. Albert Hartley of Hudson, N. C., was taken with Pneumonia.

His brother had just died from it.

When he found his doctor could not rally him he took one bottle of German Syrup and came out sound and well. Mr. S. B. Gardiner, Clerk with Druggist J. E. Barr, Aurora, Texas, prevented a bad attack of pneumonia by taking German Syrup in time. He was in the business and knew the danger. He used the great remedy-Boschee's German

RELIEVES all Stomach Distress.
REMOVES Nausea, Sense of Fuliness,
Congestion, Pain.
REVIVES FAILING ENERGY.

RESTORES Normal Circulation, and Warms to Top Tips.

DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Se.

Unlike the Dutch Process

It has more than three times the strength of Cocca mixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is far more economical, costing less than one cent a cup. It is delicious, nourishing, and EASILY DIGESTED.

Sold by Grocers everywhere.

W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

Consumptives and people who have weak lungs or Asthms, should use Piso's Cure for Consumption. It has eared thousands. It has not injured one. It is not bad to take. It is the bast cough syrup.

Sold everywhere. 256.

CONSUMPTION

PISO'S CURE FOR

No Alkalies

Other Chemicals

W. BAKER & CO.'S

BreakfastCocoa

are used in the preparation of

Syrup—for lung diseases.

Complexion cleared with Small Bile Boans.

The Queen of Greece is president of a sisterhood devoted to the reformation of criminals, and visits personally the condemned prisoners in Athenian prisons.

LADIES needing a tonic, or children who want building up, should take Brown's Iron Bitters. It is pleasant to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness and Liver Complaints, makes the Blood rich and pura. It is said that the Sultan of Johore, who is to visit this country, observer the tenets of Mohammedanism so strictly that his only beverage is pineapple juice. MANY persons are broken down from over-work or household cares. Brown's Iron Bit-ters rebuilds the system, aids digestion, re-moves excess of bile, and cures malaria. A spendid tonic for women and children.

Louis Kossuth. the Hungarian patriot, is just eighty-six years old.

THE principal causes of sick headache, biliousness and cold chills are found in the stomach and liver. Cured by Beecham's Pills.

J. C. Simpson, Marquess, W. Va., says: "Hall's Catarrh Cure cured me of a very bad case of catarrh." Druggists sell it, 75c.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD? CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

These is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words allie except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTI-FULL LITHOGRAPHS OF SAMPLES FREE.

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts cently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will pro-A bishop was traveling in a min-ng country and encountered an old wishes to try it. Do not accept any

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

Positively cure Sick-headache. 40 to the bottle. Price 25c. Reliable, Economical. Sold by druggists.

RIPANS TABULES regulate the stomach, liver and bowels,

100-Page Chicken Book.

It teaches you how to detect and cure Dis-tases; how to feed for eggs and also for fat-tening Sent postpaid for 25c. Book Pub House, 134 Leonard st., N. Y City.

Fine Blooded Cattle, Sheep, Hogs, Poultry, Sporting Dogs for Sale. Catalogues with I50 engravings, free. N. P. Boyer & Co., Coatesville, Pa.

PATENTS W. T. Pitzerald. Washington, D. C. 40-page book free.

Am N U No 35 1892

IT IS A DUTY you owe yourself and family to get the best value for your money. Economize in your footwear by purchasing W. It. Douglas Shoes, which represent the best value for prices naked, Bathousands will testify. TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.

THE BEST SHOE IN THE WORLD FOR THE MONEY A genuine served shoes that will not ris, fine call, seamles mooth inside, flexible, more similar and surface that my other shoe ever sold at the price. Equals custom made shoes costing and some ever sold as the price. Equals custom made shoes costing from $10 and $5 Hand-sewed, fine calf shoes. The most stylish, and $5 Hand-sewed, fine calf shoes. They equal fine imported shoes costing from $10 stylish.

2 50 Police Shoe, worn by farmers and all others who want a good heavy calf, three soled, extension edge shoe, easy to walk in, and will keep the feet dry and warm.

30 Fine Calf. and Workingmen's Shoes will give more wear for the money than any other make. They are made for service. The increasing sales show that workingmen have found this out.

$2 and Youths' $1.75 School Shoes are worn by the boys everywhere. The most service ahle shoes sold at these prices.

worn by the boys everywhere. The most service able shoes sold at these prices.

LADIES Shoes for Misses are made of the best Dongola or fine Calf, as desired. They are very stylish, comfortable and durable. The $3 shoe equals custom made shoes costing from $4 to $6. Ladies who wish to economize in their footwear are finding this out.

CAUTION.—Heware of dealers substituting shoes with, out W. L. Douglas' name and the price stumped on bottom-study of the substitutions are fraudulent and subject to prosecution by law for obtaining money under false pretences. In the first study of the substitutions are fraudulent and subject to prosecution by law for obtaining money under false pretences. Fractory, stating kind, size and width d. Postage free. Will give exclusive sale to shoe dealers and me where I have no agents. Write for Catalogue, W. L. Douglas, Brockton, Mars, ASK FOR W. L. DOUGLAS' SHOES.

YOU WANTPAY

and make your Fowls earn dollars for you. The point is, that you must be able to detect trouble in the Poultry Yard as soon as it appears, and know how to remedy it. This book will teach you. It tells how to detect and cure disease; to feed for eggs and also for fattening; which fowls to save for breeding purposes; and everything, to deed, you should know on this subject to make it profitable. Sent postpaid for twenty-five cents in 1c, or 2c, stamps.

THE CALERA JOURNAL.

VOL. I.

CALERA, ALA. SATURDAY. SEPTEMBER 24, 1892.

NO. 48.

Singing by the Way. He sang as the blithe-hearted robin Sings in a summer day, Unmindful that any listened To the music of his lay.

The joy of life and of living Seemed voiced in the simple strain That filled the air with such sweetness As the fields have, after rain.

Heard, and was glad to hear, For into his life of labor It threw a thrill of cheer. It lifted his thoughts from sadness. It charmed away his care, And the music and its gladness Brought a blessing, unaware.

His weary and toil-worn neighbor

We may all be singers, my brothers, Of songs to help and cheer, The strain may not be lofty; There may be few to hear, But into some life the music Of the song we sing may fall, Brave with its faith in the goodness Of the God who is over all.

Let the joy of our lives run over Our lips in a cheerful song, And the world may have more sunshine And the faint of heart grow strong. Sing for the joy of singing, And sing your cares away,

And share with others the gladness That comes to you, day by day. -[Eben E. Rexford, in Detroit Free Press.

TERRIBLY IN EARNEST.

BY L. G. HUMPHREYS.

They met at the mountains—he a recently graduated Amherst man, she a gay New York belle.

She was seeking a summer's diversion, and as men were scarcer than ever in the mountains she began to throw the spell of her lustrous beauty

As for the man himself, John Hines was nothing but an honest, simplehearted New Englander of humble parentage and modest means.

So matters went on smoothly for a fortnight or so, until the afternoon train from Boston, on a certain Saturday, brought Manrice Courtney, a dashing young New Yorker.

From that moment the star of poor John Hines was on the wane. He realized the fact with a dull weight at his heart, as he slowly made his seldom home until the late hours of toilette and went down to the hop in the night. the evening.

"I am so sorry," Mr. Hines, said the am entirely engaged."

to Courtney. Hines held his hand out cordially; Courtney neglected to take it, however, and the hint of a sneer curled on his lips, as the hot blood boiled into the other's face at the intentional insult.

Hines flashed a sudden searching glance into the young lady's eyes, and found them bubbling over with suppressed merriment.

"I am sorry, Miss Hoit," he said, "that anything should have occurred during our brief acquaintance which has given you the right to think me other than a gentleman. That you do think so I gather from the obvious fact of your having introduced me to a cad," and without another word he left the room.

Courtney stood petrified, gazing in blank amusement until Hines' figure was out of sight.

"By heavens! That havseed meant to insult me," he said at last between

"He not only meant to, but he did, and that in the most orthodox fashion," was the laughing response "Come out on the piazza," he said moodily. "I can't endure the glare and heat of this room any longer." They quitted the ballroom and at the end of one of the long piazzas they seated themselves

"What have you been doing to this fellow Hines?" he asked, at length.

"Me? Nothing," in a tone of sur-

"The old story of 'veni, vldi, vici,' I take it, Marion."

At this she laughed a little, a low, rippling, well pleased laugh.

"Well, perhaps so, a little, but what would you have? There really was no one else, and besides, Mr. Hines has proved a great diversion. In the first place he is so thoroughly in said, with a faint smile. earnest that it is almost catching, and a member of an almost extinct spe-from a hammock, in a dark recess ly in that way."

near by, and stopped abruptly before Miss Hoit. It was Hines.

"Miss Holt," he said, in low, hard of all his efforts, "I trust that you will believe me when I say that I had no intention of playing the eavesdropper just now. As an earnest man I am sincerely glad that you have received a certain amount of pleasure this summer from studying me as a me carry you." 'member of an almost extinct species,' to use your own expression. I may also add that I am fervently thankful that affairs have turned out just as they have this evening; for, as an earnest man, I would not ask a woman like you to bear my namo-no, not if she were to fall upon her knees before me and confess her love."

"You sneaking, contemptible puppy," ejaculated Courtney.

Before the words had fairly left his lips the young New Yorker had measured his full length upon the piazza from a well directed blow from Hines' massive fist. For a moment he lay there half stunned, and then rose slowly to his feet and sat down again. There was a passion fraught silence, and then Hines' deep voice again broke the silence.

"I ought not to have done that, Miss Hoit," he said, "and I humbly beg your pardon. But there are some things which no man can bear from another. Good night."

"Maurice," she said at last, in a faint and very tired voice, "I hope you are not much hurt."

"I think he has broken my nose," he almost sobbed. "I am going home in the morning. I have had all the acquaintance I care for with a hotel where they keep prize fighters for guests."

"Upon the whole, perhaps it is the wisest thing that you could do, Maurice," she said, thoughtfully.

Maurice Courtney went home upon the early morning train. A week went by and the glorious autumn was upon them. John Hines spent his days in scaling every mountain peak within a radius of 20 miles, and was

As the time went on Miss Hoit found herself thinking more and more persistspoiled beauty, when he had made his ently of the awkward New Englander, way to her side and requested the and this feeling became at last an unpleasure of a dance with her, but I satisfied yearning which gave her no Then she introduced him gracefully | there was more than idle curiosity at | it, for he stayed. the bottom of her fervent prayer, to again stand face to face with John

> One afternoon Miss Hoit, after an hour's aimless wandering, found herself on a wooded hill which faced the hotel, a mile or so away. How long she sat there she did not know, but finding the shadows beginning to deepen around her, she started to retrace her steps.

While hastening down a steep decline the girl's foot caught in a narrow crevice in a rock and she slipped and fell heavily forward. Her foot she could not release, and the severe wrench which she had given to her ankle in falling, made the torture almost unbearable.

Then she screamed for help, but heard no response save a faint echo from the opposite hillside. Again she lifted her voice in a frenzied cry, and this time she heard a faint and far off halloo, which soon proved to come from Hines.

"Hello!" he exclaimed as he came in sight, "what is the matter down there?"

"My foot! my foot!" she sobbed. It is caught in the rocks. I think my ankle must be broken."

"I will cut the boot. Now be brave," and he carefully ripped the soft kid of the boot to the sole. "There, can you draw your foot out

"Oh, no!" she moaned; "don't ask me to do that. I cannot."

"Will you let me, then?" he asked. "Yes. Only do be careful! I am afraid I shall cry out if you hurt me." Slowly and carefully he extracted the little foot. Then he lifted Marion to an upright position beside him. "I do not know how I can thank von for what you have done," she

"Never mind that now," he rein this light I have studied him as turned, brusquely. "If you will put your arm about my neck and allow me to put mine about your waist, I Just at that moment a man rose think that perhaps we can get on slow- on drink only one cent is expended

With a slight blush she did what he requested. But the first movement resulted in such intense anguish that tones, which trembled a little in spite the poor girl uttered an involuntary cry of suffering and tottered against him, white and trembling.

"That will never do. I cannot walk," she gasped.

"I see but one way, then," was the business-like reply. "You must let "I am very heavy," she said, de-

"You look like it," was the dry answer, as he lifted her in his powerful arms and bore her carefully down

That evening, after the badly sprained ankle had been duly operated upon by the village surgeon, Miss Hoit found herself sufficiently comfortable to receive Mr. Hines. For some time she lay in perfect contentment, listening to the sound of his voice as he conversed easily, most of the time with her mother.

At last he rose to go. The elder lady had already quitted the room and they were alone.

"I may as well say good-bye as well as good night, Miss Hoit," he said, holding out his hand. "I'm going in the morning."

"Going!"

"Yes, my holiday is over and stern life begins for me tomorrow. I am glad to part with you as a friend and as a true friend to wish you all the happiness through life. Good-bye."

She still held his hand firmly clasped in her own, with face averted and crimson cheeks.

"John," she whispered at last. At the sound of his name, the blood left John Hines' face and he bent quickly down over her to catch the low words which she was evidently scruggling to utter.

"You said once that you would not ask a woman like me to bear your name, even though she were to fall upon her knees before you and confess her love. I-I can't get down on my knees, you know, but-but-"

She hesitated, faltered, and then looking bravely up into his eyes, and clasping both his hands in her own, she said: "Can't yov see that you will break my heart if you leave me now,

Looking down into those beautiful, tearful eyes, now overflowing with peace. The young lady realized that the light of love, he evidently did see Maimed at Gettysburg.

He was plainly a veterau, and he looked with interest several times at a man who held a handkerchief to the side of his face. After a while he

"Toothache, mistor?"

"No; wounded." "Where'd it happen?"

"Gettysburg."

"You don't say so! Keeps coming open, does it, Cap'n?"

"Yes. It hasn't shown any sign of healing yet." "You don't say so! Bullet, wasn't it, Major?" "No; cut."

those sabres leave a mighty nasty place nine times out of ten." "No doubt of it."

"That's bad. I tell you, Colonel,

"I s'pose ye got your pension for that long ago, didn't you, General?"

"You ought to have a pension,

"Well," replied the man with the handkerchief. "I haven't had time to apply for it yet. You see I only got this wound yesterday, when I happened to be in Gettysburg on business and had the barber shave me in a hurry."-[Washington Star.

Bombay's Great Waterworks.

Bombay, India, has opened magnificent new waterworks, supplying the city by gravity with 31,000,000 gallons of water daily. The water is brought from a great artificial lake and passes through sixty-two miles of tunnel. The waterworks, including the dam and aqueducts, are among the famous engineering works of the time .- [New York Journal.

None Was Required. "And when you asked her to wed, she declined?"

"Yes; she dismissed me without ceremony."-[Puck.

For every dollar spent in England

ISSUES OF THE DAY.

CANDIDATE STEVENSON'S ADDRESS AT BLOOMINGTON. ILL.-THE TARIFF AND THE FORCE BILL.

Vice-Presidential candidate, Adlai E. Stevenson, spoke before a great gathering of Democrats at Bloomington, Ill. Mr. Stevenson's speech, which was received with tremendous enthusiasm, in substance was as follows:

"The responsibility of determining what line of public policy shall be pursued, and who shall be selected as Chief Magistrate, is again upon us. Upon the correct determination of these questions through the peaceful methods prescribed by law, will depend the welfare of the people.

"It will be my endeavor to suggest some of the reasons why Mr. Cleveland should be elected President and the Democratic Party restored to power. The four years' administration of President Cleveland was confessedly an honest administration. Those who predicted evil from Mr. Cleveland's election proved false prophets. The Democratic administration ending March 4, 1889, has gone into history as an economical and able administration of the Government. No scandals attached to any of its appointments to office.

"At the close of President Cleveland's Administration the surplus in the Treasury, exclusive of the gold reserve, was, in round numbers, eighty-three millions of dollars.

"What is the condition that now confronts us at the end of three and a half years of Republican administration? On the basis of revenues to the Government. as estimated by the Secretary of the Treasury, for the present fiscal year, and of the liabilities of the Government on account of the annual and permanent appropriations for the same period, there will be a deficit of fifty-two millions of dollars. The bankraptcy which now threatens the Treasury is the result, first, of the enactment of the McKinley Tariff law, and, secondly, of the lavish appropriations of the Fifty-first Congress.

THE TARIFF.

"The tariff is the all important issue of the campaign. The position of the two leading political parties upon that question cannot be misunderstood. The Republican Party, as illustrated by its recent enactment of the McKinley law, stands for a high protective-in other words, a prohibitory tariff. The Democratic Party, as emphasized by its utterances and its acts, is the advocate of tariff reform.

"The argument advanced by the early advocates of a protective system was the necessity of protecting our "infant industries." Yet Mr. Clay, the author of the famous tariff bill with which his name is inseparably associated, declared such protection to be only temporary, and that so soon as such industries were alone, tariff duties sl able to stand a be reduced. The compromise tariff law of 1833, of which Mr. Clay was the author, provided that at the end of ten vears there should begin a rapid reduction of duties, until the average rate should not exceed twenty per cent. In view of the fact that protection to the "infant industries" has more than trebled since the passage of the bill of which Mr. Clay was the author, Clay would himself, if living, be now denounced as a free trader by the protec-

"The average tariff tax at the beginning of the Civil War in 1861 was but nineteen per cent. To purchase munitions of war, to arm and equip soldiers and meet all of the expenses incident to the great struggle, required large sums of money. Tariff taxes were largely in-Our Government was in the throes of war, struggling for its existence, and but little heed was given by the people to the fact that duties under the new tariff law were not only highly protective to manufacturers but burdensome to the people. But this was not all. By subsequent increase by successive Republican Congresses the average duties reached four-seventh per cent. This was the average rate of tariff taxes when the McKinley bill became the

"In the early days of the war a new system of taxation was devised by Congress known as the Internal Revenue system, by which enormous sums flowed into the Treasury. With the war closed, a Republican Congress relieved the manufacturers from this taxation, and added to their profits and to the burdens of the people by increased duties. I grant the necessity of repealing these internal war taxes when the evidences of war no longer demanded their continuauce. But why did not the Republican Congress repeal the war taxestariff taxes-which bore so heavily upon the farmer, upon the mechanic, upon the laborer, upon the great mass of our people? Why was not the war tax reduced upon the necessaries of life?

"Why remove from the manufacturer the tax of less than five per cent. and leave him the power to tax the consumer forty-seven, sixty, eighty per cent. upon hats, upon shoes, upon blankets, upon clothing? "But this is not all. The protected classes growing year by year stronger and more powerful with the protection afforded them, demanded of the Fiftyfirst Congress yet higher duties. 1890 their demand was in substance for a prohibitory tariff. The response to this demand was the passage by a Republican Congress of the McKinley bill. The avowed object of this bill was to check importation. Its purpose so to increase the rate of duties, as in many instances to exclude absolutely foreign goods from our markets, and thus by cutting off competition, enable the home manufacturer without let or hindrance to fix the price of his wares. In a word, the McKinley law, by its prohibitory features gave its beneficiaries a practical monopoly, and enabled them in fact to levy an additional tax upon the consumer, to the extent that the duty had been increased. Was this not class legislation of the most odious character? The American people unmistakably set their seal of condemnation upon this bill. Slowly but surely they have become convinced that 'protection does not protect" them.

"It is worse than idle to speak of its benefits to the American farmer. It is mockery to tell him he is protected against the corn and wheat products of the old world. While he is compelled to sell in the open markets of the world he should be allowed the poor privilege of buying what his necessities require without paying high tribute to the protected classes of his own country. To the mechanic and laborer no less than to the farmer, protection has proved a delusion and a snare. In no instance has it opened up to the farmer 'additional market for a pound of meat or a bushel of grain.' Has it in a single instance given to the mechanic or laborer increased wages? The present high tariff adds largely to the cost of articles necessary to the comfort of the wage earner. How has he been benefited? Has it increased his wages? Has it any manner benefited his condition? "Recent events connected with the most highly protected establishments of this country sadly attest the fact that a high protective tariff affords no protection to those who earn their bread by daily toil. It was never intended to benefit them. If the claim of the protectionist is well founded, why have not wages increased, as tariffs have increased? Why constant reduction of wages in the most highly protected establishments in the

"To the toiler the McKinley bill has kept the word of promise to the ear, but broken it to the hope.'

"My fellow-citizens. To you the tariff is the all-important question. The question is not how much of your earnings shall be given to the support of the Government, but how much shall under the forms of law be seized by the favored—the "protected" classes. Are your interests safe in the hands of a party controlled by the protected monopolists of this country? This is the important question for your determination at the polls. The Democratic Party believes that the burdens of taxation should be equally distributed. We oppose all legislation that enriches the few by taxing "Shall high tariff, continually increasing with the demands of the protected classes, be the settled policy o ernment, or shall there be relief to the people from the burdens of unjust tax-

THE FORCE BILL.

"Another issue of great moment in the pending contest is the Force bill. The magnitude of this issue cannot be overstated. It may mean the control of the election of Representatives in Congress by the bayonet.

"The Republican Party, by its acts in the Fifty-first Congress, and by its platform, in its late National Convention, stands pledged to the passage of the Force bill. That it will pass this bill, when it has the power, no sane man can doubt. To all of the people, all who desire the peace and prosperity of our common country, this question is important. To the people of the Southern States it is one of transcendent importance. Shall they still have peace and the protection of the law, or shall the horrors with which they are menaced find their counterpart only in those of the darkest hours of the reconstruction period?"

The Tin Plate Infant.

According to the report of Special Agent Ira Ayres for the fiscal year ending June 30th last, just published by the Treasury Department, the number of works in operation and the production

by quarters have been as follows: Works 3,209,225 8,200,751 Total.... 13,646,715

Of these twenty-six works nine produce their own black plates, while seventeen do the tinning only. The nine produced 5,197,028 pounds of tin and terne plates during the last quarter, and the seventeen produced 3,003,723 pounds.

Protectionists everywhere are crowing loudly and think this the brightest infant yet born by the aid of protection: and some are making almost as glowing promises for its future as did McKinley and Allison, who prophesied in 1890 that it would be born in six months, and that in a year or two it would have its growth and be producing all of our tin plate. It is to be expected that the Republicans will crow about something and follow the victor, who struts on during a Presidential campaign, but if there is nothing better for them to crow over than this tin plate industry in its present condition, the party is indeed lacking for campaign material.

Not only is the infant as yet very small, but it is feeble. At present we are manufacturing only about five per cent. of our total consumption, and the New York Daily Commercial Bulletin, which has made an analysis of the establishments making tin plate, comes to the conclusion that "as long as prices remain high such works as do the tinning, merely buying the black plates ready for this process, they may get along, but the industry can never be firmly established here on this basis. The large manufacturers of sheet iron and steel whose works are well situated, and who are in the best position to make the tin plate industry a success, have not yet shown any inclination to take up the new industry. The tin plate industry can be established only when works shall be established on a large scale, which will make a specialty of tin plates and carry on the production from the steel and iron in the form of billets or bars. As yet but few such works are in operation or are projected."

Grant that in a few years we shall be making all of our own tin and torne plates, what then? The industry would probably be more of a curse than a blessing to us. Saying nothing about expecting or hoping to get back the $30,000,-000 during the last three years, or the more than $100,000,000 during the last twenty years, which the attempt to establish this industry has cost us, this artificially supported industry, like that of the manufacture of rails, of refined sugar, and of hundreds of others, would continue in its old age to take dollars from consumers that it might restore cents to wage earners. If prices of tin should remain about two cents per pound above the foreign prices, as it undoubtedly will, as long as the manufacturers of steel sheets, of galvanized iron and steel and of tin plate maintain their combine and are protected by a duty of two and two-fifths cents per pound, this industry will take $10 from the consumer, not $5 of which will be paid to the wage earners and not fifty cents of which will represent a gain to wage carners over what they could have earned in other industries. By virtue of the duty, which the American Economist says should be retained "forever," the tin plate trust would continue to rob us of $12,000,000 or $15,000,000 a year that $6,000,000 or $7,000,000 might go as wages to 10,000 or 12,000 men, who could earn almost as much in a self-supporting industry. This is on the supposition that American laborers will get the benefit of wages paid in this industry. As a matter of fact, a large proportion of the workmen in this, as in most other industries brought here by protection, are foreign born-brought here to reduce wages by competing with American workmen.

So long as this infant must have protection pap to keep it alive here so long will it be a curse to us—yes, and if it should ever become so hardy that it could live without this pap and it should not be weaned by radical free traders, it would still curse us as does the fifty-year-old and still unweaned industries of making steel rails and sugar, which take millions from us every year, though we could make as many tons of steel rails and pounds of sugar, and pay just as high wages, as if there were no duty at

The Paternal Ostrich Is a Fighter. The ostrich has many strange ways, and I was particularly interested in studying them. They go in flocks of three or four females and one male about their nesting time, and for several weeks before locating their nests the hens drop their eggs all about the pampas.

They are called haucho eggs (pronounced "watcho"), and are much more delicate in flavor than the eggs taken from the nests. They have a thinner shell and when fresh laid are of a beautiful golden color. We cooked them by roasting them before the fire. We would first break a hole in the small end of the egg large enough to to insert a teaspoon. The egg would be set up among some hot ashes, a pinch of salt and pepper put into it, and the contents kept stirred with a stick so that all would be done alike. The flavor is excellent and one egg would satisfy a very hungry man. As soon as the ostriches decide upon a suitable place for a nest, the male bird scratches away the grass and slightly hollows out the ground for a space of about three feet in diameter. All the hens of the flock lay in the same nest until there are from twenty-five to thirty eggs laid. The male bird then takes possession and sits on the eggs until they are hatched. As soon as the brood can leave the nest the old fellow leads them away to feed on flies and small insects, and everything is lovely until he espies another male bird with a brood. As soon as the old birds see each other they make a peculiar booming sound and every little ostrich disappears in the grass. The old ones then approach each other and engage in a most deadly conflict. They fight until one or the other is killed or runs away. The remaining one will then utter another peculiar sound and both broods will spring up from their hiding places as proud as a peacock. I have seen old male ostriches with three broods, each of a different size, two of which they had captured. - Forest and

THE CALERA JOURNAL

FRANK W. GIST,

National Democratic Ticket

FOR PRESIDENT, GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York. FOR VICE PRESIDENT E. STEVENSON, of Illinois.

For Congress 4th District GASTON A. ROBBINS, of Dallas

CALERA Y M D C.

at 7:30, p. m., sharp, Wednesday next. Every member is requisted of the President.

T C. McKibbon,

I know this much, that the demceratic party will be cutirely conwhose wages have been increased grief. For his zeal in the conglom- him in Columbiana next Friday. since the passage of the McKinley erated convention at Birmingham bill to vote the republican ticket if he has been resoluted and whereour opponents will consent that all ased as a traitor to the cause by those, whose wages have not been increased shall vote the democratic district. As goes Manning so goes ticket, and upon that basis we will the third party. carry the country by a million majority .- David B. Hill in his Brooklin Speech

Remember that Senator J. T. Morgan will address the people of Shelby county at Columbiana the 30th

President has adopted a new and of the time, and Christian people We hope our candidate for President has adopted a new and of the time, and Christian people we hope our candidate for President has adopted a new and of the time, and Christian people we hope our candidate for President has adopted a new and of the time, and Christian people we hope our candidate for President has adopted a new and of the time, and Christian people we hope our candidate for President has adopted a new and of the time, and Christian people we hope our candidate for President has adopted a new and of the time, and Christian people we hope our candidate for President has adopted a new and of the time, and Christian people we hope our candidate for President has adopted a new and of the time, and Christian people we hope our candidate for President has adopted a new and of the time, and Christian people we hope our candidate for President has a new and of the time, and Christian people we hope our candidate for President has a new and of the time, and Christian people we hope our candidate for President has a new and of the time, and Christian people we hope our candidate for President has a new and of the time, and Christian people we hope our candidate for President has a new and the new an movel plan of electioneering, make such a thing possible by pat-when his crowds are gathered, "his ronizing it. The doctor is timely man Friday" opens up his satchel of and his words deserve consideration pictures and campaign badges, and sells them to pay the expenses of We have stopped one or two eagerly

THAT grand old man, Senator Morgan, will address Shelby county's voters next Friday at Columbiana. He is speaking at different nothing course into his paper.

E. B. T. places in the State almost every day. Aud everybody knows that Gen. Morgan can talk, and talk well, every day in the year if it is go and hear him Lets get an extra train and fill it full from Calera on the 30th. Democrats, Republicans and third party men will be entertained. One day spent in hearing such men as Morgan, is never lost to those who desire information as to the affairs of the government.

Ga., night before last is condemned then he is excusable But the Bapthe society ages would not have for the eye of the most refined an question now adjiting the minds of Lakeview convention thousands of EDITOR. the whole people of the southern nouest farmers are asking: What ors for the September term of the cir-Entered at the Pess Onice in Calera as states. Our readers are aware that authority has Kolb and Bowman to cuit court: Second Class Matter. subject. We have another this ty? week and shall continue to give our readers the benefit of what matter we can gather from our exchanges. and shall be glad to publish sugges tions from any one as to the bes and cheapest mode of establishin, a thorough system of graded of plank roads. While we may differ with all who may write on this subject, we will publish without endorsement any article of reasonable length on the improvement of country roads. The state of Alabama with her rapid progress in the development of her natural resources needs and must have better public roads in her agricultural localities. Wishout them these localities are forced to labor under all, and more, the disadvantages enumerated in the articles of last week and this. Every farmer and other citizen in the state should be interested in this matter, and after becoming interested aid in every way possible and Longshore third. Be that as to establish a system for making it may, Robbins is bound to win. them. The heavy burden of taxing males from eighteen to ferty-five, without regard to his financial cir- now that the opposition are divided The membets of the Young Men's cumstances in life, with ten days there is no doubt but Robbins will Democratic Club of Calera, are work is a failure and an injustice. called to meet at the Freight Depot After a practice of a system for 70 every man who votes for Robbins years, in no instance have we first our district will be safe for the class reads! Is it not time to aban- "party of the people." don such a system and adopt a new? to be present as business of impor- Our plan for a number of years, what right has Kolb, Adams & Co. tance is to be transacted. By order is to keep up the roads by contract, to turn the support of "the people" supervised by the commissioners of over to Weaver and through him to roads and revenues. Let us have Harrison?

> Manning, the recognized leader the third party in the new ninth!

an exchange of ideas on this important question.

Gen. John T. will address the voters of Shelby at Columbiana next Fri-

Dr. TEAGUE asks for information, which we are unable to give. It seems that the paper which he in-THE third party candidate for quires for has ceased publication.

the candidate and his two women. gathering up scandal, especially in high circles. We have one, the past week, devoting columns to the brutal combat fice of sheriff. Weaver's conduct Morgan & Lapsley, between Sullivan and Corbett. Will the time never come when some regard shall he paid to the tastes of refined people? We once knew an editor who admitted

The comment above is from that excellent denominational journal, the Alabama Baptist, and the quenecessary, and all that can, should ry is from one of the leading divines of that denomination. And we are very much surprised that the emi- for president-and under the headnent gentlemen should ask such a ing is the motto: "Let the People question when there are two such clean and refined secular papers published in his own county as the curse the leaders of your reform (?) CALERA JOURNAL and the Shelby News. But, may be, the Rev. D. D. thinks there are no other rotten old man-hating, woman-selsecular papers in the state except THE uncivilized conduct of the those in his own town-Columbifew unthoughted people of Macon, ana-if so, and has read none other by all good people, but forbearance tist has no excuse for hinting to ceases to be a virtue at times. If its readers that they should "boy-Mr. Weaver and his women politi- cott" all papers except religious cians had taken the quiet hints and ones-he says those that "are fit for civil opposition which they had family reading" "it seems have met at other points in that state, about ceased publication"-as the they would have averted the dis-editor professes to be governed by gracefel scene at Macan. If the golden rule. If we had given Mr. Weaver had stayed at home as much free advertising to a cer-The other candidates for the high tain Mexican amusement to be exand act position of President hibited at the state fair as has the mways done, and not been go- Baptist, we could not have the face B over a country that is able to to condemn a secular paper for givtake care of the found its own gov- ing a little sensational news. Say, ernment, abusing the party that doctor, send us $1.50 and you shall has ever given the people good and receive the Journal and the News 30th and hear the Senior Senator of the entertainment of guest. These catisfactory movement. If Mr. for a year, and promise you now Alabama speak. Weaver had acted as becomes the that if anything appears in either dignity of a problemial candidate, sheet during the year too unchaste

The subject of better roads is a! Arma the performance as the we had an article last week on this turn us over to the republican par a ir any less a crime for a convention of third party men, Jeffer- Coshatt' Shelby sonian democrats and republicans Killingsworth, GW. to turn over the votes of their fol- McLendon, Moore, R B lowers to Harrison than it is for Farr, W M the representatives of the democra- Wesson, J A cy to nominate a candidate and expect the democrats to support him? Nabors, J H Calera's Y. M. D. club Seale, David A must go in a body to Columbiana Friday, 30th.

Dr. TEAGUE complains in the Alabama Baptist that secular papers are unfit for family reading. The doctor has evidently been read ng the Chronicle and Advacate.

THERE are three candidates for ngress in the fourth district. Robbins, Craig and Longshore. It generally believed that these candidates will rank, after the November election, as we have named them-Robbins first, Craig second

DEMOCRATS in the fourth distric have ever been in the majority and be our next congressman, and if will vote for the Cleveland electors,

By whose authority has or by

As the people of Shelby county now how to appreciate a speech icom Senator Morgan, it is expecttent to permit every working man of the third party, has come to ed that a large crowd will greet

> FRANK CONNELLEY comes out this week with his State Central Express enlarged to an eight page. Frank is a good newpaper manthe truth of which is proven by the fact that he lived and publised a live paper in Bibb for eighteen months and was able to get his material away—and now that he is in a quiet good town, we wish him and the Express much success.

In some of our exchanges we see it stated that Mr. Cleveland is going on a speech making tour, and that he will take in the great West and drop down in the solid South. By order of the Committee that the grand old "party of the people" will not be lowered to the spectacle of its candidate for the highest office of the nation traveling over the country like a fourthrate politician begging for the ofin this respect, is enough for one campaign. Mr. Cleveland, don't.

ture about the publication is that J. B. Weaver flaunts at its mast-head Monday, the 17th day of October. rule and the Politicians be d-d. Bro. White, arn't you ashamed to movement, and that too, when they are doing so much to "break up the ling democratic party?'

THERE is another issue in this campaign of equal, if not greater importance, than the tariff which effects the rights and liberties of every citizen. The republican party seems to be irrevocably committed to the passage of a Federal election bill generally known as the Force Bill," and although it must be evident to the most patriotic and thoughtful members of that organization that its a piece of political foolishness only equaled by all of Calera, Ala. its mendacity.—Senator David B. Hill's Brooklyn Speech.

The democratic club of Calera

Albright, Rufus Hartsfield, L. W Walker, C C

Taylor, J R Connell, J G Wilder, W. F.

Harper, J S Kindrick, E M Wells, Thomas J Baldwin, jr., F M Spencer, E L

Barnett, J T Ray, JF Bowden Sam'l F Adams, J M Adams, G W McLeod, Rufus Blackeby, W H Taylor, Jessie M

Walker, J B Thompson, W Fulton, D E Grinies, W A Robertson, J H Brasher, G E Willis, David

THIRD WEEK.

Croniwell, J T Evans, T G Lee, W G Adams, J P Gilbert, Richard Spearman, Wm Clinkscales L M Basher, J W Reberson, J F M Riley, N.J. Jones, T.W. Wheeller, G W Isbell, Ezkeill Martin, J II Jones, M J

ADDRESS THE PEOPLE OF SHELBY COUNTY

FRIDAY, empt. 30. 92

On the political issues of the day,

Hverybody is Invited! Ladies Especially

DON'T FORGET THAT

COLUMBIANA IS THE PLACE, AND

IS THE TIME.

W B BROWN,

REGISTER'S SALE.

and by vir A. M. Elliott, Trustee, et al) tue of a decree rendered at the Spring term, 1892, Vol. 1, No. 2 of the People's Party Banner, T. H. White, 6 columns and 4 paper has been received at this office. The most striking feature about the publication is that I tetween the legal hours of sale, for cash, the following described real estate, situated near Calera in Sheby county, Ala., to-wit: Fractions A. H. J. M. and the S. of E and F of section 22, township 22, range 2, west; and the east half of north part of the country section 2, township 24. east quarter, section 2, township 24,

1892

This, August 11, 1892.
D. R. McMILLAN,
Register and Acting Trustee.
13au -10w was feed 16.50

NOTICE 12,810.

Land office, Montgowery, Ala.) September 7, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the follow-ing-named settler has filed notice of in-tention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the clerk of the circuit court at Columbiana, Alabama, on October 21, 1892, viz.: Alexander Hunley, nomestead entry, No. 20,34; for the N. E. qr of N. E. qr, section 31, township 21, south of range 2 west. He pames the 21, south of range of the contin-tion of the continuous residence upon and coltivation of, said tand, viz. W. M. Jones, Charlie said land, viz.. W. M. Jones, Charlie Sciffin, Percy Riley, Lawson Hunley, J. H. BINGHAM,

SHELBY SPRINGS.

This popular summer resort wi should go to Columbiana on the open on the first day of June 1892 for Spring are the most popular resort for families and health seekers in Alabama Wade & Co's. clothing is on the counters, and all sizes from the smallest boys to the largest man's write to H. H. BAKER, Shelby Springs Ala.

Marion MILITARY Institute.

IVALARED CON O PARAMA

Superior Accommodationrs and Board. Superintendent, his family and faculty live in building with students.

Classic and Scientific. Superior Commercial Course. TERMS MODE

COL. J. T. MURFEE, Superintendent, sept3 3m

SIX MILE MALE • & • FEMALE ACADEMY.

R. H. PRATT, Principal.

35th annual session begins September 26, 1892, and continues 40 WEEKS,

FONE WEEK FOR CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS.

TERMS.—Primary Department—per month......$1 50 Intermediate, including English branches and Latin, Higer branches of Mathematics, French, Greek, with the Music and use of instrument, . Board-per month, $7. Washing, Starching, Ironing $1.......$8 00 Students are required to furnish, for their own use, one pr. blankets, one pr. sheets and pillow cases, their own toilet lights. Payments, monthly or quarterly in advance.

This school is located at Six Mile, Alabama, in a healthy, well watered neighborhood, five miles from Ashby depot, on the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia Railroad

R. H PRATT. PrIncipal, Six Mile, Alabama. 3sept 6m

CALERA JOURNAL Book and Job Office, CALEBA. ALA.

NEW AND LATEST STYLE TYPE,

BEST OF PAPER AND INK USED. BIRMINGHAM & MONTGOMERY PRICES DUPLICATED.

$1--A WEEKLY NESWSPAPER--$1.

The latest and most select political, social and religlous news. Literature and science, a special feature. Special attention given to local correspondence. For further particulars in reference to subscripons or Commercial or Pamphlet work, address,

> JOURNAL, CALERA, ALA.

THIS SPACE WAS LEFT

FOR

To Advertise their New Fall and winter Goods.

The "Adv." will be in next week.

GENERAL INFORMATION RAILROAD TIME TABLE.

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE. 4:53 a. m.

No. 1, South Bound, 4:14 p. m. 9, " "
2, North Bound, 10:05 p. m. 44 44 7:15 p. m. ALABAMA MINERAL.

Arrives at 86, Departs at

4:35 p. m. 10:25 a. m.

COUNTY OFFICERS. Probate Judge—R. W. Cobb. Circuit Clerk—W. R. A. Milner. Sheriff-W. R. Carter. Register in Chancery-D. R. McMil-

Tax Collector-E. F. Vest. Tax Assessor-W. H. Kidd.

County Trersurer - A. W. Strickland. Superintendent of Education-T. N. Huston.

County Solicitor-J. L. Peters. County Commissioners—John E. Dyeey, T. B. McClusky, R. F. Johnson, D. C. Davis.

AT THE CHURCHES.

PRESENTERIAN-Services on the 4th Sundays in each month, morning and night; pastor to be supplied. Sabbath

METHODIST-Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night, by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sabbath school at 9:30.

Baptist Church-Rev. J. G. Lowrey pastor. Preaching every first and second Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting at 7.00 p. m., every Thursday.

dren's Band meets 3:30 p. m. each 1st and 3rd Sunday. Ladies' Aid Society every other Friday evening at 3.

INSURE YOUR LIFE. Read and profit by the following sound counsel, every word of which smarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel:

"It is a duty you owe to yourself and amily to protect them with a reasonable amount of life insurance, where the storms of the financial world cannot touch them; where the assessor cannot tax them; where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old see should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do will do this and more; therefore, do the word insure immediately in the first to buy.

Attorney Latady, of Birming-

HUGH T. CAFFEY,

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON CALERA, ALA.

feb12-ly.

J. L. PETERS. HENRY WILSON, E. S. LYMAN Montevallo.

Peters. Wilson & Lyman, ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

FOR THE CAMPAIGN. The Birmingham News at Reduced Rates,

During the month of July, the Birmingham News will be mailed to any address at the following rates. The Daily News published every afternoon and Sunday morning, four months for $1.50; the Sunday News four months for Twenty-five cents, payable in advance. The News is fearlessly Democratic and supports regularly organized Democracy of the State headed by Thos. G. Jones.

The News is the leading afternoon newspaper of the State, and will furnish all the news political and otherwise during the coming campaign in a crisp and readable form.

Now is the time to subscribe. Sample copies sent on application. Ad-

> THE NEWS Birmingham, Ala.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES

Sir-I made use of your Philotoken Sir—I made use of your Philotoken with my last child, in order to procure a safe and easy travil. I used it about two months before my expected time, and I had a very quick and easy confinement. Nothing occurred to protract my convalescence, and I got about in less time than was usual for me. I think it a medicine that should be used by every expectant mother, for should they but try it as I have, they would never again be without it at such times. I am yours respectfully,

Mrs. ELIZABETH DIX.

Anymerchant or druggist can procure

Anymerchant or druggist can procure Risley's Philotoken for $1 a bottle. CHARLES F. RISLEY, Wholesale Druggist, 62 Cortlandt St., New York.

Advertise your new goods in this paper if you want sell them.

Rev. S. P. West and family are visiting his father.

Wade & Co., have Campaign Hats. Only $1.50.

Jake Lightsy and Ed. Crawford, two of Bibb county's best young men, spent Saturday night in Cale-

Democrats and republicans can get campaign hats at Wade's.

If you want to send your children from home to school, Six Mile Accademy is the cheapest and best place to send them.

Any one having large boys or young men to send to a high school, the Marion Military Institute is an excellent place.

Wade & Ce, can furnish any house from garret to cellar with the latest style furniture.

hearing General John T. Morgan 5:10 a. m. to Columbiana next Friday.

Let everybody know that the prospects for a good school in Calera was never better than at this Is there not some Brutus here to smite this Casar on his throne? time. Patronize it and it will be a goods at Wade's are of latest style and are marked low down.

interesting reading as you desire, remember that our "help" is away, and that the old man is and has been very unwell for several days

Tuesday morning Editor D. P. Miller, Wilcox New Era, gave us a pleasant call.

If you are fond of raw, fried or stewed oysters, just step into Howard's, on the corner of Montgomery Ave. and Main St., next to rail road, and call for them at any hour in the day, and Mr. Howard will serve them to taste.

Dress and business suits, prices and styles to suit every body, at Wade & Co's. Remember that every day is bargain day at this house.

Capt. Pratt, of Six Mile, spent Thursday night in Calera and was assistant, opened in Calera on last Monour guest. The Captain is not as day, with very flattering prospects. We CUMBERIAND PRESENTERIAN—J. J. our guest. The Captain is not as day, with very flattering prospects. We hope that the good citizens of Calera and third Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday evenings at 7:30. Chil-hopeful of a good attendance this prejudices if you have them. And lend would be necessary to pay the hopeful of a good attendance this session as formerly.

> Messrs. Pitman and Chas. Jones, two of Birmingham, s attorneys, were in Calera Tuesday on their way from the Shelby county circuit guments that Calera would never be of

Those Cleveland Hats at Wade & Co's, store were opened after dark

Attorney Latady, of Birmingyour duty and insure immediately in some good, old reliable Courany."—Ex- ham, run in to see us a moment up property, open up numerous industract from a sermon by the Rev. T. De- Tuesday evening. Mr Latady is tries, but when informed that we have one of the rising young lawyers of no permanent school, the question is setthe Magic City, and we look for tablish a Baptist and a Methodist and a ward to the time when he will be Presbyterian and a democratic and a known as one of Birmingham's republican school in Calera-but we can most prominent citizens.

> Messrs. Whatley & Ruddy have finished hanging the paper in the Methodist church, and are now putting the finishing touches of the artists brush on the altar and the Monday, assisted by Miss Carrie I plead, not for individuals, but for for his continued mercies and benefac-Cooper, with 43 students, and it a cause. In a great contest like tion to the people of this republic. has grown during the week until it this, men are nothing, principles numbered—Friday—about 70. Now are everything. Our candidates as everything is so favorable for a principles cannot prevail without fort for the best school in middle contest may be a severe one, but so Alabama, and the work will be accomplished. Prof. Greek comes highly recommended and his assis- "The Old Guard" will do its duty. tant, Miss Cooper, is known as one Look out for the raw requits. other advantages, there is no reason why Celera cannot have one of learning in the country.

Confederate Soldiers Relief Fund.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT OF THE STATE OF ALABAMA.

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 18, 1892.) To the Probate Judges of Alabama:

The fund for the relief of confederand sailors, will be available immediately after the close of the fiscal year, buckle on the fight with a determto-wit: September 30, after which time warrants for the amount due each applicant will be drawn and forwarded to the probate judges of their respective counties.

Very respectfully, John Purifoy, Auditor. WOMAN'S COLUMN.

[The Woman's Column is under the supervision of Mrs. F. W. Gist, and all communications for this department should be addressed to her at West Caera. Alabama.

A PLEA.

BY LAURA LARRIMER.

Read in the Alabama Legislature. Conscript Fathers. So of old, in the halcyon days of Rome,

When she crowned with boys her warriors victorious coming home. Conscript Fathers-So they called the band of grave and reverend men Who formed her chosen senate, and who led her councils then. I scarce know how to frame the words which best may breath my prayer, 'And win for it, amid your halls, a hear ing true and fair.

A hearing? Nay! I dare hope more. I hope some knightly brand THE LADIES always delight in May unsheath in proud defiance to the tyrant of our land-speak. You can hear him by going To the curse which on so many homes has cast a blasting spell; Which crowds insure asylums, and fills the fellon's cell.

Lo! the monster, wreathed in purple, to Imperial power has grown,

Oll plead for sober husbands, for the The Gents, and Ladies' dress For sober fathers who will guide their children's daily lives.

Senators of Alabama! Legislators in her If the Journal is not so full of To you with forehead bent indeed an earnest woman calls.

By your mothers if they live-by their memories if dead; By your daughters whom you would not wish to see a drunkard wed. Crush the gilded dens which deal out liquid poison day by day, And from our State's fair forehead sweep the "curse of blood" away!

We regret that we have no church, missionary or aid society work to report. If anything in this line is going on in Calera, they are keeping it well to themselves, and are keeping their 'lights under a bushel.' Probably they are believers in the passage that says, "let not thy right hand know what thy left hand doeth."

assistant, opened in Calera on last Mon- save in horse flesh, wagon repairs prejudices if you have them. And lend would be necessary to pay the your assistance and influence the cause laxes. of establishing a good school in Calera. We used to plead with you through the columns of the Shelby Sentinel. We prophesied then, and asserted in our armuch importance nor ever be recognized as an inviting place to live in until it established a good school. Our prophecy has proven too true. It is no problem at ail that Calera is not a large prosperous and growing town. Being the Railroad center it is, and possessing many desirable advantages, hundreds and thousands of neonle would like to locate here, buy all throw in and patronize and build up one good school.

FELLOW CITIZENS-I need not urge you to the performance of your full share in this campaign. Kings county was never known to falter in duty. The interests involved deal and to devote the day to such public exthe trimmings. When the work is complete, this denomination will have one of the neatest houses of highest efforts. It is the welfare highest efforts. It is the welfare bus for all he dared and accomplished in Prof. Greek opened up his school all love so well, which is at stake. represent our principles, and our much more glorious will be the victory if we win.

You need have no uneasiness. of the very best p.imary teachers believe that a large majority of the in Shelby county. With these and people of this country are convinced of the rightfulness of democratic principles and want them to pre-But the election will not win the very best graded institutes of ieself, and there must be complete organization.

I repeat the injunction I uttered before the democratic state convention at Albany in February last:

"It is our duty to organize, organize, organize." With this motto inscribed upon our banner, "Public office is a public trust," supplemented by other sentimenes which I have endeavored to present to you ate soldiers and sailors, and the wid- to night, "No public taxation for ows of deceased confederate soldiers private purposes," and "No Force Bill," let us close up our ranks and ination to do all in our power for the triumph of our party and the election of our standard bearers, Cleveland and Stevenson.—Senator Hill, of New York, in his Brooklyn

WHAT GOOD ROADS MEAN.

ITS ADVANTAGES TO THE FARMER. The Irrigation Age.

products is annually enlarged because the lack of good roads.

Horses are kept in poor condition by the reason of the additional hauling occasioned by the general neglect in keeping county roads in

On account of bad roads, wagons are constantly needing repairs and the total cost to the farmer amounts to many dollars each year.

The unnecessary time wasted in marketing over bad roads is another item of loss.

These are serious questions that confront the farmer in almost every section of the country. How shall they be remedied is a perplexing question.

In Kentucky the state convicts have been put upon the railroads and the labor annually performed amounts to thousands of dollars.

Many think this system imprac Many think this system impracticable, but it has resulted in good in other public works and why not in road building.

1. It is the best of an weekly newspapers.

2. It is invaluable to the tarmer and throughout the south.

3. It is invaluable to the tarmer and throughout the south.

6. Bill Arp, Plunkett, and Uncle Remains and a host of other special writers are engaged by the year, and their inimitable electrons.

It is evident that the state legislatures must take the matter in hand in order to insure better roads. The old system of poll tax working has proved a failure. The farmers are not able to build the roads and business men will not do it because they get the trade even with poor roads. State legislation is, therefore, necessary. A liberal annual appropriation of the state fund judiciosly expended would soon insure good permanent road ways. The money thus expended would be only a state loan which would be returned with compound interest in the increase of land value and consequent additional taxes. Farmers could more easily pay the increased Prof. Greek's school, with Miss Cooper taxes with good roads as they would

A PROCLAMTION

Whereas, The commemoration of great epochs in the history of the human race tends to elevate and ennoble mankind;

Whereas, The President of the United States, in pursuance of an act of Congress, has designated Friday, October 21st, 1892, as a day to be set apart for fitting observance of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America; and

Whereas, It is meet that the people of states in fitting tributes to the memory of the great explorer, and in proper commemoration of the historic event which conferred such lasting benefits upon the

Now, therefore, I, Thomas G. Jones Governor of Alabama, in consideration of the premises, and in deference to the wishes of large numbers of people, do hereby issue this proclamation, requesting the people of Alabama, as far as practicable, to refran from their customhis great discovery, and to Almighty God

I do further recommend to the Superintendent of education that he cause a suspension of all public schools on that day, to the end that the children, who school, let all work to a united ef- the election of our candidates. The are soon to become the rulers of the State, may share in the celebration, and derive fitting inspiration from the spirt of all it commemorates and teaches.

I further direct that the adjutant general issue necessary orders for the firing of a national salute at sunrise on that day at each post where a battery of state troops is stationed.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to affixed, at the Capitol, this the 10th day of September, 1892 and the 117th year of the Independence of the United States of America. THOS. G. JONES,

J. D. BARRON, Sect. of State.

TO CONSUMERS -THE ARTESIAN EXPORT BEER Manufactured by the Montgomery, Ala... Brewing Co., has no superior
In the world, and this assertion is verified by all persons competent to judge who have tried it. If you have not tasted it GIVE IT A TRIAL, and you will THANK us for telling you about it. The marvellous purity and adaptability of the WATER used in its manufacture contribute to its superior FLAVOR
a n d wnolescmeness, which gained for it the GOLD MEDAL at PARIS and the HIGHEST AWARDS WHEREEVER ELSE EXHIBITED.

PURE BLOOD GOOD HEALTH

Now is the time for everyone who cherishes good health, to pay particular attention to the condition of their blood and its proper circulation. Nearly all discounts is annually enlarged beblood and a sluggish circulation.

THE KING OF BOOD PURIFIERS

Possessing Extraordinary Cleansing Powers

Prestoring and Strengthening the whole System, Unriching the Blood producing increased vitality by restoring an impaired digestion and bringing back the bloom of youth to the cheek of the enfeebled and emaciated.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle-6 Bottles for $5.90.

For Sale by All Druggists.

Nabors, Morrow, & Sinnige.

SOLE CONTROLERS,

Birmingham.

WORDS ABOUT THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION.

Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers, 12 Pages.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT. It is the best of all weekly news- "Aunt Susie," the editress of these de-

3. It covers the news of the whole itable sketches appear each week.
world, having its correspondents scattered over the globe, and having a thortened over the globe, and having a thortened over the sturdy champion of the agricultural ough news service from every important interests of the south.

news center in the world.

4. Its Agricultural Department alone is worth many times its subscription price to every farmer. This department is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, wnose service is retained by the Constitution at great expense.

5. Its Woman's and Childeren's De
Interests of the south.

8. It pays more money for its speciate features and for its news service than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any weekly newspaper in America.

9. It is the cheapest, being only One Dollar ser year, each paper at the price of a postage stamp. Think of it! Every time a hen lays an egg she pays for tution at great expense.

5. Its Woman'3 and Childeren's Departments are a source of infinite pleasure to every family, and the name of pers in the world.

of a postage stamp. Think of it! Every time a hen lays an egg she pays for one issue of the greatest weekly newspapers in the world.

Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of your neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulated home should be without it.

Agents Wanted in every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information. THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

--FINE MILLINERY--

Mrs. S. H. McCauley's,

NEAR THE DEPOT,

Montevallo, Alabama.

A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hats in the Lates Styles, and at Reasonable Prices.

HANDKERCHIEFS & HOSIERY. Seturday Sales at $1

CORBETT NO REESE,

Harness & Saddles.

HARDWARE & TINWARE,

TARRETTERATE TOO AT Stock of Dynamite and Fuse, and empty and loaded.

Shells always on Hand. 118 19TH STREET, BIRMINCHAM.

Banking House of

W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co.,

CALERA; ALABAMA. Receive Deposits,

Negotiate Loans.

Issue interest bearing certificates of Deposit, and sell exchange on New York Louisville and Birmingham at regular rates cyarged by the larger cities.

We transact a general banking business, such as that of any incorporated bank in all of its legitimate branches, and would be pleased to open accounts with merchants, manufacturers and planters alike.

Fire and Life Insurance

Written in the best companies.

Beught, Sold and Rented upon just terms.

ACCIDENTS AND INCIDENTS OF EVERY DAY LIFE.

Queer Episodes and Thrilling Adventures Which Show That Truth is Stranger Than Fiction.

GRAY hair has a peculiar effect. It makes an elderly face look much younger and a young face appear older. The other day some people were discussing the natural kindheartedness of Americans and Englishmen. And the argument was settled by an incident related young man on the sunny side of thirty, but whose hair is fast getting white His face is smooth and youthful, but his hair is as gray as most men's at sixty. He was traveling recently in the Yellowstone Park and made the acquaintance of a young Englishman. Every time they had any walking to do, or were obliged to carry their own satchels, the Englishman would insist on carrying the one belonging to his companion with For nearly two weeks he had burdened himself with the satchel of the American, which excessive kindness him no relief. He tried all sorts of rather mystified the gray-haired young man. It would have appeared almost people, and still got no better. Finally servile in an American, but it was plain a man who professed to know a thing or to be seen it was kindness only on the part of the Englishman. Finally, one day, in conversation they spoke of ages. The Englishman was made speechless by discovering that he was nearly ten years older than his companion. He had been paying respect and kindness, as he supposed, to gray-haired old age. American's satchel was carried by himself the rest of the trip.

MONTREALERS have been interested during the past few weeks in the feats of Mme. Zucca at Sohmer Park. The lady has been announced as the champion strong woman of the world, and certainly the wonderful tests to which she has been subjected have resulted in proving that she is undoubtedly all that has been claimed for her. Regarding the wonderful lift of a horse weighing 1,000 pounds or more, several people made a desperate lungs for the dominie. doubted that she could perform it, and He saw what was coming, and dropped yesterday afternoon in the presence of a the kodak in his fright, and made a very large number of gentlemen she stood upon the platform six feet high and attaching chains from a horse to her shoulders she easily straightened herself and replaced her knife with a satisfactory swung the animal in the air. It was afterwards weighed, and the Viger market clerk gives his certificate for 1,050 pounds. The other feats of Mine. Zucca were equally wonderful, and certain it is that never has Montreal wit nessed such remarkable feats of strength on the part of a female. Her reappearance in Montreal will be welcomed.

For half an hour the other afternoon a crowd surrounded a truck which had halted in front of the Mills Building in New York. Attached to the truck was a horse, and there was a peculiarity in the animal's appearance which had caused the crowd to gather. The horse was doing its breathing not through its nos- and glossy as in life. trils, but through a tube inserted in its The contrivance looked very much like an old-fashioned candlestick with the base and an inch or two of the shank showing. In the tube was a sort of filter to catch impurities in the air which passed through it, and the arrangement appeared to work very satisfactorily. The driver explained that tracheotomy had been resorted to save the life of the horse, which had suffered from asthma The tube had been in use for several months, and the horse appeared to be as well as ever. It was certainly able to do its full share of work. Every two or three days the tube was taken out and cleaned, but the horse had it in its neck RICH VALLEY, Virginia, has a veritable dime museum curiosity in the person of the twenty-year-old daughter of Na-Although little Miss Harris is now old enough to seriously contemplate the drawbacks of an old maid's existence, she is not as large as the average child of five years. On her nineteenth birthday she measured but thirtyfive inches in height and weighed 394 pounds. She is not a stunted hunchback, as are a great majority of the socalled dwarfs, but is a perfect Venus in miniature, pleasing and intelligent and with a beautiful head of hair sweeping like a train across the carpet when she cares to let it down for the admiration of her many friends. She is the oldest of four children, all the others being of regulation size. Her parents as well as herself shrink from notoriety. She declares that she would not go before the public for all the world, and that she expects to live and die in the beautiful Virginian Valley that has always been her home.

A FRENCH paper States that one day recently Dr. P-, who had company to dinner, sat quietly chatting in a corner of the drawing room, when he was told that a patient had come to see him who was strongly recommended by some fellow-practitioners and whose card was brought in by the page. The doctor submitted with a bad grace and stepped into his surgery. The visitor was in advanced stage of consumption. The bronchial tubes were in a deplorable condition and the vocal chords nearly worn out. Our physician was in the habit of ascertaining the condition of the patient by asking him to count, and generally stopped him at thirty or thirtyfive-quite long enough for the purpose. This time, also, Dr. P— asked his patient to count. Time passed on, and the guests began to feel alarmed at his protracted absence. One of them opened the surgery door. Dr. P- had gone to sleep in his armchair, and the patient had counted up to 8,642.

In a small house of the Rue Sainte Marguerite, Paris, there has lived for a long time past a crippled old beggar known in the quarter as "The Terrible Savoyard." One morning recently he left his lodgings as usual to offer pencils to the charitably inclined, and when he arrived at the wineshop of the Rue Bastroy, where he was known, he began to tease the housemaid, Clemence Pruvost. The girl, not relishing his attentions, retorted: "If you had watered your wine this morning you would be less troublesome," and threw a glass of water in his face. The old man sprang forward with an insult on his lips, but suddenly staggered back and fell down temperate country in Europe.

SOMEWHAT STRANGE dead. The doctor summoned in haste to the spot declared the cause of death to have been congestion of the brain, produced by the unexpected cold aspersion.

> A NUMBER of years ago, says a local paper, a letter was dropped into the mail box, at Pittsfield, N. H., by a young lady. It was written to her lover, but never reached him, and, after some time, supposing she had wearied of him, or transferred her affections to another, he married. In 1890, when the Pittsfield postoffice was repaired and overhauled, the letter in question was found in a crevice back of a partition, and sent on by the officials to whom it was directed. Though he was not at liberty to resume his acquaintance with the one who, owing to this unusual accident was entirely lost to him, he felt it his duty to say to persons whom he has met from that vicinity, that he deeply grieves over the thought that the one to whom he intended to prove true has all these years supposed him false.

> GEORGE UNVERZAGT is a Cincinnati man who has been troubled with the rheumatism for a long time. He has been to a number of doctors, but they gave scriptions recommended by all sorts of people, and still got no better. Finally two told him that lemons, properly taken were a sure cure. He must eat one the first day, two the second, three the third for thirty days, then he should diminish the number consumed in the same way. Unverzagt did as he was told, but before the sixty days were expired he found himself in bed suffering from a complication of disorders resultant in the introduction of so much citric acid into his system.

> A DENVER (Cal.) paper relates an amusing episode in the recent visit of a Presbyterian clergyman in that city. One day on the street he thought it would be a fine thing to shoot his kodak at a Ute squaw; but when the squaw saw the kodak pointed toward her she thought she was being bewitched, and pulling a large knife from under her dress, she made a desperate lunge for the dominie. undignified dive for the other side of the street. The squaw captured the witch instrument, and after demolishing it, grunt and marched triumphantly away.

> AT Hazlewood Cemetery, near Montezuma, Ia., one day Charles Block, wishing to remove the remains of his wife who died eight years ago, opened her grave. He found it full of water and was astonished at the weight of the coffin. The combined strength of five men finally brought the coffin out of the grave, and when opened it was found that the action of the water had turned the body to solid stone, preserving its natural appearance to a remarkable degree. Even a bouquet of flowers held by the dead woman was perfectly petri-fied. The skin was fair, the hair as black

> GEORGE HARZER, of Kiowa, Kan., is the father of a five-year-old boy who is an electrical wonder. The little fellow's body seems to be surcharged by electricity at all times, and he takes great delight in shocking those who come near him. He can greatly increase the force of the shock by rubbing his feet on the carpet, and after dark the electrical discharge is so strong that sparks are emitted when he slides across the floor and touches a piece of metal. He amuses himself by touching all the dogs and cats about the place, and the result is that they all flee at his approach.

> memory. He can repeat the names of the presidents of the United States from Washington to Harrison, giving dates and places of birth, as readily as a politician can read them. Poetry he commits to memory on the first reading to him, be the stanzas however long and

> THE body of a New Z caland lady, Miss Hewitt, the head mistress of the Girls' High School at Napier, was recently taken out in a steamer several miles to sea and buried at night there. She had left this in her will as an alternative to cremation, fearing that there might be no means for the latter and being averse to burial in the earth.

> According to a correspondent there is a bottle afloat somewhere that contains an interesting manuscript. This writer says that the Emperor William was so delighted with his recent exploit of harpooning a whale that he wrote with his own hand a detailed account of it, put the writing in a bottle, and threw it into the sea.

Heads of Various Types.

this, notice how long and narrow the average American head is. Hats made in England will not fit such a head at all, the head being so long "fore and barley water made from good barley aft" as to make the hat too wide at the flour, and not from the expensive pre-With the Germans it is the reverse, if any difference. The head of a true Rhinelander is wide at the temples; if the hat is the exact length, in nine barley flour which has been subject to a cases out of ten it has to be stretched heat of 212 degrees for five or six days. sideways in order to make it fit. English heads are wide, but not is to be preferred to the crude barley so pronounced as those of the Germans. There is more of a "sliding scale" with them as to the relative length and breadth. The Celtic head is almost invariably round or oval, and without pronounced phrenological "bumps." For general smoothness of the cranial protuberance, the Italian comes next to the Celts, either of the two beating the classic Greeks in that respect. Odd as it may seem, anatomists declare that the Turkish skull is almost identical in shape, size, etc., with that of the enlight-Nineteenth Century inhabitant of the United States. Hat dealers, such as by coarse cotton cloth nailed along the makers, furnishers, etc., say that the edges of the board. These benches heads of all nations are gradually growing larger? In 1860 the average hat used

Belgium is declared to be the most inwas 6 7-8, to-day it is 7 1-4.—[St. Louis

Republie.

THE BODY AND ITS HEALTH.

DRINKING MILK .- Do not swallow milk fast and in such big gulps. As one physician directed, "chew it;" in short, ip it slowly, a tea poonful at a time. Many persons who like milk, and know its value as a strength giver, think they cannot use it because it gives them indigestion. Most of them could use it freely if they would only drink it in the way we have described, or if they would, better still, drink it hot.

MEDICAL USE OF EGGS.—Every reader has been told one time or another that eggs are "meat and drink." Their value as a nutritive nourishing food is wellknown. Everybody, however, may not know that an egg beaten up lightly, with or without a little sugar, is a good remedy in cases of dysentery and diarrhea; it tends by its emollient qualities to lessen the inflammation. There are few things more soothing for either a burn or a scald than the white of an egg. It is contact with the air which makes a burn so painful, and the egg acts as a varnish and excludes the air completely, and also prevents inflammation.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF A BOIL.—Let us look at the philosophy of the boil, the carbuncle and like affections, says Dr. J. H. Stearns in the Medical Summary. Some fault exists in the regular climination, and the morbic material is collected at some convenient point to force it out of the system in an extraordinary manner, and it will be noticed that a wall of coagulable lymph forms around it to complete the enucleation, and the obvious inclination is to assist in this work which can be done in the most admirable way by applying collodion over the hardened, thickened part, leaving the centre uncovered. On drying, the collodion contracts, and thus firmly separates and protects the surrounding parts from the pestiferous mass. By touching the suppurating points with pure nitric acid and keeping the centre of the tumor moist there is a prompt discharge of the pus and a rapid recovery. This is no mere theory, but has been used in scores of cases with the most satisfactory results.

THE CARE OF THE EYES .- Not long ago, says a writer in Harper's, an advertisement was read in which an optician promised to examine the eyes of all who came to him free of charge, and to provide glasses for the same at moderate rates. The object of this free examination was evidently to provide customers for the sale of the glasses and spectacles. The advertiser may have been a skilled oculist, and perfectly able to provide for the needs of his patients, but is it worth while to make the experiment? Any one who has ever been threatened with blindness will protest against running any risk in the treatment of the eyes. Sight is the most blessed of all the five physical senses. Blindness, or the thought of blindness, seems like a living death, and only those who have experienced the fear, can understand it. Do not take any risks with your sight. Do not experiment with your eyes if they are weak or failing. Economy of money at the risk of losing your eyesight is foolishness. The eye is one of the most delicate of organs, and easily ruined and the sight destroyed. There is no excuse for negligence in the matter; there is no use to try home or cheap remedies. If your sight is failing, if your eyes are out of order, hesitate not for a moment, but consult a competent oculist at once, and seek none but the best. Sight is too valuable and precious to be trifled with. Those who have suffered will tell you the misery entailed. There are hospitals where the eyes are treated free in many cases by the best oculists, so it is not a Oscar Moore, a colored boy of six question of money. And the warning cannot be repeated too often—do not triffe with your eyesight under any consideration.

MILK FOR BABIES .- The preparation of milk for little babies in summer is always a question with those mothers who must bring up their children "by hand." The best physicians are now agreed that sterilized milk is altogether the best food for infants. Not every mother knows that the kitchen double boiler will serve in the place of a sterilizer. Yet according to so high an authority as Dr. Leroy M. Yale, in a recent article written on this subject for "The Mother's Nursery Guide," "the common kitchen double boiler will do in place of the sterilizer. The plan employed by Dr. Chapin at the Babies' Wards, where ordinary market milk is used, is given in this article. At this institution, the writer states "That the main object is to provide such a food as shall meet the needs of the children, and, at the same time, shall be easy of access in any house and by any person of ordinary intelligence." The milk is allowed to stand undisturbed for three hours, when the lower half is drawn off leaving the top milk. Where it is not practicable to draw off the lower half of It is interesting to observe how the have the top milk, and this is placed in shape of a man's head acts as an index the sterilizer or double-boiler, and is to his nationality—that is, if you know to consult the index. As a proof of for half an hour. This time is astonishing to many who have been accustomed to prolong the process of sterilizing the milk for two hours. In the Babies' Wards, a pared barley sold in drug stores, is used with the sterilized milk. The preference of the best authority seems to Such a flour is offered in market, and it whom the milk is sold at a nominal price in New York City at some of the dispensaries.

Russian Hotels.

Accommodations are meagre in the small hotels of Russia. Rooms contain two broad benches or sofas, on which there is a covering of straw, held in place serve as beds, and each patron is expected to provide his own bedclothing from the rugs and wraps carried in his tarantass (Russian carriage). This is the custom through the interior of Russia. It is only in the cities that one can find beds in conformity with Western ideas. Will Beat the Thomas Cat.

An old trapper has been bringing from the mountains for two weeks a number of peculiar little animals that have puzzled a good many people to tell what they were. They are about the size of a common cat and have large bushy tails like that of a raccoon. Their bodies are long and slender and well protected by a thick growth of brownish-colored hair. Their eyes are black and snapping, and when teased they growl and spit like a cat, showing a row of teeth as sharp as cambric needles. The name of these little animals is the Bessaris, and they are a species of the civet cat, ranking between the fox and the weasel. They are better than all the pussies in creation as rat exterminators, and about twenty of them have been turned loose in different warehouses and livery stables in this city.-Marysville Ap-

Frances Got It.

"I want some more chicken," said 4-year-old Frances at the dinner-

"I think you have had as much as is good for you, dear," replied Frances' mamma.

want more." And Frances pouted.

"You can't have more now; but here is a wish-bone that you and mamma can pull. That will be fun. You pull one side and I'll pull the other, and whoever gets the longer end can have her wish come true. Why, baby, you've got it! What was your wish, Frances?"

"I wished for some more chicken," said Frances, promptly. She got it this time.—Boston Beacon.

Glving All Honor to His Wife.

The German Emperor loses no opportunity of winning favor with the ladies with his gallant speeches. One of the prettiest of these courtierlike utterances was delivered in answering a toast to his wife in the province where she was born: "The bond that unites me to this province and chains me to her in a manner different from all the others of my empire is the jewel that sparkles at my side, her Majesty the Empress. Sprung from this soil, the type of the various virtues of a German princess, it is to her I owe it if I am able to meet the severe labors of my office with a happy spirit and make head against them."

Etiquette. The word "etiquette" is Anglo-Norman, and primarily had a somewhat different meaning from its present one. It formerly meant simply the ticket which was tied to the neck of bags or fastened to packages, to note their contents. Finally it seemed that the word came to be applied to cards given out at an entertainment, with certain rules of behavior for guests printed upon them. Thus behavior was or was not "the ticket," or "etiquette," and the slang term, "just the ticket," and our elegant word "etiquette" have the same derivation.

It is said that in all the forests of the earth there are no two leaves exactly the same. It is also said that amid all peoples of the earth there are no two faces precisely alike.

It costs Paris annually over $1,100,-000 to keep up her well-deserved reputation of being the cleanest of all the great cities.

Simply Awful

'I had what the doctors called the worst case of Scrofula they ever saw. It was on my arms, face and neck and was simply awful! Five years ago I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and

Geo. W. Turner: found the sores gradually began to heal. I took 10 bottles and was perfectly cured. For the past years I have had good health and no sores." G.W. TURNER, tarmer, Galway, N. Y.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, constipation, billousness, jaundice, sick headache, indigestion

oung Wives

Who are for the first time to undergo woman's severest trial we offer

"Mothers Friend"

A remedy which, if used as directed a few weeks before confinement, robs it of its PAIN, HORROR AND RISK TO LIFE of both mother and child, as thousands who have used it testify.

"I used two bottles of MOTHERS FRIEND with marvelous results, and wish every woman who has to pass through the ordeal of child-birth to know if they will use MOTHERS FRIEND for a few weeks it will robconfinement of fam and suffering, and insure safety to life of mother and child."

MRS. SAM HAMILTON, Montgomery City, Mo.

Sent by express, charges pre-aid, on receipt of rice. $1.50 per bottle Soldby all druggists. Book to Mothers mailed free. BRADFIELD REGULATOR Co., Atlanta, Ga.

THE ONLY TRUE

DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

Of the plants used in manufacturing the pleasant remedy, Syrup of Figs, has a permanently beneficial effect on the human system' while the cheap vegetable extracts and mineral solutions, usually sold as medicines, are permanently injurious. Being well informed, you will use the true remedy only. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

The New York morgue received 0,654 bodies last year. Of these 108 were never identified.

The Only One Ever Printed.

The Only One Ever Printed.
CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?
These is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words all e except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPUS OF SAMPLES FREE.

A nugget of gold worth $15 was picked up the other day in the diggings at Byron, Me.

Sample Package Mulled Free. Address Small Blle Beans, New York.

The St. Louis Chief of Police requires the 1000 Chinese in that city to be photographed.

Long spells of sickness and heavy doctor bills can be prevented by using in time Bile Beans Small.

There are 525,000 Congregationalists in the United States.

Go twice as far as liver pills and cure oftener -Small Bile Beans.

A million dollar sugar refinery is to be built at Brooklyn, N. Y.

To aid Digestion take one small Bile Bean after eating. 25c. per bottle.

There were 1500 railroad accidents in New Jersey last year.

Constination cured by Small Bile Beans. A canal is to be built across Ireland to cost twenty million dollars, Brown's iron Bitters cures Dyspepsia, Malaria, Biliousness and General Debi ity, Gives Strength, aids Digestion, tones the nervescrentes appetite. The best tonic for Aursing Mothers, weak women and children.

The world's railways are worth $30,000,

We will give $100 reward for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally, F.J. Cheney & Co., Proprs., Toledo, O.

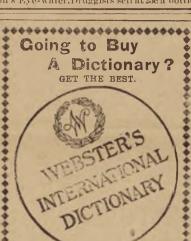

An immense glacial field is reported in

MALARIA cured and eradicated from the system by Brown's Iron Bitters, which enriches the blood, tones the nerves, aids digestion. Acts like a charm on persons in general ill health, giving new energy and strength.

This country makes 55,000 watches

Scurvy and scorbutic affections, pimples and blotches on the skin are caused by impure blood which Beecham's Pills cure.

If afflicted with sore eyes use Dr. IsaacThomp son's Eye-water, Druggists sell at 25c a bottle

Fully Abr ca the Times. A Choice Cift. A Grand Family Educator. The Standard Authority.

Successor of the authentic Unbridged." Ten years spent in revising, 100 editors employed, over $300,000 expended. SOLD BY ALL BOOKSELLERS.

Do not buy reprints of obsolete editions send for free pain shlet containing specime pages and FULL FARTICULARS. G. & C. MERRIAM CO., Publishers, Springfield, Mass., U. S. A. ********

"I am ready to testify under oath that if it had not been for August Flower I should have died before this. Eight years ago I was taken sick, and suffered as no one but a dyspeptic can. I employed three of our best doctors and received no benefit. They told me that I had heart, kidney, and liver trouble. Everything I ate distressed me so that I had to throw it up. August Flower cured me. There is no medicine equal to it." LORENZO F. SLEEPER, Appleton, Maine.

WIFT'S SPECIFIC

FOR renovating the entire system, eliminating all Poisons from the Blood, whether of scrofulous or malarial origin, this preparation has no equal. . .

TRADE S.S.S. EVE

"For eighteen months I had an eating sore on my tongue. I was treated by best local physicians, but obtained no relief; the sore gradually grew worse. I finally took S. S. S., and was entirely cured after using a few bottles."

C. B. McLemore, -0-TREATISE on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free.
THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO.,
Atlanta, Ga.

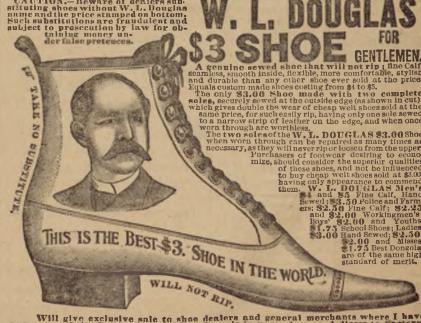

YOU WANT PAY

lis how to detect and cure disease; to feed for nia las for fattening; which fowls to save for ning purposes; and everything, indeed, you know on this subject to make it profitable. postpaid for twenty-five cents in 1c. or 2c.

Book Publishing House, 135 Leonard St., N. Y.

Will give exclusive sale to shoe dealers and general merchants where I have ents. Write for catalogue. If not for sale in your place send direct to factory, og kind, size and width wanted. Postage free. W. L. Douglas, Brockton, Mass.

The Brighter Pay. When dreary weather, cold and wet, Produces "blues" and meiancholy, Look back o'er life and don't forget The most of it was bright and jolly. There never was a day of rain But sunshine followed soon thereafter, And gloomy mood or aching pain Gave way to health and merry laughter. The bells of Time Will ring their chime Of mingled joy and sorrow; Yet the refrain In hopeful strain, Speaks sweetly for tomorrow.

When clouds of darkness bang their pall Before the future you're exploring, With patience wait for them to fall, In faith their threatening looks ignoring;

Their "silver lining" soon will show As Fortune's breezes blow them over. And just beyond the rosv glow Will light your pathway through the clover.

> The ringing bells Have tolled their knells. And now proclaim with pleasure A sunny day That's come to stay. Filled high with precious treasure.

> > - ¡George E. Bowen.

The Lighthouse Keeper's Daughter.

BY MARLTON DOWNING.

Hyppolite, the Insurgent General of Hayti, was making brave headway against Legitime, the oppressor.

The patriot forces, or rebels as they were then termed, had gradually hemsned the national army within the precincts of Port-au-Prince, the capialong the coast and harass the towns and villages of the enemy.

Seven well-armed vessels comprised the fleet. This squadron, however, failed to have everything its own way on the high seas, being held greatly in close. check by Hyppolite's two men-of-war, the Mercedes and Jacque-Mal, under an outraged people.

The mode of fighting adopted by the admiral of the Patriot General was exceedingly annoying, not to say destructive, to Legitime's fleet. He could not meet force with force, and the Nationalist vessels were lying in Jacque-Mal, became visible. port with the greater part of their seamen sleeping in their hammocks, the dauntless American on board the Mercedes would dash in among the fleet, deliver a rapid fire from the only two guns which he had, and be away again before the eves of the drowsy Haytians were thoroughly opened, and long ere the steam in the boilers was powerful enough to move their engines, the patriots would be leagues distant, seeking a safe retreat in some of the numerous bays along the coast. is in dauger."

Time and again Legitime's admiral but the latter always received timely warning from the people whom he was befriending at such risk to himself, and invariably succeeded in making good his escape. sels, the American was at anchor in by a tail, fine-looking man, wearing a the harbor of Aux-Cayes. His fires were brightly burning in the furnaces, and with "springs" on the cables, he his belt, while his attire was a comwas ready to slip and run at the first bination of naval and civic costume. indication of danger.

Throughout the day the wind had been blowing a gale, one of those fierce "Northers" so common in the forth over the waters, a warning to or not." approaching mariners, the weather had begun to resume its wonted tran-away from his post of duty. Some his men in quick succession. said he was supporting Legitime, but those who knew the man best were aware that he was filling the position ness: of petty officer on board the Mercedes. upon the shore was never neglected, every patriot of Hayti should fee for the delicate hands of his beautigoral boulders. Suddenly the was a scene unfit for your eyes to witness. Dealer.

the pane with such force as to shiver elle is safely escorted to her home." the glass.

knew what had caused her momentary seaman. fright. Some bird, in its nocturnal wanderings, attracted by the glare of the beacon, had flown headlong to its death.

compassionately, "perhaps it is only stunned. I will descend and see."

Hurrying down the short flight of stone steps the maiden issued forth into the night and went in search of the wounded bird. She found it where it had fallen; and, picking it up carefully, returned to the lantern-

A glance convinced Estelle that the victim of its own rashness was of no ordinary species. She examined its plumage more closely, and was astonished to find a piece of thin paper firmly secured to one of the tail feathers by a fine, hair-like wire.

Relieving the feathered messenger of its burden, Estelle opened the missive and read,- "Legitime has learned that you are in or near Aux-Cayes, and has sent the Men-of-War, Belize and Tausant, to attempt your capture. They sailed this morning from Port-au-Prince, July 10th.

A few moments, Estelle contemplated the important despatch, while the unfortunate bearer lay dead in her hand. Then it dawned upon her that the warning must reach its destination and she must speed it on, for was tal, but the navy was yet free to cruise not her own father on board the Mercedes? And another, a young sailor, and the girl's heart gave a quick bound as she thought of the brave mariner who had asked her to be his wife when the cruel war should draw to a Quickly thrusting the paper into the bosom of her dress, and drawing command of a brave American who the light lace mantle, which was sushad volunteered his services to assist pended to her shoulders, over her dark, luxuriant hair, Estelle again descended the stairs and hastened to a sheltered cove, where a small skiff lay moored to the drooping branch of a mango tree.

She loosened the painter, grasped therefore was obliged to resort to the oars, and pushed out into the bay. stra egy and artifice to accomplish his As the courageous girl rounded the low point of land the outlines of the In the quiet hours of night while patriots' vessels, the Mercedes and

Estelle pulled straight towards the former, but when within a few feet of the craft which she sought, her way was checked by the challenge-"Qui va la?"

But only for an instant did our heroine hesitate, then she recognized the voice of her betrothed.

"Francois Maniquat! It is I, Estelle!" she exclaimed joyfully. "Where is your American commandant! I have a message for him. He

"Danger, mademoiselle?" was essayed to crush the alien commander, asked, in a voice that to Estelle bore a strong foreign accent. "What new danger threatens us?"

Ere the girl could answer, her boat touched the side-steps, and assisted by Francois Maniquat she climbed to One night, with his two small ves- the deck, where she was confronted long, broad-bladed sword, and with two glittering revolvers thrust into

"This, monsieur," returned the maiden, placing the paper in the Ameican's hand, "was brought to the lighthouse tower to-night by a poor West Indies, but as evening approached pigeon which beat out its frail life the tempest lulled, and when the against the glass of the lantern. You bright light on the outer reef streamed | will know whether it is of importance | then if that were not successful he

The commander took the message and hurried with it to his cabin, where he remained but a moment, then reap-Pierre Chapelle, the keeper, was peared and issued several orders to

Turning to Estelle he grasped her hand and said with much earnest-

"Mademoiselle, you have this night Yet the lantern within the old tower performed a deed of heroism for which grateful to you. The warning sent ful daughter Estelle trimmed the by a friend has come to our hand just in time. Now let the Tausant and Several hours had clapsed since the Belize of the whole of Legitime's fleet sun went down, but the lovely Creole appear, we shall be ready to receive still remained in the turret, gazing out them. But you, my dear voung lady, through the window at the su f which must haven again on shore, for perwas still beating heavily upon the chance ere long this deck will present startled by some object striking against Francois, you will see that Mademois-

"Pardon, Monsieur Commandant, An instant only the young girl felt can you at this time afford to spare alarmed, then she smiled, for she any of your force?" asked the young A DISSECTION OF THE NEW YORK LABOR

"Monsieur," interposed Estelle, "Francois Maniguat's duty is here with you. I came alone, and fear not so to return. Au revoir!" and with-"Poor thing!" murmured Estelle out further parley the daughter of the lighthouse keeper descended to her boat and pulled away in the darkness, thankful that she had not boen too late to accomplish her mission.

> Ere Estelle reached the cove a rocket ascended from the deck of the Mercedes. It was the signal for her consort to get under weigh and put to sea, where there would be plenty of room to manceuvre.

> When the girl reached her station in the lantern-tower she saw the two vessels of the patriots move slowly out of the harbor. An hour later the boom of a gun reached her ears, followed by another, and she knew that the battle had begun.

Oh, how she prayed for the success of her friends. All through the night the brave girl remained at her post of observation. Occasionally she caught sight of the streaming trail of fire from a rocket as one vessel signalled to another, while the boom of a cannon was almost incessant.

As morning approached, everything became quiet, and she knew that the struggle had been decided. But who are the victors.

When the sun arose, Estelle descried the smoke of two steamers close down upon the horizon.

Slowly the vessels drew in towards the land, and ere long the Mercedes and Jacque-Mal, battered and torn from their recent fierce encounter. rounded the outer reef.

As they passed the lighthouse tower each discharged a gun and dipped their colors in respectful salute to the heroine who had brought them the timely warning.

It had come none too soon, for scarcely was the American clear of the harbor ere he saw the Belize and Tausant coming down upon him under a heavy press of steam. The fight had been a dodging one, but the superior seamanship of the Insurgent Admiral asserted itself, and although he did not effect the capture of either of the enemy, he succeeded in sending hem back to Port-au-Prince in a very dilapidated condition.

Two months later victory rested on the banners of Hyppolite, and after the vessels of the vanquished had been turned over to their American ally, the lighthouse keeper, Pierre Chapelle, and his young shipmate, either, as is well known. Their manu-Francois Maniquat, asked leave to return to Aux-Cayes, where a happy and joyful wedding took place, joining the sailor who had taken part in he memorable strife and the brave girl who had carried the warning in time to save the infant fleet of the patriots. - [Yankee Blade.

How a Newsboy Collected a Bill. There is a South Side boy who is bound to be a Napoleon in finance if he lives. His age is 14, and a little while ago he ran a newspaper route. A certain South side doctor was his customer, and when the physician's bill reached $1 the boy presented it. It was hard to collect. The boy called several times, but the doctor never had the dollar. The physician moved away and the lad lost sight of him for | lows (in thousands): a time, but finally located him on the West Side and renewed his attacks.

At last one day he told his mother he would make one more effort, and would give it up. Accordingly he went to the doctor's office and found the doctor out. But inside the door hung the customary slate. On it the boy wrote, "Call at --- street, William Smith." The doctor callel and the boy saw him coming up the street. He told his mother what he had done, and said: "Now, I will go and hide and you can show him the bill." "I will do nothing of the kind, Willie Smith," said the lady, "and you ought to be ashamed of yourself." A young lady visitor in the family thought more of the scheme and, confronting the doctor at the door, presented the bill. The professional man said that the joke was on him, paid the dollar, and went away laughing .- [Cleveland Plain

PECK RIDDLED.

COMMISSIONER'S REPORT ON THE EFFECT OF THE TARIFF ON LABOR AND WAGES.

Labor Commissioner Peck, of New York, having made an alleged investigation of "the effect of the tariff on wages," has issued a one-sided report in which he claims that protection is a boon and the McKinley law a blessing. Mr. J. Schoenhof, a well known writer on the tariff, thus riddles Peck's peculiar report in the columns of the New York

Mr. Peck's totals show a net increase in wages for 1891 over 1890 of $6,377,-925, and a net increase in products in this State during the same pariod of $31,315,130.

I will not inquire into the relevancy of the statement to the McKinley bill or any other tariff measure. If the increase does not show more than the ordinary ratio, the report falls short of its purpose. So long as no data are furnished, as by the United States Census, covering all industrial occupations, the inference is not excluded that selections are made with a view to covering a certain end in view. Many very important industries are left Cotton, woolens and other textiles, iron and steel products, etc., are not mentioned at all. Did they not show a sufficient increase in wages to parade them as glorious examples of tariff benefits? Yet these are the principal industries which have received tariff favors.

I will show, in round figures, their rates of increase, under the beneficent protective tariff, from the census of 1870 to 1880 (in thousands): which can be classed pre-eminently as protected industries suffering a decline within one brief decade of $33,000,000 from $$9,000,000 in 1870 to $56,000,-000 in 1880. In the cruder iron and steel products and manufactures New York State, in 1870, contributed over 15 per cent. to the total product of the United States. In 1880 the percentage of the State of New York had gone down to 8 per cent. in the total of these industrial products. Under the blighting influence of the tax on the raw material the industries falling under these headings have become transerred from the Democratic State to the Republican State of Pennsylvania.

1870. 1880. & Dec

It is not known to the writer that a perceptible increase has taken place in the succeeding decade, which is to be covered by the expected returns of the eventh census. All reports have so far tended to advertise further decline in these industries in this State. If proof were required further than that of the generally known condition of these industries in New York State, the omission of Mr. Peck to inclose them in his tabulations would have furnished it.

Cotton goods have not increased facture becomes more and more concentrated in certain favored localities from natural causes, the same as in England. In all wool goods the decline is general and alone due to the tariff on raw wool. The decline in the consumption of wool in proportion to the growth of the population, and the corresponding increase in sheddy and wool substitutes to make up the deficiency, give full evidence of the benefits of a tariff on raw materials. The increase in shoddy goods, of course, would make up for the difference. But the silence of Mr. Peck does not seem to warrant the assumption that increased prosperity came to the working people in 1891 in excess of that enjoyed in 1890, against the general depression in woollens everywhere else, a fact so well known to everybody at all familiar with the trade. The three branches cited suffered a decline in wages paid out and in the number of work people employed, according to the census tables, as fol-

WAGES AND HANDS.

Number Wages, etc... 2,630 5,870 2,155 5,218 products..... 9,900 18,684 4,991 13,567

Totals$15,150 33,689 $8,364 28,680

These industries suffered a decline to the extent of $6,780,000 paid less in wages and 5018 fewer working people employed. But what is of further and oreater significance is that the rate of wages, as shown here, has gone down to the extent shown here.

The average per hand employed is as Cotton goods.....$287

Hats and caps, etc.....446
Iron an i steel products. 525

This is indeed a showing which would give the death-knell to any high-tariff sentiment still rampant in the greatest manufacturing State of the Union were any facts wanted to prove the absurdity of the claims usually set forth.

I will not draw any inferences from this nor generalize on the facts further than to show the positions of certain industries which ought to have steadily increased in product and in wages paid tariff, but have, on the contrary, suffered the heaviest decline.

Court Clery

That these facts have been ignored by a Democratic official authority of the State and spurious facts substituted to bolster up the policy of the opposition party is the only thing which gives a somewhat serious tone to the absurdity of the publication.

A comparison of the product, of wages and of hands employed in industries furthest removed from the influences referred to shows on the contrary the following increases:

| Product | Wages | Hands | Thousands. | Thousands. | Thousands. | 1,403 | Clothing | 44,718 | 8,195 | 26,090 | Women's clothing | 4,830 | 14,273 | 42,193 |

Product. Wages. Hands. (Thousands.) (Thousands.)

Boots and shoes...$18,979 $\frac{4}{8},4902$ 13, 403

Clothing....$1,133 18,244 63 009

Women's clothing...$129,412 27,323 99,000

It has been demonstrated sufficiently by comparisons made here and abroad that labor in boots and shoes is cheaper than in Europe. In clothing a tariff is ineffective. Fashion and taste alone forbid importations of ready-made clothing and give a clear field to the hone manufacturer, though his materials, by tariff taxation, are so much higher than the foreign clothing manufacturer has to pay that the protection by the tariff on clothing is quite neutralized. In other industries where tariff protection is equally ineffective similar showings can be made. In clothing, the least protected article, the increase is highest:

75 per cent. in product, 125 per cent. in wages and 150 per cent. in the number of hands. Women's clothing has risen in the product from four and a half millions to over twenty millions. The new census will show a heavier increase yet. These items suffice to show the damning evidence of facts ignored by Mr. Peck. Having pointed them out I will now return to the facts adduced by him to support his theory.

The increase in products is set down as $31,000,000. The increase from 1870 to 1880 was $300,000,000. Considering the price inflations of all commodities, as compared with 1880, and the decline in such important industries noted above, the increase of 1880 over 1870 shows for New York fully $400,000,000, or 66% per cent. On the same basis of progression the $1,080,000,000 of 1880 ought to have grown to $1,800,000,000 1890. The years of the end of the decade, however, must show the greatest ratio of increase, partly on account of the increase of 25 per cent. in the population of the State and partly on account of the general trade activity ruling in 1889, 1890 and 1891 against the great stagnation ruling and spreading in intensity from 1883 to 1887. The ratio of increase ought from these considerations to be nearer a hundred millions than seventy millions, which would be the average of the decade. If Mr. Peck is not able to show more than thirty-one millions of increase he and his theory stand conlemned by his own figures.

Reed on "Extravagance."

Ex-Czar Reed is something of a numorist in his way and he has seldom been more humorous than he is now in accusing the Democratic House of "extravagance," because with a Republican Senate and a Republican President against it it could not repeal the sugar bounty act, the steamship subsidy act and such like acts passed by the Reed Congress, with the deliberate intention of increasing the expenditures of the Government and making the increase

The Reed Congress and the Harrison administration have run the annual expense for pensions alone up to $140,-000,000, so that with this and $10,000. 000 a year for sugar bounties we have a permanent expense of $150,000,000 a year altogether aside from what are properly the ordinary expenses of gov-

Under the Disability Pension bill and other pension acts now in operation the annual expense for pensions will increase for some years to come. It will reach at least $150,000,000 a year, and the only chance the country has of getting rid of it is by outliving the pensioners. The sugar bounty will be repealed as soon as the Democrats elect a President and a majority of the Senate. Until then it remains with the other permanent charges imposed on the country by the most scandalous Congress the country ever had.

With a Democratic Senate these permanent charges can be greatly reduced. When Mr. Cleveland is inaugurated he will certainly renew the practice of that strict economy which characterized his first administration and resulted in the surplus which Harrison has dissipated.

In the meantime Harrison is responsible before the country for the increased expense of his radical administration. He is costing the country a round hundred million a year more than Arthur cost it. Where is the Republican who will say that Harrison is worth this much more for the country? It may be that we are to have another Republican as President in the future. If so, let us get one who costs less and is worth more for the money.—St. Louis Republic.

Why Wages Go Up.

The protectionist says that wages go up because of the taxes he levies on

The truth is that wages go up because labor becomes more effective. If two those whose portion is in this world.

out under the benign influence of the men, with improved machinery, can produce what four men did before, the pay of each of the four being a dollar a day, the employer can afford to pay each of the two men $1.50. will make a dollar a day by the operation, and the cost of labor in his product will be just that much less than it

> In a late number of the American Wool and Cotton Reporter is a capital answer to the question we have asked. To-day the help that ten years tended 120 spindles in worsted mills are tending 160 spindles, "making the increased production, it is declared, of at least equal quality."

> The Noble comb has taken the place of the Lister comb and it "gives double the quantity of top, in the same time, from the same stock.

> The change from the fly to the ring frame gives 4000 revolutions a minute, instead of 2600.

> Machine-dyeing has taken the place of hand methods, so that "in the use of acid-dvestuffs feats are accomplished in less than two hours, and in the employment of sweet dies in less than four hours, that by the uncertain hand processes would demand several days for their performance."

> These are facts that have had a strong influence on wages in the worsted industry. Wages depend upon efficiency and product as well as upon the law of supply and demand. Invention has greatly multiplied man's power, and therefore the man receives more for his work than he did when his tools enabled him to produce less.

When a protectionist says that wages depend upon a statute that he has composed he is simply slandering human genius.—New York World.

Wages Not Dependent on the Tariff.

"If the workingman pursues his inquires furthur he will find that during that famous period when the United States had a low tariff, from 1846 to 1861, wages here were as much higher as those in any European country as they are now, and that during that low tariff period they were steadily rising. He will find that wages in this country have always been higher than European wages, not on account of any tariff, but on account of the circumstances surrounding us-the large quantity of cheap, fertile and easily accessible land; the almost inexhaustible abundance and variety of natural resources inviting enterprise; the exceptional energy and productiveness of labor in this country, and so on. He will find that the wages of persons engaged in such labor as is not protected by any tariff at all, such as employes of transportation companies, house servants, bricklayers, carpenters, bakers, ongshoremen, plasterers and many others, are among the highest compared with corresponding wages in Europe. Finally, he will find that employment and wages are as dependent on the labor market and the state of business in high tariff America as in free trade England, and no less; that labor organizations have as much influence on such things here as in England, and no more; and that the promises which the protective policy is commended to the favor of the laboring men cannot possibly be fulfilled by any tariff law, and are, therefore, a delusion and a snare.—Harper's Weekly.

"Protection" for the Dairyman.

The dairyman needs protection against the tariff on tin, which, for the protection of the tin barons, is saddling every dairyman with an indirect tax of not less than 25 cents for each and every cow in Am. erica which produces milk. Tax on tin milk-pails, tin milk-strainers, tin gathering cans, tin settling cans, tin-lined cream vats, tin-lined cheese vats, tin cheese hoops, etc., etc. Tin and tax every-

The dairyman needs protection against the tariff on salt, which is a direct tax on every butter-maker using English salt, to the extent of one cent per head of every butter cow, and an indirect average tax of $2 per head on every butter cow whose butter is not salted with English salt, and with cheaper salt. The estimate is based upon the average make of 200 lbs. per year for each butter cow, and the low estimate of difference in flavor and keeping quality from use of different salt than English dairy would be one cent per pound of butter, or $2 per head of cows.-Mercantile and Exchange Advocate.

No Good to the Farmer.

The American farmer is practically secure from foreign competition in his home market, and for that reason needs no protection. No nation under the sun can come here and compete to any extent with the products of our farms. The farmer by means of the taxes on what he does not produce has been forced to pay and is to-day paying tribute to the 14,500 manufacturers, the sole beneticiaries of the tariff. Governor McKinley in all his long speech could not show where the farmers receive one dollar's benefit from high protection, but, on the the contrary, he gave reasons why they should vote against it. - Cleveland Plaindealer.

Luther was so afraid he might love posses Luther was so arraid he might love possessions that he prayed for poverty, saying: "I thank Thee, O God, that thou hast made me a poor man upon earth." When the elector sent him a valuable present he wrote back he could not refuse what had been given by the prince, but begged him to send no more, as he already possessed thirty dollars and was afraid he should be numbered with those whose partion is in this world. FRANK W. GIST, EDITOR.

Entered at the Post Office in Calera as Second Class Matter.

CALERA, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 1.

National Democratic Ticket

GROVER CLEVELAND,

of New York. FOR VICE PRESIDENT. A. E. STEVENSON, of Illinois.

For Congress 4th District, GASTON A. ROBBINS, of Dallas.

THERE is another issue in this campaign of equal, if not greater importance, than the tariff which effects the rights and liberties of every citizen. The republican party seems to be irrevocably committed to the passage of a Federal election bill generally known as the "Force Bill," and although it must be evident to the most patriotic and thoughtful members of that organization that its a piece of political foolishness only equaled by its mendacity.-Senator David B. Hill's Brooklyn Speech.

BURN-HIS-ARM-OFF has bought out the Bibb County Democrat and has with the material issued the first number of the People's Reflector. This, we predict, is another paper started in Centreville to bloom and flourish for a short time, then to wither. Mr. Adams' salutatory is short, but promises to do great and much desired things for the people. We hope be will, but our hopes are weak. A man who has used all his efforts and talents for five long years in creating strife and disorganizing, will as editor, we fear, be unable to accomplish anything towards harmonizing the political or social standing of the country.

LITTLE Joe Wheeler, was again neminated by acclamation for congress in the 8th district. It was merely a matter of form, for so long as Gen. Wheeler stands for the position of congressman in the 8th. the result will be the same as it was the 27th ult. Except in the first, all the democratic nominations are made, in all but two districts the old members are endorsed for reelection, and as this is presidential year and Alabama a democratic state, and the two new men that have been nominated are young and progressive democrats, the outlook is good for nine democratic congressmen from Alabama. And, of course, the electoral vote of Alabama will go in the Cleveland and Stevenson column.

HIS ACCEPTANCE.

The press, democratic and republican alike, is full of praise to Mr. Cleveland's letter of acceptance. Like all his letters, it is an able document, and we but voice the sentiment of the entire south when we pronounce it one of the completest, most statesmanlike political papers we have read for many years. If it did but voice the opinions and policies of only one man, it would draw to him a strong support from all parts of the country. But coming as it does from the standard bearer of the party as presenting the great principles of democracy, and in accordance with the endorsed platform of the national democratic party the result will be greater. It comes as a message from one end of the nation to the other, as a proclamation to the north, to the south, to the west, and to the east, that Grover Cleveland and the great reforms upon which he dwells must is it that reasonable men will not and is bound to win.

THE CALERA JOURNAL. THE PEOPLES REFLECTOR.

It is called the 'Peoples Reflector, and is edited by the great mogul S. M. Adams. We feel sorry for the county, that after being ha- has to be president! rangued by this blatant demagogue for the past four years upon the stump, it must now be inflicted with his howling in print.

In his salutatory he promises to "voice the will of the people on all questions." He means, of course, that he will voice his own erratic ideas and the people of his stripe will follow at his heels. "Morally he will take high ground." We wait with interest his denunciation of some of the crimes in that county, and expect his first edito rial to be a sermon on the misapplication of entrusted interests. "Politically he will advocate the principles of the Peoples' party.' Of course. Or, rather, he will advocate S. M. Adams for office, for that is all the principle any party holds for him. "He will strive to allay prejudice among our people at home and abroad." Really! When Sam Adams strives to allay prejudice, the devil will exhort sinners to repentance.

As a farmer Mr. Adams was too high minded, as a preacher he was too engrossed in politics, as a politician he was too bigoted; as editor of a howling, disgruntled, clamoring third party paper he will be a for the appointment for the railroad glorious success. We congratulate commission to fill the vacancy occathe democratic party on being rid sioned by the death of Gen. Lawler, of him, but we are sorry for the is Sam. Blackwell, of Morgan. It is jodrnalistic profession that he has claimed by some that North Ala-

One word of advice. When your editorial opinions are assailed don't get mad and threaten to stamp them into the earth. That failed when you were a preaching politician, and it won't work yet. F. W. G.

WHEN we see in a neighborhood even one farmer, though all of his immediate neighbors have gone off after strange political heretics, with such pure and patriotic sentiments as expressed by A. J. Pitts, we feel encouraged. We reprint an article from this gentlemen, and commend it to our readers. It has the ring of true democracy and genuine patriotism in it. With only a few such men as he in every neighborhood in the state, the democracy could with assurance claim the victory. It is our opinion that every locality has at least one such man-and it is through their speaking, through their pleading, that this great fight for democracy and white supremecy is to be won. It is true that the orators and the statesmen of the country have much to do. But the farmers and mechanics of the country have their part to perform. Men can be reached through these that can not be made to see duty by any other means. Then the great importance of these men acting in this campaign is plain, and if each of them will speak with his neighbor who is wavering, he can at least cause him to think, and the battle is half won. See thim again and he will be with you, then you go together to another, he is convinced, and three are at work. So with an effort every one can carry a voter, and the victory is easy won. Read Mr. Pitts' article.

Hon. J. F. Stallings was nominated on the 1001st ballot in the 2d district. Mr. S. is a young man and a true democrat, and now that the party has spoken in convention it should do all that is possible for a united endorsement of its action and engage in such literary exercises in November.

DEMOCRATS and republicans are united in the opinion that Mr. Weaver has no earthly chance to be president. Still the leaders of his of the importance of the event and deluded following continue to hold in the south is not a vote for Har; ment, civilization and religious liberty rishn. If Alabama is a democratic state with the white people united, is it not plain that every white vote that is thrown away or cast for the third party is a vote for the repubieans? This is plain to every sensible man in the country, and why

Bibb county has another paper. in this district is a vote for Judge country and have it raised and saluted Craig and against Robbins. Mr. Longshore has no more chance of Such other entertainments and amuseelection to congress than Weaver ments may be engaged in as the genius > low has started a paper over in Tuscaloosa. A copy was sent us with a request to exchange, but having let the name slip our memory, we

Every mail brings encouraging political ne vs. The situation now favors the election of Cleveland and Stevenson by the largest majority any presidential ticket has received for a quarter of a century.

THE convention has not been held in the first district. But when it is held Mr. Clark will have be nominated and will be elected. This will give us 6 out of the 8 old con gressmen from Alabama, with two good and able young democrats in the honored Herbert and Forney's stead, and the gallant young Robbins from the new fourth. It is as plain to us as anything can be that has not already transpired, that Alabama will be represented in the next congress by nine democrats, and that her eleven electoral votes will he cast for Cleveland and Ste-bama is entitled to this appointment. If the Governor should so decide, he could-without disparage ment to other competent applicants from that section-not bestow it upon one more worthy than Blackwell, of Morgan. The Character and capability of Mr. B. is known to almost every man in the state. At the age of 14 years his services were tendered to his country in the struggle between the states. He was true then-he is true yet, and has ever been true. His efforts in all the political contests since his majority, have been voluntarily given to the democracy, and the result has been successfully felt. Every breath he has every breathedso far as his fellow-citizens know-has been democratic, and every sentence uttered came from a true and an honest heart. If Gov. Jones should honor him with the appoint- B. Williams will address the people of ment and honor the position by appointing him, he will make no mis-

A PROCLAMTION.

Maj. J. G. Harris, state superintenintelligent, steady and thinking of education, has just issued a circular to the public school officers and teach-

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 12, 1892) To all Public School Officers and Teachers-

In view of the fact that the congress of the United States at its last session passed an act declaring the 21st day of October, 1892. a national holiday, and in a view of the further fact that the president of these United States | Morgan & Lapsley, and the governor of the state of Alabama each has issued a proclamation calling upon the people to observe the said 21st day of October as a national holiday, in commemoration of the discovery of this country by Christopher Columbus, now, therefore, it is eminently proper and the part of true patriotism that in compliance with the expressed wishes of our rulers and in order to appropriately celebrated this, the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America, that we assemble at the various school house; in this stateteachers, trustees, pupils and peopleas will become the oecasion.

It is the part of justice and right that every child in the public and private school of our state, as far as possible, on that day, be taught something the great progress made in science. the induces: ent that voting for him art, invention, and literature, governsince Columbus first set foot on this continent. To this end, let each teacher secure one or more speakers who will deliver addresses on the past history of our country. Let some of the pupils prepare short recitations and other levels and other le and others learn and recite certain events. In this manner each child can be given a part in the ceremonics.

Can be given a part in the ceremonics.

EVERY vote cast for Longshore the teacher may prepare a flag of our by the pupils on the school grounds. and skill of the teacher can suggest.

In the cities, town and villages the Some Weaver-Boman-Moselev fel- ringing of bells, church bells-may be engaged in, and at an hour agreed upon let all the people assemble where a previously prepared programme can be carriey out. At night recitations, music, charades, tableaux and addresses will be entertaining, instructive and amusing. Many interesting features of cur progress neight be impressed upon the youthful mind by object lessons taught and illustrated in tableax. such as the customs, habits and usages of the people, also certain inventions, discoveries, etc-

We have but a short while to prepare for this celebrations. Let the county superintendents at once arouse an interest among the teachers, and place this circular in the hands of teachers of both races. Let him call on the editor of his county paper and get him to publish the proclamation of the governor, and this circular, or a part of it, as a matter of news.

The stirring and lasting effects that may be produced by a well conducted plan, carefully carried out by our teachers, superintendents and enthusiastic people, demonstrating their interest in and devotion to the public schools, will probably mark an epoch in this state that will be marvelous in with our sister states of this union in on her holiday attire, and let her Among the numerous applicants children, making as they do a part of the appointment for the railroad the 4,000,000 of pupils in the public schools of this republic, celebrate the occasion with gladness and rejoicing. And we appeal to the parents and people to lend their aid in every way possible and to encourage it by their presence. Go to the school house with your baskets filled with good things for children-heve a picnicspend the day -let the social and patriotic feeling prevail. Lay aside all politics for this day, at least; forget reeds and parties and divisions, and lissensions and make it a day of rejoicing and will, remembering "how good and how pleasant it is for brethren (people) to dwell together in unity.'

JNO. G. HARRIS, Superintendent of Education. P. S.—This will be counted a school day, hence the teacher will get credit

Public Speaking

Hons, Joseph F. Johnson and W. H. Forney will address the people on the issues of the day at Harpersville, Saturday, Oct. 8, at 2 o'clock.

Hon. Gaston A. Robbins and Dr. D. Shelby county at the following times and places:

Harpersville, Tuesday October 11, at Columbiana, Wednesday, October 12, at 11, a. m. At Shelby, 8, p. m. Calera Thursday, Oct. 13, at 11, a. m. Pelham, Friday, Oct. 14, at 11, a. m. Montevallo, Saturday, 15, at 11, a. m.

Everybody is Invited!

REGISTER'S SALE.

and by vir-A. M. Elliott, Trustee, et al) tue of a de cree rendered at the Spring term, 1892. of the Chancery Court of Shelby county, Alabama, in the above entitled cause, I will proceed to sell, under the power contained in a Mortgage from H. M. Pierce, et al, to A. M. Elliott, trustee, at public outcry, in front of the Court House door in the town of Columbiana,

Monday, the 17th day of October, 1892.

between the legal hours of sale, for cash, the following described real estate, situated near Calera in Sheby county, Ala., to-wit: Fractions A, H, J, M, and the S & of E and F of section 22, township 22, range 2, west; and the east half of north east quarter, section 2, township 24, range 13, east

This, August 11, 1892.
D. R. McMILLAN,
Register and Acting Trustee. 13aug-10w prs fee$16.50

NOTICE 12,810.

Land office, Montgomery, Ala.) September 7, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the follow-ing-named settler has filed notice of intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the clerk of the circuit court

It must be Childern's Day. Further, 10 sept-6w

Marion MILITARY Institute.

Superior Accommodationrs and Board. Superintendent, his family and faculty live in building with students.

Classic and Scientific. Superior Commercal Course. TERMS MODE.

COL. J. T. MURFEE, Superintendent, Marion, Alabama.

SIX MILE MALE & FEMALE ACADEMY.

R. H. PRATT, Principal.

35th annual session begins September 26, IS92, and continues 40 WEERS.

CFONE WEEK FOR CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS.

TERMS,—Primary Department—per month......$1 50 Intermediate, including English branches and Latin. Higer branches of Mathematics, French, Greek, with the above,

Music and use of instrument, 3 00 its beneficial results. Let us join in Board—per month, $7. Washing, Starching, Ironing $1.......$8 00 Students are required to furnish, for their own use, one pr. blankets, celebrating this commonwealth put one pr. sheets and pillow cases, their own toilet lights. Payments, monthly or quarterly in advance.

> This school is located at Six Mile, Alabama, in a healthy, well watered neighborhood, five miles from Ashby depot, on the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia Railroad.

R H PRATT, PrIncipal, Six Mile, Alabama. 3sept 6m

GALERA JOURNAL Book and Job Office, CALERA, ALA.

NEW AND LATEST STYLE TYPE. BEST OF PAPER AND INK USED

BIRMINGHAM & MONTGOMERY PRICES DUPLICATED.

$1--A WEEKLY NESWSPAPER--$1.

The latest and most select political, social and religious news. Literature and science, a special feature. Special attention given to local correspondence. For further particulars in reference to subscrip-

> JOURNAL. ALERA, ALA.

Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats Shoes, Gents & Ladies Dress Goods.

CALERA. ALA.D

Have one of the Largest Stocks of Hats, Shoes, Clothing, Notions, Dry Goods, and General Merchandize, Ever Brought to Shelby County

OPPOSITE OUR DRY GOODS HOUSEWe have Opened up a.....

EMAMMOTH STOCK

WILL BE IN THIS HOUSE AT ALL TIMES, WAIT ON YOU. and price Furniture as Low as any House in Alabama.

CASH OR INSTAL-MENT PLAN.

Our Campaign Goods are as neat and as Cheap as any in the State.

A. C. WADE & CO,

RAILROAD TIME TABLE.

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE. No. 1, South Bound. 4:53 a. m. 4:14 p. m. 66 5:10 a. m. 10:19 " " 2, North Bound, 10:05 p. m. ALABAMA MINERAL.

4:35 p. m. 10:25 a. m. 85, Arrives at 86, Departs at

COUNTY OFFICERS. Probate Judge—R. W. Cobb. Circuit Clerk—W. R. A. Milner. Sheriff—W. R. Carter Register in Chancery-D. R. McMil-

Tax Collector-E. F. Vest. Tax Assessor-W. H. Kidd.

County Trersurer-A. W. Strickland. Superintendent of Education-T. N.

County Solicitor-J. L. Peters. County Commissioners—John E. Dyeey, T. B. McClusky, R. F. Johnson, D. C. Davis.

AT THE CHURCHES.

PRESENTERIAN-Services on the 4th School at 9:30 a. m.

METHODIST—Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night, by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sabbath school at 9:30.

Baptist Church—Rev. J. G. Lowrey, pastor. Preaching every first and second Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting at 7.00 p. m., every Thursday.

CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN-J. Dalton, postor. Preaching every first and third Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday evenings at 7:30. Children and the color of dren's Band meets 3:30 p. m. each 1st and 3rd Sunday. Ladies' Aid Society every other Friday evening at 3.

INSURE YOUR LIFE. Read and profit by the following sound counsel, every word of which smarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel: with a truism like a sparkling jewel:

"It is a duty you owe to yourself and amily to protect them with a reasonable amount of life insurance, where the stours of the financial world cannot touch them; where the assessor cannot tax them; where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old sge should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do will do this and more; therefore, do your duty and insure immediately in some good, old reliable Company."—Extract from a sermon by the Rev. T. Deformance of Mrs. M. L. Jones. Witt Talmage.

HUGH T. CAFFEY,

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON CALERA, ALA.

J. L. PETERS. HENRY WILSON, E. S. LYMAN

feb12-1y.

Columbiana.

Peters, Wilson & Lyman, ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

IMPORTANT TO LADIES

Sir-I made use of your Philotoken Sir—I made use of your Philotoken with my last child, in order to procure a safe and easy travil. I used it about two months before my expected time, and I had a very quick and easy confinement. Nothing occurred to protract my convalescence, and I got about in less time than was usual for me. I think it is that that they should be used by it a medicine that should be used by every expectant mother, for should they but try it as I have, they would never again be without it at such times. I am yours respectfully,

Mrs. ELIZABETH DIX.

Anymerchant or druggist can procure Risley's Philotoken for $1 a bottle. CHARLES F. RISLEY, Wholesale Druggist, 62 Cortlandt St., New York.

$500 Will be Given

For any case of Rheumatism which can not be cured by Dr. Drummond's Lightnot be cured by Dr. Drummond's Lightning Remedy. The proprietors do not hide this offer, but print it in bold type on all their circulars, wrappers, printed matter, and through the newspapers everywhere. It will work wonders, one bottle will cure nearly every case. If the druggist has not got it, he will order it, or it will be sent to any address by prepaid express on receipt of price, $5. Drummond Medicine Co., 48-50 Maiden Lane, New York. Agents wanted.

ONE DOLLAR WEEKLY

Buys a good gold watch by our club system. Our 14-karat gold-filled cases are warranted for 20 years. Fine Elgin o. Waltham movement, stem wind and set-Lady's or gent's size. Equal to any $50 watch. To secure agents where we have

who have seen it say it would be cheap at $40."

Several of our youngamen went to Mobile Thursday.

Wade & Co., have Campaign Hats. Only $1.50.

Judge Campbell made a flying trip to Cleveland, Tenn., this week. Monday is always Bargain Day at A. C. Wade & Co's store. ry day in the week likewise. Rev. Sam. P. West and family are still visiting his father. Sam is here part of the time, and attends the meeting. Dress and business suits, prices and styles to suit every body, at Wade & Co's. Remember that every day is bargain day at this house.

Willie Blevins, former imp of the JOURNAL, after a pleasant visit to relatives in Birmingham, returned From the Talladega Mountain Home. the first of the week and is tending

The little son of Mr. & Mrs. Columbus Coe is no better, and hopes for his recovery is now almost like hoping against hope. The father and mother have the sympathy of all our citizens.

If you are fond of raw, fried or stewed oysters, just step into Howard's, on the corner of Montgomery Ave. and Main St., next to rail in the day, and Mr. Howard will serve them to taste.

flag, Mr. James Whatley will ac- ocrat? What was the matter with it cept thanks for painting the streaflag and are out nothing but the go to Gadsden and try to have him nomthe breezes.

Wade & Co. will sell you a suit Sundays in each month, morning and of Furniture at reasonable prices night; paster to be supplied. Sabbath on the installment plan, making it easy for you to re-fit your house from garret to cellar with new and latest style furniture, carpets, pictures, etc, and their salesman, Mr. W. M. Lanham late of Feidmont, will select and match it for you, and go any reasonable distance and put it up for you.

Prof. Greek reports eighty stu-get campaign hats at Wade's.

are taking in Mobile this week on a pleasure trip.

house from garret to cellar with the latest style furniture. Mrs. M. L. Jones the popular

Selma the past woek. The Gents, and Ladies' dress goods at Wade's are of latest style and are marked low down. Mr. W. E. Wilcox, former resident of Calera, is in the city, guest steam gague. See. Some of our citizens must be getting scared of cholera, judging from the way they are using the whitewash brush.

Mr. J. D. Hardy and his daugh- you will think a moment you will see ter, Miss Cora, returned from their that you areweak in the state election. trip to the North. They report a You had all the white republicans and a nice time.

good cigar, and when one is presen a small crowd of you Kolb men, and when ted he don't ask if it is loaded, but you vote against Cleveland and Robbins

J. L. Walthall, one of Shelby county's enterprising farmers and democratic missionaries, was in Caera one evening this week. He is very hopeful that Cleveland and Robbins will win in November.

One of the most extensive and best lines of Mens, Womens, Misses and Children's shoes ever bought for the Shelby county market. Prices from 25 cents up at WADE & Co.

The Methodist people are holding a series of meetings at their house of worship this week. Three services a day. The pastors of all the Calera churches are assisting. Rev. Mr. Glenn is doing most of the preaching.

Attention is called to the space that was left last week for Wade & Co's. advertisement. A part of the large stock is mentioned. This firm is not misrepresenting their goods in any particular. And we want you to tell them what we say.

Often we have prided ourself on our ability decipher bad manuscript, but the editress of the Women's Column sent in some this week that watch. To secure agents where we have none, we sell one of the hunting case watches for the club price, $28, and send C. O. D. by express with privilege of examination before paying for same.

Our agent at Durham, N. C., writes:
"Our jewelers have confessed they don't know how you can furnish such works for the money,"

Our agent at Pennington, Texas writes: "Am in receipt of the watch and am pleased without measure. All the works who have seen it say it would be cheap or the second section of the hunting case was too much for us. Moral—write plain and on white paper.

Mr. Abraham Lincoln Steine, whom every bady knows and every likes, leaves for Savannah, Ga., to morrow morning, where he goes to engage as salesman in a popular firm in that city. All Calera rewards to see Abe leave, but we can't grets to see Abeleave, but we can't Married under the broad canopy of the deep blue sky, near Mud Town, in Chilton county, at 10, a.m., September 23, Mr. H. A. McClinton and Miss A. E. Roy, Rev. J. G. Lowery officiating. Peace for their bosoms and flowers for their pathway.

The editor of the Journal went to Selma one day this week on bus. iness. He reports one prominent Kolb man whom he heard declare, if the democrats would let him alone, he would vote for Cleveland. will be that way along at first, and after while it gets worse.

ALLIANCEMEN,

TAKE ONE GOOD LOOK AT THE PEOPLE'S PARTY LEADERS AND THEIR RECORDS.

I see in your last issue that we have a people's party in Talladega county Well, what are they going to do with it? When it comes to such men as Dr. Groce and Gaither and Longshore and their ilk, its plain enough; we know what they want with it; they want the offices and the money; but when it comes to the poor fellows that have to plow and hoe and make 6 cent cotton, I can't see what they want with a third party. And beforethey go off after such men as Weaver I would respectfully ask my brother road, and call for them at any hour farmers to compare the men leading this movement with the leaders of the democratic party. What was the mat-A. J. Jones has our thanks for ter with the democratic party when assistance in hoisting our Cleveland Gaither tried to go to Congress as a demwhen Dr. Groce set out to beat Forney mer, and as Wade & Co. gave it to and drummed around among his friends us, so you see we have a neat little and got as many of them as he could to for staff. She floats so nicely in inated in Forneys place? Oh! he was a good democrat then and the party was all right. Where is he now? He told of Furniture at reasonable prices me they were going to send Longshore to congress. Will the good, honest yeomanry of Alabama follow such a leader as Dr. Groce, who because he cannot get office in the democrat party, tries to betray and destroy that party? Look over in Clay; there is another man over there whose delight it is to abuse the democratic party. A little over two years ago he tried to beat Hon. Martin Lackey for the nomination for state senator to represent Clay and Talladega counties. Long aince then he made a Democrats and republicans can speech in the courthousein Talladega in which he boasted of his democracy and said that the alliance nor anything else Several of Calera's young men should interfere with it. Now he is trying to destroy that party. Gaither is doing the same thing. Now who will turn Wade & Co. can furnish any his back on such men as Forney, Oates, Pugh, Morgan, and a host of other good men, to follow such men as these? A gentleman who voted for Kolb told rying Alabama, because the republicans of Birmingham. would not have out any electors, and they (the Kolb men) were going to vote for Weaver. "Now, my friend," said I, 'don't allow yourself to be fooled that will cast their votes for Harrison, for Weaver cannot be elected. This all un-The boys about town want War- derstood. The people's party will put ner and Eason to tell the price of a out candidates for congress in every district, but they know they will not be men off after Weaver, and these other men, such as Longshore and his like, hope this will weaken the democratio party so they can elect a republican. If good share of the negroes, but they will Judge Campbell always likes a not be with you in November. It will be would vote for Cleveland and Robbins." he is the democratic nominee for con-'you be right in all those things and I want to talk with you again about it. Must beat the republicans at all haz-

Now if our men will only be reasonable off two of the best of them, that is, though they were strong Kolb men I had hoped they would help us on Cleveland and Robbins; but I see their names down as committeemen in the people's party for this beat. They are too good and true, however, I think, to stay in that party.

Now, democrats everywhere, go to work. Let us organize thoroughly. We cannot, we must not, lose this fight. Everything depends upon every man doing his duty. Take one good look at the third party leaders and their records, and that will convince you. Let Cleveland and Robbin! be our battle-cry from now until November, and victory will be ours.

A. J. Pitts.

IF you are a democrat, you will vote for Cleveland, as a vote for Weaver in Alabama is nothing more nor less than I have endeavored to present to you voting the republican ticket.

republicans, if you do then, join the buckle on the fight with a determ-Weaver column and vote for him and ination to do all in our power for the combination will be consumated.

WOMAN'S COLUMN.

[The Woman's Column is under the supervision of Mrs. F. W. Gist, and all communications for this department should be addressed to her at West Calera, Alabama, l

WANTED-A PROFESSION AND A PERSONALITY.

BY HENDERON DAINGERFIELD.

We asked that the law would allow us To be doctors and lawyers at will, With displeasure sufficient to cew us, They bid us to hush and be still.

They tell us, these lords of creation, That chaos will reign supreme when We wander thus far from our station: Learned professions are only for men.

For women are sewing and teaching, And cooking and nursing, and then. Oh, hark to the gospel they're preaching, They'll let us type-write for the men.

Woman practice the great art of healing? The thought must be nipped in the bud Why, a fracture would set her to scold-

And she'd faint at the mere sight of blood.

They forget in the scorn they are feeling, Female M. D's. too many to name, Throughout this broad country bring healing,

To many a suffering frame.

As for law! Who such nonsense is heeding?

Say these men, with a scandalised "Fudge!"

Let woman at home do her pleading, With husband for jury and judge.

But how, then, is woman the gainer, If we bring suit at home if you please? To whom shall shall she go for retainer? To whom shall she look for her fees? Says the law, "After examination

Is passed any person will be Admitted to practice," our station Isn't that of a person you see.

Among criminals, infants, and idiots. To be classed, was once wormwood and

But 'twas better to be among these lots, Than to be not a peason at all.

It is a fact beyond dispute or doubt that the Birmingham Daily Age-Herald a few days ago devoted about three juches to news items relative to Women Work. That paper is on the road

The new seats and papering of the M. E. Church at Calera are all complete, and protracted meeting is in session there, conducted by the able paster, Z. A. Dowling, assisted by the pastors of boarding house mistress, visited me there was no danger of Harrison car- the other churches and Rev. Mr. Glenn,

> Mrs. Z. A. Dowling, who has been at Blount Springs for her health, was called home Monday last to administer as way. Weaver electors, if there any, only a loving mother can to the wants of a sick child.

> We always enjoy reading Mr. Walker's Murmurs of the World in Sunday's Ageelected. The trick is to lead you Kolb Herald—but his first half column in last Sunday's issue is inexpressably grand. How true his words of comment upon Faust and Marguerite.

> > To those whose kindly feelings have followed Mrs. Francis E. Willard across the waters to England, we are glad to say she had a pleasant trip.

FELLOW CITIZENS-I need not urge you to the performance of your you vote for Harrison. I explained this full share in this campaign. Kings to a Weaver man the other day and he county was never known to falter in told me he saw the whole trick now and duty. The interests involved demand the greatest sacrifices and "Well, but," said No. 2, "who is Rob- highest efforts. It is the welfare bins and what will he do for us?" "Sir of the democratic party which we all love so well, which is at stake. gress and he favors free coin of silver and I plead, not for individuals, but for and tariff reform." "Well," said he, a cause. In a great contest like this, men are nothing, principles are everything. Our candidates represent our principles, and our principles cannot prevail without the election of our candidates. The we are all right, but Dr. Groce has led contest may be a severe one, but so much more glorious will be the victory if we win.

You need have no uneasiness. "The Old Guard" will do its duty. Look out for the raw recuits. believe that a large majority of the people of this country are convinced of the rightfulness of democratic principles and want them to prevail. But the election will not win ieself, and there must be complete organization.

I repeat the injunction I uttered before the democratic state convention at Albany in February last:

"It is our duty to organize, organize, organize." With this motto inscribed upon our banner, "Public office is a public trust," supplemented by other sentimenes which to night, "No public taxation for private purposes," and "No Force Do you want any combine with the Bill," let us close up our ranks and Written in the best companies. the triumph of our party and the election of our standard bearers, at $40."

One good reliable agent wanted for each place. Write for particulars.

EMPIRE WATCH CO. New York mend him to people of Savannah.

Section of our standard bearers, Your vote in November is a true cleveland and Stevenson.—Senator test of your democracy. Every democracy test of Cleveland.

Your vote in November is a true cleveland and Stevenson.—Senator test of your democracy. Every democracy test of Cleveland.

PURE BLOOD GOOD HEALTH

Now is the time for everyone who cherishes good health, to pay particular attention to the condition of their blood and its proper circulation. Nearly all diseases that flesh is heir to are caused and agravated by an impure condition of the blood and a sluggish circulation.

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS

Possessing Extraordinary Cleansing Powers

Restoring and Strengthening the whole System, Enriching the Blood producing increased vitality by restoring an impaired digestion and bringing back the bloom of youth to the cheek of the enfeebled and emaciated.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle-6 Bottles for $5.00.

For Sale by All Druggists.

Nabors, Morro w, & Sinnige.

SOLE CONTROLERS,

Birmingham.

WORDS ABOUT THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION.

Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers, 12 Pages.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT. 1. It is the best of all weekly news- "Aunt Susie," the editress of these departments, is a household word

2. It is invaluable to the tarmer and the farmer's family, bringing each week cheer to the fireside and happiness to the household.

partments, is a household word throughout the south.

6. Bill Arp, Plunkett, and Uncle Remus and a host of other special writers are engaged by the year, and their inimousehold.

It covers the news of the whole itable sketches appear each week.

d, having its correspondents scat
7. It is the People's Friend, and is world, having its correspondents scattered over the globe, and having a thorough news service from every important interests of the south.

7. It is the People's Friend, and is the sturdy champion of the agricultural ough news service from every important interests of the south.

ough news service from every important news center in the world.

4. Its Agricultural Department alone is worth many times its subscription price to every farmer. This department is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, wnose service is retained by the Constitution at great expense.

5. Its Woman'3 and Childeren's Departments are a source of infinite pleasure to every family, and the name of interests of the south.

8. It pays more money for its special features and for its news service than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south.

9. It is the cheapest, being only One Dollar ser year, each paper at the price of a postage stamp. Think of it! Every time a hen lays an egg she pays for one issue of the greatest weekly newspapers in the world.

Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of your neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulated home should be without it.

Agents Wanted in every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information. THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

--FINE MILLINERY--

Mrs. S. H. McCauley's.

NEAR THE DEPOT

Montevallo, Alabama.

A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hats in the Lates Styles, and at Reasonable Prices.

HANDKERCHIEFS & HOSIERY Saturday Sales at $1

NEW BECECEE

Cor. Montgomery Ave. & Main St.,

CALERA, ALABAMA.

J. J. HOWARD, - - - PROP.

Hish, Onsters, OP Beef Stenk, HOT COFFEE, HAM AND EGGS.

Meals at all hours from 6, a.m. to 9, p.m. Meals, 25 cts. Meals, 25 cts.

Banking House of

W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co., CALERA; ALABAMA.

Receive Deposits,

merchants, manufacturers and planters alike.

Negotiate Loans,

Issue interest bearing certificates of Deposit, and sell exchange on New York Louisville and Birmingham at regular rates cyarged by the larger cities.

We transact a general banking business, such as that of any incorporated bank in all of its legitimate branches, and would be pleased to open accounts with

Fire and Life Insurance

Bought, Sold and Rented upon just terms,

Subject: "Celestial Sympathizers."

Text: "I have fought with beasts at Ephesus,"-I Corinthians xv., 32.

Crossing the Aips by the Mount Cenis pass or through the Mount Cenis tunnel, you are in a few hours set down at Veronia, Italy, and in a few minutes be in examing one of the crandest ruins of the world—the ampattheatre. The whole building sweeps around you in a circle. You stead in the arena where the combat was once fought or the race run, and on all sides the sears rise, there above they must be sent or all sides the fit to call them, in which sat the senators, the kings and the twenty-five thousand excited spectators.

spectators, the sides of the arena and under the galleries are the cages in which the lions and tigers are kept without foot until, frenzled with hunger and thirst they are let out upon some victim who, with his sword and alone, is condemned to meet them. I think that Paul himself once stood in such a place, and that it was not only flouratively but literally that he had "fought with beasts at Ephesus."

The gala day has come. From all the word the people are pouring into Verona, Men, women and coldren, orators and senutors, great men and small, thousands, come, until the first galiery is full, and the second, the third, the fourth, the fifth—all the way up to the twenteth, all the way up to the twenteth, all the way up to the fortier. Every place is filled. Immensity of audience sweeping the great circle. Silence! The time for the contest has come. A Roman official lea is forth the victim into the arena. Let him get his sword with firm grio into his right hand. The twenty-five thousand sit breathlessly watching. I hear the loor at the sile of the The gala day has come. From all the watching. I hear the nor at the sile of the erena creak open. Out plunges the half starved lion, his tongue athers for blood, and with a roar that orings all the galleries. to their feet he rusnes against the sword of

Do you know how strong a stroke a man Do you know how strong a stroke a man will strike when his life depends upon the first thrust of his blade? The wild beast, lame an ibleeting, slinks back toward the side of the arena; then, radying his wastel strength, he comes up with fierer eye and more terrible roar than ev r, only to be driven back with a fatal wound, while the compating comes in with strong a transfer. compatant comes in with stroke after stroke. until the monster is ead at his feet, and the twenty-five thousand people cap their nands and unter a shout that makes the city

Sometimes the audience came to see a race; sometimes to see gladiators fight each other, until the people, compassionate for the failen, turned their thurnes down as an appeal that the vanquished be spared, and sometimes the combat was with wild beasts.

To one of the Roman ampaitheatrical audiences of one hundred thousand people Paul refers when he says: "We are compassed about with so great a crowd of withesses." The direct reference in the last nesses." The direct reference in the last passage is made to a race, out elsewhere having iscussed that, I ture now Paul's favorite idea of the Christian life as a com-

The fact is that every Caristain man has a lion to fight. Yours is a ball tenner. The gates of the arena have been obened, and this tiger has come out to destroy your soul. It has I crated you with many a wound. You have been thrown oy it time and again, but in the scrength of God you have arised to drive it back. I verny balieve you will conquer. I think that the temperation is getting weaker and weaker. You have given it so many wounds that the prospect is that it will de and you shall be victor, through Christ! Courage, brother! Do not let the sands of the arena dring the blood of your soul! ne fact is tuat levery Caristain man has our tion is the passion for, strong drink. Your fion is the passion for strong dring. You may have contended a mansa is twenty years, but it is strong of bong an athirsty of tongue. You have tried to fight it back with broken bottle or empty wine flast. Nay! that is not the well on. With one horrible roar he will seize thee by the throat the strong that the limb from land. Take this and rend thee limb from line. Take this weapon, sharp and keen-react up and get it from God's armory-the sword of the With that thou mayest drive him ack and conquer!

But why specify, when every man and woman has a lion to fight. It there be one here who has no besetting sin, let him speak out for hum have I offended. If you have ont lought the lion, it is because you have let the lion eat you up. This very moment the contest goes on. The Projan celebration, where ten thousand goaliators tought and eleven thousand wild beasts were slain, was not so terrific a struggle as that which at this moment goes on in many a sour. The combat was for the life of the body; this is for the life of the sour. That was with wild beasts from the jungle; this is with the roar ing lion of hell.

Monthink when they contend against an Menthink when they contend against an evil habit that they have to fight it all alone. No! They stand in the centre of an immense circle of sympathy! Paul had been reciting the names of Abel, Endea, Noad, Adaham, Saran, Islac, Joseph, Cricon and Barak, and then says: "Being compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses."

Before I get through I will show you that you hight in an arena around water circle, in galleries above each other, all the kindling eyes and all the sympathetic hearts of the ages; and at every vistory gained there comes down the thun ering appliause of a great multifule that no man can number.

cloud of wirmsses."

Though the arena be crowded with tempetations we shal, with the angle cheep, strike them down in the name of our word and eap on their latien carcasses! O bending throng of bright angles aces an swift wings an lightning foot! I haily on to-day from the dust an struggle of the arena!

Look again and see the lattery of the proposts and anostles. Who are those mighty ones up you feel has a and Jeremian and Deniel and Isaiah and Paul and Peter and John and Jumes. There sits Noah, waiting for as the world to come into the are; and Moses, waiting till the last Noah, waiting for an the world to cone into the ara; and Moses, waiting till the last Red Sea shall divide; and Jeremian, waiting for the Jews to return; and John, of the Apocaly se, withing for the swearing of the augel that time shall be notonger. Givinous soirits! Ye were nowled at; ye were stoned; ye were soit upon! They have been in this fight themselves, and they are all with us. Daniel knows all about lions. Paul fought with beasts at E hesus.

In the ancient amonitheatre the people got so excited that they would shout from the galleries to the men in the arena: "At it again?" "Forward?" "One more stroke?" "Loo out?" "Fall back?" Huzzal Huzza!" So in that gallery, propuetic and apostolic,

"Loo out?" "Fall back?" Huzza! Huzza!" So in that gallery, propoetic and apostolic, they cannot keep their neads. Daniel cries out, "Thy Gol will deliver thee from the meuth of the lions!" Davil excains, "Le will not suffer thy foot to be movel!" Isaish calls out, "Fear not! I am with thee! Be not disnaved!" Paul exclains, "Victory through our Lor! Jests Curist!" That throng of propoets an apostes cannot keep still. They make the wealin ring with throng of propoets an a gost es cannot keep still. They make the weakin ring with shouting and halleuing.

Thoo again and I see the gallery of the martyrs. Who is that? Hugh Latimer, sure enough! He would not anolog 2) for the truth preached, and so he died the night before swinging from the beip st in perfect glee at the thought of emancipation. Who are that army of six thousand six hundred and six19-8x? They are the The an legion who died for the faith. Here is a larger nost in magnificent array—sight number and eighty-our thousand—who perished for Christ in the persecutions of Dionesian.

Yonder is a family group, Fedicitas, of Rome, and her children. Whils they were dying for the faith she stood encouraging them. One son was whippy! to death by ties. One son was whippyl to death by thorns, another was flung from a rock, au-other was beheaded. At last the mother became a martyr. There they are together—a family group in neaven. You're is John Bradford, who said in the fire, "We shall have a merry super with the Lord to-night? Youder is Henry Voes, who ex-camed as he died, "If I na ten heads they should all fall off for Christ!"

should all fall off for Christ!"

Ine great taron; of the martyrs! They had hot lead poured down their turbats; hores were fastened to their hands, and other horses to their feet, and tous they were pulled abart; they had their tongues pulled out by red hot pineers; they were sewed up in the skins of animals and then thrown to the dogs; they were daubat with combustibles and then set on fire! If all the martyrs' stakes that have been kin lied could be set at proper distances they would make the midnight all the world over as bright as noonday. bright as noonday

And now they sit you ler in the martyr's gallery. For taein the fires of persecution have gone out. The swor is are sheathed and the moo nushed. Now they watch us with an all observing sympathy. They know all the pain, all the hardshios, all the anguish, all the injustice, an the privation. anguish, all the injustice, and the privation. They cannot keep still. They cry: "Courage! The fire will not consume. The floods cannot drown. The floods cannot drown! The floods cannot devour! Courage! down there in the arena." What, are they all looking? This night we answer pack the salutation they give, an! cry, "dail! sons and daughters of the lire!" I sale a rain and less another gallery. That took arain an isee another gallery, that from took arain an isee another gallery, that of ein neat Christians. What strikes me strangely is the mixing in companionship of those who on earth could not agree. There is albert Barnes, and around nin the presentation when the strength him for the course have is Albert Barnes, and around non the pres-bytery who tried him for heteroloxy! You er is Lyman Beeder and the courch court that denounced him! Stranger than at, there is John Calvin and James Ar ain-ius! Who would have thought that they would sit so lovingly tog that? There is George Whitefield and the ministers who would not let him come into their pulpits be-cause they thought him a fanatic. There are the sweet singers Topially, Montromery, Charles Wesley, Isaac Watts and Mrs. Sig-ourney. If heaven had had no music be-fore they went up, they would have started fore they went up, they would have started e singing.

And there the band of mission aries—David Abeel, talking of China releemed; and John Scudder, of India saved; and David Brainard, of the aborigines evangenzal, and Mrs. Adoniram Julson, wuose prayers for Burnah took heaven by violence! All these Christians are loosing into the arens. Our struggle is nothing to theirs. Do we, in struggle is nothing to theirs. Do we, in the struggle is nothing to theirs. Do we walked Greenlan's icy mountains. Do we suffer from the heat? They sweitered in the tropics. Do we get fatigued? They fainted, with none to care for them but cannibals. Are we persecuted? They were anothernatized. And as they look from their gallery and see us faiter in the presence of the lions, I seen to hear I sace Watts addressing us in his old hymn, only a little changed. ing us in his old hymn, only a little changed

Must you be carried to the skies
in flowery neds of ease,
While others fougat to win the prize
Or sailed through bloody seas? Toplady shouts in his old hymn: Your harps, we trembling sainta, Down from the willows take; Loud to see praise of love divine, Load to the praise of love hid every string awake.

While Charles Wesley, the Methodist, breaks forth in his favorite words, a little

A charge to keep you have, A God to g orif. A never dwing soul to save, And fit it for the say!

I look again and I see the gallery of our sparred. Many of those in the other departed. There is the solution of the control of t ao not worry."

nev remember the day they left us. They remember the atony of the last farewell. Though years in heaven they know our faces. They remember our sorrows. They speak our names. They watch this fightion haven. Nay, I see them rise up and lean over and wave before us their recognition and encouragement. That gallery is not full. They are keeping places for us. After we have slain the ion they expect the King. we have slain the non they expect the King to call us, saying: "Come up higher!" Be-tween the hot struggles in the areaa I wipe the sweat from my brow and stand on tip-toe, reaching up my right hand to clasp theirs in rapturous nan Isnaking, while their voices come ring ug nown from the gallery, or ing: "Se thou faithful unto death, and you shall have a crown!"

There I pause, overwhelmed with the dishere I pause, overwashed with the majes v and jov of the scene! Gallery of the Scene! Gallery of proposets and apostes! Gallery of proposets and apostes! Gallery of friends and kindred! On, majestic circles of light and love! Throngs! Throngs! Throngs! How shad we stand the gaze of the universe! Myriads of eyes beamin; on us! Myriads of hearts beating in sympathy for us! how shall we ever dare to sin again! How shall we ever decoup discourage again! How shall we ever feel lonely again!

With Gottor as, and anges for us, and prophets and apostes for us, and the great prophets and apostes for us, and the great sous of the ages for us, and our glorified kinured for us—shall we give up the fight and die? No! Sor of God, who didst die to save us. No! ye angels, whose wings are spread forth to shelter us. No! ye prophets and apostes, whose warnings startle us. No! ye loved ones, whose arms are outstretched to receive us. No! we will never surrender!

Sure I must fight if I would reign— Be fattoful to my Lore; An a bear the Cross, endure the pain, Supported by Tay Word.

Thy saints in all this glorious war Snall conquer, thou in they die; They see the rumph from afar And seize it with their eye.

When that it is strious day shall rise, and all Thise armies since In rolles of victory through the skies, The glory shall be Thine.

My hearer, saall we die in the arena or rise to join our friends in the gallery? Through Christ we may come off more than conquerors. A soliler dying in the hospital root in bel the ast moment and crie, "Aere! Here!" His atten lants put him sock on his rillow and selected him why orie, "Aere! Here!" His autor hin why him nack on his pillow and asked hin why he shouted "Aere" "Oh, I heard the roll call of neaven and I was only answering to my name." I won er whether, after this battle of life is over, our name will be called in the muster role of the pardoned and glorified, and with the joy of heaven bree upon our souls, we cry, "Here! Here!"

Kentucky Camp Meetings.

A writer claims that camp meetings originated in Kentucky in the year 1800, at Gasper River Church, in Logan County, and became established during the great Kentucky revival early in the century. It is claimed that both Presbyterians and Methodists participated in the earlier meetings, though the camp meeting is now looked upon as distinctly a Methodist institution. great revival is one of the curious things in Kentucky history, and its effects are still visible in other things desides camp meetings, granting these religious open air gatherings to have had the origin attributed to tuem. Something of the spirit of the old camp meetings yet survives in the "holiness meetings," but the camp meeting has in this time developed some varieties that have no kinship with the godliness and religious monwealth.—Louisville Courier-Journal. - Boston Transmitte

WATCH CRYSTALS.

HOW THEY ARE TURNED OUT FROM GLASS GLOBES,

Women Cut the Crystal From the Globes With a Diamond Cutter-Beveling and Finishing.

O you know that the watch crystal was made in Eisass. Lothringen, and that when you break it and have to get a new one, that too will come from the same place? You couldn't buy a watch glass that was made in this country if you should cry. American watch makers have tried to compete with the toreign workmen, but it didn't pay. They can sell watch crystals here cheaper than we can make them even after they've paid a duty of sixty per cent. But they don't have to pay such a heavy duty now; that was when the crystals were imported as glass. Some ingenious person has discovered that a watch crystal is a part of a watch. As such it can be imported by paying a twenty-five per cent. duty."

This same Maiden lane dealer in watch crystals who gave this information not long ago described to a Mail and Expressman the interesting process of crystal making. "Isuppose," sud he, "that you had an idea that the grass was spread out in long, thin sheets on a table and then stamped into shape by rapidlyworking presses or something of that sort? It isn't as easy as that to make watch glasses; if it were, we could do it

"There is a district in Elsass-Lothringen where the watch crystals that are used all over the world have been made for hundreds of years. Boys and girls begin this work when they are very young that they may acquire the necessary skill and nicety of touch, for the process is a delicate one. Even these hereditary crystal makers have improved on their earlier process. They used to make the glasses one by one by blowing small, long glass bottles and cutting off the bottoms. These little caps were the crystais and had to curve enough to allow the watch hands to move fidely. By the present process all watch glasses are cut from glass globes. These globes are made of fine flint glass and are blown to the proper diameter to allow the required initial curve. This is from a few inches to several feet.

"The work of cutting the crystals from the globe is done by women. They break the globe into strips by a series of light tans. These strips are placed with the convex side downward on a thin India rubber plate. On this plate is a little apparatus provided with a handle which works a diamond cutter. With this the woman traces circles on the concave side of the glass as close to each other as possible, so as to leave little waste. Then the disk is broken out by a quick tap. This is one of the most difficult parts of the work, and is done best by women.

"The next thing is to put a bevel edge on the crystal, and this is done by men with a small lathe which holds the crystals so that they are ground by a rapidly revolving stone. This finishes an ordinary crystal, except the polishing, testing and packing."

use in open faced watches-are not they made in this country?"

"No, it is more difficult to make them than the ordinary thin crystal. The work on these begins where it stopped on the others. By a special process which consists of hammering and molding them under the influence of heat the edges are raised and the surface flattened so that when the glass is fixed in the bezel frame of the watch, the hands can move freely while the watch is quite flat. This work is done by men.

"Each workman has a retort, some fire clay and coke, for the glass must be sufficiently softened to allow it to take ca," replied Moses.-Texas Siftings. the shape of the mold. With his fire clay the workman makes a bed for the the barber when he finished shaving oven, which is surrounded with coke and brought to a dull red heat. He sits ington Star. at a heavy table before the mouth of his little oven, and with a long pair of tongs places the molds to which he intends to fit the crystal in the retort. When it is hot enough he takes a paper pad on a cork handle and pounds the glass to the shape of the mold. "By the way, the paper in these pads must be made entirely of rags, and the stock of this kind of paper is getting so cess is so difficult that many glasses are warped and tarnished and have crooked rims. The perfect ones are polished and packed and sent to the market."

"Are these the only kinds of crystals that are made?"

"There are about thirty different varieties, and for each one a different sized globe must be blown. You know, the old fashioned watch was so fat and its crystal had such a swollen appearance that the watch was called a 'turnip.' These crystals are occasionally called for now and are made to order.

"In some countries, particularly in Germany, it is considered to add strength to the glass if there is a depression in the center of the surface. This is put in by grinding. Some crystals are ground

Wm. Wade. tress. I also rest well at night and am in good general health, for all of which I thank HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. WM. WADE, Boot and Shoe dealer, 17 in by grinding. Some crystals are ground with figures. Others have the initials of the owner cut in, but the chief difference is in the amount of the initial curve of the original globe from which the crystals are cut.- New York Mail and Express.

The Bacilius of Chelera.

Professor Brieger, of the Koch Institute in Berlin, is experimenting diligently with the cholera bacillus, and is reported to have succeeded in innoculating Guinea pigs so that they will resist the disease. Among the curious discoveries made by the professor is the fact that these deadly microbes cannot be killed even by a heat of 176 degrees Fahrenheit, and that after being frozen tervor that swept the Western country for twenty-four hours in a lump of solid when Kentucky was yet an infant com- ice, they are still alive and kicking.

Scissored Smiles.

If poor relatives had their way they would not have any rich uncles very long .- Dallas News.

THE man who "crooks the elbow" habitually is the same fellow who takes it "straight."—Boston Courier.

"WHERE did Bright spend his honey-moon?" "Money-moon, you mean; he married $3,000,000."-Boston Commercial Bulletin.

THE recent activity in the comet market makes it appear that the asstronomers' business is looking up.-Buffalo Express.

THE college commencement season is a time when the happy senior is in excellent spirits and often vice versa. -Elmira Gazette.

FAIR AMATEUR-"Yes, I painted this. What school of painting would you call it?" Artist (gently)—
"Boarding school."— New York

Corbett has been examined by a doctor and pronounced perfect. now seems assured that he and John L. will whip each other.—Columbus

WHEN the druggist's clerk is treating his best girl to soda he is apt to forget to put 5 cents in the till, for he is engaged in syruptitious business. -Boston Transcript.

Wouldn't the impecunious young man be happy during ice-cream season if the girls' mouths were no bigger than a fashion-plate makes them appear?—Bradford Era.

THE man who devotes too much time to trying to see both sides of a subject is in danger of contracting a mental strabismus that will prevent his seeing anything clearly.-Washington Star.

"Is Smithing a smart lawyer?" "Very. Man went to him with a case involving $150. Said he was willing to spend $1,500 to get it back. Smithins made him out a bill right off for $1,350."-Brooklyn Life.

THERE is a good brother in Topeka who is such a Sabbatarian that he won't ride in the street cars on Sunday, and he is so close-fisted that he won't ride in them other days, so he walks all the time -Topeka Journal.

HUNKER'S INJUDICIOUS REMARK. -Gazzam-"That was a bad slip of the tongue on Hunker's part." Maddox—"Yes, he had just eaten a banana."—Puck.

"Is Bronson as forgetful as ever?" "More so. Why, that fellow has to look himself up in the directory every night before he goes home from business. Forgets his address."-Harper's

Tom-"Jessie has something of the military air about her." Jack—"Never noticed it. What?" Tom military air about her." "The agility with which she flies to arms."-New York Herald.

Every man who takes part in your procession expects in return that you will some day blow a horn in the band in his procession.—Atchison Globe.

Sometimes a man is justifled in feeling that "the most unkindest cut of all" applies to the picture of him that appeared in the newspaper .-Washington Star.

FATHER-That cat made an awful "But what about the flat crystals we noise in the back garden last night. Arnold-Yes, father; I think that since he ate the canary he thinks he can sing. —Tid-Bits.

Pearl-Does he love you? Madge rawberry ice-cream over lavender trousers the other night, and he never said even "Great Cæsar!-Brooklyn Eagle.

"Run for de doctor, quick! Help! help! Dot baby has swallowed a nickel," exclaimed Mrs. Schaumburg. "Mein Gott! you make so much fuss as if it vas a $20 gold piece, Repec-

"THAT was a great downfall," said the young man's upper lip.-Wash-

"This is an application for relief," as the man said when he stuck the porous plaster on his pain.—Philadelphia Record.

THE sphere of woman may indeed be boundless, but she has to stop when she comes to a barbed wire tence.—Ram's Horn.

SATAN-"Did you torture him small in Alsace-Lorrame that they are well?" Asmodeus—"Yes." Satan—bernning to use old ledgers. This pro- "What did you do?" Asmodeus—"I asked him if it was hot enough for > A canal is to be built across Ireland to cost enty million dollars.

Indigestion Cured

"I have for years been troubled with distress in my stomach and indigestion. When I took Hood's Sarsaparilla the effect was surprisrelief, and I now eat without that terrible dis-

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, constipation, bilousness, jaundice and sick headache. Try them

We Offer You a Remedy which Insures Safety to Life of Mother and Child.

MOTHER'S FRIEND Robs Confinement of its

Pain, Horror and Risk. After using one bottle of "Mother's Friend" I suffered but little pain, and did not experience that weatness afterward usual such cases. Mrs. ARME GAOE, Lamar, Mo., Jan. 15th, 18sl. Sent by express, charges prepaid, on price, 81.50 per bottle, Book to Mothers mailed fee. BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO.,

ATLANTA, GA.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD? These is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words all except one word. The mame is true of each new one app aring each week, from The Lr. Harter Medicine Co. This house p aces a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you mook, Beautiful Lithographs of samples free.

The oldest officer of the United States Navy is Commodore Henry Bruce, now living in Boston and on the retired list.

Sample Package Mailed Free.

The New Zealand Government proposes starting a silk industry in its northern districts.

Cure for Colds, Fevers and General Debility, Sm. in Bile Beans. 25c. per bottle.

The Salvation Army are about to build a headquarters for Ireland at Belfast, to cost $40,000.

Guaranteed. We are willing to stand the loss. If you buy a bottle of Bile Beans Small and do not get double value write us and we will cheer ully refund your money.

J. F. SMITH & CO., New York, N. Y.

Clusters of clover, if hung in a room and left to dry and shed their perfume through the air, will drive away flies.

Melancholy promptly relieved by Small Bile C. H. Harris, who was born and reared near Long Bridge, Ga., is now chief of the Cherokee Nation of Indians.

For Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and Stomach lisorders, use Brawn's from Bitters. The Best lonic, it rebuilds the system, cleans the Bood and strengthens the muscles. A splendid ton-c for weak and depititated persons.

The Mayor of Plymouth, England, recently gave a public luncheon in honor of Dr. T. Dewitt Talmage.

A. M. Priest, Druggist, Shelbyville, Ind., says: "Hall's Catarrh Cure gives the best of satisfaction. Can get plenty of testimonials, as it cures every one who takes it." Druggists sell it, 75c.

Count Caprivi, Chancellor of Germanys tips the scales at 216 p unds.

For impure of thin Blood, Weakness, Malaria N uraigin, Indicestion, and Billousness, take Brown's Iron Bitters—it gives strength, making old persons feel young—and young persons strong; pleasant to take.

Gladstone is much addicted to the use of DYSPEPSIA. impaired digestion, weak stomach, and constipation will be instantly relieved by neecham's Pills. 25 cents a box.

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its -I'm sure he does; I spilled some effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most An interesting Pamphlet mailed to any adpopular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. LE. KY. NEW YORK, N.Y. LOUISVILLE, KY.

Smull

Positively cure Sick-headache. 40 to the bottle. Price 25c. Reliable, Econom-

COING TO BUILD? nome designs, FREE. Address >110 PPELL'S

German Syrup

kinson, of Lowville, Murray Co., Minn., makes a deposition concerning a severe cold. Listen to it. "Im the Spring of 1888, through exposure I contracted a very severe cold that settled on my lungs. This was accompanied by excessive night sweats. One bottle of Boschee's German Syrup broke up the cold, night sweats, and all and left me in a good, healthy condition. I can give German Syrup my most earnest commendation."

Beautify complexion by purifying blood. Purely Vegerable. The dose is nicely adjusted to suit case, as one pill cam trep betoo much. Each vial conteins 42, carried in vest-cket. like lead pencil. Business man's great invenience. Taken casier than sugar. Sold every-here. All genuing goods bear "Crescent."

DR. HARTER MEDICIRE CO., St. Louis, Ma. Unlike the Dutch Process

No Alkalies Other Chemicals are used in the preparation of W. BAKER & CO.'S BreakfastCocoa which is absolutely pure and soluble. It has more than three times the strength of Cocca mixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is far more ecoomical, costing less than one cent a cup.

is delicious, nourishing, and EASLY TORRETED.

Sold by Grocers everywhere. W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

Its Origin and History; -- ITS---

DIA CURE.

dress on receipt of Stamp. Dr. L. H. HARRIS, Pittsburgh, Pa.

costing from to $5.

and $5. Hand-sewed, fine calf shoes. The most stylish, casy and curantes shoes ever sold at these prices. They equal fine imported shoes costing from $10 $10 $10.

2 50 Police Shoe, worn by farmers and all others who want a good heavy calf, three soled, extension edge shoe, easy to walk in, and will keep the feet dry and warm.

5 50 Fine Calf, $2.25 and Workingmen's Shoes a will cive more west for the money toan any other make. They are made for service. The increasing sales show that workingmen have found this out.

5 $2 and Youths' $1.75 School Shoes are able shoes sold at these prices.

worn by the boys everywhere. The most service able shoes sold at these prices.

$3 Hand-Sewed, $2.50, $2 and $1.75 Shoes for Misses are made of the best Dongola or fine Calf, as desired. They are very stylish, comfortable and durable. The $3 shoe equals custom made shoes coating from $4 to $5. Ladies who wish to economize in their footwear are finding this out.

CAUTION.—Heware of desires substituting shoes with out W. L. Douglas' name and the price stamped on bottom-such substitutions are fraudulent and subject to prosecution by law for obtaining money under false pretences.

If not for sale in your place send direct to Factory, stating kind, size and wilth wanted. Postage free. Will all exclusive sale to show dealers and general new change where I have no agents, Write for Catalogue, W. L. Douglas, Brockton, M.

2 pair brogans, $1.65. 3 00

The Day's Work.

Do thy day's work, my dear,

Though time has little left for hope and very much for fear.

Do thy day's work, though now The hand must falter and the head must bow.

And far above the falling foot shows the bold mountain brow.

Yet there is left for us,

Who on the valley's verge stand trembling thus.

A light that lies far in the west-soft, faint, but Juminous.

We can give kindly speech, And ready helping hands to all and each, And patience, to the young around, by amiling silence teach.

We can give gentle thought. And charity, by life's long lesson taught. And wisdom, from old faults lived down, by toil and failure wrought.

We can give love, unmarred By selfish snatch of happiness, unjarred By the keen aims of power or joy that make youth cold and hard.

And if gay hearts reject The gifts we hold-would fain fare on unchecked On the bright roads that scarcely yield all that young eyes expect-

Why, do thy day's work still,

The calm, deep founts of love are slow to And heaven may yet the harvest yield, the work-worn hands to fill.

-- Charles K. Shetterly, in Chicago Herald.

JUST IN TIME.

She followed him all day long like a little dog. If he ran, she ran, fell and scrubbed her knees, cried and was lifted up again. Thus it went on from the week's beginning to the

He grew tired of her, and would have liked to run away from her. But he did not dare, for she was his master's daughter, and he was-well, there was the rub-he did not know who he was.

He woke up one day and found himself born. The sky was above him, and there would have been earth beneath his feet if he had not pointed them in the wrong direction. He was ohristened in a random way O a, aud was put on the parish, as they say.

Jeus Oestruo took him as his share of the parish burdens. When he was six years old he could be made useful enough to earn his food and Jeus Oestruo then shelter. wanted to send him away, but his little daughter Birgit was so fond of him that he decided to keep him.

When Ola was twelve years old he could kick a cap from a nail high above his head. Birgit was so fond of Ola that everything he did seemed admirable. Once she said a bad word and Ola was whipped for it.

So Ola was sent to the mountains; he roamed with his alpine horn over the wide mountain plains, ate berries, caught fish, set traps and was happy. He hardly thought once of the little gir! down in the valley.

One day late in the summer she came up to the dairy with her mother. She was carried up on horseback in a basket. When she saw him she flung herself down upon upon the grass and screamed with delight.

But when her mother had reached the hut she ran up to him and hugged him. While the cattle were being milked he went to look after his things. She followed him, proud in the thought that he tolerated her.

"Look here," he cried, lifting up a brown hare, "isn't that a big fellow?"

"What is it?" she asked. "It is a hare."

"No, it isn't a hare. A hare is white." "It is brown in summer. It changes

"Has he two skins, one inside the other?"

Instead of answering he took his knife and cut the hare's skin. "No," he said, "he hasn't got more'n one." The time came when he had to go to the parson to prepare for confirmation. It so happened that she went the same year.

But though he had a coat now, it was a cast-off one of Jeus Oestruo's, which was much too big for him. His boots, too, and his trousers had seen better days, before they made his

He walked aside from the rest; his ears burned when any one looked at bride, with a silver crown upon her Though fast and dark the clouds are drifting him he used a pair of fists which in- bosom. spired respect.

finely made, but his clothes and his church doors wide and went to meet frowsy hair made him look ugly. the bride and groom. Heavy thoughts came to him, and a Ola sat still like a rock; but a fierce, defiant spirit was kindled with- s range numbness came over him. As iv him.

don't mean anything by it. It's just he defiant. a way they have.

monstrated. "I know you too well,

Ola. You wouldn't harm me." "Ah, you don't understand me," he said. "lt's no use talking."

"Oh, yes, I do understand you, Ola," she replied, with a smile, "and I wish you would let me say one thing and the veins swelled upon his brow. of nearly 500 wage reductions and lockto you before I go."

"Say it."

"I wish-I wish," she stammered, while a quick blush sprang to her Ola; "but with Thorger I'll fight. shouting higher wages ever since, began cheeks. "No, I think I won't say it, after all," she finished, and hurried to

"Yes, say it," he entreated, seizing her hand.

"Well, I-I wish you could do as the hare, change your skin."

She drew her hand away from his and ran down the hillside, so that the stones and dry leaves flew about her.

That night he picked a quarrel with Thorger Sletten, who was said to be attentive to Birgit, and he thrashed him. All the following winter he kept watch of her from afar and picked quarrels with everybody whom she seemed to favor.

"Change my skin," he pondered. "Change my skin, like the hare. How, oh, how can I do it?"

This thought followed him day and night. One day, in the spring, an emigrant ship bound for America appeared at the mouth of the river.

Ola packed together his few traps and went up to Oestruo's to say goodby. He met Birgit in the birch grove behind the barn. It was the time when the buds were bursting and the swallo vs had just returned.

"Well, Ola, where are you going?" she asked, as she saw him coming with bundle and staff in hand.

"To America."

"Americal" she cried, "Americal" The answer seemed to frighten her. She turned pale and caught hold of a birch tree for support. He watched her narrowly.

"What are you going to do in America, Ola?" she asked softly.

"Change my skin," he replied with a vigor that startled her. "And if I come back within five years with a changed skin you will promise to wait for me?"

"I promise," she whispered, weeping quietly upon his shoulder.

Five years from that day a young man was seen hastening up the hillside to Oestruo. He had a big slonch has on his head and he was well dressed. His face was strong, square and determined, his eyes danced with joy, for in his pocket he had a royal marriage license with which he meant to surprise somebody up at Oestruo's farm. It was five years today since he left her, and it was five years she had promised to wait for him.

For this hour he had toiled, saved, and suffered for five long weary years. He had been a silver miner in Leadville when the place was yet new, and he sold his claim for $50,000.

As he was hurrying along an old woman, who was sitting by the roadside, hailed him.

"Gentlefolks out walking today?" she said, holding out her hand for a "Gentlefolks?" he cried, with a happy laugh. "Why, Gurid, I am Ola who used to herd cattle at Oest-

"You, Ola! who was on the parish? Then you must have changed your

"That was what I went to America for," he answered, languing.

The church lay half way up the hillside. There Ola sat down to rest, for he had walked far and was tired. Presently he heard music up under the ledge of the forest; there was one clarinet and several fiddles.

A bridal narty! Ye-, there was the another one.

him. But if any one dared to mock head and shining brooches upon her

The procession came nearer. Now the He was a handsome enough lad and master of the ceremonies opened the the party drew near to the gate of the It was at such a time that Birgit churchyard he arose and stood, tall sought him and spoke kindly to him. and grave, in the mid lie of the road. "You musn't mind the girls," she Then came Birgit Oestruo and Thor-

"You didn't expect me to your wed-"Somebody will come to harm if ding, Birgit Oestruo?" he said, and you ever do it," he answered fiercely. stared hard at her. She gave a scream; "That's foolish talk," she gently re- the crown fell from her head, she rushed forward and flung her arms about his neck.

"Now come," he cried, "whoever dares, and I'll make a merry bridal." Jeus Oestru stepped forward and spoke. His voice shook with wrath

"Here I am," he said. "If you want the girl you shall fight for her." "Not with you, old man," retorted

Let him come forward." The bridal guests made a ring on the green and the bridegroom came slowly forward.

fight for your bride on your wedding dav."

Fight? Birgit, who in her happiness had been blind and deaf, woke up with a start. She unwound her arms from Ola's neck and stepped up between

"Oh, do not fight, do not fight," she entreated, holding out her hands first to one claimant and then to the

"You know, father, for whom I have waited for these five years. You know whom I have loved since I was a child. But you used force against me and threats. Now he has come one great fault with the list was that it back. I am no longer afraid of

"Whoever will be my wedding guest let him follow," shouted Ola, "for I have in my hand a royal license to be married to Birgit, Jeus Oestruo's daughter."

"All that money can buy you shall have," he added. "I'll make a wedding the fame of which shall be heard in seven parishes around."

He took the bride's arm and marched boldly into the church. Oestruo, who was venting his wrath ashamed to publish it. It was not exupon the groom.

the girl be snatched away before your very nose. I am glad enough to be rid of such a son-in-law. Come, folks, we'll have our wedding yet. A girl belongs to him who can catch her."

With a wrathful snort he stalked in through the open church door, and the wedding guests slowly followed. - Boston Globe.

Canned Fruit from Pompeii.

Do you know that we are indebted to the old Pompeians, who lived in the first century of the Christian era, for our knowledge of how to can fruit? Perhaps not, but it is a fact, nevertheless. Years ago, when excavations were first being made on the site of the old lava-covered city, a party from America found a jar of figs, not only one, but several. Upon opening one of them the contents were found to be as fresh and perfect as when put into the jar 19 centuries before. Investigations instituted on the spot proved that the fruit had been put into the jars in a highly per cent. since 1890. heated state, and that an aperture for the escape of steam had been left in the lid, which, when it had served its Yankee ingenuity caught the idea at once and the next year canning factories were erected all over the United States. - St. Louis Republic.

Rapid Acquaintance.

Mudge-Judge Billings is a remarkably easy man to get acquainted with, don't you think?

Yabsley-I never noticed it.

Mudge-He is, though. I hadn't known him for over an hour before I borrowed a dollar of him, and inside of the next hour we got so well acquainted that he refused to lend me

HISTORY OF THE SMALL LIST OF BOGUS WAGE ADVANCES TRAT NOW SUP-PLIES TWO PARTIES WITH CAMPAIGN MATERIAL -- BRIEF FACTS IN RE-GARD TO EACH CASE.

The Hon. John DeWitt Warner, of said, "they laugh at everything. They derived and said, the New York Reform Club, has completed his investigation of the twentyeight cases where, according to the American Economist and other high tariff authorities, wages have been advanced in protected industries since October, 1890. Trustworthy examiners were sent to each place to get the facts. Their reports were of such a nature that the Reform Club has published them as a number of Tariff Reform, and the New York Weekly World gave them a full page.

It will be remembered that the Reform Club had prepared and published in the World and in Tariff Reform a list outs in protected industries since the McKinley act took effect. The protectionists who had promised higher wages with the McKinley bill and had been so get uneasy because they could not tell anxious inquirers exactly where wage advances had occurred. They began to search, feeling confident that wages must have advanced in many of "Hard luck," he said, "to have to the thousands of protected mills in this country. They sent out circulars to manufacturers asking them to report the per cent. that wages had been advanced in their mills since October, 1890. In this way and in other ways they got together what purported to be a list of wage advances. Apparently it did not occur to the American Economist editor (or if it did he was so anxious to publish the list that he did not consider the consequence of an exposure) that the manufacturers might misstate facts, perhaps to get free advertising, or, it may be, to attract laborers to their mills. The twenty-three cases of "wage advances" were published with a flourish in the American Economist. Republican papers were not slow in copying the list. last McKinley had been vindicated and the "free trade liars" silenced. But the was short; indeed it was its brevity that betrayed it in more ways than one. It not only exposed the meager results of great promises, but it offered inducements to investigation which a more formidable list would have precluded. If the protectionists were attempting a game of bluff they should have made a list of several hundred advances—so many that it would be a very big and very expensive piece of work to make inquiry in regard to all. But twentythree cases were just enough to challenge investigation. If a few of them could be shown to be incorrect, the already small list would be diminished so that The wedding guests looked at Jeus even Republican editors would be pected by Mr. Warner, when he began the investigation, that the whole list was "You coward!" he yelled, "you let a fraud and that he would, in the majority of cases, get wage reductions for his already long list. The following are the briefcst possible summaries of the list, the quotations being from the American Economist's list of examples of wages advanced under the McKinley tariff, showing increased per cent .: "1. Haskell & Baker Car Company, Michigan City, Ind., 10 per cent.

Wages were reduced from 124 to 25 cents per day in 1889, and restored 121 cents in May, 1890. No change since the McKinley act took effect. "2. Wooster & Stoddard, Walden,

N. Y., 5 per cent.' Strike in May, 1892, caused a readjustment of wages by which some got more and others less-total effect not

"3. Camden Woolen Company, Camden, Me., 10 per cent.' Four looms got a raise because they changed to heavier work; weavers earnings were not increased. "4. Rider Engine Company, Walden, N. Y., 5 per cent."

No advances in ten years, but reductions of 10 and 12 per cent. since 1884. "5. Hawthorne Mills Company, Glennville, Conn., 15 per cent.'

One man advanced from $1.15 to $1.25 in July, 1892, and nearly all of the 200 employes reduced from 10 to 20

"6. Alfred Dolge, Dolgeville, N. Y .. 20 per cent."

Alfred Dolge has for years had a system of encouraging employes to work purpose, was sealed over with wax. for little and to expect more, by advancing the wages of twenty or twenty-five of his more industrious workmen a shilling at the end of the year. In February, 1891, forty or fifty received this advance but in February, 1892, no advance whatever occurred and many employes were disappointed. Numerous reductions each year fully offset these bunched and widely heralded advances. "7. Lake Superior Lumber Company,

> No advance at all was made in this planing mill; report was purely for political reasons. "8. J. C. Bass, Roxboro, N. C., 25 per cent.' The two or three employes of this grist and saw mill never got less wages than now. The report furnished amusement Jan. 26 To cassimere suit clothes..........$ 11 00 \$ 4 00

Sault St. Marie, Mich., 15 per cent.

"9. H. L. Chapman, White Pigeon, Mich., 15 per cent." One of the two employes here is an apprentice and had his wages advanced to 50 cents per day from 25 cents. "10. Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, Grafton, W. Va., 20 per cent. No advances here, but the few that have not been discharged by closing of foundries, etc., have had their wages reduced in the last year from $2.25 to

"11. Wilkins & Close, Mayfield, N. Y. 15 to 25 per cent."
Mr. Wilkins says the report is false, as only the usual advances to new hands have occurred. "12. Close & Christie, Mayfield, N.

Y., 15 to 25 per cent.' Same situation as No. 11.

"13. Cantastota Knife Company, Cantasiota, N. Y., 10 per cent."

In 1891, by threatening to strike, the employes got back about 10 per cent. of the 20 per cent. reduction made four or five years ago.

"14. New York Knife Company, Walden, N. Y., 10 per cent." In April and in Jane, 1892, about two-thirds of the workers by having a union and bythreatening to strike received advances of from 7 to 10 per cent. A general reduction of 10 per cent. occurred in 1885, which the company promised to replace if Harrison was "15. Thomaston Knife Company, Thomaston, Conn., 10 per cent."

Same situation as at No. 13.

"16. W. F. Epperson, Ladoga, Ind., Mr. Epperson's reply to the Republican letter sent him is being widely circulated by Democrats. Instead of advancing wages he has had to shut down his heading factory part of the time.

"17. Pittsburg Reduction Company, Pittsburg, Penn., 10 per cent." The proprietor knew of no advances and was surprised that such a report

"18. Sultan Buggy and Carriage Company, White Pigeon, Mich., 10 per

No advances, but more work for the seme pay. "19. B. Howitzer, Chaseburg, Wis., 10 per cent."

Chaseburg has fifty inhabitants-No Howitzer there. "20. Enterprise Manufacturing Company, Manheim, Penn., 30 per cent." The girls making socks and overails fied and were irregular at work. The firm advanced piece prices from 35 to 45 cents, and from 11 to 15 cents per dozen.

at $2.50 to $3 a week became dissatis-

"21. Shaw Stocking Company, Lowell, Mass., 10 per cent." The reduction by law of working hours from sixty to fifty-eight caused no reduction of wages of day laborers, but piece workers may carn less. "22. Kings County Kniting Company, Brooklyn, N. Y., 5 per cent.

The ten or fifteen employes know of "23. Western Knitting Mills, Rochester. Mich., 15 per cent.' others of the one hundred employes received reductions from 15 to 121 cents per dozen.

Mich., 15 per cent.' Wages have not changed for eight

"25. Langley & Davis, Oriskany Falls, N. Y., 25 to 50 cents a day." Two foremen and one apprentice advanced slightly; six weavers and one

"26. William Carter & Co., Highlandsville, Mass., 15 to 50 cents a day." Five of ninety employes were advanced to prevent them from returning to England. A few other changes in the milis were made because new machines were introduced. "27. McCormick & Co., Harrisburg, Ponn., 15 to 50 cents a day." Forty laborers whose wages were reduced from $1.20 to $1.10 last fall had the ten cents restored in June. Forty puddlers on February 15, 1892, were reduced from $4 to $3.50 per ton. Eightyfive were thrown out in March, 1892, by the closing of one furnace. 28. He (John DeWitt Warner) should not forget the 25,000 employes in the Fall River cotton mills, who had their wages increased on July 11."

The legal change of hours from sixty the tariff question. to fifty-eight per week caused no reduction of wages, because the employes were contemplating a strike to get back a reduction of 10 per cent in 1884.

The Tariff a Tax.

Senator James K. Jones asked the Hon. C. R. P. Breckinridge, of the House Ways and Means Committee, to prepare for the Hon. W. L. Terry, of Little Rock, a statement of the amount of tariff duties on a bill of goods bought by a representative farmer. In reply Mr. Breckinridge furnished an exhibit based on actual transactions between Mr. R. M. Knox, merchant of Pine Bluff, Ark., and Mr. D. W. Branch, a farmer. who bought the goods. Mr. Breckinridge explains that this is calculated upon the basis of copy from the books of Mr. Knox and upon the rate of taxes actually paid upon competing articles at the ports as provided by law. The bill, as it appears in Mr. Knox's books, is subjoined:

a han progens, crop.	43	1317		10
Feb. 5 1 bell collar	- 1	50		75
L'GD. O'L Dell College	- 1
2 pair plow lines		70		16
Feb. 5 1 bell collar	7	25		29
77 11	^	10		2
17 1 box axle grease	_
21 1 Avery plow	- 3	50	1	09 -
2 buck boards, 50c.; 9
pounds nails, 6c 1 bushel salt, 75c.; 1 pair misses' shoes,	1	05		29
1 bushel salt, 7oc.; 1
I Dustier Bart, 196., I pair misses' shoes,
4.1.95	0.	00		62
01.40,	2	00		UN
$1.25 March 8 1 pair shoes, $1.75; 1 pair hinges, 25c	9.	00		50
pair ninges, 200	~			-
1 yard waterproof		75		30
	1	60		37
	-
2 yards calico, at 10c.		20		9
1 wester bushest Offer
1 water bucket, 25c.;				~
1 spool thread, 5c		30		3
April 0 11 nounds noils (is		63		14
April 9 11 pounds nails, 6c 22 2 hats, 65c.; 1 yard		01		17
22 2 hats, 65c.; 1 yard
Itaway 500	- 1	80		51
IRWI!, OOC.
20 yards stripe, 1216c	2	59	1 (06
lawn, 50c		40		60
14 yards canco, 10c.
3 vards jeans, 50c	-1	50		70
3 yards jeans, 50c		40		13
29 dozen mread	-
12 yards ticking, 25c.	3	00	1 :	25
1 cot oune and compare		75		29
1 set cups and saucers
May 3 1 knife		75		25
June 8 2 pair men's shoes	4	00		47
build o w part ment shoes	_
1 pair suspenders		75		20
24 10 yards bleached do-
	4	05		24.4
		25		54
mestics, 12½c
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c. thes, $7.50, $0		50	5	79
July 25 2 suits c. thes, $7.50, $0 2 yards oil cloth, 40c.	16	50 80	5	79 12
July 25 2 suits c. thes, $7.50, $0 2 yards oil cloth, 40c.	16	50 80	5	79
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits cittles, $7.50, $0 2 yards oil cloth, 40c 10 yards gingham 10c.	16	50	5	79 12
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c? thes, $7.59, $9 2 yards oil cloth, 49c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and	16	50 80 00	5	79 12 35
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c? thes, $7.59, $9 2 yards oil cloth, 49c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and	16	50 80	5	79 12
mestics, 1256c July 25 2 snits c: thes $7.50, $9 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush	16	50 80 00 16	5	79 12 35
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c: thes, $7.50, $9 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards ginzham 10c. 1 curry comb and brusb Aug. 19 35 yards bagginz, 9c	16	50 80 00	5	79 12 35
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 snits c? thes, $7.59, $50 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush. Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 13	16	50 80 00 16 15	1 (79 12 35 5 5
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 snits c? thes, $7.59, $50 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush. Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 13	16	50 80 00 16 15	1 (79 12 35 5 5
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 snits c? thes, $7.59, $50 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush. Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 13	16	50 89 00 16 15 60	1 (79 12 35 5 5 18
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 snits c? thes, $7.59, $50 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush. Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 13	16	50 80 00 16 15	1 (79 12 35 5 5
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c: thes, $7.50, $9 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 13 lbs. nails, 5c Sept. 8 14 lbs. nails, 5c	16	50 89 00 16 15 60	1 (79 12 35 5 5 18
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c? thes, $7.50, $50 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c. 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 12 lbs, nails, 5c 1 box axie grease, 10	16	50 80 00 16 15 60 70	1 (79 12 35 5 5 5 18 21
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c?thes, $7.59, $50 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards ginzham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush. Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 12 lbs. nails, 5c 2 box axle grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c	16	50 89 00 16 15 60	1 (79 12 35 5 5 18
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c?thes, $7.59, $50 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards ginzham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush. Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 12 lbs. nails, 5c 2 box axle grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c	16	50 80 00 16 15 60 70	1 (79 12 35 5 5 5 18 21
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c: thes, $7.50, $9 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c. 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 12 lbs. nails, 5c 1 box axle grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, %	16 1 3	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20	1 (79 12 35 5 5 5 18 21
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c: thes, $7.50, $9 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c. 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 12 lbs. nails, 5c 1 box axle grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, %	16 1 3	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20	1 (79 12 35 5 5 18 21 6
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c: thes, $7.50, $9 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c. 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 12 lbs. nails, 5c 1 box axle grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, %	16 1 3	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20	1 (79 12 35 5 5 5 18 21
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c? thes, $7.50, $50 2 yards oil cloth, 40c 10 yards ginzham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 13 lbs. nails, 5c 1 box axie grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, % 1b. 8c 1 bundle ties	16 1 3	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20	1 (79 12 35 5 5 18 21 6
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c: thes, $7.50, $59 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c. 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 13 lbs, nails, 5c 1 box axie grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, ¾ lo, 8c 1 bundle ties 1 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs,	16 1 3	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50	1 (79 112 33 5 05 18 21 6 95
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c: thes, $7.50, $59 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c. 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 13 lbs, nails, 5c 1 box axie grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, ¾ lo, 8c 1 bundle ties 1 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs,	16 1 3	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20	1 (79 12 35 5 5 18 21 6
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c: thes, $7.50, $5) 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle tics, $1.50; 12 lbs. nails, 5c 1 box axle grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, % 1b. 8c 1 bundle tics 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c	16 1 3 2 1 1	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50	1 (79 12 35 5 05 18 21 6 95 39
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c: thes, $7.59, $9 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards ginzham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush. Aug. 19 35 yards bagginz, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50, 12 lbs. nails, 5c 2 box axie grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, ¾ lb. 8c 1 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs, 11 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c Oct. 24 1 suit iems clothes	16 1 3	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50	1 (79 12 35 5 05 18 21 6 95 39
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c: thes, $7.59, $9 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards ginzham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush. Aug. 19 35 yards bagginz, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50, 12 lbs. nails, 5c 2 box axie grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, ¾ lb. 8c 1 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs, 11 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c Oct. 24 1 suit iems clothes	16 1 3 2 1 1 7	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50	1 (2 (79 12 35 5 5 5 5 18 21 6 95 89 84
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c: thes, $7.59, $9 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards ginzham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush. Aug. 19 35 yards bagginz, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50, 12 lbs. nails, 5c 2 box axie grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, ¾ lb. 8c 1 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs, 11 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c Oct. 24 1 suit iems clothes	16 1 3 2 1 1	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50	1 (2 (79 12 35 5 5 5 5 18 21 6 95 89 84
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c: thes, $7.59, $9 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards ginzham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush. Aug. 19 35 yards bagginz, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50, 12 lbs. nails, 5c 2 box axie grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, ¾ lb. 8c 1 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs, 11 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c Oct. 24 1 suit iems clothes	16 1 3 2 1 1 7	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50 10 50	1 (2 (2 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1	79 12 35 5 5 5 18 21 6 95 89 84 37
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c! thes, $7.50, $5) 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 13 lbe, nails, 5c 1 box axle grease, 10 lbs, soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, ½ 1b, 8c 1 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c Oct. 24 1 suit jeans clothes 2 wool hats, $1 and $1.50 1 boy's wool hat	16 1 3 2 1 1 7	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50 50 75	1 (2 (2 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1	79 12 33 5 5 5 5 18 21 6 95 39 84 37
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c! thes, $7.50, $5) 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 13 lbe, nails, 5c 1 box axle grease, 10 lbs, soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, ½ 1b, 8c 1 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c Oct. 24 1 suit jeans clothes 2 wool hats, $1 and $1.50 1 boy's wool hat	16 1 3 2 1 1 7	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50 50 75	1 (2 (2 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1 (1	79 12 35 5 5 5 18 21 6 95 89 84 37
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c: thes, $7.59, $9 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c. 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 13 lbs, nails, 5c 1 box axie grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, % 16. 8c 1 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c Oct. 24 1 suit jeans clothes 2 wool hats, $1 and $1.50 1 boy's wool hat 10 yards worsted, 20c	16 1 3 2 1 1 7 2	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50 10 50 75 00	1 (0	79 12 33 5 5 5 5 5 18 21 6 95 39 84 37 02 33 7
July 25 2 smits c: thes, $7.50, $50 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush. Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c. 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 13 lbs. nails, 5c. Sept. 8 14 lbs. nails, 5c. 1 box axie grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c. 16 35 yards bagging, % lb. 8c. 1 bundle ties. 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c. Oct. 24 1 suit jeans clothes. 2 wool hats, $1 and $1.50. 1 boy's wool hat. 10 yards worsted, 20c. 13 yards worsted, 20c. 13 yards worsted, 17c.	16 1 3 2 1 1 7 2	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50 50 75 00 20	1 (79 12 35 5 5 5 5 5 18 18 12 1 6 95 89 84 37 93 84 93 93 93
July 25 2 smits c: thes, $7.50, $50 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush. Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c. 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 13 lbs. nails, 5c. Sept. 8 14 lbs. nails, 5c. 1 box axie grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c. 16 35 yards bagging, % lb. 8c. 1 bundle ties. 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c. Oct. 24 1 suit jeans clothes. 2 wool hats, $1 and $1.50. 1 boy's wool hat. 10 yards worsted, 20c. 13 yards worsted, 20c. 13 yards worsted, 17c.	16 1 3 2 1 1 7 2	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50 10 50 75 00	1 (79 12 33 5 5 5 5 5 18 21 6 95 39 84 37 02 33 7
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c! thes, $7.50, $5) 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 13 lbe, nails, 5c 1 box axle grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, ½ lb. 8c 1 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c Oct. 24 1 suit jeans clothes 2 wool hats, $1 and $1.50 1 boy's wool hat 10 yards worsted, 20c 13 yards worsted, 17c. 1 set plates	16 1 3 2 1 1 7 2	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50 50 75 00 20 65	26	79 12 35 5 5 5 5 5 18 18 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c! thes, $7.50, $5) 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 13 lbe, nails, 5c 1 box axle grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, ½ lb. 8c 1 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c Oct. 24 1 suit jeans clothes 2 wool hats, $1 and $1.50 1 boy's wool hat 10 yards worsted, 20c 13 yards worsted, 17c. 1 set plates	16 1 3 2 1 1 7 2 2 2	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50 10 50 75 00 20 65 65	2 (79 12 35 5 5 5 5 18 21 6 95 89 84 37 02 337 93 24 24
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c! thes, $7.50, $5) 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 13 lbe, nails, 5c 1 box axle grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, ½ lb. 8c 1 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c Oct. 24 1 suit jeans clothes 2 wool hats, $1 and $1.50 1 boy's wool hat 10 yards worsted, 20c 13 yards worsted, 17c. 1 set plates	16 1 3 2 1 1 7 2 2 2	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50 50 75 00 20 65	2 (79 12 35 5 5 5 5 5 18 18 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 smits c: thes, $7.50, $5) 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c. 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 13 lbs. nails, 5c 1 box axie grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 1 box ards bagging, ½ lb. 8c 1 bundle ties 1 bundle ties 2 wool hats, $1 and $1.50 1 boy's wool hat. 10 yards worsted, 20c. 13 yards worsted, 17c. 1 set goblets 1 set glates 1 set knives and forks.	16 1 3 2 1 1 7 2 2 2 2	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50 50 75 00 20 65 65 75	2 (79 12 35 5 5 5 5 18 21 6 95 89 84 37 02 337 93 24 24 91
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c: thes, $7.50, $5) 2 yards oil cloth, 40e. 10 yards gingham 10e. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 13 lbs. nails, 5c 1 box axle grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, ½ lb. 8e 1 bundle ties. 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c Oct. 24 1 suit jeans clothes 2 wool hats, $1 and $1.50 1 boy's wool that 10 yards worsted, 2½c 13 yards worsted, 1½c. 1 set goblets 1 set knives and forks. 2 dishes, 40c and 60c	16 1 3 2 1 1 7 2 2 2 2 1	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50 10 50 75 00 20 65 65 75	1 (79 12 35 5 5 5 18 18 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c: thes, $7.50, $5) 2 yards oil cloth, 40e. 10 yards gingham 10e. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 13 lbs. nails, 5c 1 box axle grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, ½ lb. 8e 1 bundle ties. 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c Oct. 24 1 suit jeans clothes 2 wool hats, $1 and $1.50 1 boy's wool that 10 yards worsted, 2½c 13 yards worsted, 1½c. 1 set goblets 1 set knives and forks. 2 dishes, 40c and 60c	16 1 3 2 1 1 7 2 2 2 2 2 1 2	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50 50 75 00 20 65 65 75 00 80	26	79 12 33 5 5 5 18 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 snits c: thes, $7.59, $9 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards ginzham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush. Aug. 19 35 yards bagginz, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 12 libs, nails, 5c 2 box axie grease, 10 lbs, soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, ½ lb, 8c 1 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c Oct. 24 1 suit jeans clothes 2 wool hats, $1 and $1.50 1 boy's wool that 10 yards worsted, 20c. 13 yards worsted, 17c. 1 set plates 1 set gollets 1 set knives and forks. 2 dishes, 40c and 60c. 35 yards bagging, $c	16 1 3 2 1 1 7 2 2 2 2 2 1 2	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50 50 75 00 20 65 65 75 00 80	26	79 12 33 5 5 5 18 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c: thes, $7.50, $5) 2 yards oil cloth, 40e. 10 yards gingham 10e. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 13 lbs. nails, 5c 1 box axle grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, ½ lb. 8e 1 bundle ties. 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c Oct. 24 1 suit jeans clothes 2 wool hats, $1 and $1.50 1 boy's wool that 10 yards worsted, 2½c 13 yards worsted, 1½c. 1 set goblets 1 set knives and forks. 2 dishes, 40c and 60c	16 1 3 2 1 1 7 2 2 2 2 1	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50 10 50 75 00 20 65 65 75	26	79 12 35 5 5 5 18 18 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c: thes, $7.50, $5) 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 12 lbs. nails, 5c 1 box axle grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, ½ lb. 8c 1 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c Oct. 24 1 suit jeans clothes 2 wool hats, $1 and $1.50 1 boy's wool that 10 yards worsted, 20c. 13 yards worsted, 21c 1 set plates 1 set knives and forks. 2 dishes, 40c and 60c 35 yards bagging, $c 1 bundle ties	16 1 3 2 1 1 7 2 2 2 2 2 1 2 2 3	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50 75 00 20 65 65 75 00 80 13	2 (79 12 35 5 5 5 18 10 95 95 93 93 93 93 93 94 95 995
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c: thes, $7.50, $5) 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 12 lbs. nails, 5c 1 box axle grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, ½ lb. 8c 1 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c Oct. 24 1 suit jeans clothes 2 wool hats, $1 and $1.50 1 boy's wool that 10 yards worsted, 20c. 13 yards worsted, 21c 1 set plates 1 set knives and forks. 2 dishes, 40c and 60c 35 yards bagging, $c 1 bundle ties	16 1 3 2 1 1 7 2 2 2 2 2 1 2 2 3	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50 75 00 20 65 65 75 00 80 13	2 (79 12 35 5 5 5 18 10 95 95 93 93 93 93 93 94 95 995
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c: thes, $7.50, $5) 2 yards oil cloth, 40c. 10 yards gingham 10c. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 12 lbs. nails, 5c 1 box axle grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, ½ lb. 8c 1 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c Oct. 24 1 suit jeans clothes 2 wool hats, $1 and $1.50 1 boy's wool that 10 yards worsted, 20c. 13 yards worsted, 21c 1 set plates 1 set knives and forks. 2 dishes, 40c and 60c 35 yards bagging, $c 1 bundle ties	16 1 3 2 1 1 7 2 2 2 2 2 1 2 2 3	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50 75 00 20 65 65 75 00 80 13	26	79 12 35 55 18 18 1 95 93 93 93 24 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19
mestics, 12½c July 25 2 suits c: thes, $7.50, $5) 2 yards oil cloth, 40e. 10 yards gingham 10e. 1 curry comb and brush Aug. 19 35 yards bagging, 9c 1 bundle ties, $1.50; 12 lbs. nails, 5c 1 box axle grease, 10 lbs. soda, 10c 16 35 yards bagging, ½ lb. 8c 1 bundle ties 10 yards osnaburgs, 11c Oct. 24 1 suit jeans clothes 2 wool hats, $1 and $1.50 1 boy's wool that 10 yards worsted, 20c 1 set plates 1 set knives and forks. 2 dishes, 40c and 60c 35 yards bagging, $c 1 bundle ties	16 1 3 2 1 1 7 2 2 2 2 2 1 2 2 3	50 80 00 16 15 60 70 20 80 50 75 00 20 65 65 75 00 80 13	2 (79 12 35 5 5 5 18 10 95 95 93 93 93 93 93 94 95 995

Who Pays the Tariff Tax? There is a street car driver in Washington named Mike Doran, says the Washington correspondent to the Republic. He is a native of Ireland and has been in this country about six years. He is a pretty bright fellow, is a close reader of the newspapers, and a careful observer of every thing that is going on. During the past year Mike has been paying a great deal of attention to the tariff question, and has been led away by the theories of the Republicans that protection was a good thing for the poor man and helped to keep up wages.

An incident occurred within the past week or ten days that has made Mike somewhat skeptical. He has been told, by the Republicans, of course, and by McKinley in particular, that the foreigners paid our taxes. McKinley said so in Minneapolis speech, and Mike believed him at the time. About ten days ago a cousin of Mike's arrived in this country. He brought a present from Mike's mother to her son, consisting of twelve pairs of woolen socks which she herself knitted for him. It is safe to say nat the value about twenty cents a pair, but when Mike's cousin arrived at the custom Four apprentices were advanced; many house he was assessed twenty-five cents a pair tariff duty on socks. came to Mike he showed his receipt from the custom house officers for the three 124. Western Knitting Mills, Detroit, dollars that he had paid for the dozen socks, and Mike, of course, had to refund the money to him. This set Mike thinking, and on the suggestion of a friend with whom he conferred, he addressed the following letter to Governor McKiniey on the subject: vanced slightly; six weavers and one finisher reduced from 11 to 16 per cent.; wages of other five employes unchanged.

"Dear Sir—I read your speeches in the House of Representatives during the Fiftywages of other five employes unchanged." first Congress when the Tariff bill was under discussion, in which you asserted and made me believe that the foreigners paid our taxes. I also read your speach as Presiding Officer of the Republican National Convention at Minneapoils, in which you asserted again that the foreigner paid our taxes. My mother sent me a dozen pair of socks from Ireland a few days ago, each pair being worth about 20 cents. My cousin who brought them to me, had to pay 25 cents a pair tariff duties on the socks at the New York Custom House. Will you please be kind enough to tell me to what foreign Government I shall apply to have that $3 refunded to me? If the foreigner pays the tax as you say he doss, I am entitled to get my money back, but I do not know just exactly to what foreign Government to apply, and I hope you will be kind enough to inform me by return mail. Yours truly.

return mail. Yours truly,
"MICHAEL DORAN. "Hon. William McKinley.

This is a very pretty little object lesson, and should not be lost sight of by people who are laboring to understand Protection and Wages.

"No intelligent advocate of a protective tariff claims that it is able of itself, to maintain a uniform rate of wages-without regard to fluctuations in the supply of and demand for the products of labor. But it is confidently claimed that protective duties strongly tend to hold up wages and are the only barrier against a reduction to a scale."-President Harrison's Letter.

WAGES PER WEEK IN EUROPE. Free-trade Protected

W. C. C.	England.	Germany.
Blacksmiths	.$9.60	$4.00
Carponters	9.75	4.11
Machinists	9.00	4.60
Painters	. 8.93	4.82
Masons	. 8.00	4.07
Shoemakers	. 6.00	2.95
Laborers	5,29	3.11

MRS. YOUNGWIFE-"Can you give me a veal cutlet?" The Butcher—" "Certainly, madame." Mrs. Youngwife-"And if it isn't too much trouble, can't you send your boy to the baker's so I can have it breaded?"

THE CALERA JOURNAL. FRANK W. GIST.

Entered at the Post Office in Calera as Second Class Matter.

CALERA, SATURDAY, OCTOBER S.

National Democratic Ticket

GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, A. E. STEVENSON, of Illinois.

For Congress 4th District, GASTON A. ROBBINS, of Dallas.

WONDER if Tom Watson could answer the question, "where am

YE democrats who have gone off after the third party gods, come back! come back!

ALABAMA, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, all democratic. party not it.

THERE is . no uncertianty as to Mr. Cleveland's position in regard to any of the mooted questions of the day. His positions are positive and emphatic, and in a statesman like manner he gives plausible reasons for these positions. In fact his declarations are bed-rock principles of democracy.

presidency on the 1-3 party ticket, should expect the people to forget his part iniquities and suffer him to ful and frightful consequences, but on this line was nominated at the ty seems to be irrevocably commitpass as their friend and savoir is an intensified by the tyrany of such exhibition of undue confidence in soldiers as Gen. Weaver, the negro the forgiving spirit of men who and carpetbag misrule, accompa have been taught to hate oppress- nied by the robbery, the brutality ion and despise a thief.

Birmingham Evening News: E *been led astray by the passions and the prejudices of past canvasses, should come on back into the grand old democratic ranks. Cleveland is a-coming, as sure as fate, but it should never be said that any Alabama democrat voted against him.

THE Mosely wing of the republican party in the 4th district in convention at Selma last Tuesday endorsed Judge Craig, the Stevens for the people of that state admired to Chilton and winds up in Dallas. nominee for congress. This cooks and respected the brave men of that Every voter in the district ought Mr. Longshore's goose. The race army; but because he used his pow- to hear this able young democrat and if Mr. Longshore ever had any money from the people who were chance of election it has vanished helpless to defend themselves. The

THE young man of the Chronicle. C. C. Dubose, has associated with him in the editorial department Mr. H. S. Evans. The Chronicle has been under his immediate control during Mr. Dubose's vacation of a about innocent men who were run- ville, Saturday, Oct. 8, at 2 o'clock. few weeks and has given evidence ning for office, but James B. Weaver of his ability as a newspaper man. The democratic party needs a few president who had been guilty of B. Williams will address the people of such papers as the Chronicle in ev- stealing chicks, turkeys and pigs Shelby county at the following times

News from Florida and Georgia elections is glorious for the democracy. Florida elect the governor and other state officers by 25,000 majority, assuring solid democratic delegation to congress. Georgia comes up with the overwhelming honor a federal soldier with a record Montevallo, Saturday, 15, at II, a. m. other state officers. And she, like her sister Florida, will elect a solid membership to congress-all democrats-by majorities ranging from rose again.

This week another & party paper comes to us. It is issued from We-EDITOR. tumpka by Tyler Goodwin. The Reform Advocate-is above the avclaims that he is a democrat, but boodle." is supporting the mongrel ticket the application to the Advocate.

> and others who know what democracy is, join our nominees for congress in proclaiming the duties the democratic delegation will be elected in November.

RECOLLECTIONS of the horrors of THAT Weaver, candidate for the civil war are yet fresh in the memorv of every one in the south who was old enough to realize their awand violence of reconstruction days when romembered in the light of he and his paper is now united. Gen. Weaver's public utterances of south, should induce every true Remember this veterans and sons or is true to his home can support. of veterans, and cast your vote for the ticket that will defeat Weaver thorough canvass of this district. and his greedy followers. Vote for He has spoken in Cleburn and Cal-Cleveland and Robbins.

see because he was a federal officer, voters of Shelby, from here he goes is now between Robbins and Craig, er to abuse, oppress and extort at least once if no more. third party has no strength there. The fact that Weaver is at its head has killed it Tennessee.

Mountain Home: We have known all classes of men to run for office H. Forney will address the people and we have heard hard things said on the issues of the day at Harpersis the first man to aspire to be from defenseless and helpless wo-

THE true southerner honors and respects the federal soldier who respects and honors himself. The people of Arkansas have exemplified this in the election of Wm. H. Fishback as governor. But will they Pelham, Friday, Oct. 14, at 11, a. m. such as Weaver bears? If not, vote against Longshore, for in honoring Everybody him you honor Weaver.

THERE is crowd of men unknown 1,500 to 5,000. This victory comes to the writer, who make almost evin the face of the fact that republi- ery night hideous to the people cans and third partyites were fused living in the northern and western together and a united effort to de- part of town. It is not unusal feat them. But truth is mighty, to hear from one to a dozen guns or cine, and the world's experience for and though almost crushed to earth, pistols fire in that locality, during nearly half a century has fully demonthe early evening.

THE RECORD BROKEN

Only a few months ago we pubinitial number of this paper_The lished an editorial in the JOURNAL defending the press against the unerage paper started by this third just and gross accusation of subsipromise of at least one decent and experience as a newspaper man, we respectable paper of the Weaver had no knowledge of one single ediparty in this state. The editor still tor who had sold his principle for

But, alas, the "record is broken."

of labor fusion. He is also oppos- that has been howling for months tory if we win. ing the nominees of the democracy against the "subsidized Montgomeof the nation and of his district. ry Advertiser and the little insig-Both of whom are recognized as able nificant sheets that are subject to and honest exponents of the party. its training." Yes, the great Alli- people of this country are convinced If we didn't think it possible for the ance Herald, at the capital of the of the rightfulness of democratic young man to be honestly mistaken state, the paper established under we would be constrained to deny the misnomer of the organ of the the truth of his assertion. We are farmers' alliance. That sheet that organization. going to ask you a question young delighted in spreading discord, conbrother: "If Sam Adams were to tention, strife and dissatisfaction before the democratic state convenhoist the name of Harrison and ad- among its readers by holding up to tion at Albany in February last: vocate his claims for the presidency them imaginary sins of the only and call himself a democrat, would you think him consistent?" Make political party from which the people of Alabama has ever derived THE appointment of Senator and by whom? Every reader of the I have endeavored to present to you Morgan to address the people of newspapers is prepared to answer Shelby last Friday was filled by our question. They know the men Hon. H. A. Herbert, of Montgome- who donated the largest amounts met the people of Chilton at Clan- to be republicans of the most uncomton on Saturday. The speeches of promising character; and not only these men are reported as very able so, but republican office holders. efforts, and the results as very sat- This transaction was in answer to isfactory. Logan, the Chilton an appeal from the editor of the county third party apostle, tried to paper and the boodle hunters who rally the Weaver-Longshore forces expected to be assisted by its pub-THIRD party candidates for con- after Mr. Sandford closed, but he lication, and consummated in broad gress have no show in Alabama. failed. The truth is mighty and light of day, in the presence and at Come back, Democrats, come back! will prevail Let such men as Mr. the sanction of the very men who Sandford, Gen. Morgan, Col. Pugh, had been loudest in condemnation of such a course.

Further, it was by their sanction that the influence of the paper was people owe to the country, get men thus bartered for the purpose of deand women out to hear them, and stroying the very party which has Cleveland electors and Robbins for we believe Cleveland and the entire ever succored them and saved them from oppression, and for the upbuilding and the advancement of the very men and measures which kept them poor and oppressed. And the consent and sanction of these boodle dispensers, to carry the banner of the party that he has claimed to be opposing, but with which ery democrat in Alabama who has vituperation towards the people of for congress, in the 2d district on a mixed ticket of republicans and third man to vote for the democratic tick- partyites, a combination of which et from Grover Cleveland down. no man calling himself a democrat

> GASTON ROBBINS is making a houn. This week he is in Tallade-WEAVER is not hated in Tennes ga, next week he will talk to the Hons. Joseph F. Johnson and W.

Hon. Gaston A. Robbins and Dr. D.

Harpersville, Tuesday October 11, at range 13, east 11, a. m.

Columbiana, Wednesday, October 12, at 11, a. m. At Shelby, 8, p. m. Calera Thursday, Oct. 13, at 11, a. m is Invited!

is well known to the medical profession, and universally approved. The reputation af the firm guarantees excellence and uniformity in the medistrated its value.

FELLOW CITIZENS-I need not urge you to the performance of your full share in this campaign. Kings county was never known to falter in The interests involved demand the greatest sacrifices and highest efforts. It is the welfare party movement. The editorials sy. In that article we were honest of the democratic party which we are written in good style and give when we said: "In all our long all love so well, which is at stake. I plead, not for individuals, but for a cause. In a great contest like this, men are nothing, principles are everything. Our candidates represent our principles, and our principles cannot prevail without the election of our candidates. The put out by the republicans, Jeffer- By whom? The very journal-if contest may be a severe one, but so

> You need have no uneasiness. 'The Old Guard" will do its duty. Look out for the raw recuits. believe that a large majority of the principles and want them to prevail. But the election will not win ieself, and there must be complete

> I repeat the injunction I uttered

"It is our duty to organize, organize, organize." With this motto inscribed upon our banner, "Public office is a public trust," suppleany benefits—has been subsidized, mented by other sentimenes which to night, "No public taxation for private purposes," and "No Force Bill," let us close up our ranks and buckle on the fight with a determry, and Hon. John W. A. Sandford for its service, and they know them ination to do all in our power for election of our standard bearers, Cleveland and Stevenson.—Senator Hill, of New York, in his Brooklyn

> WHITE men of the south, do you value, honor, the integrity of constitutional government and desire its perpetuation, respect yourselves and your families? Do you love your country and its people, cher ish virtue, abhor vice, honor true courage, detest brutality, and theroughly understand the relation of of the races? If so, vote for the

THERE is another issue in thi campaign of equal, if not greater importance, than the tariff which this is not all—the very man of all effects the rights and liberties of men who has made the greatest fuss every citizen. The republican parsame time and place, by and with ted to the passage of a Federal election bill generally known as the "Force Bill," and although it must be evident to the most patriotic and thoughtful members of that organization that its a piece of po-Yes, Frank Baltzell is candidate litical foolishness only equaled by its mendacity. - Senator David B. Hill's Brooklyn Speech.

$500 Will be Given

For any case of Rheumatism which can not be cured by Dr. Drummond's Lightnot be cured by Dr. Drummond's Light-ning Remedy. The proprietors do not hide this offer, but print it in bold type on all their circulars, wrappers, printed matter, and through the newspapers ev-erywhere. It will work wonders, one bottle will cure nearly every case. If the druggist has not got it, he will order it, or it will be sent to any address by prepaid express on receipt of price, $5. Drummond Medicine Co., 48-50 Maiden Lane, New York. Agents wanted.

REGISTER'S SALE.

vs. A. M. Elliott, Trustee, et al) and by virtue of a decree rendered at the Spring term, 1892, of the Chancery Court of Shelby county, Alabama, in the above entitled cause, I will proceed to sell, under the power Pierce, et al, to A. M. Elliott, trustee, at public outery, in front of the Court House door in the town of Columbiana, Alabama, on Monday, the 17th day of October, 1892.

between the legal hours of sale, for cash, the following described real estate, situated near Calera in Sheby county, Ala., to-wit: Fractions A, H, J. M, and the S½ of E and F of section 22, township 22, range 2, west; and the east half of north east quarter, section 2, township 24,

This, August 11, 1892.
D. R. McMILLAN, Register and Acting Trustee. 13aug-10w prs lee$16.50

NOTICE 12,810.

Land office, Montgomery, Ala., September 7, 1892.

Notice is hereby given that the followtention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the clerk of the circuit court The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla well known to the medical profession, and universally approved. The the determinant of the creation and the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz.: W. M. Jones, Charlie Griffin, Perry Riley, Lawson Hunley, all of Calera, Ala.

J. H. BINGHAM,

Marion MILITARY Institute.

Well-Binder, Alla.

son democrats, alliance, and knights we be allowed to class it as such— much more glorious will be the viefamily and faculty live in building with students. Classic and Scientiffe. Superior Commercal Course. TERMS MODE-

> COL. J. T. MURFEE, Superintendent, Marion, Alabama.

MILE MALE & FEMALE ACADEMY.

R. H. PRATT, Principal.

35th annual session begins September 26, 1892, and continues 40 WEEKS.

FONE WEEK FOR CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS.

Intermediate, including English branches and Latin, Higer branches of Mathematics, French, Greek, with the Music and use of instrument, 3 00

Board—per month, $7. Washing, Starching, Ironing $1......$8 00. Students are required to furnish, for their own use, one pr. blankets, the triumph of our party and the one pr. sheets and pillow cases, their own toilet lights. Payments, monthy or quarterly in advance.

> This school is located at Six Mile, Alabama, in a healthy, well watered neighborhood, five miles from Ashby depot, on the East Tennessee, Virginia R H PRATT, PrIncipal,

Six Mile, Alabama.

GALERA JOURNAL Book and Job Office, CALERA, ALA.

NEW AND LATEST STYLE TYPE, BEST OF PAPER AND INK USED.

BIRMINGHAM & MONTGOMERY PRICES DUPLICATED.

$1--A WEEKLY NESWSPAPER--$1.

The latest and most select political, social and religious news. Literature and science, a special feature. Special attention given to local correspondence. For further particulars in reference to subscriptions or Commercial or Pamphlet work, address,

Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats Shoes, Gents & Ladies Dress Goods,

MCALERA, ALA.Do

Have one of the Largest Stocks of Hats, Shoes, Clothing, Notions, Dry Goods, and General Merchandize, Ever Brought to Shelby County

OPPOSITE OUR DRY GOODS HOUSEWe have Opened up a

EMANMOTHESTOCKE

WILL BE IN THIS HOUSE AT ALL TIMES, WAIT ON YOU, and price Furniture as Low as any House in Alabama.

Our Campaign Goods are as neat and as Cheap as any in the State.

A. C. WADE & CO.

RAILROAD TIME TABLE. LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE.

No. 1, South Bound,

4:14 p. m. 5:10 a. m. 10:19 2, North Bound, 10:05 p. m.  10,   7:15 p. m. ALABAMA MINERAL.

85, Arrives at 86, Departs at

4:35 p. m.

COUNTY OFFICERS. Probate Judge—R. W. Cobb. Circuit Clerk—W. R. A. Milner. Sheriff—W. R. Carter Register in Chancery—D. R. McMil-

Tax Collector-E. F. Vest. Tax Assessor-W. H. Kidd. County Trersurer-A. W. Strickland. Superintendent of Education-T. N.

County Solicitor-J. L. Peters. County Commissioners—John E. Dycey, T. B. McClusky, R. F. Johnson, D. C. Davis.

AT THE CHURCHES.

PRESBYTERIAN-Services on the 4th Sundays in each month, morning and METITODIST-Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night, by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sabbath school at 9:30.

Baptist Church-Rev. J. G. Lowrey, pastor. Preaching every first and second Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting at 7.00 p. m., every Thursday.

CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN—J. J. moting the cause, and if possible making but the possible making function and third Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. You canot get all the goodness out of m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday evenings at 7:30. Children's Band meets 3:30 p. m. each 1st and 3rd Sunday. Ladies' Aid Society every other Friday evening at 3.

Wade & Co., have Campaign Hats. Only $1.50.

Coe is still very all.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs.

Monday is always Bargain Day at A. C. Wade & Co's store. Every day in the week likewise. Attention is called to the new n:illinery advertisement of Mrs. S. H. McCauley, of Montevallo.

The Gents, and Ladies' dress and are marked low down.

Dress and business suits, prices and styles to suit every body, at Wade & Co's. Remember that ev-day. He has been assisting his son them entirely. in a meeting at Montevallo this week, and reported a good meeting.

One of the most extensive and best lines of Mens, Womens, Miss-Prices from 25 cents up at WADE & Co.

HUGH T. CAFFEY,

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON CALERA, ALA.

J. L. PETERS. HENRY WILSON, E. S. LYMAN

Columbiana. Peters, Wilson & Lyman,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

"It is a duty you owe to yourself and amily to protect them with a reasonable amount of life insurance, where the stoums of the financial world cannot touch them; where the assessor cannot touch the assessor to the assessor cannot touch the assessor cannot the assessor cannot touch the assessor cannot the assessor cannot the assessor cannot touch the assessor cannot the a tax them; where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old sge should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do your duty and insure immediately in some good, old reliable Company."—Extract from a sermon by the Rev. T. De-vitiated. Cleanse the vital current man's equal whether she be a wise wo- tatives 50 years from now, though the from all impurities by the use of man or otherwise, but when it comes to people were against them and the sen-Ayer,s Sarsaparilla. This medicine regulating our government she is not in recruits the wasted energies, strengthens the nerves, and restores health to the debilitated system.

WOMAN'S COLUMN.

[The Woman's Column is under the supervision of Mrs. F. W. Gist, and all communications for this department should be addressed to her at West Calera, Alabama l

HUMANITY.

There walked one day in a city fair, A city beyond the sea, A singer whose fame in that city fair, Surpassed by none may be;

Lightly humming a favorite air As slowly he walked along, Until at length there came to his ear The strain of a plaintive song. A poor blind beggar was singing By the wayside, asking alms;

The good singer paused to listen-The beggar knew not who heard, Or how great was the fame of that singer Whose heart with pity was stirred.

But when the beggar had finished his plaint A thought to the singer came-One song I'll sing for sweet charity One song in humanity's name! Then by the side of the beggar he stood, And grandly he sang a song,

Till all the beggar's wants were supplied Then the singer passed along. There was one poor heart made happy

And the angels smiled from above: There was one poor heart made hapy and glad By that one act of pity and love!

And that song was recorded in heaven, That song for sweet charity: And the father of love will remember That touch of humanity.

The noted Quaker Evangelist, Rev. J. L. Kittrell, will begin a series of revival services at the Cumberland Presbyterian church the 3rd Sunday in this month.

The pastor, Rev. J. J. Dalton cordially invites all of the churches of the town to take part in the meetings. Mr. night; pastor to be supplied. Sabbath Kittrell comes recommended as a very School at 9:30 a. m. Kittrell comes recommended as a very fine preacher, and a great power in the Master's work.

> Mrs. Carrie Lane Chapman, in her opening address at the MississippiValley Suffrage Conference on September 20, said: "This conference was to be a free parliament to discuss methods of promoting the cause, and if possible makthem until they have been kept in hot water awhile."

Now, here is a pointer for advocates of Woman Suffrage in Alabama. Our men have been in hot water quite awhile. Don't you think they need help and that it is about time for them to reform?.

At the same conference Mrs. H. B. Kells, of Mississippi, said, Alabama political men are a unit against the cause of Woman Suffrage, and the office holder is too busy re-electing himself to branch out into wider and more liberal views. We think Mrs. Kells a little too severe on our men, who are the embodgoods at Wade's are of latest style iment of chivalry. We are inclined to strong minded ideas, they are afraid husband will call it a joke, that they ever relent on this subject, but being classed among "Southern Chivalry," es and Children's shoes ever bought | we would expect kind treatment at their supplications. Of your Woman's courmore admirable in Woman than true courageousnes, self esteem, and the exercise of independent thought. As to the unpopularity of the question, we can assure you it is becoming the most popular sentiment of the period. And just as soon as your fashionable friend Mrs. A. discovers this, she will just that soon be the first to adopt it. As to your husband's joke, he will not joke long, but dollar in the treasury as a campaign will soon decide that Mary is entitled to her own mind as well as he. When he asked you to marry him he must have Read and profit by the following sound thought you quite capable of taking counsel, every word of which smarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel:

And his children; then he must admit and his children; then he must admit

> And why should we not favor and cultivate the advancement of womankind? We are expected be lawabiding citizens. The widow and property owner is called upon as regularly by the tax collector as her neighbor [Jones. When misfortune assails her or the avericious man invades it, there is some low, unprincipled villian who is steeped and wallowing in the po-Intions of deep died sins, points out a licensed house to her where she may be told is a life of luxury. Alas, degredation, misery and ruin is her destiny Why is it so? A lack of higher education, a variety of honorable avocations, and professions, a voice and a ballot to extinguish these dens of hades, and a brave band, with charity in their souls, who are willing to lift a hand to redeem those buried therein.

Alice Stone Blackwell in Union Sigstates have woman suffrage?' Women have full suffrage in Wyoming, municipal suffrage in Kansas, and school suffrage in twenty-three states and territories. * * * In some of these states, as in New Hampshire, women have unrestricted school suffrage, upon the same terms as men. In others the party, distinguished for the audacity right is more or less restricted, in Kentucky, it is limited to widows.

THE FORCE BILL.

from our contemporary, The Shelby News on the subject of the national election law, known more generally down the majorities in the south. as the Force Bill. It is lengthy, but time will be well spent in perusing and studying it:

Look at the force bill, 73 page of print, containing exactly 13000 more words than the Constitution of the United States, which it ignores. It will be enforced on petition of 100 other carpet baggers ask a radical convoters in any city of 20,000, or more gress to authorize a radical president inhabitants, or 50 petitioners in any congressional district—whose names are never to be disclosed. That being a secret between the petitioners and the supervisors can transfer the election from the state to the federal au thority. It declares that all state laws made by the people in conflict therewith shall be annulied, It will draw publicans died in the south, did they from the United States treasury not federal supervisors, brings ballots and bayonets, soldiers and votes so close together that once in operation the power of the people over their elections must the young man draw when he will be gone forever. The house has been called the very breath of the people created to exert | complished since the negro went out | the general government, and yet this of the south has been marvelous. Taxbill provides that the chief supervisor ables values increased in a decade bilwho will control the elections and the lions of dollars in agriculture, in minofficers thereof, shall in no way owe ing, by a percentage far greater than his life appointment to the people, but the Union combined. from a federal judge who holds a life ton crop has increased from 5,500,000 tenure—not from the people—but to 9,000,000 bales an increase of value from the President of the UnitedStates even with the present low prices of Republican supervisors appointed by $20,000,000; in 1891 there were nearly republican federal judges who can re- 45,000 miles of railroad in the south turn republicans to congress in any against less than 24,000 m 1881 district—no matter what the vote?is. Suppose they manipulate the ballot of the country 56 pr ct. In pig iron man box and snap their fingers in your ufacture the south's out put shows an faces? You can't legally touch a hair enormous gain of 323 per cent. as on the head of a single officer of this against a gain of the rest of the counbili. Your state courts have no juris- try of 78 per cent. The increase in diction over tederal officers, in the the number of mill operatives in the iment of chivalry. We are inclined to attribute a good share of the failure of mated, as the selection of federal ju

New England increase of 17 per cent. The protracted services at the our progress to our women. The most rors to carry out any intention of this And so in every line of productive acBaptist church is still in progress. of our women hav'nt the courage to come bill is provided for; the present law tivity as well as in the building of The attendance is large, and some out and say what they would like. They interest shown, but as yet no can are afraid they will get on the unpopular side. They are afraid their fashionable friend Mrs. A. will riducule her as republican in the beginning, republican in the box a partisan clerk. The entire blinking of the box and cities, the south is eclips—have in the box a partisan clerk. The entire blinking of the box and cities, the south is eclips—have in the box and cities, the south is eclips—have in the box and cities, the south is eclips—have in the box apartisan clerk. The entire blinking of the beginning of the box and cities, the south is eclips—have in the box apartisan clerk. The entire blinking of the box apartisan clerk is the box and cities, the south is eclips—have in the box apartisan clerk. The entire blinking of the box apartisan clerk is the box apartisan clerk. The entire blinking of the box apartisan clerk is the box apartisan clerk. The entire blinking of the box apartisan clerk is the box apartisan clerk. The present all the box apartisan clerk is the box apartisan clerk is the box apartisan clerk is the box apartisan clerk. The entire blinking of the box apartisan clerk is the box apartisan clerk is the box apartisan clerk is the box apartisan clerk. The entire blinking of the box apartisan clerk is the box apartisan clerk is the box apartisan clerk is the box apartisan clerk. The entire blinking is the box apartisan clerk can in the middle and republican in ing from $187 per capita to $271, a the end. It provides a house to house record that is unparalleled, and so canvass before the election and em- rapid as to be beyond the realization wade & Co's. Remember that every day is bargain day at this house.

Rev. W. L. Wilson, father of the pastor of the Montevallo circuit, spent a few hours in Calera yester-the Montevallo circuit, spent a few hours in Calera yester-the Montevallo circuit, spent a few hours in Calera yester-the Montevallo circuit, spent a few hours in Calera yester-the Montevallo circuit, spent a few hours in Calera yester-the election and empowers the supervisors to appoint unpowers the supervisors to appoint unp der this bill are made special, which there is agricultural depression, there means that they are to be paid ahead is a want of prosperity among the Now, we can't say our politicians will claims. The approval of the federal of truth has the democratic party ever circuit judges appointing them 8 out of denied the fact? What honest man dare charge the democratic party with quired. Even the President of the the existing national legislation. Did United States cannot draw his salary the democratic party conspire with for the Shelby county market. hands, and due consideration of our without an annual appropriation and the manufacturing and speculative his account examined, and ordered monopolies of this country to the inage, we would say, there is nothing paid by the treasury officials. The jury of the farmer and mechanic. Is up millions and millions before they ure permitting under forms of law its could buy the last elect.on, have embodied in this bill an idea which does ple of five dollars for every one that propose to fry the fat out of the Unitgives the party in power the right to use, under form of law, every single corruption fund. The whole tactics of this bill is partisan, unfair and centralizing to the last degree. A state would not tolerate such a law enacted by its own legislature. The federal attempt to control state officers in the discharge of their duty is dangerous The demogogue who tells the people and theatening incursions into the domain of self-government. The great ble for these things, arraying classes mass of the officers are not required to be residents of the county, but may come from any part of the congres sional district—even though 200 miles away-and utterly strange to any voter in the precinct. When one of the supervisors passes upon a challenged vote there can be no appeal from his decision, that settles it, whether he be 21 years of age, a resiher property, she must employ and pay dent of the state or not. Entrenched There can be no health for either for legal advice and services as well as behind this breast work, a set of rasmind or body so long as the blood is her neighbor Jones. In these she is cals might hold the house of represenfrom shop to shop seeking honest em- | notice the trail of the serpent. So deployment and when she fails in finding vised that there will not only be federal control over all the national elections but the same power will event. ually control all state and county elections. Even now by the laws of some states, presidential electors are voted for on the same ticket with members of congress.

If the democrats should be so unfortunate as to loose the legislature in a single sorthern state, it would be a very easy matter for the republicans to throw the whole state machinery in gear with the federal power. The class legislation of this republic teaches the sad lesson that liberty once surrendered is not soon regained. Shall we cross our hands to be tied, and nal says. The question is asked, 'What turn loose on ourselves an army of deputy marshals more numerous than the lice of Egypt? Will we kennel around our halls of justice a pack of blood hounds that they may mangle our birth right? The people who have seen the central government at Washington, absorb power after power, until now when the republican of its leaders, proposes to be supreme in everything and seeks to perpetuate its powers, they are hardly suprised This bill is intended for the south and for the south alone. If there was no negro there would be no force bill. Below we publish an editorial Republican misrule made the south solid, and now we are to be persecuted for being solid. No one will deny that this bill is intended to break

The young democracy of Alabama, those of it who were too young to see the evil of reconstruction, ask was the carpet bagger a myth or was he the meanest of all things that ever crept upon the foot-stool of God? Did Spencer, Norris, Ely, Applegate, Harrington, Candee and a host of to suspend the writ of habeas corpus that men might be tried before a military tribunal and shot.

Some of you Third party leaders in the south, taught our people that we had no voice in their government, and not a single right which the serfs of Russia are denied. When the renot leave a fearful legacy of debt and less than ten million dollars biennial- bitter memories. In Alabama during It provides for the appointment six year of Republican rule our debt of three hundred and fifty thousand including railroad endorsements was increased over $27,000,000. Is the republican party any better now than then? What mevitable conclusion compares republican misrule with what democratic government has acpowerful and direct influence upon of power in the south? The progress A gain of 87 per cent, in the rest monopolist and trusts who had to put the McKinley bill a democratic measbeneficiaries to rob an overtaxed peocredit to their ability. They are tired reaches the treasury? Who empited of putting up their own money and the treasury of its boasted Cleveland surplus and provided for the the dised States treasury. It absolutely tribution of $200,000,000 annually in pensions? These things have been asserted all ove: this state but whatever one may be the error of the democratic party every candid man must admit that agricultural unrest cannot be laid at its door, and any intelligent man who asserts it, keeps back a part of the truth and deserves the fate of Ananias! that the democratic party is responsiagainst each other, destroying the liberties of the south, antagonizing the races is like the disobedient Jew who laid his sacreligious hands without authority on the ark of the covenant of the living God. Political parties and orators may try the issues but the people by their votes decide them and it is impossible to deceive and corrupt the whole people. Let the republi-can party father its own monstrosities. Are you justifiable in descring the democratic party on the eve of a great battle with bright prospect for a grand victory' This contest surely means Grover ate and President had long been democratic. Holding the courts they could not be convicted, holding the house they could not be impeached. They The poor wage earning girl who must do not pretend as yet, to have any for Weaver amount to voting for Hartoil for her daily bread, often trudges power over Presidential elections, but rison. However sincere a third party

-GO.TO-Mrs. S. H. McCauley's,

NEAR THE DEPOT

MONTEVALLO, FOR

MILLINERY--GOODS.

A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hats in the Lates Styles, and at Reasonable Prices.

Oct 8-3m

Now is the time for everyone who cherishes good health, to pay particular attention to the condition of their blood and its proper circulation. Nearly all diseases that flesh is heir to are caused and agravated by an impure condition of the blood and a sluggish circulation.

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS

Possessing Extraordinary Cleansing Powers

E estoring and Strengthening the whole System, Enriching the Blood producing increased vitality by restoring an impaired digestion and bringing back the bloom of youth to the cheek of the enfeebled and emaciated.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle-6 Bottles for $5.00.

For Sale by All Druggists.

Nabors, Morrow, & Sinnige.

SOLE CONTROLERS,

Birmingham.

WORDS ABOUT THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION.

Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers, 12 Pages.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT.

news center in the world.

4. Its Agricultural Department alone features and for its news service than is worth many times its subscription any other four of the weekly newspapers

tution at great expense.

5. Its Woman'3 and Childeren's Departments are a source of infinite pleasone issue of the greatest weekly news

1. It is the best of all weekly news- "Aunt Susie," the editress of these de-

papers.

2. It is invaluable to the farmer and the farmer's family, bringing each week cheer to the fireside and happiness to the household.

3. It covers the news of the whole world, having its correspondents scattered over the globe, and having a thorough news service from every important news center in the world.

"Aunt Susie," the editress of these departments, is a household world throughout the south.

6. Bill Arp, Plunkett, and Uncle Remained by the year, and their inimitable sketches appear each week.

7. It is the People's Friend, and is the sturdy champion of the agricultural interests of the south.

price to every farmer. This department of the south, and much more than any is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, wnose service is retained by the Constitution at great expense.

Of the south, and much more than any weekly newspaper in America.

9. It is the cheapest, being only One Dollar ser year, each paper at the price of a postage stamp. Think of it! Every time a hen lays an egg she pays for the south, and much more than any methods.

ure to every family, and the name of pers in the world. Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of your neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulated home should be without it.

Agents Wanted In every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information.

THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co., CALERA; ALABAMA.

Receive Deposits, Negotiate Loans,

Issue interest bearing certificates of Deposit, and sell exchange on New York Louisville and Birmingham at regular rates eqarged by the larger cities.

We transact a general banking business, such as that of any incorporated bank in all of its legitimate branches, and would be pleased to open accounts with merchants, manufacturers and planters alike.

and Life Insurance

Written in the best companies.

CHTY PROPERTY AND FARM LANDS

Bought, Sold and Rented upon just terms.

man may be when he states that he is able to grasp the solid pillars of the the hungry, rebelious, man hating, heart of things, we felt intensely by woman selling gang—corporated un-der the name of democracy—a name that negro sufferage was a stern reality should be blotted from the vocabulary white men to allow any quackery to of civilized man and handed over to divide them. So important did dethe barbarians it so fully now and in all the past has represented." This that the best men should rule and so ought to excuse any man south, but if great did she consider the perils of dipensioner. There are men who have south which I have given thee to dwell been misled into the third party, could in for yourselves and for your chilif they would stop and think, realize dren. Like Solomon of old sheasked measure is destined to retard progress. macy, which endures forever and in destroy confidence, impair develop-still a democrat, you see how little truth there is in it. Weaver, the third party candidate, said long ago "no your liberties will perish in the wreck. republican can ever under any cir- We of the south did become solid as if cumstances have any part or lot with by intuition, we did see into the true that negro sufferage was a stern reality so full of stench and poison that it altogether too serious a matter for this is not enough search his record, vision to be in the south that it was as you will find him a maligant bloody it the Lord had appeared unto her in shirt republican—when he did not a dream by night, and asked what pose as a greenbacker or a gold basis shall I give thee for the land of the in for yourselves and for your chilhow republican supremacy and this for wisdom to rule, for white supreas much as she did not ask for increase ment, engender strife, revive bitter- of wealth, for silver, for greater comness, relegate us back to the dark merce, for blazing industries, for ferdays of fraud and produce only evil tile fields, for happy homes all these continually. But if like mad men things have been added unto her. Subject: The King's Highway.

Text: "And an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called the way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those; the wayfaring men, though fools, shill not err therein. No lion shall be there, nor any ravenous beast shall go up thereon. It shall not be found there, but the redeemed shall walk there, and the ransomed of the Lord shall return and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy unon their heads; they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.—Isaiah xxxv., $-10.

There are thousands of propile here this

There are thousands of people here this morning who want to find the right road. You sometimes see a person halting at crossroads, and you can tell by his looks that he roads, and you can tell by his looks that he wishes to ask a question as to what direction he had better take. And I stand in your presence this morning conscious of the fact there are many of you here who realize that there are a thousand wrong roads, but only one right one, and I take it for granted that you have come in to ask which one it is. Here is one road that opens widely, but I have not much faith in it. There are a great many expensive followers exactioned all along. many expensive tollgates scattered all along that way. Indeed at every rod you must pay in fears, or pay in flagellations. On that road, if you get through it at all, you have to pay your own way, and since this differs so much from what I have heard in second to the right way. I believe it is the regard to the right way, I believe it is the regard to the right way, I believe it is the wrong way.

Here is another road. On either side of it are houses of sinful entertainment, and invitations to come in and dine and rest but from the looks of the people who standen the piazza I am very certain that it is the wrong house and the wrong way. Here is another road. It is very beautiful and macadamized. The horses' hoofs clatter and wring, and they who ride over it spin along the highway until suddenly they find that the road breaks over an embankment, and they try to halt, and they saw the bit in the mouth of the fiery steed and cry "Whoa! whoa!" But it is too late, and-crash—they go over the embankment. We shall turn this morning and see if we cannot find a different kind of a road.

You have heard of the Appian Way. It

You have heard of the Appian Way. It was three hundred and fifty miles long. It was twenty-four feet wide, and on either side the road was a path for foot passengers. But I have this morning to tell you of a road built before the Appirn Way, and yet it is as good as when first construed. Millions of souls have gone over it. Millions more will

First, this road of the text is the King's highway. Well, my Lord the King decided to build a highway from earth to heaven. It should span all the chasms of human wretchedness; it should tunnel all the mountains of eartely difficulty; it should be wide enough and strong enough to hold fifty thousand millions of the human race, if so many of them should ever be born. It should be blasted out of the "Rock of Ages," and cemented with the bloot of the Cross, and he lifted amid the shouting of angels and the execration of devils.

The King sent His Son to build that road.
He put head and hand and heart to it, and after the road was completed, waved His blistered hand over the way crying, "It is thished."

Still further—this road spoken of is a cleen road. Many a fine read has become miry and foul because it has not been properly cared for; but my text says the unclean shall not walk on this one. Room on either side to throw away your sins. Indeed, if you want to carry them along, you are not on the right road. That bridge will break those overlanging rocks will fall the are not on the right road. That bridge will break, those overhanging rocks will fall, the night will come down, leaving you at the mercy of the mountain bandits, and at the very next turn of the road you will perish. But if you are really on this clean road of which I have been speaking, then you will stop ever and auon to wash in the water that stands in the basin of the eternal rock. Aye, at almost every step of the journey you will be crying out, "Create within me

If you have no such aspirations as that it shall see the Lord, and if you have any idea that you can carry along your sins, your lusts, you worldliness and yet to the end of the Christian race you are so awfully mistaken that, in the name of God, this morning I shatter the delusion.

Still further, the road spoken of is a plain road. "The wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein"—that is, if a man is three-fourth an idot he can find this road instag well as if he were a philosopher.

road. "The wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein"—that is, if a man is three-fourth an idot he can find this road just as well as if he were a philosopher.

Many a man has been familiar with all the higher branches of mathematics and yet could not do the simple sum, "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" Many a man has been a fine reader of tragedies and poems and yet could not "readhis title clear to mansions in the skies." Many a man has botanized across the continent and yet did not know the "Rose of Sharon and the Lily of the Valley." But it one shall come in the right spirit, asking the way to heaven, he will find it a plain way. The pardon is plain. He who tries to get on the road to heaven through the New Testament teaching will get on beautifully. He who goes through philosophical discussion will not get on at all. Christ says, "Come to Me, and I will take all your troubles away." Now, what is the use of my discussing it any more? Is not that plain? After this Bible has pointed you the way to heaven, is it wise for me to detain you with any discussion about the nature of the human will, or whether the atoncement is limited or unlimited? There is the road—go on it. It is a plain way.

Still further, this road to heaven is a safe road. Sometimes the traveler in those ancient highways would think himself perfectly secure, not knowing there was a lion by the weay burying his nead deep between his paws, and then when the right moment rame, under the fearful spring, the man's life was gone and there was a mauled carcass by the roadside. But, says my text, "No lion shall be there." I wish I could make you feel this morning your entire security. I tell you plainly that one minute after a man has become a child of God he is as safe as though he had been ten thousand years in heaven. He may slip, he may slide, he may stumble, but he cannot be destroyed. Kept by the power of God through faith unto complete salvation. Everlastingly safe.

The severest trial to wh

ly safe.

The severest trial to which you can subject a Christian man is to kill him, and that is glory. In other words, the worst thing that can happen a child of God is heaven. The body is only the old slippers that he throws aside just before putting on the sandals of light. His soul, you cannot hurt it. No fires can consume it. No floods can drown it. No devils can capture it.

His soul is safe. "But" you say. "Sup-

His soul is safe. His reputation is safe, Everything is safe. "But," you say, "suppose his store burns up?" Why, then it will only be a change of investments from earthly to heavenly securities. "But," you say, "suppose his name goes down under the hoof of scorn and contemat?" The name will be so much brighter in glory. "Suppose his physical health fails?" God will nour into him the floods of everlasting health, and it will not make any difference. Earthly subtraction is heavenly addition. The tears of earth are the crystals of heaven. As they take rags and tatters and put them through the paper mill and they come out beautiful white sheets of paper, so often the rags of earthly destitution, under the cylinders of death, come out a white scroll upon which shall be written eternal emancipation.

Still further, the road spoken of is a pleasant road. God gives a bond of indemnity against all evil to every man that treads it. "All things work together for good to those who love God." No weapon formed against them can prosper. That is the bond, signed, sealed and delivered by the President of the universe. What is the use of your fretting, O child of God, about food? "Behold the fowls of the air, for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into bands, yet your heavenly Father feedeth them." And will He take care of the sparrow, will the take care of the hawk, and let you die? What is the use of your fretting about clothes? "Consider the illies of the field. Shall He not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith?" Oh, this King's highway! Trees of life on either side bending over until their branches interlock and drop midway their fruit and Still further, the road spoken of is a pleas-interlock and drop midway their fruit and shade. Houses of entertainment on either side of the road for poor pilgrims. Tables spread with a feast of good things and walls sprend with a feast of good things and walls adorned with apples of gold in pictures of silver. I start out on this King's highway, and I find a harper, and I say, "What is your name?" The harper makes no response, but leaves me to guess, as with his eyes toward heaven and his hand upon the trembling strings this tune comes rippling out up on the air: "The Lord is my light and my salvation. Whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life. Of whom shall I ha the strength of my life. Of whom shall I be afraid?"

I go a little farther on the same road and I go a little farther on the same road and meet a trumpeter of heaven, and I say, "Haven't you got some music for a tired pilgrim?" And wiping his lip and taking a long breath, he puts his mouth to the trumpet and pours forth this strain: "They shall hunger no more, neither shall they thirst any more, neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat, for the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall lead them to living fountains of water, and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes."

I go a little distance farther on the same road, and I meet a maiden of Israel. She has no harp, but she has cymbals. They look as if they had rusted from sea spray, and I say to the maiden of Israel, "Have you no song for a tired pilgrim?" And like the clang of victors' shields the cymbals clap as Miriam begins to discourse, "Sing ye to the Lord, for the hath triumphed gloriously; the horse and the rider hath He thrown into the horse and the rider hath He thrown into

I pursue this subject only one step orther. What is the terminus? I do not farther. What is the terminus? I do not care how fine a road you may put me on, I want to know where it comes out. My text declares it, "The redeemed of the Lord come to Zion." You know what Zion was. That was the King's palace. It was a mountain fastness. It was impregnable. And so heaven is the fastness of the universe. No howitzer has long enough range to shell those towers. Let all the batteries of earth and hell blaze away; they cannot break in these gates. (fibralter was taken; Sebastopol was taken; Babylon fell; but those walls of heaven shall never surrender either topol was taken; Babylon fell; but those walls of heaven shall never surrender either to humanity or satanic besiegement. The Lord God Almighty is the defense of it. Great capital of the universe! Terminus of the King's highway!

When my last wound is healed, when the last heartbreak is ended, when the last tear of earthly sorrow is wiped away, and when the redeemed of the Lord shall come to Zion, then let the harpers take down their harps, and all the trumpters take down their trumpets, and all across heaven there be trumpets, and all across heaven there be chorus of morning stars, chorus of white robed victors, chorus of martyrs from under the throne, chorus of ages, chorus ot worlds, and there be but one soong sung, and but one name spoken, and but one throne honored—that of Jesus only.

Good roads require something more than the labor of farmers measured out in the spring payment of a petty poll tap. In fact, farmers might devote half their time to "working on the road" and country highways would then show but little improvement over their present condition. It is not more work that is needed, but better plans; the methods of construction must be scientific. This means that there must be a new profession of highway engineering. It may constitute a branch of civil engineering, but it will extend into a fleld which the civil engineer has not the time to enter. Schools and eolleges should upon it the words, "There is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof is death." Without holiness no man shall see the Lord, and if you have any idea that we are cavery alone words in the wine extend which the wine extend that it will extend that a field which the civil engineer has not the time to enter. Schools and eolleges should make provision for this new profession. The course of study will include first the importance of good roads. The student must know that roads. The student must know that their uses are commercial, social, political and military, and to what extent each of these elements of our national existence and prosperity depends upon the common means of intercommunication. This involves a history of highways, extending from the time of the Romans and Egyptians, since it is well known that their supremacy in the world of their day was largely due to magnificent roadways. There are many points of distinction between a road and a street which the student must master. Coming specifically to the road, attention must be given to its expense or economy. Then will follow the questions of shape or cross-section, surface or finish, direction or alignment, and grade or inclination. There is much to learn on the subjects of location, workmanship, maintenance and legislation. The mere enumeration of those points is sufficient to show that good roads depend upon technical skill quite as much as railroads and bridges. They can never be had by the aimless plowing and scraping which the pathmaster throughout the country orders every spring, not even though the work extended through the year. It must be that every farmer realizes the money value of good roads. "In the western wheat region," reads a statement in the tenth census report, "according to the estimates received, it costs the ordinary farmer more to carry a bushel of wheat a mile than it does the ordinary railroad to carry a ton, consequently when we get west of Lake Michigan it rarely pays to grow wheat more than twenty miles from rail or water transportation." Having been convinced of the enormous odds against him in his competition with the rest of the world, the farmer is helpless in the effort to equalize the conditions, so far as reaching a market is concerned. He must turn his roads over to some one who knows what they lack and can supply it. The highway engineer is a necessity of the future.

> THE movement that has sprung up all over the country for good roads is now taking the shape of a demand that there be a road-making exhibit of some kind at the World's Fair. If it is merely frightful examples that are needed Illinois can furnish all of

> THE druggist who mistakes morphine for quinine has reappeared in New York. He is almost on a par with the man who rocks the boat.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

AUSTRALIA has lately been making a great outcry about the damage inflicted upon the country by the plague of rabbits. It seems, however, that there are some small compensations in the case. A killer gets 2c a head royalty from the Government for killing the animal, the skin of which he can sell at from 4c to 6c, and for the meat he can get from 2c London, where, so brisk is the business, the sales every six weeks average 1500 to 2000 bales, each bale holding about 200 skins. It is not surprising, therefore, that a large number of people in Australia find rabbit killing more profitable than farming. The skins, which are bought up in bulk in London by the hat manufacturers, are turned over to operators who pluck off the pelt by hand, no suityet been invented. A fine blue fur is then left on the pelt. The skin is then pared away from the fur by machinery so delicate that when the last particle is cut off the fur sometimes hangs in one filmy section. This is worked up into The English rabbit supplies the best fur, then comes the New Zealand rabbit and then the Australian.

Any person who has had occasion critically to examine the law reports of the several States as they are published will be surprised, the New York Sun thinks, at the harmony and uniformity in the rulings of the courts rather than at the diversity of the views judicially expressed. The certainty of the law as administered in forty-four different States under forty-four different judicial systems is much more remarkable than the uncertainty. But considerable diversity of opinion is undoubtedly sometimes developed. Thus we find in the June number of the American Digest, upon the same page, references to two decisions, one in Georgia and another in Missouri, which it is rather difficult to reconcile with one another. In the Georgia case, which was a criminal prosecution, the counsel for the State in his argument to the jury told them that they knew the defendant as well as he did, and that one of the defendant's witnesses in testifying had 'lied from stem to stern." This freedom of language was held not to be sufficient ground for a new trial. In the Missouri prosecuting attorney told the jury the defendant was "a sugar-loafed, squirrelheaded Dutchman.'

"A LADY of fine artistic taste has discovered," remarks the London Graphic, 'that at church parade her prayer-book by its incongruous color, entirely ruined the effect of a carefully conceived costume. It struck a discord in an otherwise perfectly harmonious dress. This has been remedied by having a cover to her prayer-book which shall be perfectly in accord with the leading tone of her garments. The prayer-book cover will henceforth receive as attentive consideration as the bonnet, the gloves, and the sunshade, and no jarring note of color will be introduced by means of a volume bound in blue velvet or in scarlet morocco. tensive. For it is easy enough to imagine that the most artistic arrangement of color may be at once ruined by its wearer happening to take in hand some garishly bedizened novel of to-

THEY were gallant cadets who jumped from the deck of the Constellation and R. I. The names of the cadets are W. S. brave act has been officially reported to the Navy Department. It may be presumed that they will receive, besides the approbation of their superior officers, the medal of the Humane Society bestowed in recognition of brave deeds in saving life. The medal of the Humane Society is no mean decoration for any officer in the naval service to win and wear alongside of whatever medals or crosses he may achieve for prowess in battle. But more precious than medals is the reflection that such deeds command universal applause and admiration.

IT is often said that if white people could live most of the time in the open air, like the Indians, they would never have consumption; and, in fact, certain physicians attempt to cure consumption by keeping their patients outdoors nearly all the time. But Dr. A. B. Holder, of Memphis, Tenn., now comes forward with statistics to show that the Indian is peculiarly subject to pulmonary diseases. Reports which he secured from the Indians of Yankton and Sisseton, Dak. Devil's Lake, Dak.; Green Bay, Wis.; Tulalip, Wash.; Standing Rock, Dak.; Lower Brule, Dak.; Osage, I. T.; Crow Creek, Dak.; Cheyenne River, Dak., and Western Shoshone, Nev., all teemed with data as to the fatal ravages of consumption. Of 1,453 deaths from all diseases in 1888, 514 were from consumption alone.

F. J. SCHORNERHORN, the geologist and mineralogist, who is working in the interest of Idaho's exhibit at the World's Fair, said he had discovered an immense glacial field in central Idaho beneath which lie a series of glacial lakes. The field probably covers an area nearly as great, though not as thick, as the great glacial field of the Alps. He had examined sixteen terminal moraines, eleven of which were receding, four were station-

Mr. Charles F. Lummis says, in an article on "The Indian Who is not Poor," in Scribner: "The Pueblo, the most to-day, is emphatically an Indian who is sically, mentally, morally, socially, politically, he need not shun comparison with As an Indian he is a paradox; as a human, he is unique in the whole world."

EDWIN ELLIS, some of whose famous Southdown sheep are to be exhibited in this country at the coming World's Fair, is not only a great land owner and an energetic business man, but also a philanthropist. He has built near his home in Surrey, England, an experimental row of neat cottages for his tenants, an ideal school-house and a club-house for the people, and his daughter has a woodcarving class among the tenantsclub-house has provision for billiards and to 4c from the canning factories. The other games, a prettily decorated social skins are bale-pressed and exported to hall capable of seating 500 persons and a library of 800 or more volumes with numerous periodicals.

THE census returns furnish some very interesting reading. For instance, there were 334,194 families in the State of Tennessee with an average of 5.29 persons to a family. There were 323,136 dwellings in the State, with an average of 5.47 persons to a dwelling. Of course there was no decimal fraction of a person in any dwelling, but the figures make the averages stated. The total number of dwellings in the United States in 1890 was 11,483,318, and the average number of persons to a dwelling was 5.45. The total number of families in this country was 12,690,152, and the average number to a family 4.93.

THE most recent estimate of capital invested in the electrical industries in the United States is $700,000,000, and of this amount $350,000,000 represents the proportion which electric lighting and power have attained; $100,000,000 is also the estimated investment in electrical supplies, of which the electric lighting and railway appliances constitute a large proportion.

THE anti-pork people say that the eating of pork is the fruitful cause of scrofulous diseases, not to speak of the deadly trichina. But an eminent physician declares, that of all the races in the world, the North American Indians are the most afflicted with scrofula, though they eat very little pork.

OVERRUN WITH SQUIRRELS.

New York's Central Park Overrun With the Rodents.

Central Park is the great squirrel centre of the country, and probably more of the little rodents are found to the square acre in this public pleasure ground than in their most favorite haunts among the case a new trial was granted because the wild nut groves. The exact number has never been accurately ascertained, but irregular attempts to take their census have resulted in the remarkable disclosure of a population running up into the thousands.

The gray squirrel colony increases rapidly every year. So tame and lively do they become in early spring when hunting for food that they will often approach visitors to the Park and almost beg for food. If a nut is thrown to them, they will approach within half a dozen feet to get it, and then run away to some tree to nibble it

During their breeding season they are very wary and sly. They seldom ap-proach their nests directly, but run up neighboring trees, and jump from branch to branch until they have completely be-If this rule be applied to every-day garments and to any volume that a lady may feel inclined to read, the business in fancy book-covers can not fail to be exsmall families wandering over the fields in search of nuts.

At one time the common gray squirrels were so abundant in the Eastern States that they were considered a scourge by the farmers, and heavy premiums were offered for their destruction. They destroyed grain crops as well as fruit orchards; but gunners and sportsmen have saved three lives, those of a mother and long since reduced their numbers so that her two children who were being swept it is rarely one finds a large colony of them in any woods.

It is doubtful if many birds could Montgomery, N. Mansfield, W. H. Standley and F. N. Freeman. Their of so many squirrels, for the presence of so many squirrels, for the rockents are passionately fond of eggs. They will not only eat the eggs in the nest, but they will often destroy the young birds themselves, making it almost impossible for a brood to reach maturity. Although the park is the great resort for song birds, it is a strange fact that comparatively few of them nest there, although they would not be disturbed by the people who visit the place. It is very proba ble that there is some connection between the presence of the gray squirred in the park and the noted absence of many bird's

The gray squirrels are in their natural haunts in this central portion of the city. Long before the park was laid out, this whole upper section of Manhattan Island was the home and resort of the squirrels and birds. They were then only disturbed by the hunters, but their numbers in this way were kept down. When the park was laid out, a few old couples remained in it, and finally the city grew around the place so that they could not retreat further north. They were then bemmed in on every side; but as protection was extended to them by the Park Board, their numbers rapidly increased, until today the colony is about the largest in this country.

The rodents are great additions to the park, and their presence is always to be desired. They give an interest to the scene, even in midwinter, and it would be a great loss to have them sacrificed to any prejudiced notion. They do little or no damage to the trees, and there are no fruits or grain fields for them to destroy.—[G. E. Walsh, in Harper's Week-

The Art of Tying a Knot.

A veteran sailor the other day made the remark: "If those people whose busiary, and one was advancing. None of them extended more than 2,000 feet tacklings would only learn the true art ness requires them to handle ropes and below the snow line. The glaciers are of tying knots, many a serious accident located about twenty-five miles southwest in life might be averted. There is not a of Shoup amid a number of high peaks single child in the land but should be not down on the maps. couple of scientific hitches. This is one of the first duties of a sailor, and his selection of knots covers the whole field striking ethnologic figure in our America on shipboard and out of sight of land when he is called up to tie together at not poor from any point of view. Phy- the end of a rope his soiled shirt and clothes that need a good dousing. If the average of his lately acquired countrymen; and he even affords luxuries to which the superior race has at lately acquired tountrymen; and he even affords luxuries to it, is just as just at life in the superior race has at lately acquired to the knot is not properly tied he loses them. It may seem a triding thing, but it is just as just at lately acquired to the loses the superior race has a lately acquired to the loses the superior race has a lately acquired to the lose of the lately acquired to which the superior race has not yet risen. It is just as important which the superior race has not yet risen.

TEACHER (in mineralogy class)-"Johnny, give me the name of the largest known diamond." Johnny-The ace."—Jewelers' Weekly.

GRACE-"Miss Passe will catch cold if she sits on the piazza much longer." Rosalie-"No, she won't. She's been trying for years to catch something."—Judge.

"How po you do?" said mamma's caller to little Fay. "I don't do anything now," answered Fay. "It's vacation, and mamma said I could have a rest."—Harper's Young People.

The True Laxative Principle

Of the plants used in manufacturing the pleasant remedy, Syrup of Figs, has a permanently beneficial effect on the human system while the cheap vegetable extracts and mineral solutions, usually sold as medicines, are permanently injurious. Being well informed, you will use the true remedy only. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

There are 37,000 women telegraph operators in the United States, and the number is constantly growing.

IF your Back Aches, or you are all worn out, good for nothing, it is general debility. Brown's from Bitters well cure you, make you strong, cleanse your liver, and give a good appetite—tones the nerves.

The Socialists of Paris have collected a fund wherewith they are to publish a daily labor paper.

The Only One Ever Printed. CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

The is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTI-FUL LITHOGRAPHS OF SAMPLES FREE

J. S. Parker, Fredonia, N. Y., says: "Shall not call on you for the $100 reward, for I believe Hall's Catarrh Cure will cure any case of catarrh. Was very bad." Write him for particulars. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Great distress prevails among the 10,000 idle employes of the tin plate factories in

Brown's Iron Bitters cures Dyspepsia, Malaria, Biliousness and General Debility. Gives Strength, aids Digestion, tones the nervescreates appetite. The best tonic for Nursing Mothers, weak women and children.

Hackmen of Chicago have the word "Union" painted on each side of the driver's

MEDICAL science has achieved a greattriumph in the production of Beecham's Pills which at 25 cents at box replace a medicine chests

If afflicted with sore eyes use Dr. IsnacThompson's Eye-water, Druggists sell at 25c a bottle

Scrofula Afflicted me four yearsblotches all over my body, swelling in my neck, and in less than a year had lost 40 lbs. I was induced by H. L. Tubbs, our druggist, to try Hood's Sarsapa-

Mr. G. W. Doner. and lump in my neck disappeared, and I soon began to gain in flesh. In 4 months there was none of the disease left in my system, and I was as well and strong as ever." G. W. DONER, Osceola, South Dakota.

Hood's Pills are the best family catharing gentle and effective. Try a box. Only 25 cts.

Have used and recommended it to my friends All derived great benefit from its use.

MRS. MATILDA LARSON, Peoria, Ill. Best remedy I have ever used for irregular menstruation.
November, 1888. MRS. G. JETT,

I have suffered a great deal from Female Troubles, and think I am completely cured by Bradfield's Female Regulator.

MRS. EMMA F. SWORD, Mansfield, O. Book "To Woman" mailed free. BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO.,
For sale by all Druggists. ATLANTA, GA.

"August Flower"

I have been troubled with dyspepsia, but after a fair trial of August Flower, am freed from the vexatious trouble-J. B. Young, Daughters College, Harrodsburg, Ky. I had headache one year steady. One bottle of August Flower cured me. It was positively worth one hundred dollars to me-J. W. Smith, P.M. and Gen. Merchant, Townsend, Ont. I have used it myself for constipation and dyspepsia and it cured me, It is the best seller I ever handled—C. Rugh, Druggist, Mechanicsburg, Pa.

Mr. J. C. Jones, of Fulton, Ark., says of "About ten years ago I contracted a severe case of blood poison. Leading physicians prescribed medicine after medicine, which I took without any relief. I also tried mercurial and potash remedies, with ansuce cessful results, but which brought on an attack of mercurial rheumatism that made my life one of agony. After suf-ering four years I gave up all remedies and commenced using S. S. S. After taking several bottles, I was entirely cured and able to resume work.

is the greatest medicine for blood poisoning to-day on Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mall of free. Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Bile Beans Small.

Guaranteed to cure Bilious Attacks, Sick-Headache and Constipation. 40 in each bottle. Price 25c. For sale by druggists. Picture "7, 17, 70" and sample dose free. J. F. SMITH & CO., Proprietors, NEW YORK.

RELIEVES all Stomach Distress. REMOVES Nauser, Sense of Fullness, Congestion, Pain. REVIVES FAILING ENERGY. RESTORES Normal Circulation, and Warms to Toe Tips.

OR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, No.

AND CURE.

An interesting Pamphlet mailed to any address on receipt of Stamp.

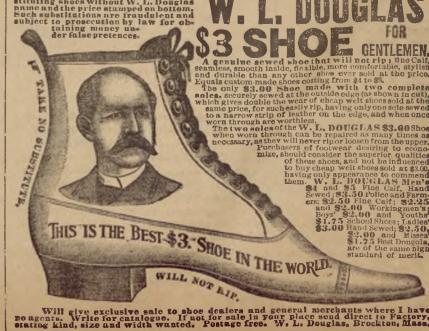

Dr. L. H. HARRIS, Pittsburgh, Pa.

ELLWANGER & BARRY ML Hope N

'OU CAN BORROW MONEY

CANDIDATE WEAVER

His Tyranoical Military Record in the South.

An Unbroken Career of Oppression and Spoliation. Old Men and Women Were His Victims.

From the Chicago Herald.

A very interesting and significant J. H. Newbill, etter has been received by a citizen of J. W. Morris, letter has been received by a citizen of Keokuk, Iowa, from an old gentleman living in Pulaski, Tenn., where General Weaver, the people's party candidate for president, had command in the latter part of the war. The sentiments contained in the letter will doubtless be spread abroad throughout the south and put the people's party candidate on the defensive when he enters upon the canvass in that section, where his friends claim he is so strong. A portion of the letter reads as follows: "He (Weaver) will eclipse Bull Nelson or Ben Butler so far as the double-dyed villain reaches. I send you a piece cut from the Giles County Democrat of the 20th, and I wouch for the truth of every word. All three of the men were old friends of mine. He (Weaver) had Baker Shepard, George Petway and G. W. McGrew arrested, and would have arrested me if it had not been for McGrew. When they passed my house McGrew told him I was deaf. Weaver sent Shepard and Petwar out of the lines. Messrs. Newbill, Rodes and Abernathy paid him the money. These are the facts and can be proved. He was a perfect terror to both men and women. The refugees never re-Weaver will get very few votes south of Mason and Dixon's line." The following is the clipping referred to above, headed "Something About Weaver:

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

General Weaver, while in command at Pulaski, in January, in 1864, issued an order to Charles C. Abernatny, John H. Newbill, Robert Rodes and others that they pay into his hands $1,000 for the maintenance of refugees (meaning negroes and renegades from Alabama). This order was accompanied by a threat that, if the money was not paid, they and their families would be sent south and their property given to said refugees. All of these parties are dead now and were over sixty years old when that order was issued. Can any southern man vote for such a heartless wretch?

THE COTTON TWIST ROBBERY.

A man by the name of C. W. Witt sold Mr. Jasper Cox-a very poor man-2,000 pounds of bacon, for which he received the cash. Mr. Cox took the bacon to the cotton mills in Lawrence county and traded it for cotton twist. This he carefully stowed away in the loft of his little cabin, thinking that it would assist him in purchasing a a little home after the war, as he was very poor, with a large family and had no home. Weaver learned through some source that this gentleman had the cotton twist and sent a detachment of soldiers to his house and took possession of it,

This cotton twist was worth at the time it was stolen $2,000.

ROBBERY OF HOGS AND TURKEYS.

John P. Williams, a poor but highly esteemed farmer in Giles county, had gross, and a lot of turkeys. Weaver, Williams' place and made the and had them brought to camp. When said, "I don't give rebels in the south vouchers. I would rather furnish tope to hang every d-n one of them. swear to the above if necessary.

FONDNESS FOR HORSE FLESH. Weaver had a great fondness for horse flesh, and whenever he found a horse belonging, as he called it, to a "rebel sympathizer," he took possession of it without giving any voncher for it, and if the owner valued it very highly and did not wish to part $500, according to the value of the horse, for returning it to its owner. Bocket.

BARTERING IN TASSES.

Weaver unde it a practice to charge our citizens 10 cents each for passes to come into and go out of the federal lines. This money he put into his own pockets. This pass read as follows:

"Pass the hearer through the federal J B. WEAVER. Commander.

Weaver had a number of lawabiding citizens arrested and put in jail and then charged them from $100 to $500 for releasing them. There were no charges against them. Several of the gentlemen who were put in among them. Dr. J. C. Roberts, one of the most highly respected citizens in Pulaski.

The following are a few of the genmen in Giles county, from whom Weaver coerced money at the point of the bayonet. They were all law-abid- annihilation." ing and highly-respected citizens:

Thomas Martin, Dr. William Batte, 100 00 Charles Abernathy, 250 00 Robert Dickson, 100 00 100 00 David Reynolds, 250 00 B. Abernathy, 200 00 Charles B Daly, 200 00

$1,700 00 The above parties were old men, staying at home and interfering with co one. Several of them had borne their muskets and followed the stars and stripes through the Creek, Florida and Mexican wars. They are all dead except Dr. William Batte, who is now living here and substantiates the above: STATE OF TENNESSEE, GILES COUNTY.

This day personally appeared before me Dr. William Batte, to be known as a man of high standing and credibility, and says that he was a citizen of Pulaski, Tenn,, during the war of the rebellion and has been ever since. That he was personally acquainted with J. B. Weaver, who as colonel of the United States troops was in control of the forces stationed in Pulaski, Tenn., in 1863-4. That said J. W. Weaver was very oppressive and extortionate upon the citizens of said town and vicinity. That said commandant J. B. Weaver issued a military order requiring the above parties the old citizens are dead now. Most and perhaps others to pay over to him of them were very old at the time. a large sum of money for the alleged purpose of supporting refugees then within his lines. This order was accompanied with the threat if not complied with immediately that the parties on whom the demand was made would be sent south. Under this threat affiant paid over to said J. W. Weaver the sum of $100, and affiant verily believes the other parties on whom the demand was made paid the whom the demand was amount required of them,

WM. BATTE.

Subscribed and sworn to before me

August 22, 1892. J. W. BRADEN, Clerk Circuit Court.

J. P. Abernathy, son of Charles C. Abernathy, has the original receipt which Weaver gave to his father for $250 taken from him. Weaver had David K. Cox arrested and imprisoned until his friends paid $500 for his release. Cox is dead, but his son, E. R. Cox, is living here and will substantiate the above, so will Major J. B. Stacy, and Col. S. E. Rose, friends of Cox who furnished part of the money. Mexican soldier, arrested and imprisoned until he paid him $500. Mr. Williams borrowed the money from J. P. May, president of the People's National Bank, Pulaski.

Hon. Pleasant Smith, an old citizen and former mayor of the city, was here during the war. He says that Weaver was the worst man that was ever in this country, and that every southern man who votes for him should hang his head in shame.

D. T. Harrison, an old citizen of and shipped it to Iowa for his own Pulaski, Tenn., was here while Col. J. B. Weaver was commander of the

He states of all men he ever knew Weaver was the worst-that he seemed to have a perfect hatred for the southern people, and took a detwenty-five fat hogs, which at that light in abusing, persecuting and time were worth $10 per 100 pounds, robbing them,—that he had no respect ment are the following: or feering for old defenceless men, in person, took a file of soldiers out women and children. Mr. Harrison also states that a Mr. Lanier, of Nashsoldiers shoot every hog on the place ville, had given him (Harrison) $1,935 with which to buy some cot-Williams asked for a voucher, Weaver | ton, but as soon as Weaver found it out he had Harrison arrested and took $935 of the money, and then added ope to hang every d-n one of them." falschood to robbery by reporting to Mr. Williams is still living, and will Mr. anier that Harrison had made way with the money.

D. T. HARRISON.

Subscribed and sworn to before me August 23, 1892. J. J. MCCALLUM, J. P.

HIS POLITICAL RECORD.

General J. B. Weaver is the nomiwith it, he charged him from $1 to nee of the people's party for president. Below we give some of his utterances in regard to the democratic steam vessels on which to transfer pass-This money he put into his own party and the southern people. The enger and freight trains between Gunappended quotations are taken from tersville and Hobb Island, a distance reliable sources.

> fellow-citizens, on the suppression of The rails for the Hobb Island extension purely democratic rebellion, gotten up from Huntsville have been delivered by democrats for the democratic pur at the latter place. pose of dissevering this union, and perpetually establishing human slav-at Guntersville Albertsville and Boaz Now and forever it is established as an eternal trath that the democracy in no place or state can

> ROBBING AND IMPRISONING PROMINENT | ever be trusted with government. As a party it should disband, just as a section of it did at Appoinatiox."
>
> "Here we have the old fight over > again. The Confederate democracy, north and south, in which the infamous copperhead division of Iowa appears, are again contesting with Grant for the safety of the union. jail and paid the money are still living, As at Donelson, he proposes to move on their works at once, and there is no escape from this rank, traitorous horde except in another surrender. Charge on them, fellow republicans, and spare not one, not even a deputy road supervisor, from total political

He said in Bloomfield on September 26, 1869; "What is the use of further arraigning the defunct democracy, with all its hoary crimes, at the bar of public opinion? We know that its acts comprise murder, treason, theft, arson, fraud, perjury, and all crimes possible for an organization to connive at."

"It would be mercy to put its record a million miles deep in the pit that is mentioned in holy writ; and I may add that if a large and distinguished assortment of its alleged statesmen were sent along it would be common justice.'

He said in Fairfield, September 18, 1870:

"The democracy as usual are loud in their opposition, but what did they ever do when they had a chance? Here in Iowa they stole the school fund and nationally they stole the arsenals, the navy, the treasury, everything that was not red hot and created the very devils rebellion. And these men appear and ask for your support. Should come on bending knees asking for forgiveness for the unspeakable crines they have committed, and the wretched miseries inflicted upon our common country."

In a public speech he said:

"No republican can ever, under any circumstances, have any part or be with the hungry, rebellious, man-hating, woman-selling gang, corporated under the name of democracy, a name so full of stench and poison that it should be blotted from the vocabulary of civilized man, and handed over to the barbarism that it so fitly now and in all the past has represented."

He said at Stiles, September 11, 1873, in referring to the financial policy of the democratic party:

"But then what could you expect from the poor, blind, diseased, de-crepit, dismal, damned old democratic

Robbers Wreck a Train.

Passenger train No. 8 on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad was wrecked by robbers three miles west of Osage City at 3 o'clock this morning.

The train, consisting of baggage, express and mail cars, two day coaches, two chair cars and three sleepers, was thrown over an embankment three feet high and the first six telescoped. Four persons were killed outright and twenty-five seriously injured.

There were 250 passengers on the train but no one was killed. How He had John P. Williams, an old they escaped seems miraculous. The cars were pil d one upon another, and composed a mass of timber and twisted iron in which it seemed impossible for any human being to have escaped Robbery was unquestionably the object of the outrage. The train carried $1,000,000 in currency en route from the Mexican Central Railway to its headquarters in Boston.

The scoundrels did not get the money. Interesting Land Statistics

The officials of the general land office have prepared some interesting statistics relating to the operations of the last fiscal year and the condition of the public land service generally. As to the vacant public lands now remainment are the following:

Alabama, 807,917 acres, all which is surveyed; Arkansas, 5,091,313, all surveyed; Florida, 2,007,157 acres surveyed, 799,430 acres unsurveyed, total 2,806,587 acres; Mississippi, 978,418 acres, all surveyed.

During the year four mineral claims were were located in Arkansas and patents issued therefor.

Selections approved for educational and other purposes: Alabama, university 122 acres; Florida' school indem nity 692.

Miscellaneous patents issued: Alabama, 7,864 acres; Florida, 5,304

Boat Transfer.

The N. C. & St. L. R. R. Co. has closed a contract for the building of of 23 miles, and the boats are to be He said at Albia on July 18, 1866: ready for through trains between Nash-I want to congratulate you first, ville and Gadsden by January 1st.

preparatory to a schedule totake effect

FOES TO TRADE.

BAD ROADS, HIGH FREIGHTS, TOLLS, TAXES AND TARIFFS ARE THE ENEMIES OF INDUSTRY-HOW THE FARMER'S EARNINGS ARE DEPOSITED IN CUSTOM HOUSES.

The typical protectionists are a queer set. From McKinley down, they all continue to cry, "We must protect American industry;" as if they alone, and not all Americans were in favor of any and every policy that will protect and benefit our own people and country in preference to a ther peoples and countries. But at the same time it is clear that their actions—when they come to substitute actions for words-that they have no correct idea of what industry is. Doubtless, some will say, "What an unfounded and impudent assertion!"
"What a free trade lie!" But let us reason about it a little and see wherein is the truth. Industry consists of two factors, or there are two elements in it. One is production (derived from two Latin words, pro, forward, and ducere, to lead), meaning, in this connection, the drawing out of materials or products from natural resources, and the other is exchange, or the selling of the things produced; and industry can't get along without both any more than a man get along with only one leg. For example, if a farmer grows 10,000 bushels of corn, and needs only 1000 for himself, family and animals, and can't exchange or sell the other 9000 he might as well not have raised it. He can eat corn, burn it for fuel and make whisky of it, but he can't clothe himself with corn husks, plow with a corn stalk, wear corn shoes, and the like. To get these other things he must sell or exchange his surplus 9000 bushels; and he must be stupid who does not at once see that the greater the facilities afforded him for exchange, such as good roads, bridges, horses and wagons, cheap and swift railroads and steamships, low tolls, freights and taxes, the greater will be the opportunity for exchange and trade to advantage. On the other hand, poor roads, unbridged streams, few or no railroads or steamships, and high tolls, freights and taxes, all tend to restrict or destroy trade and the opportunity to sell his 9000 bushels of corn to advantage. A twenty per cent. tariff tax may fairly be considered as the representative of a bad road; a fifty per cent., of a broad deep river without proper facilities for crossing; a seventy-five per cent., of a swamp bordering such river on both sides; while a hundred per cent. duty, such as is levied on blankets, window glass, cotton ties, and the like, can only properly be compared to a band of robbers, who strip the producer of nearly all he possesses, making him thankful that he escaped with his life. In short, there has never been a case in all human experience when the removal of restrictionsnatural or legislative-on trade did not result in the extension of trade to the mutual advantage of the great majority of the people concerned. The man who can get a law passed that will enable him to tax trade or exchange, always sees an advantage to himself in the restricted trade that will result. So also does his brother-in-law who sits behind a bush on the road, with a gun, and tells the farmer who sold his surplus of 9000 bushels of corn, "You can't pass unless you give me a big part of what you received for it in exchange." But I fancy some farmer protectionist saying, "There is no one sitting behind a bush for me. I don't see him." Nevertheless, he is there all the same. Our farmer sells his 9000 bushels of corn in England and, as he wants things rather than money, and as many things are cheap in England, he concludes to take his pay in hardware, woolen clothings, blankets, starch, paints, oils, glass, salt, cordage, hats, crockery, cotton ties, and other like articles, and starts for home by way of New York. There is no man with a gun behind a bush on the wharf to lie in wait for him, but there is another man, armed with something better than a gun, who tells the farmer that he must give up more than half the value of all the things he has received in payment for his corn before he can come into possession of the other half. If he does not pay quickly or if he makes any fuss about the charges, this other man will take the whole, and not unlikely put the farmer in jail. If the farmer could pay in things instead of money, and had taken salt in exchange for his corn, then for every hundred bushels he would have had to bring and give up seventy-three additional bushels. For every yard of the cheapest carpet he would have had three-quarters of a yard cut off; and if he had cotton ties, each tie would be shortened to the extent of ninety per cent. If he had taken the commonest kind of china plates or cups, then in order to carry a dozen of them home he would have had to pay for eighteen. And so on. If our Government needed to impose and collect such taxes in order to meet its necessary expenditures, there would be some justification for such procedure. But revenue was not the object sought for in the enactment of the laws which authorize or require them, but the restrictions of trade; to prevent the farmer from selling his products to the best ad-

In short, carry out logically and to about industry, and you would have any false oaths in regard to it. The every man trying to produce a good deal and sell as little as possible.—David A. Wells, in American Journal of Politics.

An Example of Tariff Reform.

McKinleyism is atrocious, but what would the Democrats do in the way of reform should they attain power? The question is sometimes asked in good faith by Republicans weaned of the Republican policy of high tariff.

During the first session of the present Congress a Democratic House passed among other bills amendatory of the the revenue duties on coffee, tea and McKinley law one which, if there had sugar.' been concurrence of a Repblican Senate and approval by a Republican Executive, give us a free breakfast table was to rewould have put binding twine upon the tree list. The tariff laid by McKinleyism upon binding twine affects every raiser of a crop of cereals, for binding twine is now employed necessarily in connection with improved machinery for mowing and reaping. That tariff was laid and is maintained by McKinteyism for no other purpose in this world than to enable what is now known as the cordage trust to manufacture this necessary article and make its own price thereon, enriching itself but compelling reach our Treasury and two of which tribute from nearly 7,000,000 agriculturists in the United States. It is this "triends of the administration. No, protection which Democracy describes we have not free sugar yet for our as fraudulent. It is protection which breakfast tables; the half per cent. fosters a monopoly, and, while benefiting | duty must be paid to the sugar trust. It a few persons relatively who are engaged in the manufacture of binding twine, as well as all articles of like character, imposes a burden upon millions of the people of the United States.

A Democratic House sought to put binding twine upon the free list in order that the monopoly now existing by reason of tariff taxation upon binding twine and articles of like character might be destroyed by free competition. The cordage trust notoriously exists. In the expectation that the Attorney-General of Mr. Harrison's cabinet would assail it in the courts a Republican organ, desiring that he should have full glory for the proceeding, indiscreetly presented all the facts, and though the Sherman law is said to be aimed at the trusts and so describes itself, and though the Executive has made some show of commencing prosecution under that law against such alleged combinations as the whisky trust, no hand has been lifted against this atrocious monopoly. tribute continues to be exacted from every field of wheat, and ryc, and oats all over this broad land. Democracy desired to put an end to such fraudulent tariff legislation, and having no other power than the power of the House it passed this bill repealing the tax on twine, but the Republicans said "No; this tax shall be maintained," and though they were not frank enough to go further and say "It shall be main. tained in the interests of this cordage trust," yet such is the fact.

This single illustration will suffice to indicate the direction waich Democratic tarin legislation would take. the tariff operates to form a trust its protection will be withdrawn. Wnerever taxes may be taken from the necessities of existence it will be done. The aim of Democracy will be to lay a tariff not for the benefit of the cordage trust nor the lumber barons, but for the purposes of revenue only. It is the purpose of the Democracy so to shape tariff legislation that Government shall not be protecting Somebody at the expense of Everybody. -Chicago Times.

Getting Bed Rock Prices.

Here is a new way for Americans to circumvent the McKinley bill so that they may participate in the blessings (relative) that this measure showers upon foreigners. It is well known that hundreds of American made goods -such as agricultural implements, sewing machines, table cutlery, saws, type writers, cartridges, etc .- are sold cheaper to foreigners than to Americaus. The manufacturers here form a trust or have a monopoly and they fix prices to make as much profit as possible by taking advantage of tariffs which prevent foreign competition. Now when, as often happens, they can afford to sell in the unprotected markets of the world they lower their prices for export to this point and rely upon the tariff laws to prevent Americans from getting the benefit of these lower prices by reimporting the goods. Up to date the manufacturers have had uniform success, but their scheme has recently received a severe shock and, unless they change their methods somewhat, Americans may, in some cases, be cursed by prices as low as those which disgrace Europe.

An American lady of moderate means was visiting relatives in Europe this summer. She had heard that American sewing machines were sold cheaper there than here, and she concluded to bring one back with her if she could escape the duty on it and save enough, after paying freight, to pay her for the trouble of carrying it. She saw the foreign agent of the machine she wished and found that she could save about twenty per cent. by purchasing there, and that she could escape the duty by calling herself a seamstress. She was arranging with the agent, when he suggested that as she was going to New York, where he got the machines, it would save trouble and expense all around if she would accept his order ou the New York house for a machinewhich she could have at export prices -October 1st. - Guntersville Democrat. then fullest extent McKinley's views though she need not export it or take plan worked successfully, and is likely to be repeated and extended to typewriters and other articles if the manufacturers do not put a stop to these anti-McKinley demonstrations of their foreign agents.

That Free Breakfast Table.

Whitelaw Reid said in a speech tha by coupling together "protection and reciprocity" his party had given us a "free breakfast table," which the Democrats propose to destroy by "restoring

The only thing the Republicans did to duce the duty on refined sugar from about two and a half to one-half cents per pound. For this we would have been thankful if it had not reduced our revenue by nearly $60,000,000 to give an opportunity to impose more onerous duties upon other articles of food and clothing-duties that would not, like the sugar duty, put almost as many dollars into our treasury as it took from the people, but that would take three dollars from the people, one of which would is this duty that the Democrats propose to remove and that they would have removed months ago if a Republican Senate and President had not blocked the

As to tea and coffee they have for years been on the free list. The only possible effect of reciprocity upon them would be to reimpose duties and to tax them, as has been done by decree of President Harrison in some cases. For such a "free breakfast table" we are not especially grateful to the protectionists.

Keep Mckinley on the Stump.

McKinley spoke in three large cities in Vermont this year and "was received with the greatest enthusiasm" by great audiences in each city. To show their appreciation of the Major and his blessed tariff law these cities this year cast the following vote as compared with the vote in the corresponding election of 1888.		1892.

Rep.	Dem.	Rep.	Dem.
Brattleborough	455	863	403
Rutland1,398	926	1,285	983
Burlington1,401	1,014	1,016	1,106
3 801	0. 208	2 112	9 430

If the Major could have been induced by tariff reformers to have made twenty speeches in Vermont it is safe to say that it would have gone Democratic.

It is a curious fact that the farmers and laborers of this country, tax burdened and hard pressed as they are, will not consent to shift their taxes upon the poor foreigner, and there is no surer sign that there is yet left something of that American manhood and independence that made them as unwilling to pay England's taxes in 1776, as they are now to have England pay their taxes. Justice, no more and no less, is about their size and McKinley cannot change the fit by appealing to their selfish instincts by asking them to tax the helpless foreignerthat is providing they believe that his scheme will work. McKinley is the only stumper that is entirely satisfactory to both parties. He should be given double pay and asked to made two speeches a day until November.

Troublesome Ifs.

If the increased tariff has raised wages it must-upon the protection theoryhave added to the cost of production. If it has done this how can prices be

If the increased duty has not added to the price of imported goods it has not given any additional protection to the home manufacturers.

If it has added to the price it has been an extra burden upon the consumers.

If the tariff has raised the price of farm products it must have added to the general cost of living,

If the increased duty has not diminished importations, as the protectionists now claim, it has not secured a home market to manufacturers nor protected wage-earners against the competition of nauner labor abroad.

If the foreigner pays the duty why did McKinley leave the Treasury so short of monev?

The troublesome ifs are only the beginning of the labyriath of lies and paradoxes into which this tariff for counties leads its defenders. - New York World.

The Decline of Protection.

Six political platforms have been preented to the voters of this Nation this year. Only one of these favors a proective tariff. The other five have either siapped protection squarely in the face or have quietly given it the cold shoulder. The monopoly party has a nonopoly of a doctrine that advocates a ystem which robs the poor to give to ne rich, and the growth of the others at he expense of this one party indicates hat the people are tired of being robbed by custom house brigands, and that the nanufacturers' agents stationed at our ports, ostensibly for the benefit of the public, but really for the benefit of the anufacturers, will soon have to be of Illinois. For Congress 4th District, GASTON A. ROBBINS, of Dallas.

National Democratic Ticket

FOR PRESIDENT, GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, A. E. STEVENSON,

county vote for A. P. Longshore?

Does Longshore's record as legisrelief to the people?

thing for the people that he should son if he needs it, and we will expect the support of Shelby county for congress?

Does any Confederate soldier who has a spark of patriotism in his breast which aays I can vote for A. Mrs. Lease, Mr. Magee and Mr. P. Longshore?

one should vote for Longshore.

Mr. Longshore has legislated against the relief of his people in two sessions of the legislature.

record is not of that character to has returned. These forces were and all that remains in attainment had any part in it. True Republijustify the expectation of support of united for the sole purpose of it. the people of Shelby county.

Longshore voted against a bill for the releif of disabled confederate soldiers when he was in the Alabama legislature. Now he wants to pay the difference between gold and greenback to all federal pensioners since the war.

THE news comes from all over the land Club report arrivals every state that there are hundreds of men train. who month ago intended to vote for Weaver, but have now firmly made dent of the state alliance, issued his up their minds to vote for Clayer farmers beneathed by Stell the Republican party into the taken to prevent injury. Upon apparty land. Of course all who vote for January 1889. What he is unwil-Cleveland will vote for Gaston A Robbins for congress.

of a bright future before him can with the usual request for exchange. view hibrod gang, calling itsself designated by different persons as it .- Mont. Adv. "conglomerates," are not the kind; of men to train young democrats or for an exchange with the Advertisyoung republicans.

ferent parts of the state over the this: He boycotted us, had many unwarrented arrest of the officers who were in arrears to quit and of Bullock county on charges hatch- never pay us, borrowed the paper meetings have been held in many was resented in an open speech betented exhibition ever witnessed in places, and prominent men who hind his position as president of the this country. The principal feature Alabama, on

In this Issue we publish a circular letter from Mr. J. D. Hardy, us, also, to exchange with his third tee of the 4th congressional dis hoping to do the wayward brother on the largest stage ever constructed. trict. It is neither endorsed or some good, we have granted his re- All can be seen at Birmingham on condemned by the Journal, but quest. published to show to our readers people in the 4th district.

Manning, Gaither & Co. claiming third party tends. to be people's party men, advocates of a newly established organisation called by its founders a political party for "the relief the people." Then we see Peyton G. Bowman, Kolb, Collier, et als, under the title of Jeffersonion democrats. Re-Parsons and Walker, all holding Advertiser. appointments under a republican administration. Now each of these WHY should the people of Shelby strength of the state is the demoeratic party; now in order to defeat Mr. Cleveland and some of the Has Longshore ever done any- people's ticket, to be given to Harri- his wishes: for congress, some are republicans, some third party, and some are Jeffersonian democrats, so called. Now these tickets are made un. Weaver, and sanctioned by the No reason can be given why any three executive committees, Messrs with me in this effort. Boman, Moseley and Manning, as chairmen. The combination is all complete, except that Boss Magee defeating the democracy, but the democratic ranks. One good load much appreciated.

up their minds to vote for Cleve- famous boycott of the Advertiser in ling for his dupes to read he desires to have for his own edification. He proderly addressed, and can be fillis the editor of a third party at ed by exhibitors, showing by whom Centreville, Bibb county, and it sent. Any young man with a prospect comes to The Advertiser marked afford to act with the "Confussion- The request is cheerfully complied isists." The leaders of this Lake- with, and we trust its close perusal will result in convincing Editor Ad- Hon, J. R. McLendon, of Montgomams that the paper is so black as he the people's party, but known and has been in the habit of painting

He is quite modest in his request er. His conduct towards his coun- to the state fair shoald be addressty paper-The BIBB BLADE-and ed to be at Birmingham, care Flor-THERE is much excitement in dif- its editor, was ten fold worse than ence Hotel. Respectfully, ed up against them for violations of from his friends and read it regularthe election laws. Indignation ly, and the truth we told on him have heretofore been in sympathy alliance. Still later when the jun- of the shows this year is the producwith the conglomerate element have jor editor had eccasion to defend the tion of the historic Bible spectacle, announced that they are no longer with them, but are for straight democracy and Cleveland.

"Fall of Nineveh" which has been added to the regular standard features at against his (Adams) notorious burn his-arm-off speech, he threatened to his-arm-off speech his-arm-off speech, he threatened to his-arm-off speech his-armbroken bones, but didn't. He asks chairman of the republican commit- party. And, like the Advertiser, people will be seen in the production,

GASTON A. ROBBINS, democratic that even a republican can object candidate for congress in the 4th Hats. Only $1.50. to open and wholesale bargain or has made several speeches in Shelby sale of the franchise of his party. county this week, being here Thurs-And also to show that all that is day. The crowd that was out to done by party manipulators, even hear him here was small, but those though they be imported from the that were present had the pleasure great state of Pennsylvania—is not of listening to the propounding of ed Solictor of the 2nd judicial circuit, vallo today.

WE do not favor fusions of two or | Mountain Home: T. C. Miller, of more political elements or parties South Carolina, in his speech at the for an expressed will or purpose of courthouse last Monday morning, OF THE 4TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT Entered at the Post Office in Calera as defeating the stronger party. Eve-said: "I am a republican. I am Second Class Matter. ry organization, whether political not here in disguise. I came under or otherwise, should be founded the auspices of the national repub- been made with the Republicans on upon a principle, and where two or lican committee to speak to the one side, and the Jeffersonian Demore bodies of opposite views com- people of Alabama in favor of the mocrats and the People's party on bine or fuse to carry out a policy third party." Does this look like the other. Your Chairman has one or all of these must necesarily there was no connection between watched every point, so far, to see sacrifice-in part at least-princi- the third party and the republicans? what part the Republicans had in ple. Take the Lakeview Conglom- Democrats, you who are halting be- this SO CALLED fusion or Lakerates as an instance: Here we see tween two opinions, see where the view bargain, and from all the evi-

S. H. Gist, of the CALERA JOUR-NAL, is a candidate for the office of doorkeper of the Senate. We don't know Bro. Gist personally, but a led the ku klux in Alabama not journalist of twenty years' standing many years ago will furnish the Gist's modesty which makes him v)te for publicans were there too, under the satisfied with less. By all means cadership of Bob Moseley, Lou give him the post .- New Decatur tyer. If we should be gorverned CONDITION. A fusion upon any parties were supposed to hold by the thery of The Advertiser, we other platform is political insanity to principle, but in the coalition would be asking for a double term and unprincipled. If I understand formed there, each, in one instance as secretary of state! We have the spirit of our party, and the one or another sacrificed a principle for been pulling along at the business

A STATE EXHIBIT.

congressmen, we must unite these the following circular, and in aclator point to anything that brought several forces and put out an elec- cordance with his request, we give toral ticket under the name of the it space, and ask a compliance with ing men—to SELL, the party to sioner of agriculture," am endeavoring to collect an exhibit and make

I can conceive of no better mode of stimulating ambition than temporary success. through competitive ehibition, and LONGSHORE'S public and private machine to work. He went, and possesses to a wonderfal degree, > goods have not been delivered, and assistance of the men of the state, ballot box. We have never resortwill not be. They shipping for and but the ladies also, and any specibeing received back into the old mens of their handiwork will be come in from Lee county the other and from Birmingham, with the exday in the person of Hon. W. D. ception of heavy machinery. All Kyle, several late arrivals in beat articles that can with safely be ship- support the Lakeview deal. 7, this county; and Blocton Cleve- ped by freight should be forwarded that way.

Articles that are desired returned should be accompanied by such di- and would lead you away from the tags will be sent to those who will

I have secured the services, as ing prominent agriculturist: Col. W. Beck, of Jefferson county, ery, Capt. Sam T. Pruett, of Bullock county, and Capt. John-A. Turner of Limestone. Any favors shown these gentlemen will be ap-

All communications in reference

HECTOR D. LANE, Commiss'r. Agr'r.

Adam 4 Paws Circus.

The Adam Forepaugh show this season give promise of surpassing any has ever known Over one thousand the 17th inst. Railroads give reduced Wade & Co., have Campaign

Mr. Thos. M. Stevens, who formerly ived in Calera and who was a typo in the Sentinel office when that paper was under the control of Messrs. Graham and Wagner, has been appointsanctioned by honest men of the republican party. Read the article and see what Mr. Hardy says to his residence upon and color of the 2nd judicial circuit, by Gov. Jones. Mr. Stevens is well said land, viz.: W. M. Jones, Charlie and see what Mr. Hardy says to his and will meet the people at Monteappointment.

TO THE REPUBLICANS

CALERA, Ala., Oct. 12th, 1892. Reparts have it that a fusion has dence obtainable, has arrived at the conclusion that our part of the fusion is to furnish the votes for this Lakeview bargain, while these who RATE. Send for Catalogue. is justified in asking for the posi-tion of Governor. It is only Bro.

A fusion of all the opposing elements to Democracy-I favor. If t can be done on Republican prin-Thanks to the unacquainted bro ciples-AND UPON NO OTHER great purpose of Republicanism is to promote the elevation of men-

It is well known that I deplore the condition of our party in the south, and the condition of the col-Commissioner Lane has issued ored voters. It would be inconsistant in me to look with approval upon any bargain made by designpretended friends, or to allow an infringement upon your rights with In accordance with the law relat- out giving Republicans warning they be black.

There are good and patriotic men, as creditable a display as possible and able statesmen in this Lake at the coming state fair of the gen-eral resources of the state, espe- willingly support if they would breast find a sentiment in that der the immediate supervision of cially that of agriculture. And I place themselves on the Republican appeal to those Alabamians who are platform. But I shall oppose the interest in the material advance-lowering of the Republican platjorm ment of the state to co-operate with EVEN BY A HAIRS BREADTH, to consumate this deal. I am opposed to sacrificing principle for

> The late outrage upon the procertainly there is no more approved bate judge and clerk, of Bullock need must go back to Pittsburgh adversement than a display of re- county, should be condemned by evand bring some boodle to start the sources. These we know Alabama ery Republican, and I am pleased to know that no true Republican of success is to let the world know cans are conservative and lav abiding, although we have been cheated I respectfully ask, not only the and deprived of our rights at the ed to wild or revolutionary means to obtain that which the Democrats have so often STOLEN from us pre-I will pay all transportation to fering the quiet peace and prosperity of our adopted state to personal interest. No true Republican can > > Republicans of the 4th district. be on your guard, wolves are among you—claiming to be Republicans, ing that they are all for Harrison. Beware of them. Ask them send exhibits. These tags will be why they go to Harrison by the Weaverite route? If they are Republicans and for Harrison, let them get on the Republican plat-form and THEN Republicans will solicitors of exhibits, of the follow- support them. The Fourth district will have a Republican candidate for congress and an elector for the "Republicans" to vote for on the Sth day of November 1892.

Very Respectfully, JAMES D. HARDY, Chairman' Republican' Committee 4th Congressional District, of Ala.

REGISTER'S SALE.

Morgan & Lapsley, and by vir-A. M. Elliott, Trustee, et al) tue of a decree rendered at the Spring term, 1892, of the Chancery Court of Shelby county, Alabama, in the above entitled cause, I will proceed to sell, under the power contained in a Mortgage from H. M. Pierce, et al, to A. M. Elliott, trustee, at public outcry, in front of the Court House door in the town of Columbiana,

Monday, the 17th day of October, 1892. between the legal hours of sale, for eash

"wipe up the earth up" with our old broken bones, but didn't. He asks

This, August 11, 1892. D. R. McMILLAN, Register and Acting Trustee. 13aug-10w prs fee$16.50

NOTICE 12,810.

Land office, Montgomery, Ala.

September 7, 1392. \\
Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the clerk of the circuit court at Columbiana, Alabama, on October 21, 1892. viz.: Alexander Hunley, homestead entry, No. 20,341, for the N. homestead entry, No. 20,341, for the E. qr of N. E. qr, section 34, township 21, south of range 2 west. He names the following witnesses to prove

10sept-6w

J. H. BINGHAM,

Marion MILITARY Institute.

WEARION, ALER.

Superior Accommodationrs and Poard. Superintendent, his family and faculty live in building with students.

Classic and Scientific. Superior Commercal Course. TERMS MODE-

COL. J. T. MURFEE, Superintendent, Marion, Alabama.

SIX MILE MALE & FEMALE ACADEMY. R. H. PRATT, Principal.

35th annual session begins September 26, 1892, and continues 40 WEEKS.

FONE WEEK FOR CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS.

Higer branches of Mathematics, French, Greek, with the above, $3 00

Music and use of instrument, 3 00 Board—per month, $7. Washing, Starching, Ironing $1......$8 00 Students are required to furnish, for their own use, one pr. blankets, one pr. sheets and pillow cases, their own toilet lights. Payments, monthy or quarterly in advance.

This school is located at Six Mile, Alabama, in a healthy, well watered put men in each district to be voted ing to "the duiles of the commis- whether they be white or whether neighborhood, five miles from Ashby depot, on the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia Railroad. H PRATT, PrIncipal, 3sept 6m Six Mile, Alabama.

THE

CALERA JOURNAL Book and Job Ofice, CALERA, ALA.

NEW AND LATEST STYLE TYPE, BEST OF PAPER AND INK USED.

BIRMINGHAM & MONTGOMERY PRICES DUPLICATED.

CALERA JOUR $1--A WEEKLY NESWSPAPER--$1.

The latest and most select political, social and religious news. Literature and science, a special feature. Special attention given to local correspondence.

For further particulars in reference to subscriptions or Commercial or Pamphlet work, address,

JOURNAL, LEKA, ALA.

Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats Shoes, Gents & Ladies Dress Goods,

CALERA, ALA.Do

Have one of the Largest Stocks of Hats, Shoes, Clothing, Notions, Dry Goods, and General Merchandize, Ever Brought to Shelby County

OPPOSITE OUR DRY GOODS HOUSEWe have Opened up a.....

MAMMOTH STOCK

WILL BE IN THIS HOUSE AT ALL TIMES, WAIT ON YOU, and price Furniture as Low as any House in Alabama.

CASH OR INSTAL-MENT PLAN.

Our Campaign Goods are as neat and as Chea, as any in the State.

A. C. WADE & CO.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

RAILROAD TIME TABLE.

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE. No. 1, South Bound, 4:14 p. m. 5:10 a. m. 10:19 " 66 66 2, North Bound, 10:05 p.m. " 7:15 p. m.

ALABAMA MINERAL.

85, Arrives at 86, Departs at

4 35, p. m. 80:25, a. m.

COUNTY OFFICERS. Probate Judge—John S. Leeper. Circuit Clerk—W. R. A. Milner. Register in Chancery—D. R. McMil-

Tax Collector—A. F. Smith.
Tax Assessor—John H. Hammonds.
County Trersurer—W. A. Thompson. Superintendent of Education-E.O.

County Solicitor-J. L. Peters. County Commissioners-James Mc-Gowan, Rufus Walker, Richard Griffin, cents.

Dr. Milea' Nerve and Liver Pills. 50 doses 25 ofs.

AT THE CHURCHES.

PRESENTERIAN-Services on the 4th Sundays in each menth, morning and night; paster to be supplied. Sabbath School at 9:30 a. m.

METHODIST—Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night, by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sabbath school at 9:30.

Baptist Church—Rev. J. G. Lowrey, pastor. Preaching every first and second Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting at 7.00 p. m., every Thursday.

CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN—J. J. Dalton, postor. Preaching every first and third Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday evenings at 7:30. Children's Read revers 2:30 a. Children's Read revers 2:30 a. dren's Band meets 3:30 p. m. each 1st and 3rd Sunday. Ladies' Aid Society every other Friday eveningat 3.

Opium Habit cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

Stevenson in Alabama.

cratic nominee for Vice President, will speak at the following places in Alabama:

At Opelika, October 17th. Birmingham, October 18th. Decatur, October, 19th.

C. M. SHELLY, Chairman. Birmingham, Oct. 10.

St. Vitus' Dance cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

Hon, Cecil Browne, of Talladega Will address the citizens of Shelby, county at the following places:

Mount Calvary, Saturday Oct., 15, at 11 a. m. Weldon, Monday Oct., 17, at 11 a.m. Vincent, Wednesday Oct., 19, at 11 a. m. Columbiana. Friday Oct., 21 at I1 a. m. Aldrich, Saturday Oct., 22, 3 p. m. All persons invited to be present and hear the issues involved in the present campaign discussed. Ladies specially J. J. ARNOLD, Sec. T. W. AYERS.

Chairm'n Dem. Ex. Com. Fourth Dist

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure at Druggists.

INSURE YOUR LIFE.
Read and profit by the following sound counsel, every word of which smarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel:

"It is a duty you owe to yourself and amily to protect them with a reasonable amount of life insurance, where the stoams of the financial world cannot touch them; where the assessor cannot tax them; where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old sge should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do your duty and insure immediately in some good, old reliable Company."—Extract from a sermon by the Rev. T. De-

$500 Will be Given

not be cured by Dr. Drummond's Lightning Remedy. The proprietors do not hide this offer, but print it in bold type on all their circulars, wrappers, printed matter, and through the newspapers everywhere. It will work wonders, one bottle will cure nearly every case. If the druggist has not got it, he will order it or it will be sent to any address by preor it will be sent to any address by prepaid express on receipt of price, $5. Drummond Medicine Co., 48-50 Maiden Lane, New York. Agents wanted.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Coe is still very ill.

Mr. S. Steine has the thanks of Journal for favors.

Quite a crowd of Calera's young people went to the Rocky Mount comp meeting Sunday.

Monday is always Bargain Day at A. C. Wade & Co's store. Every day in the week likewise. .

Mr. and Mrs. George Wright re turned Tuesday morning from an tives in Kentucky.

We regret to learn by a special from Randolph, of the death of Mrs. Margaret McDaniel, widow of the late Rev. Martin H. McDaniel, of the Alabama Confer-

The parties who took our fine setter dog from the railroad crossing on Tuesday morning, are known to us, and if they will return him, we will not say coming, we will have the sheriff after

Gov. Jones has appointed John S. Leeper, the probate judge elect, to ful the unexpired term of Judge R. W. Coob, resigned. Mr. Leeper listen to the gospel. being the choice of the county by election, of course his appointment will give general satisfaction.

Big democratic rally at Birmingham Tuesday. Mr. Stevens, democratic candidate for the Vice presidency, will be there and make one of his able speeches. Half fair rates will be arranged on all roads leading into the city.

Good news from the democratic ranks are coming in daily.

Howard is still furnishing the general public with meals at all hours for 25 St. James.

The Gents, and Ladies' dress and are marked low down.

The colored Baptists of Shelby Springs Association, are in session at Bethel church in Calera.

A few of those Cleveland and Harrison hats at Wade & Cos.

Col. Jhon P. West is somewhat indisposed this week, but we hope he will be better in a few days.

Mrs. Smily & Vance have opened up a millinery establishment in the building opposite the Journal office.

Everything in the general mercandize line cheap for cash at Wade & Co.

H. McCauley, of Montevallo.

Wade & Co. are still receiving and adding to their large stock of furniture.

Rev. Z. A. Dowling is conducting Gen. Adlai Stevenson, the demo- a series of meeting at South Calera

> Judge Campbell, of the News, went np to Pelham to hear our candidate for ongress, Gaston Robbins, tell the people what true democracy is.

ington County Times, was in to see He was on his way to his old home of the President, the Governor and the n Franklin county. Mr. White is State Superintendent of Education. of the large and an influential family of that name of Lawrence county, ter. We wish for him a good and State. prosperous life, and hope he may be as useful as his long line of anterwe found the son of an old army comrade from Holly Springs, Miss. er from the begining. His presence brought to our mind many old friends from that state, many of whom have passed over the said that for litterary men three hours

The article on the Force Bill published in last weeks' Journal, taken from the Shelby News, has been favorably commented upon by many of its readers, and others are studying it. It is hoped that every who can will re-read it and meditate two shearty, puts sleep as the prime necessity of health. upon the truths set forth. Attention of every one of our readers who are studying the causes of the scarceity of money in the south, is called to the three columns on the first page of last week, devoted to

RANDOLPH, ALA., October 8.—Special.—Died, at Mr. J. Moorer's, in this place, on Saturday, the 8th inst., at 2 o'clock a. m., Mrs. Margaret McDaniel. She had been sick for some time, and death was to her a welcome visitor, for it relieved her of much suffering and pain. She is now from pain and sickness set free, and while the sorrow stricken relatives have our heartfelt sympathy, we would say to them to not grieve after For any case of Rheumatism which can their blessed dead. "The Lord gave tion of his good meats.

Col. E. G. Walker and wife, of Montevallo, visited Calera last Tuesday.

WOMAN'S COLUMN.

[The Woman's Column is under the supervision of Mrs. F. W. Gist, and all communications for this department should be addressed to her at West Callers Alexandres. lera, Alabama.]

As much as we disapprove the republican doctrines, we are inclined to thank them for the threats of the "force bill" because it can't fail to convert nearly all democrats to a belief in woman suffrage. You see the force bill promises to virextended visit to friends and rela- tually disfranchise our voters, and in derive fitting inspiration from the spirthe realization of such a dread calamity their sympathy is sure to be aroused for the poor imposed upon woman who | eral issue necessary orders for the firing has quite long enough boen disfranchised. And if we only make an appeal when the November election is over and if Cleveland is elected, they will be so overjoyed at their uarrow escape, how

Friends, the churches in Calera are anything about it, but if he is not forth- all being nicely finished up inside and our women have worked faithfully to help do this. Now please "Don't spit on the floor." You are all welcome and J. D. Barron, Sect. of State. we want to see you present, but please keep clean mouths when you go in to

> We asken a friend the other day why the ladies were so cordially invited to the political speakings of the present campaign. He replied "to lend respectability to the audiences." We thought it was due to our mens' improvement in the way of woman's enthink so.

home, and don't forget the religion of contest may be a severe one, but so

The noted Quaker Evangelist, Rev. J. goods at Wade's are of latest style L. Kittrel, will begin a series of revival services at the Cumberland Presbyterian church the 3rd. Sunday in this month.

The pastor, Rev. J. J. Dalton cordially invites all of the churches of the town to take part in the meetings. Mr. Kittrel comes recommended as a very fine preacher, and a great power in the Master's work.

The services of the Baptist church are still continued, with what apparent success we cannot say, but hope they will not "return to Me void." * *

The Protracted Services of the South Attention is called to the new Calera Methodist church are still being n:illinery advertisement of Mrs. S. held, but we have no report from them

> The Colored Baptist of the Shelby Springs Association are holding their annual session at this place.

byterian brethren commence their revi- speech. al services tomorrow.

Prof. Greek is making preparations N. C. White, editor of the Wash- for the celebration of the 400th. anniversary of the discovery of America. us a few minutes Tuesday morning. This is in obedience to the proclamation

The services will be held on the 21st. and a general holiday will be given to and, of course, is a practical prin- all the public schools throughout rhe

Mrs. McCauly, of Montevallo, has an advertisement of her fall and winter Yesterday evening our sanctum stock of Millinery goods in the JOURNAL, was invaded by two members of the And the ladies reading this column will typographical union, Messrs. New- lose nothing by turning over and readberry and Allen, who had spent a ing her advertisement and then calling few days on the road from Colum- at her house and making such purchasbus, Ga. to this point. In the lat- es as they need. Mrs. McCauly has been dividing her profits with the print-

> Sir Walter Scott and Bulwer Lytton work a day was all that was good for anything. A high authority has stated that a child's capacity for learning is at an end after three hours. And both these statements Dr. Everett Hale believes to be quite true. Dr. Hale, who at the age of seventy-two is strong and ty of health.

> > A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, The commemoration of great epochs in the history of the human race tends to elevate and ennoble mankind;

Whereas, The President of the United States, in pursuance of an act of Congress, has designated Friday, October 21st, 1892, as a day to be set apart for fitting observance of the 400th anniver sary of the discovery of America; and

Whereas, It is meet that the people of Alabama should join with their sister states in fitting tributes to the memory of the great explorer, and in proper commemoration of the historic event which conferred such lasting benefits upon the race at large.

Now, therefore, I, Thomas G. Jones, Governor of Alabama, in consideration of the premises, and in deference to the wishes of large numbers of people, do hereby issue this proclamation, requesting the people of Alabama, as far as practicable, to refran from their customary labors on Friday, October 21, 1892, and sweeten the breath. 25 c.per bottle and to devote the day to such public exercises as they may deem suitably expressive of the gratitude due to Columbus for all he dared and accomplished in his great discovery, and to Almighty God for his continued mercies and benefac-tion to the pecple of this republic. I do further recommend to the Superintendent of education that he cause a suspension of all public schools on that day, to the end that the children, who are soon to become the rulers of the State, may share in the celebration, and it of all it commemorates and teaches.

I further direct that the adjutant genof a national salute at sunrise on that day at each post where a battery of state troops is stationed.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great can they fail to appreciate our humility? Seal of the State to affixed, at the Capitol, this the 10th day of September, 1892 and the 117th year of the Independence of the United States of America. THOS. G. JONES,

FELLOW CITIZENS-I need not urge you to the performance of your full share in this campaign. Kings county was never known to falter in duty. The interests involved demand the greatest sacrifices any highest efforts. It is the welfare of the democratic party which we all love so well, which is at stake. I plead, not for individuals, but for a cause. In a great contest like lightment and we are still inclined to this, men are nothing, principles are everything. Our candidates represent our principles, and our This is a time of religion and revivals principles cannot prevail without in Calera. Don't forget it when you go the election of our candidates. The much more glorious will be the victory if we win.

You need have no uneasiness. "The Old Guard" will do its duty. Look out for the raw recuits. believe that a large majority of the people of this country are convinced of the rightfulness of democratic principles and want them to prevail. But the election will not win ieself, and there must be complete organization.

I repeat the injunction I uttered before the democratic state convention at Albany in February last:

"It is our duty to organize, organize, organize." With this motto inscribed upon our banner, "Public office is a public trust," supplemented by other sentimenes which I have endeavored to present to you to night, "No public taxation for private purposes," and "No Force Bill," let us close up our ranks and buckle on the fight with a determination to do all in our power for the triumph of our party and the election of our standard bearers, Cleveland and Stevenson.—Senator Remember that the Cumberland Pres- Hill, of New York, in his Brooklyn

LOUIS D. VANDERVERE. One of the best known business men in Chicago, representative of the great Bradstreet Co. HEADACHE, SLEEPLESSNESS, NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind. Gentlemen: I take pleasure in informing you of the very beneficial results which have followed the use of Da. Milts: Restorative Nervine in the case of myself and wife. For a year I was subject to a distressing pain at the base of the brain and upper portion of the spinal cord. I troubled with sleeplessness. Your Nervine was highly recommended to me. My case had been so obstinate that I had no confidence in the efficacy of any medicine. Yet as a last resort I consented to give it a trial. Much to my surprise, I experienced marked benefit; my sleeplessness disappeared; my headache was removed; my spirits and general the greater of the surprise of

thy improv-THOUSANDS ed. 1 600n

Gained Twenty Pounds. All this occurred after learned and well known Physicians mad falled. My wife is taking the Nervine with the best of results. Louis J. Vanderveke. SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR MONEY REFUNDED.

HUGH T. CAFFEY,

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON CALERA, ALA.

L. PETERS. HENRY WILSON, E. S. LYMAN Columbiana. Peters, Wilson & Lyman,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

Ben Jones was a capital fellow,
But he was so confoundedly sallow!
That his friends all forsook him.
E'en his sweet heart she shook him,
Which made poor Ben loudly bellow.
Now Ben hada friend named McQueens.
Who told him to take SMITH'S BILE
BEANS.

And now he's as rosy, as any pink posey, And has married a woman of means. Bile Beans will clear the complexion

-COLTO-

Mrs. S. H. McCauley's,

NEAR THE DEPOT,

NTEVALLO, ALA, MILLINERY--GOODS.

A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hats in the Lates Styes, and at Reasonable Prices.

Oct 8-3m

METY RESIDURANT.

Cor. Montgomery Ave. & Main St.,

CALERA, ALABAMA.

Meals, 25 cts.

J. J. HOWARD, - - - PROP.

Hish, Oysters, O Beef Stenk,

Meals at all hours from 6, a.m. to 9, p.m. Meals, 25 cts.

HOT COFFEE, HAM AND EGGS,

Now is the time for everyone who cherishes good health, to pay particular attention to the condition of their blood and its proper circulation. Nearly all diseases that flesh is heir to are caused and agravated by an impure condition of the blood and a sluggish circulation.

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS

Possessing Extraordinary Cleansing Powers K estoring and Strengthening the whoe System, Enriching the Bood producing increased vitality by restoring an impaired digestion and bringing back the bloom of youth to the cheek of the enfeebled and emaciated.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle-6 Bottles for $5.00.

For aleby All Druggists.

Nabors, Morrow, & Sinnige.

SOLE CONTROLERS, Birmingham.

WORDS ABOUT THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION.

Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers, 12 Pages.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT.

1. It is the best of all weekly news- "Aunt Susie," the editress of these depapers. partments, is a household word

2. It is invaluable to the tarmer and throughout the south.

the farmer's family, bringing each week
6. Bill Arp, Plunkett, and Uncle Recheer to the fireside and happiness to mus and a host of other special writers cheer to the fireside and happiness to the household.

3. It covers the news of the whole world, having its correspondents scattered over the globe, and having a thorough news service from every important news center in the world.

4. Its Agricultural Department alone is worth many times its subscription price to every farmer. This department is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, whose service is retained by the Constitution at great expense.

5. Its Woman's and Childeren's De mus and a host of other special writers are engaged by the year, and their inimitable sketches appear each week.

7. It is the People's Friend, and is the sturdy champion of the agricultural interests of the south.

8. It pays more money for its special features and a host of other special writers are engaged by the year, and their inimitable sketches appear each week.

7. It is the People's Friend, and is the sturdy champion of the agricultural interests of the south.

8. It pays more money for its special writers are engaged by the year, and their inimitable sketches appear each week.

7. It is the People's Friend, and is the sturdy champion of the agricultural interests of the south.

8. It pays more money for its special writers are engaged by the year, and their inimitable sketches appear each week.

7. It is the People's Friend, and is the sturdy champion of the agricultural interests of the south.

8. It pays more money for its news service than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any weekly newspaper in America.

9. It is the cheapeign features and for its news service than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south.

9. It is the People's Friend, and is the sturdy champion of the agricultural interests of the south.

9. It is the People's Friend, and is the sturdy champion of the weekly newspapers of the south.

9. It is the cheapeign features and for its news service than any other four of the weekly newspaper in America.

9. It is the cham

tution at great expense.

5. Its Woman'3 and Childeren's Departments are a source of infinite pleasone issue of the greatest weekly newspar

ure to every family, and the name of pers in the world. Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of your neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulated home should be without it

Agents Wanted in every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information.

THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

Banking House of W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co.,

CALERA: ALABAMA.

Receive Deposits, Negotiate Loans.

Issue interest bearing certificates of Deposit, and sell exchange on New York Louisville and Birmingham at regular rates cyarged by the larger cities.

We transact a general banking business, such as that of any incorporated bank in all of its legitimate branches, and would be pleased to open accounts with merchants, manufacturers and planters alike.

and Life Insurance

Written in the best companies.

PROPERTY AND FARM LANDS

Bought, Sold and Rented upon just terms,

CLEVELAND'S

Formal Letter of Acceptance.

TARIFF FOR REVENUE.

A Strong Presentation of the Issues Now Agitating the Public. The Plain Talk of a Plain Man to the Plain People.

A SOUND LETTER TO THINKING MEN

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The following is the letter of Grover Cleveland accepting the nomination as the Democratic candidate for President of the United States:

To Hon. William L. Wilson and Others, Committee, etc.:

GENTLEMEN: In responding to your formal notification of my nomination to the Presidency by the National Democracy, I hope I may be permitted to say at the ourset that continued reflection distribution of necessary tariff burdens, and observation bave confirmed me in rather than a precipitation of free trade. my adherence to opinions which I have heretofore plainly and publicly declared touching the questions involved in the

This is a time above all others when these questions should be considered in the light afforded by a sober apprehension of the principles on which our government is based, and a clear understanding of the relation it bears to the people for whose benefit it was created. can not be frightened. We sall thus be supplied with a test by impossible free trade. which the value of any proposition relating to the maintenance and adminishonesty of every political question can be judged. If doctrines or theories are presented which do not satisfy this test, loyal Americanism must pronounce them false and misch evous. The protection of the people in the exclusive use and enjoyment of their property and earnings, it is conceded, constitutes the especial purpose and mission of our free Government. This design is so inter-woven with the structure of our plan of rule that a fa lure to protect the citizens in such use or enjoyment, or their unjustifiable diminution by the Government itself, is a betrayal of the people's agency the means for the accomplish-ment of National objects, the American pionship of their rights. ment of National Cojects, the Finds and people are willing, through Federal taxation, to surrender a part of their earnings and income. Tariff legislation honest money, abundantly sufficient in honest money, abundantly sufficient in honest money, abundantly sufficient in honest money. ings and income. Tariff legislation presents a familiar form of Federal taxation. Such legislation results as surely in a tax upon our people as a tribute paid directly into the hand of the tax gatherer. We feel the burden of these tariff taxes too palpably to be persuaded erty rights of the people, are only justi-fiable when laid and collected for the and furnishing means for the accom- teed, the test supplied by a correct apprecialegislation manifestly enjoins strict econ. omy in public expenditures and their limitation to legitimate public uses, inasmuch as it prohibits absolute extortion and exaction by way of taxation from the substance of the people beyond the necessities of a careful and proper administration of the Government.

Opposed to this theory the dogma is now boldly presented that tariff taxation is justifiable for the express purpose and intent of thereby promoting especial interests and enterprises. Such a proposition is so clearly contrary to the spirit of our constitution, and so directly encourages the disturbances of selfishness and greed that its statement would rudely shock our people if they hadn't already been insidiously allured from the safe landmarks of principle. Never have honest desire for National growth, patriotic devotion to the country, and a wincere regard for those who toil, been so betraved by the support of a pernicious doctrine. In its behalf the plea that cur infant industries should be fostered did service until discredited by our stal-

Then followed the exigencies of a terrible war, which made our people heedless of opportunities for ulterior schemes afforded by their willing and patriotic payment of unprecedented tribute, and now. after a long period of peace, when our overburdend countrymen ask relief and restoration to a fuller enjoyment of their incomes and earnthey are met by the claim that tariff taxation for the sake of protection is an American system, the continuance of which is necessary in order that for our farm products. These pre-tenses should no longer deceive. The portation of panper labor instigated by his professed friends, and seeking evasion, and when capable and worthy, security for his interests in organized co-operation, still waits for a division of gratitude of the recountrymen should be approximately as a contract of the result of the advantages secured to his employer | ungrudgingly acknowledged.

under the cover of a generical solicitude for his wages, while the farmer is learn-ing that the prices of his products are fixed in foreign markets, where he suf-fers from competition invited and built up by the system he is asked to sup-

The struggle for an unearned advantage at the doors of the Government, tramples on the right of those who patiently rely upon the assurance of American equality. Every governmental concession to clamorous favorites invites corruption in political affairs by encouraging the expenditure of money to debauch the suffrage in support of a policy directly favorable to private and selfish gain. This, in the end, must strangle patriotism and weeken propular confidence in Ism and weaken popular confidence in the rectitude of Republican institutions. Though the subject of tariff leg slation involves the question of markets, it also involves a question of morals. We can-not with immunity taint the spirit of right and equity, which is the life of our Republic, and we shall fail to reach our National destiny greed and selfishness

Recognizing these truths, the National Democracy will seek by application of just and sound principles to equalize to our people the blessings due them from the Government they support, to promote among our countrymen the closest community of interest cemented by patriotism and National pride, and to point out a fair field where prosperous and diversified American enterprises may grow and thrive in the wholesome atmosphere of American industry, ingenuity and intelligence. Tariff Reform is still our purpose. We oppose the theory that tariff laws must be passed having for their object the granting of discriminating and unfair Govern-mental aid to private ventures. We wage no exterminating war against any American interests. We believe a readjustment can be accomplished in accordance with the principles we profest without disaster to anyone. We believe the advantages of free raw materials should be accorded to our manufacturers, and we contemplate fair and careful

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and pur-poses, instigated by the selfishness which seeks to hold, in unrelenting grasp, its unfair advantage under the present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising the majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests, and we know they can not be frightened by the specter of

THE FORCE BILL.

The Administration and management tration of our Government can be of our Government depend upon ascertained, and by which the justice and the popular will. Federal power is the instrument of that will, not its master. Therefore the attempt of the opponents of Democracy to interfere with and control the suffrage of the States throng Federal agencies, develops a design which no explanation can mitigate, reverse the fundamental and safe relations between the people and their Government. Such an aftempt cannot fail to be regarded by thoughtful men as proof of a bold determination to secure the ascendancy of a discredited party in reckless disregard of the free expression of the popular will. To resist such a scheme is an impulse of Democracy. trust. We have, however, undertaken to build a great Nation upon a plan especially our own.

To maintain it and furnish through its

The people are entitled to sound and their decision. should be so regulated and guarded by by any sophistry that they don't exist careful laws, that no one can be deluded Governmental action, or by wise and or are paid by foreigners. Such taxes, as to the certainty and stability of its representing a diminution of the property value. Every dollar put into the hands of the people should be of the same fiable when laid and collected for the purpose of maintaining our Government With this condition absolutely guaranand furnishing means for the accom-plishment of its legitimate purposes and functions This is taxation under the operation with this subject no selfish scheme of a tariff for revenue. It accords with should be allowed to intervene, and no the professions of American free institutions and justice and honesty answer tempted. The wants of our people tempted. arising from a deficiency or an imperfect tion of the principles upon which these distribution of money circulation ought institutions rest. This theory of tariff to be fully and honestly recognized and efficiently remedied. It should, however, be constantly remembered that the inconvenience or loss that might arise from such a situation can be much easier borne than the universal distress which must follow a discredited cur-

CIVIL SERVICE. Public officials are agents of the peo-ple. It is, therefore, their duty to secura for those whom they represent the be and most efficient performance of public work. This plainly can best be accomplished by regarding ascertained fitness in the selection of Government employes. These considerations alone are a sufficient justification for an honest adherence to the letter and spirit of civil service re-form. There are, however, other features of this plan which abundantly commend it. Through its operation worthy merit in every station and condition of American life is recognized in the distribution of public employment, while its applica-tion tends to raise the standard of political activity from thoughtless party affiliation to the advocacy of party principles by reason and argument. PENSIONS. The American people are generous and grateful; and they have impressed these characteristics upon their Government. Therefore, all patriotic men must commend liberal consideration for our worthy veteran soldiers and for the families of those who died. No complaints should be made of the amount of public money paid to those actually disabled or made dependent by reason of which is necessary in order that high wages may be paid to our working men, and a home market be provided for our farm, modulate. The provided has been a roll of honor, uncontaminated by ill desert and unvitiated by demagogic use. This is due to those whose worthy names adorn the roll, and truth is that the system is directly to all our people who delight to honor antagonized by every sentiment of justice and fairness, of which Americans are to those who in years to come should pre-emimently proud.

It is also true that, while our people defend themselves against the harder home life which such tariff decrees, the workingman, suffering from the imsurfact of the such tariff decrees, the soldiers in public employment should be secured to them honestly and without Assurance to the people of the utmost individual liberty, consistent with peace and good order, is a cardinal principle of our Government. This gives no sanction to vexations sumptuary laws which unnecessarily interfere with such habits and customs of our people as are not ofconfensive to a just moral sense and not insistent with good citizens ip and the public welfare. Such a principle requires that the line between subjects which are properly within governmental control and those which are more fit-tingly left to parental regulations, should be carefully kept in view. And enforced education, wisely deemed a proper preparation for citizenship, should not involve the impairment of wholesome parental authority nor do violence to the household of the citizen. Paternalism n the Government finds no approval in the creed of Democracy. It is a symptom of misrule, whether it is in authorized gifts or by an unwarranted control of personal and family affairs. IMMIGRATION.

Our people, still cherishing the feeling of human fellowship which belonged to our beginning as a Nation, require their Government to express for them their sympathy with all those who are op-pressed under any rule less free than ours. This generous hospitality, which is one of the most prominent of our National characteristics, prompts us to welcome the worthy and industrious of all lands to homes and citizenship among us. This hospitable sentiment is not violated, however, by careful and reasonable regulations for the protection of public health, nor does it justify the reception of immigrants who have no appreciation of our institutions, and whose presence among us is a menace to peace and good order.

NICARAGUA CANAL. The importance of the construction o this necessary ship canal as a means of promoting commerce between our States and with foreign countries, and also as a contribution by Americans to enterprises which advance the interest of the world of civilization, should commend the project to Government approval and indorsement.

THE WOLD'S FAIR.

Our countrymen not only expect from those who represent them in pubtic places a sedulous care of things which are directly and palpably related to their material interest, but they also fully appreciate the value of cultivating our National honor. Both their material interests and their National pride and honor are involved in the success of the Columbian Exposition, and they will not be included. be inclined to condone any neglect of effort of their Government to insure in the grandeur of this event a fitting exh bition of American growth and greatness, and a splendid demonstration of American patriotism.

CONCLUSION. imperfect and incomplete manner I have thus endeavored to state some of the things which accord with the creed and intentions of the party to waich I have given my life-long allegiance. My attempt has not been to 10struct my countrymen, nor my party, but to remind both that Democrate doctrine lies near the principles of our Government, and tends to promote the people's good. I am willing to be accused of addressing my countrymen on trite topics in a homely fashion, for I believe that important truths are found on the surface of thought, and that they should be stated in direct and simple terms. Though much is left unwritten, my record as a public servant leaves no excuse for misunderstanding my belief and position on the questions which are presented to the voters of the land for

Called for the third time to represent volume to supply their business needs.
But whatever may be the form of the people's money, National or Stute, whether gold or silver or paper, it confidence less than ever effaces a solution of the supremacy of Democratic principles, my grateful appreciation of its confidence less than ever effaces a solution.

emn sense of my responsibility.

If the action of the convention you represent shall be endorsed by the suffrages of my countrymen, I will assume the duties of the great office for whice I have been nominated, knowing full weil its labors and perplexities, and with an humble reliance upon the Divine Being, infinite in power to aid and constant in watchful care over our favored Nation. Yours very truly, GROVER CLEVELAND.

GRAY GABLES, Sept. 26, 1892.

POPULAR SCIENCE NOTES.

THE WORLD'S COAL FIELDS .- The coal fields of the world are said to have the following areas: China and Japan 200,000 square miles; United States, 194, 000; India, 35,000; Russia, 27,000; Great Britain, 9,000; Germany, 3,000; France, 1,800; other European countries, PEAT FOR LOCOMOTIVES .- It seems that peat has been permanently adopted as fuel for the locomotives on the Vadstena-Oderhous Railway in Sweden after a series of exhaustive tests to determine its relative value as compared with coal. In the final tests a locomotive pulled a train at regular speed, and up the steepest gradients, steam being maintained at full pressure, even with cold water fed into the boiler.

RESISTANCE TO THE FLOW OF AIR THROUGH PIPES.—Some valuable experiments have been made at one of the most extensive manufacturing and engineering plants in Boston relating to the resistance to the flow of air through pipes at a high velocity. These experi show that a single opening of a given area is vastly more effective to conduct steam or air than the same area divided into small separate apertures. It is evi dent that a long, thin opening will not carry the same amount of steam that a wider and shorter opening will when of the the same area—or, if two openings have the same area, the one which has the width and length more nearly the same will carry the larger amount of steam in a given time and at a given pressure. Again, as locomotives are now built only a fraction of the total weight is utilized at speeds above forty miles per hour; hence an increased weight is not necessary to pull heavy trains at high speeds after they have attained speed There is also steam capacity in the ordi nary locomotive to furnish the steam required to do heavy express work. The means, therefore, of increasing the power of express locomotives at speed is to increase the mean effective pressure in the cylinders, and to do this there is no surer way, it is asserted, than to increase the outside lap and the travel of the

TEA GROWN IN SOUTH AMERICA

A Substitute for the Chinese Article Used by Thousands in This Country.

"Taste that," said a tea merchant to a New York Tribune reporter the other day, as he handed him a curious shaped bowl, full of a thin, brownish liquor, with something that looked like a tobacco pipe resting in bowl downward. The reporter put his lips to the stem of the pipe, and sucked at it cautiously.

"What is it?" he asked. "It tastes like weak tea."

"That's just what it is," answered the merchant, "but it's a brand of tea I'm pretty sure you never tasted before. That's a genuine American tea; grown in America, cured in America, indigenous to America and consumed in large quantities for years by hundreds of thousands of Americans; and yet I'll be bound you never heard of it."

"Perhaps not," admitted the reporter guardedly. "What state is it raised in 2 Is some four-story brick tea farm down here in Water street responsible for it? Willow leaves, arsenic and a patent essence of theine, or something of that sort, ch?"

"Not at all," said the merchant, a little indignantly. "It's a perfectly genuine and unadulterated article. Its native state is Paraguay, and that country raises enough for its own consumption and 5,000,000 pounds annually for export to other South American countries."

"Oh, South American," exclaimed the reporter. "You misled me by saving American."

"Did I?" said the merchant sarcastically. "Any why, pray? That's one of the annoying peculiarities of this people. They're too conceited to get themselves a distinctive name, but in a lordly way dub themselves Americans. They speak of Brazilians, Canadians, Chileans, Paraguayans and the other millions as if they had no right to that title at all."

"But about the tea?" interrupted the reporter apprehensively, "What do you call it?"

"Mate is the name of it," replied the merchant, "pronounced 'mat-eh.' And many South Americans are very fond of it. You have just had the pleasure of drinking it in the native manner. That curious bowl is not made of papier-mache. as you might think, but is a gourd, trained into that shape while growing. The natives are experts in that line, and by binding the green gourd here and there with cords, or bending it one way or another. they made it take a diversity of shapes before it becomes ripe enough to be cut, dried, scooped out and used as a utensil. It will not stand fire, of course; but the mate is first put in the gourd, and then boiling water is poured on it. After a few moments a pipe or tube is inserted, and the liquor is drawn off by suction.

"What looks like the bowl of the pipe," continued the tea merchant, as he lifted it from the liquid and allowed the reporter to examine it, "is in reality a strainer, which prevents the grounds from reaching the mouth. It is made in the shape of a popular remedy known. bulb or ball, and this one is a curiosity in its way, for it is all woven by and $1 bottles by all leading drugspecies of dried grass. Metal ones are may not have it on hand will prover strainers. This is an old style one, and I value it on that account. It is called a bombilla. The natives like their mate, as we would say, red hot. Its effect is much the same as that if the tea you are accustomed to, timulating and restorative, and, of ourse, has its enemies, who projounce it slow poison, and its friends. who call it the Paraguayan equivalent for the cup that cheers, but not,

"Is it real tea, botanically considered?" persisted the skeptical reporter ..

"Well, if you come down to botany," admitted the merchant, "it's really aspecies of holly, Ilex Paraguayensis, but it contains in large proportions the constituent which makes other teas useful, that of theine. Its leaves and green shoots are collected, dried and ground up unevenly; that is, some of it gets to be a fine powder in the rough method of preparation, and then again you will find twigs in it an inch long. A large number of people get employment in its growth, preparation and export, but I am not aware that it finds a market in any but South

It is no trouble to get a striking picture of a pugilist.

American countries.

No Wonder People Speak Well of HOOD'S. "For a long time I was troubled with weak stomach, Indigestion and Dyspepsia. I began taking lood's Sarsaparilla and have not felt so well all

Mr. R.J. Bruudage. over for years. My food seldom troubles me now. My sister also took Hood's Sarsaparilla with very pleasing results. I don't wonder people speak well of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Don't see how they can help it." R.J. BRUNDAGE, Norwalk, Ct. N.B.—Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and OTHER'S FRIEND BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., ATLANTA, GA. Foundation for a Factory City.

A famous Vienna actress who recently went bankrupt, had a bill for dress making alone amounting to 700,000 florins.

MANY persons are broken down from over-work or household cares. Brown's Iron Bit-ters febuids the system, aids digestion, re-moves excess of bile, and cures malaria. A spendid tonic for women and children.

At a Paris fair a prize was awarded to the Sample Package Mailed Free Address Small Bile Beans, New York.

A buried city has been discovered near Ironton, Ohio.

Constipation cured by Small Bile Beans. A shower of flies fell at Mount Joy, Penn., recently.

Cure for Colds, Fevers and General Debility, Small Bile Beans. 25c. per hottle.

A Boston paper has for its motto: "With a mission and without a muzzle."

LADIES needing a tonic, or children who want building up, should take Brown's Iron Bitters. It is pleasant to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Biliousness and Liver Com-plaints, makes the Blood rich and pure.

A resident of Asheville, N. C., claims to be a descendant from Julius Cæsar.

ANYONE would be justified in recommending Beecham's Pills for all affections of the liver and other vital organs.

S. K. Coburn, Mgr.. Clarie Scott, writes: "find Hall's Catarrh Cure a valuable remedy."
Druggists sell it, 75c.

The Only One Ever Printed. CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

These is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alive except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Grescent" on everything they make and publish. Look torif, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OF SAMPLES FREE.

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most

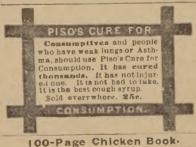

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c hand, in very fine meshes, from a gists. Any reliable druggist who more common, and the rich have sil-wer strainers. This is an old styleoue, wishes to try it. Do not accept any

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

Its Origin and History;

An interesting Pamphlet mailed to any address on receipt of Stamp. Dr. I. H. HARRIS, Fittsburgh, Pa.

It teaches you how to detect and cure Dis-lases; how to feed for eggs and also for fat-lening Sent postpaid for 25c. Book Pub tening Sent postpaid for 25c. House, 134 Leonard st., N.Y City.

PATENTS W. T. Fitzgerald, Washington, D. C. 40-page book free.

No 39 1892

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE. THE BEST SHOE IN THE WORLD FOR THE MONEY. mooth aside flex ble, more comfortable stylish and durable that my other shoes er sold at the price. Equals custom made shoe lasmen have ound the office of the last of

ASK FOR W. L. DOUGLAS' SHOES.

If not for learning the substitutions are fraudulent and subject to proscution by law for obtaining money under false presence.

Write for Catalogue

William McKeekan, Druggist at Bloomingdale, Mich. "I have had the Asthma badly ever since I came out of the army and though I have been in the drug business for fifteen years, and have tried nearly everything on the market, nothing has given me the slightest relief until a few months ago, when I used Boschee's German Syrup. I am now glad to acknowledge the great good it has done me. I am greatly relieved during the day and at night go to sleep without the least trouble.'

Sold by Grocers everywhere. W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

UNICALME

DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Me.

(Only 25c.

Book Publishing House, 135 LEONARD ST. N. Y. CHY.

COLUMBIA'S EMBLER

Blazon Columbia's emblem, The bounteous golden Corn! Eons ago, of the great sun's glow And the joy of the earth, 't was born.

From Superior's shore to Chile, From the ocean of dawn to the west, With its banners of green and tasseled sheen,

It sprang at the sun's behest; And by dew and shower, from its natal hour, With honey and wine 't was fed, Till the gods were fain to share with men

The perfect feast outspread. For the rarest boon to the land they loved Was the Corn so rich and fair, Nor star nor breeze o'er the farthest seas Could find its like elsewhere.

In their holiest temples the Incas Offered the beaven-sent maize-Grains wrought of gold, in a silver fold. For the sun's encaptured gaze; And its harvest came to the wandering tribes

As the gods' own gift and seal: And Montezuma's festal bread Was made of its sacred meal. Narrow their cherished fields; but ours Are broad as the continent's breast, And, lavish as leaves and flowers, the sheaves

Bring plenty and joy and rest. For they strew the plains and crowd the wains

When the reapers meet at morn, Till blithe cheers ring and west winds sing A song for the garnered Corn.

The rose may bloom for England, The lily for France unfold; Ireland may honor the shamrock, Scotland her thistle bold: But the shield of the great Republic, The glory of the West, Shall bear a stalk of the tasseled Corn,

Of all our wealth the best. The arbutus and the goldenrod The heart of the North may cheer. And the mountain-laurel for Maryland Its royal clusters rear;

And jasmine and magnolia The crest of the South adorn: But the wide Republic's emblem Is the bounteous, golden Corn!

-Edna Dean, in the Century.

The Coachman's Story.

T was my first regular place, sir, and ried out of hand!" proud enough Iwas, I had helped groom twenty dollars a month and my board, this—I won't be defied—I won't be set proceed at once."

with two black livery suits a year thrown at naught by any one alive!"

And then and to the first ten-dollar bill I sent to mother stone. Trippy wrung her hands. twenty; but I was always old-looking she. "My young lady isn't fit to-" for many years, and had a steady way with me.

It wasn't the liveliest place in the world at the major's—Jaggleford Hall, they called it—and the only bit of life

"Well, Sam," said she, in that pretty, aggravating way of hers, "how do you like your new place?"

"It seems about as wideawake as a deaf and dumb asylum, miss," said I. "Don't call me miss, Sam," giggled

she. "I'm only a servant like yourself." "You're a very good one to look at," said I.

"Sorry I can't return the compliment," said she, her b'ack eyes sparkling.

And after that we were very good friends, though old Mrs. Mobbs, the housekeeper, was always plotting and planning to keep us apart; and it was major. through Trippy that I first heard of the love story between Mr. Warrington and Miss Gertrude.

"Do you mean to say you never knew it before?" said Trippy (Her real christened name was "Tryphena.") "Not a word," said I.

"Oh, then you ain't going to help us?" "Help you do what?" asked I.

"Oh, stupid!" cried out Trippy, with caring for her." an impatient shake of her curly head. "Help circumvent the old Turk to be sure. Major Juggleford, I mean. For, Miss Gertrude shall marry Doctor Dar- a sudden the pitiful sounds stopped. win, who's old enough to be her father, and he's got a wart on the end of his nose. But he's rich, you see, and poor Mr. Warrington has got nothing but his handsome face and merry black eyes."

be sure-and I wasn't long in giving gleford Hall that night. It was dark as Trippy to understand that I was with her and Miss Gertrude and Mr. Warrington, stable lantern wasn't a bit of use. heart an sour!

really trusted me, after ne heard that I had lived with Mr. Warrington, and I had no chance at all to show my sym. py almost carrying her along. pathy. But I used to gather fresh waterblies for her every morning-Trippy took these to her room--and I set myself to work to tame a young fox, that I had caught in a trap, for her. There major, stepping plump into a puddle of wasn't anything else I could do.

had been nearly a week at Juggleford

Hall. "She's delicate, Trippy, ain't she? said I. "Looks like a flower that he grown in the shade?"

"She ain't a bit well," Trippy an- was just room for one passenger inside, they torment her so. It's a burning storm and all. shame, to ask a girl to marry an old fogy like Doctor Darwin, while, all this time, her heart belongs to Mr. Frank major. "I can't afford to run any more THE NEW YORK SENATOR'S MASTERLY tion to a protective tariff is that it is an Warrington!"

"It is that!" said I, with emphasis, "Oh, do be careful, Sam," said Trippy -for I was helping set the studio to rights, moving the big curved cabinet "Are you crowded there?" pursued he and taking down the window draperies, that were faded almost white in the sun, and at the same moment I gave a yell like a wild Indian.

"What's this?" said I. "Is it alive?" | I'm all right!" Trippy nearly doubled up with laugh-

"Oh, Sam!" said she; "you'll be the supposed him to be capable of. death of me! Don't look so frightened -don't! It's only a lay figure!"

"And what is a lay figure?" said I, keeping as far away as possible from the gether made such a noise that we couldn't queer looking, lanky thing, with its head catch the answer. hanging over on one side, as if its neck was broken, and its hands drooping straight down.

"It's what Miss Gertrude dresses up to paint pictures from," said she, when she could get breath enough to answer ing. Don't cry, Trippy! It's a shame, me. "You don't mean to say that you never saw one before?"

"Never!" said I, keeping as far away as possible, for it seemed as if it might come alive any minute, and made me think of the spooks old Granny Magilton used to talk about. "And does Miss Gertrude paint real pictures!"

"The prettiest you ever set eyes on," said Trippy. "If only her spirit was equal to it, and she wasn't badgered about that old Darwin fudge, I'm dead sure she'd be a great artist!"

But, now that it's all over, I don't mind saying that I was glad to carry the draperies out to the back lawn, where they were to be dusted, and so get rid the Reverend Mr. Doty. of the sight of that lay figure. It was spooky, no mistake about it.

The next day there was a great rumpus at the Hall. Somehow the major had contrived to get hold of one of Mr. Frank's love letters.

"So he's hanging about the premises, is he? The shiftless, good-for-nothing young vagabond!" said he. "But I'll settle his business for him! Trippy, pack your young lady's things at once. I'll take her to Saratoga, where Doctor Darwin is drinking the waters for the benefit of his liver. She shall be mar-

"Papa!" shrieked Miss Gertrude, as you may believe. turning as pale as ashes.

"I mean it!" said the major, stampthe horses at Mr. ing around in a fury. 'Lose no time.

Leslie's stable, and I had lent a hand o'clock to night. We can get the sleepat odd jobs around er at Callentown and be in Saratoga to-Mr. Warrington's fishing camp, but I morrow morning, and you shall be Mrs.

never went as regular coachman until Doctor Darwin in less than twenty-four he. "We wish to be married, sir," said he. "We are both fully of age, and there is no possible objection. Please twenty dollars a month and my hour! I won't be defend to the like there is no possible objection.

Miss Gertrude burst out into tears and You may guess how pleased I was; sobs that might have melted a heart of hack that was waiting at the back en-ov it's raining, sir," "She's neither sugar nor salt!" interrupted the major, still spinning around | Trippy?" like an elderly peg top. "Pack up, I say, and lose no time." Of course, this was very hard. Even about it was Trippy, Miss Gertrude's old Mrs. Mobbs owned as much as that.

"And only to think, she'll never see the

"What's that you're bringing here, me face to face on the garret stairs. I nearly dropped my load in my consternation. "It's Trippy's trunk, sir," I stammered.

"Take it back again!" roared the ajor. "She wont need it."

"Sir!" gasped I. "Take-it-back-again!" said he.

"Ain't I going, sir," cried Trippy, who was waiting at the foot of the stairs. "No, you're not!" said the major.

"Who's to take care of her, sir?" persisted Trippy. "She'll have a husband to look after

I took the trunk back, but as I returned along the hall, I could hear Miss | the dapple gray team?—Seturday Night. Gertrude sobbing, and Trippy, poor you see, he's made up his mind that soul, trying to comfort her. And all of

> "She must be feeling better, poor "I only wish young lady!" thought I. we could get word to Mr. Frank!"

I don't know that I ever was out in a worse thunder storm than when the Here was a full-blown love story, to stage coach stopped at the gates of Jugpitch, and the wind blowing so that my

The major went first with a valise in But, after all, what was there that I each hand and a big Mackintosh that could do? Major Juggleford never flew open like the sails of a ship. I followed after with the trunks on a barrow, and Miss Gertrude came last, with Prip-

"I'm atraid your new traveling dress will be clean spoiled, miss," said Trip-

"Hang the traveling dress!" said the water, for the gravel walk was like a you waiting for? Don't you see that the tage is here?" "Look alive!" bawled the stage driver. And between them, he and Trippy got Miss Gertrude into the back seat. There in locomotive engines.

swered. "Nor she won't be, as long as and the major was to go on the box, risks-eh? Are we all ready? Are vou comfortable, my dear?"

But Miss Gertrude never answered him "Are you crowded there?" pursued he.

"Time's up, s r !" said the stage-driver, looking at his big silver watch. "Sulking, eh?" said the major. Well, keep on if it amuses you! Yes, coachy,

And he scrambled up to the box-seat with a good deal more activity than I'd

"Good-by, Miss Gertrude!" shrilly called Trippy.

But the wheels and the thunder to-

"Take my arm back to the house—the lantern has blown out, and the wind is fit to take you off your feet. I'll leave the barrow here until to-morrow morn-so it is; but-" She jerked her arm away from me. "Sam," she said, in a choked voice, 'go for the minister at once."

"The which?" said I.

"The minister, I say! Are you deaf?"
"Who's sick?" said I, with my mouth wide open. "Is it Mrs. Mobbs?" "Don't stop to ask idiotic questions!"

said Trippy, stamping her feet. "Quick! Run! It may be too late!" When Trippy got one of those breezy ways with her, it was no use opposing her will. The only thing was to obey; and I ran down the short-cut through the woods as fast as ever I could, after

He was just shutting up his house for the night, but he put on his water-proof coat and came with me, when I represented the urgency of Trippy's message. "It must be Mrs. Mobbs," said he. "She has been anxious about her soul this long time. My sermons have done some good, it would appear. Continual dropping wears the hardest stone!" It was raining now harder than ever, but we managed to reach the old Hall. Trippy was waiting for us at the door.

"Come in!" she cried. "Quick!"
"Is it Mrs. Mobbs?" said the minister.

"Is she under conviction?" The next minute Trippy flung open the library door. It was a blaze of waxlights there, and the mantle was all decorated with my water-lily buds.

There, before our eyes, stood Miss Gertrude dressed in white, with Mr. while I run counter to your teelings to Warrington at her side.

And then and there they were married. Not until they had driven off in the trance gate did I collect my senses "But who was it that went in the stage coach with Major Juggleford? Eh,

"Oh, Sam, you dreadful goose?" said Trippy. "It was the lay figure!" "What!" said I.

"Didn't you see me lifting it along? Trippy went about, looking as if she'd Didn't you suspect anything? Sam, lost her best friend, and I gathered a Sam, I declare you grow more stupid double lot of water lillies when I went every day. Yes, it was the lay figure in out on the lake to catch fish for dinner, the new traveling suit, and all the time "It'll be the last she'll get," said I. Miss Gertrude was putting on a white dress and her dear mother's own Brusfox go through the tricks I'm teaching sels veil at home, bless her heart! And what will the major say when the stage stops at Callentowa, and he goes to help Sam?" the major thundered, as he met the traveler out? And there's no return stage till to morrow moraing at nine o'clock.

"Trippy," said I, after a long silence.

"Well?" retorted Trippy.
"I'm almost sorry, Trippy," said I, "that while the minister was here, and as it seems so easy to be married, that you and I didn't get married too!"

"Don't be a fool, Sam!" said Trippy. But she didn't seem so very angry, after all, and some day-who knows? Yes, sir, that's exactly how it happened. I wasn't to blame at all; but the Major discharged the whole househer soon, said the major, smiling a grim | ful of us. Trippy is with Mrs. Warringsmile. "Until then I'm quite capable of | ton now, Mrs. Mobbs is matron in a hospital, and I'm very well pleased here, Did you say the wagonette, sir, and

All-the-Year-'Round Flower.

For a genuine all-the-year-'round bloomer we must decide in favor of the common dandelion, for we have known it to bloom every month in the year except January. In New Jersey, near this city, and in the southern part of the State we have no doubt that flowers could have been found on some sunny slope when not elsewhere. Of course there are occasional severe winters when it would be difficult to find dandelions in bloom in the open field later than November, but those who have taken the trouble to search for these flowers assure us that they can usually be found all the year round in this latitude. Of course, these flowers are most abundant in spring, but the stragglers turn up without much regard to time or season. -New York Sun.

A pair of gloves passes through about I did not see Miss Gertrude until I lake. "Come on, Gertrude! What are | 200 hands from the moment that the skin leaves the dressers until the gloves are purchased by the intending wearer.

Great improvements are being made

HILL HITS HARD.

Senator David B. Hill spoke as follows to an immense assemblage at Buffalo, N. Y.: I am here to-night to aid in the promotion of Democratic principles and to advocate the election of Grover Cleveland and Adlai E. Stevenson. No apology or explanation is needed for my course. For over ten years it has been my custom at each annual election to appear before my fellow-citizens and contribute my share towards the discussion of the political questions of the hour.

would prove an exception to the usual rule and you are not disappointed. Among honorable men the loyal discharge of political duty outweighs all minor considerations; and in this crisis of our country's history and in this great emergency in our party's affairs individual disappointments or even alleged personal injustice should be subordinated in the faithful performance of political obligations, not as a mere matter of expediency but from a high and stern sense

You did not believe that this campaign of duty. Permit me to suggest that we have all of us now a mission to fulfil. Petty jealousies must be dismissed; regular organizations must be respected; party discipline must be enforced; dissensions must be healed and apathy must give way to enthusiasm, in order that the grand old party to which we are proud to belong may secure the triumph of right principles and work out the noble destiny which ought surely to await it.

The control of this Government for many years to come by one or the other of the two great political parties is the prize at hazard in the pending contest, in which all other considerations should sink into insignificance.

These are not merely formal words, intended to arouse the lethargy or to soothe the wounded feelings of earnest friends, but are a fit supplement to the sentiments which I had the honor of expressing before the Democratic State Convention at Albany in February last, immediately after its action unanimously instructing the delegates from my native State to present my name as its first choice to the approaching National convention. I then said: "And now you must pardon me say that the choice of your next standard bearer is a matter of the very least importance, being strictly subordinate to that supreme object—a Democratic National victory next November."

I meant what I said on that occasion and I reiterate it now. The test of true Democracy is the support of regular party nominations, irrespective of quesbition or individual preferences.

FEDERAL TAXATION.

The two great political parties of the at our very doors. country are divided upon the all-important subject of Federal taxation. Unjust taxation is the essence of tyranny. It annoys the rich, it robs the poor, it public discontent. The American Revolution was largely produced by a little tax upon tea which our forefathers refused to pay. They incurred the perils of rebellion and the pains of outlawry rather than submit to unreasonable taxation. The best thought of the American people may well be engaged in devising the most equitable and comprehensive scheme for the proper distribution of the burdens of government. The subject becomes yearly more important as the expenses of administration annually increase.

How shall the enormous expenditures of the Government be provided for? | sources of genuine prosperity. How shall its necessary revenues be raised? It is conceded by both parties that the best and easiest method of realizing the needed revenue is by taxation upon foreign imports. It is also admitted that a few internal taxes should be permitted to exist, but that the main and principal revenues should be derived from the imposition of tariff duties. Upon this point there is no substantial division of sentiment. It is true that there are some extreme men, now ostensibly acting with the Democratic Party, but who do not control its councils or policy, who are opposed to all tariff taxation and favor direct taxation as the best means of meeting our National expenditures, in substantially the same manner that our State taxes

There can be no reasonable doubt that tariff taxation will continue to be the permanent policy of the Government, notwithstanding the opinions of these sincere but impracticable theorists who advise its abandonment.

THE PRECISE ISSUE.

The dispute between the two parties arises over the extent, effect and objects of our taxation. Shall tariff taxation be industries?

This is stating the question as nearly as I am capable of doing it. The proposition involves the power of the Government, the true purposes of taxation, the propriety of the exercise of the two methods proposed, and the results produced bearing upon the taxpayer and the country. The power of the Govern- necessary by no political conditions, but this fashion.—Chicago Herald.

ment to raise revenue by a tariff upon imports is undisputed, but its constitu-tional power to impose a tariff for any ADDRESS AT BUFFALO-DENOUNC- abuse of the taxing power of the Gov-ING PROTECTION AND THE FORCE ernment; it compels the whole people to pay tribute to a few; it is a system based upon injustice and unfair discriminations, and tends to build up monopolies.

The Democratic position is so plain and reasonable that he who reads may understand it. It believes that the true and constitutional purpose of a tauff is the raising of necessary revenue for the support of the Government-and that is all. Let the tariff be high or low as the needs of the Government may require. Let it not be so high or low as to create a surplus in the Treasury. The place for surplus taxes is in the pockets of the people and not in the Federal Treasury.

The Republican position is that the Government should use its powers of taxation to build up private industries by placing tariff rates so high that they will absolutely prohibit foreign importations or prevent any serious competition with such industries. The Republicans believe that the question of revenue should be a minor consideration in the forming of a tariff bill, and that the fostering of some industries should be the primary one. They shut their eyes to the fact that they are unnecessarily interfering with the natural laws of trade. They ignore the value of foreign trade or assume to believe that foreign countries will trade with us although we purchase nothing from them. They forget that reciprocity cannot be one sided. They appeal to the selfishness of the people and to their natural jealousies of and animosities against foreign countries.

The arguments of the Republicans in support of this system are inconsistent with each other, they in one breath alleging that a high protective tariff keeps up prices and in another breath that it reduces them. "You pay your money and take your choice." Our opponents are as versatile and accommodating in their argument in this respect as was the ignorant village schoolmaster who had made application to teach a country school and when examined by the local committee as to his qualifications was asked the question whether the world was round or flat?" replied that it made no difference to him -that he would teach "that the world was round or flat just as the committee preferred." I do not believe that our American manufacturers require the protection which the Republican Party seems to be so anxious to foist upon them, especially if they were provided with free raw materials as the Democratic Party proposes to do. We are already underselling foreign manufacturers in most or many of the markets of the world, and if we can compete with them abroad, especially in their own markets, there would seem to be no real necessity of taxing our people longer in order to enable our own manufacturers to compete with foreign ones

All that America needs is a free field and a fair fight in the race of life and she will prove invincible in nearly every department of human activity. It is a interrupts business activity and fosters narrow and contracted view, however, that seeks to keep our country from contact with the commerce of the world. The Republican orator who boastingly asserts that the United States can raise and manufacture everything we need, that foreign commerce should not be sought after or foreign markets considered, and that our American farmers should be content with home markets and home prices, and that we can and should be independent of all the rest of the world, may gratify the selfish and false pride of his hearers, but he only exhibits his ignorance of history and his lack of comprehension of the true

THE DAVENPORT FORCE BILL.

The last step which the Republican Party took in the direction of centralized government was in the attempted enactment of the offensive and iniquitous measure now known as the Davenport Force bill. When this bill was pending in Congress in the summer of 1890 I had the honor of speaking in reference to its provisions as follows:

"If the people are thoroughly aroused to the nature and iniquities of the bill, the party which has conceived it and is now hastening to enact it will be buried under an avalanche of remoustrance at the next election. The election of that fall showed that the people were intensely aroused and that the bill was most emphatically condemned by an indignant people. immediately after that election the Republicans attempted to pass the bill, but thanks to the bold stand of our Democratic Senators in Congress, aided by a few independent and fearless Republicans, its enactment was prevented and the country was saved from its disgrace.

I have read in detail the prolix and preposterous provisions of the Davenport bill, and I speak not as a partisan, but as imposed for revenue only or shall it be an American citizen, jealous of the libused for the purpose of tostering private erty which my country's institutions secure for me, and devoted to the preservation of the simplicity of her governmental system, when I denounce this measure as a dangerous exercise of constitutional authority, a menace to our theory of put forward solely to insure Republican control of Congress.

Like many other partisan conspiracies the Davenport bill is proposed in the name of reform, and its defenders pretend to find warrant for it in that provision of the Constitution which de-

"The times, places and manner of holding elections for Senators and Representatives shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing Senators."

For a hundred years this provision has remained in our organic law, and no Congress has been bold enough to exercise the undoubted right wnich its terms give under certain extraordinary circumstances to annul State election lavs and place virtually the entire control of elections of Representatives in the hands of Federal supervisors. No Congress has yet been bold enough to exercise it because no great emergency for which it was designed has arisen, and no Congress, except the last, has had the temerity to place any other construction upon its meaning than that put by the convention which framed, and the people who ratified it. Under what authority, then, and upon what plea do men thus attempt to subeert the Constitution, establish an immense army of Federal spies, incur an expense of many millions, set one class of officers against another, annul State laws and make partisan Federal appointees the judges of elections.

There is no authority for it and no excuse. It is a policy of force and partisanship. It is the last arbitrary resort of an unscrupulous and tyrannical majority. It is the design of a party which, afraid to leave the question of its continuance in power to the free vote of the American people, is ready to employ any methods which will prolong its tenure

Have you thought what an immense political machine the enforcement of such a law would create? An army ef 150,000 workers and resources of $10,-000,000 for every Congressional election

-all in the interests of purer elections! I am astonished at the intellectual capacity of any public man who pretends to believe that such an exercise of power was premeditated by the men who made our Constitution; I am sorry for the un-Americanism of any person who does not believe such a bill as this to be a hostile blow at our form and theory of government, and I pity the partisan prejudices which prevents patriotic men from joining in the denunciation which they must feel for such an uncalled-for usurpation of power; but I am surprised at the hypocrisy of statesmen who urge and defend it upon the ground of pure elections, and I am amuzed at the audacity of politicians who have devised it as a scheme of party

REPUBLICAN CORRUPTION. The country has not forgotten the by which the Repuolican Party cane into power. It has not forgotten the enormous sums collected from manufacturers for the bribery of voters in the doubtful States. It has not forgotten those two epistolary incidents of the campaign-the Foster "fat-frying" circular and Dudley's "blocks-of-five" letter. And it is yet not ready to believe that the chief participants in those outrageous performances and the principal beneficiaries of this wholesale corruption are other than hypocrites and betrayers of the country's welfare.

The Davenport bill, instead of being in the interest of pure elections, is a direct thrust at them. To prevent such scenes as characterized the election of 1888 several States have recently passed reform laws which, it is believed, will make bribery and intimidation almost impossible. New York has such a law. In Indiana there is one. Connecticut and New Jersey each have one. Numerous other States now have them. But the Davenport bill, if enforced, would practically render those laws useless, although its provisions are carefully worded to produce an opposite impres-

I will not charge that the framers of that bill deliberately intended to prevent the operation of those laws in Federal elections, but when we now know that a notoriously versatile supervisor of elections in New York is the author of this bill, and when I hear men who sit in high places by virtue of corrupted suffrages talk loudest in their advocacy of this measure, I feel justified in the suspicion that the party which debased thousands of voters in 1888 is not averse to removing the obstacles to a similar carnival of corruption in future elec-

Ambidextrous Races.

The Fiji Islanders and the Terra del Fuegans are both left-handed—that is they possess equal powers with both hands. Stone throwing from both hands is an accomplishment they learn from their earliest years, and one in which they arrive at a high degree of periection. In times of war they throw the spear and other missiles with either hand and with unerring aim. It is a strange fact that the use of the right hand instead of the left has kept pace with the march of civilization. It has been found that the least intelligent of human kind, government and an insult to the people of when describing a circle of any similar the States. It is an arbitary act of despot- movement, always work from the right ism, justified by no precedent, made to the left. A child will also work in

FRANK W. GIST.

EDITOR.

Entered at the Post Office in Calera as Second Class Matter.

CALERA, WEDNESDAY, Oct. 26.

National Democratic Ticket the article below:

GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, A. E. STEVENSON, of Illinois.

For Congress 4th District, GASTON A. ROBBINS, of Dallas.

WE have thought it best to change our publication day to Weding Wednesday.

county vote for A. P. Longshore?

Does Longshore's record as legislator point to anything that brought condition they were in 1876 we relief to the people?

thing for the people that he should things to think about. expect the support of Shelby county for congress?

has a spark of patriotism in his bootness and boasters. We notice live [Tariff. And freemen of the breast find a sentiment in that inert and despondent, their voices South, it seems, should realize the P. Longshore?

one should vote for Longshore.

against the relief of his people in they no longer snort and paw the two sessions of the legislature.

record is not of that character to cate. justify the expectation of support of the people of Shelby county.

Longshore voted against a bill for the releif of disabled confederate soldiers when he was in the Alabama legislature. Now he wants to pay the difference between gold and greenback to all federal pensioners since the war.

Now we hear from Mrs. Lease and she's away out in Kansas mak ing straight out Harrisou speeches.

billed to speak at Calera Saturday, stitutien as a guide. "Bootlick,"

Just as we go to press it is current on our streets that the Weaver-Bowman-Moseley conglomerates are to take Hon. Longshore of the ticket for congress, and that his successor is to be a republican. It will be all the same, any man put on save what was done during the con- near Birmingham, on the 15th ult., such a ticket will be beaten, and it vention at Lakeview. We are com- we respectfully ask that you conhad just as well be Longshore as manded in the good book, when we any one else.

our noble state will have good effect Many who heard his speeches and be convinced of their error in opposing the Democratic party, which to get the desire of our heart. has always been their friend, and whose every act has been cratic congressmen.

INGLY.

The following article is taken from the Philadelphia Press, and the editor of that paper is Charles Emory Smith, Harrison's Minister to Russia, and of course is voicing the sentiments of Mr. Harrison and the republican party. It is plain to us that Weaver is running in the inter est of the republican party. These two parties favor a force bill to prevent the solid south from competing with them. Men who are supporting the third party are virtually in the interest of Mr. Harrison, and they are respectfully requested to note the infamous sentiment contained in this article, and to bear in mind that a vote cast for Weaver and Longshore is a vote for Harrison and Craig, and a vote to endorse the sentiments contained in

"It is all very well to rejoice in the prosperity and growth of the new northwest, for there sound views upon the tariff generally prevail, and their progress does not interfere with ourselves, but the ad vance of the south is to a great extent at our expense. Her cotton mills will compete with those of New England and the middle states, and her furnaces are supplying pig iron at a rate which makes it imbe seen that the dates on the out- BEEN ALLOWED TO REGAIN CONTROL OF THE STATE GOVERNMENTS OF THE side of this week is for Saturday. South, Northern capital would nevchange, this week and next will the surest and spediest way to put bear date of Saturday on the outside a stop to this competition from men who are our political enemies, as carry through and ENFORCE MEAS- they will be with you at the polls. URES like the LODGE ELECTION WHY should the people of Shelby LAW. They won't like it, and can once more get them into the won't here any more about cheap Has Longshore ever done any- the south. They will have other

THE Jonesites are evidently in a perturbed state of mind. As a rule their crowd is composed of bosses, Does any Confederate soldier who bootlicks and boasters. We notice lican party, Force Bill and Protectbreast which aays I can vote for A. are no longer heard in Gath, their vain glorious heraldry no longer sounds their triumph on the streets No reason can be given why any of Alkalon. The Advertiser seeks scheme. Our people are not fools. Randolph. committed suicide Sunto explain by saying that they are in a "state of lethergy born of over will not believe. Mr. Longshore has legislated confidence." However this may be earth like Job's warhorse, but are as meek and humble as young lambs Longshore's public and private at shearing time.—Reform Advo-

For unadulterated gall this beats anything we have seen since the of hireling Weaver would cover up election. The grounds for the as- their infamy and do the work, but sertion that "the Jonesites are in a that shadow of a hope for them perturbed state of mind," is wholly grows less every day. The Georgia obscure, but to the contrary, the and Florida results are index fingfollowers of Governor Jones are at ers to the attitude the entine South this time more bouyant and hopeful will assume in November. Southof the election of Cleveland than at erners have'nt any appetite for any time since his nomination. The another reconstruction period any second sentence, "as a rule, their time soon. crowd is composed of bosses, bootlicks and boasters," can be answered thus: Every true democrat does Rooms Republican Campaign Oom-Kolp, Bowman & Longshore are his own bossing, and takes the con-November 5. It is announced that from a political standpoint cannot Longshore desires to meet Mr. Rob- be applied to any save the office bins at his appointments in this hunter and the demagogue, and the Jones ranks, they must have been employed by the Kolb committee and scattered over the state to do it, will require a number whose boast of Kolb's majorities, which he expenses will have to be paid by failed to get, and since the 1st Monday in August we have heard but very little of that sort of politics the convention held at Lakeview, need "any good thing to come humbly and ask for it." Knowing that victory to our party is good, we are enzouraged to become humble and ask boldly but not boastingly for the election of Cleveland and Star the manuel by registered made before the clerk of the circuit court at Columbiana, Alabama, on October 21, 1892. viz.: Alexander Hunley. homestead entry, No. 20,341, for the N. E. qr of N. E. qr, section 34, township 21, south of range 2 west. He names the following with respect to the clerk of the circuit court at Columbiana, Alabama, on October 21, 1892. viz.: Alexander Hunley. homestead entry, No. 20,341, for the N. E. qr of N. E. qr, section 34, township 21, south of range 2 west. He names the bly and ask for it." Knowing that The visit of Gen. Stevenson to victory to our party is good, we are mail or postoffice money order to L. others who read his speeches, will the election of Cleveland and Ster- ery, Ala., that you have done so, enson, and in this way we are going and state the amount that you have

THE third party paper over in for to benefit of the people and Wetumka calls the democratic party you need not read it very close to the benefit of the country. Since the "frauducratic fleet." Listen at convince you that the Weaver ticket his arrival and since the great work the young journalist: "It is sad to means the assistance of that ticket has been done by him, we can more contemplate the wreck of the fraud- to the Republican party. "In order surely promise that this State will ucratic fleet. The poor fellows are that we may win," coming from the be solid for Cleveland and the demo | floundering in every direction, the | Mosely party, can mean nothing

THE CALERA JOURNAL. WEAVERITES, READ THINK- their only comfort is that their suffering will not be long, the November tide is coming to relieve them of all their many miseries and bury them." Right you are, young brother; it is sad to think of the persecutions that have been heaped upon us by those who have claimed to be democrats. Every sioner of agriculture," am endeavorto doubt, but a lucid moment would at the coming state fair of the gencome and the shining light from the grand and glorious principles of deand weary spirit, giving encouragement, and now that gallant, patriot ic band sees only two more weeks of labor and toil, for on the night of through competitive chibition, and the eighth of November the "glad certainly there is no more approved tiding of great joy" will be flashed adversement than a display of reacross the continent that the country is saved by the election of a democratic president and vice pres- of success is to let the world know ident and a defeat for ever of the it. force bill.

the Republicans and Weavesites mens of their handiwork will be have fused for the purpose of defeat- much appreciated. ing the democratic party, and we and from Birmingham, with the exlearn from our exchanges that the ception of heavy machinery. All campaign is growing very warm. articles that can with safely be ship-So warm, in fact, that opponents ped by freight should be forwarded in some instances come to blows. nesday and hereafter The Journal Possible to run those of Pensylva- Keep cool, democrats, nothing is to should be accompanied by such diwill be issued on that day. It will nia. If the DEMOCRATS HAD NEVER be gained by exhausting your man-rections, and special care will be hood in battle like that. Just tell taken to prevent injury. Upon apthem the truth and stick to it, and plication to me at Birmingham, As the supply house of our outsides er have embarked in the develop- they will be convinced of the error send exhibits. These tags will be require two weeks notice for a ment of Southern coal and iron; and of their way and come back, they proderly addressed, and can be fillare returning to the democratic ed by exhibitors, showing by whom fold every day down here, and if sent. and the inside the date of the follow- well as our commercial rivals, is to you will give them a hearty welcome > some of them will be fools enough to home taking care of the house, she ery, Capt. Sam T. Pruett, of Bulmake trouble about it; and if we ought to stay at home over the lock county, and Capt. John A. Tur

> > Butler Herald: No matter what may have the original purpose and ed to be at Birmingham, care Florintention of the Third Party mana- ence Hotel. Respectfully, gers, the new party is now working solely for the benefit of the Repubfact; for notody but a fool can fail will not believe.

Rockford Advecate: The Force Bill declarations of the Republican ty.

"Alabama Republican Campaign Committee, 1892.

mittee, Montgomery, Ala., Oct-10:5, '92.

[Dictated.]

Posmaster --- Ala. Dear Sir:-In order that we may win the election in November, it is county for a joint discussion. Will Opera House convention purged the of vital importance that we have Robbins accommodate him? Yes, party of most of these, and if there by all means, meet him and glo him ever were any "boasters" in the ganize our friends throughout the least full for the east half of section 22, township 24,

It will be necessary to have each county thoroughly canvassed and to this committee.

If you are in sympathy with the movement to elect the nominees of tribute the sum of $10 which is the amount assessed you by the cam paign committee.

Very Truly Yours, sent.

Ben de Lemos, Sec. Democrats read the above, and waters are raging around them and but "we" Republicans party.

A STATE EXHIBIT.

Commissioner Lane has issued the following circular, and in accordance with his request, we give it space, and ask a compliance with

In accordance with the law relating to "the duiles of the commisone of the true and faithful have felt ing to collect an exhibit and make be burden, and it has caused many as creditable a display as possible eral resources of the state, especially that of agriculture, And I appeal to those Alabamians who are mocracy would break in on his tired interest in the material advancement of the state to co-operate with with me in this effort.

I can conceive of no better mode of stimulating ambition than sources. These we know Alabama possesses to a wonderfal degree, and all that remains in attainment

I respectfully ask, not only the assistance of the men of the state, In Tennessee, as in this State, but the ladies also, and any speci-

I will pay all transportation to Articles that are desired returned tags will be sent to those who will

I have secured the services, as solicitors of exhibits, of the following prominent agriculturist: Col. Mrs. Lease's husband is still at Hon. J. R. McLendon, of Montgom W. Beck, of Jefferson county, country making a great fool of her ner of Limestone. Any favors shown these gentlemeu will be appreciated by this department

> All communications in reference to the state fair should be address

HECTOR D. LANE, Commiss'r. Agr'r.

SHOT HIMSELF.

Special-Randolph, Oct. 18 .-Mr. Stephen Smitherman, 50 years of age, a most worthy and exemto see through the Third Party plary citizen living six mile west of brains with a shotgun, while laboring under a fit of temporary insani-Mr. Smitherman told his wife party is too great a load for them what to prepare for his dinner, and to bear through the South. They said he would go to his room and had hoped that the flank movement take a nap. In less than two minutes thereafter his wife heard the report of the gun, ran to the room, only to find her husband dead, and the walls spattered with brains and

REGISTER'S SALE.

Morgan & Lapsley, vs. and by vir.

A. M. Elliott, Trustec, et al) the of a decree rendered at the Spring term, 1892, of the Chancery Court of Shelby county, Alabama, in the above entitled cause, I will proceed to sell, under the power contained in a Mortgage from II. M. Pierre, et al, to A. M. Elliott, trustee, at public outery, in front of the Court House door in the town of Columbiana,

Monday, the 17th day of October,

between the legal hours of sale, for cash, the following described real estate, situated near Calera in Sheby county, Ala., to wit: Fractions A, H, J, M, and the S.

This, August 11, 1892. D. R. McMILLAN, Register and Acting Trustee. 13aug-10w prs fec$16.50

Above sale continued to Monday December 5, 1892.

D. R. McMALLAN, Register.
oci22 7w prs fee$10 50

NOTICE 12,810.

Land office, Montgomery, Ala.)
September 7, 1892.
Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be uous residence upon and cultivation of, said land, viz.: W. M. Jones, Charlie Perry Riley, Lawson Hunley all of Calera, Ala.

J. H. BINGHAM, Register

Marion MILITARY Institute.

IVERTADES, ALLE.

Superior Accommodationrs and Board. Superintendent, his family and faculty live in building with students. Classic and Scientiffe. Superior Commercal Course. TERMS MODE-

COL. J. T. MURFEE, Superintendent.

SIX MILE MALE & FEMALE ACADEMY.

R. H. PRATT, Principal.

35th annual session begins September 26, IS92, and continues 40 WEEKS.

FONE WEEK FOR CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS.

TERMS.—Primary Department—per month...........$1 50 Intermediate, including English branches and Latin, Higer branches of Mathematics, French, Greek, with the Music and use of instrument, 3 00

Board—per month, $7. Washing, Starehing, Ironing $1.....$8 00 Students are required to furnish, for their own use, one pr. blankets, one pr. sheets and pillow cases, their own toilet lights. Payments, monthy or quarterly in advance.

This school is located at Six Mile, Alabama, in a healthy, well watered neighborhood, five miles from Ashby depot, on the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia Railroad

R H PRATT, PrIncipal, 3sept 6m Six Mile, Alabama.

THE

CALERA JOURNAL Book and Job Ofice, CALERA. ALA.

NEW AND LATEST STYLE TYPE,

BEST OF PAPER AND INK USED. BIRMINGHAM & MONTGOMERY PRICES DUPLICATED.

$1--A WEEKLY NESWSPAPER--$1.

The latest and most select political, social and religious news. Literature and science, a special feature. Special attention given to local correspondence. For further particulars in reference to subscriptions or Commercial or Pamphlet work, address,

> JOURNAL. LERA, ALA.

Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats Shoes, Gents & Ladies Dress Goods.

Have one of the Largest Stocks of Hats, Shoes, Clothing, Notions Dry Goods, and General Merchandize, Ever Brought to Shelby Court

OPPOSITE OUR DRY GOODS HOUSEWe have Opened up a

EMAMMOTH STOCK

OUR

and price Furniture as Low as any House in Alabama.

Our Campaign Goods are as neat and as Cheap as any in the State.

A. C. WADE & CC.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

RAILROAD TIME TABLE.

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE. No. 1, South Bound, " 2, North Bound, 10:05 p. m. ble. 66 66 7:15 p. m. ALABAMA MINERAL.

4:35, p. m. 80:25, a. m. 85, Arrives at 86. Departs at

COUNTY OFFICERS. Probate Judge—John S. Leeper. Circuit Clerk—W. R. A. Milner. Register in Chancery—D. R. McMil-

Sheriff-H. W. Nelson.

Tax Collector—A. F. Smith.
Tax Assessor—John II. Hammonds.
County Trersurer—W. A. Thompson. Superintendent of Education-E. O.

County Solicitor-J. L. Peters. County Commissioners—James Mc-Gowan, Rufus Walker, Richard Griffin, A. M. Jones.

Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills. 50 doses 25 ots.

AT THE CHURCHES.

Sundays in each month, morning and night; pastor to be supplied. Sabbath School at 9:30 a. m.

Dalton, pustor. Preaching every first and third Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday evenings at 7:30. Children's Panday school at 10 a. m. Children's Panday evenings at 7:30. Children's Panday school at 10 a. m. Sunday evenings at 7:30. dren's Band meets 3:30 p. m. each 1st and 3rd Sunday. Ladies' Aid Society every other Friday evening at 3.

Opium Habit cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

State Normal College.

FLORENCE, ALA.

The fall term will open September and family. 20th. I hope that you will be with us on the opening day, er as soon thereafter as possible.

Nearly every member of the class of To the people of Calera and vicinity this year had a good situation within a month of the close of school. Hun-forever; the still heart, the cold and dreds of the best teachers of Alabama and neighboring states have been edmost responsible positions.

Some of the graduates have gone into other professions. These have also taken very high rank. This goes to show that while training teachers, we are turning out men and women in the highest sense.

Remember that every department has an expert teacher at its head; $90 to $125 will defray a year'e expense for normal pupils. Academic students will pay $24 additional. Instrumental music is the only extra. If you have not seen a catalogue, send for one. Very truly yours,

JAS. K. POWERS,

President.

| St. Vitus' Dance cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine,

INSURE YOUR LIFE.
Read and profit by the following sound counsel, every word of which smarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel: "It is a duty you owe to yourself and amily to protect them with a reasonable amount of life insurance, where the stours of the financial world cannot touch them. stours of the financial world cannot touch them; where the assessor cannot tax them; where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old sge should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do your duty and insure immediately in some good, old reliable Company."—Extract from a sermon by the Rev. T. Dewitted the properties of the primary deserve special compliment from all, and we extend to each one and to their teacher, Miss Carrie Cooper, the approval of all those witt Talmage.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure at Druggists.

--THE--Sunday Sun

$2.00 A Year

Containing more reading matter than any Magazine published in America. Address

> THE SUN, New York.

Ripans Tabules: a standard remedy.

While coupling cars last Tuesday Clifton Pilgreen had his hand caught between the two bumpers and severely mashed. It will be gratifying to his friends to learn that no bones are broken, though he is suffering intense pain.

that Mrs. Alice, wife of W. W. Arnold and daughter Capt. A. J. her charms that of motherhood, is offer-Day, of Ashby, died at Capt. Day's ed with Demorest's Family Magazine residence last Tuesday. She was a for November. The portrait is exquigood, christian woman, and like all sitely executed in soft color tints, and good women, leaves many friends to what greatly adds to its value is the mourn her loss a very few minutes Thursday morning while waiting for a train to carry him to the Press convention.

the people of Shelby, and while we 4:14 p. m. nate as to need anything in his line, 5:10 a. m. but if they should, Rogan is relia-

> The series of meetings being held at the Cumberland Presbyte.ian church under the preaching of Rev. Mr. Kittrell, is having a wonderful and a most powerful effect in the 14th Street, New York. town. During the services at the church businsss is almost suspended, attendance is large. Sinners are being awakened, penitents being converted, christians strengthened and the influenc is going out into the community. Several conhow many is not known.

OUR confrere, Judge Campbell of the News, will be an applicant for the office of Register in Chancery. If Chancellor McSpandden should see fit to appoint him, we can PRESBYTERIAN-Services on the 4th promise that those who have business in the Chancery court will never regret that Judge Campbell METHODIST—Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night, by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sabbath school at 9:30.

was the register, besides he is a newspaper man and needs and deserves all he can ask for and much Baptist Church-Rev. J. G. Lowrey, more. His services for the demo pastor. Preaching every first and second Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting at 7.00 p. m., every Thursday. cratic party would be recognized in CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN-J. J. appointment. But then we news-> the President, breathed her last at here on Wednesday. Mrs. Adams has 1:40 yesterday morning, and the nation in sympathy with the president in the bereavement of himself

> > A CARD.

A beloved wife and mother has gone pale face, the ceased breathing con- flattering expressions of appreciation of firms it. The vacant place at the ta- our column, and begged to inform us ucated here. These fill many of the ble, her unoccupied chair, fill the that he highly favors the enfranchisemind with serrow and depression; if ment of woman. that were all, the anguish would be nearly unbearable. But on occasions like this, when friends come to us, and freely and generously give us all the consolation and assistance in their power it does all that human sympathy and power can do to make our tention we have received. We take this way to acknowledge to our friends

our thanks and gratitude to them. DAVID ADAMS, MRS. JULIA GUNN, MRS. FELICIA ADKI Calera, Ala., Oct. 20th 1892.

ANIVERSARY EXERCISES.

tions were short and rendered by limit to the future scope of your Union " the smaller students. The proorated and the music was good, and from the manner in which the patrons and the people generally attended the exercises onc would naturally decide that the people of and encouragement of one good the students in the delivery of their saveral parts we believe that Prof. Greek and Miss Carrie Cooper are the right teachers for that school We vish them Gcd speed in the enterprise and appeal to the people for aid and assistance in their efforts to build up and permanently establish in the town a first class school.

WOMAN'S COLUMN.

[The Woman's Column is under the supervision of Mrs. F. W. Gist, and all communications for this department should be addressed to her at West Calera, Alabama.]

Mrs. Grover Cleveland is a beautiful We are truly sorry to announce woman, and the finest portrait that has been done of her since she has added to fact that it is personally authorized by Editor Dubose was in to see us Mrs. Cleveland. This honor was reserved for Demorest's Family Magazine alone, with the November number of which this superb picture (81/4 x127/8) inches, and worth at least $2) is pre-Mr. F. W. Rogan, of Montevallo, sentedfree. Don't fail to secure a copy; has an Undertaker's advertisement and when you see this elegant work of in this issue. Mr. Rogan is a young art, you will frame it and give it the man with good business qualifica- place of honor in your home that Mrs. tions, and we recommend him to Cleveland's portrait deserves. The November number of Demorest's Family hope that none will be so unfortu- Magazine is a remarkable one, containing over 200 illustrations, and something to interest every member of the family. Price 20 cents. Take it home. Everybody will be delighted with it. For sale by all booksellers and news dealers. Or send 20 cents to the publisher, W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East

To preserve gracefulness and agility of motion the Medical Record claims that there is no gymnasium so valuable, no exercise more beneficient in result than sweeping, dusting, making beds, washing dishes and the polishing of versions up to this time, but just brass and silver. One year of such muscular effort within doors, together with regular exercise in open air, will do more for a woman's complexion than all the lotions and pomades that were ever invented. Perhaps the reason why housework does so much more for women than games is the fact that exercise, which is immediately productive cheers the spirit.

> Rev. Mr. Kittiell, of Tennessee, known as the Quaker evangelist, has been the leading minister in the reviterian church at this place. He is a strong man an the power of the spirit is being felt under his preaching. Many sinners have been convicted and the christians have been strengthened.

Mrs. Adams, wife of Mr. David Adams, of this place, died at her home at and dreary for him, and there will be no 7 o'clock, Tuesday morning. Her re-The sad news was sent over the mains were followed to the grave in the wires that Mrs. Harrison, wife of family burial ground four miles from been an invalid for many months, but ysis on Sanday night and never spoke glorious treasure. again. Our sympathy goes out to the bereaved family.

> One of the features of the revival meetings now in progress at the Cumberland church in Calera, is a Ladies' prayer meeting every evening at 4 o'clock.

Bro. Dalton, of Calera, has given us

We are indebted to Mrs. Mattie L. Spencer, of Birmingham, Alabama's state president of the W. C. T. V., for some excellent literature.

Mr. Wm. T. Stead visited Mrs. Francis Williard last month. In his interview with her she asked him what he thought grief as light as possible; all these atof the W. C. T. U. He replied

"I think so much of it, and I have so much faith in its development that I object to three-fourths of its title. It consists of four words. Three of them limit its scope. 'Woman' restricts it to one half the race. 'Christian' affixes a label which repels many who are really Christian in spirit. 'Temperance' elevates one single plank in your platform to a disproportionate position and there-The exercises at the Public School fore to a misleading predominance. in Calera was well attended and If you can get rid of these three sectionwell rendered. Most of the recita- al and limiting words, I don't see any "Really, Mr. Stead, you take away gramme was lengthy, and was nec- my breath when you take away our title

Cooper, the approval of all those civic church of the future. You were who were in attendance. The like Saul, the son of Kish, who went school room was appropriately dec- seeking his father's asses, and found the prophet who anointed him King of Israel. You began by crusading against the saloon, and lo, you have laid the foundations of the New Church, which will be composed or federated from all Calera was united in the support the churches co-operating in the great school, and to judge from the good You have begun to bring into bework of the salvation of society .order and promptness presented by ing the American conception of the humanized and democratic form of the Catholic church. This is more than prohibition, more even than woman's suffrage. It is great want of the world." Then Mr. Stead drew breath, and said:

"You know how in Holloway jail it was given me to say to the individual, 'Be in Christ.' And now I have to add that and say that the time has come motherhood of the church."

for a serious and determined effort to interpret the Fatherhood of God and the "What would you call it then?"

EARTH'S LOSS, HEAVEN'S GAIN.

found that out in Ogden as long ago as 1829. Its name is the Church of God.""

The wires brought me a message Wednesday which read, "Alice died last night." It was from the friend of my boyhood, and means that his wife had passed out from his life and into the spirit land.

She was my friend of the joy days agone. A friend whose friendship made me better. Once she said to me she wanted me to write her obituary when she died. The bloom of health was on her cheek and her life was as a garden of flowers. This tribute to her memory is not given in compliance with her thoughtless request alone, but because I want to add a postscript to that poem of life which has just ended in a requiem.

She was true as steel. Her heart knew no deception, it never faltered in its devotion. Through sunshine and clould she was the same dear sympathizing nature; when you smiled, she laughed; when you cried she wept. Her life was purer than the lilly, for nothing could stain it. She knew no evil of her fellows, for she knew not what evil was. She said no unkind things of any, for her nature was kindness. She had faith in all things; faith in men, faith in women, faith in God, and none e're dared hea trust to deceive. She loved the world for its beauties; she loved life for its grandeur and truth, she loved men for their honor and nobility, she loved women for their purity and innocence, she loved children for their young sweetness, she loved heaven for its promised joy. and loved God out of a pure heart that knew but Him to worship.

She married him who first awakened her heart to love's young dream, and she had his whole soul for her own. They were happy in their short life together, for I can say as well as if I had been a spirit hovering over them, they never found a discordant note in their life-song. He is the soul of honor and truth and val meeting in the Cumberland Presby- virtue, and no man could be more, no woman wants less. In possessing these three noble traits he gave her what few women get and what fewer appreciatea pure love. She knew it and theirs was a life of peace.

I mourn with those who loved her, my heart bleeds for him. Life will be dark light but the presence of her spirit as the noise of its unseen wings leads him up to the presence of her God. Her place, neither in the world nor in the human hearts that loved her will ever be was taken with a severe stroke of paral- filled. But even her memory will be a

This is my tribute, plain, simple trnth. Poetic fancy would be too commonplace for such a life as hers. I write was. Read these lines and you will see revealed that noblest of creatures, a true woman, the wife of a true man. Her name was Mas. Alice Arnold. She is name was Mas. Alice Arnold. She is no more, for God had need of her to the farmer's family, bringing each week the farmer's family, bringing each week 6. Bill Arp, Plunkett, and Uncle Rebrighten the stainless throng about His throne. Let those who mourn look there for comfort.

F. W. G.

The farmer's family, bringing each week cheer to the fireside and happiness to the household.

The farmer's family, bringing each week cheer to the fireside and happiness to the household.

The farmer's family, bringing each week cheer to the fireside and happiness to mus and a host of other special writers are engaged by the year, and their innative world, having its correspondents seattered over the globe, and having a thorough power service, from every important interests of the south.

Stricken Down with Heart Disease.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind. GENILEMEN: I feel it my duty, as well as a plensure, so publish, unsolicited, to the world the benefit received from DR. MILES RESTORATIVE REMODIES. I was stricken down with Heart Disease and its complications, a rapid pulse varying from 90 to 140 beats per minute, a choking or burning sensation in the wind pipe, oppression dest.

THOUSANDS

could not hold my hand steady. I have been under the treatment of eminent physicians, and have taken pattons of Patent Medicine without the least benefit. A friend recommended your remedies. She was cured by Dr. Miles' remedies. I have taken three bottles of your New Heart Cure and two bottles. Nervine. My pulse is normal, I have no more violent throbbing of the heart, I am a well man. I sincerely recommend every one with symptoms of Heart Disease to take Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies and be cured.

Gypsum City, Kans.

L. L. CARMER.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR MONEY RETURNED.

HUGH T. CAFFEY,

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON CALERA, ALA.

feb12-1v.

L. PETERS HENRY WILSON, E. S. LYMAN Columbiana. Montevallo.

Peters, Wilson & Lyman, ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

F W ROGAN, "There is only one name, your fathers ound that out in Ogden as long ago as 329. Its name is the Church of God." MONTEVALLO, ALA.

Office of Southern Express Co.

I KEEP CONSTANTLY ON HAND A COMPLETE LINE OF Wood Coffins and Caskets from the Chrpest to the Finest. Also, a full Line of Ladies, Gents, and Childrens' Burial Suits. Orders by telegram promptly Filled.

-GO_TO-Mrs. S. H. McCauley's

NEAR THE DEPOT

MONTEVALLO, ALA. MILLINERY--GOODS.

A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hats in the Lates Styes, and at Reasonable Prices.

Oct 8-3m

Now is the time for everyone who cherishes good health, to pay particular at tention to the condition of their blood and its proper circulation. Nearly all diseases that flesh is heir to are caused and agravated by an impure condition of the

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS

Possessing Extraordinary Cleansing Powers Restoring and Strengthening the whoe System, Enriching the Boodproducing increased vitality by restoring an impaired digestion and bringing back the bloom of youth to the cheek of the enfeebled and emaciated.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle-6 Bottles for $5.00. For aleby All Druggists.

Nabors, Morrow, & Sinnige.

SOLE CONTROLERS,

Birmingham.

WORDS ABOUT THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION.

as I knew her, and I knew her as she Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers. 12 Pages.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT.

ough news service from every important interests of the south.

news center in the world.

8. It pays more mo

news center in the world.

4. Its Agricultural Department alone is worth many times its subscription price to every farmer. This department of the south, and much more than any is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, wnose service is retained by the Constitution at great expense.

5. Its Woman's and Childeren's Departments are a source of infinite pleasing the south.

8. It pays more money for its special features and for its news service than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south.

9. It is the cheapest, being only One Dollar ser year, each paper at the price of a postage stamp. Think of it! Every time a hen lays an egg she pays for one issue of the greatest weekly newspapers.

partments are a source of infinite pleas- one issue of the greatest weekly news a ure to every family, and the name of pers in the world.

1. It is the best of all weekly news- "Aunt Susie," the editress of these de-

Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of you neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulated home should be without it.

Agents Wanted in every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information.

THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co.,

CALERA; ALABAMA.

Receive Deposits,

Negotiate Loans,

Issue interest bearing certificates of Deposit, and sell exchange on New York Louisville and Birmingham at regular rates cyarged by the larger cities.

We transact a general banking business, such as that of any incorporated bank in all of its legitimate branches, and would be pleased to open accounts with merchants, manufacturers and planters alike.

and Life Insurance

Written in the best companies.

Bought, Sold and Rented upon just terms.

Returned after the most eventful summer of my life, I must shortly and as soon I recover from the sea voyage give you an account of our mission of bread to famine stricken Russia, and of my preaching tour through Germany, England, Scotland and Ireland; but my first sermon on reaching have must be a hosanna of gratitude to Christ, and from the text I have chosen, I have found that the greatest name in the ocean shipping, and from Liverpool to Moscow, and from Moscow to London and Edinburgh and Belfast and Dublin, is Jesus,

Every age of the world has had its historians, its philosophere, its artists, its thinkers and its teachers. Were there histories to be written there has always been a Mossa, or a Herodotus, or a Kenophon, or a Josephus to write them. Were there poems to be constructed there has always been a Job or Homer te construct them. Were there thrones lustrous and powerful to be lifted there has always been a David or a Cæsar to raise them. Were there teachers lifted there has always been a David or a Cæsar to raise them. Were there teachers demanded for the intellect and the hearts

Cesar to raise them. Were there teachers demanded for the intellect and the hearts there has been a Socrates, and a Zeno, and a Cleanthes, and a Marcus Antoninus coming forth on the grand and glorious mission. Every age of the world has had its triumphs of reason and morality. There has not been a single age of the world which has not had some decided system of religion.

The Platonism, orientalism, stoicism, Brahminism and Buddhism, considering the ages in which they were established, were not lacking in ingenuity and force. Now, in this line of beneficent institutions and of noble men, there appears a personage more wonderful than any predecessor. He came from a family without any royal or aristocratic pretension. He came a Galilean mechanic. He had no advantage from the schools. There were people beside Him day after day who had no idea that He was going to be anything remarkable or do anything remarkable. Yet notwithstanding all this, and without any title or scholarly protession or flaming rhetoric He startled the world with the strangest announcements, ran in collision with solemn priest and proud ruler, and with a voice that rang through temple and palace and over ship's deck and mountain top, exclaimed, "I am the light of the world!"

Men were taken all aback at the idea that tain top, exclaimed, "I am the light of the world!"

Men were taken all aback at the idea that that hand, yet hard from the use of the ax, the saw and adz and hatchet, should wave the scepter of authority, and that upon that brow, from which they had so often seen Him wipe the sweat of toil, there would yet come the crown of unparalleled splendor and of universal dominion. We all know how difficult it is to think that anybody who was at school with us in boyhood has got to be anything great or famous, and no wonder that those who had been boys with Christ in the streets of Nazaroth and seen Him in after years in the days of His complete obscurity, should have been very slow to acknowledge Christ's wonderful mission. From this humble point the stream of life flowed out. At first it was just a faint rill hardly able to find its way uown the roca, but the tears of a weeping Christ added to its volume, and it flowed on until by the beauty and greenness of the banks you might know the path the crystal stream was taking. On and on, until the lepers were brought down and washed of their leprosy, and the dead were lifted into the water that they might have lite, and pearls of joy and promise were gathered from the orink, and innumerable churches gathered on either bank and the tide flows on deeper and stronger and wider until it rolls into the river from under the throne of God, miggling billow with billow, and brightness with brightness, and joy with joy, and hosanna. brightness, and joy with joy, and hosanna

I was looking at some of the paintings of the artist, Mr. Kensett. I saw some pictures that were just faint outlines; in some places you would see only the branches of a tree and no trunk; and in another case the trunk and no branches. He had not finished the work. It would have taken him days and months pernaps to have completed it. Well, my triends, in this world we get only the faintest outline of what Christ is. It will take all eternity to fill up the progress.

"Christ is all aud in all."

I remark in the first place, Christ is everything in the Bible. I do not care where I open the Bible, I find Jesus. In whatever potn I start, I come after a while to the Bethlehem manger. I go back to the old dispensation, and see a lambon the altar and say, "Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world!" Then I go and see the manne provided for the I-realities in see the manna provided for the Israelites in the wilderness, and say, "Jesus, the bread of life." Then I look at the rock which was life." Then I look at the rock which was smitten by the prophet's rod, and, as the water gushes out, I say, "It is Jesus, the fountain opened for sin and for uncleanness."

I go back and look at the writings of Job and hear him exclaim, "I know that my Reedeemer liveth." Then I go to Ezekiel and I find Christ presented there as "a plant of renown," and then I turn over to isalah and Christ is spoken of "as a sheep before the shearers." It is Jesus all the way between Genesis and Mulachi. Then I turn over in the New Testament and it is Christ in the Parable, it is Christ in the miracle, it is Christ in the evangelist's story, it is Christ in the tumpet peal of the Apocalypse. I know there are a great many people who

I know there are a great many people who do not find Christ in the Bible.

Here is a man who studies the Bible as a distorian. Well, if you come as a historian, you will find in this book how the world was anade, how the seas first to their places, how empires were established how nations fought. empires were established, how nation fought with nation, javelin ringing against barbe-geon, until the ear h was ghastly with the dead. You will see the coronation of princes. dead. You will see the coronation of princes, the triumph of conquerors, and the world turned upside down and back again and down again, cleft and scarred with great agonies of earthquake and tempest and battle. It is a wonderful history, putting to the blush all others in the accuracy of its recital and in the stupendous events it records. Homer and Thucydides and Gibbon could make great stories out of little events; but it took a Moses to tell how the heavens and the earth were made in one chapter, and and the earth were made in one chapter, and to give the history of thousands of years upon two leaves.

to give the history of thousands of years upon two leaves.

There are others who come to the Bible merely as antiquarians. If you come as an antiquarian, you will find a great many odd things in the Bible—peculiarities of manner and custom, marriage and burial; peculiarities of dress, tunics, sandals, crisping pins, amulets and girdles and tinkling ornaments. If you come to look at military arrangements, you will find coats of mail and javelins and engaines of war and circumvallation and encampments. If you look for peculiar musical instruments, you will find psalteries and shiginoths and rams' horns. The antiquarian will find in the Bible curiosities in agriculture, and in commerce, and in art, and in religion that will keep him absorbed a great while. There are those who come to this Bible as you would to a cabinet of curlosities, and you pick up this and say, "What a strange sword that is!" and "What a peculiar hat this is!" and "What a nulooked for lamp that is!" and the Bible to such becomes a British Museum. Then there are others who find nothing in the Bible but the poetry. Well, if you come as a poet, you will find in this book faultless rhythm, and bold imagery, and startling antithesis, and rapturous lyric, and sweet pastoral, and instructive narrative, and devotional psalm; thoughts expressed in a style more solemn than that of Montgamery, more bold than that of Milton, more ferrible than that of Dante, more impassion'd than of Wordsworth, more impassioned than front.

THE BROOKLYN DIVINE'S SUN

DAY SERMON.

TEXT: "Christ is all and in all."—Colossians iii., II.

Returned after the most eventful summer of my life, I must shortly and as soon I recover from the sea voyage give you an account of our mission of bread to faminestricken Russia, and of my preaching tour through Germany, England, Scotland and Ireland: but my first sermon on reaching tour through Germany, England, Scotland and Ireland: but my first sermon on reaching tour get to look off on the great ocean of God's get to look off on the great ocean of God's mercy and salvation.

Then there are others who come to this

Then there are others who come to this book as skeptics. They marshal passagagainst passage, and try to get Matthew and Luke in a quarrel, and would have a distrepancy between what Paul and James says about faith and works, and they try the account of Moses concerning the creation by modern decisions in science, and resolve that in all questions between the scientific explorer and the insoired writer they solve that in all questions between the scientific explorer and the inspired writer they will give the preference to the geologist. These men — these spiders, I will say — suck poison out of the sweetest flowers. They fatten their infilelity upon the truths which have led thousands to heaven, and in their distorted vision prophet seems to war with prophet, and evangelist with evangelist, and apostle with exactle and if they gen find some had trait heaven, and in their distorted vision prophet seems to war with prophet, and evangelist with evangelist, and apostle with apostle, and if they can find some bad trait of character in a man of God mentioned in that Bible tuese carrion crows caw and flap their wings over the carcass. Because they cannot understand how the whale swallowed Jonah they attempt the more wonderful feat of swallowing the monster whale of modern skepticism. They do not believe it possible that the Bible story should be true which says that the dunb ass spake, while they themselves prove the thing possible by their own utterances.

I am amused beyond bounds when I hear one of these men talking about a future life. Just ask a man who rejects that Bible what heaven is, and hear him befog your soul. He will tell you that heaven is merely the development of the internal resources of a man; it is an efflorescence of the dynamic forces into a state of ethereal and transcendental lucubration, in close juxtaposition to the ever present "was" and the great "to be" and the everlasting "no. Considering themselves wise, they are fools for time, fools for eternity.

Then there is another class of persons who come to the Bible as controversialists. They are enormous Presoyterians or fierce Baptists or violent Methodists. They gut the Bible to suit their creed instead of cutting their creed to suit the Bible. If the Scriptures think as they do, well; if not, so much the worse for the Scriptures. The Bible is merely the whetstone on which they sharpen the dissecting knife of controversy. They come to it as a government in time of war comes to armories or arsenals for weapons and munitions. They have decared evarlasting war against all other sects, and they want so many broadswords, so many columbiads, so much grape ani canister, so many fieldpieces with which to rake the field of dispute, for they mean to get the victory though the heavens be darkened with the smoke and the earth rent with the thunder. What do they care about the religion of the Lord Jes

What do they care about the religion of the Lord Jesus Christ.

I have seen some such men come back from an ecclesiastical massacre as proud of their achievements as an Indian warrior boasting of the number of scalps he has taken. I have more admiration for a man wno goes forth with his flats to get the cham pionship than I have for these theological pugilists who make our theological magazines ring with their warcry. There are men who seem to think the only use of the sword of truth is to stick somebody. There is one passage of the Scriptures that they like better than all others, and that is this: "Blessed be the Lord which teacheth my hands to war and my fingers to tight." Woe to us if we come to God's word as controversialists, or as skeptics, or as connoisseurs, or as fault as skeptics, or as connoisseurs, or as fault finiters, or merely as poets!

Let us go forth and gather the trophies for Jesus. From Golconda mines we gather the diamonds, from Ceylon banks we gather the pearls, from all lands and kingdoms we gather precious stems and respective the pearls. the work. It would have taken him days and months pernaps to have completed it. Well, my triends, in this world we get only the faintest outline of what Christ is. It will take all eternity to fill up the picture—so loving, so kind, so merciful, so great! Faul does not, in this chapter, say of Christ He is good, or He is loving, or He is patient, or He is kind, but in His exclamation of the text he embraces everything when he says, "Christ is all and in all."

I remark in the first place, Christ is everything in the Bible I do not care where I the pearls, from all lands and kingdoms we gather precious stones, and we oring the glittering burdens and put them down at the feet of Jesus and say: "All these are Thine. Thou art worthy." We go forth again for more trophies, and ominions, and then we bring the sheaf of scepters and put it down at the feet of Jesus and say. "Thou art King of the sheaf of scepters and put it down at the feet of Jesus and say. "Thou art King of the sheaf of scepters and put it down at the feet of Jesus and say. "Thou art King of the sheaf of scepters and put it down at the feet of Jesus and say. "Thou art King of the sheaf of scepters and put it down at the feet of Jesus and say. "Thou art King of the sheaf of scepters and put it down at the feet of Jesus and say." Thou art worthy." We go forth again for more trophies, and then we of Jesus and say. "All these are Thine. Thou art worthy." We go forth again for more trophies, and then we bring the sheaf of scepters of the earth, of all remarks in the first particular to the precious stones, and the precious stones, and the patient gather precious stones, and the precious the gather precious stones, and the patient gather precious stones, and the precious stones, and the patient gather precious stones, and the gather precious stones, and the gat trophies, and we bid the redeemed of all a es, the sons and daughters of the Lord Almighty, to come. We ask them to come and offer their thanksgivings, and the hosts of heaven bring crown and paim and scepter, and here by these bleeding feet, and by this riven side, and by this wounded heart cry, "Blessing and hoper and glory," and the over "Blessing and honor and glory and power be unto Him that sitteth upon the throne and and unto the Lamb forever and forever." Tell me of a tear that He did not weep, of a burden that He did not carry, of a battle that He did not fight, of a victory that He did not achieve. "All in all is Jesus" in the burden that He did not carry, of a battle that He did not achieve. "All in all is Jesus" in the great plan of redemption.

I remark again, Christ is everything to the Christian in time of trouble. Who has escaped trouble? We must all stoop down and drink out of the bitter lake. The moss has no time to grow on the buckets that come out of the heart's well dripping with terrs. Great trials are upon our track as certain as greyhound pack on the scent of deer. From our hearts in every direction there are a thousand chords reaching out binding us to loved ones, and ever and ano some of these tendrils snap. The winds that cross this sea of life are not all abaft. The clouds that cross our sky are not feathery and alar, straying like flocks of sheep on heavenly pastures, but wrathful and somber and gleaming with terror they wrap the mountains in fire, and come down baying with their thunders through every gorge.

The richest fruits of blessing have a prickly shell. Life here is not lying at anchor; it is weathering a gale. It is not sleeping in a soldier's tent with our arms stacked; it is a bayonet charge. We stumble over gravestones, and we drive on with our wheel deep in the old rut of graves. Trouble has wrinkled your brow, an tit has frosted your head. Falling in this battle of life, is there no angel to hind our wounds? Hath God made this world with so many things to hurt and none to heal? For this snake-bite of sorrew, is there no herb growing by all the brooks to heal the poison? Blessed bite of sorrow, is there no herb growing by all the brooks to heal the poison? Blessed be God that in the Gospel we find the anti-dote! Christ has bottled an ocean of tears. How many thorns He hath plucked out of human account.

human agony!

Oh, He knows too well what it is to carry Oh, He knows too well what it is to carry a cross, not to help us carry ours! He knows too well what it is to climb the mountain, not to help us up the steep. He knows too well what it is to be persecuted, not to help those who are imposed upon. He knows too well what it is to be sick, not to help those who suffer. Aye, He knows too well what it is to die, not to help us in our last extremity. Blessed Jesus, Thou knowest it all. Seeing Thy wounded side, and Thy wounded hand, and Thy wounded feet, and Thy wounded brow, we are sure Thy knowest it all.

Oh, when those into whose bosom we used to breathe our sorrows are snatched from on, when those into whose booth we used to breathe our sorrows are snatched from us, blessed be God, the heart of Jesus still beats, and when all other lights go out and the world gets dark, then we see coming out from behind a cloud something so bright and cheering, we know it to be the morning star of the soul's deliverance! The hand of care may make you stagger, or the hand of persecution may beat you down, or the hand of disappointment may beat you back, but there is a hand, and it is so kind, and it is so gentle, that it wipeth all tears from all faces.

In God's army the man who wants his meals regular must stay at the

CURIOUS FACTS.

Coke makes the hottest fire.

Nutmegs are very strong narcotics. The giraffe will soon be extinct in

In ancient Rome there were buildings of from four to seven stories in height. The St. Louis Chief of Police requires the 1000 Chinese in that city to be photographed. One child in every five in the northern half of the United States dies before it has lived a year. A Lock Haven (Penn.) horse has a black coat in winter, but in summer he becomes a beautiful roan.

The first suspension bridges ever built were made in China 2000 years ago, being constructed of iron chains.

Guineas were so named from the fact that they were first coined with gold brought from the coast of Guinea.

The average ministerial salary in the United States is $700. Dr. Morgan Dix, of Trinity, gets $25,000, and Dr. Talmage $12,000.

A Newburg (N. Y.) young lady, Miss Isabel Campbell, has been killed from having swallowed a single bird shot while eating game. A French boy has broken two black cats to harness. He drives his pets in single as well as double harness up and down the street every day. Philadelphia's great City Hall is to have a number of magnificent aluminum plated columns, twenty feet high and weighing six tons each. Madison, Ga., has a queer dog that has a complete figure of the moon and seven stars on one side of his head. The effect is produced by the different coloring of the hair, in black and white. The elevation of Denver, Col., being 5370 feet—over one mile—above sea level, makes the atmosphere rare, dry and clear, there being on an average less than six days each year without sun-

During a review of several regiments in France, whither he was sent, Hugo Grotius, one of the famous men of the seventeenth century, retained in his mind the names of all the soldiers that were named and passed before him.

Ventura County, California, has produced a wonderful Mission grapevine. It has grown from a cutting planted two years ago last spring, and the trunk is now nine and a half inches in circumference and forty-two feet in length. By actual count it has 450 clusters of grapes, and covers an area of 448 square

Mica is a widely diffused and plentiful mineral, entering largely into the com- | car position of granite, mica-slate and some other rocks, veins and fissures of which it also often fills up. The largest and best specimens of mica are found in Norway, Sweden, Siberia, Peru and Mexico, large plates of it, often a yard in diameter, being found in those countries.

In the Japanese capital there is a giganticimaze of a woman made of wood. iron and plaster. The time of its erection and the name of its designer are in dispute, but it is known to have been dedicated to Hachiman, the god of war. In height it measures fifty-four feet, the head alone, which is reached by a winding stairway in the interior of the figure, being capable of holding twenty per-

How An Indian Doctor Works.

In a recent address, read by Dr. Susan Flesche, an Indian graduate of the the car window up when the dust and Hampton School for Indians, in Hamp- cinders are flying in. ton, Va., she interestingly describes HAVING to walt in the corridor until some odd phases of professional life the elevator goes two floors above you among the members of her tribe. She and comes down again. said

"The practice of medicine among the Indians is very different from that among the whites. The Omaha reservation is thirty miles long and fifteen miles broad. My practice covers that extent of country. The roads are very bad and the Indians are scattered all over the reservation. I found I should have to do a great deal of traveling, so I bought do a great deal of traveling, so I bought | HAVING the car porter, as you are a horse, keeping it in the Government | about to leave after he has brushed the stables.

"I had received the appointment from the Government of physician to the Government Boarding School at the agency. I began to work at the school, not supposing I should have much work outside it in the tribe. There was another physician there. But I found that I had most of his practice in three months' time, for I understood their language and they felt I was one of them, so I had the advantage. After he left I had all the tribe on my hands.

"Diseases among the Indians are different in some ways from what they are among whites. They are very apt to run into epidemics. For instance, one person will have sore eyes, and almost immediately every woman and child in the tribe will have the same trouble. Last fall a number had it, but I told them how to use separte basins and towels, and many were saved from it. Then almost every one had winter colds. and then in December, January and February came the grippe. I was out every day through three months in all weathers. One Indian man came to me and said: 'We are very grateful to you for coming to see us when we are sick, but we wish you wouldn't go out in stormy weather. It will be too much for you.' I told him I had to, for that was my duty, and he said no more.

Salt Fish 10,000 Years Old.

Perfectly preserved salt fish, probably 10,000 years old, are found in Nevada, Utah and Arizona, where salt strata are often struck in making excavations a hundred yards beneath the surface. These fish resemble the pike and pickerel, and are wholly unlike the living fish found in the same region. - New Orleans Picayune.

At the better class of Parisian cafes, writing paper, envelopes, pons, ink, etc., are furnished to the guests free; in notels of the same city the guests have to pay

AUSTRALIA GROANING

Under a Tremendous Public Debt and av Insignificant Rural Population.

According to dispatches from Australia that Island continent is in a bad way. In Sydney and Melicurne, the two principal cities, thousands of starving men are housed or kept working at public expense. The disease from which the country is suffering is -collapsed boom. To be vulgar, Australia has bitten off more than she can chew. At the close of 1888 the Australian colonies had borrowed, in the form of public debts, $831,810,000, $510,000,000 of this being spent on 11,000 miles of railroads. The debts borrowed on the security of borough, while institutions and private propublic institutions, and private property have amounted to $250,000,000 Even five years ago there were sixteen Anglo-Australian mortgages quoted on the London Stock Exchange, and, for the most part, owned in England, with a capital of $85,000,000. Since then a great increase has been made in these companies. The past three years have seen additional public and private debts incurred, which make an aggregate of at least $1,250,000,000. This has been lavishly spent on railroads and public works, and it has built up a group of colonies whose population in December, 1830, amounted to 3,890,000. This population is now over 4,000,000, or about the population of this country a century ago, when it found itself unable to bear a debt a fifth as large as that of Australia.
Railroads and modern commerce have, however, created a population altogether different from the scattered rural communities in this country a century ago, not one-twentieth of whom were gathered in cities. Half the population of some of the Australian States are in cities. A great trading, railroad, and house-building population has grown up, but not a great agricultural population. In 1887 the total land under cultivation was 8,626,000 acres, and while this was an advance of 63 per cent. over the land cultivated in 1877, this area was barely 3 per cent. of the land under cultivation this country in 1880, though the Ausin this country in 1880, though the Australian population was 7 per cent. of ours. On the other hand, the Australian colonies had in the 100,993,000 sheep in 1887 perhaps the most valuable single article of property over contained in a country of small population. This was one-sixth the sheep in the civilized world and produced in value nearly one-third the world's wool, while this flock doubled every twelve years. The product of these sheep, joined to grain and the pre lous metals, gave Australia in 1890 exports amounting to $303,616,000, and Australian imports amounted to $337,100,000, or one-fifth as large as those of the United States, with less than one-sixteenth of our population.

PETTY ANNOYANCES.

HAVING a squalling baby in the same HAVING the ferryboat push out just as you get in sight. HAVING a beastly drunken individual in the seat in front of you. HAVING to pay 10 cents for the morning paper that at home costs you 2.

HAVING your washerwoman fail to send you your clothes in time to leave as expected.

HAVING some one get into the sleeping-car berth above you just as you bave retired. HAVING the brakeman bawl out the ations and not be able to distinguish a word he says. HAVING the hotel waiters hinting a every meal that they expect you to give them something. HAVING the conductor inform you just after you have started that you are on the wrong train. HAVING somebody in front keeping

HAVING your baggage go astray just when you wanted your best clothes to make a good impression.

HAVING a street car poking along at funeral gait when you have only ten minutes to eatch the train.

HAVING the Pullman conductor wake you up and ask you for a ticket just after you have fallen into a sound dust off, ask "if you have not forgotten something. HAVING forty Jehus poke their whips under your nose when you arrive at your destination, each wanting to take you to your hotel. HAVING packages of lozenges and copies of "The Red Demon of the Wild West" thrown into your lap every five

Was a beauty,fair,plump and healthy. But when two yearsold Scrofula Humor spread over her nead, neck and forehead down into her eyes, one Emma Frederick. great sore.itching and burning. Hood's Sarsaparilla gave her new ppetite. Then the humor subsided. the itching and burning ceased, and the sores entirely healed up. She is now perfectly well." I. W. FREDERICK, Danforth St. near Crescent Ave., Cypress Hills, Brooklyn.

Hood's Pills cure all Liver Ills, bilious. ness, nausea, sick headache, indigestion.

CURES RISING :: BREAST ::

"MOTHER'S FRIEND" blessing ever offered child-bearing woman. I have been a child-hearing woman. I have been a fe for many years, and in each case in Mother's Friend' and been used it has blished wonders and relieved much ng. It is the best remedy for rising of east known, and worth the price for that Mrs. M. M. BRUSTER, Montgomery, Ala.

I can tell all expectant nothers if they will use a few bottles of Mother's Friend they will go through the ordeal without any pain and suffering.

MRS. MAY BUANHAM.

Argusville, N. D.

Used Mother's Friend before birth of my eighth child. Will never cease its praise.

MRS. J. F. MOORE, Colusa, Cal.

Sent by express, charges prepaid, on receipt of price, $1.50 per bottle.

BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Sold by all druggists. ATLANTA, GA.

There is a curious group of rocks ! near Milan which form the oft-described "Nature's City." An iregular mass of rocks, some 200 feet high, resemble a citadel. Below are five depressions, of which one is a gigantic amphitheatre, the second a necropolis, a third the parade, and the fourth a regularly laid out city quarters, with public monuments, gates, streets, etc. The whole of this city covers 200 acres and it is surrounded by a natural wall 300 feet high.

Four Railronds Overlooked. "Strange that four railroads, one a belt line, and two fuel-oil pipe-lines, nine miles from Chicago, should have been overlooked," said Jay A. Dwiggins & Co., when they laid out the town of Griffith. Four factories located, houses and stores sprung up at once.—Chicago News.

By the death of Ex-Governor Myron H. Clark, Hamilton Fish is now left the sole survivor of these distinguished men who have held the governorship of New York prior to 1879.

When Nature

Needs assistance it may be best to render it promptly, but one should remember to use even the most perfect remedies only when needed. The best and most simple and gentle remedy is the Syrup of Figs manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

Coningsby Ralph Disraeli, the nephew of Benjamin Disraeli, who has just been elected to the English parliament, is only twenty-five years of age.

MALARIA cured and eradicated from the system by Brown's iron Bitters, which enriches the blood, tones the nerves, aids digestion. Acts like a charm on persons in general ill health, giving new energy and strength.

Ex-Governor Berry of Bristol, N. H., has observed his ninety-sixth birthday in good health,

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD? These is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words altice except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look forit, send them the name of the word and they will return you BJOK, BEAUTI-

Sir Andrew Clark started the title of "Grand Old Woman" for Mrs. Gladstone, and it is going the rounds of the British Brown's Iron Bitters cures Dyspepsis, Malaria, Biliousness and General Debi ity. Gives Strength, aids Digestion, tones the nerves—creates appetite. The best tonic for Nursing Mothers, weak women and children.

August Stringberg, the Swedish author, is famous for his batred of women.

"IAFE is a battle field on which we fight for fame." To preserve health in this fight use Beecham's Pills, 25 cents a box.

J. A. Johnson, Medina, N. Y., says: "Hall's Catarrh Cure cured me." Sold by Druggists, lfafflicted with sore eyes use Dr. IsaacThompson's Eye-water. Druggists sell at 25c a bottle.

Bile Beans Small.

Guaranteed to cure Bilious Attacks, Sick-Headache and Constipation. 40 in each bottle. Price 25c. For sale by druggists. Picture "7, 17, 70" and sample dose free-J. F. SMITH & CO., Proprietors, NEW YORK.

S.S.S. ERADICATES BLOOD POI-

S EVERAL bottles of Swift's Specific (S.S.S.) entirely cleansed my system of contagious blood poison of the very worst type.

WM. S. LOOMIS, Shreveport, La.

SSS CURES SCROFULA EVEN IN ITS WORST FORMS.

I HAD SCROFULA in 1884, and cleansed my system entirely from it by taking seven bottles of S. S. S. I have not had any symptoms since.

C. W. WILCOX, Spartanburg, S. C.

S.S.S. HAS CURED HUNDREDS OF CASES OF SKIN CANCER.

Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed ee. SWIFT SPECIFIC Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Its Origin and History;

PREVENTION GURE.

An interesting Pamphlet mailed to any address on receipt of Stamu. Dr. L. H. HARRIS, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"August Flower"

"I am happy to state to you and to suffering humanity, that my wife has used your wonderful remedy, August Flower, for sick headache and palpitation of the heart, with satisfactory results. For several years she has been a great sufferer, has been under the treatment of eminent physicians in this city and Boston, and found little relief. She was induced to try August Flower, which gave immedaite relief. We cannot say to much for it." L. C. Frost, Springfield, Mass.

The hypophosphites of lime and soda combined with cod-liver oil in Scott's Emulsion improve the appetite, promote digestion, and increase the weight.

They are thought by some to be food; but this is not proved. They are tonics; this is admitted by all.

Cod-liver oil is mainly a food, but also a tonic.

In Scott's Emulsion the cod-liver oil and hypophosphites are so combined as to get the full advantage of both.

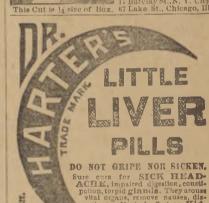

Let us send you a book on CAREFUL LIVING; free.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 132 South 5th Avenue, New York. BEAUTIFY YOUR HOMES JAPANESE GOLD PAINT

GOLD PAINT Gerstendorf r Bros.

vilal örgans, remove nausea, die-ziness. Elagical effect on Kid-neys and bladder. Conquer bilious nervous dia-orders. Establish nat-ural DAILY ACTION. () 100 Beantify complexion by purifying blood. PURELY VEGETABLE.
The dose is nicely adjusted to suit case, as one pill can never betoo much. Each vial contains 42, carried in vest pocket, like lead pencil. Business man's great convenience. Taken casier than sugar. Sold everywhere. All genuine goods bear "Crescent."
Send 2-cent stamp. You get 32 page book with sample.

DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo. Piac's Remedy for Cwarrh is the STARRH

Am N U

CAUTION.—Beware of dealers and stituting shoes without W. I. Douglas name and the price stamped on bottom. Such substitutions are traudulent and subject to prosecution by law for obtaining money under the prosecution of the control THIS IS THE BEST $3. SHOE IN THE WORLD

Will give exclusive sale to shoe dealers and general merchants where I have no agents. Write for catalogue. If not for sale in your place send direct to Factory, stating kind, size and width wanted. Postage free. W. L. Douglas, Brockton, Mass.

THE CALERA JOURNAL.

VOL. II.

CALERA, ALA., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1892,

NO. 1

If Mother Would Listen. If mother would listen to me, dears, She would freshen that faded gown, She would sometimes take an hour's rest, And sometimes a trip to town. And it shouldn't be all for the children, The fun and the clieer and the play; With the patient droop on the tired mouth

And the "Mother has had her day." True, mother has had her day, dears, When you were her bables three, And she stepped about the farm and the

As busy as a bee. When she rocked you all to sleep, dears, And sent you all to school, And wore herself out, and did without And lived by the Golden Rule.

And so your turn has come, dears, Her hair is growing white; And her eyes are gaining the far-away look That peers beyond the night. One of these days in the morning Mother will not be bere, She will fade away into silence-The mother so true and dear.

Then what will you do in the daylight, And what in the gloaming dim? And father, tired and lonesome then, Pray, what will you do for him? If you want to keep your mother You must make her rest to day; Must give her a share in the frolic, And draw her into the play.

And if mother would listen to me, dears. She'd buy her a gown of silk, With buttons of royal velvet And ruffles as white as milk. And she'd let you do the trotting. While she sat still in her chair, That mother should have it hard all through It strikes me isn't fair.

-[Margaret E. Sangster.

THE GRAY COUPLE.

BY CEÇIL CHARLES.

My friend Kummels is a handsome fellow-barring the nose-and carries his forty odd years gracefully. He is whole, a good story teller and good get into a sentimental snarl with your

and, one of those cool, quiet North | pecially briffiant. Shore places overlooking the Sound. he spends some of the hottest days of doing it prettily.

Kummel entertained us with a story. My wife was unusually restless and Kummel's good-natured narrative had begun as follows:

Couple?"

"I don't remember it," I said. "Perhaps Althea does."

Aut Althea didn't. So Kummel began in earnest.

"One afternoon I was sitting here in the perch when a carriage drove up. It was a very neat yellow affair drawn by a sorrel horse with a banged tail. The occupants were a lady and gentleman, both dressed in gray. The gentleman was parhaps my own age and the lady was about twenty-five or so. She was one of those gray-eyed, genmanager then, but he did not come immediately, so when the gentleman asked if I was the proprietor I answered No, only the owner.' Then I whistled for Herman and asked him to kindly wait a moment.

"In the meantime I had opportunity . to look them over and form an impromptu opinion. I guessed them to be bride and groom, or very nearly so—there was such a palpable attempt at appearing easy and accustomed to something of a fancy to them and was my back,' he says. rather glad when they dismounted and made arrangements with Herman to remain a fortnight. They were given the corner suite, just above and looking out on the piazza above this. And they settled down very comfortably the banged-tail sorrel was put away in the stable and carefully fed and Nathaniel Gray by name, and they were all togged out in gray clothinggloves, hats, everything. Their eyes man had a gray hair or two.

"Well, a day or two passed and they seemed very happy and contented. They were comparatively a bridal couple, for they had not been married three weeks. They were everywhere isn't mean, at all, only just brokenhand-in-hand almost, arm-in-arm, anyway, and delighted with each other's first two or three days of sunshine the sky seemed to cloud up. Mrs. Gray appeared one morning looking frightfully pale. She had nothing to say and she wouldn't eat a mouthful of breakfast. Gray spent all the forenoon fussing about his banged-tailed horse and after luncheon went off for a drive alone. I suspected a first to her. quarrel, but I didn't wish to intrude. However, I must say it made me feel bad to see the poor little woman walk up and down the porch with such a then, I've only discovered that he and broken-hearted look in her eyes.

"Finally she went up to her room. But Gray didn't return. He stayed away until I began to think there must be something rather serious about it.

"Mrs. Gray did not come down again, either. So I found one of the chambermsids who seemed to have good sense and put her up to go and see if anything had happened. She came back and reported that Mrs. Gray was lying face downward on her bed, not moving or seeming to breathe. Of course I sent her up dead. .. She went up and roused her and the lady said she was only resting; she would come down in the porch. But befove she had had time to do so Gray drove up, sprang out and sent his horse and cart , to the stable. He looked around, saw that his wife was not in sight and hurried a bachelor, but kind hearted on the up stairs. I had an idea he was a little frightened. And I felt sorry, recompany when you have the blues or for I had taken a sort of liking to him -he was one of those good-natured fellows, always ready with a harm-Kummel owns a hotel on Long Ist- less jest, even though he wasn't es-

"After a good while he came down He does not aspire to manage it, but gain, looking simply woe-begone. 'I say,' I said, moved by a sudden imthe year out there and occupies him- pulse, you'll pardon me if I'm makself pleasantly with doing nothing and ing myself officious. But is there anything the matter? Anything that A short time since my wife and I I could do to help you to set things were his guests for a week at the right?' He looked almost relieved. 'Why,' he said, 'I'm in a deuce of a Mansion House. One mainy evening, when the long grass forbade wandering and the Sound was gray with fog, an absurd thing, too, and yet it's growing serious. My wife is the growing serious. My wife is the dearest little thing on earth, and yet continued pacing up and down the she has some high-flown ideas thatlong piazza, alleging mosquitoes, until well, I don't know but they are going to part us. She wants to leave me and go home. Not to her mother, for "Did I ever tell you about the Gray she hasn't any, but to an old maid cousin of hers who has filled her up with ridiculous notions of honor.'

"But what have you been doing?" I asked. How have you misbehaved yourself to deserve such punishment?' 'Why, that's the humiliating part of it,' he said. 'It's so absurd. The truth is, I was in the war and I was wounded. And I never happened to tell my wife about it until last night.' He blurted this out like a big schoolboy, but he seemed relieved when he had done so.

"'Oh,' I said, 'I understand. Well, tle, fragile creatures. Herman was good gracious? Of course you were very very young when you were in the war. A mere child. That's easy enough. Let's sec-'64 to '84, twenty years; '91, seven more, makes twentyseven. Suppose you were fourteen. Why that's only forty-one. A man of forty-one is young." "'It isn't the age, it's the wound," he said, with a little groan.

"'And you mean to tell me she isn't proud of them?'

"He tried to laugh, but only sucthe situation. At all events, I took | ceeded in a sort of grunt. 'They're in

"Well, of course there was a moment's silence. I wasn't as ready as I might have been. I didn't want to grin either. Then he went on hastily: 'I was a mere boy; carried the colors mounted. My horse was shot first and and unpacked their small values and -reeled sidewise. I couldn't turn him back quick enough and a shot ripped up my back-in and out-ricochet I watered. Now, the Gray Couple think they call it. There's two big were 'gray' in more than one sense of holes and they cost me a year in bed. the word. They were Mr. and Mrs. But Celia will never get over their location.' "I reflected for a few moments, then I said: were gray, and, I believe the gentle- " "Til try to help you out. I was in orphan asylum and I on the other."

a war story that may serve a purpose. Where is your wife?'

"'She's all dressed to go,' he says. 'She begs me to take her home. She hearted, and I feel like a fool.'

"'Ilave you your horse hitched up,' good taste in matrimonial selections- I says. 'Let her think you're going that was clear enough. But after the to drive her home. While it's being hitched she'll be down here in the piazza and listen, no doubt.'

> "So Gray obeyed and the poor little woman came down, unaware, of course, of my knowledge of her reason for distress.

> "Gray went down to the stable and I drew up my chair and began to talk

> "Sorry to hear that you are going away, Mrs. Gray,' I said. 'I've taken such a fancy to your husband. But I were comrades in battle once.'

"She turned a shade paler. "'You-you wereish the war?' she

"Yes; but I wasn't lucky enough to be wounded-much less do anything heroic. But then, after all, Mrs. Gray, a great deal of heroism goes unknown and unappreciated.'

"'Yes,' I went on, 'sometimes those who are nearest and dearest are ignorant of deeds of their loved ones in the past, which, if they but knew, would fill and thrill them with pride. How many people, Mrs. Gray, do you again at once to see if Mrs. Gray was suppose know of your husband's wounds and the noble way he received them? Few enough.'

> "I looked around to see if Gray wastreturning, but he was nowhere in

> "And even if they did know of the bare circumstances," I went on, how little idea they could form unless they had seen him as I had seen him that day, in the thick of the hideous struggle, the builets whizzing by him, the powder clouds blinding and choking him, the shells bursting at his horse's feet, and he, child that he was-barely fourteen-dashing forward with the colors. When I remember it, I always think of the poem 'Boy Britton.' Perhaps youtknow that poem. An exquisite things. Yes, Gray was as eager, as daring a young hero'-I heard the wheels of the cart coming up from the stable and made a big jump to end it. 'No retreat for himno retreat! A shot shattered the flagstaff in his hand. He stood in the stirrups and held his right arm up with the precious rag. Another terrific explosion, and the horse went down under him. He freed himself and turned to catch a comrade who had fallen and was being trampled, and a shot struck him in the side and ripped through his back! Think of it—a boy of fourteen—a tender child!'

"Mrs. Gray's face had changed strikingly as she listened. She sat leaning forward and fairly hanging on my words. Her lips had almost begun to work, when up drove Gray, good natured and impassive with the banged-tailed horse. As he sprang out, she rushed toward him.

"'Oh, Nattie, Nattie! We won't go-we-won't go! I want to stay -l've changed my mind, Nattie!'

"I disappeared into the house and he took her upstairs sobbing. But I knew it was all fixed and I felt quite happy."

Kummel paused and drew a self-

Althea, my wife, had come up and stood leaning against the porch railing with her eyes intent upon him.

"And was it all true and just as you said, Mr. Kummel?" she asked, smiling very sweetly. My wife is considered a great beauty by good judges. "II'm! Supposing it weren't," he laughed, "what would you say?"

"I should say 'Oh, what an awful liar!' " said Althea with beauty's own

"My dear," I corrected, "you wouldn't at all. You'd merely murmur 'Blessed are the peacemakers!' "-[New York Mercury.

Jones' Joke.

"Have you any children, Jones?"

"Oh, Yes. You know Robinson?" "Yes."

"Well, we have 51 between us." "What!"

"Yes." "How so?"

"Well, he lives onone side of the the war, Joo, for a few days. I'll tell "Oh!"-[Philadelphia Press.

A BAD RECORD.

BENJAMIN HARRISON'S ADMINISTRATION UNDER INDICTMENT - EXTRAVA-GANCE, CORRUPTION AND UTTER DISREGARD OF SOLEMN PLEDGES.

The issue in this campaign is the Republican record of the last four years. It is a very bad record. It is a record of wrong-doing, of unfair favoritism in legislation and of scandalous misconduct in administration; a record of reckless squandering; of the debauchment of the public service; of corruption in office and in getting office, and of shameful malpractices in the attempt to retain power regardless of the popular will. The Administration and the Fifty-first Congress came into power by plain purchase. The Republican Party in 1888 secured its triumph by selling legislation

Abandoning all that it had professed and all that its leaders, living and dead, had taught concerning the limitations of right in tariff legislation, it framed a platform in Chicago in which it offered to monopolists such tariff rates as they should desire for their enrichment at the expense of the people, in return for contributions to the campaign fund.

The offer was accepted. The money was paid, and with it the notorious embezzler and corruptionist, Matthew Quay, with his lieutenant, Dudley, was set to buy the election. When the funds ran, low John Wanamaker purchased an option on a Cabinet office by securing an additional contribution of $400,000 from the buyers of legislation upon a

When the Congress thus elected came together the Republican majority was too narrow and uncertain to do the work it had promised. It could not deliver the legislative goods it had sold to mouopolists without resort to further unfairness and wrong. It proceeded to unseat members of the minority whom the people had elected and to seat Republicans whom the people had refused to elect, and not a man in all the majority was brave or honest enough to raise a voice in protest.

When the time came for debate the majority decided not to permit debate, lest the truth be made plain to the pco-

The rules of the House were revolutionized. A dictator of peculiarly arbitrary will was placed in the chair who suppressed discussion, overrode all considerations of fairness, changed the House from a deliberative body into a mere machine for recording his determination, and thus enacted the measures of monopoly which the party had been paid in advance to pass.

In two short years this Congress squandered an enormous surplus, reduced the treasury to the sorest straits, laid heavy burdens upon the people and upon in dustry and made a determined, though fortunately a fruitless, effort to rob the several States of the right of free elections in order to secure for the Republican Party a longer lease of power. It sought to buy votes for the future by pension legislation of the most reckless and unjust character, whose shadow hangs like a pall over the finances of the country and must embarrass its prosperity for a generation to come.

The Administration thus elected delivered to Wanamaker the Cabinet office he had bought, put Tanner into the Pension Office, with his exultant exclamation, "God help the surplus!" not upon his lips, and when his scandalous misconduct made his removal a necessity, put Raum there instead, to work still larger mischief in less vociferous fashion, and to fill the office with speculations, peculations and scandals so shameful that even the Reed Congress could not be dragooned into palliating them. And, in spite of further and more flagrant exposure, Raum is in office still!

The Administration came into power protesting most solemnly its purpose to enforce the Civil Service law in letter and spirit, and to extend its scope and influence. It straightway set Clarkson at work to behead postmasters at a rate wholly unprecedented. The President openly farmed out the Federal offices as spoils to such bosses as Quay and Platt, and quartered his own relatives and partners and chums upon the public service. When the Civil Service Commission discovered the most flagrant and shameless abuses in Baltimore and urged the removal of numbers of persons by name for proved misconduct amounting to criminality-misconduct perpetrated in the name and on behalf of the Administration—the whole matter was jauntily put aside by Wanamaker, and the President in no way interfered to redeem his pledge or to free himself from the shame of it all.

Dudley was one of the agents in the purchase of Mr. Harrison's election, and he was found out. Mr. Harrison has since refused to hold intimate personal relations with the "Blocks of Five" statesman, but through his Attorney-General and former law partner he has interfered with the administration of justice in Dudley's case, has caused a judge upon the bench to shield and protect crime, and has since rewarded that judge for his corrupt subserviency by elevating him to a higher judicial posi-

And within these later months the country has seen the President organize the Civil Service into a political machine, and with it compel his own nomination for a second term.

From the very beginning Mr. Harrison has used the appointing power as a means of securing a second term for himself. He resorted at the outset to a device justly denounced by the elder President of his name as wrong and dangerous. He muzzled the press of his own party so far as criticism of his administration was concerned. He made sure of the support of the prominent Republican newspapers for all his ambitions by putting their editors under obligations to himself for high office, carrying with it pecuniary rewards politicial advantages or social distinct tion, according to the known need and desire of each of his beneficiaries. In certain directions he filled the foreign service with incapable men to oblige unworthy interests. He sent Mizner to Central America, and kept him there long after the country had given expression to its disgust and humiliation with the conduct of an American Minister who, in the interest of a speculative syndicate, sacrificed the honor of the Nation and the flag.

He sent Egan and McCreery to Chile, with results grievously hurtful both to the good name and to the commercial uterests of the country.

To Wanamaker he has added Elkins as Cabinet officer-Elkins, a political adventurer and speculator, who had grown rich out of politics without having won respect enough anywhere to make his name suggestive even of possibilities in connection with honorable office. He made Porter the Superintendent of the Census, knowing him to be an already discredited manipulator of statistics, a foreign adventurer destitute of convictions and in search of a market for his peculiar abilities, a man at that very time conducting business as a vulgar wine tout in combination with politics and ready to placard his advertise ments in the Executive Mansion itself He permitted this man to falsify the census of great States by way of robbing them of their just representation and thus increasing the chances of that party's success to whose service he had hired himself.

It is a sad and shameful story of pledges broken; of fiscal legislation bartered for campaign funds; of elections secured by the purchase of voters; of high office made the subject of vulgar traffic; of the public service, including the most honorable places, prostituted to the promotion of the President's personal ambitions; of a court converted into a sanctuary for the protection of a scoundrel; of judicial subserviency rewarded with high judicial place; of debate suppressed in Congress; of a surplus squandered, and of the enormous increase of the people's tax burdens that the proceeds might flow into the coffers of favored monopolists willing to share their spoil with the political organization that made its collection possible.

It is a grievous indictment that is here made, but it is perfectly true and it covers but a part of the truth. The specifications will come later in the course of these letters. The facts will be given upon which every accusation rests. The whole record will be laid bare—that record which the people by their votes in November are to approve or condemn.

And this is not a mere recalling of old errors, a recurrence to offenses repented of. The courses that condemn this Administration have been continuous. Raum is still at the head of the Pension Bureau, and that bureau is not reformed or purified. Marshall Aurey still holds office in Baltimore, notwithstanding Commissioner Roosevelt's report as to his organization of the postoffice and Custom House employes there into a band of political ruffians, his use of them to carry primaries in the Administrations interest by wholesale cheating and by actual physical violence, in which he personally participated. Neither he nor Postmaster Johnson nor any of their subordinates have been removed, though their conduct was fully set forth and their removal strongly urged by Mr. Roosevelt, a Republican member of the Civil Service Commission: though some of them, according to Mr. Roosevelt's report, deliberately testified to lies; though many of them openly confessed to cheating; though all of them set at naught the law against political assessments, and though they all professed with more or less of candor the creed of lying, cheating and ballot-box stuffing which the testimony showed that they had practiced.

These men who, as one of them put it in his testimony, believe "in doing anything to win," are still in office by grace of Mr. Wanamaker's favor and Mr. Harrison's neglect of duty. And they still constitute the Administration machine in Baltimore and Maryland politics.

In brief, the Administration is what it has been. It profits still by the practices for which honest men in both parties have condemned it in the past. It protects its scoundrels and its law-breakers. It keeps them in office. It uses them in politics. ! It sanctions their creeds and their performances. It sent them and such as them to Minneapolis to nominate Mr. Harrison for a second term in spite of any desire the Republican Party might have for some other candidate.

It still looks to the monopolies if has fostered for the money with which to carry the election. In their behalf it has not only made laws, but has neglected and refused to enforce such laws as there are on the statute books adverse to them. The coal conspiracy has been formed during this Administration. Without le or hindrance it has levied a tribute upon the people in face of the anti-Trust law.

That law makes it the imperative duty of the Attorney-General, through the District Attorneys, to bring criminal prosecutions against all the conspirators; but no District Attorney has moved, and the Attorney-General weakly protesta that he has no information touching the conspiracy.

In the interest of good government it is necessary to chastise official misconduct by defeat. The men and the party now in power must be sent into retirement for the public good. Our public life is in need of disinfection. It is time to restore legislation to its proper service of all the people. The simple facts of these four years' history constitute the most conclusive reasons for refusing to intrust this Ad. ministration or the party it represents with a further lease of power.-New York World.

The Tariff and the Farmer.

A Pensylvania Democrat writes the Courier-Journal for information upon the following pcints:

"1. How does the tariff affect the grain farmers as compared with the cotton growers?

2. How are tariff rebates regulated?

"3. What articles of trade, either produced on the farm or manufactured, can be sold in the English market cheaper than in the American market? I mean American goods."

1. The tariff affects grain farmers and cotton growers alike in this, that it robs both. It is true that there is a tariff on corn, wheat and oats, on the pretense of protecting them, but they need no protection, because they are exported in large quantities and sold in competition with the grain of other countries. Whenever a commodity can be exported in large quantities, it is because it is produced more cheaply here than it is abroad. In the last fiscal year we exported 157,000,000 bushels of wheat, worth $161,000,000, besides 15,000,000 barrels of flour, worth $55,-600,000; also 75,000,000 bushels of corn, worth $41,500,000, and nearly 3,000,000,000 pounds of cotton, worth $258,000,000. We were enabled to do this because these commodities were cheaper in the United States than in the countries to which they were sent; the price abroad, less freight, commission and other charges, being the price re-alized for them here. It is nonsense to talk of protecting cheap goods against those that are dearer; by the natural laws of trade commodities seek the markets where prices are best. Cotton is on the free list, while wheat is nominally protected by a duty of twenty-five cents a bushel; but cotton is as effectually protected by its cheapness as wneat, and neither is protected by the tariff.

Where the robbery comes in is in the tax on the goods which farmers receive for their grain and cotton. We sent abroad last year, in round numbers, $300,000,000 worth of products of agriculture of all kinds. What did we get in return? Did we get our pay in gold? o; we exported more gold and silver than we imported. We had to take foreign merchandise in exchange, and on all dutiable goods the tariff exacted a duty of nearly fifty per cent. Thus. of the $161,000,000 worth of wheat exported, the farmers, if paid in dutiable goods, would get back only about $110,. 000,000 worth, the remainder being necessary to pay the duties. It is true that all imports are not dutiable; but it is also true that the farmers pay to domestic manufacturers much higher prices tor goods obtained from then than similar goods would cost abroad; so that a reduction of one-third from the purchasing power of our agricultural exports does not by any means represent the exaction which the tariff makes of the farmers.

2. When imported material is used in the manufacture of an article, ninetynine per cent. of the duties paid on such material is refunded when the article is

3. Many agricultural implements, sew ing machines, and many other articles, are sold abroad at lower prices than at home. This has been denied, but it has been proved beyond question; and some protectionists a lmit and defend it as proper. The rebate of duties on imported material contributes to render this possible; but it also happens in the case of articles on which no rebate is paid, because high tariffs enable the manufacturer to exact excessive profits at home, while abroad, where the tariff gives him no advantage, he is compelled to take a reasonable profit. -- Courier-Journal.

It Is a Stimulant.

Mr. Mason, one of the Republican stumpers, declares that "the tariff is not a tax but a stimulant."

A true word. The tariff stimulates campaign contributions from its beneficiaries, the protected millionaires. The fat-friers know

It stimulated Carnegie to buy castles in Scotland and to set up as a money lord in England while reducing wages at

It stimulates manufacturers to shoddy-ize their goods and raise their prices. It stimulates the tariff and the usurer to collect the debts of its victims. It puts the stimulant of necessity upon workingmen to secure the extra cost of their necessaries due to exactions.

Mr. Mason is only half right. The tariff to both a tax and a stimulant.

EDITOR. Entered at the Post Office in Calera as Second Class Matter.

CALERA, WEDNESDA V Nov. 2.

National Democratic Ticket

FOR PRESIDENT, GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York. A. E. STEVENSON, 0 " 1018.

Forton Adab GASTON A. FORP NS. of Dallas.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

One year ago the JOURNAL was printed for the first time, and this is No. 1 of the second volume. Our gratitude is sent out to those who have patronized us the first year, begun with the first number we notify them that if they desire the JOURNAL another year, they will please come up promptly and renew from the list. We promise to be prompt the coming year, in coming out on time and shall spare no pains to make the people a good country paper, and shall make it easy on the farmer to pay for it. ing Har son. The open declara-We will take any kind of produce that we need for subscription, allowing them the very highest market price for it. Pilnters eat vegetables, butter, eggs and chichenswhen they are able to buy them; and the farmer should read his county paper. Then bring us a dollar's worth of something you can spare, and we will give you the best paper we can, and promise to when not Providentially hindered

THE confusionists have utterly failed to con use.

Man who 'ove loer y and prosper v will vote for Cleveland and Stevenson.

The democratic party is the peonle's p. ty, and the people will support it.

On the success of the democratic party at the November election deof our people.

THE Appeal-Avalanche says "a poll of the State of Montana shows that Cleveland will carry the state by 7,000 majority."

LONGSHORE claims to represent the people's party, but its a mistake, Robbins is the candidate of the democratic party, the only true party of the people.

mash, and tells the disgraceful bargain of the Jeffertor an demecrats our republicans had more courage and the in d party to give the electoral vote of Alabama to Harris ou.

A. N. Johnson, the negro who was run out of Selma for his vile ahuse of white people of Alabama, admitted at Shelby last Saturday that he was paid to make speeches for Longshore.

, has no evidence of it.

THE candidate of the true people's party for congress in this district is Guston R. Robbins. Turn out people of the party and vote for him and the Cleveland

THE clam is now confidently made that Iowa and Illinois will be found in the democratic column. While this seems too good to be realized, such a result is not at all beyond the possibilities.

S OTHSAYERS predict that the C-like Meteor that traversed through the heavens last Thursday night is an omen that Cleveland wi'l be the next president of the United states. God grant that this prediction may be true.

DEMCCRATS who have left demoeracy in the district, should come back into the fold now. If you stay away until you have voted for Longshore and the One-third party electoral ticket, we fear you will be rejected when you ask for admission.

JUDGE COOLEY stands by the statement that he is for Cleveland and opposed to Harrison. He says that he is opposed to the McKinley tariff bill, and will not say more, th'vking the McKinley b'll sufficient cause for this breaking loose from the republican party.

MAGEE and his boodle thus far and to those whose subscriptions have failed to catch the Stevens wing of the republican party. He says that Moselev and Bowman can't Leat him and his following in the convention to defeat any republican candida e for congress. before their names are stricken This move only makes the result more favorable for C'eveland and

> THERE are a great many Weaver ticket men in the State who resent the idea that they are helption of Bob Mose'y, who has full control and distribution of the Weaver electorial lickets should convince any we'l-meaning man that when he votes for Weaver he votes for Harrison and a force bill

Pia'n thinking democra's should ask bemselves these questions: Can they tell exactly what the Weaverite or third party is contending for in Alabama outside of securing the defeat of Mr. Clevebe out every Wednesday morning land and the election of Ha rison What is the specific principal that the third party is contending for, or for what is it fused with the republicans in Alabama?

JUDGE CRAIG, the straight repub-I'can condidate called in to see us for a few minutes Saturday lest. The Judge fee's hope 'vl of ele ion, and Mr. Robbins also feels hopeful, which makes to a seif-evident fact that Mr. Longshore and his 'usionist gang are not in 14. If we have to have a republican Congressman from the Fourth district, penus the prosperity and happiness give us a republican true and not a fusionist who is neithe democrat. republican or third partyite.

THE force bill will be put upon the country if the republicans are successfu'. They have tried to evade the issue, but the platform, papers and speakers are all in favor of it now. Tom Reid's speech at Albany, New York, reveals to the farmers of the south what he thinks of the force bill. "They said" he goes on Even Bob Mose'v throws off the to rant, "we could not coerce the State. We coerced eleven. I wish and we should coerce them until liberty prevails all over this land."

THE Union Springs Herald says: "Any men who is willing to let from men who are our positions caihimself be honest just allittle, can mies, as well as our commercial rivals, easily see that this is the same old is to carry through and inforce, medsfight we had in '74. The carpetbag ures like the Lodge Electionlaw. * * white republicans have pulled their old devilish flag out of the dust and into the condition they were before patched it up a little with the One- 1876 we won't hear any more about "THE McKinley tariff bill will third party rag. But the scalawag cheap iron and cheap cotton goods not open up a market for a single rag is a good deal worse off for havadditional advance on another ing been patched with such rotten bushel of wheat." J. G. Biaine ut- stuff. It will be eaten up with its tered these words over 2 years age own corruption before the demoand if it has not proved true thus crats can get a good chance to anfar; the people of the United States nihilate the renegade clans that follow it."

FORCE BILL.

Utterances of leading Republicans in regard to the force bill reveal in a the people stand on the subject. startling manner the dangers that threaten the country from the revolutionary schemes of the party in power. There can be no doubt of the intention they succeed in carrying this election.

No sincere lover of his country can contemplate calmly the far-reaching consequences of this legislation. The programme means the usupation of all political power by the Federal Government, the political and industrial enslavement of the south. It means the ultimate overthrow of our free institutions and the setting up of an oligarchy upon their ruins. It means the the distuction of the Republic. The hour has come when all patriots should stand shoulder to shoulder in defence of their homes and freedom as American citizens against the revolutionanary plans of a party of desperate political conspirators. Look at these utterances: "With the Lodge National Election north, we may confidently look for a different state of political affairs than now exists. New York city will then return several more Republican congressmen than at present, while More Than Twenty Negro Representatives From The South will render the Republican control of the future congress absolutely secure and safe; As Mississippi, South Carolina and Florida contain a large majority of negroes, and as there Enough White Republicans In Alabama. Arkansas. North Carolina and Louisana Acting in Concert With the Negroes To Put These States In The Republican Line, we can confidently look in the fature for seven southern states to be reliably Republican. This means a gain of fourteen senators, and at least twenty representatives to the Republican party. When through the operation of the Lodge National Election Law six or seven southern states shall discard Democratic rule we shall look donfiuently to see some measures of jastice done the blacks, who have so long been def auded of their rights. Heavy taxes should be la d upon the property of the whites to develop and extend the public school system in these states. Separate concols to two colors into close andequal relations in schools and churches given a fair trial as one of the most potent elements to break down the detestable Bouldonism of the south. The right of the black to bear farms should be guaranteed to him as well as all the social rights intended to be secured him by the passage of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the constitution. The state laws against the intermar iage of the races should be repealed, and any discriminations against the black in matters of learn. ing trades or obtaining employment lem satisfacto: v."-National Pepablican, Washing' n, D. C., Ju'v 3, 1801.

tinue to press my force bill, and I in all. tend to pass it before I die 100. I shall pass the force bill yet-you see if I don't."-John 1. Davenport, Ugited States Supervisor of elections in New York city, and author of the Lodge force bill.

"I believe my Democratic friends say that there is a force bill issue in this campaign. I don't trink there is but think there ought to be. * * ! This is the most important question. in this campaign, and I would a good deal rather have negro domination in the South than the domination that prevails there at the present time."ex-senator John G. Ingalls, of Kansas in a speech at Toneka Oct., 9, 1892.

"If the democrats had never been allowed to regain control of the State Governments of the South, Northern capital would never have embarked in the development of Southern coal and iron; and the sucest and sneediest And if we can once more get them from the South. They will have oth er things to think about."-Editorial in the Philadelphia Press, edited by one of President Harison's closest friends, Hon. Emory Smith late Minister of Russia.

Renew yeur subscribtion.

The Chronicle says: Columbiana ought to be incorporated. Let us talk the matter over and see how DEMOCRACY is the political Savior of the South; it promises regeneration to those who have wanof the Republicans to pass the bill if dered off. Come back men and be saved from political death. You have been deceived and if you will just refura, you will be forgiven.

composed of men who will employ a mulatto negro who is not allowed by his own race to speak in his own county because of his disposition to the following described real estate, situated near Calera in Sheby county, Ala., to wit: Fractions A, H, J, M, and the S 1/2 of E and F of section 22, township 22, range 2, west; and the east half of north east quarter, section 2, township 24, range 13, east.

This August 11, 1802 stir stife and illfeeling between the races, and who proclaimed from the stand only a short time ago that the white men of Dallas county were a set of thieves, robbers and liars? Longshore and the Weaver electoral ticket has such an one, and he was in Calera last Saturday. This is A. N. Johnson, who Sam Adams condemned us for saying Law in full force over the South, and that he (Johnson) was smart. various Democratic strongholds up This we restecate, that our readers may relize the danger such a man is calculated to do among his own

Until Chris Magee made his advent into Alabama, such a thing as the use of money for the corruption of voters in the Louth was almost unheard of. It is true that more or less money is used in every campaign, but only so far as is necessary for the payment of printing and circulating literature, expenses of speakers, issuing tickets, etc. But Mr. Magee's boodle is the secret of the fusion imposed upon the people at Lakeview. It is now openly acknowledged that the electoral ticket made at the convention is to be cast for Harrison and not for Weaver. The same state of things exist in Tennessee and it has been exposed in that state as it has been admitted here. The act ion of republican officers in the open distribution of their funds to the support of the third party organ was enough to convince every sensible man that the Lal eview convenion was in the interest of Harrison. Now that Moseley and other repubcan leaders have openly avowed hat it the fusion electors are success'ul the!r vote would be cast for Harrison, no man with a thimble full of brains can doubt it. The fact that Magee was there and sanctioned their every action proves that his money governed the whole matter, and his repeated visits to Birmingham, meeting republican and third party leaders alike, shows plainly that his boodle is being should be made A Criminal offence, used to Carther the interest of Har-While The Colored Man's Right To rison. With these self evident Hold Office Should Be Sacredly Pro- Couchs staring us in the face, can tected And Recognized. A few years any man claiming to be a free man of this policy will solve the race proband a democrat vote for this liekel? We think not, and we don't believe that they will. Vote the straight "I give notice now that I shall con- democratic ticket or don't vote at

Job work done to o der at this

COUNTY OFFICERS. Probate Judge—John S. Leeper. Circuit Cterk—W. R. A. Milner. Register in Chancery—D. R. McMil-

Sheriff—H. W. Nelson.
Tax Collector—A. F. Smith.
Tax Assessor—John H. Hammonds.
County Tressurer—W. A. Thompson. Superintendent of Education-E.O.

County Solicitor-J. L. Peters. County Commissioners—James Mc-Gowan, Rufus Walker, Richard Gr'fin, A. M. Jones.

St. Vitus' Dance cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

WHATLEY

AND RUDDY.

HOUSE, SIGN AND ORNAMEN TAL PAINTERS.

Calcemining and Paper Hanging Done to Order,

Orders sent to THE JOURNAL office will be p omptly attended to.

HUGH T. CAFFE

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON CALERA, ALA.

L. P. RS. II NRY ILEON, E. S. LYMAN Courte a ... Monleva do Peters, Wilson & Lyman.

ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

REGISTER'S SALE.

Morgan & Lapsley, A. M. Elliott, Trustee, et al.) tue of a decree rendered at the Spring term. 1892, of the Chancery Court of Shelby county, Alabama, in the above entitled cause, I will proceed to sell, under the power contained in a Mortgage from H. M. Pierce, et al, to A. M. Elliott, trustee, at public outery, in front of the Court House door in the town of Columbiana,

Monday, the 17th day of October, 1892.

between the legal hours of sale, for cash,

This, August 11, 1892. D. R. McMILLAN, Register and Acting Trustee. 13aug-10w prs fee$16.50 Above sale continued to Monday

D. R. McMALLAN, Register.

RAILROAD TIME TABLE

	LOUISVILLE & NASI	HVILLE.
0.	1. South Bound,	4:53 a. m.
		4:14 p. m.
66	9, "	5:10 a. m.
	2, North Bound,	10:19 "
	9, " " 2, North Bound, 4 " "	10:05 p. m.
•••	10, "	7:15 p. m.

PRESBYTERIAN-Services on the 4th UNDER Sundays in each month, morning and night; pastor to be supplied. Sabbath School at 9:30 a. m. METHODIST-Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night, by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sabbath school at 9:30.

AT THE CHURCHES.

Baptist Church—Rev. J. G. Lowrey, pastor. Preaching every first and second Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting at 7.60 p. m., every Thursday.

CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN-J. J. Dalton, pestor. Preaching every first and third Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday eveningsat 7:30. Children's Band meets 3:30 p. m. cach 1st and 3rd Sunday. Ladies' Aid Society every other Friday eveningsat 3.

INSURE YOUR LIFE. Read and profit by the following sound counsel, every word of which smarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel:

"It is a duty you owe to yourself and amily to protect them with a reasonable amount of life insurance, where the stoums of the financial world cannot touch them; where the assessor cannot tax them; where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old sge should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do your duty and insure immediately in some good, old reliable Company."—Ex-tract from a sermon by the Rev. T. De-Witt Talmage.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Care at Druggista

Marion MILITARY Institute.

Marion, ala.

Superior Accommodationrs and Room. Superintendent, his family and family live in building with standard. Classic and Scientific. Superior Commo Course. TERMS MODE-RATE. Send for Catulogue.

COL. J. T. MURFEE, Superintendent,

SIX MILE MALE . & FEMALE ACADEMY.

R. H. PRATT, Principal.

35 h annual session begins September 26, 1892, and continues 40 WEEKS,

ONE WEEK FOR CERETMAS HOLIDAYS.

Intermediate, including English branches and Latin, Higer branches of Mathematics, Prench, Greek, with the -....$3 00 Music and use of instrument, 3 00 Board-per month, $7. Washir, starching, Iron ig $1......$8 00

Students are required to furn in, or heir own use, one pr. blankets, one pr. sheets and pillow cases, the wown toiled I ghas. Payments, monthy or quarterly in suvance.

This school is located at Six Mile, Alabama, in a healthy, we'l watered neighborhood five miles from Ashby denot, on the East Teauresce Virginia & Georgia Railroad.

H PRATT, Principal, 3sept 6m

Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats Shoes, Gents & Ladies Dress Goods,

Have one of the Largest Stocks of Hats, Shoes, Clothing, Notions, Dry Goods, and Genera' he chouse, Ever Brought to Shelly County

OPPOSITE OUR DRY GOODS HOUSEWe have Opened up a.....

EMAMMOTHESTOCKE

OUR

WILL BE IN THIS HOUSE AT ALL TIMES, WAIT ON YOU, and price Furniture as Low as any House in Alabama.

CASH OR INSTAL-MENT PLAN

Our Campaign Goods are as neat and as Cheap as any in the State.

A. C. WADE & CO.

LOGAL ITEMS.

Subscribe for THE JOURNAL. 5 Opium Habit cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

Mrs. Jeff Jones has had a well

Col. J. P. West is improving his preperty with a new fence.

If you want a nest su't of clothes cherp, just call on Wade & Co.

, Go to the polls next Tuesday and work for the democratic ticket.

Eee to it that every democratic vote in your beat is polled next Tuesdady.

Wade & Co., have a good line of underwear at prices that de'y com-

If in need of Job Work of any description, and you want it done cheap, bring it to this office.

Messrs Aldrige and Watson are building a handsome p cket fence on the line dividing their residence

A general holiday will be in vogue when Sands and Rentfrow's Big Shows come here.

All the best features of the circus world will be seen with Sands and Rentfrow's Big Show.

Col. W. D. Pulger was in town the interest of Cleveland and re- Let us hope that where God has

It was taid that a lady who had not a lended church in eighteen months, in consequence of ill health, attended Mr. Kittrell's meeting last week.

Our town has a water famine, Almost every well in the town has gone dry; and the drays are doing a good business hauling water from "New Town" springs.

of Shelby county at Columbiana, at Gurnee, Saturday nighf. Every. body invited.

a meeting at Monteval'o last night. The prayers of his entire community for their unbounded success go with them.

We are to see Mr. Gus Findley out again. He was considerably shaken up in a railroad accident be ween Blockton and Bessemer, a lew days ago.

While one of the teams belonging to Maj. Du an's I very stable was to Maj. Duran's I very stable was one was imposed upon." As this out on Sunday evening last, it besis the on'y large show that will so acy! came frightened, ren away tearing visit this section this season we No need to ruffle up your spilt sweet; up the vehicle and injuring the predict a large crowd. driver.

The south bond train on the E. T. V. & G. railroad was held up near Piedmont by two masked men, on Monday night and the express car robbed of $705. The mail car was also robbed of some valuable

The card of Whatley & Ruddy, house, sign and ornamental paintors, paper hangers and calceminers, will be found in another column. They are good workmen and home mechanies, and deserve the patronage of our people. We ask orders for them.

Prof. Greek opered up his school arresh his morning, after a suspension of lour days to give soudents an opportunity of a end the revival services. Mary of the s'udents were converted, and Pro'. Greek is encouraged to renewed energy in the school reom.

The Imp from the News, Master Wallace Campbel, and his chum took a hunt Monday, and returned in the evening with two wild turkeys, after night fall started out and returned about 2 a. m., with a report of having captured two 'possoms. A fair days hunt for the dry weather.

We are informed that a corps of surveyers have started out from near Longview, and will in a few days complete the survey of the new branch of the L. & N. This road it is stated will run by the valuable iron property of J. H. Page, near Columbiana, and will likely tap the C. & W. road at or near Childersburg.

It has been suggested that as so many of our young men have come out on the side of God and the right, that an effort be made to organize a Y. M. C. A. This would add much to the building up of their Christian character, and we hope it will be done. This will have a tendency to draw their minds away from worldly amusements, that one so much calculated to lead them away from the service of Him who has so many claims upon them. Let the effort for this good work begin now and begin in earnest. To realize how much good could be done in this way, our people have but to look back to the baseball season, and remember how many idle evenings were spent in that amusement, that much calculated to demoralize young men and boys and even ladies and old men.

THE REVIVAL.

PENITENT.

Rev. M . Kittre'll came to Calera wo weeks ago, and began a series of meetings. Since which time he has held two services a day, and his work has resulted in much good. The exact number of conversions is not known, but it is safe to say that there has been more than 60 and probably 75.

The power of the Spirit has been revived in the hearts of the people of the town. Congregations have been large and attentive, and the The field is vast, the promised harvest efforts of God's people have been wonderful indeed. Mr. Kittrell is a powerful preacher, and being full Learn we, I ke them, "to labor and to new converts are thoroughly aroused Line of Ladies, Gents, and Childrens' Burial Suits. of the Spirit himself, it permeates through the entire audience and at There comes no reapirg, save by patient every service almost every one was more or less effected.

The blessings received have not been confined to any class, but men Often you'd find your [plow points bent | the transgressor is hard" indeed. Wine and women of all ages have been converted; from the old gray-haired man to the small boy and girl, the In soil conservative—the sign and token, railroad man, the merchant, the That old King Custom did the sowing farmer, the married and the single, all have felt the influence; and today many have "God's spirit bearing witness with their spirits that Monday en route to the east part of they are one of H's children," who Alabama, where he was speak in two weeks ago could not so restify. done so much for Calera, that now Calora will do more for the master, and that ere long we will be known far and near as a peculiar people on account of our morality and piety.

THE GREAT SANDS AND RENTFROW'S ENGEMOUS RAILBOAD SEOWS,

Which is to exhibit in Calera Frione dry; and the drays are doing good business hauling water from New Town' springs.

Democratic Elector B. Dudley

| Democratic Elector B. Dudley | Democratic Elector B. Dudley | Democratic Elector B. Dudley | Democratic Elector B. Dudley | Orange Elector B. Dudl Williams, will address the people and menager'e was well patronized Let not your spirit yield to fruitless yesterday afte woon and evening, Friday, at Calera, Saturday, and and it we'l deserved the enormous Strong hand and heart of oak, this work crowd which flecked to the capacious tents. The menagerie shows up all that has been advertised, Where one stands idle and with folded Revs. Kitt el' and Dalton begun and the ring performances were excellent, comprising many very difficult, attractive acts never before presented here. The riding was good. The clowns introduced many com calities, and the feats of the aerobats, jugglers, and conto tionists were marvelous, and In bristling phalair bedge you round astonished and del ghted all. We found all connected with the sow perfect gentlemen, who desired to reat everyone well and see that no "Excasite let inkeeps a brother out."

> In His speech here last Saburday, That gui was but the signal of defeat; Judge Craig said if he was elected While to lers stept, that plant was up to congress, he would see that the republican rascals were turned out, and that good men were put in their places. His promise in this Do bor owers under-ground your labors respect will depend upon who is elected president; no doubt if Mr. Cleveland is elected, Mr. Robbins will be our next congresman, but if Mr. Harrison is to remain in the That purbind mole, the great omnisci-White House, then Judge Craig's influence with the administration, le being a republican, will be Of drukness-the turn on the shot greater than Longshore's.

The Brunswick News says a man who has been affiliating with the Alliance party of this state for the past few years, hav ng severed his allegiance thereto, thus briefly gives his reasons for so doing:

- 1. Because it s un by lawyers without clients.
- 2. By doctors without patients;
- 3, By preachers without pupils; 4. women without husbands;
- 5. By farmers without farms,
- 6. By financiers without finance: 7. By educators without education
- 8. By statesmen out of a job.

party and that's why the farmers in Alabama are quitting it so rapidly.

Send us your job work.

WOMAN'S COLUMN.

[The Woman's Column is under the supervision of Mrs. F. W. Gist, and all communications for this department should be addressed to her at West Carhis own personality. And he has a sister lera, Alabama.]

"KEEP THE PLOWS A-GOING."

(Mrs. Merriweather, read by Miss Yeager, of S. C., at laying of corner-

In days of old, when England had her your best friend againt you, and do it so

And revolution's thunder shook her sky, Old Cromwell's war-cry in those little troubles,

Was "Trust in God and keep your powder dry."

In later days, when through the Land of Cotton,

A wail of desolation filled the air;

unforgotten, A chord of reconstruction sounded clear, MANY SOULS SAVED AND MANY OTHERS From a Granger, horny-handed, shrewd and subject honest men to the unwhole-and knowing. 'Just trust in God and keep the plaws a-going."

Our night is dark, you say, full well we know it,

But darker knights our pioneers have known;

"After the dark, the dawn," say seer and peet. "The morning cometh," lo! the night has flown, The mo ung breaks, let each be up and doing;

No idle d eam nor gentle slumber woeing sowing,

So, "Trust in God, and keep the plows a-going.

and broken, By tough old roots of prejudice, that hide,

Sharpen your point, and let your plow sink deeper, Lay bere the fibre, let T u'a's sun'ight strong, Shine in, then wait and T no's slow, steady sweeper,

Shall right all error and re-rieve all wrong;

Bis ceaseless sevile the ranks are moving.

So "Trust in God, and keep the plows a-going."

Anon, your plow is halted, beaten, bat-By stones of Apathy in woman's heart, blossoms sta t.

sorrow.

demands; Plow on in feith to lay, and lo! tomor ow

A med and equipped come two to do the hoeing.

So "I ust in God, and keep "e plows

Do bria s scarp and horns Ecclesiastic,

With it unique, and argument phan-

For "hat fort's stormed the sisters in al cady, and growing, So, "Trust in God, and Feep the piows a-going."

trouble?

Who, blind of purpose, won't the 'auth coaless. Whose only argument is sneer and a bule.

Stend to your plows! Tarn up the vast and sheil. From those strong for whose "bullets

Recent ly there was a plaint in this col umn aga' ist lia s and mischief-makers which seems to have touched a chord in the popular soul that has sent out many harmonious and peaceful notes. It was needed here, that plaint, as it is needed in every community. It is hard, indeed, if the friend whom you love above all other 'objects in this world is to be stealed against you by the wagging tongue of a liar. You honor a man who stands up before you, man to man, and strikes full and fair, and tells youf by blows what he means; but you hate, you loathe him or her who goes behind your back and strikes like a reptile in That's the solution of the third the dark. He or she would rob you o that which you hold dearest in this world; steals from you that which enriches not him or him or her, and leaves you poor indeed. The tongue of the slanderer is a tongue of poison. There is nothing too sacred for him to assel;

there is for him no tie that is more than a rope of sand. He goes about the world breathing the noxious odors of his own personality. And he has a sister in his unrighteous mission. He and she are common liars, and they cumber the earth with their unholy scandals.

You scorn them, dearly beloved, but you cannot escape the outpoorings of their venomous tongues. They array skillfulfy that you can find no point whereupon to hang action for redress. He says his little lies in a way that robs | you of the privilege of knocking him down, and placing your foot upon his reptile neck. She-you cannot strike a women, you even hesitate to pronounce her a liar when you know that she has lied. She and he compel you to go into While woes were fresh, and wrongs yet explanation with friends, we all of us know that explanations seldom explain. Explanations rob friendship of its bloom, some atmosphere of doubt, of tergiversation.—Age-Herald.

The Quaker Evangelist Rev. Mr. Kittrell closed his series of interesing meetings at Calera on Monday, Oct. 31. It is estimated that about 75 conversions were effected. The most notable being that of a young man who was running a "blind-liger" and on the day of his conversion he carried ministers to his den and era led its contents into the streets. It is to be hoped that this young man's example will be followed by every other such dealer in the town.

The pastors of the different churches and citizens of Calera, including many to their duties and the time is about at at hand when the "blind-tiger" in Calera will be a thing of the past. If their be one who persist in running such a business. he will find that the "Way of is a mocket, strong douk is aging and whosoever is deceived thereby is not

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, I mid the busy scenes of Whereas, I and the busy scenes of life we must pause to brush away the tear of so. ow at the loss of a valued and honored member of our Sunday school (Concord church, Montevallo circuit), our loved friend and co-worker, Sister S. M. Peynolds, having been called from our midst cailed from our midst.

Resolved, That we, as superintendent, eachers and children in this school, ook back with love and tenderness upon the beautiful life we mourn.

Resolved, That we tender the gefstricken husband, children and sisters our heartfelt sympaties in their bereave-ment, humbly praving that the richest biessi igs of heaven may be theirs; that they may realize "earth has no sorrow that heaven or not heat;" and that they may feel that though she is dead yet she lives.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered upon the minutes of our S. S. register, a copy be sent to the family of deceased, 1 id one to the Alabama Christain Advocate for publication.

E. E. EDDINGS,
J. M. GARNER,
Mis. JOE. GREEN.

MPORTANT TO LADIES

Sir—I made use of your Philotol en with my last child, in order to procure a safe and easy travil. I used it about two mon his before my expected time, and I had a very quick and easy confinement. Nothing occurred to protract my convalescence, and I got about in less time than was usual for me. I think it a mediciae that should be used by every expectant mother, for should they but try it as I have, they would never again be without it at such t.mes. I am yours respectfully,

Mrs. ELIZABETH DIX.

Anymerchant or druggist con procure Ristey's Philotoken for $1 a bottle.

CHARLES F. RISLEY, Wholesale Druggist, 62 Cortlandt St., New York.

Risley's Philotoken for $1 a bottle. CHARLES F. RISLEY, Wholesale Druggist, 62 Cortlandt St., New York.

Subscription only $1 a year.

JAMES R. WAITE, Manager of Waite's Celebrated Comedy Co., Premium Band and Orchestra.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind. You will remember the condition I was in five years ago, when I was afflicted with a combination of diseases, and thought there was no make you me. I tried all kinds of medicines, and scores of eminent physicians. My nerves were prostrated, producing disziness, heart trouble and all the ills that make life miserable. I commenced to take that make life miserable. I commenced to take DR. MILES' NERVINE and in three months; when I see the thousands of physical wrecks, sufering from nervous prostration, taking prescriptions from HAS local physicians who have no knowledge of their case, and whose death is certain, I feel like going to them and saying, wary DR. Milter Menvist and at custo. In my profession, areao many su CURED ferears from overwork, men to many sure commend the business engaged in, I would recommend

"MILES: THOUSANDS
NERVINE"

A SUITE CUTE for all suffering from these causes.

JAMES R. WAITE. SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

OR MONEY REFUNDED,

-GO.T.TO-Mrs. S. H. McCauley's

MONTEVALLO,

FOR

MILLINERY-- GOODS.

A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hats in the Lates Styes, and at Reasonable Prices.

Oct 8-3m

F W ROGAN, BEELBERUEU. MONTEVALLO, ALA.,

Office of Southern Express Co.

I KEEP CONSTANTLY ON HAND A COMPLETE LINE OF Wood Coffins and Caskets from the Chrpest to the Finest. Also, a full

Orders by telegram promptly Filled.

Now is the time for everyone who cherishes good health, to pay particular at tention to the condition of their blood and its proper circulation. Nearly all diseases that flesh is heir to are caused and agravated by an impure condition of the blood and a sluggish circulation.

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS Possessing Extraordinary Cleansing Powers

Restoring and Strengthening the whoe System, Enriching the Boodproducing increased vitality by restoring an impaired digestion and bringing back the bloom of youth to the cheek of the enfeebled and emaciated.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle-6 Bottles for $5.00. For aleby All Druggists.

Nabors, Morrow, & Sinnige.

SOLE CONTROLERS. Birmingham.

WORDS ABOUT THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION.

Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers 12 Pages.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT.

1. It is the best of all weekly news- "Aunt Susie," the editress of these departments are a source of infinite pleas-ure to every family, and the name of pers in the world.

Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of your neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulat d home should be without it. Agents Wanted in every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information.

THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

Banking House of

W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co.

CALERA; ALABAMA.

Negotiate Loans,

Issue interest bearing certificates of Deposit, and sell exchange on New York Louisville and Bi-mingham at regular rates cyarged by the larger cities.

We transact a general banking business, such as that of any incorporated some interpretable in all of its legitimate branches, and would be pleased to open accounts with gerchants, manufacturers aud planters alike. Fire and Life Insurance

Written in the best companies.

Receive Deposits,

Bought, Sold and Rented upon just terms.

TEXT: "Launch out into the deep."-

TEXT: "Launch out into the deep."—
Inke v. 4.

Christ, starting on the campaign of the world's conquest, was selecting His staff officers. There were plenty of students with high foreheads, and white hands, and intellectual faces, and refined tastes in Rome and in Jerusalem. Christ might have called into the apostleship twelve bookworms, or twelve rhetoricians, or twelve artists. Instead He takes a group of men who had never made a speech; never taken a lesson in belleslettres; never been sick enough to make them look delicate—their hands broad, clumsy and hard knuckled. He chose fishermen, among other reasons, I think, because they were physically hardy. Rowing makes strong arms and stout chests. Much climbing of ratilines makes one's head steady. A Galilee tempest wrestled men into gymuasts. The opening work of the church was rough work. Christ did not want twelve invalids hanging about Him, complaining all the time how badly they felt. He leaves the delicate students at Jerusalem and Rome for their mothers and aunts to take care of, and goes down to the seasone, and out of the toughest material makes an apostleship.

and goes down to the seashore, and out of the toughest material makes an apostleship. The ministry neel more corporeal vigor than any other class. Fine minds and good intentions are important, but there must be physical force to back them. The intellectual mill wheel may be well built and the grist good, but there must be enough blood in the mill race to turn the one and to grind

He chose fishermen also because they were used to hard knocks. The man who cannot stand assault is not fit for the ministry. It always has been and always will be rough always has been and always will be rough work, and the man who, at every censure or caricature, sits down to cry had better be at some other work. It is no place for ecclesiastical doll babies. A man who cannot preach because he has forgotten his manuscript or lost his spectacles ought not to preach at all. Heaven deliver the church from a ministry that preach in kid gloves and from sermons in black morococ covers! These fishermen were rough and ready. These fishermen were rough and ready.
They had been in the sternest of all colleges.
When they were knocked over by the main boom of the ship they entered the Sophomore, when washed off by a great wave, they entered the Junior; when floating for two days without food or drink on a plank they came to the Senior, and when at last their ship dashed on the beach in a midnight hurricane they graduated with the first honor they graduated with the first honor.

My text finds Jesus came aboard with one of these bronzed men, Simon by name. This fisherman had been sweeping his net in shoal water. "Push out," says Christ; "what is the use of hugging the shore in this boat? Here is a lake twelve miles long and six wide, and it is all populated just waiting for the sweep of your net. Launch out into the deen."

deep."
The advice that my Lord gave to Simon The advice that my Lord gave to Simon is as appropriate for us all in a spiritual sense. The fact is that most of us are just paddling along the shore. We are afrain to venture out into the great deeps of God and Christian experience. We think that the boat will be upset, or that we cannot "clew down the mizzen topsail," and our cowardice makes us poor fishermen. I think I hear the voice of Christ commanding us, as He did Simon on that day when bright Gelines at in among the green hills of Palestine, like water flashing in an emerald cup, "Launch out into the deep,"

s divine counsel comes first to all offose who are paddling in the margin of Bible research. My father read the Bible through three times after he was eighty years of age and without spectacles—not for the mere purpose of saying he had been through it so often, but for his eternal profit. John Wolby, the brother-in-law of Daniel Webster, learned to read after he was eighty-four years of age in order that he might become equagined with the Segiptures. There is acquainted with the Scriptures. There no book in the world that demands so muc of our attention as the Bible. Yet uins tenths of Christian men get no more than ankle deep. They think it is a good sigh not to venture too far. They never ask how or why, and if they say some Christian baconing inquisitive about the deep things of God they say: "Be carefur; you had better not count of far from store."

my answer is: The farther you go and shore the better if you have tae right kind of ship. If you have worldly philosophy for a sail, and sair considering a sail, and sair considering the sair considering the sail of the sa of ship. If you have worldly pullosophy for the hulk, and pride for a sail, and said con-ceit for the helm, the first squal will destroy you. But if you take the Bible for your craft, the farther you go the better, and after you have gone ten thousand furlougs Christ will still command, "Launch out inco the deep." Ask some such question as "Who is God?" and go on for ten years asking it. Ask it at the gate of every parable; amid the excitement of every miracle; by the soltariness of every patriarchal thrashing floor; amid the wnite faces of Sennacherib's stain

Ask who Jesus is, and keep on asking it of every Bible lily, of every raven, of every star, of every crazed brain cured, of every blind man come to sunlight, of every coin in a fish's mouth, of every loaf that got to be five loaves, of every wratiful sea pacified, of every pulseless arm stretched forth in gratulation; ask it of His mother, of Augustus, of Herod, of the Syrophenician woman, of the dams of that woke of Augustus, of Herod, of the Syrophenician woman, of the dams! that woke up from the death sleep, of Joseph, who had Him buried, of the angel posted as sentine!

at His tomb, of the dumb earth that shook and groaned and thundered when He died.
A missionary in France offered a Bible in an humble dwelling. The man took it, tore out a dozen pages and with them began to light his pipe. Some years after the missionary happened in the same house The family had just lost their son in the Crimean war, and his Bible had been sent back home. The missionary took it up and saw that if was the very same Bible that he had left in the house and from which the leaves had been torn. The dying soldier had written on one of the leaves of the Bible, "Rejected and scoffed at, but finally believed in and saved."
The Bible may be used to light the pipe of witticism by some, but for us it is a staff in life, a pillow in death and our joy for eternity. life, a pillow in death and our joy for eter-

Walk all up and down this Bible domain!
Try every path. Plunge in at the prophecies and come out at the epistles. Go with the patriarchs until you meet the evangelists. Rummage and ransack, as children who are not satisfied when they come to a new house until they know what is in every room and into what every door opens. Open every jewel casket. Examine the skylights, Forever be asking questions. Put to a higher use than was intended the oriental proverb, "Hold all the skirts of thy mantle extended when heaven is raining gold."

Passing from Boun to Coblentz on the Rhine, the scenery is comparatively tame. Walk all up and down this Bible domain!

extended when heaven is raining gold."
Passing from Bonn to Coblents on the Rhine, the scenery is comparatively tame. But from Coblents to Mayence it is enchanting. You sit on deck and feel as if this last flash of beauty must exhaust the scene; but in a moment there is a turn of the river, which covers up the former view with more luxuriant vineyards, and, more defiant castles, and bolder bluffs, vine wreathed, and grapes so ripe that if the hills be touched they would bleed their rich lite away into the bowls of Bingen and Hockheimer. Here and there there are streams of water melting into the river, like smaller joys swallowed in the bosom of a great gladness.

gladness.

And when night begins to throw its black mantle over the shoulder of the hills, and you are approaching disembarkation at Mayence, the lights along the shore fairly bewitch the scene with their beauty, giving the state of the scene with their beauty, giving the state of the scene with their seasons at their seasons. one a thrill that he feels but once, yet that lasts him forever. So this river of God's word is not a straight stream, but a winding splendor—at every turn new wonders to at tract, still riper vintage pressing to the brin and crowded with castles of strength—Stola enfels and Johannisberger as nothing compared with the strong tower into which the righteous run and are saved—and our disembarkation at last in the evening amid the lights that gleam from the shore of heaven. The trouble is that the vast majority of Bible

The sea of God's Word is not like Gennessaret, twelve miles by six, but hound-less, and in any one direction you can sail on forever. Why then confine yourself to a short psalm or to a few verses of an epistle? The largest fish are not near the epistie? The largest fish are not near the shore, Evist all sail to the winds of heaven. Take hold of both oars and pull away. Be like some of the whalers that went out from New Bedford or Portsmouth to be gone for two or three years. Yea, calculate on a lifetime voyage, You do not want to land until you land in heaven. Sail away. O ye mariners, for eternity! Launch out into the deep!

The text is appropriate to all Christians of

The text is appropriate to all Christians of shallow experience. Doubts and fears have in our day been almost elected to the parliament of Christian graces. Some consider it a bad sign not to have any doubts. Doubts and fears are not signs of health, but festers and carbuncles. You have a valuable house and carbuncles. You have a valuable house or farm. It is suggested that the title is not good. You employ counsel. You have the deeds examined. You search the record for mortgages, judgments and liens. You are not satisfied until you have a certificate, signed by the great seal of the State, assuring you that the title is good. Yet how many leave their title to heaven an undecided matter! Why do you not go to the records and find out? Give yourself no rest, day or night, until you can read your title clear to man-until you can read your title clear to man-sions in the skies. Christian character is to come up to higher standards. We have now to hunt through our library to find one Robert M'Cheyne, or one Elward Payson, or one Harlan Page. The time will come when we will find half a dozen of them sitting in the same seat with us. The grace of God can make a great deal better men than those I have mentioned. Christians seem afraid they will get heterodox by going too far. They do not believe in Christian perfection. There is no danger of your being perfect for some time yet. I will keep watch and give you notice in time, if you get too near perfection for the safety of your theology.

One-half of you Christians are simply stuck in the mud. Why not cut loose from everything but God? Give not to Him that formal petition made up of "O's"—"O Lord" this and "O Lord" that. When people are cold and have nothing to say to God. Christian character is to come up to high-ple are cold and have nothing to say to Got they strew their prayers with "O's" and "Forever and ever, Amen," and things to fill up. Tell God what you want with the feeling that He is ready to give it, and believe that vou will receive, and you shall have it. Shed that old prayer you have been making these ten years. It is high time that you outgrew it. Throw it aside with your old ledgers, and your old hats, and your old shoes. Take a review of your present wants of your present is not got. and your old snoes. Take a review of vour present wants, of your present sins and of your present blessings. With a sharp blade cut away your past half and half Christian life, and with new determination, and new ans, and new expectations launch out into the deep.

The text is appropriate to all the unforgiven. Every sinner would come to God if he thought he might come just as he is. People talk as though the pardon of God were a narrow river, like the Kennebec or the Thames, and that their sins draw too much water to enter it. No; it is not a river nor a bay, but a sea. I should like to persuade you to launch out into the great deep of God's meroy. I am a merchant. I have of God's mercy. I am a merchant. I have bought a cargo of spices in India. I have, through a bill of exchange, paid for the whole cargo. You are a ship captain. I give you the orders and say, "Bring me those spices." You land in India. You go to the trader and say, "Here are the orders," and you lind everything all right. You do not stop to pay the money yourself. It is not your business to pay it. The arrangements were made before you started. So Christ purchases your pardon. He puts the pacers, or the promises, into your hand. Is it wise to stop and say, "I cannot pay for my redemption?" God does not ask you to pay. Relying on what has been done, launch out into the deep.

The Biole's promises join hands, and the circle tney make will compass all your sins, rows. The round table of king Arthur and his knights had room for only thirteen banqueters, but the round table of God's supply is large enough for all the present inhabitants of earth and heaven to sit at, and for the still mightier populations that are yet to

Do not sail coastwise along your old habits and old sins. Keep clear of the shore. Go out where the water is deepest. Oh, for the mid sea of God's mercy! "Be it known unto you, men and breturen, that through this Man is preached unto you forgiveness of sins." I preach it with as much confidence to the night ware rely the preserve as the to the eighty-year-old transgressor as to the maiden. Though your sins were blood red they shall be snow white. The more ragged the prodigal, the more compassionate the Father. Do you say that you are too bad? The high water mark of God's pardon is

The high water mark of God's pardon is higher than all your transgressions. "The blood of Jesus Christ cleanseth from all sin." Do you say that your heart is hard? Suppose it were ten times harder. Do you say that your iniquity is long continued? Suppose it were ten times longer. Do you say that your crimes are black? Suppose that they were ten times blacker. Is there any lion that this Samson cannot slay? Is there any fortress that this Conqueror cannot take? Is there any sin that this Redeemer cannot pardon?

It is said that when Charlemagne's host was overpowered by the three armies of the was overpowered by the three armies of the Saracens in the pass of Roncesvalles his warrior, Roland, in terrible earnestness warrior, Roland, in terrible earnestness seized a trumpet and blew it with such terrific strength that the opposing army reeled back with terror, but at the third blast of the trumpet it broke in two. I see your soul fiercely assailed by all the powers of earth and hell. I put the mighter trumpet of the Carpel to my light and I blow it three times and hell. I put the mighter trumpet of the Gospel to my lips and I blow it three times. Blast the first—"Whosoever will, let him come." Blast the second—"Seek ye the Lord while He may be found." Blast the third—"Now is the accepted time; now is the day of salvation."

Does not the host of your sins fall back?

from the lips of our fathers, we hand it down to the lips of our children, and tell them to sound it when we are dead, that all the generations of men may know that our God is a pardoning God—a sympathetic God—a loving God—and that more to Him than the anthems of heaven; more to Him than the throne on which He sits; more to Him than are the temples of celestial worship is the joy of seeing the wanderer putting his hand on the door latch of his Father's house. Hear it, all ye Nations! Bread for the worst hunger. Medicine for the worst sickness. Light for the thickest darkness. Harbor for the worst storm.

for the thickest darkness. Harbor for the worst storm.

Dr. Prime, in his book of wonderful interest, entitled "Around the World," describes a tomb in India of marvelous architecture. Twenty thousand men were twenty-two years in erecting that and the buildings around it. Standing in that tomb, if you speak or sing, after you have ceased you hear the echo coming from a height of one hundred and fifty feet. It is not like other echoes. The sound is drawn out in sweet prolongation, as though the angels of God were chanting on the wing. How many souls in the tomb of sin will lift up the voice of penitenes and prayer? If now they would cry unto God the echo would drop from afar, not strack from the marble cupols of an earthly mausoleum, but sounding back from the warm heart of angels thying back from the warm heart of angels flying the news, for there is joy among the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth!

Rain has only fallen twice in twentynine years in Aden, Arabia. Previous to the last rain, which occurred in 1883, none had fallen in twenty-six years.

Make up your mind to be more charitable for people, and the man you hate most will come in while you are planning where to commence.

POPULAR SCIENCE.

Mars was so bright in 1719 as to be mistaken for a new star.

A dinner has been cooked by electricity in a Canadian hotel.

Of the fires of 1891, sixty-four per cent. were due to electricity. Mullein leaf is recommended as an excellent specific for rheumatism. Four-fifths of the engines now working in the world have been constructed during the last twenty-five years. An alloy of seventy-eight per cent. of gold and twenty-two per cent. of aluminum is the most brilliant known. An observatory of a fire and lightning proof quality of construction has been designated and section built so as to be easily carried to the top of Mount Blanc. Switzerland, where it will be permanently

The taxidermist of the Smithsonian Institution at Washington denies that the peacock has ugly feet-a condition of affairs which has been very generally accepted as truth as long as the peacock has been known. There is a variety of pigeon hawk in Syria which kills pigeons by cutting their throats with its sharp bills as they fly. It gives a swoop, a quick dart and presently there is a tumble, and the poor dove is finished up with a gash across its Sudden attacks of angina pectoris are dangerous, and the feet should be placed immediately in hot water, and mustard should be applied to the heart region. Stimulants should also be given, and injections of morphine or atropine to relieve intense pain.

The gold diggers of Thibet, most of whom are Chinese, make air do the work of water. That is to say, they use the same process by which farmers used to winnow their grain before fanning mills were invented. They lift the baskets containing earth and gold to an elevation and then slowly empty the contents to the ground.

Dr. Grana, a country physician in Spain according to foreign papers, has discovered a cure for diphtheria which he claims never fails. The queen regent of Spain is greatly interested in the discovery and received Dr. Grana at court a few weeks ago. The physicians has been invited to explain his remedy to the Madrid Academy of Medicine.

Rotting tree stumps may be easily removed in this way: With a one and onequarter inch augur bore a hole in the centre of the stump about eighteen inches deep and put in twenty ounces of saltpeter, fill the hole with water and plug it tight. In the spring take out the plug, and set it on fire. The stump will burn and smolder to the end of the roots, leaving nothing but ashes.

Some silk worms lay from 1000 to 2000 eggs, the wasp 3000, the ant from 3000 to 5000. The number of eggs laid by the queen bee has long been in dispute. Burmeister says from 5000 to 6000, but Spence and Kirby both go him several better, each declaring that the queen of average fertility will lay no less than 40,000, and probably as high as 50,000 in one season.

A manufacturing concern in Brooklyn, N. Y., has substituted a large fan for a smokestack. By the draught created the smoke, dust and gases from several furnaces are drawn into a brick apartment that has a low chimney. Small pipes, conveying water, open into the apartment, and as the water escapes it is sprayed over the apartment by means of steam jets. The dust is laid thereby, and whatever gases may be present escape by way of the chimney.

The resources of the lecture-room are decidedly increased when Professor Dewas was able, in a lecture on chemis try in London lately, to produce liquid oxygen in the presence of the audience literally by pints, and to pass liquid air about the room in claret glasses. Oxygen liquifies at about 250 degrees below zero, and air at 343 degrees below zero. If the earth were reduced to a temperature 350 degrees below zero it would be covered with a sea of liquid air thirtyfive feet deep. Professor Dewar's process of liquefying oxygen and nitrogen was with a hundred pounds of liquid ethylenic and fifty pounds of nitrous oxide, with the aid of two air pumps and two compressors driven by steam.

Crafty Doctors.

"There seems little to choose," says a physician, "between the sexes in the matter of desire to take medicine regularly, and it is often impossible to persuade an apparently rational minded patient that a cure has been effected, that no more medicine is needed, and that nothing but good diet and careful habits are required to build up the constitution. A number of doctors save themselves from falling from grace by prescribing a harmless tonic after effect. ing a cure, but those who pride themselves in disposing of cases by aid of a dozen doses or less seldom attain any great popularity. The often quoted and much vaunted practice in China of paying a physician while his patient is well, and stopping his pay during sickness, could never be introduced successfully into this country because so many people who are perfectly well are prepared to file affidavits that they are dangerously sick that no doctor under the China regime would be able to earn his board."-Chicago Tribune.

Healthful Arctic Regions.

There is one side of the Arctic regions which has never had gue attention paid to it, and that is the medical and curative side. Davos Platz has known what cold can do in consumption, but in life giving air of the Arctic Circle no noxious germ can live. The only illness of any consequence which ever attacks a whaler is an explosive bullet. It is a safe prophecy that before many years are passed steam yachts will turn to the north every summer with a cargo of the weak chested, and people will understand that nature's icehouse is a more healthy place than her vapor pata, -The Idler.

FIGS AND THISTLES.

A good habit is always a good

A BAD man generally hates a good fing. IMAGINARY troubles are the most

To LISTEN to a doubt is to listen to B devil. No man's character is any better than his word. In Christian life we always live as high as we look.

THERE is never any heavenly music In a gloomy heart.

Every Christian ought to have a Christian character.

From what a man says you can often tell what he is. THE right kind of martyrdom lets somebody else advertise it. No man who leads others is always following somebody himself.

THE devil will not be afraid of your Bible if there is dust on it.

Ir is harder to get away from the Lord than it is to find Him. It doesn't take a bit of meanness out of a rascal to polish him. If you want to help the Lord in your own family, don't scold much.

How EASY it is to see where other people might economize if they would. Every man and woman who is really good helps to hold Heaven up.

THE man who is willing to have only a little religion will never have Sty would never hurt anybody if it couldn't look little and harmless at

WATCHFUL prayer and prayerful watching are great helps Heaven-

Too MANY people are electric lights in prayer-meeting and tallow dips at home. No MAN loves God a bit who does not love him with every dollar he is Don't take your religion from people who never have any trouble with the devil. No CHRISTIAN wants purity in his heart who does not also want it in ONE sinner in Heaven would be as much of a start there as the devil would want. THE love that men have for little sins is the same kind that devils have for big ones. EVERY sermon ought to have something in it that the devil will have to try to answer. IT is not according to God's plan that any Christian should carry an ounce of weight.

THE right kind of repentance not only means to stop doing bad, but to begin doing better.

EVERY gift that comes from God's hand is a good gift, no matter how uncomely it may look. THE only difference education can make in sin is to make it change the manner of its expression. If a man could go to Heaven on a flowery bed of ease he would feel very lonesome after he got there. It never makes us a bit broader to go up and down the earth declaring that somebody else is narrow.

IT will be found out some day that the only people who are truly rich are those who gave up all for Christ. Gop wants his children to find out that his hand is always within reach,

no matter how dark it may look. THERE are some people who think that sermon is the best which misses them and hits all their neighbors.

Aristocrats in the French Navv.

The French navy is the last resort of aristocratic France. There are a number of families in the French noblesse whose members are willing to serve the Republic in the navy, but Echerish the curious fiction that a post in the army or in the civil service would imply a loss of caste and acquiescence in a hated regime. This feeling does not make the navy popular with the radical Republicans, and is undoubtedly at the bottom of the attack recently made on the minister of marine in the French chamber of deputies, or the uproar which followed his declaration that it would be "impossible to place the navy under the direction of an army officer."-Philadelphia Press.

A WOMAN is never so apt to wish she was a man as when she sees one get up from the table, and walk away without a backward look or

I Can Walk a Mile

Easily, although for long time before taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I could not walk a step. I nad a terrible running sore on my leg, 0 resulting from milk leg. Nothing did meany good till I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilta. The pain ceased wholly, the dark color Mrs. Chas. Asbell. disappeared, the sore has healed, and the limb is perfectly healthy." Mrs. C. A. Asbell, Avon, Mass. Mood's Pills should be in every family medicine chest. Once used, they are preferred.

ELICATE WOMEN Or Debilitated Women, should use

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR.

Every ingredient possesses superb Tonic properties and exerts a wonderful influence in toning up and strengthening her system, by driving through the proper channels all impurities. Health and strength guaranteed to result from its use.

"My wife, who was bedridden for aga-teen mouths, after using Bradfield's Female Regulator for two mouths is getting well."

J. M. Johnson, Malvern, Ark,
Bradfield Brotlator Co., Atlanta, Gs.,
Sold by Drugsists at $1.00 per bottle.

Alexander Dieterich, chief constructor of the German army, is in Philadelphia mak-ing a study of the methods and products of construction at Cramp's shippard

For Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and Stomach disorders, use Brown's Iron Bitters. The Best Tonic, it rebuilds the system, cleans the Blood and strengthens the muscles. A splendid tonic for weak and debilitated persons.

Blondin, the celebrated tight rope walker, who is sixty eight years old, is still in the business. He has lately been making a great success in Europe.

Sample Package Mailed Free, Address Small Bile Beans, New York.

A dog bitten by a rattlesnake in Florida was cured of the bite by the administration of gunpowder internally.

For the first time the Russian soldiers are to be furnished with handkerchiefs at the Government's expense.

Sick-Headache relieved by Small Bile Beans.

The German Kaiser's latest freak is to pay

For impure of thin Blood, Weakness, Malaria Neuralgia, Indigestion, and Biliousness, take Brown's Iron Bitters—it gives strength, making old persons feel young—and young persons strong; pleasant to take.

Prince Bismarck has seen statues raised in his honor, which is a recognition few men

World's Fair Albums

GIVEN AWAY BY THE C. H. & D. AND MONON, THE WORLD'S FAIR ROUTE. THE WORLD'S FAIR ROUTE.

An elegantly bound album of the World's Fair views has been published by the C. H. & D., which, in connection with the Monon, forms the popular World's Fair Route from Cincinnati to Chicago. The album Is a work of art and will be sent to any address by E. O. McCormick, G. P. and T. Agt., C. H. & D., Cincinnati, O., on receipt of ten cents in stamps. Incidentally it is noted that the double daily Pullman safety vestibuled trains, with dining cars between Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Chicago, are run only via the C. H. & D. and Monon Koute. See that your tickets to the World's Fair read via the C. H. & D.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

These is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words slike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OF SAMPLES FREE.

E. B. Walthall & Co., Druggists, Horse Cave, Ky., say: "Hall's Catarrh Cure cures every one that takes it." Sold by Druggists, 75c.

A cure for nearly all of the common ills — what, doctors? Pshaw! Take Beecham's Pills. For sale by all druggists. 25 cents.

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

PATENTS W. T. Fitzgerald. Washington, D. C. 46-pagebook free.

which represent the best value for prices naked, as thousands will testify.

TAKE NO SURSTITUTE.

THE BEST SHOE IN THE WORLD FOR THE MONEY

"German I must say a word as to the efficacy of German Syrup. I have used it in my family for Bronchitis. the result of Colds, with most excellent success. I have taken it myself for Throat Troubles, and have derived good results therefrom. I therefore recommend it to my neighbors as an excellent remedy in such cases. James T. Durette, Earlysville, Va. Beware of dealers who offer you "something just as good." Always insist on having Boschee's

German Syrup.

Unlike the Dutch Process No Alkalies Other Chemicals are used in the preparation of W. BAKER & CO.'S BreakfastCocoa

It has morethan three times the strength of Cocoa mixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is far more economical, costing less than one cent a cup. It is delicious, nourishing, and EASILY DIGESTER.

Sold by Grocers everywhere. W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

RELIEVES all Stomach Distress REMOVES Nausea, Sense of Fulinees, Congestion, Pain. REVIVES FAILING ENERGY. RESTORES Normal Circulation, and WARMS TO TOE TIPS.

OR. HARTER MEDICINE Co., St. Louis, Ma.

PHICKENIC

YOU WANT PAY THEIR WAY

Am N U

any other shoe ever sold at the price. Equals custom made shoes costing from $4 to $5.

2 and $5 Hand-sewed, fine calf shoes. The most stylish, easy and durable shoes ever sold at these prices. They equal nie imported shoes costing from $4 to $12.

50 Police Shoe, were by farmers and all others who want a good heavy calf, three sold, extension edge shoe, easy-to walk in, and will keep the feet dry and warm.

50 Fine Calf, 1 and $2 Workingmen's Shoes will give more wear for the money than any other make. They are made for service. The increasing sales show that workingmen have found this out.

and Vauths $1.75 School Shoes are worn by the hoys everywhere. The most services she shoes sold at these prices.

worn by the boys everywhere. The most services able shoes sold at these, prices.

LADIES' $3 Hnnd-Sewed, $2.50, $2 and $1.75 shoes for Misses are made of the best Dongola or fine Calf, as desired. They are very stylish, comfortable and durable. The $3 shoe equals custom made shoes costing from $4 to $6. Ladies who wish to economize in their footwear are inding this out.

CAUTION.—Beware of dealers substituting shoes with, out W. L. Douglas' name and the price stamped on bottom-such substitutions are fraudulent and subject to prosecution by law for obtaining money under false pretences. If not for sale in your place send direct to Kentury, stating kind, size and width wanted. Postage free. Will give exclusive sale to shoe dealers and general merchants where I have no agents. Write for Catalogue, W. I., Douglas, Brockton, Mass,

THE CALERA JOURNAL.

VOL. II.

CALERA, ALA., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1892,

NO. 1

If Mother Would Listen. If mother would listen to me, dears, She would freshen that faded gown. She would sometimes take an hour's rest, And sometimes a trip to town. And it shouldn't be all for the children, The fun and the cheer and the play; With the patient droop on the tired mouth,

True, mother has had her day, dears, When you were her babies three, And she stopped about the farm and the house

And the "Mother has had her day."

As busy as a bee. When she rocked you all to sleep, dears, And sent you all to school, And wore herself out, and did without And lived by the Golden Rule.

And so your turn has come, dears, Her hair is growing white: And her eyes are gaining the far-away look That peers beyond the night. One of these days in the morning Mother will not be here. She will fade away into silence-The mother so true and dear.

Then what will you do in the daylight, And what in the gloaming dim? And father, tired and lonesome then, Pray, what will you do for him? If you want to keep your mother You must make her rest to day; Must give her a share in the frolic, And draw her into the play.

And if mother would listen to me, dears, She'd buy her a gown of silk, With buttons of royal velvet And ruffles as white as milk. And she'd let you do the trotting, While she sat still in her chair, That mother should have it hard all through It strikes me isn't fair.

-[Margaret E. Sangster.

THE GRAY COUPLE.

BY CECIL CHARLES.

fellow-barring the nose-and carries his forty odd years gracefully. He is his wife was not in sight and hurried a bachelor, but kind hearted on the up stairs. I had an idea he was a whole, a good story teller and good little frightened. And I felt sorry, company when you have the blues or | for I had taken a sort of liking to him get into a sentimental snarl with your Kummel owns a hotel on Long Island, one of those cool, quiet North Shore places overlooking the Sound. doing it prettily.

Mansion House. One rainy evening, when the long grass forbade wander-Kummel entertained us with a story. begun as follows:

"Did I ever tell you about the Gray Couple?"

"I don't remember it," I said. "Perhaps Althea does."

Aut Althea didn't. So Kummel began in earnest. "One afternoon I was sitting here in the porch when a carriage drove up.

by a sorrel horse with a banged tail. wounded. And I never happened to The occupants were a lady and gentle- tell my wife about it until last night.' man, both dressed in gray. The genthe lady was about twenty-five or so. had done so. She was one of those grav-eyed, gencome immediately, so when the gentleman asked if I was the proprietor I answered No, only the owner.' asked him to kindly wait a moment.

"In the meantime I had opportunity forty-one is young." to look them over and form au impromptu opinion. I guessed them to he said, with a little groan. be bride and groom, or very nearly so—there was such a paipable attempt | n't proud of them?' at appearing easy and accustomed to the situation. At all events, I took something of a fancy to them and was my back,' he says. rather glad when they dismounted and made arrangements with Herman to ment's silence. I wasn't as ready as I remain a fortnight. They were given might have been. I didn't want to the corner suite, just above and looking out on the piazza above this. And 'I was a mere boy; carried the colors they settled down very comfortably | mounted. My horse was shot first and and unpacked their small valises and reeled sidewise. I couldn't turn him the banged-tail sorrel was put away in back quick enough and a shot ripped the stable and carefully fed and up my back-in and out-ricochet ; watered. Now, the Gray Couple think they call it. There's two big were 'gray' in more than one sense of holes and they cost me a year in bed. the word. They were Mr. and Mrs. But Celia will never get over their lo-Nathaniel Gray by name, and they cation.' were all togged out in gray clothinggloves, hats, everything. Their eyes then I said: were gray, and I believe the gentle- "Til try to help you out. I was in orphan asylum and I on the other." man had a gray hair or two.

"Well, a day or two passed and they a war story that may serve a purpose. seemed very happy and contented. They were comparatively a bridal couhand-in-hand almost, arm-in-arm, any- hearted, and lifeel like a fool.' way, and delighted with each other's sky seemed to cloud up. Mrs. Gray azza and listen, no doubt.' appeared one morning looking frightbreakfast. Gray spent all the fore- reason for distress. noon fussing about his banged-tailed a drive alone. I suspected a first to her. quarrel, but I didn't wish to intrude. broken-hearted look in her eyes.

"Finally she went up to her room. But Gray didn't return. He stayed away until I began to think there must be something rather serious about it.

chambermsids who seemed to have good sense and put her up to go and see if anything had happened. She breathe. Of course I sent her up and the lady said she was only rest- them? Few enough.' ing; she would come down in the to do so Gray drove up, sprang out My friend Kummels is a handsome and sent his horse and cart to the stable. He looked around, saw that -he was one of those good-natured fellows, always ready with a harmless jest, even though he wasn't especially brilliant.

"After a good while he came down He does not aspire to manage it, but gain, looking simply wee-begone. he spends some of the hottest days of 'I say,' I said, moved by a sudden imthe year out there and occupies him- pulse, you'll pardon me if I'm makself pleasantly with doing nothing and ing myself officious. But is there anything the matter? Anything that A short time since my wife and I I could do to help you to set things were his guests for a week at the right?' He looked almost relieved. 'Why,' he said, 'I'm in a dence of a ing and the Sound was gray with fog, an absurd thing, too, and yet it's growing serious. My wife is the My wife was nausually restless and dearest little thing on earth, and yet continued pacing up and down the she has some high-flown ideas thatlong piazza, alleging mosquitoes, until well, I don't know but they are going Kummel's good-natured narrative had to part us. She wants to leave me and go home. Not to her mother, for she hasn't any, but to an old maid cousin of hers who has filled her up with ridiculous notions of houor.'

"But what have you been doing?" I asked. How have you misbehaved yourself to deserve such punishment?' 'Why, that's the humiliating part of it,' he said. 'It's so absurd. The lle blurted this out like a big schooltleman was perhaps my own age and boy, but he seemed relieved when he

"Oh,' I said, 'I understand. Well, he took her upstairs sobbing. But I tle, fragile creatures. Herman was good gracious! Of course you were knew it was all fixed and I felt quite manager then, but he did not very very young when you were in the war. A mere child. That's easy enough. Let's see-'64 to '84, twenty years; '91, seven more, makes twenty-Then I whistled for Herman and seven. Suppose you were fourteen. Why that's only forty-one. A man of

"'It isn't the age, it's the wound,'

"'And you mean to tell me she is-

"He tried to laugh, but only succeeded in a sort of grunt. 'They're in "Well, of course there was a mogrin either. Then he went on hastily:

"I reflected for a few moments, the war, too for a few days. I'll tell "Oh!"-[Philadelphia Press.

Where is your wife?'

"She's all dressed to go,' he says. ple, for they had not been married 'She begs me to take her home. She three weeks. They were everywhere isn't mean, at all, only just broken-

"'Ilave you, your horse hitched up,' good taste in matrimonial selections- I says. Let her think you're going that was clear enough. But after the to drive her home. While it's being first two or three days of sunshine the hitched she'll be down here in the pi-

"So Gray obeyed and the poor little fully pale. She had nothing to say woman came down, unaware, of and she wouldn't cat a mouthful of course, of my knowledge of her

"Gray went down to the stable and horse and after lancheon went off for I drew up my chair and began to talk

"Sorry to hear that you are going However, I must say it made me feel away, Mrs. Gray,' I said. 'I've taken bad to see the poor little woman walk such a fancy to your husband. But up and down the porch with such a then, I've only discovered that he and I were comrades in battle once.'

"She turned aishade paler. "'You-you were in the war?" she

"'Yes; but I wasn't lucky enough to be wounded-much less do anything "Mrs. Gray did not come down heroic. But then, after all, Mrs. Gray, again, either. So I found one of the a great deal of heroism goes unknown and unappreciated.'

"'Yes,' I went on, 'sometimes those who are nearest and dearest are igcame back and reported that Mrs. norant of deeds of their loved ones in Gray was lying face downward on the past, which, if they but knew, her bed, not moving or seeming to would fill and thrill them with pride. How many people, Mrs. Gray, do you again at once to see if Mrs. Gray was suppose know of your husband's dead. She went up and roused her wounds and the noble way he received

"I looked around to see if Gray porch. But before she had had time was returning, but he was nowhere in

> "And even if they did know of the bare circumstances,' I went on, 'how little idea they could form unless they had seen himyas I had seen him that day, in the thick of the hideous struggle, the bullets whizzing by him, the powder clouds blinding and choking him, the shells bursting at his horse's feet, and he, child that he was-barely fourteen-dashing forward with the colors. When I remember it, I always think of the poem 'Boy Britton.' Perhaps you know that poem. An exquisite things. Yes, Gray was as eager, as daring a young hero'-I heard the wheels of the cart coming up from the stable and made a big jump to end it. No retreat for himno retreat! A shot shattered the flagstaff in his hand. He stood in the stirrups and held his right arm up with the precious rag. Another terrific explosion, and the horse went down under him. He freed himself and turned to caten a comrade who had fallen and was being trampled, and a shot struck him in the side and ripped through his back! Think of it—a boy of fourteen—a tender child!

"Mrs. Gray's face had changed strikingly as she listened. She sat leaning forward and fairly hanging on my words. Her lips had almost begun to work, when up drove Gray, good natured and impassive with the It was a very neat yellow affair drawn truth is, I was in the war and I was banged-tailed horse. As he sprang out, she rushed toward him.

> "'Oh, Nattie, Nattie! We won't go-we-won't go! I want to stay -I've changed my mind, Nattic!'

> "I disappeared into the house and Kummel paused and drew a selfsatisfied breath.

Althea, my wife, had come up and stood leaning against the porch railing with her eyes intent upon him. "And was it all true and just as you said, Mr. Kummel?" she asked, smiling very sweetly. My wife is considered a great beauty by good judges. "H'm! Supposing it weren't," he laughed, "what would you say?"

"I should say 'Oh, what an awful liar!" said Althea with beauty's own audacity.

"My dear," 1 corrected, "you wouldn't at all. You'd merely murmur 'Blessed are the peacemakers!' "-[New York Mercury.

Jones' Joke.

"Ilave you any children, Jones?" "Oh, Yes. You know Robinson?"

"Yes." "Well, we have 51 between us."

"What!" "Yes."

"How so?"

"Well, he lives onone side of the

A BAD RECORD.

BENJAMIN HARRISON'S ADMINISTRATION UNDER INDICTMENT - EXTRAVA-GANCE, CORRUPTION AND UTTER DISREGARD OF SOLEMN PLEDGES.

The issue in this campaign is the Republican record of the last four years.

It is a very bad record. It is a record of wrong-doing, of unfair favoritism in legislation and of scandalous misconduct in administration; a record of reckless squandering; of the debauchment of the public service; of corruption in office and in getting office, and of shameful malpractices in the attempt to retain power regardless of the popular will.

The Administration and the Fitty-first Congress came into power by plain pur-chase. The Republican Party in 1888 secured its triumph by selling legislation

Abandoning all that it had professed and all that its leaders, living and dead, had taught concerning the limitations of right in tariff legislation, it framed a platform in Chicago in which it offered to monopolists such tariff rates as they should desire for their enrichment at the expense of the people, in return for contributions to the campaign fund. The offer was accepted. The money was paid, and with it the notorious embezzler and corruptionist, Matthew Quay, with his lieutenant, Dudley, was set to buy the election. When the funds ran low John Wanamaker purchased an option on a Cabinet office by securing an additional contribution of $400,000 from the buyers of legislation upon a

When the Congress thus elected came together the Republican majority was too narrow and uncertain to do the work it had promised. It could not deliver the legislative goods it had sold to monopolists without resort to further unfairness and wrong. It proceeded to unseat members of the minority whom the people had elected and to seat Republicans whom the people had refused to elect, and not a man in all the majority was brave or honest enough to raise a voice in protest.

When the time came for debate the majority decided not to permit debate, lest the truth be made plain to the peo-

The rules of the House were revolutionized. A dictator of peculiarly arbitrary will was placed in the chair who suppressed discussion, overrode all considerations of fairness, changed the House from a deliberative body into a mere machine for recording his deter-mination, and thus enacted the measures of monopoly which the party had been paid in advance to pass.

In two short years this Congress squandered an enormous surplus, reduced the treasury to the sorest straits, laid heavy burdens upon the people and upon industry and made a determined, though fortunately a fruitless, effort to rob the several States of the right of free elections in order to secure for the Republican Party a longer lease of power. It sought to buy votes for the future by pension legislation of the most reckless and unjust character, whose shadow hangs like a pall over the finances of the country and must embarrass its prosperity for a generation to come.

The Administration thus elected delivered to Wanamaker the Cabinet office he had bought, put Tanner into the Pension Office, with his exultant exclamation, "God help the surplus!" not upon his lips, and when his scandalous misconduct made his removal a necessity, put Raum there instead, to work still larger mischief in less vociferous fashion, and to fill the office with speculations, peculations and scandals so shameful that even the Reed Congress could not be dragooned into palliating them. And, in spite of further and more flagrant exposure, Raum is in office still!

The Administration came into power protesting most solemnly its purpose to enforce the Civil Service law in letter and spirit, and to extend its scope and influence. It straightway set Clarkson at work to behead postmasters at a rate wholly unprecedented. The President openly farmed out the Federal offices as spoils to such bosses as Quay and Platt, and quartered his own relatives and partners and chums upon the public service. When the Civil Service Commission discovered the most flagrant and shameless abuses in Baltimore and urged the removal of numbers of persons by name for proved misconduct amounting to criminality-misconduct perpetrated in the name and on behalf of the Administration—the whole matter was jauntily put aside by Wanamaker, and the President in no way interfered to redeem his pledge or to free himself from the shame of it all.

Dudley was one of the agents in the purchase of Mr. Harrison's election, and he was found out. Mr. Harrison has since refused to hold intimate personal relations with the "Blocks of Five" statesman, but through his Attorney-General and former law partner he has interfered with the administration of justice in Dudley's case, has caused a judge upon the bench to shield and protect crime, and has since rewarded that judge for his corrupt subserviency by elevating him to a higher judicial posi-

And within these later months the country has seen the President organize the Civil Service into a political machine, and with it compel his own nomination for a second term.

From the very beginning Mr. Harrison has used the appointing power as a means of securing a second term for himself. He resorted at the outset to a device justly denounced by the elder President of his name as wrong and dangerous. He muzzled the press of his own party so far as criticism of his administration was concerned. He made sure of the support of the prominent Republican newspapers for all his ambitions by putting their editors under obligations to himself for high office, carrying with it pecuniary rewards, politicial advantages or social distinction, according to the known need and desire of each of his beneficiaries. In certain directions he filled the foreign service with incapable men to oblige unworthy interests. He sent Mizner to Central America, and kept him there long after the country had given expression to its disgust and humiliation with the conduct of an American Minister who, in the interest of a speculative syndicate, sacrificed the honor of the Nation and the flag.

He sent Egan and McCreery to Chile, with results grievously hurtful both to the good name and to the commercial laterests of the country.

To Wanamaker he has added Elkins as a Cabinet officer—Elkins, a political adventurer and speculator, who had grown rich out of politics without having won respect enough anywhere to make his name suggestive even of possibilities in connection with honorable office. He made Porter the Superintendeat of the Census, knowing him to be an already discredited manipulator of statistics, a foreign adventurer destitute of convictions and in search of a market for his peculiar abilities, a man at that very time conducting business as a vulgar wine tout in combination with politics and ready to placard his advertisements in the Executive Mansion itself. He permitted this man to falsify the census of great States by way of robbing them of their just representation and thus increasing the chances of that party's success to whose service he had hired himself.

It is a sad and shameful story of pledges broken; of fiscal legislation bartered for campaign funds; of elections secured by the purchase of voters; of high office made the subject of vulgar traffic; of the public service, including the most honorable places, prostituted to the promotion of the President's personal ambitions; of a court converted into a sanctuary for the protection of a scoundrel; of judicial subserviency rewarded with high judicial place; of debate sup-pressed in Congress; of a surplus squandered, and of the enormous increase of the people's tax burdens that the proceeds might flow into the coffers of favored monopolists willing to share their spoil with the political organization that made its collection possible.

It is a grievous indictment that is here made, but it is perfectly true and it covers but a part of the truth. The cifications will come later in course of these letters. The facts will be given upon which every accusation rests. The whole record will be laid bare—that record which the people by their votes in November are to approve or condemn.

And this is not a mere recalling of old errors, a recurrence to offenses repented of. The courses that condemn this Administration have been continuous. Raum is still at the head of the Pension Bureau, and that bureau is not reformed or purified. Marshall Airey still holds office in Baltimore, notwithstanding Commissioner Roosevelt's report as to his organization of the postoffice and Custom House employes there into a band of political ruffians, his use of them to carry primaries in the Administrations interest by wholesale cheating and by actual physical violence, in which he personally participated. Neither he nor Postmaster Johnson nor any of their subordinates have been removed, though their conduct was fully set forth and their removal strongly urged by Mr. Rooseveit, a Republican member of the Civil Service Commission; though some of them, according to Mr. Roosevelt's report, deliberately testified to lies; though many of them openly confessed to cheating; though all of them set at naught the law against political assessments, and though they all professed with more or less of candor the creed of lying, cheating and ballot-box stuffing which the testimony showed that they had practiced.

These men who, as one of them put it in his testimony, believe "in doing anything to win," are still in office by grace of Mr. Wanamaker's favor and Mr. Harrison's neglect of duty. And they still constitute the Administration machine in Baltimore and Maryland politics.

In brief, the Administration is what it has been. It profits still by the practices for which honest men in both parties have condemned it in the past. It protects its scoundrels and its law-breakers. It keeps them in office. It uses them in politics. It sanctions their creeds and their performances. It sent them and such as them to Minneapolis to nominate Mr. Harrison for a second term in spite of any desire the Republican Party might have for some other candidate.

It still looks to the monopolies it has fostered fer the money with which to carry the election. In their behalf it has not only made laws, but has neglected and refused to enforce such laws as there are on the statute books adverse to them. The coal conspiracy has been formed during this Administration. Without le or hindrance it has levied a tribute upon the people in face of the anti-Trust law.

That law makes it the imperative duty of the Attorney-General, through the District Attorneys, to bring criminal prosecutions against all the conspirators; but no District Attorney has moved, and the Attorney-General weakly protests that he has no information touching the conspiracy.

In the interest of good government it is necessary to chastise official misconduct by defeat. The men and the party now in power must be sent into retirement for the public good. Our public life is in need of disinfection. It is time to restore legislation to its proper service of all the people.

The simple facts of these four years' history constitute the most conclusive reasons for refusing to intrust this Ad. ministration or the party it represents with a further lease of power.—New York World.

The Tariff and the Farmer.

A Pensylvania Democrat writes the Courier-Journal for information upon the following points:

"1. How does the tariff affect the grain farmers as compared with the cotton growers?

"2. How are tariff rebates regulated?

"3. What articles of trade, either produced on the farm or manufactured, can be sold in the English market cheaper than in the American market? I mean American goods." 1. The tariff affects grain farmers and cotton growers alike in this, that it robs both. It is true that there is a tariff on corn, wheat and oats, on the pretense of protecting them, but they need no protection, because they are exported in large quantities and sold in competition with the grain of other countries. Whenever a commodity can be exported in large quantities, it is because it is produced more cheaply here than it is abroad. In the last fiscal year we exported 157,000,000 bushels of wheat, worth $161,000,000, besides 15,000,000 barrels of flour, worth $55,-600,000; also 75,000,000 bushels of corn, worth $41,500,000, and nearly 3,000,000,000 pounds of cotton, worth $258,000,000. We were enabled to do this because these commodities were cheaper in the United States than in the countries to which they were sent; the price abroad, less freight, commission and other charges, being the price realized for them here. It is nonsense to talk of protecting cheap goods against those that are dearer; by the natural laws of trade commodities seek the markets where prices are best. Cotton is on the free list, while wheat is nominally protected by a duty of twenty-five cents a bushel; but cotton is as effectually protected by its cheapness as wheat, and neither is protected by the tariff. Where the robbery comes in is in the tax on the goods which farmers receive for their grain and cotton. We sent abroad last year, in round numbers, $800,000,000 worth of products of agriculture of all kinds. What did we get in return? Did we get our pay in gold? No; we exported more gold and silver than we imported. We had to take foreign merchandise in exchange, and on all dutiable goods the tariff exacted a duty of nearly fifty per cent. Thus, of the $161,000,000 worth of wheat exported, the farmers, if paid in dutiable goods, would get back only about $110,. 000,000 worth, the remainder being necessary to pay the duties. It is true that all imports are not dutiable; but it is also true that the farmers pay to domestic manufacturers much higher prices tor goods obtained from then than similar goods would cost abroad; so that a reduction of one-third from the purchasing power of our agricultural exports does not by any means represent the exaction which the tariff makes of the farmers. 2. When imported material is used in the manufacture of an article, ninetynine per cent, of the duties paid on such material is refunded when the article is exported. 3. Many agricultural implements, sew ing machines, and many other articles, are sold abroad at lower prices than at home. This has been denied, but it has been proved beyond question; and some protectionists a lmit and defend it as proper. The rebate of duties on import. al material contributes to reader this possible; but it also happens in the case of articles on which no rebate is paid. because high tariffs enable the manufacturer to exact excessive prolits at home. while abroad, where the tariff gives him no advantage, he is compelled to take a reasonable profit. - Courier-Journal.

It Is a Stimulant.

Mr. Mason, one of the Republican stumpers, declares that "the tariff is not a tax but a stimulant."

A true word. The tariff stimulates campaign contributions from its beneficiaries, the protected millionaires. The fat-friers know this.

It stimulated Carnegic to buy castles in Scotland and to set up as a money lord in England while reducing wages at

It stimulates manufacturers to shoddy ize their goods and raise their prices. It stimulates the tariff and the usurer to collect the debts of its victims. It puts the stimulant of necessity upon workingmen to secure the extra cost of their necessaries due to exactions. Mr. Mason is only half right. The tariff both a tax and a stimulant.

National Democratic Ticket

FOR PRESIDENT, GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York.

TOR VIET POESIDENT A. E. STEVENSON, 0111 1018.

GASTON A. FORP NS. of Dates

ANNOUNCEMENT.

One year ago the JOURNAL was printed for the first time, and this is No. 1 of the second volume. Our gratitude is sent out to those who have patronized us the first year, and to those whose subscriptions have failed to catch the Stevens begun with the first number we notify them that if they desire the Journal another year, they will please come up promptly and renew before their names are stricken This move only makes the result fourteen senators, and at least twenty from the list. We promise to be prompt the coming year, in coming out on time and shall spare no pains to make the people a good that we need for subscription, allowing them the very highest market price for it. Painters eat vegetables, butter, eggs and chichenswhen they are able to buy them; and the farmer shou'd read his county paper. Then bring us a be out every Wednesday morning land and the election of Ha rison when not Providentially hindered.

failed to con use.

Man who love lorry and pros-Stevenson.

support it.

On the success of the democratic party as the November election deof our people.

THE Appeal-Avalanche says "a poll of the State of Montana shows that Cleveland will carry the state by 7,000 majority."

LONGSHORE claims to represent the people's party, but its a mistake, Robbins is the candidate of the democratic party, the only true party of the people.

electoral vote of Alabama to Har-

A. N. Johnson, the negro who ahuse of white people of Alabama, aomitted at Shelby last Saturday that he was paid to make speeches for Longshore.

has no evidence of it.

THE candidate of the true people's party for congress in this district is Gaston R. Robbins. Turn out people of the party and vote for him and the Cleveland

THE clam is now confidently made that Iowa and Illinois will be found in the democratic column. While this seems too good to be realized, such a result is not at all beyond the possibilities.

S THEATERS predict that the C-like Meteor that traversed through the heavens last Thursday night is an omen that Cleveland tions and the setting up of an oliwill be the next president of the garchy upon their ruins. It means United states. God grant that this prediction may be true.

DEMOCRATS who have left democracy in the district, should come back into the fold now. If you stay away until you have voted for Longshore and the One-third party electoral ticket, we fear you will be rejected when you ask for

JUDGE COOLEY stands by the statement that he is for Cleveland and opposed to Harrison. He says that he is opposed to the McKinley tariff bill, and will not say more, From The South will render the Rethicking the McKinley bill sufficient cause for this breaking loose from the republican party.

MAGEE and his boodle thus far wing of the republican party. He says that Moselev and Bowman car't beat him and his following in the convention to defeat any republican candida e for congress. more favorable for C'eveland and representatives to the Republican par-

THERE are a great many Weaver ticket men in the State who recountry paper, and shall make it sent the idea that they are helpeasy on the farmer to pay for it. ing H. son. The open declara-We will take any kind of produce tion of Bob Mose'y, who has iu'! control and distribution of the Weaver electorial tickets should convince any we !-meaning man that when he votes for Weaver he spare, and we will give you the tending for in Alabama cuiside of rights intended to be secured him by best paper we can, and promise to securing the defeat of Mr. Cleve-What is the specific principal that termar lage of the races should be re-THE confusionists have utterly for, or for what is it fused with the republicans in Alabama?

JUDGE CRAIG, The straight repubfor a few minutes Saturday last. The Judge fee's hope'ul of election, The democratic party is the peo- and Mr. Robbins also feels hopenle's p. ty, and the people will ful, which makes it a self-evident fact that Mr. Longshore and his Susionist gang are not in . If we have to have a republican Congressmen from the Fourth districe, if I don't."-John I. Lavenport, Unitpenus the prosperity and happiness give us a republican true and not ed States Supervisor of elections in a fusionist who is neither democrat, republican or third partvice.

THE force bill will be put upon the country if the republicans are successfu'. They have tried to evade but think there ought to be. * * | the issue, but the platform, papers and speakers are all in favor of it now. Tom Reid's speech at Albany, New York, reveals to the farmers of the south what he thinks of the force bill. "They said" he goes oa Even Bob Mose'v throws off the to rant, "we could not coerce the mash, and tells the disgraceful bar- State. We coerced eleven. I wish gain of the Jeffermonian democrats our republicans had more courage and the in d party to give the and we should coerce them until berty prevais all over this land."

THE Union Springs Herald says: "Any men who is willing to let from men who are our positions east- Calcem ning and Paper Hanging was run out of Selma for his vile himself be honest just aglittle, can mies, as well as our commercial rivals, easily see that this is the same old is to carry through and inforce measfight we had in '74. The carpethag ures like the Lodge Election law. * * * white republicans have pulled their And if we can once more get them old devilish flag out of the dust and into the condition they were before patched it up a little with the One- 1876 we won't hear any more about "THE McKinley tariff bill will third party rag. But the scalawag cheap iron and cheap cotton goods not open up a market for a single rag is a good deal worse off for havadditional advance on another ing been patched with such rotten bushel of wheat." J. G. Blaine ut- stuff. It will be eaten up with its tered these words over 2 years ago own corruption before the demoand if it has not proved true thus crats can get a good chance to anfar; the people of the United States | nihilate the renegade clans that follow it."

FORCE BILL.

Utterances of leading Republicans in regard to the force bill ieveal in a the people stand on the subject. startling manner the dangers that threaten the country from the revolutionary schemes of the party in power. they succeed in carrying this election.

consequences of this legislation. The programme means the usupation of all political power by the Federal Government, the political and industrial enslavement of the south. It means the ultimate overthrow of our free instituthe the distuction of the Republic. The hour has come when all patriots should stand shoulder to shoulder in defence of their homes and freedom as American citizens against the revolutionanary plans of a party of desperate political conspirators. Look at and he was in Calera last Saturday. these utterances:

north, we may confidently look for a different state of political affairs than now exists. New York city will then return several more Republican congressmen than at present, while More Than Twenty Negro Representatives publican control of the future congress absolutely secure and safe, As Mississippi, South Carolina and Florida contain a large majority of negroes, and as there Enough White Rewe can confidently look in the future for seven southern states to be reliably Republican. This means a gain of ty. When through the operation of the Lodge National Election Law six or seven southern states shall discard dently to see some measures of justice ty of the whites to develop and extend the public school system in these states. Sept to souccis .o. ... two colors into close andequal relations in votes for Harrison and a force bill, schools and churches given a fair trial as one of the most potent elements to Piain thinking democra's should break down the detestable Bourbonthe passage of the fourteenth and fiftion. The state laws against the inpealed, and any discriminations against the black in matters of learn should be made A Criminal offence, lem satisfacto: v."-National Republi can, Washing' n, D. C., Ju'v 3, 1891.

> "I give notice now that I shall continue to press my force bill, and I in- all. tend to pass it before I die too. I shall pass the force bill yet-vou see New/York city, and author of the Lodge force bill.

"I believe my Democratic Mends say that there is a force bill issue in this campaign. I don't think there is This is the most important question in this campaign, and I would a good deal rather have negro domination in the South than the domination that prevails there at the present time."ex-senator John G. Ingalls; of Kansas in a speech at Topeka Oct., 9, 1892.

"If the democrats had never been allowed to regain control of the State Governments of the South, Northern capital would never have embarked in the development of Southern coal and iron; and the sucest and speediest way to put a stop to this competion from the South. They will have oth er things to think about."-Editorial in the Philadelphia Press, edited by one of President Harison's closest friends, Hon. Emory Smith late Minister of Russia.

Renew yeur subscribtion.

The Chronicle says: Columbiana ought to be incorporated. Let us talk the matter over and see how DEMOCRACY is the political Savior of the South; it promises re-There can be no doubt of the intention generation to those who have wanof the Republicans to pass the bill if dered off. Come back men and be saved from political death. You No sincere lover of his country can have been deceived and if you will contemplate calmly the far-reaching just return, you will be forgiven.

Can any white man vote a ticket the following described real estate, situated near Calera in Sheby county, Ala., to wit: Fractions A, H, J, M, and the S 1/2 of E and F of section 22, township 22, by h s own race to speak in his own by his own race to speak in his own county because of his disposition to range 13, east stir stife and illfeeling between the races, and who proclaimed from the stand only a short time ago that the white men of Dalles county were a set of thieves, robbers and liers? Long hor and the Weaver electoral team has such an one, This is A. N. Johnson, who Sam "With the Lodge National Election Adams concerned us for saying Law in full force over the South, and that he (Johnson) was smart. various Democratic strongholds up This we redecate, that our readers may relize the danger such a man is calculated to do among his own

Until Chais Mance made his advent into Alabama, such a thing as he use of money for the corruption of voters in the South was almost unheard of. It is true that more or less money is used in every campaign, but only so far as is necespublicans In Alabama. Arkansas, sary for the payment of printing North Carolina and Louisana Acting and circulating literature, expenses in Concert With the Negroes To Put of speakers, issuing tickets, etc These States In The Republican Line, But Mr. Magee's boodle is the secret of the fusion imposed upon the people at Lakeview. It is now openly scknowledged that the electoral ticket made at the convention is to be cast for Harrison and not for Weaver. The same state of things exist in Tennessee and it Democratic rule we shall look confi- has been exposed in that state as it has been admitted here. The act done the blacks, who have so long ion of republican officers in the been def anded of their rights. Heavy open distribution of their funds to taxes should be laid upon the proper- the support of the third party organ was enough to convince every sensible man that the Lakeview convenion was in the interest of Harrison, Now that Moseley and other repubcan leaders have openly avowed that it the fusion electors are sucask bemselves these questions: ism of the south. The right of the cess ul their vote would be cast for Can they tell exactly what the black to bear farms should be guaran- Harrison, no man with a thimble dollar's worth of something you can Weaverite or third party is con- teed to him as well as all the social full of brains can doubt it. The fact that Magee was there and sanctioned their every action proves leeath ameadments to the coastitu- that his money governed the whole matter, and his repea ed visits to Birmitgham, meeting republican and third party leaders alike, shows ing trades or obtaining employment plainly that his boodle is being used to further the interest of Har-While The Colored Man's Right To rison. With these self evident percy will vote for C'eveland and I can canaldate called in to see us Hold Office Should Be Sacredly Pro- truths staring us in the face, can tected And Recognized. A few years any man claiming to be a free man of this policy will solve the race probland a democrat vote for this 'iche'? We think not, and we don't believe that they will. Vote the straight democratic ticket or don't vote at

Job work done to order at this

COUNTY OFFICERS. Probate Judge-John S. Leeper. Circuit Olem - W. R. A. Milner. ister in Chancey-D. R. McMil-

Sheriff-H. W. Nelson.
Tax Collector-A. F. Smith.
Tax Assessor-John H. Hammonds. County Trersurer-W. A. Thompson. Superintendent of Education-E. O.

County Solicitor-J. L. Peters. County Commissioners-James Mc-Gowan, Ruius Walker, Richard Gr fin, St. Vitus' Dance cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

WHATLEY

tended to.

AND RUDDY HOUSE, SIGN AND ORNAMEN

10-2

TAL PAINTERS

Dore to Order, Orders sent to THE JOURNAL office will be p omptly at.

EUGH T. CAFFEY,

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON CALERA, ALA

L. PET RS. II NRY TESON, E. S. LYMAN Common A: on levalio

Peters, Wilson & Lyman, ATTORNEYS AT LAW, REGISTER'S SALE.

Morgan & Lapsley, A. M. Elliott, Trustee, et al) tue of a dicree rendered at the Spring term 1892, of the Chancery Court of Shelby county, Alabama, in the above entitled cause, I will proceed to sell, under the power contained in a Mortgage from H. M. Pierce, et al, to A. M. Elliott, trustee, at public outery, in front of the Court House door in the town of Columbiana,

Monday, the 17th day of October, 1892.

between the legal hours of sale, for cash, east quarter, section 2, township 24,

This, August 11, 1892.
D. R. McMILLAN, Register and Acting Trustee. 13aug-10w prs fee$16.50 A bove sale continued to Monday

December 5, 1892. D. R. McMALLAN, Register. oct22 7w prs fee$10 50

RAILROAD TIME TABLE.

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE. 1. South Bound, 4:14 p. m. 1 66 5:10 a. m. 10:19 2, North Bound, 66 66

AT THE CHURCHES.

PRESBYTERIAN-Services on the 4th Sundays in each month, morning and night; pastor to be supplied. Sabbath School at 9:30 a. m.

METHODIST—Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night, by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sabbath school at 9:30.

Baptist Church-Rev. J. G. Lowrey, pastor. Preaching every first and second Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting at 7.00 p. m., every Thursday.

COMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN-J. J. Delton, pustor. Preaching every first and third Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday eveningsat 7:30. Children's Band meets 3:20 p. m. each let and 3rd Sunday. Ladies' Aid Society every other Friday eveningsat 3.

INSURE YOUR LIFE. Read and profit by the following sound counsel, every word of which smarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel: "It is a duty you owe to yourself and amily to protect them with a reasonable amount of life insurance, where the storms of the financial world cannot touch them; where the assessor cannot tax them; where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old sge should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do your duty and insure immediately in some good, old reliable Company."-Extract from a sermon by the Rev. T. De-Witt Talmage. Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure at Druggista.

Marion MILITARY Institute.

Marion, Ala.

Superior Accommodationrs and Book. Superintendent, his family and faculty live in building with st. Classic and Scientific. Superior Commo Course. TERMS MODE-

COL. J. T. MURFEE, Superintendent, Me oa, Alabama.

SIX MILE MALE . FEMALE ACADEMY.

R. H. PRATT, Principal.

35 h annual session begins September 26, 1892, and continues 40 WEEKS,

ONE WEEK FOR CERETMAS HOLIDAYS.

TERMS.—Primary Depar ment—per month..... Intermediate, including English branches and Latin, Higer branches of Mathematics, French, Greek, with the Music and use of instrument, 3 00

Board-per month, $7. Washing, Starching, Iron ig $1......$8 00 Students are required to furn by or heir own use, one problankets, pr. sheets and pillow cases, their own toiled I ghas. Payments, monthy or quarterly in advance.

This school is located at Six Mile, Alabama, in a health, well watered neighborhood five miles from Ashby depot, on the East Tennessee Virginia & Georgia Railroad.

H PRATT, Principal, Sin Mile, A absuma. 3sept 6m

DEALERS IN

Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats Shoes, Gents & Ladies Dress Goods.

Have one of the Largest Stoe's of Hats, Shoes, Clothing, Notions, Dry Goods, and General Desch and e, Ever Brought to Shelly County

OPPOSITE OUR DRY GOODS HOUSEWe have Opened up a......

EMAMMOTH STOCKE

OUR

and price Furniture as Low as any House in Alabama.

CASH OR INSTAL-MENT PLAN.

Our Campaign Goods are as neat and as Cheap as any in the State.

A. C. WADE & CO.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Subscribe for THE JOURNAL. Opium Habit cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

Mrs. Jeff Jones has had a well MANY SOULS SAVED AND MANY OTHERS

Col. J. P. West is improving his preperty with a new fence.

cherp, just call on Wade & Co. Go to the polls next Tuesday and work for the democratic ticket. See to it that every democratic vote in your beat is polled next than 60 and probably 75.

Wade & Co., have a good line of cheap, bring it to this office. Messrs Aldrige and Watson are building a handsome p cket fence on the line dividing their residence

A general holiday will be in vogue Shows come here.

All the best features of the circus world will be seen with Sands and Rentfrow's Big Show.

Monday en route to the east part of they are one of H's children," who Alabama, where he will speak in two weeks ago could not so testify. the interest of Cleveland and re- Let us hope that where God has not a ended church in eighteen far and near as a peculiar people on months, in consequence of ill health, account of our morality and piety. attended Mr. Kittrell's meeting last week.

Our town has a water famine, body invited.

a meeting at Monteval'o last night. excellent, comprising many very nity for their unbounded success fore presented here. The riding go with them.

Findley of tage n. He was considerably shaked up in a railroad accident be ween Blockton and astonished and delighted all. We Bessemer, a few days ago.

to Maj. Duran's I very stable was one was imposed upon." As this Brace up your cor age, keep your pu'ses out on Sunday evening last, it be is the on'y large show that will came frightened, ran away tearing visit this section this season we no need to ruffle up your spirit sweet; up the vehicle and injuring the predict a large crowd.

The south bond train on the E. was also robbed of some valuable

The card of Whatley & Ruddy, house, sign and ornamental painters, paper hangers and calceminers, will be found in another column. mechanies, and deserve the patron- White House, then Judge Craig's age of our people. We ask orders influence with the administration, for them.

Prof. Greek opered up his school greater than Longshore's. ar esh this morning, after a suspension of four days to give soudents an opportubity o ablend the revival se vices. Many of the s'udenis were converted, and Pro'. Greek is encoverged to renewed past few years, having severed his column against liais and mischief-makenergy in the school com.

The Imp from the News, Master gives his reasons for so doing: Wallace Campbel, and his chum took a hunt Monday, and returned in the evening with two wild turkeys, after night fall started out and returned about 2 a. m., with a report of having captured two 'possoms. A fair days hunt for the dry weather.

We are informed that a corps of surveyers have started out from near Longview, and will in a few days complete the survey of the new branch of the L. & N. This road it is stated will run by the valuable iron property of J. H. Page, near Columbiana, and will likely tap the C. & W. road at or near Childersburg.

It has been suggested that as so many of our young men have come out on the side of God and the right, that an effort be made to organize a Y. M. C. A. This would add much to the building up of their Christian character, and we hope it will be done. This will have a tendency to draw their minds away from worldly amusements, that one so much calculated to lead them away from the service of Him who has so many claims upon them. Let the effort for this good work begin now and begin in earnest. To realize how much good could be done in this way, our people have but to look back to the baseball season, and remember how many idle evenings were spent in that amusement, that much calculated to demoralize young men and boys and even ladies and old men.

THE REVIVAL.

PENITENT.

Rev. M . Kittrell came to Calera wo weeks ago, and began a series If you want a next suit of clockes of meetings. Since which time he has held two services a day, and his work has resulted in much good. The exact number of conversions is not known, but it is safe to say that there has been more

The power of the Spirit has been revived in the hearts of the people of the town. Congregations have underwear at prices that de'y com-If in need of Job Work of any wonderful indeed. Mr. Kittrell is description, and you want it done a powerful preacher, and being full of the Spirit himself, it permeates through the entire audience and at There comes no reapirg, save by pat ent every service almost every one was more or less effected. The blessings received have not been confined to any class, but men Often you'd find your [plow points bent and women of all ages have been railroad man, the merchant, the farmer, the married and the single, all have felt the influence; and today many have "God's spirit bear-Col. W. D. Eviger was in town ing witness with their spirits that done so much for Calera, that now Calora will do more for the master, It was taid that a lady who had and that ere long we will be known

THE GREAT SANDS AND RENTFROW'S ENGRMOUS RAILROAD SHOWS,

Almost every well in the town has Which is to exhibit in Calera Frigone dry; and the drays are doing day Nov. 11 is highly endorsed by the press of the state. The Louis-scattered, ville Courier-Journal contains the Like sudden f ost where sping's first Democratic Elector B. Dudley fellowing: "This excellent circus Williams, will address the people and menagerie was well patronized of Shelby county at Columbiana, yesterday after moon and evening, Friday, at Calera, Saturday, and and it well deserved the enormous at Gurnee, Saturday night. Every. crowd which flecked to the capacious tents. The menagerie shows up all that has been advertised, Where one stands idle and with folded Revs. Kitt el' and Dalton begun and the ring performances were difficult, attractive acts never bewas good. The clowns introduced We are gra to see Mr. Gus many com-calities, and the feats of found all connected with the s ow While one of the teams belonging reat everyone well and see that no "Each sister let in Leeps a brother out."

T. V. & G. railroad was held up Judge Craig said if he was elected While to lers stept, that plant was up near Piedmont by two masked men, to congress, he would see that the on Monday night and the express republican rascals were turned out, car robbed of $705. The mail car and that good men were put in their places. His promise in this Do bor owers under-ground your labors respect will depend upon who is elected president; no doubt if Mr. Cleveland is elected, Mr. Robbins Whose only argument is sneer and will be our next congresman, but They are good workmen and home if Mr. Harrison is to remain in the That purbind mole, the great omniscile being a republican, will be Of drikness-the turn on the shot

> The Brunswick News says a man who has been affiliating with the A'liance party of this state for the allegiance thereto, thus briefly ers which seems to have touched a chord

- 1. Because it soun by lawyers
- without clients. 2. By doctors without patients;
- 3, By preachers without pupils;
- 4. women without husbands;
- 5. By farmers without farms, 6. By financiers without finance
- 7. By educators without education
- 8. By statesmen out of a job. That's the solution of the third party and that's why the farmers in Alabama are quitting it so
- Send us your job work.

WOMAN'S COLUMN.

[The Woman's Column is onder the supervision of Mrs. F. W. Gist, and all communications for this department should be and essed to her at West Calary A. chemical stress of the stress o lera, Alabama.]

"KEEP THE PLOWS A-GOING."

(Mrs. Merriweather, read by Miss Yeager, of S. C., at laying of corner-

In days of old, when England had her rebels,

And revolution's thunder shook her sky. Old Cromwell's war-cry in those little troubles,

Was "Trust in God and keep your powder dry."

In later days, when through the Land of Cotton. A wail of desolation filled the air;

While woes were fresh, and wrongs yet unforgotten, A chord of reconstruction sounded clear,

From a Granger, horny-handed, shrewd and knowing. 'Just trust in God and keep the plows a-going."

Our night is dark, you say, full well we know it,

But darker knights our pioneers have known: "After the dark, the dawn," say seer and peer. "The morning cometh," lo! the night

The morang breaks, let each be up and streets. It is to be hoped that this been large and attentive, and the The field is vast, the promised harvest great, No idle d eam nor gentle slumber weeing Learn we, like them, "to labor and to

So, "Tast in God, and keep the plows and broken,

when Sands and Rentfrow's Big converted; from the old gray-haired By tough old rocts of prejudice, that hide, man to the small boy and girl, the In soil conservative—the sign and token, That old King Custom did the sowing > Sharpen your point, and let your plow sink deeper,

Lay bare the fitre, let T u'a's sun'ight st"ong,

Shine in, then wait and T no's slow, steady sweeper, Shall right all error and re-rieve all wrong; His ceaseless scuthe the ranks are mov-

So "Trust in God, and keep the plows

g-going." Anon, your plow is halted, heaten, batwred, By stones of Apathy in woman's heart, blossoms stat.

Let not your spirit yield to fruitless Strong hand and heart of oak, this work demands;

Plow on in faith to lay, and lo! tomorrow

A med and equipped come (wo to do)

So "Trust in God, and keep "he plows Do bria s sharp and thorns Ecclesiastic.

In bristling phalais hedge you round about?

With ext unique, and argument phan-

5 acy

For "hat fort's stormed the sisters in Elwady, In his speech here last Salurday, That gui was but the signal of defeat;

and growing,

So, "Trust in God, and beep the plows a-going."

trouble? Who, blind of purpose, won't the truth confess, qubble.

ent Press! Stand to your plows! Tarn up the vast

From those strong for whose "bulleta are idees."

Recent ly there was a plaint in this in the popular soul that has sent out many harmonious and peaceful notes. It was needed here, that plaint, as it is needed in every community. It is hard, indeed, if the friend whom you love above all other objects in this world is to be stealed against you by the wagging tongue of a liar. You honor a man who stands up before you, man to man, and strikes full and fair, and tells youf by blows what he means; but you hate, you loathe him or her who goes behind your back and strikes like a reptile in the dark. He or she would rob you o that which you hold dearest in this world; steals from you that which enriches not him or him or her, and leaves you poor indeed. The tongue of the slanderer is a tongue of poison. There is nothing too sacred for him to assail;

there is for him no tie that is more than a rope of sand. He goes about the world breathing the noxious odors of the foul dungeon of falsehood, and he would drag you down to the low level of his own personality. And he has a sister in his unrighteous mission. He and she are common liars, and they cumber the earth with their unholy scandals.

You scorn them, dearly beloved, but you cannot escape the outpoorings of their venomous tongues. They array your best friend againt you, and do it so skillfulfy that you can find no point whereupon to hang action for redress. He says his little lies in a way that robs you of the privilege of knocking him down, and placing your foot upon his reptile neck. She-you cannot strike a women, you even hesitate to pronounce her a liar when you know that she has lied. She and he compel you to go into explanation with friends, we all of us know that explanations seldom explain. Explanations rob friendship of its bloom, and subject honest men to the unwholesome atmosphere of doubt, of tergiversation .- Age-Herald.

The Quaker Evangelist Rev. Mr. Kittrell closed his series of interesing meetings at Calera on Monday, Oct. 31. It is estimated that about 75 conversions were effected. The most notable being that of a young man who was running a "blind-tiger" and on the day of his conversion he carried ministers to his den and empired its contents into the young man's example will be followed by every other such dealer in the town.

The pastors of the different churches and citizens of Calera, including many new converts are thoroughly aroused to their duties and the time is about at at hand when the "blind-tiger" in Calera will be a thing of the past. If their be one who persist in running such a business. he will find that the "Way of the transgressor is hard" indeed. Wine is a mocker, serbog dank is aging and whosoever is deceived thereby is not

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, I mid the busy scenes of life we must pause to brush away the tear of so row at the loss of a valued and honored member of our Sunday school (Concord church, Montevallo circuit), our loved friend and co-worker, Sister S. M. Peynolds, having been cailed from our midst.

Resolved, That we, as superintendent, teachers and children in this school, look back with love and tenderness upon the beautiful life we mourn.

Resolved, That we tender the greater our heartfelt sympaties in their bereavement, humbly praying that the richest blessings of heaven may be theirs; that they may realize "earth has no sorrow that heaven cannot heal;" and that they may feel that though she is dead yet she lives.

Resolved. That these resolutions he

she lives.

Resolved, That these resolutions be Resolved, That these resolutions be entered upon the minutes of our S. S. register, a copy be sent to the family of deceased, find one to the Alabama Christain Advocate for publication.

E. E. EDDINGS,
J. M. GARNER,
MRS. JOE. GREEN.
Committe.

Sir—I made use of your Philotol en with my last child, in order to procure a safe and easy travil. I used it about two months before my expected time, and I had a very quick and easy confinement. Nothing occurred to protract my convalescence, and I got about in less time than was usual for me. I think it a medicine that should be used by every expectant mother, for should they but try it as I have, they would never again be without it at such times. I am yours respectfully,

Mrs. ELIZABETH Dix.

Anymerchant or druggist or n procure Rissev's Philotoken for the abottle.

CHARLES F. RISLEY, Wholesale Druggist, 62 Cortlandt St., New York.

Subscription only $1 a year.

1. It is the best of all weekly news-apapers and the tarmer and the farmer's family, bringing each week the apapers.

2. It is invaluable to the tarmer and the farmer and the farmer's family, bringing each week throughout the south.

6. Bill Arp, Plunkett, and Uncle Repartments of the household word throughout the south.

7. It is the People's Friend, and is the sturdy champion of the agricultural one were important news center in the world.

8. It pays more money for its special writers are engaged by the year, and their inimitation of the south.

8. It pays more money for its news service than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any weekly newspaper in America.

9. It is the Distribution of the set of all weekly newspapers are chosent.

9. It is the deitres of these departments, is a household throughout the south.

8. Bill Arp, Plunkett, and Uncle Repartments are engaged by the year, and their inimitation are engaged by the year, and their inimitation are engaged by the year.

9. It is the distribution of the south.

9. It is the ditribution of the south.

9. It is the ditribution of the south.

9. It is the ditribution of the partments, is a household throughout the south.

9. It is the viction of the south.

9. It is the ditribution of the south.

9. It is invaluable to the tarmer and the throughout the south

Subscription only $1 a year.

JAMES R. WAITE,

Manager of Waite's Celebrated Comedy Co.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind. You will remember the condition I was in five years ago, when I was afflicted with a combination of diseases, and thought there was no Male ron mr. I tried all kinds of medicines, and scores of eminent physicians. My nerves were prostrated, producing dirainess, heart trouble and all the ills that make life miserable. I commenced to take

DR. MILES' NERVINE In my travels each year, when I in thousands of physical wrecks, suffering from nervous prostration. taking prescriptions from tration. taking prescriptions from code of their case, and whose death is certain, I feel like going to them and saying, cart Da. Milles Nearing and them and saying, cart Da. Milles Nearing and where there are so many sin CIPED where the sin CIPED where t

Character of the ball tree recommend the recommendation of the r SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

-GO.TO-Mrs. S. H. McCauley's

NEAR THE DEPOT

ILLINERY--GOODS

A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hats in the Lates Styes, and at Reasonable Prices.

W ROGAN, EEELETEETE MONTEVALLO, ALA.,

Office of Southern Express Co.

I KEEP CONSTANTLY ON HAND A COMPLETE LINE OF Wood Coffins and Caskets from the Chrpest to the Finest. Also, a full Line of Ladies, Gents, and Childrens' Burial Suits. Orders by telegram promptly Filled.

Now is the time for everyone who cherishes good health, to pay particular at tention to the condition of their blood and its proper circulation. Nearly all diseases that flesh is heir to are caused and agravated by an impure condition of the

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS

Possessing Extraordinary Cleansing Powers Restoring and Strengthening the whoe System, Enriching the Bood-producing increased vitality by restoring an impaired digestion and bringing back the bloom of youth to the cheek of the enfeebled and emaciated.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle-6 Bottles for $5.00.

F or aleby All Druggists.

Nabors, Morrow, & Sinnige.

SOLE CONTROLERS,

Birmingham.

WORDS ABOUT THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION.

Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers, 12 Pages.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT.

1. It is the best of all weekly news- "Aunt Susie," the editress of these de-

Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of your neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulated home should be without it.___

Agents Wanted in every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information.

THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

Banking House of W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co.

CALERA: ALABAMA. Receive Deposits,

Negotiate Loans.

Issue interest bearing certificates of Deposit, and sell exchange on New York Louisville and Bi-mingham at regular rates charged by the larger cities.

We transact a general banking business, such as that of any incorporated in kin all of its legitimate branches, and would be pleased to open accounts with erchants, manufacturers and planters alike.

Fire and Life Insurance

Bought, Sold and Rented upon just terms.

DAY SERMON.

TEXT: "Launch out into the deep."-Luke v., 4. Christ, starting on the campaign of the Luke v., 4.

Christ, starting on the campaign of the world's conquest, was selecting His staff officers. There were plenty of students with high foreheads, and white hands, and intellectual faces, and refined tastes in Rome and in Jerusalem. Christ might have called into the apostieship twelve bookworms, or twelve rhetoricians, or twelve artists. Instead He takes a group of men who had never made a speech; never taken a lesson in belleslettres; never been sick enough to make them look delicate—their hands broad, clumsy and hard knuckled. He chose fishermen, among other reasons, I think, because they were physically hardy. Rowing makes strong arms and stout chests. Much climbing of ratlines makes one's head steady. A Galilee tempest wrestled men into gymuasts. The opening work of the clurch was rough work. Christ did not want twelve invalids hanging about Him, complaining all the time how badly they feit. He leaves the delicate students at Jerusalem and Rome for their mothers and aunts to take care of, and goes down to the seashore, and out of the tourchest material makes an apostleching and goes down to the seashore, and out of the toughest material makes an apostleship, the toughest material makes an apostleship. The ministry need more corporeal vigor than any other class. Fine minds and good intentions are important, but there must be physical force to back them. The intellectual mill wheel may be well built and the grist good, but there must be enough blood in the mill race to turn the one and to grind the other.

the other.

He chose fishermen also because they were used to hard knocks. The man who cannot stand assault is not fit for the ministry. It always has been and always will be rough always has been and always will be rough work, and the man who, at every censure or caricature, sits down to cry had better be at some other work. It is no place for ecclesiastical doll babies. A man who cannot preach because he has forgotten his manuscript or lost his spectacles ought not to preach at all. Heaven deliver the church from a ministry that preach in kid gloves and from sermons in black morocco covers!

and from sermons in black morocco covers!
These fishermen were rough and ready.
They had been in the sternest of all colleges.
When they were knocked over by the main boom of the ship they entered the Sophomore, when washed off by a great wave, they entered the Junior; when floating for two days without food or drink on a plank they came to the Senior, and when at last their ship dashed on the beach in a midnight hurricane they graduated with the first honor.

My text finds Jesus came aboard with one of these bronzed men, Simon by name. This fisherman had been sweeping his net in shoal water. "Push out," says Christ; "what is the use of hugging the shore in this boat? Here is a lake twelve miles long and six wide, and it is all populated just waiting for the sweep of your net. Launch out into the sweep of your net. Launch out into the deep."

The advice that my Lord gave to Simon The advice that my Lord gave to Simon is as appropriate for us all in a spiritual sense. The fact is that most of us are just padding along the shore. We are afraid to venture out into the great deeps of Gol and Christian experience. We think that the boat will be upset, or that we cannot "clew down the mizzen topsail," and our cowardies makes us poor fishermen. I think I hear the voice of Christ commanding us, as He did Simon on that day when bright Galines at in among the green hills of Palestine, like water flashing in an emerald cup, "Launc'i out into the deep."

water flashing in an emerald cup, "Launc'i out into the deep."

This divine counsel comes first to all those who are paddling in the margin of Bible research. My father read the Bible through three times after he was eighty years of age and without spectacles—not for the mera purpose of saying he had been through it so often, but for his eternal profit. John Wolby, the brother-in-law of Daniel Webster, learned to read after he was eighty-four years of age in order that he might become acquainted with the Scriptures. There is no book in the world that demands so much acquainted with the Scriptures. There is no book in the world that demands so much of our attention as the Bible. Yet ninetentis of Christian men get no more than ankle deep. They think it is a good sign not to venture too far. They never ask how or why, and if they see some Christian becom-why, and if they see some Christian becoming inquisitive about the deep things of God they say: "Be careful; you had better not go out so far from snore."

My answer is: The farther you go from shore the better if you have the right kind of ship. If you have worldly philosophy for the hulk, and pride for a sail, and self conceit for the helm, the first squall will destroy you. But if you take the Bible for your craft, the farther you go the better, and after you have gone ten thousand furlongs Christ will still command, "Launch out into the deep." Ask some such question as "Who is God?" and go on for ten years asking it. Ask it at the gate of every parable; amid the excitement of every miracle; by the solitariness of every patriarchal thrashing floor; amid the white faces of Sennacherib's slain turned up into the moonlight; amid the flying chariots of the Golden City.

Ask who Jesus is, and keep on asking it of every Bible lily, of every raven, of every blind man come to sunlight of every coin in a fish's mouth, of every loaf that got to be five loaves, of every wrathful sea pacified, of every pulseless arm stretened forth in gratulation; ask it of His mother, of Augustus, of Herod, of the Syrophænician woman, of the damsel that woke up from the death sleep, of Joseph, who had Him buried, of the angel posted as sentinel at His tomb, of the dumb earth that shoos and groaned and thundered when He died.

A missionary in France offered a Bible in an humble dwelling. The man took it, tore out a dozen pages and with them began to light his pipe. Some years after the missionary happened in the same house The family had just lost their son in the Crimean war, and his Bible had been sent back home. The missionary took it up and saw that if was the very same Bible that he had left in the house and from which the leaves had been torn. The dying soldier had written on one of the leaves of the Bible, "Rejected and scoffed at, but finally believed in andsaved." The Bible may be used to light the pipe of wittiesm by some, but life, a pillow in death and our joy for eternity

Walk all up and down this Bible domain!

Try every path. Plunge in at the prophecies and come out at the epistles. Go with the patriarchs until you meet the evangelists. Rummage and ransack, as children who are not satisfied when they come to a new house until they know what is in every room and into what every door opens. Open every jewel casket. Examine the skylights. Forever be asking questions. Put to a higher use than was intended the oriental provert, "Hold all the skirts of thy mantle extended when heaven is raining gold."

Passing from Bonn to Coblentz on the Rhine, the scenery is comparatively tame. But from Coblentz to Mayence it is enchanting. You sit on deck and feel as if this last flash of beauty must exhaust the scene; but in a moment there is a turn of the river, which covers up the former view with more luxuriant vineyards, and more defiant castles, and bolder bluffs, vine wreathed, and grapes so ripe that if the hills be touched they would bleed their rich life away into the bowls of Bingen and Hockheimer. Here and there there are streams of water melting into the river, like smaller joys swallowed in the boson of a great gladness.

And when night begins to throw its black mantle over the shoulder of the hills, and you are approaching disembarkation at

and when hight begins to throw its black mantle over the shoulder of the hills, and you are approaching disembarkation at Mayence, the lights along the shore fairly bewitch the scene with their beauty, giving one a thrill that he feels but once, yet that lasts him forever. So this river of God's word is not a straight stream, but a winding allorder at a transfer them. splendor—at every turn new wonders to attract, still riper vintage pressing to the brink and crowded with castles of strength—Stolzenfels and Johannisberger as nothing compared with the strong tower into which the paren with the strong tower into which the righteous run and are saved—and our disembarkation at last in the evening amid the lights that gleam from the shore of heaven. The trouble is that the vast majority of Bible voyages stop at Coblentz, where the chief glories begin.

The sea of God's Word is not like Gennessaret, twelve miles by six, but bound-less, and in any one direction you can sail on forever. Why then confine yourself to less, and in any one direction you can some on forever. Why then confine yourself to a short psalm or to a few verses of an epistle? The largest fish are not near the shore. Holst all sail to the winds of heaven. Take hold of both oars and pull away. Be like some of the whalers that went out from New Bedford or Portsmouth to be gone for two or three years. Yea, calculate on a lifetime voyage. You do not want to land until you land in heaven. Sail away. O ye mariners, for eternity! Launch out into the deep!

the deep!

The text is appropriate to all Christians of shallow experience. Doubts and fears have in our day been almost elected to the parliament of Christian graces. Some consider it a bad sign not to have any doubts. Doubts and fears are not signs of health, but festers and carbuncles. You have a valuable house or farm. It is suggested that the title is not good. You employ counsel. You have the deeds examined. You search the record for mortgages, judgments and liens. You are not satisfied until you have a certificate. the deeds examined. You search the record for mortgages, judgments and liens. You are not satisfied until you have a certificate, signed by the great seal of the State, assuring you that the title is good. Yet how many leave their title to heaven an undecided matter! Why do you not go to the records and find out? Give yourself no rest, day or night, until you can read your title clear to mansions in the skies.

Christian character is to come up to high-into out? Give yourself no rest, day or night, until you can read your title clear to mansions in the skies.

Christian character is to come up to higher standards. We have now to hunt through our library to find one Robert M'Cheyne, or one Elward Payson, or one Harlan Page. The time will come when we will find half a dozen of them sitting in the same seat with us. The grace of God can make a great deal better men than those I have mentioned. Christians seem afraid they will get heterodox by going too far. They do not believe in Christian perfection. There is no danger of your being perfect for some time yet. I will keep watch and give you notice in time, if you get too near perfection for the safety of your theology.

One half of you Christians are simply stuck in the mul. Why not cut loose from everything but God? Give not to Him that formal petition made up of "O's"—"O Lord" this and "O Lord" that. When people are cold and have nothing to say to Gol they strew their prayers with "O's" and "Forever and ever, Amen," and things to fill up. Tell God what you want with the feeling that He is ready to give it, and believe that you will receive, and you shall have it. Shed that old prayer you have been making these ten years. It is high time that you outgrew it. Throw it aside with your old ledgers, and your old hats, and your old shoes. Take a review of your present wants, of your present sins and of your present blessings. With a sharp blade cut away your past half and half Christian life, and with new determination, and new plans, and new expectations launch out into the deep.

The text is appropriate to all the unforgiven. Every sinner would come to God if plans, and new expectations launch out into the deep.

The text is appropriate to all the unforgiven. Every sinner would come to God if he thought he might come just as he is. People talk as though the pardon of God were a narrow river, like the Kennebec or the Thames, and that their sins draw too much water to enter it. No, it is not a river nor a bay, but a sea. I should like to persuade you to launch out into the great deep of God's meroy. I am a merchant. I have bought a cargo of spices in India. I have, through a bill of exchange, paid for the whole cargo. You are a ship captain. I give you the orders and say, "Here are the orders," and you find everything all right. You do not stop to pay, the money yourself. It is not your business to pay it. The arrangements were made before you started. So Christ purchases your pardon. He puts the papers, or the promises, into your hand. Is it wise to stop and say, "I cannot pay for my redemption?" God does not ask you to pay. Relying on what has been done, launch out into the deep.

The Bible's promises join hands, and the circle they make will compass all your sins, and all your temptations, and all your sorrows. The round table of King Arthur and his knights had room for only thirteen banqueters, but the round table of God's supply is large enough for all the present inhabit antsof earth and heaven to sit at, and for the still mightier populations that are yet to be.

the still mightier populations that are vet to

Do not sail coastwise along your old habits and old sins. Keep clear of the shore. Go out where the water is deepest. Oh, for the mid sea of God's mercy! "Be it known unto is preached unto you forgiveness of
I preach it with as much confidence to the eighty-year-old transgressor as to the maiden. Though your sins were blood red they shall be snow white. The more ragged the prodigal, the more compassionate the Father. Do you say that you are too bad? The high water mark of God's pardon is higher than all your transgressions. "The blood of Jesus Christ cleanseth from all sin." Do you say that your heart is hard? Suppose it were ten times harder. Do you say that your iniquity is long continued? Suppose it were ten times longer. Do you say that your crimes are black? Suppose that they were ten times blacker. Is there any lion that this Samson cannot slay? Is there any fortress that this Conqueror cannot take? Is there any sin that this Redeemer cannot nardon?

cannot pardon?
It is said that when Charlemagne's host It is said that when Charlemagne's host was overpowered by the three armies of the Saracens in the pass of Roncesvalles his warrior, Roland, in terrible earnestness seized a trumpet and blew it with such terrific strength that the opposing army reeled back with terror, but at the third blast of the trumpet it broke in two. I see your soul fiercely assailed by all the powers of earth and hell. I put the mightier trumpet of the Gospel to my lips and I blow it three times. Blast the first—"Whosoever will, let him come." Blast the second—"Seek ye the Lord while He may be found." Blast the third—"Now is the accepted time; now is the day of salvation."

Does not the host of your sins fall back? But the trumpet does not, like that of Roland, hreak in two. As it was handed down to us break in two. As it was handed down to us from the lips of our fathers, we hand it down to the lips of our children, and tell them to sound it when we are dead, that all the gensound it when we are dead, that all the generations of men may know that our God is a pardoning God—a sympathetic God—a loving God—and that more to Him than the anthems of heaven; more to Him than the throne on which He sits; more to Him than are the temples of celestial worship is the joy of seeing the wanderer putting his hand on the door latch of his Father's house. Hear it, all ye Nations! Bread for the worst hunger. Medicine for the worst sickness. Light for the thickest darkness. Hurbor for the ger. Medicine for the worst steamed for the thickest darkness. Harbor for the

for the thickest darkness. Harbor for the worst storm.

Dr. Prime, in his book of wonderful interest, entitled "Around the World," describes a tomb in India of marvelous architecture. Twenty thousand men were twenty-two years in erecting that and the buildings around it. Standing in that tomb, if you speak or sing, after you have ceased you hear the echo coming from a height of one hundred and fifty feet. It is not like other echoes. The sound is drawn out in sweet prolongation, as though the angels of God were chanting on the wing. How many souls in the tomb of sin will lift up the voice of penitence and prayer? If now they would cry unto God the echo would drop from afar, not struck from the marble cupoia of an earthly mausoleum, but sounding bees from the warm heart of angels dying the news, for there is joy among the angels of God over on sinner that repenteth!

Rain has only fallen twice in twentynine years in Aden, Arabia. Previous to the last rain, which occurred in 1883, none had fallen in twenty-six years.

tharitable for people, and the man rou hate most will come in while you nature's icehouse is a more healthy place are planning where to commence.

POPULAR SCIENCE.

Mars was so bright in 1719 as to be mistaken for a new star.

A dinner has been cooked by electricity in a Canadian hotel.

Of the fires of 1891, sixty-four per cent. were due to electricity. Mullein leaf is recommended as an excellent specific for rheumatism.

Four-fifths of the engines now working in the world have been constructed during the last twenty-five years.

An alloy of seventy-eight per cent. of gold and twenty-two per cent. of aluminum is the most brilliant known.

An observatory of a fire and lightning proof quality of construction has been designated and section built so as to be easily carried to the top of Mount Blanc, Switzerland, where it will be permanently located.

The taxidermist of the Smithsonian Institution at Washington denies that the peacock has ugly feet-a condition of affairs which has been very generally accepted as truth as long as the peacock has been known.

There is a variety of pigeon hawk in Syria which kills pigeons by cutting their throats with its sharp bills as they fly. It gives a swoop, a quick dart and presently there is a tumble, and the poor dove is finished up with a gash across its Sudden attacks of angina pectoris are dangerous, and the feet should be placed immediately in hot water, and mustard should be applied to the heart region. Stimulants should also be given, and injections of morphine or atropine to relieve intense pain.

The gold diggers of Thibet, most of whom are Chinese, make air do the work of water. That is to say, they use the same process by which farmers used to winnow their grain before fanning mills were invented. They lift the baskets containing earth and gold to an elevation and then slowly empty the contents to the ground.

Dr. Grana, a country physician in Spain according to foreign papers, has discovered a cure for diphtheria which he claims never fails. The queen regent of Spain is greatly interested in the discovery and received Dr. Grana at court a few weeks ago. The physicians has been invited to explain his remedy to the Madrid Academy of Medicine.

Rotting tree stumps may be easily removed in this way: With a one and onequarter inch augur bore a hole in the centre of the stump about eighteen inches deep and put in twenty ounces of saltpeter, fill the hole with water and plug it tight. In the spring take out the plug, and set it on fire. The stump will burn and smolder to the end of the roots, leaving nothing but ashes.

Some silk worms lay from 1000 to 2000 eggs, the wasp 3000, the ant from 3000 to 5000. The number of eggs laid by the queen bee has long been in dis-Burmeister says from 5000 to 6000, but Spence and Kirby both go him several better, each declaring that the queen of average fertility will lay no less than 40,000, and probably as high as 50,000 in one season.

A manufacturing concern in Brooklyn, N. Y., has substituted a large fan for a smokestack. By the draught created the smoke, dust and gases from several furnaces are drawn into a brick apartment that has a low chimney. Small pipes, conveying water, open into the apartment, and as the water escapes it is sprayed over the apartment by means of steam jets. The dust is laid thereby, and whatever gases may be present escape by way of the chimney.

The resources of the lecture-room are decidedly increased when Professor Dewas was able, in a lecture on chemistry in London lately, to produce liquid oxygen in the presence of the audience literally by pints, and to pass liquid air about the room in claret glasses. Oxygen liquifies at about 250 degrees below zero, and air at 343 degrees below zero. If the earth were reduced to a temperature 350 degrees below zero it would be covered with a sea of liquid air thirtyfive feet deep. Professor Dewar's process of liquefying oxygen and nitrogen was with a hundred pounds of liquid ethylenic and fifty pounds of nitrous oxide, with the aid of two air pumps and two compressors driven by steam.

Crafty Doctors.

"There seems little to choose," says a physician, "between the sexes in the matter of desire to take medicine regularly, and it is often impossible to persuade an apparently rational minded patient that a cure has been effected, that no more medicine is needed, and that nothing but good diet and careful habits are required to build up the constitution. A number of doctors save themselves from falling from grace by prescribing a harmless tonic after effect. ing a cure, but those who pride themselves in disposing of cases by aid of a dozen doses or less seldom attain any great popularity. The often quoted and much vaunted practice in China of paying a physician while his patient is well, and stopping his pay during sickness, could never be introduced successfully into this country because so many people who are perfectly well are prepared to file affidavits that they are dangerously sick that no doctor under the China regime would be able to earn his board."-Chicago Tribune.

Healthful Arctic Regions.

There is one side of the Arctic regions which has never had due attention paid to it, and that is the medical and curative side. Davos Platz has known what cold can do in consumption, but in life giving air of the Arctic Circle no noxious germ can live. The only illness of any consequence which ever attacks a whaler is an explosive bullet. It is a safe prophecy that before many years are passed steam yachts will turn to the north every MAKE up your mind to be more summer with a cargo of the weak chested, and people will understand that than her vapor path. -The Idler.

FIGS AND THISTLES.

A good habit is always a good belper. A BAD man generally hates a good dog. IMAGINARY troubles are the most deadly. To LISTEN to a doubt is to listen to a devil. No man's character is any better than his word. In Christian life we always live as high as we look. THERE is never any heavenly music in a gloomy heart. EVERY Christian ought to have a Christian character. From what a man says you can often tell what he is. THE right kind of martyrdom lets somebody else advertise it.

No man who leads others is always following somebody himself.

THE devil will not be afraid of your Bible if there is dust on it.

It is harder to get away from the Lord than it is to find Him.

It doesn't take a bit of meanness out of a rascal to polish him.

Ir you want to help the Lord in your own family, don't scold much.

How EASY it is to see where other people might economize if they would. Every man and woman who is really good helps to hold Heaven up. THE man who is willing to have only a little religion will never have any.

Sin would never hurt anybody if it couldn't look little and harmless at

WATCHFUL prayer and prayerful watching are great helps Heaven-

Too MANY people are electric lights in prayer-meeting and tallow dips at home.

No MAN loves God a bit who does not love him with every dollar he is

Don't take your religion from people who never have any trouble with the devil.

No CHRISTIAN wants purity in his heart who does not also want it in his Church.

One sinner in Heaven would be as much of a start there as the devil would want.

The love that men have for little sins is the same kind that devils have EVERY sermon ought to have something in it that the devil will have to try to answer.

IT is not according to God's plan that any Christian should carry an ounce of weight.

THE right kind of repentance not only means to stop doing bad, but to begin doing better.

EVERY gift that comes from God's hand is a good gift, no matter how uncomely it may look. THE only difference education can make in sin is to make it change the manner of its expression. If a man could go to Heaven on a flowery bed of ease he would feel very lonesome after he got there. It never makes us a bit broader to go up and down the earth declaring that somebody else is narrow. IT will be found out some day that the only people who are truly rich are those who gave up all for Christ. Gop wants his children to find out that his hand is always within reach,

no matter how dark it may look. THERE are some people who think that sermon is the best which misses them and hits all their neighbors.

Aristocrats in the French Navy.

The French navy is the last resort of aristocratic France. There are a number of families in the French noblesse whose members are willing to serve the Republic in the navy, but acherish the curious fiction that a post in the army or in the civil service would imply a loss of caste and acquiescence in a hated regime. This feeling does not make the navy popular with the radical Republicans, and is undoubtedly at the bottom of the attack recently made on the minister of marine in the French chamber of deputies, or the uproar which followed his declaration that it would be "impossible to place the navy under the direction of an army officer."-Phila-

A WOMAN is never so apt to wish she was a man as when she sees one get up from the table, and walk away without a backward look or thought of the dishes.

I Can Walk a Mile

Easily, although for long time before taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I could not walk a step. I nad a terrible running sore or my leg, (M) (M) resulting from milk leg. Nothing did me any good till I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilta. The pain ceased wholly, the dark color Mrs. Chas. Asbell. disappeared, the sore has healed, and the limb is perfectly healthy." Mrs. C. A. Asbell, Avon, Mass.

Hood's Pills should be in every family medicine chest. Once used, they are preferred.

Or Debilitated Women, should use BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR.

Every ingredient possesses superb Tonic properties and exerts a wonderful influence in toning up and strengthening her system, by driving through the proper channels all impurities. Health and strength guaranteed to result from its use. "My wife, who was bedridden for sighteen months, after using Bradfield's Female Regulator for two months is getting well."

J. M. JOHNSON, Malvern, Ark.

Bradfield Broulator Co. Atlants, Gs.

Sold by Druggists at $1.00 per bottle.

I. N.—The factory town of Griffith lies nine miles southeast of Chicago and has four railroads, one a complete belt line, and two fuel-oil pipe-lines. A full description of this growing town can probably be had by addressing its founders, Jay A. Dwiggins & Co., of Chicago.

Alexander Dieterich, chief constructor of the German army, is in Philadelphia making a study of the methods and products of construction at Cramp's shipyard.

FOR Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and Stomach disorders, use Brown's iron Bitters. The Best Tonic, it rebuilds the system, cleans the Blood and strengthens the muscles. A splendid tonic for weak and debilitated persons.

Blondin, the celebrated tight-rope walker, who is sixty-eight years old, is still in the business. He has lately been making a great success in Europe.

Sample Package Mailed Free. Address Small Bile Beans, New York.

A dog bitten by a rattlesnake in Florida was cured of the bite by the administration of gunpowder internally.

They increase the appetite, purify the whole system and act on the liver, Bile Beans Small.

For the first time the Russian soldiers are to be furnished with handkerchiefs at the Government's expense.

Sick-Headache relieved by Small Bile Beans The German Kaiser's latest freak is to pay mysterious visits to the royal stable at midnight.

For impure of thin Blood, Weakness, Malaria Neuralgia, Indigestion, and Biliousness, take Brown's fron Bitters—it gives atrength, making old persons feel young—and young persons strong; pleasant to take.

Prince Bismarck has seen statues raised in his honor, which is a recognition few men live to see.

World's Fair Albums GIVEN AWAY BY THE C. H. & D. AND MONON, THE WORLD'S FAIR ROUTE.

An elegantly bound album of the World's Fair views has been published by the C. H. & D., which, in connection with the Monon, forms the popular World's Fair Route from Cincinnati to Chicago. The album is a work of art and will be sent to any address by E. O McCormick, G. P. and T. Agt., C. H. & D., Cincinnati, O., on receipt of ten cents in stamps. Incidentally it is noted that the double dally Pullman safety vestibuled trains, with dining cars between Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Chicago, are run only via the C. H. & D. and Monon Koute. See that your tickets to the World's Fair read via the C. H. & D.

The Only One Ever Printed. CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

These is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OF SAMPLES FREE.

E. B. Walthall & Co., Druggists, Horse Cave, Ky., say: "Hall's Catarrh Cure cures every one that takes it." Sold by Druggists, 75c.

A CURE for nearly all of the common ills what, doctors? Pshawl Take Beecham's Pills. For sale by all druggists. 25 cents.

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

PATENTS W. T. Fitzgerald.

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.

THE BEST SHOE IN THE WORLD FOR THE MONEY. A genuine sewed shoe, that will not rin, fine calf, seamless smooth inside, fexible, more comfortable, stylish and durable that any other shoe ever sold at the price. Equals custom made shoes costing from $4 to $5.

1 and I Hand-sewed, fine calf shoes. The most stylish, and I Hand-sewed, fine calf shoes. The most stylish, the sex and curable shoes ever sold at these prices. They equal fine imported shoes costing from $10 $12.

2 50 Police Shoe, worn by farmers and all others who want a good heavy calf, three soled, extension edge shoe, casy to walk in, and will keep the feet dry and warm.

5 2 50 Fine Calf, $2.25 and $2. Workingmen's Shoes will give more wear for the money than any other make. They are made for service. The increasing sales show that workingmen have found this out.

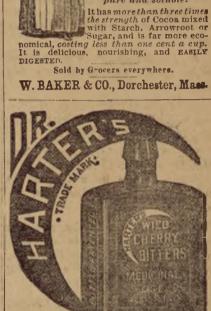

5 2 and Youths' School Shoes are worn by the boys everywhere. The most services sale shoes sold at these prices.

able shoes sold at these prices.

$3 Hand-Sewed. $2.50, $2 and $1.75
$5 Hand-Sewed. $2.50, $2 and $1.75
Shoes for Misson are made of the best Dongols or fine Calf, as desired. They are very stylish, comfortable and durable. The $3 shoe equals custom made shoes costing from $4 to $6. Ladies who wish to economize in their footwer are fluding this out.

CAUTION.—Beware of dealers substituting shoes with, out W. L. Douglas' name and the price stamped on bottom-Such substitutions are fraedulent and subject to prosecu-

ASK FOR W. L. DOUGLAS' SHOES. ASK FOR W. L. DOUGLAS' SHOES. tion by law for obtaining money under false pretences. If not for sale in your place send direct to Factory, stating kind, size and width wanted. Postage free. Will give exclusive sale to shoe dealers and general merchants where I have no agents. Write for Catalogue, W. L. Douglas, Brockton, Mass,

German

I must say a word as to the efficacy of German Syrup. I have used it in my family for Bronchitis, the result of Colds, with most excellent success. I have taken it myself for Throat Troubles, and have derived good results therefrom. I therefore recommend it to my neighbors as an excellent remedy in such cases. James T. Durette, Earlysville, Va. Beware of dealers who offer you "something just as good."

Always insist on having Boschee's

Unlike the Dutch Process

are used in the preparation of

No Alkalies

Other Chemicals

W. BAKER & CO.'S

BreakfastCocoa

German Syrup.

Syrup"

RELIEVES all Stomach Distress. REMOVES Nausca, Sense of Fuliness, Congestion, Pain. REVIVES FAILING ENERGY.

DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., $4. Louis, Mo.

YOU WANT PAY THEIR WAY

Book Publishing House, 135 LEONARD ST., N. Y. City.

THE CALERA JOURNAL.

VOL. II.

CALERA, ALA. WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1892.

NO. 3

THE LAND OF LONG A GO. Sometimes, when thrushes sing, or sweet bells chime Far off and faint across the silent see, Or south winds wasts the breath of sunny

elime, Or ring doves coo their love by babbling

Or the fair priesters of the dawn, ster-eyed, Trails her white robe above the eastern hills.

Down a dim way where stately lilies blow I see the land-the Land of Long Ago.

feet

sweet;

See this dear face, that sleeps where marbles shine.

And that-but oceans 'twixt us roll their brine.

"Dear ones, will you not come to me once And smile and kiss me as in days of yore;"

"Ab, foolish heart! when will you learn to None e'er return from the dead Long Ago!"

"But give me back my joy, the dreams of voutb.

Hope's rosy visions, or the lamp of Truth; Roll back Time's record from the dialplate

And snatch a trophy from the grasp of Fate." Again I gazed with wildly streaming eves

On the dread angel that so much denies-Again the still voice breathed o'er fields of snow, "These are the treasures of the Long Ago."

Alas, that land! that Land of Long Ago; No resurrection shines above its snow; Memory may enter, but a flaming sword

And the To Be looks darkly from beyond-

And still the years roll on with ceaseless flow

Into the silence of the Long Ago -Oh, Land of Long Ago! -Mary C. Francis, in Detroit Free Pres.

JOHN'S STENOGRAPHERS.

BY LEWIS ISAACS.

the hero of this thrilling romance,

Mr. Brandon was a genius in his way as soon as possible.

nd natural mechanic. He had invented | When Mr. Brandon arrived at his and natural mechanic. He had invented a number of useful articles the most notable of which were the Juvenile Reversable Trousers, the Corpulent's Comparel, but were not a pronounced success. The principal reason for the failure of this invention arose from the fact this acrobatic performance.

that they being alike in front and rear, Miss Tabitha Tinkham was a maiden the juvenile individual who donned lady of uncertain age and she wore a them never knew in which direction he polka dot dress, black mittens and an was going.

consisted of a device by which a stout gray, so that the little pug at the back man could turn up the bottom of his of her head resembled a dwarfed sugared trouser legs without having to stoop to doughnut. In front she wore a little perform this duty, was likewise a failure. ringlet at either side resembling short For though everything worked well fat gimblets. This lady was also the when the weather called for the turning up operation, no arrangements had been a "leetle bit deaf." Now, Mr. Branmade for turning them down again. don had had so many trials and tribula-The consequence was that a tions in all of his transactions with typeman endowed with alder-writers that he undoubtedly would have manic proportions had to bend his adi- retained Miss Tinkham in his service for pose anatomy to an uncomfortable angle the remainder of her natural life, if it when he was desirous of having his pan-had not been for three things, her deaftaloons resume their proper position, and ness, her rocking chair and her cat. The thus, like the Juvenile Reversible trouble was, that on account of the slight Trousers, the Corpulent's Companion did impediment in her auricular organs he not meet with unqualified success.

ing," and after many months of hard to have her write, and the consequence work, deep thought and persevering in- was that the rocker mashed his toes all dustry, the Automatic Ventilating Hat, out of shape, and when his torture an invention over which John Brandon caused him to groan, the cat elevated had consumed many gallons of midnight her or his back to such an enormous oil, was introduced to public notice, and height that it fairly made John's hair became the rage. It was advertised in- stand on end. When he informed Miss telligently and John Brandon became Tinkham that, though he respected her famous. The Automatic Hat had a very much as a lady and a scholar, and number of miniature metallic tubes in- was very sorry to part with her, her cat serted between the hat and the lining, and rocking chair made it necessary for the air entering at one end of the tubes | him to do so, she became so very hard and after circulating freely through them of hearing that he had to invest in an found egress at the other end, thus the ear trumpet before he could prevail on head of the man who was fortunate this estimable maiden lady to depart enough to procure one of these celebrated with her furniture and pet feline in hats, was sure to be cool and comfort- peace.

to such an extent that he invested in a abundantly prove. Mr. Brandon de- which Columbus died, is now used as a typewriting machine and advertised for a clared that "he was disgussed with cowstable. Above the stone archway a Miss Moore, but she did not hold the had suffered many disappointments, like on the stucco. Underneath is the enposition long. A short trial of her skill Bruce, of Scotland, he thought he graved inscription: "Aqui murio Colon proved her unfittness for it. John hired would "try, try, try again."

—Ano 1506." (Here died Columbus, ordinary every day kind of a girl. The He first thought she was very pretty and lightning rapidity with which she took down John's notes fairly staggered that handsome. He would lay awake nights State Express speed with which she had most musical he had ever heard. taken them down now slowed down to the favorite gait of a Fifth avenue stage, time must have assumed enormous proand the poor girl in her despair tore her bangs out by the handful when trying to his new steno rapher from morning till remember what she had written, and the night, and when Miss Milton asked him knew her no more.

Then memory beckons, and with trembling successor, was rather short in stature, schoolgirl. Yes, John Brandon was in I trend the ways where life was once so more than made up for in width, in fact great foolish fellow who at last had got-Brandon perfect satisfaction, but she become his wife. was terribly hard on the office chairs, nervous that he grew thin, and his type Smith .- The King's Jester. writer continued to gain in flesh, as though trying to make up for what he lost in avoirdupois. Five chairs had become total wrecks under the strain brought to bear on them, and when the sixth, the sole survivor of the wreck of the half dozen he had bought, went to pieces all at once, like "the deacon's one hoss shay," patience had ceased to be a virtue, and Mr. Braudon paid Miss Thickly two weeks' salary in advance and that young lady is now seeking employment elsewhere. Miss Mary Bonely, the next occupant of the stenographic chair in the office of Mr. Brandon was very unlike her predecessor in office. She was a very angular young person, and had the appearance of being all corners. Her elbows were so sharp that when she accidentally touched John in the ribs with Forbids with menance stern Hope's tender one of them in passing him, he thought The Past is gone—the Now we grasp full somebody had stuck a pin into his anatomy. Her elbows were her bane, she seemed to have no control one cent per dozen. This great output can scarcely be loaded onto two freight seemed to have no control over them cars. Twenty years ago corn was cut them pushed into his eyes every time cents a bushel; two bushels in an hour he went near her to get the letters to copy. The consequeuce was that that young gentleman invariably had one of his optics draped in purple and fine linen. Mary had a little lamblike habit of meditating quite frequently during business hours, and when she meditated she generally leaned her elbows on her desk. Result two holes in it and an honorable discharge. Mr. Brandon was certainly very unfortunate. OHN BRANDON, He had had to let two good operators go, out of respect to his furniture.

Mlss Tabitha Tinkham made applica-was, at the time tion in writing, for the vacant position at which our story of stenographer in John Brandon's estabopens, a man of lishment. She stated that she had an about forty years experience of many years and was sure of age, of robust she could give satisfaction. If engaged constitution, and by Mr. Brandon she requested permission the possessor of a luxuriant blonde beard and retiring and bashful disposition. He probably, on account of this clause of the letter captured John, and the cooking department, and twelve out to bring her own chair, salary not being so much of an object as a comfortable position. The chair clause of the letter captured John, and clause of the letter captured John, and of the business, enables the packers to latter infirmity, had remained a bachelor, though arrived at years of decretion.

We Brandon was a conjuging his word.

We Brandon was a conjuging his word.

office the following morning Miss Tabitha Tinkham was there. She was seated panion and the Automatic Ventilating had just brought in, and by her side, on in a rocking chair that an expressman the floor, was a black cat that looked as The Juvenile Reversible Trousers were though some one had attempted to elecintended to equalize the wear and tear trocute it, and the manner in which it of this necessary article of a boy's ap- elevated its spine when any one approached would have caused a domedary to die of envy could he have witnessed angelic smile. Her hair was of a warm The Corpulent's Companion, which auburn hue, slightly sprinkled with had to get pretty close to her in order "It is a long lane that has no turn- to make her understand what he wished

What a poor, weak creature man is, Mr. Brandon's business now increased the conclusion of this narrative will her in the morning and discharged her the same evening. Miss Moore's successor, was such a contrast to that sign-board with the following inscriptivength, like Samson's, lay in her hair. and ent dame in every respect that John tion: "New milk sold here; you may ended up by considering her positively gentleman, he being a novice at dictation. wondering whether the color of her But, alas! she could not read her notes; eyes were a deep blue or of a violet when she attempted to do so the Empire shade, and her voice he thought was the

John Brandon's correspondence at this portions for he was dictating letters to place which once knew Miss Moore, "it she should take them home to make type-written copies of them," big John Miss Amelia Thickly, Miss Mcore's Brandon blushed like an overgrown but what she lacked in that respect she love, over head and ears in love, and the she was nearly as broad as sho was long. ten a stenographer to suit him, asked As a stenographer Miss Thickly gave Mr. her to resign her position in his office, to Miss Maud Milton is now Mrs. John the manner in which they creaked and Brandon, and the name of Mr. Brangroaned under her weight made John so don's latest stenographer is John J.

Labor-Saving Inventions.

Congressman Bunting in a recent Congressional debate gave interesting information which is thus summarized by the Albany (N. Y.) Times-Union

"It appears that about forty yours ago the preserving of fruits and vegetables by way of the hermetically sealed can was an infant industry, practically an American discovery. Cans were made entirely by hand with the crudest kind of tinsmith tools. Three men could turn out over 100 cans each, or 300 per day at a labor cost of $2.50 per 190 or thirty cents per dozen; a boy could carry them to the store-house on his back in two trips. Now, by the use of machinery, three men will turn out 100,000 better made cans in a day. The labor cost is thereby reduced to less than from the cob by hand at a cost of ten for a boy was a good average. Now, by the means of one simple machine, a boy will cut seventy-five bushels an hour and do much better work. Ten years ago cost was from ten to fifteen cents per gallon. Now there is a machine which, attended by one man and two boys, will shell as many peas as 500 women could in a day, or 1800 bushels in ten hours, at a labor cost of less than one-eighth of a cent per gallon. Tweaty-five years ago cans were filled by hand, the cooking was done in the crudest manner, and the capping was done by the use of the common soldering iron. Through improved facilities and machinery, twenty two hands out of every twenty-five have been displaced at the filling table; four out of every five have been displaced in and yet sell canned goods, such as corn and peas, which sold twenty-five years ago at $6 per dozen, at $1 per dozen. Thus by labor-saving devices, the cost of production of canned goods has been so reduced as to place them within the reach of the poorest."

Snake Worship in Dahomey.

Snake worship takes precedence of all forms of Dahoman religion, and its priests and followers are the most numerous. The python is regarded as an emblem of bliss and prosperity, and the killing of one of these reptiles is sometimes punished by death. If this nenalty is not inflicted the offender is heavily fined and made to run through a crowd of snake worshipers armed with clubs and firebrands. Any child who happens to touch or to be touched by one of the holy snakes must be kept one year at the fetish temple, under the charge of the priests, and learn the various rites of snake worship, with its accompanying dancing and singing. The snake temple is a circular hut, with a conical roof made of palm branches, containing from 200 to 300 snakes. They are all pythons of all sizes and ages. The joists and poles supporting the roof are completely covered with them, and looking upward one sees nothing but a vast writhing, undulating mass of serpents. The ground is covered by others lying in torpor from their last meal. All are perfectly tame, and permit the officiating priests to pull them about with very little ceremony.

The ocean is very generally worshiped, and has a chief fetish man of high rank dedicated to its use. Sometimes the King of Dahomey sends a richly attired ambassador, with gorgeous umbrella, to his good friend, the Ocean. The ambassador is taken far out to sea in a cance and is then thrown overboard for feast to sharks. The honor of this diplomatic post is not eagerly sought or coveted by Dahomey politicians.

Where Columbus Died.

The house at Valladolid, Spain, in women in general, but with lady type- is a time-stained medallion, bearing a The first applicant for the situation was writists in particular," and though he man's head, standing out in bold relief Miss Maud Milton, Miss Tinkham's year 1506.) Close to this hung a small She were bangs; otherwise she was an Brandon could not help gazing at her. see it milked."-Detroit Free Press.

WILSON'S YIEWS.

THE GREAT WEST VIRGINIA LEADER'S LESSON FROM HISTORY - PROTEC-TIONISTS APPEAL TO FEAR-M KIN-LEY BILL WORSE THAN THE TARIFF OF ABOMINATIONS.

The strongest appeal which the protectionist organs and speakers make is to the fears of the manufacturers and the laborers in so-called protected industries. They trequently succeed in convincing them that Democratic policies would obliterate our manufacturing industries, and send us all back to the tillage of the soil, making us abject dependents upon other Nations for all but the product of agriculture.

This is so unspeakably absurd, when we consider the advantages we have as a manufacturing people, in our cheaper food, more intelligent and better paid labor, our enterprise and our leadership in the invention and use of labor saving machinery, that one must constantly marvel at its acceptance by intelligent

But those who cannot or will not see its absurdity as an argument may be convinced if they will study, a little, our history and experience in dealing with protective tariffs.

We began to make protective tariffs in 1816, and it was not the wiser among our manufacturers that called for such legislation.

Mr. Everett, in a Fourth of July oration, delivered at Lowell, Mass., many years ago, said, in the presence of the | for it is the chief wrong of protection very men who had built up that manufacturing town, that the sagacious men who established the manufactures of New England were never friends of a high tariff policy.

Hon. Amasa Walker, at one time a member of Congress from Massachusetts, and a well-known writer on economic subjects, said that it was within his personal knowledge that when our first protective tariff was proposed in 1816 the leading manufacturers of Rhode Island, including Mr. Slater, the father of cotton spinning in the country, after deliberate consultation in the counting room of one of their number, came to the unanimous conclusion that they had "rather be let alone." Their industries had grown up naturally and succeeded well, and they desired no interference from the Government.

But as usual the clamor of less farsighted men and the desire of politicians to become a special providence, superceding God's own providence, pre-

Protection began, and, as it ever does, took away this healthy self-reliance, and immediately set its beneficiaries to crying for more help.

The protective tariff of 1816 gave way to the higher tariff of 1820; that in turn to the still higher tariff of 1824, and a yet higher one in 1828, growing in its rates and its "abominations" until it embroiled the country almost in civil

This is the natural history of a protective tariff. Left to its own momentum, it never stops short of prohibition. Its beneficiaries, always disappointed in its promises, are ceaseless agitators for its increase.

All our history shows that it never has given and never can give stability and contentment. Now let us see what was the result when, in 1846, we turned in the opposite direction and adopted a Democratic revenue tariff.

Every representative of New England, except one who did not vote, voted against the Walker tariff of 1846, and prophesied disastrous consequences to New England manufacturers from its passage. That tariff was about 25 per cent. on the average of dutiable goods as against quite 60 per cent. under the McKinley bill. In 11 years every New England representative voted for a 20 per cent. reduction of the tariff of 1846, and two-thirds of these representatives voted for the tariff of 1857, which made a reduction of 25 per cent., bringing down the average rates to less than 19 per cent.; and so well contented were the manufacturers of that section with those rates that when the Morrill bill of 1861 took the first step backward toward protection their representative in Congress declared that they asked no increase of protection. Hon. Alexander Rice, of Massachusetts, said in the House: "The manufacturer asks no additional protection." John Sherman, professing to urge the bill in the interest of the farmer, admitted "the manufacturers have asked over and over again to be let alone." Mr. Morrill himself has since said that the tariff of 1861 "was not asked and but coldly welcomed by manufacturers." Senator R. M. T. Hunter, of Virginia, patron of the bill of 1857, said: "Have any of the manufacturers come here to explain or to ask for new duties? Is it not notorious that, if we were to leave it to the manufacturers of New England themselves, to the manufacturers of hardware, textile fabrics, etc., there would be a large majority against any change? Do we not know that the woolen manufacture dates its revival from the tariff of 1857, which altered the duties on and furnaces established, and, but for the coming on of our Civil War, and the necessity for an increased revenue to be gotten quickly, without regard to the fis-cal policy by which it was gathered, we should never have departed from a revenue tariff system.

Furthermore, the census of the United States shows that both agriculture and manufactures grew and prospered during the period from 1845 to 1861 as they never prospered in any like period in planatic our history. Mills were built, forges things.

War tariffs followed one another, and, since the return of peace, the old road has been traveled over again. The manufacturers who in 1816 were prosperous by their own efforts and asked nothing of Government, having once received protection, became clamorous for higher and yet higher tariffs until they pushed the country to the verge of civil commotion. So, likewise, the industries that were content and prosperous under the low revenue, or, as they now call it, the free trade law of 1857, and asked noning, having been "protected" against their will, immediately lost all self-reli-ance and have vexed our ears ever since for higher protection.

In the one era we went headlong until the "tariff of abominations" produced its own overthrow and opened the way for a more enlightened and just system of taxation.

In the other era we have reached the McKinley bill, far more a class and rio-nopoly bill than the "tariff of abominations." Out of its enormities we hope to see a revolution in public sentiment that will lead to a saner and juster scheme of impost duties, under which agriculture, manufactures and commerce may all grow with stable and healthy vigor, and the expanding markets for our products secure to labor steadier employment, better wages, and, what is far greater, more personal independence, that its aim and its result are to make the laboring man a dependent on the W. L. WILSON. capitalist.

Facts for Workingmen to Consider.

It has been repeatedly pointed out the rate of wages paid to workingmen does not determine the labor cost of production. Every employer understands this. An active, intelligent and competent man at high wages is more economical than a stupid bungler. We are indebted to ex-Consul Jacob Schoenhof for an illustration of this fact draws from the figures of Mr. Porter's census of 1890. He points out that common laborers in coal mining get $1.26 in Tennessee, $1.47 in West Virginia, $1.56 in Kentucky, $1.63 in Illinois and $1.77 in Ohio per day. But the cost of labor per ton is almost in an inverse ratio, being lowest where the day rates rank the highest: For Tennessee, 82 cents; West Virginia, 80 cents; Kentucky, 70 cents; Illinois, 69 cents, and Ohio, 69 cents.

This is in harmony with the results of his own observation and investigation on cotton manufacturing covering a period of ten years, and extending to Germany, England and the United States. He says American weavers operate six to eight looms each, while the number operated in England is three to four, and in Germany but two or three. American work. men turn out more product of whatever they have in hand than any others in the world. We also have the testimony of James G. Blaine to the same effect, in his report on the cotton industry in 1881.

The American workman is paid most because he is more efficient. The English workman is paid next best, because he comes second in efficiency. The German is third, and the Fiji Islander is last of all.

Protection in Germany does not make wages lower than in England any more than it makes wages in America higher than in England. Our products are manufactured at a cheaper labor cost, notwithstanging the high rate of wages, than they can be produced for in any other country in the world. Our manufacturers go into the markets of the world and sell goods lower than Eaglish or German manufacturers, and they make a profit too. They hire their workmen as cheaply as they can in ninety-nine cases out of 100. They do not give the workingmen the difference between what they would sell goods for in an open market and what they get for them in a protected market. "When two men are looking for one job, other things being equal, the man who will work for the lowest wages gets the job. When two employers are looking for one workingman, the employer offering the highest wages gets the man." This is truism so simple that all can understand it. There is free trade in labor. The only persons excluded are Chinese, and they come from the most highly protected country in the world.

These are plain facts that ought to be carefully considered by every workingman who has been laboring under the delusion that protection will increase his wages. The man who controls the sale of the product reaps the reward. The workman offers his labor in competition with all the world but China. The manufacturer offers his product in a market from which competition has been excluded for his benefit. Who has the best of it? Who can command the benefits of McKinleyism? Workingmen, can you?-Utica (N. Y.) Observer.

The Loss to the Farmer. The exports of farm products continue to fall off, notwithstanding the McKinley law, and it would be gratifying if the statesmen who have been "pointing out" to the farmer the value to him of reciprocity should undertake the explanation of the present condition of

The following table shows the export of agricultural articles for September, 1891, compared with September, 1892

Articles. 1892. Corn (bush.) 1,830,353 Oats (bush.) 104,015
Oatmeal (pounds) 277,644
Rye (bush.) 172,157 322,694 1,355,737 3,161,537 19,495,174 Rye (bush.) 172,157 Wheat (bush.) 10,091,800 This falling off is very serious. It means, so far as the farmers are concerned, that Republican reciprocity is the merest sham. The decline has been so great that the total exports of some articles for three months ending September 30th have been decreased as follows:

523,915 2,649,557 4,269,985 50,414,895

The value of the total exports of all breadstuffs was only half as great in September this year as in the same month last year, while for the three months ending September 30th the values were more than $26,000,000 less in 1892 than in 1891.

Besides exporting less the farmer receives less for what he sends abroad, as is shown by the following table of September prices:

Articles. 1892,
Corn (oush.). $0.55
Oats (bush.) 0.40
Oatmeal (gounds) 0.02
Rye (bush.) 0.70
Wheat (buss.) 0.80

This shows partly what the McKinley law is doing for the farmer. It also adds to his cost of living. If he likes it he will vote for Harrison; otherwise he will vote for Cleveland .- New York World.

General Sickles Defends Cleveland.

On the 5th of October, 1888, in the Opera House at Utica, with President Cleveland's record fresh in his and in the public mind, General Daniel E. Sickles spoke the brave and just words of the candidate of his party for President:
"Now as to President Cleveland's record in behalf of the soldiers. They charge that he has vetoed a good many pension bills. So he has. I have read his views. I am a soldier. I love my soldiers. Had I been President and a Congress had passed such bills for my soldiers, I should have vetoed every one of them, too. They were mostly all frauds and shams, and I had no frauds under me. Any rightminded man, sworn to discharge his duty, would have signed these vetoes as President Cleveland did."

General Sickles, continuing, gave President Cleveland's record regarding pension bills and said: "I think the Republicans should hang their heads in shame in the presence of such a record."

What that record is the World has shown. Under Cleveland's administration there were 192,070 pension claims allowed, an excess of 64,658 over the allowances under the Republican administration.

During General Black's administration of the Pension Bureau under Cleveland there was disbursed for pensions $284,738,000, an excess of $62,112,000 over the payments during the Garfield-Arthur administration.

President Cleveland signed more private pension bills than were approved during sixteen preceeding years of Republican administration.

Mr. Cleveland had neither said nor done anything, since General Sickles's just eulogy of him four years ago, to earn the disfavor of any soldier.

The Issue of Principle.

Judge Gresham has made a concise and comprehensive definition of the difference of principle between himself and the Harrison Radicals. "The power of the Government to collect revenue to defray its expenses is sovereign and absolute," he said on the 20th of last month while trying a case in the United States Circuit Court at Chicago. "It can take any man's property without process, buit ought to take no more than enough to defray the expenses of the Government."

This is not the view of Harrison, wao holds that after the Government has taken 30 per cent. for its own revenues it should take from 50 to 100 per cent. more for the benefit of those struggling, weak, infant corporations which contribute to Harrison campaign funds.

Mr. Gresham recognizes the property right of the individual. Harrison does not. A tax or 100 per cent. of value is the denial of all property rights, for it asserts the right of the Government to take the whole value -to confiscate. In this system of confiscation Harrison believes while Gresham does not.

Gresham believes with the Democrats that taxes should be levied for revenue only, and every honest man must indorse that principle. When Government takes from the earner property it is not obliged to use for Government purposes, it robs him under the communistic principle that, through law, the earnings of each should be made subject to the demands of all. In that communism Harrison believes as far as it can be applied to benefit the trusts and other combinations of corportions; but Gresham will not admit that it is just to take away the property of the humblest by force of law unless Government absolutely requires it for its own purposes.—St. Louis Repub-

Ten Dollars Per Talk.

Chicago and New York were united by telephone Tuesday, and conversation took place between the two cities. rate will be ten dollars per talk until the system gets into general use.

CALERA, WEDNESDAY NOV. 9.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Before the Journal is issued again we will either be the doorkeeper of the Senate or we will be defeated, and will have returned to our duties as editor, the position we have filled for the past many years. Be this as it may we will be the same true Democrat and white man's friend we have ever

During our absence, if it be for the entire session or for a shorter time, Mr. Walter H. Wroten will be in charge of the paper and the job office and any contracts he may make with advertisers, job patrons or subscribers will be recognized

THE excavation for the new court house at Decatur has been commenced. The work has been delay. ed by the rain.

THE General Assembly will meet next Tuesday. There is no trouble anticipated and the democrats will have a safe working majority in both branches.

THE CALERA JOURNAL has completed its first year. It is only a recent exchange with us, but none the less we wish it ample success. What we have seen of it makes us desire to see more.—New Decatur Advertiser.

holders have been made by the Moseley Republican Executive committee of Alabama directly in the face of civil service law. The civil service commission have proof of it and will call the attention of the Attorney General to the matter.

Frances Williard claims that the amount of force exerted at a given moment to compress the waists of women by artificial methods, would, if aggregated, turn all the mills between Minneapolis and the Merrimac, while the condensed force of ghany county republican loss of 600. their tight shoes if it could be applied, would run many trains .- Ex.

EVEN THE DOG COULD'NT FIND ONE.

Mayor Oliver's democratic dog Jack office hunterite yesterday leaped into the window of the polls and re-echoed their dismal houl of August last. They are scarce when the dogs can't find them.

COME TO THE STATE FAIR.

Our State fair opens on Wednesday the 9th instant.

It will undoubtedly be one of the largest, most attractive and interesting events of the kind ever held in Alabama.

The agricultural, industrial, commercial and manufacturing resources of the State will be finely displayed. The number of county, city and private exhibits will be many, while the state exhibit proper, gotten up under the auspices of the State Commissioner of Agriculture, Hector D. Lane will be the largest and best exposition of Alabama's wonderful diversified agri cultural and mineral resources ever seen in the South.

There will be many other special attractions, such as the state militia in drills, dress parades and sham battles. The officers have information that nearly every military company in the state will be and take part in these exercises. This will be an especially attractive give Cleveland 70,566 majority.

feature. The officers of the association b ave worked faithfully in the interest of the great success of this meeting, and have succeeded in arousing a much higher degree of interest in it throughout the State than has ever been felt before They will have a fine fair and believe it will be attended daily b large crowhs. Very low rates have been given by the railroads, and all Alabama, 20,000 majority. All congressmen and people from adjoining States will attend.

HURRAHY

CLEVELAND STEVENSON

Election News

Very positive informationreceive d ip to midnight shows that Cleveland has carried the south, with the exception of Deleware and West Vigginia. To these are added New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Illinois, which gives him 226 electoral votes. This insures his election, with a chance for a further gain of several electoral votes.

The election at this place' was very quiet, though all parties were hard at work all day, no one seeming to realize Assessments upon Federal office that it was raining. The result shows that a full vote was polled. The count shows Cleveland, 203; Harrison, 33; Weaver, 105. For congress Robbins, dem., 206; Craig, Rep., 33; Longshore, Careful estimates form Portland pointed to the election of Cleveland. Oregan justifies thebelief, that that state will not east its solid vote for Harrisen electors. Reports from all over the state shows that democrats have voted for

The Herald clafms Weaver carried Colorado and Cleveland carried Wash-

Mail and Express claims Harrison carried Connectiuctt by 1500.

The Herald says Lewis county N. Y. shows republican loss of 579 and Alle-

Herald says Deleware goes republican and Virginia democratic by 10000 with a democratic legislature.

Rockland county N. Y, gives Cleveland 950 majority.

Syracuse gave republican majority ^a | 1550 a loss of 1675.

370 districts in Brooklyn gives Cleveland 12,487 majority.

Complete returns from Arruge City N. J., gives Cleveland a majority of Gidroy elected mayor of N w York by about 60,000 majority.

Reports from over 200 precincts in East Tennessee show Sholes, Rep., gain over vote of 1888. A. O. Taylor and John C. Huck, Reps., will be elected to congress by a good sized Cleveland majority in Chicago out upwards of 10000.

N. Y. Times says Weaver carries Nebraska by 10,000.

Tennessee is democratic by 65,000 majority. In Louisiana the vote was light. Entire democratic delegation elected to congress,

N. Y. Tribune says indications are that Cleveland carries New Jersey by

The election passed off in Birmingham quietly only a few arrests made. The vote in Birmingham precinct resulted Cleveland and Turpin 3,789, fusionist Seeket and Harison 1,184. our schools and is bringing forward a Majority for dem., in the city 2,605.

Kentucky gone democratic with increased majority. All congressional districts democratic except the 4th which is in doubt.

1,050 districts in New York City

Returns from New Jersey indicate Cleveland's majority 10,000 to 12,000. 630 districts in Brooklyn give Cleve-

New York News says the chairman of the democratic committee claim Indiana for Cleveland.

The Chicago Tribune concedes Il-News from the 4th district indicate to be affixed.

the election of Cleveland and Robbins.

majority. Cleveland carries Mississippt by claimed by democrats. Tribune says Ohio has gone repub-

Republican carried Minisota by Pennsylvania goes republican by Mobile county goes democratic by Colbert county goes democratic by Lauderdale democratic by 1,500.

Etowah, Cherokee, DeKalb and Franklin counties have gone demo-

News from the state is meager, but of course has gone democratic-

The indications are that Robbins is

New York City gave Cleveland a shot Webb dead, plurality of 73,159. The Inter-Ocean says Illinois goes democratic by 20,000. At 12 o'clok last night the news all

Renew your subscription.

YOUR LAST CHRNCE

TO HEAR THE QUAKER EVANGELIST-SERVICES TO-NIGHT AT THE CUM-BERLAND PRESENTERIAN CHUCH.

By special request of quite a number of citizens of Calera, the Rev. J. him in the face. L. Kittrell will occupy the pulpit of this (Wednesday) evening, beginning promptly at 7:30 o'clock. This is the last zermon that our people will have the pleasure of hearing by Mr. almost fainted to the shering had granted the condemned negro a respite of sixty days. Johnson almost fainted from joy, and that both young and old should besure and avail themselves of this opportunity and hear this gifted gentlemman, tonight.

Job work done to order at this

PROCLAMATION.

THE PRESIDENT ANNOUNCES THE 24TH OF NOVEMBER AS A DAY OF THANKSGIVING.

Washington, Nov. 4.-The gifts of God to our people during the past year have been so abundant and special that a spirit of devout thanksing awaits not the call, but only the appointment of a day when it may have common expression. He has stayed pestilence at our door. He has given us more love for free civil under his directing providence was so conspicuous. He has awakened a deeper reverence for the law. He has widened our philanthropy by a call to succor distress in other lands. He has blessed plesh and wool goods to hold disease patriotic and God fearing generation to execute his great and benevolent designs for our country. He has given us great increase in material wealth, and a wide diffusion of content and morals in the er plan.

I, Benjamin Harrison, president of the United States, do call upon all our people to observe, as we have been wont, Thursday, the 24th day of this month, HOUSE, SIGN AND ORNAMEN November, as a day of thanksgiving to God for his mercies and supplication for his continued care and grace. In testi- Calcemining and Paper Hanging mony whereof I hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States homes of our people. He has given his grace to the sorrowing; wherefore,

Done at Washington, this the fourth day of November, one thousand eight Denson's election is assured by safe hundred and ninety-two, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and seventeenth.

> BENJAMIN HARRISON. By the president: JOHN W. FOSTER, Sec'y of State.

STATE NEWS.

HUNTSVILLE.

The city council have granted the right-a-way to a street car company, and work will be commenced on the line at once.

A movement is on foot to build a flour mill, canning factory and

One of the most wonderful inventions of the age, in the form of a Monday, the 17th day of October, hibited at the fair. Experts say that it is undoubtedly a success, and that it will revolutionize cotton production in the south. It has a capacity of 200 pounds every three minutes, and its cost will be not more than that of the average wheat harvester. The protection is a capacity of 200 pounds of the average wheat harvester. The protection is a capacity of 200 pounds of the average wheat harvester. The protection is a capacity of 200 pounds of the average wheat harvester. The protection is a capacity of 200 pounds of the average wheat harvester. The protection is a capacity of 200 pounds of the average wheat harvester. The protection is a capacity of 200 pounds of the average wheat harvester. The protection is a capacity of 200 pounds of the average wheat harvester. The protection is a capacity of 200 pounds of the average wheat harvester. The protection is a capacity of 200 pounds of the average wheat harvester. The protection is a capacity of 200 pounds of the average wheat harvester. The protection is a capacity of 200 pounds of the average wheat harvester. The protection is a capacity of 200 pounds of the average wheat harvester. The protection is a capacity of 200 pounds of the c wheat harvester. The patent is owned by a wealthy firm in Galveston, and the machine is being brought to the fair simply to be exhibited. With this wonderful machine in use cotton can be produced profitably at four cents a pound. It is worth the while of every southern farmer to see the machine

In the fire on the plantation of Mr. O. F. Ledge, six miles below Jefferson on Saturday last, a negro won:an subject to fits was burned to death in the house which was also burned.

The Hotel Royal was opened for the reception of guests on last Wednesday, says the Express.

TO BE HANGED THREE TIMES.

The Atlanta Constitution says Will Johnson, who has been twice sentenced to be hung, and who came within nine hours of the gallows the last time, spent last night at the police station on his way to the mines.

Transfer Guard Gus Starnes brought the prisoner of this strange experience from Athens, where he was three times tried and sentenced for the murder of John Webb.

Johnson and Web quarreled over a game of eards, and the tormer

He was tried and sentenced to death, the date of this execution being fixed at July 21, 1891. His attorneys secured a new trial and the second time Johnson was convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to be hung June 21, this year, and he came within an ace of dying on the gallows that day. His attorneys worked hard to secure a new trial for him, but despite their efforts the day of his execution dawned.

The gallows was built and all cell the miserable, condemned wretch sat waiting for his doom. Hope had left him; death stared the Cumberland Presbyterian church day a telegram came to the sheriff Kittrell for some time and everyone day when the people gathered to neighborn see him hanged they received the & Georgia Railroad.

news of the respite instead. During the sixty days of grace granted him Johnson's lawyer secured a new trial for him, and again the fatal day was passed. He was tried last week and instead of getting a life sentence he was given twenty years in the penitentiary. The negro gave a graphic descip-tion of his fellings on the morning he was to be hung, last night.

All the baggage he had was a Bible which he constantly reads. He says to face a gallow will make anybody turn to the Bible.

The Inventive Age, Washington, D. C., makes a formal demand for a cheaper sleeping car than the Pullman-one with less upholstery, gilding and mirrors and yet with comfortable sleeping berths. It institutions in the creation of which, has always seemed to us, in view of the immense amount of travel, that less upholstery would be desirable on all cars. The liability of thick germs would indicate their unfitness for a public conveyance. There is undoubtedly room for an improved sleeping car on a simpler and clean-

WHATLEY

AND RUDDY

TAL PAINTERS

Done to Order,

Orders sent to THE JOURNAL office will be promptly at 10-2 tended to. HUGH T. CAFFEY,

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON CALERA, ALA.

₫ b12-1v.

REGISTER'S SALE.

Morgan & Lapsley,
vs.

A. M. Elliott, Trustee, et al tue of a decree rendered at the Spring term, 1892, of the Chancery Court of Shelby county, Alabama, in the above entitled cause, I will represent a sell-under the power.

will proceed to sell, under the power contained in a Mortgage from H M. Pierce, et al, to A. M. Elliott, trustec, at public outery, in front of the Court House door in the town of Columbiana, Alabama, on

This, August 11, 1892.

D. R. McMILLAN,

Register and Acting Trustee.

13aug-10w prs fee$16.50 Above sale continued to Monday

December 5, 1892. D. R. McMALLAN, Register. oct22 7w prs fee$10 50

RAILROAD TIME TABLE. LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE.

o. 1, South Bound, " 2, North Bound,
" 4 " 66 " 10,

ATTHE CHURCHES.

PRESBYTERIAN-Services on the 4tin

METHODIST—Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night, by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sabbath school at 9:30.

Baptist Church—Rev. J. G. Lowrey, pastor. Preaching every first and second Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting at 7.00 p. m., every Thursday.

Read and profit by the following sound counsel, every word of which smarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel:

"It is a duty you owe to yourself and amily to protect them with a reasonable amount of life insurance, where the stoams of the financial world cannot touch them; where the assessor cannot tax them; where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old 4:53 a. m.
4:14 p. m.
5:10 a. m.
10:19 "
10:05 p. m.

11:15 p. m.

12:15 p. m.

13:16 m.

13:17 p. m.

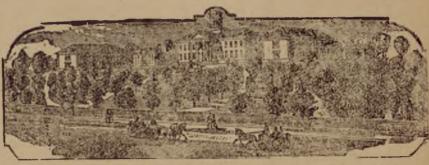

14:18 p. m.

15:18 p. m.

15:18 p. m.

16:19 tract from a sermon by the Rev. T. De-7:15 p. m. Witt Talmage.

Marion MILITARY Institute.

MARION, ALA,

Superior Accommodationrs and Board. Superintendent, his family and faculty live in building, with students.

Classic and Scientific. Superior Commercal Course. TERMS MODE-RATE. Send for Catelogue.

COL. J. T. MURFEE, Superintendent,

Marion, Alabama.

Six Mile, Alabama.

SIX MILE MALE . FEMALE ACADEMY.

R. H. PRATT, Principal.

35th annual session begins September 26, IS92, and continues 40 WEEKS, ONE WEEK FOR CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS.

was ready for the execution. In his cell the miserable, condemned Intermediate, including English branches and Latin, Higer branches of Mathematics, French, Greek, with the In the early morning of the fatal Board—per month, $7. Washing, Starching, Ironing $1......$8 00 day a telegram came to the sheriff Students are required to furnish, for their own use, one pr. blankets,

> Payments, monthy or quarterly in advance. This school is located at Six Mile, Alabama, in a healthy, well watered one pr. sheets and pillow cases, their own toilet lights.

R H PRATT, PrIncipal, 3sept 6m

Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats Shoes, Gents & Ladies Dress Goods,

Have one of the Largest Stocks of Hots, Shoes, Clothing, Notions, Dry Goods, and General Merchandize, Ever Brought to Shelby County

OPPOSITE OUR DRY GOODS HOUSEWe have Opened up a.....

XMAMMOTH STOCKX

WILL BE IN THIS HOUSE AT ALL TIMES WAIT ON YOU, and price Furniture as Low as any House in Alabama.

Our Campaign Goods are as neat and as Cheup as any in the State.

A. C. WADE & CO.

LOCAL ITEMS.

The Circus

Are you going to it Friday?

It has been suggested that a debating society be organized in Calera.

Miss Eliza Gist attended the marriage of her brother at Six Mile last week.

Mr. S. K. Harrell visited our city for a few days last week.

A general holiday will be in vogue wnen Sands & Rentfrow's Big Shows come here.

All the best features of the circus world will be seen with Sands & Rentfrow's Big Shows.

It is rumored that a marriage will take place at the Methodist church next Sun day at 11 o'clock.

Several of our citizens who are workto vote yesterday.

John D. Campbell stopped over yeste day and voted and went off in due time to meet his run.

Some unknown person attempted to break into the residence of Mr. J. D. Hardy on last Friday night.

Miss Mollie Hunnicutt of Jemison, is in the city visiting her brother, Mr. Jim Hunnicutt, supervisor of E. T. V. & G.

Dojum Habit cared by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

Bruce, the bird dog belonging to Mrs. S. H. Gist, which being lost for some weeks has returned to its rightful owner

We were glad to see Miss Annie Bristoe, who has been confined to her home with a severe sore throat, out on last Sunday.

Barefield & Busby keeps the tony restaurant of the city, when you come in to the circus Friday, you should eat with them. They will treat you right.

Our hearts were made glad on meeting Maj. Thomas Wagner, back from a trip to Montgomery. Tom got here in time to cast his ballot for Cleve & Steve.

You will find a table set with the finest the market affords, set by Barefield & Busby, at the circus gounds on Friday. Besure you ask for and eat with them.

Rev. Mr. Dalton came up from Montevallo Sunday last, and held services at the Cumberland Presbyterian church; during which eleven persons were received into the church.

Two persons were added to the con gregation of the Prosbyterian church on Wednesday night last There were also an addition of nine persons to the congregation of the Methodist.

The Curistian Endeavor Society will hold a special Mission service at the Cumberland Presbyterian church, on Sunday night Nov., 20. We will publish the programme in full next week.

Rev. J. L. Kittrell is at the Vanderbilt Hotel for a few days rest, after large crowd. which he goes to Oliver Springs, Tenn., to hold a series of revival meetings. The prayers of the people of Calera will follow him wherever he goes.

Mr. Hendricks, one of our best democrats, and who is working in Bibb county, but whose excellent family is residing here, came home Saturday and stayed over till Tuesday to vote for Cleve and Steve and returned yesterday

See that you are found on the inside of a church during prayer meeting services this week. Tonight, at the Presbyterian; Thursday night, at the Bap. tist; Friday night, at the Cumberland Presbyterian church. Remember that this is the schedule of prayer meetings in Calera; but beginning with Tuesday the rush so great that it was quite night, when it is held at the Methodist.

Last Thursday the 3rd inst., 4 p. m. at Six Mile there was a quiet wedding, Charlie Gist, brother of the editor of this paper, and Miss Addie Hayes, being the contracting parties. Rev. J. W Mitchel. officiating. The attendents were Mr. Watts and Miss Arvagena Arnold, Mr. Charlie Trott and Miss Mattie Hayes. The newly married couple have our best wishes for their future prosperity and of underwear for $3.50," and so on.

The following ladies and gentlemen attended the revival meeting at Monte, vallo on Saturday night last: Len Privette aud Miss Ethel Blevins, Wm. M. Talley and Miss Sarah Francis, Robt. Brown and Miss Lutie Blevens, Mr. Jeffreys and Miss Stella Onderdonk. Mr. and Mrs. Bridges, Mr. Coopender and Miss Ela Thorpe made the start, but owing to an accident was compelled to return heme after getting about one mile from Calera.

dailies of yesterday of the death of Benj. ing has caused a continu-Fitzpatrick, Solicitor of the 5th Judicial al rush since that time, and he has circuit, which sad event occurred at his now employed an extra corpse of home in Wetumpka, Ala., on the 7th salesmen for Fair week. When after a short illness. Benjamin Fitzpat- you attend the Fair go to the Sunrick was the youngest son of the great PRISE STORE, sign of the 'Live Fitzpatrick who was governor and Unit-Fireman," and get bargains never ed States senator before the war. He before offered you for the money. was elected solicitor six years ago and was a delagate to the last national demoman of ability, integrity and courage and than lose time in talking to you Fitzpatrick was one of our warmest can do or not as you choose. young friends, and we greatly deplore physical strength.

THE REVIVAL

AT MONTEVALLO A VERY INTERESTING ONE. CLOSED ON ACCOUNT OF MR. KITTELL'S HEALTH.

The meeting was growing in interest every service. The churches of the town was much revived, and the meeting closed with quite a number of seekers at the altar; and the people were perfectly delighted with Mr. Kittrell's plain, bold and powerful sermons; and they made him promise to return and hold another neeting in December.

An effort will be made to have the ing away from home came in due time Cumberland Presbyterian church nicely repaired by his return.

St. Vitus' Dance cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

"THAT 'POSSUM HUNT."

Mrs. Brinkerhoff and Mr. and Mrs. Wright, went out trying to hunt 'pos ery one enjoyed themselves hugely and at 11 p. m. an elegant repast was spread and a.l seemed to have a plenty except Messrs. Tally, Norman, Holcomb. Wright, Brown and Brinkerhoff. The young ladies were Misses Norman, Brown, Blevins, Onderdonk and Stephenson.

secure a witness to swear to.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure at Druggists.

RAILROAD SHOWS,

Which is to exhibit in Calera, Friday November 11, is highly endorsed by the shudder and shrink and in this feel press of the state. The Louisville that our carnage and christianity Courier-Journal contains the following: "This excellent circus and menagerie was well patronized yesterday afternoon us take up the cross. and evening, and it well deserved the enormous crowd which flocked to the capacious tents. The menagerie shows up all that has been advertised, and the ring performances were excellent, comprising many very difficult, attractive prising many very difficult, attractive acts never before presented here. The riding was good. The clowns introduced many new comicalities, and the feats of the acrobats, jugglers, and contorsionists were marvelous, and astonished and delighted all. We found all connected than that unite heart chords, and removes loved ones from the earthly to the heavenly home.

The subject of this notice, Mrs. Susan Morris Reynolds, was the daughther of Samuel and Sarah Jordan, she was born in Cambell county, Virginia, in 1847.

Her parents moved to Macon county, Ala, in 1851, was married to W. J. delighted all. We found all connected delighted all. We found all connected with the show perfect gentlemen, who desired to treat everyone well and see that no one was imposed upon." As this is the only large show that will visit this section this season we predict at the country of the content of the content of the country of

A GREAT SURPRISE.

WHAT WE SAW IN BIRMINGHAM-WHAT OTHERS CAN SEE IN THE MAGIC CITY.

It was our pleasure while in Birmingham last week to be directed to the great Surprise Store, where the management is having an unprecedented run to their unusually cheap sales of Fire Damaged Goods.

We didn't go there to trade, but to their unusually cheap sales of Fire Damaged Goods. the management is Dhaving an unsee the business man. We found awhile before we could get to his office. We made our business known in a few woads, and as we came out through the immense throng of purchasers and salesmen our eyes fell upon such placards as: "$20 suit for $10; $4 hat for $1; two spools of Coats' thread for a we shall meet again in the morning. throng of purchasers and salesmen 'nick; $7 pants for $4; $7.50 suits She could no longer here remain

Mr. Marcus informed us that he desired those who wanted to purchase damaged goods to call, and to those who do not to stay away, and give room to those who do.

Thousands of people who read the Birmingham dailies will remember that on the night of July 5, last, the Surprise Store was burned and $60,000 worth of damaged goods were turned over to the Insurance companies, who in turn insisted on Mr. Marcus selling them for what he could get. His faith in printers We were shocked at the news in our ink and other modes of advertise-

Remember at this Store, if you are not satisfied with your purchase cratic convention. He was a young they will return the money rather his death is a loss to Alabama. Mr. and if you want to buy goods you

Subscribe for THE JOURNAL.

WOMAN'S COLUMN.

[The Woman's Column is under the supervision of Mrs. F. W. Gist, and all communications for this department should be addressed to her at West Calera, Alabama.]

Recently in an interview with The meeting at Montevallo held by our geniel Representative of the Rev. J. L. Kittrell and J. J. Dalton legislature Col. John P. West, we closed on Sunday night last, on account discussed at length the advisability of Mr. Kittrell's complete failure in of a bill in the legislature for Woman's sufferage we were agreed that it would possibly be detrimental to the cause to present a bill for woman's sufferage, and as our women have a voice in the regulation of schools without voting, about the first thing to do is to obtain sufferage for widows and wopresent such bill, we would stand to school, and unless they are wonand push it through.

In connection with Rev. Mr. Sinnoon.

nott, postor of the Presbyterian Last Thursday night a crowd of church at Calera, a few days since everything in its place," seems an ed a woman's sympathizing organi- though each little owner is absosums. After walking and riding zation. He agreed that it would lutely sure that they put them in a about ten miles they were rewarded be a strength and said if the whisky by capturing a wild (?) chicken. Ev- question was brought up at the this organization at once and expect every women and girl over fifteen years of age in Calera to join us. But let us now explnin that we are not going to mob the saloons and walk in and pour out their contents, slam the doors and say Mister, you The expedition returned to the city shant run this affair any longer. No, about 12:30 with the usual number that is not our plan. If you wish of hunter's yarns, but the above state- to know our methods come out to ment is the only one that we could pointed. If our town is christianized now, let us take up the christians cross. There is another work to be done in Calera, probably more THE SANDS THE RENTFROW'S ENORMOUS enormous and more necessary than the extinction of blind tigers, It is the work of social purity; we is indeed put to a through test, but I repeat, if we are christians let but children are children the world

IN MEMMORIAM.

In the associations of life, acquanit-ances are made and friendships formed which cemented by love run through the years to be broken only by the cold hand that unite heart chords, and re-this section this season we predict a to Clin:on county, Ala., where she cast large crowd.

Newman. In 1872 the lamity filed to Clin:on county, Ala., where she cast in her membership with the good people of Providence church; and her body was laid away in the graveyard close by.

A long continued sickness of more than six months, borne with Christian patience, resulted in her death; on the morning of September 14th, 1892. Thus has passed away a model Christian, with has passed away a model Unistian, with a perfect resignation to God's will. She died as she had lived, quietly, peace-fully, unassuming and diffident; she bore no conspicuous past in any enter-prise of society and the church; shrink-ing from, rather than courting the pub-lie's gaze; content to find an ample field lie's gaze; content to find an ample field for the practice of the highest and purest Christian virtues in her own family, and in the circle of her more intimate friends. others, 'specially those of her own household.

The home is darkened and desolate now, the sorrowing husband and children lament for the light that has gone out of their life, yet, they sorrow not without hope; but look away from the grave to the land where the pure in heart shall meet again. May the sunshine of such a life linger around that

Her nature was too good and strong, She's through with afflictions and pain And dwelling where her joys are sure.

She, a golden crown is wearing,
That is set with priceless gems
Now his glory she's dulasing,
Treading paths once trod by him. From your sight she's ever hidden, And to you she'll ne'er return
Twas by Him that she was bidden,
To leave earth, 'twas not her home.

Her sweet will is hushed forever, 'Twill be heard by you no more;
'Twill chant the song of triumph ever,
With angels on the fairer shore.

Oh! how sad you felt at parting, With the one you loved so well; But her spirit was departing; To go home, to ever dwell.

A FRIEND.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, Amid the busy scenes of life we must pause to brush away the life we must pause to brush away the tear of sorrow at the loss of a valued and honored member of our Sunday school (Concord church, Montevallo circuit), our loved friend and co-worker, Sister S. M. Reynolds, having been called from our midst.

Resolved, That we, as superintendent, teachers and children in this school, look back with love and tenderness upon the beautiful life we mourn.

the beautiful life we mourn.

Resolved, That we tender the grief-stricken husband, children and sisters our heartfelt sympaties in their bereave-ment, humbly praying that the richest blessings of heaven may be theirs; that they may realize "earth has no sorrow that heaven cannot heal;" and that they may feel that though she is dead yet

she lives.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered upon the minutes of our S. S. register, a copy be sent to the family of deceased, and one to the Alabama Christain Advocate for publication.

E. E. EDDINGS, J. M. GARNER, Mrs. JOE. GREEN.

GETTING READY FOR SCHOOL,

In many a household in the land there is an interval in the morning between breakfast and 9 o'clock, remarks the Philadelphia Times, that is the most vexatious portion of the men who are property holders; and day. It is the hour when little if we were sufficiently organized to folks are getting ready to start out a good chance to get it passed at derfully well trained little folks inthis coming session of the legisla- deed they cause more excitement ture, with Col. West to back us and worry than their mother is able to get over before they return at

"A place for everything and young people chaperoned by Mr. and Wr. Brinkerhoff and Mr. and Mrs. Brinkerhoff and Mr. and Mrs. adage utterly unknown to them. tigers in our vicinity, and suggest mars are nowhere to be found, certain place over night, but when morning arrives, by some extraorlegislature it would be an absolute dinary influence this place has necessity. We shall take steps for changed, and a hunt up and down stairs, mingled with many ejaculations that they will be late, is the result.

Hats and coats likewise decamp mother assists in the search, and is also called upon to aid the small scholar who was too sleepy the night before to do certain sums that take so much more time in the morning than he had amagined. The hands of the clock creep around toward 9. Lunches must be put up clean aprons donned, tangled locks reduced to submission, and when at last the front door bangs behind the little men and women, a weary mother sets to work to restore order out of the chaos their preparations for school have created.

We can all breach about the remedy for this sort of thing, over, and being such instead of little paragons of neatness and forethought, this same excitement in the morning hours will occur as long as the world stands and education must be acquired.

ENDS OF THOUGHT.

Detroit Free Press.

They who marry where they do not love are apt to love where they do not marry

A misspent life is like a wasp. One does not feel the sting until he gets to the end of it.

Pleasure must be always well dressed. Happiness never thinks about its clothes.

would drop out of space.

Doctrine brings no sinners to repentance,

A liar will break all the other ommandments if he gets a chance.

Trust a womans judgment, but of her feelings.

Wrinkles come to say.

1. It is the best of all weekly newspartments, is a household word throughout the south.

2. It is invaluable to the farmer and throughout the south.

6. Bill Arp, Plunkett, and Uncle Recher to the fireside and happiness to the household. commandments if he gets a chance. not her feelings.

Wrinkles come to say. God makes character; man makes reputation.

Subscription only $1 a year.

HOM. Z. AVERY, ONE OF THE LARGEST CONTRACTORS AND BUILD

HEART DISEASE 30 YEARS.

GRAND ISLAND, NEB., April 8th, 1892. Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

GENTLEMEN: I had been troubled with MEART DISEASE FOR THE LAST SO YEARS, and although I was treated by able physicians and tried many remedies, I grew steedily worse until I was completely programmed to MY BED WITHOUT ARY MOPE OF RECOVERY. I Would have very bad sink wery and sink my pulse wo ling spells, when altogether, the greatest difficulty that my circulation could be at THOUSANDS bring meback to consciousness again. While in this condition I tried your New Heart Cure, and began to improve from the first, and now I am able to do a good day's work for a man 63 years of age. I give DR MILES' NEW HEART CURE all the credit for my recovery. It is over six months since I have taken any, although I keep a bottle in the house in case I should need it. I have also used your NERVE AND LIVER PILLS, and think a great deal of them. Z. AVERY. SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR MONEY RETURNED.

L. PETERS. HENRY WILSON, E. S. LYMAN Columbiana.

Peters, Wilson & Lyman, ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

F. W. ROGAN, BUERTAKER. MONTEVALLO, ALA..

Office of Southern Express Co.

I KEEP CONSTANTLY ON HAND A CONPLETE TIME OF Wood Coffins and Caskets from the Chrpest to the Finest. Also, a fuli Line of Ladies, Gents, and Childrens' Burial Suits.

Orders by telegram promptly Filled.

oct22 3m

-CO TO-Mrs. S. H. McCauley

FOR MILLINERY-GOODS.

A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hats in the Lates Styes, and at Reasonable Prices.

Oct 8-3m

BLOOD GOOD H

Now is the time for everyone who cherishes good health, to pay particular at tention to the condition of their blood and its proper circulation. Nearly all diseases that flesh is heir to are caused and agravated by an impure condition of the blood and a sluggish circulation.

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS Possessing Extraordinary Cleansing Powers

Restoring and Strongthening the whoe System, Enriching the Boodproducing increased vitality by restoring an impaired digestion and bringing back the bloom of youth to the cheek of the enfeebled and emaciated.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle-6 Bottles for $5.00.

For aleby All Druggists.

Nabors, Morrow, & Sinnige.

SOLE CONTROLERS,

Birmingham.

WORDS ABOUT THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION.

If the earth stopped to rest it Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers -12 Pages.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT.

the household.

3. It covers the news of the whole world, having its correspondents scattered over the globe, and having a thorough news service from every important news center in the world.

4. Its Agricultural Department alone is worth many times its subscription and a host of other special writers are engaged by the year, and their inimitable sketches appear each week.

7. It is the People's Friend, and is the sturdy champion of the agricultural interests of the south.

8. It pays more money for its special writers are engaged by the year, and their inimitable sketches appear each week.

7. It is the People's Friend, and is the sturdy champion of the agricultural interests of the south.

4. Its Agricultural Department alone is worth many times its subscription price to every farmer. This department of the south, and much more than any is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, wnose service is retained by the Constitution at great expense.

5. Its Woman'3 and Childeren's Departments are a source of infinite pleasure to every family, and the name of the south, and much more than any weekly newspaper in America.

9. It is the cheapest, being only One Dollar ser year, each paper at the price of a postage stamp. Think of it! Every time a hen lays an egg she pays for one issue of the greatest weekly newspapers in the world.

Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of your neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulated home should be without it:

Agents Wanted in every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information.

THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

Banking House of W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co.

CALERA; ALABAMA.

Receive Deposits,

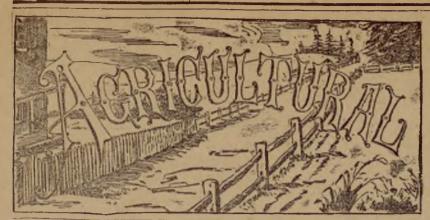

Negotiate Loans.

Issue interest bearing certificates of Deposit, and sell exchange on New York Louisville and Birmingham at regular rates equrged by the larger cities.

We transact a general banking business, such as that of any incorporated Ink in all of its legitimate branches, and would be pleased to open accounts with Herchants, manufacturers and planters alike.

Life

Bought, Sold and Rented upon just terms.

the items necessary for profit is a steady growth from birth to maturity. It is, of course, an item to secure this at as low a cost as possible, and in wintering good sheltering is necessary to lessen the cost, for the reason that less grain is needed.

That is, if cattle are comfortably sheltered in winter they can be kept growing steadily if they are well fed with roughness-hay, straw and corn fodder. Cattle will thrive better with a good shelter in winter with hay alone than they will with corn alone. Supplying bran in addition to roughness will be of material help, especially if the roughness is first run through a cutting box. Feeding racks should be provided so as to lessen

It should be remembered that the value of the feed is the same, and the work necessary to properly care for them is the same, whether the cattle are of a good grade or are scrubs, while there will be a very considerable difference in the gain secured in proportion to the

At best, under present conditions, the giving them comfortable shelter and care, so as to maintain a steady growth, are all

FARM AND GARDEN NOTES.

Do not expect eggs when the hens are

Keep fowls of the same size and dis-

Chickens that are of a marketable size

Brahmas are not hard to control. Give them plenty to eat and they are usually

If fed largely upon corn it is an easy

When possible to avoid it poultry

The kind of food given hogs plays a large and important part as to whether

The most objection to peafowls and guineas is their noise. Otherwise they

A small allowance of bone meal in the food will be beneficial to young fowls that are afflicted with leg weakness.

If necessary to give sulphur to the poultry do not feed too much at once. A teaspoonful in a quart of food is usually

The principal advantage in cooking

the food for poultry is that if the right kind of a ration is supplied, the fowls

The nests should always be arranged so that the fowls can get into them readily without being obliged to jump

Select out the turkeys that are intended to be kept for breeding in good season. It is not best to depend too

Farmers who have bees should plant

More honey may be obtained by having the surplus receptacles arranged upon three sides of the brood than when we depend upon the top of the hive

With old hens especially, apoplexy and egg-bound are the result of excessive fat. Better wealth and thrift can be maintained by keeping the appetite

If robber bees attack your hives wait until near sundown before searching for them. At that time they will not be able to do as much harm as they could Give the sheep plenty of dry, clean bedding so that the wool will not become healthy that always is carrying a dirty fleece around, and we know the dirt does

Some bee-keepers prefer to have the bait sections in the centre of the super,

while there are others who think that it is best to have it placed in one corner.

Dr. C. C. Miller thinks that one in the centre is as good as one in each cor-

By sowing some grain crop to occupy the land through the winter you will prevent the waste of nitrogen. This is especially true if much manure has recently been applied. If to be plowed under in the spring, rye is the best grain that can

What does it cost you a quart to make milk? At the New Hampshire experiment station they found that from their best cow it cost about 11 cents a quart, and from their poorest cow it costs more profit in one case and a surety of loss in Alternating hoed crops with grass, clover and cattle is a necessity for farm.

ers who seek for permanent success.

that land can be put to, and bear the ex-

We don't believe a sheep can be somewhat sharp.

do earlier in the day.

not improve its quality.

foul.

be used.

the other.

some sweet clover for them. When the clover is of no more use to the bees it can be cut, cured, and tried as hay.

much on young fowls for breeding.

down upon the eggs in the nest.

are very nice fowls to have around.

should not be killed when they have full matter for ducks to become too fat and important .- St. Louis Republic.

position together.

quiet and contented.

sufficient.

will fatten faster.

then they will not lay well.

craws, especially for market.

the profits shall be large or small.

the waste as much as possible.

Pigs can be kept neither healthy nor growing without plenty of good succulent food. The natural food for pigs in the wild state is grass, the masts of the forest roots and bulbs of plauts. Its necessity is well recognized by nature in providing the hog with a rooter. Even after generations of domestication, with an ample supply of sustenance, this proclivity to root remains a prominent characteristic. Farmers who during the winter months at least twice a week give one feed of potatoes, beets, artichokes or turnips, find that the pigs not only relish, but derive great benefit from them. Brood sows are especially helped by a liberal supply of food diet; indeed, it is almost compulsory in order to insure strong, healthy pigs and a natural farrow.—New York World.

THE BEST CHURN.

A great many of the old kinds of churus have gone entirely out of use befood consumed. cause of the superiority of the more improved ones of the present time. Of the margin of profit in feeding cattle is small, two or three thousand churns that have and every advantage should be taken to been patented in America, not more increase them. Selecting a good grade, than twenty ever came into common use, and of these few nearly all have been discarded since it has been shown that the butter is churned simply by concussion and the throwing of the globules together violently. The result has been that those churns that act in this way and without dashers are in use, and the old ones are thrown aside. Of the new kinds there are the square or rectangular churn, a box hung by two opposite corners; the swing churn, should be fattened now as soon as poswhich is an oblong box swung back and forth as suspended on a frame, and the barrel churn, which is hung in an upright position by its sides. It is easily

VALUE OF MILLET,

churns .-- New York Times.

seen how the cream is acted on by these

Millet is one of the most largely cultivated plants. It furnishes a large part of the grain food to the half civilized Nations, as those of Asia and Africa; the fodder for cattle of civilized farmers, and some varieties furnish sugar. It is thus the staff of life to more than half the people of the world more truly than wheat is to the civilized quarter of them. And it deserves the notice of farmers quite as much as any other plant grown. The fodder is especially rich in the albuminoids and fat, containing fifty per cent. more of the former and nearly as much of the latter than timothy hay. But, like all the grasses, it requires to be cut and cured before it is mature, and while the blossom is not past. After this stage it becomes hard and woody and the seed heads are covered with sharp thorns that are injurious to the By giving a good range and not feeding too liberally there will usually be no stomachs of animals that are fed on it. The cured hay is very agreeable to all the farm animals, and the product is difficulty in inducing the poultry to take easily one-half more than any other kind all needed exercise. asons it is a valuable crop and should be sown every year. It is an excellent medium for the summer seeding of grass or clover, and it leaves the land in a mellow condition favorable for the fall growth of the grass .-American Dairyman.

WHEAT BRAN FOR LAMBS.

Some writers are becoming eloquent of late in the praise of wheat bran for sheep. We have seen its benefits demonstrated for other stock. The edition of the Sheep Breeder and Wool Grower in an article designed to advocate "generous feeding" makes this plea:

"It is hardly too much to say that generous feeding of a lamb all summer and all the fall will create a constitution where only a poor one existed to begin with. We have often wondered to see how a cosset or some lamb that had had extra attention, and was about twice as large as the average of the flock, in autumn when the trying scason of parasites, diarrhea, and other troubles of sheep life came on, would go through everything-pouring rains, fogs, slushy grass, diarrhea, paperskin, all around himwithout a particle of injury. His magnificent vitality, created by months of liberal feeding-all his life, in fact-carries him unharmed through evils which lay waste the average flock. The farmer ought to begin at once with his lambs, if he has not already, giving them all the wheat bran they will eat up clean once a day at least, better twice, and if there are any weaklings remove them to a smaller flock and give them extra attention—feed for that priceless vitality and force, that constitution without which a sheep is about the poorest piece of property in the line of live stock.'

BEEF CATTLE.

With the farmer one of the principal advantages in keeping cattle is that a better opportunity is afforded of using up the roughness. To do this to the best advantage it is necessary to provide a comfortable shelter so that during growth, at least, very little grain will be needed where a variety of crops is grown. A good supply of rough feed may be than 4; cents. There is a chance for readily secured, and this can be fed to good thrifty cattle. At present prices it requires the very best of management to realize a fair profit from cattle. To let them make a slow growth so that three or four years is required for The only exception to this is where men growth, and then when they are ready cultivate so little land that they can and for market, must be sold as low-grade will manure it all heavily every year. cattle, what will be realized for them Market gardening is about the only use will not pay the cost of raising. With cattle as with other stock one of pense of such method. FIGS AND THISTLES.

THE wheels of time only turn one

THE devil joins church somewhere every Sunday.

A soft answer will kill where a club would fail.

THERE is no sadder sight on earth than a wicked child.

You can not get rid of a fault by refusing to look at it.

THERE are only a few people who do not talk too much.

A LOVE for God's children is an evidence of love for God. No REAL child of God ever wants to go to Heaven alone. UNTIE the hands of sin and it will make a hell anywhere. HARD work is only hard to those who are are arraid of it. THE devil is afraid of the man who is not afraid of the truth.

WHEREVER there is a praying man God has a standing army. The tongue has prolably killed as many people as the musket. THE Bible's warnings are as full of God's love as its promises. GIVING a dog a bad name is nearly as bad as giving him poison. PUTTING God's love in our hearts makes us akin to everybody.

TRYING to kill with the tongue is as bad as doing it with a club.

EVERY GOOD man gives a living emphasis to his pastor's sermons. CHRIST is still manifesting His love to the world through his church. NINE times out of ten a man lies when he says he is too poor to give. THE only sinners who are lost are those who die without repentance.

Don't expect to do any good thing yourself. Let God do it through you. PEOPLE who overdo in their politeness are apt to underdo in their duty.

It is only the body that grows old. The soul will remain young forever. No man ever has any mercy on his own sin when he sees it in somebody else.

THE last thing many people want to know is the truth about them-

God has not entirely lost His hold on any one who loves something that is good. It is a waste of breath to talk to a man about Heaven who looks at everything through money. Give the devil a chance with a family of boys and girls and he will always get the best one. THERE was probably a good deal of rejoicing in the pit on the day the cigarette was invented. If you want to keep from doing wrong, follow the example of Christ, and go about doing good. WHENEVER a man starts out to become free in his own way, he sells himself into deeper slavery. THE only people who do not believe that the yoke of Christ is easy are those who have not tried it.

EVERY man makes a terrible mistake who chooses for himself instead of letting God choose for him.

No MAN loves God with all his heart until he loves his brother as Christ loves him. (John 15:12.)

The Sound of a Sunbeam.

One of the most wonderful discoveries in science that has been made within the last year or two is the fact that a beam of light produces sound. A beam of sunlight is thrown through a lens on a glass vessel that contains lampblack, colored silk or worsted, or other substances. A disc having slits or openings cut in it is made to revolve swiftly in this beam of light so as to cut it up, thus making alternate flashes of light and shadow.

On putting the ear to the glass vessel strange sounds are heard so long as the flashing beam is falling on the vessel. Recently a more wonderful discovery has been made. A beam of sunlight is caused to pass through a prism, so as to produce what is called the solar spectrum or rainbow. The disc is turned, and the colored light of the rainbow is made to break through it.

Now place the ear to the vessel containing the silk, wool, or other material. As the colored lights of the spectrum fall upon it, sounds will be given by different parts of the spectrum, and there will be silence in other parts.

For instance, if the vessel contains red worsted, and the green light flashes upon it, loud sounds will be Only feeble sounds will be given. heard if the red and blue part of the rainbow fall upon the vessel, and other colors make no sound at all. Green silk gives sound best in a red

Every kind of material gives more or less sound in different colors, and utters no sound in others.

Stub Ends of Thought. Women under 20 and over 70 tell their age.

Men and women in love imagine themselves in pretty much everything else that is unrestful. Sorrow adds beauty to the character when taken in broken doses. A widow's weeds may blossom as Tears are becoming to some eyes. Cæsar would have been humble without his nightkey at 3 a. m. Truth has more enemies than

The best cooks are not always the sweetest-tempered wives. The man who thinks only of No. 1 forgets how many millions and millions there are between that and in-

A DIMPLED white hand is regarded as the prettiest thing in this world, but the working hand that is rough and red will be the prettiest hand in

When Mr. Porter of the eleventh census gets around to it he may be able to show that the capital invested in commercial enterprises in this country is not far from $60,000,000,-000. In 1880 it was something over 840,000,000,000. It has been estimated that Mr. Porter's figures would show the present amount to be $50,-000,000,000, but some estimates indicate that it will be $10,000,000,000 above these figures. England can show nothing like it. This is an enormous increase in ten years and shows the earning power of the money which is invested in business enterprises in the United States.— Cleveland Plaindealer.

No More Blanket, No More Hallelujah.

Mashoupa, in Kaffirland, was once the residence of a missionary, but the church is now abandoned and falling into ruins, because when asked to repair the edifice at their own expense the men of Mashoupa waxed wroth and replied irreverently that God might repair his own house; and one old man who received a blanket for his reward for attending divine service is reported to have remarked, when the dole was stopped: "No more blanket, no more hallelujah." I fear me the men of Mashoupa are wedded to heathendom.-Fortnightly Review.

Slot Telephone Machine.

Two California inventors have devised a toll-collecting apparatus for telephones. It consists of the usual coin-in-the-slot device, with the addition of a clockwork apparatus that automatically cuts out the telephone when the time for talk has expired.

To Young Wives.

To Young Wives.

A disappointed bachelor has said that some time after marrlage a man's wife ceases to be supremely attractive to him. Never was a greater libel. Beauty preserved and grace retained can never lose their charm or yield their empire. The preservation of our bodies in their original healthy perfection and comoliness is a sacred duty. Every young mother who will faithfully carry out the directions given with each bottle of "Mother's Friend" will never lose figure or complexion. The dainty bud will mature into the blooming rose, and old age will find her blessing the day she first used "Mother's Friend." Bradfield Reg. Co., Atlanta, Ga. Sold by all druggists.

The Only One Ever Printed.

The Only One Ever Printed.

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

These is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OF SAMPLES FREE.

Have You Asthma ? Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn., will mail a trial package of Schiffmann's Asthma Cure free to any sufferer. Gives instant relief in worst cases, and cures where others fail. Name this paper and send address.

The largest tarpon ever captured was caught by Sco Newman in the bay off Naples, Fig. It is seven feet long and weighs

MANY persons are broken down from over-work or household cares. Brown's Iron Bit-ters rebuilds the system, aids digestion, re-moves excess of bile, and cures malaria. A spendid tonic for women and children.

At the head of the Gulf of Bothnia there is a mountain on the summit of which the sun shines perpetually during the five days of June 19, 20, 21, 22 and 23.

A photographer says that next to babies young married couples are the most troublesome, the bride especially being hard to please.

No more old pills for me. Small Bile Beans, if you please.

The street surface roads of New York City carried 226,650,613 passengers during the year 1891, a daily average Economical, easy to take, Small Bile Beans.

The prolluction of barley in Victoria has decreased from 1,500,000 bushels in 1890 to to 750,000 bushels in 1892.

LADIES needing a tonic, or children who want building up, should take Brown's Iron Bitters. It is pleasant to take, cures Malaria, Indigestion, Bilioamess and Liver Complaints, makes the Blood rich and pura.

The new British coinage will bear the queen's head without the crown.

Conductor E. D. Leomis, Detroit, Mich., says: "The effect of Hall's Catarrh Cure is wonderful." Write him about it. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

For indigestion, constitution, sick head-ache, weak stomach, disordered liver—take Beecham's Piles. For sale by all druggists.

Jacob A. Kunkel, a reliable farmer of Mount Royal, York Co., Pa-, cays that a running sore broke out on the leg of his nephew, Milton A. Kunkel, when he was 5 years old. He could not walk. Milton A. Kunkel. years ago they began giving him Hood's Sarvaparilla and in a short time the sore healed up, he regained perfect health, and he is now, at 13 years, livesider his cure little short of a miracle."

Hood's Pills cure habitual constipation by restoring action of the alimentary canal.

"MOTHERS" FRIEND"

MAKES CHILD BIRTH EASY.

Colvin, La., Dec. 2, 1886.—My wife used MOTHER'S FRIEND before her third confinement, and says sho would not be DOCK MILLS.

Sent by express on receipt of price, $1,50 per bot tle. Book "To Mothers" mailed free. BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., FOR DALE DY ALL DRUGGISTS.

NEURALGIA

About eight years ago the hydrocarbon "isoprene," which had previously been identified among the products of the destructive distillation of crude rubber, was discovered among the volatile compounds obtained by the action of moderate heat upon oil of turpentine. Isoprene can be reconverted into true elastic rubber by the action of strong acids, such as muriatic. Dr. Tilden, who originally made the discovery referred to, not long ago produced from turpentine a quantity of isoprene, which after being kept for a few weeks became thick and surupy, with lumps of hard, elastic substance floating in it. These lumps proved to be true rubber, and are supposed to have been formed by the accidental presence of acetic or formic acid in the solution. This rubber appears to be analogous in every respect to the natural product, and is equally susceptible of vulcanization. The discovery has been followed by experiments to ascertain the feasibility of manufacturing rubber from turpentine on a commercial scale. An interesting field for experiments has been opened up by this discovery, for if, as is possible, other resins are similarly susceptible of conversion into elastic compounds, products possessing properties of peculiar value may be developed, and in any case the dearth of rubber which has existed for some time in consequence of the wholesale destruction of rubber forests is likely to give no further

SYRUPOFFIGS

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading drug-gists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.V

Unlike the Dutch Process Ca No Alkalies Other Chemicals are used in the preparation of W. BAKER & CO.'S BreakfastCocoa which is absolutely pure and soluble.

It has morethan three times the strength of Cocoa mixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is far more economical, costing less than one cent a cup. It is delicious, nourishing, and EASILY PROFESTER.

Sold by Gorers everywhere. W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

Syrup

Two bottles of German Syrup cured me of Hemorrhage of the Lungs when other remedies failed. I am a married man and, thirty-six years of age, and live with my wife and two little girls at Durham, Mo. I have stated this brief and plain so that all may understand. My case was a bad one, and I shall be glad to tell anyone about it who will write me. PHILIP L. SCHENCE, P. O. Box 45, April 25, 1890. No man could ask a more honorable, business-like statement.

A WOMAN HAS

SICK HEADACHE DAY AFTER DAY

SIXTY YEARS

there has been no instance reported where such cases have not been permanently and PROMPTLY CURED

the use of a single box of the genuine and justly celebrated DR. C. MCLANE'S which may be procured at any Drug Store, or will be mailed to any address on the receipt of 25 cents in postage stramps.

Purchasers of these Pills should be careful to procure the genuine article. There are several counterfeits on the market, well calculated to deceive. The genuine Dr. C. McLane's Celebrated Liver Pills are manufactured only by

FLEMING BROTHERS CO., Pittsburgh, Pa.

DO NOT GRIPE NOR SICKEN.
Sure cure for SICK HEADACHE, impaired digestion, constipation, torpid glands. They arouse vital organs, remove nausea, dizzinces. Magical effect on Kidneys and blandder. Conquer billous nervous disorders. Establish natural DAILY ACTION. 0 00 Beautify complexion by purifying blood. Purely Vegerable.

The dose is nicely adjusted to suit case, as one pill can never betoo much. Each vial contains 42, carried in vest porket, like lead pencil. Business man's great convenience. Taken easier than sugar. Sold everywhere. All genuine goods bear "Crescent."

DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis. Mo.

No 43 1892

RIPANS

are compounded in accordance with a medical formula known and admitted by all educated physicians to be the oldest, most standard, most widely used, most frequently prescribed, and by far the most valuable of any that the profession have yet discovered. In the Tabules the ingredients are presented in a new form that is gaining favor all over the world and becoming the fashion with modern physicians and modern patients:

They are compact, easy to carry, easy to swallow, tasteless if taken according to directions, and the dose is always accurate. Every one enjoys the method and the result. They act gently but promptly upon the kidneys, liver, stomach and intestines; cleanse the system effectually; dispel colds, headaches and fevers; cure habitual constipation, making enemas unnecessary. Are acceptable to the stomach and truly beneficial in effects.

A single TABULE taken after the evening meal, or just before retiring, or, better still, at the moment when the first indication is noted of an approaching cold, headache, any symptom of indigestion or depression of spirits, will, in a large majority of cases, remove the whole difficulty in an hour, without the patient being conscious of any other than a slightly warming

• effect, and that the expected illness failed to materialize or has disappeared. The Tabules are put up in small bottles, each containing six doses, the whole easily carried in the vest pocket or portemonnaie. There is no fear of spilling or spoiling anything with which they come in contact. Sample Bottle, 6 doses. - - 16 cents. Twelve Bottles. 1/2 gross. - - - $1.25

Six Bottles, M. gross, - - 75 cents. Twenty-four Bottles (one gross), - $2.00 Those who buy a gross and divide with neighbors or friends reduce the cost of the smallest package nearly one-half. The Tabules are not injured by age. Sent by mail on receipt of price-postage paid-or may be ordered through the nearest druggist.

- FOR SALE BY -RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, @

10 SPRUCE STREET, NEW YORK.

NO. 4

Life and Love.

Ah, Love! thou art the azure sky, And Life a summer cloud. Which blends with thee in rapture, Within thy lovelight bowed.

And Life is like the ripples Which spread across the lake; Love is the depth beneath them O'er which the ripples break.

Love is one long mellow breeze On which light Life doth float -Love-ah, yes, it is the oar, And Life, it is the boat.

-[Boston Transcript.

IN SPITE OF HIMSELF.

BY HELEN FORREST GRAVES.

"Mattie! Mattie! did you take that huckleberry pie out of the oven?

"Yes, Aunt Ann."

"And the cup custards-you didn't forget the cup custards?"

"They're all right, Aunt Ann." "Matty!" in an accent one degree shriller than usual.

"Yes! What is it?"

"There's a tramp coming up the back garden path. Send him about his business."

"Yes, Aunt Ann."

Matty Vernor went valiantly to the back door, prepared to do battle, glancing this way and that as she did a tin of coffee and some sandwiches me-this!" so, to make sure that there was plenty and a piece of home-baked gingerof boiling water on the stove, and that bread. I'm sorry I spoke so cross to the broom was handy, in case of ing the mass of rags on the doorstep, I'm afraid you need them very much. "you are a tramp. Nobody could else. What do you want?" she added aloud.

in great need-"

"That's what you all say!" crisply about the truth." interrupted Matty. "I'm sure I don't next chapter."

But even as she spoke her womanly heart melted within her at the sight of the tired, pale face, the wretched recalled him.

"Wait a minute," said she. "I'll bring up like that."

go see what I can find."

opening out of the unused best par- breath.

he died. That poor fellow may as not a tramp. You seewell have them, I suppose."

She came back presently with a wheels startled the girl. compact little bundle under her arm.

Ann should find out I'd been giving beer." away any of Uncle Job's old traps-Why, goodness me! he's eaten up the huckleberry pie and the three cup cus_ tards that I left to cool on the buttery window-ledge! Here, give me back much as a rag! You don't deserve more. them!"

ment, caught up the bundle before the appearance of a tall figure in his doorstanger could possess himself of it.

"I'm very sorry," he said, penitently, "but I was desperately hungry and I didn't stop to consider."

"Didn't stop to consider?" indignantly repeated Matty. "No, 1 resigned voice. "It's 'Move on!" should think not. You are a thief! wherever I go. But I've 'moved on' Do you hear that? Not only a vagabond, but a thief! And I should think a great able-bodied scamp like you on the office desk. would be ashamed to go begging and stealing around the country. There!"

very expressive outburst, Matty once nance also beareth witness thereto! more shut the door in the poor, tired But the faded cordurous and the vel- answered. face, and resumed her occupation of veteen coat are the coat and cordurous ironing out Aunt Aun's Sunday lace of old Job Vernor, who died two night, when Matty Vernor was gone cedarwood chest.

"Yes, Aunt Ann!"

"Did you send the fellow packing?"

"Yes, I did." "That's right - that's right!"

nuisance hereabouts."

came over her.

face cap on the nail by the window. himself again!" She set her rosy lips together; her eyes glistening determination.

Down through the golden gleam of and often losing itself in a wooded | Vernor, the prettiest girl in townpeaceful, willow-shaded graveyard.

Here ten minutes afterward, Matty farm in Warren County!" Vernor came upon the tired tramp sitting on the stone wall.

you; but, you see, I was vexed to see quarter. the dinner pie gone, and the cup cus "Well," said Matty to herself, eye- lards, too. And here are the clothes. "Thank you," said the man, deject-possibly mistake you for anything edly. "You see, I haven't always-" rupted Matty, imperiously. "I know "Could you spare me an old shirt, about having seen better days," and can handle a racquet, can't you, old young Jady? or a suit of clothes? I'm that sort of thing. But you really man?" ought to be a little more particular Unconsciously Matty had fallen know where you get all your rags into the air that she adopted when she and tatters from. "Your'e just from was haranguing her Sunday-school an hospital, I suppose. That's the class. Her bright eyes sparkled; she emphasized each point by tapping her foot on the ground and lifting her > berry-stained foretinger in the air. "Yes, but-" garb. "No," said he, with a sigh, "I'm girl. "You can't expect always to "You should go to work," said the tramp about the country. It will end, He was turning away, when she sooner or later, in the county jail, and you are too smart-looking a man to

The man, eating his bread and meat Bolting the door unceremoniously and drinking his coffee, listened meekin his face, she went to a store-room ly until she stopped for sheer lack of or.

"I don't care!" said Matty, arguing you see, I'm not a tramp. Oh, I age to do so. "Yes," said he, with a sigh. "But, with herself with a certain fierce im- know appearances are against me!" lain here, of no use to anybody, since wretched tatters; "but I really am in despair.

The sound of approaching wagon

"Oh, I dare say!" said she. "But "There," said she, flinging it out of I really can't stay any longer talking. the window, "take it and begone! I must get back. Here's a quarter For," she added to herself, "if Aunt for you. Mind you don't spend it for

And flinging the coin towards him -it missed its aim and rolled to the foot of old Deacon Jobley's gravestone, whence the man rescued it with prompt dispatch—she vanished back those clothes! You shan't have so into the wood-path and was seen no chief.

Half an hour later, Squire Somer-She had unbolted the door as she set, examining a pile of law papers in spoke, and, with a quick, light move- his office, was startled by the sudden

"Nothing for you, my man-go along!" said he curtly, without looking up.

"That's always the way!" sighed a just about far enough, old man!" And he perched himself composedly

The squire stared.

"The voice," said he, "is the voice ing up her racquet, "will you forgive Thus terminating her lecture with a of Frank Atherton, and the counte- me?" years ago. Old fellow" (clasping and Atherton had bidden them good "Matty! Matty!" called out the old him cordially by both hands) "you're night, "our guest and dear little woman from above stairs, where she welcome! Where on earth did you Matty seemed very much taken with was turning over the contents of a big drop from? For-not to disguise the each other. He's rich, and ought to truth-I honestly did take you for a have a wife, and Matty is such a tramp!"

"I meant to give you a surprise," fall in love!" said Mr. Atherton, still in the same ac- "I wonder," said Mr. Somerset, cent of melancholy composure. "And solemnly, "if the woman ever was I've every reason to think that I have born who wasn't a thorough-going chuckled Aunt Ann. "These stroll- succeeded. I left Wyndale to walk matchmaker, - [Saturday Night,"

ing beggars are getting to be a perfect | into Glen's Falls, and a mile or so below here the river meandering through But as Matty fluted the borders of the woods looked so enticing that I lace with a quick, efficient hand, ventured on a bath, just at sunrise. thinking the while what she should do | Unfortunately, however. I was not replace the missing pie in time for the earliest bird going. Some deep-Aunt Ann's dinner, a softer mood dyed villain, while I was disporting myself in the lucid element, stole my "Poor wretch!" she murmured to clothes leaving a mass of dirty rags herself. "Perhaps he was hungry, behind. Then I was a tramp in spite He certainly did look pale and tired, of myself, and such a lecture I got and his rags were dreadful. I wish I from a pretty maiden at a farmhouse hadn't snatched those clothes back. It on the road! However, she gave me wasn't real nice and ladylike of me, something to eat, between her pieces now I come to think of it. I wish-" of advice, also this wardrobe, and All of a sudden, Matty Vernor made when the express delivers my trunk, I up her mind as she hung Aunt Ann's shall be all right-Richard will be

"She gave you those clothes?" "She did."

"Then," said Squire Somerset, slap-

the ripening rye field went a little ping the table until the legal docucurving path close to the stone wall, ments flew in all directions over the crossing the brook on a narrow plank, floor "you've been lectured by Matty copse, joined the main road close to a old Job's niece, and the owner of a pair of superb black eyes and the best

"Yes," mournfully acceded Atherton. "She told me that I ought to go "Oh, here you are!" said she. "I to work, and then threatened me with thought I should overtake you if I the county jail, and finally-bless her took the short-cut. I've brought you dear little heart!-ended up by giving

He produced from the pocket of Uncle Job Vernor's trowsers a silver

The squire gruned broadly.

"Here comes the express delivery now with your box," said he. "Aud a good thing for you, Atherton, for my wife is going to have a tennis par-"Oh, never mind all that," inter- ty here this afternoon, and Matty Vernor is the champion player. You

"Rather," said Mr. Atherton.

Matty Vernor came to the tennis party in pale pink albatross cloth, cut after a semi-masculine fashion that was eminently calculated to drive any

But when Mrs. Somerset presented her to Mr. Atherton from New York, she changed color and started a little. "But-" hesitated Matty, in a bewildered manner. "You see, you wouldn't allow me to explain," reasoned he. "You were determined I should be a tramp. I couldn't get any innings then, but now's my time. Please may I make an unprejudiced statement?"

Matty listened to his explanation,

She would like to have run away, but she had not sufficient moral cour-

"And I gave you Uncle Job's old patience. "Uncle Job's things have as Matty's glance reverted to his clothes," said she wringing her hands

> "You never can know how acceptable they were," avowed Atherton. "And some bread-and-beef sand-

> "Ambrosia and nectar couldn't have tasted better. And the cup-custardsdon't forget the cup-custards and the huckleberry-pie. I was so indescrib> ably hungry, Miss Vernor." "And the quarter of a dollar-my last quarter! You'll give me back that quarter, Mr. Atherton?" said Matty, with a spice of her old mis-

> "Never!" said Atherton. "I'll part with that silver coin only with my > Matty dropped her head. "How I did lecture you!" said she. "How insolent I must have appeared !" "Not in the least," said Atherton. "Your advice was exactly suited to tramp. But I wasn't." "We are waiting to play, Matty!" cried Mrs. Somerset.

the occasion, if only I had been a

"Come on, Atherton!" bawled his host. "Do you mean to keep us waiting all day?" "Please," whispered Matty, catch-

"A thousand times over!" Atherton

"George," said Mrs. Somerset that

ORIENTAL SHOPS.

Bazars of Cairo.

A Confusion of Articles Useful and Ornamental.

The appearance of Oriental shops is well known. A square cavity hollowed out of a wall two feet above the ground, that is a shop at Cairo. Strictly speaking, it is nothing more than a large rectangular niche opening on to the street, with no way out either at the back or the sides, in which, instead of a statue, is a merchant squatting amongst his wares, or a workman at his task. These shops, instead of being scattered about in special structure for protecting these shops, as there is at Constantinople or at Tunis.

All these shops make curious pictures. There behind a mass of pots yellow copper—some black and rusty with age, others spick and span with newness, with here and there gleams of the red or straw-colored gold so dear to painters of still-life subjectsan Arab is busy at repousse-work, his hammering making a deafening noise which is heard afar off. Egyptian metal work is very fine, with a dignity all its own, and the common ewer in use amongst the poorest is of really extraordinary beauty of style.

Further on we come to a collection of red, black, or gray earthen-ware; cheap stoves, pipes, and vases, engraved with ornaments in intaglio, painted blue or red. This common Egyptian pottery disdained, I know often grand, and the forms found in Egyptian tombs have been preserved.

Next, gleaming like a border of jonregular flower bed for color. of the employers and workmen. The main the happiest of women. And in the midst of a confusion of Turkish slippers in scarlet or saffron leather crouches the cobbler stitching away or drilling holes with his awl.

up in an extraordinary manner. Fan- and children, apprenticeships, technicy an alley so short that it is barely cal education, insurance against acci- your father will object to my suit?" two hundred paces long; so twisted dents, etc. The names of the first that you can only see a scrap of it at a time; so narrow that the houses seem to be scowling at and ready to fall upon their opposite neighbors; and beneath the dull-hued lean-to walls, in every nook and corner, are shops full of dazzling objects; manycolored Oriental stuffs, figured brocades, dainty Arab jewelry, gleaming daggers and sabres, ancient damascened helmets, silver wine bottles, spread out or piled up for sale. And amidst this confusion of stuffs, weapons, and jewels in glass cases, or of unfolded silks, is the merchant, squatting in the shadow and smoking with absolute indifference, his dreamy eyes gazing forth in a kind of ecstacy of melancholy, whilst before him, in the transparent bowl of his nargilen, at each breath he draws, floats a regular flotilla of rose leaves, dancing, whirling round, and suffering shipwreck amongst the big bubbles on the surface. These shrewd old merchants really look like poets lost in the third heaven of blissful contemplation.

Immediately after sunset the life and motion of Cairo cease, and it is a rare thing to meet a native returning home on a dark night with a white paper lantern in his hand, or to see an Arab cafe still lit up, and with the candles hung up round the door, making a brightness in the descried street. -[Harper's Bazur.

Tools Used in the Pyramids. During a residence of two years in years ago were made with the jewelled darling! Only suppose they should coming to these conclusions, and soaked in nearly boiling water. proves in a very satisfactory manner that the pyramid builders used solid modern tools in creeting that greatest about $20,000,000.

of buildings. He also shows that their lathe tools were set with jewels, and that they did work with them that Curious Pictures of Life in the would puzzle the modern artisan. In one place he found where the lines of cutting on a granite core made by a tubular drill form a uniform depth throughout, showing that the cutting point was not worn as the work advanced.

The regular taper of the core would also go to prove that the drill was set with jewels on the inside and on the outside alike, thereby facilitating its removal. In some specimens of granite he found that the drill had sunk one-tenth of an inch at each revolution, the pressure necessary to accomplish this have been at least two tons. The capacity of the tools and the skill of the workmen are illustrated by the clean cut they made different streets, as in Europe, are all through soft and hard materials alike, together at certain corners; and when there being no difference in the width the corners are roofed in, they become of the groove when it passes through a bazar. For there is not at Cairo a soft sandstone and granite hard as iron. Nothing is known concerning the material of which their tools were made nor how the jewels were set. The diamond was very scarce at that time, therefore the only logical conand pans, dishes and plates of red and clusion is that they used corundum.-[Chicago Times.

Higher Council of Labor.

A British consular report gives an account of the new "Higher Council of Labor" which has come into existence in Belgium. The object of the new body is to form a permanent centre for the local councils of industry and labor, and to act as the intermediary between them and the Government; it will also advise the authorities in regard to labor legislation and labor questions generally. It is composed of 48 members, 16 representing employers and 16 workmen, while the remaining 16 are selected for special knowledge of economic not why, by dealers in Oriental ware, questions, all being, in the first inis extremely interesting. Its shape is stance, nominated by the Crown-They are appointed for four years, after which time it is hoped that the organization of the local labor counmembers during sessions are to receive $1.20 a day and traveling expenses. The first subjects for discussion are the application of the law of The bazar, par excellence, is broken 1889, regulating the work of women members have been published by royal decree, but it appears that the Socialists among the workmen are not satisfied because they think that the clerical element is unduly represented. Another Socialist has resigned because his party, which is in a majority in the local, is in a minority in the higher councils. Further trouble from this source is inevitable.

Restoring Breath in Desperate Cases.

Anybody may be called upon to afford assistance to drowned persons while the doctor is being sent for, and Professor Laborde's simple method for restoring breath when all other means have failed deserves to be universally known.

The other day at a watering place in Normandy two bathers, a young man and a boy, who were unable to swim, went out of their depth and disappeared. They were brought on shore inanimate and were taken to the village. Two doctors were sent for, but the young men gave no sign of life, and they were declared dead.

M. Laborde, who was fishing at half an hour's distance, came up as soon as he heard of the accident. He examined the body and found that the extremities were cold and the heart had stopped. Then taking hold of the root of the tongue he drew it viojently forward, giving it a succession of jerks in order to excite the reflex action of the breathing apparatus, sympathetically, "was a man of exwhich is always extremely sensitive, cellent qualities." "Yes," sighed the a tomb at Gizeh Wilheim M. Flinders | says the London News. At the end | widow, "he was a good man. Every-Petrie collected evidence showing that of a few minutes a slight hiccough the tools used in working stone 4000 showed that the patient was saved. In addition to the usual restorative longed to six clubs and as many cutting edges, as in the modern cus. means, Professor Laborde in extreme lodges." tom. He has stated his reasons for cases rubs the chest with towels and tubular drills, straight and circu- the Opera House in Paris. It covers

To-Morrow.

When Father Time. Now old and gray, Was in his prime,

I've oft' heard say, His one quest was to-morrow. With Eve he talked

The matter o'er, With Adam walked, His spirit sore-

His search was one of sorrow. From Jordan's tide

To far Cathay;

By Tiber's side In Casar's day, Fresh trouble he would borrow;

For where he went, Twas all in vain, Past time was spent,

To-day was plain-But where, where was to-morrow?

And so we see Him gray and old, Through years untold,

There's no ease for his sorrow. Go where he may, He'll simply find Just plain to-day,

Which lags behind That false mirage-te-morrow. -[R. L. Hendrick, in Youth's Companion.

HUMOROUS.

Driven to drink-Artesian wells. "How treacherous the ocean is."

'Yes, it is full of craft."

It can be said of the feminine fashion of suspenders that it is hold-

How many women get sympathy as supposed cripples who only wear tight shoes. "I think that young man's conduct simply shocking." "That's all right; it's professional with him. He's an electrician." He-We are now coming to a tun. nel. Are you not scared? She-Not a bit, if you will take that cigar out of your mouth. She-Do you love me for myself alone? He-Yes, and when we're married I don't want any of your family thrown in.

He-Carrie, will you make me the quils and popples with its masses of cils will have improved so as to be happiest of men? She—I should like red and yellow, is a shoe-shop, a capable of electing the representatives to Harry, but I think I prefer to re-

> Johnny-What did your mother whip you for, Jimmy? Jimmy-Eatin' green fruit. Johnny-Who gave ye away? Jimmy-The doctor.

"Miss Banknote, do you think that Miss Banknote-I guess not, for he wears one just about as loud himself. Said the lecturer: "The roads up these mountains are too steep and rocky for even a donkey to climb;

therefore I did not attempt the as-Yabsley-Do they set pretty appetizing meals at your house, Reddy? Reddy-Appetizing? Oh, yes. A fellow gets up hungrier than when he sat

Mrs. Timid-Did you ever find a man under the bed? Mrs. Bluff-Yes; the night we thought there were burglars in the house. I found my husband there. She-I should think that man would have a fearful load on his conscience. He—He would if it weren't for one thing. She-What's that? He--He hasn't the conscience.

Miranda (sobbing)—It is better in every way that we should part, dear Orlando. Orlando (in a choked voice) -()nly in one way, dearest. Miranda-Yes, beloved? Orlando (overcome with emotion)—It is cheaper,

"Did you go on that trout fishing excursion?' "I did." "Did you fish with flies?" "Fish with flies? Yes, we fished with them, camped with them, dined with them, slept with them-why, man, they almost ate us alive!"

"Your husband," said the caller, body says so. I wasn't much acquainted with him myself. He be-

Master Harry (a saucy young boarder at Breezy Farm)-1 say, Mr. Landlord, my papa wants to know if you The largest theatre in the world is expect to continue feeding us all on wind. The Landlord-Well, your lar saws and many other supposed nearly three acres of ground, and cost mamma said when she came here that it was principally for the air.

THE CALERA JOURNAL.

FRANK W. GIST, EDITOR.

Entered at the Post Office in Calera as Second Class Matter.

CALERA, WEDNESDAY NOV 16.

How many third party men and fusion republicans will be around looking for a job?

How thankfull we are that the democratic party has been purged of such men as Bowman, Kolb, Adams and Longshore.

Ir is consoling to every true democrat to feel that the party is relieved of the many chronic kickers that run off after the Weaver

THE result of Tuesday's election proves the fact that if Mr. A. P. Longshore ever gets to Washington, he will have to pay his fare or ride on a free pass.

One day since the election, a defeated third party man remarked we will be under monarchy in less than two years." A good domocrat who was present replied, "well, John, if we are we will have the consolation of knowing that no third party man will be King.'

Cain belonged to a good family. in life, for many a man fails be cause he is too honest to succeed.

"When we are laid beneath the sod, And a thousand years to back it No man can tell which were the bones That wore the ragged jacket."

THE following letter was picked up in Calera last Sunday:

Mr. A. P. Longshore-Dear Sir:-Were you recently a candidate? If so, when and where and at what time? Don't you think the United States supervisors and Marshals that were appointed to insure a fair vote counted you out?

THIRD PARTY.

to see in the newspapers complimentary mention of prominent leaders of the democratic party, Every democrat who voted for Cleveland and the candidate for congress, who represented his disregards of the women and children of the 4th district for every bailot cast for Cleveland electors and for man who could control only one vote and cast that vote for the right men and at the right time, deserves as much credit for what he did as the man who could control 100 votes.

GOOD ROADS.

Now lets turn our attention to good roads. This is a question of really more importance than the election of officers, and good roads would benefit our county more than the election of a president even. Bonds can be issued for this purpose and we could pay for improving our public highways without hardly feeling the additional burden. Now is the time to agitate convenes soon, and from that body and Birmingham the center of made business arrangements of a prithis question. The Legislature we will have to secure the authority to issue bonds. Let every man who feels an interest in this matter | Herald. (and every citizen of this county ought to be interested) should speak out, Shelby county needs better public roads. They will eost something of course, but in a few years we would not do without them at any price.

THE RESULT.

The result of Tuesday's election far sanguine democrat.

means that the nation is surely to the presidency with a clean persoand that the possibility of a Force bill borne no conspicuous part in the secis forever buried. Tariff reform is a tionalism of his party, and somehow certainty, and peace and prosperity the Southern people expected from reigns for four years, yea, for a quar- him a fairer policy and a generous reter of a century.

Moseley, Gaither, Sam Adams, Man- since Randall and Blaine defeated the ing, Baltzell, Tate, Blakemore, Long- Civil Rights bill. Hays and Arthur Zimmer.nan, Whatly, Collier, and ed with him. last but not least Kolb, have come to But the Force bill was defeated, and pents he can never cast a vote for Jno. of stone might well have melted.

Kolb can look back to his boast that he "would be seated as governor of pray for a lodge in the wildernes. B. that he escaped a kicking. Maning the Southern States. lost nothing and had nothing to gain. Blakemore will be able to blast that he made a campaign with a man who Do not judge a man by the could truthfully say, "I am a demoothes he wears: God made one crat." Tate still has a right to the title and the taylor the other. Do of colonel and nothing more. Longnot judge him by his family, for shore can look to the remark, "I'll be elected," and see how bad he lied. Do not judge a man by his failure Joe Parsons will remember that at one time he had hope of the title of congressman. Mothershed can retain his manuscript speeches. Zimmerman can cry out, "let me alone!" Parson Blackwell is a penitent on the plat that he was fooled. Whatley say: "grandma Cobb did get there in spite of Elmore, Autauga and Macon."

crow, and can rejoice over one of the grandest victories ever achieved.

A CRUEL REBUFF.

We are disappointed in the reception which the proposition to move the Capitol to Birmingham pected, cf course. they would as- late campaign in this State. sume that the question had two power to administer.

temporary at the Capitol calls it a ure of a great political leader and all For instance, our morning consenseless agitation," and says we trict and the democracy, deserves don't want any new issues-we does General Shelley desire at the hands special mention, and we here and want profound peace. That is ofMr. Cleveland?" The Age-Herald is now return our thanks and the kind hardly a respectful designation of in a position to say that General Shel-Robbins. No democrat did more Montgomery just now as the center there is no Federal office which he dethan was his duty to do, and the and haven of peace. Political peace sires. we do want, but when it comes to real and material progress, such as the removal of the Capitol stands Today he is politically the first of the will be actually frolicsome in its amongst his own people as a private esfervescence.

tribute to the refinement and hospitality of the people Montgomery, to which we must cordially subscribe. But we cannot believe that their cats dwell in their meal everything else,

Let the Capitol move.—Age-

Alabama needs a constitutional amendment whereby every city school district or township can levy a special school tax or not, as

Send us your job work.

BENJAMIN HARRISON.

Mr. Harrison comes from pure Virexceeds all xpectations of the most ginia stock. His grandfather from the Old Dominion. He is a man of The democrats have both houses of courage, was a gallant soldier, and is suspension. Its farewell is very congress and the President, which a man of pure private life. He came sad cognition of their position as loyal citi-Mr. Harrison is rebuked for a dis- zens of the United States. These ex honest administration. Mr. Cleve- pectations were disappointed by the shore, Joe Parsons, Mothershed, were paragons of nationalism compar-

grief and are now on the hunt for a the generous, patriotic, forgiving job; each one using his own language | South turned from the past to the fuin the way of consolation. And ture, He came among the Southern thankful are we that none of these people, and they gave him such royal standing the boycott of all other lemagogues claim for themselves any welcome; so free and hearty, with credit of the grand and glorious vic- music and flowers and the voice of children and the glad shouts of men Adams, can now truthfully say, he and the smiles of women, and the wav- try is to be congratulated on gethas burnt his arm off, and until he re- ing of the national flags, that a heart ting rid of them. Their mission

Yet he went back stronger than ever in his belief that the Southern States were rebellious provinces, and that "now Mr. Cleveland is elected Alabama," as a wild delusion. Gaith- her people too wicked to govern them- for their existence. er can console himself with the selves in the common issues of justice thought that he stands with his between man and man. More resopeople as he ever did. Baltzell can lute than ever to debase and degrade them, he entered upon his campaign K. Collier has the consoling thoughts for re-election, and expected help in His exit is accompanied by every circumstance that can contribute to the humiliation of a popular rebuke. He is the last relic of sectionalism. No sectional statesman will come to the front again. In turning its back to Benjamin Harrison, the country has turned its back to that which He has stayed pestilence at our door. he most offensively represented.

And yet, as he stands in his humiliation by the new-made grave of his beloved, loving wife, the man commands our sympathy and our pity. We can Herald.

GENERAL SHELLEY.

leaders of the country are praising people to observe, as we have been wont, has met at the hands of our Mont- Gen. Charles M. Shelley for his won- November, as a day of thanksgiving to gemery contemporaries. We ex-derfully skillful management of the God for his mercies and supplication for sides, and might submit some ar-|General Shelley's praise, as we have and caused the seal of the United States guments for Montgomery. But we heretofore gladly taken occasion to to be affixed. were not prepared for a rebuff as ssy: No other man in Alabama could distinct as it was in their limited have so well managed the campaign for the Democracy as General Shelley managed it. He rose to the full stat-

Everybody is asking. "What office a proposition which has at least ley desires no office at all. He has inthree-fourths of the people on our formed the senators and the members side of it, and the argument is not of congress from this State that he is HOUSE, SIGN AND ORNAMENtenable. The people do not regard in no sense a seeker after place, that General Shelley does not desire to go back to Washington; he would not Providers sent to The Journal go abroad under any consideration. for, we want stir and bustle that Alabamians, and he desires to remain citizen. In the time to come his peo-Our evening contemporary is ple will offer him reward, as they may even less respectful. It calls a deem proper. In the meantime, he proposition to allow the people to desires no political appointment. He rule, to cat in a meal tub," and led the glorious fight that resulted in EVEN THE DOG COULD'NT FIND defends that view of the case by a a glorious victory; but he did it as a citizen and a Democrat. He did not do it as a candidate for any place or in his desperate curiosity to discover position whatever. Nor is he now aspiring to political honors, though such honors will come to him inevitably.

The highest honors within the gift tubs. Nor do we think our contem- of the Alabama people await him, and porary was in earnest when it said he has but to consent to receive the office. Montgomery was the geographical laurel wreath of a great people's love and political center of the State, and admiration. From President Calera is the geographical center Cleveland he desires nothing. He has > than the admiration of Alabamians-He is blessed with their love .-- Age-Herald.

> Judge Cobb don't have to ask

THANK GOD.

Talladega's alliance baper, The Morgan & Lapsley, Southern Alliance, announces its

"With this issue we turn our under a democratic administration, nal record, as he leaves it. He has office over to our creditors. We have run the paper just one year, and during that time we have labored faithfully to advocate the cause of the farming and laboring people. They have failed to sustain the paper. We have mortlane has received his reward for virtue, prompt inauguration on his part of a gaged our outfit and our home to and honesty, and the honest people of policy more sectional and irritating sustain the paper until crops were Alabama rejoice that Magee, Bowman, than any the country had known gathered, hoping that those who had been taking and reading the paper would then come up and pay their subscription. Most of them have not done so, consequently we are forced to go under."

It is curious how these third-party organs all go down, notwithpapers. But whatever may be the explaantion of the anomaly, the coun has been that of firebrands, and now that they have failed in setting the woods afire, there is no reason

PROCLAMATION.

THE PRESIDENT ANNOUNCES THE 24TH OF NOVEMBER AS A DAY OF

THANKSGIVING.

Washington, Nov. 4.-The gifts of God to our people during the past year have been so abundant and special that a spirit of devout thanksing awaits not the call, but only the appointment of a day when it may have common expression. He has given us more love for free civil institutions in the creation of which. under his directing providence was so conspicuous. He has awakened a deeper reverence for the law. He has widened our philanthropy by a call to succor diswell imagine that the one consolation tress in other lands. He has blessed on which he looks out from the grief our schools and is bringing forward a within, is the fact that the spirit of his patriotic and God fearing generation to Democrats wont have to feast on wife broke from its tenement before execute his great and benevolent designs the people struck her husband down. for our country. He has given us great When such a thought is comfort, what | increase in material wealth, and a wide a call for human sympathy!-Age- diffusion of content and morals in the homes of our people. He has given his grace to the sorrowing; wherefore,

I, Benjamin Harrison, president of All Alabamains and the political the United States, do call upon all our his continued care and grace. In testi-And too much cannot be spoken in mony whereof I hereunto set my hand > day of November, one thousand eight & Georgia Railroad hundred and ninety-two, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and seventeenth.

BENJAMIN HARRISON.

By the president: JOHN W. FOSTER, See'y of State.

RUDDY AND

TAL PAINTERS.

Calcemining and Paper Hanging Done to Order,

office will be promptly tended to. 10-2

HUGH T. CAFFEY, PHYSICIAN & SURGEON CALERA, ALA.

b12-1v.

Mayor Oliver's democratic dog Jack office hunterite yesterday leaped into the window of the polls and re-echoed their dismal houl of August last. They are scarce when the dogs can't find them.

Job work done to order at this

Opium Habit cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine. IMPORTANT TO LADIES

Sir-I made use of your Philotoken with my last child, in order to procure vate nature, which are more conducive safe and easy travil. I used it about two months before my expected time, and I had a very quick and easy confinement. Nothing occurred to protract General Shelley has something more my convalescence, and I got about in less time than was usual for me. I think it a medicine that should be used by every expectant mother, for should they but try it as I have, they would never again be without it at such times. I am yours respectfully, ivwhere am I?" The handsome majority in the 5th district settled the question.
Mrs. ELIZABETH DIX.

Anymerchant or druggist can procure Risley's Philotoken for $1 a bottle. CHARLES F. RISLEY, Wholesale Druggist, 62 Cortlandt St., New York.

REGISTER'S SALE.

and by vir-A. M. Elliott, Trustee, et al tue of a decree rendered at the Spring term, 1892, of the Chancery Court of Shelby county Alabama, in the above entitled cause. I will proceed to sell, under the power contained in a Mortgage from H. M. Pierce, et al, to A. M. Elliott, trustee, at public outery, in front of the Court House door in the town of Columbiana, Sunday at 14 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday at 14 a. m. and 7 Alabama, on Monday, the 17th day of October, 7.00 p. m., every Thursday. 1892.

between the legal hours of sale, for cash, the following described real estate, situated near Calera in Sheby county, Ala., to wit: Fractions A, H, J, M, and the S of E and F of section 22, township 22, range 2, west; and the east half of north east quarter, section 2, township 24

This, August 11, 1892. D. R. McMILLAN, Register and Acting Trustee. 13aug-10w prs fee$16.50 Above sale continued to Monday

Occember 5, 1892. D. R. McMALLAN, Register. oct22 7w prs fee$10 50

	I	ALLIA	OWD 11	MIL TYDILL
		Louis	VILLE &	NASHVILLE.
0.	1,	South	Bound,	4:53 a. m.
40	-3,		66	4:14 p. m
15	9.	"	66	5:10 a. m
12	2,	North	Bound,	10:19 "
44	4	6.6	316	10:05 p. m.
• 1	10,	"	"	7:15 p. m.

AT THE CHURCHES

PRESBYTERIAN-Services on the 4th Sundays in each month, morning and night; pastor to be supplied. Sabbath School at 9:30 a. m.

METHODIST—Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night, by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sah-

Sunday at 14 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting at CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN-J. J. Dalton, postor. Preaching every first and third Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday evenings at 7:30. Children's Band meets 3:30 p. m. cach 1st and 3rd Sunday. Ladies' Aid Society every other Friday evening at 3.

INSURE YOUR LIFE.

Read and profit by the following sound counsel, every word of which snarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel:
"It is a duty you owe to yourself and amily to protect them with a reasonable amount of life insurance, where the stones of the financial world connect storms of the financial world cannot touch them; where the assessor cannot tax them; where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old sge should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do your duty and insure immediately in some good, old reliable Company."—Extract from a sermon by the Rev. T. De Witt Talmage.

Marion MILITARY Institute.

IVIARION, ALA.

Superior Accommodationrs and Board. Superintendent, h family and faculty live in building with students.

Classic and Scientific. Superior Commercal Course. TERMS MODE-

COL. J. T. MURFEE, Superintendent,

sept3 3m

Marion, Alabama.

SIX MILE MALE && FEMALE ACADEMY.

R. H. PRATT, Principal.

35th annual session begins September 26, IS92, and continues 40 WEEKS.

ONE WEEK FOR CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS. TERMS.—Primary Department—per month..... Intermediate, including English branches and Latin, Higer branches of Mathematics, French, Greek, with the above,$3 00 Music and use of instrument, 3 00 Board-per month, $7. Washing, Starching, Ironing $1......$8 00 Students are required to furnish, for their own use, one pr. blankets, one pr. sheets and pillow cases, their own toilet lights. Payments, monthy or quarterly in advance. This school is located at Six Mile, Alabama, in a healthy, well watered

Done at Washington, this the fourth neighborhood, five miles from Ashby depot, on the East Tennessee, Virginia

3sept 6m

R E PRATT, PrIncipal,
Six Mile, Alabama.

Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats Shoes, Gents & Ladies Dress Goods,

Have one of the Largest Stocks of Hats, Shoes, Clothing, Notions,

Dry Goods, and General Merchandize, Ever Brought to Shelby County

OPPOSITE OUR DRY GOODS HOUSEWe have Opened up a.....

OTH STOCK

OUR

WILL BE IN THIS HOUSE AT ALL TIMES WAIT ON YOU and price Furniture as Low as any House in Alabama.

Our Campaign Goods are as neat and as Choose as any in the State.

A. C. WADE & CO.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Renew your subscription. Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Fills. 50 doses to con-Mr. R. T. Johnson, of Simmons, Ala., pent last Friday in Calera. Mr. W. L. Bellinger, a conductor on he E. T. V. & G. railroad, spent an wening with Mr. Gus Finley last week.

Bird hunting is on the program now, and the nimrod car be seen issuing mm the back alleys, and returning like-

There will be a union Thanksgiving sermon on Thursday, November 24, at the Methodist church, at 11 a. m. Everybody invited to be present.

While Mrs. Martha Coe was out seetook a suit of clothes and a clock.

Mrs. Wade's Sunday school class benefit of the church.

At the residence of the bride's mother. on Sunday night last by Rev. Arnold, pastor of The Randolph circuit, Mr Jim Collins and Miss Avelia Cox. We learn that Mr. Will M. Talley, the month to take charge of a drug store in Clarksville, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Lanham left ed Shelby's loyalty to the party: for Rome, Ga., on last Monday visiting relatives of the groom.

A full attendance of all members of the Christian Endeavor Society, is earnestly desired at their meeting next Sunday afternoon, 3 o'clock promptly. All who may wish to unite with them are cordially invited to be present.

The Christian Endeavor Society's Missionary service which was to have taken place at the Cumberland Presbyterian church, on next Sunday night, has been postponed until the first Sun- to forget and forgive, and this proposiday night in December. The programme will be published in due time.

The editor has been to Montgomery, was before the Senate caucus for doorkeeper, and met with defent. He is back at the helm, ready for orders in the job and newspaper office, prepared to fill any calls in our line at the very shortest notice.

The young people of Calera should make hay while the sun shines, and make some preparations for winter amusements. The winter with its cold and dreary nights is here and will prove to bring lonesome hours, unless prevented.

On Saturday last, two gentlemen from Etowah county, passed through Calera with a druve of ten yoke of the finest cattle we have seen for many days. they were driving them to the piny woods of Butler county, to sell to some of the large saw mills in that county.

Mr. S. K. Harrell, who has been visiting his legion of friends in this city will leave for his home in Atlata, in a few days. Syd is always welcomb. ed to Calera, who is proud of all such young men'and we heartily commend him to the best people where ever he goes as such as he are scarce.

In Randolph, last Thursday night at 7 o'clock, Mr. John Weeks and Miss Belle Spinks were married, Rev. Mr. Arnold officiating. The contracting parties are favorities in the village of Randolph, the place of their birth, and they have the congratulations of the entire

a church during prayer meeting services this week. Tonight, at the Presbyterian; Thursday night, at the Baptist; Friday night, at the Cumberland Presbyterian church. Remember that this is the schedule of prayer meetings in Calera; but beginning with Tuesday awhile before we could get to his night, when it is held at the Methodist.

ers living in the city who have not paid their subscriptions to the Jour-NAL for last year. To all such this is a direct call for you to pay up, so our eyes fell upon such placards we can make a new list for the second volume. If there is a blue X on two spools of Coats' thread for a the margin you may know it is an 'nick;' $7 pants for $4; $7.50 suits clean aprons donned, tangled locks appeal to pay your dues. of underwear for $3.50," and so on. reduced to submission, and when

UNION

THANKSGIVING SERVICES TO BE HELD AT THE METHODIST CHURCH, NOV. 24-A CORDIAL WEL-

COME FOR ALL.

of the Thanksgiving services to be held at the Methodist church, Thursday, November 24, at 11 ink and other modes of advertiseo'clock, a. m.

MASTER OF CEREMONIES: Prof. W. B. Greek. OCCASION OF THANKSGIVING : Rev. Z. A. Dowling.

THANKSGIVING: Rev. J. A. Dalton,

Mr. H. C. Moss. Mr. A. C. Wade, Mr. W. E. Brinkerhoff, Mr. J. S. Bridges.

Miss Lula Jones.

MUSICAL COMMITTEE: Mrs. J. S. Bridges, Miss Juna McKibbon

Mrs. A. C. Wade,

GRAND DEMOCRATIC

RATIFICATION AND JOLIFICATION AT COLUMBIANA.

OLD SHELBY

ficent Manner.

Spreads Herself In a Magni-

Notwithstanding the damp and disagreeable night, about one hundred true democrat4 assembled at the depot last up and provisions is getting cheap-Monday night to await the train bound er. for the county seat, to participate in the ing the circus parade last Friday, some glorious celebration of our recent politiperson or persons entered her home and cal success. The train arrived at 7:30 p. m .- and like at the polls-Montevallo was well represented; the train dewill give a "conundrum tea" at the parted at 7:30 and arrived at Columbi-Black's Hall tomorrow night for the ano about 8 o'clodk, where a crowd of Old Shelby's patriotic sons awaited us with music, banners and cheers We fell in twoes and marched fully two thousand stong to the court house where men, whose democracy could not bequestioned, addressed us, and were cheered as each word fell from their lips-while prescriptionist of G. J. Wright, will pure democratic preaching, cannonading leave Calera about the first of next and fireworks were dazzling in their magnificence and profusion.

The following democrats compliment-

D. R. McMillian, Judge J. T. Leeper, where they will spend several days Dr. Rowe, Mr. Oden and last but not least our distinguished son W. R. Oliver.

Mr. Jno. B. Randall also addressed the assembly in an appoligizing way. God speed to return him to the democratic party; we forget and forgive him for the past and honestly regret his actions and believe he will come back to the fold.

Mr. Randall is a good and noble man. A man that any community might be proud of-although he was led astraybut the noblest work of God and man is tion is freely extended to him and in the future no questions ofthe past will be mentioned.

WAIL OF THE WILTED.

Oh, kick me, Whitelaw, kick me!
Ah, never mind the pain,
For may old Satan lick me
If ever I run again!
The lone whangdoodle whineth
Low down the vale of gloom,
Gone where the woodbine twineth
And the sycamore's case to blood

And the sycamore's cease to bloom.

The drear Salt river glideth
On you horizon low,
A gaunt grey specter strideth
Down the path that I must go.
The dying sun declieth
Above the night's vault of doom:
Gone where the woodbine twineth
And sycamores cease to bloom!

Defeat is ever painful,
And painful thrice to me,
Since my own State disdainful
Went right square back on me,
My lofty genius pineth.
And droops my grandpa's plume;
Gone where the woodbine twineth
And the sycamores cease to bloom.

If I should ever try it
At some long distant day,
I'll fling my big hat by it
And run the other way. Where you sunrise shineth,
My foeman's banners loom:
Gone where the woodbine twinet's

And the sycamores cease to bloom, -Montgomery M. Folsom, in Atlanta Jour-

A GREAT SURPRISE.

WHAT WE SAW IN BIRMINGHAM-WHAT OTHERS CAN SEE IN THE MAGIC CITY.

It was our pleasure while in Birmingham last week to be directed to the great Surprise Store, where See that you are found on the inside of the management is Chaving an unprecedented run to their unusually cheap sales of Fire Damaged Goods. We didn't go there to trade, but to see the business man. We found the rush so great that it was quite office. We made our business There are some of our subscrib- known in a few woads, and as we came out through the immense throng of purchasers and salesmen as: "$20 suit for $10; $4 hat for $1;

Mr. Marcus informed us that he desired those who wanted to purchase damaged goods to call, and to those who do not to stay away, and give room to those who do.

Thousands of people who read the tions for school have created. Birmingham dailies will remember that on the night of July 5, last, the Surprise Store was burned and $60,000 worth of damaged goods The following is the programme were turned over to the Insurance over, and being such instead of litcompanies, who in turn insisted on Mr. Marcus selling them for what thought, this same excitement in he could get. His faith in printers ing has caused a continu- long as the world stands and edual rush since that time, and he has cation must be acquired. now employed an extra corpse of salesmen for Fair week. When you attend the Fair go to the Sur-PRISE STORE, sign of the "Live Fireman," and get bargains never before offered you for the money. Remember at this Store, if you are not satisfied with your purchase they will return the money rather than lose time in talking to you. and if you want to buy goods you can do or not as vou choose.

Mr. W. L. Lanham and Mrs. Jones, nee Campbell were married Detroit Free Press. at the Methodist church last Sunday at 11 o'clock, Rev. Z. A. Dowling party men are rejoicing over the gets to the end of it. election of Cleveland and the domocratic congress .

CLEVELAND's election has already given the lie to the republican prophet of disaster. Cotton is going

Almost every city, town and village in the nation has held jollification meetings, and those that have held no regular meetings have been happy over the election of Cleveland and a democratic con-

St. Vitne' Dance cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

MR. S. H. GIST, redito of the Calera Journal, is a candidate for Door Keeper of the Senate. Mr. Gist is an eternal and persistent democrat, never denies the faith and can always be relied on when work for his party is needed and it would be nothing but right for every democratic senator to vote for him and we believe that he will be elected so soon as the senators know that old man Sam is there and after that office. Success to you Bro. Gist, for best of all you deserve it .- Shelby Says the Chicago Mail: "A Cleveland ratification meeting in Birmingham, England, will be a good deal more consistent with the manufacturing interests of that place than one at Birmingham, Ala., can be with its interests." The Mail should come down and see us tomorrow night. Birmingham knows on which side her bread is buttered. She tried Cleveland four years and her population increased from 5000 to nearly 30,000.

Dr. Milee' New Heart Cure at Druggists.

GETTING READY FOR SCHOOL,

In many a household in the land there is an interval in the morning between breakfast and 9 o'clock, remarks the Philadelphia Times, that is the most vexatious portion of the day. It is the hour when little folks are getting ready to start out to school, and unless they are wonderfully well trained little folks indeed they cause more excitement and worry than their mother is able to get over before they return at

"A place for everything and everything in its place," seems an adage utterly unknown to them. Arithmetics, geographies and gram. mars are nowhere to be found, though each little owner is absolutely sure that they put them in a certain place over night, but when morning arrives, by some extraordinary influence this place has changed, and a hunt up and down stairs, mingled with many ejaculations that they will be late, is the

Hats and ccats likewise decamp nother assists in the search, and is also called upon to aid the small scholar who was too sleepy the night before to do certain sums that take so much more time in the morning than he had imagined. The hands of the clock creep around toward 9. Lunches must be put up at last the front door bangs behind the little men and women, a weary mother sets to work to restore or der out of the chaos their prepara-

We can all breach about the remedy for this sort of thing, but children are children the world tle paragons of neatness and forethe morning hours will occur as

CHRISTMAS.

CANDY: To enlarge the market for our Candies we will send from now until Christ-Candies we will send from now until Christmas a pail of our very best mixed Cream Candy to any address on receipt of $1.0 (2 Cts stamps taken and Express charges paid). Only one pail sent to one person, and all orders must be made on or before Dec. 20, if you want to get our candy in time for Christmas. State your nearest Express shipping point. Please show pail of candy to your friends and neighbors.

Address: THE FANCY CANDY CO

ENDS OF THOUGHT.

They who marry where they do not love are apt to love where they do not marry. A misspent life is like a wasp.

Even republicans and people's One does not feel the sting until he Pleasure must be always well dressed. Happiness never thinks about its clothes.

If the earth stopped to rest it would drop out of space.

Doctrine brings no sinners to epentance. A liar will break all the other commandments if he gets a chance. Trust a womans judgment, but not her feelings.

Wrinkles come to say. God makes character; man makes reputation.

Oct 8-3m

COUNTY OFFICERS.

Proba'e Judge—John S. Leeper. Circuit Clerk—W. R. A. Milner. Register in Chancery—D. R. McMil-Sheriff-H. W. Nelson. Tax Collector—A F. Smith.
Tax Assessor—John H. Hammonds.
County Tiersurer—W. A. Thompson. uperintendent of Education-E. O.

County Solicitor-J. L. Peters. County Commissioners-James Mc-Gowan, Rufus Walker, Richard Griffin,

Subscription only $1 a year.

HEART DISEASE 20 YEARS.

Dr. Mues Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

DEAR SIRS: For 20 years I was troubled with heart disease. Would frequently have falling spells and smothering at night. Had to sit up or get out of bed to breathe. Had pain in my left side and back most of the time; at last I became dropsical. I was very nervous and nearly worn out. The least excitement would cause me to THOUSANDS faint. I was with fluttering. For the last fifteen years I could not sleep on my left side or back until began taking your New Heart Cure. I had not taken it very long until I felt much better, and I can now sleep on either side or back without the least discomfort. I have no pain, smothering, dropsy, no wind on stomach or other disagreeable symptoms. I am able to do all my own housework without any trouble and consider myself cured.

Elkhart, Ind., 1888. MRS. ELMBA HATCH.

It is now four years since I have taken any medicine. Am in better health than I have been in 40 years. I honestly believe that Dr. Milosi New CURED Heart Cure saved my life and made me a well woman. I am now 62 years of age, and am able to do a good day's work.

May 20th, 1892. MES. ELMBA HATCH.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR MONEY RETURNED.

J. L. PETERS. HENRY WILSON, E. S. LYMAN

Peters, Wilson & Lyman, ATTONEYS AT LAW,

F W ROGAN, CEEZ LUEUUUU MONTEVALLO, ALA..

Office of Southern Express Co.

I KEEP CONSTANTLY ON HAND A COMPLETE LINE OF Wood Coffins and Caskets from the Chrpest to the Finest. Also, a full Line of Ladies, Gents, and Childrens' Burial Suits.

Orders by telegram promptly Filled.

-GO.TO-Mrs. S. H. McCauley'

NEAR THE DEPOT.

MILLINERY -- GOODS.

A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hats in the Lates Styes, and at Reasonable Prices.

Now is the time for everyone who cherishes good health, to pay particular at tention to the condition of their blood and its proper circulation. Nearly all diseases that flesh is heir to are caused and agravated by an impure condition of the

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS Possessing Extraordinary Cleansing Powers

Restoring and Strengthening the whoe System, Enriching the Bood-producing increased vitality by restoring an impaired digestion and bringing, back the bloom of youth to the cheek of the enfeebled and emaciated.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle-6 Bottles for $5.00. For aleby All Druggists.

Nabors, Morrow, & Sinnige.

SOLE CONTROLERS,

Birmingham.

WORDS ABOUT THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION.

Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers -12 Pages.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT.

1. It is the best of all weekly news- "Aunt Susie," the editress of these de-

the household.

3. It covers the news of the whole itable sketches appear each week.
world, having its correspondents scattered over the globe, and having a thorthese the start of the sturdy champion of the agricultural

ough news service from every important interests of the south.

news center in the world.

4. Its Agricultural Department alone is worth many times its subscription price to every farmer. This department is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, wnose service is retained by the Constitution at great expense.

5. Its Woman's and Childeren's Departments are a source of infinite pleasure to every family, and the name of south.

8. It pays more money for its special features and for its news service than any of the south, and much more than any weekly newspaper in America.

9. It is the cheapest, being only One Dollar ser year, each paper at the price of a postage stamp. Think of it! Every time a hen lays an egg she pays fer one issue of the greatest weekly newspaper in the world.

2. It is invaluable to the tarmer and throughout the south.
the farmer's family, bringing each week cheer to the fireside and happiness to mus and a host of other special writers.

Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of your neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulated home should be without it. Agents Wanted in every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information.

THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

Banking kouse Uf

W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co.

CALERA; ALABAMA.

Receive Deposits,

Negotiate Loans,

I
Louissue interest bearing certificates of Deposit, and sell exchange on New York
Sville and Birmingham anking business, such as that of any incorporated
We transact a general ba would be pleased to open accounts with Eerchants, manufacturers and planters alike.

Fire and Life Insurance

Rented upon just terms.

"I wants you ter arrest Sam Johnsing foh batt'ry, sah!" he exclaimed. "For assault and battery, you mean," suggested the dispenser of justice.

"No, sah. Jess foh battery, sah."
"How can that be?"
"t wuz jess dis way.

"Well, sah, it wuz jess dis way. Mah mewl bruk inteh Johnsing's cohn patch, an' w'en Johnsing druv 'im hum he call me a no good, fool niggah."
"Yes."

"I.w'an't gwine to stan' dat nohow, so I ups an guff him a whack wif a fence stake, sah."

"Why, then, you assaulted him!"
"Yes, sah, I did, sah. But he dong de batt'ry. He mos' battered de life outen me, sah."

How Animals Amuse Themselves.

In animals the faculty of amusement awakes very early. Our fourfooted friends seem to be aware of this, and make it a part of their parental duties to amuse their young. A ferret will play with her kittens, a cat with hers, a dog with her pupples.
A mare will piay with her foal, though the writer has never seen a cow try to amuse her calf, nor any birds their young. If their mothers do not amuse them, the young ones invent games of their own.

A flock of ewes and lambs were once observed in adjoining fields, separated by a fence with several gaps in it. "Follow my leader" was the game most in favor with this flock, the biggest lamb leading around the field and then jumping the gap, with all the others following in single file; any lamb that took the leap unusually well would give two or three more enthusiastic jumps out of sheer exuberant happiness when it reached the other side. Fawns played a sort of cross touch from one side to the other, the "touch" in each case being by the Little pigs are also great at combined play, which generally takes the form of races. Emulation seems to form part of their amusement, for their races seem always to have the winning of the first place for their object, and are quite different from those combined rushes for food, or causeless stampedes in which little pigs are wont to indulge. Racing is an amusement natural to some animals, aud, being soon taught by others, becomes one of their most exciting passtimes.

Many horses, and all racing dogs, learn to be as keen at winning as schoolboys. Birds delight in the free and fanciful use of their wings. There is all the difference possible between the flight of birds for "business" and pleasure; and many kinds on fine days, will soar to vast heights for pleasure alone.

WE have noticed that good people usually wait until a guest has repeated all the gossip she knows before admonishing her on the sinfulness of gossiping.

Children of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Soller Altoona, Pa.

Both Had Eczema In Its Worst Form

After Physicians Failed, Hood's Sarsaparilla Perfectly Cured.

Great mental agony is endured by parents who see their children suffering from diseases caused by impure blood, and for which there seems no cure. This is turned to joy when Hood's Sarsaparilla is resorted to, for it expels the foul humors from the blood, and restores the diseased skin to fresh, healthy brightness. Read the following:

"We think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most valuable medicine on the market for blood and skin diseases. Our two children suffered terribly with the Worst Form of Eczema

for two years. We had three physicians in that time, but neither of them succedeed in curing them or even in giving them a little relief. At last we tried Hood's Sarsaparilla and in a month both children were perfectly cured. We recommend as a standard family medicine, and would not be without it." MR. and MRS. M. M. SOLLER, 1412 Second Avenue, Altoona, Pa. Hood's Pills cure liver ills, constipation, billousness, jaundice, sick headache, indigestion.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

ADVICE TO WOMEN

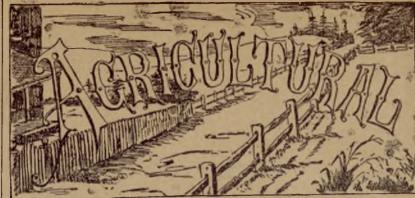

If you would protect yourself from Painful, Profuse, Scanty, Suppressed or Irregular Menstruation you must use

CARTERSVILLE, April 26, 1896.
This will certify that two members of my immediate family, after having suffered for years from Menstrual Irregularity, being treated without benefit by physicians. being treated without benefit by physicians, were at length completely cured by one bottle of Bradtled's Fermale Regulator. Its offect is truly wonderful. J. W. STRANGE.

Book to "WOMAN" mailed FREE, which contains valuable information on all female diseases.

BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO. FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

HOW TO IMPROVE BEES.

An American writer on bee culture advocates the crossings of ordinary bees with the giant bees of India, so as to obtain a race with a longer proboscis and perhaps of increased size. If this improved race were then crossed with the South American stingless bee, he believes a breed would be obtained having all the good points of the Italian bee, with lengthened proboscis and no sting. The same authority considers that the swarming instinct might be successfully bred out of bees if it were deemed desirable to destroy it .- Detroit Free Press.

HINTS TO BUTTER-MAKERS. Be careful not to overwork the butter, injuring the grain and making grease of it. Work by pressure and not by friction. A slanting worker with a movable roller or with a level attached at one end will be found to lessen the labor, and is much preferable to the bowl and ladle. Put up in a neat and attractive form, and get it to the consumer as quickly as possible. If it is thought better to do so it may be packed solidly in tubs or crocks and covered with butter whoth or parchment paper and a salt plaster so as to exclude the air. To this salt-covering fresh brine should be added from time to time. To prepare ash or spruce tubs to be filled with butter they should be soaked with brine for one or two days, afterward rinsed, scalded and have salt sprinkled on the inside before packing in the butter. Tin-lined butter tubs arc used by a number of butter makers.

—American Dairyman.

DON'T.

Don't strike your horse when he is doing his best before the carriage on a trot, or before a a heavy load on a walk.

Don't drive a horse or team without a whip; it may save your life and that of your team at a railroad crossing or on the side of a steep bank.

Don't water your horse or team when hot with exercise or hard work; if they need refreshing sponge out the mouth.

Don't allow your team to stand in the stall with muddy legs and body after you have by fast driving on muddy roads splashed them all over with mud; wash their legs and then rub until dry.

Don't allow the check of your horse's bridle to raise his head higher than he would naturally carry it; it is a cruel torture, and the fashion which demands it is a detestable folly.

Don't allow your farrier to pare the heels of your horse's hoofs because they are soft and easy to cut, but make him pare the toes when they need it, even if they are hard.

Don't drive your horses fast down a steep decline if you desire to keep their legs straight. Don't work a colt before he is three years old, and after that only in a gentle and light-work fashion. Don't breed a mare until she is four expect to raise sizeable and serviceable Don't give your horses double feed, because you intend for him to do a hard day's work; give him extra care after the

Don't strike your cow because in fighting flies she happens to hit you a whack across the face with her fly brush; she does not know that your head is in the way.

Don't allow your stock to run down in flesh before you begin feeding, simply because we are dating our letters September instead of November. When the pastures are dry and bare and the fields have all been gleaned, your live stock needs feeding, even if it be only July or August; it is poor economy not to feed under such circumstances.

Don't feed your swine more than they will eat up clean at a meal. It is better to feed a little and often, even from three to five times in a day, if you desire to fatten them quickly. Don't waste your money buying fancy stock of any kind, unless you are able and willing to give them fancy treatment. Without this they will soon lose their fancy looks and condition, and you will lose your fancy for fancy stock and your cash as well.

Don't allow your wife to pick up chips and corn cobs when you ought to have a good wood pile ready cut and a coal bin full of coal near by.

Don't attempt to keep house and go on farming without a good agricultural and secular paper. Provide a good magazine and a religious journal as well, and also literature for the youngsters. You cannot afford to do without these. -St. Louis Republic.

FARM AND GARDEN NOTES. Keep the best ewe lambs on the farm for breeders.

Save seed from the finest and smooth-Get in your bulbs for winter and early spring blooms. Leaf mold makes good material for potting most plants. Fowls like fresh water in the fall as well as in the summer.

mow them and burn so as to destroy as many seeds as possible. Some sheep breeders are unable to see

If there are large weeds in the garden the faults and imperfections in their own flock, but can't see anything good in the flocks of others.

The general ignorance of physical and of time. -St. Louis Republic.

economic conditions of flock success is the most serious hindrance to-day of extending and re-establishing sheep keep-

Of the cheap remedies used to rid cabbages of worms a gardener found two ounces of saltpeter and a handful of salt to two gallons of water the most effec-tive. On another's plants air slacked lime did the best work.

The greatest profit, as a rule, is made off those hogs the weight of which is under 200 pounds. While a hog is young he, with the same amount of food, is capable of taking on more flesh than when he reaches an older age.

White clover stands first as a honey plant, and linden second. The blossoms of the latter are peculiar. They are yellow in color, and arranged so that the nectar is easily gotten by the bees, and they can load up quickly and heavily.

The best method of feeding bees in winter is to give them a frame of honey. All colonies do not consume the same amount of store, so that enough combs may sometimes be spared from those which have plenty to supply the needy.

It will be a treat to the pigs if they are allowed the full privilege of running through the orchard. Besides, they will do a vast amount of good by eating fruit which in decaying forms an admirable breeding place for disease and spores of Japanese Flower Ceremonial.

The visitor must leave his fan in the antechamber, and, entering the reception-room, seat himself respectfully on his heels in front of the shrine. If there are three kakemonos (pictures on rollers), he must examine first the central one, then that to the left, and, lastly, the one on the right hand. He then is supposed to signify his opinion as to the exact degree of admiration to be expressed according to the character of the specimens. Indiscriminating gush is not permitted in polite circles. The respectful inspection over and the proper things said, the host presents to his guest, on a tray, cut flowers and oranches, a knife, scisors, a small saw, a vase, and a napkin, at the same time rolling up the kakemonos, "as it is considered to be demanding too much of visitor to expect him to extemporize a flower arrangement in harmony," but the guest may face the difficulty and retain the unfamiliar background. The master of the house now offers one of his most precious vases suitable to the season and the flowers, and the visitor pleads his inability to do justice to so beautiful a receptacle, but if pressed to make use of it he must then take care that the arrangement is simple and unobtrusive, so as not to distract attention from the vase. When completed, the implements are again arranged on the tray, with the exception of the scissors, which are "left near the flowers as a silent and modest invitation years old and has her full growth if you to the master of the house to correct faults." The host sweeps up the rubbish and takes away the tray. The other visitors, who have meantime been waiting in the anteroom, are now admitted to pay the proper compliment. Before leaving, the artist, unless a person of superior rank, takes the flowers out of the vase; "it is considered presumptuous of him to quit without desumptuous of him artists." stroying the evidence of his skill."

Should the entertainer by inadvertence have supplied scented flowers on an occasion such as an "incensed meeting," when perfume is prohibited, the polite artificer makes no remark, but snips off the blossoms, leaving only the unopened and scentless buds. The flowers must not be offered trimmed, or they might look as if they had been previously used .- Saturday Review.

Water Clocks of Olden Times.

It appears that the Assyrians were the first people to divide the day into portions of time; also, that they were the inventors of the clepsydra, or water clock, the division of time and the invention both belonging to a period too remote for precise calculation. All we know of the history of the clepsydra is that the apparatus was in use at the time of the overthrow of the first Assyrian Empire,

This water clock, the first of the timekeepers, was nothing more than a cylindrical brass vessel capable of holding several gallons of water. At one side there was a very small hole through which the water was allowed to trickle. something after the fashion of the emptying of an hourglass. From experiments made on recently discovered clopsydras it is calculated that one would empty itself about once every two hours. Under the reign of Phul, the Royal Palace of Nineveh, as well as each of the principal districts of the city, possessed a water clock of the same size, shape and capacity. They were filled at a signal from the watchman on the tower, who moment of the rising of the sun. Durofficials whose duty it was to fill them as often as they became empty. Besides these "time-masters" there was a regular staff of criers, working under municipal authority, who, as often as the clocks were emptied, passed through the principal streets announcing the fact for the benefit of the people in general. In this way our remote ancestors managed to get a rough computation of the flight

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

E confidently assert, on the evidence of all the most

WHAT THE COLUMBIAN EXHIBI-TION WILL DO FOR AMERICA.

It Will Far Surpass the Paris Exhibition in Artistic Interest-The Most Beautiful Spectacle ot Our Generation.

experienced judges of art whom it has been possible for us to consult, that the Chicago Exhibition will far surpass even the Paris one of 1889 when considered in its entirety and for its artistic interest. A much more beautiful, scholarly and monumental type of architecture has been adopted for its main buildings; acces sory works of an ornamental kind will be more numerous, more imposing, and more original, while at least equally artistic in character; greater care is being taken that harmony of effect shall not be injured by the aspect of minor works of utility or decoration; and the neighborhood of the great lake, and the novel and skillful way in which wide expanses of water and varied plantations have been made the basis of the plan of the grounds themselves, will much more than compensate for the absence of a rushing river like the Sieue and a dominating hill like the Trocadero. The Eiffel Tower is a marvelous, an interesting, and hardly an ugly structure; but it is not an artistic structure. It did not conflict with its surroundings at Paris. But anything resembling it-anything remarkable chiefly for size or for mechanical ingenuity-would look painfully out of place on the Chicago grounds. This fact suffices to prove their higher degree of beauty; and the fact that no conspicuous structure appealing in any way to mere curiosity, or to the love of the new or the marvelous, has been contemplated by the authorities at Chicago, proves how seriously and wisely artistic a spirit is controlling the great enterprise.

Those who fail to see the exhibition of 1893 will fail to see the most beautiful spectacle which has been offered to the eyes of our generation. But those who have time to see only its general aspect, without studying any of its collectionswonderfully interesting though these will be-will have seen the very best of

When we remember what a great impulse was given to the popular love of art by the collections shown in the exhibition of 1876, what may we not expect as a result of the stately, beautiful, and truly poetic panorama of art that will be unrolled before the eyes of the Nation in 1893? It will show for the first time, to scores of thousands of Americans who have never traveled abroad and can scarcely hope to do so, what is the meaning of the word beauty, what is the significance of the word art. It will convince them, as nothing else but long and intelligent foreign travel could, that beauty is an enjoyable thing, that art is a thing worth striving for and paying for. Indeed, no amount of foreign travel could teach this lesson so clearly as it will be taught to the average American by the plain fact that all this stately splendor was thought worth geting and worth paying for by hard-headed American business men, and for a merely temporary purpose. One constantly hears expressions of regret that buildings and sculptures so costly and beautiful should be destined to just for a few months only. But, in truth, their transitory character will vastly augment their missionary power. Even the most ignorant may dimly understand that it is worth while to take pains and spend money upon a result which is to be for all time; but at Chicago they will be told that this is worth while even for a result of almost ephemeral duration. Had Chicago equaled Paris, it would be greatly to our credit; but it has surpassed Paris. Had it produced a beautiful exhibition in imitation of the Paris Exhibition, it would again be much; but it has conceived an entirely different ideal, and carried it out on entirely novel We shall have an exhibition more dignified, beautiful and truly artistic than any the world has seen; and it will be entirely our own, in general idea and in every detail of its execution. It will convince all cultivated Americans, we repeat, of the vitality and vigor and independence of American art; and, we believe, its effect upon the vast public which will view it will convince them of the genuiness of the nascent American love of art.

Tanning Skins.

Making leather from the skins of animals is one of the oldest arts practised by mankind. In its rudest form among savages it consisted in removing the hair and then reducing the skin to a dry and flexible condition, in which pulling it and working it with the hands were leading agencies. In tanning as now practised the hides are first subjected to a lime and water treatment, which loosens the hair and enables the fat and loose flesh to be easily scraped off. Other preparatory processes follow, but the chief agency in making leather is the bark of certain trees which is ground up and placed in vats, generally sunk into the ground. Here a thick solution of bark and water is made in which the prepared skins are placed and remain until the tannic acid of the bark changes the entire character of the skin. For this purpose the bark of oak trees is prewas stationed there to proclaim the ferred, but the bark of hemlock trees is also used to a considerable extent. This ing the day they were in the custody of atter process formerly occupied a year or nore, but at present, with improved nethods, the finished leather is turned out in a much shorter time. Drying, oilng, blacking and dressing the hides thus tanned are the finishing processes in eather-making.—New York World.

The entire enlistment of American soldiers in the Revolutionary War was only 80,761—hardly three per cent. of the Union Army in the Civil War. in Olden Times

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action, but now that it is gen erally know that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well informed people will not buy other laxatives which act for a time, but finally injure the President McLeol insists that ever letter received at the Reading railroad office shall to answered on the day of its arrival.

MALARIA cured and eradicated from the system by Brown's Iron Bitters, which enriches the blood, tones the nerves, aids digestion. Acts like a charm on persons in general lit health, giving new energy and strength.

Kaiser William of Germany is only 32 years old, though already the father of seven children.

Brown's Iron Bitters cures Dyspensia, Malaria, Biliousness and General Debi ity. Gives Strength, aids Digestion, tones the nervescreates appetite. The best tonic for Aursing Mothers, weak women and children.

Rev. Dr. Hoffman, who owns the Hoffman House, New York city, is the richest clergy-man in the world.

The Only One Ever Printed. CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

Those is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alke except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house phaces a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you 1900K, REAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OF SAMPLES FREE.

Albert Burch, West Toledo, Ohio says: "Hall's Catarrh Curo saved my life, Write him for particulars, Sold by drug-

Don't fool with indigestion nor with a disordered liver, but take Beecham's Pills for immediate relief. 25 cents a box.

If afflicted with sore eyes use Dr. Isaac Thompson's Eye-water, Druggists seil at 25c a bottle

Mrs. E. J. Rowell, Medford, Mass., says her mother has been cured of Scrofula by the use of four bottles of much other treatment, and being reduced to quite a low condition of health, as it was thought she could not live.

Cured my little boy of heredltary scrofula which appeared all over his face. For a year I had given up all hope of his recovery, when finally I was induced to use A few bo ttles cured him, and no symptoms of the disease remain.

Mrs. T. L. Mathiers, Matherville, Miss.
On hope on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed fore.

Our book on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. SWIFT SPECIFIC Co., Atlanta, Ga.

We pay the printer to give you good advice about health and to lead you to careful

Our reason is that Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil is so often a part of careful If you would go to your doctor whenever you need his advice, we might save our money. He knows what you Let us send you a book on CAREFUL LIVING; free.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 132 South 5th Avenue, New York.
Your druggist keeps Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil—all druggists everywhere do. $1.

Guaranteed to cure Bilious Attacks, Sick-Headache and Constipation. 40 in each bottle. Price 25c. For sale by druggists. Picture "7, 17, 70" and sample dose free.

d. F. SMITH & CO., Proprietors, NEW YORK. EVERY MAN

By J. HAMILTON AYERS, A. M., M. D.

Household, teaching as it does the easily-distinguished Symptoms of different Diseases, the Causes and "What is August Flower for?" As easily answered as asked. It is for Dyspepsia. It is a special remedy for the Stomach and Liver.— Nothing more than this. We believe August Flower cures Dyspepsia. We know it will. We have reasons for knowing it. To-day it has an honored place in every town and country store, possesses one of the largest manufacturing plants in the country, and sells everywhere. The reason is simple. It does one thing, and does it right. It cures dyspepsia very little desire to enjoy the pleasures of life, and is entirely unfifted for the cares of housekeeping or any ordinary duties, if afflicted with

A WOMAN HAS

SICK HEADACHE

PROMPTLY CURED DR. C. MCLANE'S

LIVER PILLS,

RELIEVES all Stomach Distress REMOVES Nausea, Sense of Fullness, Congestion, Pain. REVIVES Failing ENERGY. RESTORES Normal Circulation, and Warms to Toe Tips. DE. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis; Me.

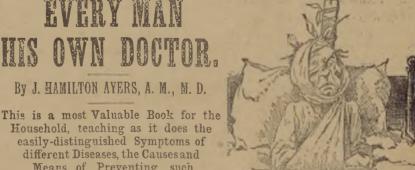

50c. E. T. Hazelfine, Warren, Pa. 100-Page Chicken Book.

It teaches you how to detect and cure Dis-nases; how to feed for eggs and also for fat-tening Sent postpaid for 25c. Book Pub House, 134 Leonard st., N. Y City.

WANTEP-Ladies and Young Men to work AT Pleasant employment at good prices. No canvasting, Address, WILH STAMF, Standard Mir. Co., L. Box 167, So. Framingham, Mass

Morphine Habit Cured in 10 to 20 days. No pay till cured. DR.J. STEPHENS, Lebanon, Ohio. Preumatic WHEEL BIGYCLE SULKY

JOHN S. LENG'S SON & CO., New York. Am N U

Means of Preventing such Diseases, and the Simplest Remedies which will Alleviate or Cure.

The Book is written in plain, every-day English, and is free from the technical terms which render most Doctor Books so valueless to the generality of readers. This Book is intended to be of Service in the Family, and is so worded as to be readily understood by all.

ONLY 60 CENTS, POSTPAID.

PACES, PROFUSELY ILLUSTRATED.

(The low price only being made possible by the immense edition printed.)

Not only does this Book contain so much Information Relative to Disease, but very properly gives a Complete Analysis of everything pertaining to Courtship, Marriage and the Production and Rearing of Healthy Families; together with Valuable Recipes and Prescriptions, Explanation of Botanical Practice, Correct Use of Ordinary Herbs.

New Edition, Revised and Enlarged, with Complete Index.

With this Pook in the house there is no excuse for not knowing what to do in an emergency. Don't wait until you have illness in your family before you order, but send at once for this valuable volume.

ONLY 60 CENTS, POSTPAID. Send postal notes or postage stamps of any denomination not larger than 5 cents. BOOK PUBLISHING HOUSE, 134 Leonard St., N. Y. City, VOL. II.

CALERA, ALA., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1892.

NO. 5

The Land of Used-To-Be. Beyond the purple, hazy trees Of summer's utmost boundaries; Beyond the sands, beyond the seas, Beyond the range of eyes like these, And only in the reach of the Enraptured gaze of memory, There lies the land long lost to me-The land of Used-to-Be.

A land enchanted, such as swung In golden seas when sirens clung Along their dripping brinks, and sung To Jason in that mystic tongue That dazed men with its melody; O, such a land, with such a sea, Kissing its shores eternally, Is the fair Used-to-Be.

A land where music ever girds The air with bells of singing birds, And sows all sounds with such sweet words That even in the lowing herds A meaning lives so sweet to me Lost laughter ripples limpidly From lips brimmed o'er with all the

Of rare old Used-to-Be.

O land of love and dreamy thoughts, And shining fields and shady spots, Of coolest, greenest, grassy plots Embossed with wild forget-me-nots. And all the blooms that cunningly Lift their faces up to me Out of the past; I kiss in thee The lips of Used-to-Be.

I love ye all, and with wet eyes Turned glimmeringly on the skies, My blessings like your perfumes rise, Till o'er my soul a silence lies. Sweeter than any song to me Sweeter than any melody Or its sweet echo, yea, all three-My dreams of Used-to-Be. -[James Whitcomb Riley.

TWO PAINTED DOORS.

Mr. Milner boarded at Number Three Simson Terrace. (There was no terrace, but the 'Squire thought the name sounded sonorous and pleasant, so he had christened his five little cottages "Simpson's Terrace.") He boarded with Mrs. Chipley and her two daughters, Maud and Marian, who felt it a great distinction to be of any service, however slight, to the pastor.

Maud gathered fresh flowers for the study table every day; Marian sat up late nights to iron and mend table linen so that the good man might have a clean napkin every day, and to darn mended places from the whole, and amber quince preserve. the little widow herself exhausted every culinary resource to humor his dyspepsia, and to contrive dainty dishes out of the least possible foundation. To these three simple women Rev. Milo Milner was like an embodied saint.

"And now that Mr. Milner is safely gone for the day," said Mrs. Chipley, "we'll clean the sitting-room and whitewash the walls. Run to Dixey's Maud, for a lump of unslacked lime, and-oh, by the way, bring some cornmeal, dear. We'll have hasty pudding for dinner, and eat at the kitchen table. Hasty pudding and milk will do for us women."

"Of course it will do, mamma," said Maud.

"I just like pudding and milk," cried Marian, jumping gleefally up and down, "and although Mr. Milner is awhile, so that we can clean house and you talking about?" eat hasty pudding and milk. Oh, Maud!" she whispered to her æsthetic sister, as Mrs. Chipley went out to table!" hang the big kettle over the tire, "I've such an idea in my head! If you'll through the door that I left open to only get a little grass-green paint, dry the paint," bawled Joe. ready mixed, when you are at Dixey's and a medium-sized brush!"

for?"

"Hush! don't let mamma hear! I'm so tired of hearing this called the house with the blue door."

Mand obeyed; although the elder in point of years, she had long been accustomed to be domineered over by pretty, positive Marian.

"But it is the strangest thing, Marian," she said, as fifteen or twenty minutes later, she handed over a mysterious tin can and an oblong when dusk descended on the scene and paper parcel to her sister; "Joe Dean Rev. Milo Milner came in. is out now painting his door blue."

"Tastes differ," said Marian, shrugging her shoulders, now invested in a is fresh." preternaturally shabby old calico Mr. Milner solemuly advanced into gown, suitable only to the extremist the area of the lamplight, and, twistexigencies of house-cleaning time.

"Blue is a lovely color, but as applied to a house door, I am heartily sick of it. Joe Dean has no more paint!" taste than a Newfoundland dog."

"The Deans are expecting city com-plates this morning."

"It must be nice to have city company," sighed Marian.

"Oh! but to think of the work of eye?" it!" said Mand lifting both her hands.

Mrs. Chipley came in at that moment also clad in what Marian called her "scrubbing regimentals," and wearing an old olive silk handkerchief tied around her still bright and glossy hair, and the three set themselves determinedly to work.

Rev. Milo Milner, on reaching the railway station, received a telegram that his friend, Prof. Klingenburg, could not possibly meet him that "Very good," said Mr. Milner, "I'll just step back home and get a mouthful of luncheon, and then I'll go to look over those ancient manuscripts with Dr. Hodges. He has been urging me to do so for some time past, and I may never have a better opportunity than this."

Mr. Milner tucked the umbrella under his arm, tipped his black, widerimmed hat over his eyes and set off on a swift swinging stride back to Simpson Terrace. The blue door stood wide open, so he walked in without the least ceremony.

"Fresh paint!" he said to himself, elevating his thin nostrils. "If there's anything on the face of the earth I detest, it is fresh paint. And I've got it all over the skirts of my best dress, too! Where is Mrs. Chipley? What has become of the girls? Nobody ever seems to be in the way when they're wanted. But, fortunately, here's luncheon ready spread. I wonder now how it happened. How could they know I was coming back. Cold roast grouse, with currant jelly -chicken salad-pickled oystersreally, now, this is something quite beyond the ordinary run of our bills of fare!"

The pastor sat down and ate with an excellent appetite. He made a big hole in the chicken salad mound; he picked the bones of a crisp, brown grouse with genuine satisfaction; he buttered a flaky biscuit and added to his stockings so that you could not tell its flavor by several spoonfuls of "All the same," said he to himself, as he wiped his mouth with a damask napkin, and rose from his chair, with another glance at the vegetable-shaped watch; "this sort of thing is quite beyond Mrs. Chipley's means. 1 thought she had better sense. I must really speak to her about it. In the meantime I must make good speed if I expect to have much time at my friend Hodges' place."

Away he trudged, much comforted and sustained as regarded his inner

"Joe! Joe!" shrieked Miss Francesca Dean, coming into the room a few minutes later, "what have you done? Eaten up all the company luncheon? Oh, you greedy---

"I didn't do no such thing," shouted Joe from an upper room, where he was transforming himself from an such a dear, good man, yet is a sort amateur journeyman painter to a of relief to have him gone once in modern tennis player. "What are > "Some one has caten his fill!" cried Miss Francesca. "Just look at the

"Then it's some tramp sneaked in

And while the Dean family were endeavoring to repair damages, the "Green paint, Marian? What task of house cleaning went swimmingly on at the Chipley domicile only two or three doors away, the time to sit down and eat their hasty pudding, which, by the way, got scorched through Maud's over-devothe pastor's study windows.

But hasten as they would, the newly whitewashed walls were scarcely dry and the furniture not yet rearranged,

"Oh, take care, Mr. Milner!" ex-ing himself around to get the skirts of his coat, eyed them disconsolately.

"No," said Marion. "Green." The two colors were ludicrously pany to luncheon," said Maud. "They alike by lamplight. The green might |- [Good News.

sent to borrow the butterfly china be mistaken for a lively blue-the blue for a dull green.

"Blue!" said the pastor, firmly. "Do you think I haven't the use of my

"Green," persisted Marion, "1 know, because I put it on myself." "It is not well," said Rev. Milner, "for the young to be positive."

"But truth is truth," said Maud. "And while I'm about it," said Mr. Milner, now thoroughly exasperated, "I deem it my duty to remonstrate with you concerning the extravagant and unwarranted style of diet in which you indulge during my absence!"

"I don't know what you mean," said Mrs. Chipley, feebly catching her

"Hasty pudding and milk can't be called extravagance," hazarded Maud. "Scorched at that," murmured Marian.

"Roast grouse and current jelly," said the pastor. "Chicken salad and sponge cake. And-here again I trust to the evidence of my eyesight -all set out on your old butterfly pattern china, I know because I ate

"You--you got into the wrong house," gasped Maud.

"It was the house with the blue door," serenely uttered Mr. Milner, as if this was an incontrovertible argument.

Marian clapped her hands hysteri-

"Mamma," she cried-"Maud, Mr. Milner, who ate up Miss Dean's company's luncheon. That was just what Francesca Dean told me they had prepared! And on our butterfly china, too!"

"It was the house with the blue door!" stubbornly repeated Mr. Mil-

"But Joe Dean painted their door blue today!" exclaimed Marian. "And I painted ours green."

The pastor sank limply into a chair. "Then," he said, "I've got green and blue paint both on the skirts of my coat-and I have made a dreadful blunder in the bargain! And I must go at once and apologize to the Dean family; but not until you, my kind friends, have forgiven me for my meddling interference."

"But really," said mischievous Mand, "hasty pudding isn't an extravagance."

Mrs. Chipley and Marian hastened to deprecate the pastor's humility, and he went sadly to make his peace with Miss Francesca Dean.

"It is kind o' queer," said Deacon Philpott, talking the matter over some days afterward. "The dominie, he plumb admits that he's sort of absentminded, and needs a wife to keep him straight. And I'll bet even on pretty Miss Mand and Francesca Dean."

The deacon, however, was wrong for once in his life. Pastor Milner did get married, but it was neither to blue-eyed Francesca nor dark-orbed Mand. Like a sensible man he proposed to Widow Chipley herself, and was accepted at once.

"But if Mrs. Milner does not object," he said with due courtesy, "I should like to have the front door painted blue once more."-[Home Queen.

Infection in Paper Money.

The possibility of infection being conveyed to a large number of persons by means of paper money has often been suggested, and an examination of the notes of the Bank of Spain current in Cuba, which has recently been published by Drs. Acosta and Rossi in the Cronica Medico-Quirurgico de la Habana shows that this form of curgirls and their mother scarcely taking | rency is indeed liable to contain septic germs. The notes chosen for their experiments were some that had been in use for a good while, and were tion to putting the chintz curtains at such as represented values of a few pence only. It was estimated that two notes, weighing altogether about fifteen grains, contained more than 19,000 germs of various kinds. Cultures were made in broth, gelatine and agar, and these were injected into the peritoneal cavity of rats and guineaclaimed Maud. "The door, the paint pigs, most of which died within tweny-four hours .- [Lancet.

A Streak of Luck.

Bad Boy-l'm in luck. W'en I do anything, I tell pop mamma said I "More paint," said he. "Blue might, and I tell mamma pop said I Good Boy-Don't they find out? Bad Boy-Nope. They don't speak.

THE PYRAMIDS.

Piles of Stone.

Climbing Up and Entering One of the Great Edifices.

Thousands of years before there were any dwellings on the sites since occupied by Jerusalem, Rome and Athens, at the very dawn of human history, when all the rest of the world was still wrapped in the thick gloom of prehistoric barbarism, a vast town of huge buildings rose not far from the present city, on the other side of the Nile, which was dotted with the boats of the ancient inhabitants. A forest of venerable date-trees casts its which lie buried the builders of this city of a world gone by, of which nothing remains but the vast cemeteries, their position marked by an avenue of monuments. The famous pyramids of Gizeh, opposite Cairo, on the borders of the desert, form the last of these necropoli.

Every one is familiar with the appearance of these strange pyramids, these huge paradoxes of strictly geometrical form, so vast and so lofty that it was not until after fifty-eight centuries of development that the human race succeeded in erecting a building of greater height, whilst the loftiest pinnacle of the most aspiring Gothic belfry, however light and airy it be, did not soar higher than the point of the pyramid of Cheops becould be more confusing to the eye heaps of stones, in which no artistic conception plays the slightest part. The effects of perspective in these lines of mathematical regularity are most bizarre-huge bare triangles, the outlines shortened or lengthened, marked out like a diagram by the sun into flat bands of light and shade, the reflections in the sand of the four mighty angles varying according to the time of day. The sloping sides, which at a distance appear absolutely plain, are, when approached more nearly, discovered to be broken up into a series of projecting stones, like a huge stairof the pyramid, and the best way to took to their dens the 1st of Septemmeasure the height is by climbing it! ber. It is at a corner where the stages, which seem to have been made for a race of giants, are divided into smaller steps, either for the sake of mortals of lesser stature or by the action of time, that the ascent of the great pyramid of Cheops is made. We start, pushed from behind by one Arab guide, and dragged from above by another, with dangers of the climb. Completely exhausted, altogether out of breath and with knees too stiff to move, we pause at last, feeling as if we had scaled all three monuments at once. But looking round, we find we are scarcely one-third of the distance up, and see our fellow-climbers looking like scattered ants upon the huge triangular mass. It is not until the platform at the top is reached, and the lungs are filled with the pure air of the heights, that any real idea is obtained of the monument of Cheops.

And what does this huge edifice contain? We must go down again to

The entrance, which was walled up, is at a considerable height from the ground, in one of the faces of the pyramid, and looks like the porch of a cave cut in the living rock. A dark, gloomy-looking door opens on to a low narrow passage, with floor, walls and ceiling all lined with granite, polished till it is like ice. An Arab guide, with a candle in his hand, hoists you on to his shoulders and plunges with you into the slippery corridor, which descends rapidly to a hole in the rock on a level with the soil, going up again at the same angle. This opening gives access to a bare room, in which is a square hole, once the resting place of the mummy of one of the Pharaohs. The rest of the interior consists of two or three made in oak timber by the teredo, with granite, without a moulding or ornament of any kind; airless enclosures, where no chink admits a ray of Something About Egypt's Huge light or sunshine; huge masses of compact limestone, wrapt in utter night and silence. Such is the strange monument to build up which Cheops caused mountains of stone to be removed by whole nations of people, who perished at their task beneath the whips of the convict guards.

Signs of a Mild Winter.

"Snipe flew South two weeks later than usual this fall, and that is one reason why I predict that next winter will be uncommonly mild," said an old Lackawanna Valley (Penn.) weather prophet. "Swallows stayed North three weeks after their regular time to leave, and that is another good sign of an open winter. Robins are shadows upon the black soil, beneath still here, and I am glad of it, but they would have flown South ten days ago if they hadn't felt it in their bones that we are going to have a late fall and a warm winter. A woodcock that I shot the other day had only a few feathers on it, and that's another sure sign of a warm fall and a mild winter. My wagon wheel ran over a cock partridge in Roaring Brook township last week, and when I picked up the dead bird I found that it was very thinly feathered. So much for the silent language of the birds as a forecast of the weather for six months. "Now take the animals for more carpeted when they're ingrain. signs. I trapped a coon in my cornfield the other night. He was as poor as a crow, and that means that the weather will be so mild next winter that he will be able to be afield every fore it was blunted by time. Nothing day, instead of having to hibernate, as he did last winter. At this time than the general appearance of these last fall the coons were as fat as pigs, and they lived on the fat while they were cooped up in the trees on ac- | flat. count of the cold weather. Next winter the coons won't have to lie a "floating debt." Pa (sadly)-My dormant at all, and bears will roam | yacht. over the scrub oak ridges from Christmas to Easter. The fur of woodchucks is much thinner than usual a walk. and that is a sure indication of an open winter.

"Rattlesnakes are crawling over the huckleberry patches as lively as they were in mid-summer, and that is another good sign that the consumption of coal will be much smaller next winter than it was last winter. case worn with age. It is somewhat Blacksnakes are also as thick as they difficult to judge at first sight the size were two months ago. Last year they

"Buckwheat is poorly filled everywhere, and that fact tells me that the winter will be so warm that nobody will hanker for pancakes more than once a month. All the signs in the you weren't married to a woman. bird, the animal, the reptile, and the vegetable kingdoms point to a milder winter than we have experienced in a decade, and I predict that coal will be our eyes fully occupied with the lower before New Year's."-- [New Skeleton of a Snake.

To the casual observer the serpent is a helploss creature of imperfect organization, while in reality his skeleton is a marvel of mechanical contrivances. True, he possesses no feet, but Sir Richard Owens says: "The serpent has neither hands nor talons. vet it can outwrestle the athlete or crush the tiger in the embrace of its ponderous overlapping folds. Far from licking up its food as it glides along, the serpent lifts up its crushed prey and presents it grasped in the coil as in a hand to the gaping, slimedropping mouth."

Professor Huxley regards the vertebræ of a snake as the most perfect piece of anatomy in the world. No mechanism is so simple, yet so thorough. The skeleton consists of a skull, backbone and ribs. The different vertebræ are connected by joints and two ribs are attached, one on each side. These form a number of legs, as it were, by means of which the body assumes those sinuous curves which one cannot fail to admire. All movement is in the horizontal plane, no motion being accomplished by vertical undulations.

Of the fifteen hundred snakes known to naturalists, only a very few are poisonous-in leed, these are the exceptions. There are fifteen varieties narrow passages, resembling cavities to be found in America, and but three of these are venomous-the rattlewith two other chambers similar to snake, the copperhead and the water that known as the King's, all faced moccasin.- [New York Herald.

Not So Wide After All. The world is wide they say. And each may go his way. No need is there of strife, And one for peace may pray In all his daily life.

If aught distasteful lie Anear thee pass it by, And thy aspiring gaze Turn upward to the sky-To what thou fain wouldst praise.

So may we all be taught; So train the early thought In good and peaceful ways, That all, as people ought, May live but happy days.

It hath a broaden'd span Reaching to better things, Far better even than The warrior-psalmist sings. But somehow I can not

I truly like the plan,

To such a quiet lot Attune my rebel fate, For just as sure as shot I meet whate'er I hate.

- [Detroit Tribune.

HUMOROUS.

Candied opinion-Taffy. Under a cloud-Umbrellas. Kindred evils-Poor relations.

Persistency is a great virtue, but it is hard to admire it in a fly. Not necessarily after a bird-the man who goes out for a lark. The farmer considers his fields well

The fellow who marries the "reigning belle" often has a stormy life.

Do not call a Boston boy a "Hubbub" unless you want to raise one.

It is said that the guillotine is the most successful remover of dandruff. The flounder is a fish that requires lots of seasoning, and even then it is

Youth-Pa, give me an example of A man may ran into debt, but he seldom comes out at anything faster than "That dark-haired lover of yours is badly sunburned." "Yes; I call him now my little black and tan." Bolts do entice. Its jam was free,

No youngster would desire it. Make pleasure difficult and see How much a man requires it.

"In order to live well," said the man who rejuvenates wearing apparel, "I must be careful to dye well."

"When it comes to making a lining for a nest," softly quacked the eider duck, "I've got it down fine." She—I can sympathize with you.

was married once myself. He-But Husband-My dear, there's a burglar in the room. I have no revolver-

Wife-Then look daggers at him. Persistency is the road to success.! The only known exception to this rule is the case of a hen sitting on a china Penclope-Going into business? Cholly-No. father thinks I'm too much of an ass. I'm going into

our.

It isn't until a man gets to be reasonably rich that other people come to him and tell him how he can make a "Young Whizz is living a rather fast life now isn't he?" "Yes, he has to, you know. He's a conductor on an If the orator is referred to as a word painter, why not refer to the lecturer in a deaf-and-dumb institute as a sign painter. A correspondent writes to know what he ought to get for "kicking" cows." We should say about a year if he-does it habitually. "I'm saddest when I sing," 'twas this

Her vocal art did try. She got no further ere she heard Him murmur, "So am I."

Rivers-The cholera bacillus, iti seems, is shaped like a comma. Banks -Then why don't the authorities knock its tail off and bring it to a full stop.

Cawker-What is this pair of spectacles worth? Jeweler-Three dollars. Cawker-Can't you knock off half, because I'm blind in one eye.

She-I don't believe you love me as much as you did before we were married. He-Just as much as I ever did; perhaps not as much as I said L EDITOR.

Entered at the Post Office in Calcra as Second Class Matter.

CALERA, WEDNESDAY NOV 23.

ALABAMA's official majority for Cleveland is in round numbers, 52,000.

SHELBY county's sepresentative,

GEORGIA has a Ham in congres. Alabama sends to the same body Oats and Cobb, while Texas boast of a democratic Hogg for gov-ent journals of the country are of that party. administration.

L. W. Turpin's majority in the Nineth district, composed of Bibb, Blount, Jefferson, Hale and Perry, is nearly 12,000, which is the largest majority ever given a congressman in this State.

tration, that we have concluded not to lend the columns of our paper to the furtherance of any man's claims. A word to the wise is sufficient.

he walked up to the polls on the 8th and voted a full democratic ticket, remarking as he did so that: It will show the confidence reposed when the people of the coveted sec-"That southern people can't be in democratic policies and settle tion of Chilton do not wish to be divided."

a memorial letter from R. F. Kolb. Wise men will carefully gaurd the Calera want the office of probate defeated candidate for governor to the legislature. We do not publish have no fears that our administra- maining few voters in that miserit because of any sympathy we have for Mr. Kolb, but to show our readers the unadulterated gaul he can practice. Read it and see what he has to say, and how he giving and prayer, it being the by the tarifi. That this extra profit day appointed by the president for has been at the expense of the gennewed obligation to the Great will the certainty of reduced boun-Giver of Gifts for the glorious vict- ties disarrange or disturb the man-ator J. T. Milner has introduced stop expansion? his railroad bill and is pushing it The democrats do not believe with vigor. One of the clauses of that it will tend in this direction, the blil provides for the working of unless for a very brief time. The the State convicts. Since the Gov- republicans have prophesied all ernor failed to recommend their manner of disaster, and these very immediate removal from the mines, foretellings of evil will help to fulwould it not be a good scheme to fill themselves. Of one thing we let him have them? The work con- are certain—the plucky American templated is of a character that manufacturer will nowhere give up. would benefit the whole people of He will face the situation and prethe State, as much so as the dig- pare to meet it. He has abundant ging of a canal, which plan was time to get ready, for the demo-

Tur editress of the "Woman's Column," comes to the front this week with a strong appeal to the people of Alabania to inaugurate woman's sufferage in the organic law of the bstate and efers to Dr. Talmage's late sermon on 'Corcuption in Politics" as pointer in justification of her wild and untenable theory. It pains us to see the editiess of the "Woman's Columu" showing such strong symtoms of insanity, as the advocacy of this wild and impolitic hobby. We were delighted at the idea of having an assistant who wielded so ready a pen as she, to give our readers the items of W. C. T. U. work, mission work, ladies aid to the church, etc., but now that she has gone off after holding out the opinion that Mr. Cleveland's election would be an think better of the question in fu ture and not refer to it again.

THE LESSON IT TEACHES.

people on the political issues of the empire.—Age Herald. day. The result proves this theory.

The democrats retained the south-Col. John P. West, is on three very ern states by their usual large important committees in the House. | majorities, and in some instances with an increase. Besides they carried the doubtful states, in which the issues were presented directly. Beyond all this the downfall of republicanism in its strongest eastles adds to the gen-IF THE predictions of the promin- eral verdict against the policies worth anything, it will be a long | The third party cut really no time before the country will figure in the result. True it took be governed again by a republican away from the republicans what votes it got, but the overwhelming Cleveland stands for resolutely hon- the people were not only achieved at majority of Cleveland silences any claim that combinations conspired honest governmental protection to many instances, were perpetrated by to his election. It was democratcan ones; an equitable distribuic principles against republition of the federal taxes against a high protective tariff, economical THERE are so many persons want- government against high-handed ing office under the new adminis- robbery, home rule against federal bayonets, and democracy won.

In Alabama the result forever silences the cry of fraud which the and is but the opinions of the great will of the people shall be made surepublicans have repeatedly raised and which the populites took up. With federal supervisors to watch THE president of the Pike count the ballots, we gave our usual maty alliance showed the man when jority, and again emphasized our allegience to the eternal faith.

the unrest which has given rise to coanut seems to be about this: In another column will be found wild schemes of unsatisfied men. Nearly one hundred citizens of fulfillment of our promises, and we judge of a new county and the retion will give satisfaction.

ILLIMITABLE EMPIRE.

means tariff reform. It need not be overlooked or disguised or passed over as unimportant that many GOVERNOR JONES has issued his millions of dollars are invested in proclamation setting apart Thurs- manufacturing industries which a national thanksgiving; the day eral consumer in no wise affects or is right for us of the south to honor face to face with a reduction of the day, for if we are not under re- taxation and the problem arises, ory just achieved, then we are not a ufacturing interest? To what extent will it call a halt in the invest- sary to have territory. We have ment of capital in this direction? a full hundred citizens who are Birmingham Independent: Sen- Will it intimidate investors and received at one time with approval. cratic Coagress does not meet for more than a year.

> But whatever uncertainties the manufacturers of the North may have to deal with, the South has all to hope and nothing to fear. We have reaped almost none of the spoils of high protection, but have 8th inst.: paid many millions to its beneficbe the better able to invest in valuratic electoral ticket would still their hold upon place and power. ried enterprises, better able to have triumphed by a handsome mahelp themselves. Under the rev- jority. The force bill is dead. Let enue tariff before the war, our fac- us now run this Union on the basis office. tories were increasing faster than of a true Union, and cease to plunthe in any part of the world. der the public purse for private hey will increase again.

which call for development in Ala- this land have so expressed their welish and impracticable no- bama are cotton spinning, iron deliberate judgement. In 1890 the HOUSE, SIGN AND ORNAMENwoman's sufferage and making, steel making and coal northern states sent to congress far mining. None of them need a high more democrats than republicans. Calcemining and Paper Hanging im girus to its consum nation, we tariff. A tariff equal to the differ- Bow to the will of the people." are beginning to be arranged for ence between wages in this country We hope she will and in Europe, which a revenue terday to detach a portion of Chiltax will afford, is all that even the ton county and add the same to Southern protectionist will ask for Shelby.

Under such a tariff, the people of While democrats are jubilant Alabama should at once and perover the victory which they have sistently address themselves to AN OPEN LETTER TO THE LEGISLATURE. recently won, it is well to think building cotton mills ank every a moment of the causes leading factory for which our mines and the following open letter: forests afford the raw material. To the Members of the General Assembly We think it evident that Cleve- Tariff reform contains no threat land's election is the result of a de- for Alabama development. It holds

WHAT IT MEANS.

That great and popular indepen-Times, in a short article under the in the counties of Autauga, Butlock, the emphatic expression of the people of the nation in favor of honest what the Cleveland victory means.

mass of the people expressed in the preme and republican form of govern-Union's journalists.

Chilton View: Shelby county is already larger than Chilton and it is a rare-scheme to attach a por-The victory came in good time. tion of Chilton to Shelby, especially so attached. The milk in the coable hamlet have high hopes that some other official lightning might strike them. Isn't this the soluion of the movement to locate the The election of Grover Cleveland Shelby line below Clear Creek? We think it is, and the more we think of it the more funnier it looks.

the exact number of miles of territory of either of the counties in the cocoanut" is that we Calera inaugurate enterprise it is neceslet" is a credit to all such villages as the View inhabits and croaks for.

If we should get the new it will not be necessary to import hundred and seventeenth. men from the "miserable hamlet" of Clanton to fill the county offices, or for newspapers to do our advertising. The "miserable hamlet" of Calera is fully able take care of itself, without the aid of the Chilton View and Shelby Chronicle, which papers seem to have a weakness for looking after her welfare.

on the great democratic victory on pression of the people's will. In

"Nobody can say that the elecpurpose. And, mind you, this is The leading branches of industry the second time that the people of

Col. West, introduced a bill yes- Orders sent to THE JOURNAL of Alabama.

THE KOLB ISSUE.

Your attention is respectfully called cided change in the minds of the out, on the other hand, illimitable to the frauds, which, I am reliably in- House door in the town of Columbiana, formed, were perpetrated in the respective counties named below at Monday, the 17th cay of October, the election held in Alabama on the first Monday in August, 1892.

1 charge that upon a fair investigadent journal, the Philidelphia tion of the election frauds perpetrated above heading, has this to say: Butler, Connecul, Coosa, Dallas, El-The election of Grover Cleveland more, Greene. Hale, Lowndes, Macon, to the presidency, after his defeat Madison, Marengo, Pike, Shelby, St. for re-election in 1888, is simply Clair, Sumpter, Talladega, Walker and Wilcox it will be shown by convincing proof that a real majority of December 5, 1892. between 45,000 and 50,000 votes for administration and equal justice to the state ticket headed by myself for oct22 7w prs fee$10 50 all in bearing the burdens of the governor was change into a fictitious government. President Harrison majority of about 10,000 for the ticket is not less honest than President. headed by Thomas G. Jones for govelect Cleveland individually, but ernor. These frauds upon the will of est methods, for honest taxes, for the polls on election day, but, in all classes and conditions of our county returning boards of supervisors

My information in regard to these It means the absolute fulfillment ter and induces me to assures you frauds is of the most authentic characof every pledge he has given to the that an investigation by your body will establish the correctness of what These are true and patriotic sen- I allege above. The responsibility timents from an able and true man, devolves upon you to say whether the language of one of the ablest of the ment maintained in Alabama, or whether organized lawlessness and fraud shall overthrow the rights of R. F. KOLB. the people.

PROCLAMATION.

THE PRESIDENT ANNOUNCES THE 24TH RATE. Send for Catelogue.

OF NOVEMBER AS A DAY OF THANKSGIVING.

Washington, Nov. 4.-The girts of God to our people during the part year have Been so abundant and special that a spirit of devout thanksing awaits not the call, but only the appointment of a day when it may have common expression. He has stayed pestilence at our door. He has given us more love for free civil institutions in the creation of which, under his directing providence was so It is not our pleasure to know conspicuous. He has awakened a deeper reverence for the law. He has widened our philanthropy by a call to succor disday (tomorrow) as a day of thanks- have been fostered and profitable mentioned above, and as to the tress in other lands. He has blessed rare-scheme to attach a portion our schools and is bringing forward a patriotic and God fearing generation to of Chilton to Shelby," we are re- execute his great and benevolent designs should be kept doubly sacred. It alters a fact; the country is now ple of the coveted section," who increase in material wealth, and a wide the territory to Shelby. "The milk homes of our people. He has given his grace to the sorrowing; wherefore,

I, Benjamin Harrison, president of people to observe, as we have been wont, & Georgia Railroad. Thursday, the 24th day of this month, November, as a day of thanksgiving to God for his mercies and supplication for capable of making good probate his continued care and grace. In testijudges, but they don't need or want mony whereof I hereunto set my hand the position. "Our miserable ham- and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at Washington, this the fourth day of November, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, and of the in-

BENJAMIN HARRISON. By the president: JOHN W. FOSTER, Sec'y of State.

Baltimore Sun (Dem.): The vote yesterday, and not more sigificantly at the South than at the North kingly than in Vew York city, indicates the abhorrence with which The Cincinnati Enquirer, a strong | American people view any rest to but able and unbiased democratic brute force as means of carring journal, speaks these truthful lines elections and controlling the extheir desperation, on the very eve of election, threw off all disguise iaries. The balance will be a hun- tion of last Tuesday was a sectional and plainly disclosed their readidred millions per annum on our one. If the Solid South had been ness to resort to all intimidation as side of the ledger. Our people will blotted out of existence, the demo well as bribery in order to retain

Job work done to order at this

RUDDY,

TAL PAINTERS.

Done to Order,

office will be promptly attended to.

REGISTER'S SALE.

Morgan & Lapsley, and by vir-A. M. Elliott, Trustee, et al) tue of a deof the Chancery Court of Shelby county alabama, in the above entitled cause, I will proceed to sell, under the power contained in a Mortgage from H. M. Pierce, et al, to A. M. Elliott, trustee, at public outery, in front of the Court 1802.

range 13, east

This, August 11, 1892.

D. R. McMILLAN, Register and Acting Trustee. 13aug-10w prs fee$16.50 Above sale continued to Monday

D. R. McMALLAN, Register.

RAILROAD TIME TABLE. LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE.

o. 1, South Bound, 3, " " " 2, North Bound,

AT THE CHURCHES. PRESBYTERIAN-Services on the 4th Sundays in each month, morning and night; pastor to be supplied. Sabbath

METHODIST-Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night, by Mev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sabath school at 9:50.

Baptist Church-Rev. J. G. Lowrey pastor. Preaching every first and second Sunday at 11 a.m., and 7 p.m., Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting as 7.00 p. m., every Thursday.

CUMBERLAND PRESBYTE ... AN-J. J. between the logal hours of sale, for cash, the following described real estate, situated near Calera in Shehy county, Ala, to wit: Fractions A, H, J, M, and the S 15 of E and F of section 22, township 22, range 2, west; and the east half of north east quarter, section 2, township 24, range 12, east

> INSURE YOUR LIFE. Read and profit by the following sound counsel, every word of which smarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel: "It is a duty you owe to yourself and amily to protect them with a reasonable amount of life insurance, where the stoams of the financial world cannot stoms of the linancial world cannot touch them; where the assessor cannot tax them; where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old sge should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do your duty and insure immediately in some good, old reliable Company."—Extract from a sermon by the Rey. T. De-10:05 p. m. tract from a sermon by the Rev. T. De-Witt Talmage.

Marion MILITARY Institute.

MARION, ALA.

Superior Accommodationrs and Board. Superintendent, he family and faculty live in building with students.

Classic and Scientific. Superior Commercal Course. TERMS MODE

COL. J. T. MURFEE, Superintendent,

Marion, Alabama.

MILE MALE . S. FEMALE ACADEMY.

R. H. PRATT, Principal.

35th annual session begins September 26, 1892, and continues 40 WEEKS,

ONE WEEK FOR CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS. TERMS: -Primary Department-per month..... Intermediate, including English branches and Latin, Higer branches of Mathematics, French, Greek, with the Music and use of instrument, 3 00 liably informed that it is the "peo- for our country. He has given us great Board-per month, $7. Washing, Starching, Ironing $1.......$8 00 Students are required to furnish, for their own use, one pr. blankets, first started the petition to attach diffusion of content and morals in the one pr. sheets and pillow cases, their own toilet lights. Payments, monthly or quarterly in advance.

This school is located at Six Mile, Alabama, in a healthy, well watered folk like enterprise and in order to the United States, do call upon all our neighborhood, five miles from Ashby depot, on the East Tennessee, Virginia EI PRAIT, Principal, Six Mile, Alabama.

3sept 6m

county the View speaks of dependence of the United States the one Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats Shoes, Gents & Ladies Dress Goods,

CALER, ALA..D

Have one of the Largest Stocks of Hats, Shoes, Clothing, Notions, and West, and nowhere more stri- Dry Goods, and General Merchandize, Ever Brought to Shelby County

> OPPOSITE OUR DRY GOODS HOUSWe have Opened up a.....

AMMOTHISTOCKI

OUR

WILL BE IN THIS HOUSE AT ALL TIMES WAIT ON YOU

and price Furniture as Low as any House in Alabama.

Our Campaign Goods are as neat and as Cheap as any in the State. A. C. WADE & CO.

LOCAL ITEMS.

POSTAL LAWS.

Sec. 268. No mail matter shall be de-Sec. 268. No mail matter shall be delivered until the postage due thereon has been paid.—(R. S., § 3900).
Sec. 297. Letters addressed to the friends of the owner of a box stopping temporarily with him may also be placed in the box, if directed to his care or to the number of the box. But letters addressed to oil the box are a residue; in the dressed to other passons residing in the same place, and living and doing business separate and apart from a box holder, should not be placed in such box.

Sec. 300: No box at any post office shall be assigned to the use of any person until the rent thereof has been paid for at least one quarter in advance, for

for at least one quarter in advance, for which the post master shall give a receipt.—(R. S., § 3901).

See. 301. Postmasters must rent the boxes and drawers in the post offices for one-quarter (three months) only, the money to be paid in advance. The department will insist upon a strict compliance with this regulation. Boxes compliance with this regulation. Boxes remaining unpaid for ten days from the expiration of a quarter will be declared vacated.

Sec. 302. A person renting a post office box is entitled to have the letters of his family put into it. Each box must be restricted to the use of one firm, family or corporation.

Renew your subscription. f Oplum Habit cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

Only eleven applicants for the post office at Calera.

One entire week of frosty mornings and beautiful sunshiny days.

Another wedding near Calera Sunday, but the reporter could not learn the names of contracting parties.

Preaching at the Presbyterian church next Sunday.

In another column will be found the program of Sunday night, December 4, at the C. P. church.

Let all the stores and business houses be closed tomorrow and everybody attend thanksgiving service. Col. J. P. West, and Mr. Benj. Kıl-lingsworth are making new and handsome fences around their residences in the northern part or the city.

No one has yet donated the usual turkey for thanksgiving dinner. We can do with it, but don't like to.

It will soon be time to go netting for birds, and we may expect to hear of our sportsmen being out in force. Quite a number of young people participated in the tea given by Dr. Blevens in honor of Mr. W. M. Talley.

St. Vitus' Banco cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine. Send us your job printing and you will help your home wrinter and get a show for the money to be spent in your own Tomorrow Thanksgiving services is to be held at the Methodist church, the son. program of which appeared last week, and republished today.

A few loads of good stove wood will be cash price for same.

Mrj. J. D. Hardy is putting new roofs on his lime shelter and commissary.

Cleveland is elected and we will look for will be published in due time. many improvements, not only in Calera, but all over the country.

Miss Pearl Galloway is again in the post office as assistant to the post mistress, Miss Cora Hardy. Miss Genie Alexander has resigned as assistant.

Ministers and other officials author. ized to solemnize the rites of matrimony will, when they perform such service, pleash furnish teis paper the names and dates as items of news. Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure at Druggists.

It is our desire to publish all the local news of Calera and vicinity, and we will appreciate any favors in this line from any one whether they be patrons or not. Hand us anything worthy of notice.

If you need anything in the line of job legal blanks, etc., the Journal office is the place to get it, as we use the best paper and do work as cheaply as any job office in the state.

It is understood that a bill will be introduced in the general assembly to 5.00, giving them a clear profit of $18.90. change or amend the charter of the town of Calera. As soon as a copy of the bill is procured it will be published in this paper. We have not yet been informed THANKSGIVING SERVICES TO BE HELD of the desired changes.

For the the next twenty days the Ca-LERA JOURNAL, Weekly Age-Herald and Weekly Montgomery Advertiser will be furnished to one address for $2.50, or the Journal and either the Age-Herald or Advertiser for $1.75. This offer will be good for 20 days only.

young men on Sunday next, in the departure of Mr. Will M. Talley, for o'clock, a. m. Clarksville, Tenn. Mr. Talley has been in our city for several months, and knowing him as we do, we commend him to the good people of Clarksville as a worthy young gentleman.

Dr. Miles. Nerve and Liver Pills. 50 doses 25 ofa.

Club rates of the Montgomery Advertiser and the CALERA JOURNAL is only $1.75 a year. The latter is issued every Wednesday and the Advertiser issued twice a week. Now is the time to subscribe as the double issue of the Adver- Mrs. J. S. Bridges, tiser will contain ali the legislative news and the Journal will give the latest local

APPOINTMENT OF THE NORTH ALA DAMA CONFERENCE.

LAFAYETTE, Nov. 21.—[Special.]— The following is a list of the appointments read out, at 9 o'clock, by Bishop lera, Alabama.] Kener, at the close of the present session of the North Alabama conference LAFAYETTE DISTRICT,

L. A. Darsey, presiding elder. Lafayette, J. F. Sturdivant. Oak Bowery, Z. A. Dowling. Fredonia, G. S. Smith, Penton, W. F. Herndon. Roanoke, D. D. Parrish. Dadeville, and Alexander City, J. H.

Davisto, E. O. L. Finch. Camp Hill, W. W. Turner. Lookout Mouatain, S. E. Igo. Spring Creek, C. P. Berry.
Alexander City circuit, Pinckney

ille, A. S. Matthews. Goodwater, J. W. Tucker. Coosa, S. B. Steward. Rochford, E. B. Norton. Lineville, R. A. Spear. Mellow Valley, W. Walker. Wedowee, C. B. Cole. Rock Mills, R. S. Snuggs.

TALLADEGA DISTRICT.

J. D. Morris, presiding elder.
Talladega, W. T. Andrews.
Talladega circuit, J. W. Spencer.
Munford, J. T. Wilkins. Plantersville, W. B. Andrews. Coosa Valley, R. W. Coons. Leeds and !rondale, --- Gay. Harpersville, William D. Howell. Wilsonville, L. A. Holmes. Pelham, C. E. McGibony. Calera and Helena, C. L. Dobbs. Montevallo, L. M. Wilson. Columbiana, K. Tierce Fayetteville, T. P. Roberts. Chandler's Springs, R. L. Wilson. A. G. T. Orphonage, S. P. West.

BIRMINGHAM DISTRICT.

S. M. Hosmer, presiding elder. Birmingham, First church, J. C. Morris.

Birmingham, St. John, John B. Gregory. Birmingham, Trinity, S. Blythe. Birmingham, Wosley Chapel, G. H.

Smith. Birmingham, Twenty-first avenue,

W. E, H. Mabry.
Birmingham, St. Paul, J. W. Ner-Elyton, E. M. Glenn. Pratt Mine, S. R. Emerson. Coketon, W. Driskell. Sunnyside, J. L. Fergerson. Wylam, J. T. Mills.

Besseiner, and city mines, J. I. Rob-

Jonesboro, M. J. Williams.
Avondale, W. R. Kirk.
East Lake, H. C. Howard. Wood!awn, J. T. Glasgow. Birmingham circuit. G. W. Read. Birmingham mission, J. E. Andrews. German mission, S. H. H. Witty. Chaplain to St. Couviets, E. Nichol-

Superintendent American Bible society, Z. Parker.

The Christian Endeavor Society's taken for subscriptions, job work or Missionary service which was to have advertising at this office, allowing full taken place at the Cumberland Presbyterian church, on last Sunday night,

Send us your job work.

"THAT CONUNDRUM TEA."

GIVEN BY MRS. WADE'S SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS AT BLACK'S HALL LAST THURSDAY NIGHT, WAS A GRAND AFFAIR.

The young ladies of Mrs. Wade's Sunday School class gave a conundrum Tea at Blacks Hall, Thursday evening for the benefit of the Sunday school Library

We must say that the eight young ladies, the Misses Stevenson, Brown, Duran, Blevins, Onderdenk, Pilgreen, and Galloways, who dispensed the tempting vians with such queenly grace would printing, such as business cards, letter have coaxed the most stubborn appetite or bill heads, statements, pamphlets, or and one could not, had they tried, refused to have partaken.

> Notwithstanding the inclement weather, the entertainment was quite a success both sociolly and financially.

The receipts $23.90, with an expense

UNION

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH,

NOV. 24—A CORDIAL WEL-COME FOR ALL.

of the Thanksgiving services to be truth. held at the Methodist church, Calera loses one of her most popular Thursday, November 24, at 11

> MASTER OF CEREMONIES: Prof. W. B. Greek. OCCASION OF THANKSGIVING: Rev. Z. A. Dowling.

THANKSGIVING: Rev. J. A. Dalton, LEFT TO CHOICE:

Mr. A. C. Wade, Mr. H. C. Moss, Mr. W. E. Brinkerhoff, Mr. J. S. Bridges. MUSICAL COMMITTEE: Miss Juita McKibbon Mrs. A. C. Wade, Miss Lula Jones.

Subscription only $1 a year.

WOMAN'S COLUMN.

[The Woman's Column is under the supervision of Mrs. F. W. Gist, and all communications for this department should be addressed to her at West Ca-

One of the greatest campaigns in the history of our country is over, and Gro ver Cleveland is elected president of the United States by the largest majority ever given a presidential candidate, while Mr. Harrison's vote was the smallest given to any since Horace Greeley was a candidate. The enthusiastic victory is beyond description or pen picture. insists to be wondered at. The South has strugled so long, so untiring, so loyally for this victory, and have hitherto met with such baffling defeat that this victorywhich surpasses the expectations of the most sanguine democrat, is enough to fill them with unspeakable joy. The result of the election shows beyond dispute a decided change of sentiment among the masses of the people shows that Grover Cleveland was the hope of the country; notwithstanding that his first administration was not as satisfactory as he might have made it, and many "true blue" democrats cut him at the presidential election four years ago. They realfzed in this campaign that he was preferable, by far, to either Harrison or Weaver. (Excuse us for poluting this column with Weaver's name, and we will "go and sin no

We expect a general revolution and reformation during the comming administration, and if it fails to come, farewell to democracy forever and ever.

The Woman's Journal, Boston, says: 'Evangelist Charles N. Crittenton, distinguished as the originator of the Florence Missions, presented Miss Willard at the convention with $5,000 for social purity work. Mr. Crittenton is known as the millionaire evangelist and spends $35,000 a year for the rescue of tempted girls."

"Mr. Cleveland's election and the return of the national democratic party to power is the event of the week. How this momentous change will affect the interest of woman suffrage. As governor of New York, he repeatedly signed bills giving women the right to vote on local questions. On the other hand, the democratic party, as a whole, has shown itself less favorable to woman suffrage than the republican party. But, for the present, woman suffrage is more likely to win its victories in state legislatures than in congress.

Willard was elected president for the fourteenth time, by a vote 333 out of 338; Messrs. Robert Durham and James scattering, Mrs. Mary A. Woodbridge, 2; Mr. S. S. Fessenden, 1; Mrs. Caro- Hand presided at the organ. secretary by a vote of 288 out of 335; and very popular among her friends. scattering 47. Mrs. Mary A. Woodthe fifteenth time by a vote of 308 in 336; lovely companion which he has so galscattering 28. Mrs. Woodbridge nomi- lantly won. Mrs. L M. N. Stevens as her assistant, who was re-elected by acclamation. The whole number of votes cast for treasurer was 310; Miss Esther Pugh received 286, scattering 34.

"In the new town of Harriman, Tenn. women have municipal suffrage. At the last election there, the newspapers noted the fact that, when the ladies came up to to vote, men even showed a disposition to cheer. Despite the mournful prediction of conservatives, the chivalry for which American men are famous does not seem utterly to desert them upon the approach of a woman to a ballot-box. A. s. E.

If these are the results of Woman's approach to the ballot box in our near neighbor state, Tennessee, wherein lies the danger of Alabama women appaoaching the polls. We dare not, cannot impute to our men less gallantry than those of our neighbor states. The truth is we don't press our "plea." If every woman in Alabama will read Dr. Talmage's recent sermon on "The corruption of elections" they will certainly be convinced of the necessity of ballot reform and political elevation. And where is it to come from except through the emancipation of women? In a recent interview with a gentlemen he observed: "The people of Alabama are not familiar with the idea of Woman suffrage and its object. The clergy of the state is against t." Well, to the people we can say it is high time you were informing yourselves. And to the clergy would say The following is the programme God help you to open your eyes to the

Dr. Talmage expects the anihilation of this nation except ballot reform is brought about, and the corruption existing in politics in America is arrested and improved. Will the people of Alabama sit idly in the back ground and recoil from as if it were a reptile of viles poison, this all important suject?

Custom is a violent and treacherous schoolmistress. She, by little and little slily and unperceived, slips in the foot of her authority; but having by this gentle and humble begining with the benefit of time fixed and established it, she then unmasks a furious and tyranic countenance, against which we have no more the courage, or the power so much as to lift up our eyes.

CHRISTMAS.

CANDY: To enlarge the market for our Candies we will send from now until Christmas a pail of our very best mixed Cream Candy to any address on receipt of $1.0 (2) Cts stamps taken and Express charges paid). Only one pail sent to one person, and all orders must be made on or before Dec. 20, if you want to get our candy in time for Christmas. State your nearest Express shipping point. Please show pail of candy to your friends and neighbors.

Address: THE FANCY CANDY CO

Address: THE FANCY CANDY CO.,

Jamison, Ala., Nov. 17 .- (Special) Yesterday evening at 7 o'clock, in the Cumberland Presbyterian church, J. C. Wooley and Mrs. Mollie Allen were For ale by All Druggists. At the recent National W. C. T. U. united in the holy bonds of matrimony conventions held at Denver, Francis E. Rev. J. J. Dalton of Calera, officiating. The church was beautifully decorated.

Wooley were the ushers. Miss Mattie line B. Buell, 1; Miss Esther Purh, 1. Mrs. Allen was the widow of the late Mrs. Buell was re-elected corresponding Crit Allen. She is handsome, intelligent Mr. Wooley is one of Jemison's prom-bridge was made recording secretary for inent business men, and deserves the Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers -12 Pages.

SIX SPASMS A DAY.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind. GENTLEMEN: I never lose an opportunity to recommend Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine to any one afflicted with nervous complaints with the assurance that it will not disappoint them. When our boy was eighteen months old he was attacked with violent spasms. Sometimes he would have five or six spasms in a single day. WE TRIED MANY PHYSICIAMS WITHOUT BENEFIT; intally our druggist recommended. The Dr. Miles' it could see that he was senseited from the first pose. We he was senerited from the first bost. We used three bottles, and I am happy to say the child was ENTIRELY CURED. We used no other remedy, and his cure is complete. He is THOUSANDS and perfect.

ly healthy. You are at liberty to use my name in REMEDY. BOUNDING THE PRAISE OF THIS WONDERFUL BEMEDY. S. C. HEACOX, Agent Pacific Express Co. Hastings, Nebraska, April 6th, 1892.

DR. MILES' NERVINE.

MOST CERTAIN CURE FOR HEADACHE, NEURALGIA, NERVOUS PROS-TRATION, DIZZINESS, SPASMS, SLEEPLESS-NESS, DULLNESS, BLUES, and OPIUM HABIT.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED. OR MONEY BETURNED.

J. L. PETERS. HENRY WILSON, E. S. LYMAN Columbiana.

Peters, Wilson & Lyman, AP DY EY! AT LAW.

HUGH T. CAFFEY, PHYSICIAN & SURGEON CALERA, ALA.

Something Nice Free.

F W ROGAN, 。尾尾浑尾上尾尾风顶的 MONTEVALLO, ALA.,

Office of Southern Express Co.

I KEEP CONSTANTLY ON HAND A COMPLETE LINE OF Wood Coffins and Caskets from the Chrpest to the Finest. Also, a full Line of Ladies, Gents, and Childrens' Burial Suits.

Orders by telegram promptly Filled.

Mrs. S. H McCauley'

NEAR THE DEPOT.

ILLINERY--COODS.

A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hats in the Lates Styes, and at Reasonable Prices.

Oct 8-3m

Now is the time for everyone who cherishes good health, to pay particular at tention to the condition of their blood and its proper circulation. Nearly all diseases that flesh is heir to are caused and agravated by an impure condition of the blood and a sluggish circulation.

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS Possessing Extraordinary Cleansing Powers

Restoring and Strengthening the whoe System, Enriching the Boodproducing increased vitality by restoring an impaired digestion and bringing back the bloom of youth to the cheek of the enfeebled and emaciated.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle-6 Bottles for $5.00.

Nabors, Morrow, & Sinnige.

SOLE CONTROLERS,

Birmingham.

WORDS ABOUT THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT.

papers.

2. It is invaluable to the narmer and throughout the south.
the farmer's family, bringing each week cheer to the fireside and happiness to these departments, is a household word throughout the south.

6. Bill Arp, Plunkett, and Uncle Recheer to the fireside and happiness to mus and a host of other special writers

the household.

3. It covers the news of the whole itable sketches appear each week.

world, having its correspondents scattered over the globe, and having a thorough news service from every important news center in the world.

A Lis Agricultural Department elements of the south.

8. It pays more money for its special features and their inimitable sketches appear each week.

7. It is the People's Friend, and is the sturdy champion of the agricultural interests of the south.

8. It pays more money for its special features and their inimitable sketches appear each week.

4. Its Agricultural Department alone is worth many times its subscription price to every farmer. This department of the south, and much more than any is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, whose service is retained by the Constitution at great expense.

5. Its Woman's and Childeren's Departments are a source of infinite pleasure to every family, and the name of pers in the world.

8. It pays more money for its special features and for its news service than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any weekly newspaper in America.

9 It is the cheapest, being only One Dollar ser year, each paper at the price of a postage stamp. Think of it! Every time a hen lays an egg she pays feet one issue of the greatest weekly newspapers of the weekly newspapers of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any other four of the weekly newspapers of the south, and much more than any of the south, and

It is the best of all weekly news- "Aunt Susie," the editress of these departments, is a household word

ure to every family, and the name of pers in the world. Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of your neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulate? home should be without it.

Agents Wanted in every Locality, Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information.

THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co.

CALERA; ALABAMA.

Negotiate Loans,

Issue interest bearing certificates of Deposit, and sell exchange on New York Louisville and Birmingham at regular rates cyarged by the larger cities.

We transact a general banking business, such as that of any incorporated bank in all of its legitimate branches, andwould be pleased to open accounts with merchants, manufacturers and planters alike.

Fire and Life Insurance

Written in the best companies.

Receive Deposits,

Bought, Sold and Rented upon just terms.

Cremation in America.

The advocates of cremation have In their favor some strong arguments. They say the mandate that "dust shall return to dust" is irrevocable. and its fulfilment is inevitable; that we can in no way prevent it; we may obstruct or we may assist, and reason dictates the latter course. Since the longer the process is delayed the greater is the danger to the health of the living, cremation is a beneficent institution. Its growth in Europe has been surprising, and in Italy there are large numbers of crematories, and in this country the prejudice against the movement is decreasing. It is only eleven years since the formation of the New York Cremation Society, the first institution of the kind in the United States, and not until the year 1885 was the first operative crematory inaugurated, yet there are now in various parts of the States nearly a score of these incinerators in more or less continuous service. The number of cremations which have been conducted each year in one of these temples in Buffalo gives a fair idea of the progress which the sentiment in favor of this method is making. During 1886 eight bodies were incinerated, and in each successive year to the end of 1891 the numbers were respectively, 17, 16, 23, 30 and 37. In this temple everything possible has been done to mitigate the sadness of the last ritual. The temple is built of dark-brown sandstone, and its square tower and deep slanting roof are covered with ivy and surrounded by sloping lawns. The chancel and nave are artistically carved and decorated and the windows are of richstained glass. The incineration takes place privately after the funeral service, and the ashes are delivered to the undertaker to be disposed of as the family may direct, or they may be left at the crematory. A society formed after the organization of the pioneer society has reduced to ashes since the year 1885 upward of 750 bodies. The process as carried out at one of their principal temples is as follows: The furnace is of fire brick throughout and separated into two distinct but similar comparments. The body is placed in a chamber directly above that in which the fuel is consumed. The bottoms of the retorts are solid, but the sides and ends are pierced with holes, through which the heated air of the furnace has direct access to the body, while the flames are not permitted to approach it. The heat of the retort soon liberates everything volatile in the body and these emanations are conducted through another highly heated chamber, and thus rendered odorless and absolutely innocuous before they pass through the chimney which forms their means of egress to the air The time taken up in reducing a body to ashes depends somewhat upon the size and condition of the person when alive. In this furnace it is about two hours; in many others it is a little over an hour. The fuel used is coal, and in five or six hours from the starting of the fires a temperature of from 2,000 degrees to 2,500 degrees Fahrenheit can be obtained.

THE demand for harvest hands has been so imperative in the Western States as to drive the tramps into other parts. For a time the American nobleman was in imminent danger of impressment into service. He made good his escape, however,

Mrs. A. A. Williams Lynn, Mass. FOR THE GOOD OF OTHERS

Rev. Mr. Williams Heartly Endorses Hood's Sarsaparilla.

We are pleased to present this from Rev. A. A. Williams, of the Sillsbee Street Christian Church, Lynn, Mass.: "I see no reason why a clergyman, more than a layman, who knows whereof he speaks, should hesitate to approve an Article of Merit

and worth, from which he or his family have been signally benefited, and whose commenda-tion may serve to extend those benefits to oth-ers by increasing their confidence. My wife has for many years been a sufferer from severe

Nervous Headache

for which she found little help. She has tried many things that promised well but performed little. Last fall a friend gave her a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It seems surprising what simply one bottle could and did do for her. The attacks of headache decreased in number and were less violent in their intensity, while her general health is improved. Her appetite has also been better. From our experience with

Hond's Sarsaparilla

I have no hesitation in endorsing its mer-lts." A. A. WILLIAMS. Hood's Pills are the best family cathartic, gen-tle and effective. Try a box. Price 25c.

REV. DR. TALMAGE.

THE BROOKLYN DIVINE'S SUNDAY SERMON.

TEXT: JEREMIAH 8: 7: THE STORK IN THE HEAVENS KNOWETH HER APPOINTED

TIME, ETC. When God would set fast a beautifu thought, he plants it in a tree. When he would put it afloat, he fashions it into a fish. When he would have it glide the air, he molds it into a bird. My text speaks of four birds of beautiful instinct the stork, of such strong affection that it is allowed familiarly to come, in Holland and Germany, and build its nest over the doorway; the sweet-dispositioned turtle dove, mingling in color white, and black, and brown, and ashen, and chestnut; the crane, with voice like the clang of a trumpet; the swallow, swift as a dart shot out of the bow of heaven. falling, mounting, skimming, sailing-four birds started by the prophet twentyfive centuries ago, yet flying on through the ages, with rousing truth under glossy wing and in the clutch of stout claw. I suppose it may have been this very season of the year-autumn-and the prophet out of doors, thinking of the impenitence of the people of his day, hears a great cry overhead.

Now, you know it is no easy thing for one with ordinary delicacy of eyesight to look into the deep blue of the noon day heaven; but the proplet looks up, and there are flocks of storks, and turtle doves, and cranes, and swallows, drawn out in long lines for flight southward. As is their habit, the cranes had arranged themselves into two lines, making an angle, a wedge splitting the air with wild velocity, the old crane, with commanding call bidding them onward: while the towns, and the cities, and the continents slid under them. The prophet, almost blinded from looking into the dazzling heavens, stoops down and begins to think how much superior the birds are in sagacity about their safety than men about theirs; and he puts his hand upon the pen and begins to write:

"The stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed time; and the turtle dove and the crane and the swallow observe the time of their coming; but my people know not the judgment of the Lord."

If you were in the field today, in the clump of trees at the corner of the field. you would see a convention of birds. noisy as the American congress the last night before adjournment, or as the English parliament when some unfortunate member proposes more economy in the queen's household—a convention of birds all talking at once, moving and passing resolutions on the subject of migration; some proposing to go tomorrow, some moving that they go today, some moving that they go to Brazil, some to Florida, some to the table-lands of Mexico, but all unanimous in the fact that they must go soon, for they have marching orders from the Lord, written on the first white sheet of the frost and in the pictoral of the changing leaves. There is not a belted kingfisher, or a chaffinch, ar a finecrested wren, or a plover, or a red-legged partridge but expects to spend the winter at the south, for the apartments have already been ordered for them in South America or in Africa; and after thousands of miles of flight, they will stop in the very tree where they spent last January. Farewell, bright plumage! Until spring weather, away! Fly on, great band of heavenly musicians! Strew the continents with music, and whether from northern fields or Carolinian swamps or Brazilian groves men see your wings or hear your voice, may they bethink themselves of the solemn words of the text: "The stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times; and the turtle and the crane and the swallow observe the time of their coming; but my people know not the judgment of the Lord. I propose, so far as God may help me, this morning, carrying out the idea of the text, to show that the birds of the air have more sagacity than men. And I begin by particularizing and saying that they mingle music with their work. The most serious undertaking of a bird's life is this annual travel from the Hudson to the Amazen, from the Thames to the Nile. Naturalists tell us that they arr ve there thin and weary and plumage rufled, and yet they go singing all the way; the ground, the lower line of the music, the sky, the upper line of the music, themselves the notes scattered up and down between. I suppose their song gives elasticity to their wing, and helps on with the journey, dwindling a thousand miles into four hundred. Would to God that we were as wise as they in mingling Christian song with our every day work! I believe there is such a thing as taking the pitch of Christian devotion in the morning and keeping it all the day. I think we might take some of the dullest, heaviest, most disagreeable work of life, and set it to the tune of "Anti-oth" or "Mt. P.sgah."

It is a gool sigu when you hear a workman whistle. It is a better sign when you hear him hum a roundelay. It is still a better sign when you hear him hum a roundelay. It is still a better sign when you hear him sing the words of Isaac Watts or Charles Wesley. A violin corded and strung, if something accidentally strikes it makes music, and I suppose there is such a thing as having our hearts so attuned by divine grace, that even the rough collisions of life will make a heavenly vibration. I do not believe that the power of Christian song has yet been fully tried. I believe that if you could roll the "Old Hundred" doxology through Wall street, it would put an end to any financial disturbance! I believe that the di-cords and the sorrows, and the sins of the world are to be swept out by heavenborn hallelujabs. Some one asked haydn, the celebrated musician, why he always composed such cheerful music. "Why," he said. "I can't do otherwise, When I think of God my soul is so full of joy that the notes leap and dance from my pen." I wish we might all exult melediously before the Lord. With God for our Father, and Christ for our Savior, and heaven for our home, and angels for future companions, and eternity for a lifetime, we shall strike all the notes of joy. Going through the wilderness of this world, let us remember hat we are on the way to the summery clime of heaven, and from the migratory populations flying through this autumnal air learn always to keep singing. och" or "Mt. P.sgah." flying through this autumnal air learn always to

As ye journey, sweetly sing; Sing your Savior's worthy praise,

Ye are traveling home to God, In the way your fathers tred; They are happy now, and we Soon their nappiness shall sec.

The church of God never will be a triumphant church until it becomes a singing church.

I go further, and remark that the birds of the air are wiser than we, in the fact that in their migration, they fly very high. During the summer, when they are in the fields they often come within reach of the gun; but when they start for the annual flight southward, they take start for the annual flight southward, they take their places and go straight as an arrow to the mark. The longest rifle that was ever brought to shoulder cannot reach them. Would to God that we were as wise as the stork and crane in our flight heavenward! We fly so low that we are within easy range of the world, the flesh and the devil. We are brought down by temptations that ought not to come within a mile of reaching us. Oh, for some of the faith of George Muller of England, and Alfred Cookman once of the clumph minimals. Down of the reaching us. Oh, for some of the fath of George Muller of England, and Alfred Cookman, once of the church mintant, now of the church triumphant! so poor is the type of piety in the church of Golnow, that men actually caricature the idea that there is any such thing as a higher life. Moles never did blieve in eagles. But, my brethren, because we have not reached these heights ourselv.s, shall we deride the fact that there are any such hoights? A man was once talking to Bruuel, the famous engineer, about the length of the railcoad from Londen to Bristol. The engineer said, "It is not very great. We shall have after awhile a steamer, running from England to New York." They langhed him to scorn; but we have gone so far now that we have ceased to laugh at anything as impossible for human achievement. Then, I ask, is anything impossible for the Lord? I do not believe that God exhausted all his grace in Paul, and Latimer, and Edward Payson. I believe there are higher points of Christian attainment to be reached in the future ages of the Christian world.

Christian attainment to be reached in the future ages of the Christian world.

You tell me that Paul went up to the tiptop of the Alps of Christian attainment. Then I tell you that the stock and crane have found above the Alps plenty of room for free flying. We go out and we conquer our temptations by the grace of God, and lie down. On the morrow those temptations rally themselves and attack us, and by the grace of God we defeat tack us, and by the grace of God we defeat them again; but staying all the time in the old encampment, we have the same old battles to fight over. Why not whip our temptations, and then forward march, making one raid through the enemy's country, stopping not un-til we break ranks after the last victory? Do on we break ranks after the last victory? Do my brethien, let us have some novelty of combat, at any rate, by changing, by going on, by making advancement, trading off our stale prayers about sins we ought to have quit long ago, going on toward a higher state of Christian character, and routing out sins that we have never thought of yet. The fact is, if the church of God—if we, as individuals, made rapid advancement in the Christian life, these stereotyped prayers we have been making for ten or affect years, would be as inappropriate to use at the shoes and the shoes and the stereotyped prayers were the shoes and the stereotyped prayers. to us as the shoes, and the hats, and the coats we wore ten or fifteen years ago. Oh, for a higher flight in the Christian life, the stork and the crane in their migration teaching us the

Dear Lord, and shall we ever live,
At this poor dying rate—
Our love so faint, so cold to thee,
And thine to us so great?

Again, I remark that the birds of the air are wiser than we, because they know when to start. If you should go out now and shout, "Stop, storks and cranes, don't be in a hurry!" they If you should go out now and shout, "Stop, storks and cranes, don't be in a hurry!" they would say, "No, we cannot stop; last night we heard the rearing in the woods bidding us away, and the shrill flute of the north wind has sounded the retreat. We must go. We must go." "So they gather themselves into companies, and turning not aside for storm or mountain top or shock of musketry, over land and sea, straight as an arrow to the mark they go. And if you come out this morning with a sack of own and throw it in the fields and try to get them to stop, they are so far up they would hardly see it. They are so far up they would hardly see it. They are so far up they would hardly see it. They are so their way south. You could not stop them. Oh, that we were as wise about the best time to start for God and heaven! We say, "Wait until it is a little later in the season of mercy. Wait until some of these green leaves of hope are all dried up and have been scattered. Wait until next year." After a while we start and it is too late, and we perish in the way when God's wrath is kindled but a little. There are, you know exceptional cases where birds have started too late, and in the morning you have found them dead on the snow. And there are those who have perished half-way bebirds have started too late, and in the morning you have found them dead on the snow. And there are those who have perished half-way between the world and Christ. They wasted until the last sickness, when the mind was gone, or they were on the express train going at forty miles an hour, and they came to the bridge and the "draw was up" and they went down. How long to repent and pray? Two seconds! Two ecconds! To do the work of a lifetime and prepare for the vastedernity in two seconds! I was teading of an entertainment given in a king's court, and there were musicians there, with alaborate pieces of music. At a while Mozart came and began to play, and he had a blank piece of paper before him, and the king familiarly looked over his shoulder and said, "What are you playing? I see no music before "What are you playing? I see no music before you." And Mozart put his hand on his brow. as much as to say, "I am improvising." It was very well, for him, but oh, my friends, we cannot extemporiz heaven. If we do not get prepared in this world, we will never take part in the orchestra harmonies of the sayed. Of n the orchestra harmonies of the saved.

that we were as wise as the crane and the stork, flying away, flying away from the tempest.

Some of you have felt the pinching frost of sin. You feel it today. You are not happy. I look into your faces and I know that you are not happy. There are voices within your soul that will not be silenced telling you that you are sinners, and without the pardon of God you are sinners, and without the pardon of God you are sinners, and without the pardon of God you are sinners, and without the pardon of God you are sinners, and without the pardon of God's mercy. The southern grove, redolent with you would go away into the warm heart of God's mercy. The southern grove, redolent with magnolia and cactus, never waited for northern flocks as God has waited for you, saying, "I have loved thee with an everlasting love. Come unto me, all ye who are weary and heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

Another frost is bidding you away—it is the frost of sorrow. Where do you live now?" Oh, you say, "I don't want as large a house now a formerly." Why do you not want as large a house? You say, "My family is not so large. Where have they gone to? "Eternity!" You mind goes back through that his sickness and through that kiss which received no response because the lips were life-less, and I hear the bells tolling and I hear the hearts breaking — while I speak, I hear them break. A heart Another heart! Alone, alone! alone! This world which in your girlhood and boyhood was sun, line, is cold now, and oh! weary dove, you dly around this world as though you would like stay, when the wind and the frost and the backening clouds would bid you away into the Peart of an all-comforting God. Oh, I have noticed again and again what a botch this world makes of it when it tries to comfort a soul in trouble! It says, "Don't cry!" How can we help crying when the heart's treasures are scattered, and father is gone, and mother is gone, and companions are gone, and the child is not heart less and the lust hat when the tear sall the sun light on them nor a the crane or the stork, stop not night nor day until you find the right place for stopping.

To day the Savior calls, Ye wanderers come.
Oh, ye benighted souls,
Why longer roam?

The spirit calls today, Yield to his power. Oh, grieve him not away, 'Tis mercy's hour.

RELIGIOUS READING.

RULES FOR DAILY LIFE. Begin the day with God: Kneel down to Him in prayer; Lift up thy heart to His abode, And seek his love to share.

Open the Book of God, And read a portion there;
That it may hallow all thy thoughts,
And sweeten all thy care.

Go through the day with God. What'er thy work may be; Where'er thou art—at home, abroad, He still is near to thee.

Thy spirit heavenward raise; Acknowledge every good bestowed, And offer grateful praise.

Conclude the day with God; Thy sins to him confess;
Trust in the Lord's atoning blood, And plead his righteousness.

Lie down at night with God, Who gives His servants sleep;
And when thou trend'st the vale of death, He will thee guard and keep.

The most beautiful and efficient feature of the order of the King's Daughters is "The Prayer of Consecration," which each King's Daughter offers every morning upon rising.

"Take me, Lord, and use metoday as Thou wilt.
"Whatever work Thou has for me to do, give it untomy hands.
"If there are those Thou wouldst have me to help in any way, send them to me.

'Take my time and use it as Thou wilt.

'Let me be a vessel close to Thy hand, and meet for thy service, to be employed only for Theel and for ministry to others 'in His name.'"

THE NEARNESS OF CURIST.

You may be nearer to Christ than you think. Those men who went stumbling along the road to Emmans, weeping and mourning that their Christ was gone, poured into His very ear the tale of their bereavement. They told Him of their trouble—that they had lost Christ; and there he was talking with them! In the midst of their deep grief there was their victory, and they did not know it. There is many a man in embarrassment, overwhelmed with care, who does not know what to do. It is the pressure of God's hand upon him for the purpose of betterment. It is God present in affairs: Christ near to him for the sake of winning him to Himself. him to Himself.

TRUE FAITHFULNESS.

In this men readily deceive themselves; they can do anything well in imagination better than the real task that is in their hands. They presume that they could do God good service in some place of command, who serve Him not, as becomes them in that which is by far the easier—the place of obeying wherein He has set them. They think that if they had the ability and opportunities that some men have, they would do much more for religion and for God than they do; and yet they do nothing but spoil a far lower part than that which is their own, and is given them to study and act aright in. But our folly and self-ignorance abuses us; it is not our part to choose what we should be, but to be what we are, to His glory who gives us to be such. we are, to His glory who gives us to be such. Be thy condition ever so mean, yet thy "conscience towards God," if it be within thee, will find itself work in that. If it be little that is entrusted to thee in regard of thy outward condition, or any other way, "be thou faithful in that little," as our Saviour speaks, and thy reward shall not be little—He shall make the ruler over much.—[Leighton

CHRIST ALONE UNDERSTANDS US THOR-OUGHLY

Our consciousness of our need of sympathy is no more wide-spread or positive than our consciousness that often our human than our consciousness that often our human friends fail to sympathize with us intelligently. They do not lack a kindly interest, but their sympathy does not go deep enough. They simply do not understand us through and through. Blessed are we when we have learned that our Lord Jesus Christ does thus comprehend our inmost being, and all its varied wants. When everybody else has failed us, we still can turn confidently to Him.

He understands us because He shares our He understands us because He shares our own human nature. He was as truly a man as the neighbor is who walks down town with us every morning, and He has declared that, no matter what changes His death, resurrection and ascension may have worked within Him. He still is essentially one in nature with ourselves. All the impulses for good or evil which rise within us, therefore, have been known to Him in His own fore, have been known to Him in His own person, although His knowledge of the evil never passed from acquaintance with temptation into acquaintance with actually com-

He has shared our human experience also. For a whole generation he was a member of an ordinary human household. The ties of home, the familiar cares and duties growing out of the life of the household and the neighborhood, the very temptation to which humanijy in any form and at any time is exposed—all these are known to Him, and are understood by Him, so that He can en-ter fully into the feelings of each of us—His disciples.

He comprehends us, furthermore, by the sid of His Divine Omniscience. He is not only truly man, but also truly God. He understands our nature, because He gave it to us, and our circumstances because He ordained them. His sympathy is not only tender and unlimited, it is also perfectly informed, even as to the secret influences which often shape our lives so powerfully, yet which we rarely detect entirely, and often overlook altogether.

All this suggests a comforting truth. Although our Lord knows all about our moral failures and our sins, and appreciates their failures and our sins, and appreciates their guilt far more keenly than we do, He also knows all about our struggles against temptation, our efforts to rise above discouragement, our good purpose renewed in the face of defeat, and our sorrow and shame because of defeat, and our sorrow and shame because of our unfaithfulness.

Not one of our faintest aspirations or endeavors toward better things escapes the notice of His constant, helpful love. Is it not indeed a comfort to know that He does understand us thoroughly?—(Congregationalist

You may have noticed that when the chaffinoh or the stork or the crane starts on its migration, it calls all those of its kind to come, too. The tree tops are full of chirp and whistle and carol and the long roll-call. The bird does not start off alone. It gathers all of its kind. Oh that you might be as wise in this migration to heaven, and that you might gather all your families and your friends with you! I would that Hannah might take Sannel by the hand and Abaham migat take Issac, and Hagar might take Islma.!

Start for heaven yourself, and take your children with you. Come thou and all thy house into the ark. Tell your little ones that there are realms of balm and sweetness for all those who fly in the right direction. Swifter than eagle's stroke, put out for heaven, Like

DAVID C. COOK.

The Pioneer Publisher of Sunday-School

David C. Cook, of Chicago, whose name has become a household word through his Sunday-school publications, is but 42 years old. He was born in East Worcester, N. Y., in 1850, a son of Rev. E. S. Cook.

a Methodist minister, and from a child an earnest and devoted member of the church and Sunday-school.

He began teaching Ward's Rolling Wills Sunday-school, in Chicago, at the age of 17, helping also in one

DAVID C. COOK. and sometimes two mission schools of the West Side, meeting at different hours, until the great fire of 1871 changed his plans, great fire of 1871 changed his plans, and marked the beginning of his work on the North Side. Seeing the distress and pressing need for help, he left his home and rented rooms in one of the poorest and roughest neighborhoods of the burnt district, where, with three other young men whom he persuaded to join him, he gave himself to relief and mission work. Here on North avenue, in a German theatre and beer hall, was started his "Everybody's Mission," afterward removed to a building of its own near by. This mission, with attendance of 350 to 450, he started, built up and sustained without aid from any church or society for five years, until others were or society for five years, until others were able to occupy the field. He also organized and superintended on the North Side, North Avenue Mission, Lake View Mission and Lake View Union schools, and, in Elgin, the Grace Church School, besides several smaller unterwives elsewhere.

enterprises elsewhere.

His first publications were prepared only for his own schools, then, to divide the cost of type-setting, he asked orders from others. No one could be more surprised than he at the demand thus created. schools afforded a place for first testing new helps and new ideas. It is to this love for the work, and close application to it, that schools are indebted for what he has done for the cause of Sunday-school literature.

THE decision of a St. Louis court to the effect that alimony in a divorce case cannot be collected from a man who is on a strike is plainly in pursuance of the idea of one row at a time. A man who has a fight on hand with his employer is in no shape to be "scrapping" with his wife, and vice versa.

> The Only One Ever Printed. CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?

These is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look forit, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OF SAMPLES FREE.

have been raised from $2.50 to $3 a day.

Guaranteed to cure Bilious Attacks and Constipation, Small Bile Beans. Russia has nearly a $100,000,000 deposited in the different European capitals.

Good for children as well as adults, Small

The French troops have already killed 1500 Dahomeyans in Africa.

To aid Digestion take one Small Bile Bean after eating. 25c. per bottle. Maine has 3810 abandoned farms, with a total area of 254,512 acres.

For Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and Stomach disorders, use Brown's fron Bitters. The Best Tonic, it rebuilds the system, cleans the Blood and strengthens the muscles. A splendid tonic for weak and debilitated persons.

In many sections a total failure of the

For impure of thin Blood, Weakness, Malaria Neuralgia, Indigestion, and Biliousness, take Brown's Iron Bitters—it gives strength, making old persons feel young—and young persons strong; pleasant to take.

hundred thousand of Berlin's inhabitants live in cellars.

Have You Asthma ?

Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn, will mall a trial package of Schiffmann's Asthma Cure free to any sufferer. Gives instant relief in worst cases, and cures where others fail. Name this paper and send address.

W. H. Griffin, Jackson, Michigan, writes: "Suffered with Catarrh for fitteen years, Hall's Catarrh Cure cured me." Sold by lr you are constipated, bilious or troubled with sick headache, Beecham's Pills afford immediate relief. Of druggists. 25 cents.

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

OPIUM Morphine Habit Cured in 10 to 20 days. No pay till cured. DR.J. STEPHENS, Lebanon, Ohio.

German Syrup

I am a farmer at Edom, Texas. I have used German Syrup for six years successfully for Sore Throat, Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Pains in Chest and Lungs and Spitting-up of Blood. I have tried many kinds of Cough Syrups in my time, but let me say to anyone wanting such a medicine—German Syrup is the best. We are subject to so many sudden changes from cold to hot, damp weather here, but in families where German Syrup is used there is little trouble from colds. John F.Jones. @

A WOMAN HAS

very little desire to enjoy the pleasures of life, and is entirely unfitted for the cares of housekeeping or any ordinary duties, if afflicted with

SICK MEADACHE DAY AFTER DAY

and yet there are few diseases that yield more promptly to proper medical treatment. It is therefore of the utmost importance that a reliable remedy should always be at hand. During a period of more than

SIXTY YEARS there has been no instance reported where such cases have not been permanently and

PROMPTLY CURED

BY the use of a single box of the genuine and justly

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS,

which may be procured at any Drug Store, or will be mailed to any address on the receipt of 25 cents in postage stamps.

Purchasers of these Pills should be careful to procure the genuine article. There are several counterfeits on the market, well calculated to deceive. The genuine Dr. C. McLane's Celebrated Liver Pills are manufactured only by FLEMING BROTHERS CO., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Unlike the Outch Process No Alkalies Other Chemicals are used in the preparation of W. BAKER & CO.'S BreakfastCocoa which is absolutely pure and soluble. It has more than three times the strength of Cocoa mixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is far more economical, costing less than one cent a cup. It is delicious, nourishing, and EABLY DIGESTED.

Sold by Grocers everywhere. W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

VOL. II.

CALERA, ALA.. WEDNESDAY. NOVEMBER 30, 1892.

NO. 6

Light Will Break Temerrow. What though our skies be overcast And clouds of trouble lower? Though disappointments crowding fast, em life's ungrateful dower? Though trials throng upon our way, Shall we succum to sorrow? No! Let us gather hope, and say, The light will break tomorrow!

Ti ough fickle Fortune hides her face. Our brave endeavors scorning, And robs us of some promised grace Without a moment's warning, Let us not tremble at her frown, Nor care and trouble borrow, But crush our dark forebodings down-The light will break tomorrow!

Beyond the shadows of the night The welcome sun is shining,
The c'ouds that loom upon our sight Have all a silver lining;
The darkest hour precedes the dawn, And joy succeeds to sorrow-The longest night will yet be gone, And light will break tomorrow

EQUAL TO THE TEST.

-[Helen Whitney Clark, in Saturday Night.

"Oh, dear, no! Bessie Hunt'll never amount to much of anything. Pretty enough, if any one fancies red hair and eves that have a yellow glint in them like a tiger's, but that never was my style of beauty! Give me a girl that has something more substantial than mere good looks to fall back on if the time should ever come when it is necessary, instead of a girl who has nothing more than some mouldy classic on the end of her tongue, or some frittery fancy work forever in her fingers!"

"La, sakes, brother," feebly expostulated Mrs. Hant, "you look as if it were really going to be! I know Bessie is fond of her books and pretty feminine fancies, but I don't blame the girl. I used to like 'em when I was her age! But I know she ain't any more like Jessica or Minerva than they are like her."

Abram Alvey was too deeply enguess." grossed in his subject to heed the quiet sarcasm in the last portion of her response.

"Right, Emily," retorted, quickly, "no more she ain't! Jess or Min could take hold and do for themselves if they should ever have to, but Bessie there-laugh!"

Nobody saw a slender shadow flit across the window near which Abram Alvey sat, neither did they hear the footsteps which approached the open door, then stole swiftly and quietly masses of red-brown hair clustering around a sweet, serious face, out of a thin, hard line. which shone the wide brown eyes which had in them the "yellow glint" to which Abram Alvey objected.

Unwittingly Bessie Hunt had overheard the whole of their conversation which alluded to her! She had a book | palsy. in her hand, and as she turned away there was just a suspicion of tears on alarmed. the long, silken fringe of lashes around the brown eyes, a tremor in the Be you sick? Just sit down and let curved, sensitive lips.

went swiftly down the grass-grown spite of the clouds which sometimes path to her favorite haunt under a obscured their domestic horizon, Emiclump of graceful, silvery larches, "if I am so very useless? Uncle Alvey certainly thinks so! But," with a had chosen for better, for worse. sigh, "I never had the strength to do all that Jessie and Minnie might! at the suggestion of food or drink, I wish I had, though!"

orchid blossom on the strong, hardy tell her Abram." Northern rose! The harsh remarks in her heart just now.

But "truth is stranger than fiction." Sunny skies and fair promises surrounded Myrtle Farm and its inhabi- by ruining his family. That's all!" tants at present. There was no fear of casualties in the heart of honest nearest chair and stared, speechless, John Hunt, for, as he said, he'd "laid at her brother. Jessica and Minerva by a considerable pile to use on a rainy day," if the time ever came. | sion of almost ludicrous dismay on But they had no fear of its coming, their faces.

town, near the outskirts of which ever possessed you?" stood Myrtle Farm, once a week John produce; there he heard conversations the table never moved. which set him to thinking. Men talked of making a lifetime fortune in as he joited homeward ever the rough | chair.

tempted he became.

At last, one bright morning he large roll of bills.

He was going to try his luck. It would be such a fine thing for the home folks, he argued to himself, if ly. "Try me and see." he happened to come out ahead. No thought of the other possibility seemed | which Abram Alvey had often boasted to trouble him.

He seemed unusually restless for the next few days after his return. He was singularly anxious to read the daily papers.

"A body'd think you'd been speculatin', John," observed Mrs. Hunt, one day, as she repeated some remarks a third time before he heard her.

A queer look settled over his face but he made no response.

But all at once he uttered a stifled exclamation and started to his feet; his face had grown unusually pale and the hand which grasped his hat trembled with nervous agitation.

"I must go up to town, Emily," he exclaimed, "at once! Where's Bess?" Mrs. Hunt looked her astonish-

"To town!" she repeated, blankly. Why, you was there only last Saturday! Anything happened?" with a glance at the paper, which had fluttered unheeded to the floor.

"No, not much, only-well, never mind."

Two, three hours past. Jessica and Minerva came in, two strong, florid girls with loud voices and blunt manners, and immediately demanded "dad."

Poor, mystified Mrs. Hunt shook her

"I don't know, girls, but he said he was going in town. Business, I

"Humph!" ejaculated Jessica. "Where's Bessie? Gone with him?" "No. She went for something; I've forgot. But any rate, she's round somewhere."

The Misses Hunt exchanged glances, but deigned no reply to the patient, overworked mother, who was rather afraid of these self-reliant daughters, preferring in her heart gentle, misunderstood Bessie before either.

It was several hours past the time for their early tea when John Hunt away. A tall, slender girl, with wavy came home. Abram Alvey was with him, and his lips were compressed in

John Hunt himself, during the short time he had been absent, seemed to have grown years older. He was pale, restless, and the hand which he rested on the table shook as with

His wife came forward, seriously

"What happened, John! Anything? me get you a good, strong cup o' tea "I wonder," she murmured, as she right off. It'll do you good," for in ly Hunt was loyal and true to the man whom in her earlier youth she

He made a gesture of repugnance

"I can't eat anything, wife," he Poor child, she did not know, as said, as he threw his arms across the she attered this vain wish, that it was tabe in a hopeless, dejected fashion, literally like grafting the fair, frail and hid his face upon them. "I-I-

"He has been speculatin'," went on that she had overheard rankled deeply | that individual, the rigid lines in his face never softening, the tones of his voice hard and metallic as cold steel; "speculatin', I tell you, and has ended

> Mrs. Hunt sank helplessly into the clung together on the sofa, an expres-

"Well, I never!" exclaimed Min-But, las for the consistencies of hu- erva, the first to break the heavy manity! Down in the progressive silence that ensued. "Father, what-

Jessica suddenly burst into a violent Hunt carried a goodly load of farm fit of weeping The bent figure beside

"Father! Look up!"

Without a glance in either direction. some bold speculation; of getting tail, straight, with a bright spot burn-Georners' in grain, buying Glow," ing in either cheek and a brilliant then selling "high," and, although he glitter in her eyes, Bessie suddenly did not just understand as clearly as crossed the room and knelt gently, he ought, he would ponder these things sympathetically, beside her father's country roads, and the more he | "Father! Don't take it so to heart! [Puck.

thought the more fascinated and It cannot be so bad, and," in a lower tone, "I will help you now."

Then John Hunt raised his head, a started for the market as usual, but gleam of hope stealing into his dreary beneath his coat, securely wadded into eyes as he placed his hand tenderly a snug roll into his vest pocket, was a among the red-brown tresses clustering above the high white brow.

"You, Bessie?"

"Yes, father," she responded quiet-

And so it proved. The test of had at last come.

But contrary to his expectations, Jessica or Minerva, the "self-reliant girls," did not come up to his standard. They "hung around," as he ex. pressed it, bemoaning their unlucky fate and making the place almost unbearable to the disheartened man. He bore up as long as he possibly could, then succumbed to the inevitable.

It was then that Bessie, the "useless one," came to the fore. The "frittery fancy work" that Abram Alvey had so scornfully condemned, proved its worth. Blithely the bright steel needle flew through gauze and silk, and for the dainty creations turned out by the deft fingers Bessie received a snug competence. Her time was almost taken up, but somehow she managed to crowd in a few music pupils, and so add a trifle more to their income.

And it was after giving a lesson one day that she came in, and throwing aside her hat, laid her flushed, bright face on the pillow beside her father's. He looked at her fondly, but in a deprecating way.

"My dear," he said, in a strangely weak voice, "you will kill yourself working so! If only Jess or Min"-She placed her hand on his mouth with a quick, quaint gesture.

"No more 'ifs,' papa, please," she said, lightly. "And I am not going to work so hard now. Papa, Ralph Deane has asked me to marry him and I said-I would!"

Ralph Deane! John Hunt remembered him. He belonged to one of the best families in town.

For an instant the broken man gazed into the fresh, fair face, then drew her close to his breast.

"God bless you, my daughter," he said, huskily.

And Jessica and Minerva?

When Bessie was married she took her father, mother and two sisters home with her to the handsome home her husband gave her, and they are there, bemoaning their fate even yet. - Boston Globe.

The Antiquity of The Umbrella.

The antiquity of the umbrella is undisputed. The Chinese, who, in their lavish notions of autiquity, credit their institutions with centuries galore, think nothing of dating the first umbrella back 4000 or 5000 years anterior to the Mosaic date of creation. Many distinguished scholars have claimed to discover in the Bible reference to the existence of a shield against sun and rain, while the Sanscrit poets, writing when Latin was young, are full of aliusions to it. Various have been the speculations as to the origin of the umbrella.

Some say that the introducing of leafy branches into a sort of a bower first suggested it. Others that the nomadic tent was the only natural prototype of what so strongly resembles it in miniature.

In the Chaldaic sculptures of Nineveh the umbrella is of frequent occurrence, as shown by the excellent reproductions of Layard, who wrote concerning it: "The umbrella or parasol, that emblem of royalty so universally adopted by eastern nations, was generally carried over the King in time of peace and sometimes even in war. In shape it resembled very closely those in common use, but it is always open in the sculptures. It was edged with tassels, and was usually ornamented at the top with a flower or some other ornament."-[Clothier and Furnisher,

A Retraction.

Dr. Faresis (angrily)-Look here, Dicer, I understand that you have been treat a sick cat of yours.

Dicer-That's about what I said. Dr. Paresis-Well, sir, you'll have to take it back.

Dicer-Very well, I will. I'd let you treat a sick cut of mine. I'm not very fond of the animal anyhow .-

CURING A COLD.

Some Methods That May Be Used to Advantage.

A Doctor's Practical Suggestions and Remedies.

If you have contracted a "cold," of course you want to get rid of it as soon as possible, says a doctor in the New York World. When the first symptoms, which have been described, manifest themselves is the time for action, and this should consist of a hot mustard foot-bath before going to bed and a hot draught of milk. The covoring of the body should be linen and wool, the former in the way of the sheet and the latter in the blanket.

No attempt to get up an active sweating should be made. The footbath and the warm drink will give a sense of warmth and facilitate the natural exerction of materials which should pass away by the skin, and any effort to aggrevate this will be not only superfluous, but harmful.

The blanket should never be worn next to the night robe, and should not be so thick as to confine the air next to the body. It is, indeed, often advisable to lighten the covering of the feet, and to preserve a certain amount of weight over the loins, and to have the shoulders protected from the external surroundings in general.

The last measure is not to be underrated; a sensitive lung carries with it susceptibility to take to itself everything that could possibly affect it to its detriment. Lung diseases belongs to sensitive persons, and may or may not be the sequence of a "cold." The majority of them, however, can be traced to imprudence in dress and exposure. Pneumonia, plurisy and consumption are partners of carelessness in the dressing of the chest and back, and "colds," which might stop at the throat by a little prudence, are their apprentices.

If one of your ancestors died of a lung disease, you should be more than usually cautious about the clothing of your chest and back. Families and their offspring have tendencies toward certain complaints, and this fact should not be ignored.

If you have unconsciously contracted a cold and want to get relief from it, you must, in the first place, avoid too much medication. A properly clad skin and a clear digestion ought to shorten the life of the "cold." If a little comfort can be secured by wearing a light covering on the head during indoor hours it should be respected.

Ventilation of apartments comes in for a slight amount of attention, and it should be simply sufficient to furnish fresh air and not to produce currents which can be appreciated. Nothing is more fallacious than the belief that health is promoted and life prolonged by air in excess, and this is proved by tombstones.

There are a few good remedies which appeal to us as matters of tradition. Our grandparents used them with effect, and we might follow their example without injury. One of these is sassafras tea, another is boneset tea, and another is senna tea. Each has its office, and each is of value in its peculiar line, and at the same time

It would be superfluous to give directions for their use, for every one knows about them and what grandma has believed of their efficacy. These teas are good and may benefit you in time of "colds."

Tepees and Hogans.

While attached to a military expedition against the Sioux in Wyoming in 1877, I saw those Indians construct take to be the most primitive form of house built by human nands. It was simply a shelter, or tepee as they called it, made with the green boughs cut from the cottonwood trees. Without any especial pre aration of the telling people you wouldn't let me ground, they implanted the cut ends of the limbs in two parallel rows about eight feet long and five feet apart. The tops were adroitly bent over the inclosed space and fastened together along the middle line, thus creating a semi-cylindrical shelter open at both ends. These tepees were to sleep in, all the cooking and other arrangements being performed out-

court Clints

In permanent summer camps these tepees are built in a sub-hemispherical shape, the ground upon which they are built being cleaned off, moderately scooped, out, and the earth thus obtained banked around the in-stuck ends of the boughs on the inside of the structure. They are then trimmed up and properly covered outside with long prairie grass, so placed as to shed the rain. Often, too, they threw an old buffalo hide over the top as an additional protection.

In 1886 I observed the Navajos in northwestern New Mexico building similar houses to the ones I have just described; but those Indians also build a more durable structure in their hogau—a conical house of logs plastered with mud, and with a door at the side. Navajos, too, are improving in their home-building more especially where they have taken up their abode in the neighborhood of frontier military garrisons.—[Popular Science Monthly.

How to Make an Egg Dance.

For the boy who loves to play magician and to keep the whole family enthralled by his remarkable feats here is a new trick, that of making an egg dance: Place a hard-boiled egg upon the underside of a smooth, but dull-not polished-tray. Move the tray around and around horizontally, gradually increasing in speed. The egg, resting in the middle of the tray, is carried around and around by the movement and gradually begins to revolve on its own axis, faster and faster, till at last it is seen to rise on end and spin away just as a top would do.

In all experiments involving egg balancing you will find it a material aid to success to keep the egg upright in the saucepan while it is being boiled. The air chamber will in such case be kept central with the longer axis of the egg, which will, in consequence, be much more easily balanced.

To set the egg spinning as described demands practice, not to mention some strength, and, still more, address. For the benefit of those who are ambitious to succeed at the first attempt we indicate a simple plan of procedure. Place the tray on the table, letting it project so far over the edge as to be readily and rapidly grasped band-That's lucky. by the hand. Place the egg in the left and the first finger of the right hand placed at opposite ends, set it vigorously spinning. It will immediately rise on end, still spinning. Quickly seize the tray and you will then have nothing to do but to keep the edge still rotating, which is a very easy matter. This is done by moving the tray in horizontal circles, but in the reverse direction to that in which the egg revolves .- [New York Advertiser.

▲ Marvelous Work of Art.

A poor sonar, or goldsmith, named Prayag Ram, of Dumaron, in Shahabad, India, has constructed a most ingenious piece of mechanism. It represents the various household and industrial avocations engaged in by the women of that country. A large group of figures beautifully modeled and dressed, each about two inches high, is seen in the reproduction of the inner courtyard of an Indian mansion. Some are employed in spinning cotton, others in husking rice, grinding corn, churning and other domestic work. Their movements, which are wonderfully natural, are communicated by complicated clockwork concealed in the body of the case, which is inclosed in glass. The inventor having expressed a desire to present his work to Queen Victoria, the magistrate of Shahabad has submitted the at the various camps we made what I offer through the proper channels. Her Majesty has been graciously pleased to accept the mechanism as a token of Prayag Ram's loyalty, and his magnum opus, fitted in a padded box, is on its way to Osborne. - [Chicago Times.

Uncle Sam's Treasure House. The great United States Treasury

vaults at Washington, D. C., cover more than a quarter of an acre of ground and are 12 feet deep. On a recent date there was enough of silver and gold coin stored therein to load 175 or 200 freight cars to their utmost merely intended for two or three men | capacity .- [St. Louis Repuclic.

A Metrical Miniature. Her eyes display a blended hue Of summer skies and violets blue,

With just a hint of April dew To make her glances bright; But, lest their luster be too fair, And brighter than the world could bear. Long lashes like a silken snare, Befringe her lids of white.

Shy apple-blossoms flushed with morn Have lent their color to adorn Her cheek, whereon is gaily born

A dimple with each smile. Her wayward tresses scorn to rest By ribbon bound or fillet prest. And ever weave at their behest Fresh graces to beguile.

Her curving lips by turns recall Red roses, poppies, cherries-all That wins the eye or could enthrall

A hermit or a saint. Her gleaming teeth 't were vain to hymn; The brightest words were all to dim; The artist who their light would lima Must crush a pearl to paint.

Beneath her kirtle peeps a foot That charms in slipper, gaiter, boot; Whose music makes the birds grow mute With bended heads to hear.

Her hand can boast perfection's mold, In winter warm, in summer cold, And just the temperature to hold At any time of year.

A snowy neck, a witching chin, An ear in tint the sea-shell's twin, A saucy nose-just put that in-

The bonnie little belle! Her name? Ah, there I hesitate; With many a rival at her gate, Her name, until I know my fate,

'T were wiser not to tell. -[Samuel M. Peck, in the Century.

HUMOROUS.

Better late than never-Husbands. 'T is better to be tried by fire than to be fired after being tried. It takes a master-stroke to smooth down a rebellious schoolboy.

It is a wise child that goes out of the room when the old man smashes his thumb.

"Here is another idle shattered," said the young man who found he had to go to work. The spider is possibly the only thing living that can have a fly time of it without being punished Dotley (who notes her black velvet ribbons) - You are in half mourning? Dorothy-Yes, my half brother is

She-You say you think Mr. Pinckerly was born lucky. Why, he has been jilted by four girls. Her Hus-

"That's the burning question," middle, and with the thumb of the announcing Gazzam, as he laid down his newspaper. "What is?" asked his wife. "Cremation."

> Molly-Does your husband still practice economy as he did when he was single? Wife-Oh, no; he contents himself with preaching it to Mr. Que See-Sneaky sort of man?

> What do you mean sir? Witness-Well, sor, he's the sort of man that'll never look ye straight in the face until ver back's turned. Chappie-I did not catch Mrs, Hi> strung's remark. I wonder if it was intended for me? Bess-No, I know It was not, for she said, "A word to the wise is enough."

"I see Miss Sanders and Miss Smiley are together all the time. What dear friends they must be!" "Not at all. You see, each of them has an unmarried brother."

"There's one thing I don't understand," said little Harry; "that's why good-tasting things like pie make me sick, while bad-tasting things like medicine make me well."

Mollie, "Whatever induced you to get this horrid-looking material for a dress?" Ethel: "It is the only way I can be sure of getting back what is left over at the drefsmaker's."

He-Do you know it has always seemed strange to me that I have never married? She - Dear me, haven't any of the girls ever given you their reasons for refusing you?

Invalid Wife-John dear, I to hope if you should ever marry again you will find a better wife than I have been. John-There, there, my love, don't worry; there will be no trouble about that.

He-Miss Emma, I love you. May I ask your parents for their permission to lead you to the altar? She-Certainly. "And do you think they will give their consent?" "Of course they will. I have trained them to be obedient from my youth up."

Entered at the Post Office in Calera as Second Class Matter.

CALERA, WEDNESDAY NOV 30.

The general assembly will recess of January.

Reflector? We havn't seen a copy of it since the election.

on the demagogues in Alabama, and are enough to silence them forever. Will they dare speak again.

THE fall term of circuit court in "Lawless Bibb," begins next Monday, and holds two weeks. The judge and solicitor will both be new men.

-Mosely ticket.

The Evening News' subscription to the chamber of commerce increased very rapidly until the sum amounted to $22,500, and has been standing still at that figure fo some days. Don't stop gentlemen, 'till it reaches at least $35,000.

position of solicitor of the 4th disterests. This is well, and every Hogue, of Perry, we feel satisfied near future, to set aside a column sufficient attention to this. that the district will have in Col. Quarles, an able efficient prosecuting attorney.

Down in "lawless Bibb," where we once upon a time, published the Bibb Blade, which we always kept sharp on the grind-rock of democracy, the good people want us to come bacg and start up anew in are too old and need peace and quiet.

Now that we are about through rejoicing over the result of the election, why not turn our attention toward building up Talladega? We need a cotton factory. We need a broom factory. We need a canning factory. And they can all fellows in the state are the 4x6 load for each horse in France being be built if we will unite our forces lawyers who identified themselves two or three tons net load on hard

View and the Shelby Chronicle, over. They will be heard of no said nothing in their last issues more forever. The farmers they about the "slice" of territory that have tried to fool will give them now belongs to Chilton and which the grand bounce. - Jacksonville wants to be attached to Shelby. Republican. Bretheren have you seen fit to let Mistaken you are, Bro. Grant, in Montgomery several days, where court house in Columbiana, within lethe people most interested settle the 4x6 ministers who took in the he has been warmly welcomed by galhours of sale, this matter as they think best for Alliance for the purpose of "politi- hosts of friends. Mr. Robbins is so well succeeded in other states, some of our papers are coming out and the Journal extends its conto its' support for Alabama. The gratulations. editor of this paper three years ago in a speech before the Alabama Press Assocaition put himself on Chilton View, will be an applicant licly announced his belief in an Land office, at Montgomery. Mr. honest and intelligent ballot. No Lawrence is a worthy man, and paper in the State at the time had would make a good and efficient ofthe nerve to even favorably comthe nerve to even favorably commont upon the advanced theory he rence on one point but we have a ling result:

It gives us pleasure to note the lost favor with men but of God. many complimentary notices of B. F. Wilson, the newly elected solicitor of this, the seventh judicial circuit. Mr. Wilson is one the ablest young lawyers in the district, and his election over the many promiplace, is a compliment that is high ly appreciated by his many friends in this and other counties in the and was a prominent candidate for which win for a man a place in the district.

| Advanced is a worthy man, and would make a good and efficient official vote of Illinois shows the following result: put forth. However, he still be- kind feeling for all newspaper men lieves in it, and is glad to see the who have stood up and fought for papers come out in its favor. We the people, and we hope Editor ver, Populite, 20,685. have nerve enough to act.

THE editor regrets that the editorial in last week's issue commenting upon the suffrage idea advanc- tain territory belonging to Chilton ed in the "Woman's Column," calls to Shelby, had passed the House for a slight explanation. The words in which this comment was couched were doubtless harsher than was intended, but the relation existing between the editor and edifrom the 12th of December to 19th tress, would to casual readers make the comment seem very much out What has become of the People's presume, intended only to convey a FIFTY thousand votes have fallen editress. The Journal hastens to ry. apologize, renouncing any intention of wounding the feelings of its contributors.

F. W. G.

complained to the editor at the Only one third party paper in in reference to the Woman's Suf-Alabama—the Reform Advocate— frage theory. We are sorry that has life enough to kick since the she is so sensitive, and if we had and shall expect the "Woman's not be able to perform. Column" to appear with its usual interesting reading matter.

THE Age-Herald, since the election, devotes its first editorial col-W. W. QUARLES' election to the umn every day to industrial inof the Journal to this work, and that will be calculated to increase others to come and do it for them. er enterprises.

About the meanest feeling set of and go to work .- Mountain Home. with the Alliance movement to get roads. This is more than doubl the The State of Alabama, Shelby county, office or have political influence. Our contemporaries, Chilton The days of their demagoguey are cal influence," are a more pitiful set | yet a young man and will be one of Congress in the last campaign. Miss Booker is radiant and fasci-SINCE the Australian ballot has nating belle of the black belt, Their match will be a brilliant one, record on this question, and pub- for the office of Receiver of the ic. Montgomery Journal. ment upon the advanced theory he rence on one point, but we have a ing result: hope the present legislature will Lawrence will get the place to have nerve enough to act.

Lawrence will get the place to 425,238: Fifea, Republican, 402,858. which he aspires.

It was reported here yesterday that Col West's bill to attach cerconfirms such report.

We always did admire Lon Grant itorial page last week, among the quiet our brothers uneasy nerves .most glaring is in the last item in Shelby News. The above from the editor seems the first column. In the sixth line to indicate that the editress of the from the head two errors occur, the "Woman's Column" had privately letters "bstate" should be state, and "efer" should be refers. In the seeming harsh langague used by us fifth line from the bottom cimputhe legislature Shelby county Denoras" should be impetus.

Among the many applicants for inglorious defeat of the Weaver not thought she was acquainted position under the incoming adwith our straight-forward manner ministration, we see our friend of expressing our like or dislike of Hugh Foshee, of Chilton, for the DR. MACUNE, the editor of the new and wild political theories, we office of Register of the Land office National Economist, has quit his certainly would not have mention- at Montgomery. Mr. Foshee has third party foolishness and holds ed the matter in an editorial way. much experience in public land on to the alliance. It is a blind to We shall in the future try to pre- matters, and being an excellent offuther gull the "down trodden far- pare her matter for publication just fice man, he would no doubt make as it is furnished us, and let each an excellent Register, and then he reader form their own conclusions. is a democrat among the best and be cautious, prudent, deliberate, fear-Now we have made the amende would be sure to employ democrats less and painstaking, and Speaker honorable in our plain way to whatever clerical work he might Pettus made no mistake in placing

In all road making the first matter of importance is to procure good drainage. All attempts at permanant in:provement will futile and his comrades say he never shrinkunless this is observed at the start ed duty, disobeyed a command or re-From what we have seen in some trict is a compliment to a man who paper in the State should do the of our journeyings we are afraid merits it. While we were for Mr same thing. It is our aim in the that some roadmasters do not give

> Let the farmers of our country any contributions in short para- arouse themselves to a sense of the graphs will be thankfully re- public demand for better roads, ceived. A series of articles on bet- and keep the responsibility of their ter roads will be acceptable, a few care; enter upon the duties of their place in our columns. Anything with lighter burdens, than to pay Chronicle.

established should be advertised in than the hind axles, so that the the county papers and this will en- four wheels roll a potion of the road wagons improve rather than injure the codition of the road, and are easier for the horses, the usual load here even on our best roads.

OUR ROBBINS.

gallant young congressman-elect court, at Columbiana, Shelby connty, from the fourth district, has been December. Mr. Brown is at the McKee, the writer then said of Mr. ated, to satisfy said decree.

D. R. McMILLAN. nent attorneys who stood for the head of the legal profession in his Robbins: "His convictions are home, Talladega, and has been in firm and his integrity inflexible. the State Senate for several years, He possesses all these peculiar gifts hearts of men, as well as a place in The State of Alabama, Shelby county. their esteem. There is not one among the young men of Alabama more eminently fitted for the arduous duties and weighty cares of public life. And there is no one W. H. LAWRENCE, editor of the political fame." This, within ten of the State of Alabora and the political fame. This, within ten of the State of Alabama, and further, years, seems to have been prophet- that, in the belief of said affiant, the de-

OFFICIAL VOTE OF ILLINOIS.

Cleveland 426 554.

Harrison 397,101. Bidwell, Prohibition, 245,590; Wea-

Cleveland's plurality 28.153.

THE Shelby Chronicle and Chilton View, each signify their fears of a new county in Calera's neck of the woods. These brethren are unnecessarily alarmed in that matter. No body in and gone to the Senate. But noth- this settlement is looking for a new ing in the legislative procedings county, and while Calera is abundantly able to furnish any county in Alabama with diverse and sundry able and competent probate judges, it is within and his modesty. But we think he the recollection of our people, that rather over did the thing when he no one in our midst has sought that of place. The managing editor, we apologized for a compliment—which office since long before the last Auwe are satisfied was not over- gust election. If our worthy contemspirit of levity in regard to the un-drawn—that the foreman published poraries, still insist that Calera should popular theory—using terms that in the Republican, while every one have probate judges or other offices taken seriously, would offend the knew Lon was down at Montgome- and insist on thrusting official togal upon some of our citizens, a way is THERE were several very ugly mending that President Cleveland typographical errors on our ed-give Calera's citizen enough offices to

COL. JOHN P. WEST.

In the selection of Col. John P. West to look after their interests in crats displayed the same wisdom that prompted them to enrich the legislative history of Alabama by the counsils of J. M. McClannahan, B. B. Lewis, R. W. Cobb, Henry Wilson and W. T. Smith. Col. West is not without legislative experience having represented Shelby county during 1861-2 in the lower house of the legislature and his course as a legislator will be characterized by an intelligent conception of public measures and by an honest, manly treatment of them. He will him on perhaps the most important committee, that of penitentiary and criminal administration.

Col. West was for a while colonel of the Second Alabama Cavalary, & S A ceived a reprimand during his career as a soldeir, and that no Confederate & Georgia Railroad. officer possessed to a larger degree the confidence, esteem and affection of his associates.

The contest cases against the couny officers were called up before Judge ohn S. Leeper on Monday, the 21st inst., and were continued till Wednesday, December 14, on account of the ideas on the establishment of a repair, with a willing, determined failure of the contestants counsel to cotton factory at Calera, or other hand, knowing they can do the give notices required by law of the points in the County, will find a work, and do it well, much cheaper, day set for the trial of the cases.-

Mr. W. M. Talley, druggist at the newspaper business, but we the business of this almost dried up In France it is the custom to use Wrights drug store, left Monday night county should be considered and tires for heavy teaming 6 inches for Clarksville, Tenn., to engage in talked at through the newspapers. wide, and the forward axles of four- similar business. Mr. Tally came to Whatever business there is already wheeled wagons are made shorter us from Dixon Tenn., hence returns to his native state, Calera gives him to know him well and like him. We courage the editor to talk up oth- 2 feet wide at each passage. Such know that he is bound to be successful, wherever he may go, as he deserves

Sale.

In Chancery at Columbiana, Alabama, Sixth district, North Eastern Chance ry Division.

Thomas Griffin, Sr., complainant, vs. J.
M. Anderson & Co., et als, defendant. Hon. Gaston A. Robbins, the September term, 1892 of the Chancery Alabama, in said cause, I shall proceed to sell to the highest and best bidder,

> On Monday, 19th day of December, 1892, of fellows. They have not only lost favor with men but of God.

the youngest men in the next house of representatives from the south.

The west hif of southeast qr, and south east qr of southwest qr of section 15, The editor is in receipt of an invitation to the marriage of Mr.

Casil Property to Mice Sallia Rocker

Tit is pleasant to recall the fact that as far back as 1880, after he and Mr. Chappell Cory, now editor of 21, range 3, west; also, the east hilf of northwest qr, and northwest qr of northeast qr, section 22, township 21, range 3 west, containing two hundred and form agree are form agrees and situations. Cecil Brown to Miss Sallie Booker, at Uniontown, on the 7th day of December. Mr. Brown is at the State of the Birmingham Age-Herald, purchased the Selma Argus from Col. December. Mr. Brown is at the State of the Selma Argus from Col. J. M. Anderson & Co. Saw Mill is situation they gold of Mr.

> Register in Chancery. nov30 3w prs fee $750.

Notice to Nonresident.

In Chancery at Columbiana, Alabama, Sixth district, North Eastern Chance-ry Division, November 21st, 1892. Martha E. Daniel, by her next friend L. W. Watson, complainant, vs. Hudson W. N. Daniel, defendant.

IN This Cause it is made to appear to the fendant is over the age of twenty-one

It is therefore ordered by the Register that publication be made in the Calera the same, within thirty days after the 26th day of December, 1892, and failing so to do a decree pro confesso will be taken against him in said cause.

Done at office, in Columbiana, Alabama, this 22nd day of November, 1892.

D. R. McMillan, Register in Chancery. nov20 4w prs fee $7.50

Banking House Of W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co.,

CALERA; ALABAMA.

Receive Deposits,

Negotiate Loans,

upon some of our citizens, a way is opened to these brethren in recommending that President Cleveland give Calera's citizen enough offices to unit our brothers appears pages to open accounts with entity our brothers appears pages.

Issue interest bearing certificates of Deposit, and sell exchange on New York Louisville and Birmingham at regular rates equarged by the larger cities.

We transact a general banking business, such as that of any incorporated bank in all of its legitimate branches, andwould be pleased to open accounts with merchants, manufacturers and planters alike.

and Life Insurance

Written in the best companies.

Bought, Sold and Rented upon just terms.

≪SIX MILE MALE •&• FEMALE ACADEMY.>

R. H. PRATT, Principal.

35th annual session begins September 26, 1892, and continues 40 WEEKS,

ONE WEEK FOR CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS. TERMS.—Primary Department—per month......$1 50 Intermediate, including English branches and Latin, Higer branches of Mathematics, French, Greek, with the Music and use of instrument, 3 00 Board—per month, $7. Washing, Starehing, Ironing $1......$8 00 Students are required to furnish, for their own use, one pr. blankets, one pr. sheets and pillow cases, their own toilet lights. Payments, monthy or quarterly in advance.

This school is located at Six Mile, Alabama, in a healthy, well watered neighborhood, five miles from Ashby depot, on the East Tennessee, Virginia

R H PRATT, PrIncipal, 3sept 6m Six Mile, Alabama.

Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats Shoes, Gents & Ladies Dress Goods,

CALERA, ALA,Do

Have one of the Largest Stocks of Hats, Shoes, Clothing, Notions, up reluctantly as we all had learned Dry Goods, and General Merchandize, Ever Brought to Shelby County

> OPPOSITE OUR DRY GOODS HOUSWe have Opened up a.....

EMAMMOTHESTOCK

OUR

WILL BE IN THIS HOUSE AT ALL TIMES WAIT ON YOU and price Furniture as Low as any House in Alabama.

Our Campaign Goods are as neat and as Cheap as any in the State.

A. C. WADE & CO.

W. D. HUGGINS, JUSTICE OF THE PEACE Real Estate and Collecting Agent,

CALERA

Information furnished in regard to Mineral, Timber and Farming Lands. Claims Collected and returns immediately made Correspondence solicited and letters prompt

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE CENTLEMEN. And other specialties for Gentlemen, Ladies, Boys and Best in the World.

JASPER HOLCOMB,

Take no Substitute, but insist on having W. L. DOUGLAS' SHOES, with name and price stamped on pottom. Sold by

HUGH T. CAFFEY, PHYSICIAN & SURGEO

Columbiana.

CALERA, ALA. b12-1y.

J. L. PETERS. HENRY WILSON, E. S. LYMAN

Peters, Wilson & Lyman,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

Calera

REAL ESTATE Bought and sold. I a prop

See descriptive advertisement which will appear in erry for sale in our hands and will find you a pure Address er apply to

CARUPBELL & CO. Real Estate Agents

Calera Ais

Montevallo

GENERAL INFORMATION.

RAILROAD TIME TABLE.

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE. o. 1, South Bound, " 3, " " 4:14 p. m. 5:10 a. m. 10:19 " 2, North Bound, 10:05 p.m. 66 66

AT THE CHURCHES.

PRESBYTERIAN-Services on the 4th School at 9:30 a. m.

METHODIST—Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night, by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sabbath school at 9:30.

Baptist Church-Rev. J. G. Lowrey, 7.00 p. m., every Thursday.

CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN-J. J. Dalton, pestor. Preaching every first and third Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday evenings at 7:30. Children's Band meets 3:30 p. m. each 1st and 3rd Sunday. Ladies' Aid society every other Friday evening at 3.

told us a few yarns. Fill always has a fresh one. The last was one on Brother Longshore, and is so good that we will have to keep it to ourself.

List pot a very good sign to see so so sand in number—have almost unani-

COUNTY OFFICERS.

Probate Judge—John S. Leeper. Circuit Clerk—W. R. A. Milner. Register in Chancery—D. R. McMil-

Sheriff—H. W. Nelson. Tax Collector—A. F. Smith.
Tax Assessor—John II. Hammonds. County Trersurer-W. A. Thompson. Superintendent of Education-E. O.

County Solicitor—J. L. Peters. County Commissioners-James Mc-Gowan, Rufus Walker, Richard Griffin, A. M. Jones.

POSTAL LAWS.

Sec. 268. No mail matter shall be delivered until the postage due thereon has been paid.—(R. S., § 3900).
Sec. 297. Letters addressed to the

sec. 297. Letters addressed to the friends of the owner of a box stopping temporarily with him may also be placed in the box, if directed to his care or to the number of the box. But letters addressed to other persons residing in the same place, and living and doing business separate and apart from a box holder, should not be placed in such box.

son until the rent thereof has been paid for at least one quarter in advance, for which the post master shall give a re-only, the money to be paid in advance.

The department will insist upon a strict compliance with this regulation. Boxes remaining unpaid for ten days from the expiration of a quarter will be declared varieted.

Gip West was in the city one day this

Renew your subscription.

INSURE YOUR LIFE.

amount of life insurance, where the stoums of the financial world cannot Nov. 28th. Mr. Mick M. Kuffner and phis masculine took off its hat, made its touch them; where the assessor cannot Miss Theo Fancher at Brieffield Baptist best bow and said "at your service latax them; where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old sge should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do your duty and insure immediately in some good, old reliable Company."—Extract from a sermon by the Rev. T. Dewitt Talmage

Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Phls. 50 doges 25.cts.

CHRISTMAS.

CANDY: To enlarge the market for our Candies we will send from now until Christmas a pail of our very best mixed Cream Candy to any address on receipt of $1.00 (2) Cts stamps taken and Express charges paid). Only one pail sent to one person, and all orders must be made on or before the condition of the conditio and an orders must be made on or before Dec. 20, if you want to get our candy in time for Christmas. State your nearest Express shipping point. Please show pail of candy to your friends and neighbors.

Address: THE FANCY CANDY CO., 702 Chouteau Ave. Sr. Louis, M.

Opium Habit cured by Br. Miles' Nervine.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES Sir-I made use of your Philotoken with my last child, in order to procure a safe and easy travil. I used it about two months before my expected time, and I had a very quick and easy confinement. Nothing occurred to protract my convalescence, and I got about in less time than was usual for me. I think after an illness of only a few days. In it a medicine that should be used by addition to his long residence in the every expectant mother, for should they but try it as I have, they would never again be without it at such times. I am

yours respectfully,

Mrs. ELIZABETH DIX.

Anyweerchant or druggist can procure
Risley's Philotoken for $1 a bottle.

CHARLES F. RISLEY, Wholesale
Druggist, 62 Cortlandt St., New York.

St. Vitus' Dance cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

For the the next twenty days the Ca-Journal and either the Age-Herald or land Presbyterian church, officiating, Advertiser for $1.75. This offer will be good for 20 days only.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure at Druggists.

Club rates of the Montgomery Advertiser and the CALERA JOURNAL is only $1.75 a year. The latter is issued every Wednesday and the Advertiser issued twice a week. Now is the time to subscribe as the double issue of the Advertiser will contain ali the legislative news and the Journal will give the latest loca:

LOGAL ITEMS.

See chancery notice in this issue. Subscription only $1 a year.

In another place will be found a chan-

Tax collector Teague is collecting the poll tax of the city.

The bill introduced to abolish the discommode some of our lime makers.

Some of our citizens think it is useless for any one to apply for the post office of Sundays in each month, morning and night; pastor to be supplied. Sabbath Calera, as Miss Cora Hardy will likely ence and regard for old age and infirmcontinue to hold the place.

> Rev. Mr. Dobbs, the pastor of fhe Methodist church, was here this week making arrangement to move. He will soon return and take charge.

Col. John P. West took advantage of Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting at and came up home to spend the day. the thanksgiving holiday last Thursday He reported that he was getting along > Fill Gardner dropped in Tuesday and told us a few yarns. Fill always has a

> It is not a very good sign to see so many persons preparing to apply to the new administration for position, it is hoped many will think better on the subject and not present their claims.

> Job work is crowding us at this time, and any short comings in the paper will be excusable as our business depends largely on the prompt and efficient work in the Job department.

> Mr, J. M. Cottingham, of Bibb county and Mr. J. B. L. Shows, formerly of Bibb, but now a resident of Texas, was in Calera a few hours Monday. We are always glad to see any of our Bibb county friends.

There will be no preaching at the Cumberland Presbyterian chuch Sunday eat, drink or wear for subscription. Sec. 300. No box at any post office shall be assigned to the use of any pernames entered as a new subscriber will names entered as a new subscriber will ture club, of New Decatur, was repre-

Rev. W. I. Sinnott, the much loved Sec. 301. Postmasters must rent the boxes and drawers in the post offices for one-quarter (three months) of the Orphans' Home, but we are glad

Sec. 302. A person renting a post of his family put into it. Each box must be restricted to the use of one firm, tamily or corporation.

Gip West was in the city one day this week, and as he lives in that part of Chilton that wants to be attached to Shelby, the writer asked him how the people stood on the question. His reply was "Every man who lives in the terriwas "Every man who lives in the territory has signed the retition for the which have and are to take place: D. "It is a duty you owe to yourself and amily to protect them with a reasonable oct22 7w prs fee$10 50 church tomorrow night. Hon. Cecil dies."

> as to the removal of the county seat from Columbiana, Calera will find that there will be music in the air and that Columbiana will not furnish the band either.-

We don't want to move the county seat | 2. Paper "A plea for more missionary brother, we are after getting territory government of its own.

Our town was made sad on Sunday morning by the the announcement that Uncle Jimmie Wilson, one of the oldest if not the oldest citizen in the county, was dead. He died at the residence of his son, Sevier Wilson, about six miles from Calera. Mr. Wilson was probably the most remarkable character who ever lived in Shelby county: His age was 84 years, had never been sick in his life, never taking a dose of medicine or suffering pain, and died without a struggle after an illness of only a few days. In county and his remarkable good health, he was for over fifty years a true and consistent christain, having in very early life attached himself to the Methodist church, a member of which he died.

HARRALL-GALLOWAY.

There was a quiet wedding in Calera Sunday morning at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Andrew Galloway. LERA JOURNAL, Weekly Age-Herald and Mr. S. K. Harrall and Miss Pearl Gallo-Weekly Montgomery Advertiser will be way were the contracting parties, and furnished to one address for $2.50, or the Rev. J. J. Dalton, pastor of the Cumber-

The groom was a former resident of Calera, but new of Atlanta, and is a good business man, holding a lucrative and responsible position with the southern Express company.

WOMAN'S COLUMN.

[The Woman's Column is under the supervision of Mrs. F. W. Gist, and all communications for this department should be addressed to her at West Calera, Alabama. l

Whew! Whew! Let us draw a good long breath before we try to make any reply to such and assault as that of the check system in this state is going to comment upon our colomn which appeared in last week's issue of the Jour-NAL, it was written by our father-inlaw the business manager of the JOURNAL. ence and regard for old age and infirmness we shall deal gently with his old fogy ideas. We were somewhat surprised to find that he has just awakened to the fact that our column advocates the emancipation of women. And we have no need whatever for his sympathy relative to our "wild and untenable" theory, as we have thousands to accompany us in our "impolitic hobby" and our prospective road to insanity as regardst his subject has little horror for us He exposes his ignorance of the W. C. sand in number-have almost unanimously adopted the advocacy of Woman's Suffrage, seeing from our experience of nineteen years of hard work for the cause of temperance, that is such an up hill business without the ballot that common sense has overwhelmingly confronted them with the infallible truth that their work will never be completed without the ballot. Woman's ballot is the coming redemption of the country and both men and women all over the universe are embraciug the idea, and there is little that is impossible religeously or politically with Talmage and Cleveland.

Mrs. C. J. Hildreth editress of the Woman's World of New Decatur Advertiser "with the able pen she handles gives a glowing description of the meeting of the associations for the advancement of women which convened at Memphis. Tenn. Nov. 15th, They met there by special invitation of the nineteenth century club, the Womeu's Club and similar organizations. The hrogressive Culsented by Mrs- Hildreth. Among the other many prominent visitors and delegates present were Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, of Boston, president of the A. A. W., Mrs. J. H. Watson, president of the Nineteenth Century club; Mrs. Ensley, wife of the late Col. Ensley, of Sheffield. Miss Temple, of Knoxville; Mrs. Colby, guests were present at the reception. Mrs. Hildreth says: "Invitations of evry kind, sort and description were sent to the A. A. W. The different gentle-The Journal and family have received men's clubs, among them the Chickasaw Read and profit by the following sound counsel, every word of which smarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel:

The Journal and family have received invitations to the following marriages club, offered them the use of their halls, which have and are to take place:

D. rooms and libraries. Schools asked the rooms and libraries. Schools asked the > Program of the Christian Endeavor Service to be held at the Cumberland Prestyterian church Sunday night

> 1. Questional Bible Reading .- Rev. J. J. Palton.

zeal "Miss Ethel Blevins. 3. Recitation "The Brides outfit."-

Miss Jce Stevenson. 4. Paper, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."-Miss Robbie Moore

5. Recitation "The light house keepers

-Miss Cora Hardy. 6. Sermon, "Miss Mamie Doak.

Collection.

8. Benediction.

The above will be interspersed with appropriate music. Services begins promptly at 7 o'cleck.

A SAD ACCIDENT.

THREE PERSONS BADLY BURNED AND

cident could not be learned. NOTICE.

recover. The particulars of the sad ac-

The next Session of the General Assembly of Alabama, will be asked to pass a law to change the line between Chilton and Shelby counties as follows, to wit: Commence at the NW corner of Section 16 TP 24 R 12 East and run due south along Section lines four miles to the line between TD

The bride is one of Color is less and sweetest girls and is larger and then run east on the distribution of the executant young min and along the tax in derings of said river to the prosent boundary line between and thence up and along the tax in derings of said river to the prosent boundary line between Shelby and Chitor counties and thence due west to the starting point and to eithbrace the territory herein described as a part of Shelby county. described as a part of Shelby county.

REGISTER'S SALE.

UNDER Morgan & Lapsley, Morgan & Lapsley, and by virA. M. Elliott, Trustee, et al) tue of a decree rendered at the Spring term, 1892, of the Chancery Court of Shelby county. Alabama, in the above entitled cause, I will proceed to sell, under the power contained in a Mortgage from H. M. Pierce, et al, to A. M. Elliott, trustee, at public outery, in front of the Court House door in the town of Columbiana, Alabama. on Monday, the 17th day of October, 1892.

of Washington, editor of the Woman's between the legal hours of sale, for cash, the following described real estate, situated near Calera in Sheby county, Ala., to wit: Fractions A, H, J, M, and the S & Woman's Journal. Over five hundred range 2, west; and the east half of north court of the country section 2 township 24. east quarter, section 2, township 24, range 13, east.

This, August 11, 1892.
D. R. McMILLAN,
Register and Acting Trustee. 13aug-10w prs fee$16.50 Above sale continued to Monday

D. R. McMALLAN, Register.

LOUIS D. VANDERVERE, One of the best known business men in Chicago, representative of the great Bradstreet Co.

MEADACHE, SLEEPLESSNESS, NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind. News reached Calera Sunday morning of the sad occurence in the family of Mr George Killinsworth, living about four miles west of town, in which himself, wife and three year old child, were all badly burned, the latter so hadly that it died in a short while. The father and mother hoth fearfully burned, but may thy improv-THOUSANDS Odined Twenty Pounds. All this occurrer, after learned and well known Physici, he had railed. My wife is taking the Nervino with the best of results. Louis D. Vandervere.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR MONEY REFUNDED.

WHATLEY AND RUDDY.

tended to.

IS A POSITIVE CURE FOR

RHEUMATISM In All it's forms Chronic or Acute, Muscular or Articulate.

All Diseases arising from an Impure state of BLOOD YIELD at once to IT'S MAGIC INFLUENCE, READY READ READ!

Mr. D. A. Warlick, Limewood, Pike county, Ala., writes: "I am satisfied I owe my life to V. V. V. If it had not been for that remedy I would have been ruined for life, while > now, thank God, I am again as sound as a dollar. I suffered from one of the worst cases of blood poison, and used some 20 bottles in all, but now feel as if I had new lease on life. I send you this unsolicited, and you can publish if you want to, bqlieving I owe my life to your medicine.

*PRICE $1 PER BOTTLE. 6 FOR $5.9

NABORS, MORROW & SINIGE, Sole Proprietors,

For Sale By All First Class Dealers.

Birmingham, Ala.

 ∇

W. ROGAN, BEELATEEURU. MONTEVALLO. ALA..

Office of Southern Express Co.

I KEEP CONSTANTLY ON HAND A COMPLETE LINE OF Wood Coffins and Caskets from the Chrpest to the Finest. Also, a full Line of Ladies, Gents, and Childrens' Burial Suits.

Orders by telegram promptly Filled.

-GO.T.TO-

NEAR THE DEPOT.

Mrs. S. H McCauley'

LINERY-- GOODS.

A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hats in the Lates Styes, and at Reasonable Prices.

Oct 8-3m

WORDS ABOUT THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION.

Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers, 12 Pages.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT.

1. It is the best of all weekly newspapers.

2. It is invaluable to the tarmer and the farmer's family, bringing each week cheer to the fireside and happiness to the household.

3. It is the best of all weekly newspapers.

4. Aunt Susie," the editress of these departments, is a household word throughout the south.

5. Bill Arp, Plunkett, and Uncle Remus and a host of other special writers are engaged by the year and their inim-

3. It covers the news of the whole itable sketches appear each week.
world, having its correspondents scattered over the globe, and having a thorough news service from every important interests of the south.

is worth many times its subscription any other four of the weekly newspapers price to every farmer. This department of the south, and much more than any is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south,

9. It is the cheapest, being only One

news center in the world.

ure to every family, and the name of pers in the world.

are engaged by the year, and their inimtews center in the world.

8. It pays more money for its specia4. Its Agricultural Department alone features and for its news service than wnose service is retained by the Constitution at great expense.

5. Its Woman's and Childeren's Deer time a hen lays an egg she pays in partments are a source of infinite pleas- one issue of the greatest weekly news) ar

Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of your neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulated home should be without it.

Agents Wanted in every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information.

THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

Marion MILITARY Institute.

Marion, Ala.

Superior Accommodationrs" and Board. Superintendent, hi family and faculty live in building with students. Classic and Scientific. Superior Commercal Course. TERMS MODE. RATE. Send for Catulogue,

COL. J. T. MURFEE, Superintendent,

Send us your Job Work, and get satisfaction.

Fans were first used in China. The only fresh-water fish in the Canary Islands is the ecl.

A man in Los Galos, Cal., for ten years has not tasted cooked food.

Several Chinamen have proved themselves successful farmers in Montana.

Two tons of cels were caught at Williamsport, Md., in one night recently. A Chicago man has sucd his doctor for $20,000 for breaking the drum of his ear. In ordinary English writing "z" only occurs twenty-two times while "c" occurs one thousand. W. J. M. Barry, the Irish athlete.

threw the sixteen-pound hammer 137 feet in Manchester, England, the other

Since football became popular in this country there has been a marked increase in the sale of arnica and sticking-

The silky little King Charles spaniel is an expensive luxury, because puppies a month old easily fetch $50 apiece, and, when half grown, $100.

The pundsmen in Orange, N. J., ride on bicycles, and are thus enable to pounce unheard upon policemen who wander from their posts.

More than a fourth of the gold and more than a third of the silver produce l throughout the world in the year 1891 was mined in the United States.

A family in Walla Walla County, Washington, consists of ten members, the average weight being 244 pounds and the average height six feet six inches.

A glass factory at Liverpool, England, now has glass journal boxes for all of its machinery, a glass floor, glass shingles on the roof and a smoke-stack 105 feet high built wholly of glass bricks, each a foot square.

No death has occurred in the family of the Rev. Samuel Wakefield, of Latrobe, Penn., in sixty-one years. He is in hininety-fourth year; his wife a few year-his junior; they were married in 1821, and have ten children.

Bass, the ossified man, hal morbil fear of the anatomist, and dreaded being carved or chiseled by them after death. To avoid this he ordered that his remains be placed in an ironclad, thief proof vault, so that they could not get at him.

A remedy for liver complaint was tried by a weaver in Accrington, England. It was a turpentine plaster, applie l over the stomach. Having worn it some time, he lighted a match to examine the plaster. The plaster took fire and the man was burned to death.

A strange sinecure in Paris, the place of dentist of the Paris Opera House, has just been filled by the election of the lucky man from a list of a 150 applicants. The salary attached to the position is nominal, but the number of applicants shows how eagerly the place is sought.

In a West Brighton (Coney Island) band of twenty pieces that flourished during the season just passed, there were seven dummies-men who pretended to be playing instruments, but merely held them to their mouths. Not one of them knew a note of music from a Greek character.

Seven acres of apricot orchard in Tulare County, bringing their owner a return of $2100, and eight acres of prune orchard in San Bernardino County, yielding twenty-five tons of fruit which brought $50 a ton, or more than $150 per acre, are mentioned in this year's ly reports upon the California frais

The District of Columbia was formed out of Washington County, Maryland, and Alexandria County, Virginia, and the National Government was removed to the capital in 1800. The Virginia portion of the district was ceded back in 1846. Citizens of the District of Columbia have no vote for National officers, and it is governed by Congress.

Some workmen were making some alterations to the parish church of Long Clawson, near Melton Mowbray, England, when they discovered a large quantity of honey. It is thought that a large portion of the west end of the church has been inhabited by bees for more than twenty-five years, as during the whole of that time they have been seen in the vicinity, and not frequently have been observed flitting about inside the building during divine service.

The Antiquity of the Tomata.

The tomato, which used to be be the use of a single box of the genuine and justly celebrated called the love apple, in allusion to its supposed power of exciting the tender feelings, is of a good old age. In 1533 it was grown in the Continental Gardens at Antwerp, and the fruit was eaten dressed with pepper, salt and oil. In 1597 and sixty years later it was grown in England "for ornament and curiosity only." In the middle of the eighteenth century the Italians and Spaniards ate them as we do now, with pepper and salt, and they were also introduced into sauces. In England they were no longer grown simply as an ornament, but were much used in soups. It is stated that at the beginning of the present century the growth of the fruit around London exceeded the demand. Each plant, it was calculated, produced fruit weighing at least twenty pounds. The individual fruits in the year 1818 were also of extraordinary size, many of them exceeding twelve inches in circumference and weighing twelve ounces each .-- Sala's Sheep's Brain for Paralysis.

Dr. Leon Paul, of Paris, has lately come out in favor of sterilized subcutaneo us injections of solutions of sheep's brain as a cure for paralysis. He claims for this extraordinary medicine that it has no injurious reaction, and that in almost every case in which he has tried it there has been a marked improvement in the patient's condition. - San Francisco Chronicle.

Mr. Geo. W. Turner

Worst Case of Scrofula the Doctors Ever Saw Completely Cured by HOOD'S SAR-SAPARILLA.

"When I was 4 or 5 years old I had a scrofulous sore on the middle finger of my left hand, which got so had that the doctors cut the finger off, and later took off more than half my hand. Then the sore broke out on my arm, came out on my neck and face on both sides, nearly destroying the sight of one eye, also on my right arm. Doctors said it was the Worst Case of Scrofula

they ever saw. It was simply awful! Five years ago I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Gradually I found that the sores were beginning to beal. I kept on till I had taken ten bottles, ten do lars! Just think what a return I got for that investment! A thousand percent? Yes, many thousands. For the last 4 years: have had no sores. I Work all the Time.

Before, I could do no work. I know not what to say strong enough to express my gratitude to Hood's Sarsaparilla for my perfect cure." G. W. TURNER, Farmer, Galway, N. Y. Hood's Pills do not weaken, but aid digestion and tone the stomach. Try them. 25c

Did you ever see a sickly baby with dimples? or a healthy one without them?

A thin baby is always delicate. Nobody worries about a plump one.

If you can get your baby plump, he is almost sure to be well. If you can get him well, he is almost sure to be plump.

The way to do both—there is but one way—is by CARE-FUL LIVING. Sometimes this depends on Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil.

We will send you a book on it; free.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 230 South 5th Avenue, W Voel

Bend for a treatise. Examine the proof.

Books on "Blood and Skin Diseases" mailed free. Druggists Sell It. CWIFT SPECIFIC CO.,

Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga. A WOMAN HAS

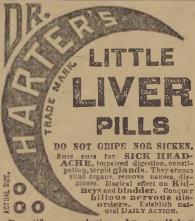

very little desire to enjoy the pleasures of life, and is entirely unfitted for the cares of housekeeping or any ordinary duties, if afflicted with SICK HEADACHE

DAY AFTER DAY

PROMPTLY CURED

DR. C. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS,

nps.
s of these Pills should be careful to pro-nuine article. There are several counter-market, well calculated to deceive. The C. McLane's Celebrated Liver Pills are FLEMING BROTHERS CO., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Beautify complexion by purifying blood. Purely Vegetable. blood. Purely Vegerande.
The dose is nieely edjusted to suit case, as one pill can never betoo much. Each via contains 42, carried in vest pocket, like lead pencil. Business man's great convenience. Taken casier than sugar. Sold everywhere. A! genuius goods bear "Greicent."
Eend 2-cent ctamp. You get 32 page book with sample.

DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

The last year has been the most prosperous of the Sixty-five years of THE COMPANION'S history. It has now over 550,000 subscribers. This support enables it to provide more lavishly than ever for 1893. Only a partial list of Authors, Stories and Articles can be given here.

Prize Serial Stories.

The Prizes offered for the Serial Competition of 1892 were the Largest ever given by any periodical.

First Prize, $2,000. Larry; "Aunt Mat's" Investment and its Reward; by Second Prize, $1,000. Armajo; Ilow a very hard Lesson was bravely Learned; by Third Prize, $1,000. Cherrycroft; The Old House and its Tenant; by Miss Edith E. Stowe (Pauline Wesley). Fourth Prize, $1,000. Sam; A charming Story of Brotherly Love and Self-Sacrifice; by Miss M. G. McClelland. SEVEN OTHER SERIAL STORIES, during the year, by . C. A. Stephens, Homer Greene and others.

The Bravest Deed I Ever Saw, will be described in graphic language by Officers of the United States Army and by famous War Correspondents.

General John Gibbon. General Wesley Merritt. Captain Charles King.

Great Men at Home.

How Mr. Gladstone Works; by his daughter, Gen. Sherman in his Home; by Mrs. Minnie Sherman Fitch. Gen. McClellan; by his son, George B. McClellan. President Garfield; by his daughter, Mrs. Molly Garfield Brown.

Your Work in Life.

What are you going to do? These and other similar articles may offer you some suggestions.

Journalism as a Profession. By the Editor-in-Chief of the New York Times, Charles R. Miller. Why not be a Veterinary Surgeon? An opportunity for Boys; by Dr. Austin Peters. In What Trades and Professions is there most Room? by Hon. R. P. Porter. Shipbuilders Wanted. Chats with great shipbuilders on this Subject; by Alexander Wainwright. Admission to West Point; by the Supt. of U. S. Academy, Col. John M. Wilson. Lieut. W. F. Low, U. S. N. Admission to the Naval Academy; by By the Chief Clerks of Six Departments. Young Government Clerks at Washington.

Things to Know.

The Hon. Carroll D. Wright. What is a Patent? by A Chat With Schoolgirls; by Amelia E. Barr. Naval Courts-Martial; by Admiral S. B. Luce. Patents Granted Young Inventors; by U. S. Com. of Patents. Jean Gordon Mattill. The Weather Bureau; by Newly-Married in New York. What will $1.000 a year do?

Answered by Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher and Marion Harland.

Over the Water.

How to See St. Paul's Cathedral; by The Dean of St. Paul. Windsor Castle. A picturesque description by The Marquis of Lorne. A Glimpse of Belgium. The American Minister at Brussels. A Glimpse of Russia; by The Hon. Charles Emory Smith. Charles Dickens. Adventures in London Fogs; by London Cabs. "Cabbies;" their "hansoms." Charles Dickens, Jr. A Boy's Club in East London. Frances Wynne.

Short Stories and Adventures.

More than One Hundred Short Stories and Adventure Sketches will be given in the volume for 1893.

Knittin' Susan. In the Death Circle. A Mountainville Feud. Mrs. Parshley's First Voyage. Bain McTickel's "Vast Doog."

An Able Mariner. Uncle Dan'i's Will. On the Hadramaut Sands. An April First Experience. Riddling Jimmy, and other stories.

A Bad Night in a Yacht. Leon Kestrell: Reporter. Uncle Sim's Clairvoyance. How I Won my Cheyrons. W. J. Baker.

Quality's Temptation.

The Cats of Cedar Swamp. A Boy's Proof that he was not a Coward; by Strong "Medicine." The amusing effect of a brass instrument on a hostile Indian; by Capt. D. C. Kingman, U. S. A

"How I wrote Ban Hur," by Gen. Lew Wallace, opens a series, "Behind the Scenes of Famous Stories." Sir Edwin Arnold writes three fascinating articles on India. Rudyard Kipling tells the "Story of My Boyhood." A zeries of practical articles, "At the World's Fair," by Director-General Davis and Mrs. Potter Palmer, will be full of valuable hints to those who go. "Odd Housekeeping in Queer Places" is the subject of half a dozen bright and amusing descriptions by Mrs. Lew Wallace, Lady Blake, and others. All the well-known features of The Companion will be maintained and improved. The Editorials will be impartial explanations of current events at home and abroad. The Illustrated Supplements, adding nearly one-half to size of the paper, will be continued.

Send This Slip with $1.75.

To any New Subscriber who will cut out and send us this slip with name and address and $1.75, we will send The Companion Free to Jan. 1, 1893, and for a Full Year from that date. This offer includes the Double Holiday Numbers at Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year's, Easter and Fourth of July. The Sourcesir of The Companion illustrated in colors, 42 pages, describing the New Building, with all its 10 departments, will be sent on receipt of six cents, or Free to any one requesting it who sends a subscription for one year.

45

on application.

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION, Boston, Mass.

Send Check or Post-Office Order at our risk.

DO YOU EXPECT TO BECOME A MOTHER? 66 MOTHERS' FRIEND"

MAKES CHILD BIRTH EASY.

"My wife suffered more in ten minutes with her other children than she did all together with her last, after having used four bottles of MOTHER'S FRIEND," says a customer.

HENDERSON DALE, Druggist, Carmi, Ill. Sent by express on receipt of price, $1,50 per bottle. Book "To Mothers" mailed free. BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO.,

Small.

Guaranteed to cure Bilious Attacks, Sick-Headache and Constipation. 40 in each bottle. Price 25c. For sale by druggists. Picture "7, 17, 70" and sample dose free. J. F. SMITH & CO., Proprietors, NEW YORK.

Piso's Remedy for Countrib is the Best, Easiest to Use, and Cheapest. CATARRH

in Olden Times

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action, but now that it is gen erally know that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well in-formed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the Guy DeMaupassant, the famous French story writer, is out of the lunacy hospital.

Brown's Iron Bitters cures Dyspepsia, Malaria. Biliousness and General Debility. Gives Strength, aids Digestion, tones the nervescreates appetite. The best tonic for Nursing Mothers, weak women and children.

Tennyson is believed to have made more money by his poetry than any other poet.

The Only One Ever Printed. CAN YOU FIND THE WORD? These is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you BOOK, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OF SAMPLES FREE.

Governor Toole, of Montana, is the only one of the forty-four who has no staff.

If your Back Acnes, or you are all worn out, rood for nothing, it is general debility. Brown's from Bitters will cure you, make you strong, cleanse your liver, and give a good appetite—tones the nerves.

An American author in Paris named Har-tis has received the Legion of Henor ribbon Rev. H. P. Carson, Scotland, Dak., says: Two bottles of Hall's Catarrh Cure com-pletely cured my little girl." Sold by Drug-

Brecham's Pills cost only 25 cents a box. They are proverbially known throughout the world to be "worth a guinea a box." If afflicted with sore eyes use Dr. Isaac Thompson's Eye-water. Druggists sell at 25e a bottle Morphine Habit Cured in 10 stuff to 20 days. No pay till cured. pR.J. STEPHENS, Lebanon, Ohio.

NOT BRAVE NOR FEARLESS.

Allegheny Mountaineers a Cowardly and Contemptible Let. The tract of mountainous country extending along the borders of West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky, and Tennessee and even farther South has been the home of desperadoes and dangerous home of desperadoes and dangerous men for many generations. At present there is every probability that the element will be shortly eliminated. A popular misconception regards these men as a noble, brave, and fearless lot, much like the heroes in dimenovels. In point of fact, they are an idle, worthless set, who prey upon and bully the industrious and orderly portion of the community, while nearly all their feuds are generated and kept alive by deep potations at the illicit distilleries. There is nothing pictures que or inspiring in the appearance of these desperaing in the appearance of these desperadoes. If the curious expect to see tall, agile mountaineers, with erect heads find bold eyes and the manners of a Rob Roy, they can prepare themselves for a disappointment. Usually they are small, sallow, and shrunken, shuffling of gait, unsteady of eye, and never erect of form, and, if the truth must be told about them, they are cowardly. The most notorious murderers never fight face to face with their victims and on equal forms as the hold outlaws in on equal terms, as the bold outlaws in the story-books do, but they seek every advantage. The proper name for it is not fighting, but assassination. Usually a man is ambushed and shot when he is least expecting danger, and if there is any open fight at all it is because one party is able to attack another in overwhelming numbers.

Frequently in these mountain feuds women and children are killed as mercilessly as if they were men, and it has been a favorite method for one faction to surround a cabin at night, set it on fire, and shoot the inmates as they ran out. Such things as these show of what stuff the braves of the Alleghenies are Eight doctors treated me for Heart Disease and one for Rheumatim, but did me no good. I could not speak aloud. Everything that I took into the Stomrch distressed me. I could not sleep. I had taken all kinds of medicines. Through a neighbor I got one of your books. I procured a bottle of Green's August Flower and took it. I am to-day stout, hearty and strong and enjoy the best of health. August Flower saved my life and gave me my health. Mrs. Sarah J Cox, Defiance, O. 3

Cures Consumption, Coughs, Croup, Sore Throat. Sold by all Druggists on a Guarantee,

When the balmy days grow long, ove, I dream of thee the more, and ! weave into my song All the sweet, sad thoughts that throng Of the golden days of yore. It to dream of thee be wrong, Then I have offended sore. Love, I dream of thee the more

When the balmy days grow long. All the winter have I sigh'd For thy presence, wearily Grieving, gazed across the wide Gulf of selfish, human pride Which divided thee and me-Now sweet hope inspires my song, Wears the smile that once she wore. Love, I dream of thee the more When the balmy days grow long. -[Boston Pilot.

A SOLITAIRE

BY FRANK H. STAUFFER.

Brice Rutherford stood at the wide stone gateway of a pretty old English homestead. The bright moonlight was gleaming upon the trees, the shrubbery and the fountain, and upon the massive buildings with their towers, balconies and quaint architectural conceits. It was such a picturesque view that the young American tourist gazed upon it with rap-

The stillness was broken by the dipping of an oar near by, and he was made aware of the fact that close to the left of him a brook flowed through the shrubbery into the river behind him. He turned his face thitherward, and waited.

Presentty a boat shot out into the river, and he saw that the occupant was a young girl with a pliant figure, a bright face, and exquisite grace in her movements.

He was as plainly defined in the moonlight as she was, but she did not happen to glance toward the terrace. She was in such a happy mood that she gave voice to it in song:

"Was there ever maid more fair,

Or a truer lover, Seen beneath the moonlight rare On the Downs of Dover? The Downs, the Downs,

On the Downs of Dover!"

A second verse followed, and the young man stood spellbound. Never had he heard a voice so sweet, so flexible, so distinctly articulate. The melody was fresh, pleasing, vivacious. She disappeared beyond the trees which lined the river, her voice dying | rupted. pleasantly away.

He had just turned to depart, when several wild, piercing shricks came to ful. She might not have reconsidered might be cruel to myself. You must his ears, and he knew that the fair her refusal, but she had made sundry singer had met with some disaster.

He ran swiftly along the path which skirted the shore, reached an opening among the trees, and saw her struggling in the water, the overturned boat drifting away from her. He change of topic. plunged into the river and rescued her, carrying her along the path to the

She was able to stand upon the latter, and had entirely regained her consciousness. She cast a ruefu! glance at her wet and draggled attire, and then lifted her handsome eyes to the face of the young man who had so gallantly rescued her.

"Sir, I am extremely grateful to you," she said, a sweet tremor in her

Her screams had been heard at the house, and her father and a male domestic came hurrying to the spot. The former was a burly man, crisp of speech and stolid in his manner.

The daughter told him of the mishap and rescue. He bestowed a sharp glance on Brice Rutherford, and said: "Send me your address and I'll compensate you."

The haughty tone and the unappreciative glance angered the young American.

"You don't owe me anything," he coldly said, as he turned upon his heel. "Sir, I repeat it-I am extremely grateful!" cried the young girl, with a fervent glance and an impulsive grasp of the hand. Her father walked with her up the terrace, the footman followed at their

The fair English lady had left something in Brice Rutherford's hand when she pressed it. It was a valuable solitaire, very unique in its setting.

"Humph!" he ejaculated, as he strode toward the highway which led to the adjoining village.

the celebrated watering-places in this face. At first she looked very sober, I country.

the attention of the beaux, and he sented.

was rejected. His pride was deeply hurt, and yet lated the extent of her preference for | decline it." him.

to and fro on the veranda, he glanced in at the open window and saw her seated at a piano, with several young men by her side.

She was certainly very much at home on the instrument; her playing was as faultless as it was brilliant.

Suddenly he stopped opposite the window, his lips parted, his eyes brightening, a gleam of intelligence lighting up his face.

She was singing a ballad, and her sweet, clear, flexible voice filled the

> "Was there ever maid more fair, Or a truer lover,

Seen beneath the moonlight rare On the Downs of Dover.

"Ah!" he ejaculated, under his breath. "Miss Clifton is the English girl I fished out of the river. Perhaps-"

He turned on his heel and dismissed the train of thought that brought with it new hopes and probabilities.

The next day the pretty heiress came upon him as he sat alone in one of the pavilions. He arose to go.

"Pray, Mr. Rutherford, do not let me cause you to retire," she pleasantly said, as she fluttered into one of the rustic seats. Instead of replying, he looked steadily at her, with an expression upe" his face that puzzled her.

"I am sorry for what happened the other day," she softly said.

"You were the arbiter of your own fate," he replied. "Why, that sounds funny!" she said, with an odd little laugh. "I fancied that you had made me the arbeter of yours."

"Of course, Mis Clifton, if you have reconsidered-"

"But I haven't," she hurriedly inter-

She blushed consciously, for she knew she had not been entirely truthmental admissions; one that he was the most worthy of her admiress, and the other, that she at least liked him.

"That was a pretty ballad you sang last evening," he said with a sudden

"I sang several," reminded she. "But only one ballad," rejoined he.

"I refer to the 'Downs of Dover." "Were you within hearing?"

"I was on the veranda," was his rereply. "You did not think that I had decamped, in my disappointment and -dispair?" he added, with a slight grin. "The air is very catchy, as we say in this country. Did you compose it."

"Yes. And the words."

Then she laughed, and added: "I haven't perpetrated anything like it since."

He was silent for a minute, seemingly deeply wrapped in thought. She watched him covertly, admiring his handsome face and manly bear-

"Miss Clifton, I did not run away last night," he slowly said. "But I thick from dorsal to ventral fin. It am going away today."

"Ah!" she ejaculated.

"Yes. And I wish to return your

"What ring?" she asked, with puzzled look and tone.

"The ring which you gave me," he

The puzzled look changed to one of amazement. "I never gave you a ring," she declared, with considerable vehemence. "Oh, you didn't, ch?" he said, with a crisp little laugh. "I wanted to return it to you at the time, but you did not give me the chance to do so. It is such a unique bit of workmanship that you cannot fail to recognize it." He took from his wallet a ring and handed it to her. She stared at it in a dazed manner, parts or infected cities .- [New Or-

Six years later found him at one of the color coming and going in her leans Picayune.

and then a soft smile came to her lips, A handsome, intelligent, vivacious for she recalled the occasion, and the young English heiress was attracting wet, draggled appearance she had pre- A Man Who Calls the Reptile a soon became as worshipful as the rest "I remember the awkward episode -awkward on my part," she said, He fell violently in love with her. shyly uplifting her superb eyes. He proposed to her in an impetuous "Yes, I gave you the ring. I cannot way, but, much to his chagrin, he permit you to return it. When I gave it to you it ceased to be mine."

"But I did not accept it," replied he hardly felt like blaming her. She he. "You left it in my hand. Until was no flirt; he had simply miscalcu- now I have had no opportunity to "Tell me," she said, looking fairly A few evenings later as he strolled at him, new interest in her handsome eyes-"tell me, how long have you known me as the luckless one you once placed under such obligations?"

"Oh, do not call it that!" he reioined.

"Did you know it the evening you -you proposed to me?" persisted

"No, Miss Clifton. I did not know it until last evening. That ballad identified you; you were singing it when your boat upset."

"Was I?" she asked, merely to control her embarrassment, for she remembered quite distinctly.

"I had intended to send you the ring by mail today, without explanation or comment," he said. "I ask no advantage now."

"I cannot say that I understand your last remark, Mr. Rutherford," she replied, slightly flurried.

He was standing with his arms folded, his eyes fixed upon her, a waiting, intensely yearning look in them that made her heart beat faster. "You are going away today, did you say, Mr. Rutherford?" she nervously asked.

"Yes, Miss Clifton."

"From-from dire necessity?" she asked, in a queer tone, covertly watching him.

"From choice." he crisply rejoined. He waited a few moments and then significantly added:

"I have lost interest in everything

"Even in me?" she asked, with a faint blush on her cheeks and an encouraging smile on her lips. "Perhaps some of that interest can be revived."

"Ah," he quickly rejoined, with a catch in his breath, "yes, it can! One little word from you will be suffi- ounces of oil. cient."

"Then it would not be kind in me to withhold it," she softly said. "I keep this ring. I will feel hurt if you decline to accept it."

"I will accept it on one condition." "And what is that?"

"If you except one from me in re-

"Oh," she exclaimed, the red in her face deepening, "that sounds fair enough! Still, it might involve-" "It not only might, but it would," interrupted he, with a smile. "I am to consider this as a renewal of your proposal, I suppose?" she said. "If I didn't, I would be stupid, wouldn't I?" she added, laughing into the oil that I am after.

he, with heartiness.

And then their eternal bond of union was sealed .- [Saturday Night. Hauled Out the Fish by Horse Power.

A gentleman who resides on Bolivar reports that a large sawnsh was captured a few days ago near Rolllength, three feet eight inches length of saw, six feet wide, and two feet able to get out, was caught, and, after being made fast with a hawser, it took tish ashore. — [Galveston News.

Not Communicated by Mail.

Professor Koch, the famous bacteriologist, has written a letter to the mail | The Weather Bureau has agents, who superintendent of Hamburg, Gerledge goes, cholera has never been spread by letters or other mail matter, and that he does not consider it dangermails. This is very reassuring to newspaper men, who handle exchanges from everywhere, and to people who receive letters from friends in foreign

RATTLESNAKE OIL.

Blessing.

His Method of Catching Them and Profiting Thereby.

The popular idea is that a rattlesnake is a curse to mankind and of absolutely no use, except possibly to give the male contingent in camping and picnic parties an excuse for providing a well-known serpent-bite antidote, says the Pomona (Cal.) Progress. And now, Akers, a whitehaired ex-miner, who occasionally comes to town from his lonely home away up in the San Bernadino mountains, tells us that the rattlesnake is, in its way, a blessing to mankind.

"I reckon I ought to know something about the serpents," said he the other day, "for I have earned the whole living of myself and wife for several years in catching rattlers and getting the oil out of them. I know some folks are mighty scary about rattlesnakes, and for one who don't know about the critters' ways it is pretty risky business getting fanged by a rattler. I occasionally get nervous among the rattlers, but I have to keep a steady nerve and quick eye in my business."

The old man tells us that he had al ways heard how valuable pure rattlesnake oil is, and that several years ago he got the oil from a dezen snakes that he came across in his wood-cutting operations in the mountains. When the summer was over he had twenty ounces, and got $3 an ounce for all of it from a Los Angeles druggist. He has since made a business of hunting rattlesnakes up and down the mountain sides and through the canyous. He catches from 150 to 200 snakes in a summer, and generally gathers from $300 to $400 worth of oil from them. The market price for the product is now $2 an ounce, and there is little fluctuation. Rattlesnake oil is used in rheumatic cures and in ointments for some skin diseases. The oil when sold has a pearly white color and is free from any odor. It tastes much like tallow. A good-sized rattlesnake will furnish from one to two

"How do I catch the snakes? Well, that is easy enough. I wear boots up above my knees so as to protect me from any rattlers I may tread upon, and I always go with a strong forked stick or club in my hand. I have to keep my wits about me constantly and to think quick when I am in a snake locality and hear a rattle. I always try to get the rattlers by putting the fork of my stick over their neck as quick as a flash, and then I have the critter just where I want him. I next strangle the snake by pressing my fingers down upon the neck. I get the rattlers in this way so as to keep them from biting themselves and thereby letting the poison

"In nine cases out of ten rattle-"You are never stupid," rejoined | snakes will bite themselves if they have a chance, and they are the smartest things alive except human beings. Once in a while I get the rattlers by smashing them in the head, but I don't like that way, for it's more dangerous and the oil is not so good. Have I ever been bitten? Yes, five times, and I suffered so much the last time that over which measured eighteen feet in all the money on earth would not induce me to be poisoned so again. That was four years ago, and I can feel pains from it to this day. I don't got inside the bar that runs parallel believe anyone ever fully recovered with the peninsula, and, not being from a dose of genuine raetlesnake poison. It is the most awful stuff on earth. I have seen great big cows two horses and four men to pull the die of a drop of the poison in an hour's are called "observers," at all the many, stating that, so far as his know- places throughout the country from which it desires daily information. At the mement the clock strikes eight in Boston-that is, Eastern standard ous to send such matter through the time-these observers go to their instruments and write down what is recorded at that instant. These instruments tell them the temperature, the pressure of the air, the direction of the is moving, and the observers need more than its weight in gold.

How the Weather Is Foretold. Let me briefly describe the method:

only use their eyes to find out whether it is cloudy, or clear, or raining. They tell by the registering thermom eter how cold it was during the night -that is the lowest temperature. Then the observers go to their telegraph instruments, and forward their reports at once to the central office at Wash-

Government messages have "right of way" through all telegraph offices, and other business must stand still for them; so it is not many minutes after eight o'clock when the central office is ready to make a map, which, by the use of convenient symbols and lines, gives all the facts in very small space. Before this map is drawn, however, the reports are carefully compared and all made into one, and are sent by telegraph again to Boston, New York, St. Louis, Chicago, and all the cities which are sufficiently large to make it worth while to print a map like that made in Washington. In this way maps all just alike are being made in many cities at the same moment of time. The printing machinery used is made for the purpose, and is very rapid. Often as early as ten o'clock in the morning, only two hours after the observers on the Pacific coast wrote their reports, the map containing those reports is printed in Boston. I am sure there is no newspaper able to do such rapid work as this. The government, however, has two great advantages: its despatches are sent before even press despatches, and the machinery for printing requires less time than the typesetting and printing work of a newspaper.

Gunshot Wounds. Marvellously fortunate escapes from gunshot injuries have been recorded. Bullets have been known to rebound or glance off the skin, leaving only a dent, probably from the oblique direction in which they struck; a spent ball strikes a rib and drops out again, or carries in a portion of the clothing before it, rendering it easy to with-

Sir Astley Cooper relates two extraordinary instances, in one of which a bullet moving in full velocity entered the side, and coming in contact with a rib, was deflected from its course, and ran around under the skin to the opposite side of the body. In the other the bullet struck one temple, passed over the head under the scalp to the other, and never penetrated the

The following case occurred in the practice of an eminent surgeon, whose pupil I was: A man was brought to him who had shot himself in the side of the head with suicidal intent. He was said to have held the weapon only an inch or two from his ear, and the extensive burning and laceration of the skin bore evidence to the truth of this statement; there was a ragged bullet hole, nevertheless no fracture of the bone could be detected, and there was an entire absence of "head symptoms"-that is, those indications which point to some lesion of

So he was put to bed and kept quiet, without any treatment at all beyond simple and local applications, and carefully watched the while for any untoward manifestations that might develop themselves. But nothing came of it, and in a week or two the man was nearly well. Then for the first time he complained of a pain and stiffness in the cheek, which being examined showed signs of impending abscess. This formed and was opened in due course, when out dropped the bullet .- [Yankee Blade.

A Nice Arrangement.

Bride (after the return from the bridal tour)-I see by this medical work that a man requires eight hours sleep and a woman ten.

Bridegroom-Yes, I've read that somewhere myself.

Bride-How nice! You can get up every morning and have the fire made and the breakfast ready before it is time for me to get up .- [New York

A Valuable Book. There is a book in the British Museum which is valued at $500 an ounce. It is a perfect copy of the original edition of Shakespeare's sonnets published in 1609. There are only two copies in existence, and the second one was sold a short time ago for $5000. As the book weighs only wind, and how many miles an hour it ten ounces, it is worth a good deal

The Road to Slumber-Land. What is the road to Slumber-land and when does the baby go? The road lies straight through mother's arms when the sun is sinking low.

He goes by the drowsy 'land of nod' to the land of "lulleby."

When all wee lambs are safe in the fold, under the evening sky.

A soft little night gown clean and white; a face washed sweet and fair;

A mother brushing the tangles out of the silken, golden hair;

Two little tired, satiny feet, from the shoe and the stocking free, Two little palms together clasped, at the mother's patient knee; Some baby words that are drowsily lisped to the tender Shepherd's ear;

And a kiss that only the mother can place on the brow of her baby dear; A little round head which nestles at last close to the mother's breast, And then the lullaby, soft and low, singing the song of rest;

And close and closer the blue-veined lids are hiding the baby's eyes,

As over the road to Slumber-land the dear little traveler hies.

For this is the way, through mother's arms, all little babies go,
To the beautiful City of Slumber-land, when

HUMOROUS.

the sun is sinking low.

Should be looked into-A telescope. Maid to order-The waitress in a restaurant. A cyclene may be put down in the list of catching airs. It stands to reason that ocean grayhounds are not ordinary barks.

"My first love affair," said a cynical old bachelor, "was in the daze of my youth." "Did you ever talk with Miss Gabb?" "No, she always talked with me." A horse is not really fickle because he answers with a neigh when he means yes. Familiarity does not appear to breed contempt in the case of some millionaires and a dollar.

Vanderloin She-Does young amount to anything? He-No; but his bills always do. "A little of this will go a great weigh," said the man who was preparing a load of coal. Doctor-Your wife really needs change, Jangle. Jangle I gave her a $10 bill not a month

The grocer and the baker may not be singers, but the former knows his scales and the latter can always strike

"I see villain in your face," said a judge to a prisoner. "May it pleaso your honor," said the latter, "that is a personal reflection."

It was once an Easter bonnet That her loveliness did lack; But the present source of sorrow Is a sealskin sacque.

myself, darling. Miss Sharpleigh-That's not saying much. You are always giving yourself away. A correspondent desires to contribute an article telling how to keep harness. That is too easy. The way

Freshleigh-I love you more than to keep harness is to lock it up. Teacher-Now, Johnnie, how many times did Columbus cross the Atlantic? Johnnie - Three. Teacher-Which time was the last? Johnnie-The

"I hear bandits are holding your boy Peter for ransom." "No;" returned the banker. "They threaten to send him back if I don't pay. 1 shall pay." Waiter-Er-It's customary here for the guests to remember the waiters, sir. Irate patron, who has been poorly served-Well, I should think it would be.

Trivvet-What are you doing, Dicer? Dicer-I am still looking for something to turn up. Trivvet-But you don't need to look farther than your nose for that.

Judge-You were alone when you committed the robbery? Delinquent-Yes, your worship. You see, when you've got a mate you never know whether he's honest or not.

"When the girl is shy and offish," said Cleangone, "courtship is mighty hard work." "It may be," said Getthere, "but it is a kind of work that a man generally puts his heart into."

FRANK W. GIST,

CALERA, WEDNESDAY DEC. 7.

bottom is not Calera. Calera if one had to judge by the work they wants to be propped up."—Chilton perform. They do absolutely nothing For her to admire and for her to enjoy? View.

Bah! Give us a rest.

In view of the fact that newspaper men are expected to know all things that have happened and is and as we are in a measure unac- dead letter, and the officers an empty puainted except in this immediate honor. locality, any one volunteering to furnish us items from their neighand postage.

THE Shelby Chronicle says the View is entirely correct in its surmise as to the object of the proposed annexation of a large part of half bushel." The View man has a very large Receiver Bee in his hat, and takes it for granted that every man in Calera is in the same fix.

Our friend of the Calera Journal has grown both sarcastic and hu- but that the governor-elect was quiet-It remarks that the View and Shel- officers is the natural result of the wis- of the old one. by Chronicle have a weakness for dom of our parties in providing for looking after the welfare of Calera. white supremacy. That this condi--Chilton View.

State who reads the article we pub- returns, and all things considered it meeting. Both the growth and the work rished on the subject who will decide that there is anything careastic or humorous in it, we will acknowledge the corn, but if there is not, then Brother Lawrence must admit that he is not a competent the usual discrepency between a low admit that he is not a competent the usual discrepency between a low admit that he is not a competent the usual discrepency between a low admit that he is not a competent the usual discrepency between a low admit that he is not a competent the usual discrepency between a low admit that he is not a competent the usual discrepency between a low admit that he is not a competent the tax collector nice little sum of $35. The society starts will make his last round with me on my first round. J. H. HAMMOND, favorable circum stances. The newly dec7-4w prs fee$10 Tax Ass. Shelby co. knowledge the corn, but if there is critic.

its enterprise. If the terms were are easily satisfied with an empty It was greatly encouraged last Sabbath synonymous every tramp who com- show of retrenchment. Were this by the addition of two of Calera's most Alabama, on es a begging is an enterprising cit | constituency forced to hold up their | worthy young men, Messrs. Elbert Mc- | Monday, the 17th day of October, izen.—Chilton View.

wrong again. Calera has no inter- go up. As a rule however, the real Society. May the good work go on. est in the 'clarge slice of Chilton' tax-payers will not object. It is only except that the people living in the those who at the most would pay but "large Slice" are tired of living in Chilton and want to get into Shelby, and we being a generous and hospitable people have furnished a representative in Col. J. P. West, paign as he was of the gallant cam- the government who assist in bearing If these people should be fortunate in 1863-64. The writer saw him a man herself.—Abraham Lincoln. to present the bill to the House. enough to change residence of coun-number of times when yankee bulgreat convenience to them.

is still engaged in mouthing and Republican misrule, and served his the elected, on elections, on government tauntings of our fallen and pros- people faithfully as congressman and woman herself.--Chief Justice Chas. trate foe, and kicking and abusing and fourth auditor under Cleveland. the corpse. Look here, brethren, When the executive committee ing, and I for one expect a great deal of we have whipped the enemy com- named him as chairman of the state good to result from it.—Henry Wadspletely, he has acknowledged his campaign committee, confidence redefeat, we have had our grand rat- vived, and it was through his efification meetings, and all that, so forts, the magnificent display of tice and fair dealing, and the democratnow for heaven's sake, let us drop tact and judgement, the condemna- ic principles of our government, demand the subject and get back to solid tion of abuse of other parties, that business. We are not wild Indians has so materially helped to swell irrespective of sex. I have not been antis over the age of twenty-one years. that we should waste time in dan- Cleveland's majority in this state cing war-dancing over the slain .- to 50,000 and the triumphant elec-New Decatnr Advertiser.

mature in publishing the above. Greenville Advocate. "That fallen and prostrate foe" have only been in their secret consome very wrong thing.

NOTES BY THE EDITOR.

Our brother of the News remarks that the charter of Calera is very Entered at the Post Office in Calera as defected. Never having read the Second Class Matter. charter we can't say, but one has only to keep his eyes open to see that the municipal government of Calera I know a lady in this land is very defected. In fact one would "THE tub that stands on its own never know that we had any council so far as urban improvement goes. This lady has on her parlor floor The streets receive no attention, the A lovely rug from Syrian shore. schools get no supervision, order is Its figures were woven with curious art. not provided for. If the council ever meets no one knows it. Of course each citizen is as much to blame as the officers. Where the inhabitants to happen, we solicit correspond- care for nothing but their own prience from all parts of the county, vate interests, a town government is a But in her heart not one thought lives-

Most indiscreet haste, to say nothborhood will, by informing us, be ing of wasted energy, is shown by supplied with necessary stationary those who are thus early announcing, and in some instances applying for federal position. It will be at least six months before any steps can be taken in the direction of appoint- To those who know not that Christ is born ments, and such undue haste on the part of place hunters is in very bad taste, besides being extremely toolish. Chilton county to Shelby. It is a Such rushes for office is very prohife Calera scheme solely, and means of demagoguery. About nine out of nothing more than a new county ten of them get disappointed, a third and more offices to fill.—Chilton of these get mad about it, and they usually wind up by turning traitors It is an old adage that men often to their party out of pure spite. At pressing their claims.

We are glad to see that no marked the state the shame of an unseemly contest over the office of governor, but that the governor-elect was quietly inaugurated. That no means have been provided for a contest of state officers is the natural result of the wisdom of our parties in providing for white supremacy. That this condition exists makes us choose between Cumberland Presbyterlan Church held If there is another editor in the two evils. We cannot go behind the on December 5 its first anniversary is well. So far no general interests done by the society are very gratifying. have suffered, and so long as personal that the society has grown from seven ambition must feel the only bad ef- to thirteen active and three honorary fects we are quite safe.

tax rate and the necessary expenses elected officers are: Mrs. J. J. Dalton, of the state government. The people THE JOURNAL says that Calera should have learned long ago that it fear of a clamoring constituency, who has on its roll thirty seven members. property to a fair valuation, the rate Lendon, and George Holcomb. There There is where the View man is might be kept low; otherwise it must ment than in the Christian Endeavor the following described real estate, situlittle or none.

GENERAL SHELLEY is as good a -Plat. commanded of a Democratic campaign of which he was the leader its burdens, by no means excluding wo- December 5, 1892. lets were coming like rain, and ner. ties without moving it will be a thought then if there ever was a man devoid of fear, that man was General Shelley. He it was who A PORTION of the Alabama press redeemed the Fourth District from that will come by woman's suffrage, on tion of every democratic congress-The Advertiser was a little pre- man. Give Shelley the praise.-

claves planning for another attack. the 1st inst,, "Jeffersonian Demo-What did they do in Montgomery crats" (?) met in Montgomery and last Thursday? We asknowledge reorganized their Executive comafter so signal a defeat as that of mittee, The notorious Bowman householder and tax-payer ought to have November 8th; we should have was conspicuous for his absence a voice in the expenditure of the money some time for business. But when and his as chairman was filled by we pay, including, as this does, interests a lot of conspirators get their con- the election of Senator A. L. Good- the most vital to a human being. - Nightsent to harrass the quiet and peace wyn, of Elmore. Prominent ingale. of a people, it is very necessary to among the committee in the new keep them shadowed, lest they do ninth was Dr. G. B. Crowe, of Perlry.

WOMAN'S COLUMN.

[The Woman's Common is under the supervision of Mrs. F. W. Gist, and all communications for this department should be addressed to her at West Calera, Alabama.]

A LADY.-A RECITATION.

Who carries a Chinese fan in her hand; But in her heart does she carry a thought Of her Chinese sister, who carefully wrought The dainty, delicate, silken toy,

I wish that my lady had in her heart One thought of love for those foreign homes Where the light of the gospel never comes.

To shield my lady from chilling draft Is a Japanese screen of curious craft. She takes the comfort its presence gives, Not even one little thought, ah me!-For the comfortless homes that lie over the

My lady in gown of silk is arrayed; The fabric soft was in India made. Will she think of the country whence it

Will she make an offering in his name To send the perfect heavenly dress, The mantle of Christ's own rightcourness,

To those who are poor and sad and forlorn, -Woman's Work for Woman.

The Christian Endeavor Missionary service at the C. P. church Sunday evening was a success in every particular, wishes to keep every member at work; "measure others corn in their own any rate we should prefer to see dem- and relies greatly upon the lady memocrats wait a decent time before bers for their never-tiring zeal and ener-attempt has been made to force upon Rev. Z. A. Dowling, and high-toned famthe state the shame of an unseemly lily, after three years in our midst. We mourous over the proposition to at- ly inaugurated. That no means have and merit it will be hard for a new pastach a portion of Chilton to Shelby. been provided for a contest of state tor to really fill the place in every sense

> The Ladies' Missionary Society of the members, and that it has contributed the President; Mrs. J. D. Hardy, Vice President, and Mrs. J. S. Bridges, Secretary Morgan & Lapsley, and Treasurer.

m in has any special functions, but the gifts are equally diffused in both sexes.

I go for all sharing the privileges of

In the progress of civilization, woman oct22 7w prs fee$10 50 suffrage is sure to come.—Charles Sam-

Justice is on the side of Woman Suffrage .-- Wm. H. Steward.

I think there will be no end to good

Woman's suffrage is undoubtedly comworth Lonfellow.

For over forty years I have not hesi-

I take it America never gave any bettive weeks requiring him the said Hudson W. N. Daniel to answer or demur to ty of letting every human being have the power to of protection in its own hands. I claim it for woman. The mo-WHEN will the farce cease? On ment she has the ballot, I shall think the cauce is won .-- Wendell Phillips.

> You ask my reasons for believing in Woman's suffrage. It seems to me almost self evident, an axiom, that a

I am highly gratified with the late demonstration in the Senate on the question of female suffrage.-Ilon. George W. Julian,

Two For One!

By special arrangements with the Publishers we are able to offer the

in combination with

Journal.

for the price of our paper alone-adding only ten cents to cover extra postage. The annual subscription price of The JOURNAL is ONE DOLLAR. To every subscriber who renews now and pays in advance we will send him the Home and Farm Fr.e-only asking ten cents to cover postage-or the two papers for

HOME AND FARM is recognized as the leader in agricultural journalism. It has recently been enlarged to six pages, and is more attractive than ever. list of contributors contains the names merchants, manufacturers and planters alike. of practical farmers all over the south. Its Home Department is unsurpassed. Its department do oted to children is a well spring of pleasure in every hen-chold. Renew your subscription to THE CALERA JOURNAL and get this great agricultural and home journal Free For One Year.

For Sample copies of the Home and Farm, Louisville Ky. Send your subscription at once to The Journal, Calera, Ala., and ten cents in stamps and get both papers.

JOURNAL, Address

Calera.

and a most beneficial service.

Rev. J. J. Dalton, pastor of the C. P. church, possesses the right kind of spirit and energy in his church work. He wishes to keep a very more larger at work.

FIRST ROUND. Martin's Store, Monday, January 2. bers for their never-tiring zeal and energy in church work.

**

The M. E. church at Calera sustained a great loss in the removal of its pastor,

The M. E. church at Calera sustained a great loss in the removal of its pastor,

The M. E. church at Calera sustained a great loss in the removal of its pastor,

The M. E. church at Calera sustained a great loss in the removal of its pastor,

The M. E. church at Calera sustained a great loss in the removal of its pastor,

The M. E. church at Calera sustained a great loss in the removal of its pastor,

The M. E. church at Calera sustained a great loss in the removal of its pastor,

The M. E. church at Calera sustained a great loss in the removal of its pastor,

The M. E. church at Calera sustained a great loss in the removal of its pastor,

The M. E. church at Calera sustained a great loss in the removal of its pastor, Spring Creek, Wednesday, January, 25

Shrader's Store, Thursday, January 26. Browning's Mill, Friday, January 27. Shelby, Saturday, January 23.

All are required by law to meet me eighter constitution of the constitution of ther on my first or second round and bring with them a list of their taxable property. All property not assessed by the end of my last round will be delin-quent, and parties owning such property ill be required to pay an additional 50 ents for assessing. The tax collector is folly to pose before the country with a low rate of taxes for awhile, when it is usually followed by a disparagement of the state's credit. The paragement of the state's credit. The in order to enable Calera to show its contained on a country in order to enable Calera to show its contained on a disparagement of the state's credit. The taxes are generally reduced through fear of a clamoring constituency, who is sometimes and reasurer.

REGISTER'S SALE.

A. M. Elliott, Trustee, et al) tue of a decree rendered at the Spring term, 1892, of the Chancery Court of Shelby country, all this contained in a Mortgage from II. M. Pierce, et al, to A. M. Elliott trustee at the spring term, 1892, of the Chancery Court of Shelby country, all this contained in a Mortgage from II. M. Pierce, et al, to A. M. Elliott, Trustee, et al) tue of a decree rendered at the Spring term, 1892, of the Chancery Court of Shelby country, alabama, in the above entitled cause, I byterian church is growing in interest and numbers at every service. It now the contained in a Mortgage from II. M. and by virpublic outery, in front of the Court House door in the town of Columbiana, 1892.

Society. May the good work go on.

In the administration of a State, neither a woman as a woman ner a man as a range 2, west; and the east half of north east quarter, section 2, township 24, range 13, east

This, August 11, 1892.
D. R. McMILLAN,
Register and Acting Trustee.

13aug-10w prs fee$16.50 Above sale continued to Monday

D. R. McMILLAN, Register. The above sale is postponed till

Monday. 2nd day of January. 1893 D. R. McMILLAN dec7-4wprs fee$7.50

Notice to Nonresident.

The State of Alabama, Shelby county. In Chancery at Columbiana, Alabama, Sixth district. North Eastern Chance-ry Division, November 21st, 1892.

Martha E. Daniel, by her next friend L. W. Watson, complainant, vs. Hudson W. N. Daniel, defendant. IN This Cause it is made to appear to the Register, by affidavit of Thomas A. Walton, that the defendant. Hudson W. N. Daniel is a non-resident the State of Alabama, that he resides in Vanzandt county, in the State of Texas, but his particular place of residence able to see any good reason for denying that publication be made in the Calera that publication be made in Calera Journal, a newspaper published in Caletaken against him in said cause.

Done at office, in Columbiana, Alabama, this 22nd day of November, 1892.

D. R. McMillan, Register in Chancery. nov30 4w prs fee $7.50

Many a person is starving with a full

Many a person is starving with a full table before them. Appetite gene! Ambition gene! Life a burden!! What is the matter? The Liver has ceased to do its proper work. The life channel are clagged. Poisonous fluids are threwn back into the blood, which should be thrown out. SMITH'S BILE BEANS will surely stimulate the liver to do its work well, and headache, sallowness and bad breath will flee away. Price the court of the life away. Price. 25 cents per bottle. All druggists.

Banking House

Flome and Farm W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co.

CALERA; ALABAMA.

Negotiate Loans,

Issue interest bearing certificates of Deposit, and sell exchange on New York Louisville and Birmingham at regular rates charged by the larger cities.

We transact a general backing business, such as that of any incorporated bank in all of its legitimate transches, andwould be pleased to open accounts with

and Life Insurance

Bought, Sold and Rented upon just terms.

SIX MILE MALE & FEMALE ACADEMY.

R. H. PRATT, Principal.

35th annual session begins September 26, 1892, and continues 40 WEEKS,

ONE WEEK FOR CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS. TERMS.—Primary Department-per month..... Intermediate, including English branches and Latin, Higer branches of Mathematics, French, Greek, with the above, $3 00 Music and use of instrument, 3 00 Students are required to furnish, for their own use, one pr. blankets. one pr. sheets and pillow cases, their own toilet lights.

Payments, monthy or quarterly in advance. This school is located at Six Mile, Alabama, in a healthy, well watered neighborhood, five miles from Ashby depot, on the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia Railroad.

FI PRADIT PrIncipal,
Six Mile, Alabama. 3sept 6m

Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats Shoes, Gents & Ladies Dress Goods,

CALERA, ALA,D

Have one of the Largest Stocks of Hits, Shoes, Clothing, Notions Pierce, et al, to A. M. Elhott, trustee, at Dry Goods, and General Merchandize, Ever Brought to Shelby County, > OPPOSITE OUR DRY GOODS HOUSWe have Opened up a.....

EMAMMOTHESTOCKE

OUR

WILL BE IN THIS HOUSE AT ALL TIMES WAIT ON YOU and price Furniture as Low as any House in Alabama.

Our Campaign Goods are as neat and as Cheap as any in the State.

A. C. WADE & CO,

Singay Sun

$2.00 A Year

-THE-

Containing more reading matter than any Magazine published in America.

> THE SUN, New York.

THE PHENIX AUCTION CO., Are selling JOB LOTS of Clothing, Calcemining and Paper Hanging Dry Goods, Shoes, Hats etc. Regular sale day every Monday.

BOYLAN, A. F. HILLE, Manager. Auctr. J. L. PETERS. HENRY WILSON, E. S. LYMAN Columbiana. Monteva

Peters, Wilson & Lyman ATTORNEYS AT LAW, HUGH T. CAFFEY, PHYSICIAN & SURGEON CATIERA, ALA. b12-1y.

WHATLEY

AND RUDDY

HOUSE, SIGN AND ORNA TAL PAINTERS.

Done to Order,

Orders sent to THE office will be promptle tendedto. 2-10

GENERAL INFORMATION.

RAITERGAD TIME TABLE. LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE.

4:53 a.m. No. 1, South Bound, 4:14 p. m. 3, " " 5:10 a. m. 10:19 " 2, North Bound, 10:05 p. m. 7:15 p. m. "4"""

COUNTY OFFICERS. Probate Judge—John S. Leeper. Circuit Clerk—W. R. A. Milner. Register in Chancery—D. R. McMil-

Sheriff-H. W. Nelson. Tax Collector—A. F. Smith.

Tax Assessor—John H. Hammonds.

County Trersurer—W. A. Thompson.

Superintendent of Education-E.O. County Solicitor-J. L. Peters. County Commissioners-James Mc-Gowan, Rufus Walker, Richard Griffin,

AT THE CHURCHES.

A. M. Jones.

PRESBYTERIAN-Services on the 4th Sundays in each month, morning and night; pastor to be supplied. Sabbath School at 9:30 a.m.

METHODIST—Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night, by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sabbath school at 9:30. Baptist Church-Rev. J. G. Lowrey, pastor. Preaching every first and second Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting at 7.60 p. m., every Thursday.

Any one returning it confer a favor on the EDITOR OF Cumberland Pressyterian—J. J. Dalton, pustor. Preaching every dead and third Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. took charge of the railroad agency at Bridges, presented by his employees, m. Sunday school at 10 a.m. Prayer meeting Friday eveningsat 7:30. Chil-dressed to other persons residing in the same place, and living and doing business separate and apart from a box holder, should not be placed in such series of the pulpit on Sunday at 11 checks.

POSTAL LAWS.

box.

Sec. 300. No box at any post office shall be assigned to the use of any person until the rent thereof has been paid for at least one quarter in advance, for which the post master shall give a receipt.—(R. S., § 3901).

Sec. 301. Postmasters must rent the boxes and drawers in the post offices for one-quarter (three months).

Sec. 302. A person renting a post office box is entitled to have the letters of his family put into it. Each box must be restricted to the use of one firm, family or corporation.

Renew your subscription.

will do this and fore; therefore, do your duty and insre immediately in some good, old reliale Company."—Ex-

Dr. Miles Nerve and LivePills. 50 doces 25 cts.

Club rates of the loatgomery Advertiser and the CALER OURNAL is only $1.75 a year. The lttr is issued every twice a week. Now is ie time to subscribe as the doubleisse of the Advertiser will contain all thegislative news and the Journal will givthe latest local Opium Habit cared by Dr. Lee' Nervine.

For the the next twer days the CA-LERA JOURNAL, Weekly e-Herald and Weekly Mentgomery Adtiser will be Journal and either the e-Heraid or subscription for the Home and Farm. Advertiser for $1.75. The man will be good for 20 days only.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure at Igists.

Register's Sale.

The State of Alabama, Shr county, In Chancery at Columbia a labama, Sixth district Settle Eas Chancery Division.

Thomas Griffin, Sr., complat, vs. J. M. Anderson & Co., et alsfendant. BY virtue of a decree rend at the September term, 1892 of thancery court, at Columbiana, She county. Alabama, in said cause, I slaroceed to sell to the highest and bhidder. for eash, at public auction, in of the court house in Columbiana, iin legal hours of sale,

On Monday, 19th day ocember, 1892, 21, range 3 west, containing two-red and forty acres, more or less, a nated in Shelby county, Alaba and upon which the Saw Mill know-he J. M. Anderson & Co. Saw Minated, to satisfy said decree.

D. R. McMLL

D. R. McMLL

Register in Char mov30 3w prs fee $750.

LOCAL ITEMS.

See chancery notice in this issue. Subscription only $1 a year. St. Vitus' Dance cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine. In another place will be found a chancery sale.

The Journal and The Home and BY RAILROAD MEN, LED BY W. H. DIAL, Farm for $1.10.

W. W. Arnold, of Montgomery, and his little niece, spent part of to-day in retired from the agency of the railroads been received, but too late for this issue. About 12 o'clock on that day, the sever-It will appear next week.

Home and Farm in another column.

Rev. J. J. Dalton preached at the Cumberland church at 11, a. m. Sunday, and at night the Christian Endeavor Society had an interesting service at the same church.

See the Tax Assessor's notice in another column. The first round is published now, and at the proper time it will be discontinued and the second round inserted in its stead.

Any one returning it to this office will

EDITOR OF THE JOURNAL.

this place on the first inst., vice J. S. Calera, Ala., Nov. 30, 1892." dren's Band meets 3:30 p. m. each 1st and 3rd Sunday. Ladies' Aid Society devote his entire time to the manage-every other Friday evening at 3. ment of the hotel.

The Journal has received the follow-Sec. 268. No main matter shall be de-livered until the postage due thereon has been paid.—(R. S., § 3900). Sec. 297. Letters addressed to the Iriends of the owner of a box stopping temporarily with him may also keep learned of the complex of the temporarily with him may also be placed in the box, if directed to his care or to the number of the box. But letters ad
South, Randoiph, Ala."

That when they again have occasion to to perform so pleasant a duty, to invite the newspaper mun. South, Randoiph, Ala."

told us a few yarns. Fill always has a unexpired term of the late Benj. Fitzfreshone. The last was one on Brother patrick. Being only an appointee, have to keep it to ourself.

INSURE YOUR LIFE.

Read and profit by the following sound counsel, every word of which smarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel:

"It is a duty you owe to yourself and amily to protect then with a reasonable amount of life insurance, where the storms of the financial world cannot the interest the craft. The officers elected for the ensuing year are F. L.

Patter of Selmo M. W. M. McCollum, of Brieffield, gave us a pleasant call today. Mr. McCollum, of Brieffield, gave us a pleas touch them; where he assessor cannot tax them; where thy are safe for your tax them; where thy are safe for your George, P. M. W. Grand Master; Dr. Williams, of Oxford, Jr. Grand Warden; Wm. H. Dingly, of Montgomstract from a sermon y the Rev. T. De- ery, G. Treas. H. C. Armstrong, Grand

ONE of Mr. Longshore's supporers was heard to remark a few days ago, that "Oleveland elected Robbins to congress in this district." and gave Cleveland the handsome nesghbors of Chilton. majority over both the other tickets.

Sunday. He returned Monday morning to be at roll call.

Bring, $1.10 and we will enter your furnished to one address $2.50, or the name for the JOURNAL and send your > sion the first of the week. It was a call $1.10, and the Journal and Advertisession, but they were attending to ser or Age-Herald for $1.75. some general business, allowing

Rev. Mr. Dobbs, the new Methodist pastor at this place and Helena, filled his first appointment at Helena last

Rev. Mr. Dobbs, the paster of the Methodist church, was here this week his suffering. The mother should not in the South. All the rooms halls and making arrangement to miove. He will soon return and take charge.

Captain R. H. Pratt, pre sident of the Six Mile Academy, sper t Sunday in Calera, on his way to Montgomery to attend the Grand Lodge. . Another the following described proper, with the following described proper, with the west hif of southeast qr, south east qr of southwest qr of so township 21, range 3, west; the east hif of northwest qr, and west qr of northeast qr, section 2, ship 21, range 3 west, containing two red leaves grees, more or less, and to attend the Grand Lodge. Another object the Captain had in view in visiting the capital city, was to secure the passage of a bill incorporating his school. This good and us eful man—who has done so much for the county in which he lives in fact. in which he lives, in fact, the whole State—should have no trouble in getting any bill through the Legislature that would have a tending to build up or in any way advance the interest of his grand thatitution of learning.

THEY CANED HIM!

MAJ, J. S. BRIDGES ASSAULTED

WITH A HEAVY CANE.

On the 1st of this month Maj. Bridges at this place, and was superseded by Mr A long article from S. M. Diukins has | E. N. Penick, from Wetumpka, Ala. al employees of the roads who had form-See the advertisement for the club- erly been under control of Maj. Bridges, bing of the CALERA JOURNAL and gathered in an excited crowd, and walked into the Vanderbilt Hotel, which excellent house is also under his management, unannounced, and found the Major attending to business about the office and there assaulted him with a heavy cane, Mr. W. H. Dial using the weapon.

Mr. Dial walked up to Major Bridges, cane raised above his head and accosted him thus: "Mr. Bridges, I have been commissioned by my comrades in the employ of the railroads, at this place to present you with this cane as a simple token of our appreciation and the kind Lost-On Saturday last somewhere feelings we have entertained for you dubetween the post office and the Jour- ring our most pleasant and agreeable NAL office, the key to lock-box 34. association with you during your able management or this station.'

The cane was then handed to the Major, and is a very fine one the staff being ebony, beautifully polished, with a cost

Maj. B. was taken so completly by surprise that he could scarcely return his thanks for the handsome present, but his emotion was sufficient evidence of h's high appreciation of the gift.

Our reporter was not present, and if this notice is not in substance correct, then the boys will have learned a lesson: That when they again have occasion to

Last Sunday we had the pleasure of meeting Judge Denson and Solicitor Baldwin, the new judicial officers of the 5th. circuit, who were on their way to Bibb county to hold court. Judge Denson is a brother of the immaculate Bill Denson, who won for himself and the democratic party in offices for one-quarter (three months) conly, the money to be paid in advance. The department will insist upon a strict compliance with this regulation. Boxes remaining unpaid for ten days from the expiration of a quarter will be declared wacated.

Calera, as Miss Cora mardy will likely congress in the 7th. district, and will continue to hold the place.

Col. John P. West took advantage of the thanksgiving holiday last Thursday and came up home to specified that he was cetting along every one, and is the youngest solicitor. Alabama has ever had, being aphis gallant and victorious race for tor Alabama has ever had, being ap-Fill-Gardner dropped in Tuesday and pointed by Gov. Jones to fill out the Longshore, and is so good that we will after he gets through the arduous duties of solicitor this week and next in Mr. W. W. McCollum, of Brierfield, Bibb, he goes to Montgomery to en-

The JOURNAL man was up at Cotax them; where thy are sale for year family should you do; and where they family should you do; and where they will become your priection in your old will become your priection in your old Grand Master; James A. Biibro, of the bad scare the people of that vilage should you live A life insurance Gadsden, R. W. Sr. Grand Warden; lage are in over the probable removal of the court house. The few hours we were there we heard more talk of the court house removal than we have ever heard in Calera during our 12 month's residence in the place. Now brethren when a portion of Chilton county wants to come into Shelby, and because our representative Wednesday and the Alvertiser issued The gentleman is very far wrong in introduces the bill, it don't mean that his opinion. It was the democrats Calera is wanting the court house of the fourth that elected Robbins moved. Its only to accomodate our

> It is our intention to make the Col. J. P. West was up on a visit Journal a better news and local paper, than heretofore, as an inducement to patrons we have made arrangements to club with some of the best papers in the country. We will give the Journal, Weekly Advertiser and Home and Farm for $1.85, or the Commissioner's court was in ses- Journal and Home and Farm for > > Mrs. Coe. This little chi'd had suf- The scheme of study is framed with disease of the head, but at last the weep at the separation, for though the

CANDY: To cular MAS.

CANDY: To enlarge the market for our Candies we will send from now until Christmas a pail of our very best mixed Cream Candy to any address on receipt of $1.0) (2 Cts stamps taken and Express charges paid). Only one pail sent to one person, and all orders must be made on or before Lec. 20, if you want to get our candy in tame for Christmas. State your nearest it press shipping point. Please show pail of candy to your and neighbors. Address: THE FANCY CANDY CO.,

" Chonteau Ave. COMETHING MIGE FREE. raddress to B. W. Wronn, Gen. Pass. Agert, Tenn. Virginia & Georgia Lines, Knoxvile,
Sno., and he will send you a handsome lithography
Did. Rosteke Day

DE. L. L. CARMER.

Stricken Down with Heart Disease.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind. GENTLEMEN: I feel it my duty, as well as a pleasure, to publish, unsolicited, to the world the benefit received from Dr. MILES RESTORATIVE SEMEDIES. I as stricken down with Heart Disease and its complications, a rapid pulse varying from 90 to 140 beats per minute, a choking or burning sensation in the wind pipe, oppression THOUSANDS

CURED Heart Cure and two bottles Nervine. My pulse is normal, I have no more violent throbbing of the heart, I am a will man.
I sincerely recommend every one with symptoms of Heart Disease to take Dr. Miles' Restorawe Remedies and be cured.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR MONEY RETURNED.

SOUTHERN FEMALE UIVERSITY. Fall Terms begins September 15,

Spring Term begins Januarv 21. Over 125 boarders, 20 teachers and officers. Full University curriculum.

Five distinct courses, three which Dien-In Calera Sunday morning B, L. Special attention to Music and lead to the degrees. M. A., B. A., and at 3 o clock, little Frank, infant son of Art. Thorough Business Course fered long and intensely from some view of offering to young women such facilties for obtaining a liberal educa-Great Giver of all good things took at the best Universities. Hundsomtion as are enjoyed by the young men him to Himself, and relieved him of est and most complete school edifice stairways carneted. Accommodation for four hundred boarders. Smead's child cannot return to her she can go improved system of heat and ventilation. Lighted with gas and electricity Hot and cold water throughout Ab undance of bathrooms and closets Parlors, library, reading rooms and gymnasium conveniently located.
Cashcost of building, $80,000. Eight acres of campus. Board, lights, fuel-REV. L. D. BASS, D. D., Florence, Ala

> Mothers! Remember we make Children's Goods a specialty. Kilt Suits or Knee Pants suits, all sizes. Alex. Ricer, Montgomery.

RHEUMATISM In All it's forms Chronic or Acute, Muscular or Articulate.

All Diseases arising from an Impure state of BLOOD YIELD at once to IT'S MAGICINFLUENCE, READ?

REAB?

READ!

Mr. D. A. Warlick, Limewood, Pike county, Ala., writes: "I am satisfied I owe my life to V. V. V. been for that remedy I would have been ruined for life, while now, thank God, I am again as sound as a dollar. I suffered from one of the worst cases of blood poison, and used some 20 bottles in all, but now feel as if I had new lease on life. send you this unsolicited, and you can publish if you want to, bglieving I owe my life to your medicine.

«PRICE $1 PER BOTTLE, 6 FOR $5.9

Birmingham, Ala.

-60.110-Mrs. S. H McCauley'

MILLINERY-- GOODS.

A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hats in the Lates Styes, and at Reasonable Prices. Oct 8-3m

F W ROGAN, EEE LEECUTO MONTEVALLO, ALA.,

Office of Southern Express Co.

I KEEP CONSTANTLY ON HAND A COMPLETE LINE OF Wood Coffins and Caskets from the Chrpest to the Finest. Also, a fell Line of Ladies, Gents, and Childrens' Burial Suits

Orders by telegram promptly Filled. oct22 3m

WORDS ABOUT THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION. Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers -12 Pages.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT.

1. It is the best of all weekly newspapers.
2. It is invaluable to the tarmer and the farmer's family, bringing each week cheer to the fireside and happiness to the bousehold.

6. Bill Arp, Flunkett, and Uncle Renarded by the year and their informatic are aggreed by the year and yea is worth many times its subscription any other four of the weekly newspapers price to every farmer. This department of the south, and much more than any is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, and much more than any weekly newspaper in America.

sept3 3m

the household.

3. It covers the news of the whole itable sketches appear each week, world, having its correspondents scat
7. It is the People's Priend, and hereigness that the priese is the priese in the priese is the priese in the priese is the priese in the priese is the priese is the priese is the priese is the priese in the priese is the pries tered over the globe, and having a thor- the sturdy champion of the agricultural ough news service from every important interests of the south news center in the world.

8. It pays more money for its special

4. Its Agricultural Department alone features and for its news service than whose service is retained by the Constitution at great expense.

5. Its Woman'3 and Childeren's Deep time a hen lays an egg she pays fee partments are a source of infinite pleas- one issue of the greatest weekly news

Marion, Alabama.

ure to every family, and the name of pers in the world.

Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of your neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulated home should be without it. Agents Wanted in every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information.

THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

Marion MILITARY Institute.

servant's attendance etc., five months $64.50; tuition, $25. Send for catafamily and faculty live in building with students. lassic and Scientific. Superior Commercal Course. TERMS MODE. RATE. Send for Catulogue.

COL. J. T. MURFEE, Superintendent,

Send us your Job Work, and get satisfaction.

NABORS, MORROW & SINIGE, Sole Proprietors

For Sale By All First Class Dealers.

Given all the comforts and many of the luxuries of life, how many people are discontented solely from a habit of comparing their lot with those of more fortunate acquaintances! They do not specially object to walking-they like the exerci-ebut, whenever their next-door neighbor's carriage dashes by them, they grow suddenly tired about the knees and feel a weakness in the back with which pedestrianism does not agree. Woolen gowns would be perfectly comfortable if silk ones never rustled in front of them. John Smith's brick house is better than he ever expected to own, and he would be content enough with it if Tom Jones, who went to school with him when he was a boy, had not moved into a stone-fronted mansion with handsome portico.

THERE are lots of neglected graves in the cemeteries occupied by people who, like yourself, imagined when alive that there would be as great a rush around their graves as there is around a bargain counter, to keep them decorated.

Maine Is Getting There.

A country newspaper correspondent In Mainc recently sent this cheerful bit of news to his paper: "Books is at last provided with a nice hearse, and our citizens can now be conveyed to their graves in decent shape. This is something that has long been needed here."

Mr. David M. Jordan Colorless, Emaciated, Helpless A Complete Cure by HOOD'S SARSA-PARILLA.

This is from Mr D M. Jordan, a retired farmer, and one of the most respected citizens of Otsero Co., N. Y "Fourteen years ago I had an attack of the gravel, and have since been troubled with my

Liver and Kidneys

Liver and Kidneys
gradually growing worse. Three years ago I got down so low that I could scarcely walk. I looked more like a corpse that a iving being. I had no appetite and for 5 weeks I ate nothing but gruel. was badly emaciated and had no more color than a marble statue. Hood's Sar aparilla was recommended and I thought I would try it.
Before I had finished the first bottle 'noticed that I telt botter, suffered less, the inflammation of the bladder had subsided, the color began to return to my lace, and I began to feel hungry. After I had taken bottles I cold eat anything without hurting me. I have now fully recovered, thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla feel well and am well. All who know me marvel to see me so well." D. M. JORDAN

RADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR has proven an infallible specific for all derangements peculiar to the female sex, such as chronic womb and ovarian diseases. If taken in time it regulates and promotes healthy action or all functions of the generative organs. Young ladies at the age of puberty, and older ones at the menoa healing, soothing tonic.

y all druggists. Bradfield Regulator Co., roprietors, Atlanta, Ga.

RELIEVES all Stomach Distress REMOVES Nausee, Sense of Fullness, Congestion, Pain. REVIVES FAILING ENERGY. RESTORES Normal Circulation, and WARMS TO TOE TIPS. OR. HARTER MEDICINE OF St. Louis, Mo.

I want to Buy

Mineral Spring

Containing Lithia, Send analysis. State price. Give name and distance of nearest railroad station.

James Gaunt 365 Canal St N Y

FORTUNES ON THE DOCKS.

HEAPS OF VALUELESS-LOOKING STUFF WORTH MILLIONS.

Millions of Tons of Iron Ore Find Their Way to Lake Lrie Ports-A than that stupendous fact. Gigantic Industry.

HEN the great transporta-tion hall of the Columbian Exposition next year is filled with representations of systems and methods of moving the world's products it will have a few, says a Cleveland (Ohio) letter to the New York Advertiser, that will surpass in unique and peculiar interest the sight that may be seen daily at the ore ports of Lake Erie. The discovery of extremely rich and almost inexhaustible deposits of Bessemer ore in the Lake Superior districts a quarter of a century ago, as well as more recently, has been followed by the growth of a commerce that is unrivaled of its kind in the world, and nowhere to-day will such mountains of rich ore be found heaped ready for the transforming fire of the furnaces as at Cleveland, Ashtabula, Fairport and Buffalo and at South Chicago, on Lake Michi-

The ore, being less bulky than coal, can be carried farther than the coal in the journey toward each other, so that meets the coal at Chicago and Cleveland, but the greater part is carried to the Mahoning Valley and Western Pennsylvania furnaces. As the lakes are open for navigation but seven months in the year, it is necessary to und a storage place for the ore required to supply the furnaces during the winter months. Ascordingly, at Cleveland, Ashtabula and Farport miles of docks have been built, lining the narrow rivers that put into the lake at these points, and here, during the summer, is unloaded hundreds of thousands of tons of iron ore and gradually forwarded to the furnaces by rail.

It is almost impossible to appreciate the magnitude of this great traffic without a walk along the docks between great ranges of iron ore hills, thirty and forty feet in height, only a few railroad tracks separating them like narrow valraised from the holds of the great black built in 1560 by a Frenchman. hulled vessels by the docks and go creaking on the cantilevers back to whatever point the engineer has elected to dump them startles one, and the head.

Half hidden behind the ranges of red, brown or sparaling gray ore, the colors varying with the qualities, is the pony engine operating each set of hoisting machines, puffing and hissing away, adding a familiar element to the strange scene. Now a train of flat cars comes creeping along, drawn by a snorting switch engine. In each car are a dozen fills of those great ton buckets, looking like such a light load, as compared with the heaping coal cars so usual in other places, yet testing the strength of the gondolas quite as fully. A red dust rices and falls, and the laborers are covered with it. Their clothes are ocherous red, boots the color of the tanbark piles they knew as leather, and sweat furrows are time were in excellent condition. down their dusty faces and through the rust tinged beards.

eight hatches, and when they come to boatmen had not gone to church. the dock a hoisting machine is put to work in each. The great buckets are at Sing Sing (N. Y.) Prison, and secured filled below, while the others are drawn up and emptied, sometimes being carried back on the overhead railway of the cantilevers three hundred feet or more. Thus it is possible to take two thousand tons-enough to load one hundred and fifty ordinary flat cars—from a vessel in six or eight hours.

Few persons can appreciate what 1,500,000 tons of ore means without having it put in some more familiar shape. The docks at this port, where that amount or more is received every widely in quality and price.

The casual observer as he walks along can distinguish but four or five, or at is Moggonck, and its meaning is "On most half a dozen, grades of ore. But the great Sky Top." Sky Top, as perexperts know that these immense conical sons familiar with the region about Lake piles are strictly classified, and that up- Mohonk are aware, is the mountain upon much is 1,500,000 tons of ore? Loaded name for this mountain, for it is outlined carrying fifteen tons each it would make sky when seen from certain points of a train 700 miles long, or more than five view. times the distance from Cleveland to Pittsburg! Yet this is but about onethird the iron ore laid down at Lake York City!

Besides this great ore traffic, which his command, and unfrequented by annually amounts to $20,000,000 or more them. The general, a strict martinet in value, there is shipped from the ports and the head of a college of cadets, was of Lake Erie an immense amount of coal, imprudent enough to reproach them with both anthracite and bituminous, to Chicago, Milwaukee, Duluth and smaller demand a change in their manners. At points, where it is stored for shipment his next ball, when all the guests were This requires a very different set of over 1,000,000 tons annually.

The coal docks are over two miles in length, but narrow, and the coal is usu- shouted the general. ally loaded directly from the cars by means of derricks that handle great commanded!" replied the youth, saluting buckets holding half a ton or more. The as though on parade. work is slower than that of loading ore 'Take them away!" sereamed the or unloading it, but a new device has general, beside himself with fury.

just been erected here that promises to "Right about face, march!" was the makes it easy to dump a whole carload calm and unmoved answer, and the run out on the range or a part are kept into a vessel at once, and if it succeeds cadets marched out in the same order as on small farms we are not informed.-the work will be greatly expedited. they had entered .- London Spectator. New York Sun-

Without this the Cleveland Docks can handle 1000 ordinary carloads of coal a day, and the total shipments from the port each reach 70,000 carloads, or enough to make a train over 450 miles long! Nothing could better illustrate the magnitude of these great interests

SELECT SIFTINGS.

Mohammed began the Koran at thirty-

The petrary was a mediæval catapult.

Plate armor was used from 1410 to 1600. The standard Roman sword was twenty-two inches long. Dallas, Texas, didn't have any mosquitoes until the railroad was built

There is some curiosity to know whence came the shower of dead flies that recently fell at Mount Joy, Penn.

The lasso is an invention of the South American Indians and was in use when the country was discovered by Span-

One million three hundred thousand pounds' worth of pickles and auces are exported from England to other countries yearly.

Marriages are not allowed in Bavaria unless the authorities are convinced that but little ore is reduced in the upper the persons wishing to marry have the peninsula of Michigan. Much of it means to support a wife and family. Porphyry boulders, which greatly resemble watermelons in size, shape and color, are to be found in the Cascade Mountains east of Roseburg, Oregon. The peach is of Persian origin and the apricot is Syrian. The former fruit is mentioned by classical writers as early as 200 B. C., but the lattter not till 30 A. D.

The greatest number of deaths from earthquake shock was at Yeddo, Japan, in 1703, when 100,000 people, it is esti mated, lost their lives in the terrible seismic upheaval.

The filth of Russia, outside of the large cities, is simply barbarous. There is not one village in a thousand which pays the slightest attention to ordinary sanitary precautions.

Dr. C. P. Carver, of St. Augustine, leys, and overhead a great steel frame Fla., owns the oldest house in America, work of ore hoisting machines. The and lives in it, too. According to deeds in rattle of the steel buckets as they are his possession his Florida house was

The soil of Hayti is so fertile that three crops are often raised in a year. The natives, however, are too indolent stranger dodges involuntarily as they and they only work for enough to enable to avail themselves of these advantages, them to live.

> Cockscombs are considered a great delicacy by the French, who use them in their famous sauce a la financiere, for entrees, and especially for garnishes. They are considered a dainty tidbit dippped in butter and fried.

> The most northernmost point reached by civilized man was by Lockwood, of the Greely Expedition, in 1882, when he stood on eighty-three degrees twentyfour minutes north latitude, about 450 miles from the coveted goal.

> There was exhibited at Berlin, Germany, recently a set of false teeth made out of paper which a dentist had contrived for a patient thirteen years before and which after constant use during that

A clergyman in Oxford, England, has invited the men who frequent the river The unloading of a vessel at one of these docks is rapid work. All the lake boating flannels. Hitherto such cosore carriers have six and many of them tumes had been frowned upon and the

A well-dressed lady visited a convict permission to give him a camp stool. The camp stool was subsequently examined, and in the legs were found saws, chisels, files and a piece of rope.

A canvasser while in Washington, Me., was surprised to find six successive households in which no newspapers were taken, and upon calling at the next house asked the reason, and was informed that not a member of the six families could either read or write.

M. P. Ketchum, of Brighton, Canada, year, have a river frontage of over two is the owner of a trotting dog that has s miles, and are from 150 to 285 feet record of 2:18. The animal earns from deep. Here is heaped hills of fine red $300 to $400 per week during the racing and brown hematite, like so much other- season. Mr. Ketchum's young son ous gravel, or the coarser lumps of drives the dog and has deposited in sparkling gray magnetic ore, varying bank $17,500, all of which Doc, as the animal is called, earned for him.

The true Indian name of Lake Mohonk ward of eighty different grades have which the lake is situated. Sky Top, their place in the market lists. But how by the way, is an apt and picturesque on flat cars thirty-five feet long and with peculiar distinctness against the

The Cad ts Came to Dance.

A recent occurrence recalls a story of Erie ports every summer. The total a Prussian general who wished to make as food for the flames. To the writer's would more than fill two trains of such his world dance and failed. His wife's flat cars extending from Chicago to New receptions, for some reason or owner, were uncongenial to the youths under their shortcomings in this matter and to farther west during the winter months. assembled, the tramp, tramp of marching feet were heard upon the staircase; the docks, and in extent they exceed the ore door was thrown open, and there docks. Cleveland leads in the amount marched into the room a whole corps of of bituminous coal shipped, handling cadets with their young officer at their head, halted and stood at attention. "What is the meaning of this?"

"The first corps of cadets, to dancing

SCIENTIFIC AND INDUSTRIAL.

By a new device you can blow out the Rice is the least nitrogenous of all grains.

The average depth of sand in an African desert is thought to be from thirty

The only existing bird which has a five-toed foot, when in adult life, is said to be the Dorking fowl.

There is a large factory near Chicago, Ill., which does a profitable business in manufacturing useful articles from the waste blood of animals.

Reviving an old project, a French company proposes that lightships connected by telegraph be stationed at intervals of 200 miles across the Atlantic.

An English experimenter, E. T. Chaplin, has given an account of hypnotizing a laying hen, and inducing her in that manner to sit on a sitting of eggs until seven of them had hatched out.

Pictures are taken now of patients at various stages of disease, and a comparison of those with photographs of others similarly afflicted discloses phenomena of great interest and value to medical Portland cement will not do for caulking the joints of greenhouse pipes. Alternate layers of oakum and red lead, well rammed in, is the proper stopping, and does not crack or shrink like cement would; and again, Portland cement, even if it answered in other respects, would give too rigid a joint.

Some one has estimated that twentytwo acres of land is needed to sustain a man on flesh, while that amount of land sown with wheat will feed forty-two persons sowed to oats, eighty-eight; to potatoes, Indian corn and rice, 176 persons, and planted with the bread fruit tree, over 6000 people could be fed.

Salt affects the freezing of ice cream by causing the ice to melt, on account ot its own slight affinity for water. The ace in melting rapidly absorbs heat or renders heat latent, and hence reduces the temperature below that of ice, which simply melts by heat acquired from surrounding objects by conduction or convection of air.

Light travels at the rate of 213,000 miles a second, a velocity which causes the rays from the moon to reach us in a little less than a second and a quarter. The rays of Jupiter are fifty-two minutes in reaching us. It would take millions of years for the same beams to reach us if their starting point was from one of the fixed stars.

The red glow of the planet Mars has puzzled everybody but a French astronomer, who gives it as his opinion that the vegetation of that far-away world is crimson instead of green. He also says that he hasn't the least doubt but that there are single flowers on the war god's surface which are as large as the incorporated limits of Paris.

The introduction of electrically driven coal cutters and other mining machinery is making rapid progress in the bituminous mining regions of the Central West, The importance of this line of work will be apparent from the figures of production, which show that last year 150,000,-000 tons of this coal were mined in the United States principally west of the Alleghenies.

Piscatory authorities of the highest standing tell us that were it not tor nature's grand "evening-up" provisions, the fishes of the seas would multiply so would fill the waters to such an extent that there would be no room for them to swim. This will hardly be disputed when it is known that a single female cod will lay 45,000,000 eggs in a single

The Chinaman's "Yellow Oath."

One of the strangest judicial proceedings, perhaps, ever witnessed is that of the Chinaman taking what he is pleased to call the "yellow oath." The "oath," or declaration, is always written on a piece of "sacred" paper and is as fol-

This is to call the spirits, both good and evil, to descend and watch over the trial of ---, who is charged with murdering -- . If I swear falsely and tell one untruth, or do not make statements according to the facts in the case, I humbly beg the celestial terrestial spirits to redress the wrong done to - - and to punish me immediately for having been a false witness; to arrest my soul in its flight; to make me perish by the sword, or to cause me to die while on the sea far from home. This is my true and solemn oath, uttered by my own lips, and signed by me this, the - day of the - month in the - year of the reign of the Emperor ---; and in proof of the earnestness of my declarations, may my soul be destroyed as I now destroy this paper, by fire." Immediately after the witness finishes reading his "yellow oath," a lighted candle is handed to him and the paper is given certain knowledge this form of oath has been administered but once in an American court of justice-during the trial of Wong Ah Foo, who was accused of murdering Loi Ah Gou at San Francisco in 1885. In China the candle used in this extraordinary ceremonial is made from the fat of criminals who have undergone the death penalty .-- St. Louis Republic.

Number of Cattle in the United States.

The exact number of cattle in the United States during any year cannot be determined, but it is estimated to be at the present time between 45,000,000 and 50,000,000 head. Their distribution is given in the Census reports, but in these the range cattle and those on ordinary farms are not placed in distinct classes. For instance, in the Tenth Census (1888) Texas is credited with having 4,004,-605 head of cattle, but whether they ail

"If You Want a Cook Book"
Send ten cents in stamps to E. O. McCormick, G. P. & T. Agt. C., H. & D. R. R., Cincinnati, The Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton R. R., have issued a special edition of the Martha Washington Cook Book, 320 pages and fully illustrated. This Cook Book is in use on the dining-ears on the C., H. & D. between Cincinnati and Chicago, on which are served meals unequalled for the reprefect cooking. The Book will be sent prepaid to any address on recept of the ten cents in stamps. The C., if & D., in connection with the Monon, is the "World's Fair Route" to Chicago.

The Only One Ever Printed.

The Only One Ever Printed.
CAN YOU FIND THE WORD?
These is a 3 inch display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alise except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medicine Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, send them the name of the word and they will return you hook, BEAUTIFUL LITHOGRAPHS OF SAMPLES FREE.

How's This ?

We offer One Hundred Dollars reward for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cura.
F. J. Chenev & Co., Props., Toledo, O.
We, the undersigned, have known F. J.
Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions, and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm. ations made by their firm. EST & TREAX, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo,

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.
Hall's Caiarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free, Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Have You Asthma ?

Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn., will mail a trial package of Schiffmann's Asthma Cure free to any sufferer. Gives instant relief in worst cases, and cures where others fail. Name this paper and send address.

Prime Minister Gladstone still adheres to s life-long habit of rising about 5:30 daily.

Complexion cleared with Small Bile Beans. One of the most beautiful sights on earth is a happy child. If you want a positive cure for Bilious Attacks and colds use Bile Beans Small. The only heavy burdens are those we try to carry ourselves.

Will do good in almostevery case of sickness-Small Bile Beans. False worship will kill the soul as quick as no worship.

BEECHAM'S PILLS enjoy the largest sale of any proprietary mericine in the world. Made only in St. Helens, England.

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y

No 47 1892

By J. HAMILTON AYERS, A. M., M. D.

This is a most Valuable Book for the Household, teaching as it does the easily-distinguished Symptoms of different Diseases, the Causes and Means of Preventing such Diseases, and the Simplest Remedies which will Alleviate or Cure.

PACES, PROFUSE! ILLUSTRATED.

The Book is written in plain, every-day England is free from the technical terms which render most Doctor Books so valueless to the parality of the Book is intended to be of Service in the Family, and is

ONLY 60 CENTSPOSTPAID.

(The low price only being made possible immense edition printed.)

Not only does this Book contain so much Inform Relative to Disease, but very properly gives a Complete Analysis of everythertaining to Courtship, Marriage and the Projection and Rearing of the Families; together with Valuable Recipes and Preserons,

Explanation of Brical Practice,

Co't Use of Ordinary Herbs.

New Edition, Revised and Eged, with Complete Index.

With this Book in the house there is not for not knowing what to do in an emergency. Don't wait until you have in your family before you order, but send at on, e for this valuable volume. ONLY 60 CEP, POSTPAID.

Send postal notes or postage stamps denomination not larger than 5 cents BOOK PUBLISHING HO. 134 Leonard St., N. Y. City.

German Syrup was made about fourteen years ago. I contracted a cold which resulted in a hoarseness and cough which disabled me from filling my pulpit for a number of Sabbaths. After trying a physician, without obtaining relief I saw the advertisement of your remedy and obtained a bottle. I received quick and permanent help. I never hesitate to tell my experience. Rev. W. H. Haggerty, Martinsville, N.J. & pure and soluble.

It has more than three times the strength of Cocoa nixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is far more economical, costing less than one cent a cup. It is delicious, nourishing, and EASILY DIGESTED.

Sold by Grocers everywhere. W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

A WOMAN HAS SICK HEADACHE

there has been no instance reported where such cases have not been permanently and PROMPTLY GURED

the use of a single box of the genuine and justly celebrated

DR. C. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS,

FLEMING BROTHERS CO., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Consumpties and people who have weallungs or Astlungs or Astlung, should use Piso's Cure for CONSUMPTION.

Seeds! Seeds!

Thirty-four full azepapers of NEW CROP GARDEN SEEDS, ad four half pint cartons of P.A.S. AND BE. Nemalled postpaid for $1.001 annalier assortment 60. Send for illustrated Catalogue. MANI & 10.,. CAPE VINCENT, N. Y. PATENTS W. T. Pitzgerald.

OPIUM orpline Habit Cured in 10 20 days. No pay till cured. TR. J. STEPHENS, Lebanon, Ohio.

THE CALERA JOURNAL.

VOL. II.

CALERA, ALA. WEDNESDAY. DECEMBER 14, 1892.

NO. 8

Sympathy an' Stuff. A man may cat the nicest food, Wear jewelry an' rings, An' dress up like a reg'lar dood, An' live on pies an' things; Have apple sass without the peel. Yit never have enough. Without sometimes a reg'lar meal Of spmpathy an' stuff. Yer may git tarnal rich an' vit

Thar's suthin' that ye've got to git-Yer'll find yer way is mighty rough Without no sympathy an' stuff. Oh, you may own a house an' shed, An' wear a shirt thet's biled, An' wear a beaver on ver head Until yer head is spiled. An' if you own a hundred goats,

An' sheep an' steers enough, There's suthin' more than hins an' shotes-It's sympathy an' stuff. An' this I say, an' know 'tis true. An' sound an' Bible doctrine, too,-You'll find life's turnpike pretty rough Without no sympathy an' stuff. Yes, life without it ain't is no use,

'Tain't wholesome, pure, nor sweet; 'Tis like pudd'n without juice, A tater without meat. A man may b'lieve he's mighty rich, An' yit be poor enough Without affection, love an' sich. An' sympathy an' stuff. Yer life'll be a crooked trail, An' like ez not up in jail; Be cold an' sapless, dry an' tough, Till yer git sympathy an' stuff.

I preached this creed to Betsy Jane A-tother evenin', too; I rather guess I made it plain An' purty sweet, I do. "My arm within her arm it slid, Clus up aside her muff, She said she'd give me love, she did, An' sympathy an' stuff. An' so I named the wedd'n day, An' hugged an' kissed, an' cried "hoo

Oh, life will be jest bright enough With Betsy's sympathy an' stuff! - [Sam Walter Foss, in Yankee Blade.

TWO PLUCKY WOMEN,

"I've had my fair sheer of holdups don't hanker arter any more. How many? Wall, I couldn't jist give ye ble as a rabbit. exact figgers, but ten wouldn't be fur out of the way."

"And were you ever wounded in any of the holdups?" I asked.

"Three different times, sir. Some proof of the fact that it wasn't so lay in the killin' of three different drivers on this very line inside of six months. never bin interfered with. Durin' that same time we got away with two robbers. People who ar whackin' up, as they call it, don't slambang bullets and buckshot into each other at clus range, do they?"

presume." "Sartin, and then thar was fun. 1 away and makin' a kick about some- ordered her to step down." thin' or other. It jest made me fat to know she wasn't harnessed up to asked.

was three o'clock in the afternoon I was bleedin' like a stuck pig, and press the end in so tight that there is when the robber they used to call hevin' trubble with the hosses, I didn't no chance for an apple to move, and 'Harry Blossom' steps out from be- want any more bizness on hand jest after the head is nailed turn the barrel hind a rock and levels his gun on a then. I know'd he'd skeer the gal half upside down and put your name on it line with my face. I stops right then to death and wouldn't git over five as guarantee of a No. 1 apple, to be and thar. Harry nods to me not to dollars in cash, but I couldn't help it. sold for what the buyer is willing to make a fool of myself while he was He had his hand on the door to open give. - [New York World. busy and steps along to the door and it when she fired a pistol in his face. orders the passengers to git down and She had one, it turned out, and she view the scenery. He was a gentle- had the plack to pull the trigger, but tleman, Harry was, and mighty gal- it was a great surprise to me when I lant to the ladies. The old maid had heard the report and the yell which traveled enuff to know what a hold up follored. The bullet hit the feller in was, and at fust she refused to git the side of the nose, about half way observe objects at a distance of an down. She sot right thar on the back up, and the pistol was held so clus seat and wolloped that chap with her that his eyes was blowed full of powtongue till he didn't know whether he der. He dropped his gun and siegwas aroot or on hossback. Jemimy! but | gered back with his hands to his face, | wholly constructed of human skulls and a hundred other names! I was pie: consarned over the robbery, of course, but I had to laugh or burst."

"And she wouldn't get down?" I asked.

"She did arter a bit. He wasn't kind of a greaser, but he figgered that the men had passed her their wallets, as was often the case. The three felthar's a shot gun and a road agent says she:lookin' at him never gits any sympathy. She finally got down, and I madness. Harry got 'em in a row him.' and was callin' fur their wealth when the old maid yelled out like a cat pinched in a door and grabbed him. He had a pistol in his hand at the time, but she didn't seem to keer. She got him around the waist and tripped him up, and it was all done so quick nobody could git the hang of it. She was jest fightin' mad and wanted to scratch and pull ha'r, but when he went down we all saw the chance and lit on to him. He fired twice, but didn't hurt anybody, and by that time we had him safe. He's over in the Penitentiary yit, and it's all owin' to that old maid.

"It was funny. We loaded him inside, bound hand and foot, and she tongue walloped him fur thirteen long miles. Harry was a tuff one, but he afterward told me he'd rather got five years extra than to hev bin obliged to hear her go on. She had a Bible with her, and she put in the last two miles readm' a chapter of it to him!

"The rewards offered on him piled up about $1000, and she got the money and $200 on top of it as a present from the company. Lands! but didn't Up a long hill the horses were Harry feel broke up and ashamed! slowly toiling. "Speaking of road He'd stood off the Sheriff half a dozen agents," said the old stage driver, times, and to be captur'd by a woman -and an old maid at that-jest broke | pulled up at Russey, out on the A. K. his speerits down 'till he was as hum-

"Jest about a year arter Harry Blossom's capture," continued the as a young man came dashing into driver, as I asked him for further in- the car, shook hands tenderly and cidents, "I went out of Austin with cordially, insisted on carrying her only one passenger and she was a valise, magazine, paper bundle, and folks used to purtend to believe that schoolma'am. She was a teacher over drivers and road agents stood in to- in Eureka and wasn't over twenty she let him. gether and whacked up, but they war years old. I can remember she was The passengers smiled as she left, idiots fur talkin' sich bosh. The best short and small and had black eyes. and the murmur went rippling tween the two towns and that line had | gaged."

time, and it cum to me about five twice gathered her parcels together, miles out of Eureka. The hosses as though she would leave the car, yet importance, and a short rule encomwar' joggin' along as contented as you seemed to be expecting some one. please, and I was holdin' the lines and At last he came. He bulged into "Well, hardly. You've had women thinkin' of the gal I've been harnessed the door like a house on fire, looked aboard when you've been stopped, I to since, when I gits a sudden lift. A along the scats until his manly gaze cuss who didn't know beans about the fell upon the upturned, expectant bizness had taken it into his noddle to face, roared "Come on; I've been tea or coffee. Keep your digestive was laughin' to myself only yesterday turn road agent, and this wus his fust waiting for you on the platform for tract clear and go to bed when you are about the case we used to call 'The holdup. Instead of steppin' out like fifteen minutes," grabbed her basket | tired. Many a person who has suf-Old Maid's Roundup.' It was a fun- a gentleman and givin' me a chance to and strode out of the car, while she ny thing. I'll pint out the place, a hold up in decent fashion, he puts a followed with a little valise, a band dozen miles ahead, as we come to it. bullet in:o this right shoulder afore he box, a paper bag full of lunch, a bird I had three men and a woman as pas- shows hisself, and then begins to cage, a glass jar of jetly preserves, and ach and bowels should ever be sengers, and all were inside. I had'nt whoop and dance up and down the an extra shawl. seen the woman and couldn't tell what road. The hosses was fur runnin' she looked like, but it turned out that away, but I finally got 'em pulled the further end of the car croaked out, she was a single critter, about forty down and waited fur the idiot to cum in unison with the indignant looks of years old. She had red hair and a up. He was white about the gills and the passengers, "They're married." sharp nose, and she could talk a a good deal more skeert than I was wheel off a coach in five minutes. till I told him I had only one passen-Mebbe she'd bin disappointed in love, ger and that a gal. Then he begins as they call it. I've heard that that to brace up and let on he's a terror packing apples for market, a table sort o' turns a woman's feelin's into from way back. No respectable rob- eight feet long, with sideboards six penper and vinegar. She got into a ber would hev thought of plunderin' fuss with the men about their smokin' a woman, but that cuss was low down of apples. He sorts the apples into almost as soon as we started, and and probably hard up. He walked up at least two grades. In remarks made every few minutes I heard her pipin' to the door, a gun in each hand, and before a farmers' institute he said:

"And you couldn't interfere?" I

"We'd jest climbed the hill and it bein' as he had put a ball into me and Shake them well, level off the end, lian, rascal, wretch, coward, Injun winder and says to me as sweet as

"Driver, will you have the kindness to drive on?"

"I had that very kindness, you bet yer life, fur I didn't know how bad the feller was hurt and I didn't want gom' to rob her, fur he wasn't that any more of his lead. I run the hosses into Eureka and the gal hopped outer the coach and kissed her mother as chipper as you please. I reckoned to lers was like lambs, but I didn't blame find her all upsot with hysterics, but ordinary and daily existence, there is 'em any. A man who plays fool when she wasn't that sort. She says to me,

" Driver, I guess you and the Sheriff kin gobble that chap if you'll hurry could see she was bilin' over with back, fur I know the powder blinded

> "Six of us drove back thar in the coach. The feller's two guns was lyin' in the road whar' he dropped 'em and we found him in the brush a few rods off. He wasn't built fur no road agent. He was whimperin' like a boy, and as soon as he heard us he began beggin' that we wouldn't hurt him. He's in State Prison, too, and I saw him only a week ago. He didn't quite lose his sight, but he can't only jest tell the difference between a king and a jack in broad daylight."

"And what became of the girl?" "The gal? Oh, she got married in about a year, of course. Jest went and threw herself away on a feller as didn't know plums. I was never more disappointed in my life than I was when I heard of it. Why, if I'd seen him among a drove of jack rabbits I wouldn't have wasted lead on him!"

"Ranchman, was he?"

"Ranchman! No! He was what they calls a professor, and the gal's mother like to hev cried herself to death over it!"-[New York Herald.

Then Outspoke a Bachelor.

They were very pretty and there was apparently five or six years difference in their ages. As the train D., the younger girl blushed, flattened her nose nervously against the window, and drew back in joyous smiles would probably have carried her had Thar' wasn't much money passin' be- through the coach, "They're en-

"The other girl sat looking nervous-"Howsoever, thar' is allus a fust ly out of the window, and once or

And a crusty-looking old bachelor in Preparing Apples for Market.

An Onio pomologist employs, when inches high, that will hold two barrels "For the grst grade set two tiers of smooth, good-colored, medium-sized apples, and fill up the barrel with "I wasn't heeled with a shooter, and apples that will run as good or better.

A Snail's Eves.

The little black spots on the end of the snail's horns are the animal's eyes. He can see with them very little, but they serve to distinguish for him light from darkness, and enable him to inch or two. - [Detroit Free Press.

Neag Nisch, Servia, a building you orter hey heard her call him vil- and that little gai leaned out of the and bones was recently discovered.

INDIGESTION.

Most Common of All Ailments Which Affect Mankind.

Cause, Prevention and Proper Method of Treatment.

Of all the ailments of misery in one, says Dr. Frank II. Ingram in the New York World, which carries the honors. This is indigestion. There is, perhaps, a mass of people suffering from an improper nourishment and a faulty distribution of food which outranks the victims of cholera in all the epidemics which history has recorded.

Indigestion may be due to the character of the food, to imperfect mastication, to impoverished or irritable condition of the stomach, to a "bad liver," or to faulty intestinal action. It may be acute or chronic, the latter outweighing the former in the number of cases occurring. The first may be simply due to an overloaded stomach or to some slight indecretion in the way of eating and drinking; the second is an acquired condition, a result of repeated disregard of foods or a weakened digestive tract.

Acute indigestion correts itself in a short time. It is characterized by a sense of weight in the stomach and occasionally by a "burning" in the region of the stomach. It usually manifests itself after a hearty meal or in the morning upon arising. A cup of hot coffee, without cream or sugar, will often dispel it, or a dose of salts or effervescing magnesia before breakfast may be equally good. A mustard plaster over the stomach may not be ignored if the pain be acute.

Chronic indigestion is a different affair altogether, combining the features of the acute form with mental depression, physical debility, constipation and many other things not in consonance with a healthy system. It is gradual in its development and protracted in its retirement. It is above all things a misery. Those who are numbered among its victims are the ones who are ever seeking advice and who walk about with furrowed foreheads and "long faces."

A little prudence in eating, care in personal attire and a few simple and homely remedies may do much to make life comparatively comfortable and to pave the way for an ultimate cure. Of these the first is of greatest passes the entire field.

Do not eat rich or highly seasoned foods nor anything which is known to give you discomfort, and do not drink the spirituous liquors or strong fered the torments of indigestion for years has been cured by rest.

In the matter of clothing, the stomwarmly covered, and the head, feet and hands kept at an even temper-

Of the remedies ever at hand, the best is a draught of hot water taken about half an hour before eating. This tends to clear the stomach and to put the glands in healthy action. In addition to this, a pinch of baking soda may be of benefit if the ailment is particularly distressing. Above all things, however, the food must be thoroughly masticated.

The "Living Lariat."

There is a snake in Texas that the Mexican dwellers call the "living lariat," and they profess to dread it almost as much as they do the rattler. Of this, though, it is certain: If there is one animate thing that approaches nearer to lightning in rapidity of motion than another it is this same living lariat. It grows to be seven and even eight feet long, but is so slim that it can be likened more to a whip lash in appearance than anything I can think of. It is of a light yellow color, and flashes along on the ground in a zigzag course, passing by you and disappearing in a yellow streak in the distance so quickly that if you have had never seen one before you would have no idea of what it was that had s vept by you. The natives tell fearful stories of the constricting power

It delights to pursue the swift-footed knows they are. - [Chicago Times.

ing wildly by you, its eyes big and projecting with terror, and every nerve and muscle strained to get somewhere as quickly as it can, you may know that the living lariat is on its trail. Presently a yellow streak will whizz past. It will soon overhaul the flying rabbit, but does not capture it with its mouth, as other beasts or reptiles of prey would do. When it is rabbits of the Texas plains, and if you should see one of these animals bound-near enough it hurls its tail and ninetenths of its whip-lash body forward over its head, and winds a coil about the rabbits neck, and brings it down as unerringly as the most expert ranchero would throw his lasso about the neck of a flying steer. The next instant the rabbit is lying within the folds of the snake, crushed into a shapeless mass, and ready for the serpent's slow and easy dinner.

There is a story current among the Texas herders, and I guess it is true, about a Mexican who captured a living lariat when it was young and made a pet of it. The snake grew to be of great length, and was the pride of its owner. Even after it had lassoed and crushed several lambs for him and actually roped and strangled to death his most valuable herd dog, the Mexican still held the snake in favor. He laughed at the warnings of his friends, who declared that he would be sorry some day if he didn't put the serpent out of the way. One day the Mexican's wife heard a without putting his hands on them. smothered cry, followed by a gurgling sound, coming from the direction where she had seen her husband passing along a moment before. She ran out of the house. She saw her husband hanging at the end of something from the limb of a tree, struggling convulsively. She hurried to the spot, and was horrified to see that he had been lassoed by his snake, which was up in the tree, and had raised him from his feet. The wife cut her husband down by severing the snake with a sickle, but he was then quite dead .- [New York Sun.

A Fated Man.

The treaty between Grant and Lee, which terminated the Civil War, was signed at Appomattox Courthouse on the property owned by a man named McLean, concerning whom a Confederate officer told me an interesting story. It would seem that Mr. Mc-Lean, though striving to keep himself aloof from wars and rumors of wars, was pursued by a fatality from the start to the finish of the great conflict.

at the outbreak of the war General Beauregard's headquarters were near Manassas, on the farm owned by the same McLean. There the first engagement of moment took place. General Longstreet and corps were also encamped there for a time. When the firing began there came a volley from the Federals which literally tore to pieces General Beauregard's dinner, spread on a table in the garden at the rear of the house.

At the close of the engagement Mc-Lean packed up such goods and chattels as remained and removed to Mississippi, where, in course of time, the war followed him.

Tired at last of the self-imposed banishment from Virginia, he returned just in time to be fairly settled at Appomattox Courthouse and for his property to be that selected for the signing of the treaty of peace. - [Kate Field's Washington.

Cherokee Strip Not a Strip.

I have just crossed the Cherokee Strip, and was surprised to find it took the train over three hours to cross it, says a St. Louis Globe-Democrat man. The general impression as to the strip is that it is a narrow neck of land only a few miles across, reserved as a highway or ontlet for the Cherokees. As a matter of fact, the Strip is eighty miles across and is larger in area than some of the states of the Union. The entire eighty miles is covered with the best quality of blue grass, and it is doubtful whether even in the best parts of Texas it is to be duplicated.

Faith and Belief.

Professor Potterby-Will you illusrate the difference between belief and faith, Mr. Binks?

Binks-Yes, sir; the father believes that his children are the smartest in the neighborhood, while the mother stories.

SCIENTIFIC SCRAPS.

An aluminum buggy is announced. Sulphuric ether contains no sul-

Germany has a 4000-ton forging

The idea of using beet juices in steam boilers instead of water has again attracted some attention. Soundings to the depth of 26,850 feet have been made in the Pacific Ocean near the Ladrone Islands. The longest day of the year is of nineteen hours' duration at St. Petersburg, Russia, or four hours longer than in New York. Some in crasting experiments in submarine lighting have been made at Toulon, France. An electric lamp was lowered in the roadstead, and illuminated the sca-bed and the water around it to a distance of more than

A novel case of poisoning has been reported in one of the Berlin hospitals. A common metal thimble, which was found to have small spots of verdigris inside, caused the poisoning through a small scratch on the end of the finger.

Near the summit of the Cascade range, east of Roseburg, Oregon, were recently found porphyry boulders that so closely resembled watermelous in size, shape and color that it would puzzle an expert to tell the difference

An obelisk of red granite, 71 feet high, with a pedestal of black porphyry said to surpass in beauty both Cleopatra's Needle and the column on the Place de la Concorde, is soon to be taken to Austria from Alexandria, where it has been lying in the garden of the Austrian Consulate since 1847. It is to be erected at Trieste.

A hybrid between the black currant. and the gooseberry has been produced by an English gardener. Its fruit resembles the black currant in size and a red gooseberry in color, has a hairy covering, and is seedless. The flavor partakes of both the black current and the gooseberry, being, in the opinion of the originator, superior to either.

Fossil remains of the huge animals that inhabited the plains of Eastern Oregon hundreds of years ago are being found in the Placer Mine above Prairie City. A huge tooth several inches across the crown was picked up a few days ago, while early in the summer the immense skull of some ancient species of animal was found near the same place.

The Great Size of London. After all, however, the greatest peculiarity of London, that which most distinguishes it from all other towns. is its overwhelming size. It contains many open spaces, parks, and even metropolitan commons, which are fast becoming parks in fact, but now virtually on unbuilt-on ground; and beyond the London of the County Council and the census we are still in town. The borough of West Ham, in itself an enormous town, returning two members to Parliament, and underrepresented with its two, the borough of Croyden, the district of Chiswick, and many others, are indistinguishable from London, although outside London. Without them, London proper is so vast as to make the crossing of it on the cutside of an omnibus from Chiewick through Hammersmith, and Kensington, and Knightbridge, and Piccadilly; the Strand, Fleet street. Ludgate Hill, Cheapside, Cornhill, Leadenball street, Aldgate, White High street, and the Mile End Road, or Commercial Road East, one of the great sights of the world; especially when we remember that in London this is not a single line of length, but that London from north to south is as wide as from east to west it is long. London is a labyrinth and a bechive, both on an enormous scale; and the manner in which London contrives to feed itself, to live and grow, constitutes the chief wonder of the world. - [Harper's Weekly.

Not About Giants.

Little Dick - Tell us about the giants, Mr. De Talk.

Guest-I don't know much about giants, my bov.

Little Dick-That's queer. Pa said he heard you tellin Sis some tall

-[Good News.

FRANK W. GIST.

EDITOR.

Entered at the Post Office in Calera as Second Class Matter.

CALERA, WEDNESDAY DEC. 14.

after his article was in type and after our reply was prepared, but not in type, we received a postal from the author of this strange peice of composition, requesting us not to publish it. But as we are editor, compositor, pressman, job hand and office boy, we could not afford to loose the work done; and we theretore let it occupy its space without comment, hoping our readers will accredit the production solely to its author, whose name is attached.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The legislature, with its usual timidity is dickering with the Sunday freight trains. We know of no necessities of transportation urgent enough to outweigh the moral principle involved. In many states, further advanced in commerce and trade than ours, freight trains do not run on Sunday, and we have no product that will spoil in a day. The railroads are making this the occasion of asking help in defeat of the measure from their patrons, the shippers; using the plea that the interest of road and shipper are mutual. This cannot be denied, but one is led to wish the road would put down in this same category of mutual interest many other things in which at present the shipper's voice or opinion is not regarded. Especially is this true in the case of our local product, lime, which has the past season suffered much from the neglect of the public carriers in providing prompt transportation to important markets. The delay of a day in seven does not compare with the failure to removal for weeks a perishable product losing to its principal market. This, besides the refusal to encourage by small concessions in the matter of freight rates. If the legislature fails to pass this measure it will fail in a high duty to public morals,

The attention of the city council is again called to some of the nuisances with which our town is infected. Private citizens are of late being aroused and the sanctity of private homes is being invaded at all all hours of the night by drunken carousers in their noisy attempt to gain admittance to the "blind tigers" which sit unmolested on the public squares. These things exist in open defiance of law, in utter disregard of public decency and in the very eyes of Christian men. It does not speak well for the efficiency of officers, the efforts of citizens or the zeal of religious societies. The only excuse for it on the part of any of these is the want of more courage or the lack of individual desire for a better

THE GARNISHMENT LAW.

SYNOPSIS OF ITS PROVISIONS AS IT

PASSED THE HOUSE. The bill provides that any party demand sought to be subjected by employee or if it is owing on account of such services that the defendant has in writing, expressly waived his right to claim as exempt the amount owing | per. for or on account of such personal serswer contests the same by making affidavit that the said amount is not owing for such personal services or that the defendant has, in writing, expressly waived his right to claim as exempt the amount owing for, or on account of such personal services; that the ac-THE article referred to in our last fendant and garnishee must each have issue from Mr. Dinkins will be five days' notice of any such contest found elsewhere, and would have by personal services on each of them been replied to in this column, but of a certified copy of such affidavit of contest, and, on the trial of such contest, the burden of proving that such endeavoring ever since I was in the all events of any interest. In return I demand is the subject of garnishment. Journal's sanctum, to fulfill my prom- would be pleased to see them exhibit the shall be, upon the plaintiff and this issue, tried by a jury on the demand of any one of said parties; that all laws and parts of laws, general or special, in conflict with the provisions of that act be, and the same are hereby repealed, provided that this act shall that the mountain went to labor and extent to put the Journal on a financial only apply to the counties of Jefferson brought forth a "we mousey," but such basis commensurate with its merits, and Colbert, and provided that this a fear shall not restrain me from doing am, Most Respectfully, act shall not take effect for ninety days my level best; so I shall roll up my after the approval of the same.

Mr. Ferguson moved to amend by adding to the provisions of the bill the counties of Dallas, Calhoun, Walk-Lee, Escambia, Shelby, Madison, Mobile, Pickens, Cleburne, Etowah, DeKalb and Franklin.

A VOICE FROM LOWNDES.

EDITOR JOURNAL:

A story is often told of a young farmer to the effect that he trans- ny, has reduced the dangers to the minported his pumpkins by packing them on a mule, carrying one pumpthem on a mule, carrying one pumpthem of the car or tram-way, and by using election of the car or tram-way, and by using election of the car or tram-way independent of the car or tram-way, and by using election of the price of our paper alone—adding only ten cents to cover extra postage. The annual subscription price of the price of our paper alone—adding only ten cents to cover extra postage. kin at a time, balancing it with a trical blasting machinery. The opening rock in the other end of his sack.

When asked why he did not haul the car of tram-way, and by using electory in the car of tram-way, and by using electory in advance who renews now and pays in advance we will send him the Home and Farm Frie—only asking ten cents to cover postage—or the two papers for kin at a time, balancing it with a them, or why, at any rate, he did most sanguin does not now attain. the price of one.

Mr. Aldrich is one of the most than HOME AND FARM is recognized as not put a pumpkin in each end of the sack! He replied, "this is the way daddie done.'

idiotic methods of taxation, I am always reminded of this young farmer's answer.

same right to vote that men have.

The reshault he allowed to rest. They should be allowed to vote. A teat state is famous for its blue-grass and contrary view is but a survival of lovely women. That Miss Ruby is an ideas in vogue when woman was reorganist of no little merit is attested by will make two regular rounds: light is dawning, and woman will one day wield a potent influence for good with the ballot.

And the democratic folly about

And the democratic folly about good with the ballot.

er example of "daddy done" policy. The tariff is doomed---protection is a fraud. No industry can be protected without receiving tribute from other irdustries. No honest man that stops to reflect can endorse such enforced tribute; and since revenues cannot be raised by a tariff enues cannot be raised by a tariff in the state of the sun alone. I have tried him on various occasions and fully tested him in this way and never caught the sun alone. The sun alone is the sun alone. I have tried him on various occasions and fully tested him in this way and never caught the sun alone. The sun alone is the sun alone in the sun alone. The sun alone is the sun alone in the sun alone in the sun alone. The sun alone is the sun alone in the sun al tion at least, no honest thinking man can endorse a revenue tariff. The honest men who endorse it, do not think. They still carry a rock whiskey out. In an conestran way she in one end of their thinking appa-

For a similar reason, these same on ridule and slander.

Henry George's single tax plan we only resuscited by the beautiful visshout themselves hoarse in trying placently contemplating our helpless desiring to sue process of garnishment to "boom" their respective towns. in addition to the affidavit now requir- Clap on the single tax, and your opened up to our souls by the enchanted by law shall make affidavit that the town will boom of itself. Make ing smiles of lovely woman. We have the Calera Land Company either been married, and perhaps are married garnishment is not owing for, on ac- utilize their land or give it up. If yet owing to a technical error in chancecount of services render or to be ren- they put their land to use the town der by the defendant as a laborer or will prosper. If they are made to give up their land, others will put it to use, and so the town will pros-

Do not fancy the reform sentivices: that any such garnishment is- ment is dead. I, for one; will nevsued without a full compliance with er vote for democratic nominees the provisions of this act in respect to until that party endorses absolute | Methodist church of his town will beast such additional affidavit shall be void; free trade. I am not a democrat; I of the finest choir in the state. He himand any judgement rendered thereon am a free trader and single taxer self is a splendid tenor. He is also a shall be null and void; that if the first above everything else. Then I Cary, is an artist on the flute. They are answer of the garnishee disclose; that endorse the greenback idea of the

THE CALERA JOURNAL. defendant unless the plaintiff within democrat; all of which is submitted ed an office at the store of Reynolds & three days after the filing of the an- with due defference to your views, S. M. DINKINS. respectfully,

ALDRICH GLIMMERINGS

GLEANED FROM ALDRICH'S BELL TOWER,

LETTER NO. I.

It is an old saving, though musty with agle." The aphorism is most particulation democratic sheet. In fact, I shall open glimmerings, and I even succeeded so a liberal patronage of subscriptions. sleeves, take out my front teeth, and stand spuare up to you, or as the immortal, though verdant, Davie Crocket once sain, "stand up to the rack, fodder or no fcdder."

Lodge" slope, which the M. C. & T. Co. have been opening some time back, has Home cut of citit opened up a fine vein of carbonic, even a better grade than that already famous from number 1, and measuring over four

Mr. Aldrich, the brains of the compaboast, added to which his humanity and is more attractive than ever. Its When I hear men opposing "Wo-man Suffrage" and defending our tism of most men of his financial stand-lits department devoted to children in Misses Ruby Roberts and Lydia In- For One Year. I respect the Constitution of the gram, two as pehnominally grown girls as you ever see. Miss Ruby Robers, while not yet twelve years old, presents to the eye all the development, and I both papers.

In ansestatoy Robers and Dyda in For Sample copies of the Home and Farm, Louisville Ky. Send your subscription at once to The Journal, Calera, Ala., and ten cents in stamps and get to the eye all the development, and I both papers. United States because it is the su- as you ever see. Miss Ruby Robers, preme law of the land and because while not yet twelve years old, presents it contains provisions for changes may also say the symmetry of a woman and amendments. But 1 have no of 21. Her mental development has kept respect for some of its principles, pace with her physical, and her beauty even though they were adopted by of face and amiability of disposition-as our "daddies." Women have the well as that of her younger sister, a flax-They should be allowed to vote. A that state is famous for its blue-grass and garded as a slave to man. But her clever and sweet rendition of that re-him to recount in his own inimitable Bragg's Tank, Monday, January 9.

him to recount in his own inimitable Helena, Tuesday, January 10. for rheumatism, they will enjoy a treat, Highland, Thursday, January 12.

Henry King, colored teamster for the Calera, Saturday, January 14. Tyler's Monday, January 16.

To write a newspaper article without mention of Miss Lena Thompson would ther on my first or second round and not think. They still carry a rock whiskey out. In an equestrian way she is something of a character. There are will be required to pay an additional 50 few of her sex who has as tender regard cents for assessing. The tax collector for their steeds as she has for hers. She rides one that she, herself, broke to the dec7-4w prs fee$10 Tax Ass. Shelby co. men ridicule the idea of government blanket, and has never allowed a saddle ownership of railroads, and slander on his back. She feeds and grooms it argument fails them, they fall back is a fearless rider, and the agility with which she places her hands upon his back and mounts is so remarkable as to In like manner, they denounce make us fall back in a dead faint, when without knowing what it is, and ion of a smiling, rosy-cheeked deity complacently contemplating our helpless condition from the back of her favorite charger; and what a glorious heaven is opened up to our souls by the enchantcondition from the back of her favorite musical treat. If his efforts meet with the musical treat. If his efforts meet with the co-operation that their merit deserve, the methodist church of his town will boast D. R. McMillan,

Co., where they receive calls at certain hours. The old doctor is a gentleman of the old school, broad liberal minded and of fine humane feelings, Dr. Jeff, the younger, is "a chip off the old block." and a young physician of much promise. We predict for him a briliant career. He has already given promise of progress, as his contributions to the medical

This is but the beginning of a series of age it is as true as of yore, "that the letters that I shall contributa to the best laid sheemes of mice and men, aft columns of the Calera Journal-a clean larly applicable to me, as I have been to speak in the parlance of the hunter on ise of sending some Aldrich Gleanings or appreciation due such kind thought with far at one time as to get a letter to Cale- Subscribe now and aid the manager of ra, but the bearer not finding the editor the Journal in making it a veritable repersonally, surprised me by bringing it flector of all that is transpiring. With back, and I am afraid this last, and I great confidence in my friends, feeling hope successful effort, will not prove that they will appreciate my efforts to the

TRAMPITUS JUVENIA.

Two For One!

cdder."

By special arrangements with the The new slope, or, rather, "Rajah Publishers we are able to offer the

in combination with

Journal Calera

for the price of our paper alone-adding

Mr. Aldrich is one of the most thor-ough business men that this country can has recently been enlarged to six pages, makes him appear more divine than hu- list of contributors contains the names is a well spring of pleasure in every household. Renew your subscription to Aldrich is the home of greater precoci-household. Renew your subscription to THE CALERA JOURNAL and get this ty than any place twice its size. It has great agricultural and home journal free

TAX NOTICE.

I will attend at the following times and style how he used pokercot and whiskey Bold Springs, Wednesday, January 11. Pelham, Friday, January 13.

Shelby, Saturday, January 28.

All are required by law to meet me eiquent, and parties owning such propert

Notice to Nonresident.

In Chancery at Columbiana, Alabama, Sixth district, North Eastern Chance-ry Division, November 21st, 1892.

Martha E. Daniel, by her next friend L. W. Watson, complainant, vs. Hudson W. N. Daniel, defendant.

IN This Cause it is made to appear to the as, but his particular place of residence is unknown to affiant, and further, that, in the belief of said affiant, the defend-ry, 15 and it was a woman's smile that stole our heart from us and placed us in that fix.

Mr. Walter Cary, Montevallo's young and promising lawyer, is evincing considerable interest in getting up a first-class choir for his church, that will bring all people from everywhere that enjoy a musical treat. If his efforts meet with the answer of the garnishee disclose; that that demand sought to be subjected by garnishment is owing for such personal services, such garnishment shall be dismissed and the garnishee discharged without waiting for any claim of exemption to be interposed, or for the appearance of, or motion by the interposed of the greenback idea of the getteng up a string band that will give the getteng up a string band that will give deteng up a string band that will give Many a person is starving with a full

Register in Chancery. nov30 4w prs fee $7.50

Banking House Of W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co.

CALERA; ALABAMA.

Receive Deposits,

Negotiate Loans.

Issue interest bearing certificates of Deposit, and sell exchange on New York Louisville and Birmingham at regular rates cyarged by the larger cities.

We transact a general banking business, such as that of any incorporated bank in all of its legitimate branches, andwould be pleased to open accounts with nerchants, manufacturers and planters alike.

and Life Insurance

Written in the best companies.

Bought, Sold and Rented upon just terms.

SIX MILE MALE & FEMALE ACADEMY.

R. H. PRATT, Principal.

35th annual session begins September 26, 1892, and continues 40 WEEKS,

ONE WEEK FOR CHRISTMS HOLIDYS. TERMS.—Primary Department—per month..... Intermediate, including English branches and Latin, Higer branches of Mathematics, French, Greek, with the above, $3 00 Music and use of instrument, 3 00

Board-per month, $7. Washing, Starching, Ironing $1......$8 00 Students are required to furnish, for their own use, one pr. blankets, one pr. sheets and pillow cases, their own toilet lights. Payments, monthy or quarterly in advance.

This school is locate d at Six Mile, labama, in a healthy, well watered neighborhood, five miles from Ashby depot, on the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia Railroad. H PRATT, Principal, Six Mile, Alabama.

Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats Shoes, Gents & Ladies Dress Goods,

CALERA, ALA,

Have one of the Largest Stocks of Hets, Shoes, Clothing, Notions Dry Goods, and General Merchandize, Ever Brought to Shelby County,

OPPOSITE OUR DRY GOODS HOUSWe have Opened up a.....

MMOTHISTOCKX

NITURE

WILL BE IN THIS HOUSE AT ALL TIMES, WART ON YOU men who favor that measure. When herself, trusting its care to no one. She The State of Alabama, Shelby county. and price Furniture as Low as any House in Alabam

Our Campaign Goods are as neat and as Cheap as any in the State.

A. C. WADE & CO.

J. L. PETERS. HENRY WILSON, E. S. LY M

CHRISTMAS.

St. Louis, Mo.

Calera

REAL ESTATE HOUSE, SIGN AND GENAMEN-Bought and sold. Place your property for sale in our hands and we Calcemining and Paper Hanging will find you a purchaser. Address or apply to

CAMPBELL & CO., Real Estate Agents. Calera Ala

Peters, Wilson & Lyman, ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

HUGH T. CAFFEY, PHYSICIAN & SURGEON

CALERA, ALA.

WHATLEY

AND RUDDY.

TAL PAINTERS.

Done to Order. Orders sent to THE JOURN, office will be promptly a.-2-10 tendedto.

1111

GENERAL INFORMATION. RAILROAD TIME TABLE.

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE.

No. 1, South Bound, 4:14 p. m. 5:10 a. m. 10:19 " " 2, North Bound, 10:05 p. m. " 10, " " 7:15 p. m.

COUNTY OFFICERS.

Probate Judge—John S. Leeper. Circuit Clerk—W. R. A. Milner. Register in Chancery-D. 11. McMillan. Sheriff—H. W. Nelson.

Tax Collector—A. F. Smith.
Tax Assessor—John H. Hammonds.
County Trersurer—W. A. Thompson. Superintendent of Education-E.O. Dawson.

County Solicitor J. L. Peters. County Commissioners—James Mc-Gowan, Rufus Walker, Richard Griffin,

AT THE CHURCHES.

PRESENTERIAN-Services on the 4th Sundays in each month, morning and might; pastor to be supplied. Sabbath School at 9:30 a. m.

METHODIST—Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night, by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sabbath school at 9:30.

Baptist Church—Rev. J. G. Lowrey, pastor. Preaching every first and second Sunday at 11 s. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.20 am. Prayer meeting at 7.00 p. m., every Thursday.

m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday eveningsat 7:30. Children's Band meets 3:30 p. m. each 1st and 3rd Sunday. Ladies' Aid Society every other Friday eveningsat 3.

POSTAL LAWS.

Sec. 268. No mail matter shall be delivered until the postage due thereon has been paid.—(R. S., § 3900).

Sec. 297. Letters addressed to the friends of the owner of a box stopping temporarily with him may also be placed in the box, if directed to his care or to the number of the box. But letters addressed to other persons residing in the same place, and living and doing business separate and apart from a box holder, should not be placed in such

Sec. 300. No box at any post office shall be assigned to the use of any person until the reat thereof has been paid for at least one quarter in advance, for which the post master shall give a receipt—(A. S., § 3901).

Sec. 301. Postmasters must rent the hoves and drawers in the post the boxes and drawers in the post offices for ene-quarter (three months) only, the money to be paid in advance. The department will insist upon a strict temment, bespeaking for the ladies remaining unpaid for ten days from the expiration of a quarter will be declared cause the extertainment is given.

vacated.
Sec. 302. & person renting a post office box is entitled to have the letters of his family put into it. Each box must be restricted to the use of one firm, family or corporation.

Renew wour subscription.

INSURE YOUR LIFE. Read and profit by the following sound counsel, every word of which smarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel: "It is a duty you owe to yourself and tax them; where they are safe for your country office. family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old sge should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do your duty and insure immediately in some good, old reliable Company."—Extract from a sermon by the Rev. T. De-

Dr. Milos' Nerve and Liver Pills. 50 deses 25 cts. Club rates of the Montgomery Advertiser and the CALERA JOURNAL is only is $4 a year. $1.75 a year. The latter is issued every Wednesday and the Advertiser issued

Weekly Montgomery Advertiser will be yours respectfully,
Mrs. ELIZABETH DIX. furnished to one address for $2.50, or the Journal and either the Age-Herald or Advertiser for $1.75. This offer will be good for 20 days only.

Dr. Milee' New Heart Cure at Druggista.

Registers Sale.

The State of Alabama, Shelby county, In Chancery at Columbians, Alabama, Sixth district, North Eastern Chancery Division

Thomas Griffin, Sr., complainant, vs. J. M. Anderson & Co., et als, defendant. BY virtue of a decree rendered at the. Septemberterm, 1692 of the Chancery court, at Columbiana, Shelby county. Alabama, in said cause, I shall proceed to sell to the highest and best bidder. for eash, at public auction, in front of the court house in Columbiana, within le-

On Monday, 19th day of December, 1892,

The west hlf of south west qr, and south the east full of north township 21, cauge 3, west; also, the east full of northwest or and west, also, the east full of northwest or and west. east hill of northwest gr, and northwest qr of northeast qr, section 22, township 21, range 3 west, containing two hundred and forty acres, more or less, and situated in Shelby county, Alabama, and upon which the Saw Mill known as the J. M. Anderson & Co. Saw Mill is situated, to satisfy said decree.

D. R. McMILLAN, kegister in Chancery.

LOCAL ITEMS.

See chancery notice in this issue.

Subscription only $1 a year. St. Vitus' Dance cared by Dr. Miles' Nervine. In another place will be found a chancery sale.

The Journal and The Home and Farm for $1.10.

in the city to-day.

The JOURNAL received by mail yesterday morning a beautiful little note, and found it to read thus: Mr. and Mrs. James L. Davidson request your presence at marriage of their daughter Margaret Powell to Charlton G. Smith on December 20, 1892, Presbyterian church, Centreville, 11 o'clock.

The bride in this union is one of Bibb county's fairest women, and the groom is one of the best boys-we speak as we know him-it has ever been our good fortune to know. The very best wishes of the writer goes with the happy couple.

F. B, Baldwin got through with the grand jury work in Bibb last Friday, convenes the good people will have and run down home Saturday to at- theirs. tend some matters that could not be arranged by proxy, returning Sunday to be ready for criminal week.

It pains us to learn that our longtime friend, S. R. Sheppard of Brier-Cumberland Preserverian—J. J. Dalton, pestor. Preaching every first field is in very low state of health. He be a s and third Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. is reported as suffering from effects of year. field is in very low state of health. He be a success and pass off peacably this

Maj. Peter, president of the Brierfield Steel and Iron company, was registered at the Vanderbilt Sunday.

Judge Box was in Calera Tuesday, registered at the Vanderbilt.

SUPPER AND MUSICAL ENTER-TAINMENT.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist church of this place, will give a supper, on the night of the 22nd inst., M. E. Church at this place, presched for the benefit of their church house Sunday and Sunday night to interested repairing and carpeting the same, audiences. He and hisaimiable wife are The veritable "Pessum, with Taters" likely to make many warm friends. and all the desirable condiments, will be served in an artistic style, and the entertainment will be interspersed overseer in Kansas. In the women of the south who favor female suffrage were forced to turn out with a lot of white toughs and ragged negroes to do road duty, we think their ardor for ballot privilege would be dampened.

See inducements for subscription to the Journal and other good papers.

To the young man who will send us a club of five new subscribers and $5 State of Alabama we will give a years' subscription to the Scientific American, the best paper for mechanics and artisans in the union, the subscription price of which twice a week. Now is the time to subscribe as the double issue of the Advertiser will contain all the legislative news and the Journal will give the latest local news.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES

Optum Habit cared by Dr. Miles Regular.

Optum Habit cared by Dr. Miles Regular. it a medicine that should be used by For the the next twenty days the Cabut try it as I have, they would never again be without it at such times. I am Anymerchant or druggist can procure Risley's Philotoken for $1 a bott le. CHARLES F. RISLEY. Wholesale Druggist, 62 Cortlandt St., New York.

REGISTER'S SALE.

Morgan & Lapsley,

Morgan & Lapsley, and by virA. M. Elliott, Tractice, et al., tue of a decree rendered at the Spring term, 1892, of the Chancery Court of Shell y county.

Alabama, in the above entitled cause, I will proceed to tall under above entitled. Alabama, in the above entated cause, I will proceed to sell, under the power contained in a Mortgage from H. M. Pierce, et al, to A. M. Elliott, truster, st public outcry, in front of the Court House door in the town of Columbiana, Alabama, on Monday, the 17th day of October, 1892.

between the legal hours of sale, for each, the following described read estate, situated near Calera in Sheiby county, Ala, to wit: Fractions A. H. J. M. and the S. M. of E and F of section 22, township 22, range 2, west; and the east half of north

D. R. McMILLAN,
Register and Acting Trustee. 12aug-10w prs fee$16.50 Above sale continued to Monday

December 5, 1892. D. R. McMILLAN, Register. oct22 7w prs fee$10 50

The above sale is postpoaed till Monday. 2nd day of January. 1893. D. R. McMILLAN, dec7-4wprs fee$7.50 Register Register.

WOMAN'S COLUMN.

[The Woman's Column is under the supervision of Mrs. F. W. Gist, and all communications for this department should be addressed to her at West Calera, Alabama.]

Miss Mary Allen West, Associate Edit or of the Union Signal, died at Kanaza wa, Japan, Thursday, Dec. 1, aged fifty-Charton Smith, of Brierfield, was five years. Miss West was making a tour in Japan in the interest of the W. C. T. U., and was doing an immense and an effective work. Her death is a great loss, and is deeply deplored among the host of temperance workers.

> Mrs. Martha D. Strickland has been admitted to the bar in Tennessee. The same lady is now teaching several classes in parliamentary law among the laidies of Memphis.

> The "Blind Tigers" in a "booming' business, from the accounts we have of drunken men disturbing citizens in their homes, at all hours of the night. We have heard of such a saying as, every dog has his day. The blind tigers are having theirs now, may be when court

> Is any of the churches going to have Christmas trees for the little folks? As pretty well all the people connected with the churches have gotten "sure enough" religion, we hope Christmas trees will > Miss Sallie Booker's marriage to Mr. Cecil Browne, which important event took'place at Uniontown last week, was a very brilliant affair. The lovely bride, and most of the attendants were well known to us at Shelby Springs, and we have many pleasant recollections of them. Our best wishes go with Mr. and Mrs. Browne.

> Rev. C. L. Dobbs, new pastor of the

MORTGAGE SALE.

with music and recitations. A social, yet, moral treat, is expected, ushering the Christmas festivities. This notice is given to call attention to the entertexament, bespeaking for the ladies a liberal patronage for the worthy cause the extertainment is given. Full particulars with program next 18812.

A woman has been elected road

Not ce is hereby given that under and by virtue of the powers of sale contained in two certain mortgages executed to the undersigned, W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co., on the 8th day of February, 1892 and the 2nd day of May, 1892, rec pectively, by R. L. O'Brien and M. A. O'Brien and recorded in Volume 29, page 251 and Volume 30, and page 575 of Record of Mortgages in the office of the Judge of Probate of Shelby county. Alabama, we will proceed to sell in front of the Barking House of W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co., in the town of Calera in said Shelby county Not ce is hereby given that under and

On the 1st day of October, 1892.

to the highest bidder fo reash the followirg described real ests te, to-wit: Southwest qr of south vest qr, the north east qr of southwest qr, the northwest qr of southwest qr, sect ion 12, also right of way, thirty fer t wice, from north to south and about micleay through the amily to protect them with a reasonable amount of life insurance, where the storms of the financial world cannot a moral, sober and good practical, and also west life of so uthwest or of section 13 and also west life of so uthwest or of section 13; also timber right to thirty acres touch them; where the assessor cannot printer, desires a steady situation in a of land in southwest or of southeast or, section 12, and eight acres of land lying west of and adjacent to the Louisville Nashville rai troad, in section 12, known as the William Richards tract, all of said land lying and being in Township 21 of range 3, west, county of Shelby and

W. J. BRINK ERHOFF & CC., Mortgagee, sept 15t' 1'92 W. R. CLIVER. Attorney.

The foregoing mortgage sales having the restrained and postponed by an injunction granted by the Hou. J. J. Bank s, judge of the 10th judicial circuit, of the State of Alabama, and the said injunction having been dissolved by Chance llor S. K. Lie Spadden, chancellor of the Northeast an chancery division of said state, on the 2nd day of December, 1892, We will proceed with said sales in accordance with the foregoing notice, on the 29th ay of December 1892, at the place the ein mentioned. W. E. BRINT ERHOYF & Co.,

Mortgagee. W. R. Oliver, attern ey. decI 1 2w prs fee$7.5 0

Ayer's

May always be relied ; upon as a certain cure for liver troubles. headache, biliousness, dy and rheumatism. Unlike Ayer's Pills strengthen ti and bowels, and restore their normal and regular a season, they check the m fevers, and malaria. Being and sugar-coated, Ayer's F1

The Favo prite velers, both by e indispensable.

(amily medicine, while tra-sea and land, find them to b "We sell more of Ayer's:) other kinds put together, and fect satisfaction."—Christen Druggists, Baldwin, Wis. "I have used Ayer's: Pill thirty years, and consider ther Family Med I know of no better remedy for and dyspepsia."—James Quint ·liver troubles , Hartford, Ct. and dyspepsia."—James Quinr Capt. Chas. Mueller, of t

"Felicia," says: "For several relied more upon Ayer's Pills, else in the medicine chest, is bowels, and those of the ship's Pills are not severe in their a their work thoroughly. I hav and with good effect, for the c matism, kidney truphles, and d he steamship years I have han anything matism, kidney troubles, and 4;

Ayer's P Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., La Every Dose Effect

regulate my crew. These ction, but do e used them, ure of rheu-yspepsia."

constipation, sick spepsia, jaundice, most cathartics.

ie stomach, liver,

to these organs

action. Taken in cogress of colds, purely vegetable

Pills than of all

i they give per-

s for the past

licine

lls are well, Mass. tive.

JAMES R. WAITE,

Manager of Waite's Celebrated Comedy Co. Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind. FOR ME. I tried all kinds of medicines, and scores of eminent physicians. My nerves were prostrated, producing dizziness, heart trouble and all the ills that make life miserable. I commenced to take DR. MILES' NERVINE and in three months; was perfectly cured.
In my travels each year, when I see the thousands of physical wrecks, suffering from nervous prostration, taking prescriptions from local physicians who have no knowicke of their case, and whose death is certain, I feel like going to them and saying,

"GET DA LILES NERVINE AND BI CURED." In my profession, are so many su overwork men overwork,men tal prostra-tion and nervous exhaustion, brought on by the character of the business engaged in, I would recommend "MILES THOUSANDS NERVINE"
S a sure cure for all suffering from these causea
JAMES R. WAITE

CATARRH

tent malady. It is a blood disease, usually of Scrofulous origin, and for which local treatment is useless. Before health is possible, the poison must be eradicated from the system, and to do this the disease must be treated through the blood. For this purpose no remedy is so effective as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

SUCCESSFULLY

effective as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"For the past eight years. I have been severely afflicted with Catarrh, none of the many remedies I tried affording me any relief. My digestion was considerably impaired, and my sleep disturbed by phlegm dropping into my throat. In September last I resolved to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to use it at once, and am glad to destify to a great improvement in my health." testify to a great improvement in my health."
-- Frank Teson, Jr., engineer, 271 West
Fourth street, New York City.

"My daughter, 16 years old, was afflicted with Catarrh from her fifth year. Last Au-

TREATED WITH

Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and after three months of this treatment she was completely cured. It was a most extraordinary case, as any druggist here can testify."—Mrs. D. W. Barnes, Valparaiso, Neb.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $--Cures others, will cure you

If you want anything in the way of House Furnishing goods, Carpets, Matting, Furniture and Stoves, it will pay you to see T. A. Waller, traveling salesman for G. A. Stowers & Co., General Dealers, Birmingham, Mad. he sells cheap for cash or on instal-ment plan. Mr. Waller is in Calera every week.

IS A POSIIVE CURE FOR

RHEUMATISM In All it's forms Chronic or Acute, Muscular or Articulate.

All Diseases arising from an Impure state of BLOOD YIELD at once to 1T'S MAGICINFLUENCE, READ!

READ!

READ!

M: D. Warlick, Limewood, Pike county, Ila., writes: "I am satisfied I owe my life to V. V. V. f it had not been for that remedy I would have been ruined for life, while now, thank God, I am again as sound as a dollar. I suffered from one of the worst cases of blood poison, and used some 20 bottles in all, but now feel as if I had new lease on life. send you this unsolicited, and you can publish if you want to, bqlieving I owe my life to your medicine.

₩PRICE $1 PER BOTTLE, 6 FOR $5.9

NBORS, MORROW & SINIGE, Sole Proprietors Birmingham, Ala.

For Sale By All First Class Dealers.

Birmingham Business College AND SCHOOL OF SHORTHAND AND TYPEWRITING Birmingham, Ala.,

The largest and best equipped Southern Business Training Schoo where all the Combined Talent in the World are employed.

The only Business College in the State Endorsed and Patronized by business men. Send For Circular. Address All Letters To AIVIOS WARD, Fres.

-GO.TO-Mrs. S. H McCauley'

NEAR THE DEPOT

MILLINERY-- COODS.

A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hats in the Lates Styes, and at Reasonable Prices.

WORDS ABOUT THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION.

Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers, 12 Pages.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT.

1. It is the best of all weekly news- "Aunt Susie," the editress of these dethe farmer's family, bringing each week 6. Bill Arp, Plunkett, and Uncle Recheer to the fireside and happiness to mus and a host of other special writers ough news service from every important interests of the south.

Oct 8-3m

is worth many times its subscription any other four of the weekly rewspapers price to every farmer. This department of the south, and much more than any is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, whose service is retained by the Constitution at great expense.

1. Its Agricultural Department alone features and for its news service than any other four of the weekly rewspapers of the south, and much more than any is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading of the south, and much more than any other four of the weekly rewspapers of the south, and much more than any other four of the weekly rewspapers any other four of the weekly rewspapers and for its news service than any other four of the weekly rewspapers of the south, and much more than any is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, and much more than any other four of the weekly rewspapers of the south, and much more than any is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, and much more than any is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, and much more than any other four of the south, and much more than any is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, and much more than any other four of the south, and much more than any other four of the south, and much more than any other four of the south, and much more than any other four of the south, and much more than any other four of the south, and much more than any other four of the south, and much more than any other four of the south, and much more than any other four of the south, and much more than any other four of the south, and much more than any other four of the south, and much more than any other four of the south, and much more than any other four of the south, and much more than any other four of the south, and much more than any other four of the south, and much more than any other four of the south, and the south more than any other f papers.

2. It is invaluable to the tarmer and throughout the south.

ousehold.

are engaged by the year, and then inimIt covers the news of the whole itable sketches appear each week.

world, having its correspondents scat- 7. It is the People's Friend, and is tered over the globe, and having a thortthe sturdy champion of the agricultor 1

news center in the world.

S. It pays more money for its special

4. Its Agricultural Department alone features and for its news service than

5. Its Woman's and Childeren's De- ery time a hen lays an egg she pays for partments are a source of infinite pleas- one issue of the greatest weekly newspite ure to every family, and the name of pers in the world.

Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of your neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulated home should be without it Agents Wanted in every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information.

THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

Marion MILITARY Institute

MARION, ALA

Superior Accommodationrs and Board. Superintendent, his family and faculty live in building with students. Classic and Scientific. Superior Commercal Course. TERMS MODE RATE. Send for Catulogue.

COL. J. T. MURFEE, Superintendent,

Marion, Alabama.

Send us your Job Work, and get satisfaction.

A PETRIFIED HUMAN BODY.

It Was Recently Found by Prospectors in the Hills of South Dakota. One of the most wonderful discovcries ever recorded in the hills was made recently by some parties about ten miles north of Hot Springs, S. D., near Wind City, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. They were prospecting in the hills, and in coming down into a ravine saw what appeared to be a fossil of some kind, similar to those found down in the Bad lands, east of there. They proceeded to unearth it, and to their great astonishment found it to be the petrification of a man. The specimen is that of a man from 25 to 30 years of age, well-formed and fully developed physically. In height it is 6 feet 1½ inches, and belongs to the dolicephals or round-headed race of human beings

The foot, the left one, the right foot being missing, must have worn a boot, as the big toe is very much compressed inward and the toe nails pressed flat on the top, the contrary to those wearing no boots. The left arm is brought down the side with the hand resting on the abdomen. The right arm has disappeared about three inches from the shoulder, and it certainly appears to have been lost prior to the interment, for while the left hand is securely cemented to the body from the waist to the finger ends, there is not the slightest trace of the right hand in any way having touched the trunk. Now with the right foot it is the reverse, for the heels have touched each other, and with the disintegration of time the right heel has carried with it a portion of the left on the extreme end. The calves of the legs are securely cemented together. The lips and eyes are closed.

On the left arm, extending four inches above and three below, is what appears to be a huge scar, probably caused by an ax or cutlass, and under the left ear is a small incision one and one-half inches long, which looks as if caused by a knife or dagger. The skin is perfect in minute lines, and, except a few pock marks, probably caused by insects, is absolutely perfect. It appears that the specimen is one of the Anglo-Saxon race, as all the characteristics of an Indian are wanting. There can be no doubt but it is one of the most perfect petrifications ever discovered.

That Was Good Enough.

The boy was sitting lazily in the stern of the boat, dangling his feet in the water, when a man from the dock called sharply to him: "What are you doing there?" he

"Nothin'," responded the boy.

"Do you get any pay for it?"
"Nope." And he drew one foot out of the water, ready to run if need

"Why don't you go to work?" "Will you give me a job?"
"Yes."

"Steady."

"Yes."

"Pay anything?"
"Well, no," hesitated the man, "not the first week." "How about the second?"

"Then I will."

"All right; I'll come around the second week. This is good enough fer me now." And the boy stuck the foot back in the water and winked at the man on the dock. - Detroit Free Press.

Duration of Lives. The average duration of lives in the United States is 41.8 years for storekeepers, 43.6 years for teamsters, 44.6 years for seamen, 47.3 years for mechanics, 48.4 years for merchants, 52.6 years for lawyers, and 64.2 years

Mrs. Annie W. Jordan

Tremont St., Boston, was in very por from bad circulation of the blood, has h of blood to the head, numb spells an

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

TALMAGE AT HIS HOME.

THE GREAT PREACHER TALKS WITH A CORRESPONDENT.

His Residence a Religious Museum-He Gives His Ideas of Money-Making and Preaching-The World Growing Better All the Time.

The Brooklyn Divine. New York correspondence:
The pastor of the biggest church in the United States! A preacher whose sermons are read

DE WITT TALMAGE. [From a late photograph.]

every week in fifteen million families! An author whose books sell by the hundreds of thousands!
A lecturer who is now offered $150,000 for a series of talks!

for a series of talks!

An intellectual worker, the gray matter of whose brain can produce from $500 to $1,000 a day the year round!

This is the Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, who stands before the people of the United States in as many different lights as there are variations of the human mind. To many he is sincere, godly and genuine. To others he appears false, sacrilegious and a humbing. pears false, sacrilegious and a humbug. If the former he is a most wonderful apostle; if the latter, he is certainly a most successful humbug, and in either case he is by far the most interesting character in the American pulpit to-day. called upon him at his home in Brooklyn the other day, and had three hours of most interesting conversation with him. I went with him over his great tabernacle, and chatted with him upon

Dr. Talmage's Home.

Dr. Talmage lives in a big, four-story brown-stone house, on the corner of South Oxford and Calvert streets, Brooklyn. It is in a good neighborhood, and the house is perhaps the finest in the block. Passing up broad brown-stone steps, you enter a wide hall, the floor of which is porcelain-tiled in blue and yellow. A black walnut staircase leads from the right of this hall to the second story, and at the left, just opposite this, is the entrance to the parlor. This parlor is about twenty-five feet long, and there is another smaller parlor separated from it by folding deeps at the heat ed from it by folding doors, at the back. It contains as many curiosities as a museum. Beautiful pictures hang upon the walls, and an old master in olls, representing "Christ Casting Out Devils," hangs just at the left of the entrance. The floors are covered with Turkish and Persian rugs, which Dr. Talmage picked up at Damascus at the time he made the tour through the Holy

DR. TALMAGE'S HOME,

Land, and there are swords from Cairo, Land, and there are swords from Cairo, tables from Constantinople, rare busts from Italy, and articles of virtu and curios from all parts of the world. On one wall there is a banner of silk which a Chinese missionary sent to Dr. Talmage, and on a stand below it is a piece of elegant old lacquer from Japan. There are baskets from Alaska, pieces of stone from the Acropolis, sand from of stone from the Acropolis, sand from the base of the Pyramids, a chunk of stone from Baalbec, and pretty things from everywhere. The rest of the house corresponds to the parlor, and every article in it seems to have a history.

His Workshop. It is in this parlor that Dr. Talmage receives his visitors. He is besieged with callers, and though he receives alwith callers, and though he receives almost every one, he has to guard his privacy. His workshop is at the top of the house. It is a big room, furnished in the plainest manner and packed full of books. There are books on the tables, in the cases and on the floor. Magazines are scattered here and there, and the tables which take up different parts of the room are littered with many. of the room are littered with manuscripts, newspaper clippings and papers. Not a half dozen men get into this den during the year. Dr. Talmage restricts its occupants to himself and his private secretary. The servents are not permitted to clean it, and at long intervals only is Mrs. Talmage allowed in with her dust brush. There are no fancy books in this library, and the newest copies are torn and mutilated. In using a quotation Dr. Talmage tears out the paragraphs to which he refers and pastes there into his manuscripts to save the them into his manuscripts to save the time of copying them. He does the greater part of his work by dictation. He dictates readily, and some of his best writings are taken down by an amanuensis at the rate of 150 words per body, and Peter Cooper would have mage received me, and I noted that the shoulders have a slight stoop, but they are well padded with muscular flesh. and his arms look as though they could wield an ax as well as Gladstone's. He was dressed in plain business clothes, and I noted, as an hour or so later we walked toward the Tabernacle, that the hat that he wore was a Derby, and its number, I judge, was about eight and a half. Dr. Talmage converses as well as he preaches. His talk with me was full of bright sayings. It was perfectly unconventional and simple. It covered a great variety of subjects.

Money Making and the Pulpit. "Dr. Talmage," said I, "you've been called a money-making preacher. Do you think the making of money is incompatible with your profession?"

"If the making of money were the which and of the profession I would

"If the making of money were the chief end of the profession, I would say 'yes," replied Dr. Talmage. "And if it were not entirely subordinate and apart from it, I would also say yes. But when the making of money comes entirely from work that does not conflict with the duties of the pulpit, and that, in fact, aids in the work of the profession, I would say no. During my whole life I have made my preaching and my church the supreme end of my and my church the supreme end of my work. I have never made a dollar at the expense of my congregational labors, and I have never tried to make money for money's sake. The opportunities and the work have been forced upon me. I have accepted them, because, in doing so, I believe that I am, at the same time, able to do good. I refuse hundreds of offers for literary work and lectures, because I have not the time to give to them, and if, as is often so, my prices for such things are called high, they are forced upon no one, and they are fixed in general, not by me, but by bureaus and agents through whom such business is done for me. If I would, I could, I believe, have such engagements as would net me $1,000 a day the year through, and I have now lying on my study table an offer of $150,000 for a series of lectures. I never lecture for less ries of lectures. I never lecture for less than $500 or $1,000 a night, and the lat-

THE NEW TABERNACLE. a subject of comment by some of the newspapers, who said that my action was a mercenary one. Why, I cannot see. I did not ask Chicago to call me to lecture, and the receipts of the lecture, which was held in the Auditorium, were, I understand, $3,000 in excess of the amount paid me. I get numbers of requests from small places offering me $500 a night to lecture. As it is, I can't accept many of these engagements, though I try to make one or two trips a year." a subject of comment by some of the

"How do you do such an amount of work, Doctor? Please tell me something of your weekly labors."

"My weeks vary so that I can hardly do that," was the reply. "I am engaged nearly every day to speak, lecture or preach somewhere. I'm editor of the Christian Herald, and write three columns a week for it. I write an article umns a week for it. I write an article a week for the Observer, and every month I prepare an article for the Ladies' Home Journal, entitled 'Under My Study Lamp.' Then I have my Friday night talks, my regular sermon, my calls, and my mail, which comes from all parts of the world."

"How do you get your rest?"
"I save time in every way possible. use stenographers in my work, and dictate readily and rapidly. I find my chief rest in a change of work, and the versation at a dinner party, for instance, gives me new life and vigor."

The World Growing Better. "Dr. Talmage," said I, "don't you think the world grows worse as it grows

"No," replied the preacher, "I do not. I think the world is growing better, instead of growing worse, and I am in all things rather an optimist than a pessimist. I often hear the mechanical inventions, the reapers, the mowers, the electric wires, the steam engine, etc., spoken of as the great wonders of modern times. The greatest marvel to me of modern times is the true Christian spirit which grows more and more from day to day. Our greatest wonders are our good men and good women. In the ages of the past there was one great philanthropist in half a dozen centuries, and for the next ten or twenty generations he was the wonder of history. The people placed a halo around his

TALMAGE IN HIS DEN.

insule.

It was into the parlors that Dr. Talage received me, and I noted that the wonder of modern times. His institu-he weighs about 170 pounds. His broad has never been such a generation. Take our women. A few years ago soft flesh, a slender waist, a polite languor, a do-nothing-air were the elements of the so-called beautiful woman. Now our girls pride themselves on being strong. The roses of health bloom in their cheeks. They stand firm upon their feet and swing their arms from the shoulder. They have strong frames and healthy, well-trained minds. They are the apostles of physical culture, and every town has its woman's gymnasium. It is the same with our young men. are developing a stronger race, and a better race. This is mentally and physically. The old saying that there is no royal road to learning is a thing of the past. Our children have such a road, and it is an asphalt pavement compared with the rough corduroy of my childhood.

THE DRAWING-ROOM

Free Thought and Christianity.

"How about religion and free thought, Doctor?" said I. "The churches seem to be growing more liberal every year. Infidelity is growing in all religions the world over, and the tendancy seems to be the breaking down of all faith."

'You are right in saying that the churches are becoming more liberal," replied Dr. Talmage. "We are getting ries of lectures. I never lecture for less than $500 or $1,000 a night, and the latter is my regular price for the larger cities. When I charged $1,000 for going to Chicago to lecture, the fact was made

The control of the larger closer and closer together every year, and religion is becoming more and more a religion of sympathy and kindness. We have thousands of real Christians now wno hardly know they are Christians. They cannot be called intellectual Christian, and the purely intellectual Christian, and the purely intellectual Christian of reason rather than faith—is of little account in the world anyhow. He is an iceberg, and he is of good neither to himself nor to any one else. You speak of the growing infidelity among the believers of other religions the world over. lievers of other religions the world over. The tendency of man when he gives up the God of his fathers is for a time to believe in no God whatever, and it is only after a time that he comes around to study and believe in another religion. I believe that any religion is better than no religion, and I believe that the Christian religion is destined to conquer the world. People are surprised that the church does not advance more rapidly. They forget that the world has just been discovered. Our hemisphere but a few hundreds of years old Columbus only discovered its shell Asia and Africa have been practically unknown to us until now, and they are still to a great extent undiscovered. It is the same with the world in other respects as in its geographical ones. We are just beginning to know it and its possibilities. Modern inventions are coming in to help us, and we are now ready for the first time to begin work in earnest.

"Dr. Talmage, you have been accused of being a sensational preacher. Do of being a sensational preacher. Do you believe in sensational preaching?"

TALMAGE'S BEDROOM

"If you call sensational preaching," replied the divine, "the striving after striking effects, merely to astonish the people or to create a stir, it is wfong. But if sensational preaching is the sensation arising from the presentation of truth, it is right. Truth is always surprising, and rightly preached, it ought not to fail to create a sensation. The opponents of such preaching are often men who are as heavy in their remarks men who are as heavy in their remarks as a load of bricks. They are too lazy or too dull to rise out of the commonplace, and they often vegetate or die of the dry rot. You ask as to pulpitoratory to-day. I believe that our preachers are improving in power as the world goes on. Our seminaries turn out better men every year, and they will this year furnish the best crop of young men in their lists.

The Brooklyn Tabernacle.

Leaving the house we then walked around the block to the Brooklyn Tabernacle. It is the biggest church in the United States, and is one of the finest churches in the world. Its tower of red brick and stone rises 160 feet from the brick and stone rises 160 feet from the ground, and its four corners have colums which remind you of the beauties of the Kutab Minar. It; entrances are of stone, richly carved, and it covers more than half an acre of ground. Standing in the galleries, the scene below makes you think of the Coliseum at Rome, and the great organ which stands opposite you is one the largest ever opposite you is one the largest ever made. It has four banks of keys, 100 stops and appliances, and its pipes number 4,500. Dr. Talmage stands on a platform, wifh no desk nor pulpit in front of him, and he addresses here an audience of 7,000 souls.

Electric Speed.

Experiments were recently made at McGill College, Montreal, to discover the length of time required for a telegraphic signal to pass from that point to Greenwich by the Atlantic cable. Two hundred signals were Shortens Labor,
Lessens Pain,
Endorsed by the Leading Physicians.
Book to "Mothers" mailed FREE.
SPRADFIELD RECULATOR CO
ATLANTA, GA.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Shortens Labor,
Lessens Pain,

mage refered me, and I noted that the step with which he entered was firm and is stitution. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in stitutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in stitutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in stitutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in stitutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in stitutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in stitutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in stitutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in stitutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in stitutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in stitutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in stitutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in stitutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in stitutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in stitutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in stitutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in stitutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in stitutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in stitutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in the store with the average in all of 8,000 miles, was example have springy. He will be 60 years old in has mothered a thousand other institutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in has mothered a thousand other institutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in has mothered a thousand other institutions. From his example have springy. He will be 60 years old in has mothered a thousand other institut

Australian | Sorter Among the natives of Finke River, Australia, if one falls sick or dies they at once conclude he must have been bewitched or bitten, for hurt by the devil. At the same time they can be witch others, the o'ld ones and the medicine men fostering that belief. For this purpose they employ a variety of agencies as charms, including implements of wood and bone, which are thrown by the sorcerers in the direction of their enemy to make him sick or kill him, trafts of feathers of the emuland casse to give the wearers strength to kill their enemies, and a little implement, about six inches long, of bone or wood, worn through the sentum of the mose, by means of which they also think they can hurt others.

Drunkenness a Physical Disease.

That inebriety is a disease of a physical nature is capable of demonstration, and is generally recognized. There is now no question or doubt of its being hereditary, and no one doubts that it is acquired by social customs. That it is also a disease of the moral nature, engendered by allowing the intellectual faculties to remain inactive, by not exercising the power of conscience and will, by permitting the power of appetite and passions to dominate over conscience, by the lack of a positive character, by defective moral education, and by the want of self-culture, is equally as certain and can be as clearly proved. -Doctor Day.

In Olden Elwies

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action, but flow that it is gen erally know that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well informed people will not tay other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the

The estate of the Post Whittier foots up $122,000, with respectable profits still coming in on copyrights.

A series of 13 articles by resuccessful men in as many pursuits is one of the many strong groups of articles which are an equaced in The Youth's Commanan for 1893. "The Bravest Deed I Ever Saw" is the topic of an puher series by United States Generals. The profipectus for the coming year of The Componion is more varied and generous than ever. Those who subscribe at once will receive the paper, free to Jan. 1, 1893, and for a full year from the total Conly $1.75 a year. Address The Youth's Companion, Mass

STATE OF ORIO, CETY OF TOLEDO, SELUCAS COUNTY.

Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing busine is in the City of Teledo. County and State it oresaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of $100 for each and every case of catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catar th Cure.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D., 4886.

SEAL

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Sent for restimonials, free.

F. J. Chener & Co., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

The Only One Ever Printed. CAN YOU' (FIND THE WORD?

CAN YOU'IFIND THE WORD?

These is a 3 inch, display advertisement in this paper, this week, which has no two words alike except one word. The same is true of each new one appearing each week, from The Dr. Harter Medici to Co. This house places a "Crescent" on everything they make and publish. Look for it, shad them the name of the word and they will return you hook, beautiful Lithographs (v samples free.

BEECHAM'S PILLS cure bilious and nervous lness. Beecham's Pills sell well because they cure. 25 cents box.

If afflicted with sore eyes use Dr. IsaacThompson's Eye-water, Druggists seil at 25c a bottle

It is better to take Scott's Emulsion of/ cod-liver oil when that decline in health begins—the | decline which precedes comsumption rather than wait for the germ to begin to grow in our lungs.

"Prevention is better than cure;" and surer. The saying never was truer than

What is it to prevent consumption?

Let us send you a book on CAREFUL LIVING; free.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 132 South 5th Avenue, New York. Your druggist keeps Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil—all druggists everywhere do. $1.

- How is -

I had a malignant breaking out on my leg below the knee, and was cured sound and well with two and a half bottles of Other blood medicines had failed to do me any good. WILL C. BEATY, Morphine Habit Cured in 10 10 days. No pay till cured.

No 48 1892

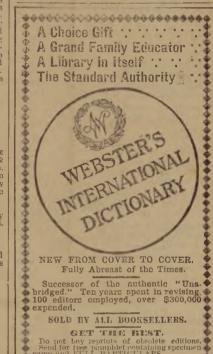

"August, Flower"

"For two years I suffered terribly with stomach trouble, and was for all that time under treatment by a physician. He finally, after trying everything, said my stomach was worn out, and that I would have to cease eating solid food. On the recommendation of a friend I procured a bottle of August Flower. Itseemed to do me good at once. I gained strength and flesh rapidly. I feel now like a new man, and consider that August Flower has cured me.' Jas. E. Dederick, Saugerties, N.Y.®

Guaranteed to cure Bilious Attacks, Sick-Headache and Constipation. 40 in each bottle. Price 25c. For sale by druggists. Picture "7, 17, 70" and sample dose free.

J. F. SMITH & CO., Proprietors, NEW YORK.

A WOMAN HAS

G. & C. MERRIAM CO., Publishers, Springfield, Mass., U. S. A.

SICK HEADACHE DAY AFTER DAY

there has been no instance reported where such cases have not been permanently and

PROMPTLY CURED

the use of a single box of the genuine and justly celebrated

DR. C. McLANE'S

which may be procured at any Drug Store, or will be mailed to any address on the receipt of 25 cents in postage stamps.

Purchasers of these Pills should be careful to procure the genuine article. There are several counterfeits on the market, well calculated to deceive. The genuine Dr. C. McLane's Celebrated Liver Pills are manufactured only by FLEMING BROTHERS CO., Fittsburgh, Pa.

DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo. SEEDS! SEEDS!

Thirty-four full size papers of NEW CROP GARDEN SEEDS, and four half pint cartons of PNAS AND BEANS mailed postpaid for $1.00; smaller assortment, 50c. Send for illustrated Catalogue. MANN & CO., Cape Vincent, N. Y.

THE CALERA JOURNAL

VOL. II.

CALERA, ALA., WEDNESDAY. DECEMBER 21, 1892.

Crossing the Bar.

Sunset and evening star, \"d one clear call for me! An I may there be no moaning of the bar, When I put out to sea.

But such a tide as moving seems asleep, Too full for sound and foam, When that which drew from out the bound-less deep, furus again home.

Twilight and evening bell, And after that the dark! and may there be no sadness of farewell

When I embark; For the' from out our bourne of Time and

The flood may bear me far, I hope to see my Pilot face to face When I have crost the bar. -[Lord Tennyson.

A WAR STORY,

TOLD BY AN EX-CONFEDERATE.

It was about 10 o'clock at night and the Federals under Gen. Hunter were lying in front of Lynchburg. Why they did not enter we did not know and never learned, but they must have overestimated the thin line of Confedcrate defenders, as they hesitated to advance. Be that as it may, they could easily have walked over us that night, for we had but a few hundred hungry, tired and worn-out Confederates to bar their advance. Conditions changed, however, before morning. About 10 o'clock that night I was on picket, posted behind a hillock, from which I could see the Yankee picket about 200 yards away. Just behind me there was a thicket of underbrush or low bushes, following the low ravine along the foot of the hill.

I had kept a suspicious eve on that long scattering line of underbrush for over an hour, for I knew that it led around the little hill and out in front of the Federals, and thought how easily the Yankees could creep up and around in our rear if they only knew of it. About ten o'clock I heard some one making his way through the brush, coming in my direction. Whoever he was he did not try to conceal his advance, but came along stumbling and crashing through the I rush, muttering and grumbling as though he was considerably out of humor over something.

The nature of his advance relieved ane of any alarm I might otherwise ave felt, but as I knew that no one had any business tramping and crashing about in the brush and making noise enough to attract the attention of the enemy, I fell back a few paces and waited until the fellow struck the little opening fifteen or twenty feet away. Instead of a drunken Confederate, which I more than half expected to see, a blue-coated Yankee kicked his way through the last brush and came to a halt as if he had been shot at the command, "Halt! Throw down that gun!"

"Well, I'll be blessed if you ain't a robel!"

"Yes, and you are a Yankee. Step out and hold up your hands." He until I came back. had dropped his gun, and when I saw that he had no other arms I told him to sit down on the grass. The fellow's surprise and astonishment was too clearly apparent for a mistake, but I concluded to question him, and and gray slouch hat of a Confederate asked: "How did you get in here and what were you after?"

"After! what do you 'spose a fellow'd be after who hasn't had anything to eat for two days?"

"You didn't expect to get a lunch down on Red Row over there, in Lynchburg, did you?"

"Not by a big sight; I didn't know I was outside of our lines, but then I must have been so hungry that I didn't notice, and I expect our pickets are too blamed hungry to keep a sharp lookout, and so they didn't see me. Don't see how I got in here. Say! sure you're a reb?"

I told him there was no doubt on that score, anyhow, and that our fellows had not been in danger of fouudering from a superabundance of good things, or very ordinary, common, every-day sort of food either for chunk of cornbread in my haversack,

I would divide. "Sit where you are and help yourself," said I, as I pitched the grub good today to shut my eyes and see I stood and looked down on him as he seized me by both shoulders with a Angeles (Car.) Herald.

into his mouth, then turned up his the eyes a moment, as if in doubt, and with water and wound up by gulping | ran down his cheeks. "God bless you, | down the mass as quickly as muscles Johnny. I have always hoped, but and ravenous energy could perform never expected to see you again. Get that function. I kept on looking and your things and come along," and, the Yankee kept on eating until the actually, before I could recover my and mine, too. "Well, I'll be meaning of the strange scene, I was hanged-" I was beginning in conster- seated on a horse in the midst of the nation (and I was about to finish by crowd and on my way somewhere beswearing a little, I'm afraid, as I think | fore I found out that the gentleman over it at this late day), when my who had met me so affectionately was prisoner seemed also suddenly struck with the knowledge of having imposed upon my hospitality, for as soon as he said, "Blame my buttons, Johnny, if but I was so hungry I didn't know-'

The I we looked at each other and the whole affair struck us so ludicrous that we both burst into a hearty laugh-I sat down and laughed until the tears ran down my cheeks, and that Yankee rolled over and laughed and made such a racket that I was afraid some of the pickets in front of us would open fire, but they didn't.

While we were still laughing the relief came, and the officer iu command said to me:

"Where did you get that fellow?"

The fellow's good nature and his enjoyment of the joke (an unconscious one, of course) was so great that I determined, on the impulse of the moment, to get better acquainted with him before turning him over as a ported to my superior I added that the prisoner came from Ohio, not a great distance from my old home in West Virginia, and that I would like to have a talk with him. [In explanation I will say that the prisoner had told me that he belonged to another regiment.] Of course, under ordinary circumstances, such a thing would have been impossible, but just as our line was filing into town the whistle very unusual thing for me. I felt of locomotives and rattle of drums compelled to do it. I dreamed that I announced the arrival of re-enforcements, and while the attention of the squad was attracted I nudged my prisoner and slipped into camp with him without attracting attention.

Lying under a dog tent we talked for several hours. I told him where awakened by a messenger boy, who I came from, and found that he had handed me a dispatch announcing that actually been born and raised not my mother had just died of apoplexy. thirty miles distant from my old home. although in a different state. He knew many of my acquaintances, and I had known many people with whom he had been familiar. Any one listening to us would have thought we were old acquaintances and old friends, and we certainly became friends, if not old ones, that night. My Yankee friend began to show a great deal of uneasiness before a great while, and I soon learned that he had a terrible dread of being sent to Libby, but as I had succeeded thus far in running things to suit myself, I told him not to be uneasy, but to lie still

First I made him take off his blouse and his cap, and these I rolled up and carried out of the tent under my arm. In fifteen minutes I had exchanged the blue jacket and cap for the grav jacket its owner was asleep. From another sleeping soldier I borrowed a big chunk of cornbread. Returning to the tent I told my prisoner to put on the jacket and hat--a mighty risky business for both of us—and then led him down over the hill, keeping in the dark, until we struck the same ravine where I had captured him, but at a point 100 feet distant from the picket. After guiding him to the opening between the hills, I pointed out the direction of the camp of his friends, and after telling him that they had probably retreated (which I learned afterward was a fact), I told him to keep on going, as our fellows would make things lively that morning. We then shook hands and parted. Five years ago, while sitting in a big country store in Ohio with about a dozen ex-Union soldiers, swapping months, but as I had a pretty good war stories, I told of the foregoing occurrence. When I got up the next morning a half dozen horsemen had just arrived, and at their head was a middle-aged gentleman whose air and sack down beside him. It does me carriage betokened prosperity and development of a large area of land happiness. He sprang from his horse now sparsely settled and but poorly that little white-headed Yankee eat. and walked-almost ran-to the porch cultivated; hence the great advance-It did me so much good even then that of the hotel where I was standing, ment of the country's wealth, Los poor. But what can a man do? Some rammed a handful of coarse cornbread pair of trembling hands, looked me in canteen and filled up the interstices then actually hugged me as the tears confounded fellow had eaten his share senses or catch the first glimpse of the my quondam prisoner.

What a talk we had, and how many questions each of us asked I cannot now could gulp down the last mouthful he tell, but they covered the lapse of the years between the time when the bul-I hain't eat up the lot. I'm sorry, lets sang requiems and the shell and shrapnel shrieked, down over decades of peace and prosperity. Our ride ended in front of a fine, large twostory brick country residence, about which everything indicated the intelligent cultivated taste of its owners. An old but sweet-faced and handsome lady stood at the stop step of the veranda, and as my conductor led me up to her and said: "It is he, mother," she placed her arms around my neck and kissed me, and while the tears fell from her eyes, she said: "God bless you, my son; may He always prosper you." I did not get away that day, nor the next, and when I did leave on the third day, forced by pressure of business, I left behind me friends whom it is one of the greatest pleasures of prisoner, if possible, and when I re- my life to visit.-[T. Bond, in New York Sun.

Warning in Dreams.

"I am a great believer in dreams," said Richard C. Mason, a guest of the Laclede. "Call it superstition, if you please—we are prope to sneer at what we cannot comprehend. One day in the summer of '79 I lay down on a lounge in my office and took a nap-a was called home to attend my mother, who had been taken suddenly ill. I found her dead, and in her hand a piece of paper upon which was printed in large letters, 'I have entered the gates of the New Jerusalem.' I was That might have been a coincidence, you say. Four years ago I had a brother killed in a railway collision in Massachusetts. I was at my home in St. Joseph, Mo., at the time. The next morning I told my wife that my brother was dead-that he had both legs crushed off in a railway accident. I had dreamed it-seen the accident as plainly as though I stood by his side. I had just reached the office when I received a dispatch announcing his death in the manner I had dreamed. Naturally I have taken a great interest in dreams, and I know of hundreds of cases almost as remarkable as my own. People are chary about telling their dreams, because they have a horror of being called superstitious."-[St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Great Irrigation Scheme.

The San Joaquin ranch is to be irrigated, and 20,000 acres now producing barley will be made susceptible of cultivation. The scheme is a prodigious one and means the expenditure of $500,000 in the work. Men and teams are at work excavating a ditch, which will be thirteen miles long and graded around the base of the San Joaquin hills. The Santiago Creek, which flows a large supply of water the year round, will be dammed up in what is known as the narrows of the Santiago Canon, and from there the water will be led by ditches to all parts of the San Joaquin ranch. The dam will be 60 feet thick at the base, 120 feet high and 365 feet wide, and will be built of masonry and in the most substantial manner possible. This dam will back up the water of Santiago Creek a distance of over a mile and nearly three miles wide, and this lake will be one of the largest artificial lakes in the state. The work is being vigorously pushed along, and its completion will be hailed with delight by all our people. It means the

QUEER REMEDIES.

Remarkable Things a Druggist Must Keep in Stock.

Dried Pigs Liver as a Sure Cure For Hysterics.

The other day a reporter of the News relaxed himself from the weary strife of life by spending a few hours in a drug store, where he has a friend Why not try a bromide instead." in the shape of a prescription clerk. In the intervals of applications for the opposite store and see if they had seidlitz powders, epsom salts, court not got some of her sovereign specific plaster, patent medicines and such other exciting episodes as diversify the existence of poor pilgarlicks, he commenced to divert himself by an investigation of the stock of the store. He began by being curious only, and ended by becoming interested.

It should be remarked right here, in order to explain certain things which he discovered that this special simple dispensary is located in a neighborhood largely populated by persons of foreign birth, meagre education and hard-working lives-the class, in short, most prone to superstitions and to adherence to old ideas.

One of the first oddities of the stock which drew the reporter's attention was rattlesnake oil. It came from Pennsylvania and Connecticut principally, said his friend, the expert, and was called for as a lubricant in cases of rheumatism. So was skunk-grease, which was another item in stock. killed his stock to sell their skins and grease. Opossum fat was another rheumatic remedy, which could be had to order, and alligator grease was kept on hand as a remedial agent against fits, much in favor with our colored population. Peanut oil and cottonseed oil were kept as substitutes for olive oil, and, said the expert, were infinitely superior to the common quality of that oil sold to the ordinary domestic trade here. Many catinghouses used nothing else.

Lanolin was a grease extracted from the wool of sheep. It had the property of mixing with water, and was a favorite basis for certain salves, as another. This latter was believed by many to be a sure cure for the croup. Among the vegetable and herb medicines, the assortment of simples was simply amazing. Nearly every root, plant and flower known had been converted into curative service. Wayside weeds were converted to medical use, and pretty garden flowers made to answer similar purposes. There were tinctures and extracts of all sorts of things, from cow-itch to poison-ivy, which under portentous Latin titles, figured in prescriptions, said the expert. Cow-itch was a remedy for worms. Considering its general qualities, perhaps it really does operate on the principal description by the medical student in Albert Smith's once famous sketch, by tickling the worms to death.

Two centuries ago the list of concoctions or creations supposed to be of utility in restoring human health included some of the most wonderful humbugs superstition could by any possibility induce a man to swallow. Dried crabs' eyes, powdered pearls, ground oyster shells, moss from dead men's skulls, the fat of buman corpses and blind pupples mashed up in a mortar were but a few of them.

To this day in tropical countries people bitten by scorpions kill one, mash it up and drink the juice in alcohol as an antidote; a barbaric version of the remedy for being out too late of a night, known as a "hair of the dog that bit you." It only goes to illustrate what a grip blind belief has on the human mind that, in this enlightened age, an intelligent pharmacist must keep up a stock of empirical is a demand for it which he must sup-

"The fact is," said the prescription clerk to the reporter, "that a good half of the drugs in this store are superfluous. No druggist can prosper who carries a complete stock. If he makes a living he is lucky. Most of them work like dogs and die about as doctors put a whole row of ingredi- they were 15 years ago.

ents in a prescription. These often include expensive things for which there are not half a dozen calls a year. But you must have them on hand. You have got to run a whole line of patent medicines, for instance, because many physicians use them in their prescriptions. Good evening, madam," to an old woman with a shawl over her head, who spoke in German. "Dried pig's liver powder, madam? What do you want it for? A case of hysterics, eh? Well, we have none in stock.

But the old lady concluded to go to in stock there. - [New York News.

Humor on the Stump.

It must have been rather disconcerting to the declamatory speaker who, despising all technicalities, tried to storm his hearers by sheer force of eloquence, but who, on uttering the words, "In the book of Nature it is written," was interrupted by a quietlooking gentleman with a mild request that he would "name the page." Sometimes, however, the interruptor receives a "retort courteous" he hardly bargained for, and a capital story illustrative of this is told of Lord Palmerston. His Lordship, who was an inveterate joker, possessed a readiness of repartee and a quaint sense of humor that often stood him in good stead. Once, when canvassing Hampshire, in conjunction with Sir George Staunton, he held a meeting at a hotel which was but dimly lighted at each Most of it was furnished by a man out end by two small windows. During West, who kept a skunk farm and the noble Lord's speech he was frequently interrupted by cries of "No, no!" proceeding from a fat little man in one of the windows, who was butler to an old admiral in the neighborhood.

forward; but Lord Palmerston than proposing. promptly said: "Pray don't interfere in the window. Providence has denied him any intellecutal light; it would be hard, indeed, to deprive him of the light of heaven!" Again, when electioneering at Taunton, he was greatly troubled by a butcher who asked him to support a certain Radical policy. At the end of one of his it did not grow raucid. Dog fat was Lordship's speeches the butcher called another specific, and goose grease still out: "Lord Palmerston, will you give me a plain answer to a plain question?" After a slight pause Lord Palmerston replied, "I will." The butcher then asked, "Will you or will you not support this measure?"-a Radical bill. Lord Palmerston hositated, and then with a twinkle in his usually has a look on her face after eye, he replied, "I will--." Then marriage that indicates that she is he stopped. Immediatey the Radicals | having trouble collecting her salary. cheered tremendously. "Not"-continued his Lordship. (Loud Conservative cheers.). When these ceased Lord Palmerston finished his sentence -"tell you." Then he immediately retired. Fox was seldom, if ever, at a loss for a retort, and a story is told how, when canvassing Westminster, he applied to a shopkeeper for his vote and interest. The man produced a halter, with which, he said, he was ready to oblige him. "Thank you," replied Fox, "for your kind offer, but I should be sorry to deprive you of so valuable a family piece. - [London Standard.

Humble Origin of Precious Stones.

It is a singular fact that the most precious gems are composed of the most common substances. The diamond is the purest form of carbon and is identical in composition with was a man of no interest and not much ordinary charcoal without the impuri- principle." ties of the latter. The ruby, on the other hand, is nearly pure alumina, a ter was a brother. A sister ain't no substance found in profusion in every | fun at all. Tommy Figs-Ain't? Wy, clay bank. The sciedtific name for crystalized alumina is corundum, and the gems comprehended under this designation are sometimes more valuable than diamonds of the same weight. The ruby, the sapphire, the oriental emerald, the oriental topaz, and useless material, because there the oriental amethyst, the oriental aqua marine, the oriental chrysolite, the hyacinth and other precious stones are all alumina, the varieties of color being caused by inappreciable quantities of metallic oxides .- [St. Louis

> Four different peaks in the mountains of Idaho are from 19 to 23 feet lower by actual measurement than

The Cattle Bell.

Far down the brown autumna High on the peak is snow-Cattle that smell the winter days Tinkle their bells as they go.

Out of a thick veil drawn to save The sky's face from the blast, Those tiny bells, as fairies wave Their wand, evoke the past.

That music once before I heard, But then the notes were glad, Carolling like a careless bird; Ah, why now is it sad?

Upon this brow now crowned by care My love a garland laid: We heard the bells, now here, now there; Dead are the leaves and maid.

Mayhap for happier maid and man The tender music swells, And I will smile while yet I can List to the cattle bells. -[Willis Steell, in Harper's Weekly.

HUMOROUS.

As bitter as gall-Cheek.

Nevertheless-The majority.

A lucky number-Fortunate. Bound-out-Jacks-in-the-box.

A slangy maiden of North Broad street alludes to her steady ice cream young man as "my cold snap."

be a hotel waitress? New Girl-It seems as if I was made to order. Dimley-Why did you leave the lec-

Night Clerk-How does it seem to

I was egged on to take that step. Attalie-Did Chollie Bohrman enjoy his vacation? Amelia-I don't ture platform, Larkin? Larkin-Well, know, but his friends in town did. Maud-How is it that you and your husband get along so well together? Violet-Oh, I never cook and he never talks politics.

Perdita-Is he going to marry you, do you think? Penelope (dejectedly)-There were loud calls to bring him No, I don't think he'll get any farther

An up-town shoemaker has a card in with the gentleman. Let him remain his window reading: "Any respectable man, woman or child can have a fit in this store."

> Manufacturer-What makes vou think electric clocks should sell so freely? Drummer-The're all to be charged, are they not?

> "No matter what subject you talk on, my friend Bilkins has the matter at his fingers' ends." "Is that so?" "Yes: he's deaf and dumb."

> "I should hate to have a mother-inlaw always around," complained the youth, and then a gentle whisper fell upon his ear, "I am an orphan."

The girl who marries for money

"Where are you going?" asked a little boy of another who had shpped and fallen on the icy pavement. "Going to get up!" was the blunt re-

She never asked if her hat was on straight, She never ran from a mouse! She kissed all the boys with never blush, She's a wee baby girl in the house.

Claverly-Oh, yes, of course she's pretty, but she knows it so well. Haverly-Well, that's better than being ugly and not knowing it, you Plumduff-Has that charming widow any property? Ketchum-Yes, a lot. Plumduff-Real estate or personal? Ketcheum - Personal - six children.

"Do you suppose she rejected you because you were not rich enough?" "Well, she gave me to understand I

Jimmie Briggs-I wish my big sis-I make my sister cryin' mad 'most every day.

Mrs. Chinner-I wonder why lightning never strikes twice in the one place. Chinner-When the lightning comes around the second time the place isn't there.

"Bridget," asked Mrs. De Leon. "can you cook on scientific principles?" "Sure ma'am, what's the matter wid cookin' on a range?" asked sensible Bridget.

Friend-You took your son into your establishment some months ago to teach him the business, I understand. How did it turn out? Business Man (wearily) -Great success, He's teaching me now.

EDITOR.

ost Office in Calera a

DNESDAY DEC. 21.

m the Blocton Courier at Judge M. Y. Have de proprietor of the mate ng one J. M. Boykin. Our best ishes are with the new men, and we appreciate the fact that it is only one more step towards Samuel's political funeral.

Patronize your home merchants as of at least eighteen month. liberally as you can during the week, and make your relatives and friends happy, and your merchants happy.

How is it when your home merchants don't advertise? It would seem from the appearance of the Calera papers that her merchants have no Christmas goods.

Nearly every editor in Alabama is old friend, Joe Adams, editor of the Ozark Star. Joe is a good fellow and hit some sledge-hammer blows while hemmed in on four sides, and no man in South-East Alabama has better claims on the party.-Opelika News.

home industries." This should be Encourage the small manufacturers, their hard earnings. Don't send your orders off to some other city. The spirit of home encouragement is the elixir of life that sends the blood coursing through the arteries of trade. This is the sign by which we conquer.

Governor Jones recommends that the present legislature pass a bill authorizing the commissioners of the various counties in the state to let the county advertising to the lowest bidder. This looks fair, and we hope the general assembly will pass such a law. In some counties where there is more than one paper, the probate judge or other county office own or have stock in one of them, or have a special friend, to whom the public and legal-printing is naturally given, making it a hard matter for one paper to live while the one favored with the public patronage has a bonanza. If the law governing the awarding of the state that Col Pope has pretty thourougprinting was so amended as to apply to the county printing it would, we believe, work well.

NOTES BY THE EDITOR.

We were present at the marraige of Miss Hattie Brand to Mr. Charlie Thompson, at Randolph on the 15th inst. The bride is a daughter of J. W. Brand, and the groom a successful farmer of Montgomery county. The wedding was a very beautiful one, and the sweet little girl wife made a beautiful picture. Many friends witnessed the marriage at the church, at the reception many kind wishes and congratulation were extended. We have known her from her infancy and we wish her joy.

At Randolph we met Miss Margaret O'Brien, of Birmingham, the authoress, poetess and critic. In her one finds a reflection of most all the enviable things of nature. Petite and frail in figure, yet strong of the question will continue until in character and mind! gentle, loving and lovable in disposition, with original, firm and well-balanced ideas. One naturally looks upon her as that slightly rare. but positively bewitching thing, a perfect GLEANED FROM ALDRICH'S BELL TOWER. pattern of womanhood.

Our friend and school mate, C. G. Smith, was married Tuesday to my ears were greeted by a whistling of Miss Pearl Davidson, of Centreville. Chippy get your hair cut," which I at Glorious, noble, good-hearted boy, first supposed emanated from the vocal that a woman should vote. * * † If may his life be filled with joy. He machinery of the ubiquitious small boy, the wants, the passions, the vices, are has a Pearl, indeed, and their lives but I learned on inquiry that it was the allowed to a full vote, through the hands will blend in harmony.

 week are complete. Two weddings thought,

General Forney is a grand old man, and were he called to the helm of State it would be very much like the the political arena of Alabama.

The above is from one of our exchanges, and while we admire Gen. Forney as highly as any man in the state, and would heartily support ple's Reflector has been him for any position his friends may desire to present his claims, we are ness and interest has won the affection of the opinion that no political of her pupils. All parents would do well com which will be published preferences should be expressed for sibb County News, its manager at least a year and a half. Our Nabors is teachin vocal and instrumental people have just emerged from a music. She is a lady of good appearance campaign of long duration-the and faithful to her as the agitation of do longest in the history of the stateand it is hoped by those who desire quiet business pursuits and financial prosperity that we have a rest

Dr. McCune says: "I hope to see the Farmers' Alliance return to its ed his private interests, as the boycott first principles, reassert its oft-repeat- of his paper in Bibb county by the allied and time-honored doctrine as a ance will remind you. True to his connon-partisan organization, and send delegates to the next regular meeting prepared to carry out that line of policy. My labors for the next year shall, as in the past, be devoted to this cause, and I shall push the fight after a post office. The latest is our on this line, both by tongue and pen, rugged honesty of character should be with such ability and energy as I admired by men of all political creeds. can command."

THE notorious Dr. Macune is responsible more than any other one man, for the political trouble that to-day exists among the farmers of the south and west. Now he of articles on the Alabama Insane hospit-Gadsden Times-News; "Patronize comes out in the hypocritical lan- al, its management, its odd, quaint, and guage above, hoping to further dethe motto of every citizen of Gadsden. lude them into further trouble in This is the way to build up our city. his desire to make money out of

GOOD ROADS.

Perhaps no one man is more earnestly enlisted in the effort to secure good roads throughout the country than Col Pope, of Boston. It is not the control of the communications for this department should be addressed to her at West Caller a Alaborate to the control of the contro He is now sending out a form of memorial to congress for signers petitioning the establishment of a na. course bring with it its round of gaytaional road department, similar to eties, good dinners and to the small the agricultural department, for the boys the ever enchanting French harp purpose of promoting knowledge in and fire-crackers, to the intemperate the art of constructing and maintaining roads; of making provision for teaching students so that they will be indulged in during Christbecome skilled road engineers; of maintaining a permanent road exh- How ungrateful! How unmindful ibit in Washington in order to show of even civilization to say nothing of sections of roads illustrating vari- christianity to dissipate celebrate the ous methods of construction and sacred anniversary of the birth of our materials and to secure appropria- Savior. A good sermon and church tions for a road exhibit at the service, a fine turkey and general World's fair; this is laudable, but is thanksgiving should be the appropriit practical? We may suppose ate programme.

ly considered the question and has ed the beautiful marriage of Miss. The end of my last round will be delinsubstantial reasons for advocating Hattie Brand to Mr. Charles Thompthe establishment of an independent son, which was a most enjoyable ocdepartment rather than a bureau in casion and attended by a large numeither the agricultural department ber of friends. The marriage cereor the interior department, but at mony was a very pretty and impressfirst thought the reasons are not so live one. Mr. McGee. of Mobile, unobvious to us as are the obstacles to cle of the bride, officiating. The such an attempt, Congress is re- church was beautifully decorated luctant to add to the departments, with the well known wild evergreen, and we question whether it can be mistletoe. The bride and bride's induced to establish an independin white, emblematic of the purity widespread reform in road building Brand, the bride's father, where an in the belief of said affant, the defendindividually until congress estab- On the early train the happy couple that publication be made in the Calera ample inculcates their advantages. We know of no factor that would friends go with them. prove so potential in the commercial groth of a state as the adoption and execution of a good system of road building. We trust the agitation something practical results, -Commercial Reporter.

ALDRICH GLIMMERINGS

LETTER NO. II.

As I was perambulating one of the effort of those sweet marbles of the of a half brutal, intemperate population, southland famed in song and story-the I think it but fair that the virtues, the mocking bird, who, under the able tutil. aspirations, should be allowed a full voice There, now, our notes for this lage of the Methodist parson of the place. as an effset, through the purest of the

We have not the space, time or incli- people.-Emerson. and a woman are quite enough to nation to enter into a discussion of the To have a voice in those by whom one right or wrong of "tipping the light fan- is governed is a means of self-protection exhaust one's scanty store of tastic," or of training the feathered due to every one. Under whatever con-last penny on the fact that that parson will go to heaven, as who can help being appearance of another Houston upon a christian who loves such glorious tunes as that and shortened bread, and others of that ilk. I am willing to risk my salvation on those good old tunes.

Miss Fannie McMath has built up a school here at Aldrich that is a credit to her and a honor to Aldrich she is a kind painstaking teacher who by her gentleto patronize Miss Fanny, as she richly deserves their patronage. Miss Estolle re, me, fa, so, la, show.

It is a great pleasure to me to contribute to the columns of the CALERA JOUR-NAL, and there is no man in the state I respect more than Maj. Sam. H. Gist, its editor. A man of unswerving honesty, in fact, too honest to be politic. In his loyal fealty to the democray he sacrificvictions he would have given up life itself before giving up one principle of his party. And now his party should show that appreciation of his lovalty and sacrifice by rewarding him with a position high in its councils or he will be better than his party. In other words, such

There died in Montevallo some weeks since, Hannah Cary the old colored woman, nurse of Messrs. Walter and Charlie Cary at the advanced age of 115 years.

I go for a short time to Tuscaloosa for my health, and shall contribute a series curious characters, subjects of novelty to the general (reader, and by virtue of which fact the more interesting. So to avail yourself of information that you TRAMPETUS JUVENIA.

WOMAN'S COLUMN.

era, Alabama.

Christmas is almost here and will of the longed-for egg-nog and the popping of champaigne bottles, and poker games, and all sorts of dissipation will be indulged in during Christmas holidays. How thoughtless!

How ungrateful! How apprindful Tyler's Monday, January 16.

Harpersville, Friday' January 6.

Wilsonville, Saturday, January 7.

Biagg's Tank, Monday, January 10.

Bold Springs, Wednesday, January 11.

Highland, Thursday, January 12.

Peiham, Friday, January 13.

Calera, Saturday, January 14.

At Randolph last week we attend doubt whether much permanent and repaired to the residence of Dr. J. W. will be accomplished in the states elegant reception was enjoyed by all. lishes federal highways and by ex- left for their home near Montgomery

At Randolph last week we had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Frank P. taken against him in said cause. O'Brien and the well known author-ess Margaret E. O'Brien, of Birming-D. R. McMillan, ham. We have for a long time been anxious to meet Miss. Margaret, and felt that we already knew her. In a few short hours of acquaintance we learned to love her dearly.

I am in favor of woman's sufferage.-

With all my head, and with all my heart, I believe in woman suffrage .-

It is very cheap wit that finds so droll songsters in music of this class, but we ditions, and within whatever limits will play our anchor here long enough man are admitted to the sufferage, there to say that we are willing to wager our is not a shadow of justification for not admitting women under the same .-- Will > Suppose, for the sake of argument, we accept the inequality of the sexes as one of nature's immutable laws; call it a fact that women are inferior to men in mind, morals and physique. Why should this settle or materialy affect the subject of so-called Woman's Right? Would not this very inferiority be a reason why every advantage should be given to the weaker sex, not only for its own good, but for the highest development of the race?--Huxley.

Two For One!

By special arrangements with the Publishers we are able to offer the Home and Farm

in combination with

dournal

for the price of our paper alone—adding only ten cents to cover extra postage. The annual subscription price of The JOURNAL is ONE DOLLAR. To every subscriber who renews now and pays in advance we will send him the Home and Farm Frie-only asking ten cents to cover postage-or the two papers for the price of one.

HOME AND FARM is recognized as the leader in agricultural journalism. It has recently been enlarged to six pages, and is more attractive than ever. Its list of contributors contains the names of practical farmers all over the south of practical farmers all over the south. Its Home Department is unsurpassed. Its department devoted to children is a well spring of pleasure in every household. Renew your subscription to THE CALERA JOURNAL and get this great agricultural and home journal Free For One Year.

For Sample copies of the Home an Farm, Louisville Ky. Send your sub scription at once to The Journal, Calerad Ala., and ten cents in stamps and get

TAX NOTICE.

I will attend at the following times and places in each precinct in Shelby county Ala., for the purpose of Assessing State and County Taxes for the year 1893. I will make two regular rounds:

FIRST ROUND. Martin's Store, Monday, January 2. Weldon, Thesday, January 3. Vandiver, Wednesday, January 4. Vincent, Thursday, January 5. Harpersville, Friday' January 6. Calera, Saturday, January 14.
Tyler's Monday, January 16.
Gurnee, 1 uesday, January 17.
Aldrich, Wednesday, January 13.
Moore's X Roads, Friday, January 20.
Shelby Springs, Saturday, January 21.
Columbiana, Mon. and Tues. Jan. 23, 24.
Spring Creek, Wednesday, January 25.
Shrader's Store, Thursday, January 26.
Browning's Mill, Friday, January 27.
Shelby, Saturday, January 28. Shelby, Saturday, January 28.

All are required by law to meet me either on my first or second round and bring with them a list of their taxable quent, and parties owning such property will be required to pay an additional 50 cents for assessing. The tax collector will make his last round with me on my first round. J. H. HAMMOND, dec7-4w prs fee$10 Tax Ass. Shelby co.

Notice to Nonresident.

The State of Alabama, Shelby county. In Chancery at Columbiana, Alabama, Sixth district, North Eastern Chancery Division, November 21st, 1892. Martha E. Daniel, by her next friend L W. Watson, complainant, vs. Hudson W. N. Daniel, defendant.

ent department for road building.

As to national intervention and Lella Ward, of Six Mile, presided at Lella Ward, of Six Mile, presided at the son W. N. Daniel is a non-resident. IN This Cause it is made to appear to the action in the matter of road building the organ with her usual grace and we have less doubt. Indeed, we skill. After the ceremony the guests as, but his particular place of residence doubt, whether much permanent and ant is over the age of twenty-one years.

Journal, a newspaper published in Cale Ala. The best wishes of their host of tive weeks requiring him the said Hudson W. N. Daniel to answer or demur to the same, within thirty days after the 26th day of December, 1892, and failing

> Register in Chancery. nov30 4w prs fee $7.50

Scientific American Agency for CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS, DESIGN PATENTS, COPYRIGHTS, etc.

American

SOME I HING MICE FREE. or apply to Attention is called to the holiday goods offered for sale by John B. Ro-

Banking House O

W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co

CALERA; ALABAMA.

Receive Deposits,

Negotiate Loans,

Issue interest bearing certificates of Deposit, and sell exchange on New Yor Louisville and Birmingham at regular rates energed by the larger effices.

We transact a general banking business, such as that of any incorporate bank in all of its legitimate branches, andwould be pleased to open accounts venerchants, manufacturers and planters alike.

Fire and Life Insurance

Written in the best companies.

Bought, Sold and Rented upon just terms.

MILE MALE . & FEMALE ACADEMY.

R. H. PRATT, Principal.

35th annual session begins September 26, 1892, and continues 40 WEEKS,

ONE WEEK FOR CHRISTMS HOLIDYS. Higer branches of Mathematics, French, Greek, with the above, $3 6" Music and use of instrument, 3 00 Board—per month, $7. Washing, Starching, Ironing $1......$8 00 Students are required to furnish, for their own use, one pr. blankets, one pr. sheets and pillow cases, their own toilet lights. Payments, monthy or quarterly in advance.

This school is loca ted at Six Mile, labama, in a healthy, well watered neighborhood, five miles from shoy dep ot, on the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia Railroad FI PRATT, PrIncipal, Six Mile, Alabama

3sept 6 m

Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats Shoes, Gents & Ladies Dress Goods,

CALERA, ALA, Do

Have one of the Largest Stocks of Hots, Shoes, Clothing, Notion Dry Goods, and General Merchandize, Ever Brought to Sheley Count

OPPOSITE OUR DRY GOODS HOUSWe have Opened up a......

MAMMOTHESTOCK

WILL BE IN THIS HOUSE AT ALL TIMES, AWIT ON YOU and price Furniture as Low as any House in Alabama.

Our Campaign Goods are as neat and as Cheap as any in the State.

A. C. WADE & CO.

Calera, DEALER IN

AND MONUMENS. TOMBSTONES All work done in an artistic and work

Calera

ESTATE REAL

Bought and sold. Place your property for sale in our lands and we Calcomining and Paper Hanging will find you a purchaser. Address

> CAMPBELL & CO., Real Estate Agents, Calera Ala,

J. L. PETERS. HENRY WILSON, E. S LYM Columbiana. Montevalio

Peters, Wilson & Lyman, ATTORNEYS AT L. ... HUGH T. CAFFEY,

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON CALERA, ALA.

WHATLEY

AND RUDDY.

TAL PAINTERS.

HOUSE, SIGN AND ORNAMEN

Done to Order,

Orders sent to THE JOURNAL office will be promptly at 2-10

GENERAL INFORMATION.

RAILROAD TIME TABLE.

		LOUIS	VILLE &	NASHVI	LLE.
NO.	1.	South	Bound,			a. m.
	3.	- 16	44		4:14	p. m.
11	9,	4.0	41		5:10	a. m.
			Bound,		10:19	66
-44	4	66	110		10:05	p. m.
44	10,	86	66			p. m.

COUNTY OFFICERS.

Probate Judge—John S. Leeper. Circuit Clerk—W. R. A. Milner. Register in Chancery—D. R. McMil-

Sheriff—H. W. Nelson. Tax Collector—A. F. Smith. Tax Assessor—John H. Hammonds. County Trersurer—W. A. Thompson. Superintendent of Education-E. O.

County Solicitor-J. L. Peters. County Commissioners—James McGowan, Rufus Walker, Richard Griffin, A. M. Jones.

and third Sundays, morning and night, by Rev. Z. A. Dowling, pastor. Sabbath school at 9:30. Baptist Church--Rev. J. G. Lowrey, pastor. Preaching every first and second

m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday eveningsat 7:30. Children's Band meets 3:30 p. m. each 1st and 3rd Sunday. Ladies' Aid Society every other Friday eveningsat 3.

POSTAL LAWS.

Sec. 268. No mail matter shall be delivered until the postage due thereon has been paid.—(R. S., § 3900).

Sec. 297. Letters addressed to the friends of the owner of a box stopping temporarily with him may also be placed in the box, if directed to his care or to the number of the box. But letters addressed to other persons residing in the same place, and living and doing business separate and apart from a box holder, should not be placed in such

Sec. 300. No box at any post office shall be assigned to the use of any person until the rent thereof has been paid for at least one quarter in advance, for which the post master shall give a receipt—(R. S., § 3901). Sec. 301. Postmasters must rent

Sec. 301. Postmasters must rent the boxes and drawers in the post offices for one-quarter (three months) only, the money to be paid in advance. The department will insist upon a strict compliance with this regulation. Boxes remaining unpaid for ten days from the expiration of a quarter will be declared west Calera this week, and we undergranted.

vacated. Sec. 302. A person renting a post office box is entitled to have the letters of his family put into it. Each box must be restricted to the use of one firm, tamily or corporation. family or corporation.

Renew your subscription.

INSURE YOUR LIFE. Read and profit by the following sound counsel, every word of which smarts with a truism like a sparkling jewel:

"It is a duty you owe to yourself and amily to protect them with a reasonable amount of life insurance, where the time has expired, and if you desire stoams of the financial world cannot continue you should renew at once. will do this and more; therefore, do your duty and insure immediately in some good, old reliable Company."—Extract from a sermon by the Rev. T. De-Witt Talmage.

Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills. 50 doses 25 cts.

Club rates of the Montgomery Adver tiser and the CALERA JOURNAL is only $1.75 a year. The latter is issued every Wednesday and the Advertiser issued twice a week. Now is the time to subscribe as the double issue of the Advertiser will contain all the legislative news and the Journal will give the latest loca

Opium Habit cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

For the the next twenty days the Ca-LERA JOURNAL, Weekly Age-Herald and Weekly Montgomery Advertiser will be sound of the carpenter's hammer or the furnished to one address for $2.50, or the rig of his saw. Journal and either the Age-Herald or Advertiser for $1.75. This offer will be good for 20 days only.

Register's

The State of Alabama, Shelby county, In Chancery at Columbiana, Alabama, Sixth district, North Eastern Chance-

Thomas Griffin, Sr., complainant, vs. J. M. Anderson & Co., et als, defendant. BY virtue of a decree rendered at the September term, 1892 of the Chancery court, at Columbiana, Shelby county, Alabama, in said cause, I shall proceed to sell to the highest and best bidder, for cash, at public auction, in front of the court house in Columbiana, within legal hours of sale,

On Monday, 19th day of December, 1892,

Register in Chancery. nov30 3w prs fee $7.50

The above sale has been post-poned until Monday, January 9, 1893.
D. R. McMILLAN, dec22 3w prs fee$7.50 Register.

LOCAL ITEMS.

See chancery notice in this issue. Subscription only $1 a year. St. Vitus' Dance cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

In another place will be found a chan cery sale.

The Journal and The Home and Farm for $1.10.

the JOURNAL and other good papers.

a moral, sober and good practical the Christmas festivities. printer, desires a steady situation in a country office.

The CALERA JOURNAL and Age-Herald for $1.75.

The CALERA JOURNAL and Montgomery Advertiser for $1.75.

To the young man who will seud us s$4 a year.

Every paper in the state has special advertisements in them from their home merchants announcing the the ar-

We notice that Wade & Co., the only merchant that advertises in this paper, has a nice line of Xmas goods.

Hon. Holbrook, Aldrich, he who was a condidate on the republican ticket for probate judge, was in town one day last week.

This morning was marked for its heavy frost and hard freeze. We notice that some of our people were killing their pork yesterday. This is a good time to kill. By referrence to our advertising columns, that Register McMillan has postponed the chancery sale of Thomas Griffin Sr., vs. J. M. Auderson, to Jan.

It seems that Calera's young men and kids are so despondent over the proposstand that she anticipates moving to Any parties who have business with the superintendent of education will find him at the court house every first Satur-

A very few have sent in renewal subscriptions. If you see a X mark on the Alabama, on margin, it is to remind you that your time has expired, and if you desire to

Mr. E. L. Green and lady, is spending

Only 4 more days till Christmas, and east quarter, section 2, township 24, no one has sent us a turkey for our din- range 13, cast. no one has sent us a turkey for our din-

The merchan's of Ca'era have made no purchase for the holidays, we presume, as none of them have advertised in the city papers.

Don't forget the oyster and 'opossum oct22 7w prs fee$10 50 supper at Black's Hall tomorrow night.

The Baptists ladies will serve something monday. 2nd day of January, 1893.

D. R. McMILLAN,

Mrs. M. L. Jones, by her next friend, Sir Archie Sones, is building a neat and substantial fence around her yard and garden. This is the way all the property owners should do, if they want to build up the town.

It is not an unusual thing to hear the

Mr. J. D. Hardy has returned from an extended business trip to Mississippi and Louisiana.

Maj. Vance has returned from the in-Sale. Sale. Sale. Selma-where he has been for some time under treatment. He comes home very much improved, we understand.

The Journal job office is now about through with is now about thoough with it's press of work, ready to do any style of commercial and legal printing at short notice.

We have been requested by several parties along the line of the E.T., V & G. railroad, to say something concerning the ill-convenient schedule now in vogue on that road. The road is a corthe following dealthed property to-wit:

The west ill of southeast qr, and south east qr of southwest qr of section 15, township 21, range 3, west; also, the east hlf of northwest qr, and northwest qr of northeast qr, section 22, township 21, range 3 west, containing two hundred and forty acres, more or less, and situated in Shelby county, Alabama, and upon which the Saw Mill known as the J. M. Anderson & C., Saw Mill is situated to satisfy said decree.

D. R. McMILLAN, Register in Chancery. poration of public carriers, responsible field or Randolph to Montgomery, to get to Calera and wait 8 or 9 hours; and ingoing to Birminghem the same thing occurs.

Ripans Tabules; a family remedy.

SUPPER AND MUSICAL ENTER-TAINMENT.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Bapist church of this place, will give a tsupper, on the night of the 22nd inst, for the benefit of their church house repairing and carpeting the same. The veritable "Possum, with Taters" and all the desirable condiments, wil be served in an artistic style, and the See inducements for subscription to entertainment will be interspersed with music and recitations. A social Mr. E. P. Coburn, of Columbiana vet, moral treat, is expected, ushering

Ripans Tabules cure dyspepsia.

MORTGAGE SALE.

Notice is hereby given that under and by virtue of the powers of sale contained in two certain mortgages executed to the undersigned, W. E. Brinkerhoff & Co., on the 8th day of February, 1892 and the A. M. Jones.

To the young man who will seud us a club of five new subscribers and $5

PRESENTERIAN—Services on the 4th Sundays in each month, morning and night; pastor to be supplied. Sabbath School at 9:30 a. m.

METHODIST—Services on the second and third Sundays, morning and night, by Rev Z A Dowling pastor. Sab-

On the 1st day of October, 1892.

to the highest bidder for cash the follow-Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9.30 am. Prayer meeting at 7.00 p. m., every Thursday.

Cumberland Preshyterian—J. J. Dalton, pestor. Preaching every first and third Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday evening at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday even at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday evening at 7:30 c. Children, and the follow-ing described real estate, to-wit: The southwest qr of southwest qr, the north east qr of southwest qr, section 12, also right of way, thirty feet wide, from north to south and about midway through the district and especially in Calera.

We notice the election of Cleveland and Robbins, it looks a little like business was looking up all over the new fourth district and especially in Calera. and also west fift of southwest qr of section 13; also timber right to thirty acres of land in southwest qr of southeast qr, section 12, and eight acres of land lying west of and adjacent to the Louisville & Nashville railroad, in section 12, known as the William Richards tract, all of said land lying and being in Township 21 of range 3, west, county of Shelby and State of Alabama.

W. E. BRINKERHOFF & CO.,
W. R. OLIVER. Mortgagee,

Mortgagee, sept 15th '92 Attorney.

The foregoing mortgage sales aving been restrained and postponed y an injunction granted by the Hon. J. J. Banks, judge of the 10th judicial circuit, of the State of Alabama, and the said injunction having been dissolved by Chancellor S. K. McSpadden, chancellor of the Northeastern chancery division of said State, on the 2nd day of December, 1892, We will proceed with said sales in accordance with the foregoing notice, on the 28th day of December, 1892, at the place therein mentioned.

W. S. Brinkerhoff & Co.,

Mortgagee. W. R. Oliver, attorney. dec14 2w prs fee$7.50

REGISTER'S SALE.

UNDER Morgan & Lapsley, and by vir-A. M. Elliott, Trustee, et al) tue of a decree rendered at the Spring term, 1892, of the Chancery Court of Shelby county Alabama, in the above entitled cause, I will proceed to sell, under the power contained in a Mcrtgage from H. M. Pierce, et al, to A. M. Elliott, trustee, at public outery, in front of the Court House door in the town of Columbiana, between the legal hours of sale, for cash, tax them; where they are safe for your family should you die; and where they will become your protection in your old sge should you live. A life insurance will do this and more; therefore, do

Monday, the 17th day of October, 1892.

Mr. E. L. Green and lady, is spending ated near Calera in Shelby county, Ala., to wit: Fractions A, H, J, M, and the 8½ of E and F of section 22, township 22, range 2, west; and the east half of north following described real estate,

> This, August 11, 1892.
> D. R. McMICLAN, Register and Acting Trustee.

13aug-10 v prs fee$16.50 Above sale continued to Monday December 5, 1892. D. R. McMILLAN, Register.

dec7-4wprs fee$7.50

IN EFFECT OCT. 30, 1892.

EAST BOUND.

Leave Bristol (Easter Arrive Shenandouh Ju Leave Shenandouh Ju Arrive Washington	unction	11	8:40 P. M. 7:20 A. M. 7:25 A. M. 9:30 A. M.
CON	NECTI	ONS.
Leave Washington			10:00 A.M.
Arrive New York			3:00 P. M.
Leave Memphis Arrive Chattanooga			11:59 P. M. 12:25 P. M.
Leave Nashville Arrive Chattanooga			7:80 A. M. 12: 25 P. M.
Leave New Orleans			8:00 P. M.
Leave Birmingham			6:35 A. M.
Arrive Chattanooga		1 2	11:55 A. M.
Leave Atlanta .			8:20 A. M.
Arrive Cleveland	4		1:25 P. M.
Lcave Mobile			8:00 P. M.

TRAIN CONSISTS OF

Two coaches and Baggage Car.
Dilling Car. Pullman Sleepers
New Orleans to New York
Memphis to Washington and Nashville to Washington. Dilling Car Chattanooga to Washington. Through Vestibule
Coach Atlanta to Bristol. ALL WESTIBULED

NO EXTRA FARES. B. W. WRENN, General Pass, Agt. Knoxville, Tena. Address: THE FANCY CANDY CO. St. Louis Mo.

Dining Car Service Unsurpassed.

MON. Z. AVERY, ONE OF THE LARGEST CONTRACTORS AND BUILD-ERS IN NEBRASKA.

HEART DISEASE 30 YEARS.

GRAND ISLAND, NEE, April 8th, 1892. Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

GENTLEMEN: I had been troubled with MEART consciousness again. While in this condi-I tried your New HEART CURE, and began a good day's work for a man 68 years of age. I give DR. MILEO: NEW HEAST CURE all the credit for my recovery. It is over six months since I have taken any, aithough I keep a bottle in the house in case I should need it. I have also used your NERVE AND LIVER PILLS, and think a great deal of them.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR MONEY RETURNED.

SOUTHERN FEMALE UIVERSITY Fall Terms begins September 15, Spring Term begins Janua-officers. Full University curriculum. Five distinct courses, three which lead to the degrees. M. A., B. A., and B. L. Special attention to Music and Art. Thorough Business Course. The scheme of study is framed with a view of offering to young women such view of offering to voung women such facilties for obtaining a liberal educa-12:25 Noon. tion as are enjoyed by the young men the best Universities. Handsomt and most complete school edifice the South. All the rooms halls an d airways carpeted. Accommodation or four hundred boarders. Smead's aproved system of heat and ventilaon. Lighted with gas and electricity lot and cold water throughout b undance of bathrooms and closets arlors, library, reading rooms and minasium conveniently located. asheost of building, $80,000. Eight res ofcampus. Board, lights, fuelevant's attendance etc., five months 34.50; tuition, $25. Send for cata-3:45 A. M. 1:25 P. M.

REV. L. D. BASS, D. D., Florence, Ala

CHRISTMAS.
CANDY: To enlarge the marke CANDY: To enlarge the market for our candies we will send from now until Christmas a pail of our very best mixed Cream Candy to any address on receipt of $1.00 (2 Cts stamps taken and Express charges paid). Only one pail sent to one person, and all orders must be made on or before Dec. 29. if you want to get our candy in time for Christmas. State your nearest Express shipping point. Please show pail of candy to your friends and neighbors.

Address: THE FANCY CANDY CO

IS A POSIIVE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

or Articulate. All Diseases arising from an Impure state of BLOOD YIELD at once to IT'S MAGICINFLUENCE,

In All it's forms Chronic or Acute, Muscular

READ! READI

Mr. D. Warlick, Limewood, Pike county, Ila., writes: "I am satisfied I owe my life to V. V. V. f it had not been for that remedy I would have been ruined for life, while 🔾 now, thank God, I am again as sound as a dollar. I suffered from one of the worst cases of blood poison, and used some 20 bottles in all, but now feel as if I had new lease on life. I send you this unsolicited, and you can publish if you want to, bqlieving I owe my life to your medicine.

READI

*PRICE S1 PER BOTTLE, 6 FOR S5.3

NABORS, MORROW & SINIGE, Sole Proprietors

For Sale By all First Class Dealers.

WORDS ABOUT THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION.

Greatest of All American Weekly Newspapers, 12 Pages.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR IT.

1. It is the best of all weekly news- "Aunt Susie," the editress of these de-

2. It is invaluable to the tarmer and the farmer's family, bringing each week cheer to the fireside and happiness to the household.

3. It covers the news of the whole world, having its correspondents scattered over the globe, and having a thorough out the south.

4. Bill Arp, Plunkett, and Uncle Remus and a host of other special writers are engaged by the year, and their inimitable sketches appear each week.

7. It is the People's Friend, and is the sturdy champion of the agricultural ough news service from every important. ough news service from every important interests of the south.

news center in the world.

8. It pays more money for its special

4. Its Agricultural Department alone is worth many times its subscription any other four of the weekly newspapers price to every farmer. This department of the south, and much more than any is edited by Dr. W. L. Jones, the leading agricultural authority of the south, whose service is retained by the Constitution at great expense.

5. Its Woman's and Children's Deserviting a box layer an erry she pays for the south.

tution at great expense.

5. Its Woman'3 and Childeren's Departments are a source of infinite pleasone issue of the greatest weekly new ure to every family, and the name of pers in the world.

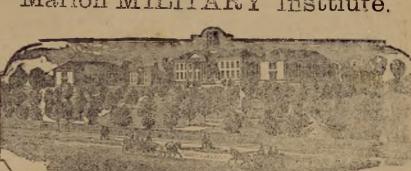

Send for sample copies. If you already take it, send the names of six of you neighbors with their addresses. It is the farmers' friend, and no well regulated home should be without it.

Agents Wanted in every Locality.

Liberal terms to agents; and money in working for it. Write for information.

THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Ga.

Marion MILITARY Institute.

MARION, ALA.

Superior Accommodationrs and Board. Superintendent, his family and faculty live in building with students. Classic and Scientific. Superior Commercal Course. TERMS MODE RATE. Send for Catelogue.

COL. J. T. MURFEE, Superintendent,

Marion, Alabama.

-GO. TO-Mrs. S. H McCauley' NEAR THE DEPOT.

MILLINERY--GOO

A Splendid Line of Trimmed and Untrimmed Hass in the Lates Styes, and at Reasonable Prices. Oct 8-3m

F W ROGAN, 。短題選及智麗題便随

Office of Southern Express Co.

I KEEP CONSTANTLY ON HAND A COMPLETE LINE OF Wood Coffins and Caskets from the Chipest to the Finest. Also, a full Line of Ladies, Gents, and Childrens' Burial Suits Orders by telegram promptly Filled.

Send us your Job Work, and get satisfaction.

Lane Allen's inter-The Blue-Grass Region one chapter is devoted ants of the Cumberland They are abjectly poor, most part. As the author it, "They appear to have no of accumulation." "In some on the great problem of life is to ise two dollars and a half during e year for county taxes." Agri-cultural methods are primitive. The plow is a "bull-tongue"—little more than a sharpened stick with a metal rim. Formerly the digging of "sang, ginseng, was one of the principal occupations. Much of it was shipped to China. The crop is now nearly exhausted, although in some of the wilder regions whole families may still be seen 'out sangin'."

The people took it into town in bags, selling it at a dollar and ten cents-perhaps a dollar and a halfa pound. This was mainly the labor of the women and children, who went to work barefooted, amid briers and chestnut burrs, copperheads and rattlesnakes. Indeed, the woman prefer to go barefooted, finding shoes a trouble and constraint.

It was a sad day for the people when the "sang" grew scarce. A few years ago one of the counties was nearly depopulated in consequence of the exodus into Arkansas, whence had come the news that "sang" was

The dwellings-often mere cabins with a single room-are built of rough-hewn logs, chinked or daubed, though not always. One mountaineer, called into court to testify as to the household goods of a defendant neighbor, gave in as the inventory: A string of pumpkins, a skillet without a handle, and a "wild A "wild Bill" is a bed made by boring auger-holes in a log, driving sticks into these, and overlaying them with hickory bark and sedgegrass--a favorite couch.

The low chimneys, made usually of laths daubed, are so low that the saying, inelegant but true, is current, that you may sit by the fire inside and spit out over the top. The cracks in the walls are often large enough to give ingress and egress to child or dog.

Naturally there is little desire for education. The mountain schools have sometimes less than half a dozen pupils for the few months they are in session. A gentleman who wanted a coal bank opened engaged for the work a man passing along the road. Some days later he learned that his workman was a school teacher who, in consideration of the seventy-five cents a day, had dismissed his academy.

Many of the people, allured by ru-mors from the West, have migrated thither, but nearly all come back from love of the mountains and indisposition to cope with the rush and vigor and enterprise of frontier life. Theirs, they say, is a good lazy man's home.

The Latest Engagement Ring.

An artistic engagement ring is formed of two narrow bands of gold that become one just in the center; the part where they are divided is filled with small but pure diamonds. These small clear stones are always preferred by women of good taste to very large ones less perfect in color and in shape. Ladies' Home Journal.

A Sleep-Walker.

A case is reported of a somnambulist who walked lifteen miles in his l

Mr. Joseph Hemmerich

An old soldier, came out of the War greatly anfeebled by Typhoid Fever, and after being In various hospitals the doctors discharged him as incurable with Consumption. He has been in poor health since, until he began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla Immediately his cough grew looser, night aweats ceased, and he regained good general saparilla, especially to comrade: in the G.A.R.

Hood's Pills cure Habitual Constipation by restoring peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

"MOTHER'S FRIEND":

is a scientifically prepared Liniment and harmless; every ingredient is of recognized value and in constant use by the medical profession. It short-ens Labor, Lessens Pain, Diminishes Danger to life of Mother and Child. Book "To Mothers" mailed free, con-taining valuable information and voluntary testimonials.

Sent by express, charges prepaid, on receipt of price, $1.50 per bottic. BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Sold by all druggists.

SEEDS! SEEDS!

MANN & CO. CAPE VINCENT, N. Y.

CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

A DEPARTMENT FOR LITTLE BOYS AND GIRLS.

Something that Will Interest the Juvenile Members of Every Household -Quaint Actions and Bright Sayings of Cute Children.

I Wouldn't Be Cross-I wouldn't be cross, dear, it's never worth Disarm the vexation by wearing a smile. Let hap a disaster, a trouble, a loss, Just meet the thing boldly, and never be

I wouldn't be cross, dear, with people at They love you so fondly, whatever may

You may count on the kinsfolk around you to stand.
Oh, loyally true in a brotherly band!
So, since the fine gold far exceedeth the

I wouldn't be cross, dear, I wouldn't be

I wouldn't be cross with a stranger, ah no!
To the pilgrims we meet on the life path we owe
This kindness to give them good cheer as they pass,
To clear out the flint-stones, and plant the soft grass.

No, dear, with a stranger, in trial or loss,
I perchance might be silent, I wouldn't be

No bitterness sweetens, no sharpness may The wound which the soul is too proud to

No envy hath peace; by a fret and a jar The beautiful work of your hands we may Let happen what may, dear, of trouble and

I wouldn't be cross, love. I wouldn't be -Harper's Young People.

The Oal. The owl with his saucer-like eyes
May appear exceedingly wise—
But I think he's a stupid thing.
He doesn't even know how to sing—
And sleeps while there's a ray of light.
Then wonders why he can't rest at night.
—Harper's Young People

Children's Prattle.

FIRST Boy-What did you do durin' the hot days? Second Boy-I couldn't do a thing 'cept sit still an' holler.

MOTHER-Is Johnny Johnson well vet. Little Dick-I guess so. I heard his mamma scoldin' him this mornin'.

Morner-What did you do with that medicine the doctor left for you? Small Boy-I heard there was a poor sick boy in the back street, an' I took it around an' left it for him.

LITTLE MABEL-If you don't stop, I'll tell mamma, and she'll tell papa, and then papa will whip you. Little Johnny-Then I'll cry, and then grandma will give me some candy, and I won't give you any.

MOTHER-"I think you ought to be grateful to your father for getting you such a nice knife, instead of complaining." Little Johnny-"It's got only two blades." "You can't use but one blade at a time." "Yes, but when two blades get broken there won't be any left.'

This conversation between a girl and a boy was heard one Sunday aiter-Girl-"I had a rabbit once. Boy-"Had it long or short hair?" Girl-"It had long hair and I had to take great care of it, because the long-haired rabbits are much more delicate than the short-haired." (very seriously)-"Then why didn't you cut its hair short and then it would have been strong.

Johnny's Pillow.

One day Johnny was taking a walk in the orchard with nurse.

He was hunting for berries, and what do you think he found?

He found some big white eggs hidden in the tall grass! Johnny wanted to put the pretty things in his basket and take them home to mamma.

But nurse said:

"No, no, come away, dear. That is a nest. Hush! there comes the old goose. She will sit on the eggs and keep them warm, and by and by she will have some pretty goslings. After that Johnny went with nurse every day to take a peep at the gray goose sitting on her eggs. She sat and sat a good many days, and then one morning when Johnny went to look, sure enough, the goslings had come! They had no feathers on, and they had long, ugly necks, and big feet.

"I don't like 'em," said Johnny. The little goslings grew fast. They had a nice farmyard to live in and a little brook to paddle in. At night the farmer shut them up in the barn, so that the cats and dogs could not eat them up.

In a few days they were all covered with pretty feathers.

Then Johnny liked them.

By and by the little goslings were old enough to go with their father and mother and aunts and uncles to very, very happy.

Then they grew to be big geese, and wore a lot of feathers, and Johnny had a pillow, which he enjoyed very much, made from the soft down that grew on their white breasts.-Mrs. C. M. Livingston, in Pansy.

A Boy's Manners.

"His manners are worth a hundred thousand dollars to him!" This is what one of the chief men of the nation lately said about a boy. The boy was a distant relative of the man, and had been brought up by careful parents in a far-off city. Among other things, he had been taught to be friendly, and to think of other persons before himself. The boy was on a visit to the town where the man lived. They met on the street, and the younger recognizing the elder, promptly went to his side and spoke to him in his cordial way. Of course, the man was pleased; any one would have been pleased. The sentence above was the outcome of it. A little later the boy came into the room just as the man was struggling into his overcoat. The boy hurried to him, pulled it up at the collar, and drew tion on a street car line.

down the wrinkled coat beneath. He would have done it for any man, the haughtiest or the poorest. Do not misunderstand, boys. You may be truly unselfish and yet not have this boy's prize. You may wish to do things for others, yet feel that you do not know how. The only way to learn is to try; to hesitate for no feeling of bashfulness or awkwardness, but to put into direct and instantaneous practice whatever kind, helpful thoughts occur to you.

WON $75,000.

Something About Morello, the Speedy Winner of the Futurity.

Morello, the Futurity winner of 1892, was sold as a yearling for $100. As a 2-year-old he won the $51,000 Futurity Stakes and placed $75,000, it is said, in the pockets of his owner, William M. Singerly, editor of the I'hiladelphia Record. Morello is a bay colt by Eolus-Cerise. He was bred by W. C. Hardy, of Overton, Va., but was so unpromising a looking yearling that he was bought at auction in New York for a song by a man named Doswell, one of Breeder Hardy's neighbors, who named the horse Morello. In the spring of 1892 the colt began to show good form, and Turfman Frank Van Ness thought he might be a possible Futurity winner. He told Col. Singerly of his belief and the editor bought Morello for $5,000. Since the Futurity Morello has not been for sale at any price.

Jockey William Hayward, who rode Morello in the Futurity, is nearly 50 years of age, and is called "Papa Bill." He was born in England, made a great reputation there on the turf, and has been riding in America since

NEW STYLES IN SLEEVES.

We May Expect to See Them on All Sides This Month. The accompanying cuts show four sleeve patterns which are very popu-The first sleeve shown is a leg-o'- mutton style in tweed, cheviot, or serge, skillfully produced in waves and folds from shoulder to elbow. From the elbow it is plain, and finished at the wrist with cord loops and gimp buttons.

The second is a green tweed sleeve, lined with old gold silk, and braided with gold cord. No. 3 is a cream-colored surah silk, spotted with coral pink, and trimmed with circular and straight

LATE STYLES IN SLEEVES.

frillings, together with treble folds of plain silk.

The "afternoon sleeve," shown in the fourth cut. is made of Vicuna crepon cloth, or Bengaline, striped diagonally in the upper part with narrow velvet ribbon, matching in color the bone buttons, secured with button holes.

Curious Kailway Relic.

Among various trophies secured by Chief Smith of the Transportation department, during his recent visit to Europe, is a small brass pocket piece resembling an ordinary baggage check, which is worth a great deal more than its weight in gold. It is swim in a big lake. That made them of octagon shape and on one side is stamped the inscription "L. and S. Railway," "Bagworth No. 29." the opposite side the number is repeated. This fortunately preserved relic represents the kind and form of ticket in use in 1832 for "open carriage passengers" on the Leicester and Swannington Railway.

The distance covered by the main line was a trifle over sixteen miles, and the passenger fares charged were one and one-quarter pence per mile. There was one class only, and passengers stood up in an open carriage, generally known as a tub, which was nothing better than a high-sided goods wagon, having no top, no seats. no spring buffers. These brass tickets were used to the various stations, the guard of the train carrying a leather bag something in the style of a collection box, having eight separate divisions, one for each station. At the end of each passenger's journey his ticket was taken up and returned, recorded on the books, and with it. again used.-Chicago Times.

MAUD S. may now look for a situa-

God loves a cheerful giver be-

BACKSLIDING always begins on A glect to pray. the day we ne-

THE same wind that ruins the chaff cleans the wheat.

God makes a Daniel.

make your day a success.

eth take heed lest he tall.

THE most deadly sin is the one we believe it will be safe to commit.

is made richer when the bank breaks, test of the state of our hearts toward God.

LIVING for self is the smallest business any one can be engaged in in this

Ir never helps the Lord a bit for a mean man to claim that he is a Christian.

in God who does not also believe in a WHENEVER a Christian looks back he loses all the ground he owns in his to find flowers from which to make The man who is a stranger to God himself. THE nearer we get to God the more we shall be willing to do to help our

If we devote our day to God, when the night comes we will not be without Him.

THE devil has never yet been able to scare the man to whom God has given courage.

THE only reason we ever have any dark days is because we live too low to see the sun.

"Whom the Lord leveth he correcteth; even as a father the son in whom he delighteth." It is a matter of impossibility for WHENEVER you do a good deed it means that God and you have been working together.

The most profitable investment it is possible to make in this world is to lav up treasure in Heaven.

show that no one can do anything for Christ and lose anything by it. A LONG face in church and a short never help the cause of God a bit. THE right kind of a Christian will always live the same religion at home

"The work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness quietness and assurance forever." To PRAY "Thy kingdom come,"

BUTTONING up the pockets every time you hear the cry of want is a sure way of keeping Christ out of the liever in both home and foreign mis-

THE devil will not waste much powder on the man who belives that ne can get to Heaven without joining English Sparrows.

It has been said that the pugnacious sparrow drives away our native birds, but so far as the writer's observation goes, the charge has little foundation in fact. Others, too, have observed a large number of robins, bluebirds, and chippies nesting in the neighborhood, and that they are not melested by the sparrows. A pair of robins selected a tree near the sidewalk, not over fifty feet from our front door, and many times a day we see the parent birds gathering their food upon the lawn, and never once, there or elsewhere, have we seen them disturbed by sparrows. A bluebird has a nest in a house at a neighbor's just diagonally across the street, and a chippy family of young in a tree only a few rods to our left, and never once have we known of either being molested. We believe the truth to be that the numerous shotguns in the hands of wanton destroyers of innocent bird life, or in those who are killing birds for the millions to dress hats with, are responsible for the wholesale destruction of native song birds, or driving them away more than the ever present, active sparrow, who is so busily engaged in providing for his own wants or those of his little household, that he has neither time nor inclination to war upon his inoffensive neighbors.

The Latest in Clocks.

Not long ago a clever person in St. Petersburg arranged and placed on

It is not the false teeth which should be objectionable, but the false tongue behind them.

$6500 in prizes for the best seven stories wa what The Fouth's Companion offered: 500 fo the best Scrials and $1500 for the best Folk-for tales. No less than 2503 stories competed to these prizes. The successful stories are just an nounced to appear in The Companion during 189 By sending $1.75 at once you will obtain the paper freeto Jan, and for a full year, to Jan, 34 Address The Youth's Companion, Boston, Mas

Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn., will mail a trial package of Schiffmann's Asthma Cure free to any sufferer. Gives instant relief in worst cases, and cures where others fail. Name this paper and send address.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury,

Contain Mercury,
As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co.

Sold by Druggists, price 7bc. per bottle.

Rudyard Kipling, the Anglo-Indian novelist, has reconsidered and will not settle down in this country.

One a night for a week will cure any case of Constipation, Small Bile Beans.

Every man hates his own sin when he sees it in another.

Pains from indigestion quickly relieved with one dose of Bile Beans Smill. It is the cowardly dog who is always showing his teeth. Sample Package Mailed Free.

Address Small Bile Beans, New York. No matter where faith walks it always steps on a rock.

Is your blood poor? Take Beecham's Pills. Is your liver out of order? Use Beecham's Pills. 25 cents a box.

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y

HARRISON'S GRANULES never fail to knox CHEMICAL COMPANY, Toledo, O.

TELEGRAPHY.

cal school in the South, Send for ne

OPIUM Morphine Habit Cured in 10 to 20 days. No pay till cured. DR. J. STEPHENS. Lebanon, Ohio.

EVERY MAN HIS OWN DOCTOR By J. HAMILTON AYERS, A. M., M. D.

This is a most Valuable Book for the Household, teaching as it does the easily-distinguished Symptoms of different Diseases, the Causes and Means of Preventing such Diseases, and the Simplest Remedies which will Alleviate or Cure.

598 PAGES, PROFUSELY ILLUSTRATED.

The Book is written in plain, every-day English, and is free from the technical terms which render most Doctor Books so valueless to the generality of readers. This Book is intended to be of Service in the Family, and is so worded as to be readily understood by all.

ONLY 60 CENTS, POSTPAID.

The low price only being made possible by the immense edition printed.)

Not only does this Book contain so much Information Relative to Disease, but very properly gives a Complete Analysis of everything pertaining to Courtehip. Marriage and the Production and Rearing of Healthy Families; together with Valuable Recipes and Prescriptions, Explanation of Botanical Practice Correct Use of Ordinary Herbs.

New Edition, Revised and Enlarged, with Complete Index.

With this Book in the house there is no excuse for not knowing what to do in an emergency. Don't wait until you have illness in your family before you order, but send at once for this valuable volume.

ONLY 60 CENTS, POSTPAID.

Send postal notes or postage stamps of any denomination not larger than 5 cents BOOK PUBLISHING HOUSE, 134 Leonard St., N. Y. City, PATENTS W. T. Fitzgerald Washington, D. C. 40-page book tree.

No 49 1892

FIGS AND THISTLES.

WHEN we oppose what God loves we reject Christ.

cause giving is

WE are never sad except when we forget that God is good.

WHENEVER the devil makes a lion

GIVE God your moments and he will

"LET him that thinketh he stand-

Nobody ever blames a good apple for having come from a twisted tree. THE Christian is the only man who THE way we treat men is the surest

No man can have much of a belief

A BEE in a desert would do its best never becomes well acquainted with God to make known what Heaven is to a stingy man.

THE Bible is full of promises to measure in trade, are two things that that he professes at camp-meeting. and mean it, will make you a be-heart.

exhibition a clock with a phonograph attached that will repeat at any hour set, according to the orders or announcements as may be committed to it. The dial of the clock of the future is, we are told, a human face, from whose uncanny mouth comes the announcement of the hours, as well placed in the bag by the guard, to be as any directions that may be left

A Mammath Competition.

"German

JUDGE J. B. HILL, of the Superior Court, Walker county, Georgia, thinks enough of German Syrup to send us voluntarily a strong 1 ter endorsing it. When men of hk and education thus use and recommend an article, what they say is worth the attention of the public. It is above suspicion. "I have used your German Syrup," he says, "for my Coughs and Colds on the Throat and Lungs. I can recommend it for them as a first-class medicine."— Take no substitute. Unlike the Dutch Process No Alkalies Other Chemicals are used in the preparation of W. BAKER & CO.'S BreakfastCocoa which is absolutely pure and soluble. It has more than three times the strength of Cocoa mixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is far more economical costing less than one cent a cup. It is delicious, nourishing, and RASLE ORGESTEE. Sold by G-overs everywhere.

W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

vary little desire to enjoy the pleasures of life, and is entirely unfitted for the cares of housek-coping of any ordinary duties, if afflicted with SICK HEADACHE DAY AFTER DAY

A WOMAN HAS

SIXTY YEARS

PROMPTLY CURED the use of a single box of the genuine and justly celebrated

DR. C. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS, which may be procured at any Drug Store, or will be mailed to any address on the receipt of 25 cents in postage stamps.

Purchasers of these Pills should be careful to procure the genuine article. There are several counterfeits on the market, well calculated to deceive. The genuine Dr. C. McLane's Celebrated Liver Pills are

THE GREAT SHILOHS COUGH CUR 250 500 8 405

Cures Consumption, Coughs, Croup, Sort Throat. • Sold by all Druggists on a Guarantee.

ALABAMA COLLEGE MONTEVALLO

